sweep one off one's feet AND knock one off one's feet 1. to knock someone down. □ The wind swept me off my feet. □ Bill punched Bob playfully, and knocked him off his feet. 2. to overwhelm someone (figuratively). (Informal.) □ Mary is madly in love with Bill. He swept her off her feet. □ The news was so exciting that it knocked me off my feet.

sweep out of somewhere to move or leave in a flamboyant or theatrical way. □ The insulted customer swept out of the store. □ The celebrity rose from his table and swept out of the restaurant.

sweep something under the carpet AND sweep something under the rug to try to hide something unpleasant, shameful, etc., from the attention of others. □ The boss said he couldn't sweep the theft under the carpet, that he'd have to call in the police. □ Roger had a tendency to sweep all the problems under the rug.

sweep something under the rug Go to sweep something under the carpet.

sweet and low [of music] pleasing and quiet. □ Play me something that is sweet and low. □ I like dance music that is sweet and low—not any of this rowdy, violent stuff.

sweet and sour a combination of fruity sweet and sour, but not necessarily salty, flavors. (Often refers to certain Chinese-American foods.) □ I prefer sweet and sour pork to anything else on the menu. □ Alice does not care for sweet and sour dishes, but she will usually eat whatever we serve her.

sweet as honey Go to (as) sweet as honey.

sweet as sugar Go to (as) sweet as honey.

sweet nothings affectionate but unimportant or meaningless words spoken to a loved one. □ Jack was whispering sweet nothings in Joan's ear when they were dancing. □ The two lovers sat in the cinema exchanging sweet nothings.

sweet on someone fond of someone. (Folksy.) □ Tom is sweet on Mary. He may ask her to marry him. □ Mary's sweet on him, too.

sweet-talk someone to talk convincingly to someone with much flattery. (Folksy.) □ I didn't want to help her, but she sweet-talked me into it. □ He sweet-talked her for a while, and she finally agreed to go to the dance with him.

swift and sure fast and certain. (As with the flight of a well-aimed arrow.) □ The response of the governor to the criticism by the opposing party was swift and sure. □ The boxer's punch was swift and sure and resulted in a quick knockout and a very short match.

swift as an arrow Go to (as) swift as an arrow.

swift as the wind Go to (as) swift as the wind.

swift as thought Go to (as) swift as thought.

swim against the current Go to swim against the tide.

swim against the tide AND swim against the current to do the opposite of everyone else; to go against the trend. □ Bob tends to do what everybody else does. He isn't likely to swim against the tide. □ Mary always swims against the current. She's a very contrary person.

swing into action Go to go into action.

swing something to make something happen. (Slang.) □ I hope I can swing a deal that will make us all a lot of money. □ We all hope you can swing it.

T

table the motion to postpone the discussion of something during a meeting. ☐ Mary suggested that they should table the motion. ☒ The motion for a new policy was tabled until the next meeting.

tag along to go along with or follow someone, often when uninvited or unwanted. ☐ Lisa always tags along when Tim and Sally go out on a date. ☐ I took my children to the zoo and the neighbor's children tagged along.

the tail wagging the dog a situation where a small part is controlling the whole thing. ☐ John was just hired yesterday, and today he's bossing everyone around. It's a case of the tail wagging the dog. ☐ Why is this small matter so important? Now we see the tail wagging the dog!

take a backseat (to someone) to defer to someone; to give control to someone. ☐ I decided to take a backseat to Mary and let her manage the project. ☐ I had done the best I could, but it was time to take a backseat and let someone else run things.

take a bath Go to take a shower.

take a bath (on something) to have large financial losses on an investment. (Slang.) ☐ I took a bath on all my oil stock. I should have sold it sooner. ☐ I don't mind losing a little money now and then, but I really took a bath this time.

take a bow to bow and receive credit for a good performance. ☐ At the end of the concerto, the pianist rose and took a bow. ☐ The audience applauded wildly and demanded that the conductor come out and take a bow again.

take a break AND take one's break to have a short rest period in one's work. ☐ It's ten o'clock—time to take a break. ☐ I don't usually take my break until 10:30.

take a chance AND take a risk to try something where failure or bad fortune is likely. ☐ Come on, take a chance. You may lose, but it's worth trying. ☐ I'm not reckless, but I don't mind taking a risk now and then.

take a course (in something) to enroll in a course and do the required work. ☐ I decided to take a course in history. ☐ Bob drives into the city where he is taking a course.

take a crack at something to have a try at something; to give something a try. (Informal.) ☐ I don't think I can convince her to leave, but I'll take a crack at it. ☐ Someone had to try to rescue the child. Bill said he'd take a crack at it.

take a dig at someone AND take digs at someone to insult someone; to say something that will irritate a person. (Slang.) ☐ Jane took a dig at Bob for being late all the time. ☐ Jane is always taking digs at Bob, but she never really means any harm.

take a dim view of something to regard something skeptically or pessimistically. ☐ My aunt takes a dim view of most things that young people do. ☐ The manager took a dim view of my efforts on the project. I guess I didn't try hard enough.

take advantage of someone or something 1. [with someone] to cheat or deceive someone. ☐ The store owner took advantage of me, and I'm angry. ☐ You must be alert when you shop to make sure that someone doesn't take advantage of you. 2. to utilize someone or something to one's own benefit. ☐ Jane can be of great help to me, and I intend to take advantage of her. ☐ Try to take advantage of every opportunity that comes your way.

take a fancy to someone or something AND take a liking to someone or something; take a shine to someone or something to develop a fondness or a preference for someone or something. (Folksy.) □ John began to take a fancy to Sally late last August at the picnic. □ I've never taken a liking to cooked carrots. □ I think my teacher has taken a shine to me.

take after someone to resemble a close, older relative. □ Don't you think that Sally takes after her mother? □ No, Sally takes after her Aunt Ann.

take a gander (at someone or something) to examine someone or something; to take a look (at someone or something). (Slang.) □ Hey, will you take a gander at that fancy car! □ Drive it over here so I can take a gander.

take a hand in something to help plan or do something. □ I was glad to take a hand in planning the picnic. □ Jane refused to take a hand in any of the work.

take a hard line (with someone) to be firm with someone; to have a firm policy for dealing with someone. □ The manager takes a hard line with people who show up late. □ This is a serious matter. The police are likely to take a hard line.

Take a hike! Go to Go climb a tree!

take a hint to understand a hint and behave accordingly. □ I said I didn't want to see you anymore. Can't you take a hint? I don't like you. □ Sure I can take a hint, but I'd rather be told directly.

take (a)hold of someone or something AND get (a)hold of someone or something to get in control of someone or something. (Also literal.) □ Take hold of yourself! Calm down and relax. □ She took a few minutes to get hold of herself, and then she spoke.

take aim (at someone or something) 1. to aim (something) at someone or something. □ The hunter took aim at the deer and pulled the trigger. □ You must take aim carefully before you shoot. 2. to prepare to deal with someone or something. □ Now we have to take aim at the problem and try to get it solved. □ He turned to me and took aim. I knew he was going to scold me severely.

take a leaf out of someone's book to behave or to do something in the way that someone else would. □ When you act like that, you're taking a leaf out of your sister's book, and I don't like it! □ You had better do it your way. Don't take a leaf out of my book. I don't do it well.

take a licking Go to get a licking.

take a liking to someone or something Go to take a fancy to someone or something.

take a load off one's feet Go to get a load off one's feet.

Take a long walk off a short pier. AND Go play in the traffic. Get out of here!; Go do something that will get you permanently out of here! □ Get out of here! Take a long walk off a short pier! □ You bother me. Go play in the traffic.

take a look (at someone or something) to examine (briefly) someone or something. (Also with have, as in the example below.) □ I asked the doctor to take a look at my ankle that has been hurting. □ "So your ankle's hurting," said the doctor. "Let's take a look." □ Please have a look at my car. It's not running well.

take a look for someone or something AND have a look for someone or something to make a visual search for someone or something; to look for someone or something. □ Please go to the library and have a look for a book about snakes. □ Take a look for a man in a black suit. He is your guide.

take a nap to have a brief period of sleep. □ I took a short nap just after lunch. □ The baby takes a long nap each afternoon.

take a new turn [for something] to begin a new course or direction. □ When I received the telegram with the exciting news, my life took a new turn. □ I began taking the medicine at noon, and by evening the disease had begun to take a new turn. I was getting better!

take an interest (in something) to develop an interest in something. □ I wish John would take an interest in his schoolwork. □ We hoped you'd take an interest and join our club.

take an oath to make an oath; to swear to something. □ You must take an oath that you will never tell anyone about this. □ When I was a witness in court, I had to take an oath that I would tell the truth.

take a nosedive Go to go into a nosedive.

take a peep Go to have a peep.

take a potshot at someone or something to criticize someone or something; to include a criticism of someone or something in a broader or more general criticism. □ Daily, the media took potshots at the foolish politician. □ John is taking potshots at me in his condemnation of office workers.

take a powder to leave (a place); to sneak out or run out (of a place). (Slang.) □ When the police came to the door, Tom decided it was time to take a powder. He left by the back door. □ When the party got a little dull, Bill and his friend took a powder.

take a punch at someone to strike or strike at someone with one's fist. (Informal.) □ Mary got so angry at Bob that she took a punch at him. □ She took a punch at him, but she missed.

take a rain check (on something) Go to get a rain check (on something).

take a risk Go to take a chance.

take a shellacking Go to get a shellacking.

take a shine to someone or something Go to take a fancy to someone or something.

take a shot at something Go to give something a shot; take a try at something.

take a shower AND take a bath to bathe. □ I take a shower every morning. □ John takes a hot bath to relax.

take a spill to have a fall; to tip over. (Also with bad, nasty, quite, etc. Also with have.) □ Ann tripped on the curb and took a nasty spill. □ John had quite a spill when he fell off his bicycle.

take a stab at something Go to take a try at something.

take a stand (against someone or something) to take a position in opposition to someone or something; to oppose or resist someone or something. □ The treasurer was forced to take a stand against the board because of its wasteful spending. □ The treasurer took a stand, and others agreed.

take a toll the damage or wear that is caused by using something or by hard living. □ Years of sunbathing took a toll on Mary's skin. □ Drug abuse takes a heavy toll on the lives of people.

take a try at something AND take a shot at something; take a stab at something; take a whack at something to try to do something. (Also with have; see the variants at have a try at something. The second, third, and fourth entries can also be literal.) □ I don't know if I can eat a whole pizza, but I'll be happy to take a shot at it. □ I can't seem to get this computer to work right. Would you like to take a try at it? □ Sure. Take a stab at it. □ I don't know if I can do it or not, but I'll take a whack at it.

take attendance to make a record of persons attending something. □ The teacher took attendance before starting the class. □ I will take attendance each day.

take a turn for the better to start to improve; to start to get well. (The opposite of the following entry.) □ She was very sick for a month; then suddenly she took a turn for the better. □ Things are taking a turn for the better at my store. I may make a profit this year.

take a turn for the worse to start to get worse. (The opposite of the previous entry.) □ It appeared that she was going to get well; then, unfortunately, she took a turn for the worse. □ My job was going quite well; then last week things took a turn for the worse.

take a vacation to go somewhere for a vacation; to stop work to have a vacation. □ Sue took a vacation at the Grand Canyon last year. □ I need to take a vacation and relax.

Take a walk! Go to Go climb a tree!

take a whack at someone or something 1. [with someone] (Slang. Whack is sometimes spelled wack. Also with have, as in the examples below.) to hit at someone; to hit someone. ☐ He took a whack at me, so I punched him. ☐ Don't try to take a whack at me again! ☐ I'll have a wack at you! 2. [with something] Go to take a try at something.

take care of someone or something 1. to deal with someone or something; to handle or manage someone or something. ☐ Would you please take care of this little problem? ☐ This is an easy thing to take care of. I will fix it immediately. 2. to provide care for someone or something. ☐ John and Mary took care of their aged grandmother. ☐ Please take care of my plants while I am on vacation. 3. [with someone] to tip someone. ☐ I took care of the doorman as we left. ☐ Did you remember to take care of the waiter? 4. [with someone] to kill or dispose of someone. ☐ Max said he was going to take care of Lefty once and for all. ☐ The crime king ordered Max to take care of a certain private detective.

take charge (of someone or something) to take (over) control of someone or something. ☐ The president came in late and took charge of the meeting. ☐ When the new manager took charge, things really began to happen.

take cold Go to catch cold.

take digs at someone Go to take a dig at someone.

take effect Go to go into effect.

take exception (to something) to disagree with something (that someone has said). ☐ I take exception to your remarks, and I would like to discuss them with you. ☐ I'm sorry you take exception. Let's discuss the matter.

take five to take a five-minute rest period. (Slang.) ☐ Okay, everybody. Take five! ☐ Hey, Bob. I'm tired. Can we take five?

take forty winks Go to catch forty winks.

take (great) pains (to do something) to make a great effort to do something. ☐

Tom took pains to decorate the room exactly right. ☐ We took pains to get there on time.

take heart to be brave; to have courage. ☐ Take heart, John. Things could be worse! ☐ I told her to take heart and try again next time.

take heed to be cautious. ☐ Take heed, and don't get involved with the wrong kind of people. ☐ Just take heed, and you'll be safe.

take ill Go to take sick.

take inventory to make an inventory list. ☐ They are taking inventory in the warehouse, counting each item and writing the number on a list. ☐ The hardware store closed once a year in order to take inventory.

take issue (with someone) to argue with someone; to dispute a point with someone. ☐ I hate to take issue with you on such a minor point, but I'm quite sure you're wrong. ☐ I don't mind if you take issue, but I'm sure I'm right.

take it away to start up a performance. (Also literal. Typically a public announcement of the beginning of a musical performance. Slang.) ☐ And now, here is the band playing "Song of Songs." Take it away! ☐ Sally will now sing us a song. Take it away, Sally!

Take it easy. Good-bye and take care of yourself. (Informal.) ☐ Bye, Tom. Take it easy. ☐ Take it easy. I'll see you later.

take it easy (on someone or something) 1. to be gentle (with someone or something). (See also go easy (on someone or something).) ☐ Take it easy on Mary. She's been sick. ☐ Please take it easy on the furniture. It has to last us many years. ☐ Take it easy! You will break the chair! 2. [with something] to use less of something (rather than more). (Informal.) ☐ Take it easy on the soup. There's just enough for one serving for each person. ☐ Please take it easy! There are hardly any left.

take it on the chin to experience and endure a direct blow or assault. ☐ The bad news was a real shock, and John took it on the chin. □ The worst luck comes my way, and I always end up taking it on the chin.

take it or leave it to accept something (the way it is) or forget it. (Informal.) □ This is my last offer. Take it or leave it. □ It's not much, but it's the only food we have. You can take it or leave it.

take it slow to move or go slowly. (Informal.) □ The road is rough, so take it slow. □ This book is very hard to read, and I have to take it slow.

take it to one's grave to carry a secret with one until one dies. □ I will never tell anyone. I'll take your secret to my grave. □ She took the answer to the mystery to her grave.

take it (up)on oneself (to do something) to make something one's responsibility. □ I took it upon myself to order more pencils since we were running out of them. □ I'm glad that you took it on yourself to do that.

take kindly to something to be agreeable to something. □ My father doesn't take kindly to anyone using his tools. □ I hope they'll take kindly to our request.

take leave of one's senses to become irrational. (Often verbatim with one's.) □ What are you doing? Have you taken leave of your senses? □ What a terrible situation! It's enough to make one take leave of one's senses.

take liberties with someone or something AND make free with someone or something to use or abuse someone or something. □ You are overly familiar with me, Mr. Jones. One might think you were taking liberties with me. □ I don't like it when you make free with my lawn mower. You should at least ask when you want to borrow it.

take no stock in something AND not take stock in something to pay no attention to something; not to believe or accept something. □ I take no stock in anything John has to say. □ He doesn't take stock in your opinions either.

take note (of something) to observe and remember something. □ Please take note of the point I'm about to make. □ Here is something else of which you should take note.

take notice (of something) to observe something. □ I didn't take notice of when he came in. □ They say he came in late, but I didn't take notice.

take off 1. to leave the ground and begin to fly. (As with a bird or an airplane.) □ When do we take off? □ The eagle took off and headed toward the mountains. 2. to become popular and successful. □ Her book really took off after her television appearance. □ The idea took off, and soon everyone was talking about it.

take off (after someone or something) AND take out (after someone or something) to begin to chase someone or something. □ The bank guard took off after the robber. □ Did you see that police car take off? □ It took out after the bank robber's car.

take offense (at someone or something) to become resentful of someone or something. □ Bill took offense at Mary for her thoughtless remarks. □ Almost everyone took offense at Bill's new book. □ I'm sorry you took offense. I meant no harm.

take off (from work) not to go to work (for a period of time). □ I had to take off from work in order to renew my driver's license. □ I hate to take off for something like that.

take office to begin serving as an elected or appointed official. □ When did the mayor take office? □ All the elected officials took office just after the election.

take off one's hat (to someone) to offer praise for someone's good accomplishments. (Refers to taking off one's hat to show deference to someone.) □ I have to take off my hat to Mayor Johnson. She has done an excellent job. □ Yes, we all ought to take off our hats. She is our best mayor ever.

take off (on something) AND launch forth (on something) to start out a lecture on something; to begin a discussion of something. (See also set forth (on something).) □ My father took off on the subject of taxes and talked for an hour. □ My uncle is always launching forth on the state of the economy. □ When he launches forth, I leave the room.

take one at one's word to believe what someone says and act accordingly. □ She told me to go jump in the lake, and I took her at her word. □ You shouldn't take her at her word. She frequently says things she doesn't really mean.

take one's break Go to take a break.

take one's cue from someone to use someone else's behavior or reactions as a guide to one's own. (From the theatrical cue as a signal to speak, etc.) □ If you don't know which spoons to use at the dinner, just take your cue from John. □ The other children took their cue from Tommy and ignored the new boy.

take one's death of cold Go to catch one's death (of cold).

take (one's) leave (of someone) to say goodbye to someone and leave. □ I took leave of the hostess at an early hour. □ One by one, the guests took their leave.

take one's medicine to accept the punishment or the bad fortune that one deserves. (Also literal. Informal.) □ I know I did wrong, and I know I have to take my medicine. □ Billy knew he was going to get spanked, and he didn't want to take his medicine.

take one's own life to kill oneself; to commit suicide. □ Bob tried to take his own life, but he was stopped in time. □ Later, he was sorry that he had tried to take his own life.

take one's time to use as much time (to do something) as one wants. □ There is no hurry. Please take your time. □ If you take your time, you'll be late.

take out (after someone or something) Go to take off (after someone or something).

take out a loan to get a loan of money, especially from a bank. □ Mary took out a loan to buy a car. □ We will have to take out a loan to pay the bills this month.

take over to begin doing something that someone else was doing. □ When you get tired of washing dishes, I'll take over. □

You have been playing the drums long enough. Let me take over.

take part (in something) to participate in something. □ They invited me to take part in their celebration. □ I was quite pleased to take part.

take pity (on someone or something) to feel sorry for someone or something. □ We took pity on the hungry people and gave them some warm food. □ She took pity on the little dog and brought it in to get warm. □ Please take pity! Please help us!

take place to happen. □ When will this party take place? □ It's taking place right now.

take precedence over someone or something Go to have precedence over someone or something.

take pride in something to do something with pride; to have pride for or about something. □ The union workers took pride in their work. □ The artist took pride in her paintings.

take root to begin to take hold or have effect. (Refers to newly-planted plants.) □ Things will begin to change when my new policies take root. □ My ideas began to take root and influence other people.

take shape [for something, such as plans, writing, ideas, arguments, etc.] to begin to be organized and specific. □ My plans are beginning to take shape. □ As my manuscript took shape, I started showing it to publishers.

take sick AND take ill to become ill. (Folksy.) □ I took sick with a bad cold last week. □ I hope I don't take ill before final exams.

take sides to choose one side of an argument. □ They were arguing, but I didn't want to take sides, so I left. □ I don't mind taking sides on important issues.

take someone apart to beat someone up. (Slang.) □ Don't talk to me that way, or I'll take you apart. □ He was so mad that I thought he was going to take apart all of us.

take someone by surprise to startle someone; to surprise someone with something unexpected. □ Oh! You took me by surprise because I didn't hear you come in. □ Bill took his mother by surprise by coming to the door and pretending to be a solicitor.

take someone down a notch (or two) Go to take someone down a peg (or two).

take someone down a peg (or two) AND take someone down a notch (or two) to reprimand someone who is acting too arrogant. □ The teacher's scolding took Bob down a notch or two. □ He was so rude that someone was bound to take him down a peg or two.

take someone down (to size) Go to cut someone down (to size).

take someone for a fool Go to take someone for an idiot.

take someone for an idiot AND take someone for a fool to assume that someone is stupid. □ I wouldn't do anything like that! Do you take me for an idiot? □ I don't take you for a fool. I think you're very clever.

take someone for a ride to trick or deceive someone. (Informal.) □ Old people are being taken for a ride by bogus workmen. □ Whoever sold Tom that car took him for a ride. It needs a new engine.

take someone for someone or something to mistake someone for someone or something. □ I took Bill for his brother, Bob. They look so much alike! □ I took Mr. Brown for the gardener, and he was a little bit insulted.

take someone hostage to kidnap or seize someone to be a hostage. □ The terrorists planned to take the ambassador hostage. □ The entire family was taken hostage by the robber.

take someone in Go to suck someone in.

take someone into one's confidence to trust someone with confidential information; to tell a secret to someone and trust the person to keep the secret. □ We are good friends, but I didn't feel I could take her into my confidence. □ I know something very important about Jean. Can I take you into my confidence?

take someone or something at face value to take someone or something by its outward appearance; to take someone or something as it first appears to be. □ Don't just accept her offer at face value. Think of the implications. □ Jane tends to take people at face value and so she is always getting hurt.

take someone or something away to remove someone or something. □ I don't want any more soup. Please take it away. □ Take away Bill and John. They are bothering me.

take someone or something by storm to overwhelm someone or something; to attract a great deal of attention from someone or something. □ Jane is madly in love with Tom. He took her by storm at the office party, and they've been together ever since. □ The singer took the world of opera by storm with her performance in La Boheme.

take someone or something by surprise to startle or surprise someone or something. □ She came into the room and took them by surprise. □ I took the little bird by surprise, and it flew away.

take someone or something for granted to accept someone or something—without gratitude—as a matter of course. □ We tend to take a lot of things for granted. □ Mrs. Franklin complained that Mr. Franklin takes her for granted.

take someone or something in 1. to observe someone or something. (See also suck someone in.) □ The zoo is too big to take in the whole thing in one day. □ It takes two days to take in the museum. 2. to provide shelter for someone or something. □ When I needed a place to live, my uncle took me in. □ Mrs. Wilson took in the lonely little dog and gave it a warm home. 3. [with something] to inhale, drink, or eat something. □ I think I'll go for a walk and take in some fresh air. □ Jane was very ill, but she managed to take in a little broth.

take someone or something into account to remember to consider someone or something. □ I hope you'll take Bill and Bob into account when you plan the party. ☐ I'll try to take into account all the things that are important in a situation like this.

take someone or something on to undertake to deal with someone or something. ☐ Mrs. Smith is such a problem. I don't feel like taking her on just now. ☐ I'm too busy to take on any new problems.

take someone or something out 1. [with someone] to take someone out on the town on a date. (Also literal.) ☐ I hear that Tom has been taking Ann out. ☐ No, Tom has been taking out Mary. 2. [with someone] to remove someone who is acting as a barrier, especially in football. (Informal.) ☐ Okay, Bill. Get in there and take the quarterback out. ☐ Our player ran fast and took out the opposing player before he could tackle our runner. 3. [with someone] to kill someone. (Criminal slang.) ☐ The thief who drove the car was afraid that the other thieves were going to take him out, too. ☐ The crooks took out the witness to the crime.

take someone or something over to take charge (of someone or something); to assume control of someone or something. ☐ The new manager will take the office over next week. ☐ Will you please take over your children? I can't seem to control them.

take someone or something wrong to misunderstand someone or something. ☐ Please don't take me wrong, but I believe that your socks don't match. ☐ You'll probably take this wrong, but I have to say that I've never seen you looking better.

take someone's breath away 1. to cause someone to be out of breath due to a shock or hard exercise. ☐ Walking this fast takes my breath away. ☐ Mary frightened me and took my breath away. 2. to overwhelm someone with beauty or grandeur. ☐ The magnificent painting took my breath away. ☐ Ann looked so beautiful that she took my breath away.

take someone's part to take a side in an argument; to support someone in an argument. ☐ My sister took my mother's part in the family argument. ☐ You are always taking the part of underdog!

take someone's pulse to measure the frequency of the beats of a person's pulse. ☐ I can take my own pulse. ☐ The nurse took my pulse and said I was fine.

take someone to task to scold or reprimand someone. ☐ The teacher took John to task for his bad behavior. ☐ I lost a big contract, and the boss took me to task in front of everyone.

take someone to the cleaners to abuse or damage someone. (Slang.) ☐ There was a real rough guy there who threatened to take me to the cleaners if I didn't cooperate. ☐ The crook said he'd take anybody who interfered to the cleaners.

take someone under one's wing(s) to take over and care for a person. ☐ John wasn't doing well in geometry until the teacher took him under her wing. ☐ I took the new workers under my wings, and they learned the job in no time.

take someone up on something to take advantage of someone's offer of something. (Informal.) ☐ I'd like to take you up on your offer to help. ☐ We took up the Browns on their invitation to come to dinner.

take something to endure something; to survive something. (Also literal.) ☐ I don't think I can take any more scolding today. I've been in trouble since I got up this morning. ☐ Mary was very insulting to Tom, but he can take it.

take something amiss AND take something the wrong way to understand something as wrong or insulting. (Compare this with take someone or something wrong.) ☐ Would you take it amiss if I told you I thought you look lovely? ☐ Why would anyone take such a nice compliment amiss? ☐ I was afraid you'd take it the wrong way.

take something at face value to accept something exactly the way it appears to be. ☐ I don't know whether I can take her story at face value, but I will assume that she is not lying. ☐ The committee took the report at face value and approved the suggested changes.

take something back to withdraw or cancel one's statement. (Also literal, meaning

“to return something.”) □ I heard what you said, and I’m very insulted. Please take it back. ☐ Take back your words, or I’ll never speak to you again!

take something home (with oneself) 1. to carry something to one’s home. □ We took a lot of souvenirs home with us. 2. to take a thought, idea, or concept away [to one’s home] from a meeting or conference. □ Take this idea home with you. Think twice.

take something in stride to accept something as natural or expected. □ The argument surprised him, but he took it in stride. □ It was a very rude remark, but Mary took it in stride.

take something lying down to endure something unpleasant without fighting back. □ He insulted me publicly. You don’t expect me to take that lying down, do you? □ I’m not the kind of person who’ll take something like that lying down.

take something on faith to accept or believe something on the basis of little or no evidence. □ Please try to believe what I’m telling you. Just take it on faith. □ Surely you can’t expect me to take a story like that on faith.

take something on the chin to experience and endure a direct (figurative or literal) blow or assault. □ The bad news was a real shock, but John took it on the chin. □ The worst luck comes my way, and I always end up taking it on the chin.

take something out on someone or something to direct (or redirect) one’s anger or fear onto someone or something. □ I don’t care if you’re mad at your brother. Don’t take it out on me! □ John took his anger out on the wall by kicking it.

take something personally to interpret a remark as if it were mean or critical about oneself. □ Don’t take it personally, but you really need a haircut. □ I want to tell you something, but please don’t take it personally.

take something the wrong way Go to take something amiss.

take something to heart to take something very seriously. □ John took the criticism to heart and made an honest effort to improve. □ I know Bob said a lot of cruel things to you, but he was angry. You shouldn’t take those things to heart.

take something up 1. to begin to deal with an issue. (See also take something up (with someone).) □ That’s too big a job for today. I’ll take it up tomorrow. ☐ Now we’ll take up the task of the election of officers. 2. to make the bottom of a skirt or pants cuffs higher off the floor. □ I’ll have to take this skirt up. It’s too long for me. ☐ Please take up my pants cuffs. They are an inch too long.

take something up (with someone) to raise and discuss a matter with someone. □ This is a very complicated problem. I’ll have to take it up with the office manager. ☐ She’ll take up this problem with the owner in the morning.

take something with a grain of salt Go to take something with a pinch of salt.

take something with a pinch of salt AND take something with a grain of salt to listen to a story or an explanation with considerable doubt. □ You must take anything she says with a grain of salt. She doesn’t always tell the truth. □ They took my explanation with a pinch of salt. I was sure they didn’t believe me.

take steps (to prevent something) to do what is necessary to prevent something. □ I took steps to prevent John from learning what we were talking about. □ I have to keep John from knowing what I’ve been doing. I can prevent it if I take steps.

take stock (of something) to make an appraisal of resources and potentialities. □ I spent some time yesterday taking stock of my good and bad qualities. □ We all need to take stock now and then.

take the bit between the teeth Go to take the bit in one’s teeth.

take the bit in one’s teeth AND take the bit between the teeth to put oneself in charge. □ Someone needed to direct the project, so I took the bit in my teeth. □ If you want to get something done, you’ve got to take the bit between your teeth and get to work.

take the bitter with the sweet to accept the bad things along with the good things. □ We all have disappointments. You have to learn to take the bitter with the sweet. □ There are good days and bad days, but every day you take the bitter with the sweet. That's life.

take the bull by the horns AND seize the bull by the horns to meet a challenge directly. □ If we are going to solve this problem, someone is going to have to take the bull by the horns. □ This threat isn't going to go away by itself. We are going to seize the bull by the horns and settle this matter once and for all.

take the cake to win the prize; to be the best or the worst. (Folksy.) □ Look at those fireworks. If they don't take the cake, I don't know what does. □ Well, Jane, this dinner really takes the cake! It's delicious. □ Tom really messed it up. What he did really takes the cake.

take the day off to choose not to go to work for one day. (Compare this with get the day off.) □ The sun was shining, and it was warm, so I took the day off and went fishing. □ Jane wasn't feeling well, so she took the day off.

take the edge off (something) to remove the essence, power, or "bite" of something. □ I had to tell her some very sad things, so I spoke slowly and softly to take the edge off the news. □ I put sugar in my coffee to take the edge off.

take the initiative (to do something) to activate oneself to do something even if one has not been asked to do it. (See also make it one's business to do something.) □ The door hinges squeak because no one will take the initiative to oil them. □ Sometimes, in order to get things done, you have to take the initiative.

take the law into one's own hands to attempt to administer the law; to act as a judge and jury for someone who has done something wrong. □ Citizens don't have the right to take the law into their own hands. □ The shopkeeper took the law into his own hands when he tried to arrest the thief.

take the liberty of doing something to assume the right to do something. □ Since I knew you were arriving late, I took the liberty of securing a hotel room for you. □ May I take the liberty of addressing you by your first name?

take the rap (for someone or something) 1. [with someone] to take the blame (for something) for someone else. (Slang, especially criminal slang.) □ I don't want to take the rap for you. □ John robbed the bank, but Tom took the rap for him. 2. [with something] to take the blame for (doing) something. (Slang, especially criminal slang.) □ I won't take the rap for the crime. I wasn't even in town. □ Who'll take the rap for it? Who did it?

take (the) roll Go to call (the) roll.

take the stand to go to and sit in the witness chair in a courtroom. □ I was in court all day, waiting to take the stand. □ The lawyer asked the witness to take the stand.

take the starch out of someone 1. to make someone less arrogant or stiff. (Informal.) □ I told a joke that made Mr. Jones laugh very hard. It really took the starch out of him. □ John is so arrogant. I'd really like to take the starch out of him! 2. to make someone tired and weak. (Informal.) □ This hot weather really takes the starch out of me. □ What a long day! It sure took the starch out of me.

take the trouble (to do something) to make an effort to do something (that one might not otherwise do). □ I wish I had taken the trouble to study this matter more carefully. □ I just didn't have enough time to take the trouble.

take the wind out of someone's sails to challenge someone's boasting or arrogance. (Informal.) □ John was bragging about how much money he earned until he learned that most of us make more. That took the wind out of his sails. □ Learning that one has been totally wrong about something can really take the wind out of one's sails.

take the words out of one's mouth [for someone else] to say what you were going to say. (Informal. Also with right, as in the example.) □ John said exactly what I was going to say. He took the words out of my mouth. □ I agree with you, and I wanted to say the same thing. You took the words right out of my mouth.

take time off not to work for a period of time—a few minutes or a longer period. (Compare this with get time off.) □ I had to take time off to go to the dentist. □ Mary took time off to have a cup of coffee.

take too much on to undertake to do too much work or too many tasks. □ Don't take too much on, or you won't be able to do any of it well. □ Ann tends to take on too much and get exhausted.

take to one's heels to run away. □ The little boy said hello and then took to his heels. □ The man took to his heels to try to get to the bus stop before the bus left.

take to someone or something to become fond of or attracted to someone or something. (Informal.) □ Mary didn't take to her new job, and she quit after two weeks. □ Mary seemed to take to John right away.

take turns ((at) doing something) to do something, one (person) at a time (rather than everyone all at once). □ Please take turns at reading the book. □ Everyone is taking turns looking at the picture. □ It's more orderly when everyone takes turns.

take umbrage at something to feel that one has been insulted by something. □ The employee took umbrage at not getting a raise. □ Mary took umbrage at the suggestion that she was being unreasonable.

take up a collection to collect money for a specific project. □ We wanted to send Bill some flowers, so we took up a collection. □ The office staff took up a collection to pay for the office party.

take up arms (against someone or something) to prepare to fight against someone or something. □ Everyone in the town took up arms against the enemy. □ They were all so angry that the leader convinced them to take up arms.

take up one's abode somewhere to settle down and live somewhere. (Formal.) □ I took up my abode downtown near my office. □ We decided to take up our abode in a warmer climate.

take up room Go to take up space.

take up someone's time to require too much of someone else's time; to waste someone's time. (Also with so much of or too much of, as in the examples below.) □ You're taking up my time. Please go away. □ I'm sorry. I didn't mean to take up so much of your time. □ This problem is taking up too much of my time.

take up space AND take up room to fill or occupy space. (Note the variation in the examples.) □ The piano is taking up too much room in our living room. □ John, you're not being any help at all. You're just taking up space.

take up time to require or fill time. (Note the variation in the examples. Also without up.) □ This project is taking up too much time. □ This kind of thing always takes up time.

take up where one left off to start up again in the very place that one has stopped. □ I had to leave the room for a minute, but when I got back, I took up where I left off. □ It's time to stop for lunch. After lunch, we will take up where we left off.

take up with someone to become a friend or companion to someone. □ Billy's mother was afraid that he was taking up with the wrong kind of people. □ John and Bob took up with each other and became close friends.

taken aback surprised and confused. □ When Mary told me the news, I was taken aback for a moment. □ When I told my parents I was married, they were completely taken aback.

taken for dead appearing to be dead; assumed to be dead. □ I was so ill with the flu that I was almost taken for dead. □ The accident victims were so seriously injured that they were taken for dead at first.

talk a blue streak to talk very much and very rapidly. (Informal.) □ Billy didn't talk until he was six, and then he started talking a blue streak. □ I can't understand anything Bob says. He talks a blue streak, and I can't follow his thinking.

talk back (to someone) to respond (to a rebuke) rudely or impertinently. □ John got in trouble for talking back to the teacher. □ A student never gains anything by talking back.

talk big to brag or boast; to talk in an intimidating manner. (Slang.) □ John is always talking big, but he hasn't really accomplished a lot in life. □ She talks big, but she's harmless.

talk down to someone to speak to someone in a patronizing manner; to speak to someone in the simplest way. □ The manager insulted everyone in the office by talking down to them. □ Please don't talk down to me. I can understand almost anything you have to say.

talk in circles to talk in a confusing or roundabout manner. □ I couldn't understand a thing he said. All he did was talk in circles. □ We argued for a long time and finally decided that we were talking in circles.

the talk of somewhere someone or something who is the subject of a conversation somewhere, especially the town. □ The handsome new teacher was the talk of the town. □ John's new car is the talk of the office.

talk oneself out to talk until one can talk no more. □ After nearly an hour, he had talked himself out. Then we began to ask questions. □ I talked myself out in the meeting, but no one would support my position.

talk shop to talk about business matters at a social event (where business talk is out of place). (Informal.) □ All right, everyone, we're not here to talk shop. Let's have a good time. □ Mary and Jane stood by the punch bowl, talking shop.

talk someone down 1. to win out over someone in an argument; to convince someone by arguing. □ She loves to argue. She takes pleasure in talking someone down. □ She tried to talk me down, but I held my ground. 2. to convince someone to lower the price. □ She wanted $2,000 for the car, but I talked her down. □ This is my final offer. Don't try to talk me down.

talk someone into (doing) something to overcome someone's objections to doing something; to convince someone to do something. □ They talked me into going to the meeting, even though I didn't really have the time. □ No one can talk me into doing something illegal.

talk someone or something up to promote or speak in support of someone or something. (Informal.) □ I've been talking up the party all day, trying to get people to come. □ The mayor is running for reelection, and everyone at city hall is talking her up.

talk someone out of (doing) something to convince someone not to do something. □ I tried to talk her out of going, but she insisted. □ Don't try to talk me out of quitting school. My mind is made up.

talk someone out of something to convince someone to give something up. □ This is my candy, and you can't talk me out of it. □ I tried to talk her out of her property, but she didn't want to sell.

talk someone's ear off Go to talk someone's head off.

talk someone's head off 1. [for someone] to speak too much. (Slang.) □ Why does John always talk his head off? Doesn't he know he bores people? □ She talks her head off and doesn't seem to know what she's saying. 2. AND talk someone's ear off (Slang.) to talk to and bore someone. □ John is very friendly, but watch out or he'll talk your head off. □ My uncle always talked my ear off whenever I went to visit him.

talk something out to talk about all aspects of a problem or disagreement. □ Ann and Sally had a problem, so they agreed to talk it out. □ It's better to talk out a disagreement than to stay mad.

talk something over to discuss something. □ Come into my office so we can talk this over. ☐ We talked over the plans for nearly an hour.

talk through one's hat to talk nonsense; to brag and boast. (Informal.) ☐ John isn't really as good as he says. He's just talking through his hat. ☐ Stop talking through your hat and start being sincere!

talk turkey to talk business; to talk frankly. (Slang.) ☐ Okay, Bob, we have business to discuss. Let's talk turkey. ☐ John wanted to talk turkey, but Jane just wanted to joke around.

talk until one is blue in the face to talk until one is exhausted. (Informal.) ☐ I talked until I was blue in the face, but I couldn't change her mind. ☐ She had to talk until she was blue in the face in order to convince him.

talked out tired of talking; unable to talk more. (Folksy. See also talk oneself out.) ☐ I can't go on. I'm all talked out. ☐ She was talked out in the first hour of discussion.

tamper with something to attempt to alter or change something; to meddle with or damage something. ☐ Someone has tampered with my door lock. ☐ Please don't tamper with my stereo.

tan someone's hide to spank someone. (Folksy.) ☐ Billy's mother said she'd tan Billy's hide if he ever did that again. ☐ "I'll tan your hide if you're late!" said Tom's father.

taper off (doing something) to stop doing something gradually. ☐ My doctor told me to taper off smoking cigarettes. ☐ I have to taper off because I can't stop all at once.

tar and feather someone to chastise someone severely. (Also literal.) ☐ They threatened to tar and feather me if I ever came back into their town. ☐ I don't believe that they'd really tar and feather me, but they could be very unpleasant.

tarred with the same brush sharing the same characteristic(s); having the same good or bad points as someone else. ☐ Jack and his brother are tarred with the same brush. They're both crooks. ☐ The a taste of something an experience; an example. ☐ Bill gave Sue a taste of her own rudeness. ☐ My friend used a parachute and got a taste of what it's like to be a bird.

Smith children are tarred with the same brush. They're all lazy.

a taste of things to come Go to a har-binger of things to come.

tax-and-spend spending freely and taxing heavily. (Refers to a legislative body that repeatedly passes expensive new laws and keeps raising taxes to pay for the cost.) ☐ I hope that people do not elect another tax-and-spend Congress this time. ☐ The only thing worse than a tax-and-spend legislature is one that spends and runs up a worsening deficit.

tea and crumpets a fancy or fussy meeting or reception where refreshments, especially sweet and insubstantial refreshments, are served. (Alluding to a genteel appointment where tea and some light pastries are served.) ☐ I don't have time to spend the afternoon having tea and crumpets with the office staff. I have work to do! ☐ Almost every one of my Sunday afternoons is taken up with tea and crumpets for this cause and tea and crumpets for that cause! My rest and relaxation is the only cause I am interested in this Sunday!

teach one's grandmother to suck eggs to try to tell or show someone more knowledgeable or experienced than oneself how to do something. ☐ Don't suggest showing Mary how to knit. It will be teaching your grandmother to suck eggs. She's an expert. ☐ Don't teach your grandmother to suck eggs. Bob has been playing tennis for years.

teach someone a lesson to get even with someone for bad behavior. (Also literal.) ☐ John tripped me, so I punched him. That ought to teach him a lesson. ☐ That taught me a lesson. I won't do it again.

the teacher's pet the teacher's favorite student. (Preceded by be, become, seem like, or act like.) ☐ Sally is the teacher's pet. She always gets special treatment. ☐ The other students don't like the teacher's pet.

team up with someone to join with someone. □ I teamed up with Jane to write the report. □ I had never teamed up with anyone else before. I had always worked alone.

tear into someone or something 1. [with someone] to criticize and scold someone. □ Tom tore into John and yelled at him for an hour. □ Don't tear into me like that. You have no right to speak to me that way. 2. to attack or fight with someone or something. □ The boxer tore into his opponent. □ The lion tore into the herd of zebras.

tear off to leave or depart in a great hurry. (Informal.) □ Well, excuse me. I have to tear off. □ Bob tore off down the street, chasing the fire engine.

tear one's hair (out) to be anxious, frustrated, or angry. □ I was so nervous, I was about to tear my hair. □ I had better get home. My parents will be tearing their hair out.

tear someone or something down 1. to criticize or degrade someone or something. □ Tom is always tearing Jane down. I guess he doesn't like her. □ It's not nice to tear down the people who work in your office. □ Why are you always tearing my projects down? 2. [with something] to dismantle or destroy something. □ They plan to tear the old building down and build a new one there. □ They'll tear down the building in about two weeks.

tear someone up to cause someone much grief. (Also literal. Slang.) □ The news of Tom's death really tore Bill up. □ Bad news tears up some people. Other people can take it calmly.

tee someone off to make someone angry. (Slang.) □ That kind of talk really tees me off! □ Don't let him tee you off. He doesn't mean any harm.

teething troubles difficulties and problems experienced in the early stages of a project, activity, etc. □ There have been a lot of teething troubles with the new computer system. □ We have finally gotten over the teething troubles connected with the new building complex.

tell its own story AND tell its own tale [for the state of something] to indicate clearly what has happened. □ The upturned boat told its own tale. The fisherman had drowned. □ The girl's tear-stained face told its own story.

tell its own tale Go to tell its own story.

tell it to the marines I do not believe you (maybe the marines will). (Informal.) □ That's silly. Tell it to the marines. □ I don't care how good you think your reason is. Tell it to the marines!

tell one to one's face to tell (something) to someone directly. □ I'm sorry that Sally feels that way about me. I wish she had told me to my face. □ I won't tell Tom that you're mad at him. You should tell him to his face.

tell on someone to report someone's bad behavior; to tattle on someone. □ If you do that again, I'll tell on you! □ Please don't tell on me. I'm in enough trouble as it is.

tell people apart to distinguish one person or a group of people from another person or group of people. □ Tom and John are brothers, and you can hardly tell them apart. □ Our team is wearing red, and the other team is wearing orange. I can't tell them apart.

tell someone a thing or two AND tell someone where to get off to scold someone; to express one's anger to someone; to tell someone off. (Informal.) □ Wait till I see Sally. I'll tell her a thing or two! □ She told me where to get off and then started in scolding Tom.

tell someone off to scold someone; to attack someone verbally. (This has a sense of finality about it.) □ I was so mad at Bob that I told him off. □ By the end of the day, I had told off everyone else, too.

tell someone where to get off Go to tell someone a thing or two.

tell tales out of school to tell secrets or spread rumors. □ I wish that John would keep quiet. He's telling tales out of school again. □ If you tell tales out of school a lot, people won't know when to believe you.

tell things apart to distinguish one thing or a group of things from another thing or group of things. □ This one is gold, and the others are brass. Can you tell them apart? □ Without their labels, I can't tell them apart.

tell time 1. to keep or report the correct time. □ This clock doesn't tell time very accurately. □ My watch stopped telling time, so I had to have it repaired. 2. to be able to read time from a clock or watch. □ Billy is only four. He can't tell time yet. □ They are teaching the children to tell time at school.

tell which is which Go to know which is which.

a tempest in a teapot an uproar about practically nothing. □ This isn't a serious problem—just a tempest in a teapot. □ Even a tempest in a teapot can take a lot of time to get settled.

thank one's lucky stars to be thankful for one's luck. □ You can thank your lucky stars that I was there to help you. □ I thank my lucky stars that I studied the right things for the test.

Thank you for sharing.  □ Thank you for sharing. I really needed to hear about your operation. □ Thank you for sharing, Bob. I hope your parents' divorce goes well.

thankful for small blessings grateful for any small benefits or advantages one has, especially in a generally difficult situation. (Preceded by be, become, or seem.) □ We have very little money, but we must be thankful for small blessings. At least we have enough food. □ Bob was badly injured in the accident, but at least he's still alive. Let's be thankful for small blessings.

thanks to someone or something owing to someone or something; because of someone or something. (This does not refer to gratitude.) □ Thanks to the storm, we have no electricity. □ Thanks to Mary, we have tickets to the game. She bought them early before they were sold out.

That ain't hay. That is not a small amount of money. (Folksy.) □ I paid forty dollars for it, and that ain't hay! □ Bob lost his wallet with $200 in it—and that ain't hay.

That does it! AND That tears it! That is the last thing that is needed to force me to take action! □ That does it! I'm mad and I'm going home! □ Well, that tears it! I have never been so insulted!

That makes two of us. The same is true for me. □ So you're going to the football game? That makes two of us. □ BILL: I just passed my biology test. BOB: That makes two of us!

That sucks. AND It sucks. That is worthless. (Slang. Use caution with sucks.) □ Yuck! That sucks! □ This meat loaf is terrible. It sucks.

That takes care of that. That is settled. □ That takes care of that, and I'm glad it's over. □ I spent all morning dealing with this matter, and that takes care of that.

That tears it! Go to That does it!

That'll be the day. I don't believe that the day will ever come (when something will happen). □ Do you really think that John will pass geometry? That'll be the day. □ John graduate? That'll be the day!

That's about the size of it. It is final and correct. (Slang.) □ MARY: Do you mean that you aren't going? TOM: That's about the size of it. □ At the end of his speech Bob said, "That's about the size of it."

That's all for someone. Someone will get no more chances to do things correctly. □ That's all for you, Tom. I've had all I can take from you. One disappointment after another. □ You've gone too far, Mary. That's all for you. Good-bye!

That's all she wrote. That is all. (Slang.) □ At the end of his informal talk, Tom said, "That's all she wrote." □ Sally looked at the empty catsup bottle and said, "That's all she wrote."

That's it! 1. That does it! That's the last straw! (Informal.) □ That's it! I'm leaving! I've had enough! □ Ok. That's it! I'm going to report you to human resources!

2. That is the answer! □ That's it! You are right. □ That's it! You got the right answer.

That's that. It is permanently settled and need not be dealt with again. □ I said no, and that's that. □ You can't come back. I told you to leave, and that's that.

That's the ticket. That is exactly what is needed. □ That's the ticket, John. You're doing it just the way it should be done. □ That's the ticket! I knew you could do it.

That's the way the ball bounces. AND That's the way the cookie crumbles. That is too bad.; Those things happen. (Slang.) □ Sorry to hear about your problems. That's the way the ball bounces. □ John wrecked his car and then lost his job. That's the way the cookie crumbles.

That's the way the cookie crumbles. Go to That's the way the ball bounces.

[the] <Entries beginning with a, an, or the are alphabetized under the second word in the entry. That means that a bed of roses will appear in the Bs.>

The jig is up. Go to The game is up.

Them's fighting words. Those are words that will start a fight. (Folksy. Note that them is permissible in this expression.) □ Better not talk like that around here. Them's fighting words. □ Them's fighting words, and you'd better be quiet unless you want trouble.

then and there right then. □ I asked him right then and there exactly what he meant. □ I decided to settle the matter then and there and not wait until Monday.

There aren't enough hours in the day. There are too many things to do and not enough time. □ I am behind in all my work. There aren't enough hours in the day! □ We can't handle all the problems that come our way. There aren't enough hours in the day.

There are plenty of other fish in the sea. There are other choices. (Proverb. Used to refer to persons.) □ When John broke up with Ann, I told her not to worry. There are plenty of other fish in the sea. □ It's too bad that your secretary quit, but there are plenty of other fish in the sea.

there is no doing something one is not permitted to do something. (Informal.) □ There is no arguing with Bill. □ There is no cigarette smoking here.

There is trouble brewing. Go to Trouble is brewing.

There, now. Go to There, there.

There, there. AND There, now. <an expression used to comfort someone.> □ There, there. You'll feel better after you take a nap. □ There, now. Everything will be all right.

There will be the devil to pay. There will be lots of trouble. (Informal. See also have the devil to pay.) □ If you damage my car, there will be the devil to pay. □ Bill broke a window, and now there will be the devil to pay.

There you go. Go to Here you go.

There's more than one way to skin a cat. There is more than one way to do something. (Proverb.) □ If that way won't work, try another way. There's more than one way to skin a cat. □ Don't worry, I'll figure out a way to get it done. There's more than one way to skin a cat.

There's no accounting for taste. There is no explanation for people's preferences. (Proverb.) □ Look at that purple and orange car! There's no accounting for taste. □ Some people seemed to like the music, although I thought it was worse than noise. There's no accounting for taste.

They don't make them like they used to. goods are not as well made now as they were in the past. (Often used as a catch phrase. Them is often 'em.) □ Look at this flimsy door! They don't make 'em like they used to. □ Why don't cars last longer? They just don't make 'em like they used to.

thick and fast in large numbers or amounts and at a rapid rate. □ The enemy soldiers came thick and fast. □ New problems seem to come thick and fast.

thick as pea soup Go to (as) thick as pea soup.

thick as thieves Go to (as) thick as thieves.

thick-skinned not easily upset or hurt; insensitive. (Also literal. The opposite of thin-skinned.) □ Tom won't worry about your insults. He's completely thick-skinned. □ Jane's so thick-skinned she didn't realize Fred was being rude to her.

thin on top balding. (Informal.) □ James is wearing a hat because he's getting thin on top. □ Father got a little thin on top as he got older.

thin-skinned easily upset or hurt; sensitive. (Also literal. The opposite of thick-skinned.) □ You'll have to handle Mary's mother carefully. She's very thin-skinned. □ Jane weeps easily when people tease her. She's too thin-skinned.

Things are looking up. Conditions are looking better. □ Since I got a salary increase, things are looking up. □ Things are looking up at school. I'm doing better in all my classes.

think a great deal of someone or something Go to think a lot of someone or something.

think a lot of someone or something AND think a great deal of someone or something; think highly of someone or something; think much of someone or something to think well of someone or something. (See also speak highly of someone or something.) □ The teacher thinks a lot of Mary and her talents. □ No one really thinks a great deal of the new policies. □ I think highly of John. □ The manager doesn't think much of John and says so to everyone.

think back (on) someone or something) to remember and think about someone or something in one's past. □ When I think back on Sally and the good times we had together, I get very sad. □ I like to think back on my childhood and try to remember what it was like.

think better of something to reconsider something; to think again and decide not to do something. □ Jack was going to escape, but he thought better of it. □ Jill had planned to resign, but thought better of it.

think highly of someone or something Go to think a lot of someone or something.

think inside the box to think in traditional fashion, bound by old, nonfunctional, or limiting structures, rules, or practices. (As if thinking or creativity were confined or limited by a figurative box. See also inside the box. Compare this with think outside the box.) □ You won't come up with good ideas if you think only inside the box. □ You guys only think inside the box and will never find a better solution.

think little of someone or something AND think nothing of someone or something to have a low opinion of someone or something. □ Most experts think little of Jane's theory. □ People may think nothing of it now, but in a few years everyone will praise it. □ The critics thought little of her latest book.

think much of someone or something Go to think a lot of someone or something.

think nothing of someone or something Go to think little of someone or something.

think on one's feet to think, reason, and plan while one is talking. □ If you want to be a successful teacher, you must be able to think on your feet. □ I have to write out everything I'm going to say, because I can't think on my feet too well.

think out loud to say one's thoughts aloud. □ Excuse me. I didn't really mean to say that. I was just thinking out loud. □ Mr. Johnson didn't prepare a speech. He just stood there and thought out loud. It was a terrible presentation.

think outside the box to think freely, not bound by old, nonfunctional, or limiting structures, rules, or practices. (As if thinking or creativity were confined in or limited by a figurative box. See also outside the box. Compare this with think inside the box.) □ You won't come up with good ideas until you think outside the box. □ Let's think outside the box for a minute and try to find a better solution.

think someone or something fit for something to believe that someone or something is suitable for something. □ I don't think John fit for the job. □ Do you think this car fit for a long trip?

think something out to think through something; to prepare a plan or scheme. □ This is an interesting problem. I'll have to take some time and think it out. □ We spent all morning thinking out our plan.

think something over to consider something; to think about something (before giving a decision). □ Please think it over and give me your decision in the morning. □ I need more time to think over your offer.

think something up to contrive or invent something. □ Don't worry. I'll find a way to do it. I can think something up in time to get it done. □ John thought up a way to solve our problem.

think the world of someone or something to be very fond of someone or something. □ Mary thinks the world of her little sister. □ The old lady thinks the world of her cats.

think twice (before doing something) to consider carefully whether one should do something; to be cautious about doing something. □ You should think twice before quitting your job. □ That's a serious decision, and you should certainly think twice.

thinking inside the box thinking traditionally, bound by old, nonfunctional, or limiting structures, rules, or practices. (Compare this with thinking outside the box.) □ Thinking inside the box will seldom produce any creative solution for a serious problem. □ Thinking inside the box is what got us into this mess in the first place.

thinking outside the box thinking freely, not being bound by old, nonfunctional, or limiting structures, rules, or practices. (Compare this with thinking inside the box.) □ Thinking outside the box will often produce some creative solutions to a complex problem. □ Thinking outside the box is a popular way to encourage creative solutions, or it can waste a lot of valuable time.

a thirst for something a craving or desire for something. (Also literal.) □ The tyrant had an intense thirst for power. □ The ac- tor's thirst for fame caused him to become unscrupulous.

thirsty for something craving or desiring something. (Also literal.) □ The students were thirsty for knowledge. □ That evil tyrant is thirsty for power.

This is it. This is the time, place, or thing that we have been looking or waiting for. □ This is it. This is the chance you've been waiting for! □ This is it. This is my stop. I have to get off the bus.

thither and yon there and everywhere. (Archaic. See also hither, thither, and yon.) □ I sent my résumé thither and yon, but no one responded. □ The children are all scattered thither and yon, and it is difficult for them to get home for the holidays.

a thorn in someone's side a constant bother or annoyance to someone. (Preceded by be, become, seem like, or act like.) □ This problem is a thorn in my side. I wish I had a solution to it. □ John was a thorn in my side for years before I finally got rid of him.

Those were the days. The days we have been referring to were the greatest of times. □ Ah, yes. The eighties. Those were the days! □ Those were the days. Back when people knew right from wrong.

thrash something out to discuss something thoroughly and solve any problems. □ The committee took hours to thrash the whole matter out. □ Fred and Anne thrashed out the reasons for their constant disagreements.

thread (one's way) through something to make a path for oneself through a crowded area; to make one's way through a crowded area. □ The spy threaded his way through the crowd. □ The joggers threaded through the shoppers on the sidewalks.

three sheets to the wind drunk. (These sheets are the ropes on a sailing vessel.) □ I think that guy is three sheets to the wind. He can hardly stand up. □ Bob and Bill are three sheets to the wind. You know, drunk.

thrill someone to death Go to thrill someone to pieces.

thrill someone to pieces AND thrill someone to death to please or excite someone very much. (Informal.) ☐ John sent flowers to Ann and thrilled her to pieces. ☐ Your wonderful comments thrilled me to death.

thrilled to death AND thrilled to pieces very excited; very pleased. ☐ She was thrilled to death to get the flowers. ☐ I'm just thrilled to pieces to have you visit me.

thrilled to pieces Go to thrilled to death.

through and through thoroughly; completely. ☐ I've studied this report through and through trying to find the facts you've mentioned. ☐ I was angry through and through, and I had to sit and recover before I could talk to anyone.

through hell and high water through all sorts of severe difficulties. (Use caution with hell.) ☐ I came through hell and high water to get to this meeting on time. Why don't you start on time? ☐ You'll have to go through hell and high water to accomplish your goal, but it'll be worth it.

through thick and thin through good times and bad times. ☐ We've been together through thick and thin, and we won't desert each other now. ☐ Over the years, we went through thick and thin and enjoyed every minute of it.

throw a fit to become very angry; to put on a display of anger. (Folksy.) ☐ Sally threw a fit when I showed up without the things she asked me to buy. ☐ My dad threw a fit when I got home three hours late.

throw a monkey wrench into the works to cause problems for someone's plans. (Informal.) ☐ I don't want to throw a monkey wrench into the works, but have you checked your plans with a lawyer? ☐ When John suddenly refused to help us, he really threw a monkey wrench into the works.

throw a party (for someone) to give or hold a party (for someone). ☐ Mary was leaving town, so we threw a party for her. ☐ Fred is having a birthday. Do you know a place where we could throw a party?

throw caution to the wind to become very careless. ☐ Jane, who is usually cautious, threw caution to the wind and went windsurfing. ☐ I don't mind taking a little chance now and then, but I'm not the type of person who throws caution to the wind.

throw cold water on something Go to pour cold water on something.

throw down the gauntlet to challenge (someone) to an argument or to (figurative) combat. ☐ When Bob challenged my conclusions, he threw down the gauntlet. I was ready for an argument. ☐ Frowning at Bob is the same as throwing down the gauntlet. He loves to get into a fight about something.

throw good money after bad to waste additional money after wasting money once. ☐ I bought a used car and then had to spend $300 on repairs. That was throwing good money after bad. ☐ The Browns are always throwing good money after bad. They bought an acre of land that turned out to be swamp, and then had to pay to have it filled in.

throw in the sponge Go to throw in the towel.

throw in the towel AND throw in the sponge to quit (doing something). (Informal.) ☐ When John could stand no more of Mary's bad temper, he threw in the towel and left. ☐ Don't give up now! It's too soon to throw in the sponge.

throw oneself at someone AND fling oneself at someone to give oneself willingly to someone else for romance. ☐ I guess that Mary really likes John. She practically threw herself at him when he came into the room. ☐ Everyone could see by the way Tom flung himself at Jane that he was going to ask her for a date.

throw oneself at someone's feet to behave in a very humble and contrite manner. (Refers to bowing down humbly at someone's feet.) ☐ Do I have to throw myself at your feet in order to convince you that I'm sorry? ☐ I love you sincerely, Jane. I'll throw myself at your feet and await your command. I'm your slave!

throw oneself at the mercy of the court

Go to throw oneself on the mercy of the court.

throw oneself on the mercy of the court

AND throw oneself at the mercy of the court to plead for mercy from a judge in a courtroom. □ Your honor, please believe me, I didn't do it on purpose. I throw myself on the mercy of the court and beg for a light sentence. □ Jane threw herself at the mercy of the court and hoped for the best.

throw one's hands up in despair to give up; to raise one's hands making a sign of giving up. □ John threw his hands up in despair because they wouldn't let him see his brother in the hospital. □ There was nothing I could do to help. I threw up my hands in despair and left.

throw one's hands up in horror to be shocked; to raise one's hands as if one had been frightened. □ When Bill heard the bad news, he threw his hands up in horror. □ I could do no more. I had seen more than I could stand. I just threw up my hands in horror and screamed.

throw one's voice

to project one's voice so that it seems to be coming from some other place. □ The ventriloquist threw his voice. □ Jane can throw her voice, so I thought she was standing behind me.

throw one's weight around to attempt to boss people around; to give orders. (Informal.) □ The district manager came to our office and tried to throw his weight around, but no one paid any attention to him. □ Don't try to throw your weight around in this office. We know who our boss is.

throw (some) light on something

Go to shed (some) light on something.

throw someone to confuse someone slightly.

(See also throw someone for a loop.) □ You threw me for a minute when you asked for my identification. I thought you recognized me. □ The question the teacher asked was so hard that it threw me, and I became very nervous.

throw someone a curve 1.

to pitch a curve ball to someone in baseball. □ The pitcher threw John a curve, and John swung wildly against thin air. □ During that game, the pitcher threw everyone a curve at least once. 2. to confuse someone by doing something unexpected. □ When you said "house" you threw me a curve. The password was supposed to be "home." □ John threw me a curve when we were making our presentation, and I forgot my speech.

throw someone for a loop

AND knock someone for a loop to confuse or shock someone. (Informal. This is more severe and upsetting than throw someone a curve or throw someone.) □ When Bill heard the news, it threw him for a loop. □ The manager knocked Bob for a loop by firing him on the spot.

throw someone for a loss to cause someone to be uncertain or confused. (Often passive.) □ The stress of being in front of so many people threw Ann for a loss. She forgot her speech. □ It was a difficult problem. I was thrown for a loss for an answer.

throw someone off the track 1.

to cause one to lose one's place in the sequence of things. □ The interruption threw me off the track for a moment, but I soon got started again with my presentation. □ Don't let little things throw you off the track. Concentrate on what you're doing.

2. AND throw someone off the trail to cause someone to lose the trail (when following someone or something). □ The raccoon threw us off the track by running through the creek. □ The robber threw the police off the trail by leaving town.

throw someone off the trail

Go to throw someone off the track.

throw someone or something off 1.

[with someone] to confuse someone; to mislead someone. □ The interruption threw me off, and I lost my place in the speech. □ Little noises throw me off. Please try to be quiet. □ Your comment threw me off. 2. [with something] to resist or recover from a disease. □ It was a bad cold, but I managed to throw it off in a few days. □ I can't seem to throw off my cold. I've had it for weeks. 3. [with something] to emit or give off an odor. □ The small animal threw a strong odor off. ☐ The flowers threw off a heavy perfume.

throw someone out (of something) to force a person to leave a place or an organization. (Also literal.) ☐ John behaved so badly that they threw him out of the party. ☐ I was very loud, but they didn't throw me out. ☐ They threw Toni out of the club because she was so unpleasant.

throw someone over to end a romance with someone. ☐ Jane threw Bill over. I think she met someone she likes better. ☐ Bill was about ready to throw her over, so it's just as well.

throw someone's name around to impress people by saying you know a famous or influential person. (Informal.) ☐ You won't get anywhere around here by throwing the mayor's name around. ☐ When you get to the meeting, just throw my name around a bit, and people will pay attention to you.

throw someone to the wolves to (figuratively) sacrifice someone. ☐ The press was demanding an explanation, so the mayor blamed the mess on John and threw him to the wolves. ☐ I wouldn't let them throw me to the wolves! I did nothing wrong, and I won't take the blame for their errors.

throw something into the bargain to include something in a deal. ☐ To encourage me to buy a new car, the car dealer threw a free radio into the bargain. ☐ If you purchase three pounds of chocolates, I'll throw one pound of salted nuts into the bargain.

throw something together AND slap something together to assemble or arrange something in haste. ☐ Don't just slap something together! Use care and do it right. ☐ You assembled this device very badly. It seems that you just slapped it together. ☐ John went into the kitchen to throw together something for dinner.

throw (something) up to vomit something. (Compare this with spit (something) up.) ☐ The meat was bad, and I threw it up. ☐ I hate to throw up. ☐ Billy threw up his dinner.

throw something up to someone to mention a shortcoming to someone repeatedly. ☐ I know I'm thoughtless. Why do you keep throwing it up to me? ☐ Bill was always throwing Jane's faults up to her.

throw the baby out with the bath(water) to dispose of the good while eagerly trying to get rid of the bad. ☐ In her haste to talk down the idea containing a few disagreeable points, she has thrown the baby out with the bathwater. ☐ Hasty action will result in throwing out the baby with the bath.

throw the book at someone to charge someone with, or convict someone of, as many crimes as is possible. (Slang.) ☐ I made the police officer angry, so he took me to the station and threw the book at me. ☐ The judge threatened to throw the book at me if I didn't stop insulting the police officer.

thrust and parry to enter into verbal combat [with someone]; to compete actively [with someone]. (Refers to movements in the sport of fencing.) ☐ I spent the entire afternoon thrusting and parrying with a committee of so-called experts in the field of insurance. ☐ I do not intend to stand here and thrust and parry with you over a simple matter like this. Let's get someone else's opinion.

thumb a ride AND hitch a ride to get a ride from a passing motorist; to make a sign with one's thumb that indicates to passing drivers that one is begging for a ride. ☐ My car broke down on the highway, and I had to thumb a ride to get back to town. ☐ Sometimes it's dangerous to hitch a ride with a stranger.

thumb one's nose at someone or something to (figuratively or literally) make a rude gesture of disgust with one's thumb and nose at someone or something. ☐ The tramp thumbed his nose at the lady and walked away. ☐ You can't just thumb your nose at people who give you trouble. You've got to learn to get along.

thumb through something AND leaf through something to look through a book, magazine, or newspaper, without reading it carefully. ☐ I've only thumbed through this book, but it looks very interesting. ☐ I leafed through a magazine while waiting to see the doctor.

a thumbnail sketch a short or small picture or description. ☐ The manager gave a thumbnail sketch of her plans. ☐ The student wrote a thumbnail sketch of his project.

thumbs down on someone or something opposed to someone or something. (See also turn thumbs down (on someone or something).) ☐ Bob is thumbs down on hiring anyone else. ☐ I had hoped that she'd agree with our plan, but she's thumbs down on it.

thumbs up on someone or something in favor of someone or something. (See also turn thumbs up (on someone or something).) ☐ Bob is thumbs up on hiring Claude. ☐ I never hoped she'd agree with our plan, but she's totally thumbs up on it.

thunder thunderstorms; thundershowers. (Used in weather forecasting.) ☐ The forecast is for breezy conditions tonight, perhaps with some thunder later in the evening. ☐ There was a lot of thunder across the Midwest today, causing flooding in low-lying areas.

tickle someone pink AND tickle someone to death to please or entertain someone very much. (Informal.) ☐ Bill told a joke that really tickled us all pink. ☐ I know that these flowers will tickle her to death.

tickle someone's fancy to interest someone; to make someone curious. (See also strike someone's fancy.) ☐ I have an interesting problem here that I think will tickle your fancy. ☐ This doesn't tickle my fancy at all. This is dull and boring.

tickle someone to death Go to tickle someone pink.

tickled pink AND tickled to death very much pleased or entertained. (Informal.) ☐ I was tickled to death to have you visit us. ☐ We were tickled pink when your flowers arrived.

tickled to death Go to tickled pink.

tide someone over [for a portion of something] to last until someone can get some more. ☐ I don't get paid until next Wednesday. Could you lend me thirty dollars to tide me over? ☐ Could I borrow some coffee to tide me over until I can get to the store tomorrow?

tie into something to connect to something. ☐ I'm trying to get my home computer to tie in with the big one at the university. ☐ Could I tie into your water line while I'm waiting for mine to be repaired? ☐ What you just told me ties into John's version of the event.

tie someone down to restrict or encumber someone. (Also literal.) ☐ I'd like to go fishing every weekend, but my family ties me down. ☐ I don't want to tie you down, but you do have responsibilities here at home.

tie someone or something up 1. [with someone] to keep someone busy or occupied. (Also literal.) ☐ Sorry, this matter will tie me up for about an hour. ☐ The same matter will tie up almost everyone in the office. 2. [with something] to conclude and finalize something. (Informal.) ☐ Let's try to tie up this deal by Thursday. ☐ We'll manage to tie our business up by Wednesday at the latest.

tie someone's hands to prevent someone from doing something. (Also literal. See also have one's hands tied.) ☐ I'd like to help you, but my boss has tied my hands. ☐ Please don't tie my hands with unnecessary restrictions. I'd like the freedom to do whatever is necessary.

tie someone (up) in knots to become anxious or upset. (Informal.) ☐ John tied himself in knots worrying about his wife during the operation. ☐ This waiting and worrying really ties me up in knots.

tie the knot to get married. (Informal.) ☐ Well, I hear that you and John are going to tie the knot. ☐ My parents tied the knot almost forty years ago.

tie traffic up to cause road traffic to stop. ☐ If you tie traffic up for too long, you'll get a traffic ticket. ☐ Please don't stop on the roadway. It'll tie up traffic.

tied down restricted by responsibilities. (Also literal.) ☐ I love my home, but sometimes I don't like being tied down. ☐ I don't feel tied down, even though I have a lot of responsibility.

tied to one's mother's apron strings dominated by one's mother; dependent on one's mother. ☐ Tom is still tied to his mother's apron strings. ☐ Isn't he a little old to be tied to his mother's apron strings?

tied up busy. (Also literal.) ☐ How long will you be tied up? ☐ I will be tied up in a meeting for an hour.

tight as a drum Go to (as) tight as a drum.

tight as a tick Go to (as) full as a tick.

tight as Dick's hatband Go to (as) tight as Dick's hatband.

tighten one's belt to manage to spend less money; to use less of something. ☐ Things are beginning to cost more and more. It looks as if we'll all have to tighten our belts. ☐ Times are hard, and prices are high. I can tighten my belt for only so long.

tightfisted (with money) AND close-fisted (with money) very stingy with money. ☐ The manager is very closefisted with expenditures. ☐ My parents are very tightfisted with money.

till all hours (of the day and night) Go to until all hours (of the day and night).

till the cows come home Go to (un)til the cows come home.

tilt at windmills to fight battles with imaginary enemies; to fight against unimportant enemies or issues. (As with the fictional character, Don Quixote, who attacked windmills.) ☐ Aren't you too smart to go around tilting at windmills? ☐ I'm not going to fight this issue. I've wasted too much of my life tilting at windmills.

time after time AND time and (time) again repeatedly; over and over (again). ☐ You've made the same error time after time! Please try to be more careful! ☐ I've told you time and again not to do that. ☐ You keep saying the same thing over and over, time and time again. Stop it! ☐ I have told you time and again: don't put wet garbage in the trash can!

time and (time) again Go to time after time.

time flies time passes very quickly. (From the Latin tempus fugit.) ☐ I didn't really think it was so late when the party ended. Doesn't time fly? ☐ Time simply flew while the old friends exchanged news.

Time is money. (My) time is valuable, so don't waste it. ☐ I can't afford to spend a lot of time standing here talking. Time is money, you know! ☐ People who keep saying that time is money may be working too hard.

the time is ripe Exactly the right time has come. ☐ I'll tell her the good news when the time is ripe. ☐ The time is ripe to ask the question again.

Time is up. The allotted time has run out. ☐ You must stop now. Your time is up. ☐ Time's up! Turn in your tests whether you're finished or not.

time off a period of time during which one does not have to work; free time. ☐ The next time I have some time off, I want to go to Miami. ☐ I don't have any time off until next week.

time out 1. to record one's departure time. ☐ Did you remember to time out when you left work? ☐ I timed out at the regular time. 2. stopping the clock in a sporting event that is played in a fixed time period. ☐ The coach made a sign for time out, and the clock stopped and a buzzer sounded. ☐ After someone called time out, the players gathered around the coach.

time to catch one's breath to find enough time to relax or behave normally. ☐ When things slow down around here, I'll get time to catch my breath. ☐ Sally was so busy she didn't even have time to catch her breath.

time was (when) there was a time when; at a time in the past. ☐ Time was when old people were taken care of at home. ☐ Time was when people didn't travel around so much.

Time will tell. Something will become known in the course of time. (Proverb.)
 □ I don't know if things will improve. Time will tell. □ Who knows what the future will bring? Only time will tell.

tip someone off to give someone a hint; to warn someone. (Slang.) □ I tipped John off that there would be a test in his algebra class. □ I didn't want to tip off everyone, so I only told John.

tip the scales at something to weigh some amount. □ Tom tips the scales at nearly 200 pounds. □ I'll be glad when I tip the scales at a few pounds less.

tits and ass a public display of [the human female] breasts and buttocks. (Refers to television, film, and stage performances in which women exhibit prominent and well-formed breasts and buttocks or in which these body parts are emphasized or made prominent. Slang. Use caution with the expression.) □ We have a really fine choice on television tonight. There is brutal violence on channel 2, bloody horror on channel 5, and tits and ass on channel 10. □ Without tits and ass, many Broadway musicals would flop.

to a great extent mainly; largely. □ To a great extent, Mary is the cause of her own problems. □ I've finished my work to a great extent. There is nothing important left to do.

to and fro toward and away from (something). (Compare this with back and forth.) □ The puppy was very active—running to and fro—wagging its tail. □ The lion in the cage moved to and fro, watching the people in front of the cage.

to beat the band very much; very fast. (Folksy.) □ The carpenter sawed and hammered to beat the band. □ They baked cookies and pies to beat the band.

to be on the safe side to be safe; to be cautious; [to do something just] in case it is necessary; to be very well prepared. □ To be on the safe side, carry some extra money in your shoe. □ I like to be on the safe side and stay in my hotel room at night.

to be safe to be cautious; to be careful; [to do something just] in case it is necessary; to be very well prepared. □ Just to be safe, you should take some clean water with you. □ Other people like to drive over the speed limit, but I prefer to be safe.

to boot in addition; besides. (Informal.) □ For breakfast I had my usual two eggs and a slice of ham to boot. □ When I left for school, my parents gave me an airplane ticket and fifty dollars to boot.

to count heads to count people. □ I'll tell you how many people are here after I count heads. □ Everyone is here. Let's count heads so we can order hamburgers.

to date up to the present time. □ How much have you accomplished to date? □ I've done everything I'm supposed to have done to date.

to hell and gone very much gone; gone to hell. (Use caution with hell.) □ All my hard work is to hell and gone. □ When you see everything you've planned to hell and gone, you get kind of angry.

to no avail AND of no avail with no effect; unsuccessful. □ All of my efforts were to no avail. □ Everything I did to help was of no avail. Nothing worked.

to one's heart's content as much as one wants. □ John wanted a week's vacation so he could go to the lake and fish to his heart's content. □ I just sat there, eating chocolate to my heart's content.

to put it mildly to understate something; to say something politely. (Note the variation in the example below.) □ She was angry at almost everyone—to put it mildly. □ To say she was angry is putting it mildly. □ To put it mildly, she was enraged.

to say nothing of someone or something not to even mention the importance of someone or something. □ John and Mary had to be taken care of, to say nothing of Bill, who would require even more attention. □ I'm having enough difficulty painting the house, to say nothing of the garage that is very much in need of paint.

to say the least at the very least; without dwelling on the subject; to put it mildly.

□ We were not at all pleased with her work—to say the least. □ When they had an accident, they were upset to say the least.

to some extent to some degree; in some amount; partly. □ I've solved this problem to some extent. □ I can help you understand this to some extent.

to someone's liking in a way that pleases someone. □ I hope I've done the work to your liking. □ Sally didn't find the meal to her liking and didn't eat any of it.

to someone's way of thinking in someone's opinion. □ This isn't satisfactory to my way of thinking. □ To my way of thinking, this is the perfect kind of vacation.

to the best of one's ability as well as one is able. □ I did the work to the best of my ability. □ You should always work to the best of your ability.

to the best of one's knowledge as far as one knows; from one's knowledge. □ This is the true story to the best of my knowledge. □ To the best of my knowledge, John is the only person who can answer that question.

to the bitter end to the very end. (Originally nautical. This originally had nothing to do with bitterness.) □ I kept trying to the bitter end. □ It took me a long time to get through school, but I worked hard at it all the way to the bitter end.

to the contrary as the opposite of what has been stated; contrary to what has been stated. (Compare this with on the contrary.) □ The brown horse didn't beat the black horse. To the contrary, the black one won. □ Among spiders, the male is not the larger one. To the contrary, the female is larger.

to the core all the way through; basically and essentially. (Usually with some negative sense, such as evil, rotten, etc.) □ Bill said that John is evil to the core. □ This organization is rotten to the core.

to the ends of the earth to the remotest and most inaccessible points on the earth. □ I'll pursue him to the ends of the earth. □ We've explored almost the whole world. We've traveled to the ends of the earth trying to learn about our world.

to the last to the end; to the conclusion.

□ All of us kept trying to the last. □ It was a very boring play, but I sat through it to the last.

to the letter exactly as instructed; exactly as written. □ I didn't make an error. I followed your instruction to the letter. □ We didn't prepare the recipe to the letter, but the cake still turned out very well.

to the nth degree to the maximum amount. (Informal.) □ Jane is a perfectionist and tries to be careful to the nth degree. □ This scientific instrument is accurate to the nth degree.

to the tune of some amount of money a certain amount of money. (Informal.) □ My checking account is overdrawn to the tune of $340. □ My wallet was stolen, and I'm short of money to the tune of seventy dollars.

To the victors belong the spoils. AND To the victor belongs the spoils. The winners achieve power over people and property. (Proverb.) □ The mayor took office and immediately fired many workers and hired new ones. Everyone said, "To the victors belong the spoils." □ The office of president includes the right to live in the White House and at Camp David. To the victors belong the spoils.

to whom it may concern to the person to whom this applies. (A form of address used when you do not know the name of the person who handles the kind of business you are writing about.) □ The letter started out, "To whom it may concern." □ When you don't know who to write to, just say, "To whom it may concern."

to wit namely; that is; that is to say. □ The criminal was punished; to wit, he received a 20-year sentence. □ Many students, to wit Mary, Bill, Sue, and Anne, complained about their teacher.

toe the line Go to toe the mark.

toe the mark AND toe the line to do what one is expected to do; to follow the rules. □ You'll get ahead, Sally. Don't worry. Just toe the mark, and everything will be okay.

☐ John finally got fired. He just couldn't learn to toe the line.

toing and froing (on something) moving back and forth on an issue, first deciding one way and then changing to another. ☐ The boss spent most of the afternoon toing and froing on the question of who was to handle the Wilson account. ☐ I wish you would stop toing and froing and make up your mind.

Tom, Dick, and Harry Go to (every) Tom, Dick, and Harry.

tone something down to make something less extreme. ☐ That yellow is too bright. Please try to tone it down. ☐ Can you tone down your remarks? They seem quite strong for this situation.

tongue-in-cheek mockingly; insincere; joking. ☐ Ann made a tongue-in-cheek remark to John, and he got mad because he thought she was serious. ☐ The play seemed very serious at first, but then everyone saw that it was tongue-in-cheek, and they began laughing.

too big for one's britches too haughty for one's status or age. (Also literal. Folksy or informal. Britches are trousers.) ☐ Bill's getting a little too big for his britches, and somebody's going to straighten him out. ☐ You're too big for your britches, young man! You had better be more respectful.

too close for comfort [for a misfortune or a threat] to be dangerously close. (See also close to home.) ☐ That car nearly hit me! That was too close for comfort. ☐ When I was in the hospital, I nearly died from pneumonia. Believe me, that was too close for comfort.

too good to be true almost unbelievable; so good as to be unbelievable. ☐ The news was too good to be true. ☐ When I finally got a big raise, it was too good to be true.

Too many cooks spoil the broth. Go to Too many cooks spoil the stew.

Too many cooks spoil the stew. AND Too many cooks spoil the broth. Too many people trying to manage something simply spoil it. (Proverb.) ☐ Let's decide who is in charge around here. Too many cooks spoil the stew. ☐ Everyone is giving orders, but no one is following them! Too many cooks spoil the broth.

too much of a good thing more of a good thing than is good or useful. ☐ I usually take short vacations. I can't stand too much of a good thing. ☐ Too much of a good thing can make you sick, especially if the good thing is chocolate.

toot one's own horn AND blow one's own horn to boast or praise oneself. ☐ Tom is always tooting his own horn. Is he really as good as he says he is? ☐ I find it hard to blow my own horn, but I manage.

top someone or something to do or be better than someone or something. (Informal.) ☐ Ann has done very well, but I don't think she can top Jane. ☐ Do you think your car tops mine when it comes to gas mileage?

top something off to add to the difficulty of something. ☐ Jane lost her job, and to top that off, she caught the flu. ☐ I had a bad day, and to top it off, I have to go to a meeting tonight.

top something off (with something) to end or terminate something with something; to put something on the top of something. ☐ They topped the building off with a tall flagpole. ☐ He topped off each piece of pie with a heap of whipped cream. ☐ That's the way to top off a piece of pie!

torn between bad choices Go to torn between choosing something or something else.

torn between choosing something or something else AND torn between bad choices troubled by a choice or dilemma. ☐ Jane was torn between two bad choices. ☐ We were torn between telling our boss the bad news or keeping it a secret.

toss a salad to mix the green of a salad together with dressing. ☐ The chef tossed the salad. ☐ I tossed the salad just before my guests arrived.

toss one's cookies to vomit. (Slang.) ☐ Don't run too fast after you eat or you'll toss your cookies. □ Oh, I feel terrible. I think I'm going to toss my cookies.

toss one's hat into the ring to announce that one is running for an elective office. (Informal.) □ Jane wanted to run for treasurer, so she tossed her hat into the ring. □ The mayor never tossed his hat into the ring. Instead he announced his retirement.

toss something off AND shake something off 1. to throw something off (of oneself). □ Bob coughed so hard he shook his blanket off. □ Tom tossed off his jacket and sat down to watch television. 2. to ignore or resist the bad effects of something. □ John insulted Bob, but Bob just tossed it off. □ If I couldn't shake off insults, I'd be miserable.

touch and go very uncertain or critical. □ Things were touch and go at the office until a new manager was hired. □ Jane had a serious operation, and everything was touch and go for two days after her surgery.

touch a sore point Go to touch a sore spot.

touch a sore spot AND touch a sore point to refer to a sensitive matter that will upset someone. (Also literal.) □ I seem to have touched a sore spot. I'm sorry. I didn't mean to upset you. □ When you talk to him, avoid talking about money. It's best not to touch a sore point if possible.

touch base (with someone) to talk to someone; to confer with someone. (Slang.) □ I need to touch base with John on this matter. □ John and I touched base on this question yesterday, and we are in agreement.

touch on something to mention something; to talk about something briefly. □ In tomorrow's lecture I'd like to touch on the matter of taxation. □ The teacher only touched on the subject. There wasn't time to do more than that.

touch someone for something to ask someone for a loan of something, usually a sum of money. (Informal.) □ Fred's always trying to touch people for money. □ Jack touched John for ten dollars.

touch someone or something off 1. [with someone] to make someone very angry. □ Your rude comments touched Mary off. She's very angry at you. □ I didn't mean to touch off anyone. I was only being honest. 2. [with something] to ignite something; to start something. □ A few sparks touched all the fireworks off at once. □ The argument touched off a serious fight.

touch something up to repair a paint job on something. □ We don't need to paint the whole room. We can just touch the walls up. □ You should touch up scratches on your car as soon as they occur.

touched by someone or something emotionally affected or moved by someone or something. □ Sally was very nice to me. I was very touched by her. □ I was really touched by your kind letter.

touched (in the head) crazy. (Folksy or slang.) □ Sometimes Bob acts like he's touched in the head. □ In fact, I thought he was touched.

a tough act to follow a good presentation or performance that is difficult to follow with one's own performance. □ Bill's speech was excellent. It was a tough act to follow, but my speech was good also. □ In spite of the fact that I had a tough act to follow, I did my best.

tough as an old boot Go to (as) tough as an old boot.

tough break a bit of bad fortune. (Slang.) □ I'm sorry to hear about your accident. Tough break. □ John had a lot of tough breaks when he was a kid, but he's doing okay now.

tough it out to endure a difficult situation. (Slang.) □ Geometry is very hard for John, but he managed to tough it out until the end of the year. □ This was a very bad day at the office. A few times, I was afraid I wouldn't be able to tough it out.

tough nut to crack Go to hard nut to crack.

tough row to hoe a difficult task to undertake. □ It was a tough row to hoe, but I finally got a college degree. □ Getting the contract signed is going to be a tough row to hoe, but I'm sure I can do it.

a tower of strength Go to a pillar of strength.

town-and-gown the [poor] relations between a town and the university located within the town; the [poor] relations between university students and the non-students who live in a university town. □ There is another town-and-gown dispute in Adamsville over the amount the university costs the city for police services. □ There was more town-and-gown strife reported at Larry's Bar and Grill last Saturday night.

toy with someone or something 1. [with someone] to tease someone; to deal lightly with someone's emotions. □ Ann broke up with Tom because he was just toying with her. He was not serious at all. □ Don't toy with me! I won't have it! 2. [with something] to play or fiddle with something. □ Stop toying with the radio, or you'll break it. □ John sat there toying with a pencil all through the meeting.

trade on something to use a fact or a situation to one's advantage. □ Tom was able to trade on the fact that he had once been in the Army. □ John traded on his poor eyesight to get a seat closer to the stage.

[train of thought] Go to someone's train of thought.

train one's sights on something AND have one's sights trained on something to have something as a goal; to direct something or oneself toward a goal. □ You should train your sights on getting a promotion in the next year. □ Lisa has her sights trained on a new car.

a travesty of justice a miscarriage of justice; an act of the legal system that is an insult to the system of justice. □ The jury's verdict was a travesty of justice. □ The lawyer complained that the judge's ruling was a travesty of justice.

trial and error trying repeatedly for success. □ I finally found the right key after lots of trial and error. □ Sometimes trial and error is the only way to get something done.

trials and tribulations problems and tests of one's courage or perseverance. □ I sup- pose I have the normal trials and tribulations for a person of my background, but some days are just a little too much for me. □ I promise not to tell you of the trials and tribulations of my day if you promise not to tell me yours!

Trick or treat! Give me a treat of some kind or I will play a trick on you! (The formulaic expression said by children after they ring someone's doorbell and the door is answered on Halloween. It is now understood to mean simply that the child is requesting a treat of some kind—candy, fruit, popcorn, etc.) □ "Trick or treat!" cried Jimmy when the door opened. □ Mr. Franklin opened the door to find four very small children dressed like flowers standing silently on his doorstep. After a moment, he said, "Isn't anyone going to say, 'Trick or treat?'" trick someone into doing something to fool someone; to deceive someone; to cheat someone. □ The thief tricked John into giving him $10. □ Mary tricked her friends into paying for her dinner.

tried-and-true tested by time and proven to be sound. □ I have a tried-and-true remedy for poison ivy. □ All of her investment ideas are tried-and-true and you ought to be able to make money if you follow them.

trip someone up 1. to trip someone. □ Bob tripped himself up on his own feet. □ The loose gravel beside the track tripped up Bob, and he fell. 2. to cause difficulty for someone; to cause someone to fail. □ Bill tripped Tom up during the spelling contest, and Tom lost. □ I didn't mean to trip up anyone. I'm sorry I caused trouble.

trot something out to mention something regularly or habitually, without giving it much thought. (Informal.) □ Jack always trots the same excuses out for being late. □ When James disagreed with Mary, she simply trotted out her same old political arguments.

Trouble is brewing. AND There is trouble brewing. Trouble is developing. □ Trouble's brewing at the office. I have to get there early tomorrow. □ There is trouble brewing in the government. The prime minister may resign.

trouble oneself about someone or something to worry oneself about someone or something. (Usually in the negative.) ☐ Please don't trouble yourself about me. I'm doing fine. ☐ I can't take time to trouble myself about this matter. Do it yourself.

trouble oneself (to do something) to bother oneself to do something. ☐ He didn't even trouble himself to turn off the light when he left. ☐ No, thank you. I don't need any help. Please don't trouble yourself.

trouble one's head about someone or something to worry about someone or something; to trouble oneself about someone or something that is none of one's business. (Folksy. Usually in the negative. Also with pretty, as in the example. Usually in the negative, meaning "to mind one's own business.") ☐ Now, now, don't trouble your pretty head about all these things. ☐ You needn't trouble your head about Sally.

trouble someone for something to ask someone to pass something or give something. (Usually a question.) ☐ Could I trouble you for the salt? ☐ Could I trouble you for some advice?

trouble someone to do something to ask someone to do something. (Usually a question.) ☐ Could I trouble you to pass the salt? ☐ Could I trouble you to give me some advice?

true as steel Go to (as) true as steel.

true to form exactly as expected; following the usual pattern. (Often with running, as in the example.) ☐ As usual, John is late. At least he's true to form. ☐ And true to form, Mary left before the meeting was adjourned. ☐ This winter season is running true to form—miserable!

true to one's word keeping one's promise. ☐ True to his word, Tom showed up at exactly eight o'clock. ☐ We'll soon know if Jane is true to her word. We'll see if she does what she promised.

trumped-up false; fraudulently devised. ☐ They tried to have Tom arrested on a trumped-up charge. ☐ Bob gave some trumped-up excuse for not being at the meeting.

The truth will out, eventually, the truth will become known; truth tends to become known, even when it is being concealed. ☐ The truth will out! Some day my name will be cleared. ☐ We just found out about corruption in the mayor's office. Like they say, "The truth will out."

try one's hand (at something) to take a try at something. ☐ Someday I'd like to try my hand at flying a plane. ☐ Give me a chance. Let me try my hand!

try one's luck (at something) to attempt to do something (where success requires luck). ☐ My great-grandfather came to California to try his luck at finding gold. ☐ I went into a gambling casino to try my luck.

try out (for something) to test one's fitness for a role in a play, a position on a sports team, etc. ☐ I sing pretty well, so I thought I'd try out for the chorus. ☐ Hardly anyone else showed up to try out.

try (out) one's wings to try to do something one has recently become qualified to do. (Like a young bird uses its wings to try to fly.) ☐ John just got his driver's license and wants to borrow the car to try out his wings. ☐ I learned to skin-dive, and I want to go to the seaside to try my wings. ☐ She was eager to try out her wings.

try someone's patience to do something annoying that may cause someone to lose patience; to cause someone to be annoyed. ☐ Stop whistling. You're trying my patience. Very soon I'm going to lose my temper. ☐ Some students think it's fun to try the teacher's patience.

try something out on someone to test something on someone (to see how it works or if it is liked). ☐ I found a recipe for oyster stew and tried it out on my roommate. ☐ I'm glad you didn't try out that stuff on me! ☐ I have a tremendous idea! Let me try it out on you. ☐ I want to try out my plan on you. Please give me your honest opinion.

tuck into something to eat something with hunger and enjoyment. (Informal.) ☐

The children really tucked into the ice cream. □ Jean would like to have tucked into the chocolate cake, but she's on a strict diet.

tuckered out Go to (all) tuckered out.

tune someone or something out to ignore someone or something; to become unaware of someone or something. □ Sally annoys me sometimes, so I just tune her out. □ Your radio doesn't bother me. I just tune out the noise.

tune (something) in to set a radio or television control so as to receive something. □ Why don't you try to tune the ball game in? □ This is a cheap radio, and I can't tune in distant stations. □ Please try to tune in.

turn a blind eye to someone or something to ignore someone or something troublesome and pretend not to see it. □ The usher turned a blind eye to the little boy who sneaked into the theater. □ How can you turn a blind eye to all those starving children?

turn a deaf ear (to) someone or something to ignore what someone requests; to ignore a cry for help. □ How can you just turn a deaf ear to their cries for food and shelter? □ The government has turned a deaf ear.

turn in to go to bed. □ It's late. I think I'll turn in. □ We usually turn in at about midnight.

turn of the century the end of one century and the beginning of another. □ It's just a few years until the turn of the century. □ People like to celebrate the turn of the century.

turn on a dime to turn in a very tight turn. (Informal.) □ This car handles very well. It can turn on a dime. □ The speeding car turned on a dime and headed in the other direction.

turn one's back (on) someone or something to abandon or ignore someone or something. (Also literal.) □ Don't turn your back on your old friends. □ Bob has a tendency to turn his back on serious problems.

□ This matter needs your attention. Please don't just turn your back.

turn one's nose up at someone or something to sneer at someone or something; to reject someone or something. □ John turned his nose up at Ann, and that hurt her feelings. □ I never turn up my nose at dessert, no matter what it is.

turn on the waterworks to begin to cry. (Slang.) □ Every time Billy got homesick, he turned on the waterworks. □ Sally hurt her knee and turned on the waterworks for about twenty minutes.

turn out (all right) AND pan out; work out (all right) to end satisfactorily. (Compare this with work out for the best.) □ I hope everything turns out all right. □ Oh, yes. It'll all pan out. □ Things usually work out, no matter how bad they seem.

turn out (that) something is so to happen that; to end up that. □ After it was all over, it turned out that both of us were pleased with the bargain. □ Have you heard how the game turned out?

turn over AND kick over [for an engine] to start or to rotate. □ My car engine was so cold that it wouldn't even turn over. □ The engine turned over a few times and then stopped for good.

turn over a new leaf to start again with the intention of doing better; to begin again, ignoring past errors. (Leaf is a page. This refers to starting a new page.) □ Tom promised to turn over a new leaf and do better from now on. □ After a minor accident, Sally decided to turn over a new leaf and drive more carefully.

turn (over) in one's grave AND roll (over) in one's grave [for a dead person] to be shocked or horrified. (Refers to something that would be so shocking to a person who is actually dead, that the dead person would quicken enough to turn over.) □ If Beethoven heard Mary play one of his sonatas, he'd turn over in his grave. □ If Aunt Jane knew what you were doing with her favorite chair, she would roll over in her grave.

turn someone off to discourage or disgust someone. (Informal.) □ His manner really turns me off. □ That man has a way of turning off everyone he comes in contact with.

turn someone on to excite someone; to excite someone sexually. (Informal. Often ambiguous.) □ Sally said she preferred not to watch movies that attempted to turn people on. □ The lecture was very good. It turned on the whole class.

turn someone or something down 1. [with someone] to refuse or deny someone. □ I applied for a job with the city, but they turned me down. □ They turned down Mary who also applied. 2. to deny someone's request. □ I offered her some help, but she turned it down. □ She had turned down John's offer of help, too. 3. [with something] to fold part of something downward. □ The hotel maid turned the bed down while I was at dinner. □ In the mail-order catalog, I always turn down a page that interests me. 4. [with something] to lower the volume or amount of something, such as heat, sound, water, air pressure, etc. □ It's hot in here. Please turn down the heat. □ Turn the stereo down. It's too loud.

turn someone or something out 1. [with someone] to send someone out of somewhere. □ I didn't pay my rent, so the manager turned me out. □ I'm glad it's not winter. I'd hate to turn out someone in the snow. 2. [with something] to manufacture something; to produce something. □ John wasn't turning enough work out, so the manager had a talk with him. □ This machine can turn out two thousand items a day.

turn someone or something up to search for and find someone or something. □ Let me try to see if I can turn someone up who knows how to do the job. □ I turned up a number of interesting items when I went through Aunt Jane's attic.

turn someone's head [for flattery or success] to distract someone; to cause someone not to be sensible. (Also literal.) □ Don't let our praise turn your head. You're not perfect! □ Her successes had turned her head. She was now quite arrogant.

turn someone's stomach to disgust someone. (Refers to an attack of nausea.) □ Your rude remarks simply turn my stomach. □ The play was so bad that it turned my stomach.

turn something to good account to use something in such a way that it is to one's advantage; to make good use of a situation, experience, etc. □ Pam turned her illness to good account and did a lot of reading. □ Many people turn their retirement time to good account and take up interesting hobbies.

turn something to one's advantage to make an advantage for oneself out of something (which might otherwise be a disadvantage). □ Sally found a way to turn the problem to her advantage. □ The ice cream store manager was able to turn the hot weather to her advantage.

turn the clock back to try to return to the past. (Also literal.) □ You are not facing up to the future. You are trying to turn the clock back to a time when you were more comfortable. □ Let us turn the clock back and pretend we are living at the turn of the century—the time that our story takes place. □ No, you can't turn back the clock.

turn the heat up (on someone) to use force to persuade someone to do something; to increase the pressure on someone to do something. (Informal.) □ Management is turning the heat up to increase production. □ The teacher really turned up the heat on the students by saying that everyone would be punished if the real culprit was not found.

turn the other cheek to ignore abuse or an insult. □ When Bob got mad at Mary and yelled at her, she just turned the other cheek. □ Usually I turn the other cheek when someone is rude to me.

turn the tables (on someone) to cause a reversal in someone's plans; to make one's plans turn back on one. □ I went to Jane's house to help get ready for a surprise party for Bob. It turned out that the surprise party was for me! Jane really turned the ta- bles on me! □ Turning the tables like that requires a lot of planning and a lot of secrecy.

turn the tide to cause a reversal in the direction of events; to cause a reversal in public opinion. □ It looked as if the team was going to lose, but near the end of the game, our star player turned the tide. □ At first, people were opposed to our plan. After a lot of discussion, we were able to turn the tide.

turn thumbs down (on someone or something) to veto someone or something; to reject someone or something. (See also thumbs down on someone or something.) □ The board of directors turned thumbs down on my proposal. □ They turned thumbs down without even hearing my explanation. □ The committee turned thumbs down on Carl and we did not hire him after all.

turn thumbs up (on someone or something) to accept someone or something; to approve someone or something. (See also thumbs up on someone or something.) □ The board of directors turned thumbs up on my proposal and voted to fund the project. □ The committee turned thumbs up on Carl as the new manager. □ When the boss turned thumbs up, I knew everything was okay.

turn to to begin to get busy. □ Come on, you guys! Turn to! Let's get to work. □ If you people will turn to, we can finish this work in no time at all.

turn to someone or something (for something) to seek something from someone or something. □ I turned to Ann for help. □ Bill turned to aspirin for relief from his headache.

turn turtle to turn upside down. (Slang.) □ The sailboat turned turtle, but the sailors only got wet. □ The car ran off the road and turned turtle in the ditch.

turn up to appear. □ We'll send out invitations and see who turns up. □ Guess who turned up at my door last night?

turn up one's toes to die. (Slang.) □ When I turn up my toes, I want a big funeral with lots of flowers. □ Our cat turned up his toes during the night. He was nearly ten years old.

twiddle one's thumbs to fill up time by playing with one's fingers. □ What am I supposed to do while waiting for you? Sit here and twiddle my thumbs? □ Don't sit around twiddling your thumbs. Get busy!

twist someone around one's little finger to manipulate and control someone. □ Bob really fell for Jane. She can twist him around her little finger. □ Billy's mother has twisted him around her little finger. He's very dependent on her.

twist someone's arm to force or persuade someone. □ At first she refused, but after I twisted her arm a little, she agreed to help. □ I didn't want to run for mayor, but everyone twisted my arm.

twist someone's words (around) to restate someone's words inaccurately when quoting them or trying to understand them. □ Stop twisting my words around! Listen to what I am telling you! □ You are twisting my words again. That is not what I said!

two bricks shy of a load Go to a few cards shy of a full deck.

two of a kind people or things of the same type or that are similar in character, attitude, etc. □ Jack and Tom are two of a kind. They're both ambitious. □ The companies are two of a kind. They both pay their employees badly.

two-time someone to cheat on or betray one's spouse or lover by dating or seeing someone else. (Slang.) □ When Mrs. Franklin learned that Mr. Franklin was two-timing her, she left him. □ Ann told Bob that if he ever two-timed her, she would cause him a lot of trouble.

Two's company(, three's a crowd). Two people want to be alone and a third person will be in the way. (Proverb.) □ Two's company. I'm sure Tom and Jill won't want his sister to go to the movies with them. □ John has been invited to join Jane and Peter on their picnic, but he says, "Two's company, three's a crowd."

U

ugly as a toad Go to (as) ugly as a toad.

ugly as sin Go to (as) ugly as sin.

unaccustomed to someone or something not used to someone or something. ☐ The poor family was unaccustomed to going to fancy restaurants. ☐ Bill was unaccustomed to typing his own letters.

under a cloud (of suspicion) to be suspected of (doing) something. ☐ Someone stole some money at work, and now everyone is under a cloud of suspicion. ☐ Even the manager is under a cloud.

under arrest being or having been arrested and in the care of the police in preparation for the filing of a charge. ☐ Stop where you are! You are under arrest. ☐ Am I under arrest, officer? What did I do?

under certain circumstances AND under certain conditions depending on or influenced by something; because of something. ☐ Under certain conditions, you can see across the lake. ☐ Under no circumstances are you to leave the house tonight.

under certain conditions Go to under certain circumstances.

under (close) scrutiny being watched or examined closely. ☐ Under close scrutiny, the jeweler found a flaw in the diamond. ☐ The suspect was kept under scrutiny throughout the investigation.

under construction being built or repaired. ☐ We cannot travel on this road because it's under construction. ☐ Our new home has been under construction all summer. We hope to move in next month.

under control manageable; restrained and controlled; not out of control. ☐ We finally got things under control and func- tioning smoothly. ☐ The doctor felt she had the disease under control and that I would get well soon.

under fire during an attack. ☐ There was a scandal in city hall, and the mayor was forced to resign under fire. ☐ John is a good lawyer because he can think under fire.

under oath bound by an oath; having taken an oath. ☐ You must tell the truth because you are under oath. ☐ I was placed under oath before I could testify in the trial.

under one's own steam by one's own power or effort. (Informal.) ☐ I missed my ride to class, so I had to get there under my own steam. ☐ John will need some help with this project. He can't do it under his own steam.

under someone's (very) nose Go to (right) under someone's (very) nose.

under (some) pressure experiencing something that causes an amount of stress or anxiety. ☐ I have a headache because I'm under a lot of pressure at work. ☐ The professor's children were under pressure to do well in school.

under the aegis of someone AND under the auspices of someone under the sponsorship of someone or some group; under the control or monitoring of someone or some group. ☐ The entire project fell under the aegis of Thomas. ☐ The entire program is under the auspices of Acme-Global Paper Co., Inc.

under the auspices of someone Go to under the aegis of someone.

under the circumstances in a particular situation; because of the circumstances.

□ I'm sorry to hear that you're ill. Under the circumstances, you may take the day off. □ We won't expect you to come to work for a few days, under the circumstances.

under the counter [bought or sold] in secret or illegally. (Also literal.) □ The drugstore owner was arrested for selling liquor under the counter. □ The clerk sold dirty books under the counter.

under the influence (of alcohol) drunk; nearly drunk; affected by alcohol. □ She behaves quite rudely when under the influence of alcohol. □ Ed was stopped by a police officer for driving while under the influence.

under the influence of something experiencing the effects of something such as alcohol, drugs, or any controlling power or person. (See also under the influence (of alcohol).) □ I think that guy is under the influence of drugs. □ Bill has lived under the influence of his mother for too long.

under the sun anywhere on earth at all. □ This is the largest cattle ranch under the sun. □ Isn't there anyone under the sun who can help me with this problem?

under the table in secret, as with the giving of a bribe. (Also literal. Informal.) □ The construction company had been paying money to the mayor under the table. □ Tom transferred the deed to the property to his wife under the table.

under the weather ill. □ I'm a bit under the weather today, so I can't go to the office. □ My head is aching, and I feel a little under the weather.

under the wire just barely in time or on time. (Informal.) □ I turned in my report just under the wire. □ Bill was the last person to get in the door. He got in under the wire.

unfamiliar territory an area of knowledge unknown to the speaker. □ We are in unfamiliar territory and I don't know the answer. □ Astronomy is unfamiliar territory, and I cannot answer any questions about the stars.

an unknown quantity a person or thing about which no one is certain. (Preceded by be, become, seem like, or act like.) □ John is an unknown quantity. We don't know how he's going to act. □ The new clerk is an unknown quantity. Things may not turn out all right.

until all hours (of the day and night) until very late. □ Mary is out until all hours, night after night. □ If I'm up until all hours two nights in a row, I'm just exhausted.

until hell freezes over Go to when hell freezes over.

(un)til the cows come home until the last; until very late. (Folksy or informal. Refers to the end of the day, when the cows come home to be fed and milked.) □ We were having so much fun that we decided to stay at school until the cows came home. □ Where've you been? Who said you could stay out 'til the cows come home?

up a blind alley at a dead end; on a route that leads nowhere. (Informal.) □ I have been trying to find out something about my ancestors, but I'm up a blind alley. I can't find anything. □ The police are up a blind alley in their investigation of the crime.

up against something having trouble with something. (The something is often it, meaning facing trouble in general.) □ Jane is up against a serious problem. □ Yes, she really looks as if she's up against it.

up and about healthy and moving about—not sick in bed. □ Mary is getting better. She should be up and about in a few days. □ She can't wait until she's up and about. She's tired of being in bed.

up and around out of bed and moving about or able to move about. (Refers to a person who has just arisen for the day or to someone who has been sick in bed.) □ When Tom is up and around, ask him to call me. □ The flu put Alice into bed for three days, but she was up and around on the fourth.

up and at them to get up and go at people or things; to get active and get busy. (Informal. Usually them is 'em.) □ Come on, Bob—up and at 'em! □ There is a lot of work to be done around here. Up and at 'em, everybody!

up and away up into the air and into flight. (Said of a bird or an airplane.) ☐ After a few seconds of speeding down the runway, our flight to Tucson was up and away. ☐ Just before the cat pounced on the sparrows, they were up and away and the cat was left with empty paws and jaws.

up-and-coming new, but enterprising and alert. ☐ Jane is a hard worker—really up-and-coming. ☐ Bob is also an up-and-coming youngster who is going to become well known.

up a tree in a difficult situation and unable to get out; stymied and confused. (Slang.) ☐ I'm really up a tree on this problem. ☐ Geometry is too hard for me. It's got me up a tree.

up for grabs available to anyone. (Slang.) ☐ Mary quit yesterday, and her job is up for grabs. ☐ Who's in charge around here? This whole organization is up for grabs.

up for something enthusiastic about something. (Informal.) ☐ Are you up for a hike through the woods? ☐ I'm really up for my job interview today.

up-front 1. sincere and open. ☐ Ann is a very up-front kind of person. Everyone feels easy around her. ☐ It's hard to tell what Tom is really thinking. He's not very up-front. 2. in advance. ☐ I ordered a new car, and they wanted 20 percent up-front. ☐ I couldn't afford to pay that much up-front. I'd have to make a smaller deposit.

up in arms rising up in anger; very angry. (Also literal when actual weapons are involved.) ☐ My father was really up in arms when he got his tax bill this year. ☐ The citizens were up in arms, pounding on the gates of the palace, demanding justice.

up in the air (about someone or something) undecided about someone or something; uncertain about someone or something. ☐ I don't know what Sally plans to do. Things were sort of up in the air the last time we talked. ☐ Let's leave this question up in the air until next week.

up in years AND advanced in years; along in years; on in years old; elderly. ☐ My uncle is up in years and can't hear too well. ☐ Many people lose their hearing somewhat when they are along in years.

up North to or at the northern part of the country or the world. (See also back East, down South, and out West.) ☐ I don't like living up North. I want to move down South where it's warm. ☐ When you say "up North," do you mean where the polar bears live, or just in the northern states?

up the creek (without a paddle) in a bad situation. (Slang. Use with caution. There is a taboo version of this phrase.) ☐ What a mess I'm in. I'm really up the creek without a paddle. ☐ I tried to prevent it, but I seem to be up the creek, too.

up-to-date modern; up to the current standards of fashion; with the latest information. ☐ I'd like to see a more up-to-date report on Mr. Smith. ☐ This is not an up-to-date record of the construction project. ☐ I'm having my living room redecorated to bring it up-to-date. ☐ I don't care if my rooms are up-to-date. I just want them to be comfortable.

up to doing something able to do something. ☐ Do you feel up to going back to work today? ☐ She just isn't up to staying up all night.

up to no good doing something bad. (Informal.) ☐ I could tell from the look on Tom's face that he was up to no good. ☐ There are three boys in the front yard. I don't know what they are doing, but I think they are up to no good.

up to one's ears (in something) Go to up to one's neck (in something).

up to one's eyeballs (in something) Go to up to one's neck (in something).

up to one's neck (in something) AND up to one's ears (in something); up to one's eyeballs (in something) having a lot of something; very much involved in something. (Informal.) ☐ I can't come to the meeting. I'm up to my neck in these reports. ☐ Mary is up to her ears in her work. ☐ I am up to my eyeballs in things to do! I can't do any more!

up to par as good as the standard or average; up to standard. □ I'm just not feeling up to par today. I must be coming down with something. □ The manager said that the report was not up to par and gave it back to Mary to do over again.

up to scratch Go to up to snuff.

up to snuff AND up to scratch as good as is required; meeting the minimum requirements. (Slang. Compare this with up to par.) □ Sorry, Tom. Your performance isn't up to snuff. You'll have to improve or find another job. □ My paper wasn't up to scratch, so I got an F.

up to someone [for a decision] to be someone's own choice. □ She said I didn't have to go if I didn't want to. It's entirely up to me. □ It's up to Mary whether she takes the job or tries to find another one.

up to something 1. occupied in some activity, often something secret or wrong. □ Those kids are up to something. They're too quiet. □ Goodness knows what that child will be up to next! 2. Go to up to doing something. 3. to be as good as something; to be good enough for something. □ This work's not up to the standard of the class. □ Your last essay was not up to your best.

up-to-the-minute the very latest or most recent. □ I want to hear some up-to-the-minute news on the hostage situation. □ I just got an up-to-the-minute report on Tom's health.

(up)on impact at the place or time of making an impact. □ The car crumpled upon impact with the brick wall. □ The man who fell from the top of the building died on impact.

upper crust the higher levels of society; the upper class. (Informal. From the top, as opposed to the bottom, crust of a pie.) □ Jane speaks like that because she pretends to be from the upper crust, but her father was a miner. □ James is from the upper crust, but he is penniless.

ups and downs good fortune and bad fortune. □ I've had my ups and downs, but in general life has been good to me. □ All people have their ups and downs.

upset the apple cart to mess up or ruin something. □ Tom really upset the apple cart by telling Mary the truth about Jane. □ I always knew he'd upset the apple cart.

the upshot of something the result or outcome of something. □ The upshot of my criticism was a change in policy. □ The upshot of the argument was an agreement to hire a new secretary.

use every trick in the book to use every method possible. (Informal.) □ I used every trick in the book, but I still couldn't manage to get a ticket to the game Saturday. □ Bob tried to use every trick in the book, but he still failed.

use one's head AND use one's noggin; use one's noodle to use one's own intelligence. (Noggin and noodle are slang terms for "head.") □ You can do better in math if you'll just use your head. □ Jane uses her noggin and gets things done correctly and on time. □ Yes, she sure knows how to use her noodle.

use one's noggin Go to use one's head.

use one's noodle Go to use one's head.

use some elbow grease use some effort. (Slang. As if lubricating one's elbow would make one more efficient. Note the variation in the examples.) □ Come on, Bill. You can do it. Just use some elbow grease. □ I tried elbow grease, but it doesn't help get the job done.

use someone or something as an excuse to blame someone or something (for a failure). □ John used his old car as an excuse for not going to the meeting. □ My husband was sick in bed, and I used him as an excuse.

use strong language to swear, threaten, or use abusive language. □ I wish you wouldn't use strong language in front of the children. □ If you feel that you have to use strong language with the manager, perhaps you had better let me do the talking.

used to do something to have done something [customarily] in the past. □ We used to go swimming in the lake before it became polluted. □ I used to eat nuts, but then I became allergic to them.

used to someone or something accustomed to someone or something. □ I'm not used to Jane yet. She's a bit hard to get along with. □ How long does it take to get used to this weather?

V

vale of tears the earth; mortal life on earth. (A “valley” of tears.) ☐ When it comes time for me to leave this vale of tears, I hope I can leave some worthwhile memories behind. ☐ Uncle Fred left this vale of tears early this morning.

vanish into thin air to disappear without leaving a trace. ☐ My money gets spent so fast. It seems to vanish into thin air. ☐ When I came back, my car was gone. I had locked it, and it couldn't have vanished into thin air!

Variety is the spice of life. Differences and changes make life interesting. (Proverb.) ☐ Mary reads all kinds of books. She says variety is the spice of life. ☐ The Franklins travel all over the world so they can learn how different people live. After all, variety is the spice of life.

vent one's spleen to get rid of one's feelings of anger caused by someone or something by attacking someone or something else. ☐ Jack vented his spleen at his wife whenever things went badly at work. ☐ Peter vented his spleen on his car by kicking it when he lost the race.

verge on something to be almost something. ☐ Your blouse is a lovely color. It seems to be blue verging on purple. ☐ Sally has a terrible case of the flu, and they are afraid it's verging on pneumonia.

the very last the end; an absolute end of something. ☐ At the very last of the movie, the hero gets killed. ☐ Bill stayed at the party until the very last.

the very thing the exact thing that is required. ☐ The vacuum cleaner is the very thing for cleaning the stairs. ☐ I have the very thing to remove that stain.

the villain of the piece someone or something that is responsible for something bad or wrong. ☐ I wondered who told the newspapers about the local scandal. I discovered that Joan was the villain of the piece. ☐ We couldn't think who had stolen the meat. The dog next door turned out to be the villain of the piece.

vim and vigor energy and enthusiasm. ☐ I just don't seem to have the vim and vigor that I had a few years ago. ☐ Alice appeared with all the vim and vigor of youth, and began to help carry in the packages.

vote a split ticket to cast a ballot on which the votes are divided between two or more parties. ☐ I always vote a split ticket since I detest both parties. ☐ Mary voted a split ticket for the first time in her life.

vote a straight ticket to cast a ballot with all the votes for members of the same political party. ☐ I'm not a member of any political party, so I never vote a straight ticket. ☐ I usually vote a straight ticket because I believe in the principles of one party and not in the other's.

a vote of confidence a poll taken to discover whether or not a person, party, etc., still has the majority's support. ☐ The government easily won the vote of confidence called for by the opposition. ☐ The president of the club resigned when one of the members called for a vote of confidence in his leadership.

a vote of thanks a speech expressing appreciation and thanks to a speaker, lecturer, organizer, etc., and inviting the audience to applaud. ☐ John gave a vote of thanks to Professor Jones for his talk. ☐ Mary was given a vote of thanks for organizing the dance.

vote with one's feet to express one's dissatisfaction with something by leaving, especially by walking away. ☐ I think that the play is a total flop. Most of the audi- ence voted with its feet during the second act. ☐ I am prepared to vote with my feet if the meeting appears to be a waste of time.

W

wade in(to something) to start in (doing) something immediately. (Also literal.) ☐ I need some preparation. I can't just wade into the job and start doing things correctly. ☐ We don't expect you to wade in. We'll tell you what to do.

wag one's chin to chatter or chat with someone. (Slang.) ☐ We stood around and wagged our chins for almost an hour. ☐ Don't just wag your chin. Stop talking and get to work!

wait-and-see attitude a skeptical attitude; an uncertain attitude where someone will just wait and see what happens. ☐ John thought that Mary couldn't do it, but he took a wait-and-see attitude. ☐ His wait-and-see attitude didn't influence me at all.

wait on someone hand and foot to serve someone very well, attending to all personal needs. ☐ I don't mind bringing you your coffee, but I don't intend to wait on you hand and foot. ☐ I don't want anyone to wait on me hand and foot. I can take care of myself.

wait up (for someone or something) 1. to stay up late waiting for someone to arrive or something to happen. ☐ I'll be home late. Don't wait up for me. ☐ We waited up for the coming of the new year, and then we went to bed. 2. AND hold up (for someone or something) to wait for someone or something to catch up. ☐ Hey! Don't go so fast. Wait up for me. ☐ Hold up! You're going too fast.

waiting in the wings ready or prepared to do something, especially to take over someone else's job or position. (Refers to a performer waiting at the side of the stage to go on.) ☐ Mr. Smith retires as manager next year, and Mr. Jones is just waiting in the wings. ☐ Jane was waiting in the wings, hoping that a member of the hockey team would drop out and she would get a place on the team.

wake the dead to be so loud as to wake those who are "sleeping" the most soundly: the dead. ☐ You are making enough noise to wake the dead. ☐ Stop hollering! You'll wake the dead!

walk all over someone to treat someone badly. (Also literal.) ☐ She's so mean to her children. She walks all over them. ☐ The manager had walked all over Ann for months. Finally she quit.

walk a tightrope to be in a situation where one must be very cautious. (Also literal.) ☐ I've been walking a tightrope all day. I need to relax. ☐ Our business is about to fail. We've been walking a tightrope for three months.

walk away with something AND walk off with something 1. to win something easily. (Informal.) ☐ John won the tennis match with no difficulty. He walked away with it. ☐ Our team walked away with first place. 2. to take or steal something. ☐ I think somebody just walked off with my purse! ☐ Somebody walked off with my daughter's bicycle.

walk off with something Go to walk away with something.

walk on air to be very happy; to be euphoric. ☐ Ann was walking on air when she got the job. ☐ On the last day of school, all the children are walking on air.

walk on eggs to be very cautious. (Informal.) ☐ The manager is very hard to deal with. You really have to walk on eggs.

□ I've been walking on eggs ever since I started working here.

walk out (on someone or something) 1. [with someone] to abandon someone; to leave one's spouse. □ Mr. Franklin walked out on Mrs. Franklin last week. □ Bob walked out on Jane without saying good-bye. 2. to leave a performance (of something by someone). □ We didn't like the play at all, so we walked out. □ John was giving a very dull speech, and a few people even walked out on him.

walk the floor to pace nervously while waiting. □ While Bill waited for news of the operation, he walked the floor for hours on end. □ Walking the floor won't help. You might as well sit down and relax.

walk the plank to suffer punishment at the hand of someone. (From the image of pirates making their blindfolded captives commit suicide by walking off the end of a plank jutting out over the open sea.) □ Fred may think he can make the members of my department walk the plank, but we will fight back. □ Tom thought he could make John walk the plank, but John fought back.

wall-to-wall with something covered with something in all places. (From wall-to-wall carpeting.) □ The hallway is wall-to-wall with Jimmy's toys. □ The beach was wall-to-wall with tourists.

Walls have ears. We may be overheard. (Proverb.) □ Let's not discuss this matter here. Walls have ears, you know. □ Shhh. Walls have ears. Someone may be listening.

want for nothing to lack nothing; to have everything one needs or wishes. □ The Smiths don't have much money, but their children seem to want for nothing. □ Jean's husband spoils her. She wants for nothing.

warm as toast Go to (as) warm as toast.

warm the bench [for a player] to remain out of play during a game—seated on a bench. □ John spent the whole game warming the bench. □ Mary never warms the bench. She plays from the beginning to the end.

warm the cockles of someone's heart to make someone feel warm and happy. □ It warms the cockles of my heart to hear you say that. □ Hearing that old song again warmed the cockles of her heart.

warm up to someone to become friendly with someone; to get used to a person and become friends. □ It took a while before John warmed up to me, but then we became good friends. □ It's hard to warm up to Sally. She's very quiet and shy.

warts and all including all the faults and disadvantages. □ Jim has many faults, but Jean loves him, warts and all. □ The place where we went on vacation had some dismal aspects, but we liked it, warts and all.

wash a few things out to do a little bit of laundry, such as socks and underclothing. □ I'm sorry I can't go out tonight. I've got to wash a few things out. □ I'll be ready to leave in just a minute. I've just got to wash out a few things.

wash-and-wear referring to clothing made out of a kind of cloth that looks presentable after washing without ironing. □ I always travel with wash-and-wear clothing. □ All his shirts are wash-and-wear, and this makes his life much easier since he used to burn them when he ironed them.

wash one's dirty linen in public Go to air one's dirty linen in public.

wash one's hands of someone or something to end one's association with someone or something. □ I washed my hands of Tom. I wanted no more to do with him. □ That car was a real headache. I washed my hands of it long ago.

washed-out exhausted; lacking energy. (Informal.) □ Pam was completely washed-out after the birth of the baby. □ I feel washed-out. I need a vacation.

washed-up finished. (Informal.) □ "You're through, Tom," said the manager, "fired—washed-up!" □ Max is washed-up as a bank teller.

waste one's breath to waste one's time talking; to talk in vain. (Informal.) □ Don't waste your breath talking to her. She won't listen. □ You can't persuade me. You're just wasting your breath.

waste someone to kill someone. (Slang, especially criminal slang.) □ The thief tried to waste the bank guard after the bank robbery. □ The crook said, "Try that again, and I'll waste you!"

watch one's step to act with care and caution so as not to make a mistake or offend someone. (Also literal.) □ John had better watch his step with the new boss. He won't put up with his lateness. □ Mary was told by the lecturer to watch her step and stop missing classes.

watch out Go to watch out for someone or something.

watch out for someone or something AND look out for someone or something 1. [with someone] to watch over and care for someone. □ When I was a kid, my older brother always watched out for me. □ I really needed someone to look out for me then. 2. to be on guard for someone or something; to be on watch for the arrival or approach of someone or something. □ Watch out for someone wearing a white carnation. □ Look out for John and his friends. They'll be coming this way very soon. 3. AND look out; watch out to try to avoid a confrontation with someone or something. □ Watch out! That car nearly hit you! □ Look out for John. He's looking for you, and he's really mad. □ Thanks. I'd better look out.

watch over someone or something to monitor or guard someone or something. □ Please watch over my apartment while I am on vacation. □ I am looking for someone to watch over my grandmother during the day.

watch someone or something like a hawk to watch someone very carefully. □ The teacher watched the students like a hawk to make sure they did not cheat on the quiz. □ We have to watch our dog like a hawk in case he runs away.

water something down 1. to dilute a liquid, usually with water. □ The punch was good until someone watered it down. □ This is too strong! Water it down. 2. to make something milder or less intense. (Refers to diluting as in sense 1.) □ The language in the script was rude but realistic until someone watered it down. □ Professor Jones sometimes waters down his lectures so people can understand them better.

water under the bridge [something] past and forgotten. (Refers to water that has already flowed under a bridge and has gone downstream.) □ Please don't worry about it anymore. It's all water under the bridge. □ I can't change the past. It's water under the bridge.

wax and wane to increase and then decrease, especially with reference to the phases of the moon. □ As the moon waxes and wanes, so does the height of the tide change. □ Voter sentiment about the tax proposal waxes and wanes with each passing day.

[way of life] Go to one's way of life.

(way) over there in a place some distance away. □ I see a house way over there in the field. □ My hat is over there on the table.

ways and means referring to the raising of money to pay for something. (Typically refers to a government committee or a committee of some organization charged with raising money.) □ The suggestion was referred to the ways and means committee for discussion at the next meeting. □ The proposed legislation is stalled in ways and means.

We aim to please. We really try to make people happy. □ We aim to please because we want you to be our customer. □ I'm glad you like our food. We aim to please.

weak as a baby Go to (as) weak as a baby.

weak as a kitten Go to (as) weak as a kitten.

a wealth of something a large amount of something. □ There's a wealth of information on parrots at the library. □ The junkyard had a wealth of used car parts.

wear and tear (on something) the process of wearing down or breaking down something. □ Driving in freezing weather means lots of wear and tear on your car.

□ I drive carefully and sensibly to avoid wear and tear.

wear more than one hat to have more than one set of responsibilities; to hold more than one office. □ The mayor is also the police chief. She wears more than one hat. □ I have too much to do to wear more than one hat.

wear off to become less; to stop gradually. (Also literal.) □ The effects of the pain-killer wore off and my tooth began to hurt. □ I was annoyed at first, but my anger wore off.

wear one's heart on one's sleeve AND have one's heart on one's sleeve to display one's feelings openly and habitually, rather than keep them private. □ John always has his heart on his sleeve so that everyone knows how he feels. □ Because she wears her heart on her sleeve, it's easy to hurt her feelings.

wear on someone to bother or annoy someone. □ We stayed with them only a short time because my children seemed to wear on them. □ Always being short of money wears on a person after a while.

wear out one's welcome to stay too long (at an event to which one has been invited); to visit somewhere too often. □ Tom visited the Smiths so often that he wore out his welcome. □ At about midnight, I decided that I had worn out my welcome, so I went home.

wear someone down to overcome someone's objections; to persist until someone has been persuaded. □ John didn't want to go, but we finally wore him down. □ We were unable to wear down John, and when we left, he was still insisting on running away from home.

wear someone out to exhaust someone; to make someone tired. □ The coach made the team practice until he wore them out. □ If he wears out everybody on the team, nobody will be left to play in the game.

weasel out (of something) to get out or sneak out of something. (Refers to the ability of a weasel to move through tiny openings. Informal.) □ I don't want to go to the meeting. I think I'll try to weasel out of it. □ You had better be there! Don't try to weasel out!

weather permitting if the weather allows it. □ Weather permitting, we will be there on time. □ The plane lands at midnight, weather permitting.

weave in and out (of something) to move, drive, or walk in and out of something, such as traffic, a line, etc. □ The car was weaving in and out of traffic dangerously. □ The deer ran rapidly through the forest, weaving in and out of the trees.

wed(ded) to someone married to someone. □ The couple will have been wed to each other for fifty years next June. □ Anne is wed to one of my cousins.

wedded to something mentally attached to something; firmly committed to something. □ The manager was wedded to the idea of getting new computers. □ The mayor was wedded to the new budget plan.

wee hours (of the night) Go to small hours (of the night).

weed someone or something out to remove someone or something unwanted or undesirable from a group or collection. □ We had to weed them out one by one. □ The auditions were held to weed out the actors with the least ability. □ I'm going through my books to weed out those that I don't need anymore.

week in, week out every week, week after week. (Informal.) □ We have the same old food, week in, week out. □ I'm tired of this job. I've done the same thing—week in, week out—for three years.

weeks running Go to days running.

weigh on someone's mind [for something] to be in a person's thoughts; [for something] to be bothering someone's thinking. □ This problem has been weighing on my mind for many days now. □ I hate to have things weighing on my mind. I can't sleep when I'm worried.

weigh someone down [for a thought or worry] to worry or depress someone. (Also literal.) □ All these problems really weigh me down. □ Financial problems have been weighing down our entire family.

weigh someone's words 1. to consider carefully what someone says. ☐ I listened to what he said, and I weighed his words very carefully. ☐ Everyone was weighing his words. None of us knew exactly what he meant. 2. to consider one's own words carefully when speaking. ☐ I always weigh my words when I speak in public. ☐ John was weighing his words with great care because he didn't want to be misunderstood.

welcome someone with open arms Go to receive someone with open arms.

welcome to do something to be free to do something. ☐ You're welcome to leave whenever you wish. ☐ He's welcome to join the club whenever he feels he's ready.

well and good Go to (all) well and good.

well-disposed toward someone or something feeling positively toward someone or something; favorable toward someone or something. ☐ I do not think I will get a raise since the boss is not well-disposed toward me. ☐ The senators are well-disposed toward giving themselves a raise.

well-fixed Go to well-heeled.

well-heeled AND well-fixed; well-off wealthy; with sufficient money. ☐ My uncle can afford a new car. He's well-heeled. ☐ Everyone in his family is well-off.

well-off Go to well-heeled.

well-to-do wealthy and of good social position. (Often with quite, as in the examples below.) ☐ The Jones family is quite well-to-do. ☐ There is a gentleman waiting for you at the door. He appears quite well-to-do.

well up in years aged; old. ☐ Jane's husband is well up in years. He is nearly 75. ☐ Joan's well up in years but healthy.

wet behind the ears AND not dry behind the ears young and inexperienced. ☐ John's too young to take on a job like this! He's still wet behind the ears! ☐ He may be wet behind the ears, but he's well trained and totally competent. ☐ Tom is going into business by himself? Why, he's hardly dry behind the ears. ☐ That kid isn't dry behind the ears. He'll go broke in a month.

wet blanket a dull or depressing person who spoils other people's enjoyment. ☐ Jack's fun at parties, but his brother's a wet blanket. ☐ I was with Anne and she was being a real wet blanket.

wet someone's whistle to take a drink of something. (Folksy.) ☐ Wow, am I thirsty. I need something to wet my whistle. ☐ Hey, Sally! Give her something to wet her whistle.

whale the tar out of someone Go to beat the living daylights out of someone.

What are you driving at? What are you implying?; What do you mean? (Informal.) ☐ What are you driving at? What are you trying to say? Why are you asking me all these questions? What are you driving at?

What can I say? I am at a loss for words. (Informal.) ☐ I'm sorry. I'll pay for it. What can I say? ☐ What can I say? I never meant it to end like this.

What do you want me to say? You caught me and I'm sorry, and I don't know what more to say. (Informal.) ☐ What do you want me to say? I apologized. There is nothing more I can do. ☐ Okay, so I'm wrong. What do you want me to say?

what for why?; for what reason? ☐ "I want you to clean your room." "What for? It's clean enough." ☐ What did you do that for?

What goes around, comes around. The results of things that one has done will someday have an effect on the person who started the events. (Proverb.) ☐ So he finally gets to see the results of his activities. Whatever goes around, comes around. ☐ Now he is the victim of his own policies. Whatever goes around comes around.

What have you been up to? I haven't seen you for a long time, so tell me what you have been doing? (Informal. In other persons also.) ☐ Hi, Tom. Where have you been? What have you been up to? ☐ What have you been up to? Busy, I am sure.

what if what would be the result if something were true? ☐ What if you had all the money you want? ☐ What if everyone thought you were great?

what makes someone tick something that motivates someone; something that makes someone behave in a certain way. (Informal.) ☐ William is sort of strange. I don't know what makes him tick. ☐ When you get to know people, you find out what makes them tick.

what makes something tick to cause something to run or function. ☐ I don't know what makes it tick. ☐ I took apart the radio to find out what made it tick.

What one doesn't know won't hurt one. Unknown facts cannot worry or upset a person. (Proverb.) ☐ Don't tell me that I have made a mistake. What I don't know won't hurt me. ☐ Don't tell him the truth about his missing dog. What he doesn't know won't hurt him.

Whatever will be, will be. Whatever will happen will just happen and there is little we can do about it. (Proverb.) ☐ There is little I can do at this stage. Whatever will be, will be. ☐ The doctors have done all they can. Whatever will be, will be.

What's done is done. It is final and in the past. (Proverb.) ☐ It's too late to change it now. What's done is done. ☐ What's done is done. The past cannot be altered.

What's keeping you? What is taking you so long? Why are you still there and not here? ☐ Dinner is ready, and you are still at work. I telephoned to ask what's keeping you. ☐ What's keeping you? I am ready to go and you are still in there dressing.

What's new? How are you? Tell me what you have been doing. (Informal.) ☐ Good to see you. What's new? ☐ What's new? How are things down your way?

What's the good of something? What is the point of something? Why bother with something? ☐ What's the good of my go- ing at all if I'll be late? ☐ There is no need to get there early. What's the good of that?

What's up? Hello. What is happening? (Informal.) ☐ What's up? How're you doing? ☐ Hey, Chuck! What's up?

What's with someone? What is bothering or affecting someone? (Slang.) ☐ John seems upset. What's with him? ☐ There's nothing wrong with me. What's with you?

wheel and deal to take part in clever (but sometimes dishonest or immoral) business deals. ☐ John loves to wheel and deal in the money markets. ☐ Jack got tired of all the wheeling and dealing of big business and retired to run a pub in the country.

when all is said and done when everything is finished and settled; when everything is considered. (See also after all is said and done.) ☐ When all is said and done, this isn't such a bad part of the country to live in after all. ☐ When all is said and done, I believe I had a very enjoyable time on my vacation.

when hell freezes over AND until hell freezes over never. (The first entry is always affirmative and the second is always negative.) ☐ I'll say I'm sorry to you when hell freezes over! ☐ I won't apologize until hell freezes over.

When in Rome, do as the Romans do. One should behave in the same way that the local people behave. (Proverb.) ☐ I don't usually eat lamb, but I did when I went to Australia. When in Rome, do as the Romans do. ☐ I always carry an umbrella when I visit London. When in Rome, do as the Romans do.

when it comes right down to it all things considered; when one really thinks about something. ☐ When it comes right down to it, I'd like to find a new job. ☐ When it comes right down to it, he can't really afford a new car.

when it comes to something as for something; speaking about something. (Informal.) ☐ When it comes to fishing, John is an expert. ☐ When it comes to trouble, Mary really knows how to cause it.

when least expected when one does not expect (something). □ An old car is likely to give you trouble when least expected. □ My pencil usually breaks when least expected.

when one is good and ready when one is completely ready. (Informal.) □ I'll be there when I'm good and ready. □ Ann will finish the job when she's good and ready and not a minute sooner.

when push comes to shove when the situation becomes more difficult; when matters escalate. (See also if push comes to shove.) □ When push comes to shove, I will take a stronger position. □ When push comes to shove, I will come up with the money you need.

When the cat's away, the mice will play. Some people will get into mischief when they are not being watched. (Proverb.) □ The students behaved very badly for the substitute teacher. When the cat's away, the mice will play. □ John had a wild party at his house when his parents were out of town. When the cat's away, the mice will play.

when the chips are down at the final, critical moment; when things really get difficult. □ When the chips are down, I know that I can depend on Jean to help out. □ I knew you would come and help when the chips were down.

when the going gets rough Go to when the going gets tough.

when the going gets tough AND when the going gets rough when things get extremely difficult; when it becomes difficult to proceed. (Also literal when referring to travel. A second line is sometimes added to the main entry phrase: When the going gets tough, the tough get going. This means that when things become difficult, strong people began to work or move faster and harder.) □ When the going gets tough, I will be there to help you. □ I appreciate the kind words you sent to us when the going got a little rough last month.

when the time is ripe at exactly the right time. □ I'll tell her the good news when the time is ripe. □ When the time is ripe, I'll bring up the subject again.

where one is coming from one's point of view. (Slang.) □ I think I know what you mean. I know where you're coming from. □ Man, you don't know where I'm coming from! You don't understand a single word I say.

where one lives Go to close to home.

Where there's a will there's a way. One can do something if one really wants to. (Proverb.) □ Don't give up, Ann. You can do it. Where there's a will there's a way. □ They told John he'd never walk again after his accident. He worked at it, and he was able to walk again! Where there's a will there's a way.

Where there's smoke there's fire. Evidence of a problem probably indicates that there really is a problem. (Proverb.) □ There is a lot of noise coming from the classroom. There is probably something wrong. Where there's smoke there's fire. □ I think there is something wrong at the old house on the corner. The police are there again. Where there's smoke there's fire.

Where was I? Go to (Now), where was I?

Where've you been hiding yourself? Hello, I haven't seen you in a long time. (In other persons also.) □ I haven't seen you in a long time. Where've you been hiding yourself? □ Where've you been hiding yourself? We missed you at the meeting.

whet someone's appetite to cause someone to be interested in something and to be eager to have, know, learn, etc., more about it. □ Seeing that film really whetted my sister's appetite for horror films. She now sees as many as possible. □ My appetite for theater was whetted when I was very young.

whether or not either if something is the case or if something is not the case; one way or the other. □ I'll drive to New York tomorrow whether or not it rains. □ I'm going to the mall whether you come with me or not.

while away the time to spend or waste time. □ I like to read to while away the time. ☐ Jane whiles the time away by daydreaming.

whip something into shape Go to lick something into shape.

whip something up to prepare, create, or put something together quickly. (Informal.) ☐ I haven't written my report yet, but I'll whip one up before the deadline. ☐ Come in and sit down. I'll go whip up something to eat.

white as a sheet Go to (as) white as a sheet.

white as the driven snow Go to (as) white as the driven snow.

white elephant something that is useless and which is either a nuisance or is expensive to keep up. (From the gift of a white elephant by the kings of Siam [Thailand] to courtiers who displeased them, knowing the cost of the upkeep would ruin them.) ☐ Bob's father-in-law has given him an old Rolls-Royce, but it's a real white elephant. He has no place to park it and can't afford the maintenance on it. ☐ Those antique vases Aunt Mary gave me are white elephants. They're ugly and take ages to clean.

Who do you think you're kidding? I don't believe you, and what makes you think you can deceive me? (In other persons also.) ☐ Who does he think he's kidding? Nobody believes him. ☐ A: You are the finest batter I've ever seen. B: Who do you think you're kidding?

Who do you think you're talking to? Do you know the importance of the person [me] you are talking to? (In other persons also.) ☐ Who do you think you're talking to? I'm the boss here, you know! ☐ Don't talk to me that way! Who do you think you are talking to?

Who would have thought? I would never have guessed that something so surprising could happen. ☐ So he's run off with the maid. Who would have thought? ☐ It turns out she robbed a bank when she was 18. Who would have thought?

the whole ball of wax AND the whole shooting match the whole thing; the whole matter or affair; the entire affair or organization. ☐ John is not a good manager. Instead of delegating jobs to others, he runs the whole shooting match himself. ☐ There's not a hard worker in that whole shooting match. ☐ I will be glad to be finished with this project. I want to be done with the whole ball of wax. ☐ I am tired of this job. I am fed up with the whole ball of wax.

(whole) new ball game a new set of circumstances. (Slang. Originally from sports.) ☐ It's a whole new ball game since Jane took over the office. ☐ You can't do the things you used to do around here. It's a new ball game.

the whole shooting match Go to the whole ball of wax.

whoop it up to enjoy oneself in a lively and noisy manner. (Informal.) ☐ John's friends really whooped it up at his bachelor party. ☐ Jean wants to have a large party and whoop it up to celebrate her promotion.

the whys and wherefores of something the reason or causes relating to something. ☐ I refuse to discuss the whys and wherefores of my decision. It's final. ☐ Bob doesn't know the whys and wherefores of his contract. He just knows that it means he will get a lot of money when he finishes the work.

wide-awake completely awake. ☐ After the telephone rang, I was wide-awake for an hour. ☐ I'm not very wide-awake at six o'clock in the morning.

wide of the mark 1. far from the target. ☐ Tom's shot was wide of the mark. ☐ The pitch was quite fast, but wide of the mark. 2. inadequate; far from what is required or expected. ☐ Jane's efforts were sincere, but wide of the mark. ☐ He failed the course because everything he did was wide of the mark.

wild about someone or something enthusiastic about someone or something. ☐ Bill is wild about chocolate ice cream. ☐ Sally is wild about Tom and his new car.

a wild-goose chase a worthless hunt or chase; a futile pursuit. ☐ I wasted all afternoon on a wild-goose chase. □ John was angry because he was sent out on a wild-goose chase.

