Transcript: "OPERATION UFO SEARCH," a radio interview on Houston's KTRH NewsRadio between host, Frank Haley, and Los Angeles script writer, Robert Emenegger. This rebroadcast of an earlier taped interview was heard in Houston, Texas, on Thanksgiving Day, November 1976.

Radio Program Introduction

HALEY: Hello, my name is Frank Haley. This is "Operation UFO Search." On today's program, we are going to re-play an interview with a man we had as a guest on the program probably two or two and a half years ago and we're doing this for several reasons. First of all, because it's a holiday and most of you will be gathering around the dinner table or getting ready for the Thanksgiving meal. And also because it is rather difficult to get people to do live interviews on holidays. And also because this particular interview will be with Bob Emenegger, a man who researched the book and screenplay on the subject of UFOs and it is called, UFOS: Past, Present and Future. It is this program, the TV version of it, that is going to be shown tomorrow in Houston on Channel 13 and I'm not sure of the time, but I think it is four o'clock, possibly four-thirty, but you can check your newspaper TV listings for that.

| HALEY: | Let me ask you a question about a person that I don't know anything about, but I've been trying to find someone who knows something about him. And the person's name is Alphonso Lorenzo. Have you ever heard of him? |
| EMENEGGER: | Yes, I wonder where you got his name? |
| HALEY: | Well, I have some sources. What can you tell me about him? |
| EMENEGGER: | (Laughs.) That's interesting that you would even come up with | that name.

HALEY: Interesting name.

EMENEGGER: Uh huh.

HALEY: What is the story about Alphonso Lorenzo?

EMENEGGER: Uh, did I ever, I don't remember ever mentioning him to you?

HALEY: No, you didn't.

EMENEGGER: Well, the only person I mentioned it to outside of the people I worked with is probably Ralph Blum, but I don't know if he even quite remembered what it was.

HALEY: Well, wasn't there some tie in with this man and the Holloman incident?

EMENEGGER: Yes, uh huh.

HALEY: What do you know about it?

EMENEGGER: Uh, well ... I know the man exists.

HALEY: Do you know where he is?

EMENEGGER: Not right now, I don't.

HALEY: I don't think anybody else does either. He sort of dropped out of sight, hasn't he?

EMENEGGER: Yeah, that's right.

HALEY: What's the story about Mr. Lorenzo? Was he present at the Holloman incident?

EMENEGGER: Yes, uh huh.

HALEY: Was he a witness or something?

EMENEGGER: He was more than that.

HALEY: How much more was he?

EMENEGGER: I think he had a first hand involvement, if this is all true. You understand, I wouldn't want any listener to go out and say, 'My God, it's absolutely true that they are here' ... and, you know. You have to keep it in some perspective. Think of it as it's possible that this has happened.

HALEY: Right ...

EMENEGGER: But, uh, he was one of the few people that uh, that I believe knows a great deal about his. His name no longer exists in most military records, but I've seen it on inter-office memos, so I know it existed.

HALEY: From military inter-office memos?

EMENEGGER: Yeah.

(Commercial break)

HALEY: This is Thanksgiving Day from News Talk Radio for the Gulf Coast, KTRH in Houston. My name is Frank Haley and we're listening to an interview that was conducted possibly two and a half years ago here on this program with Bob Emenegger, author of a book called UFOs: Past, Present, and Future, and we're discussing at this portion of the interview Alphonso Lorenzo and the alleged landing of a craft at Holloman Air Force Base. Incidentally, this TV version of this program, "Operation UFO, or Operation UFOs: Past, Present and Future" will be seen tomorrow on Channel 13 in the afternoon and I think the time is around four o'clock, maybe four thirty. You can check your listings for it, but the story that he is telling here in the interview will be dramatized and recreated for the television tomorrow afternoon. And we continue the interview now with Robert Emenegger.

EMENEGGER: (Continuing from Haley's question: From military inter-office memos?)

Yeah. And also, he was checked, it was requested to our, our, we had an officer who coordinated all of our projects in Washington and he, uh, tried to locate the man and called back frustrated and said, 'I'll tell you, no one acknowledges even the existence of this man.' The only thing I do know is that his name (laughs) ... I've seen it.

HALEY: Well, apparently he did exist at one time, huh?

EMENEGGER: I, uh, I, and very possibly still does. But not down in this area, as far as I know. I'm sort of surprised to have you even mention that name. As far as I'm concerned, there are very few people who even know that particular name.

HALEY: Well, the name now has been heard up and down half of Texas and all of Mexico, so maybe somebody will kick over a stone and find Alphonzo Lorenzo.

EMENEGGER: ... but that was an alias doing particular projects at that time ... and it just turned into a strategic base ... it could be that that was an alias, but I don't see why.*

HALEY: Do you know anything else about that particular man that you can tell us?

EMENEGGER: Well, only his personal characteristics ...

HALEY: What was he doing at Holloman? What was his assignment there?

EMENEGGER: He was a research, electronic researcher. Some people felt that he was in biological research. There was a ... have chimpanzees and monkeys that they test on the test bed. I thought he might be associated with that, but I believe he was with advanced electronics research. That's, that was his title anyway.

(Commercial Break)

HALEY: Dr. J. Allen Hynek, we've talked to Carl Sagan, people who have worked closely on this strange phenomenon for a number of years and we keep getting the same kind of answers about, when you ask the question: what are these strange objects, are they really things operating in the atmosphere? And my question to you would be: After your study and your involvement with the Department of Defense in doing the research for this screen play and the book, in your own mind, do you think that there are solid craft or solid objects operating in the earth's atmosphere that appear to be under intelligent control ... but we really don't know who they are?

EMENEGGER: OK, as long as this is just purely speculation, uh, I, I kind of I, I have begun, this is the way I feel. I, there seems to be different degrees of advancement from what phenomena have been described and seen and what impressions have been left on the ground. And it seems like the, it ... it seems as if there are extraterrestrials, uh, some of them, the ones that are unexplained. And they seem to range from what I would guess technologically ahead of us maybe no more than fifty or one hundred years to possibly thousands of years.

I know Allen Hynek and I were sitting somewhere in Washington once in a motel room and, uh, we were discussing, he almost felt that some of the things were not only extraterrestrial but they were something more, more, uh, advanced than that, they almost would seem to materialize and de-materialize out of extra-dimensional, in other words. That if they were another frequency that lowered themselves to a slower frequency would appear in our realm ... because of the description of how when they disappeared they would leave a snapping sound like all the atoms would pop.
