

Part 1: "Alphonso Lorenzo" - Military Visitor to Another Planet?

© 2006 by Linda Moulton Howe

September 4 , 2006 Albuquerque, NM - Since the late fall of 2005, there has been internet speculation about an alleged leaker's release of U. S. government information about a classified project called SERPO. The internet buzz also produced a Wikipedia entry which states:

"Project Serpo is a term in ufology circles referring to an alleged exchange program between ultra top secret levels in the government of the United States and aliens from a homeworld called Serpo. In November 2005, an anonymous source claiming to be part of a high level group of people within the US Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), began releasing information allegedly concerning Project Serpo. This released information claims that in July 1947 there were two extraterrestrial disk UFOs that crashed in the state of New Mexico, widely known and referenced as the famous Roswell UFO incident.

"The Project Serpo releases further claim that there was one surviving alien entity, known as EBE, which was an abbreviation for Extraterrestrial Biological Entity. Communication was allegedly established with this surviving EBE, and consequently its home world. The EBE lived for 5 years and died in 1952. Communications continued with the home world, allegedly in the Zeta Reticuli star system, which led to the arrangement of an exchange program taking place between 1965 to 1978, in which 12 American astronauts traveled to Serpo, 8 of whom returned. Project Serpo may also have been known as Project Crystal Knight at the time (1965-1978)."

Earthfiles, news category.

I first heard there had been an exchange of humans with one or more extraterrestrial biological entities at Holloman AFB on April 25, 1964, while I was working on a television production for Home Box Office entitled: UFOs, The E. T. Factor. The hour special was never completed or broadcast because of U. S. government interference. [ See my first book, An Alien Harvest © 1989 in Earthfiles Shop.]

I never heard the word "Serpo" until the November 2005 internet release, which struck me as a lot of misinformation mixed with a few facts. Thus, a classic U. S. government intelligence effort to muddy waters of an actual historic event classified under a policy of denial in the interest of national security. Further, contaminated Serpo release would allow insiders to monitor who contributes information to the unfolding Serpo saga. The penalty for violating signed oaths of secrecy in the U. S. military and government intelligence can be stiff fines and imprisonment. It's also possible that the Serpo material planted on the internet since November 2005 was officially approved by a need-to-know authority who wanted to test the public waters. Either way, mixing a lot of fiction with a few facts is standard operating procedure in such calculated intelligence efforts.

The Serpo details on the internet were different from what I had been told in general outline in the early 1980s and later given more details in 1991 by the late Richard Neal, M. D., a specialist in obstetrics and gynecology at the Beach Medical Center in Lawndale, California.

Dr. Neal was a gynecologist who began investigating disappearing pregnancies in women who also described being taken by non-humans aboard craft for gynecological procedures.

He presented his collected data in a presentation entitled "The Missing Embryo/Fetus Syndrome" at the 1992 Mutual UFO Network Symposium in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

While I was working in 1991 as Supervising Producer and Concept Creator on a Paramount/Fox-TV special entitled, UFO Report: Sightings, I met with Dr. Neal in Los Angeles. He had handwritten notes from an off-the-record discussion he had with a U. S. intelligence operative about an early 1960s human and extraterrestrial biological entity exchange at Holloman AFB, or from not far away at the Trinity Site in the northern panhandle of White Sands Missile Range. Exchange destination: a planet in a solar system revolving around one of the two binary stars of Zeta Reticuli I and II, 39.41 light-years from Earth. Our Sun is classified a yellow G2 V Spectral Type and so is Zeta Reticuli II. Zeta Reticuli I is a G 3/5 V Spectral Type.

Dr. Neal and I had previously discussed information I had written in my first book, An Alien Harvest © 1989, about a landing of an egg-shaped craft at Holloman AFB on April 25, 1964, and an exchange of physical artifacts which I had discussed with Robert Emenegger at his Los Angeles home in spring 1983. [ My notes from that 1983 discussion are included in the page scans below from An Alien Harvest.] Bob Emenegger had been the writer of a television program entitled, UFOs: Past Present and Future. Its first American broadcast was in 1974. Bob had been exposed to discussions about 16mm film that documented a UFO landing at Holloman AFB, which he and the TV producer, Allan Sandler, were supposed to receive for inclusion in their television program. Authorities in the Pentagon yanked the allegedly unique historic film from Emenegger and Sandler right before their final editing and broadcast deadlines.