Wild horses couldn't drag someone. nothing could force someone (to go somewhere). (Informal.) □ I refuse to go to that meeting! Wild horses couldn't drag me. □ Wild horses couldn't drag her to that game.

will not hear of something will not tolerate or permit something. □ You mustn't drive home alone. I won't hear of it. □ My parents won't hear of my staying out that late.

win by a nose to win by the slightest amount of difference. (Informal. As in a horse race where one horse wins with only its nose ahead of the horse that comes in second.) □ I ran the fastest race I could, but I only won by a nose. □ Sally won the race, but she only won by a nose.

win out (over someone or something) to beat someone or something in a race or a contest. □ My horse won out over yours, so you lose your bet. □ I knew I could win out if I just kept trying.

win someone over to succeed in gaining the support and sympathy of someone. □ Jane's parents disapproved of her engagement at first, but she won them over. □ I'm trying to win the boss over and get him to give us the day off.

win the day Go to carry the day.

wind down to decrease or diminish. □ Things are very busy now, but they'll wind down in about an hour. □ I hope business winds down soon. I'm exhausted.

wind something up to conclude something. (Also literal.) □ Today we'll wind that deal up with the bank. □ I have a few items of business to wind up; then I'll be with you.

wind up doing something Go to end up doing something.

wind up somewhere Go to end up somewhere.

window-shopping the habit or practice of looking at goods in shop windows or stores without actually buying anything. □ Mary and Jane do a lot of window-

shopping in their lunch hour, looking for things to buy when they get paid. □ Jane said she was just window-shopping, but she bought a new coat.

wine and dine someone to treat someone to an expensive meal of the type that includes fine wines; to entertain someone lavishly. □ The lobbyists wined and dined the senators one by one in order to influence them. □ We were wined and dined every night and given the best hotel accommodations in town.

wing it to do the best that one can in a situation, especially when one is not prepared. (Compare this with play something by ear.) □ I lost my notes before my speech, and I had to wing it. □ The professor, it turned out, was winging it in every single lecture.

wink at something to ignore something. (Informal.) □ Billy caused me a little trouble, but I just winked at it. □ This is a serious matter, and you can't expect me just to wink at it.

wipe someone or something out 1. to cause someone to be broke. (Slang.) □ They wiped me out in the poker game. □ The crop failure wiped out all the farmers. 2. to exterminate someone or something. (Slang.) □ The hunters came and wiped all the deer out. □ The crooks wiped out the two witnesses.

wipe someone's slate clean to erase someone's (bad) record. (Figurative.) □ I'd like to wipe my slate clean and start all over again. □ Bob did badly in high school, but he wiped his slate clean and did a good job in college.

wipe something off 1. to remove something (from something else) by wiping or rubbing. □ There is mud on your shirt. Please wipe it off. □ My shirt has catsup on it. I must wipe off the catsup. 2. to tidy or clean something by wiping (something else) off. □ Please wipe the table off. There's water on it. □ Wipe off your shirt. There's catsup on it.

wipe the floor up with someone to beat or physically abuse someone. (Slang. Usually said as a threat. See also mop the floor up with someone.) □ You say that to me one more time, and I'll wipe the floor up with you. □ Oh, yeah! You're not big enough to wipe up the floor with anybody!

wise as an owl Go to (as) wise as an owl.

wise as Solomon Go to (as) wise as Solomon.

wise up (to someone or something) to begin to understand the truth about someone or something. (Slang.) □ It was almost a week before I began to wise up to John. He's a total phony. □ You had better stay hidden for a while. The police are beginning to wise up.

wish something off on someone to pass something off onto someone else. (Informal.) □ I don't want to have to deal with your problems. Don't wish them off on me. □ The storekeeper wished off the defective watch on the very next customer who came in.

wishful thinking believing that something is true or that something will happen just because one wishes that it were true or would happen. □ Hoping for a car as a birthday present is just wishful thinking. Your parents can't afford it. □ Mary thinks that she is going to get a big rise, but that's wishful thinking. Her boss is so mean.

with a heavy heart sadly. □ With a heavy heart, she said good-bye. □ We left school on the last day with a heavy heart.

with all one's heart and soul very sincerely. □ Oh, Bill, I love you with all my heart and soul, and I always will! □ She thanked us with all her heart and soul for the gift.

with all the fixings with all the condiments that accompany a certain kind of food. □ For $5.99 you get a turkey dinner with all the fixings. □ Max likes his hamburgers with all the fixings.

with an eye to doing something Go to with a view to doing something.

with a vengeance with determination and eagerness, as if angry. □ The angry soldier attacked the enemy with a vengeance. □ Bill ate all his dinner and gobbled up his dessert with a vengeance.

with a view to doing something AND with an eye to doing something with the intention of doing something. □ I came to this school with a view to getting a degree. □ The mayor took office with an eye to improving the town.

with a will with determination and enthusiasm. □ The children worked with a will to finish the project on time. □ The workers set about manufacturing the new products with a will.

with bells on (one's toes) eagerly, willingly, and on time. □ Oh, yes! I'll meet you at the restaurant. I'll be there with bells on. □ All the smiling children were there waiting for me with bells on their toes.

with both hands tied behind one's back Go to with one hand tied behind one's back.

with each passing day as days pass, one by one; day by day. □ Things grow more expensive with each passing day. □ We are all growing older with each passing day.

with ease without effort. □ The smart student passed the test with ease. □ The gymnast did a back flip with ease.

with every (other) breath [saying something] repeatedly or continually. □ Bob was out in the yard, raking leaves and cursing with every other breath. □ The child was so grateful that she was thanking me with every breath.

with everything (on it) [of a sandwich] ordered with everything available on it, such as ketchup, mustard, onions, cheese, peppers, chili, lettuce, tomato, etc., as appropriate. □ Do you want it with everything? □ Give me a cheeseburger with everything on it.

with flying colors easily and excellently. (Flying colors refers to ships' pennants.) □ John passed his geometry test with flying colors. □ Sally qualified for the race with flying colors.

(with) hat in hand with humility. (Also literal.) □ She stormed off but came back with hat in hand when she ran out of money. □ We had to go hat in hand to the committee to get a grant for our proposal.

with impunity without risk of punishment; with immunity from the negative consequences of an act; while being exempt from punishment. □ The diplomat parked in illegal parking spaces with impunity. □ Bob used his brother's property with impunity.

with it 1. alert and knowledgeable. (Slang.) □ Jane isn't making any sense. She's not really with it tonight. □ Jean's mother is not really with it anymore. She's going senile. □ Peter's not with it yet. He's only just come round from the anesthetic. 2. up-to-date. (Slang.) □ My parents are so old-fashioned. I'm sure they were never with it. □ Why do you wear those baggy old clothes? Why aren't you with it?

with no strings attached AND without any strings attached unconditionally; with no obligations attached. □ My parents gave me a computer without any strings attached. □ I want this only if it comes with no strings attached.

with one hand tied behind one's back AND with both hands tied behind one's back even under a severe handicap; easily. □ I could put an end to this argument with one hand tied behind my back. □ John could do this job with both hands tied behind his back.

with one's tail between one's legs appearing frightened or cowardly, like a frightened or defeated dog; appearing threatened or humiliated. □ John seems to lack courage. When people criticize him unjustly, he just goes away with his tail between his legs and doesn't tell them that they're wrong. □ The frightened dog ran away with its tail between its legs when the bigger dog growled.

with regard to someone or something concerning someone or something. □ What shall we do with regard to planning dinner? □ With regard to Bill, I think he is working too hard.

with relish with pleasure or enjoyment. □ John ate his juicy hamburger with great relish. □ We sampled the excellent food with relish.

with respect to someone or something of or about someone or something. □ With respect to radiation, this power plant is very safe. □ This article examines experiments with respect to ethical issues.

with something to spare Go to and something to spare.

with the best will in the world however much one wishes to do something or however hard one tries to do something. □ With the best will in the world, Jack won't be able to help Mary get the job. □ With the best will in the world, they won't finish the job in time.

wither on the vine AND die on the vine [for something] to decline or fade away at an early stage of development. (Also literal in reference to grapes or other fruit.) □ You have a great plan, Tom. Let's keep it alive. Don't let it wither on the vine. □ The whole project died on the vine when the contract was canceled.

within an inch of one's life very close to taking one's life; almost to death. □ The accident frightened me within an inch of my life. □ When Mary was seriously ill in the hospital, she came within an inch of her life.

within a stone's throw (of something) AND (just) a stone's throw (away) (from something) very close (to something). (Possibly as close as the distance one could throw a stone. It usually refers to a distance much greater than one could throw a stone.) □ The police department was located within a stone's throw of our house. □ We live in Carbondale, and that's just a stone's throw from the Mississippi River. □ Come visit. We live just a stone's throw away. □ John saw Mary across the street, just a stone's throw away. □ Philadelphia is a stone's throw from New York City.

within bounds Go to within limits.

within calling distance Go to within hailing distance.

within hailing distance AND within calling distance; within shouting distance close enough to hear someone call out. □ When the boat came within hailing distance, I asked if I could borrow some gasoline. □ We weren't within calling distance, so I couldn't hear what you said to me.

within limits AND within bounds up to a certain point; with certain restrictions. □ You're free to do what you want—within limits, of course. □ You must try to keep behavior at the party within bounds.

within reason reasonable; reasonably. □ You can do anything you want within reason. □ I'll pay any sum you ask—within reason.

within shouting distance Go to within hailing distance.

within someone's grasp Go to within someone's reach.

within someone's reach AND within someone's grasp almost in the possession of someone. □ My goals are almost within my reach, so I know I'll succeed. □ We almost had the contract within our grasp, but the deal fell through at the last minute.

within walking distance close enough to walk to. □ Is the train station within walking distance? □ My office is within walking distance from here.

without a moment to spare Go to not a moment to spare.

without any strings attached Go to with no strings attached.

without batting an eye casually; without showing alarm or response. □ I knew I had insulted her, but she turned to me and asked me to leave without batting an eye. □ Right in the middle of the speech—without batting an eye—the speaker walked off the stage.

without fail for certain; absolutely. □ I'll be there at noon without fail. □ The plane leaves on time every day without fail.

without further ado without further talk. (An overworked phrase usually heard in public announcements.) □ And without further ado, I would like to introduce Mr. Bill Franklin! □ The time has come to leave, so without further ado, good evening and good-bye.

without question absolutely; certainly. □ She agreed to help without question. □ She said, "I stand ready to support you without question."

without rhyme or reason without purpose, order, or reason. □ The teacher said my report was disorganized. My paragraphs seemed to be without rhyme or reason. □ Everything you do seems to be without rhyme or reason. □ This procedure is without rhyme or reason.

without so much as doing something without even doing something. □ Jane borrowed Bob's car without so much as asking his permission. □ Mary's husband walked out without so much as saying good-bye.

Woe is me! I am unfortunate!; I am unhappy! (Usually humorous.) □ Woe is me! I have to work when the rest of the office staff is off. □ Woe is me. I have the flu and my friends have gone to a party.

a wolf in sheep's clothing someone or something threatening that is disguised as someone or something kind. □ Beware of the police chief. He seems polite, but he's a wolf in sheep's clothing. □ This proposal seems harmless enough, but I think it's a wolf in sheep's clothing.

woman to woman Go to man to man.

word by word one word at a time. □ We examined the contract word by word to make sure everything was the way we wanted. □ We compared the stories word by word to see what made them different.

word for word in the exact words; verbatim. □ I memorized the speech, word for word. □ I can't recall word for word what she told us.

a word to the wise a good piece of advice; a word of wisdom. □ If I can give you a word to the wise, I would suggest going to the courthouse about an hour before your trial. □ Here is a word to the wise. Keep your eyes open and your mouth shut.

words to that effect Go to something to that effect.

[work is cut out for one] Go to one's work is cut out for one.

work like a horse to work very hard. □ I've been working like a horse all day, and I'm tired. □ I'm too old to work like a horse. I'd prefer to relax more.

work one's fingers to the bone to work very hard. □ I worked my fingers to the bone so you children could have everything you needed. Now look at the way you treat me! □ I spent the day working my fingers to the bone, and now I want to relax.

work (one's way) into something to manage to join or become a member of something. (Refers to squeezing into something.) □ Ann worked her way into the club, and now she's a member in good standing. □ Bob worked his way into the top management of the company.

work one's way through college to hold a job that pays part of one's college expenses. □ Tom couldn't get a loan, so he had to work his way through college. □ I worked my way through college, and that made college seem more valuable to me.

work one's way up to advance in one's job or position, from the beginning level to a higher level. □ I haven't always been president of this bank. I started as a teller and worked my way up. □ If I work my way up, can I be president of the bank?

work on someone or something 1. [with someone] to try to convince someone about something. (Informal.) □ We worked on Tom for nearly an hour, but we couldn't get him to change his mind. □ I'll work on him for a while, and I'll change his mind. 2. [with someone] to give medical treatment to someone. □ The dentist was working on Mary while I waited for her in the other room. □ The surgeon worked on the patient, trying to stop the bleeding. 3. [with something] to repair, build, or adjust something. □ The carpenter worked on the fence for three hours. □ Bill is out working on his car engine.

work out to do a program of exercise. □ I have to work out every day in order to keep healthy. □ Working out a lot gives me a big appetite.

work out (all right) Go to turn out (all right).

work out for the best to end up in the best possible way. □ Don't worry. Things will work out for the best. □ It seems bad now, but it'll work out for the best.

work someone or something in to insert someone or something (into a schedule or a line). □ The doctor's schedule was very busy, but the nurse agreed to try to work me in. □ The mechanic had many cars to fix, but he said he'd work my car in. □ I'm glad he could work in my car.

work someone or something up 1. [with someone] to get someone ready for something, especially medical treatment. □ The coach worked up the whole team before the game. □ The doctor told the nurse to work Mr. Franklin up for surgery. 2. [with something] to create, cook, or arrange something. □ Bob is in the kitchen working up dinner. □ Is there something planned for Friday night, or should we work something up?

work someone over to threaten, intimidate, or beat someone. (Slang, especially criminal slang.) □ I thought they were really going to work me over, but they only asked a few questions. □ The police worked over Bill until he told where the money was hidden.

work something into something else to rub or knead something into something else. □ You should work more butter into the dough before baking the bread. □ Work this lotion into your skin to make your sunburn stop hurting.

work something off to get rid of something, such as fat, by doing physical exercise. □ Bob put on weight on his vacation and is trying to work it off by swimming regularly. □ Jane tried to work off her depression by playing a game of tennis.

work something out to settle a problem. (Also literal.) □ It was a serious problem, but we managed to work it out. □ I'm glad we can work out our problems without fighting.

work through channels to try to get something done by going through the proper procedures and persons. (See also go through channels.) □ You can't ac- comply anything around here if you don't work through channels. □ I tried working through channels, but it takes too long. This is an emergency.

work wonders (with someone or something) to be surprisingly beneficial to someone or something; to be very helpful with someone or something. □ This new medicine works wonders with my headaches. □ Jean was able to work wonders with the office staff. They improved their efficiency as soon as she took over.

worked up (about something) Go to (all) worked up (over something).

worked up (over something) Go to (all) worked up (over something).

the works everything. (Informal.) □ They gave me everything I could possibly want. They gave me the works! □ I want the works! Everything you have to offer!

The worm (has) turned. Someone who is usually patient and humble has decided to stop being so. □ Jane used to be treated badly by her husband and she just accepted it, but one day she hit him. The worm turned all right. □ Tom used to let the other boys bully him on the playground, but one day the worm turned and he's now leader of their gang.

worm one's way out of something to squeeze or wiggle out of a problem or a responsibility. (Informal.) □ This is your job, and you can't worm your way out of it! □ I'm not trying to worm my way out of anything!

worm something out of someone to get some kind of information out of someone. (Informal.) □ He didn't want to tell me the truth, but I finally wormed it out of him. □ She succeeded in worming the secret out of me. I didn't mean to tell it.

worth its weight in gold very valuable. □ This book is worth its weight in gold. □ Oh, Bill. You're wonderful. You're worth your weight in gold.

worth one's salt worth one's salary. □ Tom doesn't work very hard, and he's just barely worth his salt, but he's very easy to get along with. □ I think he's more than worth his salt. He's a good worker.

worth someone's while worth one's time and trouble. (See also make it worth someone's while.) □ The job pays so badly it's not worth your while even going for an interview. □ It's not worth Mary's while going all that way just for a one-hour meeting.

worthy of the name deserving to be so called; good enough to enjoy a specific name. □ There was not an actor worthy of the name in that play. □ Any art critic worthy of the name would know that painting to be a fake.

would (just) as soon do something Go to had (just) as soon do something.

would give one's right arm (for someone or something) would be willing to give something of great value in exchange for someone or something. □ I'd give my right arm for a nice cool drink. □ I'd give my right arm to be there.

would like (to have) someone or something to want someone or something; to prefer someone or something. □ I would like to have three cookies. □ I would like a piece of cake.

would rather would prefer [something] more willingly; would prefer [something] more readily. □ I would rather have an apple than a pear. I don't like pears. □ I'd rather live in the north than the south, because I like snow.

wouldn't dream of doing something would not even consider doing something. (Informal.) □ I wouldn't dream of taking your money! □ I'm sure that John wouldn't dream of complaining to the manager.

wouldn't touch someone or something with a ten-foot pole would not be involved with something under any circumstances. □ I know about the piece of vacant land for sale on Maple Street. I wouldn't touch it with a ten-foot pole because there used to be a gas station there and the soil is polluted. □ I wouldn't touch that book with a ten-foot pole. It is nothing but gossip and scandal.

wrap something up to terminate something; to bring something to an end. (Also literal. Informal. See also get something sewed up.) □ It's time to wrap this project up and move on to something else. □ Let's wrap up this discussion. It's time to go home.

wrapped up in someone or something concerned and involved with someone or something. □ Sally is wrapped up in her work. □ Ann is all wrapped up in her children and their activities.

wreak havoc with something to cause a lot of trouble with something; to ruin or damage something. □ Your attitude will wreak havoc with my project. □ The weather wreaked havoc with our picnic plans.

wreak vengeance (up)on someone or something to seek and get revenge on someone by harming someone or something. □ The thief wreaked his vengeance by destroying his rival's house. □ The general wanted to wreak vengeance on the opposing army for their recent successful attack.

write someone or something off 1. [with something] to absorb a debt or a loss in accounting. □ The bill couldn't be collected, so we had to write it off. □ The bill was too large, and we couldn't write off the amount. We decided to sue. 2. to drop someone or something from consideration. □ The manager wrote Tom off for a promotion. □ I wrote off that piece of land as worthless. It can't be used for anything.

write someone or something up 1. [with something] to prepare a bill, order, or statement. □ Please write the order up and send me a copy. □ As soon as I finish writing up your check, I'll bring you some more coffee. 2. to write an article about someone or something. □ A reporter wrote me up for the Sunday paper. □ I wrote up a local factory and sent the story to a magazine, but they didn't buy the story.

write something down to write something; to make a note of something. (Also without down.) □ If I write it down, I won't forget it. □ I wrote down everything she said.

write something out to spell or write a number or an abbreviation. □ Don't just write "7," write it out. □ Please write out all abbreviations, such as Doctor for Dr.

the wrong side of the tracks the poor part of a town. (Often with come from, be from, or live on, as in the examples. Compare this with the other side of the tracks.) □ They said that Bob was from the wrong side of the tracks, but that it didn't matter. □ We went to a school that was on the wrong side of the tracks, and we all got a fine education.

[wrote the book on something] Go to someone wrote the book on something.

X marks the spot this is the exact spot.
(Can be used literally when someone draws an X to mark an exact spot.) ☐ This is where the rock struck my car—X marks the spot. ☐ Now, please move that table over here. Yes, right here—X marks the spot.

Y

year after year for many years, one after another. □ We go to the same place for our vacation year after year. □ I seem to earn the same salary year after year.

year in, year out year after year, all year long. □ I seem to have hay fever year in, year out. I never get over it. □ John wears the same old suit, year in, year out.

year round Go to (all) year round.

years running Go to days running.

yield the right-of-way to give the right to turn or move forward to another person or vehicle. (See also have the right-of-way.) □ When you're driving, it's better to yield the right-of-way than to have a wreck. □ You must always yield the right-of-way when you're making a left turn.

a yoke around someone's neck something that oppresses people; a burden. □ John's greedy children are a yoke around his neck. □ The Smiths have a huge mortgage that has become a yoke around their neck.

You bet (your boots)! AND You can bet on it! Surely!; Absolutely! (Informal.) □ BILL: Coming to the meeting next Saturday? BOB: You bet! □ You bet your boots I'll be there!

You can bet on it! Go to You bet (your boots)!

You can say that again! AND You said it! That is true!; You are correct! (Informal. The word that is emphasized.) □ MARY: It sure is hot today. JANE: You can say that again! □ BILL: This cake is yummy! BOB: You said it!

You can't please everyone. It is not possible to make everyone happy. (Said when dismissing a complaint or when someone has pointed out a flaw that cannot be fixed.) □ When Jean complained about the choices on the dinner menu, the waiter said, "Sorry. You can't please everyone." □ Jerry reported that many of his friends had noticed that the colors of the walls in the living room clashed. His mother said, "Oh, well. You can't please everyone."

You can't take it with you. You should use your money now, because it is no good when you're dead. (Proverb.) □ My uncle is a wealthy miser. I keep telling him, "You can't take it with you." □ If you have money, you should make out a will. You can't take it with you, you know!

You can't teach an old dog new tricks. Old people cannot learn anything new. (Proverb. Also used literally of dogs.) □ "Of course I can learn," bellowed Uncle John. "Who says you can't teach an old dog new tricks?" □ I'm sorry. I can't seem to learn to do it right. Oh, well. You can't teach an old dog new tricks.

You got me there. I do not know the answer to your question. (In other persons also.) □ You got me there. I don't know. □ You got me there. I have no idea what the answer is.

You just don't get it! You really don't see what people are trying to tell you! (In other persons also.) □ Everyone says that you are a bore, but you just don't get it! □ You just don't get it! People avoid you because you offend them.

you know as you are aware, or should be aware. (Informal. This should not be overused.) □ This is a very valuable book, you know. □ Goldfish can be overfed, you know.

You said it! Go to You can say that again!

You scared me out of my wits.

You scared me out of my wits. Go to You scared the hell out of me.

You scared the crap out of me. Go to You scared the hell out of me.

You scared the devil out of me. Go to You scared the hell out of me.

You scared the dickens out of me. Go to You scared the hell out of me.

You scared the hell out of me. AND You scared the crap out of me.; You scared the dickens out of me.; You scared the devil out of me.; You scared me out of my wits.; You scared the pants off (of) me. You frightened me very badly. (In other persons also.) ☐ He scared the hell out of all of us. ☐ She really scared the pants off of me.

You scared the pants off (of) me. Go to You scared the hell out of me.

You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours. You do a favor for me and I'll do a favor for you.; If you do something for me that I cannot do for myself, I will do something for you that you cannot do for yourself. (Also literal.) ☐ I'll grab the box on the top shelf if you will creep under the table and pick up my pen. You scratch my back, and I'll scratch yours. ☐ Politicians are always saying to one another, "You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours."

You think you're so smart! You act as if you knew far more than you do! (In other persons also.) ☐ You think you're so smart! You don't know anything! ☐ Boy! He thinks he's so smart!

Your guess is as good as mine. Your answer is likely to be as correct as mine. (Informal.) ☐ I don't know where the scissors are. Your guess is as good as mine. ☐ Your guess is as good as mine as to when the train will arrive.

Your secret is safe with me. I will not tell your secret to anyone. ☐ Don't worry. I won't tell. Your secret's safe with me. ☐ Your secret is safe with me. I will carry it to my grave.

yours truly 1. a polite closing phrase at the end of a letter, just before the signature.
☐ Yours truly, Tom Jones ☐ Best wishes from yours truly, Bill Smith 2. oneself; I; me. (Informal.) ☐ There's nobody here right now but yours truly. ☐ Everyone else got up and left the table leaving yours truly to pay the bill.

Z

zero in on something to aim or focus directly on something. (Informal.) □ “Now,” said Mr. Smith, “I would like to zero in on another important point.” □ Mary is very good about zeroing in on the most important and helpful ideas.

zonk out to pass out; to fall asleep. (Slang.)

□ I was so tired after playing football that I almost zonked out on the floor. □ I had a cup of coffee before the test to keep from zonking out in the middle of it.

zoom in (on someone or something) 1. to fly or move rapidly at someone or something. (Slang.) □ The hawk zoomed in on the sparrow. □ The angry bees zoomed in on Jane and stung her. □ When the door opened, the cat zoomed in. 2. [for a photographer] to use a zoom lens to get a closer view of someone or something. □ Bill zoomed in on Sally’s face just as she grinned. □ On the next shot I’ll zoom in for a close-up.

This page intentionally left blank.

Phrase-Finder Index

Use this index to find the form of a phrase that you want to look up in the dictionary. To use this index, pick out any major word in the phrase you are seeking, then look up that word in this index to find the form of the phrase that appears in the dictionary. Finally, look up the phrase in the main body of the dictionary. Words such as someone or something that are variable words in the dictionary entries are not indexed here.

aback taken aback
ABC (as) easy as ABC
ABC easy as ABC
ABCs know one's ABCs
abet aid and abet someone abeyance in abeyance abide abide by something ability to the best of one's ability able able to breathe (easily) again able able to breathe (freely) again able able to do something blindfolded able able to do something standing on one's head able able to do something with one's eyes closed able able to fog a mirror able able to make something able able to take a joke able able to take just so much able able to take something able not able to call one's time one's own able not able to go on able not able to help something able not able to make anything out of someone or something able not able to see the forest for the trees able not able to stomach someone or something able not able to wait able ready, willing, and able abode take up one's abode somewhere about (all) at sea (about something) about (all) worked up (about something) about at sea (about something) about be about something about beat about the bush about bring something about about carry on (about someone or something) about cast about for someone or something about come about about crazy about someone or something about create a stink (about something) about do an about-face about fall out (with someone about something) about fiddle about (with someone or something) about get a rough idea (about something) about get a thing about someone or something about get one's wits about one about get second thoughts about someone or something about get worked up (about something) about give someone a rough idea (about something) about go about one's business about go into one's song and dance (about something) about halfhearted (about someone or something) about have a clean conscience (about someone or something) about have a clear conscience (about someone or something) about have a clue (about something) about have a feeling about something about have a hunch about something about have mixed feelings (about someone or something) about have second thoughts about someone or something about in a stew (about someone or something) about in the dark (about someone or something) about It's about time!

about keen about someone or something about keep one's mouth shut (about someone or something) about keep one's wits about one about keep quiet (about someone or something) about keep still (about someone or something) about knock about (somewhere) about knock someone or something about about know a thing or two (about someone or something) about know one's way about about let someone know (about something) about mad about someone or something about make a big deal about something about make a stink (about something) about make cracks (about someone or something) about Make no bones about it.
about make no mistake (about it) about man-about-town about mess about (with someone or something) about millstone about one's neck about much ado about nothing about no buts about it about no ifs, ands, or buts about it about nose about
about not breathe a word (about someone or something) about not care two hoots (about someone or something) about not give a hang (about someone or something) about not give a hoot (about someone or something) about not give two hoots (about someone or something) about nothing to complain about about nothing to write home about about not know beans (about someone or something) about not know the first thing about someone or something about no two ways about it about nuts about someone or something about on the fence (about something) about order someone about about out and about about play about (with someone or something) about poke about

about put one's foot down (about something) about put out (about someone or something) about rail at someone (about something) about raise a stink (about something) about ramble on (about someone or something) about rant and rave (about someone or something) about rant (at someone) about someone or something about religious about doing something about see about something about see a man about a dog about see eye to eye (with someone) (about something) about send one about one's business about something about someone or something about sound off (about something) about spout off (about someone or something) about That's about the size of it. about trouble oneself about someone or something about trouble one's head about someone or something about up and about about up in the air (about someone or something) about wild about someone or something about worked up (about something) above above and beyond (something) above (above and) beyond the call of duty above above average above above par above above reproach above above suspicion above get one's head above water above head and shoulders above someone or something above keep one's head above water above over and above something above a cut above someone or something aboveboard aboveboard aboveboard honest and aboveboard aboveboard open and aboveboard abreast keep abreast (of something) absence conspicuous by one's absence absence in the absence of someone or something absent absent without leave accident have an accident accord of one's own accord accordance in accordance with something according according to all accounts according according to Hoyle according according to one's own lights according according to someone or something according according to something account blow-by-blow account account give a good account of oneself account not on any account account on account account on any account account on no account account on someone's account account take someone or something into account account turn something to good account accounting There's no accounting for taste.

accounts according to all accounts accounts balance the accounts accounts by all accounts accounts cook the accounts accounts square accounts (with someone) accustomed accustomed to someone or something ace ace in the hole
ace (as) black as the ace of spades ace black as the ace of spades ace come within an ace of doing something ace have an ace up one's sleeve ace someone's ace in the hole aces hold all the aces aching an aching heart
acid acid test
acknowledge acknowledge receipt (of something) acknowledge acknowledge someone to be right acquire acquire a taste for something across across the board across come across someone or something across cut across something across get someone or something across across get something across (to someone) across put someone or something across across run across someone or something across stumble across someone or something act act as someone act act high-and-mighty act act one's age
act act something out
act act up
act catch someone in the act (of doing something) act caught in the act act clean up one's act act get into the act
act get one's act together act in the act (of doing something) act keep up an act act keep up one's act act put on an act
act read someone the riot act act an act of faith act an act of God
act an act of war
act a tough act to follow action all talk (and no action) action course of action action go into action action swing into action action a piece of the action

Actions Actions speak louder than words.

active on active duty activity a hive of activity Adam not know someone from Adam add add fuel to the fire add add fuel to the flame add add insult to injury add add up (to something) addition in addition (to something) address address someone as something adieu bid adieu to someone or something adieu bid someone or something adieu ado much ado about nothing ado without further ado advance in advance advance pay in advance advanced advanced in years advantage get the advantage of someone advantage get the advantage over someone advantage show something to good advantage advantage take advantage of someone or something advantage turn something to one's advantage advice sage advice advise advise against something advise advise someone against doing something advocate play (the) devil's advocate aegis under the aegis of someone affairs settle someone's affairs affairs a fine state of affairs affairs a pretty state of affairs affinity an affinity for someone or something affirmative in the affirmative afire like a house afire afoul fall afoul of someone or something afoul run afoul of someone or something afraid afraid of one's own shadow aft fore and aft
after after a fashion after after all after after hours
after after the fact after after the fashion of someone or something after day after day after get after someone after keep after someone after live happily ever after after much sought after after name someone after someone else after one thing or person after another after run after someone after stay after someone after take after someone after take off (after someone or something) after take out (after someone or something) after throw good money after bad after time after time after year after year after the morning after (the night before) again able to breathe (easily) again again able to breathe (freely) again again again and again again (all) over again

again at it again
again Come again.
again do something over (again)
again (every) now and again again now and again
again off again, on again again on again, off again again oneself again
again over again
again over and over (again) again run that by (someone) again again something else (again) again time and (time) again
again You can say that again!
against advise against something against advise someone against doing something against against someone's will against against the clock against assemble a case (against someone) against bang one's head against a brick wall against bear a grudge (against someone) against beat one's head against the wall against build a case (against someone) against dead set against someone or something against fight against time against for the odds to be against one against gather a case (against someone) against get two strikes against one against go against the grain against guard against someone or something against have a case (against someone) against have a grudge (against someone) against have one's heart set against something against have something against someone or something against have the cards stacked against one against have the deck stacked against one against have two strikes against one against hold a grudge (against someone) against hold something against someone against hope against (all) hope against lift a hand (against someone or something) against nurse a grudge (against someone) against one's heart is (dead) set against something against pit someone or something against someone or something against play both ends (against the middle) against play someone off against someone else against race against time against raise a hand (against someone or something) against security against something against set one's heart against something against side against someone against smear campaign (against someone) against stack the cards (against someone or something) against stack the deck (against someone or something) against swim against the current against swim against the tide against take a stand (against someone or something) against take up arms (against someone or something) against up against something against the cards are stacked against one age act one's age

age come of age
age in a coon's age
age in this day and age age of age
age a ripe old age agree not agree with someone agreement in agreement agreement reach an agreement ahead ahead of one's time ahead ahead of schedule ahead ahead of the game
ahead ahead of time ahead come out ahead
ahead dead ahead
ahead full steam ahead
ahead get ahead of oneself ahead get the go-ahead ahead give someone the go-ahead ahead one jump ahead (of someone or something) ahead one move ahead (of someone or something) ahold get (a)hold of someone or something ahold take (a)hold of someone or something aid aid and abet someone aim aim to do something aim take aim (at someone or something) aim We aim to please.
Ain't Ain't it the truth?
ain't That ain't hay.
air air one's dirty linen in public air air one's grievances air air something out air (as) free as (the) air air build castles in the air air clear the air
air free as (the) air
air full of hot air
air get the air
air give someone the air air gulp for air
air have one's nose in the air air in the air
air off the air
air one's nose is in the air air on the air
air out of thin air
air pull something out of thin air air up in the air (about someone or something) air vanish into thin air air walk on air
air a breath of fresh air airs put on airs aisles have them rolling in the aisles alcohol under the influence (of alcohol) alert on the alert (for someone or something) alike as alike as (two) peas in a pod alike share and share alike alive alive and kicking alive alive and well alive alive with someone or something alive more dead than alive alive skin someone alive all according to all accounts

all after all all (a little) new to (all) this all all and sundry all all around Robin Hood's barn all all at once
all (all) at sea (about something) all (all) balled up all (all) beer and skittles all all better now
all all day long
all all dressed up all all for something all (all) for the best all all gone
all all in all (all) in one breath all (all) in the family all (all) joking aside all (all) kidding aside all all kinds of someone or something all all manner of someone or something all all night long all all of a sudden all all or nothing
all all-out war
all all over all (all) over again
all (all) over with all all right
all all set
all (all) set to do something all (all) shot to hell
all (all) skin and bones all all sweetness and light all all systems (are) go all all talk (and no action)
All All that glitters is not gold.
all all the livelong day all all the rage
all all the same
all all the time
all all the way
all all thumbs
all all told
all all to the good
all (all) tucked out all all walks of life
all (all) well and good all all wet
all all wool and a yard wide
All All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.
all (all) worked up (about something) all (all) worked up (over something) all (all) year round all (as) bad as all that all (as) big as all outdoors all at all
all bad as all that all be-all and (the) end-all all be all ears
all be all eyes (and ears) all be all things to all men all be all things to all people all big as all outdoors all blow something out of all proportion all by all accounts

all by all appearances all by all means all do not have all one's marbles all downhill all the way all fall (all) over oneself all fall all over someone all firing on all cylinders all first of all all for all I care
all for all I know
all for all intents and purposes all for all it's worth all for all practical purposes all for all something all for all the world
all free-for-all
all get (all) dolled up all get away (from it all)
all get it (all) together all go all out all go all the way (with someone) all have it all over someone or something all hitting on all cylinders all hold all the aces
all hope against (all) hope all in (all) good conscience all in all one's born days all in all probability all in no time (at all) all it's (all) Greek to me.
all jump all over someone all know (all) the tricks of the trade all know where all the bodies are buried all laugh all the way to the bank all least of all
all let it all hang out all make an all-out effort all Money is the root of all evil.
all new to (all) this all not all something is cracked up to be all not all there
all not at all
all of all the nerve
all of all things
all on all fours
all once and for all
all one and all
all out of (all) proportion all pull out all the stops all put all one's eggs in one basket all ride off in all directions all That's all for someone.
all That's all she wrote.
all till all hours (of the day and night) all turn out (all right) all until all hours
all walk all over someone all warts and all

all when all is said and done all with all one's heart and soul all with all the fixings all work out (all right) all an all-out effort
all a jack-of-all-trades all the be-all and (the) end-all alley right down someone's alley alley right up someone's alley alley up a blind alley allow allow for someone or something allowances make allowance(s) (for someone or something) All's All's well that ends well. almighty the almighty dollar almost almost lost it alone go it alone
alone leave well enough alone alone let alone someone or something alone let well enough alone along along in years along along with someone or something along get along (in years) along get along (on a shoestring) along get along (without (someone or something)) along get along (with someone or something) along go along for the ride along go along (with someone or something) along inch along (something) along play along with someone or something along string along (with someone) along tag along alongside alongside (of) someone or something alpha alpha and omega altogether in the altogether amends make amends (for something) amiss take something amiss amount amount to something amount amount to the same thing amount down by some amount amount run to an amount of money amount set someone back (some amount of money) amount (somewhere) in the neighborhood of an amount amount to the tune of some amount of money an give (an) ear to someone or something an raise (an) objection (to someone or something) an read someone like a(n open) book analysis in the final analysis analysis in the last analysis and (above and) beyond the call of duty and all talk (and no action) and and change
and and so forth and and something to spare and and so on and and the like and and then some and and what have you and be all eyes (and ears) and cross one's heart (and hope to die) and pitch in (and help)

ands no ifs, ands, or buts about it angels fools rush in (where angels fear to tread) anger express one's anger angry angry enough to chew nails anon ever and anon
another another country heard from another (another) nail in someone's or something's coffin another dance to another tune another get another guess coming another get another think coming another not give it another thought another One good turn deserves another.
another One man's meat is another man's poison.
another One man's trash is another man's treasure.
another One thing leads to another.
another one thing or person after another another one way or another another sing another tune another a horse of another color answer answer for someone or something answer answer someone's purpose answer answer the door answer answer to someone answer not take no for an answer ants get ants in one's pants any any number of someone or something Any Any port in a storm. any at any cost
any at any rate any by any means any Don't let it go any further.
any go to any length any in any case
any in any event
any not on any account any not see any objection (to something) any on any account any without any strings attached anyone (as) far as anyone knows anyone far as anyone knows anyone so far as anyone knows anyone A little (hard) work never hurt anyone.
anyone A little (hard) work never killed anyone.
anything can't do anything with someone or something anything not able to make anything out of someone or something anything not for (anything in) the world apart come apart at the seams apart fall apart at the seams apart poles apart
apart take someone apart apart tell people apart apart tell things apart ape go ape (over someone or something) appear appear as something appear appear out of nowhere appearance make an appearance appearance put in an appearance appearances by all appearances appearances keep up appearances appetite whet someone's appetite apple (as) easy as (apple) pie apple easy as (apple) pie apple in apple-pie order apple upset the apple cart apple the apple of someone's eye apples apples and oranges appointed at the appointed time appointment make an appointment (with someone) approval on approval apron tied to one's mother's apron strings are all systems (are) go are know where all the bodies are buried are one's days are numbered are one's ears are red are one's ears are ringing are One's eyes are bigger than one's stomach.

are There are plenty of other fish in the sea.
are Things are looking up.
are What are you driving at?
are when the chips are down are Who do you think you're kidding?
are Who do you think you're talking to?
are You think you're so smart!
are A fool and his money are soon parted.
are the cards are stacked against one area gray area
aren't There aren't enough hours in the day.
arguing arguing for the sake of arguing arguing arguing for the sake of argument argument arguing for the sake of argument argument get into an argument (with someone) arm arm in arm
arm cost an arm and a leg arm pay an arm and a leg (for something) arm put the arm on someone
arm twist someone's arm
arm would give one's right arm (for someone or something) arm a shot in the arm armed armed and dangerous armed armed to the teeth armed (as) busy as a one-armed paperhanger armed busy as a one-armed paperhanger armor chink in one's armor arms receive someone with open arms arms take up arms (against someone or something) arms up in arms
arms welcome someone with open arms around all around Robin Hood's barn around (a)round the clock
around (a)round-the-clock
around beat around the bush around blue around the gills around boss someone around around bring someone around around bring something crashing down (around one) around cast around for someone or something around come (a)round around drop around (sometime) around enough to go (a)round around every time one turns around around fiddle around (with someone or something) around find one's way (around) around fool around (with someone or something) around	get around	as	as alike as (two) peas in a pod around	get (around) to something	as	as a matter of course around	go (a)round in circles	as	as a matter of fact around	go (a)round the bend	as	as an aside around	go around with someone	as	as a result of something around	green around the gills	as	as a token (of something) around	hang around (with someone)	as	(as) awkward as a cow on a crutch around	have been around	as	(as) awkward as a cow on roller skates around	hem and haw (around)	as	(as) bad as all that around	horse around	as	(as) bald as a baby's backside around	kick someone or something around	as	(as) bald as a coot around	kid around (with someone)	as	(as) baleful as death around	knock someone or something around	as	(as) big as all outdoors around	know one's way around	as	(as) big as life around	mess around (with someone or something)	as	(as) black as a skillet around	monkey around (with someone or something)	as	(as) black as a stack of black cats around	mope around	as	(as) black as a sweep around	nose around	as	(as) black as coal around	order someone around	as	(as) black as night around	pal around (with someone)	as	(as) black as one is painted around	pale around the gills	as	(as) black as pitch around	play around (with someone or something)	as	(as) black as the ace of spades around	poke around	as	(as) blind as a bat around	rally (a)round someone or something	as	(as) bold as brass around	run (around) in circles	as	(as) bright as a button around	run around like a chicken with its head cut off	as	(as) bright as a new pin around	run around with someone	as	(as) broad as a barn door around	run circles around someone	as	(as) busy as a beaver around	run rings around someone	as	(as) busy as a bee around	scout around for someone or something	as	(as) busy as a cat on a hot tin roof around	scratch around (for something)	as	(as) busy as a hibernating bear around	screw around (with someone or something)	as	(as) busy as a one-armed paperhanger around	shop around (for something)	as	(as) busy as Grand Central Station around	sit around (somewhere)	as	(as) busy as popcorn on a skillet around	stick around	as	(as) calm as a toad in the sun around	throw one's weight around	as	(as) clean as a hound's tooth around	throw someone's name around	as	(as) clean as a whistle around	twist someone's words (around)	as	(as) clear as a bell around	twist someone around one's little finger	as	(as) clear as crystal around	up and around	as	(as) clear as mud around	What goes around, comes around.	as	(as) clear as vodka around	a yoke around someone's neck	as	(as) close as two coats of paint arrange	arrange something with someone	as	(as) cocky as the king of spades arrange	arrange to do something with someone	as	(as) cold as a witch's caress arrangements	make arrangements (for someone or something)	as	(as) cold as a witch's tit arrears	in arrears	as	(as) cold as marble arrest	under arrest	as	(as) comfortable as an old shoe arrive	arrive in a body	as	(as) common as an old shoe arrive	arrive on the scene	as	(as) common as dirt arrived	have arrived	as	(as) conceited as a barber's cat arrow	(as) straight as an arrow	as	(as) cool as a cucumber arrow	(as) swift as an arrow	as	(as) crazy as a betsy bug arrow	straight as an arrow	as	(as) crazy as a loon arrow	swift as an arrow	as	(as) crazy as a peach-orchard boar

as	act as someone	as	(as) crooked as a barrel of fishhooks as	address someone as something	as	(as) crooked as a dog's hind leg as	appear as something	as	(as) crooked as a fishhook
as	as a duck takes to water	as	(as) dead as a dodo
as	as a (general) rule	as	(as) dead as a doornail as	as a last resort	as	(as) deaf as a post as	(as) different as night and day as	(as) drunk as a lord

- as (as) drunk as a skunk
- as (as) dry as a bone
- as (as) dry as dust
- as (as) dull as dishwater
- as (as) dull as ditchwater
- as (as) easy as ABC
- as (as) easy as (apple) pie
- as (as) easy as duck soup
- as (as) easy as falling off a log
- as (as) easy as rolling off a log
- as (as) exciting as watching (the) paint dry
- as (as) far as anyone knows
- as as far as it goes
- as as far as possible
- as (as) far as someone or something is concerned
- as (as) fat as a pig
- as (as) fit as a fiddle
- as (as) flat as a board
- as (as) flat as a pancake
- as as for someone or something
- as (as) free as a bird
- as (as) free as (the) air
- as (as) fresh as a daisy
- as (as) full as a tick
- as (as) funny as a barrel of monkeys
- as (as) funny as a crutch
- as (as) gaudy as a butterfly
- as (as) gentle as a lamb
- as (as) good as done
- as (as) good as gold
- as as good as one's word
- as (as) graceful as a swan
- as (as) gruff as a bear
- as (as) happy as a clam
- as (as) happy as a lark
- as (as) happy as can be
- as (as) hard as a rock
- as (as) hard as nails
- as (as) hard as stone
- as (as) high as a kite
- as (as) high as the sky
- as (as) hoarse as a crow
- as (as) hot as fire
- as (as) hot as hell
- as (as) hungry as a bear
- as (as) hungry as a hunter
- as as I expected
- as (as) innocent as a lamb
- as as it were
- as (as) large as life
- as (as) light as a feather
- as (as) likely as not
- as as long as
- as as luck would have it
- as (as) mad as a hatter
- as (as) mad as a hornet
- as (as) mad as a March hare
- as (as) mad as a wet hen
- as (as) mad as hell
- as (as) meek as a lamb
- as (as) merry as a cricket
- as (as) merry as the day is long
- as as much fun as a barrel of monkeys
- as (as) naked as a jaybird
- as (as) neat as a pin
- as (as) nutty as a fruitcake
- as (as) old as the hills
- as as one
- as as pale as a ghost
- as (as) pale as death
- as (as) patient as Job
- as (as) phony as a three-dollar bill
- as (as) plain as a pikestaff
- as (as) plain as day
- as (as) plain as the nose on one's face
- as (as) pleased as punch
- as (as) poor as a church mouse
- as (as) pretty as a picture
- as (as) proud as a peacock
- as (as) pure as the driven snow
- as (as) queer as a three-dollar bill
- as (as) quick as a flash
- as (as) quick as a wink
- as (as) quick as greased lightning
- as (as) quiet as a mouse
- as (as) quiet as the grave
- as (as) red as a cherry
- as (as) red as a poppy
- as (as) red as a rose
- as (as) red as a ruby
- as (as) red as blood
- as (as) regular as clockwork
- as (as) right as rain
- as (as) scarce as hens' teeth
- as (as) sharp as a razor
- as (as) sharp as a tack
- as (as) sick as a dog
- as (as) silent as the dead
- as (as) silent as the grave
- as (as) silly as a goose
- as (as) slick as a whistle
- as (as) slippery as an eel
- as (as) slow as molasses in January
- as (as) sly as a fox
- as (as) smooth as glass
- as (as) smooth as silk
- as (as) snug as a bug in a rug
- as (as) sober as a judge
- as (as) soft as a baby's bottom
- as (as) soft as down
- as (as) soft as silk
- as (as) soft as velvet
- as (as) solid as a rock
- as as soon as
- as (as) soon as possible
- as (as) sound as a dollar
- as (as) sour as vinegar
- as (as) steady as a rock
- as (as) stiff as a poker
- as (as) still as death
- as (as) straight as an arrow
- as (as) strong as a horse
- as (as) strong as a lion
- as (as) strong as an ox

as (as) stubborn as a mule	as clean as a whistle
as as such	as clear as a bell as (as) sure as death	as clear as crystal as (as) sweet as honey	as clear as mud as (as) sweet as sugar	as clear as vodka as (as) swift as an arrow	as close as two coats of paint as (as) swift as the wind	as cocky as the king of spades as (as) swift as thought	as cold as a witch's caress as as the crow flies	as cold as a witch's tit as (as) thick as pea soup	as cold as marble as (as) thick as thieves	as come as no surprise as (as) tight as a drum	as comfortable as an old shoe as (as) tight as a tick	as common as an old shoe
as (as) tight as Dick's hatband	as common as dirt as as to someone or something	as conceited as a barber's cat as (as) tough as an old boot	as cool as a cucumber as (as) true as steel	as crazy as a betsy bug as (as) ugly as a toad	as crazy as a loon as (as) ugly as sin	as crazy as a peach-orchard boar
as as usual	as crooked as a barrel of fishhooks
as (as) warm as toast	as crooked as a dog's hind leg as (as) weak as a baby	as crooked as a fishhook as (as) weak as a kitten	as dead as a dodo
as as well	as dead as a doornail
as (as) white as a ghost	as deaf as a post as (as) white as a sheet	as different as night and day as (as) white as the driven snow	as drunk as a lord as (as) wise as an owl	as drunk as a skunk as (as) wise as Solomon	as dry as a bone as awkward as a cow on a crutch	as dry as dust as awkward as a cow on roller skates	as dull as dishwater
as bad as all that	as dull as ditchwater as bald as a baby's backside	as easy as ABC
as bald as a coot	as easy as (apple) pie
as baleful as death	as easy as duck soup as be that as it may	as easy as falling off a log as big as all outdoors	as easy as rolling off a log as big as life	as exciting as watching (the) paint dry as black as a skillet	as far as anyone knows as black as a stack of black cats	as far as something is concerned as black as a sweep	as fat as a pig as black as coal	as fit as a fiddle as black as night	as flat as a board as black as one is painted	as flat as a pancake as black as pitch	as free as a bird as black as the ace of spades	as free as (the) air as blind as a bat	as fresh as a daisy as bold as brass	as full as a tick as bright as a button	as funny as a barrel of monkeys as bright as a new pin	as funny as a crutch as broad as a barn door	as gaudy as a butterfly
as business as usual	as gentle as a lamb as busy as a beaver	as get a reputation (as a something) as busy as a bee	as give as good as one gets as busy as a cat on a hot tin roof	as give someone a reputation (as a something) as busy as a hibernating bear	as good as done as busy as a one-armed paperhanger	as good as gold as busy as Grand Central Station	as go so far as to say something as busy as popcorn on a skillet	as graceful as a swan as calm as a toad in the sun	as gruff as a bear as catch-as-catch-can	as had (just) as soon do something as clean as a hound's tooth	as happy as a clam

as happy as a lark
 as happy as can be as hard as a rock
 as hard as nails
 as hard as stone
 as have someone pegged as something as high as a kite
 as hoarse as a crow
 as hold someone or something up (as an example) as hot as fire
 as hot as hell
 as hungry as a bear
 as hungry as a hunter as innocent as a lamb as in the same boat (as someone) as (just) as I expected as large as life
 as light as a feather as likely as not as look as if butter wouldn't melt in one's mouth as look on someone as something as mad as a hatter
 as mad as a hornet
 as mad as a March hare as mad as a wet hen
 as mad as hell
 as make as if to do something as make good as something as make it as far as something as meek as a lamb
 as merry as a cricket as merry as the day is long as naked as a jaybird as neat as a pin
 as nutty as a fruitcake as old as the hills
 as pale as death
 as pass as someone or something as patient as Job
 as pay as you go
 as peg someone as something as phony as a three-dollar bill as plain as a pikestaff as plain as day
 as plain as the nose on one's face as pleased as punch
 as poor as a church mouse
 as pose as someone as pretty as a picture
 as Pretty is as pretty does.
 as proud as a peacock as pure as the driven snow as put someone down as something bad as queer as a three-dollar bill as quick as a flash
 as quick as a wink
 as quick as greased lightning as quiet as a mouse
 as quiet as the grave
 as red as a cherry
 as red as a poppy
 as red as a rose

as red as a ruby
 as red as blood
 as regular as clockwork as right as rain as see someone as something as serve as a guinea pig as set someone up (as something) as sharp as a razor
 as sharp as a tack
 as show someone up as something as sick as a dog
 as silent as the dead
 as silent as the grave
 as silly as a goose
 as slick as a whistle
 as slippery as an eel
 as slow as molasses in January as sly as a fox
 as smooth as glass
 as smooth as silk
 as snug as a bug in a rug as sober as a judge as so far as anyone knows as so far as possible as so far as someone or something is concerned as so far as something is concerned as soft as a baby's bottom as soft as down
 as soft as silk
 as soft as velvet
 as solid as a rock
 as so long as
 as soon as possible
 as sound as a dollar as sound as if
 as sour as vinegar
 as start someone in (as something) as start someone out (as something) as steady as a rock
 as stiff as a poker
 as still as death
 as straight as an arrow as strike someone as something as strong as a horse as strong as a lion
 as strong as an ox
 as stubborn as a mule as such as
 as sure as death
 as sweet as honey
 as sweet as sugar
 as swift as an arrow
 as swift as the wind
 as swift as thought as thick as pea soup
 as thick as thieves
 as tight as a drum
 as tight as a tick
 as tight as Dick's hatband
 as tough as an old boot as true as steel
 as ugly as a toad

- as ugly as sin
 as use someone or something as an excuse as warm as toast
 as weak as a baby
 as weak as a kitten
 as When in Rome, do as the Romans do.
 as white as a sheet
 as white as the driven snow as wise as an owl
 as wise as Solomon as without so much as doing something as would as soon do something as Your guess is as good as mine. as the same as someone or something aside (all) joking aside aside (all) kidding aside aside as an aside
 aside aside from someone or something aside joking aside
 aside kidding aside
 ask ask for something ask ask for the moon
 ask ask for trouble
 ask ask someone out asking one's for the asking asleep asleep at the switch asleep fall asleep aspersions cast aspersions on someone ass tits and ass
 assault assault and battery assault assault the ears assemble assemble a case (against someone) assume assume liability assured rest assured astray go astray
 at all at once
 at (all) at sea (about something) at asleep at the switch at at all
 at at a loss (for words) at at an early date at at any cost at at any rate at at a premium
 at at a set time at at a sitting at at a snail's pace at at a stretch
 at at bay
 at at best at at close range
 at at cross-purposes
 at at death's door
 at at ease
 at at every turn at at face value
 at at first
 at (at) full blast
 at at full speed
 at at full tilt
 at at half-mast
 at at hand
 at at hazard
 at at home
 at at it again
 at at large at at last at at least at at leisure
 at at length
 at at liberty
 at at loggerheads (with someone) at at (long) last at at loose ends
 at at most at at night
 at at odds (with someone) at at once
 at at one fell swoop
 at at one's best at at one's leisure
 at at one's wit's end at at peace
 at at play
 at at present
 at at random
 at at regular intervals at at rest
 at at risk
 at at sea
 at at sixes and sevens
 at at some length at at someone's beck and call at at someone's doorstep at at someone's earliest convenience at at someone's mercy at at someone's request at at someone's service at at some time sharp at at stake
 at at that rate
 at at the appointed time at at the bottom of the hour at at the bottom of the ladder at at the break of dawn at at the crack of dawn at at the drop of a hat at at the eleventh hour at at the end of nowhere at at the end of one's rope at at the end of one's tether at at the end of the day at at the expense of someone or something at at the forefront (of something) at at the height of something at at the helm (of something) at at the last gasp at at the last minute
 at at the latest at at the mercy of someone at at the outset
 at at the point of doing something at at the present time at at the rear of something at at the same time at at the top of one's lungs at at the top of one's voice at at the top of the hour at at the (very) outside at at (the) worst

 at at the zenith of something at at this juncture at at this point (in time)
 at at this rate at at this stage
 at at times
 at at will at at work at at worst
 at blow up (at someone) at burn someone at the stake at burn the candle at both ends at burst at the seams at champ at the bit
 at chomp at the bit
 at close at hand
 at clutch at straws
 at come apart at the seams at down-at-the-heels at draw the line (at something) at drive at something at eat away at someone or something at fall apart at the seams at feel at home at fire away at someone or something at fling oneself at someone at foam at the mouth at get at someone or something at get at the heart of the matter at get back (at someone) at get mad (at someone or something) at go at it hammer and tongs at go at it tooth and nail at go at someone or something at grasp at straws
 at hammer away (at someone or something) at have a crack at something at have a go (at something) at have a shot at something at have a try at something at have at someone or something at have back at someone at have something at hand at have something at one's fingertips at Here's looking at you.
 at hold the line (at someone or something) at hopeless at doing something at hurl an insult (at someone) at ill at ease
 at I'm awful at names.
 at I'm terrible at names.
 at in at the kill
 at in no time (at all)
 at in the right place at the right time at in the wrong place at the wrong time at jump at something

at jump at the chance at jump at the opportunity at Keep at it!
 at keep at someone or something at leap at the opportunity at level something at someone at look at someone cross-eyed at look daggers at someone at look down one's nose at someone or something at love at first sight at make a face (at someone) at make a pass at someone at make eyes (at someone) at make good (at something) at make oneself at home at more someone or something than one can shake a stick at at near at hand at not at all
 at nothing to sneeze at at one at a time
 at peg away (at something) at pick at someone or something at plug away (at something) at point the finger at someone at poke fun (at someone) at rail at someone (about something) at rant (at someone) about someone or something at right at a specific time at run off at the mouth at see the light (at the end of the tunnel) at sit at someone's feet at snap at someone
 at stop at nothing
 at strike out at someone or something at take a crack at something at take a dig at someone at take a gander (at someone or something) at take aim (at someone or something) at take a look (at someone or something) at take a potshot at someone or something at take a punch at someone at take a shot at something at take a stab at something at take a try at something at take a whack at someone or something at take digs at someone at take offense (at someone or something) at take one at one's word at take someone or something at face value at take something at face value at take turns ((at) doing something) at take umbrage at something at throw oneself at someone's feet at throw oneself at someone at throw oneself at the mercy of the court at throw the book at someone at thumb one's nose at someone or something at tilt at windmills at tip the scales at something at try one's hand (at something)

- at try one's luck (at something) at turn one's nose up at someone or something at up and at them
at What are you driving at?
at wink at something at an old hand at doing something at a past master at something attached attached to someone or something attached with no strings attached attached without any strings attached attendance take attendance attention attract someone's attention attention bring something to someone's attention attention grip someone's attention attention hold someone's attention attention pay attention (to someone or something) attention rivet someone's attention attitude devil-may-care attitude attitude wait-and-see attitude attract attract someone's attention auction Dutch auction
augur augur well for someone or something auspices under the auspices of someone avail avail oneself of something avail of no avail
avail to no avail
available make someone or something available to someone avenue avenue of escape average above average average below average average on the average avoid avoid someone or something like the plague awagging set tongues (a)wagging awake wide-awake
away away from one's desk away be a heartbeat away from something away be a million miles away away blow someone or something away away carried away away come away empty-handed away do away with someone or something away draw (someone's) fire (away from someone or something) away eat away at someone or something away explain something away away far and away the best away fire away at someone or something away fritter something away away get away (from it all) away get away with something away get carried away away give the bride away away give the game away away go away empty-handed away hammer away (at someone or something) away (just) a stone's throw away (from something) away lay someone away away make away with someone or something away pass away away peg away (at something) away plug away (at something) away put someone away
away right away
away salt something away away shy away (from someone or something) away slip away
away sock something away away squared away
away square someone or something away away squirrel something away away take it away
away take someone or something away away take someone's breath away away up and away away walk away with something away When the cat's away, the mice will play.
away while away the time away a faraway look away a stone's throw (away) (from something) awe in awe (of someone or something) awe stand in awe (of someone or something) awful I'm awful at names.
awkward (as) awkward as a cow on a crutch awkward (as) awkward as a cow on roller skates awkward awkward as a cow on a crutch awkward awkward as a cow on roller skates awkwardness main strength and awkwardness AWOL AWOL
AWOL go AWOL
ax get the ax
ax give someone the ax ax have an ax to grind (with someone) babe a babe in the woods baby (as) weak as a baby baby sleep like a baby baby throw the baby out with the bath(water) baby weak as a baby baby's (as) bald as a baby's backside baby's (as) soft as a baby's bottom baby's bald as a baby's backside baby's soft as a baby's bottom back back and fill back back and forth
back back down (from someone or something) back back East back back in circulation back back off (from someone or something) back back of the beyond back back order something back back out (of something) back back someone or something up back back the wrong horse back back-to-back
back back to square one back back to the drawing board back back to the salt mines back behind someone's back back be the straw that broke the camel's back back break one's back (to do something) back break the back of something back cut back (on something) back date back (to sometime) back double back (on someone or something) back fall back on someone or something back from way back back get back (at someone) back get back into circulation back get back into harness back get back on one's feet back get back (to someone) back Get off someone's back!

back get someone's back up back give someone a pat on the back back give someone the shirt off one's back back go back on one's word back hang back back hark(en) back to something back have back at someone back have been to hell and back back have eyes in the back of one's head back have one's back to the wall back knock something back back know someone or something like the back of one's hand back laid-back
back like water off a duck's back back nurse someone back to health back on someone's back back pat someone on the back back pay someone a back-handed compliment back pin someone's ears back back put one's back (in)to something back put something on the back burner back roll something back back scratch someone's back back set one back on one's heels back set someone back (some amount of money) back sit back and let something happen back stab someone in the back back stand (in) back of someone or something back take something back back talk back (to someone) back think back (on someone or something) back turn one's back (on someone or something) back turn the clock back back with both hands tied behind one's back back with one hand tied behind one's back back You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours.
back a crick in one's back backseat take a backseat (to someone) backside (as) bald as a baby's backside backside bald as a baby's backside backwards bend over backwards (to do something) backwards fall over backwards (to do something) backwards know something backwards and forwards backwards know something forwards and backwards backwards lean over backwards (to do something) backyard in one's (own) backyard bacon bring home the bacon bad (as) bad as all that bad bad as all that bad bad blood (between people) bad bad-mouth someone or something bad be off to a bad start bad come to a bad end bad get off to a bad start bad go bad

bad go from bad to worse bad good riddance (to bad rubbish) bad have a bad effect (on someone or something) bad have a run of bad luck bad in a bad mood
bad in a bad way
bad in bad faith
bad in bad sorts bad in bad taste
bad in bad (with someone) bad leave a bad taste in someone's mouth bad not half bad bad put someone down as something bad bad throw good money after bad bag bag and baggage bag bag of tricks
bag leave someone holding the bag bag let the cat out of the bag bag put on the feed bag bag a mixed bag
baggage bag and baggage bail bail out (of something) bail bail someone or something out bail jump bail
bail out on bail
bail skip bail
bait bait and switch
bait fish or cut bait
bait rise to the bait balance balance the accounts balance balance the books balance catch someone off-balance balance hang in the balance balance in the balance balance strike a balance (between two or more things) balances checks and balances bald (as) bald as a baby's backside bald (as) bald as a coot bald bald as a baby's backside bald bald as a coot baleful (as) baleful as death baleful baleful as death ball ball and chain
ball ball of fire
ball behind the eight ball ball carry the ball
ball drop the ball
ball get the ball rolling ball have a ball
ball have something on the ball ball have the ball in one's court ball keep one's eye on the ball ball keep the ball rolling ball new ball game
ball on the ball
ball pitch someone a curve (ball) ball play ball (with someone) ball set the ball rolling ball start the ball rolling ball That's the way the ball bounces.
ball (whole) new ball game

ball the whole ball of wax balled (all) balled up balled balled up
balloon go over like a lead balloon balloon send up a trial balloon ballot stuff the ballot box balls the balls of one's feet bananas go bananas
band to beat the band
bandwagon climb on the bandwagon bandwagon get on the bandwagon bandwagon jump on the bandwagon bang bang one's head against a brick wall bang get a bang out of someone or something bang give someone a bang bang go over with a bang bank bank on something bank break the bank
bank can take it to the bank.
bank laugh all the way to the bank baptism baptism of fire barber's (as) conceited as a barber's cat barber's conceited as a barber's cat bare the bare something bargain bargain for something bargain bargain on something bargain drive a hard bargain bargain hold one's end (of the bargain) up bargain in the bargain bargain live up to one's end of the bargain bargain strike a bargain bargain throw something into the bargain bargained more than someone bargained for barge barge in (on someone or something) bark bark up the wrong tree bark One's bark is worse than one's bite.
barn all around Robin Hood's barn barn (as) broad as a barn door barn broad as a barn door barn raised in a barn barred no holds barred barrel (as) crooked as a barrel of fishhooks barrel (as) funny as a barrel of monkeys barrel as much fun as a barrel of monkeys barrel crooked as a barrel of fishhooks barrel funny as a barrel of monkeys barrel get someone over a barrel barrel lock, stock, and barrel barrel more fun than a barrel of monkeys barrel scrape the bottom of the barrel barrelhead cash on the barrelhead barrels let someone have it (with both barrels) base base one's opinion on something base get to first base (with someone or something) base off base
base reach first base (with someone or something) base steal a base
base touch base (with someone) basis on a first-name basis (with someone) basket put all one's eggs in one basket bat (as) blind as a bat bat blind as a bat

bat go to bat for someone bat like a bat out of hell bat not bat an eyelid bat right off the bat
bath take a bath
bathroom go to the bathroom bathwater throw the baby out with the bath(water) bats have bats in one's belfry batten batten down the hatches battery assault and battery batting without batting an eye battle battle something out bawl bawl someone out bay at bay
be acknowledge someone to be right be (as) happy as can be be be about something be be a heartbeat away from something be be-all and (the) end-all be be all ears
be be all eyes (and ears) be be all things to all men be be all things to all people be be a million miles away be be a new one on someone be be curtains for someone or something be be death on something be (be) easier said than done be be flying high
be be friends with someone be be from Missouri be be game
be Beggars can't be choosers.
be be into something be be off
be be of service (to someone) be be of the persuasion that something is so be be reluctant to do something be be sick
be be so
be be swimming in something be be that as it may be be the case
be be the death of me (yet) be be the last straw be be the spit and image of someone be be the spitting image of someone be be the straw that broke the camel's back be be to do something be be too
be be used to doing something be be used to something be be with someone
be Boys will be boys.
be Could be better.
be Could be worse.
be couldn't be better be couldn't be happier be cut out to be something be deem it (to be) necessary be far be it from me to do something be fit to be tied

- be for the odds to be against one be happy as can be be leave a lot to be desired be Let bygones be bygones.
be meant to be
be not all something is cracked up to be be not what something is cracked up to be be old enough to be someone's father be old enough to be someone's mother be prove to be something be So be it.
be stand up and be counted be That'll be the day.
be There will be the devil to pay.
be to be on the safe side be to be safe
be too good to be true
be Whatever will be, will be.
be a force to be reckoned with be the be-all and (the) end-all be the powers that be bead draw a bead on someone or something beam broad in the beam beam on the beam
beans full of beans
beans not know beans (about someone or something) beans not worth a hill of beans beans spill the beans bear (as) busy as a hibernating bear bear (as) gruff as a bear bear (as) hungry as a bear bear bear a grudge (against someone) bear bear fruit
bear bear in mind that something is so bear bear one's cross bear bear someone or something in mind bear bear something out bear bear the brunt (of something) bear bear watching bear bear with someone or something bear busy as a hibernating bear bear grin and bear it bear gruff as a bear
bear hungry as a bear
bear loaded for bear
bear more than one can bear beard beard the lion in his den bearing have bearing on something bearings get one's bearings beat beat about the bush beat beat a dead horse beat beat a (hasty) retreat beat beat a path to someone's door beat beat around the bush beat beat one's brains out (to do something) beat beat one's head against the wall beat beat someone down (to size) beat beat someone to the draw beat beat someone to the punch beat beat someone up beat beat something into someone's head beat beat the clock
beat beat the gun
beat beat the living daylights out of someone beat beat the pants off someone beat beat the rap beat beat the stuffing out of someone beat beat the tar out of someone beat march to (the beat of) a different drummer beat one's heart misses a beat beat one's heart skips a beat beat pound a beat beat to beat the band
beaten off the (beaten) track Beauty Beauty is only skin-deep.
beaver (as) busy as a beaver beaver busy as a beaver beaver an eager beaver beck at someone's beck and call becoming becoming on someone becoming becoming to someone bed Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.) bed get out of the wrong side of the bed bed get up on the wrong side of the bed bed go to bed
bed make a bed
bed make someone's bed
bed make the bed
bed put someone or something to bed bed put someone to bed with a shovel bed should have stood in bed bed sick in bed
bed a bed of roses
bee (as) busy as a bee bee busy as a bee
bee get a bee in one's bonnet bee have a bee in one's bonnet bee put a bee in someone's bonnet beef beef something up
beeline make a beeline for someone or something been have been around been have been had been have been through the mill been have been to hell and back been Have you been keeping busy?
been How's the world (been) treating you?
been Life's been good (to me).
been What have you been up to?
been Where've you been hiding yourself?
been the moment everyone has been waiting for beer (all) beer and skittles beer beer and skittles
bees the birds and the bees beeswax none of someone's beeswax before before long before before you can say Jack Robinson before before you know it before cast (one's) pearls before swine before count one's chickens before they hatch before cross a bridge before one comes to it before cry before one is hurt before Pride goes before a fall. before put the cart before the horse

- before think twice (before doing something) before the calm before the storm before the lull before the storm before the morning after (the night before) beg beg off (on something) beg beg the question beg beg to differ (with someone) beggar beggar description Beggars Beggars can't be choosers.
begging go begging
begin begin to see daylight begin begin to see the light beginning beginning of the end behalf in behalf of someone behalf in someone's behalf behalf on behalf of someone behalf on someone's behalf behavior get time off for good behavior behavior on one's best behavior behind behind closed doors behind behind in something behind behind on something behind behind schedule behind behind someone's back behind behind the eight ball behind behind the scenes behind behind the times Behind Behind you!
behind burn one's bridges (behind one) behind close ranks (behind someone or something) behind driving force (behind someone or something) behind not dry behind the ears behind stand behind someone or something behind wet behind the ears behind with both hands tied behind one's back behind with one hand tied behind one's back behind the power behind the throne behold a marvel to behold behooves It behooves one to do something.
being for the time being being into being being other things being equal belabor belabor the point belfry have bats in one's belfry believe believe it or not believe lead someone to believe something believe not believe one's eyes believing seeing is believing bell (as) clear as a bell bell bell, book, and candle bell clear as a bell
bell ring a bell
bell saved by the bell
bells with bells on (one's toes) belong To the victors belong the spoils. below below average
below below par
below hit (someone) below the belt belt belt something out belt get something under one's belt belt hit (someone) below the belt belt tighten one's belt bench on the bench
bench warm the bench bend bend over backwards (to do something) bend bend someone's ear bend go (a)round the bend bended on bended knee beneath feel it beneath one (to do something) benefit get the benefit of the doubt benefit give someone the benefit of the doubt benefit of benefit (to someone) bent bent on doing something bent hell-bent for leather berth give someone or something a wide berth beside beside oneself (with something) beside beside the point beside beside the question best (all) for the best best at best best at one's best best best bib and tucker best come off second-best best do one's (level) best best even in the best of times best far and away the best best for the best best get the best of someone best give something one's best shot best had best do something best have the best of both worlds best He laughs best who laughs last. best in one's (own) (best) interest(s) best in one's Sunday best best in the best of health best make the best of something best on one's best behavior best put one's best foot forward best to the best of one's ability best to the best of one's knowledge best with the best will in the world best work out for the best best the best-laid plans of mice and men best the best-laid schemes of mice and men best the best part of something bet bet one's bottom dollar bet bet one's life
bet You bet (your boots)!
bet You can bet on it!
bets hedge one's bets betsy (as) crazy as a betsy bug betsy crazy as a betsy bug better all better now better better late than never better better off (doing something) better better off (if one were somewhere else) better better off (if something were done) better better off (somewhere) better Could be better.
better couldn't be better better do someone one better better for better or for worse better for the better better get better

better get the better of someone better go on to a better land better go someone one better better had better do something better Half a loaf is better than none.
better have seen better days better know better (than to do something) better one's better half better so much the better better take a turn for the better better think better of something between bad blood (between people) between between a rock and a hard place between between life and death between between the devil and the deep blue sea between between you, me, and the lamppost between betwixt and between between draw a line between something and something else between fall between two stools between few and far between between hit someone (right) between the eyes between in between between in the interim (between things) between no love lost (between someone and someone else) between read between the lines between strike a balance (between two or more things) between take the bit between the teeth between torn between bad choices between torn between choosing something or something else between with one's tail between one's legs betwixt betwixt and between beware Let the buyer beware.
beyond above and beyond (something) beyond (above and) beyond the call of duty beyond back of the beyond beyond beyond a reasonable doubt beyond beyond measure beyond beyond one's depth beyond beyond one's means beyond beyond the call of duty beyond beyond the pale beyond beyond the shadow of a doubt beyond beyond words
beyond can't see beyond the end of one's nose beyond live beyond one's means bias on a bias
bias on the bias
bib best bib and tucker Bibles swear on a stack of Bibles bid bid adieu to someone or something bid bid someone or something adieu bidding do someone's bidding bide bide one's time big (as) big as all outdoors big (as) big as life big big and bold
big big as all outdoors big big as life
big big of someone
big cut a big swath

big get a big send-off big give someone a big send-off big go over big with someone big have a big mouth
big Like it's such a big deal!
big make a big deal about something big No big deal!
big talk big
big too big for one's britches big a big frog in a small pond big the big moment bigger have bigger fish to fry bigger have eyes bigger than one's stomach bigger One's eyes are bigger than one's stomach. bill (as) phony as a three-dollar bill bill (as) queer as a three-dollar bill bill fill the bill
bill fit the bill
bill foot the bill
bill get a clean bill of health bill give someone a clean bill of health bill pad the bill
bill phony as a three-dollar bill bill queer as a three-dollar bill bill sell someone a bill of goods bind in a bind
binge binge and purge binge go on a binge bird (as) free as a bird bird early bird
bird eat like a bird
bird free as a bird
bird A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.
bird A little bird told me.
bird The early bird gets the worm.
Birds Birds of a feather flock together.
birds for the birds birds kill two birds with one stone bird's a bird's-eye view birds the birds and the bees birth give birth to someone or some creature birth give birth to something birthday in one's birthday suit biscuit son of a sea biscuit bit champ at the bit bit chomp at the bit bit do one's bit bit in a little bit bit not a bit
bit one little bit
bit quite a bit bit take the bit between the teeth bit take the bit in one's teeth bit a little bit bit the hair of the dog that bit one bitch son of a bitch
bite bite off more than one can chew bite bite one's nails bite bite one's tongue bite bite someone's head off bite bite the bullet
bite bite the dust

- bite bite the hand that feeds one bite grab a bite (to eat) bite One's bark is worse than one's bite.
bite put the bite on someone bitter take the bitter with the sweet bitter to the bitter end bitter a bitter pill to swallow black (as) black as a skillet black (as) black as a stack of black cats black (as) black as a sweep black (as) black as coal black (as) black as night black (as) black as one is painted black (as) black as pitch black (as) black as the ace of spades black black-and-blue black black as a skillet black black as a stack of black cats black black as a sweep black black as coal black black as night
black black as one is painted black black as pitch black black as the ace of spades black black out
black get a black eye
black give someone a black eye black in black and white black in the black black pitch-black
black put something down in black and white black the black sheep of the family black the pot calling the kettle black blame lay the blame on someone or something blame place the blame on someone or something blame put the blame on someone or something blanche give carte blanche to someone blanche give someone carte blanche blank draw a blank blank give a blank check to someone blank give someone a blank check blanket wet blanket blast (at) full blast blast blast off
blast full blast
blaze blaze a trail (in something) bleep bleep something out blessing a blessing in disguise blessings thankful for small blessings blind (as) blind as a bat blind blind as a bat blind turn a blind eye to someone or something blind up a blind alley blind the blind leading the blind blindfolded able to do something blindfolded blink on the blink
block knock someone's block off block on the block block put one's head on the block (for someone or something) block stumbling block block a chip off the old block blood (as) red as blood blood bad blood (between people)
Blood Blood is thicker than water.
Blood Blood runs thicker than water.
blood blood, sweat, and tears blood blue blood blood curdle someone's blood blood draw blood blood flesh and blood blood have someone's blood on one's hands blood in cold blood blood in one's blood blood in the blood blood make someone's blood boil blood make someone's blood run cold blood new blood blood red as blood blood (some) new blood blood sweat blood bloody bloody but unbowed bloody cry bloody murder bloody scream bloody murder bloom in bloom
blossom in blossom
blow blow a fuse
blow blow a gasket blow blow-by-blow account blow blow-by-blow description blow blow hot and cold blow blow off steam blow blow one's cookies blow blow one's cool blow blow one's cork
blow blow one's lines blow blow one's lunch blow blow one's nose blow blow one's own horn blow blow one's stack blow blow one's top blow blow over blow blow someone or something away blow blow someone or something off blow blow someone or something to smithereens blow blow someone's cover blow blow someone's mind blow blow something blow blow the lid off (something) blow blow the whistle (on someone) blow blow up
blowing see which way the wind is blowing blowout have a blowout blows come to blows (over something) blue between the devil and the deep blue sea blue black-and-blue blue blue around the gills blue blue blood
blue burn with a low blue flame blue come out of the blue blue like a bolt out of the blue blue once in a blue moon blue out of a clear blue sky blue out of the blue

- blue talk a blue streak
blue talk until one is blue in the face blues get the blues bluff call someone's bluff blush at first blush
boar (as) crazy as a peach-orchard boar boar crazy as a peach-orchard boar board across the board
board (as) flat as a board board back to the drawing board board flat as a board board go by the board
board on board
board room and board boat in the same boat (as someone) boat miss the boat
boat rock the boat
bodies know where all the bodies are buried body arrive in a body body come in a body
body go in a body
body keep body and soul together body over my dead body
bog bog down boggle boggle someone's mind boil boil down to something boil boil something down boil make someone's blood boil boiling have a low boiling point bold (as) bold as brass bold big and bold
bold bold as brass
bolt like a bolt out of the blue bolt sit bolt upright bolts the nuts and bolts (of something) bombshell drop a bomb(shell) bombshell explode a bombshell bone (as) dry as a bone bone bone of contention bone bone up (on something) bone chilled to the bone bone cut someone or something to the bone bone dry as a bone bone have a bone to pick (with someone) bone work one's fingers to the bone boner pull a boner bones (all) skin and bones bones feel something in one's bones bones know something in one's bones bones Make no bones about it.
bones nothing but skin and bones bones skin and bones bonnet get a bee in one's bonnet bonnet have a bee in one's bonnet bonnet put a bee in someone's bonnet book bell, book, and candle book by the book book coffee-table book
book crack a book
book go by the book book have one's nose in a book book in one's book
book know someone or something like a book book (like) an open book book make book on something book read someone like a(n open) book book someone wrote the book on something book take a leaf out of someone's book book throw the book at someone book use every trick in the book book an open book
books balance the books books close the books (on someone or something) books hit the books books one for the (record) books boom lower the boom on someone boot (as) tough as an old boot boot boot someone out
boot get the boot
boot give someone the boot boot to boot
boot tough as an old boot boots die in one's boots boots die with one's boots on boots quake in one's boots boots shake in one's boots boots You bet (your boots)!
bootstraps pull oneself up (by one's own bootstraps) borderline on the borderline bore bore someone stiff bore bore someone to death bored bored silly bored bored stiff bored bored to death
bored bored to distraction bored bored to tears boredom die of boredom
born born and bred
born born and raised
born born out of wedlock born born with a silver spoon in one's mouth born in all one's born days born not born yesterday borrow borrow trouble borrowed live on borrowed time boss boss someone around both burn the candle at both ends both cut both ways
both have a foot in both camps both have it both ways both have the best of both worlds both land on both feet both let someone have it (with both barrels) both make (both) ends meet both play both ends (against the middle) both with both hands tied behind one's back bothered hot and bothered bottle bottle something up bottle crack open a bottle bottle hit the bottle
bottom (as) soft as a baby's bottom bottom at the bottom of the hour bottom at the bottom of the ladder bottom bet one's bottom dollar

- bottom bottom out
bottom from the bottom of one's heart bottom from top to bottom bottom get to the bottom of something bottom hit bottom bottom learn something from the bottom up bottom scrape the bottom of the barrel bottom soft as a baby's bottom bottom the bottom line Bottoms Bottoms up!
bounces That's the way the ball bounces.
bound bound and determined bound bound for somewhere bound bound hand and foot bound bound to (do something) bound duty bound (to do something) bounds by leaps and bounds bounds out of bounds bounds within bounds
bow bow and scrape
bow bow out
bow take a bow
bowl bowl someone over box inside the box
box open Pandora's box box outside the box
box stuff the ballot box box thinking inside the box box thinking outside the box box think inside the box box think outside the box boy All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.
boy fair-haired boy
Boys Boys will be boys.
boys separate the men from the boys brain brain someone brain have something on the brain brains beat one's brains out (to do something) brains pick someone's brain(s) brains rack one's brain(s) branch hold out the olive branch brass (as) bold as brass brass bold as brass brass double in brass brass get down to brass tacks brave put on a brave face brave put on a (brave) front brave put up a (brave) front breach step in(to the breach) bread bread-and-butter letter bread bread and water bread know which side one's bread is buttered on bread someone's bread and butter bread the greatest thing since sliced bread breadth by a hair('s breadth) break at the break of dawn break break a code
break break a habit
break break a law
Break Break a leg!
break break a record
break break camp
break break down
break break even break break ground (for something) Break Break it up!
break break loose (from someone or something) break break new ground break break off (with someone) break break one's back (to do something) break break one's habit break break one's neck (to do something) break break one's word break break out
break break (out) in(to) tears break break someone or something down break break someone or something in break break someone or something up break break someone's fall break break someone's heart break break something down (for someone) break break something down (into something) break break something to pieces break break something to someone break break the back of something break break the bank break break the habit
break break the ice
break break the law break break the news (to someone) break break through (something) break break up (with someone) break get a break
break give someone a break break make a break for something or somewhere break make or break someone break take a break
break take one's break
break tough break
breaking breaking and entering breast make a clean breast of something breath (all) in one breath breath catch one's breath breath Don't hold your breath. breath get time to catch one's breath breath hold one's breath breath in one breath breath in the same breath breath out of breath breath save one's breath breath say something under one's breath breath take someone's breath away breath time to catch one's breath breath waste one's breath breath with every (other) breath breath a breath of fresh air breathe able to breathe (easily) again breathe able to breathe (freely) again breathe breathe down someone's neck breathe breathe easy breathe breathe one's last breathe hardly have time to breathe breathe not breathe a word (about someone or something) breathe not breathe a word of it breathe scarcely have time to breathe bred born and bred breeds Familiarity breeds contempt.

breeze shoot the breeze brew brew a plot brewing There is trouble brewing.
brewing Trouble is brewing.
brewing A storm is brewing.
brick bang one's head against a brick wall brick drop a brick
bricks bricks and mortar bricks hit (someone) like a ton of bricks bricks hit the bricks bricks two bricks shy of a load bride give the bride away bridge cross a bridge before one comes to it bridge cross a bridge when one comes to it bridge water under the bridge bridges burn one's bridges (behind one) bridges burn one's bridges in front of one brief hold no brief for someone or something brief in brief
bright (as) bright as a button bright (as) bright as a new pin bright bright and early bright bright as a button bright bright as a new pin bright bright-eyed and bushy-tailed bright get a bright idea bright give someone a bright idea brim filled to the brim brimming brimming with something bring bring down the curtain (on something) bring bring down the house bring bring home the bacon bring bring people or other creatures out in droves bring bring someone or something up bring bring someone around bring bring someone to bring bring someone up-to-date (on someone or something) bring bring someone or something up-to-date bring bring something about bring bring something crashing down (around one) bring bring something home to someone bring bring something into question bring bring something off bring bring something to a head bring bring something to light bring bring something to someone's attention bring bring up the rear britches too big for one's britches broad (as) broad as a barn door broad broad as a barn door broad broad in the beam broad have broad shoulders broad in broad daylight Broadway on Broadway broke be the straw that broke the camel's back broke flat broke broke go broke broke go for broke

broken die of a broken heart broken sound like a broken record broth Too many cooks spoil the broth.
brother's one's brother's keeper brow by the sweat of one's brow brow knit one's brow
brown do something up brown brunt bear the brunt (of something) brush brush up (on something) brush get the brush-off brush give someone the brush-off brush have a brush with something brush tarred with the same brush bubble burst someone's bubble buck buck for something buck buck up
buck make a fast buck buck make a quick buck
buck pass the buck
bucket kick the bucket
bucket a drop in the bucket buckle buckle down (to something) bud nip something in the bud buff in the buff
bug (as) crazy as a betsy bug bug (as) snug as a bug in a rug bug bug out
bug bug someone
bug crazy as a betsy bug bug snug as a bug in a rug buggy horse and buggy build build a case (against someone) build build a fire under someone build build castles in Spain build build castles in the air build build (someone or something) up build build something to order build build up to something building busy as a beaver (building a new dam) built Rome wasn't built in a day.
bulk in bulk
bull cock-and-bull story bull full of bull
bull seize the bull by the horns bull shoot the bull
bull take the bull by the horns bull a bull in a china shop bullet bite the bullet bullpen in the bullpen bull's hit the bull's-eye bum give someone a bum steer bump bump into someone bump bump someone off
bump like a bump on a log bumps get goose bumps bumps give someone goose bumps bum's give someone the bum's rush bundle make a bundle
bundle a bundle of nerves burden groan under the burden of something buried dead and buried buried know where all the bodies are buried

- burn burn (oneself) out burn burn one's bridges (behind one) burn burn one's bridges in front of one burn burn out
burn burn someone or something to a crisp burn burn someone at the stake burn burn someone in effigy burn burn someone up
burn burn the candle at both ends burn burn the midnight oil burn burn with a low blue flame burn crash and burn
burn have money to burn burned burned to a cinder burned burned up burned get one's fingers burned burner put something on the back burner burning keep the home fires burning burns fiddle while Rome burns burns Money burns a hole in someone's pocket.
burst burst at the seams burst burst in on someone or something burst burst into flames burst burst into tears burst burst onto the scene burst burst out crying burst burst out laughing burst burst someone's bubble burst burst with joy burst burst with pride bury bury one's head in the sand bury bury the hatchet
bush beat about the bush bush beat around the bush bush A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. bushel hide one's light under a bushel bushy bright-eyed and bushy-tailed business business as usual business do a land-office business business drum some business up business funny business business get down to business business get one's nose out of someone's business business give someone the business business go about one's business business have no business doing something business keep one's nose out of someone's business business make it one's business to do something business mean business
business mind one's own business business monkey business business none of someone's business business open for business business send one about one's business business set someone up (in business) business someone's place of business business the business end of something busman's a busman's holiday bust bust a gut (to do something) bustle hustle and bustle busy (as) busy as a beaver busy (as) busy as a bee busy (as) busy as a cat on a hot tin roof busy (as) busy as a hibernating bear busy (as) busy as a one-armed paperhanger busy (as) busy as Grand Central Station busy (as) busy as popcorn on a skillet busy busy as a beaver busy busy as a bee
busy busy as a cat on a hot tin roof busy busy as a hibernating bear busy busy as a one-armed paperhanger busy busy as Grand Central Station busy busy as popcorn on a skillet busy get busy
busy Have you been keeping busy?
but all over but the shouting but bloody but unbowed but but for someone or something but can't help but do something but everything but the kitchen sink but gone but not forgotten but It never rains but it pours.
but last but not least but nothing but skin and bones but nothing but something but poor but clean
but sadder but wiser but separate but equal but slow(ly) but sure(ly) but no buts about it but no ifs, ands, or buts about it butt butt in (on someone or something) butter bread-and-butter letter butter butter someone up butter look as if butter wouldn't melt in one's mouth butter someone's bread and butter buttered know which side one's bread is buttered on butterflies get butterflies in one's stomach butterflies give one butterflies in one's stomach butterfly (as) gaudy as a butterfly butterfly gaudy as a butterfly button (as) bright as a button button bright as a button button button one's lip button on the button
button press the panic button button push the panic button buy buy a pig in a poke buy buy someone off
buy buy something
buy not buy something buyer Let the buyer beware.
buzz give someone a buzz by abide by something by blow-by-blow account by blow-by-blow description by by a hair's breadth) by by all accounts
by by all appearances by by all means by by a mile
by by and by by by and large

by by any means by by a show of hands
 by by a whisker
 by by chance
 by by check
 by by choice
 by by coincidence
 by by day
 by by dint of something by by fits and starts by by guess and by golly by by herself
 by by himself
 by by hook or (by) crook by by itself
 by by leaps and bounds
 by by means of something by by mistake
 by by myself
 by by night
 by by no means by by oneself
 by by ourselves
 by by return mail
 by by shank's mare
 by by the
 by by virtue of something by by way of something by by word of mouth
 by by yourself
 by by yourselves
 by cheek by jowl
 by come by something by conspicuous by one's absence by crushed by something by do somehow by someone by do something by hand by down by some amount by drop by (sometime)
 by drop by the wayside by easy to come by by end up by doing something by fall by the wayside by fly-by-night
 by get by (on something) by get by (with something) by get the go-by by give someone the go-by by go by the board by go by the book
 by go (somewhere) by shank's mare by hang by a hair
 by hang by a thread
 by hoist by one's own petard by inch by inch
 by judging by something by know someone by sight by know something by heart by lay something by by lead someone by the nose by learn something by heart by learn something by rote

by let something slide by by let something slip by by let the chance slip by by little by little by live by one's wits
 by miss (something) by a mile by not by a long shot by one by one
 by play by ear
 by play something by ear by possessed by something by pull oneself up (by one's own bootstraps) by put off by someone or something by put something by by put upon by someone by run that by (someone) again by saved by the bell by seize the bull by the horns by set great store by someone or something by sit (idly) by by squeak by (someone or something) by stand by
 by step-by-step by stick by someone or something by stop by (somewhere)
 by swear by someone or something by take someone or something by storm by take someone or something by surprise by take someone by surprise by take the bull by the horns by touched by someone or something by win by a nose
 by word by word
 by a play-by-play description bye kiss something good-bye bygones Let bygones be bygones.
 byways highways and byways caboodle kit and caboodle cahoots in cahoots (with someone) cain raise cain (with someone or something) cake eat one's cake and have it too cake have one's cake and eat it too cake piece of cake
 cake take the cake
 cake a slice of the cake calf kill the fatted calf call (above and) beyond the call of duty call at someone's beck and call call beyond the call of duty call call a meeting
 call call a spade a spade call call for someone or something call call it a day
 call call it a night
 call call it quits
 call call of nature
 call call on someone call call out (to someone) call call someone or something in call call someone or something off call call someone or something up call call someone's bluff

- call call someone down call call someone names call call someone on the carpet call call the dogs off call call the meeting to order call call (the) roll call call the shots
call call the tune
call have a close call call issue a call for something call not able to call one's time one's own call on call call pay a call on someone call a place to call one's own calling within calling distance calling the pot calling the kettle black calls He who pays the piper calls the tune. calm (as) calm as a toad in the sun calm calm as a toad in the sun calm the calm before the storm camel's be the straw that broke the camel's back camp break camp
camp pitch camp
campaign smear campaign (against someone) camps have a foot in both camps campus off campus campus on campus
can (as) happy as can be can before you can say Jack Robinson can bite off more than one can chew can can take it to the bank.
Can Can you imagine?
can catch-as-catch-can can happy as can be can more someone or something than one can shake a stick at can more than one can bear can more than one can stand can more than one can take can No can do.
can open (up) a can of worms
can What can I say?
can You can bet on it!
can You can say that again!
can a game that two can play canary look like the cat that swallowed the canary cancel cancel something out candle bell, book, and candle candle burn the candle at both ends candle can't hold a candle to someone candle not hold a candle to someone or something cannot cannot help doing something cannot cannot stomach someone or something canoe paddle one's own canoe can't Beggars can't be choosers.
can't can't carry a tune can't can't do anything with someone or something can't can't help but do something can't can't hold a candle to someone can't can't make heads or tails (out) of someone or something can't can't see beyond the end of one's nose can't can't see one's hand in front of one's face can't can't stand (the sight of) someone or something can't can't stomach someone or something can't can't wait (for something to happen) can't can't wait (to do something) can't You can't please everyone.
can't You can't take it with you.
can't You can't teach an old dog new tricks.
cap cap and gown
cap put a cap on something cap put one's thinking cap on cap a feather in one's cap capable capable of doing something card play one's trump card card a card
cards have the cards stacked against one cards in the cards
cards keep one's cards close to one's chest cards keep one's cards close to one's vest cards lay one's cards on the table cards play one's cards close to one's vest cards play one's cards close to the chest cards play one's cards right cards play one's cards well cards put one's cards on the table cards stack the cards (against someone or something) cards a few cards short of a deck cards a few cards shy of a full deck cards the cards are stacked against one care could(n't) care less care devil-may-care attitude care devil-may-care manner care do not have a care in the world care for all I care care in care of someone care in the care of someone care not care two hoots (about someone or something) care take care of someone or something care That takes care of that.
caress (as) cold as a witch's caress caress cold as a witch's caress carpet call someone on the carpet carpet get the red-carpet treatment carpet give someone the red-carpet treatment carpet roll out the red carpet for someone carpet sweep something under the carpet carriage horse and carriage carried carried away carried get carried away carry can't carry a tune carry carry (a lot of) weight (with someone or something) carry carry a secret to one's grave carry carry a secret to the grave carry carry a torch (for someone) carry carry coals to Newcastle carry carry on (about someone or something) carry carry one's cross carry carry one's (own) weight carry carry on somehow carry carry on without someone or something carry carry on (with someone or something) carry carry over

carry carry something off carry carry something out carry carry something over carry carry the ball carry carry the day
carry carry the torch carry carry the weight of the world on one's shoulders carry carry through (on something) carry cash-and-carry cart put the cart before the horse cart upset the apple cart carte give carte blanche to someone carte give someone carte blanche case assemble a case (against someone) case be the case
case build a case (against someone) case gather a case (against someone) case Get off someone's case!
case have a case (against someone) case in any case
case in case
case in the case of someone or something case just in case (something happens) case make a federal case out of something case on someone's case case an open-and-shut case case a case in point case a case of mistaken identity cases get down to cases cash cash-and-carry
cash cash in one's chips cash cash in (on something) cash cash on the barrelhead cash cash or credit cash cash something in cash cold, hard cash cast cast about for someone or something cast cast around for someone or something cast cast aspersions on someone cast cast doubt(s) (on someone or something) cast cast in the same mold cast cast one's lot in with someone cast cast (one's) pearls before swine cast cast one's vote cast cast the first stone cast The die is cast.
castles build castles in Spain castles build castles in the air cat (as) busy as a cat on a hot tin roof cat (as) conceited as a barber's cat cat busy as a cat on a hot tin roof Cat Cat got your tongue? cat conceited as a barber's cat cat Curiosity killed the cat.
cat let the cat out of the bag cat look like something the cat dragged in cat look like the cat that swallowed the canary cat not enough room to swing a cat cat play cat and mouse (with someone) cat There's more than one way to skin a cat.
catch catch-as-catch-can catch catch a whiff of something catch catch cold

catch catch fire
catch catch forty winks catch catch hell
catch catch it
catch catch one's breath catch catch one's death (of cold) catch catch one off one's guard catch catch one with one's pants down catch catch (on) fire catch catch on (to someone or something) catch catch sight of someone or something catch catch someone's eye catch catch someone in the act (of doing something) catch catch someone napping catch catch someone off-balance catch catch someone off guard catch catch someone red-handed catch catch some Zs
catch catch the devil catch catch up (to someone or something) catch catch up (with someone or something) catch get time to catch one's breath catch I didn't catch your name.
catch I'll (try to) catch you later.
catch not let someone catch someone doing something catch not want to catch someone doing something catch time to catch one's breath cats (as) black as a stack of black cats cats black as a stack of black cats cats rain cats and dogs cat's When the cat's away, the mice will play.
caught caught in the act caught caught in the cross fire caught caught in the middle caught caught red-handed caught caught short caught caught unaware(s) cause cause a commotion cause cause a stir cause cause (some) eyebrows to raise cause cause (some) tongues to wag cause a lost cause caution throw caution to the wind cave cave in (to someone or something) cease cease and desist ceiling hit the ceiling cent not worth a red cent center off-center
center on dead center
Central (as) busy as Grand Central Station Central busy as Grand Central Station cents' put one's two cents' (worth) in century turn of the century ceremony stand on ceremony chain ball and chain
chair play first chair
chalk chalk something up to something champ champ at the bit chance by chance
chance chance something chance chance (up)on someone or something

- chance fat chance
chance have a snowball's chance in hell chance jump at the chance chance let the chance slip by chance off chance chance once-in-a-lifetime chance chance on the off-chance chance stand a chance chance take a chance chance a fighting chance chance a ghost of a chance chance a sporting chance change and change
change change hands
change change horses in the middle of the stream change change someone's mind change change someone's tune change change the subject change have a change of heart change a change of pace change a change of scenery changes go through the changes channels go through channels channels work through channels chapter chapter and verse character in character character out of character charge charge someone or something up charge get a charge out of someone or something charge give someone a charge charge in the charge of someone charge take charge (of someone or something) charged charged up charley get a charley horse charm charm the pants off (of) someone chase cut to the chase chase give chase (to someone or something) chase go chase oneself chase lead someone on a merry chase chase a wild-geese chase cheap dirt cheap
cheat cheat on someone check by check check check in (on someone or something) check check into something check check out
check cut (someone) a check check get a rain check (on something) check give a blank check to someone check give someone a blank check check give someone a rain check (on something) check hold someone or something in check check honor someone's check check keep someone or something in check check make a check out (to someone) check pick up the check check take a rain check (on something) checks checks and balances checks someone or something checks out checkup get a checkup cheek cheek by jowl
cheek tongue-in-cheek cheek turn the other cheek cheer cheer someone on cheer cheer someone up cheer cheer up
cheesed cheesed off
cherry (as) red as a cherry cherry red as a cherry chest get something off one's chest chest keep one's cards close to one's chest chest play one's cards close to the chest chew angry enough to chew nails chew bite off more than one can chew chew chew someone out
chew chew the fat
chew chew the rag
chew mad enough to chew nails chicken chicken out (of something) chicken for chicken feed chicken no spring chicken chicken run around like a chicken with its head cut off chickens count one's chickens before they hatch chickens go to bed with the chickens chickens The chickens have come home to roost.
child expecting (a child) childhood in one's second childhood child's child's play chilled chilled to the bone chime chime in (with something) chin keep one's chin up chin make chin music
chin take it on the chin chin take something on the chin chin wag one's chin
china a bull in a china shop chink chink in one's armor chip chip in (on something) chip chip in something on something chip chip something in (on something) chip have a chip on one's shoulder chip a chip off the old block chips cash in one's chips chips chips and dip chips in the chips
chips when the chips are down chisel chisel someone out of something choice by choice
choice Hobson's choice choices torn between bad choices choke choke someone up choke choke something off chomp chomp at the bit choose choose up sides choose nothing to choose from choose pick and choose choosers Beggars can't be choosers.
chops lick one's chops chord strike a chord (with someone) church (as) poor as a church mouse church poor as a church mouse church the separation of church and state cinder burned to a cinder circle come full circle circle in a vicious circle circles go (a)round in circles circles run (a)round in circles circles run circles around someone circles talk in circles circulation back in circulation circulation get back into circulation circulation out of circulation circumstances extenuating circumstances circumstances under certain circumstances circumstances under the circumstances circus like a three-ring circus civil keep a civil tongue (in one's head) claim claim a life claim stake a claim (to something) clam (as) happy as a clam clam clam up

clam happy as a clam clamp clamp down (on someone or something) clamps put the clamps on (someone) clap clap eyes on someone or something class cut class
clay have feet of clay clean (as) clean as a hound's tooth clean (as) clean as a whistle clean clean as a hound's tooth clean clean as a whistle clean clean out (of something) clean clean up clean come clean (with someone) clean get a clean bill of health clean give someone a clean bill of health clean have a clean conscience (about someone or something) clean have clean hands
clean keep one's nose clean clean make a clean breast of something clean make a clean sweep clean poor but clean clean so clean you could eat off the floor clean start (off) with a clean slate clean start (over) with a clean slate clean wipe someone's slate clean cleaners take someone to the cleaners clear (as) clear as a bell clear (as) clear as crystal clear (as) clear as mud clear (as) clear as vodka clear clear as a bell clear clear as crystal clear clear as mud
clear clear as vodka
clear clear of something clear clear out
clear clear sailing
clear clear someone's name clear clear something up clear clear the air clear clear the decks
clear clear the table
clear clear up

clear free and clear clear have a clear conscience (about someone or something) clear Have I made myself clear? clear in the clear
clear loud and clear clear make someone's position clear clear out of a clear blue sky clear see one's way clear (to do something) clear steer clear (of someone or something) clear The coast is clear.
climb climb on the bandwagon climb climb the wall(s)
climb Go climb a tree!
clip clip someone's wings
cloak cloak-and-dagger clock against the clock clock (a)round the clock
clock (a)round-the-clock clock beat the clock clock round the clock
clock turn the clock back clockwork (as) regular as clockwork clockwork go like clockwork clockwork regular as clockwork clockwork run like clockwork close (as) close as two coats of paint close at close range close close as two coats of paint close close at hand
close close enough for government work close close in (on someone or something) close close one's eyes to something close close ranks
close close something down close close the books (on someone or something) close close the door on someone or something close close to home close close to someone close close up shop close draw something to a close close draw to a close close get close (to someone or something) close have a close call close have a close shave close hit one close to home close keep a close rein on someone or something close keep (close) watch (on someone or something) close keep (close) watch (over someone or something) close keep one's cards close to one's chest close keep one's cards close to one's vest close play one's cards close to one's vest close play one's cards close to the chest close too close for comfort close under (close) scrutiny closed able to do something with one's eyes closed closed behind closed doors closefisted closefisted (with money) closet come out (of the closet) closet a skeleton in the closet cloth cut from the same cloth cloth make something up out of whole cloth clothes Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes clothing a wolf in sheep's clothing cloud cloud up

cloud Every cloud has a silver lining.
cloud on cloud nine cloud under a cloud (of suspicion) clouds have one's head in the clouds clover in clover club Join the club!
clue clue someone in (on something) clue have a clue (about something) clutch clutch at straws clutches in(to) someone's clutches coal (as) black as coal coal black as coal coals carry coals to Newcastle coals haul someone over the coals coals rake someone over the coals coast coast-to-coast coast The coast is clear.
coat coat and tie
coats (as) close as two coats of paint coats close as two coats of paint coattails hang on someone's coattails coattails ride on someone's coattails cock cock-and-bull story cock cock of the walk cocked go off half-cocked cockles warm the cockles of someone's heart cocky (as) cocky as the king of spades cocky cocky as the king of spades COD send something C.O.D. code break a code
coffee coffee and Danish coffee coffee-table book coffee coffee, tea, or milk coffin (another) nail in someone's or something's coffin coffin nail in someone's or something's coffin coil shuffle off this mortal coil coincidence by coincidence cold (as) cold as a witch's caress cold (as) cold as a witch's tit cold (as) cold as marble cold blow hot and cold cold break out in a cold sweat cold catch cold
cold catch one's death (of cold) cold cold as a witch's caress cold cold as a witch's tit cold cold as marble cold cold comfort cold cold, hard cash cold dash cold water on something cold get cold feet cold get the cold shoulder cold give someone the cold shoulder cold go cold turkey cold have cold feet
cold in cold blood
cold in cold storage
cold keep someone out in the cold cold knock someone out (cold)

cold leave someone out in the cold cold make someone's blood run cold cold out cold
cold pour cold water on something cold take cold
cold take one's death of cold cold throw cold water on something cold a cold fish
collar hot under the collar collection take up a collection college work one's way through college color lend color to something color off-color
color see the color of someone's money color a horse of a different color color a horse of another color colors come through something with flying colors colors sail under false colors colors show one's (true) colors colors with flying colors coma lapse into a coma comb go over something with a fine-tooth comb comb search something with a fine-tooth comb come come about come come a cropper
come come across someone or something Come Come again.
Come Come and get it!
come come and gone come come apart at the seams come come (a)round
come come as no surprise come come away empty-handed come come by something come come clean (with someone) come come down
come come from far and wide come come from nowhere come come full circle come come hell or high water come come home (to roost) come come home to someone come come in a body come come in for something come come in handy
come come in out of the rain come come into its own come come into one's own come come into something come come of age
come come off
come come on
come come out come come over come come someone's way come come through come come to come come true
come come unglued
come come up
come come what may come come within an ace of doing something come come within an inch of doing something come come with the territory come easy come, easy go come easy to come by come First come, first served.

come have come a long way come Johnny-come-lately come not know enough to come in out of the rain come till the cows come home come (un)til the cows come home come a dream come true come a harbinger of things to come come a portent of things to come come a sign of things to come come a taste of things to come come The chickens have come home to roost.
comeback make a comeback comes cross a bridge before one comes to it comes cross a bridge when one comes to it comes if push comes to shove comes if worst comes to worst comes What goes around, comes around. comes when it comes right down to it comes when it comes to something comes when push comes to shove comeuppance get one's comeuppance comfort cold comfort comfort too close for comfort comfortable (as) comfortable as an old shoe comfortable comfortable as an old shoe comforts creature comforts coming Everything's coming up roses. coming get another guess coming coming get another think coming coming get what's coming to one coming give one what's coming to one coming (had) known it was coming coming have something coming (to one) coming knew it was coming coming known it was coming coming not know if one is coming or going coming not know whether one is coming or going coming up-and-coming coming where one is coming from command have a good command of something comment No comment.
commission out of commission commit commit something to memory common (as) common as an old shoe common (as) common as dirt common common as an old shoe common common as dirt common have something in common (with someone or something) commotion cause a commotion company keep company (with someone) company keep someone company company part company (with someone) company Two's company(, three's a crowd). complain nothing to complain about compliment fish for a compliment compliment pay someone a back-handed compliment compliment pay someone a compliment compliment pay someone a left-handed compliment compliment return someone's compliment compliment return the compliment composure regain one's composure compromise reach a compromise con con someone out of something conceited (as) conceited as a barber's rat conceited conceited as a barber's cat concern to whom it may concern concerned (as) far as someone or something is concerned concerned far as something is concerned concerned so far as someone or something is concerned concerned so far as something is concerned concert in concert (with someone) conclusion a foregone conclusion conclusions jump to conclusions conclusions leap to conclusions condition in condition condition in good condition condition in mint condition condition in the pink (of condition) condition out of condition conditions under certain conditions confide confide in someone confidence take someone into one's confidence confidence a vote of confidence conk conk out

conniption have a conniption (fit) conquer divide and conquer conscience have a clean conscience (about someone or something) conscience have a clear conscience (about someone or something) conscience in (all) good conscience consequence in consequence (of something) consideration in consideration of something consideration out of consideration (for someone or something) consignment on consignment conspicuous conspicuous by one's absence conspicuous make oneself conspicuous constant in a (constant) state of flux construction under construction contact have contact with someone contempt Familiarity breeds contempt. contempt in contempt (of court) content to one's heart's content contention bone of contention context in the context of something contradiction contradiction in terms contrary contrary to something contrary on the contrary contrary to the contrary control control the purse strings control out of control control under control convenience at someone's earliest convenience conversation open a conversation conversation strike up a conversation converted preach to the converted convictions have the courage of one's convictions

cook cook someone's goose cook cook something to perfection cook cook something up cook cook the accounts cooked someone's goose is cooked cookie That's the way the cookie crumbles.
cookies blow one's cookies cookies juice and cookies cookies toss one's cookies cooking cooking with gas cooks Too many cooks spoil the broth.
cooks Too many cooks spoil the stew.
cool (as) cool as a cucumber cool blow one's cool
cool cool as a cucumber cool cool down
Cool Cool it!
cool cool off
cool cool one's heels cool cool someone down
cool cool someone off
cool keep cool
cool keep one's cool
cool lose one's cool
cool play it cool
coon's in a coon's age
coop fly the coop
coot (as) bald as a coot coot bald as a coot
cop cop a plea
cop cop out
copycat a copycat
core rotten to the core core to the core cork blow one's cork
cork pop one's cork
corner have turned the corner corner out of the corner of one's eye corners cut corners
corrected stand corrected cost at any cost
cost cost an arm and a leg cost cost a pretty penny costs at all costs
cough cough something up
Could Could be better.
Could Could be worse.
could could(n't) care less could could do with someone or something could if looks could kill could so clean you could eat off the floor could so mad I could scream could so quiet you could hear a pin drop could so still you could hear a pin drop couldn't couldn't be better couldn't couldn't be happier couldn't could(n't) care less couldn't Wild horses couldn't drag someone. counsel keep one's own counsel count count noses count count one's chickens before they hatch count count on someone or something count count someone in (on something) count count someone out (for something) count down for the count count to count heads counted stand up and be counted counter run counter to something counter under the counter country another country heard from counts every minute counts counts every moment counts couple a couple of courage Dutch courage

courage have the courage of one's convictions courage muster (up) one's courage courage pluck up one's courage courage screw up one's courage course as a matter of course course course of action course in due course course in the course of time course par for the course course take a course (in something) court have the ball in one's court court in contempt (of court) court laugh something out of court court settle (something) (out of court) court throw oneself at the mercy of the court court throw oneself on the mercy of the court courtesy out of courtesy (to someone) cover blow someone's cover cover cover a lot of ground cover cover a lot of territory cover cover for someone cover cover someone's tracks (up) cover cover something up cover cover the territory cover cover the waterfront cover duck and cover cow (as) awkward as a cow on a crutch cow (as) awkward as a cow on roller skates cow awkward as a cow on a crutch cow awkward as a cow on roller skates cow sacred cow
cows till the cows come home cows (un)til the cows come home cozy cozy up (to someone) crack at the crack of dawn crack crack a book
crack crack a joke
crack crack a smile
crack crack down (on someone or something) crack crack open a bottle crack crack someone or something up crack crack something wide open crack crack up
crack have a crack at something crack take a crack at something crack tough nut to crack crack a hard nut to crack cracked not all something is cracked up to be cracked not what something is cracked up to be cracking get cracking cracks make cracks (about someone or something) cracks paper over the cracks (in something) cradle from the cradle to the grave cradle rob the cradle cramp cramp someone's style crank crank something out cranny every nook and cranny crap You scared the crap out of me.

crash crash and burn
crashing bring something crashing down (around one) craw have something stick in one's craw crawl make someone's flesh crawl crazy (as) crazy as a betsy bug crazy (as) crazy as a loon crazy (as) crazy as a peach-orchard boar crazy crazy about someone or something crazy crazy as a betsy bug crazy crazy as a loon crazy crazy as a peach-orchard boar crazy crazy for someone or something crazy drive someone crazy crazy go crazy
crazy go stir-crazy
crazy like crazy
cream the cream of the crop create create an uproar create create a scene create create a stink (about something) creation in creation creature creature comforts creature give birth to someone or some creature creature a match for someone, something, or some creature creatures bring people or other creatures out in droves credence give credence to something credit buy something on credit credit cash or credit credit do credit to someone credit do someone credit credit extend credit (to someone) credit extend someone credit credit get credit (for something) credit give credit where credit is due credit give someone credit (for something) credit on credit credit sell something on credit credit a credit to someone or something creek up the creek (without a paddle) creeps get the creeps creeps give someone the creeps crick a crick in one's back crick a crick in one's neck cricket (as) merry as a cricket cricket merry as a cricket crisp burn someone or something to a crisp crocodile cry crocodile tears crocodile shed crocodile tears crook by hook or (by) crook crooked (as) crooked as a barrel of fishhooks crooked (as) crooked as a dog's hind leg crooked (as) crooked as a fishhook crooked crooked as a barrel of fishhooks crooked crooked as a dog's hind leg crooked crooked as a fishhook crop the cream of the crop cropper come a cropper cross at cross-purposes cross bear one's cross cross carry one's cross cross caught in the cross fire cross cross a bridge before one comes to it cross cross a bridge when one comes to it cross cross-examine someone cross cross one's fingers cross cross one's heart (and hope to die) cross cross someone's mind cross cross someone's palm with silver cross cross someone up cross cross swords (with someone) (on something) cross cross the Rubicon cross double-cross someone cross look at someone cross-eyed crossed get one's wires crossed crossed keep one's fingers crossed (for someone or something) crow (as) hoarse as a crow crow as the crow flies crow hoarse as a crow crow make someone eat crow crowd follow the crowd crowd Two's company(, three's a crowd).

crumbles That's the way the cookie crumbles.
crumpets tea and crumpets crush get a crush on someone crushed crushed by something crust upper crust crutch (as) awkward as a cow on a crutch crutch (as) funny as a crutch crutch awkward as a cow on a crutch crutch funny as a crutch crux the crux of the matter cry cry before one is hurt cry cry bloody murder cry cry crocodile tears cry cry one's eyes out cry cry over spilled milk cry cry wolf
cry a far cry from something cry a hue and cry
crying burst out crying crying crying need for someone or something crying For crying out loud!
crying a crying shame crystal (as) clear as crystal crystal clear as crystal cucumber (as) cool as a cucumber cucumber cool as a cucumber cue cue someone in cue take one's cue from someone cuff off-the-cuff cuff put something on the cuff cuff speak off the cuff cup not someone's cup of tea cups in one's cups

curdle curdle someone's blood cure An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
Curiosity Curiosity killed the cat. curiosity pique someone's curiosity curl curl someone's hair curl curl up and die
curl make someone's hair curl current swim against the current curry curry favor (with someone) curtain bring down the curtain (on something) curtain ring down the curtain (on something) curtains be curtains for someone or something curve pitch someone a curve (ball) curve throw someone a curve custody in custody of someone or something custody in someone's or something's custody customer one to a customer cut cut a big swath cut cut across something cut cut a fine figure cut cut-and-dried
cut cut and paste
cut cut and run
cut cut a wide swath cut cut back (on something) cut cut both ways
cut cut class
cut cut corners
cut cut from the same cloth Cut Cut it out!
cut cut loose (from someone or something) cut cut loose (with something) cut cut no ice (with someone) cut cut off
cut cut one's eyeteeth on something cut cut one's losses
cut cut one's (own) throat cut cut out for something cut cut out the deadwood cut cut out to be something cut cut someone or something to the bone cut cut someone or something up cut cut (someone) a check cut cut someone dead
cut cut someone down (to size) cut cut someone in cut cut someone off without a penny cut cut someone to the quick cut cut teeth
cut cut the ground out from under someone cut cut to the chase
cut cut up
cut fish or cut bait
cut have one's work cut out for one cut one's work is cut out for one cut run around like a chicken with its head cut off cut a cut above someone or something cylinders firing on all cylinders cylinders hitting on all cylinders dab smack-dab in the middle dagger cloak-and-dagger daggers look daggers at someone daily one's daily dozen daily the daily grind daisies pushing up daisies daisy (as) fresh as a daisy daisy fresh as a daisy dam busy as a beaver (building a new dam) damage do someone damage damn damn someone or something with faint praise damned I'm damned if I do and damned if I don't.

dance dance to another tune dance dance with death dance go into one's song and dance (about something) dander get someone's dander up dandy fine and dandy
danger fly into the face of danger danger fraught with danger dangerous armed and dangerous dangerous A little knowledge is a dangerous thing.
Danish coffee and Danish dare dare someone (to do something) dark dark horse
dark in the dark (about someone or something) dark pitch-dark dark a shot in the dark darken darken someone's door dart dart in and out dash dash cold water on something dash dash something off date at an early date date bring someone or something up to date date bring someone up to date (on someone or something) date date back (to sometime) date out-of-date
date to date
date up-to-date
Davy Davy Jones's locker
Davy go to Davy Jones's locker dawn at the break of dawn dawn at the crack of dawn dawn dawn on someone dawn from dawn to dusk day all day long day all the livelong day day (as) different as night and day day (as) merry as the day is long day (as) plain as day day at the end of the day day by day
day by the day
day call it a day
day carry the day
day day after day
day day and night
day day in and day out day day in, day out day day-to-day
day different as night and day day Don't quit your day job.
day Every dog has his day.
day Every dog has its day.
day forever and a day

- day from day to day day from this day forward day from this day on day get the day off day have a field day day have had its day
day in this day and age day late in the day day make a day of doing something day make a day of it day merry as the day is long day night and day
day not give someone the time of day day pass the time of day (with someone) day plain as day
day Rome wasn't built in a day.
day save something for a rainy day day save the day
day see the light (of day) day take the day off
day That'll be the day.
day There aren't enough hours in the day.
day till all hours (of the day and night) day win the day
day with each passing day day the order of the day daylight begin to see daylight daylight daylight robbery daylight in broad daylight daylights beat the living daylights out of someone daylights frighten the (living) daylights out of someone daylights scare the living daylights out of someone day's all in a day's work days days running
days for days on end days have seen better days days in all one's born days days in one's salad days days one of these days days one's days are numbered days Those were the days.
days' a nine days' wonder days the good old days de a fine how-de-do dead (as) dead as a dodo dead (as) dead as a doornail dead (as) silent as the dead dead beat a dead horse dead come to a dead end dead cut someone dead dead dead ahead
dead dead and buried dead dead and gone
dead dead as a dodo
dead dead as a doornail dead dead in someone's or something's tracks dead dead letter
dead dead on its feet dead dead on one's feet dead dead set against someone or something dead dead to the world
dead drop dead
dead have someone dead to rights dead in a dead heat
dead knock someone dead
dead leave someone for dead dead more dead than alive dead on dead center
dead one's heart is (dead) set against something dead over my dead body
dead silent as the dead dead taken for dead
dead wake the dead
dead a dead duck
dead a dead loss
deadwood cut out the deadwood deaf (as) deaf as a post deaf deaf and dumb
deaf deaf as a post
deaf fall on deaf ears
deaf turn a deaf ear (to someone or something) deal deal in something deal get a raw deal
deal give someone a raw deal deal Like it's such a big deal!
deal make a big deal about something deal No big deal!
deal square deal
deal think a great deal of someone or something deal wheel and deal
deal a great deal death (as) baleful as death death (as) pale as death death (as) still as death death (as) sure as death death baleful as death death be death on something death be the death of me (yet) death between life and death death bored to death death bore someone to death death catch one's death (of cold) death dance with death death death and taxes
death death on someone or something death die a natural death death frightened to death death frighten someone to death death look like death warmed over death meet one's death death pale as death
death scared to death
death scare someone to death death sign one's own death warrant death still as death
death sure as death
death take one's death of cold death thrilled to death death thrill someone to death death tickled to death death tickle someone to death death a matter of life and death death a struggle to the death death the kiss of death

- death's at death's door debt head over heels in debt debt in debt
 debt pay one's debt (to society) decide decide in favor of someone or something decision eleventh-hour decision deck have the deck stacked against one deck on deck
 deck stack the deck (against someone or something) deck a few cards short of a deck deck a few cards shy of a full deck decks clear the decks deem deem it (to be) necessary deem deem that it is necessary deep Beauty is only skin-deep.
 deep between the devil and the deep blue sea deep deep-six someone or something deep go off the deep end deep in deep
 deep jump off the deep end deepest one's deepest sympathy defensive on the defensive defiance in defiance (of someone or something) degree get the third degree degree give someone the third degree degree to the nth degree delight ravished with delight deliver stand and deliver delivered signed, sealed, and delivered demand in great demand demand supply and demand den beard the lion in his den den a den of iniquity denial in denial
 dent make a dent in something depth beyond one's depth description beggar description description blow-by-blow description description a play-by-play description desert desert a sinking ship deserts get one's just deserts deserves One good turn deserves another.
 designs have designs on someone or something desired leave a lot to be desired desist cease and desist desk away from one's desk despair sink into despair despair throw one's hands up in despair detail down to the last detail detail go into detail detail in detail
 determined bound and determined devil between the devil and the deep blue sea devil catch the devil devil devil-may-care attitude devil devil-may-care manner devil for the devil of it
 devil full of the devil devil get the devil devil give someone the devil devil give the devil her due devil give the devil his due devil go to (the devil) devil have the devil to pay devil raise the devil (with someone or something) devil speak of the devil devil There will be the devil to pay.
 devil You scared the devil out of me.
 devil a devil of a job devil's play (the) devil's advocate devil's the devil's own job diamond a diamond in the rough diapers soil one's diaper(s) dibs have dibs on something dibs put (one's) dibs on something Dick (every) Tom, Dick, and Harry Dick Tom, Dick, and Harry dickens raise the dickens (with someone or something) dickens You scared the dickens out of me.
 Dick's (as) tight as Dick's hatband Dick's tight as Dick's hatband didn't I didn't catch your name. die cross one's heart (and hope to die) die curl up and die
 die die a natural death die die in one's boots die die laughing
 die die of a broken heart die die of boredom
 die die on someone
 die die on the vine die die with one's boots on die do or die
 die Old habits die hard.
 die The die is cast.
 diet on a diet
 differ beg to differ (with someone) difference make no difference (to someone) difference split the difference different (as) different as night and day different different as night and day different march to (the beat of) a different drummer different sing a different tune different a horse of a different color dig dig in dig dig one's heels in dig dig one's own grave dig dig some dirt up on someone dig dig someone or something dig dig something out
 dig take a dig at someone digs take digs at someone dilemma on the horns of a dilemma dim take a dim view of something dime nickel and dime someone dime not worth a dime
 dime turn on a dime
 dime a dime a dozen dine dine out dine wine and dine someone dint by dint of something dip chips and dip
 dip dip in(to something) directions ride off in all directions

- dirt (as) common as dirt dirt common as dirt dirt dig some dirt up on someone dirt dirt cheap
dirt hit pay dirt
dirty air one's dirty linen in public dirty dirty old man
dirty dirty one's hands dirty dirty work
dirty down-and-dirty dirty get a dirty look from someone dirty get one's hands dirty dirty give someone a dirty look dirty quick and dirty dirty wash one's dirty linen in public disease down with some disease disease have foot-in-mouth disease disguise in disguise disguise a blessing in disguise dishes do the dishes dishwater (as) dull as dishwater dishwater dull as dishwater disorderly drunk and disorderly disposal put someone or something at someone's disposal disposed ill-disposed to doing something disposed well-disposed toward someone or something distance go the distance distance keep one's distance (from someone or something) distance within calling distance distance within hailing distance distance within shouting distance distance within walking distance distraction bored to distraction ditch a last-ditch effort ditchwater (as) dull as ditchwater ditchwater dull as ditchwater divide divide and conquer divide divide something fifty-fifty do can't do anything with someone or something do could do with someone or something do do a double take do do a flip-flop (on something) do do a job on someone or something do do a land-office business do do an about-face
do do an errand do do a number on someone or something do do a snow job on someone do do away with someone or something do do credit to someone Do Do I need to paint you a picture?
do do justice to something do do not have a care in the world do do not have a leg to stand on do do not have all one's marbles do do oneself proud do do one's bit do do one's duty
do do one's (level) best do do one's (own) thing do do one's part
do do or die
do do so do do somehow by someone do do someone or something in do do someone or something over do do someone's bidding do do someone's heart good do do someone a good turn do do someone a kindness do do someone credit
do do someone damage
do do someone good
do do someone one better do do someone out of something do do something by hand do do something fair and square do do something for a living do do something hands down do do something in a heartbeat do do something in person do do something in public do do something in secret do do something in vain do do something on the fly do do something on the run do do something on the sly do do something over (again) do do something the hard way do do something to excess do do something up
do do the dishes
do do the honors
do do the trick
do do too
do do without (someone or something) Do Do you read me?
do have nothing to do with someone or something do have something to do with something do have to do with someone or something do I'm damned if I do and damned if I don't.
do Let's do lunch.
do make do (with someone or something)
do No can do.
do well-to-do
do What do you want me to say?
do When in Rome, do as the Romans do.
do Who do you think you're kidding?
do Who do you think you're talking to?
do a fine how-de-do do a fine how-do-you-do do the in thing (to do) doctor just what the doctor ordered dodo (as) dead as a dodo dodo dead as a dodo
does Easy does it.
does Pretty is as pretty does.
does That does it!
doesn't What one doesn't know won't hurt one.
dog (as) sick as a dog dog dog and pony show
dog dog-eat-dog
dog dog in the manger dog Every dog has his day.

dog Every dog has its day.
dog put on the dog
dog see a man about a dog dog sick as a dog
dog You can't teach an old dog new tricks.
dog the hair of the dog that bit one dog the tail wagging the dog doghouse in the doghouse dog's (as) crooked as a dog's hind leg dogs call the dogs off dog's crooked as a dog's hind leg dogs go to the dogs dog's lead a dog's life dogs Let sleeping dogs lie.
dog's live a dog's life dogs rain cats and dogs doing have something doing doing nothing doing doldrums in the doldrums dollar (as) phony as a three-dollar bill dollar (as) queer as a three-dollar bill dollar (as) sound as a dollar dollar bet one's bottom dollar dollar dollar for dollar dollar phony as a three-dollar bill dollar queer as a three-dollar bill dollar sound as a dollar dollar the almighty dollar dollars feel like a million (dollars) dollars look like a million dollars dolled get (all) dolled up done after all is said and done done (as) good as done done (be) easier said than done done better off (if something were done) done done in done done to a T
done easier said than done done good as done
done No harm done.
done no sooner said than done done over and done with done see (to it) that something is done done What's done is done.
done when all is said and done
Don't Don't hold your breath.
Don't Don't let it go any further.
Don't Don't let it out of this room.
Don't Don't let someone or something get you down.
Don't Don't quit your day job.
don't I'm damned if I do and damned if I don't.
don't They don't make them like they used to.
don't You just don't get it!
doomed doomed to failure door answer the door door (as) broad as a barn door door at death's door door beat a path to someone's door door broad as a barn door door close the door on someone or something door darken someone's door door door-to-door

door from door to door door get one's foot in the door door keep the wolf from the door door next-door neighbor door open the door to something door see someone to the door door show someone (to) the door door shut the door on someone or something doornail (as) dead as a doornail doornail dead as a doornail doors behind closed doors doorstep at someone's doorstep doorstep on someone's doorstep dose a dose of one's own medicine dot on the dot dotted sign on the dotted line double do a double take double double back (on someone or something) double double-cross someone double double in brass double double up (with someone) double on the double double see double doubt beyond a reasonable doubt doubt beyond the shadow of a doubt doubt get the benefit of the doubt doubt give someone the benefit of the doubt doubt no doubt doubting doubting Thomas doubts cast doubt(s) (on someone or something) down (as) soft as down down back down (from someone or something) down batten down the hatches down beat someone down (to size) down bog down down boil down to something down boil something down down break down
down break someone or something down down break something down (for someone) down break something down (into something) down breathe down someone's neck down bring down the curtain (on something) down bring down the house down bring something crashing down (around one) down buckle down (to something) down call someone down down catch one with one's pants down down clamp down (on someone or something) down close something down down come down
down cool down
down cool someone down down crack down (on someone or something) down cut someone down (to size) down Don't let someone or something get you down. down do something hands down down down-and-dirty down down-and-out
down down-at-the-heels down down by some amount down down for the count

- down down in the dumps down down in the mouth
down down on one's luck down down on someone or something down down South
down down the drain
down down the hatch
down down the street
down down the tubes
down down-to-earth down down to the last detail down down to the wire
down down with some disease down dress someone down down face someone down down fall down on the job down force someone or something down someone's throat down get down to brass tacks down get down to business down get down to cases down get down to something down get down to the facts down get down to the nitty-gritty down get down to work down get someone or something down down get someone down down get the low-down (on someone or something) down give someone a (good) dressing-down down give someone the low-down (on someone or something) down go down fighting down go down in history down hand-me-down
down hands down
down hand something down (to someone) down have something down pat down hold someone down down jump down someone's throat down keep something down down knock-down-drag-out fight down knock someone down (to size) down knock something down down knuckle down (to something) down lay down one's life (for someone or something) down lay down on the job down lay down the law down lead someone down the garden path down let one's hair down down let someone down down lie down on the job down live something down down look down one's nose at someone or something down look down on someone or something down mark someone or something down down nail someone or something down down nothing down down pin someone down
down pipe down
down play someone or something down down pour money down the drain down pull someone or something down down put one's foot down (about something) down put someone or something down down put someone down as something bad down put someone down (for something) down put something down in black and white down put something down to something down ram someone or something down someone's throat down right down someone's alley down ring down the curtain (on something) down run someone or something down down scale something down down sell someone down the river down set something down to something down settle down down shake someone or something down down shove someone or something down someone's throat down shut something down down simmer down
down slap someone down down slow someone or something down down soft as down down step down (from something) down take someone down a notch (or two) down take someone down a peg (or two) down take someone down (to size) down take something lying down down talk down to someone down talk someone down down tear someone or something down down throw down the gauntlet down thumbs down on someone or something down tied down down tie someone down down tone something down down turn someone or something down down turn thumbs down (on someone or something) down water something down down wear someone down down weigh someone down down when it comes right down to it down when the chips are down down wind down down write something down downhill downhill all the way downhill downhill from here on downhill go downhill
downs ups and downs dozen by the dozen
dozen one's daily dozen dozen six of one and half a dozen of the other dozen a dime a dozen dozens by the dozens drabs drabs and drabs drag drag one's feet
drag in drag
drag knock-down-drag-out fight drag Wild horses couldn't drag someone. drag a drag (on someone) dragged feel dragged out dragged look like something the cat dragged in drain down the drain drain pour money down the drain draw beat someone to the draw

- draw draw a bead on someone or something draw draw a blank
draw draw a line between something and something else draw draw blood
draw draw interest
draw draw lots
draw draw someone or something out draw draw (someone's) fire (away from someone or something) draw draw something to a close draw draw something up draw draw straws
draw draw the line (at something) draw draw the line between something and something else draw draw to a close draw quick on the draw draw slow on the draw drawing back to the drawing board drawn drawn and quartered Dream Dream on.
dream wouldn't dream of doing something dream a dream come true dream a pipe dream dredge dredge something up dress dress someone down dressed all dressed up dressed dressed to kill dressed dressed to the nines dressing give someone a (good) dressing-down dribs dribs and drabs dried cut-and-dried drift get the drift of something drink drink to excess drink I'll drink to that!
drive drive a hard bargain drive drive at something drive drive someone crazy drive drive someone mad drive drive someone out (of office) drive drive someone to the wall drive drive someone up the wall drive drive something home drive drive something into the ground driven (as) pure as the driven snow driven (as) white as the driven snow driven pure as the driven snow driven white as the driven snow driver's in the driver's seat driving driving force (behind someone or something) driving What are you driving at?
drop at the drop of a hat drop drop a bomb(shell)
drop drop a brick
drop drop around (sometime) drop drop by (sometime) drop drop by the wayside drop drop dead
drop drop everything drop drop in one's tracks drop drop in (on someone) drop drop in (to say hello) drop drop names
drop drop off (to sleep) drop drop out (of something) drop drop someone drop drop the ball
drop drop the other shoe drop drop the subject drop so quiet you could hear a pin drop drop so still you could hear a pin drop drop a drop in the bucket drop a drop in the ocean droves bring people or other creatures out in droves drown drown one's sorrows drown drown one's troubles drown drown someone or something out drug drug on the market drum (as) tight as a drum drum drum some business up drum drum someone out of something drum drum something into someone('s head) drum tight as a drum drummer march to (the beat of) a different drummer drunk (as) drunk as a lord drunk (as) drunk as a skunk drunk drunk and disorderly drunk drunk as a lord drunk drunk as a skunk druthers have one's druthers dry (as) dry as a bone dry (as) dry as dust
dry (as) exciting as watching (the) paint dry dry dry as a bone
dry dry as dust
dry dry run
dry dry someone out
dry dry up
dry exciting as watching (the) paint dry dry high and dry
dry leave someone high and dry dry not dry behind the ears duck as a duck takes to water duck (as) easy as duck soup duck duck and cover duck easy as duck soup duck like a sitting duck duck a dead duck
duck a sitting duck
ducks get one's ducks in a row ducks like sitting ducks duck's like water off a duck's back ducks lovely weather for ducks dudgeon in high dudgeon due give credit where credit is due due give the devil her due due give the devil his due due in due course
due in due time
dues pay one's dues
dull All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.
dull (as) dull as dishwater dull (as) dull as ditchwater

- dull dull as dishwater dull dull as ditchwater dumb deaf and dumb dumb play dumb
dumps down in the dumps duration for the duration dusk from dawn to dusk dust (as) dry as dust
dust bite the dust
dust dry as dust
Dutch Dutch auction
Dutch Dutch courage
Dutch Dutch treat
Dutch Dutch uncle
Dutch go Dutch
Dutch in Dutch (with someone) duty (above and) beyond the call of duty duty beyond the call of duty duty do one's duty duty duty bound (to do something) duty in the line of duty duty off duty
duty on active duty
duty on duty
duty shirk one's duty dyed dyed-in-the-wool dying dying to do something each made for each other each with each passing day eager an eager beaver eagle an eagle eye ear bend someone's ear
ear get someone's ear ear give (an) ear to someone or something ear give one's ear to someone or something ear go in one ear and out the other ear have an ear for something ear have one's ear to the ground ear in one ear and out (of) the other ear keep one's ear to the ground ear lend an ear (to someone) ear make a silk purse out of a sow's ear ear play by ear
ear play something by ear ear talk someone's ear off ear turn a deaf ear (to someone or something) earful get an earful
earful give someone an earful earliest at someone's earliest convenience early at an early date early bright and early early early bird
early early on Early Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.) early The early bird gets the worm.
earn earn one's keep earned A penny saved is a penny earned.
earnest in earnest
ears assault the ears ears be all ears ears be all eyes (and ears) ears fall on deaf ears ears not dry behind the ears ears one's ears are red ears one's ears are ringing ears pin someone's ears back ears prick up one's ears ears up to one's ears (in something) ears Walls have ears.
ears wet behind the ears earshot out of earshot earth all over the earth earth come down to earth earth down-to-earth earth hell on earth
earth like nothing on earth earth move heaven and earth to do something earth on earth
earth run someone or something to earth earth to the ends of the earth earth a paradise (on earth) earth the salt of the earth ease at ease
ease ease off (on someone or something) ease ease up (on someone or something) ease ill at ease
ease with ease
easier (be) easier said than done easier easier said than done easily able to breathe (easily) again East back East
easy (as) easy as ABC easy (as) easy as (apple) pie easy (as) easy as duck soup easy (as) easy as falling off a log easy (as) easy as rolling off a log easy breathe easy
easy easy as ABC
easy easy as (apple) pie easy easy as duck soup easy easy as falling off a log easy easy as rolling off a log easy easy come, easy go Easy Easy does it.
easy easy to come by easy free and easy
easy get off easy
easy go easy (on someone or something) easy let someone off easy easy on easy street
easy Take it easy.
easy take it easy (on someone or something) eat dog-eat-dog
eat eat (a meal) out eat eat and run eat eat away at someone or something eat eat high on the hog eat eat humble pie
eat eat like a bird
eat eat like a horse eat eat one's cake and have it too eat eat one's hat
eat eat one's heart out

- eat eat one's words
eat eat out of someone's hands eat eat someone out
eat eat something up
eat grab a bite (to eat) eat have one's cake and eat it too eat make someone eat crow eat so clean you could eat off the floor ebb ebb and flow edge edge someone out edge get the edge on someone edge get the edge over someone edge on edge
edge set someone's teeth on edge edge take the edge off (something) edgewise get a word in edgewise
edgewise get a word in edgewise eel (as) slippery as an eel eel slippery as an eel effect go into effect effect have a bad effect (on someone or something) effect in effect effect or words to that effect effect something to that effect effect take effect effect words to that effect effigy burn someone in effigy effigy hang someone in effigy effort make an all-out effort effort an A for effort effort an all-out effort effort a last-ditch effort egg egg someone on egg Go fry an egg!
egg have egg on one's face
egg lay an egg
eggs put all one's eggs in one basket eggs teach one's grandmother to suck eggs eggs walk on eggs
eight behind the eight ball either either feast or famine elbow elbow someone out (of something) elbow use some elbow grease elbows rub elbows (with someone) element in one's element element out of one's element elephant white elephant eleventh at the eleventh hour eleventh eleventh-hour decision else better off (if one were somewhere else) else draw a line between something and something else else mistake someone for someone else else mix someone up with someone else else name someone after someone else else name someone for someone else else no love lost (between someone and someone else) else or else
else play someone off against someone else else something else
else torn between choosing something or something else else work something into something else else's in someone else's place else's in someone else's shoes else's put oneself in someone else's place else's put oneself in someone else's shoes
'em Stick 'em up!
emotions let one's emotions show empty come away empty-handed empty go away empty-handed end at one's wit's end end at the end of nowhere end at the end of one's rope end at the end of one's tether end at the end of the day end be-all and (the) end-all end beginning of the end end can't see beyond the end of one's nose end come to a bad end end come to a dead end
end come to an end
end come to an untimely end end end something up end end up by doing something end end up doing something end end up (somehow) end end up somewhere
end end up with the short end of the stick end for days on end
end for hours on end end get the short end of the stick end go off the deep end end hold one's end (of the bargain) up end jump off the deep end end live up to one's end of the bargain end make someone's hair stand on end end meet one's end
end no end of something end not see farther than the end of one's nose end not see past the end of one's nose end put an end to something end see the light (at the end of the tunnel) end to the bitter end end an end in itself
end the be-all and (the) end-all end the business end of something end the end of the line end the end of the road ends All's well that ends well.
ends at loose ends
ends burn the candle at both ends ends make (both) ends meet ends odds and ends
ends play both ends (against the middle) ends to the ends of the earth engage engage in small talk English in plain English Enjoy Enjoy your meal.
enough angry enough to chew nails enough close enough for government work Enough Enough is enough. enough enough to go (a)round enough get up enough nerve (to do something) enough good enough for someone or something enough have had enough

enough leave well enough alone enough let well enough alone enough mad enough to chew nails enough not enough room to swing a cat enough not know enough to come in out of the rain enough old enough to be someone's father enough old enough to be someone's mother enough There aren't enough hours in the day.
enter enter one's mind enter enter the fray entering breaking and entering entirety in its entirety entirety in their entirety envy green with envy equal equal to someone or something equal other things being equal equal separate but equal errand do an errand errand go on an errand errand on a fool's errand errand run an errand errand send someone (out) on an errand error trial and error escape avenue of escape escape escape someone's notice essence in essence eve on the eve of something even break even even even in the best of times even even steven even get even (with someone) even keep on an even keel even keep something on an even keel event in any event event in the event of something event in the unlikely event of something event in the unlikely event that something happens ever ever and anon
ever forever and ever ever live happily ever after every at every turn
Every Every cloud has a silver lining.
Every Every dog has his day.
Every Every dog has its day.
every every inch a something every every inch the something every every last one every every living soul every every minute counts every every moment counts every every nook and cranny every (every) now and again every (every) now and then every (every) once in a while every every other person or thing every every time one turns around every (every) Tom, Dick, and Harry every every which way every hang on someone's every word every use every trick in the book every with every (other) breath everyone You can't please everyone.

everyone the moment everyone has been waiting for everything drop everything everything everything but the kitchen sink everything everything from A to Z everything everything from soup to nuts everything everything humanly possible everything with everything (on it) Everything's Everything's coming up roses. everywhere here, there, and everywhere evidence much in evidence evil Money is the root of all evil. evils the lesser of two evils examine cross-examine someone example hold someone or something up (as an example) example make an example of someone exception make an exception (for someone) exception take exception (to something) exception the exception that proves the rule excess do something to excess excess drink to excess exchange exchange more than some number of words with someone exchange in exchange (for someone or something) excitement a ripple of excitement exciting (as) exciting as watching (the) paint dry exciting exciting as watching (the) paint dry excuse excuse oneself excuse excuse someone excuse use someone or something as an excuse exhibition make an exhibition of oneself existence in existence expectations measure up (to someone's expectations) expected as I expected expected (just) as I expected expected when least expected expecting expecting (a child) expedition go on a fishing expedition expense at the expense of someone or something expense expense is no object expense go to the expense (of doing something) expenses out-of-pocket expenses explain explain oneself explain explain something away explode explode a bombshell express express one's anger extend extend credit (to someone) extend extend one's sympathy (to someone) extend extend someone credit extent to a great extent extent to some extent extenuating extenuating circumstances extra go the extra mile eye catch someone's eye eye get a black eye
eye get someone's eye eye give someone a black eye eye give someone the eye eye have an eye for someone or something eye have an eye on someone or something eye have an eye out (for someone or something) eye Here's mud in your eye.
eye hit the bull's-eye

- eye in one's mind's eye eye in the public eye eye in the twinkling of an eye eye keep an eye on someone or something eye keep an eye out (for someone or something) eye keep one's eye on the ball eye keep one's weather eye open eye look someone in the eye eye more (to something) than meets the eye eye out of the corner of one's eye eye put someone's eye out eye see eye to eye (with someone) (about something) eye see eye to eye (with someone) (on something) eye turn a blind eye to someone or something eye with an eye to doing something eye without batting an eye eye an eagle eye
 eye a bird's-eye view eye the apple of someone's eye eye the eye of the storm eye the naked eye
 eyeball eyeball-to-eyeball eyeballs up to one's eyeballs (in something) eyebrows cause (some) eyebrows to raise eyebrows raise some eyebrows eyed bright-eyed and bushy-tailed eyed look at someone cross-eyed eyeiful get an eyeiful (of someone or something) eyelid not bat an eyelid eyes able to do something with one's eyes closed eyes be all eyes (and ears) eyes clap eyes on someone or something eyes close one's eyes to something eyes cry one's eyes out eyes feast one's eyes (on someone or something) eyes get stars in one's eyes eyes have eyes bigger than one's stomach eyes have eyes in the back of one's head eyes hit someone (right) between the eyes eyes keep one's eyes open (for someone or something) eyes keep one's eyes peeled (for someone or something) eyes lay eyes on someone or something eyes make eyes (at someone) eyes not believe one's eyes eyes One's eyes are bigger than one's stomach. eyes only have eyes for someone eyes open someone's eyes (to something) eyes pull the wool over someone's eyes eyes set eyes on someone or something eyes sight for sore eyes eyeteeth cut one's eyeteeth on something face (as) plain as the nose on one's face face at face value
 face blow up in someone's face face can't see one's hand in front of one's face face cut off one's nose to spite one's face face do an about-face face face someone down face face the music
 face face-to-face
 face fall flat (on its face) face fall flat (on one's face) face feed one's face
 face fly in the face of someone or something face fly into the face of danger face have egg on one's face face hide one's face in shame face keep a straight face face look someone in the face face lose face
 face make a face
 face not show one's face face on the face of it face plain as the nose on one's face face put on a brave face face red in the face
 face save (one's) face
 face say something (right) to someone's face face stare someone in the face face take someone or something at face value face take something at face value face talk until one is blue in the face face tell one to one's face face a slap in the face fact after the fact
 fact as a matter of fact fact grounded in fact fact in fact
 fact matter-of-fact fact a known fact facts get down to the facts facts get the facts straight facts the facts of life fail without fail
 failure doomed to failure faint damn someone or something with faint praise fair do something fair and square fair fair and impartial fair fair and square fair fair game
 fair fair-haired boy
 fair fair to middling fair fair-weather friend fair give someone a fair shake fair one's fair share fair play fair
 faith in bad faith
 faith in good faith
 faith pin one's faith on someone or something faith show good faith faith take something on faith faith an act of faith fall break someone's fall fall fall afoul of someone or something fall fall (all) over oneself fall fall all over someone fall fall apart at the seams fall fall asleep
 fall fall back on someone or something fall fall between two stools fall fall by the wayside fall fall down on the job fall fall flat (on its face) fall fall flat (on one's face)

fall fall for someone or something fall fall from grace fall fall head over heels fall fall ill
fall fall in fall fall off
fall fall on deaf ears
fall fall out
fall fall over backwards (to do something) fall fall short (of something) fall fall through fall fall to fall fall (up)on someone or something fall Pride goes before a fall.
fall riding for a fall falling (as) easy as falling off a log falling easy as falling off a log fallow lie fallow
false lull someone into a false sense of security false sail under false colors familiar familiar with someone or something familiar have a familiar ring Familiarity Familiarity breeds contempt.
family (all) in the family family in a family way
family in the family family like one of the family family run in the family family the black sheep of the family famine either feast or famine fan fan the flames (of something) fan a fan of someone fancy flight of fancy fancy footloose and fancy-free fancy strike someone's fancy fancy take a fancy to someone or something fancy tickle someone's fancy far (as) far as anyone knows far as far as it goes far as far as possible
far (as) far as someone or something is concerned far come from far and wide far far and away the best far far as anyone knows far far as something is concerned far far be it from me to do something far far from it far far into the night
far far out
far few and far between far from far and near far from near and far far go so far as to say something far go too far far make it as far as something far so far as anyone knows far so far as possible far so far as someone or something is concerned far so far as something is concerned far So far, so good.
far a far-away look far a far cry from something far a far-off look farm farm someone or something out farther not see farther than the end of one's nose fashion after a fashion fashion after the fashion of someone or something fashion go out of fashion fashion in fashion

fashion out of fashion fast fast and furious
fast get nowhere fast
fast hard-and-fast
fast make a fast buck fast make fast work of someone or something fast play fast and loose (with someone or something) fast pull a fast one fast thick and fast faster faster and faster fat (as) fat as a pig fat chew the fat
fat fat and happy
fat fat as a pig
fat fat chance
fat live off the fat of the land fate leave one to one's fate father old enough to be someone's father fatted kill the fatted calf fault find fault (with someone or something) fault generous to a fault fauna flora and fauna favor curry favor (with someone) favor decide in favor of someone or something favor favor someone or something with something favor in favor of someone favor in favor (of someone or something) favor in someone's favor favor out of favor (with someone) favor return the favor fear fools rush in (where angels fear to tread) fear for fear of something fear in fear and trembling fear never fear
feast either feast or famine feast feast one's eyes (on someone or something) feather (as) light as a feather feather Birds of a feather flock together.
feather feather one's (own) nest feather in fine feather feather knock someone over with a feather feather light as a feather feather tar and feather someone feather a feather in one's cap feathers make the feathers fly feathers ruffle its feathers feathers ruffle someone's feathers fed fed up (to somewhere) (with someone or something) federal make a federal case out of something feed feed one's face
feed feed someone a line feed feed the kitty
feed for chicken feed
feed put on the feed bag feed spoon-feed someone

