

Edgar Evans Cayce About His Father and Atlantis

© 1999 by Linda Moulton Howe

May 16, 1999 Virginia Beach, Virginia We're now mid way into 1999 and two subjects that often come up from Dreamland listeners in this transition to the new Millennium concern the prophecies, or clairvoyance, of Edgar Cayce. Mr. Cayce lived in the first half of the 20th Century and is famous for his ability to remote view sick people, find out what was wrong and suggest a treatment that often worked. Over nearly five decades, as Cayce tapped into illnesses of the body, he could also see other lives of the patient's soul -- including incarnations in Atlantis between 12,000 and 50,000 years ago. And he said he could see a likelihood of earth changes at the end of the 20th Century.

Recently I talked with his son, Edgar Evans Cayce, now a retired electrical engineer in Virginia Beach, Virginia where his father died in 1945. The son has studied his father's several thousand readings and compiled information about Atlantis in a book entitled Mysteries of Atlantis Revisited now out in paperback in most bookstores.

Earthfiles, news category.

I asked Edgar Evans Cayce about Atlantis, earth changes and how accurate his father's readings to diagnose illnesses have turned out to be in the evolution of time. Throughout the interview, he generally refers to his father as "Cayce."

Interview:

Edgar Evans Cayce, Retired Electrical Engineer and Author, Virginia Beach, Virginia: "Of the 14,000 readings, we found maybe a couple of hundred that seemed to be inaccurate. That still gives him a batting average of about 98-99% which is about as good as most doctors these days.

DID HE CHARACTERIZE ANY PARTICULAR PERIOD WHEN THERE MIGHT MORE LIKELY BE EARTH CHANGES THAN ANOTHER?

I think it was beginning in 1998 on into the next few years.

WE'RE IN THAT PERIOD NOW?

We're in that period now or getting close to it. And I guess that's why everybody's excited about it as the Millennium comes up. But in the back of our book we show the earthquake zones. A group of scientists, the American Association of Engineering Society made a study of the fault zones in the eastern United States. We've got the maps of them in the back of the book. And they published this pamphlet in 1987. I think it was about 60 years before that pamphlet was written that Cayce named those same areas as possible earthquakes. Now the scientists in this pamphlet say the likelihood of a major quake in the eastern United States in the next 25 years -- and that was 25 years from 1987 -- was 100%. And that's just about a certainty. They don't know which areas will be hit, but they are pretty sure they are very likely to get a major quake in one of those areas.

WHAT DID YOUR FATHER SEE AS THE MOST LIKELY EARTH CHANGES IN THE UNITED STATES?

I think it was in the Eastern seaboard and in the Charleston area and eventually in the New York area. And he talked about the same one around the middle of the country, around Missouri and Arkansas where they had the largest quake in the United States (Madrid Fault) in the past. And he talked about those three areas were probably the most likely. But here again, I hope he's wrong. I hope the scientists are wrong. I hope we don't have a major quake

WHAT DID YOUR FATHER SEE FOR NEW YORK, FOR EXAMPLE?

He said it would be destroyed. He talked about it being re-built. That it would be re-built. That was the only thing he said about it. I don't think the whole state is going under water. But it sounded like it was going to be destroyed, or possibly destroyed. But the future is not fixed. And I hope he's wrong.

HOW DID HE SEE NEW YORK BEING DESTROYED?

He didn't say. It sounded like an earthquake. I don't think it was military or war.

WHAT ABOUT OTHER PARTS OF THE WORLD?

He talked about parts of Japan going into the sea. He said it was very likely that a large part of Japan would go into the sea. The western part of the United States would have some earthquakes. And parts of Europe would be changed. And that land would be coming up in the Atlantic. Now, I don't know if he was talking about Atlantis coming up again, or just some land mass coming up again.

GOING BACK TO THE BOOK MYSTERIES OF ATLANTIS REVISITED, I WONDER IF YOU COULD FOR A RADIO AUDIENCE HIGHLIGHT SOME OF THIS INFORMATION THAT YOUR FATHER THROUGHOUT MANY DIFFERENT READINGS YOU HAVE CONSOLIDATED INTO A VERY INTERESTING BOOK ABOUT ATLANTIS FROM THE POINT OF VIEW OF EDGAR CAYCE?

The way the book was written was that most of the information about Atlantis did not come from one or two readings, but from just pieces here and there of individual life readings. A life reading was a type of reading in which he gave a sort of vocational guidance reading that described a person's past life and what effect it had on the present. And there were about 2500 of these so-called life readings. And of those 2500 life readings, about 700 of them mentioned incarnations in Atlantis.

Most of the time, Cayce was describing the person's life there and what effect that particular incarnation might have on the present. So, there wasn't a lot of detail in any one reading of what Atlantis was like. But if you put all those 700 readings together and try to get them in some kind of chronological order, you can get a sort of picture of what was happening there. He claimed that Atlantis had been there a long time, as long as maybe 200,000 years ago. He talked about three destructions of Atlantis rather than just one. He talked about one in about 50,000 B. C. when a part of the continent was destroyed. And he talked about one in about 28,000 B. C. when it was broken up into a few remaining islands. And the last one about 10,000 B. C. was when the last island went down. And I think that was the description of a time that Plato was talking about, about 9600-10,000 B.C.