KTRH Houston Radio Interview with Robert Emenegger in 1976

I first came to talk with Bob Emenegger because of a radio interview he had done on Houston, Texas, radio station KTRH, Thanksgiving Day 1976, about a UFO landing at Holloman AFB in the presence of an "Alphonso Lorenzo." During my research for the Home Box Office special in 1983, researcher Tom Adams in Paris, Texas, had heard about the radio interview. I was able to obtain a copy and tracked Bob Emenegger down to discuss it in more detail. [ Part 2 of this report has the relevant radio transcript excerpt about Alphonso Lorenzo.]

By then, in many off-the-record conversations trying to find substantive ground on which to proceed with the HBO documentary, I was told that Steven Spielberg's November 16, 1977, release of his now classic feature film, Close Encounters of the Third Kind, was based on some historic fact. I was told that Holloman AFB was the scene of a UFO landing and meeting that included exchange of artifacts and one or more humans entering an extraterrestrial spacecraft for a trip to an EBEN planet in the binary star system, Zeta Reticuli I and II. See 120705Earthfiles.

In 1991, Dr. Neal wanted me to know that not only did he have a discussion with an inside source which confirmed the human/E. T. exchange, Dr. Neal said he had been told that three men went to an EBEN planet in the Zeta Reticuli system. One man, he said, had died there, one had gone insane (fate unknown) and one had been returned to Earth and placed in a U. S. government safe house on an island to live out the rest of his days without the public or media ever knowing. Dr. Neal understood that the survivor was referred to as "Alphonso Lorenzo," also known as Guillermo Mendoza.

August to September 2006

Beginning on Aug 29, 2006, at 2:17 PM, Bren Burton of the internet forum, Open Minds, wrote to me:

Dear colleague, I realise that you are very busy, but maybe you could shed some light on something for me. I run a forum (Open Minds) which is debating the 'Serpo' phenomena. www.OpenMinds.co.nr If you are not aware of the story - it relates to some of the disclosures which, I believe, you were introduced to some years ago, regarding a supposed alien exchange prog. Would you be kind enough to let me know your thoughts about the 'serpo' disclosures and give your permission to have those thoughts published on our forum? I would be more than happy to provide a direct link to your 'earthfiles' web site. Either way, thanks again for your time, and for any insight you may be able offer.

*Best wishes,
Bren Burton."*

That afternoon, I replied:

*Thanks for contacting me. I learned back in the 1983-1984 time period about an alleged exchange program of humans leaving Holloman AFB on April 25, 1964, for Zeta Reticuli with non-humans while I was working on a Home Box Office television special entitled, UFOs: The E. T. Factor. I was told three human men went: one died on the alien planet; one went insane (don't know fate); and one returned to Earth and was given a safe house in which to live the rest of his life on an island provided for by the U. S. government.*

That same day, Brendon wrote back:

Thanks for the response. I'm going to push my luck here (!), but could you elaborate on how you came by that information?'He also inquired about Bill Ryan at the Project Serpo website doing an interview with me."

The next day on August 30, 2006, since I had been on the record from 1989 through the 1990s concerning what I had learned about an alleged Holloman landing and exchange in my 1989 book, An Alien Harvest, and my 2-volume books (1994 and 1998), Glimpses of Other Realities, I replied:

My main source was Robert Emenegger, the writer of UFOs: Past, Present and Future, which was broadcast in the U. S. on television in the late 1970s. I think it would be of great value to you all if you would read my 2-volume book, Glimpses of Other Realities, in which I discuss Emenegger and much, much more. After you and your colleagues have absorbed those two books, then I would be happy to do an interview."

On August 30, I also received a follow up inquiry from Brian Parks, Torrance, California, about Brendan's Serpo inquiries:

Beside Bob Emmenegger, was your other source James McCampbell?"

On August 31, 2006, I replied:

I am not commenting on SERPO. I know nothing about SERPO as an acronym or program.