- feeds bite the hand that feeds one feel feel a glow of something feel feel at home
feel feel dragged out
feel feel fit
feel feel free (to do something) feel feel it beneath one (to do something) feel feel like a million (dollars) feel feel like a new person feel feel like doing something feel feel like (having) something feel feel one's gorge rise feel feel on top of the world feel feel out of place feel feel put-upon
feel feel someone out feel feel something in one's bones feel feel the pinch feel feel up to something feel get a feel for something feel get the feel of something feel have the feel of something feelers put out (some) feelers feeling feeling no pain feeling gut feeling feeling have a feeling about something feeling have a feeling (that) feeling I just have this feeling feelings have mixed feelings (about someone or something) feelings no hard feelings feet dead on its feet feet dead on one's feet feet drag one's feet feet find one's feet feet get a load off one's feet feet get back on one's feet feet get cold feet feet get one's feet on the ground feet get one's feet wet feet get to one's feet feet have cold feet feet have feet of clay feet have one's feet on the ground feet keep one's feet on the ground feet knock one off one's feet feet land on both feet feet land on one's feet feet let grass grow under one's feet feet on one's feet feet regain one's feet feet sit at someone's feet feet stand on one's own two feet feet sweep one off one's feet feet take a load off one's feet feet think on one's feet feet throw oneself at someone's feet feet vote with one's feet feet the balls of one's feet fell at one fell swoop fell in one fell swoop fell a hush fell over someone or something fellow hail-fellow-well-met fence fence someone in fence on the fence (about something) fence sit on the fence fences mend (one's) fences fend fend for oneself ferret ferret something out of someone or something fever run a fever
few drop someone a few lines few few and far between few precious few few quite a few
few wash a few things out few a few cards short of a deck few a few cards shy of a full deck fiddle (as) fit as a fiddle fiddle fiddle about (with someone or something) fiddle fiddle around (with someone or something) fiddle fiddle while Rome burns fiddle fit as a fiddle fiddle play second fiddle (to someone) field come out of left field field field questions field have a field day
field out in left field
field play the field fifty divide something fifty-fifty fifty go fifty-fifty (on something) fifty split something fifty-fifty fight fight against time fight fight someone or something hammer and tongs fight fight someone or something tooth and nail fight knock-down-drag-out fight fight pick a fight with someone fighting go down fighting fighting Them's fighting words.
fighting a fighting chance figure cut a fine figure figure figure in something figure figure on something figure figure someone or something out figures in round figures file have something on file file (in) single file file rank and file
file single file fill back and fill fill fill someone's shoes fill fill someone in (on someone or something) fill fill the bill
fill get one's fill of someone or something filled filled to the brim final get the final word final in the final analysis final a final fling find find a happy medium find find fault (with someone or something) find find it in one's heart (to do something) find find it's way somewhere find find oneself
find find one's feet
find find one's own level

find find one's tongue find find one's way (around) find find one's way somewhere find find someone or something out find find someone guilty find find someone innocent find find (something) out the hard way Finders Finders keepers, losers weepers). fine cut a fine figure
fine fine and dandy
fine go over something with a fine-tooth comb fine in fine feather
fine search something with a fine-tooth comb fine a fine how-de-do fine a fine how-do-you-do fine a fine kettle of fish fine a fine state of affairs fine the fine print finger have a finger in the pie finger have one's finger in the pie finger have one's finger in too many pies finger lay a finger on someone or something finger lay the finger on someone finger not lift a finger (to help someone) finger point the finger at someone finger put one's finger on something finger put the finger on someone finger twist someone around one's little finger fingers cross one's fingers fingers get one's fingers burned fingers have sticky fingers fingers keep one's fingers crossed (for someone or something) fingers slip through someone's fingers fingers work one's fingers to the bone fingerprints have something at one's fingertips finish from start to finish fire add fuel to the fire fire (as) hot as fire
fire ball of fire
fire baptism of fire fire build a fire under someone fire catch fire
fire catch (on) fire
fire caught in the cross fire fire draw (someone's) fire (away from someone or something) fire fire a gun fire fire away at someone or something fire hang fire
fire have too many irons in the fire fire hold one's fire fire hot as fire
fire like a house on fire fire on fire
fire open fire (on someone) fire out of the frying pan into the fire fire play with fire
fire set fire to someone or something fire set someone or something on fire fire set the world on fire fire under fire

fire Where there's smoke there's fire.
fires keep the home fires burning firing firing on all cylinders first at first first cast the first stone first first and foremost first first and ten
First First come, first served.
first first of all
first first off first first thing (in the morning) first first things first first get to first base (with someone or something) first in the first instance first in the first place first love at first sight first not know the first thing about someone or something first of the first water first on a first-name basis (with someone) first play first chair first reach first base (with someone or something) fish (as) crooked as a barrel of fishhooks fish (as) crooked as a fishhook fish crooked as a barrel of fishhooks fish crooked as a fishhook fish fish for a compliment fish fish for something fish fish in troubled waters fish fish or cut bait fish have bigger fish to fry fish have more important fish to fry fish have other fish to fry fish like a fish out of water fish neither fish nor fowl fish There are plenty of other fish in the sea.
fish a cold fish
fish a fine kettle of fish fishing go on a fishing expedition fist hand over fist
fit (as) fit as a fiddle fit feel fit
fit fit and trim
fit fit as a fiddle
fit fit for a king fit fit in someone fit fit in (with someone or something) fit fit like a glove fit fit someone or something out (with something) fit fit someone in(to something) fit fit someone to a T fit fit the bill
fit fit to be tied fit fit to kill fit have a conniption (fit) fit have a fit fit see fit (to do something) fit think someone or something fit for something fit throw a fit
fits by fits and starts fits If the shoe fits, wear it. fittest the survival of the fittest five take five

- five a nine-to-five job fix fix someone's wagon fix fix someone up (with someone or something) fix get a fix on something fix give someone a fix on something fix in a fix fixed well-fixed fixings with all the fixings fizzle fizzle out flame add fuel to the flame flame burn with a low blue flame flames burst into flames flames fan the flames (of something) flames go up in flames flare flare up flash (as) quick as a flash flash in a flash
flash quick as a flash flash a flash in the pan flat (as) flat as a board flat (as) flat as a pancake flat fall flat (on its face) flat fall flat (on one's face) flat flat as a board flat flat as a pancake
flat flat broke
flat flat out
flat in nothing flat
flat leave someone flat Flattery Flattery will get you nowhere. flea not hurt a flea flesh flesh and blood
flesh flesh something out flesh in the flesh flesh make someone's flesh crawl flies as the crow flies flies no flies on someone flies time flies
flight flight of fancy flight in flight fling fling oneself at someone fling a final fling flip do a flip-flop (on something) flip flip one's lid
flip flip one's wig
flirt flirt with the idea of doing something float float a loan flock Birds of a feather flock together.
floor get in (on the ground floor) floor get the floor
floor mop the floor up with someone floor so clean you could eat off the floor floor walk the floor
floor wipe the floor up with someone flop do a flip-flop (on something) flora flora and fauna flotsam flotsam and jetsam flow ebb and flow
flow go with the flow fluff fluff one's lines flunk flunk out
flunk flunk someone out flush flush with something flux in a (constant) state of flux flux in flux
fly do something on the fly fly fly-by-night
fly fly in the face of someone or something fly fly in the teeth of someone or something fly fly into the face of danger fly fly off the handle
fly fly the coop
fly Go fly a kite!
fly it'll never fly.
fly make the feathers fly fly make the fur fly fly a fly in the ointment flying be flying high flying come through something with flying colors flying get off to a flying start flying with flying colors foam foam at the mouth fob fob something off (on someone) foe friend or foe
fog able to fog a mirror fog in a fog
foist foist something (off) on someone fold fold one's hands fold fold something up fold fold, spindle, or mutilate fold fold up
follow follow in someone's footsteps follow follow in someone's tracks follow follow one's heart follow follow one's nose follow follow orders follow follow someone or something up follow follow someone's lead follow follow suit
follow follow the crowd follow follow through (on something) follow follow up (on someone or something) follow follow up (on something) follow a tough act to follow fond fond of someone or something food food for thought fool fool around (with someone or something) fool make a fool out of someone fool nobody's fool
fool play the fool
fool take someone for a fool fool A fool and his money are soon parted. foolish penny-wise and pound-foolish fools fools rush in (where angels fear to tread) fool's in a fool's paradise fool's on a fool's errand foot be off on the wrong foot foot bound hand and foot foot foot the bill
foot get off on the wrong foot foot get one's foot in the door foot have a foot in both camps foot have foot-in-mouth disease foot have one foot in the grave

- foot have the shoe on the other foot foot not set foot somewhere foot on foot
foot put one's best foot forward foot put one's foot down (about something) foot put one's foot in it foot put one's foot in one's mouth foot set foot somewhere foot start off on the wrong foot foot stick one's foot in one's mouth foot wait on someone hand and foot foot wouldn't touch something with a ten-foot pole foot The shoe is on the other foot.
foothold get a foothold (somewhere) footloose footloose and fancy-free footsie play footsie (with someone) footsteps follow in someone's footsteps for acquire a taste for something for all for something for (all) for the best for allow for someone or something for All right for you!
for answer for someone or something for arguing for the sake of arguing for arguing for the sake of argument for as for someone or something for ask for something for ask for the moon for ask for trouble
for at a loss (for words) for augur well for someone or something for bargain for something for be curtains for someone or something for bound for somewhere for break ground (for something) for break something down (for someone) for buck for something for but for someone or something for buy something for a song for call for someone or something for can't wait (for something to happen) for carry a torch (for someone) for cast about for someone or something for cast around for someone or something for close enough for government work for come in for something for come out for someone or something for count someone out (for something) for cover for someone for crazy for someone or something for crying need for someone or something for cut out for something for dollar for dollar for do something for a living for down for the count for fall for someone or something for fall in for something for fend for oneself for fish for a compliment for fish for something for fit for a king
for food for thought for for a lark
for for all I care for for all I know for for all intents and purposes for for all it's worth for for all practical purposes for for all something for for all the world for for better or for worse for for chicken feed
For For crying out loud!
for for days on end for for fear of something for for free
for for good for for hours on end for for instance for for keeps
for for kicks
for fork money out (for something) for for life
for for one's (own) part for for one's (own) sake for for openers
for for peanuts
for for real
for for safekeeping
for for sale
for for short for for starters
for for sure
for for that matter
for for the best for for the better for for the birds
for for the devil of it for for the duration for for the good of someone or something for for the heck of it for for the hell of it for for the life of one for for the moment for for the most part for for the odds to be against one for for the record for for the sake of someone or something for for the time being for for what(ever) it's worth for free-for-all for gear (oneself) up (for something) for get a feel for something for get a reputation (for doing something) for get a run for one's money for get credit (for something) for get time off for good behavior for give one a run for one's money for give someone a hand (for something) for give someone a reputation (for doing something) for give someone credit (for something) for give someone tit for tat for give someone what for for glutton for punishment

- for go along for the ride for go for broke for go for it
 for go for someone or something for go in for something for good enough for someone or something for good-for-nothing for go out (for something) for go to bat for someone for grist for someone's mill for grounds for something for gulp for air for gun for someone for hard up (for something) for have a head for something for have a look for someone or something for have a lot going (for one) for have an ear for something for have an eye for someone or something for have an eye out (for someone or something) for have an itch for something for have a nose for something for have a passion for someone or something for have a penchant for doing something for have a soft spot in one's heart for someone or something for have a taste for something for have a weakness for someone or something for Have I got something for you!
 for have it in for someone for have one for the road for have one's work cut out for one for have something going (for oneself) for have something in store (for someone) for head for someone or something for head for the last roundup for hell-bent for leather for hit someone up (for something) for hold no brief for someone or something for hold out for something for hold still for something for hold up (for someone or something) for hunger for something for hungry for something for hunt high and low (for someone or something) for in exchange (for someone or something) for in for something for in return for (someone or something) for in the market (for something) for in the mood for something for issue a call for something for jockey for position for keep an eye out (for someone or something) for keep one's eyes open (for someone or something) for keep one's eyes peeled (for someone or something) for keep one's fingers crossed (for someone or something) for kick oneself (for doing something) for knock someone for a loop for lay down one's life (for someone or something) for leave oneself wide open for something for leave someone for dead for lie in wait for someone or something for light out (for somewhere) for like looking for a needle in a haystack for line someone up (for something) for live for the moment for loaded for bear for look for trouble
 for look high and low (for someone or something) for look out for someone or something for look to someone or something (for something) for lovely weather for ducks for made for each other for mad for someone or something for make a beeline for someone or something for make a break for something or somewhere for make allowance(s) (for someone or something) for make amends (for something) for make a name (for oneself) for make an exception (for someone) for make a pitch (for someone or something) for make a play (for someone) for make arrangements (for someone or something) for make a run for it for make for somewhere for make it hot for someone for make life miserable for someone for make someone the scapegoat for something for make time (for someone or something) for make up for lost time for make up for someone or something for make way (for someone or something) for mean for someone to do something for meet the requirements (for something) for milk someone for something for mistake someone for someone else for more than someone bargained for for name someone for someone else for none the worse for wear for not able to see the forest for the trees for not for a moment for not for (anything in) the world for not for hire for not for love nor money for not for publication for not long for this world for not take no for an answer for once and for all for one for the (record) books for one's for the asking for one's work is cut out for one for only have eyes for someone for on the alert (for someone or something) for on the lookout (for someone or something) for open for business for out of consideration (for someone or something) for par for the course for pass for someone or something for pave the way (for someone or something) for pay a king's ransom (for something) for pay an arm and a leg (for something) for pay for something for pay through the nose (for something) for pinch-hit (for someone) for play for keeps for play someone for something for poised for something for pressed for time for psyched up (for something) for put in a good word (for someone) for put one's head on the block (for someone or something) for put someone down (for something) for reach for the sky for recognize one for what one is for recognize something for what it is for riding for a fall for roll out the red carpet for someone for root for someone or something for run for it

for run for one's life for save something for a rainy day for save up (for something) for scout around for someone or something for scratch around (for something) for search high and low (for someone or something) for sell something for a song for set sail (for somewhere) for set the stage for something for settle for something for shift for oneself for shoot for something for shop around (for something) for short for something for sight for sore eyes for sit in for someone for slated for something for so much for someone or something for speak for itself for speak for themselves for speak up for someone or something for spoken for for spring for something for square off (for something) for stand for something for stand in (for someone) for stand still for something for stick one's neck out (for someone or something) for stick up for someone or something for strapped (for something) for take a look for someone or something for take a turn for the better for take a turn for the worse for taken for dead
for take someone or something for granted for take someone for a fool for take someone for an idiot for take someone for a ride for take someone for someone or something for take the rap (for someone or something) for thankful for small blessings for Thank you for sharing.
for That's all for someone.
for There's no accounting for taste.
for think someone or something fit for something for thirsty for something for throw a party (for someone) for throw someone for a loop for throw someone for a loss for too big for one's britches for too close for comfort for touch someone for something for trouble someone for something for try out (for something) for turn to someone or something (for something) for up for grabs

for up for something for wait up (for someone or something) for want for nothing for watch out for someone or something for what for for word for word for work out for the best for would give one's right arm (for someone or something) for an affinity for someone or something for an A for effort for a match for someone, something, or some creature for a Mecca for someone for a thirst for something for the moment everyone has been waiting for forbidden forbidden fruit force driving force (behind someone or something) force force someone or something down someone's throat force force someone's hand force force someone out (of office) force force someone to the wall force in force force out in force force a force to be reckoned with forces join forces (with someone) fore come to the fore fore fore and aft forefront at the forefront (of something) forefront in the forefront (of something) foregone a foregone conclusion foremost first and foremost forest not able to see the forest for the trees forever forever and a day forever forever and ever forever lost and gone forever forget forget oneself forget forgive and forget forgive forgive and forget forgotten gone but not forgotten fork fork money out (for something) fork fork something over forked speak with a forked tongue form form and substance form form an opinion
form in top form
form true to form
fort hold the fort
forth and so forth
forth back and forth forth hold forth (on something) forth launch forth (on something) forth set forth (on something) forty catch forty winks

- forty forty winks
forty take forty winks forward from this day forward forward look forward to something forward put one's best foot forward forward put something forward forwards know something backwards and forwards forwards know something forwards and backwards foul foul one's own nest foul foul play
foul foul someone or something up foul foul up
fouled fouled up
found lost-and-found fours on all fours
fowl neither fish nor fowl fox (as) sly as a fox fox sly as a fox fraught fraught with danger fray enter the fray fray join the fray
fray jump into the fray free (as) free as a bird free (as) free as (the) air free feel free (to do something) free footloose and fancy-free free for free
free free and clear
free free and easy
free free as a bird
free free as (the) air
free free-for-all
free free translation
free get a free hand (with someone or something) free get off scot-free free give free rein to someone free give someone a free hand (with something) free give someone free rein free go scot-free
free make free with someone or something free of one's own free will free set someone or something free freedom give one one's freedom freely able to breathe (freely) again freezes until hell freezes over freezes when hell freezes over French Pardon my French.
fresh (as) fresh as a daisy fresh fresh as a daisy fresh fresh out (of something) fresh get fresh (with someone) fresh a breath of fresh air friend fair-weather friend friend friend or foe friend make a friend
friend A friend in need is a friend indeed. friends be friends with someone friends make friends friendship strike up a friendship frighten frighten one out of one's wits frighten frighten someone to death frighten frighten the (living) daylights out of someone frighten frighten the wits out of someone frightened frightened to death fringe the lunatic fringe fritter fritter something away fritz on the fritz
fro to and fro
frog get a frog in one's throat frog have a frog in one's throat frog a big frog in a small pond froing toing and froing (on something) from another country heard from from aside from someone or something from away from one's desk from back down (from someone or something) from back off (from someone or something) from be a heartbeat away from something from be from Missouri from break loose (from someone or something) from come from far and wide from come from nowhere from cut from the same cloth from cut loose (from someone or something) from cut the ground out from under someone from downhill from here on from draw (someone's) fire (away from someone or something) from everything from A to Z from everything from soup to nuts from fall from grace from far be it from me to do something from far from it from from dawn to dusk from from day to day from from door to door from from far and near from from hand to hand from from head to toe from from near and far from from overseas
from from pillar to post from from rags to riches from from side to side from from start to finish from from stem to stern from from the bottom of one's heart from from the cradle to the grave from from the ground up from from the heart from from the horse's mouth from from the old school from from the outset
from from the top
from from the word go from from this day forward from from this day on from from time to time
from from tip to toe
from from top to bottom from from way back from get a dirty look from someone from get away (from it all) from get out from under someone or something

- from go from bad to worse from hail from somewhere from (just) a stone's throw away (from something) from keep from doing something from keep one's distance (from someone or something) from keep someone from doing something from keep the wolf from the door from knock the props out from under someone from know something from memory from learn something from the bottom up from live from hand to mouth from made from the same mold from make something from scratch from nothing to choose from
from not know from nothing from not know someone from Adam from out from under (something) from pull the rug out (from under someone) from separate the men from the boys from separate the sheep from the goats from shoot from the hip from shuttle someone or something from person to person from shuttle someone or something from place to place from shy away (from someone or something) from start from scratch from step down (from something) from (straight) from the horse's mouth from straight from the shoulder from take off (from work) from take one's cue from someone from where one is coming from from a far cry from something from a stone's throw (away) (from something) front burn one's bridges in front of one front can't see one's hand in front of one's face front out front
front put on a (brave) front front put up a (brave) front front up-front
fruit bear fruit
fruit forbidden fruit
fruitcake (as) nutty as a fruitcake fruitcake nutty as a fruitcake fruits fruit(s) of one's labor(s) fry Go fry an egg!
fry have bigger fish to fry fry have more important fish to fry fry have other fish to fry fry small fry
frying out of the frying pan into the fire fuel add fuel to the fire fuel add fuel to the flame full (as) full as a tick full (at) full blast
full at full speed
full at full tilt
full come full circle full full as a tick
full full blast
full full of beans
full full of bull
full full of hot air
full full of it
full full of Old Nick full full of oneself
full full of prunes
full full of the devil
full full steam ahead
full get into full swing full have one's hands full (with someone or something) full in full swing full a few cards shy of a full deck fun as much fun as a barrel of monkeys fun fun and games
fun make fun (of someone or something) fun more fun than a barrel of monkeys fun poke fun (at someone) funny (as) funny as a barrel of monkeys funny (as) funny as a crutch funny funny as a barrel of monkeys funny funny as a crutch funny funny business
funny funny ha-ha funny funny peculiar funny strike someone funny fur make the fur fly fur rub someone's fur the wrong way furious fast and furious further Don't let it go any further. further without further ado fuse blow a fuse
fuss kick up a fuss fuss make a fuss (over someone or something) future in the near future gab have the gift of gab gained Nothing ventured, nothing gained.
gains ill-gotten gains gall have the gall to do something gallery play to the gallery gambit opening gambit
game ahead of the game
game at this stage of the game game be game
game fair game
game give the game away game new ball game
game (whole) new ball game game a game that two can play game The game is up.
game the name of the game
games fun and games gamut run the gamut
gander take a gander (at someone or something) gang gang up (on someone) gangbusters come on like gangbusters garden lead someone down the garden path gas cooking with gas
gas gas up
gas out of gas
gas run out of gas
gas step on the gas gas a gas
gasket blow a gasket

- p
-
- gasp at the last gasp
-
- gate get the gate
-
- gate give someone the gate
-
- gather gather a case (against someone)
-
- gathers A rolling stone gathers no moss.
-
- gaudy (as) gaudy as a butterfly
-
- gaudy gaudy as a butterfly
-
- gauntlet throw down the gauntlet
-
- gear gear (oneself) up (for something)
-
- gear gear something to someone or something
-
- gear get into high gear
-
- gear in high gear
-
- general as a (general) rule
-
- general in general
-
- generous generous to a fault
-
- gentle (as) gentle as a lamb
-
- gentle gentle as a lamb
-
- get Come and get it!
-
- get Don't let someone or something get you down.
-
- get Flattery will get you nowhere.
-
- get get a bang out of someone or something
-
- get get a bee in one's bonnet
-
- get get a big send-off
-
- get get a black eye
-
- get get a break
-
- get get a bright idea
-
- get get a charge out of someone or something
-
- get get a charley horse
-
- get get a checkup
-
- get get a clean bill of health
-
- get get a crush on someone
-
- get get a dirty look from someone
-
- get get a feel for something
-
- get get a fix on something
-
- get get a foothold (somewhere)
-
- get get a free hand (with someone or something)
-
- get get a frog in one's throat
-
- get get after someone
-
- get get a grasp of something
-
- get get a handle on something
-
- get get a hand with something
-
- get get ahead of oneself
-
- get get a head start (on someone or something)
-
- get get (a)hold of someone or something
-
- get get a hurry on
-
- get get a jump(start)
-
- get get a kick out of someone or something
-
- get get a licking
-
- Get Get a life!
-
- get get a line on someone or something
-
- get get (all) dolled up
-
- get get a load off one's feet
-
- get get a load off one's mind
-
- get get a load of someone or something
-
- get get along (in years)
-
- get get along (on a shoestring)
-
- get get along (without (someone or something))
-
- get get along (with someone or something)
-
- get get a lot of mileage out of something
-
- get get a lump in one's throat
-
- get get an earful
-
- get get an eyeful (of someone or something)
-
- get get an in (with someone)
-
- get get another guess coming
-
- get get another think coming
-
- get get ants in one's pants
-
- get get a rain check (on something)
-
- get get a raw deal
-
- get get a reputation (as a something)
-
- get get a reputation (for doing something)
-
- get get a rise out of someone
-
- get get a rough idea (about something)
-
- get get a rough idea (of something)
-
- get get around
-
- get get (around) to something
-
- get get a run for one's money
-
- get get a shellacking
-
- get get a slap on the wrist
-
- get get a start
-
- get get a taste of one's own medicine
-
- get get a thing about someone or something
-
- get get a toehold (somewhere)
-
- get get a tongue-lashing
-
- get get at someone or something
-
- get get at the heart of the matter
-
- get get away (from it all)
-
- get get away with something
-
- get get a whiff of something
-
- get get a word in edgeways
-
- get get a word in edgewise
-
- get get back (at someone)
-
- get get back into circulation
-
- get get back into harness
-
- get get back on one's feet
-
- get get back (to someone)
-
- get get better
-
- get get busy
-
- get get butterflies in one's stomach
-
- get get by (on something)
-
- get get by (with something)
-
- get get carried away
-
- get get close (to someone or something)
-
- get get cold feet
-
- get get cracking
-
- get get credit (for something)
-
- get get down to brass tacks
-
- get get down to business
-
- get get down to cases
-
- get get down to something
-
- get get down to the facts
-
- get get down to the nitty-gritty
-
- get get down to work
-
- get get even (with someone)
-
- get get fresh (with someone)
-
- get get goose bumps
-
- get get goose pimples
-
- get get gray hair(s)
-
- get get hell
-
- get get in on something
-
- get get in (on the ground floor)
-
- get get in someone's hair
-
- get get into a jam
-
- get get into a mess
-
- get get into an argument (with someone)

get get into full swing get get into high gear get get in(to) hot water get get into the act get get into the swing of things get get in touch (with someone) get get involved (with someone) get get it get get lost
 get get mad (at someone or something) get get married
 get get mixed-up
 get get nowhere fast
 get get off
 get get (oneself) into a stew (over someone or something) get get one's act together get get one's bearings get get one's comeuppance get get one's ducks in a row get get one's feet on the ground get get one's feet wet get get one's fill of someone or something get get one's fingers burned get get one's foot in the door get get one's hands dirty get get one's hands on someone or something get get one's head above water get get one's hooks into someone or something get get one's just deserts get get one's just reward(s) get get one's knuckles rapped get get one's money's worth get get one's nose out of someone's business get get one's (own) way (with someone or something) get get one's say get get one's sea legs get get one's second wind get get one's start get get one's teeth into something get get one's walking papers get get one's wires crossed get get one's wits about one get get on someone
 get get on the bandwagon get get on the good side of someone get get on (with someone or something) get get out from under someone or something get get out of a jam get get out of a mess get get out of someone's way get get out of the way
 get get out of the wrong side of the bed get get out while the getting is good get get over someone or something get get physical (with someone) get get ready (to do something) get get religion get get rid of someone or something get get right on something get get rolling get get second thoughts about someone or something get get set

get get sick
 get get sidetracked
 get get someone or something across get get someone or something down get get someone or something out of one's head get get someone or something out of one's mind get get someone or something out of the way get get someone's back up get get someone's dander up get get someone's ear get get someone's eye get get someone's goat get get someone's hackles up get get someone's Irish up get get someone's number get get someone down get get (someone) off the hook get get someone out of a jam get get someone over a barrel get get someone under one's thumb get get something get get stars in one's eyes get get the advantage of someone get get the advantage over someone get get the air
 get get the ax
 get get the ball rolling get get the benefit of the doubt get get the best of someone get get the better of someone get get the blues
 get get the boot
 get get the brush-off
 get get the cold shoulder get get the creeps
 get get the day off
 get get the devil
 get get the drift of something get get the edge on someone get get the edge over someone get get the facts straight get get the feel of something get get the final word get get the floor
 get get the gate
 get get the glad hand get get the go-ahead get get the go-by get get the goods on someone get get the green light get get the hang of something get get the hard sell get get the high sign
 get get the inside track get get the jump on someone get get the last laugh get get the last word get get the lead out get get the low-down (on someone or something) get get the message get get the nod
 get get the (old) heave-ho

get get the once-over get get the picture
 get get the red-carpet treatment get get the runaround get get the sack
 get get the shock of one's life get get the short end of the stick get get the show on the road get get the slip get get the third degree get get the upper hand (on someone) get get the willies get get the word
 get get the works
 get get the worst of something get get through something get get through (to someone) get get through with something get get time off
 get get time to catch one's breath get get to first base (with someone or something) get get to one's feet get get to someone
 get get to the bottom of something get get to the heart of the matter get get to the point get get to the root of the problem get get tough (with someone) get get two strikes against one get get under someone's skin get get under way
 get get-up-and-go
 get get up enough nerve (to do something) get get up on the wrong side of the bed get get used to someone or something get get well get get wet
 get get what's coming to one get get wind of something get get wise (to someone or something) get get with something get get worked up (about something) get get worked up (over something) get let something (get) out get play hard to get get tell someone where to get off get You just don't get it!
 gets give as good as one gets gets when the going gets rough gets when the going gets tough gets The early bird gets the worm.
 getting get out while the getting is good getting It takes (some) getting used to.
 ghost as pale as a ghost ghost (as) white as a ghost ghost give up the ghost ghost a ghost of a chance gift have the gift of gab gild gild the lily
 gills blue around the gills gills green around the gills gills pale around the gills

gird gird (up) one's loins give give a blank check to someone give give a good account of oneself give give-and-take give give (an) ear to someone or something give give as good as one gets give give birth to someone or some creature give give birth to something give give carte blanche to someone give give chase (to someone or something) give give credence to something give give credit where credit is due give give free rein to someone give give ground
 give give her the gun give give in (to someone or something)
 Give Give it a rest.
 give give it the gun
 Give Give it time.
 give give it to someone (straight)
 Give Give it up.
 give give of oneself
 give give one's ear to someone or something Give Give one an inch, and one will take a mile. give give one a run for one's money give give one butterflies in one's stomach give give one one's freedom give give one one's walking papers give give one what's coming to one give give out
 give give rise to something give give someone or something a wide berth give give someone or something the (old) heave-ho give give someone a bang give give someone a big send-off give give someone a black eye give give someone a blank check give give someone a break give give someone a bright idea give give someone a bum steer give give someone a buzz give give someone a charge give give someone a clean bill of health give give someone a dirty look give give someone a fair shake give give someone a fix on something give give someone a free hand (with something) give give someone a (good) dressing-down give give someone a hand (for something) give give someone a hand (with someone or something) give give someone a hard time give give someone a head start (on someone or something) give give someone a kick give give someone a licking give give someone a line give give someone an earful
 give give someone a pain give give someone a pat on the back give give someone a piece of one's mind give give someone a rain check (on something) give give someone a raw deal give give someone a reputation (as a something) give give someone a reputation (for doing something) give give someone a ring give give someone a rough idea (about something) give give someone a rough idea (of something) give give someone a shellacking give give someone a slap on the wrist give give someone a start give give someone a swelled head give give someone a tongue-lashing give give someone carte blanche give give someone credit (for something) give give someone free rein give give someone goose bumps give give someone goose pimples give give someone gray hair(s) give give someone hell

give give someone pause give give someone some skin give give someone the air give give someone the ax give give someone the benefit of the doubt give give someone the boot give give someone the brush-off give give someone the bum's rush give give someone the business give give someone the cold shoulder give give someone the creeps give give someone the devil give give someone the eye give give someone the gate give give someone the glad hand give give someone the go-ahead give give someone the go-by give give someone the green light give give someone the hard sell give give someone the high sign give give someone the low-down (on someone or something) give give someone the once-over give give someone the red-carpet treatment give give someone the runaround give give someone the sack give give someone the shirt off one's back give give someone the slip give give someone the third degree give give someone the willies give give someone the works give give someone tit for tat give give someone to understand something give give someone what for give give something a lick and a promise give give something a shot give give something a whirl give give something one's best shot give give the bride away give give the devil her due give give the devil his due give give the game away give give up the ghost give give vent to something give give voice to something give not give a hang (about someone or something) give not give a hoot (about someone or something) give not give it another thought give not give someone the time of day give not give two hoots (about someone or something) give would give one's right arm (for someone or something) given given to doing something given given to understand given a given

glad get the glad hand glad give someone the glad hand glance at first glance glass (as) smooth as glass glass have a glass jaw glass smooth as glass
glitters All that glitters is not gold.
glory in one's glory
gloss gloss something over glove fit like a glove glove hand in glove (with someone) gloves handle someone with kid gloves glow feel a glow of something glutton glutton for punishment gnash gnash one's teeth go all systems (are) go go buy something to go go Don't let it go any further.
go easy come, easy go go enough to go (a)round go from the word go go get something to go go get the go-ahead
go get the go-by go get-up-and-go
go give someone the go-ahead go give someone the go-by go go about one's business go go against the grain go go all out go go all the way (with someone) go go along for the ride go go a long way in doing something go go a long way toward doing something go go along (with someone or something) go go ape (over someone or something) go go (a)round in circles go go (a)round the bend go go around with someone go go astray
go go at it hammer and tongs go go at it tooth and nail go go at someone or something go go away empty-handed go go AWOL
go go back on one's word go go bad
go go bananas
go go begging
go go broke
go go by the board
go go by the book
go go chase oneself
Go Go climb a tree!

go go cold turkey
 go go crazy
 go go down fighting
 go go downhill
 go go down in history
 go go Dutch
 go go easy (on someone or something) go go fifty-fifty (on something) Go Go fly a kite!
 go go for broke
 go go for it
 go go for someone or something go go from bad to worse Go Go fry an egg!
 go go great guns
 go go haywire
 go go hog-wild go go in a body
 go go in for something go go in one ear and out the other go go into action
 go go into a nosedive
 go go into a tailspin go go into detail
 go go into effect
 go go into hiding
 go go into hock
 go go into one's song and dance (about something) go go into orbit
 go go into something
 go go it alone
 Go Go jump in the lake!
 go go like clockwork
 go good to go
 go go off
 go go on
 go go out (for something) go go out of fashion go go out of one's way (to do something) go go out of style
 go go (out) on strike
 go go out (with someone) go go over
 go go places
 Go Go play in the traffic go go right through someone go go scot-free
 go go sky-high
 go go so far as to say something go go someone one better go go (somewhere) by shank's mare go go stag
 go go steady (with someone) go go stir-crazy
 go go straight
 go go the distance
 go go the extra mile
 go go the limit
 go go through go go to any length go go to bat for someone go go to bed
 go go to Davy Jones's locker go go together
 go go to (hell)
 go go to hell in a handbasket go go too far go go to pieces
 go go to pot
 go go to rack and ruin go go to seed
 go go to someone's head go go to the bathroom
 go go to (the devil)
 go go to the dogs
 go go to the expense (of doing something) go go to the lavatory go go to the limit
 go go to the toilet go go to the trouble (of doing something) go go to the trouble (to do something) go go to the wall
 go go to town
 go go to waste
 go go to wrack and ruin go go under go go up in flames go go up in smoke
 go go whole hog
 go go window-shopping go go without (something) go go with something
 go go with the flow
 go go wrong
 go have a go (at something) go have one's heart go out to someone go have something to go go Here you go.
 go let go of someone or something go let go (with something) go Let it go.
 go let oneself go
 go let someone go
 go make a go of it go not able to go on go on the go
 go order something to go go pay as you go
 go rar in' to go
 go stop-and-go
 go Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes
 go There you go.
 go touch and go
 goat get someone's goat
 goats separate the sheep from the goats God Honest to God.
 God an act of God goes as far as it goes goes goes to show you goes goes without saying goes Here goes nothing. goes Here (it) goes.
 goes How goes it (with you)?
 goes off someone or something goes

- goes one's heart goes out to someone goes Pride goes before a fall. goes So it goes.
goes What goes around, comes around. going have a good thing going going have a lot going (for one) going have a thing going (with someone) going have something going (for oneself) going have something going (with someone) going heavy going going How's it going?
going not know if one is coming or going going not know whether one is coming or going going slow going going when the going gets rough going when the going gets tough going the going
gold All that glitters is not gold.
gold (as) good as gold gold good as gold
gold have a heart of gold gold worth its weight in gold gold a gold mine of information golly by guess and by golly gone all gone
gone come and gone
gone dead and gone
gone gone but not forgotten gone gone goose gone gone on gone gone to meet one's Maker.
gone gone with the wind gone lost and gone forever gone to hell and gone
goner a goner
good all in good time good all to the good good (all) well and good good (as) good as done good (as) good as gold good as good as one's word good do someone's heart good good do someone a good turn good do someone good good for good
good for the good of someone or something good get on the good side of someone good get out while the getting is good good get time off for good behavior good give a good account of oneself good give as good as one gets good give someone a (good) dressing-down good good and something good good as done
good good as gold good good enough for someone or something good good-for-nothing good good riddance (to bad rubbish) good good to go
good have a good command of something good have a good head on one's shoulders good have a (good) mind to do something good have a good thing going good (have) never had it so good good in (all) good conscience good in good condition good in good faith
good in good hands
good in good repair
good in good shape
good in good spirits
good in good time
good in good (with someone) good keep good time
good kiss something good-bye good Life's been good (to me).
good look good on paper good make good as something good make good (at something) good make good money good make good on something good make good time good make someone look good good make something good good never had it so good good No news is good news.
good One good turn deserves another. good on good terms (with someone) good put in a good word (for someone) good put something to (good) use good run the good race good show good faith good show something to good advantage good So far, so good.
good stand someone in good stead good throw good money after bad good too good to be true good too much of a good thing good turn something to good account good up to no good good well and good good What's the good of something?
good when one is good and ready good Your guess is as good as mine.
good the good old days goodness Honest to goodness.
goods get the goods on someone goods sell someone a bill of goods goof goof off
goose (as) silly as a goose goose cook someone's goose goose get goose bumps goose get goose pimples goose give someone goose bumps goose give someone goose pimples goose gone goose
goose silly as a goose goose someone's goose is cooked goose a wild-goose chase gorge feel one's gorge rise gorge make someone's gorge rise gospel the gospel truth got Cat got your tongue?
got Have I got something for you!

- got You got me there. gotten ill-gotten gains government close enough for government work gown cap and gown gown town-and-gown
 grab grab a bite (to eat) grabs up for grabs
 grace fall from grace
 grace grace someone or something with one's presence grace saving grace
 grace say grace graced graced with something graceful (as) graceful as a swan graceful graceful as a swan grade make the grade grain go against the grain grain take something with a grain of salt grain a grain of truth
 Grand (as) busy as Grand Central Station Grand busy as Grand Central Station grandmother teach one's grandmother to suck eggs granted take someone or something for granted grasp get a grasp of something grasp grasp at straws grasp within someone's grasp grass let grass grow under one's feet grass a snake in the grass grasshopper knee-high to a grasshopper grate grate on someone's nerves) grave (as) quiet as the grave grave (as) silent as the grave grave carry a secret to one's grave grave carry a secret to the grave grave dig one's own grave grave from the cradle to the grave grave have one foot in the grave grave quiet as the grave grave roll (over) in one's grave grave silent as the grave grave swear on one's mother's grave grave take it to one's grave grave turn (over) in one's grave gravy ride the gravy train gray get gray hair(s) gray give someone gray hair(s) gray gray area
 gray gray matter grease grease someone's palm grease use some elbow grease greased (as) quick as greased lightning greased like greased lightning greased quick as greased lightning great go great guns
 great in great demand
 great in great haste great make a great show of something great no great shakes
 great set great store by someone or something great take (great) pains (to do something) great think a great deal of someone or something great to a great extent great a great deal greatest the greatest thing since sliced bread Greek Greek to me
 Greek It's (all) Greek to me.
 green get the green light green give someone the green light green green around the gills green green with envy green have a green thumb grief come to grief grievances air one's grievances grin grin and bear it grind grind to a halt grind have an ax to grind (with someone) grind the daily grind grindstone keep one's nose to the grindstone grindstone put one's nose to the grindstone grip grip someone's attention grip lose one's grip
 grips come to grips with something grist grist for someone's mill grit grit one's teeth
 gritty get down to the nitty-gritty groan groan under the burden of something gross gross someone out ground break ground (for something) ground break new ground ground cover a lot of ground ground cut the ground out from under someone ground drive something into the ground ground from the ground up ground get in (on the ground floor) ground get one's feet on the ground ground get something off (the ground) ground give ground ground ground someone ground have one's ear to the ground ground have one's feet on the ground ground hold one's ground ground keep one's ear to the ground ground keep one's feet on the ground ground lose ground
 ground one's old stamping ground ground run something into the ground ground stand one's ground grounded grounded in fact grounds grounds for something grow grow on someone grow grow out of something grow grow to do something grow let grass grow under one's feet growing have growing pains grudge bear a grudge (against someone) grudge have a grudge (against someone) grudge hold a grudge (against someone) grudge nurse a grudge (against someone) gruff (as) gruff as a bear gruff gruff as a bear
 grunt grunt work
 guard catch one off one's guard guard catch someone off guard guard guard against someone or something guard on (one's) guard

guess by guess and by golly guess get another guess coming guess hazard a guess
guess Your guess is as good as mine.
guessed never would have guessed guest guest of honor guilty find someone guilty guinea serve as a guinea pig gulp gulp for air
gum gum something up gum gum up the works gun beat the gun
gun fire a gun
gun give her the gun
gun give it the gun
gun gun for someone
gun jump the gun
gun pull a gun (on someone) gun son of a gun
guns go great guns
guns stick to one's guns gut bust a gut (to do something) gut gut feeling gut gut reaction
gut gut response gut my gut tells me (that) something is so guts hate someone's guts gutter in the gutter gyp gyp someone out of something ha funny ha-ha
habit break a habit
habit break one's habit habit break the habit habit kick a habit
habit kick the habit
habits Old habits die hard.
hack hack something hackles get someone's hackles up had had best do something had had better do something had had (just) as soon do something had (had) known it was coming had had rather do something had had sooner do something had have been had had have had enough
had have had its day had have had it (up to here) had (have) never had it so good had never had it so good hail hail-fellow-well-met hail hail from somewhere hailing within hailing distance hair curl someone's hair hair get in someone's hair hair hang by a hair hair let one's hair down hair make someone's hair curl hair make someone's hair stand on end hair neither hide nor hair hair part someone's hair hair tear one's hair (out)

hair the hair of the dog that bit one haired fair-haired boy hair's by a hair(s) breadth) hairs get gray hair(s) hairs give someone gray hair(s) hairs split hairs
hale hale and hearty half at half-mast
half go off half-cocked Half Half a loaf is better than none.
half half-and-half half have half a mind to do something half have half a notion to do something half not half bad
half one's better half half six of one and half a dozen of the other halfhearted halfhearted (about someone or something) halfway meet someone halfway halt grind to a halt ham ham something up hamburger make hamburger out of someone or something hammer fight someone or something hammer hammer and tongs hammer go at it hammer and tongs hammer hammer away (at someone or something) hammer hammer something home hammer hammer something out hand at hand
hand bite the hand that feeds one hand bound hand and foot hand can't see one's hand in front of one's face hand close at hand hand do something by hand hand force someone's hand hand from hand to hand hand get a free hand (with someone or something) hand get a hand with something hand get the glad hand hand get the upper hand (on someone) hand give someone a free hand (with something) hand give someone a hand (for something) hand give someone a hand (with someone or something) hand give someone the glad hand hand hand in glove (with someone) hand hand in hand Hand Hand it over.
hand hand it to someone hand hand-me-down
hand hand over fist
hand hand over hand hand hand something down (to someone) hand hat in hand hand have a hand in something hand have one's hand in the till hand have something at hand hand have something in hand hand in hand hand keep one's hand in (something) hand know someone or something like the back of one's hand hand know someone or something like the palm of one's hand hand lend a hand (to someone) hand lend (someone) a hand hand lift a hand (against someone or something) hand live from hand to mouth hand near at hand hand not lift a hand (to help someone) hand on (the) one hand hand on the other hand hand out of hand

hand put one's hand to the plow hand raise a hand (against someone or something) hand show one's hand hand take a hand in something hand try one's hand (at something) hand wait on someone hand and foot hand (with) hat in hand hand with one hand tied behind one's back hand an old hand at doing something hand A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. handbasket go to hell in a handbasket handed catch someone red-handed handed caught red-handed handed come away empty-handed handed go away empty-handed handed pay someone a back-handed compliment handed pay someone a left-handed compliment handful by the handful handle fly off the handle handle get a handle on something handle handle someone with kid gloves handle have a handle on something handling postage and handling handling shipping and handling hands by a show of hands hands change hands
hands dirty one's hands hands do something hands down hands eat out of someone's hands hands fold one's hands hands get one's hands dirty hands get one's hands on someone or something hands hands down
Hands Hands off!
Hands Hands up!
hands have clean hands
hands have one's hands full (with someone or something) hands have one's hands tied hands have someone or something in one's hands hands have someone or something on one's hands hands have someone's blood on one's hands hands in good hands
hands join hands
hands keep one's hands off (someone or something) hands lay one's hands on someone or something hands leave someone or something in one's hands hands Many hands make light work. hands play into someone's hands hands put one's hand(s) on something hands putty in someone's hands hands shake (hands) on something hands shake hands (with someone) hands sit on its hands

hands sit on one's hands hands soil one's hands hands take the law into one's own hands hands throw one's hands up in despair hands throw one's hands up in horror hands tie someone's hands hands wash one's hands of someone or something hands with both hands tied behind one's back hands a show of hands handwriting read the handwriting on the wall handwriting see the (hand)writing on the wall handy come in handy hang get the hang of something hang hang a left
hang hang a right
hang hang around (with someone) hang hang back
hang hang by a hair
hang hang by a thread hang hang fire
hang hang in the balance hang hang in there
hang hang loose
hang hang one's hat (up) somewhere hang hang on someone's coattails hang hang on someone's every word hang hang on (to someone or something) hang hang out (somewhere) hang hang out (with someone) hang hang someone in effigy hang hang tough
hang hang up
hang let it all hang out hang not give a hang (about someone or something) hang somewhere to hang (up) one's hat hang a place to hang one's hat hanging have something hanging over one's head hanging keep someone or something hanging in midair hanging leave someone or something hanging in midair happen can't wait (for something to happen) happen happen (up)on someone or something happen have a hunch (that) something will happen happen sit back and let something happen happens in case something happens happens in the unlikely event that something happens happens just in case (something happens) happens no matter what happens happens the minute something happens happier couldn't be happier happily live happily ever after happy (as) happy as a clam happy (as) happy as a lark happy (as) happy as can be happy fat and happy
happy find a happy medium happy happy as a clam happy happy as a lark happy happy as can be happy hit a happy medium happy strike a happy medium harbinger a harbinger of things to come hard (as) hard as a rock hard (as) hard as nails hard (as) hard as stone hard between a rock and a hard place hard cold, hard cash hard come down hard on someone or something hard do something the hard way hard drive a hard bargain hard find (something) out the hard way hard get the hard sell hard give someone a hard time hard give someone the hard sell hard hard-and-fast hard hard as a rock

hard hard as nails
hard hard as stone
hard hard of hearing
hard hard on someone's heels hard hard pressed (to do something) hard hard put (to do something) hard hard up (for something) hard have a hard time hard hit someone hard hard learn (something) the hard way hard no hard feelings hard Old habits die hard.
hard play hard to get hard take a hard line (with someone) hard a hard nut to crack hard A little (hard) work never hurt anyone.
hard A little (hard) work never killed anyone. hardly hardly have time to breathe hardly hardly have time to think hare (as) mad as a March hare hare mad as a March hare harken hark(en) back to something harm No harm done.
harness get back into harness harp harp on something harping keep harping on something Harry (every) Tom, Dick, and Harry Harry Tom, Dick, and Harry has Every cloud has a silver lining.
has Every dog has his day.
has Every dog has its day.
has the moment everyone has been waiting for has The worm (has) turned.
hash hash something over Haste Haste makes waste.
haste in great haste hasty beat a (hasty) retreat hat at the drop of a hat hat eat one's hat
hat hang one's hat (up) somewhere hat hat in hand
hat keep something under one's hat hat old hat
hat pass the hat
hat pull something out of a hat hat somewhere to hang (up) one's hat hat take off one's hat (to someone) hat talk through one's hat hat toss one's hat into the ring hat wear more than one hat hat (with) hat in hand hat a place to hang one's hat hatband (as) tight as Dick's hatband hatband tight as Dick's hatband hatch count one's chickens before they hatch hatch down the hatch

hatches batten down the hatches hatchet bury the hatchet
hate hate someone's guts hate someone's pet hate hatter (as) mad as a hatter hatter mad as a hatter haul haul someone in haul haul someone over the coals haul haul up (somewhere) haul over the long haul haul over the short haul have and what have you have as luck would have it have do not have a care in the world have do not have a leg to stand on have do not have all one's marbles have eat one's cake and have it too have hardly have time to breathe have hardly have time to think have have a bad effect (on someone or something) have have a ball have have a bee in one's bonnet have have a big mouth have have a blowout have have a bone to pick (with someone) have have a brush with something have have a case (against someone) have have a change of heart have have a chip on one's shoulder have have a clean conscience (about someone or something) have have a clear conscience (about someone or something) have have a close call have have a close shave have have a clue (about something) have have a conniption (fit) have have a crack at something have have a familiar ring have have a feeling about something have have a feeling (that) have have a field day have have a finger in the pie have have a fit
have have a foot in both camps have have a frog in one's throat have have a glass jaw have have a go (at something) have have a good command of something have have a good head on one's shoulders have have a (good) mind to do something have have a good thing going have have a green thumb have have a grudge (against someone) have have a hand in something

- have have a handle on something have have a hard time have have a head for something have have a heart have have a hold on someone have have a hunch about something have have a hunch (that) something will happen have have a keen interest in something have have a look for someone or something have have a lot going (for one) have have a lot of promise have have a lot on one's mind have have a low boiling point have have a mind like a steel trap have have an accident have have an ace up one's sleeve have have an ax to grind (with someone) have have an ear for something have have a near miss have have an eye for someone or something have have an eye on someone or something have have an eye out (for someone or something) have have an in (with someone) have have an itch for something have have an itching palm have have an itch to do something have have an itchy palm have have a nose for something have have an out have have a one-track mind have have a passion for someone or something have have a peep have have a penchant for doing something have have a pick-me-up have have a price on one's head have have a right to do something have have a rough time (of it) have have arrived have have a run-in with someone have have a run of bad luck have have a run of something have have a say (in something) have have a score to settle (with someone) have have a scrape (with someone or something) have have a screw loose have have a shot at something have have a smoke have have a snowball's chance in hell have have a soft spot in one's heart for someone or something have have a spaz
 have have a stroke
 have have a sweet tooth have have a taste for something have have a thing going (with someone) have have a try at something have have at someone or something have have a vested interest in something have have a voice (in something) have have a way with someone or something have have a weakness for someone or something have have a whale of a time have have a word with someone have have back at someone have have bats in one's belfry have have bearing on something have have been around have have been had have have been through the mill have have been to hell and back have have bigger fish to fry have have broad shoulders have have clean hands have have cold feet
 have have come a long way have have contact with someone have have designs on someone or something have have dibs on something have have egg on one's face have have eyes bigger than one's stomach have have eyes in the back of one's head have have feet of clay have have foot-in-mouth disease have have growing pains have have had enough have have had its day have have had it (up to here) have have half a mind to do something have have half a notion to do something have have hell to pay
 Have Have I got something for you!
 Have Have I made myself clear? have have it all over someone or something have have it both ways have have it in for someone have have method in one's madness have have mixed feelings (about someone or something) have have money to burn have have more important fish to fry have (have) never had it so good have have no business doing something have have none of something have have no staying power have have nothing on someone or something have have nothing to do with someone or something have have one foot in the grave have have one for the road have have oneself something have have one's back to the wall have have one's cake and eat it too have have one's druthers have have one's ear to the ground have have one's feet on the ground have have one's finger in the pie have have one's finger in too many pies have have one's hand in the till have have one's hands full (with someone or something) have have one's hands tied have have one's head in the clouds have have one's heart go out to someone have have one's heart in the right place have have one's heart on one's sleeve have have one's heart set against something have have one's heart set on something have have one's heart stand still have have one's luck run out have have one's nose in a book have have one's nose in the air have have one's sights trained on something have have one's words stick in one's throat have have one's work cut out for one have have other fish to fry have have precedence over someone or something;

have have pull with someone have have rocks in one's head have have second thoughts about someone or something have have seen better days have have so have have someone or something in one's hands have have someone or something in tow have have someone or something on one's hands have have someone or something on one's mind have have someone's blood on one's hands have have someone's hide have have someone dead to rights have have someone in one's pocket have have someone on the string have have someone over have have someone pegged as something have have something at hand have have something at one's fingertips have have something coming (to one) have have something doing have have something down pat have have something going (for oneself) have have something going (with someone) have have something hanging over one's head have have something in common (with someone or something) have have something in hand have have something in stock have have something in store (for someone) have have something made have have something on have have something out (with someone) have have something stick in one's craw have have something to go have have something to spare have have sticky fingers have have the ball in one's court have have the best of both worlds have have the cards stacked against one have have the courage of one's convictions have have the deck stacked against one have have the devil to pay have have the feel of something have have the gall to do something have have the gift of gab have have the makings of something have have the Midas touch have have them rolling in the aisles have have the patience of a saint have have the presence of mind to do something have have the right-of-way have have the right to do something have have the shoe on the other foot have have the time of one's life have have the wherewithal (to do something) have have to do with someone or something have have to live with something have have too have have turned the corner have have two strikes against one have have what it takes Have Have you been keeping busy?

have I just have this feeling have let someone have it (with both barrels) have never would have guessed have only have eyes for someone have scarcely have time to breathe have should have stood in bed have Walls have ears.
have What have you been up to?
have Who would have thought?
have would like (to have) someone or something have The chickens have come home to roost. having feel like (having) something havoc play havoc with someone or something havoc raise havoc with someone or something havoc wreak havoc with something haw hem and haw (around) hawk watch someone or something like a hawk hay hit the hay
hay That ain't hay.
haystack like looking for a needle in a haystack haywire go haywire
hazard at hazard
hazard hazard a guess hazard hazard an opinion haze in a haze
He He laughs best who laughs last.
He He who laughs last, laughs longest.
He He who pays the piper calls the tune.
head able to do something standing on one's head head bang one's head against a brick wall head beat one's head against the wall head beat something into someone's head head bite someone's head off head bring something to a head head bury one's head in the sand head come to a head head drum something into someone's head head fall head over heels head from head to toe head get a head start (on someone or something) head get one's head above water head get someone or something out of one's head head get something into someone's thick head head give someone a head start (on someone or something) head give someone a swelled head head go over someone's head head go to someone's head head have a good head on one's shoulders head have a head for something head have a price on one's head head have eyes in the back of one's head head have one's head in the clouds head have rocks in one's head

- head have something hanging over one's head head head and shoulders above someone or something head head for someone or something head head for the last roundup head head over heels in debt head head over heels in love (with someone) head head someone or something off head head something up head hide one's head in the sand head hit the nail (right) on the head head hold one's head up head in over one's head head keep a civil tongue (in one's head) head keep one's head head lose one's head (over someone or something) head make someone's head spin head make someone's head swim head need something like a hole in the head head off the top of one's head head on someone's head head out of one's head head over someone's head head per head
head put ideas into someone's head head put one's head on the block (for someone or something) head rear its ugly head head run around like a chicken with its head cut off head talk someone's head off head touched (in the head) head trouble one's head about someone or something head turn someone's head head use one's head
head a head
heads can't make heads or tails (out) of someone or something heads heads or tails Heads Heads up!
heads heads will roll heads knock some heads together heads to count heads health get a clean bill of health health give someone a clean bill of health health in the best of health health nurse someone back to health healthy Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.) hear hear a peep out of someone hear hear of something hear hear someone out hear like to hear oneself talk hear Now hear this!
hear so quiet you could hear a pin drop hear so still you could hear a pin drop hear will not hear of something heard another country heard from heard make oneself heard hearing hard of hearing heart break someone's heart heart cross one's heart (and hope to die) heart die of a broken heart heart do someone's heart good heart eat one's heart out heart find it in one's heart (to do something) heart follow one's heart heart from the bottom of one's heart heart from the heart heart get at the heart of the matter heart get to the heart of the matter heart have a change of heart heart have a heart
heart have a soft spot in one's heart for someone or something heart have one's heart go out to someone heart have one's heart in the right place heart have one's heart on one's sleeve heart have one's heart set against something heart have one's heart set on something heart have one's heart stand still heart heart and soul heart know something by heart heart learn something by heart heart lose heart heart one's heart goes out to someone heart one's heart is (dead) set against something heart one's heart is in one's mouth heart one's heart is in the right place heart one's heart is set on something heart one's heart misses a beat heart one's heart skips a beat heart one's heart stands still heart open one's heart (to someone) heart pour one's heart (out to someone) heart set one's heart against something heart set one's heart on something heart take heart heart take something to heart heart warm the cockles of someone's heart heart wear one's heart on one's sleeve heart with a heavy heart heart with all one's heart and soul heart an aching heart heartbeat be a heartbeat away from something heartbeat do something in a heartbeat heart's to one's heart's content heartly hale and hearty heat in a dead heat heat in heat
heat put the heat on (someone) heat turn the heat up (on someone) heave get the (old) heave-ho heave give someone or something the (old) heave-ho heaven in heaven
heaven in seventh heaven heaven move heaven and earth to do something heaven smell to high heaven heaven stink to high heaven heavy heavy going heavy hot and heavy heavy with a heavy heart heck for the heck of it
hedge hedge one's bets heed take heed
heeled well-heeled

heels cool one's heels heels dig one's heels in heels down-at-the-heels heels fall head over heels heels hard on someone's heels heels head over heels in debt heels head over heels in love (with someone) heels kick up one's heels heels on the heels of something heels set one back on one's heels heels take to one's heels height at the height of something hell (all) shot to hell hell (as) hot as hell hell (as) mad as hell hell catch hell
hell come hell or high water hell for the hell of it hell get hell
hell give someone hell
hell go to (hell)
hell go to hell in a handbasket hell have a snowball's chance in hell hell have been to hell and back hell have hell to pay hell hell-bent for leather hell hell on earth
hell hot as hell
hell like a bat out of hell hell mad as hell
hell raise hell (with someone or something) hell shot to hell
hell through hell and high water hell to hell and gone hell until hell freezes over hell when hell freezes over hell You scared the hell out of me. hello drop in (to say hello) helm at the helm (of something) help cannot help doing something help can't help but do something help help do something help help oneself
help help (someone or something) out (with someone or something) help not able to help something help not lift a finger (to help someone) help not lift a hand (to help someone) help pitch in (and help) hem hem and haw (around) hem hem someone or something in hen (as) mad as a wet hen hen mad as a wet hen hens' (as) scarce as hens' teeth hens' scarcer than hens' teeth her give her the gun her give the devil her due her let her rip herd ride herd on someone or something here downhill from here on here have had it (up to here) here here and there

Here Here goes nothing.
Here Here (it) goes.
here here, there, and everywhere Here Here you go.
here neither here nor there here same here
here the here and now
Here's Here's looking at you.
Here's Here's mud in your eye.
Here's Here's to someone or something.
herring red herring herself by herself
hibernating (as) busy as a hibernating bear hibernating busy as a hibernating bear hide have someone's hide hide hide-and-seek hide hide one's face in shame hide hide one's head in the sand hide hide one's light under a bushel hide neither hide nor hair hide tan someone's hide hiding go into hiding hiding Where've you been hiding yourself?
high act high-and-mighty high (as) high as a kite high (as) high as the sky high be flying high high come hell or high water high eat high on the hog high get into high gear high get off your high horse high get the high sign high give someone the high sign high go sky-high high high and dry high high-and-mighty
high high as a kite
high high man on the totem pole high high on something high hit the high spots high hold someone in high regard high hunt high and low (for someone or something) high in high dudgeon high in high gear
high It's high time!
high knee-high to a grasshopper high leave someone high and dry high live high off the hog high live high on the hog high look high and low (for someone or something) high running high high search high and low (for someone or something) high smell to high heaven high stink to high heaven high through hell and high water highflier highflier highly speak highly of someone or something highly think highly of someone or something hightail hightail it out of somewhere highways highways and byways hike Take a hike!
hill not worth a hill of beans

- hill over the hill
hills (as) old as the hills hills old as the hills himself by himself
hind (as) crooked as a dog's hind leg hind crooked as a dog's hind leg hindsight in hindsight hinge hinge on something hint take a hint
hip shoot from the hip hire new hire
hire not for hire
his beard the lion in his den his Every dog has his day.
his give the devil his due his A fool and his money are soon parted. history go down in history hit hit a happy medium hit hit-and-miss hit hit-and-run
hit hit a plateau
hit hit a snag
hit hit a sour note
hit hit bottom hit hit home
hit hit it off (with someone) hit hit one's stride hit hit one close to home hit hit one where one lives hit hit-or-miss hit hit pay dirt hit hit (someone) below the belt hit hit someone hard hit hit (someone) like a ton of bricks hit hit someone (right) between the eyes hit hit someone up (for something) hit hit the books
hit hit the bottle
hit hit the bricks
hit hit the bull's-eye hit hit the ceiling
hit hit the hay hit hit the high spots
hit hit the jackpot
hit hit the nail (right) on the head hit hit the road
hit hit the sack
hit hit the skids
hit hit the spot
hit hit (up)on something hit make a hit (with someone or something) hit pinch-hit (for someone) hitch hitch a ride
hither hither and thither hither hither, thither, and yon hitting hitting on all cylinders hive a hive of activity ho get the (old) heave-ho ho give someone or something the (old) heave-ho hoarse (as) hoarse as a crow hoarse hoarse as a crow hob play hob with someone or something hob raise hob with someone or something Hobson's Hobson's choice hock go into hock
hock in hock
hoe tough row to hoe
hog eat high on the hog hog go hog-wild hog go whole hog hog live high off the hog hog live high on the hog hog road-hog
hoist hoist by one's own petard hoist hoist with one's own petard hold can't hold a candle to someone hold Don't hold your breath.
hold have a hold on someone hold hold a grudge (against someone) hold hold all the aces
hold hold a meeting
hold hold forth (on something) hold hold no brief for someone or something hold hold one's breath hold hold one's end (of the bargain) up hold hold one's fire hold hold one's ground hold hold one's head up hold hold one's own
hold hold one's peace hold hold one's temper
hold hold one's tongue hold hold on (to someone or something) hold hold out for something hold hold out the olive branch hold hold someone or something in check hold hold someone or something over hold hold someone or something still hold hold someone or something up hold hold someone's attention hold hold someone down hold hold someone hostage hold hold someone in high regard hold hold something against someone hold hold still hold hold the fort
hold hold the line (at someone or something) hold hold true
hold hold up
hold hold with something Hold Hold your horses!
Hold Hold your tongue!
hold lay hold of someone or something hold not hold a candle to someone or something hold not hold a stick to someone or something hold not hold water hold on hold
hold put a hold on something hold put someone or something on hold holding leave someone holding the bag holds no holds barred hole ace in the hole
hole hole up (somewhere)
hole in the hole

hole Money burns a hole in someone's pocket.
hole need something like a hole in the head hole out of the hole hole punch a hole in something hole someone's ace in the hole hole a hole in one hole a square peg in a round hole holes pick holes in something holiday a busman's holiday holier holier-than-thou holler hoot and holler homage pay homage to someone home at home
home bring home the bacon home bring something home to someone home close to home
home come home (to roost) home come home to someone home drive something home home eat someone out of house and home home feel at home
home hammer something home home hit home
home hit one close to home home home in (on someone or something) home keep the home fires burning home make oneself at home home nothing to write home about home see someone home home strike home
home take something home (with oneself) home till the cows come home home (un)til the cows come home home The chickens have come home to roost.
honest honest and aboveboard Honest Honest to God.
Honest Honest to goodness.
Honest Honest to Pete. honestly come by something honestly honey (as) sweet as honey honey sweet as honey honeymoon The honeymoon is over.
honor guest of honor honor honor someone's check honor in honor of someone or something honor on one's honor honors do the honors
hood look under the hood Hood's all around Robin Hood's barn hook (as) crooked as a fish hook hook by hook or (by) crook hook crooked as a fish hook hook get off the hook hook get (someone) off the hook hook let someone off (the hook) hook swallow something, hook, line, and sinker hooked hooked (on something) hooks (as) crooked as a barrel of fish hooks hooks crooked as a barrel of fish hooks hooks get one's hooks into someone or something hooky play hooky
hoop jump through a hoop

hoops jump through hoops hoot hoot and holler hoot not give a hoot (about someone or something) hoots not care two hoots (about someone or something) hoots not give two hoots (about someone or something) Hop Hop to it!
hop a hop, skip, and a jump hope cross one's heart (and hope to die) hope hope against (all) hope hopeless hopeless at doing something hopes in hopes of something hopes pin one's hope(s) on someone or something hopped hopped up horizon loom large (on the horizon) horizon on the horizon
horn blow one's own horn horn horn in (on someone or something) horn toot one's own horn hornet (as) mad as a hornet hornet mad as a hornet hornet's stir up a hornet's nest horns lock horns (with someone) horns on the horns of a dilemma horns seize the bull by the horns horns take the bull by the horns horror in horror horror throw one's hands up in horror horse (as) strong as a horse horse back the wrong horse horse beat a dead horse horse dark horse
horse eat like a horse horse get a charley horse horse get off your high horse horse horse and buggy horse horse and carriage horse horse around
horse horse sense
horse put the cart before the horse horse strong as a horse horse work like a horse horse a horse of a different color horse a horse of another color horseback on horseback horses change horses in the middle of the stream horse's from the horse's mouth horses Hold your horses!
horse's (straight) from the horse's mouth horses Wild horses couldn't drag someone. hostage hold someone hostage hostage take someone hostage hot (as) busy as a cat on a hot tin roof hot (as) hot as fire hot (as) hot as hell
hot blow hot and cold hot busy as a cat on a hot tin roof hot full of hot air
hot get in(to) hot water hot hot and bothered hot hot and heavy
hot hot as fire
hot hot as hell

hot hot on something hot hot under the collar
hot in hot water
hot in the hot seat
hot make it hot for someone hot on the hot seat hot piping hot hot strike while the iron is hot hotcakes sell like hotcakes hotfoot hotfoot it out of somewhere hound's (as) clean as a hound's tooth hound's clean as a hound's tooth hour at the bottom of the hour hour at the eleventh hour hour at the top of the hour hour by the hour
hour eleventh-hour decision hour on the hour
hours after hours
hours for hours on end hours keep late hours
hours small hours (of the night) hours There aren't enough hours in the day.
hours till all hours (of the day and night) hours until all hours hours wee hours (of the night) house bring down the house house eat someone out of house and home house keep house
house like a house afire house like a house on fire house on the house house put one's house in order
How How goes it (with you)?
how know-how how a fine how-de-do
how a fine how-do-you-do How's How's it going?
How's How's the world (been) treating you?
Hoyle according to Hoyle hue a hue and cry
huff huff and puff
huff in a huff
human milk of human kindness humanly everything humanly possible humble eat humble pie
hump over the hump
hunch have a hunch about something hunch have a hunch (that) something will happen hundred one in a hundred hung hung up (on someone or something) hunger hunger for something hungry (as) hungry as a bear hungry (as) hungry as a hunter hungry hungry as a bear hungry hungry as a hunter hungry hungry for something hunt hunt-and-peck
hunt hunt high and low (for someone or something) hunt hunt someone or something up hunter (as) hungry as a hunter hunter hungry as a hunter hurl hurl an insult (at someone) hurry get a hurry on hurt cry before one is hurt hurt not hurt a flea hurt What one doesn't know won't hurt one.

hurt A little (hard) work never hurt anyone.
hush hush money
Hush Hush your mouth!
hush a hush fell over someone or something hustle hustle and bustle Hyde Jekyll and Hyde
I as I expected
I Do I need to paint you a picture?
I for all I care
I for all I know
I Have I got something for you!
I Have I made myself clear?
I I didn't catch your name.
I I just have this feeling
I I'm damned if I do and damned if I don't.
I (just) as I expected
I (Now), where was I?
I so mad I could scream
I What can I say?
I Where was I?
ice break the ice
ice cut no ice (with someone) ice on thin ice
ice put something on ice ice skate on thin ice idea flirt with the idea of doing something idea get a bright idea idea get a rough idea (about something) idea get a rough idea (of something) idea give someone a bright idea idea give someone a rough idea (about something) idea give someone a rough idea (of something) idea sell someone on a plan or idea ideas put ideas into someone's head identity a case of mistaken identity idiot take someone for an idiot idly sit (idly) by if better off (if one were somewhere else) if better off (if something were done) if if looks could kill if if not if if push comes to shove
if if so
If If the shoe fits, wear it.
if if worst comes to worst if I'm damned if I do and damned if I don't.
if look as if butter wouldn't melt in one's mouth if make as if to do something if not know if one is coming or going if sound as if if what if ifs no ifs, ands, or buts about it ignorant play ignorant ill fall ill
ill ill at ease
ill ill-disposed to doing something I'll I'll drink to that!

ill ill-gotten gains
I'll I'll (try to) catch you later.
ill ill will ill speak ill of someone ill take ill
I'll You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours.
I'm I'm awful at names.
I'm I'm damned if I do and damned if I don't.
I'm (I'm) sorry.
I'm I'm terrible at names.
image be the spit and image of someone image be the spitting image of someone imagine Can you imagine?
Imagine Imagine that!
immediate immediate occupancy immemorial since time immemorial impact on impact impact (up)on impact impartial fair and impartial impasse reach an impasse implicate implicate someone (in something) important have more important fish to fry impression make an impression (on someone) impulse on impulse impunity with impunity
in ace in the hole
in advanced in years in air one's dirty linen in public in all in
in (all) in one breath
in (all) in the family in along in years
in (another) nail in someone's or something's coffin in Any port in a storm.
in arm in arm
in arrive in a body
in as alike as (two) peas in a pod in (as) calm as a toad in the sun in (as) slow as molasses in January in (as) snug as a bug in a rug in at this point (in time) in back in circulation in barge in (on someone or something) in beard the lion in his den in bear in mind that something is so in bear someone or something in mind in behind in something in be swimming in something in blaze a trail (in something) in blow up in someone's face in born with a silver spoon in one's mouth in break out in a cold sweat in break out (in something) in break someone or something in in bring people or other creatures out in droves in broad in the beam in build castles in Spain in build castles in the air in burn one's bridges in front of one in burn someone in effigy in burst in on someone or something in bury one's head in the sand in butt in (on someone or something) in buy a pig in a poke in call someone or something in in calm as a toad in the sun in can't see one's hand in front of one's face in cash in one's chips in cash in (on something) in cash something in in cast in the same mold in cast one's lot in with someone in catch someone in the act (of doing something) in caught in the act in caught in the cross fire in caught in the middle in cave in (to someone or something) in change horses in the middle of the stream in check in (on someone or something) in chime in (with something) in chink in one's armor in chip in (on something) in chip in something on something in chip something in (on something) in close in (on someone or something) in clue someone in (on something) in come down in the world in come in a body

in come in for something in come in handy in come in out of the rain in come out in the wash in come up in the world in confide in someone in contradiction in terms in count someone in (on something) in cue someone in in cut someone in
in dart in and out
in day in and day out in day in, day out in dead in someone's or something's tracks in deal in something in decide in favor of someone or something in die in one's boots in dig in
in dig one's heels in in dog in the manger
in done in
in do not have a care in the world in do someone or something in in do something in a heartbeat in do something in person in do something in public in do something in secret in do something in vain in double in brass
in down in the dumps
in down in the mouth in drop in one's tracks in drop in (on someone) in drop in (to say hello) in dyed-in-the-wool
in engage in small talk

- in even in the best of times in (every) once in a while in fall head over heels in love (with someone) in fall in in feel something in one's bones in fence someone in in figure in something in fill someone in (on someone or something) in find it in one's heart (to do something) in first thing (in the morning) in fish in troubled waters in fit in someone in fit in (with someone or something) in fly in the face of someone or something in fly in the teeth of someone or something in follow in someone's footsteps in follow in someone's tracks in fools rush in (where angels fear to tread) in get a bee in one's bonnet in get a frog in one's throat in get along (in years) in get a lump in one's throat in get an in (with someone) in get ants in one's pants in get a word in edgeways
in get a word in edgewise in get butterflies in one's stomach in get in on something in get in (on the ground floor) in get in someone's hair in get in touch (with someone) in get it in the neck in get one's ducks in a row in get one's foot in the door in get something out in the open in get stars in one's eyes in give in (to someone or something) in give one butterflies in one's stomach in go a long way in doing something in go (a)round in circles in go down in history in go in a body
in go in for something in go in one ear and out the other in Go jump in the lake!
in Go play in the traffic!
in go to hell in a handbasket!
in go up in flames
in go up in smoke
in grounded in fact in hand in glove (with someone) in hand in hand
in hang in the balance in hang in there in hang someone in effigy in hat in hand
in haul someone in in have a bee in one's bonnet in have a finger in the pie in have a foot in both camps in have a frog in one's throat in have a hand in something in have a keen interest in something in have an in (with someone) in have a run-in with someone in have a say (in something) in have a snowball's chance in hell in have a soft spot in one's heart for someone or something in have a vested interest in something in have a voice (in something) in have bats in one's belfry in have eyes in the back of one's head in have foot-in-mouth disease in have it in for someone in have method in one's madness in have one foot in the grave in have one's finger in the pie in have one's finger in too many pies in have one's hand in the till in have one's head in the clouds in have one's heart in the right place in have one's nose in a book in have one's nose in the air in have one's words stick in one's throat in have rocks in one's head in have someone or something in one's hands in have someone or something in tow in have someone in one's pocket in have something in mind in have something in common (with someone or something) in have something in hand in have something in stock in have something in store (for someone) in have something stick in one's craw in have the ball in one's court in have them rolling in the aisles in have too many irons in the fire in head over heels in debt in head over heels in love (with someone) in hem someone or something in in Here's mud in your eye.
in hide one's face in shame in hide one's head in the sand in hold someone or something in check in hold someone in high regard in home in (on someone or something) in horn in (on someone or something) in implicate someone (in something) in in a bad mood
in in a bad way
in in abeyance
in in a bind
in in accordance with something in in a (constant) state of flux in in a coon's age in in addition (to something) in in a dead heat in in advance
in in a family way
in in a fix
in in a flash
in in a fog
in in a fool's paradise in in agreement

in in a haze
in in a huff
in in a jam
in in a jiffy
in in a lather
in in a little bit in in (all) good conscience in in all one's born days in in all probability in in a mad rush
in in a month of Sundays in in and of itself in in a nutshell
in in any case
in in any event
in in a pinch
in in apple-pie order in in a (pretty) pickle in in a quandary
in in a real pickle
in in arrears
in in a rut
in in a sense
in in a snit
in in a split second in in a stage whisper in in a stew (about someone or something) in in a stupor
in in a (tight) spot
in in a tizzy
in in at the kill
in in a vicious circle in in awe (of someone or something) in in a word
in in a world of one's own in in bad faith
in in bad sorts
in in bad taste in in bad (with someone) in in behalf of someone in in between
in in black and white in in bloom
in in blossom
in in brief
in in broad daylight in in bulk
in in cahoots (with someone) in in care of someone in in case
in in character
in in clover
in in cold blood in in cold storage
in in concert (with someone) in in condition
in in consequence (of something) in in consideration of something in in contempt (of court) in in creation
in in custody of someone or something in in debt

in in deep in in defiance (of someone or something) in in denial
in in detail
in in disguise
in in drag
in in due course in in due time in in Dutch (with someone) in in earnest
in in effect
in in essence
in in exchange (for someone or something) in in existence
in in fact in in fashion
in in favor of someone in in favor (of someone or something) in in fear and trembling in in fine feather
in in flight
in in flux
in in force in in for something in in full swing
in in general
in in good condition in in good faith
in in good hands
in in good repair
in in good shape
in in good spirits
in in good time
in in good (with someone) in in great demand in in great haste
in in hand
in in heat
in in heaven
in in high dudgeon
in in high gear
in in hindsight
in in hock
in in honor of someone or something in in hopes of something in in horror
in in hot water in in ink
in in its entirety in in its prime in in jeopardy
in in (just) a minute in in (just) a second in in keeping (with something) in in kind in in labor in in league (with someone) in in less than no time in in lieu of something in in light of something in in limbo
in in line

- in in love (with someone or something) in in luck
in in many respects
in in memory of someone in in midair
in in mint condition in in name only in in need
in in neutral
in in no mood to do something in in nothing flat in in no time (at all)
in in no uncertain terms in in one breath
in in one ear and out (of) the other in in one fell swoop in in one's birthday suit in in one's blood in in one's book
in in one's cups
in in one's element in in one's glory
in in one's mind's eye in in one's opinion
in in one's (own) backyard in in one's (own) (best) interest(s) in in one's prime in in one's right mind
in in one's salad days in in one's second childhood in in one's spare time in in one's Sunday best in in on the kill in in orbit
in in order to do something in in other words in in over one's head in in park
in in part in in passing in in pencil
in in perpetuity
in in person
in in place in in plain English in in plain language in in poor taste
in in practice
in in print in in private in in progress in in proportion in in public
in in pursuit of something in in quest of someone or something in in rags
in in reality
in in receipt of something in in recent memory in in rehearsal
in in remission
in in retrospect
in in return for (someone or something) in in round figures in in round numbers
in in ruin
in in search of someone or something in in season
in in secret
in in session
in in seventh heaven
in in shambles
in in shape
in in short in in sight
in (in) single file in in so many words in in someone else's place in in someone else's shoes in in someone's or something's custody in in someone's behalf in in someone's favor in in someone's name
in in someone's prayers in in some respects
in in some neck of the woods in in spite of someone or something in in step (with someone or something) in in stock
in in storage
in instrumental in doing something in in style in in surgery
in in tandem
in in tatters
in in terms of something in in the absence of someone or something in in the act (of doing something) in in the affirmative in in the air
in in the altogether
in in the balance
in in the bargain
in in the best of health in in the black in in the blood
in in the buff
in in the bullpen in in the cards
in in the care of someone in in the case of someone or something in in the charge of someone in in the chips
in in the clear in in the context of something in in the course of time in in the dark (about someone or something) in in the doghouse
in in the doldrums
in in the driver's seat in in the event of something in in the family in in the final analysis in in the first instance in in the first place in in the flesh

in in the forefront (of something) in in the gutter
in in the hole
in in the hot seat
in in the interest of someone or something in in the interim (between things) in in their entirety in in the know
in in the lap of luxury in in the last analysis in in the laundry
in in the limelight
in in the line of duty in in the long run
in in the mainstream (of something) in in the market (for something) in in the meantime in in the middle of nowhere in in the money in in the mood for something in in the mood to do something in in the near future in in the neighborhood of something in in the nick of time in in the nude
in in the offing
in in the open
in in theory
in in the pink (of condition) in in the prime of life in in the public eye in in the raw
in in the rear
in in the red
in in there pitching in in the right
in in the running in in the same boat (as someone) in in the same breath in in the second place in in the short run in in the soup
in in the spotlight
in in the swim of things in in the trust of someone in in the twinkling of an eye in in the unlikely event of something in in the unlikely event that something happens in in the (very) nick of time in in the wake of something in in the way of something in in the wind
in in the works
in in the world
in in the worst way
in in the wrong
in in this day and age
in in time
in in top form in in tow

in in transit
in in triplicate
in in trouble
in in tune
in in turn in in two shakes of a lamb's tail in in unison
in invest someone's time in something in invest something in someone or something in in view of something in in with someone in just in case (something happens) in keep a civil tongue (in one's head) in keep in touch (with someone) in keep one's hand in (something) in keep someone or something hanging in midair in keep someone or something in check in keep someone or something in mind in keep someone in line in keep someone in stitches in keep someone out in the cold in kick something in in know something in one's bones in late in life
in late in the day in lay something in in leave a bad taste in someone's mouth in leave someone or something hanging in midair in leave someone or something in one's hands in leave someone in peace in leave someone in the lurch in leave someone out in the cold in let someone in on something in lie in state
in lie in wait for someone or something in Lightning never strikes twice (in the same place). in like looking for a needle in a haystack in like (two) peas in a pod in live in
in lock something in in look as if butter wouldn't melt in one's mouth in look in (on someone or something) in look like something the cat dragged in in look someone in the eye in look someone in the face in lose oneself (in something) in lost in thought in make a dent in something in melt in one's mouth in mention someone or something in passing in milestone in someone's life in misplace one's trust (in someone) in Money burns a hole in someone's pocket. in move in (on someone or something) in move up (in the world) in much in evidence in muscle in (on someone or something) in nail in someone's or something's coffin in need something like a hole in the head in never in one's life in nip something in the bud in no point in something

- in not for (anything in) the world in not in the same league with someone or something in not know enough to come in out of the rain in not take stock in something in once in a blue moon in once-in-a-lifetime chance in once in a while in one in a hundred in one in a million
in one in a thousand in one's heart is in one's mouth in one's heart is in the right place in one's nose is in the air in on in years
in out in force in out in left field in packed (in) like sardines in pack them in
in paper over the cracks (in something) in pay in advance in persist in doing something in pick holes in something in pie in the sky
in pitch in (and help) in plug something in in pride oneself in something in punch a hole in something in put a bee in someone's bonnet in put all one's eggs in one basket in put in a good word (for someone) in put in an appearance in put oneself in someone else's place in put oneself in someone else's shoes in put one's foot in it in put one's foot in one's mouth in put one's house in order in put one's oar in in put one's two cents(' worth) in in put one in one's place in put someone in the picture in put something down in black and white in put something in in Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
in putty in someone's hands in quake in one's boots in raised in a barn
in red in the face
in rest in peace in result in something in rich in something in ride off in all directions in ring in the New Year in roll in
in rolling in something in roll (over) in one's grave in Rome wasn't built in a day.
in rooted in something in rub salt in the wound in rub someone's nose in it in rub something in in run (around) in circles in run in the family in run someone in
in safety in numbers in say something in a roundabout way in set in in set someone up (in business) in shake in one's boots in ships that pass in the night in should have stood in bed in sick in bed
in sink in
in sit in for someone in sit in (on something) in sleep in
in slow as molasses in January in slower than molasses in January in smack-dab in the middle in snug as a bug in a rug in someone's ace in the hole in someone's mission in life in (somewhere) in the neighborhood of an amount in stab someone in the back in stand in awe (of someone or something) in stand (in) back of someone or something in stand in (for someone) in stand in someone's way in stand someone in good stead in stare someone in the face in start someone in (as something) in stay in touch (with someone) in stew in one's own juice in stick-in-the-mud in stick one's foot in one's mouth in stop in (somewhere) in (stuck) in a rut
in stuck in traffic
in suck someone in in take a course (in something) in take a hand in something in take an interest (in something) in take no stock in something in take part (in something) in take pride in something in take someone or something in in take someone in in take something in stride in take the bit in one's teeth in talk in circles
in talk until one is blue in the face in There aren't enough hours in the day.
in There are plenty of other fish in the sea.
in throw in the sponge
in throw in the towel
in throw one's hands up in despair in throw one's hands up in horror in tie someone (up) in knots in tongue-in-cheek
in touched (in the head) in tune (something) in in turn in in turn (over) in one's grave in up in arms
in up in the air (about someone or something)

in up in years
in up to one's ears (in something) in up to one's eyeballs (in something) in up to one's neck (in something) in use every trick in the book in waiting in the wings in wash one's dirty linen in public in weave in and out (of something) in week in, week out in well up in years
in When in Rome, do as the Romans do.
in (with) hat in hand
in with the best will in the world in work someone or something in in worth its weight in gold in wrapped up in someone or something in year in, year out in zero in on something in zoom in (on someone or something) in an end in itself in a babe in the woods
in a big frog in a small pond in A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. in a blessing in disguise in a bull in a china shop in a case in point in a crick in one's back in a crick in one's neck in a diamond in the rough in a drop in the bucket in a drop in the ocean in a feather in one's cap in a flash in the pan in a fly in the ointment in A friend in need is a friend indeed. in a hole in one
in a kink in my neck
in a pain in the neck in a shot in the arm in a shot in the dark in a skeleton in the closet in a slap in the face in a snake in the grass in a square peg in a round hole in a tempest in a teapot in a thorn in someone's side in a wolf in sheep's clothing in the in thing (to do) in the man in the street inch come within an inch of doing something inch every inch a something inch every inch the something inch Give one an inch, and one will take a mile. inch inch along (something) inch inch by inch inch within an inch of one's life inclined inclined to do something incumbent incumbent upon someone to do something indeed A friend in need is a friend indeed. influence under the influence (of alcohol) influence under the influence of something information a gold mine of information information a mine of information iniquity a den of iniquity initiative take the initiative (to do something) injury add insult to injury ink in ink

innocent (as) innocent as a lamb innocent find someone innocent innocent innocent as a lamb innocent play innocent ins ins and outs of something inside get the inside track inside inside the box inside know something inside out inside thinking inside the box inside think inside the box instance for instance instance in the first instance instrumental instrumental in doing something insult add insult to injury insult hurl an insult (at someone) intent intent on doing something intents for all intents and purposes interest draw interest interest have a keen interest in something interest have a vested interest in something interest in the interest of someone or something interest of interest (to someone) interest pique someone's interest interest take an interest (in something) interests in one's (own) (best) interest(s) interim in the interim (between things) intervals at regular intervals into beat something into someone's head into be into something into break (out) in(to) tears into break something down (into something) into bring something into question into bump into someone into burst into flames
into burst into tears into call someone or something into question into check into something into come into its own into come into one's own into come into something into dip in(to) something into drive something into the ground into drum something into someone's head into fall into a trap into fall in(to) line into fall in(to) place into fall into someone's trap into fall into the trap into far into the night into fit someone in(to) something into fly into the face of danger into get back into circulation into get back into harness into get into a jam into get into a mess into get into an argument (with someone) into get into full swing

- into get into high gear into get in(to) hot water into get into the act into get into the swing of things into get (oneself) into a stew (over someone or something) into get one's hooks into someone or something into get one's teeth into something into get something into someone's thick head into go into action
into go into a nosedive into go into a tailspin into go into detail
into go into effect
into go into hiding
into go into hock
into go into one's song and dance (about something) into go into orbit
into go into something into in(to) a jam into into being into in(to) someone's clutches into jump into the fray into lace into someone or something into lapse into a coma into lay into someone or something into lick something into shape into light into someone or something into look into something into lull someone into a false sense of security into move into something into nose in(to something) into out of the frying pan into the fire into pile in(to something) into play into someone's hands into plow into someone or something into poke one's nose in(to something) into put ideas into someone's head into put one's back (in)to something into put some teeth into something into put something into practice into put something into print into put something into words into put words into someone's mouth into read something into something into rip into someone or something into rope someone into doing something into run into a stone wall into run into someone into run something into the ground into see into something into send someone into something into sink into despair into sink one's teeth into something into step into someone's shoes into step in(to the breach) into stick one's nose in(to something) into stumble into someone or something into swing into action into take someone or something into account into take someone into one's confidence into take the law into one's own hands into talk someone into (doing) something into tear into someone or something into throw a monkey wrench into the works into throw something into the bargain into tie into something into toss one's hat into the ring into trick someone into doing something into tuck into something into vanish into thin air into wade in(to something) into whip something into shape into work (one's way) into something into work something into something else invasion invasion of (someone's) privacy inventory take inventory invest invest someone's time in something invest invest someone with something invest invest something in someone or something involved get involved (with someone) iota not one iota
Irish get someone's Irish up iron iron something out iron strike while the iron is hot irons have too many irons in the fire is after all is said and done is All that glitters is not gold. is (as) black as one is painted is (as) far as someone or something is concerned is (as) merry as the day is long is bear in mind that something is so is Beauty is only skin-deep.
is be of the persuasion that something is so is black as one is painted is Blood is thicker than water. is cry before one is hurt is deem that it is necessary is Enough is enough.
is expense is no object is far as something is concerned is get out while the getting is good is give credit where credit is due is Half a loaf is better than none. is know when one is not wanted is know which is which is know which side one's bread is buttered on is life is too short is many is the time is merry as the day is long is Money is no object.
is Money is the root of all evil.
is my gut tells me (that) something is so is No news is good news. is not all something is cracked up to be is not know if one is coming or going is not know whether one is coming or going is not what something is cracked up to be is One man's meat is another man's poison.
is One man's trash is another man's treasure.
is One's bark is worse than one's bite.
is one's heart is (dead) set against something is one's heart is in one's mouth is one's heart is in the right place is one's heart is set on something

- is one's name is mud
- is one's nose is in the air
- is one's number is up
- is one's work is cut out for one
- is Pretty is as pretty does.
- is provided that something is so
- is Put your money where your mouth is!
- is recognize one for what one is
- is recognize something for what it is
- is say that something is so
- is seeing is believing
- is see (to it) that something is done
- is see which way the wind is blowing
- is so far as someone or something is concerned
- is so far as something is concerned
- is someone's goose is cooked
- is strike while the iron is hot
- is such as it is
- is Such is life!
- is talk until one is blue in the face
- is tell which is which
- is The jig is up.
- is there is no doing something
- is There is trouble brewing.
- is This is it.
- is Time is money.
- is Time is up.
- is Trouble is brewing.
- is turn out (that) something is so
- is Variety is the spice of life.
- is What's done is done.
- is when all is said and done
- is when one is good and ready
- is when the time is ripe
- is where one is coming from
- is Woe is me!
- is Your guess is as good as mine.
- is Your secret is safe with me.
- is An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
- is A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.
- is A friend in need is a friend indeed.
- is A little knowledge is a dangerous thing.
- is A penny saved is a penny earned.
- is A storm is brewing.
- is The coast is clear.
- is The die is cast.
- is The game is up.
- is The honeymoon is over.
- is The jig is up.
- is The jury is still out (on someone or something).
- is The shoe is on the other foot.
- is the time is ripe
- issue issue a call for something
- issue make an issue of someone or something
- issue take issue (with someone)
- it Ain't it the truth?
- it almost lost it
- it as far as it goes
- it as it were
- it as luck would have it
- it at it again
- it before you know it
- it believe it or not
- it be that as it may
- it Break it up!
- it call it a day
- it call it a night
- it call it quits
- it can take it to the bank.
- it catch it
- it Come and get it!
- it Come off it!
- it come to think of it
- it Cool it!
- it cross a bridge before one comes to it
- it cross a bridge when one comes to it
- it Cut it out!
- it deem it (to be) necessary
- it deem that it is necessary
- it Don't let it go any further.
- it Don't let it out of this room
- it Easy does it.
- it eat one's cake and have it too
- it far be it from me to do something
- it far from it
- it feel it beneath one (to do something)
- it find it in one's heart (to do something)
- it for the devil of it
- it for the heck of it
- it for the hell of it
- it full of it
- it get away (from it all)
- it get it
- it Get off it!
- it Give it a rest.
- it give it the gun
- it Give it time.
- it give it to someone (straight)
- it Give it up.
- it go at it hammer and tongs
- it go at it tooth and nail
- it go for it
- it go it alone
- it grin and bear it
- it (had) known it was coming
- it Hand it over.
- it hand it to someone
- it have a rough time (of it)
- it have had it (up to here)
- it have it all over someone or something
- it have it both ways
- it have it in for someone
- it (have) never had it so good
- it have one's cake and eat it too
- it have what it takes
- it Here (it) goes.
- it hightail it out of somewhere
- it hit it off (with someone)
- it Hop to it!
- it hotfoot it out of somewhere
- it How goes it (with you)?
- it How's it going?
- it If the shoe fits, wear it.
- It It behooves one to do something.

- It It never rains but it pours.
 It It (only) stands to reason.
 It It sucks.
 It It takes (some) getting used to.
 it Keep at it!
 it knew it was coming
 it knock it off
 it known it was coming
 it lay it on thick
 it lay it on with a trowel it let it all hang out it Let it go.
 it let it roll
 it let someone have it (with both barrels) it like it or lump it it live it up
 it long and (the) short of it it lord it over someone it make a day of it
 it make a go of it
 it make a run for it it make it
 it Make no bones about it.
 it make no mistake (about it) it mix it up
 it never had it so good it no buts about it
 it no ifs, ands, or buts about it it not breathe a word of it it not give it another thought it nothing to it
 it not with it
 it no two ways about it it on the face of it
 it out of it
 it play it cool
 it play it safe
 it pour it on thick
 it put one's foot in it it Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
 it put to it
 it recognize something for what it is it rough it
 it rub someone's nose in it it run for it
 it Save it.
 it see (to it) that something is done it So be it.
 it So it goes.
 it spread it on thick
 it step on it
 it strike it rich
 it such as it is it take it away
 it Take it easy.
 it take it easy (on someone or something) it take it on the chin it take it or leave it it take it slow
 it take it to one's grave
 it take it upon oneself to do something
 it take it (up)on oneself (to do something) it tell it to the marines it That does it!
 it That's about the size of it.
 it That's it!
 it That tears it!
 it This is it.
 it to put it mildly
 it tough it out
 it to whom it may concern it when it comes right down to it it when it comes to something it whoop it up
 it wing it
 it with everything (on it)
 it with it
 it You can bet on it!
 it You can't take it with you.
 it You just don't get it!
 it You said it!
 itch have an itch for something itch have an itch to do something itching have an itching palm itchy have an itchy palm It'll It'll never fly.
 its come into its own
 its dead on its feet
 its Every dog has its day.
 its fall flat (on its face) it's for all it's worth it's for what(ever) it's worth its have had its day its in its entirety
 its in its prime
 It's It's about time!
 It's It's (all) Greek to me.
 It's It's high time!
 It's It's not over 'til it's over.
 It's It's no use (doing something). its judge something on its own merit(s) it's Like it's such a big deal!
 its put something through its paces its rear its ugly head its ruffle its feathers its run around like a chicken with its head cut off its sit on its hands its tell its own story its tell its own tale its worth its weight in gold itself by itself
 itself in and of itself itself lend oneself or itself to something itself shadow of itself itself speak for itself itself an end in itself ivory live in an ivory tower Jack All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.
 Jack before you can say Jack Robinson jack jack someone up
 jack jack something up
 jack a jack-of-all-trades jackpot hit the jackpot
 jam get into a jam

- jam get out of a jam jam get someone out of a jam jam in a jam
jam in(to) a jam
January (as) slow as molasses in January
January slow as molasses in January January slower than molasses in January jaw have a glass jaw jaybird (as) naked as a jaybird jaybird naked as a jaybird jazz jazz something up Jekyll Jekyll and Hyde
jeopardy in jeopardy
jetsam flotsam and jetsam jiffy in a jiffy
jig The jig is up.
jig The jig is up.
Job (as) patient as Job job do a job on someone or something job do a snow job on someone job Don't quit your day job. job fall down on the job job lay down on the job job lie down on the job job on the job
Job patient as Job
job a devil of a job job a nine-to-five job job the devil's own job jockey jockey for position jog jog someone's memory Johnny Johnny-come-lately Johnny Johnny-on-the-spot join join forces (with someone) join join hands
Join Join the club!
join join the fray
joint put someone's nose out of joint joke able to take a joke joke crack a joke
joke no joke
joke play a joke on someone joke a standing joke joking (all) joking aside joking joking aside
jolt jolt to a start jolt jolt to a stop Joneses keep up (with the Joneses)
Jones's Davy Jones's locker Jones's go to Davy Jones's locker jowl cheek by jowl
joy burst with joy
joy pride and joy
judge (as) sober as a judge judge judge one on one's own merit(s) judge judge something on its own merit(s) judge sober as a judge judging judging by something juice juice and cookies juice stew in one's own juice jump get the jump on someone jump Go jump in the lake!
jump jump all over someone jump jump at something jump jump at the chance jump jump at the opportunity jump jump bail
jump jump down someone's throat jump jump into the fray jump jump off the deep end jump jump on someone jump jump on the bandwagon jump jump out of one's skin jump jump the gun
jump jump the track
jump jump through a hoop jump jump through hoops jump jump to conclusions jump one jump ahead (of someone or something) jump a hop, skip, and a jump jumping jumping-off place jumping jumping-off point jumpstart get a jump(start) juncture at this juncture jury The jury is still out (on someone or something). just able to take just so much just get one's just deserts just get one's just reward(s) just had (just) as soon do something just I just have this feeling just in (just) a minute just in (just) a second just (just) as I expected just (just) a stone's throw away (from something) just just in case (something happens) just just one of those things just just so just just the same
just just what the doctor ordered just You just don't get it!
justice do justice to something justice poetic justice justice a miscarriage of justice justice a travesty of justice keel keel over keel keep on an even keel keel keep something on an even keel keen have a keen interest in something keen keen about someone or something keen keen on doing something keen keen on someone or something keep earn one's keep keep keep abreast (of something) keep keep a civil tongue (in one's head) keep keep a close rein on someone or something keep keep after someone keep keep an eye on someone or something keep keep an eye out (for someone or something) keep keep a secret keep keep a stiff upper lip keep keep a straight face keep keep a tight rein on someone or something Keep Keep at it!
keep keep at someone or something

- keep keep body and soul together keep keep (close) watch (on someone or something) keep keep (close) watch (over someone or something) keep keep company (with someone) keep keep cool
keep keep from doing something keep keep good time keep keep harping on something keep keep house
keep keep in touch (with someone) keep keep late hours keep keep off (something) keep keep on an even keel keep keep one's cards close to one's chest keep keep one's cards close to one's vest keep keep one's chin up keep keep one's cool
keep keep one's distance (from someone or something) keep keep one's ear to the ground keep keep one's eye on the ball keep keep one's eyes open (for someone or something) keep keep one's eyes peeled (for someone or something) keep keep one's feet on the ground keep keep one's fingers crossed (for someone or something) keep keep one's hand in (something) keep keep one's hands off (someone or something) keep keep one's head keep keep one's mouth shut (about someone or something) keep keep one's nose clean keep keep one's nose out of someone's business keep keep one's nose to the grindstone keep keep one's opinions to oneself keep keep one's own counsel keep keep one's place keep keep one's temper keep keep one's weather eye open keep keep one's wits about one keep keep one's word keep keep on one's toes keep keep on someone keep keep pace (with someone or something) keep keep quiet (about someone or something) keep keep someone or something hanging in midair keep keep someone or something in check keep keep someone or something in mind keep keep someone or something quiet keep keep someone or something still keep keep someone or something up keep keep someone company keep keep someone from doing something keep keep someone in line keep keep someone in stitches keep keep someone on tenterhooks keep keep someone out in the cold keep keep someone posted keep keep something down keep keep something on an even keel keep keep something quiet keep keep something to oneself keep keep something under one's hat keep keep something under wraps keep keep still keep keep tab(s) (on someone or something) keep keep the ball rolling keep keep the home fires burning keep keep the lid on something keep keep the wolf from the door keep keep time
keep keep to oneself
keep keep track (of someone or something) keep keep up an act
keep keep up appearances keep keep up one's act keep keep up (with someone or something) keep keep up (with the Joneses) keep keep up (with the times) Keep Keep your shirt on!
keepers one's brother's keeper keepers Finders keepers(, losers weepers).
keeping Have you been keeping busy?
keeping in keeping (with something) keeping out of keeping (with something) keeping What's keeping you?
keeps for keeps keeps play for keeps keg sitting on a powder keg kettle a fine kettle of fish kettle the pot calling the kettle black keyed keyed up
kibosh put the kibosh on something kick get a kick out of someone or something kick give someone a kick kick kick a habit
kick kick off
kick kick oneself (for doing something) kick kick over kick kick someone or something around kick kick someone out kick kick something in kick kick something off kick kick the bucket
kick kick the habit
kick kick up
kicking alive and kicking kicks for kicks
kid handle someone with kid gloves kid kid around (with someone) kidding (all) kidding aside kidding kidding aside kidding no kidding
kidding Who do you think you're kidding? kid's kid('s) stuff kill dressed to kill kill fit to kill kill if looks could kill kill in at the kill kill in on the kill kill kill the fatted calf kill kill time kill kill two birds with one stone killed Curiosity killed the cat.
killed killed outright
killed A little (hard) work never killed anyone.

killing make a killing kilter out of kilter
kin kith and kin
kin next of kin
kind in kind
kind kind of something kind let out some kind of sound kind nothing of the kind kind two of a kind kind a kind of (a) something kindly take kindly to something kindness do someone a kindness kindness milk of human kindness kinds all kinds of someone or something king (as) cocky as the king of spades king cocky as the king of spades king fit for a king king's pay a king's ransom (for something) kink a kink in my neck kiss kiss and make up kiss kiss and tell kiss kiss something good-bye kiss the kiss of death
kit kit and caboodle
kitchen everything but the kitchen sink kite (as) high as a kite kite Go fly a kite!
kite high as a kite
kith kith and kin
kitten (as) weak as a kitten kitten weak as a kitten kitty feed the kitty
knee knee-high to a grasshopper knee on bended knee knew knew it was coming knife go under the knife knife pull a knife (on someone) knit knit one's brow knock knock about (somewhere) knock knock-down-drag-out fight knock knock it off
knock knock off work
knock knock oneself out (to do something) knock knock one off one's feet knock knock on wood
knock knock some heads together knock knock someone or something about knock knock someone or something around knock knock someone's block off
knock knock someone dead knock knock someone down (to size) knock knock someone for a loop knock knock someone off knock knock someone out (cold) knock knock someone over with a feather knock knock something back knock knock something down
knock knock something off knock knock the props out from under someone knot tie the knot
knots tie someone (up) in knots know before you know it

know for all I know
know in the know
know know (all) the tricks of the trade know know a thing or two (about someone or something) know know a trick or two know know better (than to do something) know know-how know know one's ABCs
know know one's onions know know one's place know know one's stuff know know one's way about know know one's way around know know someone or something like a book know know someone or something like the back of one's hand know know someone or something like the palm of one's hand know know someone by sight know know something backwards and forwards know know something by heart know know something forwards and backwards know know something from memory know know something in one's bones know know something inside out know know something only too well know know the ropes
know know the score
know know what's what know know when one is not wanted know know where all the bodies are buried know know whereof one speaks know know where someone stands (on someone or something) know know which is which know know which side one's bread is buttered on know let someone know (about something) know not know beans (about someone or something) know not know enough to come in out of the rain know not know from nothing know not know if one is coming or going know not know one's own strength know not know someone from Adam know not know the first thing about someone or something know not know where to turn know not know whether one is coming or going know not know which way to turn know What one doesn't know won't hurt one.
know you know
knowledge to the best of one's knowledge knowledge A little knowledge is a dangerous thing.
known (had) known it was coming known known it was coming known a known fact known a known quantity knows (as) far as anyone knows knows far as anyone knows knows so far as anyone knows knuckle knuckle down (to something) knuckle knuckle under (to someone or something) knuckles get one's knuckles rapped

- knuckles rap someone's knuckles labor in labor
labor a labor of love labors fruit(s) of one's labor(s) lace lace into someone or something ladder at the bottom of the ladder laid laid-back
laid laid up
laid the best-laid plans of mice and men laid the best-laid schemes of mice and men lake Go jump in the lake!
lamb (as) gentle as a lamb lamb (as) innocent as a lamb lamb (as) meek as a lamb lamb gentle as a lamb lamb innocent as a lamb lamb meek as a lamb lamb's in two shakes of a lamb's tail lambs like lambs to the slaughter lamppost between you, me, and the lamppost land do a land-office business land go on to a better land land land on both feet
land land on one's feet land land up somehow or somewhere land live off the fat of the land land on land
land the land of Nod
land the lay of the land landslide a landslide victory language in plain language language speak the same language language use strong language lap in the lap of luxury lap lap something up lapse lapse into a coma large (as) large as life large at large
large by and large
large large as life
large loom large (on the horizon) lark (as) happy as a lark lark for a lark
lark happy as a lark
lark on a lark
lashing get a tongue-lashing lashing give someone a tongue-lashing last as a last resort last at last
last at (long) last last at the last gasp
last at the last minute last be the last straw last breathe one's last last down to the last detail last every last one last get the last laugh last get the last word
last head for the last roundup last He laughs best who laughs last.
last He who laughs last, laughs longest.
last in the last analysis last last but not least last last will and testament last on someone's or something's last legs last pay one's last respects last see the last of someone or something last someone's last will and testament last to the last
last a last-ditch effort last the last person last the very last late better late than never late keep late hours late late in life
late late in the day late of late lately Johnny-come-lately later I'll (try to) catch you later. later sooner or later latest at the latest lather in a lather
laugh get the last laugh laugh laugh all the way to the bank laugh laugh out of the other side of one's mouth laugh laugh something off laugh laugh something out of court laugh laugh up one's sleeve laughing burst out laughing laughing die laughing laughing no laughing matter laughingstock make a laughingstock of oneself or something laughingstock make oneself or something a laughingstock laughs He laughs best who laughs last.
laughs He who laughs last, laughs longest.
laughter split one's sides (with laughter) launch launch forth (on something) laundry in the laundry laurels look to one's laurels laurels rest on one's laurels lavatory go to the lavatory law break a law
law break the law
law law unto oneself
law lay down the law
law take the law into one's own hands lay lay a finger on someone or something lay lay an egg
lay lay down one's life (for someone or something) lay lay down on the job lay lay down the law lay lay eyes on someone or something lay lay hold of someone or something lay lay into someone or something lay lay it on thick lay lay it on with a trowel lay lay low
lay lay off (someone or something) lay lay one's cards on the table lay lay one's hands on someone or something lay lay over (somewhere) lay lay someone away

lay lay someone off lay lay someone up
lay lay something by lay lay something in lay lay something on someone lay lay something on the line lay lay something to rest lay lay something to waste lay lay the blame on someone or something lay lay the finger on someone lay lay waste to something lay the lay of the land lead follow someone's lead lead get the lead out
lead go over like a lead balloon lead lead a dog's life lead lead off
lead lead someone by the nose lead lead someone down the garden path lead lead someone on a merry chase lead lead someone to believe something lead lead someone to do something lead lead the life of Riley lead lead up to something lead shake the lead out leading a leading question leading the blind leading the blind leads One thing leads to another. leaf leaf through something leaf take a leaf out of someone's book leaf turn over a new leaf league in league (with someone) league not in the same league with someone or something leak leak something (out) lean lean on someone lean lean over backwards (to do something) lean lean toward doing something leap leap at the opportunity leap leap to conclusions leaps by leaps and bounds learn learn something by heart learn learn something by rote learn learn something from the bottom up learn learn (something) the hard way learn learn the ropes learn learn to live with something learn live and learn lease a new lease on life least at least
least last but not least least least of all least to say the least least when least expected least the line of least resistance least the path of least resistance leather hell-bent for leather leave absent without leave leave leave a bad taste in someone's mouth leave leave a lot to be desired leave leave a sinking ship leave leave no stone unturned leave leave oneself wide open for something leave leave oneself wide open to something leave leave one's mark on someone leave leave one to one's fate leave leave someone or something hanging in midair leave leave someone or something in one's hands leave leave someone flat leave leave someone for dead leave leave someone high and dry leave leave someone holding the bag leave leave someone in peace leave leave someone in the lurch leave leave someone out in the cold leave leave something on leave leave something open leave leave well enough alone leave leave word (with someone) leave take it or leave it leave take leave of one's senses leave take (one's) leave (of someone) left come out of left field left hang a left

left left and right
left out in left field
left pay someone a left-handed compliment left right and left left take up where one left off leg (as) crooked as a dog's hind leg leg Break a leg!
leg cost an arm and a leg leg crooked as a dog's hind leg leg do not have a leg to stand on leg pay an arm and a leg (for something) leg pull someone's leg
legs get one's sea legs legs on someone's or something's last legs legs stretch one's legs legs with one's tail between one's legs leisure at leisure leisure at one's leisure lend lend a hand (to someone) lend lend an ear (to someone) lend lend color to something lend lend oneself or itself to something lend lend (someone) a hand length at length length at some length length go to any length less could(n't) care less less in less than no time less less than pleased less more or less lesser the lesser (of the two) lesser the lesser of two evils lesson teach someone a lesson let Don't let it go any further.
let Don't let it out of this room.
let Don't let someone or something get you down. let let alone someone or something Let Let bygones be bygones.
let let go of someone or something let let go (with something) let let grass grow under one's feet

- let let her rip
let let it all hang out
Let Let it go.
let let it roll
let let loose (with something) let let off steam let let oneself go
let let one's emotions show let let one's hair down let let out some kind of sound Let Let sleeping dogs lie.
let let someone or something off let let someone down let let someone go
let let someone have it (with both barrels) let let someone in on something let let someone know (about something) let let someone off easy let let someone off (the hook) let let something (get) out let let something pass
let let something ride
let let something slide let let something slip by let let something slip (out) Let Let the buyer beware.
let let the cat out of the bag let let the chance slip by let let things slide let let up (on someone or something) let let us do something let let well enough alone let live and let live let not let someone catch someone doing something let sit back and let something happen Let's Let's do lunch.
letter bread-and-butter letter letter dead letter
letter to the letter level at sea level level do one's (level) best level find one's own level level level something at someone level level with someone level lower oneself to some level level on the level
level (strictly) on the level liability assume liability liberties take liberties with someone or something liberty at liberty liberty take the liberty of doing something license license to do something lick give something a lick and a promise lick lick one's chops lick lick one's lips
lick lick something into shape lick a lick of work licking get a licking licking give someone a licking licking take a licking lid blow the lid off (something)
lid flip one's lid
lid keep the lid on something lie Let sleeping dogs lie.
lie lie down on the job lie lie fallow
lie lie in state
lie lie in wait for someone or something lie lie low
lie lie through one's teeth lies a pack of lies lieu in lieu of something life all walks of life life (as) big as life life (as) large as life life bet one's life
life between life and death life big as life
life claim a life
life come to life
life for life
life for the life of one life Get a life!
life get the shock of one's life life have the time of one's life life in the prime of life life large as life
life late in life
life lay down one's life (for someone or something) life lead a dog's life life lead the life of Riley life life is too short life live a dog's life life live a life of something life make life miserable for someone life milestone in someone's life life never in one's life life not on your life life one's way of life
life run for one's life life someone's mission in life life Such is life!
life take one's own life life Variety is the spice of life.
life within an inch of one's life life a matter of life and death life a new lease on life life the facts of life life the life of the party life the seamy side of life Life's Life's been good (to me).
lifetime once-in-a-lifetime chance lift lift a hand (against someone or something) lift not lift a finger (to help someone) lift not lift a hand (to help someone) light all sweetness and light light (as) light as a feather light begin to see the light light bring something to light light come to light
light get the green light light give someone the green light light hide one's light under a bushel light in light of something

- light light as a feather light light into someone or something light light out (for somewhere) light light out (of somewhere) light make light of something light Many hands make light work.
light out like a light
light see the light light shed (some) light on something light throw (some) light on something lightly get off lightly lightly once-over-lightly lightning (as) quick as greased lightning Lightning Lightning never strikes twice (in the same place). lightning like greased lightning lightning quick as greased lightning lights according to one's own lights like and the like like avoid someone or something like the plague like come on like gangbusters like come up smelling like roses like eat like a bird like eat like a horse like feel like a million (dollars) like feel like a new person like feel like doing something like feel like (having) something like fit like a glove like go like clockwork
like go over like a lead balloon like have a mind like a steel trap like hit (someone) like a ton of bricks like know someone or something like a book like know someone or something like the back of one's hand like know someone or something like the palm of one's hand like like a bat out of hell like like a bolt out of the blue like like a bump on a log like like a fish out of water like like a house afire like like a house on fire like (like) an open book like like a sitting duck like like a three-ring circus like like crazy
like like greased lightning
like like it or lump it
Like Like it's such a big deal!
like like lambs to the slaughter like like looking for a needle in a haystack like like mad
like like nothing on earth like like one of the family like like sitting ducks like like to hear oneself talk like like (two) peas in a pod like like water off a duck's back like look like a million dollars like look like death warmed over like look like something like look like the cat that swallowed the canary like need something like a hole in the head like off like a shot
like out like a light
like packed (in) like sardines like read someone like a(n open) book like run around like a chicken with its head cut off like run like clockwork like sell like hotcakes like sleep like a baby like sleep like a log like sound like
like spread like wildfire like stick out like a sore thumb like They don't make them like they used to.
like watch someone or something like a hawk like work like a horse like would like (to have) someone or something likely (as) likely as not likely likely as not likes the likes of someone liking take a liking to someone or something liking to someone's liking lily gild the lily limb out on a limb limbo in limbo
limelight in the limelight limit go the limit
limit go to the limit limit The sky's the limit.
limits off limits limits within limits
line draw a line between something and something else line draw the line (at something) line drop someone a line line fall in(to) line line feed someone a line line get a line on someone or something line give someone a line line hold the line (at someone or something) line in line
line in the line of duty line keep someone in line line lay something on the line line line one's own pockets line line someone or something up with something line line someone up (for something) line line someone up with someone line on line
line out of line
line put something on the line line sign on the dotted line line step out of line line swallow something, hook, line, and sinker line take a hard line (with someone) line toe the line
line the bottom line
line the end of the line line the line of least resistance line the party line linen air one's dirty linen in public linen wash one's dirty linen in public lines blow one's lines lines drop someone a few lines lines fluff one's lines lines muff one's lines lines read between the lines lining Every cloud has a silver lining. lion (as) strong as a lion lion beard the lion in his den lion strong as a lion lion's the lion's share (of something) lip button one's lip lip keep a stiff upper lip lip pay lip service (to something) lips lick one's lips list on a waiting list listen listen to reason listen stop, look, and listen litmus litmus test little (a little) new to (all) this little in a little bit little little by little little make little of someone or something little one little bit little precious little little quite a little little think little of someone or something little twist someone around one's little finger little A little bird told me.

little a little bit
little A little (hard) work never hurt anyone.
little A little (hard) work never killed anyone.
little A little knowledge is a dangerous thing.
live have to live with something live learn to live with something live live a dog's life live live a life of something live live and learn live live and let live live live beyond one's means live live by one's wits live live for the moment live live from hand to mouth live live happily ever after live live high off the hog live live high on the hog live live in live live it up
live live off the fat of the land live live on borrowed time live live out of a suitcase live live something down live live through something live live up to one's end of the bargain live live up to something live live within one's means livelong all the livelong day lives hit one where one lives lives where one lives living beat the living daylights out of someone living do something for a living living every living soul

living frighten the (living) daylights out of someone living make a living living not a living soul living not tell a (living) soul living scare the living daylights out of someone load get a load off one's feet load get a load off one's mind load get a load of someone or something load take a load off one's feet load two bricks shy of a load loaded loaded for bear loaf Half a loaf is better than none.
loan float a loan loan take out a loan location on location
lock lock horns (with someone) lock lock something in lock lock, stock, and barrel lock pick a lock locker Davy Jones's locker locker go to Davy Jones's locker loco plumb loco
log (as) easy as falling off a log log (as) easy as rolling off a log log easy as falling off a log log easy as rolling off a log log like a bump on a log log sleep like a log loggerheads at loggerheads (with someone) loins gird (up) one's loins long all day long long all night long long as long as long (as) merry as the day is long long at (long) last long before long long go a long way in doing something long go a long way toward doing something long have come a long way long in the long run long long and (the) short of it Long Long time no see.
long make a long story short long merry as the day is long long not by a long shot long not long for this world long over the long haul long so long long Take a long walk off a short pier. longest He who laughs last, laughs longest.
look get a dirty look from someone look give someone a dirty look look have a look for someone or something look look as if butter wouldn't melt in one's mouth look look at someone cross-eyed look look daggers at someone look look down one's nose at someone or something look look down on someone or something look look for trouble look look forward to something look look good on paper look look high and low (for someone or something) look look in (on someone or something) look look into something look look like a million dollars look look like death warmed over look look like something look look like the cat that swallowed the canary look look on someone as something look look out look look someone or something over look look someone or something up look look someone in the eye look look someone in the face look look the other way look look to one's laurels look look to someone or something (for something) look look under the hood look look up to someone look make someone look good look make someone look ridiculous look stop, look, and listen look take a look (at someone or something) look take a look for someone or something look a faraway look look a far-off look looking Here's looking at you.

looking like looking for a needle in a haystack looking Things are looking up.
lookout on the lookout (for someone or something) looks if looks could kill loom loom large (on the horizon) loon (as) crazy as a loon loon crazy as a loon loop knock someone for a loop loop throw someone for a loop loose at loose ends loose break loose (from someone or something) loose cut loose (from someone or something) loose cut loose (with something) loose hang loose
loose have a screw loose loose let loose (with something) loose on the loose loose play fast and loose (with someone or something) lord (as) drunk as a lord lord drunk as a lord lord lord it over someone lose lose face lose lose ground
lose lose heart
lose lose oneself (in something) lose lose one's cool lose lose one's grip lose lose one's head (over someone or something) lose lose one's marbles lose lose one's mind lose lose one's reason lose lose one's shirt lose lose one's temper lose lose one's touch (with someone or something) lose lose one's train of thought lose lose out (on something) lose lose out to someone or something lose lose sleep (over someone or something) lose lose touch (with someone or something) lose lose track (of someone or something) losers Finders keepers(, losers weepers).

loss at a loss (for words) loss throw someone for a loss loss a dead loss losses cut one's losses lost almost lost it lost get lost
lost lost-and-found
lost lost and gone forever lost lost in thought lost lost on someone lost make up for lost time lost no love lost (between someone and someone else) lost a lost cause
lot carry (a lot of) weight (with someone or something) lot cast one's lot in with someone lot cover a lot of ground lot cover a lot of territory lot get a lot of mileage out of something lot have a lot going (for one) lot have a lot of promise lot have a lot on one's mind lot leave a lot to be desired lot quite a lot
lot think a lot of someone or something lot a lot of someone or something lots draw lots lots lots of people or things loud For crying out loud!
loud loud and clear loud think out loud
louder Actions speak louder than words.
louse louse something up lousy lousy with something love fall head over heels in love (with someone) love fall in love (with someone) love head over heels in love (with someone) love in love (with someone or something) love love at first sight love make love (to someone) love no love lost (between someone and someone else) love not for love nor money love a labor of love lovely lovely weather for ducks low burn with a low blue flame low get the low-down (on someone or something) low give someone the low-down (on someone or something) low have a low boiling point low hunt high and low (for someone or something) low lay low low lie low
low look high and low (for someone or something) low low man on the totem pole low run low (on something) low search high and low (for someone or something) low sweet and low lower lower oneself to some level lower lower one's sights

lower lower one's voice lower lower the boom on someone luck as luck would have it luck down on one's luck luck have a run of bad luck luck have one's luck run out luck in luck
luck luck out
luck one's luck runs out luck out of luck
luck press one's luck
luck push one's luck luck try one's luck (at something) luck a stroke of luck lucky thank one's lucky stars lull lull someone into a false sense of security lull lull someone to sleep lull the lull before the storm lump get a lump in one's throat lump like it or lump it lunatic the lunatic fringe lunch blow one's lunch
lunch Let's do lunch.
lunch out to lunch
lungs at the top of one's lungs lurch leave someone in the lurch luxury in the lap of luxury lying take something lying down mad (as) mad as a hatter mad (as) mad as a hornet mad (as) mad as a March hare mad (as) mad as a wet hen mad (as) mad as hell mad drive someone mad mad get mad (at someone or something) mad in a mad rush
mad like mad
mad mad about someone or something mad mad as a hatter mad mad as a hornet
mad mad as a March hare mad mad as a wet hen mad mad as hell
mad mad enough to chew nails mad mad for someone or something mad so mad I could scream mad stark raving mad mad steaming (mad)
made Have I made myself clear?
made have something made made made for each other made made from the same mold made made to measure made made to order
made not made of money madness have method in one's madness maiden maiden voyage mail by return mail
main main strength and awkwardness main might and main mainstream in the mainstream (of something) make able to make something make can't make heads or tails (out) of someone or something make kiss and make up make make a bed

make make a beeline for someone or something make make a big deal about something make make a break for something or somewhere make make a bundle
make make a check out (to someone) make make a clean breast of something make make a clean sweep make make a comeback make make a day of doing something make make a day of it make make a dent in something make make a face
make make a fast buck
make make a federal case out of something make make a fool out of someone make make a friend
make make a fuss (over someone or something) make make a go of it make make a great show of something make make a hit (with someone or something) make make a killing
make make a laughingstock of oneself or something make make a living
make make allowance(s) (for someone or something) make make a long story short make make a meal of something make make amends (for something) make make a monkey out of someone make make a mountain out of a molehill make make an all-out effort make make a name (for oneself) make make an appearance make make an appointment (with someone) make make an example of someone make make an exception (for someone) make make an exhibition of oneself make make a night of doing something make make an impression (on someone) make make an issue of someone or something make make a note of something make make a nuisance of oneself make make an uproar make make a pass at someone make make a pile
make make a pitch (for someone or something) make make a play (for someone) make make a point
make make a practice of something make make a quick buck make make a reservation make make arrangements (for someone or something) make make a run for it make make a scene
make make as if to do something make make a silk purse out of a sow's ear make make a stink (about something) make make away with someone or something make make book on something

make make (both) ends meet make make chin music make make cracks (about someone or something) make make do (with someone or something) make make eyes (at someone) make make fast work of someone or something make make for somewhere make make free with someone or something make make friends make make fun (of someone or something) make make good as something make make good (at something) make make good money make make good on something make make good time make make hamburger out of someone or something make make it
make make life miserable for someone make make light of something make make little of someone or something make make love (to someone) make make merry
make make mincemeat out of someone or something make make mischief
Make Make no bones about it.
make make no difference (to someone) make make no mistake (about it) make make nothing of something make make off with someone or something make make oneself at home make make oneself conspicuous make make oneself heard make make oneself or something a laughingstock make make oneself scarce make make (oneself) up make make one's mind up make make one's way through something make make or break someone make make out (with someone or something) make make over someone or something make make overtures make make peace (with someone) make make points (with someone) make make reservations make make sense
make make short work of someone or something make make someone or something available to someone make make someone or something over make make someone sick make make someone's bed make make someone's blood boil make make someone's blood run cold make make someone's flesh crawl make make someone's gorge rise make make someone's hair curl make make someone's hair stand on end make make someone's head spin make make someone's head swim make make someone's mouth water make make someone's position clear make make someone eat crow make make someone look good make make someone look ridiculous make make someone the scapegoat for something make make someone up make make something make make the bed make make the best of something make make the feathers fly make make the fur fly make make the grade make make the most of something make make the scene make make time (for someone or something) make make time (with someone) make make up for lost time make make up for someone or something make make up (with someone) make make use of someone or something make make waves

make make way
make Many hands make light work.
make not able to make anything out of someone or something make on the make make They don't make them like they used to.
Maker gone to meet one's Maker.
makes All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.
makes Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.) makes Haste makes waste.
makes That makes two of us.
makes what makes someone tick makes what makes something tick makings have the makings of something man dirty old man
man Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.) man high man on the totem pole man low man on the totem pole man man-about-town man man to man
man odd man out
man see a man about a dog man the man in the street manger dog in the manger manner all manner of someone or something manner devil-may-care manner manners mind your manners man's One man's meat is another man's poison.
man's One man's trash is another man's treasure.
many have too many irons in the fire many in many respects many in so many words Many Many hands make light work.
many many is the time many Too many cooks spoil the broth.
many Too many cooks spoil the stew.
marble (as) cold as marble marble cold as marble marbles do not have all one's marbles marbles lose one's marbles March (as) mad as a March hare March mad as a March hare march march to (the beat of) a different drummer march steal a march (on someone) mare by shank's mare mare go (somewhere) by shank's mare marines tell it to the marines mark leave one's mark on someone mark mark my word(s) mark mark someone or something down mark mark something up mark off the mark

mark toe the mark
mark wide of the mark market drug on the market market in the market (for something) market on the market market play the market marks X marks the spot married get married
marvel a marvel to behold mast at half-mast master a past master at something match meet one's match match mix and match
match strike a match match a match for someone, something, or some creature match the whole shooting match matter as a matter of course matter as a matter of fact matter for that matter matter get at the heart of the matter matter get to the heart of the matter matter gray matter
matter matter-of-fact matter no laughing matter matter no matter what happens matter a matter of life and death matter a matter of opinion matter the crux of the matter may be that as it may may come what may may devil-may-care attitude may devil-may-care manner may have one's finger in too many pies may to whom it may concern me be the death of me (yet) me between you, me, and the lamppost me Do you read me?
me far be it from me to do something me Greek to me
me hand-me-down
me have a pick-me-up
me It's (all) Greek to me.
me Life's been good (to me).
me my gut tells me (that) something is so me What do you want me to say?
me Woe is me!
me You got me there.
me Your secret is safe with me.
me You scared me out of my wits.
me You scared the crap out of me.
me You scared the devil out of me.
me You scared the dickens out of me.

me You scared the hell out of me.
me You scared the pants off (of) me.
me A little bird told me.
meal eat (a meal) out meal Enjoy your meal.
meal make a meal of something meal square meal
mean mean business
mean mean for someone to do something mean mean nothing (to someone) mean mean something (to someone) mean mean to (do something) means beyond one's means means by all means means by any means means by means of something means by no means means live beyond one's means means live within one's means means ways and means meant meant to be meantime in the meantime measure beyond measure measure for good measure measure made to measure measure measure up (to someone or something) measure measure up (to someone's expectations) meat measure up to someone's standards meat meat-and-potatoes meat One man's meat is another man's poison.
Mecca a Mecca for someone medication on medication medicine get a taste of one's own medicine medicine take one's medicine medicine a dose of one's own medicine medium find a happy medium medium hit a happy medium medium strike a happy medium meek (as) meek as a lamb meek meek as a lamb
meet gone to meet one's Maker.
meet make (both) ends meet meet meet one's death meet meet one's end
meet meet one's match meet meet one's Waterloo meet meet someone halfway meet meet the requirements (for something) meeting call a meeting meeting call the meeting to order meeting hold a meeting meeting Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes meeting a meeting of minds meets more (to something) than meets the eye melt look as if butter wouldn't melt in one's mouth melt melt in one's mouth memory commit something to memory memory in memory of someone memory in recent memory memory jog someone's memory memory know something from memory men be all things to all men men separate the men from the boys men the best-laid plans of mice and men men the best-laid schemes of mice and men mend mend (one's) fences mend mend one's ways

mend on the mend mention mention someone or something in passing mentioning not worth mentioning mercy at someone's mercy mercy at the mercy of someone mercy throw oneself at the mercy of the court mercy throw oneself on the mercy of the court merits judge one on one's own merit(s) merits judge something on its own merit(s) merrier the more the merrier merry (as) merry as a cricket merry (as) merry as the day is long merry lead someone on a merry chase merry make merry
merry merry as a cricket merry merry as the day is long mess get into a mess mess get out of a mess mess mess about (with someone or something) mess mess around (with someone or something) mess mess someone or something up message get the message
met hail-fellow-well-met method have method in one's madness mice When the cat's away, the mice will play. mice the best-laid plans of mice and men mice the best-laid schemes of mice and men midair in midair
midair keep someone or something hanging in midair midair leave someone or something hanging in midair Midas have the Midas touch middle caught in the middle middle change horses in the middle of the stream middle in the middle of nowhere middle middle-of-the-road middle play both ends (against the middle) middle smack-dab in the middle middling fair to middling midnight burn the midnight oil might might and main mighty act high-and-mighty mighty high-and-mighty mildly to put it mildly mile by a mile
mile Give one an inch, and one will take a mile.
mile go the extra mile mile miss (something) by a mile mileage get a lot of mileage out of something miles be a million miles away milestone milestone in someone's life milk coffee, tea, or milk milk cry over spilled milk milk milk of human kindness milk milk someone for something mill grist for someone's mill mill have been through the mill mill run-of-the-mill

million be a million miles away million feel like a million (dollars) million look like a million dollars million one in a million millstone millstone about one's neck mince mince (one's) words mincemeat make mincemeat out of someone or something mind bear in mind that something is so mind bear someone or something in mind mind blow someone's mind
mind boggle someone's mind mind change someone's mind mind come to mind
mind cross someone's mind mind enter one's mind
mind get a load off one's mind mind get someone or something out of one's mind mind give someone a piece of one's mind mind have a (good) mind to do something mind have a lot on one's mind mind have a mind like a steel trap mind have a one-track mind mind have half a mind to do something mind have someone or something on one's mind mind have something in mind mind have the presence of mind to do something mind in one's right mind mind keep someone or something in mind mind lose one's mind mind make one's mind up mind mind one's own business mind mind one's p's and q's mind mind the store
mind mind you
mind never mind
mind on one's mind
mind out of one's mind
mind Out of sight, out of mind.
mind pass through someone's mind mind put one's mind to something mind put someone or something out of one's mind mind read someone's mind mind slip one's mind mind speak one's mind
mind weigh on someone's mind mind's in one's mind's eye minds a meeting of minds mine Your guess is as good as mine.
mine a gold mine of information mine a mine of information mines back to the salt mines mint in mint condition minute at the last minute minute every minute counts minute in (just) a minute minute up-to-the-minute minute the minute something happens mirror able to fog a mirror mirrors smoke and mirrors miscarriage a miscarriage of justice mischief make mischief

- miserable make life miserable for someone misplace misplace one's trust (in someone) miss have a near miss miss hit-and-miss
miss hit-or-miss
miss miss out (on something) miss miss (something) by a mile miss miss the boat
miss miss the point
miss not miss a thing miss not miss much misses one's heart misses a beat mission someone's mission in life Missouri be from Missouri mistake by mistake
mistake make no mistake (about it) mistake mistake someone for someone else mistaken a case of mistaken identity mix mix and match
mix mix it up
mix mix someone or something up mix mix someone up with someone else mixed get mixed-up
mixed have mixed feelings (about someone or something) mixed a mixed bag molasses (as) slow as molasses in January molasses slow as molasses in January molasses slower than molasses in January mold cast in the same mold mold made from the same mold molehill make a mountain out of a molehill moment every moment counts moment for the moment moment live for the moment moment not a moment to spare moment not for a moment moment on the spur of the moment moment without a moment to spare moment the big moment moment the moment everyone has been waiting for moment the moment of truth money closefisted (with money) money fork money out (for something) money get a run for one's money money give one a run for one's money money have money to burn money hush money
money in the money
money make good money
Money Money burns a hole in someone's pocket.
Money Money is no object.
Money Money is the root of all evil.
money money talks
money not for love nor money money not made of money money on the money
money pour money down the drain money Put your money where your mouth is!
money run to an amount of money money see the color of someone's money money set someone back (some amount of money) money throw good money after bad money tightfisted (with money) money Time is money.
money to the tune of some amount of money money A fool and his money are soon parted.
money's get one's money's worth monkey make a monkey out of someone monkey monkey around (with someone or something) monkey monkey business
monkey monkey suit
monkey throw a monkey wrench into the works monkeys (as) funny as a barrel of monkeys monkeys as much fun as a barrel of monkeys monkeys funny as a barrel of monkeys monkeys more fun than a barrel of monkeys month by the month month in a month of Sundays months months running mood in a bad mood mood in no mood to do something mood in the mood for something mood in the mood to do something moon ask for the moon
moon once in a blue moon
moon promise someone the moon moon promise the moon (to someone) mop mop the floor up with someone mope mope around
more bite off more than one can chew more exchange more than some number of words with someone more have more important fish to fry more more and more more more dead than alive more more fun than a barrel of monkeys more more often than not more more or less more more someone or something than one can shake a stick at more more than one can bear more more than one can stand more more than one can take more more than someone bargained for more more (to something) than meets the eye more strike a balance (between two or more things) more There's more than one way to skin a cat. more wear more than one hat more the more the merrier morning first thing (in the morning) morning the morning after (the night before) mortal shuffle off this mortal coil mortar bricks and mortar moss A rolling stone gathers no moss.
most at most most for the most part most make the most of something mothballs put something in mothballs mother old enough to be someone's mother mother's swear on one's mother's grave mother's tied to one's mother's apron strings motion table a motion motions go through the motions mountain make a mountain out of a molehill mouse (as) poor as a church mouse mouse (as) quiet as a mouse mouse play cat and mouse (with someone) mouse poor as a church mouse mouse quiet as a mouse mouth bad-mouth someone or something mouth born with a silver spoon in one's mouth mouth by word of mouth mouth down in the mouth mouth foam at the mouth mouth from the horse's mouth mouth have a big mouth

mouth have foot-in-mouth disease mouth Hush your mouth!
mouth keep one's mouth shut (about someone or something) mouth laugh out of the other side of one's mouth mouth leave a bad taste in someone's mouth mouth live from hand to mouth mouth look as if butter wouldn't melt in one's mouth mouth make someone's mouth water mouth melt in one's mouth mouth not open one's mouth mouth one's heart is in one's mouth mouth put one's foot in one's mouth mouth put words into someone's mouth mouth Put your money where your mouth is!
mouth run off at the mouth
mouth shoot one's mouth off mouth stick one's foot in one's mouth mouth (straight) from the horse's mouth mouth take the words out of one's mouth mouthful say a mouthful move move heaven and earth to do something move move in (on someone or something) move move into something move move up (in the world) move not move a muscle move one move ahead (of someone or something) move on the move
mover prime mover
movers movers and shakers much able to take just so much much as much fun as a barrel of monkeys much much ado about nothing much much in evidence much much sought after much not miss much much so much for someone or something much so much the better much take too much on much think much of someone or something much too much of a good thing much without so much as doing something mud (as) clear as mud mud clear as mud
mud Here's mud in your eye.
mud one's name is mud mud stick-in-the-mud
muddy muddy the water
muff muff one's lines mule (as) stubborn as a mule

mule stubborn as a mule mull mull something over mum's mum's the word murder cry bloody murder murder murder on something murder scream bloody murder muscle muscle in (on someone or something) muscle not move a muscle music face the music
music make chin music music set something to music must a must muster muster (up) one's courage muster pass muster mutilate fold, spindle, or mutilate my mark my word(s)
my my gut tells me (that) something is so my my one and only my over my dead body
my Pardon my French.
my You scared me out of my wits.
my You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours.
my a kink in my neck myself by myself
myself Have I made myself clear?
nail (another) nail in someone's or something's coffin nail fight someone or something tooth and nail nail go at it tooth and nail nail hit the nail (right) on the head nail nail in someone's or something's coffin nail nail someone or something down nails angry enough to chew nails nails (as) hard as nails nails bite one's nails nails hard as nails nails mad enough to chew nails naked (as) naked as a jaybird naked naked as a jaybird naked the naked eye
name clear someone's name name drop someone's name name I didn't catch your name.
name in name only name in someone's name
name make a name (for oneself) name name someone after someone else name name someone for someone else name on a first-name basis (with someone) name one's name is mud name throw someone's name around name worthy of the name name the name of the game names call someone names names drop names
names I'm awful at names.
names I'm terrible at names.
nap take a nap
nape by the nape of the neck napping catch someone napping narrow the straight and narrow natural die a natural death nature call of nature

nature second nature to someone naught come to naught near from far and near near from near and far near have a near miss near in the near future near near at hand near nowhere near neat (as) neat as a pin neat neat as a pin necessary deem it (to be) necessary necessary deem that it is necessary necessity out of necessity neck break one's neck (to do something) neck breathe down someone's neck neck by the nape of the neck neck get it in the neck neck in some neck of the woods neck millstone about one's neck neck neck and neck
neck risk one's neck (to do something) neck save someone's neck neck stick one's neck out (for someone or something) neck up to one's neck (in something) neck a crick in one's neck neck a kink in my neck neck a pain in the neck neck a yoke around someone's neck need crying need for someone or something need Do I need to paint you a picture?
need in need
need need something like a hole in the head need need something yesterday need A friend in need is a friend indeed. needle like looking for a needle in a haystack needles on pins and needles needles pins and needles neighbor next-door neighbor neighborhood in the neighborhood of something neighborhood (somewhere) in the neighborhood of an amount
neither neither fish nor fowl neither neither here nor there neither neither hide nor hair nerve get up enough nerve (to do something) nerve of all the nerve nerves get on someone's nerves nerves grate on someone's (nerves) nerves a bundle of nerves nest feather one's (own) nest nest foul one's own nest nest stir up a hornet's nest neutral in neutral never better late than never never (have) never had it so good never It'll never fly.
never It never rains but it pours. never Lightning never strikes twice (in the same place).
never never fear
never never had it so good never never in one's life

never never mind
never never would have guessed never now or never never A little (hard) work never hurt anyone. never A little (hard) work never killed anyone.
new (a little) new to (all) this new (as) bright as a new pin new be a new one on someone new break new ground
new bright as a new pin new busy as a beaver (building a new dam) new feel like a new person new new ball game
new new blood
new new hire
new new to (all) this
New ring in the New Year new (some) new blood new take a new turn
new turn over a new leaf
new What's new?
new (whole) new ball game
new You can't teach an old dog new tricks.
new a new lease on life Newcastle carry coals to Newcastle news break the news (to someone) news No news is good news.
next next-door neighbor next next of kin
next next to nothing next next to someone or something nice nice and some quality Nick full of Old Nick
nick in the nick of time nick in the (very) nick of time nickel nickel and dime someone nickel not worth a plugged nickel night all night long night (as) black as night night (as) different as night and day night at night
night black as night
night by night
night call it a night
night day and night
night different as night and day night far into the night night fly-by-night
night make a night of doing something night night and day night night owl
night one-night stand
night ships that pass in the night night small hours (of the night) night till all hours (of the day and night) night wee hours (of the night) night a night on the town night the morning after (the night before) nine on cloud nine nine a nine days' wonder nine a nine-to-five job nines dressed to the nines

nip nip and tuck
nip nip something in the bud nitty get down to the nitty-gritty no all talk (and no action) no All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. no by no means no come as no surprise
no cut no ice (with someone) no expense is no object no feeling no pain
no have no business doing something no have no staying power no hold no brief for someone or something no in less than no time no in no mood to do something no in no time (at all)
no in no uncertain terms no It's no use (doing something). no leave no stone unturned
no Long time no see.
no Make no bones about it.
no make no difference (to someone) no make no mistake (about it)
no Money is no object.
No No big deal!
no no buts about it
No No can do.
No No comment.
no no doubt
no no end of something no no flies on someone
no no great shakes
no no hard feelings
No No harm done.
no no holds barred
no no ifs, ands, or buts about it no no joke
no no kidding
no no laughing matter
no no love lost (between someone and someone else) no no matter what happens
No No news is good news.
no no point in something no no problem
no no skin off someone's nose no no skin off someone's teeth no no sooner said than done no no spring chicken
no no sweat
no no trespassing
no not take no for an answer no no two ways about it no no-win situation
no no wonder
no of no avail
no on no account no see no objection (to something) no take no stock in something no there is no doing something no There's no accounting for taste. no to no avail
no up to no good

no with no strings attached no A rolling stone gathers no moss. no the point of no return nobody's nobody's fool
nod get the nod
nod nod off
Nod the land of Nod
noggin use one's noggin none Half a loaf is better than none. none have none of something none none of someone's beeswax none none of someone's business none none other than someone none none the wiser none none the worse for wear none none too something none second to none nonsense stuff and nonsense noodle use one's noodle nook every nook and cranny nor neither fish nor fowl nor neither here nor there nor neither hide nor hair nor not for love nor money North up North
nose (as) plain as the nose on one's face nose blow one's nose nose can't see beyond the end of one's nose nose cut off one's nose to spite one's face nose follow one's nose nose get one's nose out of someone's business nose have a nose for something nose have one's nose in a book nose have one's nose in the air nose keep one's nose clean nose keep one's nose out of someone's business nose keep one's nose to the grindstone nose lead someone by the nose nose look down one's nose at someone or something nose nose about nose nose around nose nose in(to something) nose nose someone out nose no skin off someone's nose nose not see farther than the end of one's nose nose not see past the end of one's nose nose one's nose is in the air nose on the nose
nose pay through the nose (for something) nose plain as the nose on one's face nose poke one's nose in(to something) nose put one's nose to the grindstone nose put someone's nose out of joint nose (right) under someone's (very) nose nose rub someone's nose in it nose stick one's nose in(to something) nose thumb one's nose at someone or something nose turn one's nose up at someone or something nose under someone's (very) nose nose win by a nose nosedive go into a nosedive nosedive take a nosedive