WHERE DID YOUR FATHER PLACE ATLANTIS GEOGRAPHICALLY?

He said it was in the south Atlantic. He said the western edge of it was in the Bimini/Bermuda area off the coast of Florida, or almost to the coast of Florida. Actually, if you look at a map or a geologic map that the Coast and Geodetic people have, a lot of that area in hundreds or thousands of square miles is very shallow in that area. And the sea level 10,000 years ago was probably 100 feet or more higher or lower than it is now. So, a lot of that land would have been above water, been exposed.

IN THE LAST DECADE, HAS THERE BEEN ANYTHING OF ANY SUBSTANCE DISCOVERED THAT MIGHT BE UNDERWATER ARCHAEOLOGY?

Well, there's been some interesting discoveries. There hasn't been any evidence for Atlantis. But they found this so-called Bimini Road which is a lot of peculiar formation of stone blocks. Geologists claim that it's beach rock because there are formations like that in other parts of the world. The only difference in this one is that normally beach rock will fracture parallel to the shore. And this is very shallow, about 10 to 20 feet of water just off the coast of Bimini. It looks like pieces of block, like a wall or road. But the only problem is that it curves at the end in a kind of reverse J. It's unusual for beach rock to do that, to fracture like that. Now, there have been some other discoveries there. Doug Richards, who is one of the co-authors of the book, has done some scuba diving and he ran a sonic survey in the Gulf Stream right off the western edge of Bimini where the water drops off from very shallow to about 125 to 150 feet deep.

They found some caves -- it looked like caves or holes in the side of that cliff or wall under the water. And they found some, it looked like on the sonic survey as straight lines. Now, it's unusual for rocks to be in that straight a line. Of course, it might be something off of a shipwreck or part of a structure of some kind. You need to go back in a submarine or with some deep diving equipment and investigate that with a camera rather than just depending on the sonic survey because you can't tell what it is from that.

Also there are some peculiar formations off Bimini in a mangrove swamp there. There's a thing -- I guess you would call it a sand dune -- it looks like a shark. You can see it from the air very clearly. And it may be a natural formation, but it certainly is an unusual one because it looks exactly like a shark. And there are some other formations there. One looks like a cat and another looks like sort of a rectangle, or a cross between a triangle and a rectangle.

This May 1996 aerial photograph of the Shark Mound in Bimini is courtesy of Joan Hanley. This unusual formation is 530 feet long and resembles Lemon Sharks which are common to the Bimini waters. Below is an infrared aerial © 1989 by Raymond Leigh of Elizabeth Town, Kentucky.

Near the center of the photograph appears to be the white outline of a whale mound or carving underwater. Above the whale is the shark mound.

ANY WAY TO DATE ANYTHING ABOUT THE SHARK?

They haven't found anything yet. They haven't found any artifacts, or anything along that mound. It's pretty hard from looking at it to tell from the air or even being on it. There are trees and vegetation growing over it. And it's pretty hard to get anything to date. They haven't found artifacts of any kind.

LET'S GO DEEPER INTO SOME OF THE MORE OUTSTANDING INSIGHTS THAT YOUR FATHER LEFT IN THE READINGS ABOUT ATLANTIS.

He talked about things that sound like atomic power or sound like lasers and masers. He talks about some sort of a crystal that is a power source. A laser is a great power source and it could be used for removing cataracts or it could be used by the military for a death ray to destroy in-coming missiles.

He talks about transportation, he talks about aircraft in the past. Now, there just isn't any evidence, nobody has ever found an airplane and nobody has ever found any record of a technical civilization, except for those Piri Reis maps. You've heard of those, I'm sure.

YES, AND THEY EVEN SHOW ANTARCTICA WITHOUT ANY ICE.

Without any ice. And that was a long time ago. And they say they show it so accurately that the people who have examined them don't see how they could have been made without aerial photos. So, that's a hint of a technical civilization. And nobody knows how they built the Great Pyramid yet. I mean, there are 2 million blocks to that thing!

ISN'T IT POSSIBLE THERE COULD HAVE BEEN AN EXTRATERRESTRIAL CIVILIZATION THAT WAS BASED ON OUR PLANET FOR VARIOUS CYCLES OF TIME AND THAT THEY MAY HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR THIS FAMOUS ATLANTIS?

That's a theory I've heard advanced by a number of people. But it's never mentioned in the readings. He didn't mention anything like that. He did say there was other life in the universe, I mean, in many forms and all over. He said there wasn't anything like this man-like in this solar system, but he said there was a lot (of life) in the universe. He talks about two different groups in Atlantis kind of warring with each other. The ones that believed that man had a spiritual nature and the ones that believed the physical was all there was. And these two groups continually fought each other and it was war between these two groups that started or triggered some of these volcanic eruptions that destroyed Atlantis.