I am only relating what I was told back in the early 1980s about a human exchange. My information about an exchange did not come from James McCampbell."

What I left out was my 1991 conversation in Los Angeles with the deceased Richard Neal, M. D., about his handwritten notes described above.

Later that day, this exchange was posted by Victor Martinez (ongoing, large email list about SERPO), leaving out my clarification that I was not addressing SERPO which I know nothing about:

Brendan Burton (Admin of the Open Minds forum) asked Linda Howe personally about Project SERPO:"

*LINDA REPLIED: I learned back in the 1983-1984 time period about an alleged exchange program of humans leaving Holloman AFB on April 25, 1964, for Zeta Reticuli with non-humans while I was working on a Home Box Office television special entitled, "UFOs: The E. [Note that she says MAIN source, by the way.]

BILL RYAN: I referred this to John Lear, who had told Kerry and myself the same information (three went, one died, one went crazy, and one returned safely) when we met with him in person a couple of weeks ago.

JOHN LEAR: It was from a completely different source who does not know Linda or Robert. He lived in Houston and had access to NASA but did not work for NASA."

BILL RYAN: This is potentially very important ... it starts to look like a trip to Reticulum 4 DID occur.

I've also received two messages from a claimed intel source in the last 24 hours who said that several important details were just plain wrong, and suggested that either I'd got lucky and guessed uncannily accurately (in the event that I'd made it up), or that I'd been deliberately disinformed.

He said no more because he told me I was heavily monitored. This person appears only to have just now come across the Serpo story on the Web. The game may have changed now. Let's forget the details of the story, how many went, what the dates were, even the alien culture and whether GMRRF exists or not (I'm sure it doesn't). Only one question is really important. Was there an exchange program?

I suggest that the answer is that there WAS. The circumstantial evidence mounts, and the Project SERPO's story on the Web site starts to look like disinfo which surrounds and protects the details of an incredibly true event. Another important question is what other untold truths the disinfo may be designed to conceal.

All views welcome, and do copy to others if you wish.

Best to all,

– BILL RYAN"

The next day on September 1, Hal Puthoff, Ph. D., Director of the Institute for Advanced Studies at Austin, in Austin, Texas, and a pioneer in the search for zero point energy, wrote to Victor Martinez the following email after forwarding my comment to Bob Emenegger and asking if my comment was true:

On Sep 1, 2006, at 10:36 AM, Puthoff@aol.com wrote:

Victor, I checked with Bob Emenegger concerning the statement circulating that he verified an exchange program. Here's his answer:

The truth is I was briefed on three aliens, looking similar to us, only short, blue grey skin - met with Holloman AF personnel -Alfonso Lorenzo acted as a host/handler (medical tech) - He alerted Paul Shartle at Norton (AFB in California) about the incident and film of the event. (We found Lorenzo in base records and a CI agent checked on him.) I NEVER mentioned AF personnel going off with aliens to Zeta Reticuli or one alien dying or going insane! "

Hal "

Later that same September 1, 2006, afternoon, Hal Puthoff wrote to Robert Emenegger, beginning "Just for my eyes only." However, the email somehow got onto Victor Martinez's email distribution list which reached me.

*September 1, 2006, e -mail from Hal Puthoff to Robert Emenegger: Just for my eyes only, do you believe the briefing? Pretty dramatic claim. Official contact with aliens on a military base, for God's sakes! (I know you had no choice but to use it in the book and video, of course, *****it was your day job to put out what they told you.) Did you ever, e.g., check with Coleman to determine whether he would provide independent verification that the* claimed meeting was actually true?"

Bob Emenegger replied:

A: Hal, I believe the briefing because Shartle had correspondence and audio cassette tape from Lorenzo. I saw a document from Holloman with his name on it. I read, at Norton, where it landed, the date, specifics who was involved, which building they were taken to ; where the craft was stored (end of Mars Ave) and about signals they were asked to ID. At Holloman everything was there as outlined. Col Lane/Shartle's military boss and OSI (at Norton) knew what Shartle was doing. Col Weinbrenner (Commander Foreign Tech) didn't blink when I mentioned it.