- noses count noses
not All that glitters is not gold.
not (as) likely as not not believe it or not not do not have a care in the world not do not have a leg to stand on not do not have all one's marbles not gone but not forgotten not if not not It's not over 'til it's over.
not know when one is not wanted not last but not least not likely as not not more often than not not not a bit
not not able to call one's time one's own not not able to go on not not able to help something not not able to make anything out of someone or something not not able to see the forest for the trees not not able to stomach someone or something not not able to wait not not agree with someone not not a living soul not not all something is cracked up to be not not all there
not not a moment to spare not not at all not not bat an eyelid not not believe one's eyes not not born yesterday not not breathe a word (about someone or something) not not breathe a word of it not not buy something not not by a long shot not not care two hoots (about someone or something) not not dry behind the ears not not enough room to swing a cat not not for a moment not not for (anything in) the world not not for hire not not for love nor money not not for publication not not give a hang (about someone or something) not not give a hoot (about someone or something) not not give it another thought not not give someone the time of day not not give two hoots (about someone or something) not not half bad
not not hold a candle to someone or something not not hold a stick to someone or something not not hold water not not hurt a flea not not in the same league with someone or something not not know beans (about someone or something) not not know enough to come in out of the rain not not know from nothing not not know if one is coming or going not not know one's own strength not not know someone from Adam not not know the first thing about someone or something not not know where to turn not not know whether one is coming or going not not know which way to turn not not let someone catch someone doing something not not lift a finger (to help someone) not not lift a hand (to help someone) not not long for this world not not made of money not not miss a thing not not miss much not not move a muscle not not on any account not not one iota
not not one's place
not not on your life
not not open one's mouth not not see any objection (to something) not not see farther than the end of one's nose not not see past the end of one's nose not not set foot somewhere not not show one's face not not sleep a wink not not someone's cup of tea not not take no for an answer not not take stock in something not not tell a (living) soul not not up to scratch not not up to snuff
not not utter a word
not not want to catch someone doing something not not what something is cracked up to be not not with it not not worth a dime
not not worth a hill of beans not not worth a plugged nickel not not worth a red cent not not worth mentioning not not worth one's while not not worth the trouble not whether or not not will not hear of something notch take someone down a notch (or two) note hit a sour note note make a note of something note someone of note
note strike a sour note note strike the right note note take note (of something) nothing all or nothing nothing come to nothing nothing good-for-nothing nothing have nothing on someone or something nothing have nothing to do with someone or something nothing Here goes nothing.
nothing in nothing flat nothing like nothing on earth nothing make nothing of something nothing make something out of nothing nothing mean nothing (to someone) nothing much ado about nothing nothing next to nothing nothing nothing but skin and bones nothing nothing but something nothing nothing doing nothing nothing down nothing nothing of the kind nothing nothing short of something nothing nothing to choose from nothing nothing to complain about nothing nothing to it

nothing nothing to sneeze at nothing nothing to speak of nothing nothing to write home about Nothing Nothing ventured, nothing gained. nothing not know from nothing nothing stop at nothing nothing think nothing of someone or something nothing to say nothing of someone or something nothing want for nothing nothings sweet nothings notice escape someone's notice notice serve notice (on someone) notice sit up and take notice notice take notice (of something) notion have half a notion to do something now all better now
now (every) now and again now (every) now and then now now and again
now now and then
Now Now hear this!
now now or never
Now (Now), where was I?
now There, now.
now the here and now nowhere appear out of nowhere nowhere at the end of nowhere nowhere come from nowhere nowhere come out of nowhere nowhere Flattery will get you nowhere.
nowhere get nowhere fast nowhere in the middle of nowhere nowhere nowhere near nth to the nth degree nude in the nude nuisance make a nuisance of oneself null null and void number any number of someone or something number do a number on someone or something number exchange more than some number of words with someone number get someone's number number one's number is up number quite a number number a number of things or people numbered one's days are numbered numbers by the numbers numbers in round numbers numbers safety in numbers nurse nurse a grudge (against someone) nurse nurse someone back to health nut off one's nut
nut tough nut to crack
nut a hard nut to crack nuts everything from soup to nuts nuts nuts about someone or something nuts the nuts and bolts (of something) nutshell in a nutshell nutty (as) nutty as a fruitcake nutty nutty as a fruitcake nuzzle nuzzle up to someone or something oar put one's oar in oath take an oath

oath under oath
oats sow one's wild oats object expense is no object object Money is no object. objection not see any objection (to something) objection raise (an) objection (to someone or something) objection see no objection (to something) occasion on occasion occasion rise to the occasion occupancy immediate occupancy occur occur to someone ocean an ocean of someone or something ocean a drop in the ocean oceans oceans of someone or something odd odd man out odd the odd something odds at odds (with someone) odds for the odds to be against one odds odds and ends odor odor of sanctity of (above and) beyond the call of duty of acknowledge receipt (of something) of afraid of one's own shadow of after the fashion of someone or something of ahead of one's time of ahead of schedule of ahead of the game of ahead of time
of all kinds of someone or something of all manner of someone or something of all of a sudden
of all walks of life of alongside (of) someone or something of any number of someone or something of appear out of nowhere of arguing for the sake of arguing of arguing for the sake of argument of as a matter of course of as a matter of fact of as a result of something of as a token (of something) of (as) black as a stack of black cats of (as) black as the ace of spades of (as) close as two coats of paint of (as) cocky as the king of spades of (as) crooked as a barrel of fish hooks of (as) funny as a barrel of monkeys of as much fun as a barrel of monkeys of at the bottom of the hour of at the bottom of the ladder of at the break of dawn of at the crack of dawn of at the drop of a hat

- of at the end of nowhere
- of at the end of one's rope
- of at the end of one's tether
- of at the end of the day
- of at the expense of someone or something
- of at the forefront (of something)
- of at the height of something
- of at the helm (of something)
- of at the mercy of someone
- of at the point of doing something
- of at the rear of something
- of at the top of one's lungs
- of at the top of one's voice
- of at the top of the hour
- of at the zenith of something
- of at this stage of the game
- of avail oneself of something
- of avenue of escape
- of back of the beyond
- of back out (of something)
- of bag of tricks
- of bail out (of something)
- of ball of fire
- of baptism of fire
- of bear the brunt (of something)
- of beat the living daylights out of someone
- of beat the stuffing out of someone
- of beat the tar out of someone
- of beginning of the end
- of be of service (to someone)
- of be of the persuasion that something is so
- of be the death of me (yet)
- of be the spit and image of someone
- of be the spitting image of someone
- of beyond the call of duty
- of beyond the shadow of a doubt
- of big of someone
- of Birds of a feather flock together.
- of black as a stack of black cats
- of black as the ace of spades
- of blow something out of all proportion
- of bone of contention
- of born out of wedlock
- of break out (of something)
- of break the back of something
- of burn one's bridges in front of one
- of by all means of something
- of by a show of hands
- of by dint of something
- of by means of something
- of by the nape of the neck
- of by the seat of one's pants
- of by the skin of one's teeth
- of by the sweat of one's brow
- of by virtue of something
- of by way of something
- of by word of mouth
- of call of nature
- of can't make heads or tails (out) of someone or something
- of can't see beyond the end of one's nose
- of can't see one's hand in front of one's face
- of can't stand (the sight of) someone or something
- of capable of doing something
- of carry (a lot of) weight (with someone or something)
- of carry the weight of the world on one's shoulders
- of catch a whiff of something
- of catch one's death (of cold)
- of catch sight of someone or something
- of catch someone in the act (of doing something)
- of change horses in the middle of the stream
- of charm the pants off (of) someone
- of chicken out (of something)
- of chisel someone out of something
- of clean out (of something)
- of clear of something
- of close as two coats of paint
- of cock of the walk
- of cocky as the king of spades
- of come in out of the rain
- of come of age
- of come out of left field
- of come out of nowhere
- of come out of one's shell
- of come out of the blue
- of come out (of the closet)
- of come to think of it
- of come within an ace of doing something
- of come within an inch of doing something
- of con someone out of something
- of course of action
- of cover a lot of ground
- of cover a lot of territory
- of crooked as a barrel of fish hooks
- of decide in favor of someone or something
- of die of a broken heart
- of die of boredom
- of Don't let it out of this room.
- of do someone out of something
- of drive someone out (of office)
- of drop out (of something)
- of drum someone out of something
- of eat out of someone's hands
- of eat someone out of house and home
- of elbow someone out (of something)
- of end up with the short end of the stick
- of even in the best of times
- of exchange more than some number of words with someone
- of fall afoul of someone or something
- of fall short (of something)
- of fan the flames (of something)
- of feel a glow of something
- of feel on top of the world
- of feel out of place
- of ferret something out of someone or something
- of first of all
- of flight of fancy
- of flirt with the idea of doing something
- of fly in the face of someone or something
- of fly in the teeth of someone or something
- of fly into the face of danger
- of fond of someone or something
- of force someone out (of office) of for fear of something of for the devil of it of for the good of someone or something of for the heck of it of for the hell of it of for the life of one of for the sake of someone or something of fresh out (of something) of frighten one out of one's wits of frighten the (living) daylight out of someone of frighten the wits out of someone of from the bottom of one's heart of fruit(s) of one's labor(s) of full of beans

of full of bull
of full of hot air
of full of it
of full of Old Nick of full of oneself
of full of prunes
of full of the devil
of funny as a barrel of monkeys of get a bang out of someone or something of get a charge out of someone or something of get a clean bill of health of get a grasp of something of get ahead of oneself of get (a)hold of someone or something of get a kick out of someone or something of get a load of someone or something of get a lot of mileage out of something of get an eyeful (of someone or something) of get a rise out of someone of get a rough idea (of something) of get a taste of one's own medicine of get at the heart of the matter of get a whiff of something of get into the swing of things of get one's fill of someone or something of get one's nose out of someone's business of get on the good side of someone of get out of a jam of get out of a mess of get out of someone's way of get out of the way of get out of the wrong side of the bed of get rid of someone or something of get someone or something out of one's head of get someone or something out of one's mind of get someone or something out of the way of get someone out of a jam of get something out of one's system of get something out of something of get the advantage of someone of get the benefit of the doubt of get the best of someone of get the better of someone of get the drift of something of get the feel of something of get the hang of something of get the shock of one's life of get the short end of the stick of get the worst of something of get to the bottom of something of get to the heart of the matter of get to the root of the problem of get up on the wrong side of the bed of get wind of something of give a good account of oneself of give of oneself

of give someone a clean bill of health of give someone a piece of one's mind of give someone a rough idea (of something) of give someone the benefit of the doubt of go out of fashion of go out of one's way (to do something) of go out of style of go to the expense (of doing something) of go to the trouble (of doing something) of groan under the burden of something of grow out of something of guest of honor of gyp someone out of something of hard of hearing of have a change of heart of have a good command of something of have a heart of gold of have a heart of stone of have a lot of promise of have a rough time (of it) of have a run of bad luck of have a run of something of have a whale of a time of have eyes in the back of one's head of have feet of clay of have none of something of have something on the tip of one's tongue of have the best of both worlds of have the courage of one's convictions of have the feel of something of have the gift of gab of have the makings of something of have the patience of a saint of have the presence of mind to do something of have the right-of-way of have the time of one's life of hear a peep out of someone of hear of something of hightail it out of somewhere of hit (someone) like a ton of bricks of hold one's end (of the bargain) up of hotfoot it out of somewhere of in a (constant) state of flux of in a month of Sundays of in and of itself of in awe (of someone or something) of in a world of one's own of in behalf of someone of in care of someone of in case of something of in consequence (of something) of in consideration of something of in contempt (of court) of in custody of someone or something

- of in defiance (of someone or something)
- of in favor of someone
- of in favor (of someone or something)
- of in honor of someone or something
- of in hopes of something
- of in lieu of something
- of in light of something
- of in memory of someone
- of in need of something
- of in one ear and out (of) the other
- of in place of someone or something
- of in pursuit of something
- of in quest of someone or something
- of in receipt of something
- of ins and outs of something
- of in search of someone or something
- of in some neck of the woods
- of in spite of someone or something
- of in terms of something
- of in the absence of someone or something
- of in the act (of doing something)
- of in the best of health
- of in the care of someone
- of in the case of someone or something
- of in the charge of someone
- of in the context of something
- of in the course of time
- of in the event of something
- of in the forefront (of something)
- of in the interest of someone or something
- of in the lap of luxury
- of in the line of duty
- of in the mainstream (of something)
- of in the middle of nowhere
- of in the neighborhood of something
- of in the nick of time
- of in the pink (of condition)
- of in the prime of life
- of in the swim of things
- of in the trust of someone
- of in the twinkling of an eye
- of in the unlikely event of something
- of in the (very) nick of time
- of in the wake of something
- of in the way of something
- of in two shakes of a lamb's tail
- of invasion of (someone's) privacy
- of in view of something
- of jump out of one's skin
- of just one of those things
- of keep abreast (of something)
- of keep one's nose out of someone's business
- of keep track (of someone or something)
- of kind of something
- of know (all) the tricks of the trade
- of know someone or something like the back of one's hand
- of know someone or something like the palm of one's hand
- of laugh out of the other side of one's mouth
- of laugh something out of court
- of lay hold of someone or something
- of lead the life of Riley
- of least of all
- of let go of someone or something
- of let out some kind of sound
- of let the cat out of the bag
- of light out (of somewhere)
- of like a bat out of hell
- of like a bolt out of the blue
- of like a fish out of water
- of like one of the family
- of live a life of something
- of live off the fat of the land
- of live out of a suitcase
- of live up to one's end of the bargain
- of long and (the) short of it
- of lose one's train of thought
- of lose track (of someone or something)
- of lots of people or things
- of lull someone into a false sense of security
- of make a clean breast of something
- of make a day of doing something
- of make a day of it
- of make a federal case out of something
- of make a fool out of someone
- of make a go of it
- of make a great show of something
- of make a laughingstock of oneself or something
- of make a meal of something
- of make a monkey out of someone
- of make a mountain out of a molehill
- of make an example of someone
- of make an exhibition of oneself
- of make a night of doing something
- of make an issue of someone or something
- of make a note of something
- of make a nuisance of oneself
- of make a point of doing something
- of make a point of someone or something
- of make a practice of something
- of make a silk purse out of a sow's ear
- of make fast work of someone or something
- of make fun (of someone or something)
- of make hamburger out of someone or something
- of make light of something
- of make little of someone or something
- of make mincemeat out of someone or something
- of make nothing of something
- of make sense out of someone or something
- of make short work of someone or something
- of make something out of nothing
- of make something (out) of something
- of make something up out of whole cloth
- of make the best of something
- of make the most of something
- of make use of someone or something
- of march to (the beat of) a different drummer
- of matter-of-fact
- of middle-of-the-road
- of milk of human kindness
- of Money is the root of all evil.
- of more fun than a barrel of monkeys
- of next of kin
- of no end of something
- of none of someone's beeswax

- of none of someone's business
- of not able to make anything out of someone or something
- of not breathe a word of it
- of not give someone the time of day
- of nothing of the kind
- of nothing short of something
- of nothing to speak of
- of not know enough to come in out of the rain
- of not made of money
- of not see farther than the end of one's nose
- of not see past the end of one's nose
- of not someone's cup of tea
- of not worth a hill of beans
- of oceans of someone or something
- of odor of sanctity
- of of age
- of of all the nerve
- of of all things
- of of benefit (to someone)
- of off the top of one's head
- of of interest (to someone)
- of of late
- of of no avail
- of of one's own accord
- of of one's own free will
- of of the first water
- of of the old school
- of on behalf of someone
- of one jump ahead (of someone or something)
- of one move ahead (of someone or something)
- of one of these days
- of one sandwich short of a picnic
- of one's way of life
- of on the eve of something
- of on the face of it
- of on the heels of something
- of on the horns of a dilemma
- of on the point of doing something
- of on the spur of the moment
- of on the strength of something
- of on the tip of one's tongue
- of on the track of someone or something
- of on the trail of someone or something
- of on the verge (of doing something)
- of on top of something
- of on top of the world
- of open (up) a can of worms
- of out of a clear blue sky
- of out of (all) proportion
- of out of bounds
- of out of breath
- of out of character
- of out of circulation
- of out of commission
- of out of condition
- of out of consideration (for someone or something)
- of out of control
- of out of courtesy (to someone)
- of out-of-date
- of out of earshot
- of out of fashion
- of out of favor (with someone)
- of out of gas
- of out of hand
- of out of it
- of out of keeping (with something)
- of out of kilter
- of out of line
- of out of luck
- of out of necessity
- of out of one's element
- of out of one's head
- of out of one's mind
- of out of one's senses
- of out of one's way
- of out of order
- of out of place
- of out-of-pocket expenses
- of out of practice
- of out of print
- of out of proportion
- of out of reach
- of out of season
- of out of service
- of out of shape
- of out of sight
- of out of sorts
- of out of spite
- of out of step (with someone or something)
- of out of stock
- of out of style
- of out of the blue
- of out of the corner of one's eye
- of out of the frying pan into the fire
- of out of the hole
- of out of the ordinary
- of out of the question
- of out of the red
- of out of the running
- of out of the swim of things
- of out-of-the-way
- of out of the woods
- of out of thin air
- of out of this world
- of out of time (with someone or something)
- of out of touch (with someone or something)
- of out of town
- of out of tune (with someone or something)
- of out of turn
- of out of w(h)ack
- of out of work
- of outside of something
- of partake of something
- of part and parcel (of something)
- of parting of the ways
- of pass the time of day (with someone)
- of piece of cake
- of pile out (of something)
- of plenty of something
- of point of view
- of possessed of something
- of pull something out of a hat
- of pull something out of thin air
- of put someone or something out of one's mind

- of put someone's nose out of joint
- of read someone out of something
- of regardless of something
- of reminiscent of someone or something
- of risk of rain
- of risk of showers
- of risk of thunder(storms)
- of run afoul of someone or something
- of run a risk (of something)
- of run-of-the-mill
- of run out of gas
- of run out of patience
- of run out of something
- of run out of time
- of run short (of something)
- of run the risk (of something)
- of run to an amount of money
- of scare one out of one's wits
- of scare the living daylights out of someone
- of scare the wits out of someone
- of school of thought
- of scrape the bottom of the barrel
- of see the color of someone's money
- of see the last of someone or something
- of see the light (at the end of the tunnel)
- of see the light (of day)
- of sell someone a bill of goods
- of set someone back (some amount of money)
- of settle (something) (out of court)
- of shades of someone or something
- of shadow of itself
- of shadow of oneself
- of short of something
- of show signs of something
- of sick and tired of someone or something
- of (sitting) on top of the world
- of six of one and half a dozen of the other
- of small hours (of the night)
- of snap out of something
- of someone's place of business
- of someone's train of thought
- of someone of note
- of something of the sort
- of (somewhere) in the neighborhood of an amount
- of son of a bitch
- of son of a gun
- of son of a sea biscuit
- of sort of something
- of speak highly of someone or something
- of speak ill of someone
- of speak of the devil
- of speak out of turn
- of stand in awe (of someone or something)
- of stand (in) back of someone or something
- of steer clear (of someone or something)
- of step out of line
- of stop short of doing something
- of suggestive of something
- of swear on a stack of Bibles
- of sweep out of somewhere
- of take a dim view of something
- of take advantage of someone or something
- of take (a)hold of someone or something
- of take a leaf out of someone's book
- of take care of someone or something
- of take charge (of someone or something)
- of take leave of one's senses
- of take note (of something)
- of take notice (of something)
- of take one's death of cold
- of take (one's) leave (of someone)
- of take something with a grain of salt
- of take something with a pinch of salt
- of take stock (of something)
- of take the liberty of doing something
- of take the starch out of someone
- of take the wind out of someone's sails
- of take the words out of one's mouth
- of talk someone out of (doing) something
- of talk someone out of something
- of tell tales out of school
- of That makes two of us.
- of That's about the size of it.
- of That takes care of that.
- of There are plenty of other fish in the sea.
- of think a great deal of someone or something
- of think a lot of someone or something
- of think better of something
- of think highly of someone or something
- of think little of someone or something
- of think much of someone or something
- of think nothing of someone or something
- of think the world of someone or something
- of throw oneself at the mercy of the court
- of throw oneself on the mercy of the court
- of throw someone out (of something)
- of till all hours (of the day and night)
- of too much of a good thing
- of to say nothing of someone or something
- of to someone's way of thinking
- of to the best of one's ability
- of to the best of one's knowledge
- of to the ends of the earth
- of to the tune of some amount of money
- of turn of the century
- of two bricks shy of a load
- of two of a kind
- of under a cloud (of suspicion)
- of under the aegis of someone
- of under the auspices of someone
- of under the influence (of alcohol)
- of under the influence of something
- of vale of tears
- of Variety is the spice of life.
- of warm the cockles of someone's heart
- of wash one's hands of someone or something
- of weasel out (of something)
- of weave in and out (of something)
- of wee hours (of the night)
- of whale the tar out of someone
- of What's the good of something?
- of wide of the mark
- of will not hear of something
- of within an inch of one's life of within a stone's throw (of something) of worm one's way out of something of worm something out of someone of worthy of the name of wouldn't dream of doing something of yield the right-of-way of You scared me out of my wits.

 of You scared the crap out of me.
 of You scared the devil out of me.
 of You scared the dickens out of me.
 of You scared the hell out of me.
 of You scared the pants off (of) me.
 of an act of faith
 of an act of God
 of an act of war
 of an ocean of someone or something of An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
 of a bed of roses
 of a breath of fresh air of a bundle of nerves of a case of mistaken identity of a change of pace of a change of scenery of a couple of
 of a den of iniquity of a devil of a job
 of a dose of one's own medicine of a fan of someone of a few cards short of a deck of a few cards shy of a full deck of a fine kettle of fish of a fine state of affairs of a ghost of a chance of a gold mine of information of a grain of truth of a harbinger of things to come of a hive of activity of a horse of a different color of a horse of another color of a jack-of-all-trades of a kind of (a) something of a labor of love
 of a lick of work of a lot of someone or something of a matter of life and death of a matter of opinion of a meeting of minds of a mine of information of a miscarriage of justice of a number of things or people of a pack of lies
 of a piece of the action of a pillar of strength of a pillar of support of a portent of things to come of a pretty state of affairs of a ripple of excitement of a ripple of protest of a rule of thumb
 of a show of hands of a sign of things to come of a slice of the cake

of a slip of the tongue of a stroke of luck
 of a taste of something of a taste of things to come of a tower of strength of a travesty of justice of a vote of confidence of a vote of thanks of a wealth of something of the apple of someone's eye of the balls of one's feet of the best-laid plans of mice and men of the best-laid schemes of mice and men of the best part of something of the black sheep of the family of the business end of something of the cream of the crop of the crux of the matter of the end of the line of the end of the road
 of the eye of the storm of the facts of life of the hair of the dog that bit one of the kiss of death of the land of Nod of the lay of the land of the lesser (of the two) of the lesser of two evils of the life of the party of the likes of someone of the line of least resistance of the lion's share (of something) of the moment of truth of the name of the game of the nuts and bolts (of something) of the order of the day of the other side of the tracks of the particulars of something of the path of least resistance of the pick of something of the picture of something of the point of no return of the reality of the situation of the ruin of someone or something of the salt of the earth of the sands of time of the seamy side of life of the separation of church and state of the survival of the fittest of the talk of somewhere of the upshot of something of the villain of the piece of the whole ball of wax of the whys and wherefores of something of the wrong side of the tracks off (as) easy as falling off a log off (as) easy as rolling off a log off back off (from someone or something) off beat the pants off someone off beg off (on something) off be off
 off better off (doing something) off better off (if one were somewhere else) off better off (if something were done) off better off (somewhere) off bite off more than one can chew off bite someone's head off off blast off

off blow off steam
off blow someone or something off off blow the lid off (something) off break off (with someone) off bring something off off bump someone off off buy someone off
off call someone or something off off call the dogs off off carry something off off catch one off one's guard off catch someone off balance off catch someone off guard off charm the pants off (of) someone off cheesed off
off choke something off off come off
off cool off
off cool someone off
off cut off
off cut someone off without a penny off dash something off off drop off (to sleep) off ease off (on someone or something) off easy as falling off a log off easy as rolling off a log off fall off
off first off
off fly off the handle off fob something off (on someone) off foist something (off) on someone off get a big send-off off get a load off one's feet off get a load off one's mind off get off
off get (someone) off the hook off get something off one's chest off get something off (the ground) off get the brush-off off get the day off
off get time off
off give someone a big send-off off give someone the brush-off off give someone the shirt off one's back off go off
off goof off
off Hands off!
off head someone or something off off hit it off (with someone) off jumping-off place off jumping-off point off jump off the deep end off keep off (something) off keep one's hands off (someone or something) off kick off
off kick something off

off knock it off
off knock off work
off knock one off one's feet off knock someone's block off off knock someone off off knock something off off laugh something off off lay off (someone or something) off lay someone off off lead off
off let off steam
off let someone or something off off let someone off easy off let someone off (the hook) off like water off a duck's back off live high off the hog off live off the fat of the land off make off with someone or something off nod off
off no skin off someone's nose off no skin off someone's teeth off off again, on again off off and on off off and running off off base off off campus
off off-center
off off chance
off off-color
off off duty
off off like a shot off off limits
off off one's nut off off one's rocker off off one's trolley
off off season
off off someone or something goes off off the air off off the (beaten) track off off-the-cuff
off off the mark off off the record
off off the subject
off off the top of one's head off off the track
off off-the-wall
off off to a running start off off to one side
off on again, off again off on and off
off on the off-chance off palm something off (on someone) off pay someone or something off off pick someone or something off off play someone off against someone else off polish something off off pop off
off pull something off
off push off
off put off by someone or something off put someone or something off off put someone off

off put something off off rake something off
off rattle something off off reel something off off ride off in all directions off right off the bat off rip someone or something off off round something off off rub off (on someone) off run around like a chicken with its head cut off off run off at the mouth off run off with someone or something off sell something off off send someone off
off set someone or something off off shake someone or something off off shake something off off shoot one's mouth off off show off
off show someone or something off off shuffle off this mortal coil off slack off
off sleep something off off slip off
off so clean you could eat off the floor off sound off (about something) off speak off the cuff off spin something off off spout off (about someone or something) off square off (for something) off stall someone or something off off start off on the wrong foot off start (off) with a clean slate off stop off (somewhere) off sweep one off one's feet off take a load off one's feet off Take a long walk off a short pier.
off take off
off take the day off off take the edge off (something) off take time off
off take up where one left off off talk someone's ear off off talk someone's head off off taper off (doing something) off tear off
off tee someone off
off tell someone off
off tell someone where to get off off throw someone or something off off throw someone off the track off throw someone off the trail off time off
off tip someone off
off top something off
off toss something off off touch someone or something off off turn someone off off walk off with something off wear off
off well-off
off wipe something off

off wish something off on someone off work something off off write someone or something off off You scared the pants off (of) me. off a chip off the old block off a far-off look offense take offense (at someone or something) office do a land-office business office drive someone out (of office) office force someone out (of office) office take office offing in the offing often more often than not oil burn the midnight oil oil oil someone's palm oil pour oil on troubled water(s) ointment a fly in the ointment old (as) comfortable as an old shoe old (as) common as an old shoe old (as) old as the hills old (as) tough as an old boot old comfortable as an old shoe old common as an old shoe old dirty old man
old from the old school
Old full of Old Nick
old get the (old) heave-ho old give someone or something the (old) heave-ho old of the old school
old old as the hills
old old enough to be someone's father old old enough to be someone's mother Old Old habits die hard.
old old hat
old one's old stamping ground old tough as an old boot old You can't teach an old dog new tricks.
old an old hand at doing something old a chip off the old block old a ripe old age old the good old days old the same old story olive hold out the olive branch omega alpha and omega on able to do something standing on one's head on and so on on arrive on the scene on (as) awkward as a cow on a crutch on (as) awkward as a cow on roller skates on (as) busy as a cat on a hot tin roof on (as) busy as popcorn on a skillet on (as) plain as the nose on one's face on awkward as a cow on a crutch on awkward as a cow on roller skates on bank on something on bargain on something on barge in (on someone or something) on base one's opinion on something on be a new one on someone on becoming on someone on be death on something on beg off (on something)

- on behind on something
- on bent on doing something
- on be off on the wrong foot
- on blow the whistle (on someone)
- on bone up (on something)
- on bring down the curtain (on something)
- on bring someone up to date (on someone or something)
- on brush up (on something)
- on burst in on someone or something
- on busy as a cat on a hot tin roof
- on busy as popcorn on a skillet
- on butt in (on someone or something)
- on buy something on credit
- on call on someone
- on call someone on the carpet
- on carry on (about someone or something)
- on carry on somehow
- on carry on without someone or something
- on carry on (with someone or something)
- on carry the weight of the world on one's shoulders
- on carry through (on something)
- on cash in (on something)
- on cash on the barrelhead
- on cast aspersions on someone
- on cast doubt(s) (on someone or something)
- on catch (on) fire
- on catch on (to someone or something)
- on cheat on someone
- on check in (on someone or something)
- on cheer someone on
- on chip in (on something)
- on chip in something on something
- on chip something in (on something)
- on clamp down (on someone or something)
- on clap eyes on someone or something
- on climb on the bandwagon
- on close in (on someone or something)
- on close the books (on someone or something)
- on close the door on someone or something
- on clue someone in (on something)
- on come down hard on someone or something
- on come on
- on count on someone or something
- on count someone in (on something)
- on crack down (on someone or something)
- on cross swords (with someone) (on something)
- on cut back (on something)
- on cut one's eyeteeth on something
- on dash cold water on something
- on dawn on someone
- on dead on its feet
- on dead on one's feet
- on death on someone or something
- on die on someone
- on die on the vine
- on die with one's boots on
- on dig some dirt up on someone
- on do a flip-flop (on something)
- on do a job on someone or something
- on do a number on someone or something
- on do a snow job on someone
- on do not have a leg to stand on
- on do something on the fly
- on do something on the run
- on do something on the sly
- on double back (on someone or something)
- on downhill from here on
- on down on one's luck
- on down on someone or something
- on draw a bead on someone or something
- on Dream on.
- on drop in (on someone)
- on drug on the market
- on early on
- on ease off (on someone or something)
- on ease up (on someone or something)
- on eat high on the hog
- on egg someone on
- on fall back on someone or something
- on fall down on the job
- on fall flat (on its face)
- on fall flat (on one's face)
- on fall on deaf ears
- on feast one's eyes (on someone or something)
- on feel on top of the world
- on figure on something
- on fill someone in (on someone or something)
- on firing on all cylinders
- on fob something off (on someone)
- on foist something (off) on someone
- on follow through (on something)
- on follow up (on someone or something)
- on follow up (on something)
- on for days on end
- on for hours on end
- on from this day on
- on gang up (on someone)
- on get a crush on someone
- on get a fix on something
- on get a handle on something
- on get a head start (on someone or something)
- on get a hurry on
- on get a line on someone or something
- on get along (on a shoestring)
- on get a rain check (on something)
- on get a slap on the wrist
- on get back on one's feet
- on get by (on something)
- on get in on something
- on get in (on the ground floor)
- on get off on the wrong foot
- on get one's feet on the ground
- on get one's hands on someone or something
- on get on someone
- on get on the bandwagon
- on get on the good side of someone
- on get on (with someone or something)
- on get right on something
- on get something on someone
- on get the edge on someone
- on get the goods on someone
- on get the jump on someone
- on get the low-down (on someone or something)
- on get the show on the road

- on get the upper hand (on someone)
- on get up on the wrong side of the bed
- on give someone a fix on something
- on give someone a head start (on someone or something)
- on give someone a pat on the back
- on give someone a rain check (on something)
- on give someone a slap on the wrist
- on give someone the low-down (on someone or something)
- on go back on one's word
- on go easy (on someone or something)
- on go fifty-fifty (on something)
- on gone on
- on go off on a tangent
- on go on
- on go (out) on strike
- on grate on someone's nerves)
- on grow on someone
- on hang on someone's coattails
- on hang on someone's every word
- on hang on (to someone or something)
- on hard on someone's heels
- on harp on something
- on have a bad effect (on someone or something)
- on have a chip on one's shoulder
- on have a good head on one's shoulders
- on have a handle on something
- on have a hold on someone
- on have a lot on one's mind
- on have an eye on someone or something
- on have a price on one's head
- on have bearing on something
- on have designs on someone or something
- on have dibs on something
- on have egg on one's face
- on have nothing on someone or something
- on have one's feet on the ground
- on have one's heart on one's sleeve
- on have one's heart set on something
- on have one's sights trained on something
- on have someone or something on one's hands
- on have someone or something on one's mind
- on have someone's blood on one's hands
- on have someone on the string
- on have something on
- on have the shoe on the other foot
- on hell on earth
- on high man on the totem pole
- on high on something
- on hinge on something
- on hit the nail (right) on the head
- on hitting on all cylinders
- on hold forth (on something)
- on hold on (to someone or something)
- on hold up on something
- on home in (on someone or something)
- on hooked (on something)
- on horn in (on someone or something)
- on hot on something
- on hung up (on someone or something)
- on in on the kill
- on intent on doing something
- on Johnny-on-the-spot
- on judge one on one's own merit(s)
- on judge something on its own merit(s)
- on jump on someone
- on jump on the bandwagon
- on keen on doing something
- on keen on someone or something
- on keep a close rein on someone or something
- on keep an eye on someone or something
- on keep a tight rein on someone or something
- on keep (close) watch (on someone or something)
- on keep harping on something
- on keep on an even keel
- on keep one's eye on the ball
- on keep one's feet on the ground
- on keep on one's toes
- on keep on someone
- on keep someone on tenterhooks
- on keep something on an even keel
- on keep tab(s) (on someone or something)
- on keep the lid on something
- on Keep your shirt on!
- on knock on wood
- on know where someone stands (on someone or something)
- on know which side one's bread is buttered on
- on land on both feet
- on land on one's feet
- on launch forth (on something)
- on lay a finger on someone or something
- on lay down on the job
- on lay eyes on someone or something
- on lay it on thick
- on lay it on with a trowel
- on lay one's cards on the table
- on lay one's hands on someone or something
- on lay something on someone
- on lay something on the line
- on lay the blame on someone or something
- on lay the finger on someone
- on lead someone on a merry chase
- on lean on someone
- on leave one's mark on someone
- on leave something on
- on let someone in on something
- on let up (on someone or something)
- on lie down on the job
- on like a bump on a log
- on like a house on fire
- on like nothing on earth
- on live high on the hog
- on live on borrowed time
- on look down on someone or something
- on look good on paper
- on look in (on someone or something)
- on look on someone as something
- on loom large (on the horizon)
- on lose out (on something)
- on lost on someone
- on lower the boom on someone
- on low man on the totem pole
- on make an impression (on someone)
- on make book on something
- on make good on something

- on make someone's hair stand on end
- on miss out (on something)
- on move in (on someone or something)
- on murder on something
- on muscle in (on someone or something)
- on no flies on someone
- on not able to go on
- on not on any account
- on not on your life
- on off again, on again
- on off and on
- on on a bias
- on on account
- on on active duty
- on on a diet
- on on a first-name basis (with someone)
- on on a fool's errand
- on on again, off again
- on on a lark
- on on all fours
- on on and off
- on on any account
- on on approval
- on on a shoestring
- on on a splurge
- on on a waiting list
- on on behalf of someone
- on on bended knee
- on on board
- on on Broadway
- on on call
- on on campus
- on on cloud nine
- on on consignment
- on on credit
- on on dead center
- on on deck
- on on duty
- on on earth
- on on easy street
- on on edge
- on one's heart is set on something
- on one up (on someone)
- on on fire
- on on foot
- on on good terms (with someone)
- on on hold
- on on horseback
- on on impact
- on on impulse
- on on in years
- on on land
- on on line
- on on location
- on on medication
- on on no account
- on on occasion
- on on one's best behavior
- on on one's feet
- on on (one's) guard
- on on one's honor
- on on one's mind
- on on one's own
- on on one's person
- on on one's toes
- on on one's way to doing something
- on on order
- on on par (with someone or something)
- on on patrol
- on on pins and needles
- on on probation
- on on purpose
- on on sale
- on on schedule
- on on second thought
- on on someone's or something's last legs
- on on someone's account
- on on someone's back
- on on someone's behalf
- on on someone's case
- on on someone's doorstep
- on on someone's head
- on on someone's say-so
- on on someone's shoulders
- on on someone's way (somewhere)
- on on speaking terms (with someone)
- on on standby
- on on target
- on on the air
- on on the alert (for someone or something)
- on on the average
- on on the ball
- on on the beam
- on on the bench
- on on the bias
- on on the blink
- on on the block
- on on the borderline
- on on the button
- on on the contrary
- on on the defensive
- on on the dot
- on on the double
- on on the eve of something
- on on the face of it
- on on the fence (about something)
- on on the fritz
- on on the go
- on on the heels of something
- on on the horizon
- on on the horns of a dilemma
- on on the hot seat
- on on the hour
- on on the house
- on on the job
- on on the level
- on on the lookout (for someone or something)
- on on the loose
- on on the make
- on on the market
- on on the mend
- on on the money
- on on the move
- on on the nose

on on the off-chance on on (the) one hand
on on the other hand on on the point of doing something on on the QT
on on the right track on on the rocks
on on the spot
on on the spur of the moment on on the strength of something on on the take on on the tip of one's tongue on on the track of someone or something on on the trail of someone or something on on the up-and-up on on the verge (of doing something) on on the wagon
on on the warpath
on on the way (somewhere) on on the way to doing something on on the whole
on on the wing
on on the wrong track on on thin ice
on on time
on on tiptoe
on on top
on on trial
on on vacation
on on view
on open fire (on someone) on open season (on someone or something) on open up (on someone or something) on out on a limb
on out on bail
on out on parole
on (out) on patrol
on out on the town on palm something off (on someone) on pass on on pat someone on the back on pay a call on someone on perspective on something on pick on somebody your own size on pick on someone or something on pick on someone your own size on pin one's faith on someone or something on pin one's hope(s) on someone or something on pin someone down (on something) on pin something on someone on place the blame on someone or something on plain as the nose on one's face on play a joke on someone on play a trick on someone on play on something on play tricks (on someone) on pour cold water on something on pour it on thick on pour oil on troubled water(s) on pride oneself on something on pull a gun (on someone) on pull a knife (on someone) on pull a stunt (on someone) on pull a trick (on someone) on pull rank (on someone) on pull something on someone on pull the plug (on someone or something) on put a cap on something on put a hold on something on put a spin on something on put on on put one's cards on the table on put (one's) dibs on something on put one's finger on something on put one's hand(s) on something on put one's head on the block (for someone or something) on put one's thinking cap on on put someone or something on hold on put someone on on put something on on put something over (on someone) on put the arm on someone on put the bite on someone on put the blame on someone or something on put the clamps on (someone) on put the finger on someone on put the heat on (someone) on put the kibosh on something on put the screws on (someone) on put the skids on (something) on put the squeeze on (someone) on put the touch on someone on put weight on on quick on the draw on quick on the trigger on quick on the uptake on rain on someone's parade on ramble on (about someone or something) on rat on someone on read the handwriting on the wall on read up (on someone or something) on reliance on someone or something on rest on one's laurels on ride herd on someone or something on ride on someone's coattails on right on time on ring down the curtain (on something) on rub off (on someone) on run low (on something) on see eye to eye (with someone) (on something) on see the (hand)writing on the wall on sell someone on a plan or idea on sell something on credit on send someone (out) on an errand on serve notice (on someone) on set eyes on someone or something on set forth (on something) on set one's heart on something on set one's sights on something on set one back on one's heels on set someone or something on fire on set someone's teeth on edge on set the world on fire on settle on something

- on shake (hands) on something
- on Shame on someone.
- on shed (some) light on something
- on shut the door on someone or something
- on sign on the dotted line
- on sign on (with someone)
- on sit in (on something)
- on sit on its hands
- on sit on one's hands
- on sit on someone or something
- on sit on the fence
- on sitting on a powder keg
- on (sitting) on top of the world
- on skate on thin ice
- on skip out (on someone or something)
- on slap someone on the wrist
- on sleep on something
- on slow on the draw
- on slow on the uptake
- on smile on someone or something
- on someone wrote the book on something
- on speak out (on something)
- on spread it on thick
- on spring something on someone
- on stand on ceremony
- on stand on one's own two feet
- on start off on the wrong foot
- on steal a march (on someone)
- on step on it
- on step on someone's toes
- on step on the gas
- on stock up (on something)
- on (strictly) on the level
- on (strictly) on the up-and-up
- on stuck on someone or something
- on swear on a stack of Bibles
- on swear on one's mother's grave
- on sweet on someone
- on take a bath (on something)
- on take a rain check (on something)
- on take it easy (on someone or something)
- on take it on the chin
- on take off (on something)
- on take pity (on someone or something)
- on take someone or something on
- on take someone up on something
- on take something on faith
- on take something on the chin
- on take something out on someone or something
- on take too much on
- on tell on someone
- on think back (on someone or something)
- on think on one's feet
- on thin on top
- on throw cold water on something
- on throw oneself on the mercy of the court
- on throw (some) light on something
- on thumbs down on someone or something
- on thumbs up on someone or something
- on to be on the safe side
- on toing and froing (on something)
- on touch on something
- on trade on something
- on train one's sights on something
- on try something out on someone
- on turn on a dime
- on turn one's back (on someone or something)
- on turn on the waterworks
- on turn someone on
- on turn the heat up (on someone)
- on turn the tables (on someone)
- on turn thumbs down (on someone or something)
- on turn thumbs up (on someone or something)
- on verge on something
- on wait on someone hand and foot
- on walk on air
- on walk on eggs
- on walk out (on someone or something)
- on wear and tear (on something)
- on wear one's heart on one's sleeve
- on wear on someone
- on weigh on someone's mind
- on wish something off on someone
- on with bells on (one's toes)
- on wither on the vine
- on with everything (on it)
- on work on someone or something
- on You can bet on it!
- on zero in on something
- on zoom in (on someone or something)
- on a drag (on someone)
- on a new lease on life
- on a night on the town
- on a paradise (on earth)
- on a rush on something
- on The jury is still out (on someone or something).
- on The shoe is on the other foot.
- once all at once
- once at once
- once (every) once in a while
- once get the once-over
- once give someone the once-over
- once once and for all
- once once in a blue moon
- once once-in-a-lifetime chance
- once once in a while
- once once-over-lightly
- once once upon a time
- one (all) in one breath
- one all in one piece
- one (as) busy as a one-armed paperhanger
- one as one
- one at one fell swoop
- one back to square one
- one be a new one on someone
- one busy as a one-armed paperhanger
- one do someone one better
- one every last one
- one go in one ear and out the other
- one go someone one better
- one have a lot going (for one)
- one have a one-track mind
- one have one foot in the grave
- one have one for the road

one in one breath
one in one ear and out (of) the other one in one fell swoop one just one of those things one kill two birds with one stone one like one of the family one my one and only one not one iota
one off to one side
one one and all
one one and the same
one one at a time
one one by one
one one for the (record) books
One One good turn deserves another. one one in a hundred one one in a million
one one in a thousand
one one jump ahead (of someone or something)
one one little bit
One One man's meat is another man's poison.
One One man's trash is another man's treasure. one one move ahead (of someone or something)
one one-night stand
one one of these days
one one sandwich short of a picnic
One One thing leads to another.
one one to a customer one one up (on someone) one one way or another one on (the) one hand
one pull a fast one
one put all one's eggs in one basket one six of one and half a dozen of the other one There's more than one way to skin a cat.
one wear more than one hat one with one hand tied behind one's back one a hole in one
one the one and only oneself suit oneself onions know one's onions only Beauty is only skin-deep.
only in name only
only It (only) stands to reason.
only know something only too well only my one and only only only have eyes for someone only the one and only onto burst onto the scene onto onto someone or something open crack open a bottle open crack something wide open open get something out in the open open in the open
open keep one's eyes open (for someone or something) open keep one's weather eye open open leave oneself wide open for something open leave oneself wide open to something open leave something open open (like) an open book open not open one's mouth open open a conversation

open open and aboveboard open open fire (on someone) open open for business open open one's heart (to someone) open open Pandora's box open open season (on someone or something) open open secret
open open someone's eyes (to something) open open something up open open the door to something open open to something open open up
open open (up) a can of worms open open with something open read someone like a(n open) book open receive someone with open arms open welcome someone with open arms open an open-and-shut case open an open book
openers for openers
opening opening gambit opinion base one's opinion on something opinion form an opinion opinion hazard an opinion opinion in one's opinion opinion a matter of opinion opinions keep one's opinions to oneself opportunity jump at the opportunity opportunity leap at the opportunity opportunity seize the opportunity opposite the opposite sex or all or nothing or believe it or not or by hook or (by) crook or cash or credit or coffee, tea, or milk or come hell or high water or do or die
or either feast or famine or fish or cut bait or fold, spindle, or mutilate or for better or for worse or friend or foe
or heads or tails
or hit-or-miss or know a trick or two or land up somehow or somewhere or lend oneself or itself to something or like it or lump it or lots of people or things or make oneself or something a laughingstock or make or break someone or more or less or no ifs, ands, or buts about it or not know if one is coming or going or not know whether one is coming or going or now or never or one way or another or or else
or or words to that effect or publish or perish or Put up or shut up!

- or rain or shine
- or sell someone on a plan or idea
- or Shape up or ship out.
- or sink or swim
- or something or other
- or sooner or later
- or take it or leave it
- or take someone down a notch (or two)
- or take someone down a peg (or two)
- or tell someone a thing or two
- or Trick or treat!
- or whether or not
- or without rhyme or reason
- or a number of things or people
- oranges apples and oranges
- orbit go into orbit
- orbit in orbit
- orchard (as) crazy as a peach-orchard boar
- orchard crazy as a peach-orchard boar
- order back order something
- order build something to order
- order call the meeting to order
- order in apple-pie order
- order in order to do something
- order in short order
- order made to order
- order make something to order
- order on order
- order order someone about
- order order someone around
- order order something to go
- order out of order
- order place an order
- order put one's house in order
- order the order of the day
- ordered just what the doctor ordered
- orders follow orders
- ordinary out of the ordinary
- other bring people or other creatures out in droves
- other drop the other shoe
- other every other person or thing
- other go in one ear and out the other
- other have other fish to fry
- other have the shoe on the other foot
- other in one ear and out (of) the other
- other in other words
- other laugh out of the other side of one's mouth
- other look the other way
- other made for each other
- other none other than someone
- other on the other hand
- other other things being equal
- other six of one and half a dozen of the other
- other something or other
- other There are plenty of other fish in the sea.
- other turn the other cheek
- other with every (other) breath
- other the other side of the tracks
- other the other way round
- other The shoe is on the other foot.
- ounce An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
- ourselves by ourselves
- out act something out
- out air something out
- out all-out war
- out (all) tuckered out
- out appear out of nowhere
- out ask someone out
- out back out (of something)
- out bail out (of something)
- out bail someone or something out
- out battle something out
- out bawl someone out
- out bear something out
- out beat one's brains out (to do something)
- out beat the living daylights out of someone
- out beat the stuffing out of someone
- out beat the tar out of someone
- out belt something out
- out black out
- out bleep something out
- out blow something out of all proportion
- out boot someone out
- out born out of wedlock
- out bottom out
- out bow out
- out break out
- out break (out) in(to) tears
- out bring people or other creatures out in droves
- out bug out
- out burn (oneself) out
- out burn out
- out burst out crying
- out burst out laughing
- out call out (to someone)
- out cancel something out
- out can't make heads or tails (out) of someone or something
- out carry something out
- out check out
- out chew someone out
- out chicken out (of something)
- out chisel someone out of something
- out clean out (of something)
- out clear out
- out come in out of the rain
- out come out
- out conk out
- out con someone out of something
- out cop out
- out count someone out (for something)
- out crank something out
- out cry one's eyes out
- out Cut it out!
- out cut out for something
- out cut out the deadwood
- out cut out to be something
- out cut the ground out from under someone
- out dart in and out
- out day in and day out
- out day in, day out
- out dig something out
- out dine out

- out Don't let it out of this room.
- out do someone out of something
- out down-and-out
- out draw someone or something out
- out drive someone out (of office)
- out drop out (of something)
- out drown someone or something out
- out drum someone out of something
- out dry someone out
- out eat (a meal) out
- out eat one's heart out
- out eat out of someone's hands
- out eat someone out
- out edge someone out
- out elbow someone out (of something)
- out fall out
- out farm someone or something out
- out far out
- out feel dragged out
- out feel out of place
- out feel someone out
- out ferret something out of someone or something
- out figure someone or something out
- out find someone or something out
- out find (something) out the hard way
- out fit someone or something out (with something)
- out fizzle out
- out flat out
- out flesh something out
- out flunk out
- out flunk someone out
- out force someone out (of office)
- out For crying out loud!
- out fork money out (for something)
- out fresh out (of something)
- out frighten one out of one's wits
- out frighten the (living) daylights out of someone
- out frighten the wits out of someone
- out get a bang out of someone or something
- out get a charge out of someone or something
- out get a kick out of someone or something
- out get a lot of mileage out of something
- out get a rise out of someone
- out get one's nose out of someone's business
- out get out from under someone or something
- out get out of a jam
- out get out of a mess
- out get out of someone's way
- out get out of the way
- out get out of the wrong side of the bed
- out get out while the getting is good
- out get someone or something out of one's head
- out get someone or something out of one's mind
- out get someone or something out of the way
- out get someone out of a jam
- out get something out in the open
- out get something out of one's system
- out get something out of something
- out get the lead out
- out give out
- out go all out
- out go in one ear and out the other
- out go out (for something)
- out go out of fashion
- out go out of one's way (to do something)
- out go out of style
- out go (out) on strike
- out go out (with someone)
- out gross someone out
- out grow out of something
- out gyp someone out of something
- out hammer something out
- out hang out (somewhere)
- out hang out (with someone)
- out have an eye out (for someone or something)
- out have an out
- out have one's heart go out to someone
- out have one's luck run out
- out have one's work cut out for one
- out have something out (with someone)
- out hear a peep out of someone
- out hear someone out
- out help (someone or something) out (with someone or something)
- out hightail it out of somewhere
- out hold out for something
- out hold out the olive branch
- out hotfoot it out of somewhere
- out in one ear and out (of) the other
- out iron something out
- out jump out of one's skin
- out keep an eye out (for someone or something)
- out keep one's nose out of someone's business
- out keep someone out in the cold
- out kick someone out
- out knock-down-drag-out fight
- out knock oneself out (to do something)
- out knock someone out (cold)
- out knock the props out from under someone
- out know something inside out
- out laugh out of the other side of one's mouth
- out laugh something out of court
- out leak something (out)
- out leave someone out in the cold
- out let it all hang out
- out let out some kind of sound
- out let something (get) out
- out let something slip (out)
- out let the cat out of the bag
- out light out (for somewhere)
- out light out (of somewhere)
- out like a bat out of hell
- out like a bolt out of the blue
- out like a fish out of water
- out live out of a suitcase
- out look out
- out lose out (on something)
- out lose out to someone or something
- out luck out
- out make a check out (to someone)
- out make a federal case out of something
- out make a fool out of someone
- out make a monkey out of someone
- out make a mountain out of a molehill

- out make an all-out effort
- out make a silk purse out of a sow's ear
- out make hamburger out of someone or something
- out make mincemeat out of someone or something
- out make out (with someone or something)
- out make sense out of someone or something
- out make something out of nothing
- out make something (out) of something
- out make something up out of whole cloth
- out miss out (on something)
- out nose someone out
- out not able to make anything out of someone or something
- out not know enough to come in out of the rain
- out odd man out
- out one's heart goes out to someone
- out one's luck runs out
- out one's work is cut out for one
- out out and about
- out out cold
- out out from under (something)
- out out front
- out out in force
- out out in left field
- out out like a light
- out out of a clear blue sky
- out out of (all) proportion
- out out of bounds
- out out of breath
- out out of character
- out out of circulation
- out out of commission
- out out of condition
- out out of consideration (for someone or something)
- out out of control
- out out of courtesy (to someone)
- out out-of-date
- out out of earshot
- out out of fashion
- out out of favor (with someone)
- out out of gas
- out out of hand
- out out of it
- out out of keeping (with something)
- out out of kilter
- out out of line
- out out of luck
- out out of necessity
- out out of one's element
- out out of one's head
- out out of one's mind
- out out of one's senses
- out out of order
- out out of place
- out out-of-pocket expenses
- out out of practice
- out out of print
- out out of proportion
- out out of reach
- out out of season
- out out of service
- out out of shape
- out out of sight
- out out of sorts
- out out of spite
- out out of step (with someone or something)
- out out of stock
- out out of style
- out out of the blue
- out out of the corner of one's eye
- out out of the frying pan into the fire
- out out of the hole
- out out of the ordinary
- out out of the question
- out out of the red
- out out of the running
- out out of the swim of things
- out out-of-the-way
- out out of the woods
- out out of thin air
- out out of this world
- out out of time (with someone or something)
- out out of touch (with someone or something)
- out out of town
- out out of tune (with someone or something)
- out out of turn
- out out of w(h)ack
- out out of work
- out out on a limb
- out out on bail
- out out on parole
- out (out) on patrol
- out out on the town
- out out to lunch
- out out West
- out pan out
- out pass out
- out peter out
- out pile out (of something)
- out played out
- out point someone or something out
- out pooped out
- out poop out
- out pound something out
- out pour one's heart (out to someone)
- out psyched out
- out psyche out
- out psyche someone out
- out pull out all the stops
- out pull something out of a hat
- out pull something out of thin air
- out pull the rug out (from under someone)
- out put out (about someone or something)
- out put out (some) feelers
- out put someone or something out
- out put someone's eye out
- out put someone's nose out of joint
- out puzzle something out
- out rain something out
- out read someone out of something
- out ride something out
- out roll out the red carpet for someone
- out root something out
- out round out something out rub someone out out rule someone or something out out run out of gas out run out of patience out run out of something out run out of time out sack out

out scare one out of one's wits out scare the living daylights out of someone out scare the wits out of someone out sell (someone or something) out out send someone (out) on an errand out settle (something) (out of court) out shake the lead out out Shape up or ship out.
out shell something out out shoot something out out sit something out out skip out (on someone or something) out slip out
out smoke someone or something out out smooth something out out snap out of something out sniff someone or something out out sold out
out someone or something checks out out sort something out out sound someone out out spaced-out
out speak out of turn out speak out (on something) out spell something out out stamp someone or something out out stand out
out start someone out (as something) out step out of line out stick one's neck out (for someone or something) out stick out like a sore thumb out stick something out out straighten someone or something out out strike out
out strike someone out
out string something out out strung out
out sweat something out out sweep out of somewhere out take a leaf out of someone's book out take out (after someone or something) out take out a loan out take someone or something out out take something out on someone or something out take the starch out of someone out take the wind out of someone's sails out take the words out of one's mouth out talked out out talk oneself out out talk someone out of (doing) something out talk someone out of something out talk something out out tear one's hair (out) out tell tales out of school out think out loud

out think something out out thrash something out out throw someone out (of something) out throw the baby out with the bath(water) out time out
out tough it out
out trot something out out try out (for something) out try (out) one's wings out try something out on someone out tucked out out tune someone or something out out turn out (all right) out turn out (that) something is so out turn someone or something out out walk out (on someone or something) out wash a few things out out washed-out
out watch out
out wear out one's welcome out wear someone out out weasel out (of something) out weave in and out (of something) out weed someone or something out out week in, week out out whale the tar out of someone out win out (over someone or something) out wipe someone or something out out work out
out work something out out worm one's way out of something out worm something out of someone out write something out out year in, year out out You scared me out of my wits.
out You scared the crap out of me.
out You scared the devil out of me.
out You scared the dickens out of me.
out You scared the hell out of me.
out zonk out
out an all-out effort out an out-and-out something out The jury is still out (on someone or something).
out The truth will out.
outdoors (as) big as all outdoors outdoors big as all outdoors outgrow outgrow something outguess outguess someone outright killed outright outs ins and outs of something outset at the outset outset from the outset outside at the (very) outside outside outside of something outside outside the box outside thinking outside the box outside think outside the box over all over over (all) over again over (all) over with over (all) worked up (over something) over bend over backwards (to do something) over blow over over bowl someone over over carry over over carry something over over come over over come to blows (over something) over cry over spilled milk over do someone or something over over do something over (again) over fall (all) over oneself over fall all over someone over fall head over heels over fall out (with someone over something) over fall over backwards (to do something) over fork something over over get (oneself) into a stew (over someone or something) over get over someone or something over get someone over a barrel over get something over (with) over get the advantage over someone over get the once-over over get worked up (over something) over give someone the once-over over gloss something over over go ape (over someone or something) over go over

 over Hand it over.
 over hand over fist
 over hand over hand over hash something over over haul someone over the coals over have it all over someone or something over have precedence over someone or something; over have someone over over have something hanging over one's head over head over heels in debt over head over heels in love (with someone) over hold someone or something over over in over one's head over It's not over 'til it's over.
 over jump all over someone over keel over over keep (close) watch (over someone or something) over kick over over knock someone over with a feather over lay over (somewhere) over lean over backwards (to do something) over look like death warmed over over look someone or something over over lord it over someone over lose one's head (over someone or something) over lose sleep (over someone or something) over make a fuss (over someone or something) over make over someone or something over make someone or something over over mull something over over once-over-lightly
 over over again
 over over and above something over over and done with over over and over (again) over over my dead body over over someone's head over over the hill
 over over the hump
 over over the long haul over over there
 over over the short haul over over the top over over with over paper over the cracks (in something) over picked over over pick something over over pull the wool over someone's eyes over put something over over rake someone over the coals over read something over over ride roughshod over someone or something over roll (over) in one's grave over smooth something over over stand over someone over start (over) with a clean slate over stop over (somewhere) over take over over take someone or something over over talk something over over think something over over throw someone over over tide someone over over turn over over turn (over) in one's grave over until hell freezes over over walk all over someone over watch over someone or something over (way) over there over when hell freezes over over win out (over someone or something) over win someone over over worked up (over something) over work someone over over a hush fell over someone or something over take precedence over someone or something over The honeymoon is over.
 over The party's over.
 overboard go overboard
 overseas from overseas
 overtures make overtures owing owing to owl (as) wise as an owl owl night owl
 owl wise as an owl
 own according to one's own lights own afraid of one's own shadow own blow one's own horn own carry one's (own) weight own come into its own own come into one's own own cut one's (own) throat own dig one's own grave own do one's (own) thing
 own feather one's (own) nest own find one's own level own for one's (own) part own for one's (own) sake

own foul one's own nest own get a taste of one's own medicine own get one's (own) way (with someone or something) own hoist by one's own petard own hoist with one's own petard own hold one's own own in a world of one's own own in one's (own) backyard own in one's (own) (best) interest(s) own judge one on one's own merit(s) own judge something on its own merit(s) own keep one's own counsel own line one's own pockets own mind one's own business own not able to call one's time one's own own not know one's own strength own of one's own accord own of one's own free will own on one's own own own up (to something) own paddle one's own canoe own pay someone's (own) way own pick on somebody your own size own pick on someone your own size own pull oneself up (by one's own bootstraps) own pull one's (own) weight own sign one's own death warrant own stand on one's own two feet own stew in one's own juice own take one's own life own take the law into one's own hands own tell its own story own tell its own tale
own toot one's own horn own under one's own steam own a dose of one's own medicine own a place to call one's own own the devil's own job ox (as) strong as an ox ox strong as an ox
pace at a snail's pace
pace keep pace (with someone or something) pace a change of pace paces put one through one's paces paces put something through its paces pack pack a punch pack pack a wallop
pack pack them in pack a pack of lies packed packed (in) like sardines packing send someone packing pad pad the bill paddle paddle one's own canoe paddle up the creek (without a paddle) pain feeling no pain
pain give someone a pain pain racked with pain pain share someone's pain pain a pain in the neck pains have growing pains pains take (great) pains (to do something) paint (as) close as two coats of paint paint (as) exciting as watching (the) paint dry paint close as two coats of paint paint Do I need to paint you a picture? paint exciting as watching (the) paint dry paint paint the town red painted (as) black as one is painted painted black as one is painted pal pal around (with someone) pale as pale as a ghost pale (as) pale as death pale beyond the pale pale pale around the gills pale pale as death

palm cross someone's palm with silver palm grease someone's palm palm have an itching palm palm have an itchy palm palm know someone or something like the palm of one's hand palm oil someone's palm palm palm something off (on someone) pan out of the frying pan into the fire pan pan out
pan a flash in the pan pancake (as) flat as a pancake pancake flat as a pancake Pandora's open Pandora's box panic press the panic button
panic push the panic button pants beat the pants off someone pants by the seat of one's pants pants catch one with one's pants down pants charm the pants off (of) someone pants get ants in one's pants pants You scared the pants off (of) me.
paper look good on paper paper paper over the cracks (in something) paper put something on paper paperhanger (as) busy as a one-armed paperhanger paperhanger busy as a one-armed paperhanger papers get one's walking papers papers give one one's walking papers par above par
par below par
par on par (with someone or something) par par for the course par up to par
parade rain on someone's parade paradise in a fool's paradise paradise a paradise (on earth) parcel part and parcel (of something) Pardon Pardon my French.
park in park
parole out on parole parry thrust and parry part do one's part
part for one's (own) part part for the most part part in part
part part and parcel (of something) part part company (with someone) part part someone's hair

- part take part (in something) part take someone's part part the best part of something partake partake of something parted A fool and his money are soon parted. partial partial to someone or something particular in particular particulars the particulars of something parting parting of the ways party throw a party (for someone) party the life of the party party the party line party the responsible party party's The party's over.
pass come to a pretty pass pass come to pass pass let something pass pass make a pass at someone pass pass as someone or something pass pass away
pass pass for someone or something pass pass muster
pass pass on pass pass out
pass pass the buck
pass pass the hat
pass pass the time
pass pass through someone's mind pass ships that pass in the night passing in passing passing mention someone or something in passing passing with each passing day passion have a passion for someone or something passport passport to something past in times past
past not see past the end of one's nose past past someone's or something's prime past a past master at something paste cut and paste pasture put someone or something out to pasture pat give someone a pat on the back pat have something down pat pat pat someone on the back pat stand pat patch patch someone or something up path beat a path to someone's door path lead someone down the garden path path the path of least resistance patience have the patience of a saint patience run out of patience patience try someone's patience patient (as) patient as Job patient patient as Job patrol on patrol
patrol (out) on patrol
Paul rob Peter to pay Paul pause give someone pause pave pave the way (for someone or something) pavement pound the pavement pay have hell to pay pay have the devil to pay pay hit pay dirt
pay pay a call on someone pay pay a king's ransom (for something) pay pay an arm and a leg (for something) pay pay as you go pay pay attention (to someone or something) pay pay a visit to someone or something pay pay for something pay pay homage to someone pay pay in advance pay pay lip service (to something) pay pay one's debt (to society) pay pay one's dues
pay pay one's last respects pay pay (someone or something) a visit pay pay someone or something off pay pay someone's (own) way pay pay someone a back-handed compliment pay pay someone a compliment pay pay someone a left-handed compliment pay pay someone respect pay pay the piper
pay pay through the nose (for something) pay pay to do something pay pay up
pay rob Peter to pay Paul pay There will be the devil to pay.
pays He who pays the piper calls the tune.
pea (as) thick as pea soup pea thick as pea soup peace at peace
peace hold one's peace
peace leave someone in peace peace make peace (with someone) peace rest in peace
peach (as) crazy as a peach-orchard boar peach crazy as a peach-orchard boar peacock (as) proud as a peacock peacock proud as a peacock peanuts for peanuts pearls cast (one's) pearls before swine peas as alike as (two) peas in a pod peas like (two) peas in a pod peck hunt-and-peck peculiar funny peculiar pedestal put someone on a pedestal peeled keep one's eyes peeled (for someone or something) peep have a peep peep hear a peep out of someone peep take a peep peeve someone's pet peeve peg peg away (at something) peg peg someone as something peg take someone down a peg (or two) peg a square peg in a round hole pegged have someone pegged as something pendant have a penchant for doing something pencil in pencil
penny cost a pretty penny penny cut someone off without a penny penny penny-wise and pound-foolish penny A penny saved is a penny earned. people be all things to all people

- people split people up people a number of things or people pep pep someone or something up per per head
perfection cook something to perfection Perish Perish the thought.
perish publish or perish perk perk someone or something up permitting weather permitting perpetuity in perpetuity persist persist in doing something persist persist with something person do something in person person feel like a new person person in person
person on one's person
person shuttle someone or something from person to person person the last person personally take something personally perspective perspective on something persuasion be of the persuasion that something is so pet someone's pet hate pet someone's pet peeve pet the teacher's pet petard hoist by one's own petard petard hoist with one's own petard Pete Honest to Pete.
peter peter out
Peter rob Peter to pay Paul phony (as) phony as a three-dollar bill phony phony as a three-dollar bill physical get physical (with someone) pick have a bone to pick (with someone) pick have a pick-me-up pick pick a fight with someone pick pick a lock pick pick and choose pick pick a quarrel (with someone) pick pick at someone or something pick pick holes in something pick pick one's way through something pick pick on somebody your own size pick pick on someone or something pick pick on someone your own size pick pick someone or something off pick pick someone or something up pick pick someone's brain(s) pick pick something over pick pick something to pieces pick pick up
pick the pick of something picked picked over pickle in a (pretty) pickle pickle in a real pickle picnic one sandwich short of a picnic picture (as) pretty as a picture picture Do I need to paint you a picture?
picture get the picture
picture pretty as a picture picture put someone in the picture picture the picture of something pie (as) easy as (apple) pie pie easy as (apple) pie pie eat humble pie
pie have a finger in the pie pie have one's finger in the pie pie in apple-pie order pie pie in the sky
piece all in one piece piece give someone a piece of one's mind piece piece of cake
piece a piece of the action piece the villain of the piece pieces break something to pieces pieces go to pieces pieces pick something to pieces pieces thrilled to pieces pieces thrill someone to pieces pier Take a long walk off a short pier. piercing a piercing scream pies have one's finger in too may pies pig (as) fat as a pig pig buy a pig in a poke pig fat as a pig pig serve as a guinea pig pikestaff (as) plain as a pikestaff pikestaff plain as a pikestaff pile make a pile
pile pile in(to something) pile pile out (of something) pile pile something up pile pile up
pill a bitter pill to swallow pillar from pillar to post pillar a pillar of strength pillar a pillar of support pimples get goose pimples pimples give someone goose pimples pin (as) bright as a new pin pin (as) neat as a pin pin bright as a new pin pin neat as a pin pin pin one's faith on someone or something pin pin one's hope(s) on someone or something pin pin someone's ears back pin pin someone down pin pin something on someone pin so quiet you could hear a pin drop pin so still you could hear a pin drop pinch feel the pinch pinch in a pinch
pinch pinch-hit (for someone) pinch take something with a pinch of salt pink in the pink (of condition) pink tickled pink
pink tickle someone pink pins on pins and needles pins pins and needles
pipe pipe down
pipe pipe up with something pipe Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
pipe a pipe dream
piper He who pays the piper calls the tune.

- piper pay the piper piping piping hot pique pique someone's curiosity pique pique someone's interest pit pit someone or something against someone or something pitch (as) black as pitch pitch black as pitch pitch make a pitch (for someone or something) pitch pitch a tent
pitch pitch-black pitch pitch camp pitch pitch-dark
pitch pitch in (and help)
pitch pitch someone a curve (ball) pitching in there pitching pits the pits
pity take pity (on someone or something) place all over the place place between a rock and a hard place place fall in(to) place place feel out of place place have one's heart in the right place place in place
place in someone else's place place in the first place place in the right place at the right time place in the second place place in the wrong place at the wrong time place jumping-off place place keep one's place place know one's place
place Lightning never strikes twice (in the same place).
place not one's place
place one's heart is in the right place place out of place
place place an order
place place someone place place the blame on someone or something place put oneself in someone else's place place put one in one's place place shuttle someone or something from place to place place someone's place of business place take place
place a place to call one's own place a place to hang one's hat places go places
plague avoid someone or something like the plague plain (as) plain as a pikestaff plain (as) plain as day plain (as) plain as the nose on one's face plain in plain English plain in plain language plain plain and simple plain plain as a pikestaff plain plain as day
plain plain as the nose on one's face plainly put something plainly plan sell someone on a plan or idea plank walk the plank
plans the best-laid plans of mice and men plateau hit a plateau play All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.
play at play
play child's play
play foul play
play Go play in the traffic play make a play (for someone) play play about (with someone or something) play play a joke on someone play play along with someone or something play play around (with someone or something) play play a trick on someone play play ball (with someone) play play both ends (against the middle) play play by ear play play cat and mouse (with someone) play play dumb
play play fair
play play fast and loose (with someone or something) play play first chair play play footsie (with someone) play play for keeps
play play hard to get play play havoc with someone or something play play hob with someone or something play play hooky
play play ignorant play play innocent
play play into someone's hands play play it cool
play play it safe
play play one's cards close to one's vest play play one's cards close to the chest play play one's cards right play play one's cards well play play one's trump card play play on something play play politics
play play possum play play second fiddle (to someone) play play someone or something down play play someone or something up play play someone for something play play someone off against someone else play play something by ear play play (the) devil's advocate play play the field play play the fool
play play the market
play play to the gallery play play tricks (on someone) play play up to someone play play with fire
play When the cat's away, the mice will play.
play a game that two can play play a play-by-play description played played out
plea cop a plea
please We aim to please.
please You can't please everyone. pleased (as) pleased as punch pleased less than pleased pleased pleased as punch

- p
- lenty
- plenty of something
-
- p
- lenty
- There are plenty of other fish in the sea.
-
- p
- lot
- brew a plot
-
- p
- lot
- The plot thickens.
-
- p
- low
- plow into someone or something
-
- p
- low
- plow through something
-
- p
- low
- put one's hand to the plow
-
- p
- luck
- pluck up one's courage
-
- p
- lug
- plug away (at something)
-
- p
- lug
- plug something in
-
- p
- lug
- plug something up
-
- p
- lug
- pull the plug (on someone or something)
-
- p
- lugged
- not worth a plugged nickel
-
- p
- lumb
- plumb loco
-
- p
- ocket
- have someone in one's pocket
-
- p
- ocket
- Money burns a hole in someone's pocket.
-
- p
- ocket
- out-of-pocket expenses
-
- p
- ockets
- line one's own pockets
-
- p
- od
- as alike as (two) peas in a pod
-
- p
- od
- like (two) peas in a pod
-
- p
- oetic
- poetic justice
-
- p
- oint
- at the point of doing something
-
- p
- oint
- at this point (in time)
-
- p
- oint
- belabor the point
-
- p
- oint
- beside the point
-
- p
- oint
- come to the point
-
- p
- oint
- get to the point
-
- p
- oint
- have a low boiling point
-
- p
- oint
- jumping-off point
-
- p
- oint
- make a point
-
- p
- oint
- miss the point
-
- p
- oint
- no point in something
-
- p
- oint
- on the point of doing something
-
- p
- oint
- point of view
-
- p
- oint
- point someone or something out
-
- p
- oint
- point something up
-
- p
- oint
- point the finger at someone
-
- p
- oint
- stretch a point
-
- p
- oint
- stretch the point
-
- p
- oint
- touch a sore point
-
- p
- oint
- a case in point
-
- p
- oint
- the point of no return
-
- p
- oints
- make points (with someone)
-
- p
- oised
- poised for something
-
- p
- oised
- poised to do something
-
- p
- oison
- One man's meat is another man's poison.
-
- p
- oke
- buy a pig in a poke
-
- p
- oke
- poke about
-
- p
- oke
- poke around
-
- p
- oke
- poke fun (at someone)
-
- p
- oke
- poke one's nose in (to something)
-
- p
- oker
- (as) stiff as a poker
-
- p
- oker
- stiff as a poker
-
- p
- ole
- high man on the totem pole
-
- p
- ole
- low man on the totem pole
-
- p
- ole
- wouldn't touch something with a ten-foot pole
-
- p
- oles
- poles apart
-
- p
- olish
- polish something off
-
- p
- olitics
- play politics
-
- p
- ond
- a big frog in a small pond
-
- p
- ony
- dog and pony show
-
- p
- oop
- poop out
-
- p
- ooped
- pooped out
-
- p
- oor
- (as) poor as a church mouse
-
- p
- oor
- in poor taste
-
- p
- oor
- poor as a church mouse
-
- p
- oor
- poor but clean
-
- p
- op
- pop off
-
- p
- op
- pop one's cork
-
- p
- op
- pop the question
-
- p
- op
- pop up
-
- p
- opcorn
- (as) busy as popcorn on a skillet
-
- p
- opcorn
- busy as popcorn on a skillet
-
- p
- oppy
- (as) red as a poppy
-
- p
- oppy
- red as a poppy
-
- p
- ort
- Any port in a storm.
-
- p
- ortent
- a portent of things to come
-
- p
- ose
- pose a question
-
- p
- ose
- pose as someone
-
- p
- ose
- strike a pose
-
- p
- osition
- jockey for position
-
- p
- osition
- make someone's position clear
-
- p
- ossessed
- possessed by something
-
- p
- ossessed
- possessed of something
-
- p
- ossible
- as far as possible
-
- p
- ossible
- (as) soon as possible
-
- p
- ossible
- everything humanly possible
-
- p
- ossible
- so far as possible
-
- p
- ossible
- soon as possible
-
- p
- ossum
- play possum
-
- p
- ost
- (as) deaf as a post
-
- p
- ost
- deaf as a post
-
- p
- ost
- from pillar to post
-
- p
- ostage
- postage and handling
-
- p
- osted
- keep someone posted
-
- p
- ot
- go to pot
-
- p
- ot
- the pot calling the kettle black
-
- p
- otatoes
- meat-and-potatoes
-
- p
- otshot
- take a potshot at someone or something
-
- p
- ound
- penny-wise and pound-foolish
-
- p
- ound
- pound a beat
-
- p
- ound
- pound something out
-
- p
- ound
- pound the pavement
-
- p
- ound
- An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
-
- p
- our
- pour cold water on something
-
- p
- our
- pour it on thick
-
- p
- our
- pour money down the drain
-
- p
- our
- pour oil on troubled water(s)
-
- p
- our
- pour one's heart (out to someone)
-
- p
- ouring
- pouring rain
-
- p
- ours
- It never rains but it pours.
-
- p
- owder
- sitting on a powder keg
-
- p
- owder
- take a powder
-
- p
- ower
- have no staying power
-
- p
- ower
- the power behind the throne
-
- p
- owers
- the powers that be
-
- p
- actical
- for all practical purposes
-
- p
- actice
- in practice
-
- p
- actice
- make a practice of something
-
- p
- actice
- make something a practice
-
- p
- actice
- out of practice
-
- p
- actice
- put something into practice
-
- p
- raise
- damn someone or something with faint praise praise praise someone or something to the skies praises sing someone's praises prayers in someone's prayers preach preach to the converted precedence have precedence over someone or something precedence take precedence over someone or something precedent set a precedent precious precious few precious precious little prelude a prelude to something premium at a premium prescription refill a prescription presence grace someone or something with one's presence presence have the presence of mind to do something present at present

present at the present time press press one's luck
press press someone to the wall press press the panic button pressed hard pressed (to do something) pressed pressed for time pressure under (some) pressure pretty (as) pretty as a picture pretty come to a pretty pass pretty cost a pretty penny pretty in a (pretty) pickle pretty pretty as a picture Pretty Pretty is as pretty does.
pretty sitting pretty
pretty a pretty state of affairs prevail prevail (up)on someone prevent take steps (to prevent something) prevention An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
price have a price on one's head price quote a price prick prick up one's ears pride burst with pride pride pride and joy Pride Pride goes before a fall.
pride pride oneself in something pride pride oneself on something pride swallow one's pride pride take pride in something prime in its prime prime in one's prime prime in the prime of life prime past someone's or something's prime prime prime mover
print in print
print out of print
print put something into print print the fine print print the small print privacy invasion of (someone's) privacy private in private privy privy to something probability in all probability probation on probation problem get to the root of the problem problem no problem
progress in progress

promise give something a lick and a promise promise have a lot of promise promise promise someone the moon promise promise the moon (to someone) prone prone to something proportion blow something out of all proportion proportion in proportion proportion out of (all) proportion proportion out of proportion propose propose a toast props knock the props out from under someone protest a ripple of protest proud (as) proud as a peacock proud do oneself proud
proud proud as a peacock prove prove to be something proves the exception that proves the rule provided provided that something is so prunes full of prunes p's mind one's p's and q's psyche psyche out psyche psyche someone out psyche psyche someone up psyched psyched out psyched psyched up (for something) public air one's dirty linen in public public do something in public public in public public in the public eye public wash one's dirty linen in public publication not for publication publish publish or perish puff huff and puff pull have pull with someone pull pull a boner
pull pull a fast one pull pull a gun (on someone) pull pull a knife (on someone) pull pull a stunt (on someone) pull pull a trick (on someone) pull pull oneself together pull pull oneself up (by one's own bootstraps) pull pull one's (own) weight pull pull one's punches
pull pull out all the stops pull pull rank (on someone) pull pull someone or something down pull pull someone's or something's teeth pull pull someone's leg pull pull someone through (something) pull pull something on someone pull pull something off pull pull something out of a hat pull pull something out of thin air pull pull something together pull pull strings
pull pull the plug (on someone or something) pull pull the rug out (from under someone) pull pull the wool over someone's eyes pull pull through pull pull up (somewhere) pull pull up stakes

- pulse take someone's pulse punch (as) pleased as punch punch beat someone to the punch punch pack a punch
punch pleased as punch punch punch a hole in something punch take a punch at someone punches pull one's punches punishment glutton for punishment pure (as) pure as the driven snow pure pure and simple pure pure as the driven snow purge binge and purge purpose answer someone's purpose purpose on purpose
purpose serve someone's purpose purposes at cross-purposes purposes for all intents and purposes purposes for all practical purposes purse control the purse strings purse make a silk purse out of a sow's ear pursuit in pursuit of something push if push comes to shove push push off
push push one's luck push push someone to the wall push push the panic button push when push comes to shove pushing pushing up daisies put feel put-upon put hard put (to do something) put put a bee in someone's bonnet put put a cap on something put put a hold on something put put all one's eggs in one basket put put an end to something put put a spin on something put put a stop to something put put ideas into someone's head put put in a good word (for someone) put put in an appearance put put off by someone or something put put on
put put oneself in someone else's place put put oneself in someone else's shoes put put one's back (in)to something put put one's best foot forward put put one's cards on the table put put (one's) dibs on something put put one's finger on something put put one's foot down (about something) put put one's foot in it put put one's foot in one's mouth put put one's hand(s) on something put put one's hand to the plow put put one's head on the block (for someone or something) put put one's house in order put put one's mind to something put put one's nose to the grindstone put put one's oar in put put one's shoulder to the wheel put put one's thinking cap on put put one's two cents(worth) in put put one in one's place put put one through one's paces put put out (about someone or something) put put out (some) feelers put put someone or something across put put someone or something at someone's disposal put put someone or something down put put someone or something off put put someone or something on hold put put someone or something out put put someone or something to bed put put someone or something to sleep put put someone or something to the test put put someone or something up put put someone's eye out put put someone's nose out of joint
put put someone away
put put someone down as something bad put put someone down (for something) put put someone in the picture put put someone off
put put someone on
put put someone through the wringer put put someone to bed with a shovel put put someone to shame put put someone up to something put put someone wise to someone or something put put some teeth into something put put something by put put something down in black and white put put something down to something put put something forward put put something in put put something off put put something on put put something over put put something plainly put put something right put put something straight put put something through its paces put put something together put put something to (good) use put put something to rest Put Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
put put the arm on someone
put put the bite on someone put put the blame on someone or something put put the cart before the horse put put the clamps on (someone) put put the finger on someone put put the heat on (someone)
put put the kibosh on something put put the screws on (someone) put put the skids on (something) put put the squeeze on (someone) put put the touch on someone put put to it
put put two and two together put put up a (brave) front put put upon by someone

Put Put up or shut up!
put put up with someone or something put put weight on put put words into someone's mouth Put Put your money where your mouth is!
put stay put put to put it mildly putty putty in someone's hands puzzle puzzle something out q's mind one's p's and q's QT on the QT
quake quake in one's boots quality nice and some quality quandary in a quandary quantity an unknown quantity quantity a known quantity quarrel pick a quarrel (with someone) quartered drawn and quartered queer (as) queer as a three-dollar bill queer queer as a three-dollar bill quest in quest of someone or something question beg the question question beside the question question bring something into question question call someone or something into question question out of the question question pop the question question pose a question question without question question a leading question questions field questions quick (as) quick as a flash quick (as) quick as a wink quick (as) quick as greased lightning quick cut someone to the quick quick make a quick buck quick quick and dirty quick quick as a flash quick quick as a wink quick quick as greased lightning quick quick on the draw quick quick on the trigger quick quick on the uptake quiet (as) quiet as a mouse quiet (as) quiet as the grave quiet keep quiet (about someone or something) quiet keep someone or something quiet quiet keep something quiet quiet quiet as a mouse quiet quiet as the grave quiet so quiet you could hear a pin drop quit Don't quit your day job. quite quite a bit
quite quite a few
quite quite a little quite quite a lot
quite quite a number
quite quite a something quits call it quits quote quote a price
race race against time
race rat race

race run the good race race Slow and steady wins the race.
rack go to rack and ruin rack rack one's brain(s) racked racked with pain rag chew the rag
rage all the rage
ragged run someone ragged rags from rags to riches rags in rags
rail rail at someone (about something) rain (as) right as rain rain come in out of the rain rain get a rain check (on something) rain give someone a rain check (on something) rain not know enough to come in out of the rain rain pouring rain rain rain cats and dogs rain rain on someone's parade rain rain or shine
rain rain something out rain right as rain
rain risk of rain rain take a rain check (on something) rains It never rains but it pours.
rainy save something for a rainy day raise cause (some) eyebrows to raise raise raise a hand (against someone or something) raise raise (an) objection (to someone or something) raise raise a stink (about something) raise raise Cain (with someone or something) raise raise havoc with someone or something raise raise hell (with someone or something) raise raise hob with someone or something raise raise one's sights raise raise one's voice (to someone) raise raise some eyebrows raise raise the devil (with someone or something) raise raise the dickens (with someone or something) raised born and raised raised raised in a barn rake rake someone over the coals rake rake something off rake rake something up rally rally (a)round someone or something ram ram someone or something down someone's throat ramble ramble on (about someone or something) rampage go on a rampage rampant run rampant random at random
range at close range rank pull rank (on someone) rank rank and file
ranks close ranks
ransom pay a king's ransom (for something) rant rant and rave (about someone or something) rant rant (at someone) about someone or something rap beat the rap rap rap someone's knuckles rap rap with someone rap take the rap (for someone or something) rapped get one's knuckles rapped rarin' rarin' to go rat rat on someone

rat rat race
rat smell a rat
rate at any rate
rate at that rate
rate at this rate rate rate with someone rate second-rate
rate the going rate rather had rather do something rather would rather rattle rattle something off rave rant and rave (about someone or something) raving stark raving mad ravished ravished with delight raw get a raw deal raw give someone a raw deal raw in the raw razor (as) sharp as a razor razor sharp as a razor reach out of reach reach reach a compromise reach reach an agreement reach reach an impasse reach reach first base (with someone or something) reach reach for the sky reach reach one's stride reach within someone's reach reaction gut reaction read Do you read me?
read read between the lines read read one one's rights read read someone's mind read read someone like a(n open) book read read someone out of something read read someone the riot act read read something into something read read something over read read something through read read the handwriting on the wall read read up (on someone or something) ready get ready (to do something) ready ready to do something ready ready, willing, and able ready rough-and-ready ready when one is good and ready real for real
real in a real pickle real the real thing reality in reality reality the reality of the situation rear at the rear of something rear bring up the rear rear in the rear rear rear its ugly head reason It (only) stands to reason.
reason listen to reason reason lose one's reason reason stand to reason reason within reason reason without rhyme or reason reasonable beyond a reasonable doubt receipt acknowledge receipt (of something) receipt in receipt of something receive receive someone with open arms recent in recent memory reckon reckon with someone or something reckoned a force to be reckoned with recognize recognize one for what one is recognize recognize something for what it is reconcile reconcile oneself to something record break a record record for the record record off the record record one for the (record) books record sound like a broken record red (as) red as a cherry red (as) red as a poppy red (as) red as a rose red (as) red as a ruby red (as) red as blood red catch someone red-handed red caught red-handed red get the red-carpet treatment red give someone the red-carpet treatment red in the red red not worth a red cent red one's ears are red red out of the red red paint the town red red red as a cherry red red as a poppy red red as a rose red red as a ruby red red as blood red red herring

red red in the face red red tape
red roll out the red carpet for someone red see red
reduced reduced to something reel reel something off refill refill a prescription regain regain one's composure regain regain one's feet regard hold someone in high regard regard with regard to someone or something regardless regardless of something regular (as) regular as clockwork regular at regular intervals regular regular as clockwork rehearsal in rehearsal rein give free rein to someone rein give someone free rein rein keep a close rein on someone or something rein keep a tight rein on someone or something relative relative to someone or something reliance reliance on someone or something religion get religion religious religious about doing something relish with relish reluctance reluctance to do something reluctant be reluctant to do something

- reminiscent reminiscent of someone or something remission in remission repair in good repair
reproach above reproach reputation get a reputation (as a something) reputation get a reputation (for doing something) reputation give someone a reputation (as a something) reputation give someone a reputation (for doing something) reputed reputed to do something reputed reputed to have something request at someone's request requirements meet the requirements (for something) reservation make a reservation reservations make reservations resign resign oneself to something resistance the line of least resistance resistance the path of least resistance resonate resonate with someone resort as a last resort respect pay someone respect respect with respect to someone or something respects in many respects respects in some respects respects pay one's last respects response gut response responsible the responsible party rest at rest
rest come to rest
rest Give it a rest.
rest lay something to rest rest put something to rest rest rest assured
rest rest in peace
rest rest on one's laurels result as a result of something result result in something retreat beat a (hasty) retreat retrospect in retrospect return by return mail return in return for (someone or something) return return someone's compliment return return the compliment return return the favor return the point of no return rev rev something up
rewards get one's just reward(s) rhyme without rhyme or reason ribs stick to one's ribs rich rich in something rich rich with something rich strike it rich
riches from rags to riches rid get rid of someone or something riddance good riddance (to bad rubbish) ride go along for the ride ride hitch a ride
ride let something ride ride herd on someone or something ride ride off in all directions ride ride on someone's coattails ride ride roughshod over someone or something ride ride something out ride ride the gravy train ride take someone for a ride ride thumb a ride
ridiculous make someone look ridiculous riding riding for a fall right acknowledge someone to be right right all right
right (as) right as rain right get right on something right go right through someone right hang a right
right have a right to do something right have one's heart in the right place right have the right-of-way right have the right to do something right hit someone (right) between the eyes right hit the nail (right) on the head right in one's right mind right in the right right left and right right make something right right one's heart is in the right place right on the right track right play one's cards right right put something right right right and left right right as rain
right right at a specific time right right away right right down someone's alley right right off the bat right right on time right right side up right (right) under someone's (very) nose right right up someone's alley right sail (right) through something right say something (right) to someone's face right serve someone right right set something right right step (right) up right strike the right note right turn out (all right) right when it comes right down to it right work out (all right) right would give one's right arm (for someone or something) right yield the right-of-way rights have someone dead to rights rights read one one's rights Riley lead the life of Riley ring give someone a ring ring have a familiar ring ring like a three-ring circus ring ring a bell
ring ring down the curtain (on something) ring ring in the New Year ring ring something up ring ring true
ring toss one's hat into the ring ringing one's ears are ringing rings run rings around someone riot read someone the riot act riot run riot

rip let her rip
rip rip into someone or something rip rip someone or something off ripe when the time is ripe ripe a ripe old age ripe the time is ripe ripple a ripple of excitement ripple a ripple of protest rise Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.) rise feel one's gorge rise rise get a rise out of someone rise give rise to something rise make someone's gorge rise Rise Rise and shine!
rise rise to the bait rise rise to the occasion risk at risk
risk risk of rain
risk risk of showers
risk risk of thunder(storms) risk risk one's neck (to do something) risk run a risk (of something) risk run the risk (of something) risk take a risk
river sell someone down the river river send someone up the river rivet rivet someone's attention road get the show on the road road have one for the road road hit the road
road middle-of-the-road road road-hog
road the end of the road rob rob Peter to pay Paul rob rob the cradle robbery daylight robbery
Robin all around Robin Hood's barn Robinson before you can say Jack Robinson rock (as) hard as a rock rock (as) solid as a rock rock (as) steady as a rock rock between a rock and a hard place rock hard as a rock rock rock the boat
rock solid as a rock rock steady as a rock rocker off one's rocker rocks have rocks in one's head rocks on the rocks
roll call (the) roll
roll heads will roll
roll let it roll
roll roll in
roll roll one's sleeves up roll roll out the red carpet for someone roll roll (over) in one's grave roll roll something back roll take (the) roll roller (as) awkward as a cow on roller skates roller awkward as a cow on roller skates rolling (as) easy as rolling off a log rolling easy as rolling off a log rolling get rolling rolling get the ball rolling rolling have them rolling in the aisles rolling keep the ball rolling rolling rolling in something rolling set the ball rolling rolling start the ball rolling rolling A rolling stone gathers no moss.

Romans When in Rome, do as the Romans do.
Rome fiddle while Rome burns
Rome Rome wasn't built in a day.
Rome When in Rome, do as the Romans do. roof (as) busy as a cat on a hot tin roof roof busy as a cat on a hot tin roof roof go through the roof room Don't let it out of this room.
room not enough room to swing a cat room room and board room take up room
roost come home (to roost) roost rule the roost roost The chickens have come home to roost.
root get to the root of the problem root Money is the root of all evil.
root root for someone or something root root something out root take root rooted rooted in something rooted rooted to the spot rope at the end of one's rope rope rope someone into doing something rope skip rope ropes know the ropes ropes learn the ropes ropes show someone the ropes rose (as) red as a rose rose red as a rose roses come up smelling like roses roses Everything's coming up roses.
roses a bed of roses rote learn something by rote rotten rotten to the core rough get a rough idea (about something) rough get a rough idea (of something) rough give someone a rough idea (about something) rough give someone a rough idea (of something) rough have a rough time (of it) rough rough-and-ready
rough rough-and-tumble
rough rough it
rough rough someone up
rough when the going gets rough rough a diamond in the rough roughshod ride roughshod over someone or something round (all) year round round in round figures round in round numbers round round out something round round something off

- round round something up to something round round the clock round round-trip ticket round year round
round a square peg in a round hole round the other way round roundabout say something in a roundabout way roundup head for the last roundup row get one's ducks in a row row kick up a row row tough row to hoe
royal the royal treatment rub rub elbows (with someone) rub rub off (on someone) rub rub salt in the wound rub rub shoulders with someone rub rub someone's nose in it rub rub someone out
rub rub someone's fur the wrong way rub rub something in rubbish good riddance (to bad rubbish) Rubicon cross the Rubicon ruby (as) red as a ruby ruby red as a ruby ruffle ruffle its feathers ruffle ruffle someone's feathers rug (as) snug as a bug in a rug rug pull the rug out (from under someone) rug snug as a bug in a rug rug sweep something under the rug ruin go to rack and ruin ruin go to wrack and ruin ruin in ruin
ruin the ruin of someone or something rule as a (general) rule rule rule someone or something out rule rule the roost
rule a rule of thumb rule the exception that proves the rule rump rump session
run cut and run
run do something on the run run dry run
run eat and run
run get a run for one's money run give one a run for one's money run have a run-in with someone run have a run of bad luck run have a run of something run have one's luck run out run hit-and-run
run in the long run
run in the short run run make a run for it run make someone's blood run cold run run across someone or something run run a fever
run run afoul of someone or something run run after someone run run an errand run run a risk (of something) run run (around) in circles run run around like a chicken with its head cut off run run around with someone run run a taut ship run run a temperature run run a tight ship run run circles around someone run run counter to something run run for it run run for one's life run run in the family
run run into a stone wall run run into someone run run like clockwork run run low (on something)
run run off at the mouth run run off with someone or something run run-of-the-mill
run run out of gas
run run out of patience run run out of something run run out of time
run run rampant
run run rings around someone run run riot
run run scared
run run short (of something) run run someone or something down run run someone or something to earth run run someone in
run run someone ragged run run something into the ground run run something up run run that by (someone) again run run the gamut
run run the good race run run the risk (of something) run run through something run run to an amount of money run run to seed
run run wild
runaround get the runaround runaround give someone the runaround running days running running in the running running months running running off and running running off to a running start running out of the running running running high running weeks running running years running runs Blood runs thicker than water.
runs one's luck runs out rush fools rush in (where angels fear to tread) rush give someone the bum's rush rush in a mad rush
rush a rush on something rustle rustle something up rut in a rut
rut (stuck) in a rut
sack get the sack
sack give someone the sack

sack hit the sack
sack sack out
sacred sacred cow
sadder sadder but wiser saddle saddle someone with something safe play it safe
safe safe and sound safe to be on the safe side safe to be safe
safe Your secret is safe with me. safekeeping for safekeeping safety safety in numbers sage sage advice
said after all is said and done said (be) easier said than done said easier said than done said no sooner said than done said when all is said and done said You said it!
sail sail (right) through something sail sail under false colors sail set sail (for somewhere) sailing clear sailing sails take the wind out of someone's sails saint have the patience of a saint sake arguing for the sake of arguing sake arguing for the sake of argument sake for one's (own) sake sake for the sake of someone or something salad in one's salad days salad toss a salad
sale for sale
sale on sale
salt back to the salt mines salt rub salt in the wound salt salt something away salt take something with a grain of salt salt take something with a pinch of salt salt worth one's salt
salt the salt of the earth same all the same same amount to the same thing same at the same time same by the same token same cast in the same mold same come to the same thing same cut from the same cloth same in the same boat (as someone) same in the same breath same just the same same Lightning never strikes twice (in the same place).
same made from the same mold same not in the same league with someone or something same one and the same same same here
same speak the same language same tarred with the same brush same the same as someone or something same the same old story same the same to you sanctity odor of sanctity

sand bury one's head in the sand sand hide one's head in the sand sands the sands of time sandwich one sandwich short of a picnic sardines packed (in) like sardines Save Save it.
save save one's breath
save save (one's) face
save save someone's neck save save someone's skin save save something for a rainy day save save the day
save save up (for something) save scrimp and save saved saved by the bell saved A penny saved is a penny earned.
saving saving grace say before you can say Jack Robinson say drop in (to say hello) say get one's say
say go so far as to say something say have a say (in something) say on someone's say-so say say a mouthful
say say grace
say say something in a roundabout way say say something (right) to someone's face say say something under one's breath say say that something is so say say the word
say say uncle
say to say nothing of someone or something say to say the least say What can I say?
say What do you want me to say?
say You can say that again!
saying goes without saying scale scale something down scales tip the scales at something scapegoat make someone the scapegoat for something scarce (as) scarce as hens' teeth scarce make oneself scarce scarcely scarcely have time to breathe scarcer scarcer than hens' teeth scare scare one out of one's wits scare scare someone or something up scare scare someone stiff scare scare someone to death scare scare the living daylight out of someone scare scare the wits out of someone scared run scared
scared scared silly scared scared stiff scared scared to death
scared You scared me out of my wits. scared You scared the crap out of me.
scared You scared the devil out of me.
scared You scared the dickens out of me.
scared You scared the hell out of me.
scared You scared the pants off (of) me.
scene arrive on the scene scene burst onto the scene

- scene come on the scene scene create a scene scene make a scene
scene make the scene
scenery a change of scenery scenes behind the scenes schedule ahead of schedule schedule behind schedule schedule on schedule
schemes the best-laid schemes of mice and men school from the old school school of the old school school school of thought school tell tales out of school score have a score to settle (with someone) score know the score
score settle a score with someone score settle the score (with someone) scot get off scot-free scot go scot-free
scout scout around for someone or something scrape bow and scrape scrape have a scrape (with someone or something) scrape scrape something together scrape scrape the bottom of the barrel scratch make something from scratch scratch not up to scratch scratch scratch around (for something) scratch scratch someone's back scratch scratch the surface scratch start from scratch scratch up to scratch
scratch You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours.
scream scream bloody murder scream so mad I could scream scream a piercing scream screw have a screw loose
screw screw around (with someone or something) screw screw someone or something up screw screw up one's courage screws put the screws on (someone) scrimp scrimp and save scrutiny under (close) scrutiny sea (all) at sea (about something) sea at sea
sea between the devil and the deep blue sea sea get one's sea legs sea son of a sea biscuit sea There are plenty of other fish in the sea. sealed signed, sealed, and delivered seams burst at the seams seams come apart at the seams seams fall apart at the seams seamy the seamy side of life search in search of someone or something search search high and low (for someone or something) search search something with a fine-tooth comb season in season
season off season
season open season (on someone or something) season out of season season silly season seat by the seat of one's pants seat in the driver's seat
seat in the hot seat
seat on the hot seat seat show one to one's seat seat show someone to a seat second come off second-best second get one's second wind second get second thoughts about someone or something second have second thoughts about someone or something second in a split second second in (just) a second second in one's second childhood second in the second place second on second thought second play second fiddle (to someone) second second nature to someone second second-rate second second to none
secret carry a secret to one's grave secret carry a secret to the grave secret do something in secret secret in secret secret keep a secret secret open secret secret Your secret is safe with me.
security lull someone into a false sense of security security security against something see begin to see daylight see begin to see the light see can't see beyond the end of one's nose see can't see one's hand in front of one's face see Long time no see.
see not able to see the forest for the trees see not see any objection (to something) see not see farther than the end of one's nose see not see past the end of one's nose see see about something see see a man about a dog see see double
see see eye to eye (with someone) (about something) see see eye to eye (with someone) (on something) see see fit (to do something) see see into something see see no objection (to something) see see one's way clear (to do something) see see red
see see someone as something see see someone home see see someone to somewhere see see someone to the door see see something through see see stars
see see the color of someone's money see see the (hand)writing on the wall see see the last of someone or something see see the light
see see the sights
see see through someone or something see see (to it) that something is done see see to someone or something see see which way the wind is blowing see wait-and-see attitude seed go to seed

seed run to seed
seeing seeing is believing seeing seeing things seek hide-and-seek seen have seen better days seize seize the bull by the horns seize seize the opportunity seize seize (up)on something sell get the hard sell sell give someone the hard sell sell sell like hotcakes sell sell (someone or something) out sell sell someone or something short sell sell someone a bill of goods sell sell someone down the river sell sell someone on a plan or idea sell sell something for a song sell sell something off sell sell something on credit send get a big send-off send give someone a big send-off send send one about one's business send send someone or something up send send someone into something send send someone off send send someone (out) on an errand send send someone packing send send someone to the showers send send someone up the river
send send something C.O.D. send send up a trial balloon sense horse sense
sense in a sense
sense lull someone into a false sense of security sense make sense
sense sixth sense senses come to one's senses senses out of one's senses senses take leave of one's senses separate separate but equal separate separate the men from the boys separate separate the sheep from the goats separation the separation of church and state serve serve as a guinea pig serve serve notice (on someone) serve serve someone's purpose serve serve someone right serve serve time served First come, first served.
service at someone's service service be of service (to someone) service out of service service pay lip service (to something) session in session
session rump session set all set
set (all) set to do something set at a set time set dead set against someone or something set get set

set have one's heart set against something set have one's heart set on something set not set foot somewhere set one's heart is (dead) set against something set one's heart is set on something set set a precedent set set a trap set set eyes on someone or something set set fire to someone or something set set foot somewhere set set forth (on something) set set great store by someone or something set set in set set one's heart against something set set one's heart on something set set one's sights on something set set one back on one's heels set set sail (for somewhere) set set someone or something free set set someone or something off set set someone or something on fire set set someone or something straight set set someone or something up set set someone's teeth on edge set set someone back (some amount of money) set set someone up (as something) set set someone up (in business) set set something down to something set set something right set set something straight set set something to music set set the ball rolling set set the stage for something set set the table
set set the world on fire set set to do something set set tongues (a)wagging set set type set set upon someone or something set set up shop somewhere settle have a score to settle (with someone) settle settle a score with someone settle settle down settle settle for something settle settle on something settle settle someone's affairs settle settle (something) (out of court) settle settle the score (with someone) settle settle up with someone sevens at sixes and sevens seventh in seventh heaven sever sever ties with someone sew sew something up
sewed get something sewed up sex the opposite sex shack shack up (with someone) shades shades of someone or something shadow afraid of one's own shadow shadow beyond the shadow of a doubt shadow shadow of itself shadow shadow of oneself

- shake give someone a fair shake shake more someone or something than one can shake a stick at shake shake (hands) on something shake shake hands (with someone) shake shake in one's boots shake shake someone or something down shake shake someone or something off shake shake someone or something up shake shake something off shake shake the lead out shakers movers and shakers shakes in two shakes of a lamb's tail shakes no great shakes shambles in shambles shame hide one's face in shame shame put someone to shame Shame Shame on someone.
shame a crying shame
shank's by shank's mare shank's go (somewhere) by shank's mare shape in good shape shape in shape
shape lick something into shape shape out of shape
shape shape someone up shape shape up
shape take shape
shape whip something into shape share one's fair share share share and share alike share share someone's pain share share someone's sorrow share the lion's share (of something) sharing Thank you for sharing. sharp (as) sharp as a razor sharp (as) sharp as a tack sharp at some time sharp sharp sharp as a razor sharp sharp as a tack shave have a close shave
she That's all she wrote.
shed shed crocodile tears shed shed (some) light on something sheep separate the sheep from the goats sheep the black sheep of the family sheep's a wolf in sheep's clothing sheet (as) white as a sheet sheet white as a sheet sheets three sheets to the wind shell come out of one's shell shell shell something out shellacking get a shellacking shellacking give someone a shellacking shellacking take a shellacking shift shift for oneself shine rain or shine
shine Rise and shine!
shine shine up to someone shine take a shine to someone or something ship desert a sinking ship ship leave a sinking ship ship run a taut ship ship run a tight ship ship Shape up or ship out. shipping shipping and handling ships ships that pass in the night shirk shirk one's duty shirt give someone the shirt off one's back shirt Keep your shirt on!
shirt lose one's shirt shock get the shock of one's life shoe (as) comfortable as an old shoe shoe (as) common as an old shoe shoe comfortable as an old shoe shoe common as an old shoe shoe drop the other shoe shoe have the shoe on the other foot shoe If the shoe fits, wear it. shoe The shoe is on the other foot. shoes fill someone's shoes shoes in someone else's shoes shoes put oneself in someone else's shoes shoes step into someone's shoes shoestring get along (on a shoestring) shoestring on a shoestring shook shook up shoot shoot for something shoot shoot from the hip shoot shoot one's mouth off shoot shoot something out shoot shoot the breeze shoot shoot the bull shoot shoot the works shooting the whole shooting match shop close up shop
shop set up shop somewhere shop shop around (for something) shop talk shop
shop a bull in a china shop shopping go window-shopping shopping window-shopping short caught short short end up with the short end of the stick short fall short (of something) short for short short get the short end of the stick short in short short in the short run short life is too short short long and (the) short of it short make a long story short short make short work of someone or something short nothing short of something short one sandwich short of a picnic short over the short haul short run short (of something) short sell someone or something short short short and sweet short short for something short short of something short stop short of doing something short Take a long walk off a short pier. short a few cards short of a deck shot (all) shot to hell shot give something a shot shot give something one's best shot shot have a shot at something shot not by a long shot shot off like a shot shot shot through with something shot shot to hell

shot take a shot at something shot a shot in the arm shot a shot in the dark shotgun a shotgun wedding shots call the shots should should have stood in bed shoulder get the cold shoulder shoulder give someone the cold shoulder shoulder have a chip on one's shoulder shoulder put one's shoulder to the wheel shoulder shoulder to shoulder shoulder straight from the shoulder shoulders carry the weight of the world on one's shoulders shoulders have a good head on one's shoulders shoulders have broad shoulders shoulders head and shoulders above someone or something shoulders on someone's shoulders shoulders rub shoulders with someone shouting all over but the shouting shouting within shouting distance shove if push comes to shove shove shove one's way somewhere shove shove someone or something down someone's throat shove when push comes to shove shovel put someone to bed with a shovel show by a show of hands show dog and pony show
show get the show on the road show goes to show you show let one's emotions show show make a great show of something show not show one's face show show-and-tell
show show good faith
show show off
show show one's hand show show one's (true) colors show show one to one's seat show show signs of something show show someone or something off show show someone the ropes show show someone to a seat show show someone (to) the door show show someone up show show something to good advantage show steal the show show a show of hands shower take a shower
showers risk of showers showers send someone to the showers shuffle shuffle off this mortal coil shut keep one's mouth shut (about someone or something) shut Put up or shut up!

shut shut someone up shut shut something down shut shut the door on someone or something shut an open-and-shut case shuttle shuttle someone or something from person to person shuttle shuttle someone or something from place to place shy shy away (from someone or something) shy two bricks shy of a load shy a few cards shy of a full deck sick (as) sick as a dog sick be sick
sick get sick
sick make someone sick
sick sick and tired of someone or something sick sick as a dog
sick sick in bed
sick take sick
side from side to side side get on the good side of someone side get out of the wrong side of the bed side get up on the wrong side of the bed side know which side one's bread is buttered on side laugh out of the other side of one's mouth side off to one side side right side up side side against someone side side with someone side to be on the safe side side a thorn in someone's side side the other side of the tracks side the seamy side of life side the wrong side of the tracks sides choose up sides sides split one's sides (with laughter) sides take sides
sidetracked get sidetracked sight buy something sight unseen sight can't stand (the sight of) someone or something sight catch sight of someone or something sight in sight
sight know someone by sight sight love at first sight sight out of sight
sight sight for sore eyes sights have one's sights trained on something sights lower one's sights sights raise one's sights sights see the sights sights set one's sights on something sights train one's sights on something sign get the high sign sign give someone the high sign sign sign one's own death warrant sign sign on the dotted line sign sign on (with someone) sign a sign of things to come signal signal (to) someone to do something signed signed, sealed, and delivered signs show signs of something silent (as) silent as the dead

- silent (as) silent as the grave silent silent as the dead silent silent as the grave silk (as) smooth as silk silk (as) soft as silk silk make a silk purse out of a sow's ear silk smooth as silk silk soft as silk
silly (as) silly as a goose silly bored silly
silly scared silly
silly silly as a goose silly silly season
silver born with a silver spoon in one's mouth silver cross someone's palm with silver silver Every cloud has a silver lining.
simmer simmer down
simple plain and simple simple pure and simple
sin (as) ugly as sin
sin ugly as sin
since since time immemorial since the greatest thing since sliced bread sing sing a different tune sing sing another tune sing sing someone's praises single (in) single file single single file
sink everything but the kitchen sink sink sink in sink sink one's teeth into something sink sink or swim
sinker swallow something, hook, line, and sinker sinking desert a sinking ship sinking leave a sinking ship sit sit around (somewhere) sit sit at someone's feet sit sit back and let something happen sit sit bolt upright sit sit (idly) by sit sit in for someone sit sit in (on something) sit sit on its hands sit sit on one's hands sit sit on someone or something sit sit on the fence sit sit something out sit sit through something sit sit tight
sit sit up and take notice sit sit up with someone sit sit with someone sitting at a sitting sitting like a sitting duck sitting like sitting ducks sitting sitting on a powder keg sitting (sitting) on top of the world sitting sitting pretty sitting a sitting duck sitting a sitting target situation no-win situation situation the reality of the situation six deep-six someone or something six six of one and half a dozen of the other sixes at sixes and sevens sixth sixth sense
size beat someone down (to size) size cut someone down (to size) size knock someone down (to size) size pick on somebody your own size size pick on someone your own size size size someone or something up size take someone down (to size) size That's about the size of it.
skate skate on thin ice skates (as) awkward as a cow on roller skates skates awkward as a cow on roller skates skeleton a skeleton in the closet sketch a thumbnail sketch skids hit the skids skids put the skids on (something) skies praise someone or something to the skies skillet (as) black as a skillet skillet (as) busy as popcorn on a skillet skillet black as a skillet skillet busy as popcorn on a skillet skin (all) skin and bones skin Beauty is only skin-deep.
skin by the skin of one's teeth skin get under someone's skin skin give someone some skin skin jump out of one's skin skin no skin off someone's nose skin no skin off someone's teeth skin nothing but skin and bones skin save someone's skin skin skin and bones
skin skin someone alive skin soaked to the skin skin There's more than one way to skin a cat.
skinned thick-skinned skinned thin-skinned skip skip bail
skip skip out (on someone or something) skip skip rope
skip a hop, skip, and a jump skips one's heart skips a beat skittles (all) beer and skittles skittles beer and skittles skull get something through someone's thick skull skunk (as) drunk as a skunk skunk drunk as a skunk sky (as) high as the sky sky go sky-high sky out of a clear blue sky sky pie in the sky
sky reach for the sky
sky's The sky's the limit.
slack slack off
slap get a slap on the wrist slap give someone a slap on the wrist slap slap someone's wrist slap slap someone down
slap slap someone on the wrist

slap slap something together slap a slap in the face slate start (off) with a clean slate slate start (over) with a clean slate slate wipe someone's slate clean slated slated for something slated slated to do something slaughter like lambs to the slaughter slave a slave to something sleep drop off (to sleep) sleep lose sleep (over someone or something) sleep lull someone to sleep sleep not sleep a wink sleep put someone or something to sleep sleep sleep in sleep sleep like a baby sleep sleep like a log sleep sleep on something sleep sleep something off sleep sleep with someone sleeping Let sleeping dogs lie.
sleeve have an ace up one's sleeve sleeve have one's heart on one's sleeve sleeve have something up one's sleeve sleeve laugh up one's sleeve sleeve wear one's heart on one's sleeve sleeves roll one's sleeves up slice a slice of the cake sliced the greatest thing since sliced bread slick (as) slick as a whistle slick slick as a whistle slide let something slide slide let things slide slip get the slip
slip give someone the slip slip let something slip by slip let something slip (out) slip let the chance slip by slip slip away
slip slip off
slip slip one's mind slip slip out
slip slip through someone's fingers slip slip up
slip a slip of the tongue slippery (as) slippery as an eel slippery slippery as an eel slow (as) slow as molasses in January Slow Slow and steady wins the race. slow slow as molasses in January slow slow going slow slow on the draw slow slow on the uptake slow slow someone or something down slow slow someone or something up slow take it slow
slower slower and slower slower slower than molasses in January slowly slow(ly) but sure(ly) sly (as) sly as a fox sly do something on the sly sly sly as a fox

smack smack-dab in the middle small engage in small talk small small fry
small small hours (of the night)
small small-time
small thankful for small blessings small a big frog in a small pond small the small print
smart You think you're so smart!
smear smear campaign (against someone) smell smell a rat
smell smell to high heaven smelling come up smelling like roses smile crack a smile
smile smile on someone or something smithereens blow someone or something to smithereens smoke go up in smoke smoke have a smoke
smoke Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
smoke smoke and mirrors
smoke smoke someone or something out smoke Where there's smoke there's fire. smooth (as) smooth as glass smooth (as) smooth as silk smooth smooth as glass smooth smooth as silk smooth smooth something out smooth smooth something over snag hit a snag
snail's at a snail's pace snake a snake in the grass snap snap at someone snap snap out of something snap snap something up sneeze nothing to sneeze at sniff sniff someone or something out snit in a snit
snow (as) pure as the driven snow snow (as) white as the driven snow snow do a snow job on someone snow pure as the driven snow snow white as the driven snow snowball's have a snowball's chance in hell snuff not up to snuff snuff up to snuff
snug (as) snug as a bug in a rug snug snug as a bug in a rug so able to take just so much so and so forth
so and so on so bear in mind that something is so so be of the persuasion that something is so so be so
so do so
so go so far as to say something so (have) never had it so good so have so
so if so
so in so many words
so just so
so my gut tells me (that) something is so so never had it so good so on someone's say-so so provided that something is so so say that something is so so so-and-so

So So be it.
so so clean you could eat off the floor so so far as anyone knows so so far as possible so so far as someone or something is concerned so so far as something is concerned
So So far, so good.
So So it goes.
so so long
so so mad I could scream so so much for someone or something so so much the better so so quiet you could hear a pin drop so so-so
so so soon
so so still you could hear a pin drop so so to speak
so turn out (that) something is so so without so much as doing something so You think you're so smart! soaked soaked to the skin sober (as) sober as a judge sober sober as a judge society pay one's debt (to society) sock sock something away soft (as) soft as a baby's bottom soft (as) soft as down soft (as) soft as silk soft (as) soft as velvet soft have a soft spot in one's heart for someone or something soft soft as a baby's bottom soft soft as down
soft soft as silk soft soft as velvet soil soil one's diaper(s) soil soil one's hands sold sold out
solid (as) solid as a rock solid solid as a rock Solomon (as) wise as Solomon Solomon wise as Solomon some and then some some at some length
some catch some Zs
some cause (some) eyebrows to raise some cause (some) tongues to wag some dig some dirt up on someone some drum some business up some give birth to someone or some creature some give someone some skin some in some respects some It takes (some) getting used to.
some knock some heads together some put out (some) feelers some put some teeth into something some raise some eyebrows some shed (some) light on something some (some) new blood some throw (some) light on something some to some extent

some use some elbow grease some a match for someone, something, or some creature somebody pick on somebody your own size somehow carry on somehow someone make someone sick someone pick on someone your own size someone's get out of someone's way something have something in mind something have something to do with something something have something up one's sleeve something pull something on someone something something else something something of the sort something something or other something something to that effect something's something's up sometime date back (to sometime) somewhere (somewhere) in the neighborhood of an amount somewhere somewhere to hang (up) one's hat somewhere stranger to something or somewhere son son of a bitch
son son of a gun
son son of a sea biscuit song buy something for a song song go into one's song and dance (about something) song sell something for a song song someone's swan song soon as soon as soon (as) soon as possible soon had (just) as soon do something soon soon as possible soon so soon
soon would as soon do something soon A fool and his money are soon parted. sooner had sooner do something sooner no sooner said than done sooner sooner or later sore sight for sore eyes sore stick out like a sore thumb
sore touch a sore point sore touch a sore spot sorrow share someone's sorrow sorrows drown one's sorrows sorry (I'm) sorry.
sorry sorry
sort something of the sort sort sort of something sort sort something out sorts in bad sorts sorts out of sorts sought much sought after soul every living soul soul heart and soul
soul keep body and soul together soul not a living soul soul not tell a (living) soul soul with all one's heart and soul sound (as) sound as a dollar sound let out some kind of sound sound safe and sound sound sound as a dollar sound sound as if sound sound like sound sound off (about something) sound sound someone out soup (as) easy as duck soup soup (as) thick as pea soup soup easy as duck soup soup everything from soup to nuts

soup in the soup
soup soup something up
soup thick as pea soup sour (as) sour as vinegar sour hit a sour note sour sour as vinegar
sour strike a sour note sour sweet and sour South down South
sow sow one's wild oats sow's make a silk purse out of a sow's ear space take up space spaced spaced-out
spade call a spade a spade spades (as) black as the ace of spades spades (as) cocky as the king of spades spades black as the ace of spades spades cocky as the king of spades Spain build castles in Spain span spick-and-span spare and something to spare spare have something to spare spare in one's spare time spare not a moment to spare spare spare someone something spare without a moment to spare spare with something to spare
spaz have a spaz
speak Actions speak louder than words.
speak nothing to speak of speak so to speak speak speak for itself
speak speak for themselves speak speak highly of someone or something speak speak ill of someone speak speak off the cuff speak speak of the devil speak speak one's mind speak speak out of turn speak speak out (on something) speak speak the same language speak speak up speak speak with a forked tongue speaking on speaking terms (with someone) speaks know whereof one speaks specific right at a specific time speed at full speed
spell spell something out spell spell trouble spend tax-and-spend spice Variety is the spice of life.

spick spick-and-span spill spill the beans
spill take a spill spilled cry over spilled milk spin make someone's head spin spin put a spin on something spin spin a yarn
spin spin one's wheels
spin spin something off spindle fold, spindle, or mutilate spirits in good spirits spit be the spit and image of someone spit spit (something) up spite cut off one's nose to spite one's face spite in spite of someone or something spite out of spite spitting be the spitting image of someone spleen vent one's spleen split in a split second split split hairs
split split one's sides (with laughter) split split people up split split something fifty-fifty split split the difference split split up
split vote a split ticket splurge on a splurge spoil Too many cooks spoil the broth.
spoil Too many cooks spoil the stew.
spoils To the victors belong the spoils.
spoken spoken for sponge throw in the sponge spook spook someone or something spoon born with a silver spoon in one's mouth spoon spoon-feed someone sporting a sporting chance spot have a soft spot in one's heart for someone or something spot hit the spot
spot in a (tight) spot spot Johnny-on-the-spot spot on the spot
spot put someone on the spot spot rooted to the spot spot touch a sore spot
spot X marks the spot
spotlight in the spotlight spotlight steal the spotlight spots hit the high spots spout spout off (about someone or something) spread spread it on thick spread spread like wildfire spread spread oneself too thin spring no spring chicken spring spring for something spring spring something on someone spruce spruce someone or something up spur on the spur of the moment square back to square one square do something fair and square square fair and square square square accounts (with someone)

square square deal
square square meal
square square off (for something) square square someone or something away square square up to someone or something square square up with someone square a square peg in a round hole squared squared away squeak squeak by (someone or something) squeeze put the squeeze on (someone) squirrel squirrel something away stab stab someone in the back stab take a stab at something stack (as) black as a stack of black cats stack black as a stack of black cats stack blow one's stack
stack stack something up stack stack the cards (against someone or something) stack stack the deck (against someone or something) stack swear on a stack of Bibles stacked have the cards stacked against one stacked have the deck stacked against one stacked the cards are stacked against one stag go stag
stage at this stage
stage in a stage whisper stage set the stage for something stake at stake
stake burn someone at the stake stake stake a claim (to something) stakes pull up stakes stall stall someone or something off stamp stamp someone or something out stamping one's old stamping ground stand can't stand (the sight of) someone or something stand do not have a leg to stand on stand have one's heart stand still stand make someone's hair stand on end stand more than one can stand stand one-night stand
stand stand a chance stand stand and deliver stand stand behind someone or something stand stand by stand stand corrected stand stand for something stand stand in awe (of someone or something) stand stand (in) back of someone or something stand stand in (for someone) stand stand in someone's way stand stand on ceremony stand stand one's ground stand stand on one's own two feet stand stand out stand stand over someone stand stand pat
stand stand someone in good stead stand stand someone to a treat stand stand someone up
stand stand still for something stand stand to reason stand stand up and be counted stand take a stand (against someone or something) stand take the stand standards measure up to someone's standards standby on standby

standing able to do something standing on one's head standing a standing joke stands It (only) stands to reason. stands know where someone stands (on someone or something) stands one's heart stands still standstill come to a standstill starch take the starch out of someone stare stare someone in the face stark stark raving mad stars get stars in one's eyes stars see stars stars thank one's lucky stars start be off to a bad start start from start to finish start get a head start (on someone or something) start get a start start get off to a bad start start get off to a flying start start get one's start start give someone a head start (on someone or something) start give someone a start start jolt to a start start off to a running start start start from scratch start start off on the wrong foot start start (off) with a clean slate start start (over) with a clean slate start start someone in (as something) start start someone out (as something) start start something start start the ball rolling starters for starters starts by fits and starts state in a (constant) state of flux state lie in state
state a fine state of affairs state a pretty state of affairs state the separation of church and state Station (as) busy as Grand Central Station Station busy as Grand Central Station stay stay after someone stay stay in touch (with someone) stay stay put staying have no staying power stead stand someone in good stead steady (as) steady as a rock steady go steady (with someone) steady Slow and steady wins the race. steady steady as a rock steal steal a base steal steal a march (on someone) steal steal someone's thunder steal steal the show steal steal the spotlight steam blow off steam steam full steam ahead
steam let off steam

steam under one's own steam steamed steamed up steaming steaming (mad) steel (as) true as steel steel have a mind like a steel trap steel true as steel steer give someone a bum steer steer steer clear (of someone or something) stem from stem to stern step in step (with someone or something) step out of step (with someone or something) step step-by-step
step step down (from something) step step into someone's shoes step step in(to the breach) step step on it
step step on someone's toes step step on the gas step step out of line
step step (right) up
step step something up step watch one's step steps take steps (to prevent something) stern from stem to stern steven even steven stew get (oneself) into a stew (over someone or something) stew in a stew (about someone or something) stew stew in one's own juice stew Too many cooks spoil the stew.
stick end up with the short end of the stick stick get the short end of the stick stick have one's words stick in one's throat stick have something stick in one's craw stick more someone or something than one can shake a stick at stick not hold a stick to someone or something stick stick around
stick stick by someone or something Stick Stick 'em up!
stick stick-in-the-mud
stick stick one's foot in one's mouth stick stick one's neck out (for someone or something) stick stick one's nose in(to something) stick stick out like a sore thumb stick stick someone or something up stick stick someone with someone or something stick stick something out stick stick together stick stick to one's guns stick stick to one's ribs stick stick up for someone or something stick stick with someone or something sticks sticks and stones sticky have sticky fingers stiff (as) stiff as a poker stiff bored stiff stiff bore someone stiff stiff keep a stiff upper lip stiff scared stiff
stiff scare someone stiff stiff stiff as a poker still (as) still as death

still have one's heart stand still still hold someone or something still still hold still still keep someone or something still still keep still still one's heart stands still still so still you could hear a pin drop still stand still for something still still as death
still The jury is still out (on someone or something). stink create a stink (about something) stink make a stink (about something) stink raise a stink (about something) stink stink to high heaven stir cause a stir stir go stir-crazy
stir stir someone or something up stir stir up a hornet's nest stitches keep someone in stitches stock have something in stock stock in stock
stock lock, stock, and barrel stock not take stock in something stock out of stock stock stock up (on something) stock take no stock in something stock take stock (of something) stomach cannot stomach someone or something stomach can't stomach someone or something stomach get butterflies in one's stomach stomach give one butterflies in one's stomach stomach have eyes bigger than one's stomach stomach not able to stomach someone or something stomach One's eyes are bigger than one's stomach.
stomach turn someone's stomach
stone (as) hard as stone stone cast the first stone stone hard as stone stone have a heart of stone stone kill two birds with one stone stone leave no stone unturned stone run into a stone wall stone A rolling stone gathers no moss.
stone's (just) a stone's throw away (from something) stones sticks and stones stone's within a stone's throw (of something) stone's a stone's throw (away) (from something) stood should have stood in bed stools fall between two stools stoop stoop to doing something stop come to a stop stop jolt to a stop stop put a stop to something stop stop-and-go stop stop at nothing
stop stop by (somewhere) stop stop in (somewhere) stop stop, look, and listen stop stop off (somewhere) stop stop over (somewhere) stop stop short of doing something stops pull out all the stops

- storage in cold storage storage in storage store have something in store (for someone) store mind the store store set great store by someone or something storm Any port in a storm.
storm kick up a storm
storm take someone or something by storm storm A storm is brewing.
storm the calm before the storm storm the eye of the storm storm the lull before the storm story cock-and-bull story story make a long story short story tell its own story story the same old story straight (as) straight as an arrow straight get something straight straight get the facts straight straight give it to someone (straight) straight go straight
straight keep a straight face straight put something straight straight set someone or something straight straight set something straight straight straight as an arrow straight (straight) from the horse's mouth straight straight from the shoulder straight vote a straight ticket straight the straight and narrow straighten straighten someone or something out straighten straighten someone or something up straighten straighten up stranger stranger to something or somewhere strapped strapped (for something) straw be the last straw straw be the straw that broke the camel's back straws clutch at straws straws draw straws
straws grasp at straws
streak talk a blue streak stream change horses in the middle of the stream street down the street
street on easy street
street the man in the street strength main strength and awkwardness strength not know one's own strength strength on the strength of something strength a pillar of strength strength a tower of strength stretch at a stretch
stretch stretch a point stretch stretch one's legs stretch stretch the point stretch stretch the truth strictly (strictly) on the level strictly (strictly) on the up-and-up stride hit one's stride stride reach one's stride stride take something in stride strike go (out) on strike strike strike a balance (between two or more things) strike strike a bargain strike strike a chord (with someone) strike strike a happy medium strike strike a match strike strike a pose strike strike a sour note strike strike home
strike strike it rich
strike strike out
strike strike someone's fancy strike strike someone as something strike strike someone funny strike strike someone out strike strike the right note strike strike up a conversation strike strike up a friendship strike strike while the iron is hot strikes get two strikes against one strikes have two strikes against one strikes Lightning never strikes twice (in the same place). string have someone on the string string string along (with someone) string string something out strings control the purse strings strings pull strings strings tied to one's mother's apron strings strings with no strings attached strings without any strings attached stroke have a stroke stroke a stroke of luck strong (as) strong as a horse strong (as) strong as a lion strong (as) strong as an ox strong strong as a horse strong strong as a lion strong strong as an ox strong use strong language struggle a struggle to the death strung strung out
stubborn (as) stubborn as a mule stubborn stubborn as a mule stuck (stuck) in a rut stuck stuck in traffic
stuck stuck on someone or something stuck stuck with someone or something stuff kid('s) stuff stuff know one's stuff
stuff stuff and nonsense stuff stuff the ballot box stuffing beat the stuffing out of someone stumble stumble across someone or something stumble stumble into someone or something stumble stumble (up)on someone or something stumbling stumbling block stunt pull a stunt (on someone) stupor in a stupor style cramp someone's style style go out of style style in style
style out of style
subject change the subject

subject drop the subject subject off the subject subject subject to something subscribe subscribe to something substance form and substance substance sum and substance such as such such Like it's such a big deal!
such such and such such such as Such Such is life!
suck suck someone in suck teach one's grandmother to suck eggs sucks It sucks.
sucks That sucks.
sudden all of a sudden sugar (as) sweet as sugar sugar sweet as sugar suggestive suggestive of something suit follow suit
suit in one's birthday suit suit monkey suit
suit suit oneself
suit suit someone to a T suitcase live out of a suitcase sum sum and substance sum sum something up
sun (as) calm as a toad in the sun sun calm as a toad in the sun sun under the sun
Sunday in one's Sunday best Sunday Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes Sundays in a month of Sundays sundry all and sundry supply in short supply supply supply and demand support a pillar of support supposed supposed to do something sure (as) sure as death sure for sure
sure sure as death
sure swift and sure surely slow(ly) but sure(ly) surf surf and turf surface scratch the surface surgery in surgery
surprise come as no surprise surprise take someone or something by surprise surprise take someone by surprise survival the survival of the fittest susceptible susceptible to something suspicion above suspicion suspicion under a cloud (of suspicion) swallow swallow one's pride swallow swallow something, hook, line, and sinker swallow a bitter pill to swallow swallowed look like the cat that swallowed the canary swan (as) graceful as a swan swan graceful as a swan swan someone's swan song swath cut a big swath

swath cut a wide swath swear swear by someone or something swear swear on a stack of Bibles swear swear on one's mother's grave sweat blood, sweat, and tears sweat break out in a cold sweat sweat by the sweat of one's brow sweat no sweat
sweat sweat blood
sweat sweat something out sweep (as) black as a sweep sweep black as a sweep sweep make a clean sweep sweep sweep one off one's feet sweep sweep out of somewhere sweep sweep something under the carpet sweep sweep something under the rug sweet (as) sweet as honey sweet (as) sweet as sugar sweet have a sweet tooth sweet short and sweet sweet sweet and low sweet sweet and sour
sweet sweet as honey sweet sweet as sugar
sweet sweet nothings
sweet sweet on someone sweet sweet-talk someone sweet take the bitter with the sweet sweetness all sweetness and light swelled give someone a swelled head swift (as) swift as an arrow swift (as) swift as the wind swift (as) swift as thought swift swift and sure swift swift as an arrow swift swift as the wind swift swift as thought swim in the swim of things swim make someone's head swim swim out of the swim of things swim sink or swim swim swim against the current swim swim against the tide swimming be swimming in something swine cast (one's) pearls before swine swing get into full swing swing get into the swing of things swing in full swing
swing not enough room to swing a cat
swing swing into action swing swing something switch asleep at the switch switch bait and switch swoop at one fell swoop swoop in one fell swoop swords cross swords (with someone) (on something) sympathy extend one's sympathy (to someone) sympathy one's deepest sympathy system get something out of one's system systems all systems (are) go T done to a T

- T fit someone to a T T suit someone to a T tab pick up the tab
table clear the table
table coffee-table book table lay one's cards on the table table put one's cards on the table table set the table
table table a motion
table under the table
tables turn the tables (on someone) tabs keep tab(s) (on someone or something) tack (as) sharp as a tack tack sharp as a tack tacks get down to brass tacks tag tag along
tail Get off someone's tail!
tail in two shakes of a lamb's tail tail with one's tail between one's legs tail the tail wagging the dog tailed bright-eyed and bushy-tailed tails can't make heads or tails (out) of someone or something tails heads or tails tailspin go into a tailspin take able to take a joke take able to take just so much take able to take something take can take it to the bank.
take do a double take take give-and-take take Give one an inch, and one will take a mile.
take more than one can take take not take no for an answer take not take stock in something take on the take take sit up and take notice take take a backseat (to someone) take take a bath
take take a bow
take take a break
take take a chance
take take a course (in something) take take a crack at something take take a dig at someone take take a dim view of something take take advantage of someone or something take take a fancy to someone or something take take after someone take take a gander (at someone or something) take take a hand in something take take a hard line (with someone) Take Take a hike!
take take a hint
take take (a)hold of someone or something take take aim (at someone or something) take take a leaf out of someone's book take take a licking take take a liking to someone or something take take a load off one's feet Take Take a long walk off a short pier.
take take a look (at someone or something) take take a look for someone or something take take a nap
take take a new turn take take an interest (in something) take take an oath
take take a nosedive
take take a peep
take take a potshot at someone or something take take a powder
take take a punch at someone take take a rain check (on something) take take a risk
take take a shellacking take take a shine to someone or something take take a shot at something take take a shower
take take a spill
take take a stab at something take take a stand (against someone or something) take take a toll take take a try at something take take attendance take take a turn for the better take take a turn for the worse take take a vacation Take Take a walk!
take take a whack at someone or something take take care of someone or something take take charge (of someone or something) take take cold
take take digs at someone take take effect
take take exception (to something) take take five take take forty winks
take take (great) pains (to do something) take take heart
take take heed
take take ill
take take inventory
take take issue (with someone) take take it away
Take Take it easy.
take take it easy (on someone or something) take take it on the chin take take it or leave it take take it slow
take take it to one's grave take take it upon oneself to do something
take take it (up)on oneself (to do something) take take kindly to something take take leave of one's senses take take liberties with someone or something take take no stock in something take take note (of something) take take notice (of something) take take off
take take one's break take take one's cue from someone take take one's death of cold take take (one's) leave (of someone) take take one's medicine

- take take one's own life take take one's time take take one at one's word take take out (after someone or something) take take out a loan take take over
take take part (in something) take take pity (on someone or something) take take place
take take precedence over someone or something take take pride in something take take root
take take shape
take take sick
take take sides
take take someone or something at face value take take someone or something away take take someone or something by storm take take someone or something by surprise take take someone or something for granted take take someone or something in take take someone or something on take take someone or something out take take someone or something over take take someone or something wrong take take someone's breath away take take someone's part take take someone's pulse take take someone apart take take someone by surprise take take someone down a notch (or two) take take someone down a peg (or two) take take someone down (to size) take take someone for a fool take take someone for an idiot take take someone for a ride take take someone for someone or something take take someone hostage take take someone in take take someone to task take take someone to the cleaners take take someone under one's wing(s) take take someone up on something take take something take take steps (to prevent something) take take stock (of something) take take the bit between the teeth take take the bit in one's teeth take take the bitter with the sweet take take the bull by the horns take take the cake
take take the day off take take the edge off (something) take take the initiative (to do something) take take the law into one's own hands take take the liberty of doing something take take the rap (for someone or something) take take (the) roll take take the stand
take take the starch out of someone take take the trouble (to do something) take take the wind out of someone's sails take take the words out of one's mouth take take time off take take too much on take take to one's heels take take to someone or something take take turns ((at) doing something) take take umbrage at something take take up a collection take take up arms (against someone or something) take take up one's abode somewhere take take up room take take up someone's time take take up space
take take up time
take take up where one left off take take up with someone take You can't take it with you.
taken taken aback
taken taken for dead takes as a duck takes to water takes have what it takes takes It takes (some) getting used to.
takes That takes care of that.
tale tell its own tale tales tell tales out of school talk all talk (and no action) talk engage in small talk talk have a heart-to-heart (talk) talk like to hear oneself talk talk sweet-talk someone talk talk a blue streak talk talk back (to someone) talk talk big
talk talk down to someone talk talk in circles talk talk oneself out
talk talk shop
talk talk someone or something up talk talk someone's ear off talk talk someone's head off talk talk someone down talk talk someone into (doing) something talk talk someone out of (doing) something talk talk someone out of something talk talk something out talk talk something over talk talk through one's hat
talk talk turkey
talk talk until one is blue in the face talk the talk of somewhere talked talked out talking Who do you think you're talking to?
talks money talks tamper tamper with something tan tan someone's hide tandem in tandem tangent go off on a tangent tape red tape
taper taper off (doing something) tar beat the tar out of someone tar tar and feather someone tar whale the tar out of someone

- target on target target a sitting target tarred tarred with the same brush task take someone to task taste acquire a taste for something taste get a taste of one's own medicine taste have a taste for something taste in bad taste
taste in poor taste
taste leave a bad taste in someone's mouth taste There's no accounting for taste.
taste a taste of something taste a taste of things to come tat give someone tit for tat tatters in tatters
taut run a taut ship tax tax-and-spend taxes death and taxes
tea coffee, tea, or milk tea not someone's cup of tea tea tea and crumpets teach teach one's grandmother to suck eggs teach teach someone a lesson teach You can't teach an old dog new tricks. teacher's the teacher's pet team team up with someone teapot a tempest in a teapot tear tear into someone or something tear tear off
tear tear one's hair (out) tear tear someone or something down tear tear someone up tear wear and tear (on something) tears blood, sweat, and tears tears bored to tears tears break (out) in(to) tears tears burst into tears tears cry crocodile tears tears shed crocodile tears tears That tears it!
tears vale of tears
tee tee someone off
teeth armed to the teeth teeth (as) scarce as hens' teeth teeth by the skin of one's teeth teeth cut teeth
teeth fly in the teeth of someone or something teeth get one's teeth into something teeth gnash one's teeth teeth grit one's teeth teeth lie through one's teeth teeth no skin off someone's teeth teeth pull someone's or something's teeth teeth put some teeth into something teeth scarcer than hens' teeth teeth set someone's teeth on edge teeth sink one's teeth into something teeth take the bit between the teeth teeth take the bit in one's teeth teething teething troubles tell kiss and tell tell not tell a (living) soul tell show-and-tell
tell tell its own story tell tell its own tale tell tell it to the marines tell tell one to one's face tell tell on someone tell tell people apart tell tell someone a thing or two tell tell someone off
tell tell someone where to get off tell tell tales out of school tell tell things apart tell tell time
tell tell which is which tell Time will tell.
tells my gut tells me (that) something is so temper hold one's temper temper keep one's temper temper lose one's temper temperature run a temperature tempest a tempest in a teapot ten first and ten
ten wouldn't touch something with a ten-foot pole tent pitch a tent
tenterhooks keep someone on tenterhooks terms come to terms with someone or something terms contradiction in terms terms in no uncertain terms terms in terms of something terms on good terms (with someone) terms on speaking terms (with someone) terrible I'm terrible at names.
territory come with the territory territory cover a lot of territory territory cover the territory territory unfamiliar territory test acid test
test litmus test
test put someone or something to the test testament last will and testament testament someone's last will and testament tether at the end of one's tether than Actions speak louder than words.
than (be) easier said than done than better late than never than bite off more than one can chew than Blood is thicker than water. than Blood runs thicker than water. than easier said than done than exchange more than some number of words with someone than Half a loaf is better than none.
than have eyes bigger than one's stomach than holier-than-thou than in less than no time than know better (than to do something) than less than pleased than more dead than alive than more fun than a barrel of monkeys than more often than not than more someone or something than one can shake a stick at than more than one can bear than more than one can stand than more than one can take than more than someone bargained for than more (to something) than meets the eye than none other than someone than no sooner said than done than not see farther than the end of one's nose than One's bark is worse than one's bite.

than One's eyes are bigger than one's stomach.
than scarcer than hens' teeth than slower than molasses in January than There's more than one way to skin a cat.
than wear more than one hat thank thank one's lucky stars Thank Thank you for sharing.
thankful thankful for small blessings thanks thanks to someone or something thanks a vote of thanks that All's well that ends well.
that All that glitters is not gold.
that (as) bad as all that that at that rate that bad as all that that bear in mind that something is so that be of the persuasion that something is so that be that as it may that be the straw that broke the camel's back that bite the hand that feeds one that deem that it is necessary that for that matter that have a feeling (that) that have a hunch (that) something will happen that I'll drink to that!
that Imagine that!
that in the unlikely event that something happens that look like the cat that swallowed the canary that my gut tells me (that) something is so that or words to that effect that provided that something is so that Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
that run that by (someone) again that say that something is so that see (to it) that something is done that ships that pass in the night that something to that effect That That ain't hay.
That That does it!
That That makes two of us.
that That's that.
That That sucks.
That That takes care of that.
That That tears it!
that turn out (that) something is so that words to that effect that You can say that again!
that a game that two can play that the exception that proves the rule that the hair of the dog that bit one that the powers that be That'll That'll be the day.
That's That's about the size of it.

That's That's all for someone.
That's That's all she wrote.
That's That's it!
That's That's that.
That's That's the ticket.
That's That's the way the ball bounces.
That's That's the way the cookie crumbles.
the (as) exciting as watching (the) paint dry the (as) free as (the) air the at (the) worst
the be-all and (the) end-all the call (the) roll the can't stand (the sight of) someone or something the exciting as watching (the) paint dry the free as (the) air the get something off (the ground) the go to (the devil)
the let someone off (the hook) the long and (the) short of it the march to (the beat of) a different drummer the on (the) one hand the play (the) devil's advocate the take (the) roll
The The jig is up.
the the be-all and (the) end-all the the morning after (the night before) their in their entirety them have them rolling in the aisles them pack them in them They don't make them like they used to.
them up and at them
Them's Them's fighting words.
themselves by themselves themselves speak for themselves then and then some then (every) now and then then now and then
then then and there
theory in theory
there hang in there
there here and there there here, there, and everywhere there in there pitching there neither here nor there there not all there
there over there
there then and there
There There aren't enough hours in the day.
There There are plenty of other fish in the sea.
there there is no doing something
There There is trouble brewing.
There There, now.
There There, there.
There There will be the devil to pay.
There There you go.
there (way) over there
there You got me there.
There's There's more than one way to skin a cat.
There's There's no accounting for taste.
there's Where there's a will there's a way.
there's Where there's smoke there's fire.
these one of these days

they count one's chickens before they hatch They They don't make them like they used to.
thick (as) thick as pea soup thick (as) thick as thieves thick get something into someone's thick head thick get something through someone's thick skull thick lay it on thick thick pour it on thick thick spread it on thick thick thick and fast thick thick as pea soup thick thick as thieves thick thick-skinned thick through thick and thin thickens The plot thickens.
thicker Blood is thicker than water.
thicker Blood runs thicker than water.
thieves (as) thick as thieves thieves thick as thieves thin on thin ice
thin out of thin air thin pull something out of thin air thin skate on thin ice thin spread oneself too thin thin thin on top thin thin-skinned thin through thick and thin thin vanish into thin air thing amount to the same thing thing come to the same thing thing do one's (own) thing thing every other person or thing thing first thing (in the morning) thing get a thing about someone or something thing have a good thing going thing have a thing going (with someone) thing know a thing or two (about someone or something) thing not know the first thing about someone or something thing not miss a thing thing One thing leads to another. thing one thing or person after another thing tell someone a thing or two thing too much of a good thing thing A little knowledge is a dangerous thing. thing the greatest thing since sliced bread thing the in thing (to do) thing the real thing thing the very thing things be all things to all men things be all things to all people things first things first things get into the swing of things things in the swim of things things just one of those things things let things slide things lots of people or things things of all things things other things being equal things out of the swim of things things seeing things Things Things are looking up.

things wash a few things out things a harbinger of things to come things a number of things or people things a portent of things to come things a sign of things to come things a taste of things to come think come to think of it think get another think coming think hardly have time to think think think a great deal of someone or something think think a lot of someone or something think think back (on someone or something) think think better of something think think highly of someone or something think think inside the box think think little of someone or something think think much of someone or something think think nothing of someone or something think think on one's feet think think out loud think think outside the box think think someone or something fit for something think think something out think think something over think think something up think think the world of someone or something think think twice (before doing something) think Who do you think you're kidding?
think Who do you think you're talking to?
think You think you're so smart! thinking put one's thinking cap on thinking thinking inside the box thinking thinking outside the box thinking to someone's way of thinking thinking wishful thinking third get the third degree third give someone the third degree thirst a thirst for something thirsty thirsty for something this (a little) new to (all) this this at this juncture this at this point (in time) this at this rate
this at this stage
this Don't let it out of this room. this from this day forward this from this day on this I just have this feeling this in this day and age this new to (all) this this not long for this world this Now hear this!
this out of this world
this shuffle off this mortal coil This This is it.
thither hither and thither thither hither, thither, and yon thither thither and yon Thomas doubting Thomas thorn a thorn in someone's side those just one of those things Those Those were the days.

- thou holier-than-thou
- thought (as) swift as thought
- thought food for thought
- thought lose one's train of thought
- thought lost in thought
- thought not give it another thought
- thought on second thought
- thought Perish the thought.
- thought school of thought
- thought someone's train of thought
- thought swift as thought
- thought Who would have thought?
- thoughts get second thoughts about someone or something
- thoughts have second thoughts about someone or something
- thousand one in a thousand
- thrash thrash something out
- thread hang by a thread
- thread thread (one's way) through something
- three (as) phony as a three-dollar bill
- three (as) queer as a three-dollar bill
- three like a three-ring circus
- three phony as a three-dollar bill
- three queer as a three-dollar bill
- three three sheets to the wind
- three's Two's company(, three's a crowd).
- thrill thrill someone to death
- thrill thrill someone to pieces
- thrilled thrilled to death
- thrilled thrilled to pieces
- throat cut one's (own) throat
- throat force someone or something down someone's throat
- throat get a frog in one's throat
- throat get a lump in one's throat
- throat have a frog in one's throat
- throat have one's words stick in one's throat
- throat jump down someone's throat
- throat ram someone or something down someone's throat
- throat shove someone or something down someone's throat
- throne the power behind the throne
- through break through (something)
- through carry through (on something)
- through come through
- through fall through
- through follow through (on something)
- through get something through someone's thick skull
- through get through something
- through get through (to someone)
- through get through with something
- through go right through someone
- through go through
- through have been through the mill
- through jump through a hoop
- through jump through hoops
- through leaf through something
- through lie through one's teeth
- through live through something
- through make one's way through something
- through pass through someone's mind
- through pay through the nose (for something)
- through pick one's way through something
- through plow through something
- through pull someone through (something)
- through pull through
- through put one through one's paces
- through put someone through the wringer
- through put something through its paces
- through read something through
- through run through something
- through sail (right) through something
- through see something through
- through see through someone or something
- through shot through with something
- through sit through something
- through slip through someone's fingers
- through talk through one's hat
- through thread (one's way) through something
- through through and through
- through through hell and high water
- through through thick and thin
- through thumb through something
- through work one's way through college
- through work through channels
- throw (just) a stone's throw away (from something)
- throw throw a fit
- throw throw a monkey wrench into the works
- throw throw a party (for someone)
- throw throw caution to the wind
- throw throw cold water on something
- throw throw down the gauntlet
- throw throw good money after bad
- throw throw in the sponge
- throw throw in the towel
- throw throw oneself at someone's feet
- throw throw oneself at someone
- throw throw oneself at the mercy of the court
- throw throw oneself on the mercy of the court
- throw throw one's hands up in despair
- throw throw one's hands up in horror
- throw throw one's voice
- throw throw one's weight around
- throw throw (some) light on something
- throw throw someone
- throw throw something into the bargain
- throw throw something together
- throw throw (something) up
- throw throw something up to someone
- throw throw the baby out with the bath(water)
- throw throw the book at someone
- throw within a stone's throw (of something)
- throw a stone's throw (away) (from something)
- thrust thrust and parry
- thumb get someone under one's thumb
- thumb have a green thumb
- thumb stick out like a sore thumb
- thumb thumb a ride
- thumb thumb one's nose at someone or something
- thumb thumb through something
- thumb a rule of thumb
- thumbnail a thumbnail sketch
- thumbs all thumbs
- thumbs thumbs down on someone or something
- thumbs thumbs up on someone or something

- thumbs turn thumbs down (on someone or something) thumbs turn thumbs up (on someone or something) thumbs twiddle one's thumbs thunder steal someone's thunder thunder thunder thunderstorms risk of thunder(storms) tick (as) full as a tick tick (as) tight as a tick tick full as a tick tick tight as a tick
tick what makes someone tick tick what makes something tick ticket round-trip ticket ticket That's the ticket.
ticket vote a split ticket ticket vote a straight ticket tickle tickle someone's fancy tickle tickle someone pink tickle tickle someone to death tickled tickled pink tickled tickled to death tide swim against the tide tide tide someone over tide turn the tide
tie coat and tie
tie tie into something tie tie someone or something up tie tie someone's hands tie tie someone down tie tie someone (up) in knots tie tie the knot
tie tie traffic up tied fit to be tied tied have one's hands tied tied tied down
tied tied to one's mother's apron strings tied tied up
tied with both hands tied behind one's back tied with one hand tied behind one's back ties sever ties with someone tight (as) tight as a drum tight (as) tight as a tick tight (as) tight as Dick's hatband tight in a (tight) spot tight keep a tight rein on someone or something tight run a tight ship tight sit tight
tight tight as a drum
tight tight as a tick tight tight as Dick's hatband
tighten tighten one's belt tightfisted tightfisted (with money) tightrope walk a tightrope till have one's hand in the till till It's not over till it's over. till till all hours (of the day and night) till till the cows come home tilt at full tilt
tilt tilt at windmills
time ahead of one's time time ahead of time
time all in good time time all the time
time at a set time
time at the appointed time time at the present time time at the same time time at this point (in time) time bide one's time time every time one turns around time fight against time time for the time being time from time to time time get time off
time get time to catch one's breath time Give it time.
time give someone a hard time time hardly have time to breathe time hardly have time to think time have a hard time time have a rough time (of it)
time have a whale of a time time have the time of one's life time in due time
time in good time
time in less than no time time in no time (at all) time in one's spare time time in the course of time time in the nick of time time in the right place at the right time time in the (very) nick of time time in the wrong place at the wrong time time in time
time invest someone's time in something time It's about time!
time It's high time!
time keep good time
time keep time
time kill time
time live on borrowed time
time Long time no see.
time make good time
time make time (for someone or something) time make time (with someone) time make up for lost time time many is the time time not able to call one's time one's own time not give someone the time of day time once upon a time time one at a time
time on one's own time
time on time
time out of time (with someone or something) time pass the time
time pressed for time time race against time time right at a specific time time right on time
time run out of time time scarcely have time to breathe time serve time
time since time immemorial time small-time

- time take one's time time take time off time take up someone's time time take up time time tell time
time time after time time time and (time) again time time flies
Time Time is money.
Time Time is up.
time time off
time time out
time time to catch one's breath time time was (when)
Time Time will tell.
time two-time someone time when the time is ripe time while away the time time the sands of time time the time is ripe times at all times
times at times
times behind the times times even in the best of times times in times past times keep up (with the times) tin (as) busy as a cat on a hot tin roof tin busy as a cat on a hot tin roof tip from tip to toe tip have something on the tip of one's tongue tip on the tip of one's tongue tip tip someone off tip tip the scales at something tiptoe on tiptoe tired sick and tired of someone or something tit (as) cold as a witch's tit tit cold as a witch's tit tit give someone tit for tat tits tits and ass
tizzy in a tizzy
to able to breathe (easily) again to able to breathe (freely) again to able to do something blindfolded to able to do something standing on one's head to able to do something with one's eyes closed to able to fog a mirror to able to make something to able to take a joke to able to take just so much to able to take something to according to all accounts to according to Hoyle to according to one's own lights to according to someone or something to according to something to accustomed to someone or something to acknowledge someone to be right to add fuel to the fire to add fuel to the flame to add insult to injury to add up (to something) to aim to do something to (a little) new to (all) this to (all) set to do something to (all) shot to hell to all the same (to someone) to all to the good to amount to something to amount to the same thing to and something to spare to angry enough to chew nails to answer to someone to armed to the teeth to arrange to do something with someone to as a duck takes to water to as to someone or something to attached to someone or something to back-to-back to back to square one to back to the drawing board to back to the salt mines to be all things to all men to be all things to all people to beat a path to someone's door to beat one's brains out (to do something) to beat someone down (to size) to beat someone to the draw to beat someone to the punch to becoming to someone to begin to see daylight to begin to see the light to beg to differ (with someone) to bend over backwards (to do something) to be off to a bad start to be of service (to someone) to be reluctant to do something to be to do something to be used to doing something to be used to something to bid adieu to someone or something to blow someone or something to smithereens to boil down to something to bored to death
to bored to distraction to bored to tears
to bore someone to death to bound to (do something) to break one's back (to do something) to break one's neck (to do something) to break something to pieces to break something to someone to break the news (to someone) to bring someone or something up to date to bring someone to to bring someone up to date (on someone or something) to bring something home to someone to bring something to a head to bring something to light to bring something to someone's attention to buckle down (to something) to build something to order to build up to something to burned to a cinder to burn someone or something to a crisp

- to bust a gut (to do something)
- to buy something to go
- to call out (to someone)
- to call the meeting to order
- to can take it to the bank.
- to can't hold a candle to someone
- to can't wait (for something to happen)
- to can't wait (to do something)
- to carry a secret to one's grave
- to carry a secret to the grave
- to carry coals to Newcastle
- to catch on (to someone or something)
- to catch up (to someone or something)
- to cause (some) eyebrows to raise
- to cause (some) tongues to wag
- to cave in (to someone or something)
- to chalk something up to something
- to chilled to the bone
- to close one's eyes to something
- to close to home
- to close to someone
- to coast-to-coast
- to come down to earth
- to come down to something
- to come home (to roost)
- to come home to someone
- to come to
- to commit something to memory
- to contrary to something
- to cook something to perfection
- to cozy up (to someone)
- to cross a bridge before one comes to it
- to cross a bridge when one comes to it
- to cross one's heart (and hope to die)
- to cut off one's nose to spite one's face
- to cut out to be something
- to cut someone or something to the bone
- to cut someone down (to size)
- to cut someone to the quick
- to cut to the chase
- to dance to another tune
- to dare someone (to do something)
- to date back (to sometime)
- to day-to-day
- to dead to the world
- to deem it (to be) necessary
- to do credit to someone
- to Do I need to paint you a picture?
- to do justice to something
- to done to a T
- to do not have a leg to stand on
- to doomed to failure
- to door-to-door
- to do something to excess
- to down-to-earth
- to down to the last detail
- to down to the wire
- to draw something to a close
- to draw to a close
- to dressed to kill
- to dressed to the nines
- to drink to excess
- to drive someone to the wall
- to drop in (to say hello)
- to drop off (to sleep)
- to duty bound (to do something)
- to dying to do something
- to Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.)
- to easy to come by
- to enough to go (a)round
- to equal to someone or something
- to everything from A to Z
- to everything from soup to nuts
- to extend credit (to someone)
- to extend one's sympathy (to someone)
- to eyeball-to-eyeball
- to face-to-face
- to fair to middling
- to fall over backwards (to do something)
- to fall to
- to far be it from me to do something
- to fed up (to somewhere) (with someone or something)
- to feel free (to do something)
- to feel it beneath one (to do something)
- to feel up to something
- to filled to the brim
- to find it in one's heart (to do something)
- to fit someone to a T
- to fit to be tied
- to fit to kill
- to fools rush in (where angels fear to tread)
- to force someone to the wall
- to for the odds to be against one
- to frightened to death
- to frighten someone to death
- to from dawn to dusk
- to from day to day
- to from door to door
- to from hand to hand
- to from head to toe
- to from pillar to post
- to from rags to riches
- to from side to side
- to from start to finish
- to from stem to stern
- to from the cradle to the grave
- to from time to time
- to from tip to toe
- to from top to bottom
- to gear something to someone or something
- to generous to a fault
- to get around to doing something
- to get (around) to something
- to get back (to someone)
- to get close (to someone or something)
- to get down to brass tacks
- to get down to business
- to get down to cases
- to get down to something
- to get down to the facts
- to get down to the nitty-gritty
- to get down to work
- to get off to a bad start

- to get off to a flying start
- to get ready (to do something)
- to get something across (to someone)
- to get something to go
- to get through (to someone)
- to get time to catch one's breath
- to get to first base (with someone or something)
- to get to one's feet
- to get to someone
- to get to the bottom of something
- to get to the heart of the matter
- to get to the point
- to get to the root of the problem
- to get up enough nerve (to do something)
- to get used to someone or something
- to get what's coming to one
- to get wise (to someone or something)
- to give a blank check to someone
- to give (an) ear to someone or something
- to give birth to someone or some creature
- to give birth to something
- to give carte blanche to someone
- to give chase (to someone or something)
- to give credence to something
- to give free rein to someone
- to give in (to someone or something)
- to give it to someone (straight)
- to given to doing something
- to given to understand
- to give one's ear to someone or something
- to give one what's coming to one
- to give rise to something
- to give someone to understand something
- to give vent to something
- to give voice to something
- to goes to show you
- to go from bad to worse
- to gone to meet one's Maker
- to good riddance (to bad rubbish)
- to good to go
- to go on to a better land
- to go out of one's way (to do something)
- to go so far as to say something
- to go to any length
- to go to bat for someone
- to go to bed
- to go to Davy Jones's locker
- to go to (hell)
- to go to hell in a handbasket
- to go to pieces
- to go to pot
- to go to rack and ruin
- to go to seed
- to go to someone's head
- to go to the bathroom
- to go to (the devil)
- to go to the dogs
- to go to the expense (of doing something)
- to go to the lavatory
- to go to the limit
- to go to the toilet
- to go to the trouble (of doing something)
- to go to the trouble (to do something)
- to go to the wall
- to go to town
- to go to waste
- to go to wrack and ruin
- to grab a bite (to eat)
- to Greek to me
- to grind to a halt
- to grow to do something
- to hand it to someone
- to hand something down (to someone)
- to hang on (to someone or something)
- to hardly have time to breathe
- to hardly have time to think
- to hard-pressed (to do something)
- to hard put (to do something)
- to hark(en) back to something
- to have a bone to pick (with someone)
- to have a (good) mind to do something
- to have a heart-to-heart (talk)
- to have an ax to grind (with someone)
- to have an itch to do something
- to have a right to do something
- to have a score to settle (with someone)
- to have been to hell and back
- to have bigger fish to fry
- to have had it (up to here)
- to have half a mind to do something
- to have half a notion to do something
- to have hell to pay
- to have money to burn
- to have more important fish to fry
- to have nothing to do with someone or something
- to have one's back to the wall
- to have one's ear to the ground
- to have one's heart go out to someone
- to have other fish to fry
- to have someone dead to rights
- to have something to do with something
- to have something coming (to one)
- to have something to go
- to have something to spare
- to have the devil to pay
- to have the gall to do something
- to have the presence of mind to do something
- to have the right to do something
- to have the wherewithal (to do something)
- to have to do with someone or something
- to have to live with something
- to Here's to someone or something.
- to hit one close to home
- to hold on (to someone or something)
- to Honest to God.
- to Honest to goodness.
- to Honest to Pete.
- to Hop to it!
- to if push comes to shove
- to if worst comes to worst
- to ill-disposed to doing something
- to I'll drink to that!
- to I'll (try to) catch you later.
- to in addition (to something)

- to inclined to do something
- to incumbent upon someone to do something
- to in no mood to do something
- to in order to do something
- to in the mood to do something
- to It behooves one to do something.
- to It (only) stands to reason.
- to It's (all) Greek to me.
- to It takes (some) getting used to.
- to jolt to a start
- to jolt to a stop
- to jump to conclusions
- to just the same (to someone)
- to keep one's cards close to one's chest
- to keep one's cards close to one's vest
- to keep one's ear to the ground
- to keep one's nose to the grindstone
- to keep one's opinions to oneself
- to keep something to oneself
- to keep to oneself
- to knee-high to a grasshopper
- to knock oneself out (to do something)
- to knock someone down (to size)
- to know better (than to do something)
- to knuckle down (to something)
- to knuckle under (to someone or something)
- to laugh all the way to the bank
- to lay something to rest
- to lay something to waste
- to lay waste to something
- to lead someone to believe something
- to lead someone to do something
- to lead up to something
- to lean over backwards (to do something)
- to leap to conclusions
- to learn to live with something
- to leave a lot to be desired
- to leave oneself wide open to something
- to leave one to one's fate
- to lend a hand (to someone)
- to lend an ear (to someone)
- to lend color to something
- to lend oneself or itself to something
- to license to do something
- to Life's been good (to me).
- to like lambs to the slaughter
- to like to hear oneself talk
- to listen to reason
- to live from hand to mouth
- to live up to one's end of the bargain
- to live up to something
- to look forward to something
- to look to one's laurels
- to look to someone or something (for something)
- to look up to someone
- to lose out to someone or something
- to lower oneself to some level
- to lull someone to sleep
- to mad enough to chew nails
- to made to measure
- to made to order
- to make a check out (to someone)
- to make as if to do something
- to make it one's business to do something
- to make it to something
- to make love (to someone)
- to make no difference (to someone)
- to make someone or something available to someone
- to make something to order
- to make something up to someone
- to man to man
- to march to (the beat of) a different drummer
- to mean for someone to do something
- to mean nothing (to someone)
- to mean something (to someone)
- to mean to (do something)
- to meant to be
- to measure up (to someone or something)
- to measure up (to someone's expectations)
- to more (to something) than meets the eye
- to move heaven and earth to do something
- to new to (all) this
- to next to nothing
- to next to someone or something
- to not able to call one's time one's own
- to not able to go on
- to not able to help something
- to not able to make anything out of someone or something
- to not able to see the forest for the trees
- to not able to stomach someone or something
- to not able to wait
- to not all something is cracked up to be
- to not a moment to spare
- to not enough room to swing a cat
- to nothing to choose from
- to nothing to complain about
- to nothing to it
- to nothing to sneeze at
- to nothing to speak of
- to nothing to write home about
- to not hold a candle to someone or something
- to not hold a stick to someone or something
- to not know enough to come in out of the rain
- to not know where to turn
- to not know which way to turn
- to not lift a finger (to help someone)
- to not lift a hand (to help someone)
- to not see any objection (to something)
- to not up to scratch
- to not up to snuff
- to not want to catch someone doing something
- to not what something is cracked up to be
- to nurse someone back to health
- to nuzzle up to someone or something
- to occur to someone
- to of benefit (to someone)
- to off to a running start
- to off to one side
- to of interest (to someone)
- to old enough to be someone's father
- to old enough to be someone's mother
- to one's heart goes out to someone
- to One thing leads to another.
- to one to a customer

- to on one's way to doing something
- to on the way to doing something
- to open one's heart (to someone)
- to open someone's eyes (to something)
- to open the door to something
- to open to something
- to open up (to someone)
- to order something to go
- to or words to that effect
- to out of courtesy (to someone)
- to out to lunch
- to owing to
- to own up (to something)
- to partial to someone or something
- to passport to something
- to pay attention (to someone or something)
- to pay a visit to someone or something
- to pay homage to someone
- to pay lip service (to something)
- to pay one's debt (to society)
- to pay to do something
- to pick something to pieces
- to play hard to get
- to play one's cards close to one's vest
- to play one's cards close to the chest
- to play second fiddle (to someone)
- to play to the gallery
- to play up to someone
- to poised to do something
- to pour one's heart (out to someone)
- to praise someone or something to the skies
- to preach to the converted
- to press someone to the wall
- to privy to something
- to promise the moon (to someone)
- to prone to something
- to prove to be something
- to push someone to the wall
- to put an end to something
- to put a stop to something
- to put one's hand to the plow
- to put one's mind to something
- to put one's nose to the grindstone
- to put one's shoulder to the wheel
- to put someone or something out to pasture
- to put someone or something to bed
- to put someone or something to sleep
- to put someone or something to the test
- to put someone to bed with a shovel
- to put someone to shame
- to put someone up to something
- to put someone wise to someone or something
- to put something down to something
- to put something to (good) use
- to put something to rest
- to put to it
- to raise (an) objection (to someone or something)
- to raise one's voice (to someone)
- to rarin' to go
- to ready to do something
- to reconcile oneself to something
- to reduced to something
- to relative to someone or something
- to reluctance to do something
- to reputed to do something
- to reputed to have something
- to resign oneself to something
- to rise to the bait
- to rise to the occasion
- to risk one's neck (to do something)
- to rob Peter to pay Paul
- to rooted to the spot
- to rotten to the core
- to round something off to something
- to round something up to something
- to run counter to something
- to run someone or something to earth
- to run to an amount of money
- to run to seed
- to say something (right) to someone's face
- to scarcely have time to breathe
- to scared to death
- to scare someone to death
- to second nature to someone
- to second to none
- to see eye to eye (with someone) (about something)
- to see eye to eye (with someone) (on something)
- to see fit (to do something)
- to see no objection (to something)
- to see one's way clear (to do something)
- to see someone to somewhere
- to see someone to the door
- to see (to it) that something is done
- to see to someone or something
- to send someone to the showers
- to set fire to someone or something
- to set something down to something
- to set something to music
- to set to do something
- to shine up to someone
- to shot to hell
- to shoulder to shoulder
- to show one to one's seat
- to show someone to a seat
- to show someone (to) the door
- to show something to good advantage
- to shuttle someone or something from person to person
- to shuttle someone or something from place to place
- to signal (to) someone to do something
- to slated to do something
- to smell to high heaven
- to soaked to the skin
- to something to that effect
- to somewhere to hang (up) one's hat
- to so to speak
- to square up to someone or something
- to stake a claim (to something)
- to stand someone to a treat
- to stand to reason
- to stick to one's guns
- to stick to one's ribs
- to stink to high heaven
- to stoop to doing something
- to stranger to something or somewhere

- to subject to something
- to subscribe to something
- to suit someone to a T
- to Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes
- to supposed to do something
- to susceptible to something
- to take a backseat (to someone)
- to take a fancy to someone or something
- to take a liking to someone or something
- to take a shine to someone or something
- to take exception (to something)
- to take (great) pains (to do something)
- to take it to one's grave
- to take it upon oneself to do something
- to take it (up)on oneself (to do something)
- to take kindly to something
- to take off one's hat (to someone)
- to take someone down (to size)
- to take someone to task
- to take someone to the cleaners
- to take something to heart
- to take steps (to prevent something)
- to take the initiative (to do something)
- to take the trouble (to do something)
- to take to one's heels
- to take to someone or something
- to talk back (to someone)
- to talk down to someone
- to teach one's grandmother to suck eggs
- to tell it to the marines
- to tell one to one's face
- to tell someone where to get off
- to thanks to someone or something
- to There's more than one way to skin a cat.
- to There will be the devil to pay.
- to They don't make them like they used to.
- to three sheets to the wind
- to thrilled to death
- to thrilled to pieces
- to thrill someone to death
- to thrill someone to pieces
- to throw caution to the wind
- to throw someone to the wolves
- to throw something up to someone
- to tickled to death
- to tickle someone to death
- to tied to one's mother's apron strings
- to time to catch one's breath
- to to a great extent
- to to and fro
- to to beat the band
- to to be on the safe side
- to to be safe
- to to boot
- to to count heads
- to to date
- to to hell and gone
- to to no avail
- to too good to be true
- to to one's heart's content
- to to put it mildly
- to to say nothing of someone or something
- to to say the least
- to to some extent
- to to someone's liking
- to to someone's way of thinking
- to to the best of one's ability
- to to the best of one's knowledge
- to to the bitter end
- to to the contrary
- to to the core
- to to the ends of the earth
- to to the last
- to to the letter
- to to the nth degree
- to to the tune of some amount of money
- To To the victors belong the spoils.
- to tough nut to crack
- to tough row to hoe
- to to whom it may concern
- to to wit
- to trouble oneself (to do something)
- to trouble someone to do something
- to true to form
- to true to one's word
- to turn a blind eye to someone or something
- to turn a deaf ear (to someone or something)
- to turn something to good account
- to turn something to one's advantage
- to turn to
- to unaccustomed to someone or something
- to up-to-date
- to up to doing something
- to up to no good
- to up to one's ears (in something)
- to up to one's eyeballs (in something)
- to up to one's neck (in something)
- to up to par
- to up to scratch
- to up to snuff
- to up to someone
- to up to something
- to up-to-the-minute
- to used to do something
- to used to someone or something
- to wall-to-wall with something
- to warm up to someone
- to We aim to please.
- to wed(ded) to someone
- to wedded to something
- to welcome to do something
- to well-to-do
- to What do you want me to say?
- to What have you been up to?
- to when it comes right down to it
- to when it comes to something
- to when push comes to shove
- to Who do you think you're talking to?
- to wise up (to someone or something)
- to with an eye to doing something
- to with a view to doing something
- to without a moment to spare
- to with regard to someone or something
- to with respect to someone or something to with something to spare to woman to woman to words to that effect to work one's fingers to the bone to would like (to have) someone or something to a bitter pill to swallow to a credit to someone or something to a force to be reckoned with to a harbinger of things to come to a hard nut to crack to a marvel to behold

to a nine-to-five job to a place to call one's own to a place to hang one's hat to a portent of things to come to a prelude to something to a sign of things to come to a slave to something to a struggle to the death to a taste of things to come to a tough act to follow to a word to the wise to The chickens have come home to roost.
to the in thing (to do) to the same to you toad (as) calm as a toad in the sun toad (as) ugly as a toad toad calm as a toad in the sun toad ugly as a toad toast (as) warm as toast toast propose a toast toast warm as toast
toe from head to toe toe from tip to toe toe toe the line
toe toe the mark
toehold get a toehold (somewhere) toes keep on one's toes toes on one's toes toes step on someone's toes toes turn up one's toes toes with bells on (one's toes) together Birds of a feather flock together.
together get it (all) together together get one's act together together go together together keep body and soul together together knock some heads together together pull oneself together together pull something together together put something together together put two and two together together scrape something together together slap something together together stick together together throw something together toilet go to the toilet toing toing and froing (on something) token as a token (of something) token by the same token told all told told A little bird told me.

toll take a toll
Tom (every) Tom, Dick, and Harry Tom Tom, Dick, and Harry ton hit (someone) like a ton of bricks tone tone something down tongs fight someone or something hammer and tongs tongs go at it hammer and tongs tongue bite one's tongue tongue Cat got your tongue?
tongue find one's tongue tongue get a tongue-lashing tongue give someone a tongue-lashing tongue have something on the tip of one's tongue tongue hold one's tongue tongue Hold your tongue!
tongue keep a civil tongue (in one's head) tongue on the tip of one's tongue tongue speak with a forked tongue tongue tongue-in-cheek tongue a slip of the tongue tongues cause (some) tongues to wag tongues set tongues (a)wagging too be too
too do too
too eat one's cake and have it too too go too far too have one's cake and eat it too too have one's finger in too many pies too have too
too know something only too well too life is too short too none too something too spread oneself too thin too take too much on too too big for one's britches too too close for comfort too too good to be true Too Too many cooks spoil the broth.
Too Too many cooks spoil the stew.
too too much of a good thing toot toot one's own horn tooth (as) clean as a hound's tooth tooth clean as a hound's tooth tooth fight someone or something tooth and nail tooth go at it tooth and nail tooth go over something with a fine-tooth comb tooth have a sweet tooth tooth search something with a fine-tooth comb top at the top of one's lungs top at the top of one's voice top at the top of the hour top blow one's top
top feel on top of the world top from the top top from top to bottom top in top form top off the top of one's head top on top
top over the top top (sitting) on top of the world top thin on top top top someone or something

- top top something off torch carry a torch (for someone) torch carry the torch torn torn between bad choices torn torn between choosing something or something else toss toss a salad
toss toss one's cookies
toss toss one's hat into the ring toss toss something off totem high man on the totem pole totem low man on the totem pole touch get in touch (with someone) touch have the Midas touch touch keep in touch (with someone) touch lose one's touch (with someone or something) touch lose touch (with someone or something) touch out of touch (with someone or something) touch put the touch on someone touch stay in touch (with someone) touch touch and go
touch touch a sore point touch touch a sore spot touch touch base (with someone) touch touch on something touch touch someone or something off touch touch someone for something touch touch something up touch wouldn't touch something with a ten-foot pole touched touched by someone or something touched touched (in the head) tough (as) tough as an old boot tough get tough (with someone) tough hang tough tough tough as an old boot tough tough break
tough tough it out
tough tough nut to crack tough tough row to hoe
tough when the going gets tough tough a tough act to follow tow have someone or something in tow tow in tow
toward go a long way toward doing something toward lean toward doing something toward well-disposed toward someone or something towel throw in the towel tower live in an ivory tower tower a tower of strength town all over town
town go to town
town man-about-town
town out of town
town out on the town
town paint the town red town town-and-gown
town a night on the town toy toy with someone or something track get the inside track track have a one-track mind track jump the track track keep track (of someone or something) track lose track (of someone or something) track off the (beaten) track track off the track
track on the right track track on the track of someone or something track on the wrong track track throw someone off the track tracks cover someone's tracks (up) tracks dead in someone's or something's tracks tracks drop in one's tracks tracks follow in someone's tracks tracks the other side of the tracks tracks the wrong side of the tracks trade know (all) the tricks of the trade trade trade on something trades a jack-of-all-trades traffic Go play in the traffic traffic stuck in traffic traffic tie traffic up trail blaze a trail (in something) trail on the trail of someone or something trail throw someone off the trail train lose one's train of thought train ride the gravy train train someone's train of thought train train one's sights on something trained have one's sights trained on something transit in transit translation free translation trap fall into a trap trap fall into someone's trap trap fall into the trap trap have a mind like a steel trap trap set a trap
trash One man's trash is another man's treasure.
travesty a travesty of justice tread fools rush in (where angels fear to tread) treasure One man's trash is another man's treasure.
treat Dutch treat
treat stand someone to a treat treat Trick or treat!
treating How's the world (been) treating you?
treatment get the red-carpet treatment treatment give someone the red-carpet treatment treatment the royal treatment tree bark up the wrong tree tree Go climb a tree!
tree up a tree
trees not able to see the forest for the trees trembling in fear and trembling trespassing no trespassing trial on trial
trial send up a trial balloon trial trial and error trials trials and tribulations tribulations trials and tribulations trick do the trick
trick know a trick or two trick play a trick on someone trick pull a trick (on someone) Trick Trick or treat!
trick trick someone into doing something trick use every trick in the book tricks bag of tricks tricks know (all) the tricks of the trade tricks play tricks (on someone) tricks You can't teach an old dog new tricks.

tried tried-and-true trigger quick on the trigger trim fit and trim
trip round-trip ticket trip trip someone up triplicate in triplicate trolley off one's trolley trot trot something out trouble ask for trouble trouble borrow trouble trouble go to the trouble (of doing something) trouble go to the trouble (to do something) trouble in trouble
trouble look for trouble trouble not worth the trouble trouble spell trouble trouble take the trouble (to do something) trouble There is trouble brewing.
Trouble Trouble is brewing. trouble trouble oneself about someone or something trouble trouble oneself (to do something) trouble trouble one's head about someone or something trouble trouble someone for something trouble trouble someone to do something troubled fish in troubled waters troubled pour oil on troubled water(s) troubles drown one's troubles troubles teething troubles trowel lay it on with a trowel true (as) true as steel true come true
true hold true
true ring true
true show one's (true) colors true too good to be true true tried-and-true true true as steel true true to form
true true to one's word true a dream come true
truly yours truly
trump play one's trump card trumped trumped-up trust in the trust of someone trust misplace one's trust (in someone) truth Ain't it the truth?
truth stretch the truth truth a grain of truth truth the gospel truth truth the moment of truth truth The truth will out.
try have a try at something try I'll (try to) catch you later.
try take a try at something try try one's hand (at something) try try one's luck (at something) try try out (for something) try try (out) one's winks try try someone's patience try try something out on someone tubes down the tubes

tuck nip and tuck
tuck tuck into something tucker best bib and tucker tuckered (all) tuckered out tuckered tuckered out tumble rough-and-tumble tune call the tune tune can't carry a tune tune change someone's tune tune dance to another tune tune He who pays the piper calls the tune.
tune in tune
tune out of tune (with someone or something) tune sing a different tune tune sing another tune tune to the tune of some amount of money tune tune someone or something out tune tune (something) in tunnel see the light (at the end of the tunnel) turf surf and turf
turkey go cold turkey
turkey talk turkey
turn at every turn
turn done to a turn
turn do someone a good turn turn in turn turn not know where to turn turn not know which way to turn turn One good turn deserves another.
turn out of turn
turn speak out of turn turn take a new turn turn take a turn for the better turn take a turn for the worse turn turn a blind eye to someone or something turn turn a deaf ear (to someone or something) turn turn in turn turn of the century turn turn on a dime
turn turn one's back (on someone or something) turn turn one's nose up at someone or something turn turn on the waterworks turn turn out (all right) turn turn out (that) something is so turn turn over
turn turn (over) in one's grave turn turn someone or something down turn turn someone or something out turn turn someone or something up turn turn someone's head turn turn someone's stomach
turn turn someone off
turn turn someone on turn turn something to good account turn turn something to one's advantage turn turn the clock back turn turn the heat up (on someone) turn turn the other cheek turn turn the tables (on someone)

- turn turn the tide
turn turn thumbs down (on someone or something) turn turn thumbs up (on someone or something) turn turn to turn turn turtle
turn turn up turned have turned the corner turned The worm (has) turned.
turns every time one turns around turns take turns ((at) doing something) turtle turn turtle
twice (as) big as life and twice as ugly twice big as life and twice as ugly twice Lightning never strikes twice (in the same place). twice think twice (before doing something) twiddle twiddle one's thumbs twinkling in the twinkling of an eye twist twist someone's arm twist twist someone's words (around) twist twist someone around one's little finger two as alike as (two) peas in a pod two (as) close as two coats of paint two close as two coats of paint two fall between two stools two get two strikes against one two have two strikes against one two in two shakes of a lamb's tail two kill two birds with one stone two know a thing or two (about someone or something) two know a trick or two two like (two) peas in a pod two not care two hoots (about someone or something) two not give two hoots (about someone or something) two no two ways about it two put one's two cents(' worth) in two put two and two together two stand on one's own two feet two take someone down a notch (or two) two take someone down a peg (or two) two tell someone a thing or two two That makes two of us.
two two bricks shy of a load two two of a kind two two-time someone two A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.
two a game that two can play two the lesser (of the two) two the lesser of two evils Two's Two's company(, three's a crowd). type set type ugly (as) big as life and twice as ugly ugly (as) ugly as a toad ugly (as) ugly as sin ugly big as life and twice as ugly ugly rear its ugly head ugly ugly as a toad
ugly ugly as sin
umbrage take umbrage at something unaccustomed unaccustomed to someone or something unawares caught unaware(s) unbowed bloody but unbowed uncertain in no uncertain terms uncle Dutch uncle
uncle say uncle
under build a fire under someone under cut the ground out from under someone under get out from under someone or something under get someone under one's thumb under get something under one's belt under get something under way under get under someone's skin under get under way under go under under groan under the burden of something under hide one's light under a bushel under hot under the collar under keep something under one's hat under keep something under wraps under knock the props out from under someone under knuckle under (to someone or something) under let grass grow under one's feet under look under the hood under out from under (something) under pull the rug out (from under someone) under (right) under someone's (very) nose under sail under false colors under say something under one's breath under sweep something under the carpet under sweep something under the rug under take someone under one's wing(s) under under a cloud (of suspicion) under under arrest
under under certain circumstances under under certain conditions under under (close) scrutiny under under construction under under control
under under fire
under under oath
under under one's own steam under under someone's (very) nose under under (some) pressure under under the aegis of someone under under the auspices of someone under under the circumstances under under the counter under under the influence (of alcohol) under under the influence of something under under the sun
under under the table
under under the weather
under under the wire
under water under the bridge understand given to understand understand give someone to understand something unfamiliar unfamiliar territory unglued come unglued unison in unison unknown an unknown quantity unlikely in the unlikely event of something unlikely in the unlikely event that something happens unseen buy something sight unseen until make it (until something)

until talk until one is blue in the face until until all hours until until hell freezes over until (un)til the cows come home untimely come to an untimely end unto law unto oneself unturned leave no stone unturned up act up
up add up (to something) up (all) balled up
up all dressed up
up (all) worked up (about something) up (all) worked up (over something) up back someone or something up up balled up
up bark up the wrong tree up beat someone up
up beef something up up blow up
up bone up (on something) up bottle something up up Bottoms up!
up Break it up!
up break someone or something up up break up (with someone) up bring someone or something up up bring someone up to date (on someone or something) up bring up the rear up brush up (on something) up buck up
up build (someone or something) up up build up to something up burned up
up burn someone up
up butter someone up up call someone or something up up catch up (to someone or something) up catch up (with someone or something) up chalk something up to something up charged up
up charge someone or something up up cheer someone up up cheer up
up choke someone up
up choose up sides
up clam up
up clean up
up clear something up up clear up
up close up shop
up cloud up
up come up
up cook something up up cough something up up cover someone's tracks (up) up cover something up up cozy up (to someone) up crack someone or something up up crack up
up cross someone up
up curl up and die
up cut someone or something up up cut up up dig some dirt up on someone up dig someone or something up up do something up up double up (with someone) up draw something up up dredge something up up drive someone up the wall up drum some business up up dry up

up ease up (on someone or something) up eat something up up end something up up end up by doing something up end up doing something up end up (somehow) up end up somewhere
up end up with the short end of the stick up Everything's coming up roses.
up fed up (to somewhere) (with someone or something) up feel up to something up fix someone up (with someone or something) up flare up
up fold something up
up fold up
up follow someone or something up up follow up (on someone or something) up follow up (on something) up fouled up
up foul someone or something up up foul up
up from the ground up up gang up (on someone) up gas up
up gear (oneself) up (for something) up get (all) dolled up up get mixed-up
up get someone's back up up get someone's dander up up get someone's hackles up up get someone's Irish up up get something sewed up up get something wrapped up up get-up-and-go up get up enough nerve (to do something) up get up on the wrong side of the bed up get worked up (about something) up get worked up (over something) up gird (up) one's loins up Give it up.
up give up the ghost up go up in flames
up go up in smoke
up gum something up
up gum up the works
up ham something up
up Hands up!
up hang one's hat (up) somewhere up hang up
up hard up (for something) up haul up (somewhere)
up have an ace up one's sleeve

- up have a pick-me-up
- up have had it (up to here)
- up have something up one's sleeve
- up head something up
- up Heads up!
- up hit someone up (for something)
- up hold one's end (of the bargain) up
- up hold one's head up
- up hold someone or something up
- up hold up
- up hole up (somewhere)
- up hopped up
- up hung up (on someone or something)
- up hunt someone or something up
- up jack someone up
- up jack something up
- up jazz something up
- up keep one's chin up
- up keep someone or something up
- up keep up an act
- up keep up appearances
- up keep up one's act
- up keep up (with someone or something)
- up keep up (with the Joneses)
- up keep up (with the times)
- up keyed up
- up kick up
- up kiss and make up
- up laid up
- up land up somehow or somewhere
- up lap something up
- up laugh up one's sleeve
- up lay someone up
- up lead up to something
- up learn something from the bottom up
- up let up (on someone or something)
- up line someone or something up with something
- up line someone up (for something)
- up line someone up with someone
- up live it up
- up live up to one's end of the bargain
- up live up to something
- up look someone or something up
- up look up to someone
- up louse something up
- up make (oneself) up
- up make one's mind up
- up make someone up
- up make something up
- up make up for lost time
- up make up for someone or something
- up make up (with someone)
- up mark something up
- up measure up (to someone or something)
- up measure up (to someone's expectations)
- up mess someone or something up
- up mix it up
- up mix someone or something up
- up mix someone up with someone else
- up mop the floor up with someone
- up move up (in the world)
- up muster (up) one's courage
- up not all something is cracked up to be
- up not up to scratch
- up not up to snuff
- up not what something is cracked up to be
- up nuzzle up to someone or something
- up one's number is up
- up one up (on someone)
- up on the up-and-up
- up open something up
- up open up
- up open (up) a can of worms
- up own up (to something)
- up patch someone or something up
- up pay up
- up pep someone or something up
- up perk someone or something up
- up pick someone or something up
- up pick up
- up pile something up
- up pile up
- up pipe up with something
- up play someone or something up
- up play up to someone
- up pluck up one's courage
- up plug something up
- up point something up
- up pop up
- up prick up one's ears
- up psyched up (for something)
- up psyche someone up
- up pull oneself up (by one's own bootstraps)
- up pull up (somewhere)
- up pull up stakes
- up pushing up daisies
- up put someone or something up
- up put someone up to something
- up put up a (brave) front
- up Put up or shut up!
- up put up with someone or something
- up rake something up
- up read up (on someone or something)
- up rev something up
- up right side up
- up right up someone's alley
- up ring something up
- up roll one's sleeves up
- up rough someone up
- up round something up to something
- up run something up
- up rustle something up
- up save up (for something)
- up scare someone or something up
- up screw someone or something up
- up screw up one's courage
- up send someone or something up
- up send someone up the river
- up send up a trial balloon
- up set someone or something up
- up set someone up (as something)
- up set someone up (in business)
- up settle up with someone
- up set up shop somewhere

up sew something up up shack up (with someone) up shake someone or something up up shape someone up up shape up
 up shine up to someone up shook up
 up show someone up
 up shut someone up
 up sit up and take notice up sit up with someone up size someone or something up up slip up
 up slow someone or something up up snap something up up something's up
 up somewhere to hang (up) one's hat up soup something up up speak up
 up spit (something) up up split people up
 up split up
 up spruce someone or something up up square up to someone or something up square up with someone up stack something up up stand someone up up stand up and be counted up start something up up steamed up
 up step (right) up
 up step something up
 up Stick 'em up!
 up stick someone or something up up stick up for someone or something up stir someone or something up up stir up a hornet's nest up stock up (on something) up straighten someone or something up up straighten up
 up (strictly) on the up-and-up up strike up a conversation up strike up a friendship up sum something up up take someone up on something up take something up up take up a collection up take up arms (against someone or something) up take up one's abode somewhere up take up room
 up take up someone's time up take up space
 up take up time
 up take up where one left off up take up with someone up talk someone or something up up team up with someone up tear someone up
 up The jig is up.
 up Things are looking up.
 up think something up up throw one's hands up in despair up throw one's hands up in horror up throw (something) up up throw something up to someone up thumbs up on someone or something up tied up

 up tie someone or something up up tie someone (up) in knots up tie traffic up
 up Time is up.
 up touch something up
 up trip someone up
 up trumped-up
 up turn one's nose up at someone or something up turn someone or something up up turn the heat up (on someone) up turn thumbs up (on someone or something) up turn up
 up up a blind alley
 up up against something up up and about up up and around
 up up and at them
 up up and away
 up up-and-coming up up a tree
 up up for grabs
 up up for something up up-front
 up up in arms
 up up in the air (about someone or something) up up in years up up North up up the creek (without a paddle) up up-to-date
 up up to doing something up up to no good up up to one's ears (in something) up up to one's eyeballs (in something) up up to one's neck (in something) up up to par up up to scratch up up to snuff
 up up to someone up up to something up up-to-the-minute up wait up (for someone or something) up warm up to someone up washed-up
 up well up in years
 up What have you been up to?
 up What's up?
 up whip something up
 up whoop it up
 up wind something up up wind up doing something up wind up somewhere up wipe the floor up with someone up wise up (to someone or something) up worked up (about something) up worked up (over something) up work one's way up up work someone or something up up wrapped up in someone or something up wrap something up up write someone or something up up The game is up.

up The jig is up.
upon chance (up)on someone or something upon fall (up)on someone or something upon feel put-upon upon happen (up)on someone or something upon hit (up)on something upon incumbent upon someone to do something upon once upon a time upon prevail (up)on someone upon put upon by someone upon seize (up)on something upon set upon someone or something upon stumble (up)on someone or something upon take it upon oneself to do something upon take it (up)on oneself (to do something) upon (up)on impact upon wreak vengeance (up)on someone or something upper get the upper hand (on someone) upper keep a stiff upper lip upper upper crust upright sit bolt upright uproar create an uproar uproar make an uproar ups ups and downs
upset upset the apple cart upshot the upshot of something uptake quick on the uptake uptake slow on the uptake us let us do something us That makes two of us.
use It's no use (doing something).
use make use of someone or something use put something to (good) use use use every trick in the book use use one's head
use use one's noggin
use use one's noodle
use use some elbow grease use use someone or something as an excuse use use strong language used be used to doing something used be used to something used get used to someone or something used It takes (some) getting used to.
used They don't make them like they used to.
used used to do something used used to someone or something usual as usual
usual business as usual utter not utter a word vacation on vacation vacation take a vacation vain do something in vain vale vale of tears value at face value
value take someone or something at face value value take something at face value vanish vanish into thin air

Variety Variety is the spice of life. velvet (as) soft as velvet velvet soft as velvet vengeance do something with a vengeance vengeance with a vengeance vengeance wreak vengeance (up)on someone or something vent give vent to something vent vent one's spleen ventured Nothing ventured, nothing gained.
verge on the verge (of doing something) verge verge on something verse chapter and verse very at the (very) outside very in the (very) nick of time very (right) under someone's (very) nose very under someone's (very) nose very the very last very the very thing
vest keep one's cards close to one's vest vest play one's cards close to one's vest vested have a vested interest in something vicious in a vicious circle victors To the victors belong the spoils. victory a landslide victory view in view of something view on view view point of view view take a dim view of something view with a view to doing something view a bird's-eye view vigor vim and vigor
villain the villain of the piece vim vim and vigor
vine die on the vine
vine wither on the vine vinegar (as) sour as vinegar vinegar sour as vinegar virtue by virtue of something visit pay a visit to someone or something visit pay (someone or something) a visit vodka (as) clear as vodka vodka clear as vodka voice at the top of one's voice voice give voice to something voice have a voice (in something) voice lower one's voice voice raise one's voice (to someone) voice throw one's voice void null and void
vote cast one's vote vote vote a split ticket vote vote a straight ticket vote vote with one's feet vote a vote of confidence vote a vote of thanks voyage maiden voyage
wade wade in(to something) wag cause (some) tongues to wag wag wag one's chin wagging the tail wagging the dog wagon fix someone's wagon

wagon on the wagon
wait can't wait (for something to happen) wait can't wait (to do something) wait lie in wait for someone or something wait not able to wait wait wait-and-see attitude wait wait on someone hand and foot wait wait up (for someone or something) waiting on a waiting list waiting waiting in the wings waiting the moment everyone has been waiting for wake in the wake of something wake wake the dead
walk cock of the walk walk Take a long walk off a short pier.
walk Take a walk!
walk walk all over someone walk walk a tightrope walk walk away with something walk walk off with something walk walk on air
walk walk on eggs
walk walk out (on someone or something) walk walk the floor walk walk the plank
walking get one's walking papers walking give one one's walking papers walking within walking distance walks all walks of life wall bang one's head against a brick wall wall beat one's head against the wall wall drive someone to the wall wall drive someone up the wall wall force someone to the wall wall go to the wall wall have one's back to the wall wall off-the-wall
wall press someone to the wall wall push someone to the wall wall read the handwriting on the wall wall run into a stone wall wall see the (hand)writing on the wall wall wall-to-wall with something wallop pack a wallop walls climb the wall(s) Walls Walls have ears.
wane wax and wane
want not want to catch someone doing something want want for nothing want What do you want me to say?
wanted know when one is not wanted war all-out war
war an act of war
warm (as) warm as toast warm warm as toast warm warm the bench
warm warm the cockles of someone's heart warm warm up to someone warmed look like death warmed over warpath on the warpath warrant sign one's own death warrant warts warts and all

was (had) known it was coming was knew it was coming was known it was coming was (Now), where was I? was time was (when)
was Where was I?
wash come out in the wash wash wash a few things out wash wash-and-wear
wash wash one's dirty linen in public wash wash one's hands of someone or something washed washed-out washed washed-up
wasn't Rome wasn't built in a day.
waste go to waste
waste Haste makes waste.
waste lay something to waste waste lay waste to something waste waste one's breath waste waste someone watch keep (close) watch (on someone or something) watch keep (close) watch (over someone or something) watch watch one's step watch watch out
watch watch over someone or something watch watch someone or something like a hawk watching (as) exciting as watching (the) paint dry watching bear watching watching exciting as watching (the) paint dry water as a duck takes to water water Blood is thicker than water.
water Bread runs thicker than water.
water bread and water water come hell or high water water dash cold water on something water get in(to) hot water water get one's head above water water in deep water
water in hot water
water keep one's head above water water like a fish out of water water like water off a duck's back water make someone's mouth water water muddy the water water not hold water
water of the first water water pour cold water on something water through hell and high water water throw cold water on something water water something down water water under the bridge waterfront cover the waterfront Waterloo meet one's Waterloo waters fish in troubled waters waters pour oil on troubled water(s) waterworks turn on the waterworks waves make waves
wax wax and wane
wax the whole ball of wax way all the way
way by the way
way by way of something

- way come someone's way way do something the hard way way downhill all the way way every which way way find it's way somewhere way find one's way (around) way find one's way somewhere way find (something) out the hard way way from way back way get one's (own) way (with someone or something) way get out of someone's way way get out of the way way get someone or something out of the way way get something under way way get under way way go all the way (with someone) way go a long way in doing something way go a long way toward doing something way go out of one's way (to do something) way have a way with someone or something way have come a long way way have the right-of-way way in a bad way
way in a family way
way in the family way
way in the way of something way in the worst way way know one's way about way know one's way around way laugh all the way to the bank way learn (something) the hard way way look the other way way make one's way through something way make way
way not know which way to turn way one's way of life way one way or another way on one's way to doing something way on someone's way (somewhere) way on the way (somewhere) way on the way to doing something way out of one's way
way out-of-the-way
way pave the way (for someone or something) way pay someone's (own) way way pick one's way through something way rub someone's fur the wrong way way say something in a roundabout way way see one's way clear (to do something) way see which way the wind is blowing way shove one's way somewhere way stand in someone's way way take something the wrong way way That's the way the ball bounces.
way That's the way the cookie crumbles.
way There's more than one way to skin a cat.
way thread (one's way) through something way to someone's way of thinking way (way) over there way Where there's a will there's a way.
way work (one's way) into something way work one's way through college way work one's way up way worm one's way out of something way yield the right-of-way way the other way round ways cut both ways
ways have it both ways ways mend one's ways
ways no two ways about it ways parting of the ways ways set in one's ways ways ways and means wayside drop by the wayside wayside fall by the wayside We We aim to please.
weak (as) weak as a baby weak (as) weak as a kitten weak weak as a baby weak weak as a kitten weakness have a weakness for someone or something wealth a wealth of something wealthy Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.) wear If the shoe fits, wear it. wear none the worse for wear wear wash-and-wear wear wear and tear (on something) wear wear more than one hat wear wear off wear wear one's heart on one's sleeve wear wear on someone wear wear out one's welcome wear wear someone down wear wear someone out weasel weasel out (of something) weather fair-weather friend weather keep one's weather eye open weather lovely weather for ducks weather under the weather weather weather permitting weave weave in and out (of something) wedded wed(ded) to someone wedded wedded to something wedding a shotgun wedding wedlock born out of wedlock wee wee hours (of the night) weed weed someone or something out week by the week
week week in, week out weeks weeks running
weepers Finders keepers(, losers weepers).
weigh weigh on someone's mind weigh weigh someone's words weigh weigh someone down weight carry (a lot of) weight (with someone or something) weight carry one's (own) weight weight carry the weight of the world on one's shoulders weight pull one's (own) weight weight put weight on weight throw one's weight around weight worth its weight in gold welcome wear out one's welcome welcome welcome someone with open arms welcome welcome to do something well alive and well

well All's well that ends well.

well (all) well and good well as well

well augur well for someone or something well get well

well hail-fellow-well-met well know something only too well well leave well enough alone

well let well enough alone

well play one's cards well well well and good

well well-disposed toward someone or something well well-fixed

well well-heeled

well well-off

well well-to-do well well up in years

were as it were

were better off (if one were somewhere else)

were better off (if something were done)

were Those were the days.

West out West

wet all wet

wet (as) mad as a wet hen

wet get one's feet wet

wet get wet

wet mad as a wet hen

wet wet behind the ears

wet wet blanket

wet wet someone's whistle

whack out of w(h)ack

whack take a whack at someone or something

whale have a whale of a time

whale whale the tar out of someone

what and what have you what come what may

what give someone what for what have what it takes what just what the doctor ordered what know what's what what no matter what happens what not what something is cracked up to be what recognize one for what one is what recognize something for what it is What What are you driving at?

What What can I say?

What What do you want me to say?

what what for

What What goes around, comes around.

What What have you been up to?

what what if

what what makes someone tick what what makes something tick

What What one doesn't know won't hurt one.

whatever for what(ever) it's worth

Whatever Whatever will be, will be.

what's get what's coming to one what's give one what's coming to one what's know what's what

What's What's done is done.

What's What's keeping you?

What's What's new?

What's What's the good of something?

What's What's up?

What's What's with someone?

wheel put one's shoulder to the wheel

wheel wheel and deal

wheels spin one's wheels

when cross a bridge when one comes to it when know when one is not wanted when time was (when)

when when all is said and done when when hell freezes over

When When in Rome, do as the Romans do.

when when it comes right down to it when when it comes to something when when least expected when when one is good and ready when when push comes to shove

When When the cat's away, the mice will play.

when when the chips are down when when the going gets rough when when the going gets tough when when the time is ripe where fools rush in (where angels fear to tread) where give credit where credit is due where hit one where one lives where know where all the bodies are buried where know where someone stands (on someone or something) where not know where to turn where (Now), where was I?

where Put your money where your mouth is!

where take up where one left off where tell someone where to get off where where one is coming from where where one lives

Where Where there's a will there's a way.

Where Where there's smoke there's fire.

Where Where was I?

wherefores the whys and wherefores of something whereof know whereof one speaks

Where've Where've you been hiding yourself?

wherewithal have the wherewithal (to do something) whet whet someone's appetite whether not know whether one is coming or going whether whether or not

which every which way

which know which is which which know which side one's bread is buttered on which not know which way to turn which see which way the wind is blowing which tell which is which whiff catch a whiff of something whiff get a whiff of something while (every) once in a while while fiddle while Rome burns while get out while the getting is good while make it worth someone's while while make something worth someone's while

- while not worth one's while while once in a while while strike while the iron is hot while while away the time while worth someone's while whip whip something into shape whip whip something up whirl give something a whirl whisker by a whisker whisper in a stage whisper whistle (as) clean as a whistle whistle (as) slick as a whistle whistle blow the whistle (on someone) whistle clean as a whistle whistle slick as a whistle whistle wet someone's whistle white (as) white as a ghost white (as) white as a sheet white (as) white as the driven snow white in black and white white put something down in black and white white white as a sheet white white as the driven snow white white elephant who He laughs best who laughs last.
who He who laughs last, laughs longest.
who He who pays the piper calls the tune.
Who Who do you think you're kidding?
Who Who do you think you're talking to?
Who Who would have thought? whole go whole hog whole make something up out of whole cloth whole on the whole
whole (whole) new ball game whole the whole ball of wax whole the whole shooting match whom to whom it may concern whoop whoop it up whys the whys and wherefores of something wide all wool and a yard wide wide come from far and wide wide crack something wide open wide cut a wide swath wide give someone or something a wide berth wide leave oneself wide open for something wide leave oneself wide open to something wide wide-awake
wide wide of the mark wig flip one's wig
wild go hog-wild wild run wild
wild sow one's wild oats wild wild about someone or something Wild Wild horses couldn't drag someone.
wild a wild-geese chase wildfire spread like wildfire will against someone's will will at will
will Boys will be boys.
will Flattery will get you nowhere. will Give one an inch, and one will take a mile.
will have a hunch (that) something will happen will heads will roll will ill will will last will and testament will of one's own free will will someone's last will and testament will There will be the devil to pay.
will Time will tell.
will Whatever will be, will be.
will When the cat's away, the mice will play.
will Where there's a will there's a way.
will will not hear of something will with a will will with the best will in the world will The truth will out.
willies get the willies willies give someone the willies willing ready, willing, and able win no-win situation win win by a nose
win win out (over someone or something) win win someone over win win the day
wind (as) swift as the wind wind get one's second wind wind get wind of something wind gone with the wind wind in the wind
wind see which way the wind is blowing wind swift as the wind wind take the wind out of someone's sails wind three sheets to the wind wind throw caution to the wind wind wind down
wind wind something up wind wind up doing something wind wind up somewhere windmills tilt at windmills window go window-shopping window window-shopping wine wine and dine someone wing on the wing wing wing it
wings clip someone's wings wings take someone under one's wing(s) wings try (out) one's wings wings waiting in the wings wink (as) quick as a wink wink not sleep a wink wink quick as a wink wink wink at something winks catch forty winks winks forty winks
winks take forty winks wins Slow and steady wins the race.
wipe wipe someone or something out wipe wipe someone's slate clean wipe wipe something off wipe wipe the floor up with someone wire down to the wire wire under the wire wires get one's wires crossed wise (as) wise as an owl wise (as) wise as Solomon wise Early to bed, early to rise(, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.) wise get wise (to someone or something) wise penny-wise and pound-foolish wise put someone wise to someone or something wise wise as an owl wise wise as Solomon wise wise up (to someone or something) wise a word to the wise wiser none the wiser wiser sadder but wiser wish wish something off on someone wishful wishful thinking wit to wit

witch's (as) cold as a witch's caress witch's (as) cold as a witch's tit witch's cold as a witch's caress witch's cold as a witch's tit with able to do something with one's eyes closed with alive with someone or something with (all) over with with all right with someone with along with someone or something with arrange something with someone with arrange to do something with someone with at home with someone or something with at loggerheads (with someone) with at odds (with someone) with bear with someone or something with be friends with someone with beg to differ (with someone) with beside oneself (with something) with be with someone with born with a silver spoon in one's mouth with break off (with someone) with break up (with someone) with brimming with something with burn with a low blue flame with burst with joy with burst with pride
with can't do anything with someone or something with carry (a lot of) weight (with someone or something) with carry on (with someone or something) with cast one's lot in with someone with catch one with one's pants down with catch up (with someone or something) with chime in (with something) with closefisted (with money) with close ranks (with someone) with come clean (with someone) with come down with something with come out with something with come through something with flying colors with come to grips with something with come to terms with someone or something with come up with someone or something with come with the territory with cooking with gas with could do with someone or something with cross someone's palm with silver with cross swords (with someone) (on something) with curry favor (with someone) with cut loose (with something) with cut no ice (with someone) with damn someone or something with faint praise with dance with death with die with one's boots on with do away with someone or something with do something with a vengeance with double up (with someone) with down with some disease with end up with the short end of the stick with exchange more than some number of words with someone with fall head over heels in love (with someone) with fall in love (with someone) with fall in with someone or something with fall out (with someone about something) with fall out (with someone over something) with familiar with someone or something with favor someone or something with something with fed up (to somewhere) (with someone or something) with fiddle about (with someone or something) with fiddle around (with someone or something) with find fault (with someone or something) with fit in (with someone or something) with fit someone or something out (with something) with fix someone up (with someone or something) with flirt with the idea of doing something with flush with something with fool around (with someone or something) with fraught with danger with get a free hand (with someone or something) with get a hand with something with get along (with someone or something) with get an in (with someone) with get away with something with get by (with something) with get even (with someone) with get fresh (with someone) with get into an argument (with someone) with get into touch (with someone) with get involved (with someone) with get one's (own) way (with someone or something) with get on (with someone or something) with get physical (with someone) with get something over (with) with get through with something with get to first base (with someone or something) with get tough (with someone) with get with something with give out with something with give someone a free hand (with something) with give someone a hand (with someone or something) with go all the way (with someone) with go along (with someone or something) with go around with someone with gone with the wind with go out (with someone) with go over big with someone with go over something with a fine-tooth comb with go over with a bang with go steady (with someone)

- with go through with something
- with go to bed (with someone)
- with go to bed with the chickens
- with go with something
- with go with the flow
- with graced with something
- with grace someone or something with one's presence
- with green with envy
- with hand in glove (with someone)
- with handle someone with kid gloves
- with hang around (with someone)
- with hang out (with someone)
- with have a bone to pick (with someone)
- with have a brush with something
- with have an ax to grind (with someone)
- with have an in (with someone)
- with have a run-in with someone
- with have a score to settle (with someone)
- with have a scrape (with someone or something)
- with have a thing going (with someone)
- with have a way with someone or something
- with have a word with someone
- with have contact with someone
- with have nothing to do with someone or something
- with have one's hands full (with someone or something)
- with have pull with someone
- with have something to do with something
- with have something going (with someone)
- with have something in common (with someone or something)
- with have something out (with someone)
- with have to do with someone or something
- with have to live with something
- with head over heels in love (with someone)
- with help (someone or something) out (with someone or something)
- with hit it off (with someone)
- with hoist with one's own petard
- with hold with something
- with How goes it (with you)?
- with in accordance with something
- with in bad (with someone)
- with in cahoots (with someone)
- with in concert (with someone)
- with in Dutch (with someone)
- with in good (with someone)
- with in keeping (with something)
- with in league (with someone)
- with in line with something
- with in love (with someone or something)
- with in step (with someone or something)
- with in tune with someone or something
- with invest someone with something
- with in with someone
- with join forces (with someone)
- with keep company (with someone)
- with keep in touch (with someone)
- with keep pace (with someone or something)
- with keep up (with someone or something)
- with keep up (with the Joneses)
- with keep up (with the times)
- with kid around (with someone)
- with kill two birds with one stone
- with knock someone over with a feather
- with lay it on with a trowel
- with learn to live with something
- with leave word (with someone)
- with let go (with something)
- with let loose (with something)
- with let someone have it (with both barrels)
- with level with someone
- with line someone or something up with something
- with line someone up with someone
- with lock horns (with someone)
- with lose one's touch (with someone or something)
- with lose touch (with someone or something)
- with lousy with something
- with make a hit (with someone or something)
- with make an appointment (with someone)
- with make away with someone or something
- with make do (with someone or something)
- with make free with someone or something
- with make off with someone or something
- with make out (with someone or something)
- with make peace (with someone)
- with make points (with someone)
- with make time (with someone)
- with make up (with someone)
- with mess about (with someone or something)
- with mess around (with someone or something)
- with mix someone up with someone else
- with monkey around (with someone or something)
- with mop the floor up with someone
- with not agree with someone
- with not in the same league with someone or something
- with not with it
- with on a first-name basis (with someone)
- with on good terms (with someone)
- with on par (with someone or something)
- with on speaking terms (with someone)
- with open up (with someone)
- with open with something
- with out of favor (with someone)
- with out of keeping (with something)
- with out of line (with something)
- with out of step (with someone or something)
- with out of time (with someone or something)
- with out of touch (with someone or something)
- with out of tune (with someone or something)
- with over and done with
- with over with
- with pal around (with someone)
- with part company (with someone)
- with pass the time of day (with someone)
- with persist with something
- with pick a fight with someone
- with pick a quarrel (with someone)
- with pipe up with something
- with play about (with someone or something)
- with play along with someone or something
- with play around (with someone or something)
- with play ball (with someone)
- with play cat and mouse (with someone)
- with play fast and loose (with someone or something) with play footsie (with someone) with play havoc with someone or something with play hob with someone or something with play with fire with put someone to bed with a shovel with put up with someone or something with racked with pain with raise Cain (with someone or something) with raise havoc with someone or something with raise hell (with someone or something) with raise hob with someone or something with raise the devil (with someone or something) with raise the dickens (with someone or something) with rap with someone with rate with someone with ravished with delight with reach first base (with someone or something) with receive someone with open arms with reckon with someone or something with resonate with someone with rich with something with rub elbows (with someone) with rub shoulders with someone with run around like a chicken with its head cut off with run around with someone with run off with someone or something with saddle someone with something with screw around (with someone or something) with search something with a fine-tooth comb with see eye to eye (with someone) (about something) with see eye to eye (with someone) (on something) with settle a score with someone with settle the score (with someone) with settle up with someone with sever ties with someone with shack up (with someone) with shake hands (with someone) with shot through with something with side with someone with sign on (with someone) with sit up with someone with sit with someone with sleep with someone with speak with a forked tongue with split one's sides (with laughter) with square accounts (with someone) with square up with someone with start (off) with a clean slate with start (over) with a clean slate with stay in touch (with someone) with stick someone with someone or something with stick with someone or something with strike a chord (with someone) with string along (with someone) with stuck with someone or something with take a hard line (with someone) with take issue (with someone) with take liberties with someone or something with take something home (with oneself) with take something up (with someone) with take something with a grain of salt with take something with a pinch of salt with take the bitter with the sweet with take up with someone with tamper with something with tarred with the same brush with team up with someone with throw the baby out with the bath(water) with tightfisted (with money) with top something off (with something) with touch base (with someone) with toy with someone or something with vote with one's feet with walk away with something with walk off with something with wall-to-wall with something with welcome someone with open arms with What's with someone? with wipe the floor up with someone with with a heavy heart with with all one's heart and soul with with all the fixings with with an eye to doing something with with a vengeance with with a view to doing something with with a will with with bells on (one's toes) with with both hands tied behind one's back with with each passing day with with ease

 with with every (other) breath with with everything (on it) with with flying colors with (with) hat in hand with with impunity
 with with it
 with with no strings attached with with one hand tied behind one's back with with one's tail between one's legs with with regard to someone or something with with relish
 with with respect to someone or something with with something to spare with with the best will in the world with work wonders (with someone or something) with wouldn't touch something with a ten-foot pole with wreak havoc with something with You can't take it with you.
 with Your secret is safe with me.
 with a force to be reckoned with wither wither on the vine within come within an ace of doing something within come within an inch of doing something within live within one's means within within an inch of one's life within within a stone's throw (of something) within within bounds within within calling distance within within hailing distance within within limits
 within within reason within within shouting distance within within someone's grasp within within someone's reach

- within within walking distance without absent without leave without carry on without someone or something without cut someone off without a penny without do without (someone or something) without get along (without (someone or something)) without goes without saying without go without (something) without up the creek (without a paddle) without without a moment to spare without without any strings attached without without batting an eye without without fail without without further ado without without question without without rhyme or reason without without so much as doing something wit's at one's wit's end wits frighten one out of one's wits wits frighten the wits out of someone wits get one's wits about one wits keep one's wits about one wits live by one's wits wits scare one out of one's wits wits scare the wits out of someone wits You scared me out of my wits.
Woe Woe is me!
wolf cry wolf
wolf keep the wolf from the door wolf a wolf in sheep's clothing wolves throw someone to the wolves woman woman to woman wonder no wonder wonder a nine days' wonder wonders work wonders (with someone or something) won't What one doesn't know won't hurt one.
wood knock on wood woods in some neck of the woods woods out of the woods woods a babe in the woods wool all wool and a yard wide wool dyed-in-the-wool wool pull the wool over someone's eyes word as good as one's word word break one's word word by word of mouth word from the word go word get a word in edgeways word get a word in edgewise word get the final word word get the last word word get the word
word go back on one's word word hang on someone's every word word have a word with someone word in a word word keep one's word word leave word (with someone) word mum's the word word not breathe a word (about someone or something) word not breathe a word of it word not utter a word word put in a good word (for someone) word say the word word take one at one's word word true to one's word word word by word word word for word
word a word to the wise words Actions speak louder than words. words at a loss (for words) words beyond words
words eat one's words words exchange more than some number of words with someone words have one's words stick in one's throat words in other words words in so many words words mark my word(s) words mince (one's) words words or words to that effect words put something into words words put words into someone's mouth words take the words out of one's mouth words Them's fighting words. words twist someone's words (around) words weigh someone's words words words to that effect work all in a day's work work All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.
work at work
work close enough for government work work dirty work work get down to work
work grunt work
work have one's work cut out for one work knock off work work make fast work of someone or something work make short work of someone or something work Many hands make light work. work one's work is cut out for one work out of work
work take off (from work) work work like a horse work work one's fingers to the bone work work (one's way) into something work work one's way through college work work one's way up work work on someone or something work work out work work someone or something in work work someone or something up work work someone over work work something into something else work work something off work work something out work work through channels work work wonders (with someone or something) work a lick of work
work A little (hard) work never hurt anyone.
work A little (hard) work never killed anyone. worked (all) worked up (about something) worked (all) worked up (over something) worked get worked up (about something) worked get worked up (over something) worked worked up (about something) worked worked up (over something) works get the works works give someone the works works gum up the works works in the works

works shoot the works works throw a monkey wrench into the works works the works
world all over the world world carry the weight of the world on one's shoulders world come down in the world world come up in the world world dead to the world world do not have a care in the world world feel on top of the world world for all the world world How's the world (been) treating you?
world in a world of one's own world in the world
world move up (in the world) world not for (anything in) the world world not long for this world world on top of the world world out of this world world set the world on fire world (sitting) on top of the world world think the world of someone or something world with the best will in the world worlds have the best of both worlds worm worm one's way out of something worm worm something out of someone worm The early bird gets the worm.
worm The worm (has) turned.
worms open (up) a can of worms worse Could be worse.
worse for better or for worse worse go from bad to worse worse none the worse for wear worse One's bark is worse than one's bite.
worse take a turn for the worse worst at (the) worst worst at worst worst get the worst of something worst if worst comes to worst worst in the worst way worth for all it's worth worth for what(ever) it's worth worth get one's money's worth worth make it worth someone's while worth make something worth someone's while worth not worth a dime worth not worth a hill of beans worth not worth a plugged nickel worth not worth a red cent worth not worth mentioning worth not worth one's while worth not worth the trouble worth put one's two cents(worth) in worth worth its weight in gold worth worth one's salt worth worth someone's while worth An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. worth A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

worthy worthy of the name would as luck would have it would never would have guessed would Who would have thought? would would as soon do something would would give one's right arm (for someone or something) would would like (to have) someone or something would would rather wouldn't look as if butter wouldn't melt in one's mouth wouldn't wouldn't dream of doing something wouldn't wouldn't touch something with a ten-foot pole wound rub salt in the wound wrack go to wrack and ruin wrap wrap something up wrapped get something wrapped up wrapped wrapped up in someone or something wraps keep something under wraps wreak wreak havoc with something wreak wreak vengeance (up)on someone or something wrench throw a monkey wrench into the works wringer put someone through the wringer wrist get a slap on the wrist wrist give someone a slap on the wrist wrist slap someone's wrist wrist slap someone on the wrist write nothing to write home about write write someone or something off write write someone or something up write write something down write write something out wrong back the wrong horse wrong bark up the wrong tree wrong be off on the wrong foot wrong get off on the wrong foot wrong get out of the wrong side of the bed wrong get up on the wrong side of the bed wrong go wrong
wrong in the wrong
wrong on the wrong track wrong rub someone's fur the wrong way wrong start off on the wrong foot wrong take someone or something wrong wrong take something the wrong way wrong the wrong side of the tracks wrote someone wrote the book on something wrote That's all she wrote.
X X marks the spot
yard all wool and a yard wide yarn spin a yarn
year (all) year round
year by the year
Year ring in the New Year year year after year year year in, year out

year year round
years advanced in years years along in years
years get along (in years)
years on in years
years up in years
years well up in years
years years running
yesterday need something yesterday yesterday not born yesterday yet be the death of me (yet) yield yield the right-of-way yoke a yoke around someone's neck yon hither, thither, and yon yon thither and yon
you All right for you!
you and what have you you before you can say Jack Robinson you before you know it you Behind you!
you between you, me, and the lamppost you Can you imagine?
you Do I need to paint you a picture?
you Don't let someone or something get you down.
you Do you read me?
you Flattery will get you nowhere.
you goes to show you
you Have I got something for you!
you Have you been keeping busy?
you Here's looking at you.
you Here you go.
you How goes it (with you)?
you How's the world (been) treating you?
you I'll (try to) catch you later.
you mind you
you pay as you go
you so clean you could eat off the floor you so quiet you could hear a pin drop you so still you could hear a pin drop you Thank you for sharing.
you There you go.
you What are you driving at?
you What do you want me to say?
you What have you been up to?
you What's keeping you?
you Where've you been hiding yourself?
you Who do you think you're kidding?
you Who do you think you're talking to?
You You bet (your boots)!
You You can bet on it!
You You can say that again!

You You can't please everyone.
You You can't take it with you.
You You can't teach an old dog new tricks.
You You got me there.
You You just don't get it!
you you know
You You said it!
You You scared me out of my wits.
You You scared the crap out of me.
You You scared the devil out of me.
You You scared the dickens out of me.
You You scared the hell out of me.
You You scared the pants off (of) me.
You You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours.
You You think you're so smart!
you a fine how-do-you-do you the same to you your Cat got your tongue?
your Don't hold your breath.
your Don't quit your day job.
your Enjoy your meal.
your get off your high horse your Here's mud in your eye.
your Hold your horses!
your Hold your tongue!
your Hush your mouth!
your I didn't catch your name.
your Keep your shirt on!
your mind your manners your not on your life
your pick on somebody your own size your pick on someone your own size your Put that in your pipe and smoke it! your Put your money where your mouth is!
your You bet (your boots)!
Your Your guess is as good as mine.
Your Your secret is safe with me.
you're Who do you think you're kidding?
you're Who do you think you're talking to?
you're You think you're so smart!
yours yours truly
yours You scratch my back and I'll scratch yours.
yourself by yourself
yourself Where've you been hiding yourself?
yourselves by yourselves Z everything from A to Z zenith at the zenith of something zero zero in on something zonk zonk out
zoom zoom in (on someone or something) Zs catch some Zs

This page intentionally left blank.

Appendix

Irreversible Binomials and Trinomials

Irreversible binomials and trinomials are sequences of two or three words that are in a fixed order, such as fast and furious, but not furious and fast. The following sequences of words are joined by and, or, but, or some type of implied conjunction. The words are found only in the sequences shown here and cannot be reordered. Those marked with an asterisk (*) are entries in this dictionary.

above and beyond* See above and beyond something.

Adam and Eve

alive and kicking*

again and again

aid and abet* See aid and abet someone.

alive and well*

all and sundry*

all or nothing*

all work and no play* See All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy.

alpha and omega*

apples and oranges*

arm and a leg* See cost an arm and a leg.

armed and dangerous*

arts and letters

(a division of a university)

arts and sciences

(a division of a university)

assault and battery*

back and fill*

back and forth*

backwards and forwards* See know something backwards and forwards.

bacon and eggs

bacon, lettuce, and tomato [sandwich] bag and baggage*

bait and switch*

ball and chain*

bar and grill

beck and call* See at someone's beck and call.

bed-and-breakfast

beer and pretzels

beer and skittles* See (all) beer and skittles.

before and after

bell, book, and candle*

betwixt and between*

bib and tucker* See best bib and tucker.

big and bold*

binge and purge*

birds and the bees*

biscuits and gravy

black and blue

black and white* See in black and white.

blood and gore

blood and guts

blood, sweat, and tears*

bloody but unbowed*

body and soul* See keep body and soul together.

born and bred*

born and raised*

bound and determined*

bound and gagged

bourbon and water

bow and scrape*

bread and butter*

bread and water

breaking and entering*

bricks and mortar*

bride and groom

bright and early*

bright-eyed and bushy-tailed*

business or pleasure

by and by*

by and large*
 by guess and by golly*
 cap and gown*
 cash-and-carry*
 cash or credit*
 cat and mouse* See play cat and mouse (with someone).
 cats and dogs* See rain cats and dogs.
 cause and effect
 cease and desist*
 chapter and verse*
 checks and balances*
 cheese and crackers
 chips and dip*
 church and state*
 clip and save cloak-and-dagger*
 coat and tie*
 cock and bull* See cock-and-bull story.
 coffee and Danish*
 coffee and doughnuts coffee, tea, or milk*
 come and gone*
 coming or going* See not know if one is coming or going.
 country and western [music] crash and burn*
 cream and sugar
 crime and punishment
 cup and saucer
 curds and whey
 cut-and-dried*
 cut and paste*
 cut and run*
 cute and cuddly
 dark and stormy
 day and age* See in this day and age.
 day in and day out*
 dead and buried*
 dead and gone*
 dead or alive
 deaf and dumb*
 death and destruction
 death and taxes*
 decline and fall dilation and curettage divide and conquer*
 do or die*
 dog and pony show*
 doom and gloom
 down-and-dirty*
 down-and-out*
 drawn and quartered*
 dribs and drabs*
 drum and bugle drunk and disorderly*
 duck and cover*
 duck and drake
 easy come, easy go*
 eat and run*
 ebb and flow*
 ever and anon*

fad and fashion
 fair and impartial*
 fair and square*
 faith, hope, and charity far and away* See far and away the best.
 far and wide* See come from far and wide.
 fast and furious*
 fast and loose* See play fast and loose (with someone or something).
 fat and happy*
 Father, Son, and Holy Ghost fear and loathing
 fear and trembling* See in fear and trembling.
 feast or famine* See either feast or famine.
 fin and feather
 few and far between* field and stream
 fight or flight
 Finders keepers(, losers weepers).*
 fine and dandy*
 first and foremost*
 first and last
 first and ten*
 first come, first served* first, last, and always fish and chips
 fish or fowl* See neither fish nor fowl.
 fish or cut bait*
 fit and trim*
 fits and starts* See by fits and starts.
 flesh and blood*
 flora and fauna*
 flotsam and jetsam*
 fold, spindle, or mutilate*
 food and drink
 food and water
 footloose and fancy-free* for better or for worse*
 fore and aft*
 forever and a day*
 forever and always forgive and forget*
 form and substance*
 franks and beans (frankfurters and beans) free and clear*
 free and easy*
 friend or foe*
 fries and a shake (French fries and a milkshake) front and center
 fun and games*
 give-and-take* God and country
 gone but not forgotten*
 good and ready* See when one is good and ready.
 goose and gander grin and bear it*
 hale and hearty*
 half-and-half*
 ham and eggs
 hammer and nails
 hammer and sickle

- hammer and tongs See go at it hammer and tongs.
hand and foot* See bound hand and foot.
hard-and-fast*
hat and gloves
have and to hold haves and have-nots
head and shoulders* See head and shoulders above someone or something.
head over heels* See head over heels in debt; head over heels in love (with someone).
head to toe* See from head to toe.
heads or tails*
health and welfare
heart and soul*
heating and air-conditioning heaven and earth* See move heaven and earth to do something.
hellfire and damnation
hell or high water* See come hell or high water.
hem and haw* See hem and haw (around).
hen and chicken
here and there*
here, there, and everywhere hide-and-seek* hide nor hair* See neither hide nor hair.
high and dry* See leave someone high and dry. high-and-mighty*
highways and byways*
hill and dale hit-and-miss*
hit-and-run*
hit-or-miss*
hither and thither*
hither, thither, and yon* honest and aboveboard*
hook, line, and sinker* See swallow something hook, line, and sinker.
hook or crook* See by hook or (by) crook.
hoot and holler*
hop, skip, and a jump*
horse and buggy*
horse and carriage*
hot and bothered*
hot and cold* See blow hot and cold.
hot and heavy*
hot and humid
house and home* See eat someone out of house and home.
hue and cry*
hunt-and-peck*
husband and wife
hustle and bustle*
ice-cream and cake
in and of itself*
in and out
in sickness and in health ins and outs* See ins and outs of something.
intents and purposes* See for all intents and purposes.
jack and jill Jekyll and Hyde*
Jesus, Mary, and Joseph joint and several jot and tittle
juice and cookies*
king and queen
kiss and tell*
kit and caboodle*
kith and kin*
knife and fork knife, fork, and spoon ladies and gentlemen last but not least*
last will and testament*
law and order
leaps and bounds* See by leaps and bounds.
lick and a promise* See give something a lick and a promise.
lie, cheat, and steal
life and death* See matter of life and death.
life or death
like it or lump it*
live and learn*
live and let live*
liver and onions
lock and key
lock, stock, and barrel* long and (the) short it* lost-and-found*
lost and gone forever*
loud and clear*
love and marriage
love nor money* See not for love nor money.
make or break* See make or break someone.
main strength and awkwardness*
man and wife master and servant
meat and drink
meat-and-potatoes*
meek and mild
mergers and acquisitions mice and men* See best-laid plans of mice and men.
might and main*
milk and honey
mind and body
mix and match*
more or less*
mortar and pestle
mother and child
motherhood and apple pie movers and shakers*
Mr. and Mrs.
name and address
needle and thread
new and improved
nice and easy
nickel and dime* See nickel and dime (someone) nip and tuck*
nook and cranny*
nothing ventured, nothing gained* now and again*
now and then*

now or never* null and void*
 nuts and bolts* See nuts and bolts (of something).
 odds and ends*
 off and running*
 old and gray
 once and for all*
 one and all*
 one and only*
 one and the same*
 open-and-shut case*
 out and about*
 Out of sight, out of mind.*
 over and above* See over and above something. over and done with* over and over* See over and over (again).
 over and under pain and suffering
 part and parcel* See part and parcel (of something).
 past and present
 peaches and cream
 peanut butter and jelly pen and ink
 pen and pencil
 penny-wise and pound-foolish*
 pick and choose*
 pickles and onions
 pins and needles* See on pins and needles.
 plain and simple*
 pomp and circumstance
 poor but clean*
 pork and beans
 postage and handling*
 potatoes and gravy
 pots and pans
 power and might pride and joy*
 pride and prejudice principal and interest profit and loss
 pros and cons
 p's and q's* See mind one's p's and q's.
 publish or perish*
 pure and simple*
 Put up or shut up!*
 question and answer
 quick and dirty*
 rack and pinion
 rain or shine*
 rank and file*
 rant and rave* See rant and rave (about someone or something).
 rape and pillage
 read and write
 reading and writing
 ready and able ready and willing ready, get set, go
 ready, willing, and able* red, white, and blue research and development

rest and recreation rest and relaxation
 rhyme or reason* See without rhyme or reason.
 rice and beans
 rice and peas
 right and wrong
 right or wrong
 rise and fall
 Rise and shine!*
 rock and a hard place* See between a rock and a hard place.
 rock and roll
 rocks and rills
 rod and reel
 rod and staff
 room and board*
 root and branch rough-and-ready*
 rough-and-tumble*
 rum and coke
 rhythm and blues
 sackcloth and ashes
 sadder but wiser*
 sadism and masochism safe and sound*
 said and done* See after all is said and done.
 salt and pepper
 sand and sea
 sane and sober
 sausage and eggs
 savings and loan scotch and soda
 scotch and water
 search and destroy seek and destroy separate but equal*
 sex and violence
 Shape up or ship out.*
 shave and shower
 shipping and handling*
 shirt and tie
 shoes and socks
 short and fat
 short and sassy
 short and stout
 short and sweet show-and-tell* sick and tired* See sick and tired of someone or something. signed, sealed, and delivered* sink or swim*
 sir or madam
 six of one and half a dozen of another* sixes and sevens* See at sixes and sevens.
 skin and bones* See (all) skin and bones.
 skull and crossbones
 slim and trim
 slings and arrows “. . . of outrageous fortune.” (Shakespeare) slip and slide slow and sure
 slow(ly) but sure(ly)*

NTC's
DICTIONARY OF
AMERICAN SLANG
AND COLLOQUIAL
EXPRESSIONS

THE MOST PRACTICAL REFERENCE FOR
THE INFORMAL EXPRESSIONS OF CONTEMPORARY AMERICAN ENGLISH

THIRD EDITION

RICHARD A. SPEARS, PH.D.

NTC's
DICTIONARY OF
AMERICAN SLANG
AND COLLOQUIAL
EXPRESSIONS

THIRD EDITION

RICHARD A. SPEARS, Ph.D.

NTC Publishing Group

Copyright © 2000 by The McGraw-Hill Companies. All rights reserved. Manufactured in the United States of America. Except as permitted under the United States Copyright Act of 1976, no part of this publication may be reproduced or distributed in any form or by any means, or stored in a database or retrieval system, without the prior written permission of the publisher.

0-07-139204-1

The material in this eBook also appears in the print version of this title: 0-8442-0461-7.

All trademarks are trademarks of their respective owners. Rather than put a trademark symbol after every occurrence of a trademarked name, we use names in an editorial fashion only, and to the benefit of the trademark owner, with no intention of infringement of the trademark. Where such designations appear in this book, they have been printed with initial caps.

McGraw-Hill eBooks are available at special quantity discounts to use as premiums and sales promotions, or for use in corporate training programs. For more information, please contact George Hoare, Special Sales, at george_hoare@mcgraw-hill.com or (212) 904-4069.

TERMS OF USE

This is a copyrighted work and The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc. (“McGraw-Hill”) and its licensors reserve all rights in and to the work. Use of this work is subject to these terms. Except as permitted under the Copyright Act of 1976 and the right to store and retrieve one copy of the work, you may not decompile, disassemble, reverse engineer, reproduce, modify, create derivative works based upon, transmit, distribute, disseminate, sell, publish or sublicense the work or any part of it without McGraw-Hill’s prior consent. You may use the work for your own noncommercial and personal use; any other use of the work is strictly prohibited. Your right to use the work may be terminated if you fail to comply with these terms.

THE WORK IS PROVIDED “AS IS”. MCGRAW-HILL AND ITS LICENSORS MAKE NO GUARANTEES OR WARRANTIES AS TO THE ACCURACY, ADEQUACY OR COMPLETENESS OF OR RESULTS TO BE OBTAINED FROM USING THE WORK, INCLUDING ANY INFORMATION THAT CAN BE ACCESSED THROUGH THE WORK VIA HYPERLINK OR OTHERWISE, AND EXPRESSLY DISCLAIM ANY WARRANTY, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. McGraw-Hill and its licensors do not warrant or guarantee that the functions contained in the work will meet your requirements or that its operation will be uninterrupted or error free. Neither McGraw-Hill nor its licensors shall be liable to you or anyone else for any inaccuracy, error or omission, regardless of cause, in the work or for any damages resulting therefrom. McGraw-Hill has no responsibility for the content of any information accessed through the work. Under no circumstances shall McGraw-Hill and/or its licensors be liable for any indirect, incidental, special, punitive, consequential or similar damages that result from the use of or inability to use the work, even if any of them has been advised of the possibility of such damages. This limitation of liability shall apply to any claim or cause whatsoever whether such claim or cause arises in contract, tort or otherwise.

DOI: 10.1036/0071392041

Contents

About This Dictionary	v
Terms and Symbols	xi
Pronunciation Guide	xiv
Dictionary	1
Phrase-Finder Index	485

This page intentionally left blank.

About This Dictionary

The third edition of this dictionary contains more than 800 new expressions. These comprise the expressions that have appeared in the last few years—including many new expressions used in everyday talk on the streets and the college campus. The “Phrase-Finder Index” has been completely revised to make finding the location of new phrasal entries in the dictionary easier. What do we expect of slang in the year 2000 and beyond? Much of the same: sex, scatology, rudeness, and clever wordplay.

This dictionary is a collection of slang and colloquial expressions in frequent use in the United States in the twentieth century. It contains expressions that are familiar to many Americans and other expressions that are used primarily within small groups of people. The entries represent the language of the underworld, the nursery, the college campus, California beaches, urban back streets, and Wall Street. We hear from prisoners, surfers, junkies, Valley Girls, blacks, weight lifters, and just plain folks. Fad words, metaphors, wordplay, and various figures of speech make up the body of the dictionary.

There is no standard test that will decide what is slang or colloquial and what is not. Expressions that are identified as slang are often some type of entertaining wordplay, and they are almost always an alternative way of saying something. Colloquial expressions are usually spoken and are often thought of as being direct, earthy, or quaint. Slang and colloquial expressions come in different forms: single words, compound words, simple phrases, idioms, and complete sentences. Slang is rarely the first choice of careful writers or speakers or anyone attempting to use language for formal, persuasive, or business purposes. Nonetheless, expressions that can be called slang or colloquial make up a major part of American communication in movies, television, radio, newspapers, magazines, and informal conversation.

Localized fad words are usually thought to have a short life, but other kinds of slang expressions may spread and last for a long time. The farther they spread, the longer they will last. If they last long enough, they may become so well known that they become standard English unavoidably. Most such slangy expressions simply join an enormous pool of similar expressions, and they are used until displaced by newer terms. At some point the old ones are put on hold until they are forgotten by everyone or revived by a new generation. Many expressions that hang around for decades will pop up again and again in novels and movies or in sporadic use in the speech of older generations.

For more than two hundred years, the jargon of criminals has been a major source of everyday slang words. Alcohol, drugs, and crime have been firmly fixed in the public consciousness since the time of prohibition in the United States. The entertainment value of crime and law enforcement has brought a constant stream of criminal slang into novels, movies, and radio and television shows over the last half century. This dictionary contains many of the expressions from these areas that have made public appearances through the years. Even more remain hidden behind closed doors. Matters of social taboo have also provided many slang expressions. Although strictly speaking taboo words are not slang, many taboo expressions have been included in this edition. Young people are responsible for a high proportion of the fad expressions and collegiate wordplay found here. Clever or insulting nicknames for types of people are the major linguistic product of this subgroup.

Whereas many of the entries are humorous or clever, others simply represent the everyday turns of phrase common to informal speech in the United States. Where possible, the examples are given in natural slangy language, even if it is ungrammatical in formal writing. The examples are to be taken as representative of slang usage, not of standard, formal English usage.

Most slang words that deal with personal type, race, sex, ethnic origins, and so forth, are quite rude—often hateful—and considered by some people taboo. No apology is made for those that are included. They are rude or they wouldn't be considered slang or colloquial. On the other hand, no attempt is made to include all of them, and many of the worst have been omitted. Slang is slang and anyone looking for an issue will find many of them in nonstandard vocabulary. It is worthwhile to include rude words and identify them as such for the sake of innocents who encounter these words on television, in the theater, in novels, in newspapers, in the workplace, in shops, and on the street.

The grammar and syntax of each expression are best determined from the examples that accompany each entry. The notion of “part of speech” is relevant to the function of individual words. The words within the clauses and phrases that are entries in the dictionary can be given part-of-speech labels, but it is the grammar and syntax of the entire phrase that is important. Each expression in the dictionary is assigned a “function code” that serves to indicate the functional potential of the entry expression. These codes represent function independently from form. That is to say, expressions that function the same get the same label. For instance, nouns, noun compounds, noun phrases, and noun clauses are all marked n. for “nominal.” The codes are described in the following section, “Guide to the Use of the Dictionary.”

Unlike standard English, few slang or colloquial expressions are standardized in spelling or punctuation. Standard dictionaries differ considerably as to whether a standard English compound is printed as one word, two words, or a hyphenated word. The spelling of slang entries is even more variable. This dictionary usually represents slang expressions in the form in which they were found in print, except for rhyming compounds, e.g., fat-cat or funny-money, which are always hyphenated in this book.

The entries come from many sources. Many have been collected and submitted by college students and other individuals. Much of the latest material has come directly from television and a lesser amount from contemporary radio. The Internet has become the newest major source of slang for the collector and reader. Standard reference works have been used to verify the meanings and spellings of older material. A surprising amount of old material has been verified in reruns of old movies. Many attestations have come from contemporary journalism, especially human interest and Sunday supplement material. A few of the examples are verbatim quotes of the original. Some are concocted, and many more have been edited to exemplify an expression’s meaning more concisely than the original quote. The examples exist to illustrate meaning, not to prove the earliest date of print or broadcast dissemination.

Guide to the Use of the Dictionary

1. Entries are alphabetized according to an absolute alphabetical order that ignores all punctuation. The hyphen is treated the same as a space. Entries beginning with numerals precede the alphabetic entries.
2. The first step in finding an expression is to try looking it up in the body of the dictionary. Entries that consist of two or more words are entered in their normal order, such as chill someone's action. Phrases are never inverted or reordered like action, chill someone's or track, off the.
3. If you do not find the expression you want or if you cannot decide on the exact form of the expression, look up any major word in the expression in the "Phrase-Finder Index," which begins on page 485. There you will find all the multiword expressions that contain the word you have looked up. Pick out the expression you want, and look it up in the body of the dictionary.
4. Entry expressions appear in boldface type. When words or expressions that are not entries in this dictionary are cited, they appear in italics. Function codes and examples appear in italics.
5. A main entry may have one or more alternative forms. The alternatives are printed in boldface type and are preceded by "AND."
6. Definitions are in roman type. Alternative or closely related definitions are separated by semicolons.
7. Some definitions contain restrictive comments in parentheses that help to make the definition clearer. These comments limit the context in which the expression can be used.
8. Comments in parentheses after a definition give additional information about the expression, including any cautions, comments on origins, or indications of cross-referencing. Each numbered sense can have its own comments.
9. Every expression is followed by a function code that indicates the grammatical or syntactic function of the expression. These codes are in italics. The function codes provide a way of determining the grammatical or syntactic function of a particular expression as it occurs in its examples. Expressions functioning as nominals (nouns, noun phrases, etc.) are marked n. Expressions serving to modify, restrict, or qualify (adjectives, adjective phrases, adverbs, adverb phrases, etc.) are marked mod. Expressions that are transitive verbs or transitive verb phrases (a transitive verb, its object(s), modifier(s), and auxiliaries) are marked tv. Expressions that are intransitive verbs or intransitive verb phrases (an intransitive verb, its auxiliaries, and modifiers) are marked in. Other abbreviations are explained in the section titled “Terms and Symbols.”

10. Some expressions that are modifiers (marked mod.) can occur only before or after the things they modify. Other modifiers can occur both before and after the things they modify. The distribution of modifiers is illustrated in the examples.
11. Many expressions have more than one major sense or meaning. These meanings are numbered with boldface numerals.
12. Sometimes a numbered sense will have an alternative form that does not apply to the other senses. In such cases the “AND” plus the alternative forms follow the numeral.
13. Entries that contain unfamiliar words and entries whose spelling is misleading have an indication of pronunciation in International Phonetic Alphabet symbols. See the symbols and their values in the “Pronunciation Guide.”
14. In some entries, comments direct the user to other entries for additional information through the use of the terms “Go to” or “See also.” The expressions mentioned are in special type.
15. If an entry has a grammatical structure that requires a nominal to serve as a subject or object, the nominal is represented by someone for human nominals or something for nonhuman nominals. When both human and nonhuman nominals are possible, someone or something is used.

This page intentionally left blank.

Terms and Symbols

□ marks the beginning of an example.

▮ marks the beginning of an example in which two elements of the phrase, usually a particle and an object, are transposed.

acronym an abbreviation consisting of a set of initials pronounced as a single word, as with UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization.

advertising used in advertisements or marketing jargon.

Amerindian related to American Indian languages or cultures.

AND indicates an alternative element, either an alternative entry form or an alternative pronunciation.

baby talk used by infants or children or, more typically, by adults when talking to infants or children.

black typically used by or originated by African Americans.

blend made up of sounds from two other words, such as smoke + fog = smog.

California originating among the young people of California.

catchphrase an expression that is meant to catch attention because of its cleverness or aptness.

collegiate typically heard on college campuses.

combining form a sense of a word used only in combination with another word, as with bug in camera bug.

deliberate spoonerism a deliberate interchanging of initial consonants in a pair of words, such as queer old dean for dear old queen.

drugs having to do with illegal drugs and the sale and use of drugs.

euphemistic relatively refined and having no negative connotations.

exclam. exclamation.

eye-dialect a type of respelling of a word so that it appears to have been spoken with a regional accent, as with sez for says.

folksy in the manner of country people; rustic and quaint.

function code an indication of the grammatical or syntactic potential of a particular sense of an expression. Go to exclam., in., interj., interrog., mod., n., phr., pro., sent., and tv. in this section.

Go to Go to the entry indicated.

in. intransitive. Expressions that are intransitive verbs or intransitive verb phrases (an intransitive verb, its auxiliaries, and modifiers) are marked in.

interj. interjection.

interrog. interrogative.

initialism an abbreviation consisting of the initial letters of the words being shortened. The letters are pronounced one by one, as with IBM.

jargon the specialized terminology of an occupation; shoptalk.

journalistic as used in popular journalism—newspapers and magazines.

juvenile as might be said by a child.

mod. modifier. Expressions serving to modify, restrict, or qualify (adjectives, adjective phrases, adverbs, adverb phrases, etc.) are marked mod.

n. nominal. Expressions functioning as nominals (nouns, noun phrases, etc.) are marked n.

onomatopoetic having to do with a word with a sound suggesting the meaning of the word, as with vroom, the sound of an engine.

phr. phrase.

Pig Latin a form of wordplay where the second part of a word is placed before the initial sound, which then ends in ay, as with unk-jay for junk.

play on referring to wordplay that is based on a particular expression.
For instance, eagle freak is a play on eco freak.

police from the speech of law-enforcement officers.

pro. pronoun.

prohibition indicates an expression that came into use during the prohibition of alcohol in the United States during the 1920s and early 1930s.

securities market(s) having to do with the stock markets, the bond markets, or the sale of other financial instruments.

See also Find additional or related information at the entry indicated.
sent. sentence.

standard English widely known English, not usually considered slang or colloquial.

streets originating in the streets of urban America.

taboo indicates an expression that is regarded as out of place in public use.

term of address an expression that can be used to address someone directly.

tv. transitive. Expressions that are transitive verbs or transitive verb phrases (a transitive verb and its object(s), modifier(s), and auxiliaries) are marked tv.

underworld from criminal speech or law enforcement.

verbal weapon an expression that is typically used to insult or malign someone.

Western speech typical of Western movies or other stereotypes of the Old West.

Pronunciation Guide

Some expressions in the dictionary are followed by a phonetic transcription in International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) symbols. These expressions include words whose pronunciations are not predictable from their spellings, difficult or unfamiliar words, and words where the stress placement is contrastive or unique. The style of pronunciation reflected here is informal and tends to fit the register in which the expression would normally be used. A [d] is used for the alveolar flap typical in American pronunciations such as [wɒdɜː] ‘water’ and [əˈnɑɪələdɛd] ‘annihilated.’ The transcriptions distinguish between [ɑ] and [ɔ] and between [w] and [ʍ] even though not all Americans do so. In strict IPA fashion, [j] rather than the [y] substitute is used for the initial sound in ‘yellow.’ The most prominent syllable in a multisyllabic word is preceded by a [ˈ]. The use of AND or OR in a phonetic transcription echoes the use of AND or OR in the preceding entry phrase. The use of “...” in a transcription indicates that easy-to-pronounce words have been omitted. Parentheses used in a transcription either correspond to parentheses in the preceding entry phrase or indicate optional elements in the transcription. For instance, in [ˈɑːtsiˈkræf(t)si] ‘artsy-craftsy,’ the “t” may or may not be pronounced. The following chart shows the American English values for each of the IPA symbols used in the phonetic transcriptions. To use the chart, first find the large phonetic symbol whose value you want to determine. The two English words to the right of the symbol contain examples of the sound for which the phonetic symbol stands. The letters in boldface type indicate where the sound in question is found in the English word.

[ɑ]	{ stop top	[ɜː]	{ bird turtle	[n]	{ new funny	[tʃ]	{ cheese pitcher
[æ]	{ sat track	[f]	{ feel if	[ŋ]	{ button kitten	[θ]	{ thin faith
[aʊ]	{ cow now	[g]	{ get frog	[ŋ]	{ bring thing	[u]	{ food blue
[aɪ]	{ bite my	[h]	{ hat who	[o]	{ coat wrote	[ʊ]	{ put look
[b]	{ beet bubble	[i]	{ feet leak	[ɔɪ]	{ spoil boy	[v]	{ save van
[d]	{ dead body	[ɪ]	{ bit hiss	[ɔ]	{ caught yawn	[w]	{ well wind
[ð]	{ that those	[j]	{ yellow you	[p]	{ tip pat	[ʌ]	{ wheel while
[dʒ]	{ jail judge	[k]	{ can keep	[r]	{ rat berry	[z]	{ fuzzy zoo
[e]	{ date sail	[l]	{ lawn yellow	[s]	{ sun fast	[ʒ]	{ pleasure treasure
[ɛ]	{ get set	[l̩]	{ bottle puddle	[ʃ]	{ fish sure	[ʰ]	{ 'water ho'tel
[ə]	{ but nut	[m]	{ family slam	[t]	{ top pot

This page intentionally left blank.

Numerical Entries

10-4 Go to ten-four.

20/20 hindsight Go to twenty-twenty hindsight.

24-7 Go to twenty-four, seven.

404 Go to four-oh-four.

411 Go to four-one-one.

4 real mod. for real. ☐ This is a big problem, 4 real. ☐ R U 4 real?

5-0 Go to five-oh.

773H Go to seven-seven-three-aitch.

86 Go to eighty-six.

A

A-1 AND A number 1 mod. of the highest rating. □ This steak is really A-1! □ I would like to get an A number 1 secretary for a change.

abbreviated piece of nothing n. an insignificant person or thing. □ Tell that abbreviated piece of nothing to get his tail over here, but fast. □ Why don't you drive your abbreviated piece of nothing over to the service station and have a new muffler put on?

abe n. a five-dollar bill. (From the picture of Abraham Lincoln on the bill.) □ She tipped him an abe for his help. □ This wine cost three abes. It had better be good.

able to cut something tv. able to manage or execute something. (Often negative.) □ Do you think you're able to cut it? He's just not able to cut it.

(a)bout it mod. ready; knowledgeable; cool. (Streets.) □ Sam is smart. He's really about it.

abs [æbz] n. the abdominal muscles. (Bodybuilding.) □ Look at the abs on that guy. Like a crossword puzzle. □ I do sit-ups to harden my abs.

absolutely-lutely ['æbsəblədi'lutli] mod. absolutely; emphatically. □ We are absolutely-lutely sick to death of your wishy-washy attitude.

absotively (posilutely) ['æbsə'tivli 'pəzə'lutli] mod. absolutely; decidedly. □ I will be there at ten, absotively posilutely. □ I am absotively exhausted!

accidentally-on-purpose mod. deliberate, but meant to look like an accident. □ Then I accidentally-on-purpose spilled water on him. □ I knew it was done acci- dentially-on-purpose. That kind of thing doesn't just happen.

AC-DC AND AC/DC mod. bisexual. (Initialism.) □ I didn't realize at first that we were in an AC-DC bar! □ Clare said Tom is AC/DC, but I don't believe it.

ace 1. mod. [of persons] best; top-rated. □ She is an ace reporter with the newspaper. □ Frank is an ace swimmer. 2. n. one dollar. □ Give me an ace. I have to get some telephone change. □ It only costs an ace. Buy two. 3. tv. to pass a test easily, with an A grade. (See also ace out.) □ Man, I really aced that test. □ I knew I wouldn't ace it, but I never thought I'd flunk it! 4. n.  (Sarcastic. Usually a term of address.) □ Hey, ace, hand me that monkey wrench—if you know what one is. □ Look, ace, you can't expect to fix an engine without getting dirty. 5. tv. to surpass someone or something; to beat someone or something; to ace someone out. □ The Japanese firm aced the Americans by getting the device onto the shelves first. □ Fred aced Tom in the contest for the best beard.

ace boom-boom AND ace boon-coon n. one's good and loyal friend. (Black. Ace boom-coon is not as common as the first entry and is objected to because of coon.) □ Hey girlfriend, you are my ace boom-boom. □ We're ace boon-coons. The best friends there is.

ace boon-coon Go to ace boom-boom

aced 1. mod. outmaneuvered; outscored. □ Rebecca really got aced in the track meet. □ "You are aced, sucker!" shouted Rebecca as she passed Martha in the 100-yard sprint. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □

How can anybody be so aced on three beers? □ I've never seen anybody that aced in my life.

ace in the hole n. something important held in reserve. □ The twenty-dollar bill I keep in my shoe is my ace in the hole. □ Mary's beautiful singing voice was her ace in the hole in case everything else failed.

ace in(to something) in. to happen onto something good; to manage to get into something. □ I hope I can ace into the afternoon physics class. □ I don't know how I aced in. I guess I was just lucky.

ace out in. to be fortunate or lucky. □ I really aced out on that test in English.

ace someone out tv. to maneuver someone out; to win out over someone. (See also aced; ace.) □ I plan to ace you out in the first lap. □ Martha aced out Rebecca to win the first place trophy.

acid n. lysergic acid diethylamide (LSD). (Drugs.) □ Acid and pot! That's all you think about. □ Freddy got hold of some bad acid and freaked out.

acid test n. a very thorough test. (From a test for determining true gold using acid.) □ We put your invention through the acid test, and—I am extremely sorry to tell you—it failed miserably. □ I'll take this home to my kids and let them give it the acid test. If it survives them, it's a winner.

action 1. n. excitement; activity in general; whatever is happening. □ This place is dull. I want some action. □ How do I find out where the action is in this town? 2. n. winnings or the booty. (See also piece (of the action).) □ I did my share of the work, and I want my share of the action. □ Just what did you do to earn any of the action? 3. n. sex; copulation. □ Paul is over at Martha's house looking for some action. □ All those guys are just trying for a little action. 4. n. illegal activity; commerce in drugs; acts of crime. (Underworld.) □ You want a fast buck, you get in on that action over on Fourth Street. □ Things have been a little slow here, but there's some action on the East Coast.

activated mod. tipsy; alcohol intoxicated. □ All four of them went out and got a little activated. □ Will this stuff get me seriously activated?

Adam Henry n. an AH = asshole, a 'jerk.' (Treated as a name.) □ Why don't you get some smarts, Adam Henry?

addict n. someone showing a strong preference for something or someone. (A combining form not related to drug addiction.) □ Sam is a real opera addict. He just loves the stuff. □ My uncle is a mystery addict.

adios muchachos [adi'os mu'tʃatʃos] tv. the end; good-bye everyone. (Spanish.) □ If you step out in front of a car like that again, it's adios muchachos. □ I've got a gun aimed at your navel. If you move so much as one muscle, you can just say adios muchachos.

adobe dollar [ə'dobi 'dələ] n. a Mexican peso. □ How many of these adobe dollars does it take to buy a can of pop here? □ One greenback will get you about 2,400 adobe dollars these days.

AFAIK phr. as far as I know. (Acronym. Computers and the Internet.) □ Everything is ok with the server, AFAIK.

African golf ball AND African grape a watermelon. (Streets. Alludes to an early stereotype of African-Americans being very fond of watermelon.) □ Gimme a big slice of that African golf ball. □ When he said we were having African grapes for dessert, I thought he meant sherbet.

African grape Go to African golf ball.

Afro AND fro n. a hairdo, sometimes worn by American blacks, where the hair appears to be a large puffy ball. □ Man, I thought Afros went out in the sixties! □ Where's you get that fat fro?

ag AND aggro mod. aggravated = irritated; annoyed. □ Hey, man. Don't get yourself so aggro!

aggie ['ægi] 1. mod. agricultural. □ She spent a year at some aggie college, but didn't like it. □ Her aggie interests faded fast. 2. n. a student of an agricultural (college) training program. (Specifically,

Texas A&M.) □ More and more aggies are going back for their MBAs. □ What kind of a job can an aggie get these days? 3. n. an agricultural futures contract. (Securities markets. Usually plural.) □ The March aggies are looking good right now. □ Let's take a look at the aggies and see how the bellies are doing. 4. n. an agate marble or a glass imitation of one. □ I found the old aggies I played with when I was a kid. □ Somebody kiped my prize aggie!

agree to disagree in. to agree to discuss something, but retain one's opinions. □ We have decided nothing except that we agree to disagree. □ The two political parties agreed to disagree in 1971, and that was the last agreeable thing either one of them did.

AH n. an asshole; a really wretched person. (A euphemistic disguise. Also a term of address. Rude and derogatory.) □ Look here, you goddamn AH! Who the hell do you think you are?

ahead of the game mod. [being] early; having an advantage in a competitive situation; having done more than necessary. (Especially with get or keep.) □ Without a car telephone, I find it hard to get ahead of the game. □ If being ahead of the game is important to you and to your business, lease a mobile telephone from us.

A-hole n. an asshole, a very stupid or annoying person. (Usually refers to a male. Rude and derogatory.) □ Tom can be an A-hole before he's had his coffee.

aim for the sky AND reach for the sky; shoot for the sky in. to aspire to something; to set one's goals high. (See a different sense at reach for the sky.) □ Shoot for the sky, son. Don't settle for second best.

ain't long enough phr. of a sum of money that isn't adequate. (Streets.) □ I can't go with you. My cash ain't long enough. □ This here bankroll ain't long enough to get me much of anything.

air-bags n. the lungs. □ Fill those air-bags with good Colorado air!

air ball n. a basketball throw that misses everything, especially the basket. □ Old Fred has become a master with the air ball. The net will never get worn out.

airbrain Go to airhead.

air guitar n. an imaginary guitar, played along with real music. □ Dave stood near the window while his roommate played air guitar in front of the mirror. □ Jed, who sees himself as some sort of rock star, plays air guitar when he's happy or sad.

airhead AND airbrain n. a stupid person. (Someone with air where there should be brains.) □ What is that loony airhead doing there on the roof? □ Some airbrain put mustard in the ketchup squeezer.

airheaded mod. stupid; giddy. □ You are the most airheaded twit I have ever met! □ That was an airheaded idea if I ever heard one.

air hose n. invisible socks; no socks. □ All these kids run around campus in air hose. You'd think they'd get blisters. □ How do you like my new air hose? One size fits all.

airish mod. [of the weather] chilly or briskly cool. □ I'm not going out without my jacket. It's too airish. □ It's airish enough to freeze the brass off a bald monkey!

air kiss n. a kiss that is placed on the inside of the fingers of one's hand then "blown" to the recipient who is likely to be some distance away. □ A mass of air kisses drifted down to the wharf from the passengers departing on the huge Titanic. □ I want more than an air kiss! Come and kiss me!

air one's belly tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ What was in that hamburger? I think I've got to air my belly. □ That must have been some party. I heard you airing your belly for most of the night, after you got home.

air one's pores tv. to undress oneself; to become naked. □ I'm fixing to air my pores and take a shower. □ Me and Wilbur, that's my brother, both fell in the creek and had to air our pores a while so our pants could dry out.

airy-fairy mod. insubstantial; of wishful thinking. □ Haven't you outgrown that kind of airy-fairy thinking yet? □ I don't care to hear any more of your airy-fairy ideas.

ak AND ok [ɑk] n. October. (Securities markets: options and futures trading.) □ The ak futures are looking worse by the hour. □ When the oks expire on Friday, we'll start looking at the dec index.

alchy AND alkie; alky ['ælkɪ] 1. n. alcohol; an alcoholic beverage. □ He showed up with a week's supply of alkies. □ The crooks stole most of the alchy from the bar at the club. 2. n. a drunkard. □ You see alchy after alchy all up and down Maxwell Street. □ Some alkies came in and asked for a quarter.

alkie Go to alchy.

alkied (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ That old bum looks completely alkied up.

alky Go to alchy.

alley apple 1. n. a piece of horse manure. (See also road apple.) □ The route of the parade was littered with alley apples after about twenty minutes. □ Harry is collecting alley apples for his garden. 2. n. a brick or stone found in the rubble of the streets. □ "Drop it!" the cop called to the kid with an alley apple in his hand. □ Kelly kicked an alley apple so that it struck a garbage can with a crash.

all meat and no potatoes Go to all (that) meat and no potatoes.

all-nighter 1. n. something that lasts all night, like a party or study session. □ After an all-nighter studying, I couldn't keep my eyes open for the test. □ Sam invited us to an all-nighter, but we're getting a little old for that kind of thing. 2. n. a place of business that is open all night. □ We stopped at an all-nighter for a cup of coffee. □ I worked in an all-nighter for a month. I just couldn't keep those hours though. 3. n. a person who often stays up all night. □ Fred is an all-nighter. He's not worth much in the mornings though. □ I'm no all-nighter. I need my beauty sleep, for sure.

all over someone like a cheap suit phr. pawing and clinging; seductive. (A cheap suit might cling to its wearer.) □ She must have liked him. She was all over him like a cheap suit.

all over something mod. very fond of something. □ Jane's really into jazz. I mean she's all over it! □ Dave is all over old bikes.

all right 1. interj. yes; okay. □ All right. I'll do it. 2. mod. for sure; for certain. □ He's the one who said it, all right. □ I was there, all right. 3. mod. okay. (This is hyphenated before a nominal. Slang when used before a nominal.) □ Wally is an all-right guy. □ I'm all right. □ We had an all-right time at your party. 4. exclam. That's good!; Keep it up! (A general expression of approval, often cried out from the audience during a performance or at applause time. Usually All right! The right is drawn out and falling in pitch.) □ After the last drumbeat, the entire audience exploded into a roaring "All right!" □ "All right!" cried the crowd when they heard the announcement about the pay increase.

(all) shook up mod. excited; disturbed; upset. □ She stole my heart, and I'm all shook up. □ They were pretty shook up after the accident.

all that and then some phr. everything mentioned and even more. □ Yes, he brought all that and then some. □ Q: Did she say all those terrible things so that everyone could hear her? A: All that and then some.

all that jazz n. all that stuff; all that nonsense. □ I need some glue, paper, string, and all that jazz, to make a kite. □ She told me I was selfish, hateful, rude, ugly, and all that jazz.

all (that) meat and no potatoes phr. said of a tremendously fat person. (A rude catchphrase.) □ Look at that guy—all meat and no potatoes. □ All that meat and no potatoes. She should go on a diet.

all the way mod. with everything on it, as with a hamburger. (See also go all the way.) □ I'd like one double cheeseburger—all the way. □ Make mine all the way, too.

all the way live mod. very exciting; excellent. □ Man, this place is all the way live.

□ Oh, Tiffany is just, like, all the way live!

the almighty dollar n. the dollar viewed as a symbol of power or greed. □ You don't care about anything but the almighty dollar. □ The world's economy seems to depend on an adequate supply of the almighty dollar.

alot mod. a lot. (A misspelling that is so widely used in Internet news groups as to be considered part of the Internet jargon.) □ I like that alot, definately alot.

alphabet soup n. initialisms and acronyms in general. □ The names of these government offices are just alphabet soup. □ Just look at the telephone book! You can't find anything because it's filled with alphabet soup.

Alpha Charlie n. a bawling out; a severe scolding. (From AC = ace-chewing.) □ The cop stopped me and gave me a real Alpha Charlie for speeding.

ambulance chaser 1. AND chaser n. a lawyer or entrepreneur who hurries to the scene of an accident to try to get the business of any injured persons. □ The insurance companies are cracking down on ambulance chasers. □ Two minutes after the spectacular wreck, seven chasers with police radios showed up and began harassing the victims. 2. n. a derogatory term for any lawyer. (Also a rude term of address.) □ That ambulance chaser is trying to charge me for reaching his office when I called a wrong number!

Ameche n. telephone. (Very old slang. From the name of actor Don Ameche, who starred in the film The Story of Alexander Graham Bell, 1939.) □ Won't somebody please answer the Ameche?

amigo [ə'migo] n. a friend. (Spanish. Also a term of address.) □ Hey, amigo, let's go somewhere for a drink.

ammo ['æmo] 1. n. ammunition. □ There they were, trapped in a foxhole with no ammo, enemy all over the place. What do you think happened? □ I don't know. They sent out for ammo, maybe? 2. n. information or evidence that can be used to support an argument or a charge. □ I want to get some ammo on the mayor. I think he's a crook. □ Try to keep my traffic tickets a secret. The opposition will use them as ammo in the next election.

ammunition 1. n. toilet tissue. □ Could somebody help me? We're out of ammunition in here! □ The ammunition in Europe is better these days than it used to be.

2. n. liquor. (See also shot.) □ The cowboy walked in, downed a shot, and called for more ammunition. □ He's had about all the ammunition he can hold.

amps n. amphetamines. (Drugs.) □ I never do any drugs except maybe a few amps now and then, and the odd downer, and maybe a little grass on weekends, but nothing really hard. □ Paul is on a roller coaster of amps and damps.

anal applause n. the release of intestinal gas. (Jocular.) □ Who is responsible for this pungent anal applause?

anchor-clanker n. a sailor. (Army.) □ The bar was suddenly filled with anchor-clankers, and the army guys began looking for a way out. □ How can you anchor-clankers stand being cooped up on those cans?

ancient history n. someone or something completely forgotten, especially past romances. (See also history.) □ Bob? I never think about Bob anymore. He's ancient history. □ That business about joining the army is ancient history.

and a half n. someone or something greater, more severe, or more intense than normal. □ This computer problem is a mess and a half! □ She is a woman and a half!

and change phr. plus a few cents; plus a few hundredths. (Used in citing a price or other decimal figure to indicate an additional fraction of a full unit.) □ This one only costs ten bucks and change. □ The New York Stock Exchange was up seven points and change for the third broken record this week.

And how! exclam. I agree! □ I am really excited you are here. And how! □ BILL: I am pleased you are here. BOB: Me, too! And how!

and stuff like that (there) n. and other things similar to what was just mentioned. ☐ Please gather up all the empty bottles, the picnic things, and stuff like that there.

angel 1. n. a secret financier. ☐ Who was the angel for your new play? ☐ I was hoping for an angel to see this project through, but all the fat-cats seem to have disappeared. 2. n. a sweetheart. (Also a term of address.) ☐ See my angel standing over there? Isn't he gorgeous? ☐ Okay, angel, let's get in the car. 3. n. a sniper hiding in a high place, such as on the roof of a building. ☐ The guards looked upward, watching for angels.

angel dust AND angel hair; dust of angels n. the common name for phencyclidine (PCP). (Originally drugs.) ☐ Angel dust is getting to be quite a problem in this town. ☐ I thought that angel hair and stuff like that was a problem of the sixties.

angel hair Go to angel dust.

angle 1. n. selfish motive; ulterior motive. ☐ Okay, Ted, I know you better than to think that you are doing this out of the kindness of your heart. What's your angle? ☐ I don't have any angle. I have reformed. 2. n. slant; bias; focus. ☐ Let's try to get a good angle on this news story so the wire service will buy it from us. ☐ I think that by studying the Maya I will be able to develop a new angle on why they disappeared.

animal n. a male who acts like a beast in terms of manners, cleanliness, or sexual aggressiveness. (Also a term of address.) ☐ You are an animal! ☐ Stop picking your nose, animal.

ankle 1. n. an attractive woman or girl. (Typically with some.) ☐ *Now, there's some ankle I've never seen around here before. ☐ Do you get ankle like that around here all the time? 2. in. to walk [somewhere]. ☐ *I have to ankle down to the drugstore. ☐ Why should I ankle when I can drive? 3. in. to walk away from one's employment; to leave. (See also walk.) ☐

One more day like this, and I'm gonna ankle. ☐ I didn't fire her. I told her she could ankle if she wanted.

ankle biter Go to rug rat.

annihilated mod. very drunk; intoxicated with a drug. ☐ The boys came in annihilated and their father had plenty to say to them. ☐ Pete and Gary went out and got annihilated.

another peep (out of you) n. another complaint, word, or sound from someone. (Usually in the negative.) ☐ I don't want to hear another peep out of you! ☐ I've heard enough! Not another peep!

ante ['ænti] 1. n. an amount of money that must be contributed before playing certain card games such as poker. ☐ *What's the ante to join this game? ☐ That's a pretty high ante. Forget it! 2. n. the charge or cost. ☐ *What's the ante for a used 1985 four-door? ☐ The ante is marked on the sticker.

anti ['ænti OR 'æntai] 1. n. someone who is against someone or something. ☐ *She's an anti. Don't even ask her. ☐ All the antis are going to vote for it this time. 2. mod. against someone or something. (Sometimes with the force of a preposition.) ☐ *I'm not anti the proposal, I just have some questions. ☐ Four are in favor, and two are anti.

antifreeze n. liquor; any legal or illegal alcohol. ☐ With enough antifreeze, I can stand the cold. ☐ Here's some antifreeze to stop your teeth from chattering.

antifreezed mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Man, I feel totally antifreezed. ☐ He appears to be frozen even though he's antifreezed.

antsy ['æntsi] mod. nervous; restless. (See also have ants in one's pants.) ☐ You look a little antsy. What's wrong? ☐ Who is that antsy guy? ☐ She gets antsy before a test.

Anytime. interj. You are welcome.; Happy to oblige. (Sometimes said in response to Thank you.) ☐ MARY: Thanks for the ride. PAUL: Anytime. Think nothing of it. ☐ TOM: You've been a real friend, Sally.

I can't thank you enough. SALLY: Anytime.

A-OK mod. in the best of condition. ☐ I really feel A-OK.

ape n. a hoodlum or strong-arm man, especially if big and strong. (Underworld.) ☐ Tell your ape to let me go! ☐ You take your apes and get out of here!

aped [ept] mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ I've never seen my brother so totally aped before. ☐ He comes home aped about once a month.

ape hangers n. long steering handles on a bicycle or motorcycle. ☐ Who is that guy riding the bike with ape hangers? ☐ Aren't ape hangers sort of dangerous?

apeshit 1. mod. excited; freaked out. (See also go apeshit over someone or something. Usually objectionable.) ☐ He was really apeshit about that dame. 2. mod. drunk. (Acting as strangely or comically as an ape.) ☐ The guy was really apeshit.

app n. an application; a computer software application. ☐ Ted bought a new app for word-processing and he says it's a killer. ☐ Ted's killer app can run circles around your old WordSun program.

apple 1. n. a baseball. ☐ Jim slammed the apple over the plate, but the ump called it a ball. ☐ Just when I raised my arm to throw to second, the damn apple slipped out of my hand and rolled down my arm. Now, explain that! 2. n. an Amerindian who behaves more like a European than an Amerindian. (Like the apple, the person is red on the outside and white on the inside. Patterned on oreo. See also banana. Rude and derogatory.) ☐ Stop acting like an apple all the time! ☐ Sam is your typical apple. Can't decide who he really is. 3. n. a breast. (Usually plural. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Look at the firm little apples on that girl!

apple-polisher n. a flatterer. ☐ Doesn't that wimpy apple-polisher know how stupid he looks? ☐ Everybody at the office seems to be an apple-polisher but me.

applesauce n. nonsense. ☐ Don't give me that applesauce. I know better. ☐ That's just applesauce!

arb [arb] n. an arbitrageur; a market speculator. (Securities markets.) ☐ The arbs are at it again, buying up companies like hot cakes. ☐ I wanted to be an arb, but it takes about forty million to get in the door.

Are we away? interrog. Shall we go?; Let's go. (Really a command to depart expressed as a question.) ☐ Well, it's late. Are we away? ☐ The car's warmed up. Are we away?

ark [ark] n. an old car. ☐ Why don't you get rid of that old ark and get something that's easier to park? ☐ This ark is the most comfortable car I've ever had. I'll drive it till it falls apart.

arm n. a police officer. (Underworld. See also long arm of the law.) ☐ What'll you do if the arms come in while you're sawing the bars of your cell? ☐ So this arm says to me, "Going to a fire?"

armpit n. any undesirable place. (A nickname for an undesirable town or city.) ☐ Who wants to spend a weekend in an armpit? ☐ The town should be called the armpit of the nation.

arm-twister n. someone who uses strong persuasion. ☐ I hate to seem like an arm-twister, but I really need your help on this project. ☐ My aunt works as an arm-twister collecting overdue bills for the telephone company.

arm-twisting n. powerful persuasion. ☐ The boss is very good at arm-twisting. ☐ If nice talk won't work, try a little arm-twisting.

army brat n. a child born to a parent in the army. (Such a child will live in many different places.) ☐ I was an army brat and went to seven different schools before I got out of high school. ☐ We army brats tend to stick together.

(a)round the bend 1. mod. crazy; beyond sanity. ☐ I think I'm going around the bend. ☐ She sounds like she's round the bend already. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ One more of those, and you'll be around the bend. □ From the look in her eye, I'd say she is completely round the bend now.

artillery 1. n. guns; grenades. (Underworld.) □ Where does Frank stash the artillery? □ All the artillery is locked in the trunk of the getaway car. 2. n. flatware; cutlery. □ Who put out the artillery? I didn't get a fork. □ Go get your own artillery. This ain't the Ritz.

[artist] n. a combining form meaning specialist. See also booze artist; bullshit artist; burn artist; castor oil artist; con artist; flimflam artist; hype artist; make-out artist; off artist; (rip-)off artist; take-off artist.

artsy-craftsy mod. dabbling in arts and crafts; artistic. □ Wally is sort of artsy-craftsy. □ Gary's an artsy-crafty kind of guy with lots of talent. □ The artsy-craftsy crowd held a show in the library parking lot last Sunday.

artsy (fartsy) mod. obviously or overly artistic. (Use caution with fart.) □ The decorations were sort of artsy fartsy, but the overall effect was quite nice. □ Things are a little artsy fartsy in the south dorm, but most of the residents are really nice.

(as) close as stink on shit phr. very close; intimate; inseparable. □ In love? He's as close to her as stink on shit.

As if! exclam. <an expression said when someone says something that is not true but wishes that it were.> □ A: I've got a whole lot of good qualities. B: As if!

asleep at the switch mod. inattentive to duty. (Not literal.) □ Donald was asleep at the switch when the call came in. □ He sat there reading—asleep at the switch as usual.

asphalt jungle n. the paved landscape of the city; the city viewed as a savage place. □ I don't look forward to spending the rest of my days in an asphalt jungle. □ I want to go back to Kansas. I hate the asphalt jungle.

ass 1. n. the buttocks. (Usually objectionable.) □ This big monster of a guy threatened to kick me in the ass if I didn't get out of the way. 2. n. women considered as sexual gratification. (Rude and derogatory.) □ All he could think about was getting some ass. 3. n. one's whole body; oneself. (Usually objectionable.) □ Your ass is really in trouble!

asshole 1. n. the opening at the lower end of the large bowel; the anus. (Usually objectionable.) □ I was so mad I could have kicked him in the asshole. 2. n. a worthless and annoying person. (Also a term of address. Rude and derogatory.) □ Somebody get this asshole outa here before I bust in his face!

ass-kisser AND ass-licker n. a flatterer; an apple polisher; someone who would do absolutely anything to please someone. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Sally is such an ass-kisser. The teacher must have figured her out by now.

ass-kissing AND ass-licking 1. n. the act of fawning over and flattering people. (Rude and derogatory.) □ After his show of ass-kissing, Fred thought the judge would let him off with a light fine. 2. n. pertaining to the act of fawning over and flattering people. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Shut your ass-licking mouth and start talking straight, or I'm gonna bust you one.

ass-licker Go to ass-kisser ass-licking Go to ass-kissing.

ass out mod. broke. (Usually objectionable.) □ I ain't got a cent. I'm ass out, man.

ass over tit mod. [of someone falling] rolling and bounding over. (Usually objectionable.) □ He fell, ass over tit, down the stairs.

ass-wipe AND butt-wipe 1. n. a useless and annoying person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Get outa here, you ass-wipe! 2. n. toilet paper. (Usually objectionable.) □ There's no goddamn ass-wipe left in here!

astronomical mod. extremely expensive; of any very high figure. □ The prices here are astronomical! □ The market indexes have all reached astronomical heights for the second time.

at a snail's gallop Go to at a snail's pace.

at a snail's pace AND at a snail's gallop mod. very slowly. □ Things are moving along at a snail's pace here, but we'll finish on time—have no fear. □ Poor old Wally is creeping at a snail's gallop because his car has a flat tire.

ate up with someone or something mod. consumed with someone or something; intrigued by someone or something. □ Bob is really ate up with his new girlfriend.

at loose ends mod. nervous and anxious; bored with nothing to do. □ Tom usually works puzzles whenever he's at loose ends. □ I'm at loose ends on weekends.

atomic wedgie n. an instance of pulling someone's underpants up very tightly—from the rear—so that the cloth is pulled between the victim's buttocks; a severe wedgie or melvin. □ I'm going to sneak up behind Bob and give him an atomic wedgie.

attic n. the head, thought of as the location of one's intellect. □ She's just got nothing in the attic. That's what's wrong with her. □ Ken has an attic full of fear and resentment he needs to clean out before he will feel comfortable again.

attitude-adjuster n. a police officer's nightstick; any club. □ The officer said he would bring order to the gathering with his attitude-adjuster. □ Andy had a black attitude-adjuster hanging from his belt, and I wasn't going to argue with him.

Aunt Flo n. a woman's menstrual period. (Used especially in expressions. See also visit from Flo. Refers to the menstrual flow.) □ I am sorry to announce that Aunt Flo has come for a visit. □ It's Aunt Flo again. She is such a pest.

avenue tank n. a bus. □ Watch out for them avenue tanks when you cross the street.

the avs [ævz] n. chance; the law of averages. (Streets.) □ The avs say that I ought to be dead by now. □ It looks like the avs finally caught up with him.

away 1. mod. out (in baseball). □ Jim put the last one away, and that is three outs retiring the side. □ There's one away and two men left on base. 2. mod. in prison. (Underworld.) □ My cousin is away for a year. □ The judge wanted to put him away for two years, but decided on one instead.

awesome 1. exclam. Great!; Excellent! (Usually Awesome! Standard English, but used often in slang.) □ You own that gorgeous hog? Awesome! □ Awesome! I'm impressed. 2. mod. impressive. □ Let me have a look at this awesome new box of yours. □ That thing is really awesome.

AWOL [e 'dæb]ju 'o 'el OR 'ewəl] mod. absent without leave; escaped from prison or from the military. (Acronym or initialism.) □ The kid the cops picked up was AWOL. He's had it. □ If I don't get back to the base, they're going to think I'm AWOL.

(Aw) shucks! exclam. a mild oath. (Folksy.) □ Shucks, ma'am. It wasn't anything at all. □ Aw shucks, I ain't never been this close to a woman before.

Aztec two-step n. diarrhea, specifically that contracted in Mexico or South America by tourists; Montezuma's revenge. □ I was there for only two days before I was struck down with the Aztec two-step. □ I spent a week in Cancun and never even heard of anybody with Aztec two-step.

B

BA n. bare ass; the naked buttocks. (See also hang a BA (at someone).) □ Cover up your BA and see who's at the door. □ The guy was running around with his BA showing.

babe 1. AND babes n.  (Also a term of address. See also baby.) □ Look, babe, get in there and tackle that guy! We're losing! □ Say, babes, bring me a beer, would you? 2. n. a good-looking woman. □ Who is that babe standing on the corner over there? □ That babe happens to be my sister.

baboon n. a jerk; a stupid person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Stop acting like a baboon! Grow up! □ Tell that ugly baboon to get out of here. □ Hey, baboon, get off my lawn!

baby 1. n. a lover; one's sweetheart. (Also a term of address.) □ Come over here and kiss me, baby. □ Look, baby, I think we can work this out. 2. n. a term of address for a friend or pal of either sex. □ Come on, baby, push this thing—hard! □ Hey, baby! Getting any action? 3. n. a thing; a gadget; a machine, such as a car. (Similar to sucker.) □ This baby is a real bear. □ Hand me that baby with the sharp point, will you? □ What kind of tranny does that baby have? 4. n. a project thought of as an offspring. (Always with a possessor.) □ Whose baby is the Johnson account? □ You give the report. This project is your baby.

baby bear n. a beginning highway patrol officer; a rookie cop. (Citizens band radio. See also Smokey (the Bear).) □ Some baby bear tried to arrest me for speeding, but I conned him out of it. □ He may be just a baby bear, but he can still bite hard.

Baby Bell n. one of the new, regional telephone companies that were formerly a part of American Telephone and Telegraph Company. (See also Ma Bell.) □ The Baby Bells are doing better than the parent company. □ "If the Baby Bells get into long distance service, say good-bye to Ma Bell," the hotshot money manager muttered in his third martini.

(baby) boomer n. someone born during the baby boom—from the last years of World War II until the early 1960s. □ When the baby boomers get around to saving up for retirement, you're going to see a lot of investment scams. □ At about age forty-five the boomers will start putting money away.

babycakes AND honeycakes n.  (Also a term of address.) □ My babycakes gave me a flimsy nightie for my birthday. □ Look, honeycakes, I found some lipstick on your collar.

baby-kisser n. a politician. □ Once those baby-kissers get in office, they spend, spend, spend. □ There were lots of promises at the town square today when four local baby-kissers tried to rally interest in the upcoming election.

The baby needs shoes. sent. Give me luck. (Said in games of chance, such as dice or bingo.) □ He shook the bones, saying, "The baby needs shoes." □ All the players in the crap game must be poor, because they kept saying that the baby needs shoes.

bach (it) Go to ba(t)ch (it).

back n. one's support or second in a fight. (From back-up.) □ Fred served as Tom's back in the scuffle. □ I need a back I can depend on.

backassed mod. pertaining to a manner that is backwards, awkward, or roundabout. (Old and widely known. Usually objectionable.) □ Of all the backassed schemes I've ever seen, this one is tops.

backbone n. courage; integrity. □ If you had any backbone, you would be able to deal with this. □ She lacks backbone, that's all.

backdoor trot(s) n. a case of diarrhea. (From the time when people had to go out the backdoor to the outhouse.) □ I can't go out tonight. I got a case of the backdoor trots. □ She gets the backdoor trot when she drinks wine.

backed up mod. drug intoxicated. □ Oh my God, I am really backed up! □ Old Benny's really backed up.

back-ender Go to rear-ender.

backer n. a supporter; a financier of a play, political campaign, etc. □ I had a lot of generous backers for the play. □ I was hoping for a backer, but the project was too chancy.

backfire in. to release intestinal gas anally, perhaps audibly. (Usually objectionable.) □ Whew! Somebody backfired! □ It was noisy when Dave backfired, and hardly anyone heard what happened.

backfire (on someone) in. [for a scheme meant to cause harm to someone or something] to harm the person who runs the scheme. □ I hope this plan doesn't backfire on me. □ Her attempt to frame Bill for the crime backfired.

backhander n. a backhand slap in the face. □ Then she gave me a powerful backhander without even looking to see who I was. □ Yes, officer, a perfectly strange woman came up and clobbered me with a backhander that loosened a tooth.

backlash n. the negative response to something. □ Was there any backlash aimed at your suggestion? □ We weren't prepared for the backlash we got.

back number n. an old-fashioned person. (Like an out-of-print issue of a magazine.) □ Some old back number wearing gaiters wants to have a word with you. □ Oh, Dad! You're getting to be such a back number!

back room mod. secret; concealed. □ I am going to watch for back room deals. □ All the candidates were selected in back room meetings.

back room boys Go to boys in the back room.

backseat driver n. an annoying passenger who tells the driver how to drive; someone who tells others how to do things. □ I don't need any backseat driver on this project. □ Stop being a backseat driver!

backside n. the buttocks; one's rear. □ She fell right on her backside. □ There is some mustard or something on your backside.

backslapper n. someone who is overly friendly and outgoing. □ At election time, city hall is filled with backslappers and baby-kissers. □ In the used car dealership, this backslapper comes up to me and tells me he's got something that will last me a lifetime.

back to square one phr. back to the beginning. (Often with go.) □ Well, it looks like it's back to square one. □ We've got to get this done without going back to square one.

back to the salt mines phr. back to the workplace. □ Well, it's Monday morning. Back to the salt mines. □ Break's over! Back to the salt mines, everybody.

back up in. to refuse to go through with something; to back out (of something). □ Fred backed up at the last minute, leaving me with twenty pounds of hot dogs. □ Don't back up now, man. It's too late.

bacon n. the police; a police officer. (See also pig.) □ Keep an eye out for the bacon. □ That bacon is hassling me!

bad 1. mod. powerful; intense. (Streets.) □ Man, that is really bad music! □ This grass is bad! 2. mod. suitable; excellent; good. (Streets.) □ I got some new silks that are really bad. □ That is a bad man dancing there. □ Look at those really bad shoes on that guy.

badass 1. mod. tough; bad; belligerent. □ Tom is one badass cop! □ Stop acting like such a badass punk! 2. n. a tough guy; a belligerent and arrogant person, usually a male. □ Don't be such a badass all the time. □ Tom is the classic badass. A real bum.

baddy AND baddie ['bædi] n. a bad thing or person. □ Using butter is supposed to be a real baddy. □ Marty has become such a baddie that no one speaks to her anymore.

bad egg n. a repellent person. □ You're not such a bad egg after all. □ She's a real bad egg.

bad hair day n. a bad day in general. (Also used literally when one's inability to do anything with one's hair seems to color the events of the day.) □ I'm sorry I am so glum. This has been a real bad hair day. □ It's just one bad hair day after another.

bad-mouth 1. tv. to speak ill of someone or something. (See also dirty mouth; poor-mouth.) □ I wish you would stop bad-mouthing my car. □ Harry bad-mouths everything he doesn't understand. 2. n. someone who speaks ill of someone or something. □ Harry is such a bad-mouth! □ The world is filled with bad-mouths. We need more caring people.

bad news 1. n. the bill for something. □ Here comes the bad news. □ Okay, let's see what the bad news is. 2. mod. unpleasant; unfortunate. □ That poor guy is really bad news. □ It's bad news Freddy on the phone again.

bad paper n. bad checks; a bad check. □ She got six months for passing bad paper. □ There is more bad paper passed in this town in one month than in all of Sweden for a whole year!

bad rap 1. n. a false criminal charge. (Underworld. The same as bum rap.) □ Freddy got stuck with a bad rap. □ All those guys get nothing but bad raps. Nobody's ever guilty. 2. n. unjustified criticism. □ This car has gotten a bad rap, and bad shit 1. n. a bad event; bad luck; evil practices. (Usually objectionable.) □ I had to put up with a lot of bad shit at my last job. Is this one gonna be the same? 2. n. bad drugs; adulterated drugs. (Usually objectionable.) □ Freddy got hold of some bad shit, and he's really sick.

I don't know why. □ Butter has been getting sort of a bad rap lately.

bad trip 1. n. a bad experience with a drug. (Drugs.) □ My first trip was a bad trip, and I never took another. □ The guide is supposed to talk you down from a bad trip. 2. n. any bad experience or person. □ This class is a bad trip. □ Harry can be such a bad trip.

bafflegab ['bæf|gæb] n. confusing jargon. □ Don't throw that bafflegab at me. Use English. □ Watch out for the bafflegab they use to try to sell that stuff.

bag 1. tv. to capture and arrest someone. (See also bagged. Underworld.) □ They bagged the robber with the loot still on him. □ We'll be able to bag the alleged killer when we have more evidence. 2. n. an ugly woman. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Tell the old bag to mind her own business. □ She has turned into an absolute bag. 3. n. one's preference; something suited to one's preference. □ My bag is things with whipped cream. □ That kind of stuff is just not my bag. 4. tv. to obtain something. □ I'll try to bag a couple of tickets for you. □ See if you can bag one of the red ones. 5. n. a container of drugs. (Drugs. Not necessarily a real bag.) □ Two bags of H. for two dimes? □ The man flipped a couple of bags out from a little stack he had held under his wrist by a rubber band. 6. in. to die. □ The guy was coughing so hard that I thought he was going to bag right there. 7. tv. to apply a respirator to someone. (Medical. The respirator has a bag attached to hold air.) □ Quick, bag him before he boxes.

bag ass (out of some place) AND barrel ass (out of some place); bust ass (out of some place); cut ass (out of some place); drag ass (out of some place); haul ass (out of some place); shag ass (out of some place) tv. to hurry away from some place; to get oneself out of a place in a hurry. (Usually objectionable.) □ I gotta shag ass, Fred. Catch you later.

bagged 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How can anybody be so bagged on four beers? □ She just sat there and got bagged.
2. mod. arrested. □ "You are bagged," said the officer, clapping a hand on the suspect's shoulder. □ "I'm not bagged yet, copper," said the crook.

Bag it! 1. exclam. Drop dead! (California. See also Bag your face!; Bag that!) □ You are not rad, and you are not awesome, so, like, bag it! □ Bag it yourself! 2. exclam. Shut up! □ Bag it! I'm reading. □ Oh, bag it! I've heard enough.

bagman ['bægmən] 1. n. a tramp. □ Two old bagmen wandered slowly down the lane. □ The bagman asked politely for some work that he would be paid for in food. 2. n. a drug dealer. (Drugs.) □ Sam was a bagman for a well-known dealer for a while. □ We don't just want the bagman. We want to arrest Mr. Big. 3. n. any racketeer. □ Some bagman from the mob was pulled out of the river yesterday. □ So you think you and your bagmen can just walk in here and take over!

bag of bones n. an extremely skinny person or animal. □ I'm just turning into a bag of bones. □ Get that old bag of bones off the racetrack!

bag of wind Go to windbag.

bag on someone in. to criticize someone. □ Stop bagging on me! I'm tired of all your complaining. □ If you are going to bag on everyone all the time, I don't want to hear about it.

bag someone tv. to put someone on a respirator. (A medical device, part of which is a rubber bag, used to help someone breathe.) □ Bag this guy quick. He is struggling to get his breath.

bag some rays Go to catch some rays.