*When showing our program at ASTARA in Upland Calif. [ former Project Blue Book spokesman, [USAF Col William T.] Coleman was with me (he was producing that NBC show Blue Book'with Jack Webb in LA ) - a woman stood up telling us her son was at that base and how they were ordered to stay inside their quarters. The head radar man at Holloman made reference to the day that 'flying bathtub' landed."No one at the Pentagon questioned the incident (but also didn't comment one way or another - except to add "...an event that may happen in the future... or perhaps has already happened" I didn't take any liberties. The Pentagon had a legal agreement with final approval on all we presented Yes, this is a remarkable event - If at the time I knew more. I may have done more. But I was totally new to UFO stuff. - you can share this if you want. ***** I did not get any outline or direction from them and created the film with facts as we found them. Re: Coleman, he is either not being 100% with me - or maybe doesn't know? your friend Bob"*

Excerpts from An Alien Harvest © 1989

Seventeen years ago in my first book, An Alien Harvest: Further Evidence Linking Animal Mutilations and Human Abductions to Alien Life Forms © 1989, I recounted a discussion I had with Robert Emenegger and Larry Fawcett, Connecticut police officer and member of Citizens Against UFO Secrecy (CAUS), at the Robert and Margaret Emenegger home in Los Angeles on March 26, 1983.

Before that weekend, I wanted to talk with Robert Emenegger. He had been an advertising executive during the Nixon administration when he collaborated with Los Angeles producer Allan Sandler on a documentary film about UFOs which was broadcast nationally.* The landing of an alien craft at Holloman AFB was portrayed in the film as if it might have happened. I had also heard Mr. Emenegger describe more details about that landing in a Houston, Texas radio interview. (See Appendix 14.) I hoped he would do the same for the HBO project and flew to Los Angeles on March 26 to meet Bob at his home. Larry Fawcett from CAUS was also there to talk about the Holloman landing.

Bob Emenegger is a likable, mild mannered and soft-spoken man. His work with Allan Sandler, he said, was the first time he encountered the UFO subject and it fascinated him. During our conversation, Bob said that he had discussed a May 1971 UFO landing at Holloman AFB with Robert Haldeman, Chief of Staff in the Nixon Administration. Haldeman did not deny it, said he "had heard there was something," and then dropped the subject.

* Mr. Emenegger also wrote a book entitled UFOS: Past, Present and Future, copyrighted in 1974 by Sandler Institutional Films, Inc. The film was later updated and re-titled UFOS: It Has Begun. Both were produced by Allan F. Sandler Productions, Los Angeles. The revised film included an added segment about the animal mutilation mystery, produced and narrated by Jacques Vallee.

Bob told us that in early 1973, he and Sandler had been taken to a California military base. Later, I learned it was Norton AFB. At Norton, they talked with two military officials* about various advanced research projects the government was conducting. Topics included experiments with dogs, research with porpoises and developments in advanced holography – images projected with laser light through crystals to appear as three-dimensional objects in space. Another project concerned UFOs.

Bob said that all the government projects were presented as potential documentary possibilities. But with considerable understatement, he added, "I thought the UFOs were the most interesting." That, according to Bob Emenegger, is how UFOS: Past, Present and Future began.

One of the Norton officials was Paul Shartle who was Chief of Requirements for the Audio-Visual program in the early 1970s. He confirmed Emenegger's story on an October 14, 1988 nationally syndicated television program called UFOS: Government Coverup – Live.** Mr. Shartle said he had seen 16mm motion picture film "of three disk-shaped craft. One of the craft landed and two of them went away." He described how the one craft oscillated back and forth as it landed on three pods. A door slid open from which a ramp extended and three alien beings emerged.

According to Shartle, "They were human size. They had an odd, grey complexion and a pronounced nose. They wore tightfitting jump suits, thin headdresses that appeared to be communication devices and in their hands they held a 'translator.' A Holloman base commander* and other Air Force officers went out to meet them."

* Mr. Emenegger said in 1988 the officials were the head of AFOSI and Paul Shartle, Chief of Requirements for the Audio-Visual program at Norton AFB.