Bag that! tv. Forget that! □ Bag that! The number I gave you was wrong. □ There are four—no, bag that!—six of the red ones and three blue ones.

Bag your face! exclam. Go away! (See also Bag it!) □ You outrage me. Bag your face! □ You are in the way. Bag your face!

Bahama-mama [bə'hɑmə'mɑmə] n. an obese black woman. □ Clare has turned into a real Bahama-mama. She's gonna have to lay off eating so much. □ That Bahama-mama who was just in here ordered four chocolate shakes.

bail (out) in. to resign or leave; to get free of someone or something. □ I can't take any more. I'm going to bail out. □ Albert bailed just before he got fired.

bail (out) on someone in. to depart and leave someone behind; to abandon someone. □ Bob bailed out on me and left me to take all the blame.

baked 1. mod. sunburned. □ I was out in the sun until I got totally baked. □ If you would use some lotion, you wouldn't get so baked. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ All four of them went out and got baked. □ I've never seen anybody so baked.

bald-headed hermit AND bald-headed mouse; one-eyed pants mouse n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ Somebody said something about the attack of the one-eyed pants mouse, and all the boys howled with laughter.

bald-headed mouse Go to bald-headed hermit

Baldwin n. a male. (As in Alec Baldwin.) □ Who is that Baldwin I saw you with last night?

baldy AND baldie ['baldi] n. a bald-headed man. □ I'm getting to be an old baldie. □ I turned into a baldy in my twenties.

ball 1. n. a wild time at a party; a good time. □ We really had a ball. See ya! □ Your birthday party was a ball! 2. n. a testicle. (Usually plural. Usually objectionable. See also balls.) □ The teacher preferred "testicles" to "balls," if they had to be mentioned at all. 3. in. to enjoy oneself. (Ambiguous with the next sense.) □ The whole crowd was balling and having a fine time. □ We balled the whole evening. 4. in. to depart; to leave. □ It's late.

Let's ball. □ We gotta ball. Later. 5. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ Isn't there anything more to you than balling? □ I hear she balled him but good. 6. in. to play a ball game. □ Bob's out balling with the guys. □ Hey, man! Get your shoes on and let's go ballin'!

ball and chain n. a wife; a girlfriend. (Mostly jocular.) □ I've got to get home to my ball and chain. □ My ball and chain is mad at me.

ball-breaker AND ball-buster 1. n. a difficult task; a difficult or trying situation requiring extremely hard work or effort. (Usually objectionable.) □ That whole construction job was a real ball-breaker. 2. n. a hard taskmaster; a hard-to-please boss. (Usually objectionable.) □ Tom gets a day's work for a day's pay out of his men, but he's no ball-breaker. 3. n. a female who is threatening to males. (Usually objectionable.) □ Mrs. Samuels has a terrible reputation as a ball-breaker. Wholly deserved, I might add.

ball-buster Go to ball-breaker.

ball-busting 1. mod. very difficult or challenging. (Usually objectionable.) □ Man, that was a real ball-busting job. I hope I never have to do that again. 2. mod. very obnoxious and threatening. (Usually objectionable.) □ Who is that ball-busting bitch? 3. mod. very industrious. (Usually objectionable.) □ That's a real ball-busting crew working on that job.

balled up mod. confused; mixed up. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ That dame is so balled up she doesn't know anything. □ This is really a balled-up mess you've made.

baller n. an athlete. (One who plays with footballs, basketballs, baseballs, etc.) □ You will make a lot of money as a professional baller. □ Most of the high-paid ballers are out of a job by the age of forty.

ballhead n. an athlete. (Perhaps a stupid one.) □ My dorm is full of ballheads. □ If you want to be a ballhead, you have to have talent and stamina.

The ball is in someone's court. phr. to be someone else's move, play, or turn. □ The ball's in your court now. You do something. □ I can't do anything as long as the ball is in John's court.

ball off Go to beat off.

ball of fire AND fireball n. an energetic and ambitious person; a go-getter. □ That guy is a real ball of fire when it comes to sales. □ I don't want to hire some young fireball. I need wisdom and thoughtfulness.

balloons n. a woman's breasts, especially large ones. (Usually objectionable.) □ What fine balloons on Jim's girl!

ball park estimate AND ball park figure n. a rough estimate. □ I can only give you a ball park estimate at this time. □ All I need is a ball park figure. Exactness comes later.

ball park figure Go to ball park estimate.

balls 1. n. the testicles. (Usually objectionable.) □ He got hit in the balls in the football game. 2. exclam. an exclamation of disbelief. (Usually an exclamation: Balls! Usually objectionable.) □ Out of gas! Balls! I just filled it up! 3. n. courage; bravado. (Usually refers to a male, but occasionally used for females. Usually objectionable.) □ He doesn't have enough balls to do that!

ball someone or something up tv. to mess someone or something up; to put someone or something into a state of confusion. □ When you interrupted, you balled me up and I lost my place.

ballsy 1. mod. courageous; daring; foolhardy. (Usually said of a male. Usually objectionable.) □ Who is that ballsy jerk climbing the side of the building? 2. mod. aggressive; masculine. (Said of a female, especially a masculine female. Usually objectionable.) □ You act too ballsy, Lilian. You put people off.

ball up in. to mess up; to make a mess of things. □ Take your time at this. Go slow and you won't ball up.

ballyhoo ['bælihu] 1. n. publicity. □ I have never heard so much ballyhoo for such a lousy movie. □ After the ballyhoo died down, we realized that nothing at all had really changed. 2. tv. to promote or publicize someone or something. □ They ballyhooed this movie on television for a month before it came out. □ We promise to ballyhoo John at election time.

balmed mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also bombed (out); embalmed.) □ Tom was totally balmed and went to bed. □ Fred and Wilma went out and got totally balmed.

balmy 1. mod. crazy; giddy. □ You are totally balmy if you think I will put up with that stuff. □ What a balmy idea! 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She's not just drunk, she's a little balmy. □ How can anybody be so balmy on four beers?

baloney AND bologna [bə'lɒni] n. nonsense. (Also as an exclamation.) □ Don't give me all that baloney! □ That's just a lot of bologna. Don't believe it for a minute. □ Baloney! You're nuts!

baltic mod. cold; very cold. □ It really looks baltic out there today.

bamboozle [bæm'buzl] tv. to deceive someone; to confuse someone. (See also bamboozled.) □ Don't try to bamboozle me! I know what I want! □ The crooks bamboozled the old man out of his life savings.

bamboozled [bæm'buzld] 1. mod. confused. □ This stuff sure has me bamboozled. □ I don't know who's more bamboozled, you or me. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Collegiate.) □ She's not just drunk, she's totally bamboozled. □ She just sat there and got bamboozled as the dickens.

bamma n. a rural person, such as someone from Alabama; a hick. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Some bamma in a pickup truck nearly ran me off the road.

banana n. an American of East Asian descent who acts too much like a Caucasian. (The person is yellow on the outside and white on the inside. Patterned on oreo. See also apple. Rude and derogatory.) □ Stop acting like such a banana! □ Dave is the classic banana. Can't quite figure out who he really is.

banana-head n. a stupid person. (Usually objectionable.) □ Kelly can be such a banana-head! □ Ask that banana-head why she is wearing a coat like that in July.

banana oil n. nonsense. □ That is the silliest banana oil I have ever heard! □ I refuse to listen to any more of your childish banana oil.

banana republic 1. n. a stereotypic small Central American country having continual political turmoil. (Formerly of interest to the U.S. only because it supplied bananas.) □ This is no banana republic! Things like this aren't supposed to happen here! □ If you want to change governments like underwear, maybe you should emigrate to some banana republic. 2. mod. in turmoil, like a stereotypic small Central American country. □ Who would think that you would have banana republic politics in your own backyard? □ We've had enough of your banana republic tactics!

bananas 1. mod. crazy. (Often with go, see also go bananas.) □ You are driving me bananas! □ You were bananas before I ever showed up on the scene. 2. mod. enthusiastic. □ The audience was bananas over the new star. □ The kids were bananas when they saw their presents.

B. and B. mod. breast and buttock, having to do with entertainment featuring female nudity. □ There were some picketers in front of the store protesting the sale of B. and B. mags over the counter. □ Many movies contain a little B. and B. just to get an R-rating.

bang 1. n. a bit of excitement; a thrill; some amusement. □ We got a bang out of your letter. □ What a bang the party was! 2. n. the degree of potency of the alcohol in liquor. □ This stuff has quite a bang! □ The bang is gone from this wine. 3. n. an injection of a drug; any dose of a drug. (Drugs.) □ I need a bang pretty fast. □ If Albert doesn't have a bang by noon, he gets desperate. 4. tv. & in. to inject a drug. (Drugs.) □ They were in the back room banging away. □ She banged herself and went on with her work. 5. n. a drug rush. (Drugs.) □ One snort and the bang will knock you over. □ There was one sudden bang and then nothing. 6. tv. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Did you bang her? Huh? Tell me! 7. n. an act of copulation. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ One bang was never enough for Wallace T. Jones. He was never satisfied.

(bang) dead to rights mod. in the act; [guilty] without question. ☐ We caught her dead to rights with the loot still on her. ☐ There he was, bang dead to rights with the gun still smoking.

banger 1. n. the front bumper of a vehicle. ☐ Other than a dent or two in the banger, this buggy's okay. ☐ How much for a used banger like this old heap? 2. n. a hypodermic syringe. (Drugs.) ☐ Jed dropped his banger and really panicked when it broke. ☐ His banger and other stuff were upstairs under a loose board.

bang for the buck n. value for the money spent; excitement for the money spent; the cost-to-benefit ratio. ☐ I didn't get anywhere near the bang for the buck I expected. ☐ How much bang for the buck did you really think you would get from a twelve-year-old car—at any price?

banging mod. good; exciting. ☐ We had a banging good time at the concert.

bang in the arm n. an injection of narcotics. (Drugs. See also bang. Compare this with shot in the arm.) ☐ The guy looked like he needed a bang in the arm right then! ☐ One good bang in the arm leads to another, they always say.

bang-up mod. really excellent. ☐ We had a bang-up time at your bash. ☐ I like to throw a bang-up party once or twice a year. ☐ Another bang-up day at the factory!

banjaxed ['bændʒækst] 1. mod. demolished; ruined. ☐ My car is totally banjaxed. What a mess! ☐ Everything I worked for is now banjaxed. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ She just sat there and got banjaxed. ☐ All four of them went out and got banjaxed.

bank 1. n. money; ready cash. ☐ I can't go out with you. No bank. ☐ I'm a little low on bank at the moment. 2. n. a toilet. (Where one makes a deposit.) ☐ Man, where's the bank around here? ☐ I have to go to the bank and make a deposit.

banker's hours n. short work hours: 10:00 A.M. to 2:00 P.M. ☐ When did you start keeping banker's hours? ☐ There aren't many bankers who keep banker's hours these days.

bankroll 1. n. a roll or wad of currency; one's cash assets. ☐ My bankroll is getting a little low. ☐ Don't show that bankroll around here! 2. tv. to finance something. ☐ We were hoping to find somebody who would bankroll the project. ☐ Wilson Sanderson, famous for bankrolling struggling acting companies, could not be reached for comment.

barb n. a barbiturate; a barbiturate capsule. (Drugs.) ☐ Old Joey is hooked on barbs. ☐ You got a barb I can bum?

Barbie doll n. a pretty, giddy girl or woman. ☐ She's just a Barbie doll. ☐ Ask that little Barbie doll if she wants a drink.

bare-ass(ed) mod. with a naked posterior exposed; totally naked. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ He ran right through the room—totally bare-assed—looking scared as hell.

barf [barf] 1. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ I think I'm going to barf! ☐ Don't barf here. 2. n. vomit. ☐ Is that barf on your shoe? ☐ Whatever it is, it looks like barf. 3. in. [for a computer] to fail to function. ☐ The whole system barfed about noon, and all the data was lost. ☐ My little computer barfs about once a day. Something is wrong. 4. AND barfola [barf'olə] interj. dammit; Good grief! (Often Barfola!) ☐ Oh they're late. Barfola! ☐ Barfola! You're out of your mind!

barf bag n. a bag available on an airplane for persons who are nauseated. ☐ I hope I never even have to see anyone use a barf bag. ☐ What do they do with used barf bags?

Barf City n. someone or something disgusting or undesirable. (Barf = vomit.) ☐ The guy is gross! Just plain Barf City! ☐ The movie was really bad; Barf City, I'd say.

barfly 1. n. a person who frequents bars. □ Who will trust the word of an old barfly like Wally? □ There were only a few of the regular barflies hanging over their drinks when I walked into Mike's place. 2. n. a drunkard. □ You're nothing but an old barfly! □ Some barfly staggered out of the tavern straight into the side of a car.

barfola Go to barf.

Barf out! exclam. This is awful! (California.) □ Look at that scrungy wimp! Barf out! □ Barf out! Get a life!

barf-out n. an unpleasant person or thing. □ What a barf-out! I want my money back. □ That guy is a real barf-out.

barf out in. to become very upset; to freak out; to psych out. □ I nearly barfed out when I heard he was coming.

barf someone out tv. to totally disgust someone. □ God! That kind of music just barfs me out! Who can stand all that slow stuff?

(bargaining) chip n. something to be used in negotiations. □ I want to use this incident as a bargaining chip in future negotiations. □ I need a few chips to use when we get down to drawing up the contract.

bari AND bary ['bæri] n. a baritone saxophone, the saxophone with a pitch range approximating that of the human baritone voice. (Musicians.) □ Wally played the bari when he was in college. □ A fine bary will cost thousands of dollars.

barking spider AND trumpet spider n. the imaginary source of the sound of an audible release of intestinal gas. □ Hey, Chuck! Did I hear a barking spider over there? □ Heidi, do you know anything about the trumpet spider I keep hearing?

barnburner n. an attention-getting event or development. □ The current barnburner in Washington is the Wilson investigation. □ This is a real barnburner! Everyone will want to see it.

Barney 1. n. the penis, especially if erect. (Usually a nickname. Alludes to color.) □ Now, put Barney away and let's talk about our relationship. □ Barney wants to come out and play. 2. n. a nerd; a wimp; an unattractive male. (From the Flintstones character or the children's dinosaur character.) □ Sam's an old Barney—a real loser. □ If you weren't such a Barney, you'd stick up for your own rights.

barnstorm 1. tv. & in. [for an entertainer] to perform in small towns for short engagements. □ My great-uncle used to barnstorm Kansas and Oklahoma with his medicine show. □ He barnstormed for three years before his death. 2. in. to perform stunts in a biplane in small towns. (Presumably swooping around barns.) □ When we used to barnstorm, everybody thought we were kooks. □ The old biplane we used to barnstorm with is the safest plane ever built.

barnyard mod. smutty; obscene. (Refers to the dung found in barnyards. See also barnyard language.) □ Those barnyard movies belong in the barnyard. □ You are thinking barnyard thoughts again. I see it in your eyes.

barnyard language n. dirty language. □ We don't allow any barnyard language in the house! □ I don't care to hear so much barnyard language.

barracuda n. a predatory person, especially a predatory woman. □ She's a barracuda. Better watch out! □ I wouldn't get involved with those barracudas if I were you.

barrel 1. tv. & in. to drink liquor to excess. □ Those guys are barreling like beer was going out of style. □ Stop barreling beer and let's go home. 2. n. a drunkard. □ The barrel was full up and through for the evening. □ A tired and weepy barrel staggered in and fell into a booth in the corner. 3. in. to go fast; to speed while driving. □ He was barreling along at about ninety. □ She barreled out of here like a bat out of hell.

barrel ass in. to move or drive carelessly and rapidly. □ He was barrel assing along at nearly ninety. □ I'm gonna barrel ass outa here in just one minute.

barrel ass (out of some place) Go to bag ass (out of some place).

barreled (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Those guys are really barreled up! □ She spends a lot of time barreled.

barrel fever 1. n. drunkenness. □ She seems to get barrel fever about once a week. □ I think she has figured out what caused her barrel fever. 2. n. a hangover. □ Man, have I ever got barrel fever. □ That business last night gave me a touch of barrel fever. 3. n. the delirium tremens. □ The old man is down with barrel fever again. □ The barrel fever hit him in the middle of the night.

barrel of fun n. a tremendous amount of fun. □ Tracy is just a barrel of fun on dates. □ We had a barrel of fun at your party.

bary Go to bari.

base 1. mod. rude; gross. (California.) □ You are so, like, base! □ What a base creep! □ Oh, how base! 2. Go to free base.

baseballing Go to free-basing.

base binge [...bindʒ] n. a binge on free base, a form of cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Clare is off on another base binge. □ Base binges are very expensive.

basehead Go to baseman.

baseman AND basehead n. someone who is using free base, a form of cocaine; someone who is on base. (Drugs.) □ They say that all those rich guys are basemen. □ The baseheads in the dorm finally got caught. □ The stuff is so powerful that one whiff and you're a basehead. □ Basemen shouldn't drive.

bash [bæʃ] 1. n. a wild party; a night on the town. □ What a bash! I'm exhausted! □ There's a big bash over at Wally's place. 2. in. to party; to celebrate. □ Let's go out and bash, how 'bout it? □ No more bashing for me till I recover from last night.

bashed [bæʃt] 1. mod. crushed; struck. □ His poor car was bashed beyond recognition. □ Give me that bashed one, and I'll straighten it out. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ All four of them went out and got bashed. □ I've never seen anybody so bashed.

bashing n. criticizing; defaming. (A combining form that follows the name of the person or thing being criticized.) □ I am sick of your college-bashing! □ I hope you'll excuse the broker-bashing, but some of these guys don't play fair. □ On TV they had a long session of candidate-bashing, and then they read the sports news.

basing Go to free-basing.

basket n. the stomach. (See also bread-basket.) □ I got a pain in the basket. □ You've got a lot of something in your basket. It's huge.

basket case n. a person who is a nervous wreck. (Formerly referred to a person who is totally physically disabled.) □ After that meeting, I was practically a basket case. □ The waiting was so intense that I was a real basket case.

Basra belly ['bɑsrə 'bɛli] n. diarrhea; a case of diarrhea. □ The Basra belly hit me while I was on the bus. □ How do you tell Basra belly from Montezuma's revenge?

bastard 1. n. a person of illegitimate birth. (Standard English. Considered by some as impolite, at best, except in historical references.) □ When I learned I was a bastard, I couldn't help but think of all the times I have been called one. 2. n. an obnoxious and offensive person. (Usually a male. Especially with dirty. Usually objectionable.) □ You goddamn, stupid bastard! What the hell do you think you are doing? Get your butt out of here—now!

basted ['bestəd] 1. mod. beaten; harmed. □ The team got basted three games in a row. □ We were really basted in the market crash. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I got totally basted. □ I got so basted I vowed never to touch another drop.

bat 1. n. a drinking bout. □ She was on a bat that lasted over a week. □ What's the longest bat you've ever heard of? 2. n. a drunkard; a person on a drinking spree. □ Somebody give that bat a hand before he falls down. □ A tired old bat—still waving a bottle—met me on the stairs.

ba(t)ch (it) [bætʃ...] tv. & in. to live alone like a bachelor. □ I tried to bach it for a while, but I got too lonely. □ I didn't want to batch, but I had to.

bathtub scum n. a totally despised person. (See also pond scum; shower scum.)

Also a term of address.) □ Look out, bathtub scum, outa my way! □ John is bathtub scum at its worst.

bats 1. AND batty mod. crazy. □ You're bats! □ You are driving me batty! 2. AND batty mod. alcohol intoxicated; confused and drunk. □ The guy was bats—stewed to his ears. □ She was sort of batty from the wine. 3. the bats n. the delirium tremens. (Always with the.) □ My buddy is shaking because of a slight case of the bats. □ The bats getting you down again, Jed?

batted 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She spends a lot of time battled. □ Will this stuff get me battled? 2. AND batted out mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ I got battled out on my first day as a booster. □ This gal got battled twice last year on the same rap.

batted out Go to batted.

battered mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, was I battered. I will never drink another drop. □ Those guys really got battered at the party.

battle-ax ['bædɪ 'æks] n. a belligerent (old) woman. (Derogatory.) □ Tell the old battle-ax she can go straight to blazes. □ I can handle any battle-ax. Send her on in.

battle of the bulge n. the attempt to keep one's waistline normal. (Named for a World War II battle.) □ She appears to have lost the battle of the bulge. □ I've been fighting the battle of the bulge ever since I had the baby.

battleships Go to gunboats.

batty Go to bats.

bay window n. a belly; an abdomen. □ You are going to have to do something about that bay window. □ Your bay window is getting out of hand.

bazillion [bə'zɪljən] n. an indefinite, enormous number. □ Ernie gave me a bazillion good reasons why he shouldn't do it. □ Next year's bazillion-dollar budget should make things even worse.

bazoo AND wazoo 1. n. the human mouth. □ You want me to punch you in the wa-

zoo? 2. n. the stomach or belly. □ His great wazoo hung poised, out over his belt, like it might dive down to the floor and bounce off across the room. 3. n. the anus; the buttocks. (Jocular and euphemistic.) □ One more word like that and I'll give you a kick in the wazoo that you'll remember for a long time.

bazoom(s) n. a woman's breasts; the female bosom. (Usually objectionable.) □ I don't know how it happened, but a whole bowl of jello went down this lady's, uh, bazoom, and we haven't the slightest idea what to do about it!

bazoongies n. a woman's breasts. (Usually objectionable.) □ Every time she moved forward, even just a little, her bazoongies tended to stay behind, for just a second. Oh, God!

B-ball n. basketball; a basketball. (See also hoops; V-ball.) □ Let's go play some B-ball. □ Toss me the B-ball, huh?

BB brain n. a stupid person; a person with a brain the size of buckshot. (Also a rude term of address.) □ What BB brain left the door open? □ Look here, BB brain, straighten up and fly right!

BBL in. be back later. (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ Bye. BBL. □ See you. BBL.

BCNU ['bi'si'ən'ju] tv. Be seeing you. (An initialism. Appears in informal written contexts.) □ Bye for now. BCNU. □ Todd always closes his notes with "BCNU."

beach bum n. a young man who frequents beaches. □ A bronzed beach bum helped me find my lotion. □ Some of those beach bums are getting to look sort of old.

beach bunny n. a young woman who frequents beaches. □ This little beach bunny bounced up and offered to put lotion on me. □ They say that most of those beach bunnies have some degree of sun blindness.

beak 1. n. a nose. □ What a beak on that guy! □ I want some glasses that sit in just the right place on my wonderful beak. 2. in. to gossip; to chatter. □ We stood around and beaked for a while. □ Stop beaking and get to work.

beam Go to (I-)beam.

beamer n. a user of IBM computers; one who is knowledgeable about IBM computers. (See also beemer.) □ I'm no beamer! I'm a Mac fan. □ Fred is a confirmed beamer, especially now that computers are cheaper.

beaming Go to on the beam.

Beam me up, Scotty! sent. Get me out of here!; Take me away from this mess! (From the television program Star Trek.) □ This place is really crazy! Beam me up, Scotty! □ I've heard enough! Beam me up, Scotty!

beam up in. to die. (From the television program Star Trek.) □ Pete dead? I didn't think he was old enough to beam up. □ I was so exhausted after climbing four flights that I was afraid I would beam up.

bean 1. n. the head. □ I got a bump right here on my bean. □ Put your brim on your bean and cruise. 2. tv. to hit someone on the head. (See also beanball.) □ The lady beamed me with her umbrella. □ A board fell off the scaffold and beamed the worker. 3. Go to beans.

beanball n. a pitched baseball that strikes the batter on the head, usually by accident. (Baseball.) □ He got hit by a beanball and went after the pitcher with a bat. □ The guy is a master at throwing a beanball and living to tell about it.

bean-counter n. a statistician; an accountant. □ When the bean-counters get finished with the numbers, you won't recognize them. □ The bean-counters predict a recession sometime in the next decade.

beamed up mod. high on amphetamines. (Drugs.) □ Ernie is beamed up again. □ Two students were beamed up and were sent home.

beanery n. a cheap eating establishment. (Where baked beans are served.) □ I stopped in for a cup of brew at a little all-night beanery on Thirty-fourth. Barlowe was waiting. □ I'm tired of eating in beaneries.

bean head 1. n. an oaf. (Also as one word.) □ You are such a bean head! □ Why I keep running around with a bean head like you is beyond me. 2. n. a drug user who uses pills habitually. (Drugs.) □ You bean heads are just as much junkies as the jerks who shoot. □ There's no harm in being a bean head.

beanpole n. a skinny person. □ I'm getting to be such a beanpole. □ I used to be a beanpole. Look at me now—both of me!

beans 1. n. nothing. □ You act like you don't know beans about it. □ I have nothing I can give you. Nothing, zotz, beans! 2. n. nonsense. (Refers to beans that produce gas, which is hot air or nonsense.) □ Come on, talk straight. No more beans! □ Stop feeding me beans. 3. n. soybean futures contracts. (Securities markets. Usually with the.) □ The beans are headed south. □ Buy the jan beans and sell puts on the bellies. 4. n. money; dollars. □ No beans left. Can't buy threads. □ Gimme some beans. I gotta get some gas.

bean time n. dinnertime. □ Hey, you guys! It's bean time! □ I'm hungry. When's bean time around here?

Bean Town n. Boston, Massachusetts. (From Boston baked beans.) □ I plan to hit Bean Town about noon. □ I got a lot of buddies in Bean Town.

bear 1. n. a difficult task. □ This problem is a real bear. □ This is a bear of a job. I'll be glad when it's over. 2. n. an ugly woman. (Derogatory.) □ Tell the old bear to hold her tongue. □ How can a bear like that be allowed to run around loose? 3. n. a highway patrol officer. (See also Smokey (the Bear).) □ There's a bear hiding under that bridge. □ A bear is over-head, watching your speed from a helicopter.

bear cage n. a police station. (Citizens band radio.) □ Have you ever been in a country bear cage? □ I sat for two hours in that stinking bear cage.

bear in the air n. a police officer in an airplane or a helicopter. (Citizens band radio.) □ They've got a bear in the air on duty in northern Indiana. □ There's a bear in the air and another regular one keeping watch over your speed.

bear trap n. a hidden speed trap, one set by a bear. (Citizens band radio.) □ That whole town is a glorified bear trap. □ I got caught in a bear trap.

beast 1. n. an ugly person. □ Who is that beast with the big hat? □ That beast should give the monkey back its face before it bumps into something. 2. n. a crude, violent, or sexually aggressive male; an animal. □ That beast scares the hell out of me. □ Oh, Martin, you're such a beast! 3. n. liquor. □ I feel a little overcome by the beast. □ Pour me some more of that beast.

beasty mod. [of a person] undesirable; yucky. (California.) □ You are like, so like, beasty! □ I can't stand that gross beasty jerk!

beat 1. mod. exhausted; worn-out. □ I'm just beat! □ The whole family was beat after the game. 2. mod. down and out; ruined. □ This thing is beat. I don't want it. □ Who wants a beat hat? 3. n. the area that a worker, a police officer, reporter, etc., is assigned to cover. □ That's not on my beat. You'll have to talk to someone else. □ Your store is on my beat, and I want to make sure everything is okay. 4. n. [in music] the rhythm, especially the bass. □ Man, that is just the kind of beat I like. □ The notes are nice, but it has no beat! 5. mod. having to do with the Bohemian youths of the 1950s. □ My brother looked sort of beat, but I was neat as a pin. □ Actually, I don't think I ever saw anybody who I would call beat. □ The beat guys are all gone now. 6. mod. broke. □ Man, I'm beat. I got no copper, no bread. □ All we need is another beat mouth to feed. 7. tv. to get free from a specific criminal charge or rap. □ I tried, but I couldn't beat the rap. □ I beat it twice, but there is no third time. 8. mod. having to do with counterfeit or bogus drugs. (Drugs.) □ This stuff is beat. Ditch it! □ Whose ever it is, it's beat. 9. mod. having to do with marijuana after the smokable substance is exhausted; cashed. □ This stuff is beat. Who wants it? □ Who sold you this beat dope? 10. mod. lousy; unfortunate. (Collegiate.) □ This has been a beat day. □ What a beat deal you got!

beat box n. the person who provides the (verbal) rhythmic beat in a rap song. □ What makes him sound so good is his beat box. □ Let me be the beat box this time.

beater 1. n. a junky old car. □ I like my old beater even if it has no bumpers. □ I want an old beater that doesn't cost more than 800 bucks. 2. Go to beatnik.

Beat it! exclam. Get out!; Go away! □ You bother me. Beat it! □ Beat it! I've had it with you.

beatnik AND beater ['bitnik AND 'bitɜː] n. a member of the Bohemian subculture that flourished in the 1950s. (The nik is from Russian via Yiddish.) □ Those beatniks back in the fifties were something to behold. □ This beater comes up to me and mumbles something I can't hear.

beat off AND ball off; jack off; jag off; jerk off; pull oneself off; toss off; wack off; wank off; whack off; whank off; whip off 1. in. to masturbate. (Usually objectionable.) □ They say if you beat off too much, you'll get pimples. 2. in. to waste time; to waste one's efforts; to do something inefficiently. □ The whole lot of them were jacking off rather than sticking to business.

beat one's brains out (to do something) tv. to work hard at a task. □ I'm tired of beating my brains out to do what you want. □ He beat out his brains to get here on time!

beat one's gums tv. to waste time talking a great deal without results. □ I'm tired of beating my gums about this stuff. □ You're just beating your gums. No one is listening.

beat one's meat Go to beat the dummy.

beats me tv. [the answer is] not known to me. (The emphasis is on me.) □ I don't know the answer. Beats me! □ Beats me how those things stay in the air.

beat someone or something out tv. to outdistance someone or some group; to perform better than someone or some group. □ We have to beat the other com- pany out, and then we'll have the contract.

 ☐ I beat out Walter in the footrace.

beat someone's brains out 1. tv. to beat someone severely. ☐ She threatened to beat my brains out. ☐ Those thugs nearly beat his brains out. 2. tv. to drive oneself hard (to accomplish something). ☐ I beat my brains out all day to clean this house, and you come in and track up the carpet! ☐ Don't beat your brains out. Just give it a good try.

beat something out tv. to type something or play something on the piano. ☐ It'll just take me a few minutes to beat this out. ☐ He beat out a cheery song on the old ivories.

beat the drum for someone or something tv. to promote or support someone or something. ☐ I spent a lot of time beating the drum for our plans for the future. ☐ The senator is only beating the drum for his special interests.

beat the dummy AND beat the meat; beat one's meat; beat the pup; choke the chicken; pound one's meat; pull one's pud; pull one's wire; whip one's wire; whip the dummy; yank one's strap tv. to masturbate. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Are you going to sit around all day pulling your pud?

beat the meat Go to beat the dummy.

beat the pup Go to beat the dummy.

beat the shit out of someone AND kick the shit out of someone, knock the shit out of someone tv. to beat someone very hard. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Shut up, or I'll beat the shit out of you!

beat up mod. visibly worn; shabby. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) ☐ Get your beat-up car painted or something! ☐ My coat is too beat up to wear to the opera.

beauhunk n. a good-looking male. (Based on bohunk. A play on beau = boyfriend, and hunk.) ☐ Who is that gorgeous beauhunk over there? ☐ Jennifer went out with a real beauhunk who turned out to be a dipwad.

beaut [bjut] n. someone or something excellent, not necessarily beautiful. ☐ Man, this fishing rod's a beaut! ☐ This is a beaut of a day!

beautiful mod. very satisfying; excellent. ☐ This wine is really beautiful! ☐ Man, this place is beautiful. You got your own sink and toilet right in the room and good strong bars to keep the riffraff out.

beauty sleep n. sleep; the sleep one requires. (Usually mentioned by nonbeautiful men as a joke.) ☐ I gotta get home and get my beauty sleep. ☐ You really need some beauty sleep. Why don't you try a week of it and see if that works?

beaver 1. n. the female genitals. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ He thought he could see her beaver through her swimming suit. 2. n. women considered as receptacles for the penis. (Rude and derogatory.) ☐ He devoted most of his teen years to dreaming about beaver.

bed-bunny 1. n. a young female who will copulate with any male. ☐ Wally says he's looking for a nice warm bed-bunny. 2. n. a female who enjoys sex immensely. ☐ Wanda turned out to be a hot bed-bunny even though she had seemed sort of dull.

bed of roses n. a luxurious situation; an easy life. ☐ Who said life would be a bed of roses? ☐ If I had a million bucks, I would be in a bed of roses.

bedrock 1. n. fundamentals; solid facts. ☐ Let's get down to bedrock and quit wasting time. ☐ This is bedrock—the truth. 2. mod. fundamental. ☐ You've been avoiding the bedrock issues all your life. ☐ Let's hear some more about these bedrock ideas.

bedroom eyes n. seductive eyes. ☐ Beware of bedroom eyes. They mean trouble. ☐ She batted those bedroom eyes at me, and I knew I was a goner.

bedtime story Go to fairy tale.

beecher n. a man who chews Beechnut (brand) tobacco. (Usually derogatory.) ☐ Some old beecher wandered in and looked like he was going to leave a remembrance on the floor. ☐ The lobby of the county courthouse was populated by beechers and old hound dogs.

beef 1. n. a complaint; a quarrel. □ I gotta beef against you. □ Okay, what's the beef? 2. n. a criminal charge or complaint. □ Well, officer, what's the beef? □ The beef is that you appear to have left the bank Monday with about seventy-five grand that isn't yours. That's the beef! 3. n. a large and muscular male. □ Let's get one of those beefs in here to help. □ The two beefs pushed and pushed, but couldn't budge the crate. 4. in. to complain. □ Stop your beefing! □ What's he beefing about now? 5. in. to break wind; to release intestinal gas audibly. (Usually objectionable.) □ Who beefed? □ Wally warned everybody that he was going to beef. 6. n. an act of breaking wind. (Usually objectionable.) □ All right! Who's beef was that? □ Jimmy made another beef! 7. in. to crack up and get injured as in a skateboard accident. □ Chuck beefed and wrecked his elbow. □ Be careful or you'll beef!

beefcake 1. n. a display of the male physique. (See also cheesecake.) □ There was one calendar showing beefcake rather than the usual cheesecake. 2. n. a muscularly handsome male. □ She's been going out with a real beefcake. □ I prefer skinny guys to a beefcake.

beef-head n. an oaf; a meathead. □ Look you beef-head, lay off! □ This beef-head here thinks he knows how to do my job.

beef-hearts n. audible releases of intestinal gas through the anus. (Rhyming slang for farts. Usually objectionable.) □ No more of these beef-hearts!

beef something up tv. to add strength or substance to something. □ Let's beef this up with a little more on the drums. □ They beefed up the offer with another thousand dollars.

beemer ['bimə:] n. a BMW automobile. (See also beamer.) □ I had to sell my beemer when the stock market crashed. □ Tiffany's beemer was leased, but no one was supposed to know.

been around (the block) phr. sexually experienced. □ He's just a kid. He hasn't been around the block yet.

been had AND was had 1. phr. been copulated with; been made pregnant. □ I've been had, and I'm going to have the baby. □ When she said she was had, I didn't know it was on her honeymoon. 2. phr. been mistreated, cheated, or dealt with badly. (See also taken.) □ Look at this shirt! I was had! □ I've been had by that lousy gyp joint.

beeper n. a portable telephone signal. □ I have somebody call me during a meeting so my beeper will go off and get me out of it. □ My beeper went off, and I had to leave the meeting.

beer 1. in. to drink beer. □ Fred and Tom sat in there watching the game and beer-ing and belching like two old whales. □ Let's just sit here and beer for a while. 2. tv. to get oneself drunk on beer. □ I beered myself, but good. □ Let's go beer a few.

beer and skittles [...'skɪdɪz] n. something very easy to do; an easy time of it. □ Did you think life was all beer and skittles? □ All you want is beer and skittles. Don't you know you have to work hard for what you want?

beer belly AND beer gut n. a large belly. □ You're going to end up with a real beer belly hanging over your belt if you don't let up on that stuff. □ Look at the beer belly on that guy.

beer blast AND beer bust n. a beer-drinking party; a beer binge. □ Kelly's having a beer blast at his place, starting tonight. □ There is a beer bust somewhere around here almost every night.

beerbong ['bɪrbɒŋ] 1. n. a can of beer prepared for drinking in one gulp. (An opening is made in the bottom of a can of beer. The can, with the opening placed in the mouth, is turned upright, and the tab opener is pulled, releasing all the beer directly into the mouth. In another version, the beer is poured into a funnel attached to a plastic tube that leads to the drinker's mouth.) □ Do you know how to make a beerbong? □ A beerbong is a great way to liven up a party. 2. in. to drink beer as described in sense 1. □ Those guys who were beerbonging all barfed after it was over. □ I tried beerbonging once, just once.

beer bust Go to beer blast.

beer goggles [...'gaglz] n. a condition of the eyes of someone wherein all persons of the opposite sex look very attractive. (Usually said about the eyes of males.) □ Three beers and it's beer goggles for Walter. □ See how Wally is looking at that bowser. He's got his beer goggles on!

beer gut Go to beer belly.

beeswax ['bizwæks] n. business; concern. (See also mind your own beeswax; none of someone's beeswax.) □ Is this any of your beeswax? □ Tend to your own beeswax.

beetle n. a Volkswagen automobile. □ We wanted to buy a beetle, but decided on a domestic model. □ I remember when people used to put big windup keys on their beetles to make them look like windup toys.

beetlebrain ['bidlbren] n. a stupid person. □ Some beetlebrain left a can of paint in the hall, and guess who knocked it over? □ Why are you such a beetlebrain when it comes to math?

beeveedees Go to BVDs.

beezer ['bizə] n. the nose. □ I've got a zit on my beezer. □ I was afraid he would bop me on the beezer.

begathon n. a televised appeal for contributions, especially as conducted by U.S. public television stations. □ It seems like this station is one long begathon all year long.

behind n. the posterior; the buttocks. □ I've got a boil on the behind that's driving me crazy. □ She needs some jeans that will flatter her behind.

behind bars mod. in jail; in prison. □ You belong behind bars, you creep! □ I've got something here that will keep you behind bars for years.

behind the eight ball 1. mod. in trouble; in a weak or losing position. □ I'm behind the eight ball again. □ John spends a lot of time behind the eight ball. 2. mod.

broke. □ Sorry, I'm really behind the eight ball this month. I can't make a contribution. □ I was behind the eight ball again and couldn't make my car payment.

beige [beɪʒ] mod. boring; insipid. (California. See also vanilla.) □ The party is beige. Let's cruise. □ This day is way beige! Bag it!

be-in n. a gathering of hippies. □ A meeting of happy people, yes; a be-in this is not. □ This is just like a sixties be-in. Lots of phony love.

belch [beltʃ] 1. in. to bring up stomach gas. (See also berp.) □ They swallow beer by the can and see who can belch the loudest. □ I belched, and everybody stared. 2. n. a burp; an upwards release of stomach gas. □ That was the loudest belch I've ever heard. □ What I really need is a good belch. 3. n. beer, especially bad beer. □ Where did you get this belch? □ Pass the belch. Anything's good on a hot day.

belcher ['beltʃə] 1. n. a beer drinker. □ Look at the belly on that belcher! □ Harry is a confirmed belcher. 2. n. a hard drinker; a drunkard. □ A couple of belchers wandered in about midnight. Other than that, the night is dead. □ I'm a belcher, and I know it.

Believe you me! exclam. You should believe me! □ Believe you me, that was some cake! □ This is a fine picnic. Believe you me!

bellies n. pork bellies; pork belly futures. (Securities markets. Often with the.) □ What are the dec bellies doing? □ Buy the bellies and sell the beans.

bells and whistles n. extra, fancy gadgets. □ I like machines with all the bells and whistles. □ All those bells and whistles add to the cost.

bellyache ['beliek] 1. n. a stomachache. □ Oh, mama, do I have a bellyache! □ That stuff will give you one fine bellyache. 2. in. to complain. □ You are always bellyaching! □ Don't bellyache to me about it!

belly button n. the navel. □ Is your belly button an insy or an outsy? □ Do dogs have belly buttons?

belly fiddle n. a guitar. □ Listen to that guy play that belly fiddle!

belly flop 1. n. a failed dive where there is a loud noise when the flat of the stomach hits the water. □ Wow, I never knew that a belly flop hurts! □ A belly flop gets zero points in a dive meet. 2. in. to dive into the water so that the flat of the stomach hits the water, usually making a loud noise. □ Sam belly flopped again. □ I get so embarrassed when I belly flop!

bellyful n. more than enough; more than one needs. □ I've had a bellyful of your excuses. □ You've given us all a bellyful. Now, good night.

belly laff Go to belly laugh.

belly laugh AND belly laff n. a loud, deep, uninhibited laugh. □ I don't want to hear giggles when I tell a joke. I want long belly laughs. □ I let out a loud belly laff at the preacher's joke. A no-no, for sure.

belly up 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Sylvia was boiled—belly up—glassy-eyed. □ After four beers, I was belly up, for sure. 2. mod. dead. □ That's the end. This company is belly up. (See also turn belly up.) □ After the fire the firm went belly up. 3. Go to belly up (to something).

belly up (to something) in. to move up to something, often a bar. □ The man swaggered in and bellied up to the counter and demanded my immediate attention. □ As he bellied up, he said, "Do you know who I am?"

belt 1. n. a blow with the fist or hand. □ Quiet or I'll give you a belt in the chops. □ I got a belt in the gut for my trouble. 2. tv. to strike someone. □ Quiet or I'll belt you one! □ Don't belt me! 3. n. a kick or a thrill. □ We all got quite a belt from your jokes. □ Kelly gets a belt from roller coasters. 4. n. the rush or jolt from an injection of a drug. (Drugs.) □ This stuff has one hell of a belt. □ The belt nearly knocked her over. 5. n. an injection of a drug. (Drugs.) □ I could use a belt of smack to hold off the pain. □ Gimme a belt in the leg, will you? My arms are finished. 6. n. a swallow of liquor. □ He took a belt and rolled it around in his mouth be- fore draining it down into his rumbling belly. □ Three more quick belts and he was ready to sit down and talk. 7. tv. to drink (something). (See also belt the grape.) □ He belted his drink and asked for another. □ Don't belt it! Savor it! Go slowly.

belted mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ How many belts does it take to get belted? □ We were belted out of our minds.

belt the grape tv. to drink wine or liquor heavily and become intoxicated. □ He has a tendency to belt the grape—twenty-four hours a day. □ She's been belting the grape more than she wants.

Be my guest. sent. Please go in front of me.; Please make yourself comfortable in my home. □ John stood aside at the open door and said to Walter, "Be my guest." □ Help yourself to whatever you need. Be my guest.

bench 1. tv. to take someone out of a ball game. □ The coach benched Jim, who injured his arm. □ If you don't stop fouling, I'll bench you! 2. tv. to retire someone; to withdraw someone from something. □ I worked as a bridge painter for twenty-five years until they benched me. □ The manager benched the entire sales staff for cheating on their expense reports.

bench jockey n. a player who sits on the bench and calls out advice. □ The coach told all the bench jockeys to shut up. □ Do what you are told, or be a bench jockey for the rest of the season!

bench warmer n. a ballplayer who spends most of the game on the bench waiting to play; a second-rate player. □ You'll never be anything but a bench warmer. □ I do what I'm told so I can play every game. I don't want to be a bench warmer.

bender 1. n. a drinking binge. (See also twister.) □ Her benders usually last about ten days. □ Paul is off on a bender again. 2. n. a heavy drinker; a drunkard. □ This bender comes up to me and nearly kills me with his breath, asking for a match. □ In the dim light I could make out a few of the regular benders, but Harold wasn't there.

bend one's elbow AND bend the elbow; lift one's elbow tv. to take a drink of an alcoholic beverage; to drink alcohol to excess. □ He's down at the tavern, bending his elbow. □ Paul gets lots of exercise. He bends his elbow thirty times a day.

bend the law tv. to cheat a little bit without breaking the law. (Jocular.) □ I didn't break the law. I just bent the law a little. □ Nobody ever got arrested for bending the law.

benies n. benefits. (See also benny.) □ The salary is good, but the benies are almost nonexistent. □ Are retirement contributions one of your benies?

Benjamin AND Benji n. a one-hundred dollar bill. (Bearing a picture of Benjamin Franklin.) □ You owe me two Benjamins!

benny AND bennie n. a Benzedrine™ capsule or tablet. □ You got a benny or two you could spare a poor man? □ A couple of bennies will chase away the blues.

bent 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I've never seen two guys so bent. □ I can get bent on a glass of wine. 2. mod. dishonest; crooked. □ I'm afraid that Paul is a little bent. He cheats on his taxes. □ A lot of those officeholders get bent in office—if they weren't before. 3. mod. angry. □ He was so bent there was steam coming out of his ears. □ Come on, don't get bent. I was only kidding.

bent out of shape 1. mod. angry; insulted. □ Man, there is no reason to get so bent out of shape. I didn't mean any harm. □ I got bent out of shape because of the way I was treated. 2. n. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I was so bent out of shape I thought I'd never recover. □ I've been polluted, but never as bent out of shape as this.

benz [benz] 1. n. Benzedrine™. (Drugs.) □ Benz will pep you up, but you give it all back later. □ Stay off the benz. Coffee is enough to perk anybody up. 2. AND Benz n. a Mercedes Benz automobile. □ I traded in my Benz for a beemer. □ My uncle had a Benz that he took back to Germany every two years for service.

berp AND burp 1. in. to bring up stomach gas. (See also belch.) □ She burped quietly behind her hanky, so no one would no- tice. □ Try not to burp at the table. 2. n. an upward release of stomach gas. □ The burp did not go unnoticed. □ What can you do when you berp in church?

berps AND burps n. liquor; beer. (See also belch.) □ Did you bring the berps for the party? □ Hey, this is pretty good berps.

berpwater n. beer; ale; champagne. □ I don't care for all that berpwater. □ Berpwater is for sissies.

berries 1. the berries n. the best; the finest. (Always with the. A noun with the force of an adjective.) □ Those people are really the berries. □ Man, this stuff is the berries! 2. n. wine. (Originally black. See also grape(s).) □ Lemme stop at the liquor store for some berries. □ No berries for me. Where's the belch?

best bud n. a best buddy; a best friend. □ Isn't Bill your best bud? Why are you so mad at him?

best buy n. a sexually loose woman. □ That chick is a best buy.

bet one's bottom dollar tv. to be very certain of something; to bet in complete certainty of winning. (Need not refer to an actual bet.) □ I bet my bottom dollar you never ever went to Alaska! □ He bet his bottom dollar on that horse, and it died at the gate.

bet someone dollars to doughnuts tv. to bet something of value against something worth considerably less. □ I bet you dollars to doughnuts that she is on time. □ He bet me dollars to doughnuts that it would snow today.

better half n. one's wife, and occasionally, one's husband. □ My better half disapproved of the movie. □ I gotta go home to my better half.

Better luck next time. sent. I wish you luck when you try again. □ So you goofed up. Better luck next time. □ You blew it, you stupid twit. Better luck next time.

betty 1. n. some fake drugs; a bad drug buy. □ John's supplier slipped him some betty. 2. n. a good-looking girl or woman. (Usually Betty.) □ Who's your new Betty, Bob?

between a rock and a hard place mod. in a very difficult position; facing a hard decision. ☐ You got him caught between a rock and a hard place, for sure. ☐ I'm between a rock and a hard place. I don't know what to do.

between you, me, and the bedpost Go to between you, me, and the lamppost.

between you, me, and the lamppost AND between you, me, and the bedpost phr. just between you and me. ☐ Between you, me, and the lamppost, things are going to get worse before they get better. ☐ They're worse than you think now, just between you, me, and the bedpost.

bewottled mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Sam was so bewottled that he could hardly walk. ☐ Garth and Wayne were severely bewottled.

bezongas n. a woman's breasts. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ I've never seen so many definitely fine bezongas all in one place at the same time.

BF n. best friend. (Initialism. Collegiate.) ☐ You would have thought you and she were BFs to hear her talk. ☐ Sharon is my BF.

BFD exclam. Big fucking deal!; So what? (Usually objectionable.) ☐ So, you've got serious money problems. BFD!

BFE Go to butt-fucking Egypt

BG interj. big grin. (An initialism used in computer forum or news groups to show that the writer is joking or happy. Not pronounced. Often enclosed, <BG>.) ☐ I haven't seen you on the board. I thought you had run away from home. <BG> ☐ Your last message was filled with misspelled words, but I think I could understand what you meant. <BG> bhang [bæŋ OR bɑŋ] 1. n. the marijuana plant. (Drugs. From Hindi.) ☐ Martha grows bhang in a pot in her room. ☐ She farms bhang for her own use. 2. n. a marijuana cigarette; the smoking of a marijuana cigarette. ☐ Max had to stop for a bhang. ☐ The kids found an old bhang in Fred's car.

bhang ganjah [bæŋ 'gændʒə OR bɑŋ 'gundʒə] n. marijuana; marijuana resin.

(Drugs.) ☐ It's the bhang ganjah that gives the stuff its kick. ☐ Can you get bhang ganjah by itself?

bhong Go to bong.

bi 1. n. the biceps. (Typically BI. Usually plural.) ☐ I have to work on my BIs and then build up my thighs. 2. mod. bisexual. ☐ Suddenly she suspected that she was getting involved in some sort of strange bi activities. 3. n. a bisexual person. ☐ This information is of interest only to bis and gays.

bicarb ['baɪkɑrb] n. bicarbonate of soda, used for an upset stomach. ☐ I sure could use a little bicarb after that chili she served. ☐ I can't stand that sweet-tasting stuff. I want bicarb.

biff [bɪf] 1. tv. to hit someone. ☐ Tom biffed Fred on the snoot. ☐ Fred got biffed, and that really made him mad. 2. n. a blow. ☐ The biff on the nose gave Fred a nosebleed. ☐ Tom got a biff in the gut for his trouble.

biffy ['bɪfi] n. a toilet. ☐ Where's the biffy? ☐ The house we toured has a pink biffy. Can you believe it?

the Big Apple n. New York City. ☐ The Big Apple is filled with young kids trying to get into show biz. ☐ Max and his gang went to the Big Apple to lie low for a while.

big-ass mod. really big. ☐ Did you see that big-ass SUV hit the little Honda? ☐ Shut up your big-ass mouth!

bigass 1. n. a person with very large buttocks. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Some bigass came in and broke the chair when he sat down. 2. mod. pertaining to someone who has very large buttocks. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Tell that bigass jerk to get out! 3. mod. pertaining to a person who is self-important, overbearing, or arrogant; pertaining to anything having to do with arrogance. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Take your bigass ideas and go back where you came from.

big blue n. the stock of International Business Machines or the company itself. (Securities markets. See also (I-)beam.) ☐ I have 400 shares of big blue that I would like to sell. □ Big blue led the market lower again today.

big board n. the New York Stock Exchange. (Securities markets.) □ On the big board, stocks were down again today, bringing the loss this week on the Dow to nearly 175 points. □ Is that stock on the big board or where?

big brother 1. n. a personification of the totalitarian state. (From George Orwell's 1984.) □ Big brother has changed the tax laws again. □ Now big brother has fixed it so you can't even baby-sit without paying taxes. 2. n. someone who personifies the totalitarian state: the police, parents, teachers. □ Old big brother grounded me for a week. □ Big brother says the paper is due tomorrow, or else.

big bucks n. a lot of money. (See also megabucks.) □ To me, $400 is big bucks. □ She gets paid big bucks to worry about stuff like that.

big-C. 1. n. cancer. (Usually with the.) □ She was struck with the big-C. □ The big-C. will finish off quite a few of us. 2. n. cocaine. (Drugs.) □ When she started taking big-C., she was only eight. □ They use kids to deliver big-C. because they know they're not going to get put in prison.

big cheese n. the boss; the key figure; the leader. □ Here's a note from the big cheese telling me to come in for a chat. □ The big cheese is giving everyone a bonus at the end of the year.

big-D. n. Dallas, Texas. □ Kelly is from big-D. □ What is big-D. famous for?

big deal 1. n. something really important. □ Don't make such a big deal out of it! □ This isn't a big deal as I see it. 2. exclam. So what!; What does it matter? (Usually Big deal!) □ So he snores! Big deal! Snore back! □ She says to me, "Your socks don't match." And I says back, "Big deal!"

big drink n. the Atlantic Ocean; an ocean. □ We flew over the big drink in an hour or two. □ When you're over the big drink you really get to feel how tiny we humans are.

big drink of water 1. n. a very tall person. (Folksy.) □ Tim is sure a big drink of water. □ Kelly grew into a big drink of water. 2. n. a boring person or thing. (A pun on hard to take.) □ She is a big drink of water, but she could be worse. □ The lecture was a big drink of water.

big enchilada [...entʃə'lədə] n. the boss; the leader. (See also big cheese.) □ I wanna see the big enchilada! □ The big enchilada has sent word that it's safe to return.

big fish n. the boss; the leader. (Underworld.) □ We took in the little guys, but the big fish got away. □ The big fish ordered the killing.

biggie 1. n. something or someone important. □ This one's a biggie. Treat him well. □ As problems go, this one's a biggie. 2. n. copulation. (Usually with the.) □ But I don't think I'm ready for the biggie. □ He wanted to do the biggie!

biggity ['bɪɡədi] mod. haughty; aloof. □ Kelly is too biggity for my taste. □ Who is that biggity guy with the mustache?

big gun n. an important and powerful person, such as an officer of a company. (Often with bring in as in the example.) □ It went up to the big guns, who said no immediately. □ I knew they would bring in the big guns at the last minute.

big-H. n. heroin. (Drugs.) □ She's on big-H. now. Soon she'll be hooked for good. □ The big-H. in this town is so watered down, you can joy pop for years and never get hooked.

bighead n. a headache and other ill effects from drinking. □ I got a case of the big-head. Too much soda in my drinks, I guess. □ You look like you have the bighead this morning.

bigheaded 1. mod. conceited. □ Now don't get bigheaded, but you are a top drummer in my book. □ Look at him swagger. He is so bigheaded. □ What a bigheaded jerk! 2. mod. having a hangover. □ Tiffany is a little bigheaded this morning. □ I feel sort of bigheaded.

the big house n. a state or federal penitentiary. □ It's either go straight now or spend the rest of your life in the big house. □ Two years in the big house is like two years in a custom-made hell.

big iron n. a large, mainframe computer. (Computers. See also iron.) □ We'll have to run this job on the big iron over at the university. □ What kind of big iron do they have over there?

big John n. the police; a police officer. □ Big John is going to have to deal with you. □ Big John took her in and hit her with a vice rap.

big juice n. a big-time crook. (See also juice.) □ Marty's big juice now that he's got himself a gang. □ So, you're the big juice around here.

big kahuna n. the important person; the knowledgeable authority on some matter. (From the Hawaiian word for "priest." Sometimes capitalized.) □ Joe is the big kahuna around here when it comes to predicting stock market prices. □ Here comes the big kahuna. He thinks he knows everything.

big league 1. n. a situation where competition is keen and a high level of performance is expected. (Usually plural. Referred originally to major league sports.) □ In the big leagues you've got to know what you're worth. □ You're in the big leagues now—no more penny-ante stuff. 2. AND big-league mod. professional; big time. (From baseball.) □ He works for one of the big-league accounting firms. □ When I'm a big-league star, I'll send you free tickets.

Big Mac attack n. a sudden and desperate need for a Big Mac sandwich, a product of the McDonald's restaurant chain. (Big Mac is a protected trade name of McDonald's.) □ I feel a Big Mac attack coming on! □ I just can't fight off a Big Mac attack.

big man on campus n. an important male college student. (See more examples at BMOC.) □ Hank acts like such a big man on campus. □ Let some big man on campus do the dirty work for a change.

big mouth 1. n. a person who talks too much or too loudly; someone who tells secrets. (Also a term of address.) □ Okay, big mouth! Shut up! □ Tell that big mouth to shut up. 2. tv. to spread secrets around. □ Why do you always have to big mouth everything around? □ Don't you big mouth this, but I'm going to have a baby.

big name 1. n. a famous and important person. □ Lots of big names were there lending their support to the cause. □ One of the big names invited for the event canceled out at the last minute. 2. AND big-name mod. famous; important. □ Some big-name star I've never heard of was there pretending to serve dinner. □ The big-name ballplayers make millions.

big noise 1. n. an important person. □ If you're such a big noise, why don't you get this line moving? □ She's the big noise in Washington right now. 2. n. the important current news; the current scandal. □ What's the big noise around town now? □ There's a big noise up on Capitol Hill. Something about budget cuts.

big-O. n. opium. □ The big-O. is making a comeback, I hear. □ Most of the users of big-O. died out thirty years ago.

big of someone 1. mod. magnanimous of someone. □ That is really big of you, Fred. □ It was big of Tom to come back and apologize. 2. mod. nice of someone. (Often sarcastic.) □ A whole pound. Wow, that is really big of you! □ Three daisies he gave me! "Oh, that's big of you!" I said, batting my eyes.

big shot AND bigshot 1. n. a very important person. □ So, you really think you're a big shot. □ I'm no big shot, but I do have a little power around here. 2. mod. mighty; overbearing; overly-important. □ If you think that a big shot title impresses me, you're wrong. □ Your bigshot ideas are getting us nowhere.

big spender n. someone who spends a lot of money. (Often sarcastic.) □ The big spender left me a whole quarter tip! □ It's the big spenders who get themselves into money trouble.

big stink n. a major issue; a scandal; a big argument. □ There was a big stink made about my absence. □ Don't make such a big stink about it.

big talk 1. n. boasting; exaggerated claims. □ No more big talk. I want action! □ I heard nothing but big talk since you got here. 2. tv. to boss other people around. □ Don't big talk me. I know who you are. □ She came in and big talked everybody, and we just naturally thought she was the owner.

big-ticket mod. having to do with something expensive. □ Will the government cut back on the big-ticket programs? □ In a survey taken last month, heads of families said they were unwilling to put big-ticket items at the bottom of their shopping lists.

big time 1. n. the high level of success. □ I've finally reached the big time! □ When the pressure in the big time got to be too much, the guy simply retired. 2. AND big-time mod. outstanding; extravagant. □ This is one of your real big-time stars. □ I can't stand any more of this big-time living. 3. AND big-time mod. felonious. (Underworld.) □ Frank is into big-time stuff now. □ The gang pulled a real big-time job and got away with it.

big-time operator AND BTO 1. n. someone who does business in a big way. (The abbreviation is an initialism.) □ If you're such a BTO, why are we standing here in the rain? □ He's no big-time operator! 2. n. a man who chases women. □ This big-time operator comes up and asks me to go home with him. □ That twit thinks he's a big-time operator. A stud he's not.

big-time spender n. someone who spends a lot of money. □ Martin is the original big-time spender. □ A big-time spender doesn't look at the prices on the menu.

big top 1. n. a circus tent; the circus, in general. □ The best acts take place under the big top. □ And now, one of the greatest acts under the big top. 2. mod. having to do with the circus. □ Big top life doesn't appeal to me at all. □ One big top experience is enough to last me a lifetime.

big wheel n. a very important person. □ Some big wheel wrote the order. Don't blame me. □ Kelly was a big wheel with the gas company for a while.

bigwig n. an important person; a self-important person. □ The bigwig in charge of that sort of thing will be in tomorrow. □ Some bigwig in a pinstripe suit waltzed through and asked me to leave.

big with someone mod. preferred by someone. □ Soup is big with everybody in cold weather. □ This kind of ice cream is really big with my family.

big Z's n. sleep. □ I need me some of them big Z's. □ The big Z's must have set in before I could finish the movie.

bike n. a motorcycle; a bicycle. □ How much did that bike set you back? □ You have to wear a helmet with a bike that size, don't you?

bike boys n. cops; the police. □ Look out! Here come the bike boys.

biker n. a motorcycle rider. □ Four bikers roared by and woke up the baby. □ That biker is wearing about a dozen earrings.

bill and coo in. to kiss and cuddle. (In the manner of love birds.) □ Keep an eye on those kids. They aren't going to be satisfied with billing and cooing forever, you know. □ If they bill and coo enough now, maybe they will remember how when they're older.

billie AND bill(y) ['bɪli] n. paper money; a bill. (California.) □ Do you have any billies on you? □ Nope, no billies on me.

bimbo ['bɪmbə] 1. n. a clown-like person. □ What a silly bimbo! □ If that bimbo doesn't keep quiet, I'll bop him. 2. n. a giddy woman; a sexually loose woman. □ So she's a bimbo. She still has rights. Have a heart! □ Now the bimbo is a star in the movies.

bind n. a problem; a wrinkle. □ I've got a little bind here I didn't anticipate. □ Unfortunately, a new bind has slowed down the project.

bindle 1. n. a packet or bundle; a hobo's pack. □ The guy had a bindle tied to a stick, just like an old-time tramp. □ Throw your bindle over yonder, and plunk your butt on that empty crate. 2. n. a packet of drugs. (Drugs.) □ She had a bindle of H. in her purse. □ That bindle was more important than money.

binge [bɪndʒ] 1. n. a drinking or drugging spree. □ Larry is the type who likes a good binge every now and then. □ A coke binge can cost a lot of cabbage. 2. n. any spree of self-indulgence: emotional, gluttonous, etc. □ About Thanksgiving time I start a month-long eating binge. □ The crying binge started when Marty got off the train. 3. in. to drink heavily. □ He has been binging since June. □ She binges about once a month and is stone-cold sober the rest of the time.

binged ['bɪndʒd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She sat there, binged out of her mind. □ I'm gonna go out and get myself binged, but good.

Bingo! ['bɪŋɡo] exclam. Yes!; That's right! (From the game Bingo.) □ Bingo! I've got the answer! □ And we put this little jobber here, another one here, and Bingo! We're done.

bird 1. n. a woman; a girl. □ I like the bird you were with last night. □ What a bird! I want one. 2. n. a derisive noise made with the lips; a raspberry. □ The third time he fumbled, he was greeted by two thousand mouths making the bird. □ You guys making the bird aren't perfect either. 3. n. an odd person. □ Some old bird came up to me and tried to sell me a cookbook. □ This bird is too much for me. I'm leaving. 4. n. a rude gesture made with the middle finger. (Usually with the. See comments at finger wave.) □ The kid gave me the bird, so I bopped him. □ A lot of little kids give people the bird all the time because they see it on television. 5. n. an airplane. □ I like this bird. She's a dream to fly. □ The bird crashed on take-off. 6. n. one-hundred dollars. □ This thing cost three birds! Bull! □ Can you loan me a bird?

birdbrain 1. n. a stupid-acting person. □ You silly birdbrain. Stop it! □ I'm such a birdbrain. I forgot my driver's license, of- ficer. 2. AND birdbrained mod. stupid. □ I've never heard such a birdbrain idea in my life. □ Look, you birdbrained idiot, you are dead wrong!

birdbrained Go to birdbrain.

bird-dog 1. tv. to take away another man's girlfriend. □ Why'd you have to go and bird-dog me, your best buddy? □ I didn't bird-dog you. I'm just more loveable, that's all. 2. tv. to supervise someone; to tail someone. □ I wish you would stop bird-dogging me! □ Barlowe knew somebody was bird-dogging him, but he was too smart to show it.

birdseed 1. n. a small amount of money. (See also chicken feed.) □ That's just birdseed compared to what I spend. □ Forty billion is birdseed to a government with a 600 billion dollar budget. 2. n. nonsense. (Based on BS.) □ Cut the birdseed. I'm not stupid, you know. □ I've heard enough birdseed here to last for a lifetime.

birdturd 1. n. an obnoxious person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You silly birdturd. Wake up! □ Clare can be such a birdturd when she wants. 2. mod. stupid; obnoxious. (Usually objectionable.) □ Of all the stupid, underhanded, birdturd tricks—this takes the cake! □ Get your ugly birdturd car out of my driveway! 3. n. bird dung, especially if dried. (Usually objectionable.) □ There's a birdturd on your shoe. 4. mod. lousy; worthless. (Usually objectionable.) □ I don't want this birdturd job any longer. I quit!

bird watcher n. a girl watcher; someone, usually a man, who enjoys watching women go by. □ Harry is a dedicated bird watcher. □ You bird watchers should just mind your own business.

birdy AND birdie mod. crazy; strange. □ She acts a little birdy from time to time. □ Would you kindly take your birdie friends and go?

biscuit ['bɪskət] n. the head. □ She got a nasty little bump on the biscuit. □ He wears a tin can on his biscuit in case he tumbles.

bit 1. n. a jail sentence. (Underworld.) □ I did a two-year bit in Sing Sing. □ He got only a four-year bit. He was afraid of getting worse. 2. n. a small theatrical part. (From bit part.) □ I worked in bits for a year and then started selling used cars. □ It was just a bit, but I needed the money. 3. n. any part of an act; any business or presentation. □ I didn't like that bit concerning penalties. □ Now, in this next bit, you are to move stage center.

bit-bucket n. the imaginary place where lost computer data goes. (Computers.) □ I guess my data went into the bit-bucket. □ I bet the bit-bucket is filled with some of the best stuff in the world.

bitch 1. n. an unpleasant or irritating female. (Rude and derogatory.) □ How can anyone be expected to deal with a bitch like that? 2. in. to complain. (Usually objectionable.) □ Oh, stop bitching! I'm sick of hearing your noise. 3. n. a complaint. (Usually objectionable.) □ I've got a bitch about this new foreman. 4. n. a difficult thing or person. (Usually objectionable.) □ Life's a bitch. □ This algebra problem is a real bitch. 5. tv. to ruin something. (Usually objectionable. See also bitch something up.) □ You really bitched this coil of wire. □ Here's a clean one. Don't bitch it. 6. n. one's girlfriend. (Usually objectionable.) □ She's my bitch, and I love her. □ Me and my bitch really like this kind of stuff.

bitch box n. a public address system loudspeaker. (Military. Because it is always nagging.) □ I'm sick of listening to that bitch box day and night.

bitchen Go to bitchin'.

bitchin' AND bitchen; bitching 1. mod. excellent; great; classy. (Usually objectionable.) □ This is a totally bitchin' pair of jeans! 2. exclam. Terrific! (Usually Bitchin'!) □ Four of them? Bitchen!

bitch of a someone or something n. a very difficult or unpleasant person or thing. (Usually objectionable.) □ This is a bitch of a math problem!

bitch out in. to complain. (Usually objectionable.) □ You are always bitching out no matter how well off you are.

bitch session n. a session of complaining; an informal gripe session. (See also bitch. Usually objectionable.) □ We were just having a bitch session. Come on in.

bitch slammer n. a women's prison. (Streets.) □ They threw her in the bitch slammer for three years. □ She's meaner than a screw in a bitch slammer.

bitch someone off tv. to make someone very angry. (See also piss someone off. Usually objectionable.) □ You know what bitches me off? Soggy French fries, that's what!

bitch something up tv. to mess something up; to ruin or spoil something. (Usually objectionable.) □ The rain really bitched up our picnic.

bitch tits n. gynecomastia; the development of breast tissue in the male. (From bodybuilding, in reference to breast development caused by steroids. Usually objectionable.) □ If you don't let up on the gorilla juice, you'll get bitch tits.

bitchy mod. irritable; complaining. (Usually objectionable.) □ Why are you so bitchy today?

bite 1. in. to accept a deception; to fall for something; to respond to a come-on. □ I knew somebody would bite. □ We put up a sign advertising free pop, but nobody bit. 2. in. [for someone or something] to be bad or threatening. □ Watch out for Gloria. She bites! □ My dad bites, but don't worry, he's in a good mood. 3. in. to be irritating. (More severe than to suck, as in It sucks.) □ This movie is really dumb. It bites. □ This party bites. Sko. 4. tv. to copy something without permission; to steal something. □ Sue bit a copy of my term paper, and I almost got in trouble. □ Somebody bit my jacket!

bite on someone in. to copy something that someone else has done; to dress the same way someone else does. □ Nobody will bite on Sally. She has terrible taste. □ Jennifer is always biting on Anne, who is a careful dresser.

biter 1. n. a thief. (See also bite.) □ Some biter made off with my algebra book. □ Who's the biter who took my jacket? 2. n.

someone who copies someone else. (From the first sense.) □ She's wearing the same coat as me! What a biter. □ That's my steelo, you biter!

biters n. teeth. (Streets.) □ You wanna get socked in the biters? □ Jimmy got his biters stuck in the candy!

bite the big one tv. to die. □ I was so tired that I thought I was going to bite the big one. □ I hope I am old and gray when I bite the big one.

bite the bullet tv. to accept something difficult and try to live with it. □ You are just going to have to bite the bullet and make the best of it. □ Jim bit the bullet and accepted what he knew had to be.

bite the dust 1. tv. to die. □ A shot rang out, and another cowboy bit the dust. □ I'm too young to bite the dust. 2. tv. to break; to fail; to give out. □ My car finally bit the dust. □ This pen has bitten the dust.

Bite the ice! exclam. Go to hell! □ If that's what you think, you can just bite the ice! □ Get a life! Bite the ice!

Bite your tongue! exclam. Be sorry you said that!; Take back what you said! □ Me a thief? Oh, bite your tongue! □ Why do you say that this will fail? Bite your tongue!

a bit much mod. more than enough; more than good taste allows. □ That was a bit much, Paul. After all, there is such a thing as good taste. □ Your birthday card was a bit much, but thank you just the same.

bit of the action Go to piece (of the action).

biz [biz] 1. n. a business; business. □ What biz you in? □ I'm in the plumbing biz. 2. n. apparatus for injecting drugs. (Drugs.) □ The biz is right there in the towel on top of the stack. □ Use your own biz. I got that disease, I think.

blab [blæb] 1. n. talk; chatter; meaningless talk. □ I never pay any attention to blab like that. □ Cut the blab and get to work. 2. tv. to tell a secret; to reveal something private in public. □ I'll tell you if you promise not to blab it. □ Tiffany blabbed the whole thing.

blabbermouth 1. n. someone who talks too much and tells secrets. □ You are such a blabbermouth! □ See if you can keep your brother—who is a blabbermouth—to keep this still. 2. tv. to tell secrets in public. □ Don't blabbermouth this to everybody. □ Somebody blabbermouthed the story all over town.

black mod. without cream or milk. (Said of coffee.) □ I'd like mine black, please. □ Black coffee, good and hot, please.

black and blue mod. bruised, physically or emotionally. □ I'm still black and blue from my divorce. □ What is that black and blue area on your leg?

black and white n. the police; a black and white police patrol car; any police car. □ A black and white pulled up to the curb. □ Call the black and whites. We got trouble here.

blackball tv. to vote against someone in a secret ballot. □ Someone blackballed the prospective member. □ I chose to blackball her, and I'm not sorry.

black eye n. a moral blemish; an injury to the prestige of someone or something. □ The library has gotten a black eye from this incident. □ That kind of behavior can give us all a black eye.

blacklist 1. n. a list of the names of banned people; a list of people undesirable to some group. □ Am I on your blacklist? □ I hear they keep a blacklist of all the people they disagree with. 2. tv. to put someone's name on a list of undesirables. □ They blacklisted me for not belonging to the right organizations. □ Nobody else I know was blacklisted.

blade 1. n. a knife. □ Bring your blade over here and cut this loose. □ What are you carrying a blade for? 2. n. a young man, witty and worldly. □ One of those blades kept winking at me. □ A couple of blades from the international jet set ordered vintage wine for everyone. 3. n. a homosexual man. (From gay blade.) □ This blade comes up and says, like, "Gotta match?" □ Some blade came over and offered to buy me a drink.

blah [bla] 1. mod. bland; dull. □ What a blah performance! □ After a blah day like this I need something really exciting like a hot bath. 2. mod. depressed; worn out. □ When I get into a blah mood like this, I just want to cry. □ I'm really blah. Would you mind awfully if I just went home? 3. mod. alcohol intoxicated; very drunk. □ I got myself blah in about twenty minutes. □ We are going to get totally blah tonight.

blah-blah ['bla'bla] phr.  (It can be repeated many times.) □ Why all this blah-blah-blah? □ She's going blah-blah on the phone all the time.

the blahs [blaz] n. a state of mental depression. □ I've had the blahs about as long as I can stand. □ You look like you've got the blahs.

blanco ['blanko] n. a white person; a Caucasian. (From Spanish. Potentially derogatory.) □ Adios, blanco. □ The blancos arrived in droves.

blanket drill n. a night's sleep; sleep. (Military.) □ Fred is still on blanket drill. He's in for it. □ Blanket drill is the only thing I like in the army.

blankety-blank AND blankity-blank ['blæŋkədi'blæŋk] mod. damned. (From the past practice of printing blank spaces in place of banned words. See also blasted.) □ I'm tired of your blankety-blank bad humor. □ Get this blankity-blank cat out of here!

blast 1. n. an exciting party. □ Fred knows how to put on a real blast! □ What a blast we had! 2. n. a thrill; a kick. □ That gag gave me a blast. □ The roller coaster was a blast. 3. tv. to shoot someone with a gun. □ The speeding car drove by, and somebody tried to blast him with a machine gun. □ The cops blasted the crook till there was nothing left. 4. tv. to attack or criticize someone or something verbally. □ She really blasted the plan in front of the board. □ He blasted his brother until we all left in embarrassment. 5. n. a verbal attack. □ The senator leveled a blast at the administration. □ The administration delivered an enormous blast at the senate hearing. 6. n. the kick or rush from taking or injecting a drug. (Drugs.) □ That stuff really gives me a blast. □ With a blast like that, somebody's gonna get hooked fast.

blasted 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I got myself blasted. I'm really sorry. □ I got so blasted I swore never to blow another joint. 2. mod. damned. □ I asked her to get her blasted stockings off the shower curtain. □ Shut your blasted mouth!

blaster Go to (ghetto) blaster.

blaze in. to smoke marijuana. □ Two freshmen are in the restroom blazing.

blazes Go to (blue) blazes.

blazing mod. really good; really good looking; really hot. (See also blaze.) □ We had a blazing time at Jane and Bob's wedding reception.

bleed tv. to drain someone of money through extortion or continuous demands for payment. □ You can't bleed me anymore. I'm tapped. □ I'm going to bleed you till I get what I deserve.

bleed for someone in. to sympathize with someone. □ I really bleed for you, but there's nothing I can do. □ We bleed for you, we really do.

bleed like a stuck pig in. to bleed great volumes of blood. □ I poked a nail into my foot and bled like a stuck pig.

bleed someone dry Go to bleed someone white.

bleed someone white AND bleed someone dry tv. to take all of someone's money; to extort money from someone. (See also bleed.) □ The creeps tried to bleed me white. □ Frank got some picture of Fred and Paul together and tried to bleed both of them dry.

blimp n.  (Cruel.) □ Look at that blimp who just came in. □ This enormous blimp managed to get on the plane, but couldn't get into a seat.

blimped mod. alcohol intoxicated; swollen with drinking. □ I am still a little blimped from our party last night. □ I'm bigheaded and still blimped this morning.

blimp out in. to overeat. □ I love to buy a bag of chips and just blimp out. □ I only blimp out on weekends.

blind drunk mod. heavily alcohol intoxicated. □ You came in blind drunk last night. What's going on? □ They drank till they were blind drunk.

blind(ed) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I guess she was blinded. She couldn't stand up. □ They were both blind as they come.

(blind) munchies n. a craving for food or snacks. (Originally drugs.) □ There is nothing like potato chips when you've got the munchies. □ By midnight I had the blind munchies.

blindsided tv. [for someone or something] to surprise someone, as if sneaking up on the blind side of a one-eyed person (or animal). □ The new tax law blindsided about half the population. □ The mugger came up and blindsided her with a blow to the head before she knew what had happened.

blinkers n. the eyes. □ As I opened my blinkers, guess who I saw? □ Look at those classy blinkers!

blinky AND winky ['blɪŋki AND 'wɪŋki] n. a device for smoking free base, a form of cocaine. (Drugs.) □ He broke his blinky and is desperate for a new one. □ Hold the winky here and wait till I tell you.

blip [blɪp] 1. n. an intermittently appearing light on a radar screen. □ A blip caught the controller's eye for an instant. □ Did you see that blip, Freddy? 2. n. anything quick and insignificant; a onetime thing of little importance. □ It was nothing, just a blip. The press blew it out of proportion. □ It wasn't really a fight. It was just a blip.

blissed (out) AND blissed-out [blɪst...] 1. mod. in a state of emotional bliss. □ After the second movement, I was totally blissed out. □ What a blissed-out dame! □ I know a gal who can get blissed from a sunset. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ She is more than blissed. She is stoned. □ My friend is a little blissed out. Can she sit here?

bliss ninny ['blɪs 'nɪni] n. a giddy and disoriented person; a blissed-out person. (See bliss (out).) □ You silly bliss ninny. Who watches over you, anyway? □ Tiffany is such a bliss ninny—all heart though.

bliss out in. to become euphoric. (See also blissed (out).) □ I blissed out just because it is spring and I am with you. □ I always bliss out from talk like that, but I still love Wally.

blisterfoot n. someone who walks a lot; a police patrol officer, a soldier, etc. □ This blisterfoot puts his hand on my shoulder and says, "What's the rush, chum?" □ So this blisterfoot just falls down right there on the parade ground.

blithering idiot ['blɪðərɪŋ...] n. a crazy person; a totally disoriented person. □ How can you be such a blithering idiot? □ You blithering idiot! You've buttered the tablecloth!

blitz [blɪts] 1. n. a devastating attack. □ After that blitz from the boss, you must feel sort of shaken. □ That's my second blitz this week. I feel like London. 2. tv. to attack and defeat someone or demolish something. □ Two of your friends came by and blitzed my refrigerator. □ The team from downstate blitzed our local team for the third year in a row.

blitzed (out) [blɪtst...] mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ To say she is blitzed out is putting it mildly! □ I want to go out and get totally blitzed. I'll show her who's in charge!

blivit ['blɪvət] n. someone or something annoying and unnecessary. □ The dame's a blivit. She adds up to one too many. □ Don't be a blivit. Just calm down.

blixed [blɪkst] mod. mildly drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) □ He was a little blixed when I last saw him. □ He has been blixed for hours.

blob [blab] 1. n. a fool; an oaf. □ Don't be a blob. Get up and get going. □ This blob just sits there and lets me do all the work. 2. n. a useless dishrag of a person; a wimp. □ You blob! Show some spunk! □ I'm amazed that blob can tie his own shoes. 3. n. a very fat person. □ What a blob! □ You'd think being a blob like that would get old after a while.

block 1. n. the head. □ That block of yours is pretty dense. □ Try to get this stuff through your block before the test. 2. n. the auction block. □ The painting went on the block and sold for nearly fifty-three million dollars. □ The house had just gone on the block, and the first bid was already opened. 3. n. a stupid person. (Possibly a back formation on blockhead.) □ You silly block! Get out of the way. □ Wally acts like such a block!

blockbuster 1. n. something enormous, especially a movie or book that attracts a large audience. □ That blockbuster should make about twenty million. □ I need two blockbusters like that to pay for the last flop. 2. mod. exciting and successful. □ The new blockbuster movie made about a zillion bucks in a month. □ With a blockbuster novel like that in print, you should make quite a bundle.

blocked mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Man, he is really blocked. □ How can anybody get so blocked on four beers?

blockhead n. a stupid person. (See also block.) □ Without a blockhead like you to remind me of the perils of stupidity, I might be less efficient than I am. □ Why did he call me a blockhead? I didn't do anything.

blood 1. n. catsup. □ Somebody pass the blood. □ How 'bout some blood for my burger? 2. Go to blood (brother). 3. n. a black buddy or fellow gang member. (Also a term of address.) □ Hey, blood! Where you been? □ The bloods aren't going to like this.

blood and guts 1. n. strife; acrimony. □ There is a lot of blood and guts around here, but we get our work done. □ Cut out the blood and guts and grow up. 2. mod. acrimonious. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ There are too many blood-and-guts arguments around here. □ Old blood-and-guts Wally is here making threats again.

blood (brother) n. a fellow black male. □ One of the bloods came up to say hello. □ This blood brother keeps asking me for money.

blooey ['blui] 1. mod. gone; destroyed. □ Everything is finished, blooey! □ All my plans are blooey! 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ John is totally blooey. He can't even open his eyes. □ Man, I'm blooey. I'm stoned to the bones.

blooper ['blupə] 1. n. an embarrassing broadcasting error that must be bleeped or blooped out of the program. □ I made a blooper, and they cut it out of the program. □ There is a record you can buy that lets you hear the famous bloopers of the past. 2. n. an error. □ Another day, another blooper. □ That was a real blooper. Did you get fired?

blot someone out tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ Sorry, chum, we got orders to blot you out. □ They blotted out the witness before the trial.

blotter 1. n. a drunkard. (See also sponge.) □ The guy's a blotter. He'll drink anything and lots of it. □ They say that Mr. Franklin is a blotter and needs treatment. 2. n. the drug LSD, sold on bits of blotting paper. (Drugs.) □ Most of the acid in this town is blotter. □ Blotter can bring one to five dollars a pop. 3. n. a police station log of arrests; a police blotter. □ We went downtown to have a look at the blotter. There was no Matthew Wilson on it anywhere. □ The blotter is full of the names of petty criminals and drunks.

blotto ['blado] 1. n. strong liquor. □ Let's go get a little of that blotto. □ Let's get some blotto and get blocked. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated; dead drunk. □ Let's get some smash and get blotto. □ She just lay there—blotto.

blow 1. tv. & in. to leave (someplace) in a hurry. (See also blow town; blow the joint.) □ It's late. I gotta blow. □ They blew this place before you got here. 2. tv. to ruin something; to ruin an opportunity. □ You really blew it! □ It was my last chance, and I blew it. 3. n. a setback; an attack. □ It was a real blow to our prestige. □ Acme Systems Industries suffered a blow to its plans to acquire ABC Steel Widgets. 4. tv. to waste money; to spend money. □ Mary blew forty bucks on a second-hand radio. □ We blew it all at a fancy restaurant. 5. in. to become very angry; to lose one's temper. (See also blow a fuse.) □ Finally I had had enough, and I blew. □ The brass blew, and we heard the noise all the way down here. 6. in. to play a musical instrument, not necessarily a wind instrument. □ He blows, and everybody listens. 7. AND blow-out n. a drinking party. □ What a blow over at Joe's. I'll never get sober. □ Man, come to my blow-out. It's the best place to go. 8. tv. to snort any powdered drug; to take snuff. (Drugs.) □ Those guys spend all their time blowing coke. □ Are you blowing something good? 9. in. to smoke marijuana. (Drugs.) □ He sits there blowing by the hour. How can he afford it? □ They say that blowing that much will affect your brain. 10. n. cocaine. (Drugs.) □ You can get some good blow over at that crack house. □ What's blow cost around here? 11. tv. to perform an act of oral sex on someone, especially males. (Usually objectionable.) □ Tom was looking for some bone addict who would blow him for nothing.

blow a fuse AND blow one's fuse; blow a gasket; blow one's cork; blow one's lid; blow one's top; blow one's stack tv. to explode with anger; to lose one's temper. □ Come on, don't blow a fuse. □ Go ahead, blow a gasket! What good will that do?

blow a gasket Go to blow a fuse.

blow a hype tv. to overreact; to spaz out. □ I was afraid she would blow a hype about the broken window. □ Come on, don't blow a hype. It's only a car.

blow a snot rocket Go to blow snot rockets.

blow beets tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ What was in that stew? I feel like I gotta blow beets. □ She wasted a few minutes blowing beets, just to make things worse.

blow chow Go to blow chunks.

blow chunks AND blow chow; blow grits; blow lunch tv. to vomit. □ She drank too much and left the room to blow chunks. □ Who's been blowing lunch in the john? □ The smell was so bad I thought I was going to blow chow. □ Where's Kim? She was blowing grits in the john the last time I saw her.

blow cold in. [for a person] to display disinterest. □ Lately, he's sort of blown cold when I'm around. □ The committee blew cold as my plan unfolded.

blowed (away) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (See also blown away.) □ I was so blowed away I couldn't see straight. □ I'm afraid I am way blowed.

blower 1. n. a cocaine user. (Drugs.) □ I can spot a blower any day. □ Max is a blower, among other things. 2. n. cocaine. (Drugs.) □ What's the best quality blower around here? □ George says he can't live without blower. 3. n. a cigarette. □ You got a blower I can bum? □ That's the third blower in ten minutes! 4. n. a handkerchief. □ He pulled a crusty blower from his back pocket. □ And what does he do when he doesn't have a blower?

blow grits Go to blow chunks.

blowhard ['blo'hard] n. a braggart; a big talker. □ You're just a big blowhard. □ When and if this blowhard finishes, let's go.

blow in in. to arrive. □ I just blew in last night. Where can I find a room? □ When I blew in, nobody was here.

Blow it out your ear! Go to (Go) blow it out your ear!

blow jive tv. to smoke marijuana. (See also jive.) □ Man, let's go out and blow some jive! □ You would rather blow jive than eat, I think.

blow job n. an act of oral sex performed on the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ The hustler knew very well what the expression "blow job" meant.

blow lunch Go to blow chunks.

blown Go to blown away.

blown away 1. mod. dead; killed. (Underworld.) ☐ Four of the mob were blown away when the cops got there. ☐ That guy was blown away weeks ago. 2. AND blown mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ I drank till I was blown, and then I drank some more. ☐ Whatever that pill was, Cecilia is totally blown away. 3. mod. overwhelmed; greatly impressed. (Often with with or by.) ☐ We were just blown away by your good words. ☐ Like it? I was blown away.

blown (out) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ Fred is totally blown out and will have a huge hangover tomorrow. ☐ Fred stood at the door and told us he was blown—something that was totally obvious anyway.

blown (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also blown away.) ☐ I guess I'm a little too blown up to drive. ☐ You are blown as blazes, you twit!

blow off 1. in. to goof off; to waste time; to procrastinate. ☐ You blow off too much. ☐ All your best time is gone—blown off. 2. n. a time-waster; a goof-off. (Usually blow-off.) ☐ Fred is such a blow-off! ☐ Get busy. I don't pay blow-offs around here. 3. n. something that can be done easily or without much effort. (Usually blow-off.) ☐ Oh, that is just a blow-off. Nothing to it. ☐ The test was a blow-off. 4. n. the final insult; an event that causes a dispute. (Usually blow-off.) ☐ The blow-off was a call from some dame named Monica who asked for Snookums. ☐ When the blow-off happened, nobody was expecting anything. 5. n. a dispute; an argument. (Usually blow-off. See also blow up.) ☐ After a blow-off like that, we need a breather. ☐ There was a big blow-off at the plant today.

blow off (some) steam AND let off (some) steam tv. to release emotional tension by talking or getting angry. ☐ Don't worry. She's just blowing off steam. ☐ Let off some steam. Get it out of your system.

blow (one's) cookies tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ I think I'm going to blow my cookies. ☐ Okay, if any you guys gotta blow your cookies or something, do it here, not inside!

blow one's cool tv. to become angry. ☐ Now, now, don't blow your cool. ☐ I almost blew my cool when the dog wet my pants leg.

blow one's cork Go to blow a fuse.

blow one's doughnuts AND lose one's doughnuts [...ˈdonəts] tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ The stuff was so vile, I thought I would blow my doughnuts. ☐ Who lost their doughnuts in the hall?

blow one's fuse Go to blow a fuse.

blow one's groceries tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ I gotta blow my groceries. Look out! ☐ She blew her groceries all over the front seat.

blow one's lid Go to blow a fuse.

blow one's lines tv. to forget one's lines in a play; to speak one's lines incorrectly in a play. ☐ There I was in my first major role, and I blow my lines! ☐ If you blow your lines, just try to cover it up.

blow (one's) lunch AND lose one's lunch tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ I almost lost my lunch, I ran so hard. ☐ I wanted to blow my lunch, that's how rotten I felt.

blow one's own horn AND toot one's own horn tv. to brag. ☐ Gary sure likes to toot his own horn. ☐ "I hate to blow my own horn," said Bill, lying through his teeth.

blow one's stack Go to blow a fuse.

blow one's top Go to blow a fuse.

Blow on it! exclam. Cool it!; Take it easy! ☐ It's all right, Tom. Blow on it! ☐ Hey, man. Relax. Blow on it!

blow-out Go to blow.

blow smoke 1. tv. to state something in a way that conceals the truth. (See also smoke and mirrors.) ☐ She is a master at blowing smoke. She belongs in government. ☐ When they began to figure him out, he began to blow smoke. 2. tv. to smoke marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Frank sits around blowing smoke when he's not selling. □ The whole sales force blows smoke during office hours.

blow snot rockets AND blow a snot rocket tv. to blow gobs of nasal mucus from one nostril at a time by blocking off the other nostril with a thumb. □ Bob is always blowing snot rockets! How crude! □ Bud blew a snot rocket right out the window and into the street!

blow someone away 1. tv. to kill someone; to shoot someone. (Underworld.) □ The boss said we was to blow you away if you gives us any trouble. □ We blow away guys like you every day. 2. tv. to overwhelm someone; to amaze someone. □ The music about blew me away. □ The whole idea just blew her away.

blow someone or something off 1. tv. to neglect or ignore someone or something. □ Get it done now. Don't blow it off! □ Don't blow me off. Listen! I want it done now! 2. tv. to cheat someone or a group; to deceive someone or a group. □ Don't try to blow me off! I know what's what. □ They blew off a young couple and conned a hundred bucks out of them.

blow someone out of the water tv. to utterly destroy someone. (As a ship is blown up by a torpedo.) □ This is too much. I'm gonna blow that guy out of the water. □ How does it feel to be blown out of the water like that?

blow someone's cover tv. to reveal someone's true identity; to ruin someone's scheme for concealment. □ The dog recognized me and blew my cover. □ I didn't mean to blow your cover.

blow someone's doors off tv. to defeat someone; to surpass someone. (As if someone were going by another vehicle on the highway at such a high speed that the doors would be blown off in passing.) □ We're gonna really blow your doors off in the next game. □ They blew our doors off in sales last year.

blow someone's mind 1. tv. to impress someone; to overwhelm someone. □ This whole business just blows my mind. □ Your credentials really blow my mind! 2. tv. [for a drug] to intoxicate someone. □ This stuff will blow your mind. □ That blue acid blew my mind.

blow someone to something tv. to treat someone to something, such as a meal, a movie, a drink, etc. □ Let me blow you to a meal. □ I think I'll blow myself to a fancy dessert.

blow something wide open AND bust something wide open tv. to expose corrupt practices or a scheme; to put an end to corruption. □ The press is trying to blow the town wide open, and the feebies are trying to hush them up so they can move about in secret. □ I'm going to bust this racket wide open.

blow the joint tv. to get out of a place, probably in a hurry. (Underworld. See also joint.) □ Come on, let's blow the joint before there's trouble. □ They blew the joint about an hour ago.

blow the lid off something tv. to expose a scandal or corrupt practice; to expose political dishonesty. □ I'm going to blow the lid off another phony candidate. □ The reporter blew the lid off the latest city hall scandal.

blow town tv. to get out of town, probably in a hurry. (Underworld.) □ He blew town yesterday. □ I gotta pack and blow town. The cops are onto me.

blow up 1. in. to burst into anger. □ I just knew you'd blow up. □ So she blew up. Why should that affect you so much? 2. n. an angry outburst; a fight. (Usually blowup.) □ After the third blowup, she left him. □ One blowup after another. Yuck! 3. n. an enlarged version of a photograph, map, chart, etc. (Usually blowup.) □ Here's a blow up of the scene of the crime. □ Kelly sent a blowup of their wedding picture to all her relatives. 4. n. the ruination of something; the collapse of something. (Usually blowup.) □ The blowup in the financial world has ruined my chances for early retirement. □ After the blowup, they called one another to compare notes.

blow Z's [...ziz] tv. to sleep. □ I got to blow Z's for a while; then we'll talk. □ Him? Oh, he's in the back blowing Z's.

blubber gut(s) ['bləbər 'gʊt(s)] n. a fat person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Hey, blubber guts! Get a girdle. □ Why doesn't that blubber gut do something about all that weight?

blue 1. mod. depressed; melancholy. □ That music always makes me blue. □ I'm feeling sort of blue. □ I'm in a blue mood. 2. mod. obscene; vulgar; dirty. □ Those blue jokes don't go over very well around here. □ Enough of your blue interests. Get out and take all these magazines with you. □ That one was really blue. 3. n. the sky; the heavens. □ I just look up at the blue and hope for the best. □ The idea came to me right out of the blue. 4. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ What have you been drinking? You're getting a little blue. □ You might say I'm blue. Others might note that I am stoned. 5. n. an amphetamine tablet or capsule, especially a blue one. (Drugs.) □ How are blues different from reds and yellows? □ I'm sort of wired. You got any blues? 6. n. a police officer; the police. □ The blues will be here in a minute. □ One blue isn't enough to handle the job. 7. n. a 10-mg tablet of Valium™. (Drugs.) □ A blue is enough to put most people into a stupor. Why do you want two? □ In treatment they kept giving me blues to calm me down. Now I can't live without them.

blue and white n. a police car; the police. (Patterned on black and white and used in cities where the police cars are painted blue and white.) □ A blue and white suddenly appeared, and I knew we were finished. □ I can usually spot a blue and white before anyone else.

blue around the gills AND green around the gills 1. mod. ill; nauseated. □ You are looking a little blue around the gills. □ How about a little air? I feel a little green around the gills. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ In the middle of the drink, I knew I was getting blue around the gills. □ Marty—now thoroughly green around the gills—slid neatly under the table, and everyone pretended not to notice.

blue balls AND hot-rocks n. a painful condition of the testicles caused by unrelieved sexual need. (Usually objectionable.) □ She always gives me hot-rocks. □ Oh, man. Do I ever have the blue balls! That movie was too much!

(blue) blazes n. hell. □ You can go straight to blue blazes as far as I care. □ It's as hot as blazes here.

blue boys AND blue coats n. the police. (See also men in blue.) □ Four blue boys held me while a fifth slipped the cuffs on me. I ain't no pushover. □ The blue coats climbed out of the black and white and just stood there.

blue chip 1. n. stock shares of a large company that has a high value. (Securities markets.) □ The blue chips took another nose dive in today's trading. □ I buy nothing but blue chips. 2. mod. having to do with the stock of large, valuable companies. (Securities markets.) □ The blue chip rally ran for a third day. □ It was another blue chip led sell-off.

blue coats Go to blue boys.

blue devils 1. n. melancholia; depression. □ Hank is down with the blue devils again. □ How do you get rid of the blue devils? 2. n. the delirium tremens. □ You wouldn't think that a society dame like that would have the blue devils, would you? □ The shakes, or the blue devils, are a sure sign of a serious drinking problem. 3. n. capsules of Amytal™, a barbiturate. □ How much for a little box of blue devils? □ Got no red devils. Will blue devils do it to you?

blue-eyed mod. innocent. □ Look, you little blue-eyed sweetie, I know your game! □ He's sure his blue-eyed wonder couldn't have hit my child. □ Don't try to look so blue-eyed.

blue flu 1. n. an imaginary disease afflicting police officers who call in sick during a work stoppage or slowdown. (Journalistic. Occurs where strikes are illegal.) □ Another epidemic of the blue flu struck the city's police officers early today. □ It seems that the city's criminals and lawbreakers are immune to the blue flu. Their work goes on totally unaffected. 2. n. a hang-over. □ He was out late last night and has the blue flu.

blue funk ['blu 'fʌŋk] n. a state of depression. □ I'm glad I'm out of my blue funk. □ You've got to get out of your blue funk and get back to work.

bluehair n. an old lady, especially one whose hair is tinted blue. □ The cruise was nice but sort of dull because of all the bluehairs aboard. □ The bluehairs all crowded up to the door, each one trying to be first.

blue in the face mod. pale from exhaustion or exertion. □ I laughed until I was blue in the face. □ She worked hard enough to be blue in the face.

blue suit n. a police officer. (Usually plural.) □ The blue suits showed up about twenty minutes after I called them! □ Watch out for the blue suits if you are going to drive this fast!

BM 1. n. a bowel movement; an act of defecation. (Mostly a euphemism used with children.) □ If I don't have a BM soon, I'm gonna die. 2. n. a disgusting and annoying person. (Also a term of address. A humorous way of calling someone a shit. Usually objectionable.) □ Get out of here, you stupid BM! □ The new guy has to be the world's worst BM.

BMOC n. big man on campus, an important or self-important male college student. (Initialism. Collegiate. See also BWOC.) □ Who's the BMOC who keeps trying to get elected class president? □ When this BMOC asked me to leave, I ignored him.

BO 1. n. (bad) body odor. (Initialism.) □ Man, do you have BO! □ Now here is a product that will end your worries about BO. 2. n. box office, where tickets to some event are sold. □ The show was a big hit at the BO. □ If you want your money back, you'll have to go to the BO. 3. AND BO n. HBO, Home Box Office, the cable television channel. (Initialism and dysphemism.) □ Is there a good movie on BO tonight? □ There is boxing on BO but no movie.

boat 1. n. a big shoe. (See also gunboats.) □ Whose boat is that under the coffee table? □ Those boats are special made, in fact. 2. n. a big car; a full-size car. □ I don't want to drive a big boat like that. □ How do you stop that boat? Throw out an anchor?

boat anchor n. a useless computer; anything heavy and useless. □ Why don't you replace that boat anchor with a new model?

bod [bad] 1. n. a body, especially a nice body. (See also odd-bod.) □ You got a nice bod, Tom. □ If you got a good bod and enough money, why are you depressed? 2. n. a person. □ How many bods are coming over tonight? □ Who's the bod with the tight slacks?

bodacious [bo'deɪʃəs] mod. assertive; audacious. □ That is a bodacious plan, for sure. □ Yes, sir! That is really bodacious.

body count 1. n. the total of dead bodies after a battle. □ The body count at Hill 49 was three. □ The body count seems to go down during the rainy season. 2. n. the total number of casualties after some kind of shake-up. □ The pink slips are coming out every day. The body count on Monday was twenty-three. □ Most everybody is flunking quan. The body count after the last test was in the twenties. 3. n. a count of people present. □ The body count was about forty-five at the meeting. □ The body count seems to go down each month.

body shake n. a shakedown of the body; a skin-search. (Underworld. See also shakedown.) □ You can't give me a body shake. I want my lawyer! □ They give everybody who passes through these doors a body shake.

boff [baf] 1. tv. to punch someone. □ I was afraid she was going to boff me. □ Ted boffed Harry playfully. 2. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (See also barf.) □ She boffed and boffed, until she was exhausted. □ I think I'm gonna boff! 3. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ They were boffing in the faculty lounge and the principal caught them.

boffo ['bafo] 1. n. a box-office hit; a successful play, musical, movie, etc. □ The last one was a tremendous boffo, but we only broke even. □ I need a boffo just once in my life. 2. mod. successful; tremendous. □ We had a boffo time at your rally. □ Another boffo success for Wally! □ That was really boffo!

bogard Go to bogart.

bogart AND bogard ['bogart AND 'bogard] 1. in. to monopolize a communal marijuana cigarette; to hold a communal marijuana cigarette so long—Bogart style—that one drools on it. (From Humphrey Bogart, the screen actor.) □ Come on, man. Don't bogart on us! □ Stop bogarding and take a hit! 2. in. to stall. □ Stop bogarting. Let's get this done! □ The lawyer for the other side is bogarding, and it will take weeks to get it settled. 3. in. to act in a tough manner like Humphrey Bogart. □ Look at him bogarting! Who needs tough guys? □ There's nothing funnier than a wimp trying to bogard around.

bogue [bog] mod. bogus; fake. □ Keep your bogue gold watch. I don't want it! □ She is so, like, bogue!

bogus ['bogəs] 1. mod. phony; false; undesirable. □ I can't eat any more of this bogus food. □ This class is really bogus. 2. mod. great; excellent. □ Man, this place is really bogus! □ Sam and Charlie had a really bogus time at the jig.

bogus beef AND bum beef n. a false complaint or charge. (See also beef.) □ The cops took them in on a bogus beef.

boheme [bo'him] n.  (Collegiate.) □ She looks so good in boheme! □ Boheme is not you.

bohunk 1. n. a resident of or an immigrant from an Eastern European country, such as Poland, Hungary, etc. (A nickname. Can be perceived as derogatory. Usually objectionable.) □ The bohunks can really cook up some fine food. 2. n. an oafish person. (Usually refers to a male. Usually objectionable.) □ Get outa here, you stupid bohunk! 3. n. a term of endearment for a close friend or child. □ Come here, you little bohunk. Let me tuck in your shirt. □ Okay, you bohunks, come to dinner now.

boiled 1. mod. angry. □ I am so boiled at you! □ Now, don't get boiled. It was only a joke. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How can you get so boiled on wine? □ The two were boiled and not much use to us.

boiling (mad) mod. very mad. □ Mad, I'm not mad. I'm just boiling. □ She is really boiling mad.

boink tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ He said he boinked her twice.

BO juice n. a deodorant; an underarm deodorant. (Collegiate. See also BO.) □ Who took my BO juice? I've got to go to class. □ Help this man find his BO juice, fast! He really needs it.

bokoo AND boku ['bo'ku] mod. many. (A play on French beaucoup.) □ I've got bokoo things to do today. □ There are already boku people invited.

boku Go to bokoo.

bold mod. great; outstanding. □ Bold move, Charles. You outfoxed them. □ The movie we saw last night was really bold.

bologna Go to baloney.

bolt in. to leave; to go away. (Not necessarily fast.) □ Time to go, man. Let's bolt. □ Time to bolt. Got to get home.

bolus ['boləs] n. a physician. (From the Latin name for a pill.) □ The bolus kept trying to get me to lose weight. □ There is a new bolus in town.

bomb 1. n. a bad performance or an inherently bad show. □ They tried as hard as they could, but the thing was a bomb from Act One on. □ The latest bomb on Broadway, like all bombs, will only go off once. This one finished to a chorus of boos before the final curtain. 2. in. to fail. □ My first try bombed, but things got better. □ It bombed the minute the first curtain went up. 3. Go to bomb(shell).

the bomb AND da bomb n. something really great. □ This tingle is really da bomb.

bombed (out) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (Possibly from embalmed.) □ They were bombed and looked nearly dead. □ How can I drive when I'm bombed out?

bomb (out) in. [for a computer or computer program] to fail. □ You expect a program to bomb a time or two. □ The whole thing bombed out at just the wrong time.

bomb(shell) n. a stunning piece of news that is dropped without warning. □ I am still recovering from your bomb of last evening. □ After you left us with the bomb-shell about your marriage to the Christmas tree farmer in Montana, we began to realize that it's your life and you should do what you want.

bone 1. n. a trombone. (Musicians. See also bones.) □ Herman is just a wonder on the bone. □ She plays the bone like nobody's business. 2. Go to boner.

bone factory 1. n. a hospital. □ Lemme outa this bone factory! □ After about two months in the bone factory, I was back on the job. 2. n. a cemetery. □ We must have passed by forty bone factories going across Missouri. □ I know I'll end up in the bone factory just like everyone else.

bonehead 1. n. a stupid or stubborn person. □ You are such a bonehead when it comes to buying cars. □ Don't be a bonehead. Cooperate! 2. AND boneheaded mod. stupid; stubborn. □ Of all the boneheaded things to do! □ Why am I married to the world's greatest all-time bonehead klutz? □ Don't be so boneheaded.

boneheaded Go to bonehead.

bone idle mod. very lazy; completely idle or unproductive. □ Your problem is that you are bone idle. □ Take your bone idle brother and move out!

bone orchard n. a cemetery. □ That is a very pleasant bone orchard. □ Does it really matter how comfortable a bone orchard looks?

bone out in. to leave. □ It's time we boned out and got home. □ Ted and Bill boned out after midnight.

boner 1. n. a silly error; a gaffe. (See also pull a boner.) □ Well, that was a bad boner. □ What a boner! You must be embarrassed. 2. AND bone n. an erection. □ He always gets a boner when he doesn't need it and never when he does.

bones 1. n. dice. (See similar senses at bone.) □ Toss me the bones and get out your checkbooks. □ Throw them bones and hope for the best. 2. n.  (From sawbones. Also the nickname of the doctor on the starship Enterprise of Star Trek fame.) □ This fat bones actually wanted me to lose weight. □ This is quite a cut. You'll have to go over to the bones in Adamsville. 3. n.  (Also a term of address.) □ Well, bones, how about a nice big meal? □ Ask bones there what he wants to drink. 4. n. dollars; money; cash. □ You got any bones on you I can borrow? □ The tickets only cost a few bones, but the play was lousy and I want my money back.

boneyard 1. n. a cemetery. □ I'd like to be planted in a boneyard like that. □ I'll take a boneyard with a view of the lake. 2. n. a junkyard. □ I got a used right-hand door from a boneyard. □ This old car's ready for the boneyard.

bong AND bhong [bɒŋ] 1. n. a marijuana smoking device that cools the smoke by passing it through water. (Drugs.) □ This bong is really getting sort of nasty. □ Fill up your bong and let's get going. 2. tv. & in. to smoke marijuana or other drugs with a bong or other device. (Drugs.) □ You can't just bong for the rest of your life! □ Wanna go bong a bowl? 3. n. a puff or hit of marijuana taken through a bong. (Drugs.) □ I'll take two bongs, and then I gotta go. □ I only got one bong! 4. tv. & in. to drink keg beer through a hose. (California. See also beerbong.) □ Everybody bonged till the keg was empty. □ There were no cups, so people had to bong their beer.

bonged (out) [bɒŋd...] mod. exhausted from too much marijuana. (Drugs.) □ I was bonged all through the holidays. □ She was still bonged out after the first week of classes.

bonk [bɒŋk] 1. tv. to strike one's head. □ He bonked his head on the shelf. □ I bonked my bean. 2. tv. to strike someone on the head. □ I bonked John on the head. □ He wouldn't move, so I bonked him. 3. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ She bonked him all night. At least that's what he said.

bonkers ['bɒŋkɜːz] 1. AND crackers mod. insane; crazy. □ Get this bonkers brother of yours out of here! □ I think I am going crackers. 2. mod. slightly intoxicated. □ I'm just a little bonkers, nothing really serious. □ She's too bonkers to drive.

Bonus! ['bɒnəs] exclam. That's great!; That's good enough to earn a bonus! □ Bonus! That's the best news I've heard in a long time! □ The teacher's sick? Bonus!

bonzo ['bɒnzɔ] mod. crazy. □ You are completely bonzo! □ I want out of this bonzo place!

boob [bub] 1. n. a stupid person; a rural oaf. □ You boob! What have you done? □ Why did I marry a boob like you? 2. AND booby ['bubi] n. a breast. (Usually plural. Usually objectionable.) □ My boobs aren't what I might have wished for. □ With boobs like that, she can go anywhere she likes.

boo-bird ['bu'bɜːd] n. a person who boos frequently at games or other public events. □ It was a big day for the boo-birds at Wrigley Field. □ The catcher turned and stared right at the loudmouthed boo-bird. Everybody knew what he was thinking.

boo-boo ['bubu] n. an error. (See also make a boo-boo.) □ It's only a small boo-boo. Don't stress yourself. □ Another boo-boo like that, and you are through.

boob-tube ['bub'tub] n. a television set. (Something for a boob to watch.) □ You spend too much time in front of the boob-tube. □ What's on the boob-tube tonight?

booby Go to boob.

booby hatch ['bubi...] n. a mental hospital. □ I was afraid they would send me to the booby hatch. □ Don't you mean send you back to the booby hatch?

booby trap 1. n. a concealed trap. (Both literal and figurative.) □ This clause in the contract is a real booby trap. Let's rewrite it. □ Some kind of booby trap in the warehouse kept the robber from getting away. 2. tv. to install a concealed trap in a place. (Usually booby-trap.) □ The agents booby-trapped the cellar. □ They booby-trapped the elevator so it turned into a cell if you didn't know the code to open the door.

boodle ['budl] n. loot; the proceeds from a crime. (Underworld.) □ All of the boodle was recovered in a suitcase. □ They divvied up the boodle and got out of town.

boody AND boodie; bootie; booty 1. n. the buttocks. (Potentially offensive. Usually objectionable.) □ Look at the nice little boody on that guy. □ Get your boodie out on that dance floor and shake it. 2. n. someone or something disliked. (From sense 1.) □ Why don't you clean up all this boody? This place is a mess. □ Who are those boodies blocking the doorway? 3. n. the female genitals; the vulva. (Usually objectionable.) □ He wants to get into her boody. 4. n. women considered as a receptacle for the penis. (Rude and derogatory.) □ He likes boody better than anything.

booger 1. n. a blob of nasal mucus, moist or dry. (Usually objectionable.) □ Keep your boogers to yourself! □ Who got boogers all over my bedspread? 2. Go to boogie.

boogie ['bugi or 'bogi] 1. n. a kind of rock dance. □ I didn't like the boogie until I learned how to do it right. □ The boogie will tire you out, but good! 2. in. to dance rock-style. □ I don't like to boogie. □ I'm too old to boogie. 3. n. a party where the boogie is danced. □ There's a boogie over at Steve's tonight. □ One more boogie and I'm through for the year. 4. in. to get down to work; to get down to business.

□ All right, it's time to boogie. Cool it! □ The whistle blew. Time to boogie. 5. AND booger n. a piece of nasal mucus. (Usually objectionable.) □ That's no way to take care of a booger! □ Is that a boogie on your lip, or what? 6. in. to leave. □ Come on, man. Let's boogie. □ Time to boogie. It's late. 7. n. a tumor. (Medical slang. See also guber.) □ Looks like a little boogie down in the lung. □ I've got to take out three boogies before lunch and look at x-rays all afternoon. 8. in. to copulate; to have sex. (Usually objectionable.) □ Let's go boogie.

boogie-board ['bugibord OR 'bugibord] 1. n. a surfboard. (California.) □ Get your boogie-board out there in that tube. □ She cracked her boogie-board apart on that big one. 2. n. a skateboard. (Teens.) □ He fell off his boogie-board and broke his tailbone. □ Can you imagine a boogie-board costing 600 dollars?

boogie down (to somewhere) in. to hurry (to somewhere); to go (somewhere). □ So, why don't you boogie down to the store and load up with bud and berries for the weekend? □ I'm gonna boogie down and see what's going on.

boogieman ['bugimæn OR 'bugimæn] n. an imaginary man who is said to frighten people; a false threat of any kind. □ Don't turn me into a boogieman. Spank the child yourself. □ The press has made the secretary into some sort of boogieman.

book 1. in. to leave. □ Time's up. Gotta book. □ Let's book. I'm late. 2. tv. to charge someone with a crime. □ The cop booked him for vagrancy. □ She looked sort of scroungy, and they wanted to book her for something, but didn't know what. 3. in. to study. (See also book it.) □ I gotta book. Bye. □ I hate to book all night.

bookie n. a bookmaker for betting. □ Frank was a bookie till he got into drugs. □ My bookie wants his money on the spot.

book it tv. to study hard; to spend a period of time studying. (Collegiate.) □ I am so tired of booking it every night of my life. □ I've got to spend the rest of the night booking it.

boom in. to listen to music, as with a boom box. □ You don't do anything but hang around and boom all day! □ If you're going to boom all the time, why don't you get some headphones?

boom box n. a portable stereo radio. (See also box, thunderbox.) □ Turn down that damn boom box, or I'll kick it in. □ Hey, man! You even gonna take your boom box to church, or what?

boomer 1. n. a laborer who moves from one economic boom to another. □ Fred's great uncle was a boomer in the days of the Oklahoma oil rush. □ Most of the old boomers settled down and raised families. 2. Go to (baby) boomer.

boom sticks n. drumsticks. (Musicians.) □ He always carries his boom sticks in his back pocket, and he beats on walls, radiators, desks—you name it. □ I need new boom sticks. They keep breaking.

boon in. to leave the road in a car for the boondocks. □ Tom has a 4-wheel-drive so we can really boon!

boondocks AND boonies ['bundaks AND 'buniz] n. an isolated area; an area of wild terrain; suburbs distant from a city. (From the word for mountain in the Tagalog language. Since World War II.) □ The weather out in the boonies looks cold and dry. □ I don't want to be stuck out in the boondocks!

boondoggle ['bundɔgɫ] n. a waste of time and money; a project for spending public money. □ Another Washington boondoggle came to light today as investigators revealed plans for a dam in a California canyon that doesn't have any water. □ This is another boondoggle—just the thing every single baby-kisser pledged to stop.

boonies Go to boondocks.

boosiasm(s) n. a woman's breasts. (A blend of bosom and enthusiasm. Occurs both as a count and a noncount noun. Old but recurrent. Usually objectionable.) □ Did you see the boosiasms on that dame? □ What a remarkable boosiasm!

boost 1. tv. & in. to steal or shoplift something. (Underworld.) □ He specializes in boosting meat for resale. □ He boosts for a living. 2. tv. to praise or hype someone or something; to support someone or something. □ She is always boosting some cause. □ If she would boost me as well, I wouldn't object to the time she spends hyping other people.

booster 1. n. a shoplifter. □ The cops hauled in two boosters by noon. □ Gary was a part-time booster till he got into dope. 2. n. a supporter (of someone or some cause). □ We don't have enough boosters to have any effect. □ I'm a booster of lots of good causes.

boot 1. n. a thrill; a charge. □ I get a real boot out of my grandchildren. □ Their little games give me a real boot. 2. tv. to dismiss or eject someone. □ I booted him myself. □ John, boot that guy at once! 3. n. a dismissal or ejection. □ I got the boot even though I had worked there for a decade. □ Seven people got the boot. 4. tv. & in. to start the operating system of a computer. □ I booted the thing, but it just sat there. □ When I booted, all I got was a feep. 5. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ The kid booted and booted and will probably never smoke another cigar. □ I think I'm gonna boot. Gangway!

bootie Go to boody.

boot someone out tv. to throw someone out; to kick someone out. □ Are you going to boot me out? □ I don't boot out anybody. John does that. Bruno, come here.

booty Go to boody.

booty call 1. n. sexual arousal. (Usually objectionable.) □ Sam said he was feeling the booty call and needed to find his woman. 2. n. calling someone up for sex. (Usually objectionable.) □ Reg stopped at a phone booth in the bar to make a booty call.

booze [buz] 1. n. beverage alcohol. (Slang since the 1500s.) □ I don't care for booze. It makes me sneeze. □ Where's the booze? 2. AND booze up in. to drink alcohol to excess; to go on a bash. □ Let's go out and booze up! □ Stop boozing for a minute and listen up, guys.

booze artist n. a drunken person; a drunkard. □ Pete was a booze artist for a decade before he realized what he was doing. □ A wobbly booze artist sat musing on the stool in the corner.

boozed mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Wow, is he ever boozed! □ I think I am a little boozed.

booze it (up) tv. to drink excessively; to drink to intoxication. □ You come home every night and booze it up. How can you keep on this way? □ Let's go out and booze it, okay?

booze up Go to booze.

boozy-woozy ['buzi'wuzi] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The boozy-woozy man clung to the railing and sang at the top of his voice. □ I think I am just an itty-bitty boozy-woozy.

bop [bap] 1. tv. to strike someone or something. □ I bopped the car on the hood and made a dent. □ You wanna get bopped in the beezer? 2. n. a style of jazz popular in the 1940s. □ We heard some bop in an old movie. □ Bop is not popular, but it is by no means dead. 3. n. a drug in pill form; a dose of a drug. (See also hit.) □ Give me a bop of that stuff, will ya? □ You gonna drop both of them bops?

bore the pants off (of) someone tv. to bore someone exceedingly. □ You bore the pants off me! □ The lecture bored the pants off of everybody.

bosh [baʃ] n. nonsense; idle talk. (Also an exclamation, Bosh!) □ That is enough of your bosh! □ Oh, bosh! You don't know what you're talking about.

bosom buddy n. a very close male or female friend. □ We are bosom buddies, but we can still get into a big fight every now and then. □ Oh, yes, Sharon is my bosom buddy.

bosom chums AND bosom friends n. lice. □ The old guy sat there scratching at his bosom chums. □ "Nobody seems to like my bosom friends," he muttered.

bosom friends Go to bosom chums.

boss mod. excellent; powerful; superior. □ That is a boss tune. □ This rally is really boss.

boss dick n. a cop; a police officer. (Streets. See dick = detective.) □ There's a whole p-crutch stuffed full of boss dicks behind you. □ The boss dick slugged me in the face and said I should be more careful.

boss lady n. the woman in charge. □ You'll have to ask the boss lady. □ The boss lady asked again for volunteers.

boss man n. the man in charge. □ The boss man's coming. Watch out! □ I guess the boss man is about ready to retire.

both sheets in the wind mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also three sheets in the wind.) □ She's both sheets in the wind at the moment. □ She's not just both sheets in the wind—they're all in the wind.

bottle 1. n. a drunkard. □ The bar was empty save an old bottle propped against the side of a booth. □ That old girl is just a bottle. There's more booze in her than outside. 2. the bottle n. liquor. (Always with the in this sense.) □ Her only true love is the bottle. □ The bottle plays a big role in his life. 3. in. to drink liquor to excess. □ I wish there was a way I could get through the day without bottling. □ Let's go out and bottle into oblivion.

bottleache ['badlek] n. a hangover; the delirium tremens. □ A lot of these guys really suffer from the bottleache, but what can they do? □ I got a touch of the bottleache this morning.

bottle baby n. an alcoholic. □ The bottle babies sat there, waiting to be thrown out at closing time. □ There is help for bottle babies.

bottom 1. n. the buttocks. □ Ted fell on his bottom and just sat there. □ My bottom is sore from sitting too long. 2. n. the second half of a baseball inning. □ It's the bottom of the second, Wilbur's up. □ Wilbur hit a double-bagger in the bottom of the second. 3. tv. to drink something to the bottom. □ He bottomed the beer and ordered another one. □ Come on. Bottom that beer, and let's get out of here.

bottom dollar n. one's last dollar. (See also bet one's bottom dollar.) □ I lost my bottom dollar on that deal. □ I'm down to my bottom dollar. How about a little loan?

bottom fishing n. seeking something at its lowest price; seeking something at a low cost and willing to accept inferior quality. □ I don't think bottom fishing for stocks is always wise. There is always a good reason why the price is low. □ Bottom fishing probably won't get you anything of value.

bottomless pit 1. n. a very hungry person. □ The guy is a bottomless pit. There isn't enough food in town to fill him up. □ I've got two boys, and they're both bottomless pits. 2. n. an endless source of something, usually something troublesome. □ This house is a bottomless pit. Keeping it up is endless. □ Our problems come from a bottomless pit. There is just no end to them.

the bottom line 1. n. the grand total; the final figure on a balance sheet. (Securities markets.) □ The company's bottom line is in bad shape. □ If the bottom line is positive, everything is okay. 2. n. the result; the nitty-gritty; the score. □ The bottom line is that you really don't care. □ Well, when you get down to the bottom line, it's only money that matters.

bottom of the barrel AND bottom of the heap n. the location of persons or things of the very lowest quality. (Usually with from. See also scrape the bottom of the barrel.) □ That last secretary you sent me was really from the bottom of the barrel. □ I don't need any candidates from the bottom of the heap.

bottom of the heap Go to bottom of the barrel.

bottom out in. to reach the lowest or worst point of something. □ All my problems seem to be bottoming out. They can't get much worse. □ Interest rates bottomed out last February.

Bottoms up. sent. Let us drink up! (A drinking toast.) □ Well, bottoms up. □ They all raised their glasses, and the host said, "Bottoms up."

bounce 1. in. [for a check] to be returned from the bank because of insufficient funds. (See also rubber (check).) □ The check bounced, and I had to pay a penalty fee. □ If your check bounces, you'll have to bring us cash. 2. in. to leave; to depart. □ It's late. Let's bounce. 3. tv. [for a bank] to refuse to honor a check. □ They bounced another of my checks today. □ The bank won't bounce any more checks because I closed the account. 4. tv. to throw someone out. □ Willie bounced me, and I ran to my car and beat it. □ The owner came out and bounced us. 5. n. pep; energy. □ All these kids have a lot of bounce. □ I never have any bounce when I wake up early.

bounce for something Go to spring for something.

bouncer n. a strong man hired to eject unruly people from a bar or similar place. (People supposedly bounce when thrown out.) □ I saw the bouncer looking at me, and I got out of there fast. □ He was the biggest bouncer I've ever seen.

bounce something off (of) someone tv. to try out an idea on someone; to get someone's opinion of an idea. □ Let me bounce this off of you. □ I bounced the idea off Gary, but he wasn't at all impressed.

bouquet of assholes n. an annoying or disgusting person or thing. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Don't pay any attention to him. He's just another one of the bouquet of assholes you find around here.

bout it Go to (a)bout it.

bowl n. a pipe or other device for smoking cannabis. (Drugs.) □ Where is my bowl? I got some real Q. gold. □ There's somebody's bowl out in the hall. Go get it before the neighbors call the fuzz.

bowser ['bauzə] n. a person with a dog face or ugly face. (Typically applied to females.) □ What a bowser! She belongs in a stable! □ Fred went out with a real bowser, but said he had a good time anyway.

bow to the porcelain altar in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (The porcelain altar is the toilet bowl.) □ He spent the whole night bowing to the porcelain altar. □ I have the feeling that I will be bowing to the porcelain altar before morning.

bow-wow ['bauwau] 1. n. a dog. (Juvénile.) □ The bow-wow frightened me. □ We're going to get you a bow-wow! 2. n. an ugly woman; a dog. (Derogatory.) □ What a bow-wow! □ I would have chosen a better nose if I had been given a chance, but—all in all—I'm not such a bow-wow.

box 1. n. the genitals of the male, especially as contained within a garment, such as underwear. (Usually objectionable.) □ God, did you see the box on him? 2. n. the genitals of a female; the vagina considered as a container for the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He wants to get in her box. 3. n. a coffin. □ Put him in a box and put the box in a hole. Then the matter is closed. 4. n. a phonograph player. □ My box is old, but still good. □ Yours is old! My box still has tubes! 5. n. a portable stereo radio. □ Does that damn box have to be so loud? 6. n. a piano. □ Man, he plays a mean box. □ She sure can pound the devil out of that box! 7. in. to die. □ The old man looks like he's going to box at any minute. 8. Go to (ghetto) box. 9. Go to (squeeze-)box.

boxed mod. dead; died. □ My old dog is boxed. A car hit her. □ He's boxed. There's nothing that can be done.

boxed in mod. in a bind; having few alternatives. □ I really feel boxed in around here. □ I got him boxed in. He'll have to do it our way.

boxed on the table mod. died on the (operating) table. (Medical. See also boxed.) □ The surgeon did the best job possible, but the patient boxed on the table. □ Another patient boxed on the table. That's three today.

boxed (up) 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I am way boxed, and I feel sick. □ She got boxed up on gin. 2. mod. in jail. □ I did it, and I was boxed for a long time for it. Now lay off! □ Pat was boxed up for two days till we got bond money.

box someone in tv. to put someone into a bind; to reduce the number of someone's alternatives. (See also boxed in.) □ I don't want to box you in, but you are running out of options. □ I want to box in the whole staff, so they'll have to do it my way.

boys in blue Go to men in blue.

boys in the back room AND back room boys n. any private male group making decisions, usually politicians. □ The boys in the back room picked the last presidential candidate. □ The back room boys have decided too many things in the past. Their day is over.

bozo ['bozo] n. a clown; a jerk; a fool. (Also a term of address.) □ Look, you bozo, I've had enough of your jabber. □ Those bozos are at it again. Spend, spend, spend.

bra-burner n.  (Derogatory.) □ Didn't the bra-burners give way to whale-savers in the seventies? □ Mike wants to know if the bra-burners took them off first.

bracelets n. handcuffs. □ The cops put the bracelets on Jane and led her away.

brack-brain ['brækbren] n. a fool. □ The brack-brains in Washington have done it again! □ One brack-brain around here is enough. Do you want me to leave?

brain 1. n. a good student; a very intelligent person. (See also brains.) □ I'm no brain, but I get good grades. □ Who was the brain who figured this out? 2. tv. to hit someone (in the head). □ I ought to brain you for that! □ She almost brained me with her umbrella.

brain bucket n. a bike or motorcycle helmet. □ He refuses to wear a brain bucket when he rides.

brain-burned AND brain-fried mod. brain-damaged from drugs. (Drugs. See also burnout.) □ The kid is a little brain-burned, but still has a chance at an independent life. □ Man, you're gonna get brain-burned from this stuff.

brainchild 1. n. someone's good idea viewed as an offspring of the brain. □ Is this your brainchild? It won't work. □ Listen to this. It's my best brainchild. 2. n. a person who has good ideas. □ The boss's new brainchild seems to have gone dry. □ You can't just go out and hire a brainchild. They've got to want to work for you.

brain-dead mod. stupid. □ I don't know why he's so dull. He's seems brain-dead half the time. □ I think that half my students are brain-dead.

brain-drain n. the movement of intellectuals from one country to another where the pay and job opportunities are better. □ It looks like the brain-drain of the fifties is reversing with more and more academics leaving the U.S. to join British universities. □ Where there is a good education system, there will always be a brain-drain.

brain-fried Go to brain-burned.

brains n. the person(s) in charge of thinking something through. □ Who's the brains around this joint? □ John is not what I would call the brains of the gang.

brainstorm 1. n. a good idea; an idea that enters one's head suddenly. □ I had a sudden brainstorm and got out of bed to write it down. □ This brainstorm hit me while I was in the shower. 2. in. to try to think up good ideas, especially as a group. □ Let's brainstorm on this for a little while.

brain-teaser Go to brain-twister.

brain-twister AND brain-teaser n. a puzzle. □ This Maltese falcon case is a real brain-twister. □ Can you help me with this brain-teaser?

(brand) spanking new mod. completely new. □ My car is spanking new. □ Look at that brand spanking new car!

brass n. high-ranking military or civilian officers. (See also top brass.) □ We'll see what the brass has to say first. □ The brass said no to your promotion.

brassed (off) mod. angry; disgusted. □ You look so brassed off at the world. Smile! □ I'm not brassed in the least, really.

brass hat n. a member of the brass. □ When are the brass hats going to start paying attention to the important things? □ A brass hat came up to me and asked me where I was going.

brass tacks n. essential business. (Usually in get down to brass tacks.) □ Now that we are talking brass tacks, how much do you really want for this watch? □ Since we haven't gotten down to brass tacks, would it be unethical for me to buy you lunch?

BRB interj. Be right back. (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud. Often enclosed, <BRB>.) □ I have to get off the computer for a minute. <BRB> □ I have to get off the computer to use the phone. BRB bread n. money. □ I need to get some bread to live on. □ You got any bread you can spare?

bread and butter n. one's livelihood. □ It's bread and butter to me. I have to do it. □ I can't give it up. It's my bread and butter.

breadbasket AND dinner basket n. the belly; the stomach. □ I hit him, pow, right in the breadbasket. □ With a dinner basket like that, he must have a devil of a time buying clothes.

break 1. n. a chance; an opportunity. □ Come on, give me a break! □ I got my first break in show biz when I was only twelve. 2. n. an escape from prison; a prison breakout. □ I hear there's a break planned for tonight. □ Two cons got shot in the break. 3. in. [for a news story] to unfold rapidly. (Journalism.) □ As the story continues to break, we will bring you the latest. □ Something is breaking on the Wilson murder. Get over to the DA's office, quick. 4. n. a solo played when the rest of the band stops. □ This is your break, Andy. Let's hear it, man. □ It wasn't much of a break, but I gave it everything.

Break a leg! exclam. Good luck! (A special theatrical way of wishing a performer good luck. Saying good luck is considered to be a jinx.) □ "Break a leg!" shouted the stage manager to the heroine. □ Let's all go and do our best. Break a leg!

breaker 1. n. a break dancer. (Break dancing is a rhythmic and energetic impromptu performance usually done by untrained urban youths.) □ He is one of the best breakers in the city. □ I'm too fat to be a breaker. 2. n. someone attempting to use a citizens band radio channel. □ There's a breaker trying to use this channel. Let's drop down to eleven. □ You got it, breaker.

breakfast of champions n. a first alcoholic drink of the day, taken in the morning, instead of breakfast. (Collegiate.) □ Well, here it goes—the breakfast of champions. □ He calls it the breakfast of champions. I call it a bad sign of something out of hand.

Break it up! exclam. Stop it! (An order to two or more people to stop doing something, such as fighting.) □ All right you two, break it up! □ She told the boys to break it up or get sent to the principal's office.

break one's balls to do something Go to bust (one's) ass (to do something).

break out in. to leave. □ It's late, man. Time to break out. □ We broke out a little after midnight.

break someone's balls tv. to wreck or ruin someone; to overwork someone; to overwhelm someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ I'm gonna break your balls. You understand me?

break the ice 1. tv. to be the first one to do something. □ No one wants to break the ice. I guess I will be first. □ Well, I guess we should break the ice and start dancing. 2. tv. to attempt to become friends with someone. □ He tried to break the ice, but she was a little cold. □ A nice smile does a lot to break the ice.

breather n. a rest period; a lull. □ I really need a breather. □ As soon as we've had a breather, it's back to work.

breeder n. a nonhomosexual. (In a homosexual context.) □ Don't invite Wally. He's a breeder. □ Why not? The breeders invited us to their party.

breeze n. an easy task. □ Nothing to it. It was a breeze. □ I went through it like a breeze.

brew 1. n. coffee; occasionally, tea. □ I could use a nice cup of brew. □ This is my kind of brew, hot, black, and aromatic. 2. n. beer; a can, bottle, or glass of beer. □ Hey, give me a cold brew, will ya? □ This is my favorite brew, and it's at just the right temperature.

brewed mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Fred is brewed every evening by 9:00. I think he has a problem. □ He tries to get brewed as soon as he can after work.

brew-ha ['bruha] n. brew; a beer. □ One brew-ha over here, innkeeper! □ How 'bout some brew-ha, Mike?

brew-out n. a beer blast; a beer blow-out. □ Were you at Tom's brew-out? I was too bombed to see who was there. □ Was that Tom's brew-out I was at?

brews brothers n. (male) beer-drinking college students. (A play on The Blues Brothers, a popular movie released in 1980.) □ The brews brothers were making a lot of noise last night. Don't those guys do anything but drink? □ You guys look like the devil and you smell like the brews brothers.

brewski AND brewsky ['bruski] n. beer; a beer. □ Hey, how 'bout a brewski? □ I'll take a nice cold brewsky.

brewsky Go to brewski.

brewster ['brustə] 1. n. a beer drinker; a beer drunkard. □ Fred has become a committed brewster. He pounds one beer after another. □ A dedicated brewster can put away a six-pack in half an hour. 2. n. beer; a can of beer. □ I need another brewster over here, and another one for my buddy. □ Toss me a cold brewster, will you?

brick 1. n. a failed shot in basketball. □ Chalk up another brick for Michael. □ It looked close, but it was a brick. 2. n. any failure. □ Charlie is responsible for another brick in the accounting department. □ This whole thing is a mess. Whose brick is this anyway? 3. in. to fail. □ The whole project bricked because we sat on the contract too long. □ The company almost bricked because of delays in signing contracts.

brickhouse n. a large-breasted woman. (A confused or euphemistic reference to built like a brick shithouse. Usually objectionable.) □ Clara's a real brickhouse. I don't see how she stands up. □ Look at the boobiasms on that brickhouse!

brig [brig] n. jail. (From the term for a naval prison or a shipboard jail.) □ Throw this jerk in the brig. □ The brig in that one-horse town is a mess.

bright and breezy mod. cheery and alert. □ You look all bright and breezy. What happened? □ Bright and breezy people on a day like this make me sick.

bright-eyed and bushy-tailed mod. alert and ready to do something; as alert and as active as a squirrel. □ You look all bright-eyed and bushy-tailed this morning. □ The child—bright-eyed and bushy-tailed—woke everyone up at dawn. □ Tell that bright-eyed and bushy-tailed brat to shut up!

brights n. the eyes. (From bright eyes.) □ Shine your brights on this thing for a minute, will you. □ Don't you close your brights and look bored when I'm talking to you!

brim n. a hat. □ Man, that is one fine brim you got. □ New silks call for a new brim.

bring-down 1. n. something that depresses someone. □ The news was a terrible bring-down. □ Just to see your face was a bring-down. 2. n. something that brings someone back to reality. □ The bill for the week's stay was a real bring-down. □ I have had one bring-down after another today.

bring home the bacon tv. to earn a livelihood; to earn money to buy food. □ When I have to bring home the bacon, I hope I have an interesting job. □ I have to bring home the bacon for six kids.

bring someone down 1. tv. to terminate one's own or someone else's drug experience. (Drugs.) □ It took a lot to bring her down. □ We brought down the two of them carefully. 2. tv. to depress someone. □ The news really brought me down. □ The failure of the business brought down the staff.

bring someone on tv. to arouse someone sexually. □ Look at her! She's doing her best to bring him on! Why are men so stupid? □ Are you trying to bring me on or something?

bring something up 1. tv. to mention something. (Standard English.) □ Why did you have to bring that up? □ Then they brought up the question of money. 2. tv. to vomit something up; to cough something up. □ See if you can get him to bring up the penny. □ I did, and he brought up a nickel instead!

broad n. a woman. (Originally underworld slang. Often jocular. Usually considered rude and derogatory.) □ When is that broad gonna show up? □ Will you broads go get yourselves ready so we can leave?

Bronx cheer ['brʌŋks 'tʃɪr] n. a rude noise made with the lips; a raspberry. □ The little air compressor in the corner of the parking lot made a noise like a Bronx cheer. □ He got only a Bronx cheer for his efforts.

brother Go to (soul) brother.

brown-bag 1. n. a bag lunch. □ Bring a brown-bag, and we'll talk and eat at the same time. □ I lost my brown-bag, but I'll come to talk anyway. 2. in. to carry a bag lunch. □ He's back to brown-bagging while he saves up for his vacation. □ I like to brown-bag. I don't eat so much when I do. 3. mod. having to do with an event during which people eat their own bag lunches. □ These brown-bag affairs seem so tacky. □ The brown-bag meeting wasn't very useful. □ It's brown-bag. Come if you can.

brown bottle flu n. a hangover or sickness from drinking. (Probably from beer, which is often sold in brown bottles.) □ The jerks in the back row of my history class show up every Monday morning with the brown bottle flu. □ Wayne had a case of the brown bottle flu and didn't make the meeting.

browned (off) mod. angry. □ I am really browned off at you! □ The boss is browned—to say the least.

brown hole 1. n. the anus. (Usually objectionable.) □ Bob tried to kick Ziggy in the brown hole but missed. 2. n. to poke someone in the anus; to goose someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ Freddy brown-holed Tom on the stairway, and they had quite a fight.

brownie Go to brown-nose.

brownie points n. imaginary credit for doing something well. (Originally 'demerits' in railroading.) □ How many brownie points do I get for not frowning when you take my picture? □ No brownie points for you, twit!

brown-nose 1. AND brownie; brown-noser n. a sycophant; one who flatters for self-serving motives. □ You are just a plain old brown-nose. □ That brown-noser actually gave the boss a bottle of wine for her birthday. 2. tv. & in. to curry favor with someone; to be a sycophant. □ Don't you brown-nose me! □ Don keeps brown-nosing, and the professor pretends not to notice.

brown-noser Go to brown-nose.

brown out 1. in. [for the electricity] to fade and dim down. (Something less than a black out.) □ The power kept browning out. □ The lights started to brown out, and I thought maybe I didn't pay the bill for the juice. 2. n. a period of dimming or fading of the electricity. □ There was another brown out today. □ They keep building all these expensive power stations, and then we still have brown outs.

brown someone off tv. to make someone angry. (See also browned (off).) □ That whole business with the cab really browned me off. □ I'm afraid I'm going to brown off everyone, but here goes anyway.

bruised [bruzd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I am bruised. My head hurts, and my gut feels yucky. □ How can anybody get so bruised on so little booze?

bruiser ['brʊzə] n. a large, rough male. □ That big bruiser must weigh a ton. □ They call that 320-pound bruiser “The Fridge.”

brush n. an encounter; a close shave. □ My brush with the bear was so close I could smell its breath—which was vile, I might add. □ It seemed like a brush with death.

brushoff ['brʌʃɔf] n. a dismissal; an act of ignoring someone. (See also give someone the brushoff.) □ No brushoff for her. I told her to beat it. □ I got the brushoff, but I can take it.

brutal mod. excellent; powerful. □ Man, what a brutal tune! □ That last wave was brutal to the max.

BS 1. n. bullshit; nonsense; deception. (Partly euphemistic. Usually objectionable.) □ Don't feed me that BS! I know the score! 2. tv. to deceive or attempt to deceive someone with lies or flattery. (Usually objectionable.) □ Don't try to BS me with your sweet talk!

BTO Go to big-time operator.

BTW interj. By the way. (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ BTW, have you heard about the new communications software upgrade? □ I am, BTW, very interested in what you said about the high cost of software.

bubblehead 1. n. a fool; a giddy person. □ You silly bubblehead. Watch where you are going! □ If you can't say anything without coming off like a bubblehead, keep your mouth shut. 2. n. a heavy drinker of champagne. □ It takes a pretty good bankroll to be a real high-class bubblehead. □ Part-time bubbleheads go into operation at weddings and other celebrations.

bubbles Go to bubble water.

bubble water AND bubbles n. champagne. □ More bubble water, or do you want something stronger? □ I want about a gallon of bubbles, thanks.

bubbly n. champagne. (Often with the.) □ I'd like a big glass of bubbly, if you don't mind. □ The bubbly will brighten up any party.

buck 1. n. a dollar. □ Gimme a buck for a bottle of wine, will you mister? □ Here's a buck; get me some cigarettes. 2. tv. to resist something. □ Don't buck it. Do what you are told. □ He enjoys bucking the system. 3. n. a buckskin (leather) shoe. (Usually plural.) □ Look at my new bucks! □ You don't see many red bucks. Are you sure you got the right thing?

buckage n. money. (See also buck.) □ I am a little low on buckage at the moment. □ Can you spare a little buckage until payday?

bucket 1. n. the goal (hoop and net) in basketball. (Sports.) □ Freddy arced one at the bucket and missed. □ When he holds his arm up, his hand is as high as the top of the bucket. 2. n. a hoop or basket in basketball. (Sports.) □ Four buckets in two minutes. Is that a record, or what? □ The last bucket put Adamsville ahead by two points. 3. n. the buttocks. (See also can.) □ Sam's getting a real fat bucket, isn't he? □ Haul your bucket over here and have a seat. 4. n. an old car. (From bucket of bolts.) □ How much did you pay for that old bucket?

bucket of bolts n. a machine, such as a car or a motorcycle, that is old, run-down, or worn-out. □ My old bucket of bolts won't start this morning.

buck for something in. to work ambitiously for something, such as a promotion. □ I'm just bucking for recognition, and of course, a 20 percent raise. □ You can tell she's bucking for promotion.

buck naked mod. entirely naked. (Folksy. From the color of buckskin leather.) □ He stood there buck naked, scratching his belly. □ They all slipped off their trousers and went swimming buck naked. □ Who's that buck naked dancer?

bucko ['bʊkə] n. friend; pal. (Also a term of address. Can also be used with a sneer to convey contempt.) □ Hey, bucko, come here a minute. □ Ask your bucko there if he wants to join us.

buckpasser n. someone who cannot accept the responsibility for something. (See also pass the buck.) □ You are the most irresponsible buckpasser I have ever had to deal with! □ When something really goes wrong, everybody suddenly becomes a buckpasser.

buck up in. to cheer up; to perk up. □ Come on, now, buck up. Things can't be all that bad. □ She began to buck up when I showed her the results of the tests.

bud [bəd] n. a Budweiser™ beer; any beer. (See also budhead.) □ How 'bout one of them buds in a green bottle? □ I got four kinds of bud here. Which do you want?

buddy-buddy ['bʊdi'bʊdi] mod. friendly; too friendly. □ Why is that guy so buddy-buddy with me? □ Don't try to get too buddy-buddy with these people. They don't like strangers. □ What a buddy-buddy phony!

buddy up to someone in. to become very friendly toward someone. □ Why are you buddying up to me? I don't even know you. □ Try to buddy up to him and pretend you are interested in what he is doing.

buddy up (with someone) in. to share living space with someone; to share something with someone. □ Let's buddy up, okay? □ There weren't enough to go around, so we had to buddy up.

budget mod. [of something] of low quality or cheap. □ Don't you dare bring back any of that budget pizza!

budget crunch Go to budget squeeze.

budget squeeze AND budget crunch n. a situation where there is not enough money in the budget. □ Facing another budget squeeze, the legislators were forced to put off their pay increase. □ The budget crunch hasn't begun to affect us yet.

budhead ['bʊdhɛd] n. a beer drinker. (See also bud.) □ You're a budhead, and you're getting worse. □ Here comes Charlie, my favorite budhead. How about a brew, Charlie?

buffaloed ['bʊfələd] mod. confused; stumped. □ These tax forms really have me buffaloed. □ He was so buffaloed by the problem that he didn't get any work done.

buff(ed) [bʌft] mod. strong; muscular. □ Bill is buffed and short-tempered. Stay away from him. □ He has such buff legs! Does he have a job or does he just work out?

bug 1. n. a flaw in a computer program. □ As soon as I get the bugs out, I can run my program. □ There is a little bug still, but it hardly causes any problems. 2. n. someone who is enthusiastic about something. (A combining form.) □ Mary is a camera bug. □ Al has turned into a real compact disc bug. 3. n. an obsession or urge. □ I've got this bug about making money. □ I have a bug that causes me to eat tons of pasta. 4. n. a spy device for listening to someone's conversation. □ I found a little bug taped under my chair. □ The agency bulls put bugs everywhere. 5. tv. to conceal a microphone somewhere. □ Who bugged my office? □ We will have to bug the bookie joint to get the goods on those guys. 6. tv. to annoy someone. □ Stop bugging me, you twit! □ This kind of thing really bugs me.

bug-fucker 1. n. a male with a small penis. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Tell the little bug-fucker he doesn't get a discount, no matter what he's got! 2. n. a small penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ Well, a bug-fucker is better than no fucker at all. 3. n. an insignificant and worthless male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Listen to me, you stupid bug-fucker! Get your things and get outa here!

buggy ['bʊgi] n. an automobile. □ Other than a dent in the front bumper, this buggy is in A-1 condition. □ It's time to buy a new buggy.

bugly ['bʊg li] mod. butt ugly; really ugly. □ I have never seen such a bugly guy in my life!

Bug off! exclam. Get out!; Go away! □ Bug off! Get out of here! □ Bug off and leave me alone!

bug out 1. in. to pack up and retreat. (Military, Korean War.) □ Orders are to bug out by oh-nine-hundred. □ Okay, everybody, move it! We're bugging out. 2. in. to get out of somewhere fast. □ I gotta find a way to bug out of here without getting caught. □ Okay, it's clear. Let's bug out.

buick in. to vomit. (Onomatopoetic. Based on the automobile name.) □ Dave buicked on the lawn and then stumbled into the house. □ Oh, lordy! I feel like I'm going to buick.

built like a brick shithouse 1. mod. pertaining to a very strong and well-built person. (Usually refers to a male. Refers to the sturdiness of an outhouse [outdoor toilet] built of brick rather than the traditional wooden outhouse. Usually objectionable.) □ Chuck is built like a brick shithouse. The only fat on him is where his brain ought to be. 2. mod. pertaining to a beautiful and curvaceous woman. (Refers to the imagined curving and uneven walls of an outhouse built hastily and carelessly of brick. This sense is a misinterpretation of the first sense. Usually objectionable.) □ Look at that dame! She's really built like a brick shithouse.

bull 1. n. nonsense; bullshit. □ That's just a lot of bull. □ Don't give me that bull! I won't buy it. 2. tv. & in. to lie to or deceive someone. □ Stop bullying me! □ Is she bullying again? 3. n. a police officer; a private detective or guard. □ Here come the bulls. Get out. □ And this bull comes up and says, "Where's the fire?"

bull bitch n. a strong and masculine woman. (Rude and derogatory.) □ So, this bull bitch walks up to me and says, "Hey, buddy, got a match?"

bull-dagger Go to bulldiker.

bulldiker AND bull-dagger; bulldyer n. a lesbian, especially if aggressive or masculine. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Some old bulldiker strutted in and ordered a beer and a chaser.

bulldoze tv. to apply pressure or force to get someone to do something. □ You think you can bulldoze people into doing what you want! □ Don't bulldoze me! I push back.

bulldyer Go to bulldiker.

bullet-stopper n. a U.S. Marine. (From the Persian Gulf War.) □ The bullet-stoppers shipped out before we even got to the desert. □ About a dozen bullet-stoppers came into the bar and the army guys tried to start a fight.

bullheaded mod. stubborn. □ Don't be so bullheaded. □ You are the most bullheaded man I've ever known.

bull-pucky ['bʊlpəki] 1. n. bull dung. □ Why didn't you watch where you were going? Didn't you expect to find bull-pucky in a barnyard? □ How can you tell it's bull-pucky? 2. n. nonsense; bullshit. □ Don't give me that bull-pucky! □ That's all just bull-pucky. Don't believe a word of it.

bull session n. a session of casual conversation. □ The gals were sitting around enjoying a bull session. □ The bull session ran on late into the night.

bullshit 1. n. lies; deception; hype; nonsense. (Also an exclamation: Bullshit! Widely known and used by both sexes. Usually objectionable.) □ That's just a lot of bullshit! □ I've heard enough of your bullshit. 2. tv. to deceive someone verbally. (Usually objectionable.) □ Are you trying to bullshit me? 3. in. to tell lies; to hype and promote. (Usually objectionable.) □ Can't you stop bullshitting about how good you are? 4. mod. false; deceptive. (Usually objectionable.) □ I'm sick of those bullshit ads on TV.

bullshit artist AND bullshitter n. a person expert at lies, deception, and hype. (See bullshit. Usually objectionable.) □ What can you expect from a bullshit artist? The truth?

bullshitter Go to bullshit artist.

bullyrag ['bʊliræg] tv. & in. to harass someone. □ Don't bullyrag me just because you're upset. □ Pete is bullyragging again.

bum 1. n. a vagrant; a good-for-nothing. □ You had better get your finances in order unless you want to become a bum. □ There is a bunch of bums on the corner, just doing nothing. 2. mod. bad; faulty. □ This is a bum fuse. No wonder it won't run. □ The screw has a bum head and won't turn. 3. Go to bum something (off someone).

bum about someone or something in. to be depressed about someone or something. □ She's really bum about her grades. They suck.

bum around in. to wander around; to kick around. □ I thought I'd bum around for a few years before I settled down. □ Those two kids bummed around Europe for two months.

bum beef Go to bogus beef.

Bumblefuck Go to Bumfuck.

bum check n. a bad check; a forged check. (See also paper.) □ I never wrote a bum check in my life. □ We took in four bum checks today.

Bumfuck AND Bumblefuck n. an imaginary place where everyone is a rural oaf. (Usually objectionable.) □ I have to drive my cousin home. He lives out in West Bumfuck or something.

bummed (out) mod. discouraged; depressed. □ I feel so bummed. I think I need a nice hot bath. □ When you're feeling bummed out, think how many problems I have.

bummer 1. AND bum trip n. a bad drug experience. (Drugs.) □ She almost didn't get back from a bum trip. □ This bummer comes from mixing pills. 2. n. a disagreeable thing or person. □ My coach is a real bummer. □ The game was a bummer you wouldn't believe. 3. mod. disappointing; unpleasant. □ I had a real bummer day. □ This bummer car won't start!

bumming mod. down; depressed; suffering from something disagreeable. (Collegiate.) □ I'm really bumming. I think I need somebody to talk to. □ Everybody's bumming. It must be the weather.

bum out 1. in. to have a bad experience with drugs. (Drugs.) □ I bummed out on angel dust. □ She bummed out once too often and gave up the stuff altogether. 2. in. to have any bad experience. □ We bummed out at the concert. I dropped my music, and Larry broke a string. □ The test was horrible. I bummed out, for sure.

bump tv. to remove someone from an airplane flight, usually involuntarily, because of overbooking. □ They bumped me, but gave me something to make up for it. □ Is this airline in the habit of bumping old ladies?

bumping mod. [of music] having a good beat. □ Man, this music is bumping. I can feel the beat.

bump someone off tv. to kill someone. (Originally underworld.) □ What am I supposed to do, bump her off? □ The mob bumped off the witness before the trial.

Bump that! tv. Forget that! □ Bump that! I was wrong. □ I gave you the wrong number. Bump that!

bump uglies tv. [for two people] to copulate. □ You been bumpin' uglies with Joannie again?

bum rap 1. n. a false criminal charge. (Underworld. The same as bad rap.) □ This is a bum rap, and you know it. □ If a crook didn't scream that he got a bum rap, I might think he was really innocent. 2. AND bum-rap tv. to talk ill about someone; to accuse someone of something falsely. □ You're always bum-rapping your car! □ Don't bum rap me! I'll sue!

bum someone out tv. to discourage someone. (See also bummed (out).) □ That darn blow-out bummed me out. □ The failure of his tires bummed out the race driver.

bum something (off someone) tv. to beg or borrow something (from someone). □ Can I bum a cigarette off you? □ Can I bum a quarter for a phone call?

bum's rush n. the ejection of a person from a place. □ I got the bum's rush at that bar. □ Do I look that bad? □ Give this dame the bum's rush. She can't pay for nothin'.

bum steer ['bəm 'stir] n. a false lead; false information. □ You sure gave me a bum steer when you told me who he was. □ We spent all day checking out what turned out to be a bum steer.

bum trip Go to bummer.

bunch of fives n. the fist. □ How would you like a bunch of fives right in the kisser?

□ He ended up with a bunch of fives in the gut.

bunch-punch 1. n. an act of serial copulation, with one female and a group of males. □ Sam always dreamed about being involved in a bunch-punch. 2. n. an act of group rape of a woman. □ There was a bunch-punch in this neighborhood last night, and the night before, and the night before that. Where are the police?

bunco ['bæŋkə] 1. n. a scheme to swindle people. (From banca, the name of a card game in Spanish.) □ He's been fiddling with bunco on the West Coast. □ All the stuff relating to bunco comes across this desk. 2. tv. to swindle someone. □ They buncoed an old lady and left her penniless. □ Fred tried to bunco a chick in Frisco, but felt sorry for her at the last minute.

buncombe Go to bunkum.

bundle n. a large amount of money. (See also lose a bundle; make a bundle; package.) □ He still has a bundle from the sale of his house. □ You must think I have a real bundle.

bundle from heaven Go to bundle of joy.

bundle of joy AND bundle from heaven n. a baby. □ We are expecting a bundle of joy next September. □ When your little bundle from heaven arrives, things will be a little hectic for a while.

bundle of nerves n. a very nervous person. □ I'm just a bundle of nerves. I wish this were over. □ Paul's been a bundle of nerves ever since his wreck.

bunghole 1. n. the mouth. □ I've heard enough out of you! Shut your bunghole! 2. n. the anus. (Usually objectionable.) □ She tripped and fell down on her bunghole.

bunkie ['bæŋki] n. a roommate. □ My bunkie is from Iowa. □ I wish I had a bunkie. Things get lonely in a single room.

bunkum AND buncombe ['bæŋkəm] n. nonsense. □ That's just plain bunkum. □ Another candidate for governor means just that much more buncombe.

buns n. the buttocks. □ Look at the buns on that guy! □ Me and my girlfriend just love to go down to the beach and look for guys with cute buns.

burb [bɜːb] n. a suburb. (Usually plural.) □ I've lived in the burbs all my life. □ Our burb is too far from the city for much pollution.

burbed out [bɜːbd...] mod. looking very middle-class and suburban; decked out like a suburban citizen. □ She's all burbed out with new clothes and a fancy car. □ He looks sort of burbed out for a city guy.

burg [bɜːg] n. a small town. (Disdainful.) □ I can't stand another day in this burg. □ This burg is getting on my nerves.

burger n. a hamburger sandwich; a hamburger patty. □ You ready for another burger? □ He's cooking burgers out on the grill right now.

burger-flipper n. a lowly hamburger cook in a fast-food restaurant. □ If you drop out of school now, you'll end up being a burger-flipper for the rest of your life.

burn 1. n. a cigarette. □ Gimme a burn, huh? □ Fred just stood there with a burn on his lower lip and his hands in his pockets. 2. tv. to smoke a cigarette. □ I need to burn a fag. Just a minute. □ This nicotine fiend needs to burn one for a fix! 3. tv. to smoke cannabis. (Drugs.) □ Jim spent Saturday out in the field burning grass. □ The two of them sat there burning reefers for hours on end. 4. tv. to execute someone in the electric chair. (Underworld.) □ I'll see that they burn you for this! □ The DA tried to burn me, but I got off with six months. 5. in. to die by electrocution in the electric chair. (Underworld.) □ I ain't afraid I'll burn, copper! □ I'll see that you burn for this. 6. tv. to cheat or rob someone. □ Tom tried to burn me by selling me a bum watch, but I'm too clever. □ He will burn you if you're not careful. 7. tv. to shoot someone. (Underworld.) □ He burned the guy with a pistol, but it didn't stop him. □ Hold it! I've burned one guy tonight, and I ain't afraid of puttin' a hole through you. 8. n. a deception; an instance of being cheated. □ Man, that was a burn. That guy was really mad. □ We pulled off the burn with- out a hitch. It was a gas. 9. n. the charge or rush after the injection of a drug into a vein. (Drugs.) □ Man, wait'll you taste the burn from this stuff. □ I don't want a big burn; just drag it out for about an hour.

10. tv. to cook food. □ Why don't you burn some chow for me? □ Burn your own stuff, you lazy good-for-nothing man!

burn artist n. someone who cheats or harms someone else; an informer. (Underworld.) □ Never trust a known burn artist. □ The fuzz rounded up all the burn artists in the district and pumped them for info.

burned 1. mod. cheated; betrayed. □ Man, did I get burned in that place! □ We sure got burned on that deal. 2. mod. disappointed; humiliated; put down. □ Whenever we rap, you're never happy till I'm burned. □ Ha! You're burned! 3. AND burned up mod. very angry. □ I've never been so burned up at anyone. □ Boy, was I burned!

burned out AND burnt out 1. mod. tired; bored. □ I'm burned out after all that partying. □ I don't want to work with burnt out people. I need energy. 2. mod. having to do with the ruined veins of an addict. (Drugs.) □ These old ropes are just burned out. I don't know what to do. □ My veins are burnt out so I shoot in the jug. 3. mod. ruined by marijuana smoking. (Drugs. See also burnout.) □ The poor kid was burned out at the age of twelve. □ What's left for these burned out kids? 4. mod. no longer affected by a particular drug. (Drugs.) □ It's no good. I'm just burned out. The stuff doesn't affect me at all. □ She was burned out on Q.

burned up Go to burned.

burnout ['bɜːnaʊt] 1. n. a person who is ruined by drugs. □ The kid's a burnout. What can you do? □ Two burnouts sat on the school steps and stared at their feet. 2. n. someone no longer effective on the job. □ As a teacher, Fred is a burnout. □ We try to find some other employment for the burnouts.

burn rubber tv. to run a car engine so fast that one spins the tires so that rubber is left on the street. (See also lay (some) rubber.) □ Man, this hog can really burn rubber. □ When George was at the age when the greatest thrill was burning rubber, he began to shave once a week.

burn someone down tv. to humiliate someone. □ Man, don't you ever burn me down like that again! □ You just want to burn down everybody to make yourself seem better.

burn someone up tv. to make someone very angry. □ That kind of thing just burns me up. □ This whole business burns all of us up.

burnt offering n. burned food; a badly cooked meal. □ Everything I try to cook turns out to be a burnt offering. □ All I have to look forward to after work is a burnt offering.

burnt out Go to burned out.

burn with a low blue flame 1. in. to be heavily alcohol intoxicated. □ Yeah, he's burning with a low blue flame. □ He's not just drunk, he's burning with a low blue flame. 2. in. to be quietly and intensely angry. □ She just sat there with her steak in her lap, burning with a low blue flame. □ She was quiet, but everyone knew she would soon burn with a low blue flame.

burp Go to berp.

burps Go to berps.

bury the hatchet 1. tv. to make peace. (From an alleged Amerindian practice.) □ I'm sorry. Let's stop arguing and bury the hatchet. □ Tom and I buried the hatchet and we are good friends now. 2. tv. to leave surgical instruments in the patient. (Medical.) □ Did Dr. Smith bury the hatchet again? □ The idea that a doctor would bury the hatchet is a very old joke.

bush 1. n. the pubic hair. (Usually objectionable.) □ How old were you when you started growing a bush? 2. n. women considered as a receptacle for the penis. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Bubba says he gotta have some bush.

bush bitch AND bush pig n. an ugly or unpleasant female. (Derogatory.) □ Tom's been dating some bush pig from Adamsville. □ Who is that bush bitch I saw Tom with last night?

bushed [boʊt] mod. exhausted. □ I am just bushed. □ Another hard day! I am more bushed than ever.

bush patrol 1. n. a session of necking and petting. (Here patrol has the military meaning of assignment.) □ Tom is out on bush patrol tonight. I don't know who with. □ Martha and Paul spent the evening on bush patrol. 2. n. an imaginary search through campus shrubbery to flush out the necking couples. □ The dean of women put on her housecoat and went out on bush patrol. □ Bush patrol starts at midnight, so be in by then.

bush pig Go to bush bitch.

business end (of something) n. the dangerous end of something; the part of something that does something as opposed to the part one holds on to. □ Harry burned himself on the business end of a soldering iron. □ The robber pointed the business end of the gun right at Kelly.

bust 1. n. a failure. □ The whole project was a bust from the beginning. □ My whole life is a bust. 2. tv. to reduce someone's rank. (Originally military, now also in civilian use as with the police.) □ I'm going to bust you to private! □ The brass busted her on the spot. 3. n. a riotous drinking party. □ There was a big bust in the park until two in the morning. □ There was no beer at the bust. Only wine. 4. n. a raid by the police. □ The cops staged a bust on Max's place. □ I knew it was a bust the minute they broke in the door. 5. tv. [for the police] to raid a place. □ The bacon busted Bill's bar and put Bill in the slammer. □ We're gonna bust every bookie joint in town. 6. tv. to arrest someone. □ The feds finally busted Frank on a tax rap. □ A smokey busted Fred for not having a tail-light. 7. n. an arrest. □ The bust was carried off without much stress. □ What a bust! The man was hollering and the kids were scoffing like mad. 8. tv. to inform on someone, leading to an arrest. □ I guess I busted Frank, but they threatened me. □ Tom busted Sam because there's bad blood between them. 9. n. the police. □ The bust is gonna find you no matter where you hole up. □ Here comes the bust. Beat it! 10. Go to busted.

busta n. a punk; a jerk. (From the nickname buster.) □ Yo, Busta! Tsup?

bust a gut (to do something) tv. to make a great effort (to do something). (Usually objectionable.) □ I busted a gut trying to get just the thing you wanted! □ Don't bust a gut, but try to get here on time.

bust a move tv. to leave (a place). □ Let's go. Time to bust a move. □ Let's bust a move. Lots to do tomorrow.

bust-ass Go to kick-ass.

bust ass (out of some place) Go to bag ass (out of some place).

busted 1. AND bust mod. arrested. □ Max is bust again. The third time this month. □ I got busted for speeding. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I went to a beer bust and got busted. □ Jim is busted again—really boiled.

bust (one's) ass (to do something) AND break one's balls (to do something); bust one's butt (to do something); bust one's nuts (to do something) tv. to work very hard to do something; to work very hard at something. (Usually objectionable.) □ You get down there and bust your ass to get the job done right! You hear me? □ Come on, you guys! Let's bust ass! Get busy! □ I've been busting my butt at this job for 30 years and look where it's got me!

bust one's butt to do something Go to bust (one's) ass (to do something).

bust one's nuts to do something Go to bust (one's) ass (to do something).

bust on someone or something n. to attack someone or a group. □ These three guys busted on Bubba and broke his arm.

bust someone one tv. to punch someone; to give someone a punch, probably in the face. □ You better shut up, or I'll bust you one! □ You want me to bust you one? I will if you do that again.

bust (some) suds 1. tv. to drink some beer. □ Let's go out and bust some suds. □ I'm tired of busting suds. Let's play cards.

2. tv. to wash dishes. □ I don't want to spend the rest of my life busting suds. □ You get into that kitchen and bust some suds to pay for your meal!

bust something up tv. to ruin something; to break something up. □ She tried to bust my marriage up! □ I hate to bust up the party, but we gotta go.

bust something wide open Go to blow something wide open.

but mod. totally; very. (Note its position in the sentence.) □ Tell him to get his tail over here but fast. □ This thing has to be done but good.

but-boy n. someone, usually a male, who raises objections frequently. (The opposite of a yes-man.) □ I wish you wouldn't be such a but-boy, Higgins. Can't you ever agree with anyone? □ Hank is such a but-boy. He doesn't know when to just let something go by.

butch [bʊtʃ] 1. n. a physician. (Derogatory. From butcher.) □ The butch at the infirmary was no help at all. □ What does it take to be a butch besides an office and a degree? 2. mod. virile and masculine. (In a homosexual context.) □ That's a real butch haircut, Claude. □ Really, Clare. How butch!

But, hey phr.  □ A: Please don't track sand all over the restaurant carpet! B: But, hey, it's my vacation! □ But, hey! I live here and I can do what I want!

butt [bʊt] 1. n. the buttocks. (Potentially offensive, although heard almost everywhere.) □ She fell right on her butt. □ The doctor gave her a shot in the butt. 2. n. a cigarette butt. □ Whose butts are those in the car ashtray? □ Don't leave your butts in the houseplants! 3. n. a cigarette of any kind. □ You got a butt I can bum? □ What kind of butt is that, anyway? 4. n. someone or something that is disliked. (Rude and derogatory. See also boody.) □ The guy's a real butt. A real squid. □ I wish you didn't act like such a butt all the time.

butter mod. good; really fine. □ This guy Walter, he's butter, totally butter. □ Man, your threads are butter!

butterfingers n. someone who cannot hold on to things. (Also a term of address.) □ I'm such a butterfingers. I dropped my papers. □ Hang on to this tight, butterfingers!

butt-fucking Egypt AND BFE n. a place that is very far away. (Usually objectionable.) □ My brother lives out in butt-fucking Egypt somewhere.

butthead n. a stupid or obnoxious person of either sex. (Also a term of address. Rude and derogatory.) □ Don't be such a butthead!

butthole n. the anus; the asshole. (Usually objectionable.) □ Why are you always scratching your butthole?

buttinsky AND buttinski [bə'tɪnski] n. someone who interrupts; someone who gets involved in other people's business. □ Frank is such a buttinsky. □ I hate to be a buttinski, but what are you talking about?

buttlegging ['bʊtlægɪŋ] n. the transportation of untaxed or undertaxed cigarettes across a state line. (Patterned on bootlegging.) □ There's another news story about buttlegging in northern Indiana tonight. □ Most of the guys at the plant do buttlegging on the way home from work.

buttlod AND shitload mod. a lot; a large amount. (Usually objectionable.) □ I know we can sell a buttlod of these recordings—if we can only get a shipment of them in time. □ I want to get a really good job and earn a shitload of money.

butt naked mod. totally nude. □ I was butt naked in the shower and couldn't get the phone.

button 1. n. the termination of a recitation; the punch line of a joke; a zinger. (The equivalent of a button punched to signal a response.) □ When I got to the button, I realized that I had told the whole joke wrong. □ When I came to the button, I knew I was really going to insult the guy.

2. n. a police officer's badge or shield. □ The guy flashed his button, so I let him in. □ Just because you got a button, it doesn't mean you can push innocent citizens around!

buttonhole tv. to accost someone; to make someone listen to one. (As if grabbing someone by the coat lapel to keep them from getting away.) □ The guy buttonholed me on my way out, and started asking me a lot of questions. □ See if you can buttonhole a cop and get some directions.

Button your lip! exclam. Shut up!; Be quiet! □ I've heard enough outa you! Button your lip!

Butt out! exclam. Get out of my affairs!; Mind your own business! □ Go away! Butt out! □ Butt out! I'm busy.

butt-ugly mod. very ugly. (Usually objectionable.) □ That is the most butt-ugly car I've ever seen. □ She is one butt-ugly woman.

butt-wipe Go to ass-wipe.

buy 1. n. a purchase. □ Man, this is a great buy. □ What a buy, two for the price of one. 2. tv. to believe something. □ Nobody'll buy that story. □ It sounds good to me, but will your wife buy it?

buy it tv. to die. (See also buy the farm; buy the big one.) □ For a minute, I thought I was going to buy it. □ He lay there coughing for a few minutes, and then he bought it.

buy someone's wolf ticket tv. to challenge someone's boast or taunt. (Streets. See also sell a wolf ticket.) □ He wants me to buy his wolf ticket bad. □ He's such a fighter. He'll buy anybody's wolf ticket.

buy the big one tv. to die. □ I don't plan to buy the big one for at least another thirty years. □ She conked out for good—you know, bought the big one.

buy the farm tv. to die; to get killed. □ He bought the farm on San Juan Hill. □ I'm too young to buy the farm.

buy time tv. to use a tactic to postpone something. □ You are just doing this to buy time. □ Maybe I can buy some time by asking for a continuance.

buy trouble tv. to encourage trouble; to bring on trouble. □ I don't want to buy trouble. I have enough already. □ Saying something like that is just buying trouble.

buzhie ['buʒi] 1. n. a middle-class person. (From bourgeoisie.) □ My mother was a buzhie, but my father was a Bohemian type. □ I live in a neighborhood of buzhies. 2. mod. middle-class. □ I can't stand this buzhie neighborhood. □ I live in a buzhie house and drive a buzhie car. □ She is so buzhie!

buzz 1. n. a call on the telephone. (Usually with give. See also jingle.) □ I'll give you a buzz tomorrow. □ I got a buzz from him yesterday. 2. tv. to call someone on the telephone. □ Buzz me about noon. □ I'll buzz Mary and see if she can go. 3. tv. to signal someone with a buzzer. □ I'll buzz my secretary. □ Did you buzz, Gloria? 4. n. a thrill. □ I got a real buzz out of that. □ The dancers gave the old man a buzz. 5. n. a chuckle. □ She gets a buzz out of reading the comics. □ Here's a little joke that'll give you a buzz. 6. n. the initial effects of drinking alcohol or taking certain drugs. □ Sam got a little buzz from the wine, but he still needed something stronger. □ She took a hit and leaned back, waiting for the buzz.

buzz along 1. in. to depart. □ Well, I must buzz along. □ It's time to buzz along to work now. 2. in. to drive or move along rapidly. □ We were buzzing along at about seventy when we heard a siren. □ "You were buzzing along at eighty-two miles per hour," said the cop.

buzzard n. an old man; a mean old man. (Especially with old.) □ Who's the buzzard in the wing-tip shoes? □ Some old buzzard is at the door asking for Mary Wilson.

buzzard meat n. someone or something that is dead or outdated. □ If you don't watch out, you're going to become buzzard meat! □ That old car is buzzard meat. It will hardly run.

buzzing mod. drunk. □ Sally was buzzing after only a few drinks. □ She was really buzzing and Molly had to take her home.

buzzword n. a specialist word; a technical word; a jargon word. (See also fuzzword.) □ Your constant use of buzzwords makes your work sound quite trivial. □ What's the latest buzzword?

BVDs AND beeveedees n. underwear; men's underwear. (The first entry is an initialism. From Bradley, Voorhies, and Day, the manufacturers. Always plural.) □ He stood there in his BVDs, freezing. □

If you don't wear a belt, your BVDs will show.

BWOC n. big woman on campus, an important or self-important female college student. (Initialism. Collegiate. See also BMOC.) □ Some BWOC came in and asked us to leave. □ It's always the same BWOCs you see in the paper.

BYO(B) mod. bring your own (booze or bottle). (Initialism.) □ A note on the invitation says that the party is BYOB. □ I hate BYOB parties. There's never enough to drink.

C

C. n. the sum of one-hundred dollars, as in C-note. (Underworld. The C is the Roman numeral 100.) □ Four C.s for an old junker like that? You're crazy! □ This suit cost me two C.s.

cabbage n. money. (Originally underworld. See also green; spinach.) □ How much cabbage you want for this heater? □ I don't make enough cabbage to go on a trip like that!

cabbagehead n. a fool; a stupid person. □ What cabbagehead put this thing on upside down? □ I'm such a cabbagehead. I mailed my paycheck back to the office by mistake.

cabbie AND cabby n. a taxi driver. (Also a term of address.) □ Ask the cabbie if he can change a twenty. □ Say, cabby, do you know the way to St. Joseph's Hospital?

caboose [kə'bus] n. the buttocks. (From the name of the car at the end of a railroad train.) □ You just plunk your caboose over there on the settee and listen up to what I have to tell you. □ My caboose is bigger than I want it, but life is too short to fret about stuff like that.

caca AND kaka ['kaka] 1. n. dung; feces. (Juvenile. From Spanish. Usually objectionable.) □ There's fresh caca in the front yard. □ Don't worry. It's dog kaka. 2. in. to defecate. (Juvenile. Usually objectionable.) □ Jimmy kakad in his diaper! □ It's time you learned to caca in the potty.

cack [kæk] 1. n. dung; feces. (Usually objectionable. See also caca.) □ Wipe that cack off your shoes before you come in here! □ The sidewalks are just covered with cack! 2. in. to defecate. (Usually objectionable.) □ The dog cacked right there on Fifth Avenue. □ "Dogs can't cack here," hollered the police officer. 3. AND kack; kak in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ I cacked all night with the flu. □ I've never heard anybody cack so loud in my life! 4. AND kack; kak tv. to kill someone. □ Frank threatened to cack Veronica if she didn't straighten up. □ The witness got cacked before she could testify. 5. tv. to deceive someone; to shit (sense 7) someone. □ That didn't happen! You're just cacking me.

cackleberry n. an egg. (Old.) □ You want cackleberries for breakfast?

cactus (buttons) n. peyote cactus containing mescaline. (Drugs.) □ Gert came back from vacation with a bag of cactus buttons. □ "Who ate all my cactus?" screamed Gert.

cactus juice n. tequila. (A Mexican liquor.) □ Ernie brought back a big jug of cactus juice from Mexico. □ This cactus juice will make your hair stand on end.

caddy ['kædi] n. a Cadillac automobile. □ What I really want is a caddy. Keep your yuppie beemer. □ Who's the chick in the caddy?

Cadillac ['kædɪlək] 1. n. the name of something powerful or superior. (From the name of the automobile.) □ This product is the Cadillac of plastic kitchenware. □ Acme is the Cadillac of monochrome closed-circuit retail surveillance equipment. 2. n. a powerful drug, especially cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Just a pinch of Cadillac in my junk seems to keep me a little more lively. □ Nothing but Cadillac for Frank!

the cage of anger n. a prison. (Streets.) □ The judge put Jojo into the cage of anger for a three-year stretch. □ Man, you wanna stay in the cage of anger for the rest of your life? If not, chill, chill, chill.

cagey ['kɛdʒi] mod. sneaky; shrewd. □ John is pretty cagey. You have to keep an eye on him. □ He's too cagey for me. I don't trust him at all.

cake 1. n. money. (From bread, dough.) □ I can't scrape together enough cake to do the job. □ I don't have cake in my pocket, in the bank, or under my mattress. What am I going to do? 2. Go to cakes.

cake hole Go to word hole.

cakes the buttocks. (Like buns.) □ You behave yourself or I'll blister your cakes. □ She fell down and bruised her cakes.

cakewalk n. something very easy. (See also sleepwalk.) □ Nothing to it. It's a cakewalk. □ The game was a cakewalk from beginning to end.

calaboose ['kæləbʊs] n. jail. (From a Spanish word.) □ One night in the calaboose is enough. □ Are we going to tell what happened, or are we going to spend the night in the calaboose?

calendar n. a month. □ Okay, man. I'll see you in one calendar. □ One more calendar, then you get your jack.

call 1. n. a decision; a prediction. □ That was a good call, Mike. □ The market behaved just as you said it would. Good call.

2. tv. to challenge someone. □ I called him, but he ignored me. □ Are you the guy who called me? Who do you think you are?

3. n. the early effects of a drug; the beginning of a rush; a rush. (Drugs.) □ You may not get the call on this stuff for twenty minutes or more. □ A guy like this is only happy when he senses the call.

call (all) the shots tv. to decide on the course of action; to be in charge. □ Why do you have to call all the shots? □ Do what you're told. I'll call the shots.

call earl Go to call hughie.

call-girl n. a woman who is on call as a prostitute. (Possibly refers to a prostitute who can be contacted by a telephone call.) □ The cops dragged in a whole flock of call-girls after the convention.

call hogs tv. to snore really loudly. □ Mike was calling hogs all night long and I got hardly a wink of sleep. □ Wake up! Wake up! You're calling hogs again!

call house n. a brothel. □ The cops busted a call house on Fourth Street last week. □ The madame of the call house certainly looked like a lady to me.

call hughie AND call earl [...'hyui AND ...'ɜ:l] tv. to vomit. (Onomatopoeic from the sound of retching.) □ Fred spent an hour in the john calling hughie. □ Yuck! I have to go call earl.

Call my service. sent. Please call me through my answering service. (Not a friendly or encouraging invitation.) □ Good to talk to ya, babe. Call my service. Love ya! □ I can't talk now. Call my service.

call of nature Go to nature's call.

call ralph Go to cry ruth.

call ruth Go to cry ruth.

call shotgun phr. to call out and claim the seat beside the driver in an automobile. □ Bob called shotgun so he could sit next to the driver.

call someone out tv. to challenge someone to a fight. □ Max wanted to call him out, but thought better of it. □ Did you call me out? What are you going to do about it?

Cambodian red AND cam (red) n. a reddish brown marijuana grown in Cambodia. (Drugs.) □ Where did you get cam red?

camp 1. n. something cute and out-of-fashion; something of such an anachronistic style as to be intriguing. □ Camp is dull and was never interesting. □ My brother thinks camp is just a joke. □ Nobody really knows what style camp really is, and very few even care. 2. AND campy mod. overdone; out-of-fashion and intriguing. □ Most camp entertainment is pretentious and overdrawn. □ Who needs camp movies? 3. mod. having to do with homosexual persons and matters. □ What a camp way of walking! □ She is so camp, I could scream!

campi ['kæmpaɪ] n. campuses. (The Latin plural of campus = field.) □ I'll see you about the campi. Ciao! □ When will you return to the campi after vacation?

camp it up 1. tv. to overact. □ Can you make it a little more lively without camping it up? □ She's so dull that she could camp it up and still look half asleep. 2. tv. to overdo effeminacy; [for a homosexual male] to act too effeminate in public. □ Can't you even walk across the room without camping it up? □ John just loves to burst into the most sedate hotel in town and camp it up in the lobby.

campus ['kæmpəs] tv. to restrict someone to the grounds of a college campus. (See also campused. Collegiate.) □ The dean threatened to campus the entire fraternity for a month. □ "We will campus you for a year, if necessary," shouted the dean, who really didn't understand young people.

campused ['kæmpəst] mod. restricted to the campus. (Collegiate.) □ I can't go to town. I'm campused. □ She's campused and can only go to the library.

campus queen n. a good-looking and popular female college student. □ I always thought I wanted to be a campus queen, but all that has changed. □ I wonder what some of those campus queens look like when they get up in the morning.

campy Go to camp.

cam (red) Go to Cambodian red.

can 1. n. the head. □ What do you have in your can, anyway? Lard? □ Jerry landed one on Frank's can. Frank crumpled. 2. n. toilet. □ Restroom? Hell, I ain't tired! Where's the can? 3. n. the buttocks. (Usually objectionable. See also bucket.) □ The guy slipped on the ice and fell on his can. □ Look at the can on that guy! 4. n. jail. (Usually with the.) □ I had to spend the night in the can, but it wasn't too bad. □ You've seen one can, you've seen 'em all. 5. tv. to dismiss someone from employment. □ The jerk canned everybody who played a part in the gag. □ I'll can anybody who tries a stunt like that again. 6. n. a car. □ That's a good-looking can he's driving. □ Please don't park your old can in front of my house. 7. Go to cans. 8. n. a breast. (Usually objectionable. Usually plural.) □ Man, look at the cans on that dame! □ Those cans can't be real! 9. n. a measurement of marijuana. (Drugs.) □ How much do you want for a can? □ A can is too much except for a party.

canary [kə'nəri] 1. n. a female singer. □ The band had a cute canary who could really sing. □ The drummer and the canary just don't seem to be able to get along. 2. n. a capsule of Nembutal™, a barbiturate. (Drugs. The capsule is yellow.) □ You got any canaries? I need a downer. □ There are a couple of blues, which ought to do the same as canaries. 3. n. a police informer who sings to the police. (See also stool (pigeon).) □ Ziggy is no canary. He would never squeal on us.

cancel someone's Christmas tv. to kill someone; to destroy someone. (Underworld. The dead person will miss Christmas.) □ If he keeps bugging me, I'm gonna cancel his Christmas. □ Bruno threatened to cancel Frank's Christmas if Frank didn't pay up.

cancer stick n. a tobacco cigarette. (From the notion that cigarette smoking is a major cause of lung cancer. Old but recurrent.) □ Kelly pulled out his ninth cancer stick and lit it up. □ A lot of people are addicted to cancer sticks.

candied ['kændid] mod. addicted to cocaine. (Drugs. See also nose (candy).) □ Unfortunately, Paul is candied, and he lost his job so he can't buy toot. □ He is one of those people who gets candied at first snort.

candlelight n. dusk; dawn. □ I'll see you along about candlelight. □ Turn your lights on at candlelight or the cops will stop you.

candy n. drugs in general. (Drugs. See also nose (candy).) □ I gotta go get some candy from the candy man. □ This candy is powerful stuff.

candy-ass 1. n. a coward; a timid person. □ Sue is such a candy-ass when it comes to dealing with her children. 2. Go to candy-ass(ed).

candy-ass(ed) mod. timid; frightened; cowardly. □ What a candy-assed twit you are!

candy man n. a drug dealer. (Drugs.) □ Lefty said he had to go meet with the candy man. □ Max is sort of a candy man.

candy store n. a liquor store. □ Let's stop at this candy store and get some bubbles. □ Somebody robbed the candy store on the corner.

cane n. cocaine. (Drugs.) □ What the hell did you pay for this cane? □ Even the kids can afford to buy cane now. The social problems of the twenty-first century are starting right here.

Can it! exclam. Shut up! □ I've heard enough. Can it! □ That's enough out of you! Can it!

canned 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I'll drive. I'm too canned to walk. □ Man, am I canned! 2. mod. having to do with pre-recorded laughter or applause that is added to the sound track of a television program. □ Canned laughter really sounds phony. □ The dialogue was funny enough that they didn't need to have the laughter canned.

cannon n. a gun; a revolver. (Underworld.) □ Rocko pulled out his cannon and aimed it at Barlowe's throat. □ The cops found Rocko's cannon where Barlowe had kicked it during the struggle.

cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose Go to see no further than the end of one's nose.

can of worms n. an intertwined set of problems; an array of difficulties. (Often with open.) □ This whole business is a real can of worms. □ When you brought that up, you opened a whole new can of worms.

cans n. earphones. □ The guy with the cans on his head is the radio operator. □ I bought a new set of cans for my stereo.

can-shaker n. a fund-raiser. (As if a person were holding a can for the solicitation of coins from passersby.) □ John was the mayor's can-shaker in the last election. □ Fred was a professional can-shaker for a museum. Maybe he has some ideas as to how we can raise some money.

can't hit the (broad) side of a barn tv. cannot aim something accurately. □ You're way off. You couldn't hit the broad side of a barn. □ Carry the paper to the wastebasket. You can't hit the side of a barn.

can't win (th)em all tv. (one should) expect to lose every now and then. □ It doesn't really matter. You can't win them all. □ Well, I can't win 'em all.

cap 1. n. a capsule of a drug. □ Do you want it in caps or elixir? □ She spilled the caps on the floor and had to find every single one of them. 2. tv. to exceed something; to surpass something. □ I know I can't cap that. That's just super! □ Who could ever cap a joke like that? 3. tv. to make a capsule. □ I must have capped 300 placebos today. □ Albert capped some H. for a pal. 4. tv. to kill someone. □ The kid capped his friend for dissing him. □ One more word and I'll cap you!

caper ['kæpə] 1. n. any stunt or event; a trick or a scam. □ That little caper the kids did with the statue from the town square was a dandy. □ Another caper like that and I call your parents. 2. n. a criminal job: theft, kidnapping, blackmail, etc. (Underworld.) □ Who did you work with on that bank caper? □ The black and whites pulled up right in the middle of the caper.

capish [kə'piʃ] in. to understand. (Usually as a question. From an Italian dialect.) □ The matter is settled. No more talk. Capish? □ Now, if you don't capish, let's get it clear right now.

capital n. cash; money. □ I'm a little short of capital right now. □ Do you think I could borrow a little capital until payday?

capper ['kæpə] n. the climax or clincher of something. □ The capper of the evening was when the hostess got lathered before midnight and couldn't celebrate the New Year. □ When the butler tripped and served Mr. Wilson the entire dessert, in his lap, that was the capper to an exciting evening.

captain of industry n. a corporation officer; a capitalist. □ The captains of industry manage to hang on to their money no matter what. □ It's fun to see those captains of industry drive up in their benzes.

carb [karb] n. an engine carburetor. □ This can needs a new carb. □ I learned how to clean and adjust a carb by the time I was in high school.

carbos ['karboz] n. carbohydrates. (Bodybuilding.) □ You need more protein and less carbo. □ Too many carbo will make you fat.

carburetor n. a device for smoking cannabis that mixes the smoke with air. (Drugs.) □ I have a carburetor with the rest of my stash. □ Frank showed Walter how to use a carburetor.

carcass ['kɑrkəs] n. one's body; a large or heavy body. □ He hauled his carcass out of the car and lumbered into the bank. □ Put your carcass on a chair, and let's chew the fat.

card 1. n. a funny person. □ Tracy is such a card. She cracks me up. □ Gee, Fred. You're a card. Somebody's gonna have to deal with you. 2. tv. to check people's ID cards for age or other eligibility. (See also carded.) □ They card everybody at the football games, even the parents. □ The bartender was carding people so we left quietly.

carded AND proofed mod. [of an ID card] examined to determine whether one has reached the legal drinking age. □ Dave got carded at the party even though he is thirty and looks it. □ All the students were proofed at the door.

carrier n. a narcotics seller or transporter. (Drugs. See also courier.) □ The carrier has the most dangerous job of all. □ You'll never see an old carrier.

carrot top n. a person with red hair. (Also a term of address.) □ Sam is a carrot top with the most beautiful hair I've ever seen. □ Hey, carrot top, where are you going?

carry 1. in. to carry drugs on one's person. (Drugs.) □ If you get busted while you're carrying, you are in big trouble with the man. □ You gotta learn when you can carry and when you can't. 2. n. drugs carried on the person as an emergency supply in case of arrest. (Underworld.) □ I lost my carry somewhere. □ The cops found my carry, and I spent three days in the clink climbing the walls.

carrying a (heavy) load mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Marty is carrying a heavy load. □ Your father's carrying a load again. What are we going to do?

carry the stick tv. to live as a hobo, on the streets. (Streets. From the stick that supports the hobo's bundle.) □ I even carried the stick for a while in the sixties. □ I was afraid I'd be carrying the stick if I got laid off.

carry weight tv. to have influence. □ I don't carry much weight around here, but Walter does. □ Tom carries weight with the mayor. Ask him.

cartwheel n. a round, white cross-scored amphetamine tablet. (Drugs.) □ He took cartwheels in the morning and fender-benders at night. □ Cartwheels were the favorite diet pill of the 1960s.

carved in stone mod. permanent or not subject to change. (Often in the negative.) □ Now, this isn't carved in stone yet, but this looks like the way it's going to be. □ Is this policy carved in stone?

cas [kæz] mod. okay; fine. (From casual. See also cazh.) □ That's cas, man. Good to hear it. □ I agree. Cas. Totally cool.

case of the shorts Go to short.

case the joint 1. tv. to look over someplace to figure out how to break in, what to steal, etc. (Underworld. See also joint.) □ First of all you gotta case the joint to see where things are. □ You could see he was casing the joint the way he looked around. 2. tv. to look a place over. □ The dog came in and cased the joint, sniffing out friends and foes. □ The old lady entered slowly, casing the joint for the face of someone of her era, and finally took a seat.

cash cow n. a dependable source of money; a good investment. □ I put most of my money in a dependable cash cow that pays off once a month. □ Mr. Wilson turned out to be the cash cow we needed to start our repertoire company.

cached 1. mod. having to do with marijuana whose active ingredients have been exhausted. (Drugs.) □ This stuff is cached. Trash it. □ Frank sold the wrong guy some cached grass. 2. mod. exhausted. □ I'm just cached—really pooped. □ After the game, the team was cached and couldn't even celebrate.

cash flow n. cash; ready money. □ When I get a little cash flow at the end of the week, I'll treat you to a hamburger. □ There wasn't enough cash flow to pay the rent.

cash in one's checks Go to cash in one's chips.

cash in one's chips AND cash in one's checks tv. to die; to finish the game (of life). □ He opened his eyes, said good-bye, and cashed in his chips. □ I'm too young to cash in my checks.

Cash is king. sent. It is best to keep one's investment money in cash. (Said when the prices in the securities market are too high. It is better to build up cash and wait for a break in the market.) □ Things look a little pricy now. I'd say that cash is king for the moment. □ I'm holding a little cash for a little bottom fishing, but I wouldn't say that cash is king.

Cash is trash. sent. It is unwise to keep one's investment money in cash. (Said when there are good opportunities in securities and it is foolish to stay on the sidelines in cash.) □ If you've got money sitting around in a money market fund while the market is steaming ahead, you are losing dollars. Right now cash is trash. □ Cash is trash. Get into the market or you stand to lose a bundle.

Caspar Milquetoast ['kæspə 'mɪlktəst] n. a very timid man. (From the name of a character in a cartoon.) □ I'm a little sensitive—not a Caspar Milquetoast, but I have feelings. □ He's no Caspar Milquetoast. He's quite a tennis player in fact.

casper mod. gone; departed. (In the manner of Casper, the friendly ghost—a cartoon character.) □ We'll be casper in just a minute. □ I'm casper. See you later.

casting couch n. a legendary couch found in the offices of casting directors for use in seducing young people by offering them roles. □ They say she got the job on the casting couch. □ They say the director got his job on the casting couch, too.

cast-iron stomach n. a very strong stomach that can withstand bad food or anything nauseating. □ If I didn't have a cast-iron stomach, I couldn't eat this stuff. □ Fred—known for his cast-iron stomach—ate all of his pepper soup.

castor oil artist n. a medical doctor. □ This two-bit castor oil artist tried to get me to lose weight. □ Check with your personal castor oil artist to see if you should be taking this medication.

cat 1. n. a fellow; a guy; a dude. □ Now, this cat wants to borrow some money from me. What should I do? □ Ask the cat what he's got for security. 2. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ I think I'm gonna cat. □ Looks like somebody catted in the bushes. 3. n. a gossip woman. (See also catty.) □ She is such a cat! □ Mary can be such a cat, you know.

catch-22 n. a directive that is impossible to obey without violating some other, equally important, directive. □ There was nothing I could do. It was a classic catch-22. □ I had my choice between catch-22s. What do you call that kind of a dilemma?

catch 1. n. a drawback. □ Okay, that sounds good, but what's the catch? □ There's no catch. It's all on the up and up. 2. tv. to view something; to attend something; to hear something. □ We'll take the chicks to catch a film after we eat. □ Did you catch "Gone with the Wind" on TV?

catch hell (for something) tv. to get severely reprimanded for (doing) something. □ I knew I'd catch hell for it. □ Somebody is going to catch hell for this!

catch some rays AND bag some rays tv. to get some sunshine; to tan in the sun. □ We wanted to catch some rays, but the sun never came out the whole time we were there. □ I went to Hawaii to bag some rays.

catch something tv. to see or listen to something. (More specific than the colloquial sense, to manage to hear something.) □ I will try to catch that new movie this weekend. □ Did you catch that radio program about cancer last night?

catch some Z's AND cop some Z's; cut some Z's tv. to get some sleep. □ I gotta catch some Z's before I drop. □ Why don't you stop a little bit and try to cop some Z's?

catch up in. to break the drug habit; to withdraw from drugs. (Drugs.) □ John never tried to catch up. He's just too far gone. □ I just know I can catch up, if I can just get through the first week.

Catch you later. sent. I will talk to you again when I next see you. □ Can't talk now. Catch you later. □ Sorry, gotta rush. Catch you later.

catholic bagel n. a non-traditional bagel made or flavored with cinnamon, blueberries, strawberries, etc. (Jocular.) □ At breakfast, they had catholic bagels and sweet rolls.

cats and dogs n. slow selling or undesirable merchandise. □ During the Christmas season, the merchants try to get rid of all their cats and dogs. □ When people are buying up even the cats and dogs, you know business is good.

cat's meow [...mi'au] n. something really fine. □ This stuff is really the cat's meow. □ Hearing all the old big band music again is the cat's meow.

cat-soup ['kætsup] n. catsup; ketchup. □ Do you want some cat-soup on your burger? □ No, I never use cat-soup.

cattle-rustler n. a thief who steals meat from supermarkets for resale. (Underworld.) □ Marty is a cattle-rustler, and she's got some stuff for sale. □ She's a cattle-rustler to support her habit.

catty mod. spiteful; snotty. □ You know how catty Mary is—almost as catty as Gloria—well, she told me something about you that really shocked me. □ How can anybody be so catty?

caveman n. a strong, virile man. □ He's sort of a caveman, big and hairy. □ I don't care for cavemen.

cazh [kæʒ] mod. casual. (From casual. See also cas.) □ I tend to dress cazh in warm weather no matter what the occasion. □ Tom showed up dressed cazh and all the other guys were in tuxes.

cee [si] n. cocaine. (Drugs. See also C.) □ Where can I get a little bit of cee? □ Ask Max for some cee, but ask him nice.

celeb [sə'leɪb] n. a celebrity. □ They hired a few celebs to shill for their new computer. □ There were celebs all over the place, but nobody I recognized.

cement city n. a cemetery. □ I'm too young to end up in cement city. □ There's a cement city outside town, and our house is just a half mile east of it.

cent n. one dollar. (Underworld.) □ One cent for one joint? Not bad. □ A cent for this thing?

century note n. a one-hundred-dollar bill. (Underworld. The C is the Roman numeral for 100. See also C-note.) □ I got a couple of century notes for driving these guys home from the bank. □ Here's a century note for your trouble, young man.

a certain party n. someone whom I do not wish to name; you can guess whom. □ I spoke to a certain party about the matter you mentioned. □ If a certain party finds out about you-know-what, what on earth will you do?

cets AND sets [sets] n. tablets of Darvocet™, a painkiller. (Drugs.) □ You got any cets I can bum off you? □ I don't know anything about sets or any of that stuff.

CF Go to Charlie Foxtrot; cluster fuck.

chain(saw) tv. to destroy something; to cut something up severely. □ The senatorial committee tried to chainsaw the nominee, but the full senate voted for confirmation. □ We didn't think they'd come in and chain all our plans.

chain(-smoke) in. to smoke cigarette after cigarette. □ I gave never wanted to chain-smoke, but I got addicted. □ I used to chain, and my husband threatened to leave me if I didn't give it up. I quit when he left.

chain-smoker n. someone who smokes cigarette after cigarette. □ She was a chain-smoker for thirty years, and then suddenly, boom. She's gone. □ There are fewer chain-smokers now than there were just a few years ago.

the chair n. the electric chair, as used in the execution of the death penalty. (Underworld.) □ You'll fry in the chair for this, Lefty! □ I don't wanna go to the chair!

cham AND chammy; sham; shammy [ʃæm AND 'ʃæmi] n. champagne. □ Would you like a little more shammy? □ This is a stunning cham you picked for us, Tiffany. Is it famous?

chamber of commerce n. toilet; restroom. □ Q: Where's Bob? A: Oh, Bob's in the chamber of commerce.

chammy Go to cham.

champ [tʃæmp] 1. n. a champion. (Also a term of address.) □ Mark is a real champ—always there to help. □ Hey, champ, welcome home! 2. n. a dependable member of the underworld. (Underworld. See also thoroughbred.) □ John would never sing. He's a champ. □ Lefty is a champ. He stood by me the whole time.

champers AND shampers ['ʃæmpəz] n. champagne. □ I could live on shampers. □ My dad sent us a bottle of French champers.

change n. money. (See also and change.) □ It takes a lot of change to buy a car like that. □ I don't have the change to get one of those videotape machines.

changes n. an alteration in one's mental state. (See also go through the changes.) □ The changes have sort of got me down. □ I'm forty and I'm finished with the changes, and if there's anything I don't want it's to be young again.

change the channel tv. to switch to some other topic of conversation. □ Just a minute. I think you changed the channel. Let's go back to the part about you owing me money. □ Let's change the channel here before there is a fight.

channel hopping AND channel surfing; channel zapping n. using a remote control to move quickly from one television channel to another, pausing only a short time on each channel. □ I wish you would stop channel hopping! □ Channel zapping is a way to keep up with a number of television shows at the same time.

channel surfer n. a person who practices channel hopping. □ My husband is a confirmed channel surfer. I can't understand why he does it. □ Channel surfers try to keep up with many programs at one time.

channel surfing Go to channel hopping.

channel zapping Go to channel hopping.

chap tv. to anger or annoy someone. (See also chapped.) □ That whole business really chapped me. □ I didn't mean to chap you.

chapped mod. angry; annoyed. □ I was chapped. There was no way to get around it. □ Don't get so chapped. Nothing can be done now.

chapter and verse mod. in the finest detail. (From the chapter and verse organization of the Bible.) □ He could recite the law concerning state-funded libraries, chapter and verse. □ She knew her rights, chapter and verse.

charge 1. n. a dose or portion of a drug. (Drugs.) □ I need a charge to tide me over. □ Just a little charge till I can get to my candy man. 2. n. a drug's rush. (Drugs.) □ This stuff has no charge at all. □ What kind of charge do you expect out of half-cashed weed? 3. n. a thrill. □ Seeing my kid up there on that stage was a real charge. □ I got a tremendous charge out of your last letter.

charged (up) 1. mod. slightly overdosed with drugs. (Drugs.) □ He was talking fast and nodding his head back and forth. I think he was charged. □ The kid is usually charged up by class time. 2. mod. drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) □ The way she sat there nodding, you knew she was com- pletely charged up. □ Paul was one charged up guy after the session. 3. mod. excited. □ The audience was charged up and ready for the star to come out. □ The charged up quarterback made some wonderful plays.

Charles 1. n. cocaine. (Drugs.) □ I want to meet Charles somewhere. □ Is there a house where I can buy some Charles somewhere close? 2. n. a Caucasian. (Black. Not necessarily derogatory.) □ And what is Charles gonna say about what you did to his car? □ That brother's so backward, he's still afraid to go to Charles's front door.

Charley n. the Viet Cong in Vietnam. (Military. From Victor Charley, which is from VC.) □ How come Charley never gets bit to death by those snakes? □ What if we meet up with Charley down there?

Charlie Foxtrot AND CF 1. Go to cluster fuck (sense 1). 2. Go to cluster fuck (sense 2).

Charlie Irvine n. a police officer. (Black. See also Irv.) □ Charlie Irvine was around asking after you. □ Look smart, dude, here comes Charlie Irvine.

Charlie Noble n. a ship's smokestack. (Naval. This is an old naval term, used as slang and in joking.) □ The captain says I am supposed to take this letter to Charlie Noble.

charmer n. a seducer; a make-out artist. □ You always have to act like some half-ass charmer scamming like it really mattered! Grow up! □ Willard is such a charmer! Too bad he's married.

chart n. a musical score. (Musicians. See also map.) □ Come on, man! Look at the chart! You're making clinkers like hot cakes. □ Lemme borrow your chart for a while, okay?

charts n. the trade magazine rankings of current pop music. □ The big one is back on the charts this week. Give it a listen. □ Number five on the charts again this week—it's "My Blue Heaven" with the Andrews Sisters.

chas AND chez [tʃæz AND tʃɛz] n. matches. (Collegiate. A clipping of matches.) □

Where are my chas? □ You got a couple of chez?

chaser 1. n. an alcoholic drink taken after a nonalcoholic one; beer, water, or some similar liquid drunk after a shot of hard liquor. (See also wash.) □ I could use a little chaser with this soda. □ I'd like a double scotch and a beer chaser. 2. Go to ambulance chaser.

chase the dragon tv. to inhale opium fumes through a straw. (Drugs.) □ Harry thinks that chasing the dragon sounds like real fun. □ Chasing the dragon may sound good, but it smells awful.

C-head 1. n. a cocaine user. (Drugs.) □ I don't want any C-head operating on me! □ How much money does a C-head need to get through the day? 2. n. an LSD user who takes LSD on sugar cubes. (Drugs.) □ Frank was a C-head in the sixties. □ Why don't you C-heads grow up?

cheapie n. a cheaply made article. (See also el cheapo.) □ I don't want a cheapie. I can afford better. □ It broke. I guess it was a cheapie.

cheap shot n. a remark that takes advantage of someone else's vulnerability. □ It's easy to get a laugh with a cheap shot at cats. □ People who wouldn't dare utter anything negative about blacks, Poles, or women just love to take a cheap shot at yuppies.

cheapskate ['tʃɪpskɛt] n. a miserly person; a very cheap person. (See also piker.) □ A 5 percent tip! What a cheapskate! □ I don't think of myself as a cheapskate, but I do try to watch my cash flow.

cheaters n. sunglasses. (Formerly referred to all spectacles. See also shades; sunshades.) □ Get your cheaters on. The sun's really bright. □ Somebody sat on my cheaters!

check 1. n. a dose of a drug in a capsule or folded in a paper. (Drugs.) □ Frank handed me a check, and I slipped him some long green. □ How much you want for a check? 2. interj. okay; yes; yes, it is on the list. □ BILL: Four quarts of oil. TOM: Check. □ FRED: Are you ready? PAUL: Check.

check out the plumbing AND visit the plumbing tv. to go to the bathroom. □

I think I'd better check out the plumbing before we go. □ I want you kids to visit the plumbing as soon as we get there.

check something out tv. to examine something; to think about something. □ It's something we all have to be concerned with. Check it out. □ Check out this Billy Biggles album.

check that tv. cancel that; ignore that (last remark). □ Check that. I was wrong. □ At four, no, check that, at three o'clock this afternoon, a bomb exploded at the riverside.

cheddar n. money. □ I'm totally out of cheddar. Can you loan me a Benji? □ This rag ain't worth that much cheddar.

cheese 1. n. vomit. □ There's cheese on the sidewalk. Look out! □ In there, there's cheese on the bathroom floor. So gross! 2. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ Somebody cheesed on the sidewalk. □ She popped into the bushes and cheesed soundlessly. 3. in. to smile, as for a photographer who asks you to say cheese when a picture is taken. □ Why are you cheesing? Did something good happen. □ She's always cheesing at him. What's up? 4. n. money. □ I don't have the cheese to buy a new car. □ You have some cheese I can borrow?

cheesecake 1. n. a display of the female form, probably wearing little clothing, often in photographs. (See also beefcake.) □ Women don't like to see all that cheesecake on the walls when they bring their cars in here to be fixed. □ Now they're even putting the magazines with cheesecake under the counter. 2. n. a good-looking woman; good-looking women. □ Who's the cheesecake in that low-cut job? □ Bring on the cheesecake!

cheesed off mod. angry; disgusted. □ Clare was really cheesed off at the butler. □ The butler was cheesed off at the cook.

cheese-eater n. an informer; a rat fink. (Rats eat cheese.) □ Some cheese-eater called the clerk and warned her we were coming. □ Tracy, the cheese-eater, called the police.

cheesehead 1. n. a stupid-acting person.

□ Is this cheesehead bothering you? □ Why do all the cheeseheads in town ride in my cab in the same day? 2. n. someone from the state of Wisconsin. (Much cheese is made in Wisconsin. Not usually derogatory.) □ I moved to Wisconsin and became a cheesehead. □ We take our vacations in the land of the cheeseheads.

Cheese it (the cops)! exclam. Run away, the cops are coming! □ Look out! Cheese it, the cops! □ If you see the fuzz coming, you're supposed to yell, "Cheese it, the cops!" But I don't know why. Then they know we're doing something wrong.

cheesy mod. cheap; tacky. □ I wouldn't live in a cheesy place like this if I could afford better. □ That was a cheesy trick to pull on somebody.

cheezer n. a very bad smelling release of intestinal gas; a foul-smelling fart. □ God, who let the cheezer?

cherry 1. n. an inexperienced person; a novice. □ He's just a cherry. He don't know from nothing. □ She's a cherry when it comes to computers. 2. n. the hymen. (Usually objectionable.) □ Her cherry is intact, but she's no virgin. □ You jerk! All you care about is scoring cherries!

chew in. to eat. □ She's in the kitchen, chewing. □ Man, I'm hungry. It's time to chew!

chewed mod. abused. □ After that argument at the office yesterday, I really felt chewed. □ After an interview like that, I am too chewed to even cry.

chew face tv. to kiss. (More jocular than crude.) □ A couple of kids were in a doorway chewin' face. □ Hey Tracy! Wanna go chew face?

chew someone out tv. to scold someone. □ I knew my dad was going to chew me out. □ The dean chewed out the whole fraternity.

chew someone's ass out tv. to scold someone severely. (Usually objectionable.) □ The cop was really mad and chewed Bob's ass out.

chew something over 1. tv. to talk something over. □ Why don't we do lunch sometime and chew this over? □ We can chew it over at lunch. 2. tv. to think something over. □ I'll have to chew it over for a while. I'm not sure now. □ Don't chew it over too long. The offer is only good till Friday.

chew the cheese tv. to vomit. □ Fred's out in the bushes, chewing the cheese. □ The cat's chewing the cheese on the living room carpet again.

chew the fat AND chew the rag tv. to chat or gossip. □ Put your carcass over on the chair, and let's chew the fat for a while. □ We were just chewing the rag. Nothing important.

chew the rag Go to chew the fat.

chez Go to chas.

chi-chi ['ʃiʃi] mod. elegant. □ Oh, you look so chi-chi in that lace blouse. □ Her living room is so chi-chi that you are afraid to go in.

chick n. a girl or woman. □ Who's the chick driving the ragtop? □ We're gonna take some chicks to dinner and then catch a flick.

chicken n. a coward. □ Come on, let's go. Don't be a chicken. □ He's no fun. He's a chicken.

chicken feed n. a small amount of money. (See also peanuts.) □ Sure I can afford it. It's just chicken feed. □ It may be chicken feed to you, but that's a month's rent to me.

chicken-hearted mod. cowardly. □ Yes, I'm a chicken-hearted softie. I hope you don't want to make something of it. □ He's chicken-hearted, but I still love him.

chicken out (of something) in. to manage to get out of something, usually because of fear or cowardice. □ Come on! Don't chicken out now! □ Freddy chickened out of the plan at the last minute.

chicken powder n. powdered amphetamine. (Drugs.) □ Those kids seem to be satisfied with chicken powder. □ Nobody is satisfied with chicken powder for very long.

chicken shit 1. n. virtually nothing. (From chicken feed. Usually objectionable.) □

Fifty bucks! That's just chicken shit! 2. mod. cowardly. (Usually objectionable.) □ You are such a chicken shit coward! Stand up and fight! 3. mod. worthless. (Usually objectionable.) □ I don't want this chicken shit pizza! Get me one with pepperoni on it, not dead fish.

chief n. the person in charge. (Also a term of address.) □ Okay, chief, where to? □ You got a couple of clams to pay the toll with, chief?

chief cook and bottle washer Go to head cook and bottle washer.

chill 1. AND chilly n. a cold can of beer. □ Hey, toss me a chill, would ya, buddy? □ You ready for another chill? 2. tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ Rocko had orders to chill Barlowe or not to show his face again. □ I'll chill you with one blast from my cannon, you creep. 3. tv. to frighten someone. (Standard English.) □ The specter chilled everyone who saw it. □ The prospect of having to go in there alone chilled Wally, but good. 4. tv. to reject someone. □ The whole gang chilled him, and this really made him come home. □ She chilled me once too often. I won't take that from a dame. 5. Go to chill (out). 6. tv. & in. to relax; to cause someone to relax; to hang out [with someone]. (See also chill (out).) □ Go out there and chill those people. They are getting wild! □ They are chilling now. For a while they were real rowdy.

chillin' mod. great; excellent. □ I had one chillin' time last night. □ Everybody there was chillin'.

chill (out) in. to calm down; to be cool; to get cool; to relax. □ All right now, people, chill . . . chill. □ Before we can debate this matter, you're all gonna have to chill out.

chill someone's action tv. to squelch someone; to prevent someone from accomplishing something. □ Freddie is trying to chill my action, and I'm a little steamed about that. □ Just wait! I'll chill his action—just you wait.

chillum ['tʃɪlʌm] n. a pipe or device used for the smoking of marijuana. (Drugs.)

□ He keeps a chillum in his stash. □ Ernie carries a chillum with him. He's trying to sell it.

chilly Go to chill.

china n. the teeth. (See also ivories.) □ I spent a damn fortune trying to get this china fixed up. □ If you would brush your china every day, you'd be okay.

China white 1. AND Chinese white n. pure or nearly pure heroin. (Drugs.) □ Beware of that China white. □ You never see Chinese white anymore. There's too many other kinds of junk for anybody to bother with it. 2. n. fentanyl, a synthetic narcotic analgesic. (Drugs.) □ That Chinese white can paralyze your lungs. □ All the hopheads I know of stay away from China white.

Chinese red n. heroin. (Drugs.) □ Chinese red is really high quality. □ No, Chinese red is cheap.

Chinese white Go to China white.

chin music n. talk; idle chatter. □ That's enough chin music back there. □ Okay, chum, make with the chin music. Let's have the whole story.

chintzy ['tʃɪntsi] 1. mod. cheap; shoddy. □ Nobody's gonna buy this chintzy stuff. Throw it out. □ What a chintzy car! The door fell off! 2. mod. stingy; miserly. □ The chintzy guy left me no tip! □ Don't be chintzy. Give the man a dollar for a cup of coffee.

chin-wagging n. chatting; talking a lot. □ I can't hear the movie because of all the chin-wagging.

chip Go to (bargaining) chip.

chipper 1. mod. jolly, fresh, and alert. (Standard English.) □ Well, you look chipper this morning. □ This chipper young man will show you around. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Larry here is chipper already! □ A glass of wine will make her chipper almost immediately. 3. AND chippie; chippy (user) n. an occasional user of an addictive drug. (Drugs.) □ The chippy users rarely end up in the hospital. □ Who can stay a chippie very long?

chippie Go to chipper; chippy.

chippy AND chippie 1. n. a part-time prostitute. □ Yeah, so I'm a chippie. So what's that make you? □ Some little chippie stopped us to ask for a match. How amateurish. 2. in. to play around sexually. □ She won't even chippie. □ So me and my boyfriend was chipping a little in the hall. Why was ya watching?

chippy around in. to be sexually promiscuous. □ She has been known to chippy around, but not with just anyone and never for money. □ She figures it's her right to chippy around.

chippy-chaser n. a man who chases sexually loose women. □ He tried to be such a charmer—you know, a chippy-chaser, but he is so inept. □ Frank used to be a chippy-chaser, but the scag has him sort of debilitated these days.

chippy (user) Go to chipper.

chips 1. n. money. (See also (bargaining) chip.) □ I managed to put away a few chips when I worked for Acme Systems. □ She saved some chips over the years and bought herself a little place on the beach. 2. n. a carpenter. (Also a term of address.) □ Tell our chips to come up here and put in a new floorboard. □ Tell me, chips, how fast can you build a coffin?

chisel ['tʃɪzl] tv. & in. to extort (money). □ Lefty tried to chisel forty bucks outa me. □ He's always chiseling. That's his hustle.

chiseler n. a small-time crook; a cheater. (Originally underworld. Also a rude term of address.) □ You dirty, two-bit chiseler! Give me my money back! □ Why did you trust a known chiseler like him?

chism Go to jism.

chit [tʃɪt] 1. n. a bill or tabulation of charges that one signs rather than paying. □ I don't have any cash. Can I sign a chit for it? □ Fred came in to pay for his chits about once a week. 2. n. a check. □ She wrote out a chit for the balance due. □ I have your chit for the full amount.

chitchat ['tʃɪttʃæt] 1. n. talk; idle talk. □ That's enough chitchat. Please get to work. □ Please stop the chitchat there in the back row. 2. n. a short, friendly conversation. ☐ I'd like to have a little chitchat with you when you have time. ☐ We had a chitchat about the problem, and I think things will work out.

Chi(town) ['ʃaɪtaʊn OR 'tʃaɪtaʊn] n. Chicago, Illinois. ☐ I can't wait to get back to old Chitown. ☐ I was born in Chi.

chiv Go to shiv.

chiz [tʃɪz] in. to relax. (Collegiate.) ☐ I gotta get back to my room and chiz awhile. ☐ Chiz, guys, things are getting a little rough.

chock-full mod. totally full. ☐ The new musical is just chock-full of laughs. ☐ The trunk is chock-full. There's no more room.

chocoholic n. a person who craves chocolate. (Patterned on alcoholic.) ☐ Cake, ice cream, pie—make it chocolate. I'm a chocoholic and I'm glad. ☐ I have a real treat for you chocoholics—triple chocolate cheesecake.

choice mod. nice; cool. ☐ We had a choice time at Tom's party. ☐ This new tunage is real choice.

choke 1. in. [for a computer] to fail to take in information being fed to it. (Computers.) ☐ If you don't have your modem and your software set the same way as the host, your machine will choke. ☐ I did what you told me, but it choked anyway. 2. in. to panic before or during a test. (From choke up.) ☐ I choked and couldn't finish. ☐ She always chokes during a test.

choked mod. having to do with overly diluted drugs. ☐ This stuff is choked. Don't score with that guy again. ☐ Why is this stuff so stepped on—you know, choked?

choker 1. n. a cigarette; a cigarette butt. ☐ Put that damn choker out in my house! ☐ I can smell a choker the minute somebody lights it. 2. n. a necktie. ☐ Let's go out to eat where I don't have to wear a choker. ☐ Hey, Tom! That's a classy new choker you're wearing!

choke the chicken Go to beat the dummy.

chones 1. n. the testicles. (From Spanish cojones. Usually objectionable.) ☐ You look at me that way again, and you will be saying goodbye to your chones. 2. n. bravado. (See also balls; ballsy. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Man, has he got chones! ☐ Why are you always trying to prove that you have chones?

chooms n. the testicles. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ He got hit in the chooms in the football game.

chop n. a rude remark; a cutting remark. ☐ Jerry made some chop about the way I dress. ☐ That was a rotten chop! Take it back!

chopped liver n. someone or something worthless. ☐ And who am I? Chopped liver?

chopper n. a helicopter. ☐ The chopper that monitors the traffic goes over my house every morning at 6:00. ☐ I never want to ride in a chopper. Those things scare me.

choppers n. the teeth. ☐ I may be on my last legs, but my choppers are still my own. ☐ That horse has a nice set of choppers.

chop-shop n. a place where stolen cars are cut or broken up into car parts for resale. ☐ The state is cracking down on these chop-shops. ☐ Once a stolen car gets to a chop-shop, there's no hope of identifying it.

chotchke Go to tchotchke.

chow 1. n. food. ☐ I need some chow before I go out and shovel snow. ☐ What time is chow served around here? 2. tv. & in. to eat (something). (See also chow down.) ☐ I've been chowing canned tuna and stale bagels to save money. ☐ When do we chow? 3. Go to ciao.

chowderhead n. a stupid person. ☐ Look, chowderhead, do what I told you. ☐ Don't be such a chowderhead.

chow down in. to eat; to take a meal. ☐ Over there is where we chow down. ☐ It's past my time to chow down.

chow hound n. someone who loves to eat; a heavy eater. ☐ Harry is a real chow hound, and he's got love handles to prove it. ☐ Okay, listen up all you chow hounds. There's extra beans tonight!

chow something down tv. to eat something, probably quickly or without good manners. □ We can chow this pizza down in about two minutes! □ I found a box of cookies and chowed it down before anybody knew what I was doing.

Christmas tree n. a drunkard. (From being lit like a Christmas tree.) □ Some old Christmas tree staggered by, muttering to herself. □ A well-dressed Christmas tree sat in the corner—lit up, of course.

chrome-dome n. a shiny, bald head; a man with a bald head. (Also a rude term of address.) □ The guy with the chrome-dome suddenly grasped his chest and made a face. □ Hey, chrome-dome, you're blinding me!

chubbo ['tʃəbo] n. a fat person. (From chubby.) □ Mary is a happy little chubbo. She'll probably outgrow all her baby fat. □ Look at those chubbos gobbling all those French fries.

chubby n. an erection. (Usually objectionable.) □ He always gets a chubby when he doesn't need it and never when he does.

chuck 1. AND chuck up in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (See also upchuck.) □ Look! Somebody chucked. □ I think I gotta chuck! 2. tv. to throw something away. □ Chuck this thing. It's no good. □ The wrinkle-rod was so twisted we had to chuck it. 3. in. to eat voraciously. □ Don't just chuck, man, enjoy your food. □ The two guys sat guzzling and chucking till they were full. 4. n. food. □ Man, this chuck is okay. □ Who cooked this chuck, man? It's garbage! 5. n. a white male. (Usually capitalized. Often a term of address or a generic for all white males. Black.) □ Hey, Chuck. Where do you think you are? □ Did you see that fat Chuck in the hood?

chuck a dummy tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ He left the room—to chuck a dummy, I guess. □ Somebody chucked a dummy on the patio.

chucked mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I'm too chucked to drive. □ How did you get so chucked?

chuckers AND chucks n. a great hunger; an enormous appetite. (Usually with the.) □

Oh, man, I really got the chucks. What time is chow? □ The chuckers got my stomach asking if my throat is cut.

chuck it in tv. to quit; to give up. (See also throw in the towel.) □ I was so depressed, I almost chucked it in. □ If I didn't have to keep the job to live, I'd have chucked it in long ago.

chucks Go to chuckers.

chuck up Go to chuck.

chug(-a-lug) ['tʃəgələg] tv. & in. to drink down a whole beer (or other drink) without stopping. □ The two guys tried to see who could chug-a-lug the most beer. □ Wally chugged two cans in a row. □ All four of them sat there chugging.

chum n. a pal; a good friend. □ This is my chum, Wally. □ We've been chums for years. Went to college together.

chummy ['tʃəmi] mod. friendly. □ I'm glad to see that you are a little more chummy this morning. □ Don't get too chummy with me. I'm a real son of a bitch.

chump [tʃəmp] n. a stupid person; a gullible person. □ You are such a chump. □ See if that chump will loan you some money.

chump change n. a small amount of money; the kind of salary or amount of money a chump would work for. □ I refuse to work for chump change! I want a real job. □ It may be chump change, but it's better than nothing.

chumphead n. a stupid person. □ John is not my favorite chumphead, but he's close. □ What a chumphead. You painted over the windows.

chunk 1. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Collegiate.) □ I think I gotta chunk. □ The cat chunked all over the carpet. 2. in. to do badly; to blunder. □ Sorry. I really chunked on that last deal. □ She is so afraid of chunking that she will hardly do anything.

chunky mod. stout; fat. □ Harry—the chow hound—is getting a little chunky. □ It's not all fat! He's always been a chunky brute.

church key n. a beer can opener. □ Where is the church key when I need it? □ I have a church key in my glove compartment.

churn tv. [for a stockbroker] to cause a heavy turnover in the portfolio of an investor. (The broker collects commissions on each transaction.) □ I reported my broker for churning my account. □ They churn accounts to earn the commissions.

ciao AND chow [tʃaʊ] Good-bye; Hello. (Italian.) □ See ya. Ciao. □ Chow, baby. Call my service.

cid AND sid [sɪd] n. the hallucinogenic drug LSD. (Drugs. From acid. Sid can be capitalized.) □ Where can I go to drop a little cid? □ Bruno can tell you where Sid is these days. □ You know where I can rap with Sid?

cig [sɪg] n. a cigarette; a cigar. □ Barlowe fumbled for a cig and thought better of it. □ Toss me my pack of cigs, will ya?

cigarette with no name AND no brand cigarette; no name cigarette n. a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ You got one of them cigarettes with no name? □ He spends his whole life burning those no name cigarettes.

ciggy AND ciggie ['sɪgi] n. a cigarette. □ How 'bout a ciggy before we take off? □ Where is my pack of ciggies?

cinch [sɪntʃ] 1. n. something very easy. □ No sweat! It was a cinch! □ What a cinch. Anybody can do it. 2. tv. to have something settled and secured. □ He cinched it with a simple signature and date. □ It only took a handshake to cinch the deal.

cinched [sɪntʃt] mod. settled; secured; sealed (up). (As one tightens the saddle girth on a horse.) □ I've got it cinched! No sweat! □ This is a cinched deal—a done deal. No one can stop it from going through.

circle-jerk 1. n. a gathering of males performing mutual masturbation. (Partly jocular. Usually objectionable.) □ There were twelve boys involved in a circle-jerk, and the principal caught them. 2. n. a boring or time-wasting meeting. (From sense 1.) □ That board meeting was the typical circle-jerk that it always is.

circle (the drain) tv. & in. to be in the final process of dying; to be in extremis. (Jocular but crude hospital jargon.) □ Get Mrs. Smith's son on the phone. She's circling the drain.

circular file n. a wastebasket. (See also file thirteen.) □ That letter went straight into the circular file. □ Most of the junk mail sits here until I can put it into the circular file.

civil serpent n. a civil servant. □ You have no idea the kinds of things civil serpents have to put up with. □ I'm a civil serpent with the state.

civvies ['sɪvɪz] n. civilian clothes rather than a uniform. (Originally military.) □ I feel sort of funny in civvies. □ I re-upped because I couldn't stand the thought of civvies and stuff like that.

clam 1. n. a dollar. (Underworld.) □ Forty clams for a sweater that doesn't even have arms! □ You got a couple of clams I can bum for a little bottle? 2. n. a tight-lipped person. □ Suddenly, she became a clam and wouldn't talk anymore. □ Rocko's a clam. He won't say a word.

clam up in. to get quiet. (See also dummy up.) □ The minute they got him inside the cop-shop, he clammed up. □ You'll clam up if you know what's good for you.

clanked mod. exhausted; pooped. □ At the end of the race, the chick was totally clanked. □ I'm really clanked, man. Gotta take a rest.

clanks n. the delirium tremens. □ He's suffering with the clanks again. □ Who's the old buzzard shaking with the clanks?

clap n. a case of gonorrhea. (Very old and still in use.) □ He thinks he got the clap from her.

claptrap n. nonsense; something worthless. □ This is enough claptrap. I'm leaving. □ I know claptrap when I see it, and your play was claptrap.

class 1. n. high style; elegance. □ The dame's got class, but no brains. □ Class isn't worth much in this neighborhood. 2. mod. first-rate; high-class. □ I've always regarded the firm as a class outfit. □ This was a class suburb just a few years ago.

class act n. a high-quality act; a high-quality way of doing things. □ I like the way you move on the field, Jerry. It's a real class act. □ The prof puts on a real class act, but he grades very hard.

classis-chassis AND classy-chassy ['klæsi'tʃæsi AND 'klæsi'fæsi] n. an attractive female figure. □ Who's the classis-chassis in the mink? □ Now there is a classy-chassy if I ever saw one.

classy mod. elegant; dandy. □ Pretty classy place you got here. □ How much does a classy car like this cost?

classy-chassy Go to classis-chassis.

clay n. good-quality hashish. (Drugs.) □ I like the feel of this clay. I'll take it. □ Ask John where you can dig up some clay.

clay pigeon n. a gullible person; a pigeon. (Underworld.) □ We need a clay pigeon to divert attention from the snatch. □ Who's gonna be the clay pigeon for the bank caper?

clean 1. mod. not using drugs; not involved with drugs. □ There's a success story. Kelly is one clean guy if I ever saw one. □ I've been clean for more than a month now. 2. mod. sober; not intoxicated with drugs at the moment. (Almost the same as sense 1.) □ He's clean right now, but he'll get the call in an hour or two. □ Just being clean for a day is an accomplishment. 3. mod. not breaking any law. (Police and underworld.) □ I'm clean, officer. You can't charge me with anything. □ This guy is clean. Let him go. 4. mod. not carrying a weapon. (Police and underworld.) □ I frisked him. He's clean. □ Bugsy's gang was clean except for Bugsy himself who had a small pistol. 5. mod. well-dressed. □ Now there's a clean dude! □ New threads, huh? Clean, baby, clean!

clean-cut mod. [of a person] neat and tidy. □ He's a very clean-cut guy, and polite too. □ He's sort of clean-cut looking, but with bushy hair.

cleaned out 1. mod. broke; with no money. □ I'm cleaned out. Not a cent left. □ Tom's cleaned out. He's broke. He'll have to go home. 2. mod. with one's digestive tract emptied. □ That medicine really left me cleaned out. □ I feel better now that I'm cleaned out.

clean one's act up tv. to reform one's conduct; to improve one's performance. □ We were told to clean our act up or move out. □ I cleaned up my act, but not in time. I got kicked out.

clean someone out 1. tv. to get all of someone's money. (See also cleaned out.) □ The bill for supper cleaned me out, and we couldn't go to the flick. □ The robbers cleaned out everybody on the train. 2. tv. to empty someone's bowels. (See also cleaned out.) □ That medicine I took really cleaned me out. □ A couple of those little burgers will clean me out.

clean sweep n. a broad movement clearing or affecting everything in the pathway. (Usually figurative.) □ The boss and everybody in the front office got canned in a clean sweep from upstairs. □ Everybody got a raise. It was a clean sweep.

clean up (on something) in. to make a lot of money on something. □ The promoters cleaned up on the product. □ If we advertise, we can clean up.

clear 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, is she ever clear! □ He was clear, you know, polluted. 2. mod. [of liquor] undiluted; neat. □ No soda. Clear, please. □ I like mine clear with just one ice cube. 3. tv. to earn a specific net amount of money. □ She cleared a cool forty thousand on that Wilson deal. □ We just want to clear a decent profit. Nothing greedy.

clear as mud mod. not clear at all. (Often with as.) □ All of this is clear as mud to me. □ I did all the reading, but it's still as clear as mud.

clear as vodka 1. mod. very clear. □ The weather is as clear as vodka. □ The river wasn't exactly as clear as vodka because it had just rained. 2. mod. very understandable. □ Everything he said is as clear as vodka. □ I don't understand what John said, but everything you say is clear as vodka.

clear out in. to leave; to depart. □ Time for you people to clear out. It's past midnight. □ The boss gave me till next week to clear out. I'm fired—canned.

clear sailing mod. easy; easy going. □ It'll be clear sailing from now on. □ When this is finished, it'll be clear sailing.

click (with someone) in. to catch on with someone; to intrigue someone; to become popular with someone. □ The pink hair and multiple earrings never really seemed to click with many kids. □ Sam and Mary are getting along fine. I knew they'd click.

cliff-dweller n. someone who lives in a tall apartment building. □ I could never survive as a cliff-dweller in a big city. □ The majority of cliff-dwellers wouldn't choose to live in any other way.

climb 1. n. a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs. The means to a high.) □ I need a climb to set me straight. □ Here, have a swallow of this climb. 2. tv. to scold someone. □ The boss climbed Harry for being late. □ Don't climb me! The train broke down!

climb the wall(s) tv. to do something desperate when one is anxious, bored, or excited. □ He was home for only three days; then he began to climb the wall. □ I was climbing the walls to get back to work.

clinch [kɪntʃ] tv. to settle something; to make something final. □ I was able to clinch the deal, and I got a raise for it. □ I want to clinch this contract before the weekend.

clinch ['kɪntʃə] n. the final element; the straw that broke the camel's back. (See also capper.) □ The clincher was when the clerk turned up the volume. □ Eating garlic by the bushel was the clincher. I had to get a new roommate.

cling like shit to a shovel AND stick like shit to a shovel 1. in. to stick or adhere [to someone or something] tightly. (Usually objectionable.) □ That oily stuff sticks like shit to a shovel. 2. in. to be very dependent on someone; to follow someone around. (Often with an indirect object. Usually objectionable.) □ She's so dependent. She clings to him like shit to a shovel.

clink n. jail. □ We'll throw you in the clink if you don't talk. □ One night in the clink was enough.

clinker 1. n. a mistake; (in music) a misplayed note. □ That was a bad clinker in the middle of the soft passage. □ Look at the score, man! That series of clinkers just isn't there. 2. n. a worthless person or thing. (From the term for a cinder.) □ This guy is such a clinker. Who needs him? □ Ralph has turned out to be a real clinker. We'll have to pink slip him.

clip 1. tv. to cheat someone. (See also clipped; clip joint.) □ That guy in there clipped me for a fiver. □ I didn't clip you or anybody else! 2. tv. to kill someone. □ Rocko had orders to clip both Max and John. □ Frank and John had set out to clip Rocko first. 3. n. a holder for a marijuana cigarette butt. (Drugs. See also roach clip.) □ She's got a clip if you need it. □ My clip's at home in my stash. 4. n. a music video; a short film. □ This next clip is something you'll all recognize. □ Stay tuned for more great clips. 5. n. a fast rate of speed. □ By traveling at a good clip, we managed to get there before the wedding started. □ You were moving at a pretty good clip when you ran into the truck.

clip a butt tv. to pinch out a cigarette for later smoking. (Also with the.) □ Like an old soldier, Wally took a puff and then clipped the butt for later. □ You learn to clip a butt so you won't waste what you can't finish.

clip joint n. a business establishment that cheats customers. □ That place is a clip joint. Stay away. □ The clip joint on Fourth Street was busted last night.

clipped 1. mod. cheated. □ When Marty counted his change, he found he'd been clipped. □ You weren't clipped by me. I just made a mistake. 2. mod. arrested. □ Frank got clipped as he got out of his car. □ He was clipped and no one read him his rights, so off he went.

clip someone's wings tv. to restrain someone; to reduce or put an end to a teenager's privileges. □ One more stunt like that and I'm going to clip your wings for a couple of weeks. □ Her father clipped her wings for getting into trouble with the cops.

clit AND clitty n. the clitoris. (Usually objectionable.) □ Have I got a present for you and your clitty!

clobber tv. to strike someone; to beat someone; to outscore someone. □ I ought to clobber you, but good. □ She clobbered him over the head with her bouquet.

clobbered mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He's the kind of guy who goes home and gets clobbered after work. □ The whole fraternity celebrated by getting themselves clobbered.

clock tv. to earn, score, or total up someone or something. (As if the person or thing gained were being metered or clocked.) □ Sam clocked a date with Sally, and is he ever proud! □ Amy clocked nearly $12 an hour in overtime last weekend.

clock in in. to record one's arrival at a set time. □ He clocked in three minutes late. □ When they clock in, give them this envelope.

clock watcher n. someone—a worker or a student—who is always looking at the clock. □ There are four clock watchers in our office. □ People who don't like their jobs can turn into clock watchers.

clod n. a stupid and oafish person. (Usually refers to a male. Old. Widely known. Usually objectionable.) □ Don't be such a clod! Put on your tie, and let's go.

clodhopper 1. n. a big shoe. □ Wipe the mud off those clodhoppers before you come in here. □ Look at the clodhoppers she's wearing! 2. n. a stupid person; a rural oaf. □ Some clodhopper came into town and fell in with the wrong crowd. □ You don't know it, but that clodhopper is worth about two million bucks.

close as stink on shit Go to (as) close as stink on shit

Close, but no cigar. [klos...] phr. Close, but not close enough to win a prize! □ You almost did it. Close, but no cigar. □ Close, but no cigar! Give it another try.

close call Go to close shave.

close shave AND close call n. a narrow escape. □ Wow, that was a close shave. □ The car passed this close to us—a real close call.

closet mod. secret; concealed. □ Marty is a closet chocolate fiend. □ I'm a closet hard rock fan.

clotheshorse ['klozhors] n. someone who is obsessed with clothing and looking good in it. □ Her brother is the real clotheshorse. □ Mary is such a clotheshorse! Look at her now.

clout n. influence; power. (See also wallop.) □ You have clout with the mayor. You try it. □ I don't have any clout at all.

clouted mod. arrested. □ Some old wino got clouted for spitting on the sidewalk. □ They do things like that to get clouted so they can have a warm place to stay overnight.

clown n. a fool. □ Some clown threw our paper in a puddle this morning. □ Tell that clown in the front row to can it.

clown around in. to act silly; to mess around. □ Please stop clowning around and get to sleep. □ We were just clowning around. We didn't mean to break anything.

cluck AND kluck [klək] n. a stupid person; a person as stupid as a chicken. □ Why did they send me a dumb cluck to do this work? □ Some kluck came in and asked for a left-handed monkey wrench.

cluckhead n. a stupid oaf. □ What cluckhead put sugar in the salt shaker? □ I'm getting to be such a cluckhead!

clucky mod. stupid; oafish. □ What a clucky dame! □ The plan you submitted to this office was rejected by the policy committee. They noted that it was the cluckiest idea they had ever seen.

clueless mod. unaware. □ She is so dense. Totally clueless. □ I have never seen anyone so totally clueless. What a dunce!

cluelessness n. total stupidity. (See also totally clueless.) □ I just shake my head in wonder at the cluelessness of my fellow humans. □ This place is just infested with juvenile cluelessness!

clue someone in tv. to set someone straight (about something); to inform someone of the facts. □ What's going on? Clue me in. □ I think I'd better clue in Sam about the rally.

clunk 1. tv. to strike someone or something. □ A small truck clunked me from behind. □ The branch clunked the roof as it fell. 2. n. a hit; the sound of a hit. □ I heard a clunk on the roof. Must be reindeer. □ The clunk on the roof was a falling branch.

clunker 1. n. an old car. □ He drives an old clunker and doesn't have any insurance. □ I gotta get rid of this clunker pretty soon. 2. n. someone or something worthless; a clinker. □ We have to get the clunkers off the payroll. □ Fred? There's another clunker we don't need.

clunkhead n. an oaf; a stupid dolt. □ What clunkhead put sugar in the salt shaker? □ My brother can be such a clunkhead.

clunky mod. ponderous and inefficient. □ The whole plan is too clunky. Try to prune it down. □ I got rid of all the clunky stuff. Now it's lean and mean.

cluster fuck 1. n. an act of group rape. (Also Charlie Foxtrot from the initials CF. Usually objectionable.) □ Look at her! She's just asking for a cluster fuck. 2. n. any event as riotous as an act of group rape. (Figurative on sense 1. The same allusion as sense 1.) □ This goddamn day has been one long cluster fuck!

clutched mod. nervous. □ I get so clutched before a test. □ George is clutched most of the time. He's in bad shape.

clutch (up) in. to become very tense and anxious; to freeze with anxiety. □ I have been known to clutch up before a race. □ Cool it, babe! Don't clutch!

Clyde [klaɪd] n. an oaf; a square, usually a male. (See also Zelda. Also a term of address.) □ Well, Clyde, I think you're way off base. □ A dull Clyde, that's my old Bill, but I still love him.

C-note AND C-spot n. a one-hundred-dollar bill. (The C is the Roman numeral for 100. See also century note.) □ How much ammo will a C-note buy these days? □ That guy wanted a C-spot to fix my muffler.

coaster n. someone who lives near the ocean. (California.) □ Tiffany is a coaster now, but she was born, like, somewhere else. □ The coasters just don't want to be beige, that's all.

cob 1. n. a sharp poke or goose in the anus. □ Ouch! That cob hurt! 2. tv. to give someone a sharp poke in the anus. □ Tom clobbered Fred when he passed by.

cock n. the penis. (Taboo. Usually objectionable. Mainly in the South, this refers instead to the female genitals.) □ He made some joke about a cock, but nobody laughed. □ The streaker covered his cock and ran across the field.

cockamamie ['kakəmemi] mod. ridiculous; inconceivable. □ What a cockamamie idea! □ That is the most cockamamie thing I ever heard of.

cock-cheese Go to crotch-cheese.

cockeyed ['kakəɪd] mod. crazy. □ Who came up with this cockeyed idea, anyway? □ If you didn't act so cockeyed all the time, you'd have more friends.

cocksucker 1. n. a male who performs fellatio (licking and sucking of the penis). (See also dick-sucker. Also a provocative term of address. Rude and derogatory.) □ There is one question I've always wanted to ask a cocksucker, but I have never had the chance. 2. n. a low and despicable male; a male who is despicable enough to perform fellatio. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You rotten cocksucker! I ought to punch you in the face. 3. n. a male who performs oral sex on a woman. □ I don't care if he's a cocksucker, as long as he loves his mother. 4. n. an obsequious and flattering male; a male sycophant. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Why doesn't that stupid cocksucker talk straight. He's always trying to butter somebody up.

cocksucking mod. despicable; contemptible. (Usually objectionable.) □ Get your goddamn cocksucking foot outa my doorway!

coed ['koəd] n. a female college student. (From coeducational.) □ Some of these coeds are pretty strong-minded. □ My daughter is a coed at Midwest University.

coffee and n. coffee and a doughnut or a pastry. □ I'll have coffee and. □ We stopped at a little shop for coffee and.

coffin-dodger ['kɒfɪn dɒdʒə] n. a heavy smoker. □ I just hate these damn coffin-dodgers who light up a cigarette in a restaurant! □ Coffin-dodgers, chain-smokers—who cares? Let 'em commit suicide—in the privacy of their own homes, of course.

coffin nail 1. AND coffin tack n. a cigarette. (Old.) □ No more coffin nails for me. □ Every coffin tack you smoke takes a little off the end of your life. 2. n. a drink of liquor. □ How about another coffin nail? □ Coffin nail sounds bad. Drink sounds good.

coffin tack Go to coffin nail.

coffin varnish n. inferior liquor. □ You want some more of this coffin varnish? □ Do you see what that coffin varnish you serve here has done to some of those guys?

coin n. money. (See also hard coin; do some fine coin.) □ I'm sort of short of coin right now. Can it wait? □ He made a lot of coin on the last picture.

cojones n. the testicles. (Spanish. Usually objectionable.) □ He kicked that old cat right in the cojones and sent it flying.

cokeaholic [kəkə'həlɪk] n. a cocaine addict. (Drugs.) □ It's hard to get a cokeaholic to get treatment. □ When I realized I was a cokeaholic, I decided to stop, but I couldn't.

cokehead n. a heavy cocaine user; a cocaine addict. (Drugs.) □ We get a few depressed cokeheads in the emergency room who have tried suicide. □ As a banker, I see two or three cokeheads file for bankruptcy each year.

coke party n. a gathering where cocaine is consumed. (Drugs.) □ There's a coke party in the warehouse after closing tonight. □ Tom's hosting a coke party for his yuppie friends.

coke-spoon AND (flake) spoon n. a small spoon used to carry powdered cocaine to a nostril. (Drugs.) □ Wally wears a coke-spoon around his neck. □ The principal wrote a letter to Mrs. Simpson telling her that Jimmy had brought a flake spoon to school.

cold 1. mod. [stopping something] suddenly and totally. □ I stopped cold—afraid to move further. □ That remark stopped her cold. 2. mod. dead. □ This parrot is cold—pifted! □ When I'm cold and buried, I hope people will think of me fondly. 3. mod. not good. □ That new CD is real cold. The sound is bad and the performance is too. □ The lecture was cold and dull. 4. mod. excellent. (Very cool.) □ That last pitch was cold, man. □ Hey, G! That's a cold ride.

cold blood AND cold coffee n. beer. □ How would you like a little cold blood to start things off? □ A nice big cold coffee would do me fine.

cold call tv. to call a sales prospect from a list of persons one has never met. □ The broker cold called a number of people each evening for two months. □ Things have to be pretty bad when the senior brokers at a major house have to cold call people to get business.

coldcock tv. to knock someone out. □ The guy who called Max out wanted to coldcock him for shorting him, but got coldcocked himself. □ The clerk coldcocked the would-be robber with a champagne bottle.

cold coffee Go to cold blood.

cold feet n. a wave of timidity or fearfulness. □ Suddenly I had cold feet and couldn't sing a note. □ You sort of expect a candy-ass like that to have cold feet.

cold fish n. a dull and unresponsive person. ☐ I hate to shake hands with a cold fish like that. He didn't even smile. ☐ I hate going out with a cold fish.

a cold piece of work n. a person who is difficult to deal with. ☐ Buddy, you are a cold piece of work.

cold pop n. beer. ☐ How about another can of that cold pop? ☐ A few cans of cold pop and John began to wobble a little.

cold shoulder 1. n. a cool reception; the brushoff. ☐ I didn't expect to be greeted by such a cold shoulder. ☐ I got the cold shoulder at the office today. 2. tv. to ignore someone; to give someone a cool reception. ☐ The hostess cold shouldered me, so I spilled my appetizers in the swimming pool. ☐ Tiffany cold shouldered the guy who was putting the moves on Roberta.

cold sober mod. sober; completely sober. (See also sold cober.) ☐ Of course, I'm cold sober! ☐ He had a fine head on and wanted more than anything to be cold sober and alert.

cold turkey mod. [stopping something] suddenly, without tapering off. (Said especially of stopping an addictive drug intake. Originally drugs.) ☐ Martha stopped cold turkey and survived. ☐ I stopped smoking cigarettes cold turkey and had to be hospitalized. ☐ I gave up rich desserts cold turkey and lived to tell about it.

coli ['kɒli] n. marijuana. (Drugs. From broccoli.) ☐ There's a little bag of coli in the fridge. ☐ Who got into my stash and took the coli?

collar 1. tv. to arrest someone. (See also collared.) ☐ The cops collared her as she was leaving the hotel. ☐ The nark tried to collar Frank, but Frank moved away too fast. 2. n. an arrest. ☐ It was a tough collar, with all the screaming and yelling. ☐ I made the collar in broad daylight.

collared mod. arrested. ☐ Willard Babbit? Oh, yes. He's collared. Got him last night. ☐ Got collared during a routine traffic stop.

Colombian (gold) AND Columbian (gold) n. a potent marijuana from Colombia. (Columbian is a misspelling.) ☐ Colombian gold seems to be a favorite around here. ☐ Columbian is cheap and abundant in almost every city.

color of someone's money n. the amount of money someone has in hand. ☐ Well, I can tell if we can make a deal if I could see the color of your money. ☐ Lemme see the color of your money. Then we'll talk.

Columbian (gold) Go to Colombian (gold).

combo ['kæmbɒ] 1. n. a small group of musicians; a small band. (From combination.) ☐ Andy started his own combo and made money from day one. ☐ You can make a good living with a combo. 2. n. a combination of people or things. ☐ Those two make an interesting combo. ☐ The dish was a combo of fish, garlic, and cream. 3. n. a bisexual person. ☐ Nobody would have thought that Fred's a combo. ☐ He's not a combo, he's just confused.

comboozelated [kəm'buzəledəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Collegiate.) ☐ I believe I am just a little comboozelated. ☐ How did you get so comboozelated?

come AND cum 1. in. to experience an orgasm. (There is no other single word for this meaning. Usually objectionable.) ☐ God, I thought she'd never cum. 2. n. semen. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Do you think cum is alive?

comeback 1. n. a retort; back talk. ☐ Hank is pretty fast with the comeback. ☐ One more snotty comeback like that and you're finished. 2. n. a return to a former state. ☐ The aging singer tried to sober up and make a comeback. ☐ Her comeback was not a financial success, but it improved her spirits.

come clean (with someone) (about something) in. to admit (something) to someone. ☐ I wish you'd come clean with me about this problem. ☐ You're gonna have to come clean eventually.

come down 1. in. to happen. ☐ Hey, man! What's coming down? ☐ When something like this comes down, I have to stop and think things over. 2. n. a letdown; a disappointment. (Usually comedown.) □ The loss of the race was a real comedown for Willard. □ It's hard to face a comedown like that. 3. in. to begin to recover from the effects of alcohol or drug intoxication. □ She came down slow, which was good. □ It was hard to get her to come down.

come down hard in. to come out of a drug use session badly. (Drugs.) □ Mike came down hard, and it took them a long time to calm him down. □ Some kids who come down hard will need treatment, but none of them get it unless they look like they are bad off.

come down hard on someone in. to scold someone; to punish someone severely. □ Joe's parents came down hard on him when they learned he had been suspended from school. □ The judge came down hard on the crooks.

come-hither look [kəm'hɪðə lʊk] n. an alluring or seductive look or glance, usually done by a woman. □ She blinked her bedroom eyes and gave him a come-hither look. □ She had mastered the come-hither look, but was not ready for the next part.

Come off it! 1. AND Get off it! exclam. Stop acting arrogantly! □ Oh, you're just one of us. Come off it! □ Come off it, Tiff. You're not the Queen of England. 2. exclam. Give up your incorrect point of view! □ Come off it! You're wrong, and you know it. □ You are arguing from a foolish position. You're dead wrong. Get off it!

come on 1. n. a lure; bait. (Usually come-on.) □ Forty people responded to the come-on published in the Sunday paper. □ It's just a come on. Nobody is giving away a decent color TV just for listening to a sales pitch. 2. n. an invitation; a sexual invitation. (Usually come-on.) □ She stared at him with her bedroom eyes, giving him that age-old come-on. □ Who could resist a come-on like that? 3. in. to begin to perform well. □ In the second scene, the entire cast came on, and the audience loved it. □ The singer came on immediately. We knew we had a star. 4. in.

to feel the effects of a drug; for a drug to take effect. (Drugs.) □ After what seemed a long time, I began to come on to the stuff. □ When I came on, I decided I didn't like it, but then it was too late. 5. exclam. You are wrong! (Usually Come on!) □ Come on! This is a good set of clubs! □ Come on! Wasteful spending occurs at all levels of all governments! Nobody is innocent!

come on like gangbusters Go to come on strong.

come on strong AND come on like gangbusters in. to seem aggressive; to impress people initially as very aggressive and assertive. (See explanation at like gangbusters.) □ She has a tendency to come on strong, but she's really a softie. □ The new president comes on strong at first.

come on to someone 1. in. to make advances to a person. □ He came on to her, but she beat it outa there fast. □ She didn't even know he was coming on to her, till they got to his place. 2. in. to try to get someone to respond romantically or sexually. □ She was just starting to come on to me when her parents came home. 3. in. to begin to become friendly. □ After a few minutes, they began to come on to each other. □ When the nervousness of meeting a blind date passed, Sam and Mary began to come on, and we could see it would be a success.

come out ahead in. to end up with a profit; to end up with some benefit. □ I never seem to come out ahead at the end of the month. □ We'll come out ahead in the end. Just you wait.

come out in the wash in. to be dealt with in the normal chain of events. (As if someone were counseling someone who had caused a clothing stain.) □ All of these things will come out in the wash. □ Whatever it is, it'll come out in the wash. Don't worry.

come out of the closet in. to appear publicly as a homosexual. (The phrase has many nonsexual metaphorical meanings.) □ They say he came out of the closet when he was 8 years old.

come out on top in. to end up to the better; to win. □ Tim always has to come out on top—a classic poor loser. □ She made all the wrong moves and still came out on top.

comer ['kəmər] n. someone with a bright future. □ Fred is a real comer. You'll be hearing a lot about him. □ A comer like that can command a high salary.

come up for air in. to pause for a break. □ The kissers—being only human—had to come up for air eventually. □ They were taking in money so fast at the box office that there wasn't a minute to come up for air.

comeuppance [kəm'əpənts] n. a well-deserved rebuke. □ He finally got the comeuppance that he's needed for so long. □ I gave her a comeuppance she'll never forget.

comfort station 1. n. a restroom; toilet facilities available to the public. □ Do you have a comfort station in this store? □ We need to stop and find a comfort station in the next town. 2. n. an establishment that sells liquor. □ Let's get some belch at a comfort station along here somewhere. □ There's cops all around that comfort station. Somebody must have robbed it.

comfy ['kəm(p)fi] mod. comfortable. □ This is a very comfy chair. □ I find myself in a not too comfy position with regard to your further employment here.

coming out of one's ears mod. in great abundance. □ Mr. Wilson has money coming out of his ears. □ Borrow some paper from Chuck. He's got it coming out of his ears.

comma-counter n. a pedantic person. □ Comma-counters can be such a pain. □ When you need a proofreader, you need a comma-counter.

commie ['kami] n. a communist. □ What are the commies up to now? □ The commies are selling gold today, and the price went down a lot.

commode-hugging drunk mod. heavily alcohol intoxicated; drunk and vomiting. □ John got commode-hugging drunk in the space of two hours. □ I could tell by the sounds coming from the bathroom that Ernie had come home commode-hugging drunk again.

comp 1. tv. to accompany someone [musically]. □ I have to sing a solo at a wedding and need someone to comp me. 2. tv. to give something to someone free. (Either as compensation for difficulties endured or as a complimentary gift.) □ The movie patron was angry and demanded his money back. The manager comped him with a few free passes and he was happy.

company bull n. a detective or guard who works for a private firm. □ Pete is a company bull for Acme Systems. He works nights. □ The company bull asked what we were doing there.

company man n. a man who always sides with his employers. □ Ken's a company man—he'll always take management's side. □ You can depend on a company man to do as he is told.

con 1. n. a convict. □ One of the cons keeps a snake in his cell for a pet. □ Is that guy in the gray pajamas one of the escaped cons? 2. n. a confidence scheme. □ They pulled a real con on the old lady. □ This is an okay con you got going. 3. tv. to swindle or deceive someone. □ Don't try to con me. I know the score. □ Sam conned him out of his money.

con artist Go to con man.

conehead 1. n. a fool; an oaf. □ Some conehead put sugar in the salt shaker. □ You can be pretty much of a conehead yourself sometimes, you know. 2. n. an intellectual; a pointy-head. □ The coneheads have decided that we are all making too much money. □ They build fences around universities to keep the coneheads in.

cones n. the breasts; female breasts. □ Cones really turn him on. □ She ain't much in the cones department.

con job n. an act of deception. □ What a con job he tried to pull on us! □ This is not an annual report! It's a con job!

conk AND konk n. the head. □ Put your brim on your conk, and let's cruise. □

Where'd you get that nasty bump on your konk?

konk-buster AND konk-buster

['kɒŋkbəstə] 1. n. inferior liquor. □ Another shot of that konk-buster and I will just pass out. □ Jed kept a jar of konk-buster under his bed against night sweats. 2. n. a hard-to-answer question or problem. □ Man, what you asking is really a konk-buster.

konk out 1. in. [for someone] to collapse.

□ I was so tired I just went home and konked out. □ I was afraid I would konk out while I was driving. 2. in. [for something] to break down; to quit running. □ My car konked out finally. □ I hope my computer doesn't konk out.

con man AND con artist n. someone who makes a living by swindling people. □ Gary is a con artist, but at least he's not on the dole. □ He looks like a con man, but he's just a sweetie.

connection n. a seller of drugs; someone who is a source for drugs. (Originally drugs.) □ Frank's connection got roused. □ This connection you keep taking about—is he dependable?

connect (with someone) in. to meet someone; to talk to someone on the telephone. □ Let's try to connect on this matter tomorrow. □ We connected over a drink and discussed the matter fully.

connect (with something) in. [for a batter] to hit a ball. □ Wally connected for a double. □ He swung, but didn't connect with the ball.

conniption (fit) [kə'nɪpfən...] n. a burst of anger; a spaz. □ He had a conniption fit over the question of my marriage to Wally. □ Come on, don't have a conniption!

constitutional n. the first drink or dose of drugs of the day. (See also breakfast of champions.) □ He downed a constitutional and made ready to set out for the office. □ He never fails to drop a constitutional in the morning.

cooch 1. n. the female genitals; the vulva. (Usually objectionable.) □ He thought he could see her cooch through her swimming suit. 2. n. women considered as a receptacle for the penis. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Q: Don't you ever think about anything except getting some cooch? A: No.

coo-coo AND cuckoo 1. mod. unconscious. □ I socked him on the snoot and knocked him coo-coo. □ Rocko was cuckoo for a minute; then he was up and swinging. 2. mod. insane. □ The chick is just cuckoo, that's all. □ How did I ever get involved in this cuckoo scheme, anyway?

cooked mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Pete is cooked, fried, boiled, baked—drunk. □ Gary is calling a cab. He's too cooked to drive.

cooked up mod. contrived. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ The whole thing seems so cooked up. □ What a cooked-up story! Of course, you don't believe it.

cookie pusher 1. n. a bootlicker; someone who flatters other people for self-serving motives. □ When you've got a whole office full of cookie pushers, there's always someone to take you to lunch. □ Another cookie pusher came in today to tell me what a great teacher I am. 2. n. a lazy do-nothing. □ Is Martin a couch potato or a cookie pusher? That is the question! □ I'm just looking for a cookie pusher to fire today.

cooking with gas in. doing exactly right. (Always with -ing.) □ That's great! Now you're cooking with gas! □ I knew she was finally cooking with gas when she answered all the questions correctly.

cool 1. mod. unabashed; unruffled; relaxed. (See also keep one's cool; lose one's cool.) □ This chick is so cool—no matter what happens. □ She is totally cool and easygoing. 2. mod. good; excellent. □ This is a really cool setup! □ Then this, like, cool muscleman comes over and asks Tiffany if she'd like to dance. 3. mod. [of music] mellow; smooth. □ This stuff is so cool, I'm just floating. □ Doesn't he blow a cool trumpet? 4. mod. no less than [some amount of money]. □ He earns a cool million every year. □ She cleared a cool forty thousand on the Wilson deal. 5. in. to die; to become cold after death. (Medical euphemism.) □ The patient cooled during surgery. □ We were afraid that he would cool.

Cool bananas! Go to Cool beans!

Cool beans! AND Cool bananas! exclam.

Wow! □ Cool beans, man. That's great! □ You got a car? Cool bananas!

cool, calm, and collected mod. cool; unabashed. □ Albert is almost always cool, calm, and collected. □ Before a race I am anything but cool, calm, and collected.

cool cat n. someone who is cool, usually a male. □ Monty is a cool cat. I really like him. □ There is a shortage of cool cats on this turf.

cool down in. to calm down. □ Now, just cool down. Chill, chill. Everything's gonna be real cool. □ When things cool down around here, life will be much more liveable.

cooled out mod. calm; unabashed. □ Ted is a really cooled out kind of guy. □ When she's cooled out, she's great.

cooler n. jail. (Usually with the.) □ Do you want to talk, or do you want to spend a little time in the cooler? □ Let me outa this cooler!

Cool it! exclam. Calm down! □ Take it easy! Cool it! □ Come on, cool it, man!

cool off in. to calm down. □ Now, it's all right. Cool off! □ I knew things would cool off eventually.

cool out in. to calm down; to relax. (See also cooled out.) □ Now, just cool out, man. This will pass. □ Everybody cooled out after the emergency, and everything was fine.

cool someone out tv. to calm someone; to appease someone. □ Cool yourselves out, you people. We gotta be sensible. □ The manager appeared and tried to cool out everybody, but that was a waste of time.

cooties ['kudziz] n. real or imagined lice. □ Randy pulled back from me like I had cooties or something. What's wrong with me? □ You have cooties, crotch-pheasants, and bad breath. What do you expect?

cop 1. tv. to take or steal something. (Originally underworld.) □ Somebody copped the statue from the town square. □ Who copped the salt from this table? 2. n. a theft. (Underworld.) □ They pulled the cop in broad daylight. □ It was a lousy cop. No skill. No finesse. 3. n. a police officer. (From sense 1.) □ The cop wasn't in any mood to put up with any monkey business. □ You call the cops. I've got enough trouble. 4. tv. to arrest someone. (See also copped.) □ The officer copped him and read him his rights. □ They copped Sam with the evidence right on him. 5. n. an arrest. □ It was a smooth cop. No muss, no fuss. □ The cop went off without a hitch except for a few little insults.

cop a drag tv. to smoke a cigarette. (See also drag.) □ She kept going off to the john to cop a drag. □ Smokers who have to leave the office to cop a drag must cost this nation billions each year.

cop a fix tv. to obtain a dose of drugs. □ She was gonna, like, die if she didn't cop a fix pretty soon. □ She carries her apps so she can cop a fix whenever.

cop a head tv. to become alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ He was mad and depressed and went home having decided to cop a head. □ The two old codgers sat there copping a head, or trying to anyway.

cop an attitude tv. to take a negative or opposite attitude about something. (See also tude.) □ Look, chum, don't cop an attitude with me! □ I think you're copping an attitude. Not advised, man. Not advised.

cop a plea tv. to plead guilty to a lesser charge. □ Rocko copped a plea and got off with a week in the slammer. □ I wanted to cop a plea, but didn't have the chance.

copasetic [kopə'sɛdɪk] mod. agreeable; satisfactory. (Originally black. Probably from French.) □ Everything is copasetic. Couldn't be better. □ This is one fine copasetic day.

cop a squat tv. to sit down. □ Hey, man! Come in and cop a squat. □ Cop a squat and crack a tube.

cop a tube tv. to catch a perfect tubular wave. (Surfers.) □ He was a real pro at copping a tube, and always just the right one. □ Mark—as drunk as all get out—said he was gonna go out and cop a tube.

cop out 1. in. to plead guilty (to a lesser charge). (Underworld. See also cop a plea.) □ Frank copped out and got off with a night in the cooler. □ I decided not to cop out and got a mouthpiece instead. 2. in. to give up and quit; to chicken out (of something). □ Why do you want to cop out just when things are going great? □ I couldn't cop out on you guys if I wanted to. 3. n. a poor excuse to get out of something. (Usually cop-out or copout.) □ This is a silly copout. □ That's not a good reason. That's just a cop-out.

copped mod. arrested. □ Jed got himself copped—a speeder. □ I was copped for doing absolutely nothing at all.

copper 1. n. a police officer. (Originally underworld. Because the copper cops or takes. See also cop.) □ See that copper over there? He busted me once. □ The coppers will catch up with you some day. 2. n. money. (From copper penny. See also rivets.) □ How much copper you got on you? □ That car takes too much copper to run.

cop-shop n. a police station. □ They hauled off everybody to the cop-shop. □ The pigs down at the cop-shop tried to act like they didn't know who Frank was.

cop some Z's Go to catch some Z's.

a copy n. apiece, as with an item produced. □ We sell the toy at $14 a copy. □ These cars cost over $20,000 a copy.

copycat n. someone who mimics or copies the actions of others. □ Don't be such a copycat. Find a style that suits you. □ Jim is a real copycat. He can say anything you say, just the way you say it.

corked (up) AND corky mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ You seem to be a little corked. □ You'd be corked up, too, if you'd drunk as much as I have.

corker n. someone or something good, funny, or entertaining. □ That was a real corker. I thought I'd die laughing. □ Tracy is quite a corker. I bet she's fun at parties.

corkscrewed (up) mod. courageous because of alcohol; with one's courage screwed by alcohol. □ After getting himself corkscrewed up, he went into the boss's office for a word. □ He used a bit of vodka to get corkscrewed enough to demand a raise.

corky Go to corked (up).

corn n. money. □ I need some corn to pay the rent.

cornball 1. n. a stupid or corny person. □ He's a cornball, but he's fun. □ Who invited this cornball to my party? 2. mod. stupid or corny. □ What a cornball idea! □ Ken is such a cornball hick!

corned mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The old timer is corned on moonshine. □ Let's go out and get corned.

cornfed mod. rural; backwards; unsophisticated. □ I enjoy her honest, cornfed humor. □ Jed is a homey, cornfed kind of guy. Don't know anybody who bears him any ill will.

cornhole 1. n. the anus. (Usually objectionable.) □ Well, doc, I got this terrible itch in the cornhole, you know. 2. n. a sharp poke or goose in the anus. (Usually objectionable.) □ They delivered a painful cornhole to the bully and then ran off. 3. tv. to poke someone in the anus. (Usually objectionable.) □ Let's sneak up and cornhole that guy!

corny 1. mod. having to do with simple-minded, overdrawn humor. □ This corny dialog has to be revised before I'll act in this play. □ Don't be corny. This is serious. 2. mod. having to do with overdone sentiment. □ The love scenes were your corny hands-off-the-naughty-parts events, but nobody laughed. □ Harry always laughs at corny mush in a movie.

corpse 1. n. an empty liquor or beer bottle. (See also dead soldier.) □ Sam tossed another corpse out the window. □ Throw your corpses in the trash can, you jerk! 2. n. a cigarette butt. □ The wino picked up the corpse and put it in a little box of them he carried with him. □ He is saving corpses to build a real smoke.

corral dust n. nonsense, lies, and exaggeration. (A euphemism for bullshit.) □ The way Judy handles the corral dust, she must be running for political office. □ That stuff is all corral dust. Don't believe a word of it.

cosmic mod. excellent; powerful. □ This pizza is absolutely cosmic! □ Who wants to see a really cosmic movie?

cotton-picking AND cotton-pickin' mod. worthless; damned. (Folksy.) □ What's the cotton-pickin' idea? □ Who is this cotton-picking bigwig pushing us around?

couch-doctor AND couch-turkey n. a psychiatrist; a psychoanalyst. □ Some couch-doctor told her to go out and find a lover. □ I finally walked out on my couch-turkey. Now I'm getting it all together.

couch potato n. a lazy, do-nothing television watcher. (See also sofa spud.) □ If there was a prize for the best couch potato, my husband would win it. □ You are turning into a perfect couch potato.

couch-turkey Go to couch-doctor.

Cough it up! exclam. Give me the money (or some other thing that you are trying to keep from me) now! □ You owe me 20 bucks. Cough it up!

cough something up tv. to produce something (which someone has requested), usually money. □ Come on, buster, cough it up, now! □ You owe me seven stereo amplifiers. Now, cough them up! □ Cough up what you owe me!

country drunk mod. alcohol intoxicated; drunk and disorganized. (Folksy.) □ Them good old boys know how to get country drunk. □ The cowboy, really country drunk this time, got to town somehow and started a fight.

county-mounty n. a highway patrol officer. (Citizens band radio.) □ There's a county-mounty waiting under that bridge ahead of you. □ The county-mounty wrote me seven tickets in that one roust.

courier n. a small-time drug seller; a drug runner; a carrier of contraband. (Drugs.)

□ The cops can catch the couriers whenever they want. It's the big guys they're after. □ The couriers are expendable.

cover-up n. an act of concealing something. □ The cover-up drew more attention than whatever it was that was covered up. □ The candidate accused her opponent of a cover-up.

cow n. a fat or ugly woman. (Cruel.) □ That cow can hardly get through the door. □ Wouldn't you think a cow like that would go on a diet?

cowboy n. a reckless and independent man; a reckless driver. (Also a term of address.) □ Come on, cowboy, finish your coffee and get moving. □ Some cowboy in a new caddy cut in front of me.

cow chips n. dried cow dung. □ There's a whole field of cow chips out there! Why do you want to buy a bag of the stuff at a nursery? □ Break up these cow chips and work them into the soil around the base of the bushes.

cow-doots [...'duts] n. cow dung; masses of cow dung. □ Don was walking through the pasture gathering cow-doots to use as fertilizer. □ Don't step in the cow-doots.

cow flop AND cow plop n. a mass of cow dung. □ Mrs. Wilson is out in the pasture gathering cow flops for her garden. □ Cow plops are not all the same, you know.

cow juice Go to moo juice.

cow plop Go to cow flop.

coyote-ugly ['kaiot 'ægli OR 'kaioti 'ægli] mod. extremely ugly. (Crude, cruel, and potentially offensive. Said of people. See also double-bagger; triple-bagger. Supposedly, if one woke up and found one's arm around a coyote-ugly person, one would chew off one's arm—in the manner of a coyote escaping from a steel-jaw trap—rather than pull it back away from this person.) □ Is that your pet monkey, or is your date just coyote-ugly? □ Isn't that the most coyote-ugly creep you've ever seen?

cozy up (to someone) in. to become overly friendly with someone in hope of gaining special favors. □ Tracy cozied up to the prof, hoping for a good grade at least. ☐ She failed to read the syllabus, which advised students not to cozy up to the professor or call him at home.

cr@p 1. n. a partial written disguise for crap = junk. ☐ I asked him what all the cr@p was on the floor. 2. in. a partial written disguise for crap = dung. ☐ The cat cr@pped in the hall last night.

crab n. a louse. (Usually plural.) ☐ He's scratching like he's got crabs. ☐ The old wino and his crabs wandered into the flop-house for a little peace and quiet.

crack 1. n. the gap between the buttocks. ☐ You can take your old summons and stick it up your crack! ☐ You wanna get kicked in the crack? 2. n. the gap between the lips of the vulva. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ He screamed something rude about her crack and slapped her. 3. n. women considered as the object of copulation and male sexual release. (Usually with some. Rude and derogatory.) ☐ Jed said he had to have some crack soon or he would die. 4. n. a joke; a smart-aleck remark. ☐ Another crack like that and your nose will be a little flatter than it is. 5. n. a try (that may or may not succeed). ☐ Have another crack at it. ☐ One more crack and I'll have it. 6. n. a unit of something (for a particular price); a use (of something). ☐ You would think twice, too, if you remembered that it's seven dollars a crack. ☐ At two dollars a crack, this is the best game on the midway. 7. n. crystalline, smokable cocaine. (Drugs.) ☐ This crack seems to have become the drug of choice for punks of all ages. ☐ Crack became popular when it became easy and cheap to process. It's been around for years in medicinal form. 8. in. to break down and talk under pressure. (Underworld.) ☐ They kept at her till she finally cracked and talked. ☐ We knew you'd finally crack. 9. mod. [of a person] excellent; top-flight. ☐ The dealer's crack salesman was no help at all. ☐ With our crack staff, we can have everything worked out in no time. 10. tv. to break into something. (Underworld.) ☐ We almost cracked the safe before the alarm went off. ☐ His specialty is cracking car trunks and stealing tires.

crack a book tv. to open a book to study. (Usually in the negative.) ☐ I never cracked a book and still passed the course. ☐ Sally didn't crack a book all semester.

crack a tube tv. to open a can of beer. (See also tube.) ☐ Why don't you drop over this evening, and we'll crack a few tubes? ☐ Would you crack a tube for me? My hands are too cold.

crackbrain n. a fool; a stupid oaf. ☐ Did you hear about the crackbrain who found part of the sky floating in the lake? ☐ Sometimes you are quite a crackbrain yourself.

crackbrained mod. stupid; ridiculous. ☐ I've heard enough of your crackbrained schemes. ☐ One more crackbrained idea and you're fired.

cracked mod. crazy. ☐ You're cracked if you think I'll agree to that. ☐ You gotta be cracked if you think I'm going back in there.

cracked up to be mod. supposed to be. ☐ This pizza isn't what it's cracked up to be. ☐ I wanted to find out whether this stuff was what it is cracked up to be.

crackerjack mod. excellent; industrious. ☐ Fred is a crackerjack stockbroker, but his personal life is a mess. ☐ Clare is a crack-erjack teacher, but she is looking for something that pays a real salary.

crackers Go to bonkers.

crackhead n. a user of crack. (Drugs.) ☐ They brought an eight-year-old crackhead in for treatment. ☐ Crackheads are a very serious problem in the nation's work force.

crack house n. a house or dwelling where crack is sold and used. (Drugs.) ☐ The police are continuing their efforts to close down crack houses in the area. ☐ In one dilapidated neighborhood, there is a crack house on every block.

crack open a bottle tv. to open a bottle of liquor. (Also with the.) ☐ Let's crack open a bottle and celebrate. ☒ He cracked the bottle open and poured a little for everyone to try.

crackpot 1. n. a fake; a person with strange or crazy plans. □ Some crackpot called to tell us that the sky is falling in. □ I'm no crackpot! I saw some of the sky floating in the lake. If it had fallen on land, someone might have been killed. 2. mod. having to do with crazy things, mainly ideas. □ We need a crackpot idea around here just so we'll have something to compare your ideas to. □ Why not start a crackpot idea contest?

crack someone up tv. to make someone laugh. □ She giggled, and that cracked us all up. □ The lecturer would talk along sort of boring like, and then all of a sudden he would crack up everybody with a joke.

crack some suds tv. to drink some beer. □ Let's go out tonight and crack some suds. □ The guys wanted to watch the game and crack some suds.

crack up 1. in. to have a wreck. □ The plane cracked up and killed two of the passengers. □ Whose car cracked up on the expressway? 2. in. to break out in laughter. □ The whole audience cracked up. □ I knew I would crack up during the love scene. 3. in. to have a nervous breakdown. □ The poor guy cracked up. It was too much for him. □ You would crack up, too, if you had been through all he went through. 4. n. an accident; a wreck. (Usually crack-up.) □ There was a terrible crack-up on the expressway. □ There were four cars in the crack-up.

cram in. to study hard at the last minute for a test. □ She spent the night cramming for the test. □ If you would study all the time, you wouldn't need to cram.

crank 1. n. a crackpot; a bothersome person with a bogus message. □ A crank called with a bomb threat. □ A crank came in and offered to punch me in the nose for a quarter. 2. mod. bogus. □ We had four crank calls threatening to blow up the Eiffel tower. □ A crank letter promised us a million dollars if we would play "My Blue Heaven" for two hours each morning. 3. n. a crabby person. (Collegiate.) □ Why are you such a crank? Is something wrong in your life? □ The prof is such a crank; he jokes only about once a semester.

crank bugs n. a drug-induced hallucination that insects are crawling under one's skin. (Drugs.) □ I have crank bugs, and I'm cartooning, too. □ There's no such thing as crank bugs, so stop scratching them.

cranking mod. exciting; excellent. □ This record is really cranking! □ We had a massively cranking time at your set.

crank something out tv. to produce something; to make a lot of something. □ She can crank mystery novels out like fury. They're all good, too. □ That man does nothing but crank out trouble.

crank something up 1. tv. to start something up. □ I'll go out and crank the car up so it can warm up. □ Crank up the copying machine. We've got a big job to do. 2. tv. to increase the volume of an electronic device. □ He cranked it up a little more and CRACK, there went both speakers! □ Kelly cranked up his stereo until we were nearly deafened.

cranky mod. irritable; fretful. □ Don't be cranky. We're almost there. □ Max is cranky today. The fuzz is on his tail.

crap 1. n. dung; feces. (Often used as a milder replacement for shit. Usually objectionable.) □ There's dog crap on my lawn! □ Don't step in that crap! 2. in. to defecate. (Usually objectionable.) □ Your dog crapped on my lawn! □ I have to crap; then I'll be right with you. 3. n. nonsense; lies. (See also BS.) □ Stop talking crap and get serious! 4. n. junk; shoddy merchandise. □ Send this crap back. I won't pay for it! □ This thing is just crap! It hasn't worked right since I bought it.

craphouse n. a privy. (Usually objectionable.) □ Wally's out in the craphouse reading, I guess. □ Where's the craphouse that used to be out there?

crap-list Go to shit-list.

crap out in. to evade something; to chicken out (of something). □ Now, don't crap out on me at the last minute. □ Fred crapped out, so there are only three of us.

crapped (out) mod. dead; finished. (Not prenominal. From dice, not from the other senses of crap.) □ After a serious encounter with a rattlesnake, my two dogs were crapped by dawn.

crapper 1. n. a toilet, privy, or restroom. (Usually objectionable. See also crap.) □ Where's the crapper around here? □ Old Jed never passes up a chance to use an indoor crapper. 2. n. a braggart. (Usually objectionable.) □ The guy is a crapper and can't be trusted at all. □ Don't listen to the crapper.

crapper dick n. a police officer or detective who patrols public toilets. □ When he flubbed up the Wilson case, they made him a crapper dick in the central business district. □ What's a crapper dick get paid?

crappy 1. mod. messed up with dung; dungy. □ Clean off your crappy shoes before you go in there! 2. mod. lousy. □ This has been a real crappy day for me.

crapshoot n. a gamble; a matter of chance. (Like a crap [dice] game.) □ Basically, life is a crapshoot. □ The stock market isn't concerned with value anymore. It's just a crapshoot.

crash 1. tv. & in. to attend a party or other event uninvited. (See also crasher.) □ Some clown tried to crash the rally, but my dad called the cops. □ The boys who tried to crash also broke a window. 2. in. to spend the night. (See also crash pad.) □ I crashed at a friend's place in the city. □ You have a place I can crash? 3. in. to sleep. □ I crashed till noon. □ If I don't crash pretty soon, I'm going to die! 4. n. a place to sleep. □ I think I know of a crash for tonight. □ Molly's on the phone, looking for a crash. 5. in. [for a computer] to stop working. □ This thing crashes every time I hit a certain key. □ My machine hasn't crashed since I got it. 6. n. a total failure of a computer. □ Most of my data was lost in the crash. □ Crashes are to teach you to back up your data. 7. in. [for any electronic device] to fail. □ My stereo crashed, so I've been watching TV. □ My TV crashed, and I had to go out to watch at somebody else's house. 8. in. [for a securities market] to lose a significant portion of its value in a short time. □ The market crashed and scared the stuffing out of everybody. □ When the bond market crashed, the press didn't even realize it. 9. n. a collapse of a securities market. □ After the crash, a lot of people swore off the market for good. □ A crash like that was too much for a lot of people. 10. in. to pass out from drinking alcohol to excess. □ About midnight I crashed, and I woke up here. □ Let's get Wilbur home before he crashes for good.

crash and burn 1. in. [for a young man] to fail brilliantly with a romance. (Collegiate. See also go down in flames.) □ I knew I would crash and burn with her. □ It stands to reason that if Carole hadn't shot me down, I wouldn't have crashed and burned. 2. in. to fail spectacularly. □ I have to be prepared. I don't want to crash and burn if I don't have to.

crashed 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Fred is crashed. Leave him alone. □ There were two crashed freshmen asleep on the lawn. 2. mod. raided by the police. (See also bust.) □ Our pad got crashed, and a lot of kids were arrested. □ After the place was crashed, it was a mess.

crasher n. a person who attends a party uninvited. (See also crash.) □ The crashers ruined the party, and my dad called the cops. □ The crashers were no more rude than the guests.

crash pad n. a place to stay the night on short notice. □ I've got a crash pad in the city for emergencies like this. □ I gotta find a crash pad for tonight.

crate n. a dilapidated vehicle. □ Where'd you get that old crate? □ This crate gets me to work and back. That's good enough.

crater 1. n. an acne scar. □ Ted has a nasty crater on his cheek. □ Walter was always sort of embarrassed about his craters. 2. in. to collapse and go down as with a falling stock price. □ The stock cratered and probably won't recover for a year or two. □ When my portfolio cratered, I thought it was the end of the world. Then most of the prices came back up in a month.

crater-face AND pizza-face; pizza-puss; zit-face n. a person with acne or many acne scars. (Intended as jocular. Rude and derogatory.) □ I gotta get some kind of medicine for these pimples. I'm getting to be a regular crater-face.

crawling with someone or something mod. covered with someone or something; alive with someone or something. □ The place was crawling with police and FBI agents. □ The room was just crawling with ants.

crazy 1. n. a crazy person. □ The guy's a crazy, and he keeps coming in here asking for money. □ I think the crazies are taking over the world. 2. mod. cool. □ This stuff is really crazy, man. I love it! □ What a crazy dress. It makes you look like a million.

crazy bone n. the elbow. □ Ouch! I hit my crazy bone! □ Ken hit his crazy bone as he went into church, and was yelling "Oh! Oh! Oh!" as if the Spirit had got into him or something.

cream 1. tv. to beat someone; to outscore someone. □ The other team creamed us, but we had better team spirit. □ We'll cream 'em next week. 2. semen. (Usually objectionable.) □ His father found some cream in the john and went into a purple rage. □ Some of them swallow the cream, they say. 3. vaginal secretions. □ Now, that ought to bring on the cream! 4. to copulate [with] someone, usually a female. (Usually objectionable.) □ He acted like he wanted to cream her. □ She went out and got herself creamed.

creamed 1. mod. beaten; outscored. □ We were really creamed in that last game, and the coach is steamed. □ Midwest U. got creamed again today by the Podunk Badgers. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, Tony is totally creamed! □ I got myself creamed last night, didn't I?

creamed foreskins n. creamed chipped beef on toast. (Military. Usually objectionable.) □ Oh, boy! It's creamed foreskins again tonight!

cream (in) one's pants AND cream one's jeans in. [for a bring] to ejaculate in his pants from excessive sexual excitement. (Usually objectionable.) □ God, when I saw her I nearly creamed in my pants. □ The kid creamed his jeans in that movie.

cream one's jeans Go to cream (in) one's pants.

cream puff 1. n. a weakling; a wimp. □ Don't be a cream puff all your life! Join a health club! □ We're having a cream puff special this week for you clowns who can't climb stairs without panting. 2. n. a used car that is in very good condition. □ This one is a real cream puff. Only driven to church by a little old lady. □ This cream puff is loaded, air and everything.

creased mod. exhausted. □ What a day. I am totally creased. □ Here is one creased football player. Let him hit the rack.

creep n. a weird person; an eerie person. □ Charlie is such a creep when he's stoned. □ I thought Charlie was a creep no matter what.

creep dive Go to creep joint.

creeping-crud 1. n. any unidentified disease. □ There is some kind of creeping-crud between my toes. □ I got the creeping-crud growing in my armpit. 2. n. a repellent person. □ Wally has become such a creeping-crud since he inherited all that money. □ Don't be a creeping-crud. Just go back to being a plain crud. 3. n. any nasty, slimy substance. □ You got creeping-crud all over my pants leg. □ That's not creeping-crud! That's my pecan pie!

creep joint AND creep dive n. an unpleasant place populated by creeps. □ You shouldn't go into a creep joint like that alone. □ Why would anyone want to work in a creep dive like that?

the creeps n. the jitters; a case of nerves. □ These movies always give me the creeps. □ The creeps always make me have to go to the john.

creepy mod. eerie; frightening. □ I have this creepy feeling that someone is just this very moment reading something that I wrote. □ This is the creepiest old house I have ever been in.

crib 1. n. a location where thieves gather to plot; a dwelling for thieves, prostitutes, etc. (Underworld.) □ The police busted a crib over on Fourth Street. □ They use a basement over there for a crib. 2. n. a dwelling. □ Where's your crib, man? □ My good threads are all back at my crib.

crib course n. an easy course in college. □ Tom signed up for three crib courses and gym. What a twit! □ Andy thought he was getting into a crib course, but it turned out to be really hard.

cricket mod. acceptable. (See negative examples at not cricket.) □ Is it really cricket to play under two different names? □ Who cares if it's cricket!

crisco ['krisko] n. a fat person. (Cruel. Also a rude term of address. The brand name of a baking shortening.) □ Some crisco came in and ordered ten large fries. □ Hey, crisco! Go on a diet!

crisp mod. drug intoxicated. □ The crisp guy waving the bra is the one we are after. □ Man, is he crisp!

crispy-critter n. a person under the effects of marijuana. (From the brand name of a breakfast cereal.) □ He's fried all right. A real crispy-critter. □ A crispy-critter came in and tried to sell me his watch.

croak 1. in. to die; to expire; to succumb. □ I was afraid I'd croak. □ The parrot croaked before I got it home. 2. tv. to kill someone or something. □ The car croaked the cat just like that. □ Somebody croaked my parrot.

croaker n. a doctor. □ I went to the croaker with my sore throat. □ The croaker said my tonsils have to come out.

crock 1. n. nonsense. (See also crock (of shit).) □ What a crock! You don't know what you are talking about! □ This whole business is a crock. Hell, life's a crock! 2. n. a drunkard. □ Give the old crock some money, anything to get him outa here before he barfs or something. □ The crock wants booze, not money.

crocked [krakt] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ What do you get out of getting crocked very night? □ Oh, my God! You're crocked again!

crockery n. the teeth. (See also china.) □ I gotta go to the dentist for some work on my crockery. □ Is that your own crockery?

crock (of shit) 1. n. a mass of lies and deception worth no more than dung. (Usually objectionable.) □ That's nothing but a crock of shit! I don't believe a word of it. 2. n. a person who tells lies. (Rude and derogatory.) □ He's just a crock of shit. He never tells the truth. 3. n. a braggart. (Rude and derogatory.) □ He's such a crock. He makes everything he has done sound ten times better than it really is.

cromagnon [kro'mægnən] n. an ugly male. (Collegiate.) □ Who is that cromagnon you were with last night? □ That was no cromagnon. That was your blind date for next weekend.

cross-eyed (drunk) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ What's the point of getting cross-eyed drunk? □ He sat on the bar stool, cross-eyed and crying.

cross someone (up) AND cross up someone tv. to go against someone; to thwart someone. □ Don't cross me up if you know what's good for you. □ I told you not to cross me again!

cross up someone Go to cross someone (up).

crotch-cheese AND cock-cheese n. smegma; any nasty, smelly substance—real or imagined—that accumulates around the genitals, especially in athletes. (Usually objectionable.) □ Man, this stuff is vile. It smells like crotch-cheese.

crotch-cobra n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his crotch-cobra and ran for the bedroom.

crotch-monkey Go to crotch-pheasant.

crotch-pheasant AND crotch-monkey n. a louse. (Usually in the plural.) □ He appears to be afflicted with what you might call crotch-pheasants. □ There is a special medicine that will get rid of crotch-monkeys.

crotch-rot n. a skin irritation or disease characterized by itching in the genital area, usually said of males. (See also grunge.) □ What will get rid of crotch-rot? □ Here's some medicine for crotch-rot.

crowd 1. tv. to pressure or threaten someone. □ Don't crowd me! □ Frank began to crowd Sam, which was the wrong thing to do. 2. tv. to gang up on someone. □ Some guys were crowding Todd, so we chased them off. □ They moved in from all sides, carrying clubs, and began to crowd us.

crown tv. to hit someone on the head. □ The clerk crowned the robber with a champagne bottle. □ The bride, at the end of her patience, crowned the stuttering cleric with her bouquet, shouted, "I do," and began kissing the groom.

crud 1. n. any nasty substance. (An old form of the word curd.) □ There's some crud on your left shoe. 2. n. junk; stuff; personal possessions. □ Get your crud outa my way, will you! 3. n. a repellent person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Don't be such a crud! □ That crud kept trying to paw me!

cruddie Go to cruddy.

cruddy AND crudy; cruddie ['krædi] mod. nasty; awful. □ What is this cruddy stuff on my plate? □ It's just chocolate mousse, and it's not cruddie.

cruise 1. in. to travel at top speed. □ This old caddy can really cruise. □ We cruised all the way to Philly. 2. in. to drive around looking for friends or social activity. □ We went out cruising, but didn't see anybody. □ Let's go cruise for a while. 3. tv. to pursue a member of the opposite sex. □ Tom was cruising Tiffany, but she got rid of him. □ Are you cruising me, Tom? You know you just barf me, like, out! 4. in. to move on; to leave. □ Listen, I gotta cruise. □ Time to cruise. Monty Python's on in ten minutes. 5. in. to move through life at a comfortable pace. □ I just want to get a good job and cruise for a while. □ I'm cruising just the way I want now. 6. tv. to pass a course easily. □ I'm gonna cruise that math course. □ Tom really cruised English this semester.

cruiser n. a car; a fast car. □ This old hog is a real cruiser. □ I don't want a yuppie cruiser, just an old family wagon.

cruising for a bruising AND cruisin' for a bruisin' in. asking for trouble. □ You are cruising for a bruising, you know that? □ Who's cruisin' for a bruisin'?

crumb [krəm] n. a repellent person. □ The old man was a real crumb and tried to cheat us. □ Mickey is a crumb, and he treats me like dirt.

crumb-cruncher AND crumb-crusher n. a child. □ How many crumb-crunchers do you have at home. □ I nearly stepped on that little crumb-crusher! Get him out of the way!

crumb-crusher Go to crumb-cruncher.

crumbum ['kræmbəm] 1. n. a repellent person; a bum. □ A skid row crumbum asked us for a buck. □ I gave the crumbum a buck and hoped he would leave. 2. mod. inferior; lousy. □ I sent the crumbum food back to the kitchen. There was a bug in it. □ I want out of this crumbum place.

crumby Go to crummy.

crummy AND crumby ['kræmi] mod. lousy; bad; inferior. □ You know, this stuff is pretty crummy. □ It's worse than crumby.

crumped (out) 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was too crumped out to drive herself home. □ Are you crumped out again? 2. mod. dead. □ Our old dog crumped out at age fourteen. □ Uncle Dave is crumped and now there's nobody left to drive that 1952 Cadillac. □ I am so tired. I feel half-crumped.

crum something up tv. to mess something up; to make something crummy. □ Who crummed the bird feeder up? □ Now don't crum up this deal.

crunch n. a crisis; a time of pressure or tightness, especially of a budget. □ We seem to be in a crunch of one kind or another all the time. □ The budget crunch meant that we couldn't take trips to Europe anymore.

crunchers n. the feet. ☐ My crunchers are sore from all this walking. ☐ New shoes can be hard on your crunchers.

crunchie n. a soldier; a marching infantry soldier. (Military. See also crunchers.) ☐ A couple of crunchies were complaining about the Army. ☐ Crunchies have a pretty hard life.

crunchy mod. [of someone] loving nature, plants, and animals. (The type of person who lives on granola.) ☐ He's such a crunchy guy, always saving whales and trees.

crush n. the person on whom one has a crush; one's main squeeze; one's boyfriend or girlfriend. ☐ I'm gonna go study with my crush tonight. ☐ Wuz up, man! Where's your crush?

crust n. nerve; gall. ☐ She's got a lot of crust—coming in here like that. ☐ It takes crust to sell this stuff to somebody. You really gotta push.

crusty mod. feisty; gruff. ☐ Jed is a crusty old man. ☐ Unlike most crusty, old men, Jed hasn't a single redeeming quality.

crutch 1. n. a car. (Streets.) ☐ That's one fine crutch you got here, Bud. ☐ I need a better crutch to get around. How about a benz? 2. n. a device to hold a marijuana cigarette butt. ☐ Here's a crutch so you can finish your smoke. ☐ I lost my crutch, so now I keep burning my fingers on the last few tokes.

cry hughie ['kraɪ 'hjuɪ] tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ He is in the john crying hughie. ☐ I think I gotta go cry hughie.

crying drunk mod. alcohol intoxicated and weeping. ☐ She was crying drunk and feeling sorry for herself. ☐ I really hate it when they come in here crying drunk.

crying towel n. someone or something used to comfort someone. ☐ I guess I really need a crying towel today. ☐ I'm the kind of person who has to carry a crying towel at all times.

crying weed n. marijuana. ☐ I must have got hold of some crying weed. This stuff leaves me cold. ☐ On a rainy day, crying weed seems just right.

cry in one's beer in. to feel sorry for oneself. ☐ She calls up, crying in her beer, and talks on and on about her problems. ☐ Don't cry in your beer. Get yourself straightened out.

cry ralph Go to cry ruth.

cry ruth AND call ruth; call ralph; cry ralph tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (See also ruth. Also with capital r.) ☐ Someone is in the bushes crying ruth. ☐ I think I have to cry ruth! Stop the car!

crystal 1. n. crystallized cocaine. (Drugs. See also crack.) ☐ I wonder how much crystal is used in this country each day. ☐ Crystal—an older name for crack—was a favorite many years ago. 2. n. liquid Methedrine™ in glass ampoules. (Drugs.) ☐ I hear that Wally's shooting crystal. Is that true? ☐ Frank has lots of crystal right now.

crystals n. the testicles. (From crystal balls.) ☐ He got hit right in the crystals. It was real embarrassing, as well as painful.