A depiction of one of those alien beings which allegedly landed at Holloman AFB was shown in Robert Emenegger's book UFOS: Past, Present and Future,** copyright 1974 by Sandler Institutional Films, Inc. I wrote to Mr. Emenegger requesting permission to re-print the drawing which shows the profile of a head with a very large "beak" nose, verticle slit eye pupils, a layered headdress that covered an unusual raised lobe in the back and near the top of the being's head, and long "ear" attachments.

Bob Emenegger forwarded my request to Allan Sandler who holds the copyright on the book and its contents. After initially agreeing to permit publication of the depiction, I was subsequently informed that an unnamed east coast attorney advised against permission to re-print the drawing in my book, An Alien Harvest. No reasons for the denial were given.

Despite my efforts to obtain some explanation or clarification for the refusal, no explanation has been given as this book goes to print. The reader is directed to the Photo Section of the 1974 edition of Robert Emenegger's book. Unfortunately, later editions deleted the Photo Section.

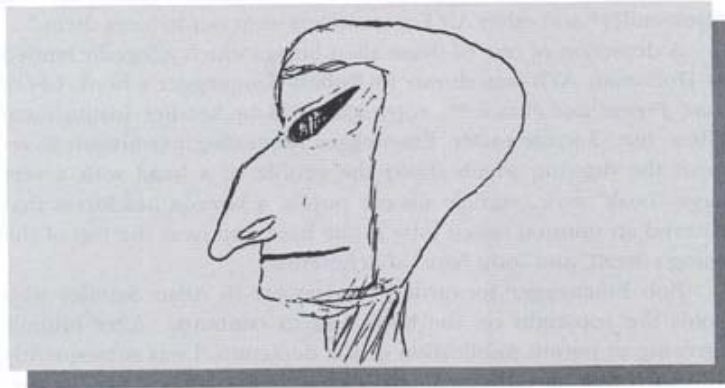

On the next page is a drawing by former Navy petty officer Milton William Cooper based on his memory of the several black and white photographs he saw in his 1972 work on an intelligence briefing team for U.S. Admiral Bernard A. Clarey, then Commander In Chief of the Pacific Fleet in Hawaii. Bill Cooper's drawing shows a striking similarity to the Holloman AFB alien depicted in Mr. Emenegger's book.

Drawing by Milton William Cooper, January 20, 1989.

At this point, I would like to quote from my hand-written notes on that March 1983 evening in Mr. Emenegger's Los Angeles home.

"Holloman is true. ETs have come. There was communication over several days and in buildings. They said there were other aliens visiting earth, but they don't know who or where from either. Description: 5'2", three of them. Blue-white skin, rope-like thing around head with pieces that came down around ears that are communication devices for English and other languages. Some kind of 'cover' over eyes.

"Arrived at six a.m. There were three craft: oval-shaped and the one that landed put down 'struts' for support. Some at Holloman referred to it as the 'bathtub,' meaning the way an antique tub might look if white with ornate metal legs.

"The extraterrestrials seemed to be doctors, professional types. The eyes had vertical pupils, like a cat's. Wore silver 'leotard.' Ropes across head, aquiline nose, thin one-line mouth, no chin. Look back in history at the Assyrians. If this is an accurate description, the nose is not consistent with the usual grey creatures' flat, noseless face. Is this yet another type of ET? Or is the aquiline

A comparison drawing from Pages 276-277, Glimpses of Other Realities, Vol. I: Facts & Eyewitnesses:

"Other people have also drawn a similar alien being. In the 1974 edition of the book UFOs: Past, Present & Future by Robert Emenegger, with research by Allan Frank Sandler, the Photo Section showed a black and white drawing of an alien humanoid who might have landed at Holloman AFB/White Sands in 1973 or earlier.

"Caption in 1974 Photo Section read: 'The sketches on this and the following page are an artist's conception of UFO occupants based on eyewitness descriptions.' The being was depicted with a large nose, large eyes with vertical pupils, a layered headdress which curved around large ears, and held a rod in its left hand that was wound with a helix-shaped coil. (Plate 33) Nearby was a disk-shaped craft. Emenegger said military sources told him such a landing had occurred in 1973." [A discrepancy with the April 25, 1964, date given to me.]

*line nose thrown in as a red herring? I asked Emenegger twice and he affirmed each time the nose was correct.**

"Whatever was exchanged between the humans and extraterrestrials, something was taken to the 'Blue Room' at the Pentagon which at the time was only accessible to Foreign Technology Division (CIA types), not even to the President. Another keeper of UFO artifacts – the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey.

"Sandler's production team was allowed to film at Holloman. They were taken to Buildings 383 and 1382 at the end of Mars Avenue where the extraterrestrials met the human group."

Bob Emenegger said the date he was given for the landing was May 1971, perhaps one of several landings. Three weeks later at Kirtland AFB, I was given the date April 25, 1964 as the first official exchange. Bob said that he and Sandler were supposed to receive about 3200 feet of film from the May 1971 Holloman landing, 600 feet in 16mm Ektachrome color.

When Emenegger and Sandler asked the Pentagon for the promised film, they were denied. The film makers were advised to simply describe the incident as it "might happen in the future – or perhaps could have happened already."

Bob said he also tried to confirm the existence of a biologist named "Alphonso Lorenzo" who was supposed to have been in the Holloman greeting party. Bill Cooper and UFO researcher William Steinman say the correct name is Guillermo Mendoza who worked with both Sandia and Argonne National Laboratories. Bob insisted the 2nd unit director on the UFO documentary saw the scientist's name in a Holloman AFB directory when they were filming at the base. But Department of Defense (DOD) sources told them there was no such person. Further, when a CIA agent who was working with them asked for documents about the Holloman landing that contained "Alphonso Lorenzo's" name, he was told that "just the day before they had been shredded."

Larry Fawcett and I shared with Bob some documents we had received which mentioned MJ-12 and Project Aquarius in connection with UFOs. Emenegger said he had never heard of either, but would check with his "DOD sources" which included Colonel William "Billy" Coleman and Colonel George Weinbrenner. Coleman had been a public information officer in the Pentagon associated with foreign technology and was the second link in a communication chain that started for Emenegger with the Norton AFB contacts, went to Coleman in the Pentagon and then to Weinbrenner at Wright-Patterson AFB in Ohio. Emenegger said it was Colonel Billy Coleman who wanted Sandler and Bob to sign security oaths before receiving the historic UFO footage. For whatever reason, Bob said the oaths were never requested and the film was never delivered.

Emenegger told us that after the historic footage was withdrawn "at the last minute," he went to Wright-Patterson to ask Colonel Weinbrenner what had happened. Bob said the Colonel stood up and walked to a blackboard saying loudly, "That damn MIG 25! Here we're so public with everything we have. But the Soviets have all kinds of things we don't know about. We need to know more about the MIG 25!"

Then Colonel Weinbrenner walked over to a shelf of books and pulled one out. He handed it to Emenegger, opened it up to the title page which said The UFO Experience (1972, Ballantine Books) while still talking about Soviet Migs. On the page was the author's autograph dedicated to Weinbrenner. The author was J. Allen Hynek, Chairman of the Department of Astronomy at Northwestern University; former scientific consultant to the United States Air Force about UFOs for Project Blue Book; and Founder and Director of the Center for UFO Studies.

"It was like a scene from a Kafka play," Emenegger said that evening in his Los Angeles home. Weinbrenner's odd behavior indicated that he might have been sensitive to wire taps in his Wright-Patterson office. If so, the "Mig" talk covered his silent actions with the book which indirectly confirmed that the UFO film was real, but could not be discussed any longer for reasons he could not explain.

I asked Emenegger if he would participate in my HBO documentary to share his knowledge about the UFO landing at Holloman AFB. He said he saw no reason why he could not and we discussed doing a film interview in his home.

Within two weeks, Emenegger called me back and said his DOD sources told him not to participate in my documentary. Surprised, I reminded him that he had already done a long Texas radio interview about the Holloman landing.

"What difference does it make to tell the same story in the documentary?" I asked. Bob offered no explanation for the decision. That "no" is even more puzzling because a few days later, on April 9, 1983, I was shown a document about a government contact with extraterrestrials and told I would be given historic UFO footage for the HBO film that included scenes very similar to those Bob Emenegger described.