C-spot Go to C-note.

CU tv. see you (later). (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages.) ☐ Bye. CU. ☐ CU L8R.

cube [kjuːb] 1. n. a very square person. ☐ This nerd was the most unbelievable cube you have ever seen. ☐ Not just an L7, a real cube. 2. n. a die, one of a pair of dice. (Usually in the plural.) ☐ Toss me the cubes. ☐ She shook the cubes, saying, "Baby needs shoes!" 3. n. a sugar cube impregnated with LSD. (Drugs. Often in the plural.) ☐ First they took it on cubes. Then on little bits of paper. ☐ The cubes were usually bluish.

cuckoo Go to coo-coo.

cuddle bunny n. a female lover. ☐ All you want is a cuddle bunny with big tits! Grow up, Maxwell Wilson! ☐ Who is that cuddle bunny driving the caddy?

cuff tv. to put a charge on one's bill. □ Would you cuff this for me, please? □ Sorry, I can't cuff anymore for you.

cuff quote n. an off-the-cuff quote of a financial instrument price. (Securities markets.) □ This is just a cuff quote, but I would say it's about ninety-four. □ I can give you a cuff quote of ninety-two, but don't hold me to it.

cuffs n. handcuffs. □ I felt the cuffs tighten and snap shut on my wrists. □ The cuffs carried the cold of the night to my bare skin. Of course, I was innocent, but that's not the way it works in real life.

cull n. a socially unacceptable person. □ Who's the cull driving the Edsel? □ This place is filled with culls. Let's split.

culture-vulture 1. n. an avid supporter of the arts. □ A gaggle of culture-vultures gawked its way into the gallery. □ Many culture-vultures seem to be long on enthusiasm and short on taste. 2. n. someone who exploits the arts for monetary gain. □ Mr. Babbit, a well-known culture-vulture in art circles, never could pass up a chance to grab up all the works of an up-and-coming young artist. □ Some culture-vultures are throwing a wine and cheese party on behalf of some of the young dolts they have grubstaked.

cum ['kʌm] 1. n. semen. (Usually objectionable.) □ I would never say cum to a doctor or nurse! 2. AND cume [kjʌm] n. a cumulative average, such as a grade-point average. □ My cume is not high enough to get into law school.

cunt 1. n. the female genitals; the vulva. (One of the English four-letter words. Usually objectionable.) □ He thought he could see her cunt through her swimming suit. 2. women considered as nothing more than a receptacle for the penis; a wretched and despised woman. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Jed announced that he really needed some cunt, bad. 3. n. a wretched and disgusting male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Don't act like such a cunt, you twit!

cunt fart AND pussy fart n. a vaginal fart, the sudden release of air—from the vagina—trapped on insertion of the penis during copulation. (Usually objectionable.) □ He heard a little cunt fart and started laughing so hard, he had to stop.

cunt-hooks AND shit-hooks n. the fingers; the hands. □ Put your shit-hooks around those oars and row!

cunt hound n. a lecher. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Tod is such a cunt hound. All he thinks about is dames.

cupcake n. an attractive woman. (Also a term of address.) □ Hey, cupcake, what ya doing? □ Who is that cupcake driving the beemer?

cup of tea n. something preferred or desired. (Often negative.) □ This drug scene stuff is just not my cup of tea. □ Driving children around all afternoon is not my cup of tea.

curl up and die in. to retreat and die. (Often figurative.) □ I was so embarrassed, I thought I would just curl up and die. □ The old cat, finishing up the last of its nine lives, just curled up and died.

curly n. a bald person, almost always a male. (Also a jocular term of address.) □ Well, Curly, looks like you got your dome sunburned!

the curse n. the menses. □ The curse struck this morning. □ Oh, the woes of the curse!

curtains n. death. (Underworld.) □ It's curtains for you if you don't come across. □ Okay, Barlowe, this time it's curtains.

cushy ['kʊʃi] mod. soft; easy. (From cushion.) □ He's got sort of a cushy job. □ That's a cushy kind of life to lead.

cut 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He got cut on beer, which is unusual for him. 2. tv. to dilute something. □ She always cuts her eggnog with cola. Yuck! 3. n. a share of the loot or the profits. (Originally underworld.) □ You'll get your cut when everybody else does. 4. n. a single song or section of music on a record. □ This next cut is one everybody likes. 5. tv. to eliminate something; to stop (doing something). □ Okay, chum, cut the clowning. 6. mod. muscular; with well-defined muscles, especially in reference to the abdominal muscles. ☐ He works out and he's really cut! 7. mod. circumcised. (Not usually prenominal.) ☐ I'm not cut and neither is my brother.

cut a check tv. to write a check. ☐ We'll cut the check tonight and send it out in tomorrow's mail. ☐ Please cut a check for Mr. Babbit. Here's the amount.

cut a deal tv. to arrange a deal; to seal a bargain. ☐ Maybe we can cut a deal. Let's talk. ☐ The two lawyers cut a deal that left me with the furniture, although she got the house.

cut a fart AND cut one; let a fart; let one tv. to release intestinal gas through the anus. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Fred cut a fart right in the middle of English class, and nobody moved a muscle.

cut a muffin Go to cut the cheese.

cut and run in. to stop what one is doing and flee. ☐ The cops were coming, so we cut and run. ☐ At the first warning, we cut and run.

cut ass (out of some place) Go to bag ass (out of some place).

cut corners tv. to do something more easily; to take shortcuts; to save money by finding cheaper ways to do something. ☐ They're always finding ways to cut corners. ☐ I won't cut corners just to save money. I put quality first.

cutie n. a cute thing or person. (Also a term of address.) ☐ Your baby is a real cutie. ☐ Come here, cutie, let me fix your collar.

cutie pie n. a cute person, typically a woman or a baby. (Also a term of address.) ☐ She is such a cutie pie. ☐ What's your name, cutie pie?

Cut it out! exclam. Stop it! ☐ That's enough! Cut it out! ☐ Get your hands off me! Cut it out!

cut loose in. to let go; to become independent. ☐ It was hard to cut loose from home. ☐ I guess it's time I cut loose.

cut no ice (with someone) tv. to have no influence on someone; to fail to convince someone. ☐ I don't care who you are. It cuts no ice with me.

cut one Go to cut a fart.

cut one's losses tv. to do something to stop a loss of something. ☐ I knew I had to do something to cut my losses, but it was almost too late. ☐ Sell some of the high-priced stuff to cut your losses.

cut one's own throat tv. to do something that harms oneself. ☐ If I do that, I'd be cutting my own throat. ☐ He's just cutting his own throat, and he knows it.

cut one's wolf loose tv. to go on a drinking bout; to get drunk. ☐ I'm gonna go out and cut my wolf loose tonight. ☐ You're going to cut your wolf loose too often and really get into trouble.

cut out in. to leave; to run away. ☐ It's late. I think I'll cut out. ☐ Don't cut out now. The night is young.

cut-rate mod. cheap; low-priced. ☐ I don't want any cut-rate stuff. ☐ Where are your cut-rate sweaters?

cuts n. sharply defined musculature, especially in the abdominal area. ☐ Look at the cuts on that guy! What great abs!

cut someone a break tv. to give someone a break. ☐ Come on, cut me a break! I'm a good guy! ☐ I was only a few minutes late! Cut me a break! Don't dock my pay!

cut someone in (on something) tv. to permit someone to share something. ☐ You promised you would cut me in on this caper. ☐ We can't cut you in. There's not enough.

cut some Z's Go to catch some Z's.

cut the cheese AND cut the mustard; cut a muffin tv. to release intestinal gas. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Who cut the cheese? ☐ People who cut the mustard in the car have to get out and walk.

Cut the comedy! exclam. Get serious!; Stop acting silly! ☐ That's enough, you guys. Cut the comedy! ☐ Cut the comedy and get to work!

Cut the crap! exclam. Stop the nonsense! (Usually objectionable.) ☐ I've heard enough. Cut the crap! ☐ Cut the crap. Talk straight or get out.

cut the dust tv. to take a drink of liquor.

□ I think I'll stop in here and cut the dust.

□ I want to cut the dust. Can I have a snort?

cut the mustard 1. tv. to be able to do something requiring youth or vigor.

(Usually in the expression too old to cut the mustard.) □ Do you really think he can cut the mustard? □ She's not too old to cut the mustard. 2. Go to cut the cheese.

cut to the chase in. to focus on what is important; to abandon the preliminaries and deal with the major points. □ All right, let's stop the idle chatter and cut to the chase. □ After a few introductory comments, we cut to the chase and began negotiating.

cut (up) mod. having well-defined abdominal muscles. □ Greg is really cut up. He works out every day. □ Andy works hard to try to get a gut that's cut.

cut up (about someone or something) mod. emotionally upset about someone or something. □ She was all cut up about her divorce. □ You could see how cut up she was.

cuz [kəz] n. cousin. (Old colloquial.) □ I've got to go to Denver to visit my cuz. □ My cuz came to visit for the weekend.

D

da bomb Go to the bomb.

dad n. one's father; any father; any old man. (Also a term of address. Capitalized when referring to one's own father.) ☐ Hey, Dad, can I use the car tonight? ☐ Well, dad, how's it going?

daddy (of them all) Go to (grand)daddy (of them all).

daffy ['dæfi] mod. silly; crazy. ☐ Kelly was acting daffy because she was so happy. ☐ Oh, don't be daffy!

dagwood (sandwich) ['dægwood...] n. a tall sandwich with many layers of food. (From the comic strip character Dagwood by Chick Young.) ☐ I really like to make an old-fashioned dagwood sandwich every now and then. ☐ How many calories are there in a dagwood, on the average?

daily dozen n. a short set of daily exercises. ☐ I need to do my daily dozen before breakfast. ☐ A daily dozen would be good for you.

daily grind n. the tedious pattern of daily work. (See also rat race.) ☐ Well, it's Monday. Time to start another week of the daily grind. ☐ The daily grind really gets me down.

dairies n. the breasts. (Old.) ☐ Fine dairies on that one!

daisy n. an excellent thing. (See also doosie.) ☐ This little car is a real daisy. ☐ I want a daisy of a haircut. Something unusual with bangs or something.

damage n. the cost; the amount of the bill (for something). (See also bad news.) ☐ Okay, waiter. What's the damage? ☐ As soon as I pay the damage, we can go.

damaged mod. drunk. ☐ Them guys went out and really got damaged. ☐ Too much grapes and you are damaged!

dank [dæŋk] 1. mod. very good. ☐ We stopped for a while in this real dank little bistro on the main boulevard. ☐ This wine is so dank! 2. mod. very bad. ☐ Class was so dank today. I thought I would die of terminal boredom. ☐ This is a real dank day. I hope it's over soon.

dap [dæp] mod. well-dressed. (From dapper.) ☐ Who is that dap looking dude? ☐ Man, you look dap!

darb [darb] n. an excellent person or thing. ☐ Carl is a real darb. I'm glad to know him. ☐ What a swell darb of a car!

dark horse 1. n. an unknown entrant into a contest; a surprise candidate for political office. ☐ The party is hoping that a dark horse will appear before the election. ☐ You'd be surprised at how eagerly people will vote for a dark horse. 2. mod. previously unknown. ☐ Who would vote for a dark horse candidate? ☐ A dark horse player can win if all the others are creeps.

dark Monday AND dark Sunday; dark night n. an evening when a theater is closed and no performances are held. ☐ I couldn't get tickets for the 16th. That's dark Monday. ☐ Monday night is always dark night.

dark night Go to dark Monday.

dark Sunday Go to dark Monday.

Dash it all! exclam. Oh, phooey!; To hell with it all! ☐ Oh, dash it all! I'm late. ☐ I broke it! Dash it all!

day one n. the first day. ☐ You haven't done anything right since day one! You're fired!

□ She was unhappy with her new car even on day one.

day person n. a person who prefers to be active during the daytime. (Compare this with night person.) □ I am strictly a day person. Have to be in bed early. □ The Count insisted that he was not a day person, and he had to remain on his home ground until nightfall.

day the eagle flies Go to when the eagle flies.

day the eagle shits n. payday. (Military. Usually objectionable.) □ Tomorrow is the day the eagle shits, and do I ever need it.

day-tripper n. a tourist who makes one-day trips. □ At about 4:00 P.M. the day-trippers start thinning out. □ Being a day-tripper is hard on your feet sometimes.

dead 1. mod. quiet and uneventful; boring. □ The day was totally dead. □ What a dead day! □ Things were sure dead around this town this summer. 2. mod. very tired. □ I am just dead from all that jogging. □ I went home from the office, dead as usual. 3. mod. dull; lifeless; flat. □ This meal is sort of dead because I am out of onions. □ The pop went dead because someone left it open. □ Who wants dead pop? 4. mod. no longer effective; no longer of any consequence. □ You're dead, Fred. You can't help us anymore. □ That guy is dead—out of power. 5. mod. [of an issue] no longer germane; no longer of any importance. □ Forget it! It's a dead issue. □ The project is dead. Don't waste any more time on it.

dead and gone 1. mod. [of a person] long dead. □ Old Gert's been dead and gone for quite a spell. □ When I'm dead and gone, I hope folks remember me at my best. 2. mod. [of a thing] gone long ago. □ That kind of thinking is dead and gone. □ The horse and buggy days are dead and gone.

deadbeat n. someone who doesn't pay debts or bills. □ Some deadbeat with the same name as mine is ruining my credit rating. □ Pay up! Don't be a deadbeat.

dead broke mod. completely broke; without any money. □ I'm dead broke—not a nickel to my name. □ I've been dead broke for a month now.

deadcat bounce n. a small, knee-jerk rally in one of the financial markets. (A dead cat—or any other animal—will bounce only slightly after being dropped. Refers to a stock index or security price that bounces up only slightly after a precipitous fall. Securities market.) □ The whole market gave only a deadcat bounce after the string of losses this last week. □ I was expecting more than a deadcat bounce because of the good news.

dead-catty mod. with only a slight bounce. (See the explanation at deadcat bounce. Securities markets.) □ We expected the stock to go up a lot today, but the increase was no better than dead-catty. □ It was just a dead-catty day in spite of the good economic news.

dead cinch n. an absolute certainty; an easy thing to do. □ It's a dead cinch. I foresee no problems. □ The job was no dead cinch, but we did it on time.

dead drunk mod. alcohol intoxicated; totally inebriated. □ They were both dead drunk. They could only lie there and snore. □ Marty is dead drunk again.

dead duck n. a person or thing doomed to failure or disaster. □ This whole plan was a dead duck from the beginning. □ Wally is a dead duck because he flunked astronomy.

dead easy mod. very easy. □ This whole job is dead easy. □ It was so dead easy, Frank did it with one hand.

dead-end kid n. a youth with no future, usually a male. □ Kelly wasn't your typical dead-end kid. □ Frank was a dead-end kid from the day he was born.

dead from the neck up 1. mod. stupid. (With a dead head.) □ Beavis seems dead from the neck up. □ She acts like she is dead from the neck up. 2. mod. no longer open to new ideas. □ My uncle is dead from the neck up. A real fossil. □ Everyone on the board of directors is dead from the neck up.

deadhead 1. n. a stupid person. □ Who's the deadhead in the plaid pants? □ Wow, are you a deadhead! 2. tv. & in. [for someone] to return an empty truck, train, airplane, etc., to where it came from. □ I deadheaded back to Los Angeles. □ Who is supposed to deadhead this truck to Miami? 3. n. a follower of the rock group The Grateful Dead. □ What do these deadheads see in that group? □ My son is a deadhead and travels all over listening to these guys.

dead horse n. a dead issue, especially one that is referred to continually. (Often with beat, whip.) □ Forget it! Don't waste time whipping a dead horse. □ The whole business is a dead horse. Forget it.

dead in the water mod. stalled; immobile. (Originally nautical.) □ This whole company is dead in the water. □ The project is dead in the water for the time being.

dead issue n. an issue that doesn't matter anymore. □ It's a dead issue. Forget it. □ The question of my late arrival is a dead issue.

dead letter 1. n. a letter that cannot move through the post office because the addressee does not exist or because the address is wrong or illegible. (Standard English.) □ Every now and then they open the dead letters to see if they can figure out who they were meant for. □ Sometimes dead letters have return addresses in them.

2. n. an issue that does not matter anymore. □ This contract is a dead letter. Forget it! □ The mayor's plan for our raises is a dead letter.

deadly (dull) mod. very dull. □ The lecture was deadly dull, and I went to sleep. □ What a deadly dull prof. □ Her story was really deadly. I am sorry I was awake for part of it.

dead man Go to dead soldier.

dead marine Go to dead soldier.

deadneck n. a stupid person. □ What deadneck put sugar in the salt shaker? □ Who's the deadneck who painted the fence purple?

dead on mod. exactly right; on target. □ That's a good observation, Tiffany. You are dead on. □ Your criticism is dead on!

dead one Go to dead soldier.

deadpan 1. n. <an expressionless face.> (See also pan.) □ This guy has a super deadpan. □ Remember the deadpan she used to put on? 2. n. a person with an expressionless face. □ The guy's a perfect deadpan. □ When you come on stage, look like a deadpan. 3. mod. dull and lifeless. (Usually said of a face, expression, etc.) □ What a deadpan expression! □ Her face is totally deadpan. □ He has such a deadpan approach to everything.

dead president n. a piece of U.S. paper money. (Refers to the pictures of presidents on the bills.) □ This silly magazine costs three dead presidents!

(dead) ringer (for someone) n. someone who is an exact duplicate of someone else. □ You are sure a dead ringer for my brother. □ Isn't he a ringer for Chuck?

dead soldier AND dead man; dead marine; dead one 1. n. an empty liquor or beer bottle. □ Toss your dead soldiers in the garbage, please. □ A dead marine fell off the table and woke up all the drunks. 2. n. a cigarette butt. (Less common than sense 1.) □ The bum found a dead soldier on the ground and picked it up. □ He collected dead soldiers to use in building a whole smoke.

dead to rights Go to (bang) dead to rights.

dead to the world 1. mod. sound asleep. □ After all that exercise, he's dead to the world. □ He's dead to the world, and I can't rouse him. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Six beers and he was dead to the world. □ By midnight almost everybody was dead to the world.

deadwood n. nonproductive or nonfunctional persons. □ We'll have to cut costs by getting rid of the deadwood. □ Is there any way to make the deadwood productive again?

deal stock n. a stock that is a takeover candidate. (Securities markets.) □ I try to spot the deal stocks early and buy them before others do. □ You can lose a lot of money on deal stocks, too.

Dear John letter n. a letter a woman writes to her boyfriend in the military service telling him that she does not love him anymore. □ Wally got a Dear John letter today. □ Sally sends a Dear John letter about once a month.

deathly mod. excellent. □ Did you see Kelly's deathly new convertible? □ That's a deathly idea!

death on someone or something n. causing the death or destruction of someone or something. (See also death on something.) □ This kind of road is just death on tires. □ This candy is death on my teeth.

death on something n. moving very fast or skillfully on something, such as wheels. □ He is way fast—just death on wheels. □ Pete is death on skis. You ought to see him go.

decent mod. good; very good. □ This is some pretty decent jazz. □ Your threads are decent, all right.

deck 1. tv. to knock someone to the ground. □ Fred decked Bob with one blow. □ I was so mad I almost decked him. 2. n. a pack of cigarettes. □ Can you toss me a deck of fags, please? □ Why don't you stop in there and buy a deck?

deduck ['didək] 1. n. a tax deduction. (From deduct.) □ Interest is no longer a deduck. □ I need a few more deducks this year. 2. AND duck n. a deduction from one's paycheck. □ More of my pay goes to deducks than I get myself. □ What's this duck for?

deejay Go to disk jockey.

deep mod. intense; profound. □ She gave this really deep speech to us about how we should stay off drugs. □ All these comments are too deep for me.

deep pockets 1. n. a good source of money. □ We need to find some deep pockets to finance this venture. □ Deep pockets are hard to find since the stock market crashed. 2. n. a rich person. □ The lawyer went after the doctor who was the deep pockets of the organization. □ I want to find the deep pockets who arranged all this.

deep six 1. tv. to jettison something, including a corpse, from a ship at sea. (Usually deep-six as a verb.) □ The captain had them deep-six the garbage. □ They deep-sixed the body of the first mate, who had died of the shakes. 2. the deep six n. burial at sea. (Always with the in this sense.) □ They gave her the deep six with full honors. □ I think I'd want the deep six, but I'll probably kick off on dry land. 3. tv. to kill or dispose of someone. (Underworld. Usually deep-six as a verb.) □ Mr. Big ordered Sam to deep-six Frank. □ The thugs tried to deep-six the witness, but failed. 4. tv. to throw something away. (Usually deep-six as a verb.) □ Take this old thing out and deep-six it. □ I've got to deep-six this old TV set. 5. the deep six n. a grave. (Always with the in this sense. Graves are usually six feet deep.) □ When you know the deep six is at the end of the line no matter who you are, it makes you take life less seriously. □ The deep six can't be made attractive to many people.

def [def] 1. mod. better; cool. (Originally black. From definitive.) □ Man, that yogurt is def! □ What a def set of threads! 2. mod. definitely. □ I will be there. Def. □ This is def the best there is.

definately mod. definitely. (A misspelling that is so widely used in Internet news groups as to be considered part of the Internet jargon.) □ I am definately going to look at your home page!

defrosted mod. even with someone who has insulted, embarrassed, or angered oneself. (See also chill; ice.) □ He yelled at her till he was defrosted, and then things settled down. □ Bob was finally defrosted when he insulted Heidi.

Delhi belly ['deli beli] n. diarrhea, as suffered by tourists in India. □ I've got a touch of the Delhi belly and will have to miss the Taj Mahal. □ I've got something you can take for Delhi belly.

delish [də'liʃ] mod. delicious. □ Oh, this cake is just delish. □ What a delish meal.

delts [dɛlts] n. the deltoid muscles. (Bodybuilding.) □ Look at the delts on that dame! □ How do you get delts like that?

dem Go to demo.

demo ['dɛmɔ] 1. AND dem [dɛm] n. a member of the Democratic Party. □ A couple of dems are running for the caucus, but no other party is represented. □ Which demos are they? 2. n. a demonstration (of something). □ Can I have a demo of this model? □ Hey, Chuck, give this man a demo. 3. n. an automobile or other machine or device that has been used by a dealer for demonstration purposes. □ I can give you a demo for half price. □ Do you have any demos? 4. tv. to demonstrate something (to someone). □ Let me demo this for you so you can see how it works. □ Will someone please demo this computer? 5. tv. to demonstrate (something) to someone. □ I've got to go demo these people on this software. □ Can you demo me before you go?

des [dis] n. December. (Securities markets. Futures and options trading.) □ The bean futures for des fell out of bed yesterday. □ Are these figures des or March?

desert cherry n. a new soldier in a desert war; a soldier new to the desert in wartime. (From the Persian Gulf War. See also cherry.) □ About 5,000 desert cherries arrived last week. Something is going to happen soon. □ The desert cherries are complaining about the scorpions again.

desk jockey n. someone who works at a desk in an office. (Patterned on disc jockey.) □ I couldn't stand being a cooped-up desk jockey. □ The desk jockeys at our place don't get paid very well.

destroyed mod. drug intoxicated. □ Wow, what happened to Tracy? She looks destroyed. □ The kid who took angel dust is destroyed most of the time.

the deuce [dus] 1. n. the devil. □ I'll knock the deuce out of you if you come around here again. □ Get the deuce out of here! 2. n. the two in playing cards. □ If I could only get a deuce. □ Ah, here's the deuce I need. 3. n. two dollars. □ Can you loan me a deuce till payday? □ Sure, here's a deuce. Don't spend it all in one place. 4. n. a two-year prison sentence. (Underworld.) □ Lefty served a deuce up the river. □ The DA made sure that Bruno got more than a deuce. 5. n. a table for two. □ Give the next couple the deuce over in the corner. □ You can't put three people at a deuce!

a devil of a time AND the devil of a time. n. a very difficult time. □ I had a devil of a time with my taxes. □ This cold has been giving me a devil of a time.

the devil's own time n. a very difficult time; a hellish time. □ I had the devil's own time with these tax forms. □ My gout is giving me the devil's own time.

dew Go to (mountain) dew.

dialog tv. to attempt to deceive someone; to attempt to seduce someone. □ Just let me dialog her for a while; then you'll see some action. □ Ron was dialoging this dame when her brother came in.

diamond in the rough n. a person who is wonderful despite a rough exterior; a person with great potential. □ Sam looks a little tacky, but he's a diamond in the rough. □ He's a diamond in the rough—a little hard to take at times, but okay mostly.

diarrhea of the jawbone Go to diarrhea of the mouth.

diarrhea of the mouth AND diarrhea of the jawbone n. an imaginary disease involving constant talking. □ Wow, does he ever have diarrhea of the mouth! □ You're getting diarrhea of the jawbone again.

dibs on something phr. a claim on something. □ I've got dibs on the yellow one! □ Dibs on the front seat!

dicey ['daɪsi] mod. touchy; chancy; touch and go. □ Things are just a little dicey right now. □ I'm working on a dicey deal with the city right now.

dick 1. n. a detective; a police officer. (Underworld. From detective.) □ Some dicks were around looking for you. □ Barlowe is a private dick who has to keep one step ahead of the cops. 2. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ She told some dirty joke about a dick, but everybody just sat there and looked straight ahead. 3. n. a stupid person, usually a male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ What stupid dick put this thing here in the way? 4. n. nothing. (Usually objectionable.) □ The whole idea isn't worth dick. □ I was supposed to get a lot of money out of this deal, but all I got was dick! 5. tv. & in. to copulate [with] a woman. (Usually objectionable.) □ Hell, she's never been fucked. I don't care what she says! □ If you think I'm going out with a guy who only wants to get me fucked, you're crazy. 6. tv. to cheat or deceive someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ That salesman fucked me for ten extra bucks. □ Man, I really got fucked at that store! Those creeps are crooks.

dick around in. to waste time; to goof off. (Usually objectionable.) □ Stop fucking around and get to work!

dickens 1. the dickens n. the devil. (Always with the in this sense.) □ She was going to kick the dickens out of me. □ I felt as bad as the dickens, but what could I do? 2. n. a devilish or impish child. (Also a term of address.) □ Come here, you little dickens. □ You are such a cute little dickens!

dick for n. a person dumb enough to ask "What's a dick for?" (Jocular and contrived. Usually objectionable.) □ The guy's a real dick for.

dickhead 1. n. a stupid person, usually a male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ See if you can get that dickhead to do it right this time. 2. n. the head of the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ If you like your dickhead attached, you had better do just exactly as you are told.

dick-sucker 1. n. a male who performs fellatio (licking and sucking of the penis). (Rude and derogatory.) □ In the bar, this dick-sucker came up and wanted to know my sign. 2. n. a low and despicable male; a male who is despicable enough to perform fellatio. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You slimy dick-sucker. I'll get you for this.

dicky-licker n. someone who performs oral sex on the penis, usually a homosexual male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ One of the dicky-lickers started staring at me.

dicty ['dɪktɪ] mod. snobbish. (Black.) □ Those people can be so dicty! □ That dicty lady told me I could come to the back to get a tip if I wanted.

diddle 1. tv. to feel someone sexually. (See also feel someone up. Usually objectionable.) □ He was trying to diddle her, and she was trying to watch the movie. □ She moved her hand over, like she was going to diddle him, then she jabbed him in the crystals. 2. in. to masturbate [oneself]. (Usually objectionable.) □ Have you been diddling again? 3. tv. to masturbate someone else. (Usually objectionable.) □ She diddled him since it was his birthday. 4. tv. to cheat someone. □ The shop owner diddled me out of ten bucks. 5. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ I'm tired of hearing who has diddled whom in Hollywood.

diddle with something in. to play with something; to toy with something. □ Here, don't diddle with that watch.

diddly-shit AND doodly-shit 1. n. anything at all. (Usually in the negative. Usually objectionable.) □ I don't give a diddly-shit what you do! 2. mod. virtually worthless; useless. (Usually objectionable.) □ I'm gonna take this diddly-shit watch back to the store and get my money back.

diddly-squat AND (doodly-)squat ['dɪdlɪskwʌt AND 'dʊdlɪskwʌt] n. nothing. (Folksy. Originally black or southern.) □ This contract isn't worth diddly-squat. □ I get paid almost doodly-squat for a full day's work.

DIDO phr. dreck in, dreck out; garbage in, garbage out. (Computers. Acronym. See also dreck. If you get dreck out of a computer, it's because you put dreck in. See also GIGO.) □ Look at this stuff that the printer put out. What is it? Oh, well. DIDO. □ As a programmer, I specialize in DIDO.

die in. to “perish” (figuratively) from laughter or some other emotionally intense response. □ The whole audience died laughing. □ He laughed till he died.

die on someone 1. in. [for a patient] to die under the care of someone. □ Get that medicine over here fast, or this guy’s gonna die on me. □ Come on, mister, don’t die on me! 2. in. [for something] to quit running for someone. □ My car died on me, and I couldn’t get it started. □ My stereo died on me, and I had to listen to the radio.

diesel ['dizl] mod. really good. □ Fred had a really diesel idea, but no money to carry it out. □ I am set for a diesel evening and I intend to enjoy it.

diff [dɪf] n. difference. □ Aw, come on! What’s the diff? □ The diff is about twenty dollars worth of repairs, that’s what.

differential n. the buttocks; the rear (end). □ I got a little ache in the differential. □ You’re walking like there’s something wrong with your differential.

different strokes for different folks phr. different things please different people. (Catchphrase.) □ Do whatever you like. Different strokes for different folks. □ Different strokes for different folks. That’s what I always say.

dig 1. tv. & in. to understand something. □ I just don’t dig what you are saying. □ Sorry. I just don’t dig. 2. tv. to appreciate something; to like something. □ He really digs classical music. □ Do you dig chocolate?

digits n. numbers; phone number. □ Tell me your digits and I’ll call you and let you know the time. □ If I can find her digits, I’ll call her.

digs n. a dwelling; a dwelling and its furnishings. □ You got some pretty swell digs, here. □ Nice digs. You like it here?

Dig up! exclam. Listen up!; Pay attention! □ Dig up, man! This is important. □ Shut up and dig up!

dike AND dyke n. a lesbian; a bulldiker. (Rude and derogatory.) □ I guess she was a dike. She looked mean enough. □ Who’s the dike in the cowboy boots?

dikey AND dykey mod. in the manner of a lesbian; pertaining to lesbians. (Usually objectionable.) □ She walks kinda dikey, doesn’t she?

dildo ['dɪldo] n. a stupid person, usually a male. (Rude and derogatory. The term refers to an artificial penis.) □ Hank can be such a dildo sometimes. □ You silly dildo!

dilly n. something excellent. □ This little car is a real dilly. □ What a dilly of an apartment!

dilly-dally in. to waste time. □ Stop dilly-dallying around. □ I like to dilly-dally over a cup of coffee.

dim n. the evening; the night. (Streets.) □ She spends every dim in the library studying. □ Where’ll you be this dim?

dim bulb n. a dull person; a stupid person. □ George seems to be a dim bulb, but he’s a straight-A student. □ I feel like such a dim bulb when I do things like that.

dime-dropper n. an informer. (Underworld. Because an informer at one time could drop a dime in a public telephone and call the police or drop a dime on the sidewalk as a signal for the police to move in and make an arrest. See also drop a dime.) □ I think that Tracy is the dime-dropper who caused the roust. □ The fuzz protects its dime-droppers with everything they’ve got.

dime store n. an establishment that is chaotic because of its small scale. □ I can’t stand this dime store anymore. This is no way to run a law firm. □ Things move so fast around here that we have become a dime store rather than an accounting office.

dimwit ['dɪmwɪt] n. an oaf; a dullard. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Oh, Dave, you can be such a dimwit! □ Come on, now, you’re not really a dimwit.

dinero [dɪ'nɛro] n. money. (Spanish.) □ I don’t have as much dinero as I need, but other than that, I’m doing okay. □ You got some dinero I can borrow?

ding 1. tv. to shoot, dent, or knock something. □ The rock dinged my left fender.

□ The bullet dinged Rocko's right arm. 2. tv. to negate; to cast out; to blemish. □ Please stop dinging my little brother. He's a good kid. □ The reviewer dinged the book, but it sold well anyway.

ding-a-ling ['dɪŋəlɪŋ] n. a stupid person; a giddy person who hears bells. □ This ding-a-ling comes up and asks me for a dollar for the orphans. I tell her I got all the orphans I can use at any price. □ Who's the ding-a-ling who painted the windows stuck?

dingbat 1. n.  □ Isn't there supposed to be a little red dingbat that goes in this hole? □ Is this the dingbat you mean? 2. n. a stupid person. □ Who is the dingbat with Bob? □ That's no dingbat; that's his sister. 3. n. any undesirable person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Look, dingbat, stop laughing! □ I'm tired of reading about that dingbat in the paper every day.

ding-dong 1. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his ding-dong and ran for the bedroom. 2. n. a stupid person of either sex. □ You silly ding-dong! Try again. 3. mod. damned. (A euphemism.) □ Get your ding-dong junk outa my way!

dinged out mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Gary is dinged out and can't drive. □ He got dinged out on a couple of quarts of foam.

dinghead n. a stupid person. □ Shut up, you stupid dinghead. □ Frank was a real dinghead when he cheated on the exam.

dingleberry 1. n. a blob of fecal matter clinging to the hairs around the anus. (Usually objectionable.) □ Is there no permanent cure for the heartbreak of dingleberries? 2. n. a stupid-acting person of either sex. □ You are such a dumb dingleberry! Wise up!

dingle(-dangle) n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ Come on, Billy. Shake your dingle and put it away.

dingus 1. n. a thing or gadget. □ I have a little dingus that helps me clean venetian blinds. □ Toss me one of those dinguses that holds the wire in the groove, will ya?

2. AND dingy n. the penis; the male thing. (Usually objectionable.) □ Jimmy, shake your dingus and put it away!

dingy ['dɪŋi] 1. mod. loony; giddy. □ That friend of yours sure does act dingy sometimes. □ Tell the dingy drip to forget it. □ I'm not dingy, I'm just in love. 2. Go to dingus.

dink 1. n. a person of East Asian (including Japanese) nationality or descent; originally a person of Chinese nationality or descent. (Much use during the Vietnam War for the Vietnamese. Rude and derogatory.) □ He said he fought against dinks in the war. 2. n. the penis, especially a small one. (Usually objectionable.) □ God, Fred, you really got a dink. Is it full grown yet? 3. AND DINK n. double income, no kids; a (young) married couple with two incomes and no children. (Acronym.) □ The whole neighborhood is populated by dinks. Not a single child on the block. □ Most dinks are young. Older couples whose children are grown up are just called old.

dink someone off tv. to make someone angry. □ Whatever you do, don't dink her off! □ Why did you have to start out your speech by dinking off the entire audience?

dinky ['dɪŋki] mod. small; undersized. □ Isn't this a little dinky for a $14 steak? □ I'll take the dinky one. I'm on a diet.

dinner basket Go to breadbasket.

dip 1. n. a drunkard. (From dipsomaniac.) □ Buy the dip a drink. That'll shut him up for a while. □ A dip hung around outside the tavern, mooching coin for drinks. 2. AND dipper n. a pickpocket. (Underworld.) □ Watch out for dips at the race-track. □ The dip tried a snatch, but the dupe turned around at the wrong time. 3. n. a pinch or helping of snuff. □ He took a dip just before he picked up the bat. □ After the hit, he got another dip. 4. n. a wad of chewing tobacco. □ You could see he had a big dip in his cheek. □ I won't tell you what he did with the dip when he was finished with it. 5. n. an oaf; a jerk. (See also dipshit.) □ Why are you acting like such a dip? □ Is there a convention of dips or something here today?

diphead Go to dipshit.

dipper Go to dip.

dippy mod. crazy; loony. □ Who is that dippy chick with the lamp shade on her head? □ Tom is dippy, but fun.

dipshit 1. AND diphead; dipstick n. an oaf; a jerk. (Rude and derogatory. See also dip.) □ Why are you acting like such a dipshit? □ Is there a convention of dipsticks or something here today? □ Look, dipstick, I'm in a hurry. 2. mod. pertaining to someone or something obnoxious, stupid, or offensive. (Usually objectionable.) □ Here's another one of his dipshit ideas.

dipso ['dipso] n. a drunkard; an alcoholic. (From dipsomaniac. See also dip.) □ Oh, I didn't realize she was a dipso. □ She's sort of a closet dipso.

dipstick 1. n. the penis. (From the name of the metal stick used to measure the amount of oil in an automobile engine. Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his dipstick and ran for the bedroom. 2. Go to dip(shit).

dipsy ['dipsi] mod. tipsy; alcohol intoxicated. (See also dip.) □ I think that Jed is permanently dipsy. □ The cop pulled the dipsy dame over and arrested her. □ He was too dipsy to drive.

dipwad ['dipwad] n. a jerk; a nerd. (Euphemistic for dip(shit).) □ Fred is such a dipwad. Why doesn't he wise up? □ If you weren't a big dipwad, you would give me a hand with this.

dirt 1. n. low, worthless people. (Singular with the force of plural.) □ He is just dirt. □ I am not dirt. I'm just temporarily financially embarrassed. 2. n. scandal; incriminating secrets; dirty linen. □ What's the dirt on Tracy? □ I don't want to know about anybody's dirt!

dirtbag n. a low, worthless person. □ Ziggy is a slimy dirtbag, and I want him put away for good.

dirt cheap mod. very cheap. □ I picked this thing up dirt cheap. □ Get one of these while they're dirt cheap.

dirty 1. mod. obscene. □ You have a dirty mind. □ The movie was too dirty for me. □ How would you know what's dirty and what's not? 2. mod. low and sneaky. □ What a dirty trick! □ That was really dirty! □ What a dirty thing to do! 3. mod. illegal; on the wrong side of the law. (Compare this with clean.) □ The cops knew that Max was dirty and they searched his car until they found something they could use against him. □ You just look at Sam and you know he is dirty. The question is, what's he done now?

dirty crack n. a rude remark. □ Who made that dirty crack? □ Another dirty crack like that and I'll leave.

dirty deal n. an unfair deal. □ That was a dirty deal. I feel cheated. □ I got a dirty deal at that shop, and I won't go back.

dirty dog n. a low and sneaky person. □ What a low, dirty dog. □ That dirty dog tried to get fresh with me!

the (dirty) dozens n. a game of trading insulting remarks about relatives. (Originally black.) □ Man, what's with you? Always the dirty dozens. You just gotta start something all the time. □ Freddy is out giving the dozens to Marty.

dirty joke 1. n. an obscene joke. □ Fred told a dirty joke that shocked almost everyone. □ No dirty jokes around here. We get enough of that on television. 2. n. a very ugly or very stupid person. □ Look at that face. That's a dirty joke. □ Beavis is sort of a dirty joke that nobody can laugh at.

dirty laundry Go to dirty linen.

dirty linen AND dirty laundry n. scandal; unpleasant private matters. □ I wish you wouldn't put our dirty linen out for everyone to see. □ I've heard enough about her dirty laundry.

dirty look n. a frown meant to show displeasure with something that has been said or done. □ I gave him a dirty look, and he took his arm off my shoulder. □ What is that dirty look meant to mean?

dirty-minded mod. having a tendency to see the lewd or obscene aspects of anything; having a tendency to place an obscene interpretation on the words and actions of others. □ Sam is sort of dirty-minded, but he wouldn't do anything really vile. □ He's a vile, dirty-minded jerk. □ Most of those guys are dirty-minded.

dirty-mouth 1. n. a person who talks dirty. (See also bad-mouth.) □ You are getting to be quite a dirty-mouth, Gary. □ Some dirty-mouth yelled out the most obscene things during the meeting. 2. tv. to speak ill of someone or something. (See also bad-mouth.) □ Please stop dirty-mouthing my friends. □ You have dirty-mouthed cats just about enough.

dirty old man n. a lecherous old man. (Usually jocular.) □ Jimmy, you are getting to be a dirty old man! □ What a terrible joke. You are a dirty old man!

dirty pool n. activities conducted using unfair or sneaky tactics. □ They're playing dirty pool now. This calls for a new plan. □ When they start playing dirty pool, it's time to get mean.

dirty word n. a curse word; an informal word concerned with sex or excrement. □ No dirty words are allowed on this computer or news group. □ Some kid got the microphone and yelled a dirty word into it.

dirty work 1. n. menial work; hard work. □ Why do I always get stuck with the dirty work? □ We should share the dirty work evenly. 2. n. sneaky activities. □ I hear that Sam is up to his old dirty work again. □ He is a master at dirty work.

discipline n. drugs. □ Frank has been on a little too much of that discipline lately. □ She smokes this stuff she calls discipline. Smells like pot to me.

disc jockey Go to disk jockey.

discombobulate [dɪskəm'babjələt] tv. to confuse or perplex someone. □ That kind of discussion discombobulates me something awful. □ Don't let the heat of the argument discombobulate you.

discombobulated AND discomboobulated [dɪskəm'babjələdəd AND dɪskəm-

'bubjələdəd] 1. mod. confused. □ I get completely discombobulated when I think of figures that big. □ I'm so discomboobulated these days! □ She is one discombobulated gal. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ From the way she is walking, I'd say she is discombobulated. □ You'd be discomboobulated, too, if you'd drunk as much as she has.

discomboobulated Go to discombobulated.

dish 1. n. a good-looking woman. □ Wow, isn't she a dish? □ Now there's a good-looking dish. 2. tv. to criticize someone or something; to spread gossip about someone or something. (Probably short for dish the dirt.) □ The critics all dished the opening of the play mercilessly. □ I wish you would stop dishing me all the time.

dishrag Go to (limp) dishrag.

dish something out 1. tv. to serve up food to people. (Standard English.) □ I'll dish it out, and you take it to the table. □ Careful how you dish out the mashed potatoes. There may not be enough. 2. tv. to distribute information, news, etc. □ The press secretaries were dishing reports out as fast as they could write them. □ The company dishes out propaganda on a regular basis. 3. tv. to give out trouble, scoldings, criticism, etc. □ The boss was dishing criticism out this morning, and I really got it. □ The teacher dished out a scolding to each one who was involved in the prank.

dish the dirt tv. to spread gossip; to gossip. □ Let's sit down, have a drink, and dish the dirt. □ David goes down to the tavern to dish the dirt.

disk jockey AND deejay; disc jockey; DJ n. a radio announcer who introduces music from phonograph records. (The abbreviations are initialisms. Compare this with desk jockey. See also veejay.) □ The disk jockey couldn't pronounce the name of the singing group. □ I was a DJ for a while, but I didn't like it.

dis(s) tv. to belittle someone; to show disrespect for someone. (From disrespect.) □ Gary is such a complainer. All he does is diss people. □ Please stop dissing my lit- tle sister. She didn't do any of those things.

 □ Don't dis my ride! It's only temporary.

dis(s) (on someone) ['dis...] in. to belittle [someone]; to show disrespect [for someone]. (From disrespect.) □ Gary is such a complainer. All he does is diss. □ Please stop dissing on me.

ditch 1. tv. to dispose of someone or something; to abandon someone or something. □ The crooks ditched the car and continued on foot. □ The flyboy ditched the plane in the lake and waded ashore. 2. tv. & in. to skip or evade someone or something. □ Pete ditched class today. □ If you ditch too often, they'll throw you out of the organization.

dither ['diðə] n. a state of confusion. (See also in a dither.) □ A dither like that is hard to break out of. Maybe a good night's sleep would help. □ I'm too far gone with this dither to sleep.

ditsy Go to ditz.

ditz AND ditzo ['dits(o)] n. a giddy, absent-minded person. □ You silly ditz! □ I'm getting to be such a ditz! □ Who is the ditzo on the phone? Another wrong number?

ditzo Go to ditz.

ditzzy AND ditsy ['ditsi] mod. giddy; unaware; flighty. □ You are such a ditzzy geek! □ Betty has been acting a little ditsy lately. What's wrong?

dive n. a low drinking establishment; a cheap saloon. □ I don't think I want to spend the whole evening in this dive. □ Hey, this dive ain't bad.

dive a muff tv. to perform oral sex on a woman. (Usually objectionable.) □ Tod likes to dive a muff every now and then.

divot ['divət] n. a toupee; a partial toupee. (See also rug.) □ I think that Sam is wearing a little divot. □ His divot slipped, but no one laughed.

divvy ['divi] n. a share of something. (See also divvy something up.) □ How much is my divvy? □ Give me my divvy so I can go home.

divvy something up tv. to divide something up. □ We had to divvy my aunt's things up after her death. □ They divvied up the fish and drove back to the city.

dizzy mod. stupid; scatterbrained. □ The prof is a little dizzy, but entertaining. □ Who is that dizzy dame?

DJ Go to disk jockey.

DL Go to the down low.

DNK [dnk] did not keep (a medical appointment). (Medical.) □ Why did you write DNK next to the patient's name? □ When that DNK calls for another appointment, make sure she knows when it is.

DOA 1. mod. dead on arrival. (Hospitals. Initialism.) □ The kid was DOA, and there was nothing anybody could do. □ Do you want to end up DOA? 2. n. a person who is dead on arrival at a hospital. □ They brought in two DOAs Saturday night. □ Drugs increase the number of DOAs considerably. 3. n. phencyclidine (PCP). (Because it is deadly.) □ Stay away from DOA. There's a good reason why it's called that. □ The kids use DOA no matter what.

do 1. n. a party; a social event. □ We had a smashing time at your little do. □ I'm having a do for a friend this weekend. Would you like to come? 2. tv. & in. to use a drug or drugs in general. (See also do a line; do drugs.) □ Is Tracy doing dust again? □ Tracy never stopped doing. She just switched from dust to splash. 3. AND doo n. a hairdo. □ Nice do. Is it new? □ I can't go out in this rain and get my doo wet! 4. Go to (must) do. 5. in. to serve (a purpose) well. (Usually with will or won't.) □ This will do quite nicely. □ Oh, yes, this will do. □ That won't do at all! 6. Go to doo-doo. 7. tv. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ He did Martha, then he did Sue, then he did Gloria.

do a dump on someone or something AND dump all over someone or something; dump on someone or something tv. to criticize someone or something; to destroy someone or something.

□ There is no need to do a dump on me. I didn't wreck your car. □ The boss—mad as a wet hen—dumped all over me. □ That rotten jerk really did a dump on my car. Look at that fender!

do a fade tv. to leave; to sneak away. □ Frank did a fade when he saw the pig-mobile. □ It's time for me to do a fade.

do a job on someone or something 1. tv. to ruin someone or something; to give someone or something a thorough working over. □ The cops did a job on Rocko, but he still wouldn't talk. □ There's no need to do a job on me, man, I'll tell you everything I know—which is zip. □ That punch sure did a job on my nose. 2. Go to do a number on someone.

do a line tv. to snort a dose of a powdered drug, usually cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Max slipped into a doorway to do a line. □ Ernie has to do a line about every four hours—night and day.

do a number on someone AND do a job on someone tv. to harm or deceive someone. □ The IRS really did a number on me. □ My local friendly plumber did a job on me cleaning out my drain.

do a number on something 1. tv. to urinate or defecate on something. □ Billy did a number on the bathroom floor. 2. tv. to damage or ruin something; to destroy something. □ The truck really did a number on my car.

do a slow burn tv. to be quietly angry. (See also slow burn.) □ I did a slow burn while I was getting my money back. □ I was doing a slow burn, but I didn't let it show.

do a snow job on someone tv. to deceive or confuse someone. □ Don't try to do a snow job on me. I know all the tricks. □ She thought she did a snow job on the teacher, but it backfired.

doc(s)-in-a-box n. a walk-in emergency health care center, as found in shopping centers. (See also McDoctor(s).) □ I was cut and went immediately to the docs-in-a-box in the mall. □ The doc-in-the-box finally closed because of lack of customers.

doctor's orders n. something that one is strongly advised to do. (Refers here to any advice given by anyone but a doctor.) □ I have to spend a month in Arizona. Doctor's orders. □ I'm doing this on doctor's orders, but I don't like it.

dode [dod] n. a nerd; a simpleton. □ Wally is such a dode. □ My roommate is a loser. I was afraid I'd end up with a dode.

dodge [dadʒ] n. a swindle; a scam; a deception. □ What sort of dodge did you get flimflammed with? □ Gary has a new dodge to make money, but he hasn't made any yet.

do dope Go to do drugs.

do drugs AND do dope tv. to take drugs; to use drugs habitually. (Drugs and now general.) □ Rocko doesn't do drugs, and he doesn't drink. □ Frank started doing dope when he was very young.

dog 1. n. a foot. (Usually plural.) □ My dogs are killing me. □ I gotta get home and soak my dogs. 2. n. an ugly girl. (Rude and derogatory.) □ I'm no dog, but I could wish for some changes. □ So she's not a movie star; she's not a dog either! 3. n. something undesirable or worthless; merchandise that no one wants to buy. □ Put the dogs out on the sale table so people will see them. □ They even bought all the dogs this year. Sales were great. 4. n. dog dung. (See also dog-doo.) □ There's some dog on the lawn. □ Don't step in the dog. 5. tv. to follow someone. □ The cop dogged Lefty for a week. □ Stop dogging me, you twit! 6. tv. to stay with one and haunt one. □ Will this memory dog me all the days of my life? □ The thought of all that cake and ice cream dogged me all during my diet. 7. tv. to eat something; to eat something as a dog eats. □ He dogged his hamburger and ran out the door to catch the bus. □ Here, dog a couple of crackers and cheese. That should keep you from starving. 8. tv. to criticize someone or something. □ Stop dogging me about every little thing! □ My mom always dogs me because I don't clean my room.

dog and pony show n. a demonstration; a speech, skit, or other presentation that is presented often. □ Wally was there with his dog and pony show about water safety. □ I've seen that dog and pony show so many times, it's like I know all the words.

dog collar n. the collar worn by priests and some other clerics. □ The man in the dog collar prayed for a while, then we ate dinner.

dog-dew Go to dog-doo.

dog-do Go to dog-doo.

dog-doo AND dog-dew; dog-do ['dɒɡdu] n. dog dung. □ Don't step in the dog-doo. □ When the snow melts, the sidewalks are covered with dog-doo.

dog-eat-dog mod. cruel; highly competitive. □ This is a dog-eat-dog world. □ It's dog-eat-dog out there.

dogface n. an infantry soldier. (World War II. Also a term of address.) □ Get those dogfaces over here on the double. □ Did I see a salute, dogface?

dog-fashion Go to dog-ways.

doggo ['dɒɡo] mod. hidden away; quiet and waiting. (See also lie doggo.) □ This error was there, doggo, for nearly thirty years. □ Here is another one of your doggo deadbeats on this list.

doggone(d) ['dɒ'ɡɒn(d)] mod. darn(ed); damn(ed). □ I sort of wish my hooter wasn't so doggone big. □ Who made this doggoned mess?

doggy bag ['dɒɡɪbæɡ] n. a bag—supplied by a restaurant—in which uneaten food can be carried home. □ Do you have a doggy bag for my mousse? □ We do not have doggy bags, but we do supply foil.

dog meat n. a dead person. (Typically in a threat.) □ Make one move, and you're dog meat. □ They pulled another hunk of gangland dog meat out of the river.

dog-gooder ['dʊɡʊdɜː] n. a person who is always trying to help others. (Often derogatory.) □ The do-gooders are demanding a bigger cut of the pie. □ I don't consider myself a do-gooder, but I try to help people.

dog's mother n. a bitch; a bitchy person. (Euphemism.) □ If Sally insists on being a dog's mother on this matter, I'll tell her what I think of her. □ Stop being a dog's mother and chill out!

dog-style Go to dog-ways.

dog-ways AND dog-fashion; dog-style mod. [copulation] in the manner of dogs, that is, with the male approaching from the rear. □ They did it dog-style, so they could both watch television.

Do I have to draw (you) a picture? Go to Do I have to paint (you) a picture?

Do I have to paint (you) a picture? AND Do I have to draw (you) a picture? interrog. Do you understand yet?; How simple do I have to make it for you? □ This is supposed to be easy. Do I have to paint a picture? □ Do I have to draw you a picture, or can you visualize this?

doll 1. n. a pretty girl or woman. □ Who's the doll I saw you with last night? □ That doll was my sister, jerk. 2. n. a pill. (Drugs. Usually plural.) □ She took stuff, yeah, but only dolls. □ Taking dolls is different from shooting up.

dome n. the head, especially if bald. □ I need a new hat for my shiny dome.

dome-doctor n. a psychologist or psychiatrist. □ They sent me to a dome-doctor, but it didn't help. □ The dome-doctor lets me talk while he keeps score.

done by mirrors AND done with mirrors mod. illusory; purposefully deceptive. □ The whole budgetary process is done with mirrors. □ The self-review was done by mirrors and didn't come off too bad.

done deal n. a completed deal; something that is settled. □ It's too late. It's a done deal. □ The sale of the property is a done deal. There is nothing that can be done now.

done for mod. lost; dead; doomed. □ I'm sorry, this whole scheme is done for. □ I knew I was done for.

done over mod. beat; outscored. □ The other team was done over, and they knew it. □ Bruno felt that Frank would get the idea if he was done over a little.

done to a turn 1. mod. well-cooked; nicely cooked. ☐ The entire meal was done to a turn. ☐ The turkey was done to a turn. 2. mod. beaten. ☐ When Wilbur's opponent was done to a turn, Wilbur was declared the winner. ☐ Max was done to a turn, and Sam walked away.

done with mirrors Go to done by mirrors.

dong n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ He held his hands over his dong and ran for the bedroom.

donkey's breakfast n. something made of straw: a straw hat, a straw mattress, etc. ☐ I don't really want to sleep on a donkey's breakfast, but it's better than the floor. ☐ The tourist was wearing a red dress and had a donkey's breakfast on her head.

donkey's years n. a long time. ☐ I haven't seen you in donkey's years. ☐ It's been donkey's years since we talked.

donnybrook n. a big argument; a brawl. ☐ There was a big donnybrook at the concert, and the police were called. ☐ Who started this donnybrook?

Don't ask. sent. The answer is so depressing, you don't even want to hear it. ☐ How am I? Don't ask. ☐ This has been a horrible day. How horrible, you say? Don't ask.

Don't ask me. sent. I don't know either. (With the emphasis on me.) ☐ I don't know. Don't ask me. ☐ Don't ask me. I wasn't there.

Don't call us, we'll call you. sent. a formulaic expression given to job applicants who have just interviewed or auditioned for a job. ☐ Thank you, Eddie Evans. Don't call us, we'll call you. ☐ Stupendous, Gloria, just stupendous. What glamour and radiance! Don't call us, we'll call you.

Don't get your bowels in an uproar! exclam. Don't get so excited! ☐ Now, now, don't get your bowels in an uproar. Everything will be all right.

don't give a hoot tv. don't care at all. (Folksy.) ☐ Go ahead. Do it if you want. I don't give a hoot. ☐ She doesn't give a hoot if you go into town without her.

don't give a rip tv. don't really care at all. ☐ Go ahead! Ruin your life! I don't give a rip. ☐ I don't give a rip what you do!

Don't have a cow! exclam. Calm down!; Don't get so excited! (Made famous in the television show, The Simpsons.) ☐ Chill out, man! Don't have a cow! ☐ Aw, don't have a cow, dad!

Don't I know it! exclam. That is really true! ☐ It's bad all right. Don't I know it! ☐ Late? Don't I know it. I'm yawning like hot cakes.

Don't make a federal case out of it! sent. Don't make such a fuss!; This isn't as important as you are making it. ☐ So, I dropped a whole dozen eggs! I'll clean it up. Don't make a federal case out of it!

Don't make me laugh! exclam. That is a stupid suggestion! ☐ You a judge? Don't make me laugh! ☐ Don't make me laugh. Tom could never do that.

Don't sweat it! exclam. Don't worry about it! ☐ No problem. Don't sweat it! ☐ Don't sweat it! We'll take care of it.

(Don't) you wish! exclam. I'm sure you wish it were true. ☐ You think you'll win? Don't you wish! ☐ There's no school tomorrow? You wish!

doo Go to do.

doobage Go to dubage.

doobie AND dooby; duby ['dubi] n. a marijuana cigarette; a fat marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) ☐ Frank sells doobies like they were candy. ☐ Want a doobie?

doodad ['dudæd] n.  ☐ What are these little doodads? ☐ I don't know what they're called. If they had names, they wouldn't be doodads, now would they?

doodle 1. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Put your doodle away, Jimmy, and flush the toilet. 2. n. feces, especially a baby's feces. ☐ Billy's got doodle in his diapers. 3. in. to defecate. (See also doo-doo.) ☐ The dog doodled on the back porch.

doodly-shit Go to diddly-shit.

(doodly-)squat Go to diddly-squat.

doo-doo 1. n. dung; fecal material. □ There's dog doo-doo on your shoe. 2. in. to defecate. □ Mommy, the cat's doo-dooing in the kitchen!

doofer AND dufer ['dufə] n. a (found or borrowed) cigarette saved for smoking at another time. (It will do for later.) □ Sam always has a doofer stuck behind his ear. □ He takes two fags, one to smoke and a dufer.

doofus AND duffis ['dufəs] n. a jerk; a nerd. □ Hank, you are acting like a doofus. Stop standing on your head. □ My roommate is a duffis and I'm tired of putting up with her.

doohickey Go to doojigger.

doojigger AND doohickey; doohickie ['dudʒɪgə AND 'duhɪki] n.  □ Toss me that little red doohickey, will you? □ Jim has one of those doohickies that will tighten the bit in the drill.

dook [duk] 1. mod. really bad. (Probably related to duky.) □ No more of your dook ideas! □ This day was really dook! 2. in. to defecate. □ Mom, I gotta dook. □ He's dooking in the john.

do oneself proud tv. to have done a very fine job. □ That's super! You've done yourself proud! □ I feel like I've done myself proud.

do one's (own) thing tv. to do what one wants; to do what pleases oneself no matter what others think. □ She's going to start doing her own thing for a change. □ I've always done my thing, and I don't see a great amount of benefit from it.

do or die mod. having to try as hard as one can. □ He has the obsessive do or die attitude. □ I was determined to get there—do or die.

doormat n. a weak-willed person who is abused by others. □ I always feel like a doormat. □ Why do people treat me like a doormat?

doosie AND doozie; doozy ['duzi] n. something extraordinary, good or bad. □ The trade show was a real doozy this year. □ Old Gert was a real doozy.

doowacky ['duwæki] 1. n. a thing; a nameless gadget. □ Where is the doowacky I laid here? □ Is this your doowacky? I was going to throw it away. 2. n. money. □ You got some doowacky I can borrow? □ I'm out of doowacky myself.

doozie Go to doosie.

doozy Go to doosie.

dope 1. n. a stupid person. □ I'm not such a dope. □ That dope has done it again! 2. n. drugs in general; marijuana. □ Lay off the dope, will ya? □ How much dope do you do in a week anyway? 3. n. news; scuttlebutt. □ What's the dope on the new mayor? □ I got some dope on the tavern fire if you want to hear it. 4. mod. best; most excellent. □ My roommate is really dope. Great guy! □ We had a great time there. It was dope and dudical.

dope something out tv. to figure out something from the dope (information) available. □ I think I can dope this thing out from the evidence available. □ We can dope out the truth from her testimony if we have to.

dope up 1. in. to inject drugs; to take a dose of a narcotic. (Drugs.) □ I'm hurting, man, I gotta dope up, now! □ She slipped into the backroom to dope up. 2. in. to purchase a supply of drugs. (Drugs.) □ Where's my old friend Frank? I gotta dope up. □ Frank is doping up, himself. He doesn't grow it himself, you know.

dopey 1. mod. stupid. □ What a dopey guy! □ That was a dopey thing to do. 2. mod. sleepy. □ I feel sort of dopey. □ The soft music made him dopey. 3. mod. drug intoxicated. □ He looks sort of dopey. □ The chick is too dopey to drive. See that she gets home, Ralph, huh?

do-re-me Go to do-re-mi.

do-re-mi AND do-re-me ['do're'mi] n. money. (From dough.) □ It takes too much do-re-mi to live in this part of town. □ Do you have a little do-re-me you could loan me?

dorf [dorf] n. a stupid person; a weird person. □ You are a prize-winning dorf. □ Is there a convention of dorfs here today or something?

dork [dɔrk] 1. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ Paul told a joke about a dork, but everybody just sat there and looked straight ahead. 2. n. a jerk; a strange person. (See also megadork.) □ Ye gods, Sally! You are a dork!

dorkmeier AND dorkmunder ['dɔrkmaɪr AND 'dɔrkməndə:] n. a total jerk; a simpleton. □ Ellen, stop acting like such a dorkmeier! □ Fred is my idea of the perfect dorkmunder.

dorkmunder Go to dorkmeier.

dork off in. to waste time; to goof off. □ Stop dorking off and get busy. □ The whole class was dorking off and the teacher got furious.

dorkus maximus ['dɔrkəs 'mæksɪməs] n. a simpleton or fool; a great fool. □ Tim is now the dorkus maximus of our dorm since he broke the dorm's television set. □ Sally is a dorkus maximus and spaced out to boot.

dorky mod. tacky, stupid, or awkward. (From dork.) □ I don't want any of this dorky food!

dorm n. a dormitory. □ Which dorm do you live in? □ Fred lives in a co-ed dorm.

do's and don'ts n. the rules; the things that should be done and those that should not be done. □ I must admit that a lot of the do's and don'ts don't make much sense to me either. □ Better learn the do's and don'ts immediately.

do some bong tv. to smoke some marijuana, usually with a water pipe. (Drugs. See also bong.) □ All the kids think that doing bong is the greatest thing on earth. □ Hey, dude, wanna do some bong?

do some fine coin tv. to make a large sum of money. □ When I get my big break, I'm going to do some fine coin. □ Frank did some fine coin on that last house-painting job.

do someone dirt tv. to do ill to someone; to harm someone's reputation. □ You really did me dirt. □ It seemed that the lawyer was determined to do me dirt right there in the courtroom.

Do tell. sent. Is that so? (A disinterested way of holding up one end of a conversation.) □ So, you're a dentist. Do tell. □ Do tell. I've never heard that before. Nice talking to you.

do the drink thing tv. to drink alcohol heavily. □ He's been doing the drink thing quite a lot lately. □ He started doing the drink thing when he got out of prison.

do the drug thing tv. to be involved with drugs; to take drugs. □ Man, you gotta stop doing the drug thing. □ All she thinks about is doing the drug thing.

do the trick tv. to do exactly what is needed. □ This about does the trick. □ Does this little dudenwhacker do the trick?

do time tv. to serve a sentence in prison; to serve a specific amount of time in prison. (Underworld. See also hard time.) □ Lefty had done time on a number of occasions. □ You'd better talk and talk fast if you don't want to do time.

double n. a drink consisting of two servings of liquor. □ Make mine a double, bartender. □ Sam usually has two doubles on the way home.

double-bagger 1. n. a hit good for two bases in baseball. □ Wilbur hit a nice double-bagger in the top of the fourth. □ The hit was good for a double-bagger. 2. n. a very ugly person. (Cruel. With a face so ugly that it takes two paper bags to conceal it. See also Bag your face!; triple-bagger; coyote-ugly.) □ Fred is what I would call a double-bagger. What a mug! □ I am no double-bagger!

double-barreled slingshot n. a brassiere. □ Did you see the size of that double-barreled slingshot hanging on that clothesline?

double buffalo Go to double nickels.

double cross 1. tv. to betray someone. (Originally a more complicated switching of sides in a conspiracy wherein the double-crosser sides with the victim of the conspiracy—against the original conspirator.) □ Don't even think about double crossing me! □ Frank double crossed

Mr. Big a few years back. 2. n. a betrayal. (See comments with sense 1.) ☐ He always remembered that double cross. ☐ It's one double cross Frank is sorry about.

double-crosser n. a person who betrays someone. (Often with dirty. See comments at double cross.) ☐ You dirty, low-down double-crosser, you! ☐ Frank is the classic double-crosser.

double-decker 1. n. a two-level bus. ☐ I like to ride in double-deckers. ☐ Some double-deckers don't have tops. 2. n. a sandwich of two layers. ☐ He put away a giant double-decker and a glass of milk. ☐ How can anybody eat a double-decker that is so thick?

double-deuces n. the number 22. ☐ The National Weather Service says it's going down to the double-deuces tonight. ☐ He's double-deuces today, that's right, twenty-two years old!

double digits n. the range of numerals from 10 through 99. ☐ With interest rates in the double digits, we do everything we can to avoid going into debt. ☐ When Billy moved into the double digits, he had some behavior problems, but when he was 19 he sort of straightened out.

double-dipper n. a person who collects two salaries; a federal employee who collects a federal pension and Social Security. ☐ The voters of the state were shocked to learn that there were no laws against double-dippers. ☐ The double-dippers say they weren't doing anything wrong.

double-dome 1. n. an intellectual. ☐ It's not that what the double-domes say is wrong, it's that they are so sure that they are right that scares me. ☐ I'd rather be just folks than a double-dome. 2. mod. intellectual. ☐ No more of your double-dome ideas. ☐ Most kids need to be exposed to double-dome profs at college for a while.

double-gaited mod. weird; eccentric. ☐ Carl is a little double-gaited at times. Tries too hard for a laugh. ☐ Wow, is he ever double-gaited! ☐ She is one of the most successful double-gaited comedians I've ever seen.

double nickels AND double buffalo n. the number 55; the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit. (Originally citizens band radio. The buffalo is on one side of the nickel and accounts for the 5.) ☐ You'd better travel right on those double nickels in through here. The bears are hungry. ☐ The double buffalo is enforced on this road.

double saw(buck) n. a twenty-dollar bill. (See also sawbuck.) ☐ This whole thing only cost a double sawbuck. ☐ Can you loan me a double sawbuck till payday?

double six n. a year; a pair of six-month periods. (Streets.) ☐ Johnny spent a double six in the slammer. ☐ It'll be one whole double six until I see you again.

double take n. a surprised second look at something. ☐ I did a double take and blushed. ☐ Fred did a double take, then recognized Tracy.

double-trouble n. a very troublesome thing or person. ☐ Oh, oh. Here comes double-trouble. ☐ That car you got is double-trouble.

double up (with laughter) in. to laugh so hard that one bends over. ☐ We all just doubled up with laughter. ☐ I doubled up when I heard the punch line.

double whammy ['dəbəl 'mæmi] n. a double portion of something, especially something troublesome. (From Li'l Abner, a comic strip by Al Capp.) ☐ We got a real double whammy of trouble down at the office. ☐ This morning was bad, but this afternoon the boss gave us a double whammy.

douche bag 1. n. a wretched and disgusting person. (Rude and derogatory.) ☐ Don't be a douche bag. Pick up your things and go home, Chuck. 2. n. an ugly girl or woman. (Rude and derogatory.) ☐ Look at that face! What a douche bag!

dough [do] n. money. (See also bread.) ☐ I got a lot of dough for that ring I found. ☐ I need some dough to buy groceries.

dough head n. a nerd; a simpleton. ☐ Tom, don't be such a dough head. Read the instructions and do it right. ☐ Fred, you are a real dough head! Why did you do that?

dove [dɒv] n. someone who supports a peace-seeking U.S. defense policy. (Compare this with hawk.) □ The doves want to sell the tanks and distribute the money to the poor. □ The hawks want to ignore the poor and the doves and buy tanks with the money.

down 1. mod. depressed; melancholy. (See also down with something.) □ I feel sort of down today. □ We're all a little down. 2. mod. [of a machine] inoperative. (Originally said of a computer.) □ The system is down. Come back later. □ How long has it been down? 3. tv. to eat or drink something down quickly. □ He downed a can of soda and burped like a thunderclap. □ She downed her sandwich in record time. 4. tv. to throw someone down, as in wrestling; to knock someone down as in a fight. □ Wilbur downed his opponent and won the match. □ Paul downed the guy with one blow. 5. mod. behind in a score. □ We're three points down with two minutes to play. □ They're twenty points down, and it looks like the Adamsville team has won. 6. mod. finished; completed; behind one. □ Well, I've got the test down. Now what? □ One down and three to go. 7. mod. learned; memorized. (From sense 6.) □ I got all the dates down pat. □ I've got the dates down, but not the names. 8. mod. okay; satisfactory; cool; in agreement. (See also down (with someone).) The grammar error in the second example is part of the typical context.) □ We had a fight, but we're down now. □ Me and him is down and always will be. □ This guy is really down. 9. mod. prepared; knowledgeable. (From senses 7 and 8.) □ Are you down for the test tomorrow? □ Everything's down for the party. 10. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Five beers and he was down. □ They were all down by midnight. 11. Go to downer.

downbeat mod. cool; easygoing. (Compare this with upbeat.) □ He is sort of a downbeat character—no stress. □ I wish I was downbeat like he is. □ I had sort of a downbeat day. Not your typical Monday.

downer AND down; downie 1. n. a barbiturate or a tranquilizer. (Drugs.) □ She favours downers. □ Too much booze with those downers, and you're dead. 2. n. a bad drug experience; a down trip. (Drugs.) □ That stuff you gave me was a real downer. □ Dust is a downer for most people. 3. n. a depressing event; a bad situation; a down trip. □ These cloudy days are always downers. □ My birthday party was a downer.

down for the count mod. inactive for the duration (of something). (From boxing.) □ I've got a terrible cold, and I think I'm down for the count. □ Fred is down for the count. He's in jail.

downie Go to downer.

the down low AND the DL the information or explanation; the lowdown. (Streets.) □ Give me the haps. What the down low? □ Let me in on the down low.

down the drain mod. gone; wasted. □ Well, there's 400 bucks down the drain. □ A lot of money went down the drain in that Wilson deal.

Down the hatch! exclam. Let's drink it! (A drinking toast. See also hatch.) □ Down the hatch! Have another? □ Bottoms up! Down the hatch!

down time n. the time when a computer is not operating. (Compare this with up time.) □ I can't afford a lot of down time in the system I buy. □ We had too much down time with the other machine.

down to the wire mod. until the very last minute. □ It came down to the wire before I turned the proposal in. □ We went right down to the wire on that one.

down trip n. any bad experience. (See also downer.) □ Today was a classic down trip. □ My vacation was a down trip.

down under n. the area of Australia; Australia. □ I've always wanted to visit down under. □ We spent Christmas down under.

down (with someone) mod. friends with someone; to be okay or on good terms with someone. (Down = okay.) □ It's okay. I'm down with Chuck. □ Chuck and I are down.

down with something 1. mod. comfortable with something; comfortable. (Usually with get.) □ Let's get down with some good music. □ Pete wanted to get down with some grapes. 2. mod. ill with something; sick in bed with something. □ I was down with the flu for two weeks. □ Fred and his wife were down with colds for weeks at a time.

down with the haps in. knowing what's happening; comfortable with what's happening. (Streets.) □ Tell me what's going on! I gotta be down with the haps. □ Don't ask me, bro. I ain't down with the haps around here.

doxy ['daksɪ] n. a gangster's woman. (Underworld. Old.) □ Lefty's doxy dropped off this package. It's ticking. □ Does Frank have a doxy?

(Do) you eat with that mouth? AND (Do) you kiss your momma with that mouth? interrog. Do you actually eat with the mouth you use to talk that filth?; Do you actually use that filthy mouth to kiss your mother? (A catchphrase said to someone who talks dirty all the time.) □ That's a lot of foul talk. Do you eat with that mouth? □ You talk dirt a lot. You eat with that mouth?

(Do you) get my drift? interrog. Do you understand me? □ Get my drift? Should I explain it again? □ Do you get my drift, or shall I run through it again?

(Do) you kiss your momma with that mouth? Go to (Do) you eat with that mouth?

dozens Go to the (dirty) dozens.

DQ n. Dairy Queen, a trade name for a franchise fast-food store specializing in frozen desserts. (Initialism. Teens and collegiate.) □ Let's go to DQ, okay? □ The DQ is closed for the winter.

draft board n. a tavern; a saloon. (Alludes to draft beer.) □ Larry is down at the draft board, slamming some beers. □ Let's stop in the local draft board and toss a couple.

drafty n. a draft beer; beer. □ How about a cold drafty? □ Another drafty, Tom?

drag 1. n. something dull and boring. □ This day's a drag. □ What a drag. Let's go someplace interesting. 2. n. an annoying person; a burdensome person. (See also schlep.) □ Gert could sure be a drag when she wanted. □ Clare was a drag whether she wanted to be or not. 3. n. a (female) date. □ You got a drag for the dance yet? □ My drag finked out on me. 4. n. a puff of a cigarette. □ He took a big drag and scratched at his tattoo. □ One more drag and he coughed for a while and stubbed out the fag. 5. tv. to pull or puff on a cigarette. □ She dragged a couple and sat in the funk for a while. □ When she dragged a fag, you could see her relax and get straight. 6. tv. to race a car against someone; to race someone in a car. □ I'm planning to drag you at the fairgrounds next Saturday. Better be there. □ I don't drag anybody anymore. I lost my license.

drag ass around in. to go around looking very sad and depressed. □ Why do you drag ass around all the time, Tom?

drag ass (out of some place) Go to bag ass (out of some place).

dragged mod. anxious or frightened after smoking marijuana. (Drugs.) □ The kid was dragged. You could tell he didn't have much experience with the real world. □ Some of these burnouts really look dragged.

dragged out mod. exhausted; worn-out. □ I feel so dragged out. I think I need some iron. □ After the game, the whole team was dragged out.

draggin'-wagon n. a fast car; a car customized for racing. □ My draggin'-wagon is in the shop. □ Your draggin'-wagon can't be driven in town, can it?

a drag (on someone) n. a burden (to someone). □ I wish you wouldn't be such a drag on your friends. □ I don't want to be a drag on the department.

drain 1. n. someone or something that exhausts one. □ Harry is such a drain on me. □ What a drain these meetings are. 2. tv. to wear someone out. □ Arguing like that drains me something awful. □ Your constant bickering is meant to drain me till I submit. Is that it?

drain the bilge tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ Fred left quickly to drain the bilge. □ Who drained the bilge in the bushes?

Drat! [dræt] exclam. Damn! □ Drat! I'm late! □ Oh, drat! Another broken nail!

dreamboat n. just the kind of lover one has always dreamed of. (Also a term of address.) □ Oh, Pete is my dreamboat. □ A face man makes a great dreamboat, as long as you never get to know him.

dreck [dræk] n. dirt; garbage; feces. (From German via Yiddish.) □ What is all this dreck in the corner? □ I've had enough of this dreck around here. Clean it up, or I'm leaving.

dressed to kill mod. dressed in fancy or stylish clothes to impress someone. □ She is always dressed to kill. □ I'm never dressed to kill. I just try to be neat.

dressed to the nines AND dressed to the teeth mod. dressed very stylishly with nothing overlooked. □ She showed up for the picnic dressed to the nines. □ Clare is usually dressed to the teeth in order to impress people.

dressed to the teeth Go to dressed to the nines.

the drink n. the water of the ocean, lake, pond, etc. □ Stay away from the edge of the boat unless you want to fall in the drink.

drinkies n. drinks; liquor. □ Okay, kids, it's drinkies all around. □ What time is drinkies around here?

Drink up! exclam. Finish your drink! Finish that drink, and we'll have another! □ Okay, drink up! It's closing time. □ Drink up, and let's get going.

drinkypoo ['drɪŋkɪpu] n. a little drink of liquor. □ Wouldn't you like just one more drinkypoo of Madeira? □ Just a little drinkypoo, my dear.

drip n. an oaf; a nerd. □ Oh, yuck. He's such a drip. □ Bob is a drip, I guess, but he's harmless.

drippy mod. weak; ineffective; undesirable. □ Bob can be so drippy without even try- ing. □ You are proposing some pretty drippy ideas.

drive someone around the bend tv. to drive someone crazy. (See also (a)round the bend.) □ This tax stuff is about to drive me around the bend. □ Gert tried to drive us all around the bend.

drive someone bonkers AND drive someone nuts tv. to drive someone crazy. (See also bonkers; nuts.) □ This cold is driving me bonkers. □ These tax forms are driving me nuts.

drive someone nuts Go to drive someone bonkers.

drive someone up the wall tv. to frustrate someone; to drive someone to distraction. □ These days of waiting drive me up the wall. □ Staying in the house drove us all up the wall.

drive the big bus AND drive the porcelain bus; ride the porcelain bus tv. to vomit into the toilet. □ Harry's in the john driving the big bus. □ Who do I hear driving the porcelain bus in the john?

drive the porcelain bus Go to drive the big bus.

droid [droid] n. a robot-like person; a nerd. (From android.) □ Beavis is as close to a droid as we'll ever see. □ The droids are taking over this campus.

droob AND drube [drub] n. a dullard; an oaf. □ Who's the droob standing by the punch bowl? □ That drube is my brother!

drool (all) over someone or something in. to show enormous desire for someone or something. □ He was just drooling all over that new car. □ Sam was drooling over Martha like a love-sick calf.

droopy-drawers n. someone—usually a child—whose pants are falling down. (Also a term of address.) □ Hey, droopy-drawers, pull up your pants. □ Jimmy is a regular droopy-drawers. Maybe he needs suspenders.

drop 1. tv. to kill someone or something. □ He dropped the deer with one shot. □ Lefty tried to drop the leader of the gang.
2. in. to get arrested. (Underworld.) □

I'm not going to drop for you. □ Sam dropped, but Mr. Big got him off. 3. tv. to knock someone down. □ Jim dropped Willard with a punch to the shoulder. □ The swinging board hit him and dropped him. 4. n. a small drink of liquor; a small serving of liquor. □ I'll take just another drop of that dew, if you don't mind. □ Can I give you another drop? 5. n. a place at which drugs, alcohol, or other contraband is left to be claimed by the recipient. □ The police discovered the drop and waited for the runner. □ They switched drops constantly just in case of discovery. 6. tv. to take a drug, specifically acid. (Drugs.) □ Ted dropped some stuff and went on a trip. □ Now he doesn't drop even once a month.

drop a bomb(shell) Go to drop a brick.

drop a bop tv. to take a drug in pill form. (See also bop.) □ Tyrone dropped a bop and went on his way. □ Wanna come over and drop a bop or two?

drop a brick AND drop a bomb(shell) tv. to reveal startling information. □ Tracy came in and dropped a brick that scared us all. □ You really dropped a bombshell!

drop a bundle (on someone) tv. to spend a lot of money pleasing or entertaining someone. □ I dropped a bundle on the candidate, and it didn't help me at all. □ Over the years, I've dropped a bundle on clients at that restaurant.

drop a bundle (on something) tv. to pay a lot of money for something. □ Pete dropped a bundle on this car. □ I always buy el cheapo. I've never dropped a bundle on anything.

drop a dime tv. to inform the police of criminal activity. (Underworld. See explanation at dime-dropper.) □ We were pretty sure that Tracy is the one who dropped the dime. □ No, almost anybody will drop a dime these days.

Drop dead! exclam. No!; Beat it!; Go away and don't bother me! □ I don't care. Just drop dead! □ Drop dead! Beat it!

drop-dead 1. mod. stunning enough to make one drop dead. (Not literal.) □ I had my living room done in a bright drop- dead red that makes your blood run cold! □ She stood up and made this drop-dead announcement about getting married, and I thought I would just scream. 2. mod. rude, as if telling someone to drop dead. □ I couldn't stand the boss's drop-dead attitude, so I quit. □ She looked at me with that kind of drop-dead look that really made me mad.

drop-dead list n. an imaginary list of annoying people whom one could live happily without. □ You are right at the top of my drop-dead list. □ I put Frank on my drop-dead list.

Drop it! exclam. Forget it!; Never mind! □ Never mind! Just drop it! □ Drop it! I should never have brought it up.

drop one's cookies tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (See also toss one's cookies.) □ The runner went off to the side and dropped her cookies. □ If you feel like you're going to drop your cookies, don't do it on the carpet.

drop one's teeth tv. to react with great surprise. □ I almost dropped my teeth when she told me her news. □ They dropped their teeth when I told them I was married.

drop out 1. in. to withdraw from a conventional lifestyle. □ Sometimes I just want to drop out and raise pigs or something. □ Ted dropped out and bought a farm. 2. in. to quit school or some organization. □ I dropped out before I got promoted. □ Don't drop out of school. You'll regret it. 3. AND dropout n. someone who has dropped out of school. □ Dropouts find it very hard to get a job. □ Some dropouts make great successes of themselves, but not very many.

dropped mod. arrested. □ Max was dropped only once last year. □ He got himself dropped on a speeding ticket.

drop someone tv. to knock someone down; to punch and knock down a person. □ Fred dropped Bruno with one punch to the jaw. □ Frank lost his cool and dropped Sam.

drop someone or something like a hot potato tv. to disassociate oneself with someone or something instantly. □ When we learned of the conviction, we dropped him like a hot potato. □ I dropped the idea like a hot potato.

drop someone some knowledge tv. to give someone some information. □ Come on, What's the 411. Drop some knowledge on me.

drop the ball tv. to fail at something; to allow something to fail. □ I didn't want to be the one who dropped the ball, but I knew that someone would flub up. □ Sam dropped the ball, and we lost the contract.

drube Go to droob.

drug 1. in. to use drugs. (Drugs.) □ There is no way that she will stop drugging by herself. □ Why does she drug so heavily? 2. AND drug out mod. down; depressed. □ Man, am I drug! □ We are all drug out after that meeting.

druggie AND druggy n. a drug addict or user. □ That druggy loves to hang out here. □ There are too many druggies in this neighborhood.

drughead n. a heavy drug user; an addict. (Drugs.) □ They find a drughead in the river about once a month. □ The drugheads are taking over this neighborhood.

drug lord n. a drug dealer high up in the distribution chain. □ The drug lords like Mr. Big seem never to get arrested. □ Frank had always admired the sheer power of the domestic drug lord.

drugola [drəg'olə] n. a bribe paid by drug dealers to the police for protection. (Patterned on payola.) □ Frank pays a little drugola, but mostly the cops never come into this area anyway. □ A lot of drugola is simply paid in drugs.

drug out Go to drug.

drugstore cowboy n. a male who hangs around drugstores and other public places trying to impress women. □ You don't see the old drugstore cowboys around this part of town anymore. □ The drugstore cowboys of years ago are all hidden away shooting up something.

drunk back mod. alcohol intoxicated; very drunk. □ The whole bunch was drunk back by midnight. □ Larry was drunk back and couldn't drive us home.

drunk tank n. a jail cell where drunks are kept. (See also junk tank.) □ A couple of hours in the drunk tank really made me think about alcohol. □ They hose down the drunk tank every hour on Friday and Saturday nights.

dry 1. mod. sober; no longer alcohol intoxicated. □ Tracy's dry, I hear. □ How long will Ernie stay dry? 2. n. a prohibitionist; an abstainer from alcohol. □ The dries are in an increasing majority. □ Do you know even one dry? 3. mod. having to do with a region where alcoholic beverages cannot be purchased. (Compare this with wet.) □ Is Kansas still dry? □ I hate to get stuck in a dry town. □ Some small towns are dry, but not many.

dry-as-dust mod. dull; lifeless. □ I can't take another one of his dry-as-dust lectures. □ All her ideas are dry-as-dust. □ Some dry-as-dust old crock talked endlessly about old bones.

Dry up! exclam. Shut up!; Go away and don't bother me! □ Aw, dry up! I've heard enough. □ Dry up and beat it!

dub [dəb] 1. tv. & in. to duplicate something; to copy something. □ Dub this and keep a copy yourself. □ He's busy dubbing right now. 2. n. a duplicate; a copy. □ The dub was so poor we couldn't understand the dialog. □ This is an almost perfect dub of the original.

dubage AND doobage ['dubiɪdʒ] n. drugs; marijuana. (See also doobie.) □ I detect the smell of dubage in the hallway! □ Bill kept his doobage in an old shoe in his closet.

dub-dub-dub AND dubya-dubya-dubya n. double-u, double-u, double-u, the letters WWW found in World Wide Web addresses. (The second version is merely a colloquial pronunciation of double-u, and neither is commonly written or printed.) □ Our address is dub-dub-dub dot reindeer dot com. □ Look me up at dubya-dubya-dubya dot wmu dot org.

duby Go to doobie.

dubya-dubya-dubya Go to dub-dub-dub.

ducats AND duc-ducs ['dəkəts AND 'dəkdəks] n. money. (See also gold.) □ Who's got enough ducats to pay for the tickets? □ I've got duc-ducs galore!

duc-ducs Go to ducats.

duck 1. n. a male urinal bedpan. (Hospitals.) □ Somebody in room 212 needs a duck. 2. tv. to avoid someone or something. □ Clare is ducking her responsibility. 3. Go to deduck. 4. n. a ticket. (Probably akin to ducats.) □ Did you buy the ducks early, or do we have to stand in line?

duck-butt 1. n. a very large pair of buttocks. □ What an enormous duck-butt! 2. AND dusty butt n. a short person, especially someone with large buttocks. (Rude and derogatory.) □ The duck-butt who just came in reminds me of somebody I once knew. □ Hey, dusty butt, where you been keeping yourself?

ducks n. tickets. □ You got the ducks for Friday? □ There were no ducks left.

duck-squeezer n. someone with strong concerns about the environment and conservation, especially rescuing oil-covered ducks. (See also eagle freak.) □ Some duck-squeezers were complaining about what the new dam might do. □ The duck-squeezers were picketing the dam site.

ducky mod. okay; good. (Often used sarcastically.) □ Now, isn't that just ducky? □ That's a ducky idea!

dud [dəd] n. a failure; something that fails to perform as intended. (See also duds.) □ The whole idea turned out to be a dud. □ The play was a dud from start to finish.

dude [dud] 1. n. a male friend; a guy. (Also a term of address.) □ Who's the dude with the cowboy boots? □ Hey, dude, what's happ? 2. mod. excellent. (See also dudical.) □ The game was severely dude! We won! □ This whole day has been dude and fat.

dudette ['dudet] n. a young woman; the feminine of dude. □ Susan is one fine- looking dudette. □ The place was filled with good-looking dudettes, just waiting for the right guy to come along.

dude up in. to dress up. □ Let's get all duded up and go out. □ I got to dude up a little before we go.

dudical ['dudɪkl] mod. really good. (Derived from dude.) □ It is truly dudical to see you here, Dave. □ What a dudical crib!

duds [dɒdz] n. clothes. (Folksy. Always plural.) □ Are those new duds? □ I need some new duds, too.

dufer Go to doofer.

duff [dʌf] n. the buttocks. □ Get off your duff and get busy. □ Don't you get tired of sitting around on your duff?

duffer ['dʌfə] 1. n. a foolish oaf; a bungler. □ Some old duffer is weeding our garden for us. He's lost, I think. □ Pete's just a duffer—he's not really serious at it. 2. n. an unskilled golfer. □ Those duffers up ahead are holding up the game. □ Don't call me a duffer!

duffis Go to doofus.

duke in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Collegiate. Rhymes with puke. See also dukes.) □ He left to duke. I saw how green he was. □ She's in the john, duking like a goat.

dukes 1. n. the fists. □ Okay, brother, put your dukes up. □ The guy's got dukes like hams. 2. n. the knees. □ He went down on his dukes and prayed for all sorts of good stuff. □ He cracked one of his dukes on the railing.

duke someone out tv. to knock someone out. (See also dukes.) □ Wilbur tried to duke the guy out first. □ Bob duked out the mugger with a jab to the cheek.

duky ['duki] n. feces. (Originally black and primarily juvenile.) □ The doggie made duky in the backyard. □ Mommy, there's duky in Jimmy's diaper.

dull as dishwater mod. very dull. □ She's cute, but dull as dishwater. □ Life can be as dull as dishwater.

dull roar n. a relatively quiet degree of noisiness. □ Hey, simmer down to a dull roar! □ Try to keep it at a dull roar if you can.

dullsville ['dɒlzvɪl] 1. n. a dull place. □ This place is just dullsville! □ Home is dullsville to a teenager. 2. n. something dull. □ The lecture was downtown dullsville for sure. □ When each movie I see turns into dullsville, I want to give up seeing them.

dumb-ass AND stupid-ass 1. mod. stupid; dumb. □ That was a real dumb-ass thing to do. 2. n. a stupid person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Don't be such a dumb-ass! You know what I mean!

dumbbell n. a stupid oaf. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Look, dumbbell, pay attention! □ I'm afraid I come on like a dumbbell sometimes.

dumb bunny n. a stupid person; an oaf. □ Who's the dumb bunny in the double-knits? □ Don't be a dumb bunny. Pay attention to what's going on.

dumb cluck n. a stupid oaf; a person as stupid as a chicken. □ Sally is not a dumb cluck, but she is sort of slow. □ What a dumb cluck!

dumb-dodo ['dɒm'dodo] n. a very stupid person. □ What a dumb-dodo you are! □ I'm no dumb-dodo!

dumb Dora n. a stupid woman; a giddy woman. □ I'm no dumb Dora. I'm just learning. □ Who's the dumb Dora with the blonde hair and long fingernails?

dumb-dumb AND dum-dum n. a stupid oaf; a dullard. □ You can be such a dumb-dumb without even trying. □ Marvin is no dum-dum. He just looks that way.

dumbhead n. a stupid person. □ Bob is no dumbhead, but he sure is strange. □ I'm no dumbhead. Just a little slow.

dumbo ['dʌmbə] 1. n. a stupid oaf. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Say, dumbo, could you move out of the way? □ Who's the dumbo in the plaid pants? 2. n. someone with large ears. (Also a rude term of address. The name of a cartoon character elephant whose ears were large enough to fly with.) □ Wow, look at that dumbo with size twenty ears! □ I better get new glasses, or I'm going to be a dumbo when my head starts growing.

dumb ox n. a large and stupid person, usually a man. □ What does that dumb ox want? □ Do you think I'm going to argue with that big dumb ox?

dumbshit 1. n. a very stupid person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ He's a dumbshit. He can't do any better than that. 2. mod. stupid; dumb. (Usually objectionable.) □ That was really a dumbshit thing to do.

dumbski ['dʌmski] 1. n. a stupid person. □ He's not the dumbski he seems to be. □ They used to think Gert was a dumbski. 2. mod. stupid; dumb. □ What a dumbski jerk! □ It is not a dumbski idea!

dum-dum Go to dumb-dumb.

dummy 1. n. an empty liquor or beer bottle. □ Toss your dummies over here, and I'll put them in the bin. □ That was a sixty dummy party. I counted. 2. n. a cigarette butt. □ The tramp collected dummies until he had enough for a smoke. □ The guy tossed a dummy out the window of his car. 3. n. a stupid person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Don't be such a dummy. □ I'm no dummy! 4. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his dummy and ran for the bedroom.

dummy up in. to refuse to talk. (Underworld. See also clam up.) □ Tracy dummed up when they got her into the station. □ Rocko dummed up right away. He's a real thoroughbred.

dump 1. tv. & in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ He ran straight to the john and dumped his dinner. □ She turned green, and I knew she was going to dump. 2. in. to defecate. (Usually objectionable. See also dump one's load.) □ He dumped and then came back. □ He said he had to dump. 3. n. an act of defecation. (Usually objectionable.) □ He said he needed a dump. □ He had a dump and then came back. 4. n. a low or cheap establishment; a joint. □ I want out of this dump. □ My mama didn't raise me to spend the rest of my days in a run-down dump like this.

dump all over someone or something

Go to do a dump on someone or something.

dumped on 1. mod. maligned; abused. □

I really feel dumped on. □ The jerk who designed this stupid congested stairway hasn't been dumped on enough. 2. mod. snowed on. □ The entire Midwest was dumped on with about ten inches of snow. □ Our town really got dumped on last night.

Dump it. tv. throw it away. □ *We don't need it. Get rid of it! Dump it!dump one's load 1. tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ He's in the john dumping his load. □ Why can't he learn to dump his load silently? 2. tv. to defecate. (Usually objectionable. Also with a load.) □ He had to go dump a load.

dump on someone 1. in. to scold someone severely. □

Please, don't dump on me. I've had a hard day. 2. in. to place a large burden of guilt or grief on someone; to give someone all of one's troubles. □ She had had a bad day, so she dumped on me for about an hour.

dump on someone or something 1. in.

to snow on someone or something. □ Well, it dumped on us again last night. □ The cold front dumped on the northeast again today. 2. Go to do a dump on someone or something.

dupe 1. n. a potential victim of a confidence trick; a patsy. □

The crooks found a good dupe and started their scheme. □ I don't want to be a dupe for anybody. 2. tv. to trick someone; to swindle someone. □ You tried to dupe me! □ I did not try to dupe you. It was an honest mistake. 3. n. a duplicate; a copy. □ Make a dupe of this before you send it off. □ I've got a dupe in the files. 4. tv. to duplicate something; to copy something. □ Dupe this and send the original back. □ Just a minute, I have to dupe a contract for the boss.

dust 1. in. to leave; to depart. □

Well, it's late. I gotta dust. □ They dusted out of there at about midnight. 2. tv. to defeat someone; to win out over someone. □ We dusted the other team, eighty-seven to fifty-four. □ In the second game, they dusted us. 3. tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ The gang set out to dust the witnesses, but only got one of them. □ Max knew that Sam was out to dust him. 4. n. fine tobacco for rolling cigarettes. (Prisons.) □ How about a little dust for this candy bar? □ I don't want dust. I need chocolate. 5. n. a powdered drug; heroin, phencyclidine (PCP), cocaine; fine cannabis. (Drugs.) □ It's the dust that can really do you damage. □ Wally got hold of some kind of dust and took it to the police. 6. tv. to add a powdered drug to the end of a (tobacco or cannabis) cigarette. (Drugs.) □ Pete dusted one, then lit it up. □ Frank never dusts them before he sells them. 7. n. worthless matter. □ You keep acting like that and you'll be dust. □ John said that Frank was going to be dust if Mr. Big ever heard about what happened.

duster n. the buttocks. (See also rusty-dusty.) □ She fell down right on her duster. □ My duster is sore from all that riding.

dust of angels Go to angel dust.

dust someone off tv. to give someone a good pounding or beating. □ Sam threatened to dust Frank off. □ Bob dusted off Larry; then he started for Tom.

dust someone's pants tv. to spank someone, usually a child. □ My dad will dust my pants if he hears about this. □ I'm too old for somebody to dust my pants.

dust-up n. a fight. □ Frank got in a dust-up with Bruno. □ There was a dust-up at the party that ruined the evening for everyone.

dusty butt Go to duck-butt.

the Dutch act AND the Dutch cure n. suicide. □ Well, Ken took the Dutch cure last week. □ She had tried the Dutch act many times in the past.

Dutch courage 1. n. liquor; false courage from drinking liquor. □ A couple of shots of Dutch courage, and he was ready to face anything. □ How about a little Dutch courage to help you through the first act? 2. n. drugs. □ Max deals in Dutch courage, as he calls it. □ Too much Dutch courage and you're in permanent trouble.

Dutch cure Go to Dutch act.

Dutch treat n. an outing for two or more where the cost is split among the participants, either evenly or in proportion to what is consumed. (See also go Dutch.) □ I propose a Dutch treat to celebrate the day. □ We had a Dutch treat, which gave us a chance to get to know one another better.

Dutch uncle n. someone who gives avuncular advice; a man who gives advice with the directness of one of one's own relatives. □ If I can be a Dutch uncle for a minute, I could give you some good advice. □ Dutch uncles can be as big of a pain as parents.

dweeb [dwib] 1. n. an earnest student. (Collegiate.) □ Don't call Bob a dweeb! Even if he is one. □ The dweebs get all the A's, so why work? 2. n. a strange or eccentric person; a nerd. □ This place is filled with dweebs of all sizes. □ Here comes a dweeb. Ask him for some money.

dyke Go to dike.

dykey Go to dikey.

dynamic duo [daɪ'næmɪk 'duo] n. a very special pair of people or things. (From the Batman television program. Used mostly for humor.) □ The dynamic duo, Beavis and Fred, showed up late and without the beer. □ Next time tell the dynamic duo to come earlier.

dynamite 1. n. anything potentially powerful; a drug, news, a person. □ This chick is really dynamite! □ The story about the scandal was dynamite and kept selling papers for a month. 2. mod. excellent; powerful. □ I want some more of your dynamite enchiladas, please. □ These tacos are dynamite, too.

E

eager-beaver n. a person who is very eager to do something. □ Rocko is an eager-beaver when it comes to collecting money for Mr. Big. □ The eager-beavers were trying to buy tickets yesterday!

eagle n. a dollar bill. (From the picture of the eagle on the back.) □ This thing ain't worth 4 eagles! □ The lady tipped me two eagles for carrying her bags.

eagle-eye 1. n. a busybody; a person who watches or monitors other people's actions: a floorwalker, a detective, a hall-monitor. □ Some old eagle-eye across the street saw me standing in the cold and called my wife who came down and let me in. □ The store detective is an eagle-eye and caught the kleptomaniac. 2. n. an eye or eyes with very keen vision. □ Keep your eagle-eye trained on the entrance. □ My eagle-eye tells me there's trouble over there.

eagle freak n. someone with strong concerns about the environment and conservation, especially the preservation of the eagle. (A play on eco freak.) □ The eagle freaks oppose building the dam. □ They call me an eagle freak, which doesn't bother me at all.

ear candy n. soft and pleasant popular music; music that is sweet to the ear. □ I find that kind of ear candy more annoying than heavy metal. □ People joke about it, but ear candy is restful.

ear-duster n. a gossip person. □ Sally is sort of an ear-duster, but she's all heart. □ I can be an ear-duster, I know, but have you heard about Sally and her you-know-what?

earful ['ɪrfʊl] 1. n. a tremendous amount of gossip. □ I got a big earful about Sally. □

I can give you an earful about the mayor.

2. n. a scolding. □ Her mother gave her an earful when she finally got home. □ Tom got an earful for his part in the prank.

ear hustling n. eavesdropping. □ Your ear hustling will get you in trouble, especially when people are talking about you.

earl [ɛrl] in. to vomit. (Onomatopoeic.) □ I think I gotta go earl! □ Who's earling in the john?

early beam(s) n. dawn; early morning. (Streets.) □ I always come to in the early beam. □ He was away every day, early black to early beam.

early bird 1. n. a person who gets up early. □ I never miss sunrise. I'm an early bird. □ The early birds saw the corpse on the street and called the cops. 2. n. a person who arrives early. □ The early birds get the best seats. □ There were some early birds who arrived before the tea things were laid. 3. mod. having to do with early arrival. □ Early bird arrivals will be given a free cup of coffee. □ The early bird special this week is a free six-pack of pop for the first 100 visitors.

early black n. dusk; early evening. (Streets.) □ I'll be back to my crib about early black. □ He was away every day, early black to early beams.

earp AND urp 1. in. to vomit. □ She went over by the bushes and earped and earped. 2. n. vomit. □ God, there's earp right there on the sidewalk.

Earp slop, bring the mop. tv. Someone has vomited. (Juvenile catchphrase.) □ See what's in the hall? Earp slop, bring the mop. □ Earp slop, bring the mop. Somebody was sick.

earth pads n. shoes. (Streets.) □ Where are your earth pads, girlfriend? You can't go to town with nekkid feet! □ Where'd you get those fly earth pads, bro?

Earth to someone. phr. Hello someone, are you listening? (A means of getting the attention of someone who is ignoring you or who is daydreaming. As if one were on the earth, trying to contact someone in a spaceship. The implication is that the person being addressed is spacy.) □ Earth to Mom! Earth to Mom! What's for dinner? □ Earth to Fred! Are you asleep? Say something, Fred!

easy mod. easy to please; flexible. □ Don't worry about me. I'm easy. □ Fred's easy. He'll eat anything.

Easy does it. 1. phr. Calm down.; Relax. □ Chill, man, easy does it. □ Easy does it! Relax and go slow! 2. phr. Be gentle.; Handle with care. □ Easy does it. Go slow, and you won't dent anything. □ Easy does it. Two people can handle this heavy old thing if they go slow.

easy make n. someone who can be copulated with without much trouble. □ She's got a reputation as an easy make.

easy mark n. a likely victim. □ Martin looks like an easy mark, but he's really quite savvy. □ Mary is an easy mark because she is so unsuspecting.

easy money n. money earned or gained with little or no difficulty. □ You know where I can get some easy money? □ All you guys want easy money. Don't you want to work for it?

easy street n. a place or position in life where living is easy. (See also fat city; on easy street.) □ Easy street is no place for an active guy like Sam. □ Easy street is exactly what I want out of life.

eat 1. tv. [for something] to bother or worry someone. □ What's eating you, Bill? □ Nothing's eating me. I'm just the nervous type. 2. tv. to absorb the cost or expense of something. □ It was our mistake, and we'll have to eat it. □ We'll eat the costs on this one. It's the least we can do. 3. tv. to perform oral sex on someone.

(Usually objectionable.) □ She said she wanted to eat me!

eat at the Y in. to perform oral sex on a woman. (Usually objectionable.) □ Hey, sailor, you wanna eat at the Y?

eat crow tv. to display total humility, especially when shown to be wrong. □ Well, it looks like I was wrong, and I'm going to have to eat crow. □ I'll be eating crow if I'm not shown to be right.

eat face tv. to kiss deeply. (See also suck face.) □ There were some kids eating face over in the corner. □ Tim and Karen were in the backseat eating face.

Eat me! tv. <an expression meaning roughly suck my genitals> (Usually objectionable.) □ Eat me, you creep!

eat nails tv. to look and act really tough or angry. □ Sam looked mad enough to eat nails. □ They were all eating nails by the time the IRS got the mess straightened out.

eat one's hat tv. to do something extraordinary. □ If she wins, I'll eat my hat. □ I'll eat my hat if our advertisement actually brings us a president.

eat one's heart out 1. tv. to suffer from sorrow or grief. □ She has been eating her heart out over that jerk ever since he ran away with Tracy. □ Don't eat your heart out. You really didn't like him that much, did you? 2. tv. to suffer from envy or jealousy. (Usually a command.) □ Yeah, this one's all mine. Eat your heart out! □ Eat your heart out! I won it fair and square.

Eat shit! tv. Drop dead! (Usually objectionable.) □ Eat shit, mother-fucker!

eat someone's lunch tv. to best someone; to defeat, outwit, or win against someone. (In the way that a school bully takes away children's lunches and eats them at recess.) □ The upstart ABC Computer Company is eating IBM's lunch.

eat something up 1. tv. to consume something rapidly, such as food or money. □ Running this household eats my income up. □ The car really eats up gas. 2. tv. to believe something. □ Those people really eat that stuff up about tax reduction. □ They'll eat up almost anything you tell them. 3. tv. to appreciate something. □ The audience really ate it up. □ The stuff about the federal budget went over well. They really ate up the whole story.

eat up in. to eat in enjoyment. (Usually a command.) □ Come on, now. Sit down and eat up! □ Eat up! There's plenty more where this came from.

eco freak AND eco nut ['iko frik AND 'iko nət] n. someone with strong concerns about the environment and conservation. (Mildly derogatory. From ecology.) □ They call me an eco freak, which is okay by me. □ It's we eco nuts who think about the future of our planet.

eco nut Go to eco freak.

Ecstasy ['ekstəsi] n. a hallucinogen similar to LSD. (Drugs.) □ Chemicals with names like "Ecstasy" are being put on the streets every day. □ Ecstasy is just one of a dozen drugs with similar formulas.

eddress n. an electronic address. □ Please tell me your eddress so I can send you some e-mail.

edge n. drunkenness; the early stage of intoxication from alcohol or drugs. (See also have an edge on.) □ She was beginning to show a little edge, but she obviously still could drive. □ The edge was starting, so Kelly slowed down her drinking.

edged mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ They set out to be edged by midnight. □ We were edged and full of rich food. We needed only to sleep.

edgy mod. nervous; anxious and uncertain. □ I feel sort of edgy about the race. □ I'm just an edgy guy. □ Don't let yourself get so edgy.

effing AND F-ing mod. fucking. (Usually objectionable.) □ What an effing stupid idea! □ Of all the F-ing stupid things to do!

effing around AND F-ing around in. fucking around; messing around. (See also fuck around. Usually objectionable.) □ They were F-ing around with the switch, and turned it on accidentally.

egg-beater 1. n. an outboard boat motor. □ My egg-beater has been acting up, so I didn't go out on the lake today. □ By the time you get about twenty egg-beaters on the lake at once, it's really pretty noisy. 2. n. a helicopter. (See also rotorhead.) □ The egg-beater landed on the hospital roof. □ I would think that egg-beaters all over the place would disturb the patients.

egghead n. an intellectual person. □ The eggheads aren't exactly taking over the world. □ My uncle was an egghead, but nobody in our family thought he knew very much.

egg-sucker n. a flatterer; a sycophant. □ The guy is a chronic egg-sucker. Ignore him. □ Who's the egg-sucker who brought the teacher candy?

ego trip n. a public expression of one's feelings of importance or superiority. □ The guy is on another ego trip. Pay no attention. □ Sorry, I guess I'm on another ego trip.

ego tripper n. a person who habitually goes on an ego trip. □ Not another ego tripper running for public office! □ You have to be an ego tripper to be a palm-presser.

eighteen-wheeler n. a large trailer truck. (There are a total of eighteen wheels on the cab and trailer.) □ An eighteen-wheeler almost ran me off the road. □ The eighteen-wheelers rule the road at night.

the eighty-eight n. a piano. (Pianos have 88 keys.) □ Sam can really beat the eighty-eight.

eighty-six AND 86 tv. to dispose of someone or something; to nix someone or something. □ Please take this out and 86 it. □ He wants $400? 86 that! We can't afford it.

elbow-bending n. drinking liquor; drinking liquor to excess. □ She spends quite a bit of time at elbow-bending. □ That's a lot of elbow-bending for one sitting.

elbow-grease n. effort. □ Put out a little elbow-grease. □ All this job needs is a little more elbow-grease.

el cheapo [el 'tʃipo] 1. n. the cheap one; the cheapest one. (Mock Spanish.) □ I don't want one of those el cheapos. □ I can only afford el cheapo. 2. mod. cheap. □ The el cheapo brand won't last. □ This is el cheapo. I don't want it. □ Is this the el cheapo model?

electrified mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Her eyes were staring straight ahead, and I knew she was electrified. □ By midnight we were all electrified.

elevated mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ Jerry was too elevated to drive home. □ Sam was elevated from the drinking he did.

elevator music n. dull, uninteresting music of the type that can be heard in elevators or shops. (As compared to exciting jazz or rock.) □ I don't want to have to hear elevator music all day. □ Elevator music is better than listening to someone chewing food.

eliminated 1. mod. killed. □ Mr. Big wanted Frank eliminated. □ When Frank is eliminated, there will be no competition. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ By midnight, Wally was eliminated. □ How can anybody get eliminated on four beers?

(el) primo [(el) 'primo] mod. [of something] top quality. (From Spanish for the first.) □ This stuff is primo. □ I want some more of that el primo C.

em AND emm [ɛm] n. an empty liquor bottle. (See also knock someone's block off.) □ Put your ems in the garbage, not on the floor. □ Whose emms are all these?

embalmed mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ By morning they were all embalmed. □ Bob was too embalmed to stand up.

embalming fluid n. strong liquor; raw whiskey. □ Jed seemed to favor some cheap embalming fluid as his poison. □ Bar-tender, pour out this embalming fluid and get me your best.

[emoticon] See the discussion at Smiley.

empties n. empty bottles. □ Throw your empties in the trash. □ Whose empties are these, and how many are there?

empty-nesters n. parents whose children have grown and moved out. □ There are a few adjustments that empty-nesters have to make. □ I don't mind being an empty-nester. There's more room.

end n. the final insult; too much; the last straw. □ This is just the end. I'm leaving. □ When she poured her drink down my back, that was the end.

end of the ball game n. the end of everything. □ Well, the car broke down. I guess that's the end of the ball game. □ It looked like the end of the ball game as we sped too fast around the curve.

ends 1. n. money. (Streets.) □ You got enough ends to get you through the week? □ We don't have enough ends to pay the gas bill. 2. n. shoes. □ You even got holes in your ends. □ Could you use some new ends?

enforcer n. a bully; a thug or bodyguard. □ Sam is the perfect enforcer. Meaner than all get out. □ Rocko is too tender-hearted to be a good enforcer.

enhanced mod. high on marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Frank is sort of enhanced, as usual. □ Fred is enhanced by dinnertime each day.

Enough, already! exclam. That is enough! Stop! □ Please stop! Enough, already!

equalizer n. a gun; a pistol. (Underworld.) □ Rocko carried an equalizer, but wouldn't dream of using it. □ An equalizer can be dangerous in Max's business.

erase tv. to kill someone. □ Sam had orders to erase Frank. □ Mr. Big decided who was gonna erase who.

erb Go to herb.

Ervine Go to Irv.

ESAD! tv. Eat shit and die!: take what's coming to you. (Usually objectionable.) □ All right, you bastard, ESAD!

eternal checkout n. death. (Usually with the.) □ When the time comes for the eternal checkout, I hope I am ready to go. □ Hank knew the eternal checkout was just around the corner, and he suddenly got religion.

eternity-box n. a coffin. □ When I'm in my eternity-box, then you can have my stereo. □ I have my eternity-box all picked out.

euchre ['jʊkə] tv. to cheat or deceive someone. □ Those guys'll try to euchre you, so watch out. □ I think the clerk euchred me.

evened out mod. back to normal; restored to sanity. □ When things are evened out after the holidays, we can settle down. □ Finally, at about age thirty, you could say that Sam was evened out.

even-Steven 1. mod. evenly divided. □ He made the two piles of diamonds even-Steven and then let me chose which one I wanted. □ The cake is not exactly cut even-Steven. 2. mod. even; balanced. □ Now we're even-Steven. □ Now that we've given each other black eyes, are we even-Steven?

everything from soup to nuts n. everything imaginable. □ It looks like she brought everything from soup to nuts. □ I have everything from soup to nuts in my briefcase.

evidence n. liquor. (Usually with the. Incorporated into a suggestion that the evidence be destroyed by drinking it.) □ There is only one thing to do with evidence like this, and that's drink it. □ They knocked back all the evidence very quickly.

evil mod. excellent. (See also wicked.) □ This wine is really evil! □ Man, what evil fronts!

ex [ɛks] n. a former spouse or lover. □ My ex is in town, but we don't talk much anymore. □ Her ex remarried.

Excellent! exclam. Fine! (Like awesome, this expression is a standard word used frequently in slang contexts.) □ A new stereo? Excellent! □ Excellent! Way rad!

Excuse me for breathing! Go to (Well,) pardon me for living!

Excuse me for living! Go to (Well,) pardon me for living!

Excuse my French. Go to Pardon my French.

exec [ɛg'zɛk] n. an executive. □ The execs are well-treated around here. □ They are even firing the execs now.

expense n. a baby; a child. □ The little expense just cries, craps, and chows. □ How many expenses you got in your crib?

eyeball tv. to look hard at someone or something. □ I eyeballed the contract and saw the figures. □ The two eyeballed each other and walked on.

eyeball to eyeball mod. face to face. □ They approached each other eyeball to eyeball and frowned. □ Let's talk more when we are eyeball to eyeball.

eyeful n. the sight of something that one was not meant to see. □ I got an eyeful of that contract. Yikes! What a giveaway! □ She really gave us an eyeful. Shame.

eye-in-the-sky n. an overhead surveillance camera, usually in a dome; a traffic police helicopter. □ The cops used an eye-in-the-sky to get the evidence and make the arrest.

eye-opener 1. n. a real surprise. □ Her confession was a real eye-opener. □ This day has been an eye-opener for me. 2. n. a wake-up drink of liquor; a strong drink any time. □ He knocked back a quick eye-opener and finished dressing. □ One eye-opener led to another.

eye-popper 1. n. something astonishing. □ The description of the theft was a real eye-popper. □ What an eye-popper of a story! 2. n. a very good-looking woman or girl. □ Isn't that foxy lady an eye-popper? □ I may not be an eye-popper, but my virtue is exemplary.

eyewash 1. n. nonsense; deception. □ Aw, that's just a lot of eyewash! □ It's not eyewash! It's true! 2. n. liquor. □ How about some of that nice eyewash? □ You've been putting away a lot of that eyewash, haven't you?

F

fab [fæb] mod. fabulous. □ Man, what a fab stereo! □ Your pad is not what I'd call fab. Just okay.

face card n. an important person; a self-important person. (As with the royal characters in playing cards.) □ Who's the face card getting out of the benz? □ Mr. Big is the face card in the local mob.

faced 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. (From shit-faced.) □ Lord, is he faced! □ Who is that guy on the corner who looks so faced? 2. mod. rejected by a member of the opposite sex. (Collegiate.) □ I've been faced again, and I hate it! □ Sally was faced by Todd, and she won't speak to him or anybody else.

(face) fungus n. whiskers; a beard. □ If John would shave off that face fungus, he'd look a lot better. □ What do you need all that fungus for anyway?

face man n. a good-looking young man with no personality. (Collegiate.) □ Harry is just a face man and as dull as dishwater. □ Norm is the perfect face man—all looks and no brains.

face-off n. a confrontation. (From hockey.) □ For a minute it looked like we were headed toward a nasty face-off. □ The face-off continued for a few moments till both of them realized that there was no point in fighting.

face the music tv. to receive the rebuke that is due one. □ You had better go in and face the music now. □ You have to face the music eventually.

face time n. time spent face to face with someone. (As opposed to over the telephone or by email, etc.) □ I need to have more face time with my children.

facilities n. toilet facilities. □ Where are the facilities around here? □ Can I use your facilities?

fack [fæk] in. to state the facts; to tell (someone) the truth. (Black.) □ That dude is not facking with me. □ Now is the time to start facking. Where were you?

facts of life 1. n. an explanation of human reproduction, especially as presented to a child. □ No one ever explained the facts of life to me. I read books about it. □ She is so naive. She doesn't even know the facts of life. 2. n. the truth about life's difficulties. □ You had better face up to the facts of life and get a job. □ They taught me everything in college except the facts of life.

fade 1. in. to leave. □ I think that the time has come for me to fade. See ya. □ Hey, man, let's fade. 2. in. to lose power; to lose influence. □ Ralph is fading, and someone else will have to take over. □ The positive effect of the weekend faded fast.

faded mod. drunk; drug intoxicated. □ Man, is that guy ever faded! Look at him weave from one lane to another. □ Bob's faded and fell asleep in his chair.

fadoodle [fə'dudl] n. something ridiculous; nonsense. □ Oh, stop your silly fadoodle! □ That's nothing but fadoodle!

fag [fæg] 1. n. a cigarette. □ Hey, pal, gimme a fag. □ Go buy your own fags! 2. AND faggot n. a homosexual. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Who's the fag with the fancy hat? □ Don't act like a faggot, Gary. 3. n. a repellent male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You creepy fag. Stop it! □ Sam is such a fag!

fag-bashing Go to fag-busting.

fag-busting AND fag-bashing n. doing violence to homosexuals. (Usually objectionable.) □ Those bums get some kind of pleasure out of fag-busting. □ What's this strange need you have for fag-bashing? What's your problem?

fagged out mod. exhausted. □ I'm really fagged out after all that running. □ John, you sure look fagged out.

faggot Go to fag.

fail n. a failing grade; a grade of F. (Compare this with pass.) □ Sorry, this paper's a fail if I ever saw one. □ I pulled a fail in stat.

fair-haired boy n. a promising young man; a young man who receives favoritism. □ Ted is the boss's fair-haired boy now, but he'll be just like the rest of us in a month. □ He'd have been fired if he wasn't the fair-haired boy.

fair shake n. a fair chance. (From shaking dice.) □ I want to give you both a fair shake. □ All I want from you is a fair shake.

fair-weather mod. temporary; insincere. (From fair-weather sailor.) □ I need something more than a fair-weather friend to help me through all this. □ Well, I see you are just a fair-weather golfer like me.

fairy n. a male homosexual. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Bob got fired for calling Bill a fairy.

fairy tale AND bedtime story n. a simplistic and condescending explanation for something; a lie. □ I don't want to hear a fairy tale, just the facts, ma'am. □ What you're telling me sounds like a bedtime story. Come back when you can be more straightforward.

fake book n. a book with basic melody and chord changes for hundreds of popular songs. □ Somebody lifted my fake book. □ I thought fake books were illegal.

fake it tv. to pretend (to do something). □ If you don't know the right notes, just fake it. □ I can't fake it anymore. I've got to be honest with you.

fake off in. to waste time; to goof off. □ Hey, you guys, quit faking off! □ All you clowns do is fake off. Now, get busy!

fake someone out tv. to deceive someone, as with a football pass. □ They faked me out, and then I stumbled over my own feet. The coach was fuming. □ We faked out the teacher who thought we had gone out in the hall.

fake the funk tv. to pretend to be in the know; to pretend to be fly; to fake being stylish. (Streets.) □ Hey, bro. You ain't down with nothing. You're just faking the funk. □ He's only faking the funk to survive in the hood. He gets an A in every class in school.

fakus ['fekəs] n. a gadget; something with no name or a forgotten name. □ This little fakus goes right in here. □ Hand me that long fakus with the hole in one end.

falderal AND folderol ['fəldərl] n. wasted effort; nonsense. □ I had about enough of your falderal. □ Stop the folderol and get to work.

fall 1. in. to be arrested; to be charged with a crime. (Underworld. See also fall guy.) □ I heard that Bruno fell. Is that right? □ Sam would never fall easily. Must be a frame. 2. n. one's arrest; being arrested and charged. (Underworld.) □ Who took the fall for the bank job? □ Rocko will never accept a fall willingly.

fall guy n. a victim; a dupe. (Originally underworld.) □ Rocko wasn't going to be the fall guy for this caper. □ I didn't want to be the fall guy, so I sat out the last job.

falling-down drunk 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated; very drunk. □ Poor Fred is falling-down drunk and has no way to get home. □ She's not just tipsy; she's falling-down drunk. 2. n. a drunken person who falls down. □ Poor old Jed is turning into a falling-down drunk. □ One more falling-down drunk in this neighborhood will not be anything new.

falling-out n. a disagreement. □ Tom and Bill had a little falling-out. □ They patched up their little falling-out.

fall off the wagon in. to resume drinking after having stopped. □ Poor Jed fell off the wagon again. □ It looks to me like he wanted nothing more than to fall off the wagon.

fall out in. to depart. (Probably from the military command meaning disperse.) □ It's late, G. I have to fall out. □ Let's fall out. I have to get up early in the morning.

fallout n. the results of something; the flack from something. □ The fallout from this afternoon's meeting was not as serious as some expected. □ It's not the crisis itself, but the fallout from the crisis that concerns us all.

fall out of bed in. to fall far down, as with the drop in some measurement. □ The temperature really fell out of bed last night! It was twenty-three below! □ The stock market fell out of bed last year at this time.

falsies n. artificial breasts; stuffing for making the breasts appear larger and more shapely. □ I don't care if she is wearing falsies. She's got a beautiful smile.

family jewels n. the testicles. (Jocular and euphemistic. They are necessary to produce a family.) □ Hey, careful of the family jewels!

fan tv. to ignore someone or something; to cut a class; to blow someone or something off. □ You have to meet with your teacher? Oh, fan that. It doesn't matter. □ Mary fanned her history class and missed an important test.

fancy footwork AND fast footwork n. artful maneuvering; fast and clever thinking. □ Ken did a lot of fancy footwork to get out of that one. □ Fast footwork is the key to success in politics.

Fancy meeting you here. sent. Just imagine meeting you here!; I am surprised to meet you here! □ Well, hello, Tom. Fancy meeting you here! □ Fancy meeting you here, Bill. How have you been?

fancy-schmancy ['fæntsi'smæntsi] mod. fancy; very fancy. □ This one is just too fancy-schmancy for Heidi. □ She likes everything fancy-schmancy. □ I don't care for these fancy-schmancy get-togethers.

Fancy that! exclam. Imagine that! □ So, you're a bus driver now. Well, fancy that! □ Fancy that! There's a piece of pie left in the fridge.

fanigle Go to finagle.

fanny n. the buttocks. (Euphemistic in the U.S. The term has taboo implications in the U.K.) □ He fell down right on his fanny. □ There's dust or something on your fanny.

fanny-bumper n. an event that draws so many people that they bump into one another. □ The fire on Thirty-fourth Street turned into a real fanny-bumper. □ There was a typically dull fanny-bumper in the village last night.

fanny-dipper n. a swimmer, as opposed to a surfer. (California.) □ The fanny-dippers are not supposed to go out that far. □ It's too windy for fanny-dippers, let alone surfers.

Fantabulous! exclam. Great! (A blend of fantastic and fabulous.) □ You're here at last. Fantabulous! □ Fantabulous! It's finished.

fan the breeze tv. to chat or gossip. □ We're just fanning the breeze, so you didn't interrupt anything. □ Stop fanning the breeze and get to work.

far gone 1. mod. in an extreme state. □ Wow, that chick is far gone. Listen to her rave. □ He was too far gone to make any sense. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Larry's far gone and looking sick. □ Wow, is she ever far gone!

far out 1. mod. cool; great; extraordinary. □ This jazz is really far out! □ You want to hear some far out heavy metal? 2. mod. very hard to understand; arcane; highly theoretical. □ This stuff is too far out for me. □ I can't follow your far out line of reasoning. 3. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ How'd you get so far out? □ Three beers and Wally was really far out.

fart 1. in. to release intestinal gas through the anus. (Usually objectionable.) □ Okay, who farted? □ I think I'm gonna fart. 2. n. the sound or odor of the release of intestinal gas. (Usually objectionable.)

□ Who made that smelly fart? 3. n. a stupid, despicable, and annoying person. (Usually objectionable.) □ The guy's nothing but a fart. Just forget him.

fart around in. to waste time; to do something ineffectually or inefficiently. (Usually objectionable.) □ Stop farting around and get to work!

fart hole n. a wretched and worthless person; an asshole. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Stop acting like such a fart hole! □ Come on, fart hole! Get moving!

fart off in. to waste time; to goof off. (Usually objectionable.) □ Why are you farting off when there's work to be done?

farts n. fine arts. (Use discretion with fart.) □ Ted is studying over in the farts department. □ Fred took a course in farts and hated it.

fart sack n. one's bed. (Military. Apparently a place where one can break wind at will. Usually objectionable.) □ Come on! Get out of the fart sack and get moving!

fast buck Go to quick buck.

fast footwork Go to fancy footwork.

fast one n. a clever and devious trick. (See also pull a fast one.) □ That was a fast one. I didn't know you were so devious. □ This was the last fast one like that you'll ever pull on me.

fat 1. mod. great; excellent. □ The fireworks in the park were really fat this year! □ Mary thought the rally was fat, but left early anyway. 2. mod. well supplied with something; having an overabundance of something. □ When it comes to printer paper, this place is fat. □ We're fat with paper, but there's not a ribbon in sight. 3. mod. sexy. □ She is one fat sister! □ You are truly fat, Wendy.

fat as a beached whale phr. very, very fat. (Often with as.) □ That dame is as fat as a beached whale.

fat-ass(ed) mod. having large buttocks. □ Get your fat-ass self outa my car! □ Who is that fat-assed dame over there?

fat-cat 1. n. someone with great wealth and the accompanying success. □ I like to watch the fat-cats go by in their beemers. □ I'm no fat-cat. I'm usually financially embarrassed in fact. 2. mod. having to do with wealth or a wealthy person. □ You'll never see me driving any of those fat-cat cars. □ I just have a bank account. No fat-cat investments.

fat chance n. a very poor chance. (Sarcastic.) □ Fat chance I'll ever get a new car. □ Me, get an A? Fat chance.

fat city 1. n. a state of wealth and comfort; easy street. □ She's living in fat city ever since she inherited her fortune. □ I could settle down in fat city without any trouble. 2. n. fatness (expressed as a place). □ I've had it with fat city. I'm going on a diet. □ Sally is well on her way to fat city.

fathead n. a stupid person; someone who has fat where brains ought to be. □ You can be such a fathead! □ Paul, you are being a perfect fathead.

fatheaded mod. stupid. □ Now that is really a fatheaded idea. □ It's not fat-headed! □ Let's not come up with a fat-headed plan. This one has to make sense.

fat lip Go to lip.

fat skril n. lots of money (See also skrilla.) □ The car cost some real fat skril.

fatso ['fætso] n. a fat person. (Cruel. Also a rude term of address.) □ Hey, fatso! Go on a diet! □ Some fatso tried to get on the plane and couldn't even get through the door!

fatty n. a derogatory nickname for a fat person. (Cruel. Also a rude term of address.) □ Okay, fatty, you get the biggest piece of cake because you deserve it. □ That fatty over there is going to eat up all the snacks.

fattygeus ['fætɪgjuːz] n. fatigues. (Originally military.) □ I'll slip into some fattygeus and be right with you. □ Whose fattygeus are piled here in the corner?

FB Go to fuck bunny.

feather brain n. a stupid person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Gary is such a feather brain. □ Hey, feather brain. Wake up and get busy!

fed 1. AND the feds n. a federal agent concerned with narcotics, tax collection, customs, etc. □ Some fed was prowling around asking questions about you. □ The feds are onto Rocko and his gang. 2. The Fed n. the Federal Reserve Board. (Usually Fed. Always with the in this sense.) □ The Fed is not likely to raise interest rates very soon again. □ There is no way to predict what the Fed is going to do.

federal diploma n. a U.S. bank note. □ I could use a few extra of those federal diplomas. □ How many federal diplomas you got with you?

federal jug n. a federal prison. (Underworld. See also jug.) □ Rocko was set to spend the next twenty years in the federal jug. □ Lefty is fresh and sweet—just out of the federal jug.

the feds Go to fed.

feeb [fib] n. an oaf; a stupid person. (From feeble-minded.) □ Don't be a feeb. Wake up! □ You are such a feeb!

feebee Go to feeb.

feeby AND feebee ['fibi] n. the FBI, the Federal Bureau of Investigation. □ The locals were going to call in the feebies, but the DA said to wait. □ The feeby is in on this already.

feed one's face tv. to put food in one's mouth; to eat (something). □ You're always feeding your face. You're going to get fat. □ Stop feeding your face and listen to me.

feel a draft tv. to sense that one is being rejected; to sense that someone is cool toward one, possibly for racial reasons. □ Oh, man, I feel a draft in here. Let's leave. □ What a reception! I sure feel a draft.

feel groovy 1. in. to feel really good and mellow. □ It's a beautiful day, and I really feel groovy. □ Everybody is feeling groovy and smiling and all. 2. in. to be alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Looks like Kelly is feeling groovy on gin again. □ Sam feels groovy because of what he is smoking.

feeling no pain 1. mod. numbed by alcohol and feeling nothing; alcohol intoxicated. □ She fell off the wagon and is feeling no pain. □ He drank the whole thing, and he's feeling no pain. 2. mod. feeling nothing; dead. □ Now, poor Jed is feeling no pain. □ Your aunt is feeling no pain now. She slipped away before dawn.

feel someone up tv. to feel someone sexually. □ He tried to feel her up, but she wasn't that drunk. □ She felt him up and kissed him passionately.

feep [fip] 1. n. the beep made by a computer. □ This thing only makes a feep when I try to run my program. □ What does the feep mean? 2. in. [for a computer] to make a little beep. □ It feeps when it's angry, I think. □ Naw! It just feeps to get your attention.

fella ['fɛlə] n. a fellow; a guy. (Also a term of address.) □ Who's the fella with the dark glasses? □ Hey, fella. Got a match?

fenced mod. angry. (California.) □ Boy, was that old man fenced! □ Too many people around here are fenced all the time.

fence hanger n. someone who cannot decide which side to be on. □ We need to find a way to persuade the fence hangers to come over to our side. □ The senator stated he would be a fence hanger until the very minute of the vote.

fender-bender 1. n. a minor accident. (See also rear-ender.) □ There are a couple of fender-benders on the expressway this morning, so be careful. □ A minor fender-bender blocked traffic for a while. 2. n. a reckless driver (who causes minor accidents). □ I can't get insurance on my seventeen-year-old, who is a hopeless fender-bender. □ Don't give up on young fender-benders.

fer shur [fɜː 'ʃɜː] phr. for sure; absolutely. (Eye-dialect. Used in writing only for effect. See also for sure.) □ This is way rad, fer shur. □ I'll be there. Fer shur!

feshnushkied [fɛ'ʃnuʃkid] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Wow, is that guy ever feshnushkied! □ Gert is too feshnushkied to drive home.

fetch up in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ I really felt like I was going to fetch up. □ Somebody fetched up in here and didn't clean it up.

fettie n. money. □ I need some fettie to pay the rent.

a few ticks n. a few minutes; a few seconds. □ Just wait. I'll be there in a few ticks.

fib [fɪb] 1. n. a small lie. □ It was just a little fib. I'm sorry. □ Is this another one of your fibs? 2. in. to tell a small lie. □ Stop fibbing and tell me the truth. □ Did you fib to the teacher?

fibber n. a liar. □ Harry can be a fibber sometimes. You got to watch him. □ Jimmy is turning into a little fibber.

fiddle-fart Go to monkey-fart.

FIFO. phr. first in, first out, the first items placed in the stack are the first items to be retrieved. (Computers. Acronym. See also GIGO; LIFO.) □ Of course the wrong thing came out. That register is FIFO. □ Oh, I thought this thing was FIFO, and I put the stuff in the wrong order.

fifth wheel n. an extra and unneeded person. □ I feel like such a fifth wheel around here. □ Hank is just a fifth wheel. Send him home.

file Go to (pro)file.

file thirteen n. the wastebasket. (See also circular file.) □ Please throw this in file thirteen. I don't need it anymore. □ I'm afraid that the papers you want went into file thirteen two days ago.

filling station n. a liquor store. (From an old name for an automobile service station.) □ Please stop at the filling station and get some suds on your way home. □ The filling station on the corner does a big business on Fridays.

fill-mill n. a tavern. □ She stopped off at the fill-mill again this evening. □ She spends a lot of time at that fill-mill.

fill or kill AND FOK phr. a broker's notation advising the stock exchange to fill a stock order or kill it. (The abbreviation is an initialism. Securities markets.) □ Get rid of this order. It was fill or kill, and it should have been killed yesterday. □ Where? I don't see that it's marked FOK.

filthy lucre [...'lukə] n. money. □ I sure could use a little of that filthy lucre. □ I don't want to touch any of your filthy lucre.

filthy rich 1. mod. very wealthy. □ I wouldn't mind being filthy rich. □ There are too many filthy rich people now. □ Ken is filthy rich because of the money his uncle left him. 2. n. people who are very wealthy. □ The filthy rich can afford that kind of thing, but I can't. □ I sort of feel sorry for the filthy rich.

fin AND finn [fin] n. a five-dollar bill. (Germanic via Yiddish.) □ Who says I owe you a fin? □ I gave the old guy a finn, and he nearly passed out.

finagle AND fanigle [fɪ'neɪɡl AND fə'nɪɡl] 1. in. to plot and plan; to conspire; to arrange (something). □ He's pretty good at finagling. □ She'd rather fanigle than ask outright. 2. tv. to acquire something through conniving. □ She spent a lot of time trying to finagle a ride to work. □ Can I fanigle a buck from you?

financially embarrassed mod. broke. □ I'm a bit financially embarrassed at the moment. □ Gary found himself financially embarrassed when the time came to pay the bill.

fine and dandy mod. nice; good; well. (Often sarcastic.) □ Well, that's just fine and dandy. Couldn't be better. □ I feel fine and dandy, and I'm going to have a good time here.

fine wolf n. a sexy or desirable man. (Streets.) □ Who is that fine wolf I seen you with last night? □ That Johnny, he's one fine wolf.

F-ing Go to effing.

F-ing around Go to effing around.

finger 1. tv. to point someone out; to identify someone (as having done something, been somewhere, etc.). □ Pete fingered Marty as being the one who arrived first. □ Nobody would dare finger Rocko as the one who did it. 2. n. someone who identifies criminals for the police; a police informer. (Underworld.) □ Tracy has become a finger for the cops. □ Yup, she turned finger after her last vacation. 3. n. an amount of liquor poured into a glass equal to the width of a finger. □ Tracy said she only drank one finger, but the glass was five inches in diameter! □ No fingers for you, chum. You've had enough.

finger wave n. the act of giving someone the finger; displaying the middle finger upright as a sign of derision. (The gesture is taboo. See also give someone the finger.) □ Two little kids gave the cop the finger wave. □ The salute turned into a finger wave when the Major turned away.

fink [fɪŋk] 1. n. an informer; a stool (pigeon). (From Pinkerton. See also rat fink.) □ Tracy has turned into a fink. □ Mr. Big doesn't think much of finks. 2. Go to fink (on someone). 3. n. any strange or undesirable person. □ You are being such a fink. Stop it! □ Martin is a strange kind of fink.

fink (on someone) in. to inform on someone. □ You won't fink on me, will ya? □ Rocko never finks on his friends.

fink out (on someone or something) in. to decide not to cooperate with someone or something (after all). □ Come on, don't fink out on us now. □ Bob finked out on the plan.

finn Go to fin.

fire a line tv. to snort a line of cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Frank left to fire a line. □ Rocko has never fired a line in his life.

fire away in. to start asking questions; to start talking. □ Okay, I'm ready. Fire away. □ The cops fired away at him for an hour.

fireball Go to ball of fire.

fired up mod. excited; enthusiastic. □ How can you be so fired up at this time of the morning? □ It's impossible to get Martin fired up at all.

fire someone up tv. to motivate someone; to make someone enthusiastic. (See also fired up.) □ See if you can fire John up and get him to paint the house. □ I have to fire up the electorate if I want them to vote for me.

fire something up tv. to start something such as an engine; to light something. □ Fire this thing up, and let's get going. □ Andy fired up the snow blower and started to clear a path.

fire up in. to light a marijuana cigarette. □ Frank fires up at every chance. □ Rocko says he never fired up in his life.

firewater n. whiskey. (From cowboy and Indian talk.) □ This firewater leaves a lot to be desired. □ This isn't gin; it's firewater!

fireworks 1. n. excitement. □ When the fireworks are over, come in and we'll talk. □ What're all the fireworks about around here? 2. n. trouble; a display of temper. □ After Sam's fireworks, we calmed down a little. □ Cut out the fireworks, Sally. Calm down and get back to work.

the firstest with the mostest mod. the earliest and in the largest numbers; the earliest with more of what's needed. □ Pete got the prize for being the firstest with the mostest. □ I always like to be there early—the firstest with the mostest.

fish n. a stupid and inept person. (Derogatory.) □ The guy's a fish. He can't do anything right. □ Don't be such a fish, Martin. Anyone can work a can opener.

fish-fight n. a fight between females. □ There's a fish-fight over by the biology building. □ Those fish-fights can get brutal.

fishing expedition n. an exploratory search for facts. (This involves asking questions with no preconceived notion of what the answers might reveal.) □ The lawyer was on a fishing expedition. There was no real wrong committed to justify a lawsuit. □ Your honor, counsel is just on a clumsy fishing expedition. I move for dismissal.

fish-kiss 1. tv. & in. to kiss (someone) with puckered up lips. (Collegiate.) □ He can fish-kiss like an expert, which is like being an expert at nothing. □ He fish-kissed me, then ran back to his car. 2. n. a kiss made with puckered up lips. (Collegiate.) □ One more fish-kiss tonight, and I am going to scream. □ The actor planted a big fish-kiss right on her lips and frightened her.

Fish or cut bait. sent. Do something or get out of the way. □ Fish or cut bait, Chuck. There's work to be done here. □ Decide whether you're going to watch or help. Fish or cut bait.

fish story AND fish tale n. a great big lie. (Like the fisherman who exaggerates the size of the fish that got away.) □ That's just a fish story. Tell me another! □ He's a master at the fish tale. Maybe he should be a politician.

fishtail in. [for the rear of a car] to whip back and forth like a fish moving its tail. □ The caddy fishtailed on the curb and almost spun around. □ It's easy to fishtail in wet weather.

fish tale Go to fish story.

fishy mod. dubious; questionable; likely to be improper or illegal. (See also smell fishy.) □ Something here is fishy. □ That was a pretty fishy story you told us.

fitshaced mod. drunk. □ He goes out and get really fitshaced almost every night.

fitted mod. well-dressed; properly outfitted. □ Sam got himself all fitted and looks like a real playa!

a five-alarm fire Go to a three-alarm fire.

five-finger discount n. the acquisition of something by shoplifting. □ Bruno used his five-finger discount to get the kind of ring Tracy wanted. □ I got this thingy with my five-finger discount.

five it Go to take the fifth.

five-oh AND 5-O n. the police. (From a television program, Hawaii Five-O.) □ If you hit me again, I'll call the five-o!

fiver ['faɪvə] n. a five-dollar bill. (See also tenner.) □ This thing only cost me a fiver. □ Give him a fiver, and let's get outa here.

fix 1. AND fix-up n. a dose of a drug, especially for an addict who is in need of drugs. (Drugs. It fixes the suffering of withdrawal.) □ It was clear that the prisoner needed a fix, but there was nothing the cops would do for him. □ Max arranged to get a fix-up into the con. 2. in.

to buy a dose of drugs; to take drugs. (See also fixed. Drugs.) □ Frank had to fix before he could even talk to me. □ Tracy was in the other room fixing. 3. tv. to castrate or spay an animal, especially a pet. (See also fixed. Jocularly of people.) □ Get somebody to fix your cat! □ Sally suggested that someone ought to fix Beavis—if he isn't already. 4. n. a bribe. (See also fixed.) □ Rocko never took a fix in his life. □ The agent payed a fix to the cops. 5. tv. to influence the outcome of a contest or an election. (See also fixed.) □ Who fixed this race? □ Sam knows what it takes to fix an election—cash. 6. n. a scheme to influence the outcome of a contest or an election. □ Something is wrong with this game. I smell a fix. □ Sam planned a great fix, but the cops got wise. 7. n. a repair made to a computer program. (Computers.) □ This little fix should make the whole program run faster. □ I wrote a fix to make the program more efficient. 8. n. a cure for a social ill. (See also quick fix.) □ There is no easy fix for a problem like this. □ Some people think there is no fix at all.

fixed 1. mod. doped; intoxicated. □ Frank is comfortable now that he's fixed. □ He was fixed and broke—in a real mess, I'd say. 2. mod. bribed. □ Don't worry, the night watchman is fixed. □ The cop is fixed and won't give you guys any trouble. 3. mod. having the outcome prearranged. (Said of a contest, race, or election.) □ The election was fixed, and we are going to protest. □ It was not fixed! □ The race was fixed, but we won anyway. 4. mod. neutered. □ Now that the cat is fixed, she seems even meaner. □ I wouldn't buy anything but an already-fixed dog.

fixed up mod. provided with a date. □ Sam got fixed up with Martha. □ Okay, Sam is fixed up with a date for Saturday.

fixer n. a lawyer. □ I'll get my fixer on it first thing in the morning. □ Bruno's fixer didn't show up in court.

fix-up Go to fix.

fizzle ['fɪzl] 1. n. a failure; something that sputters away. □ The whole project was a fizzle. □ Her first play was no fizzle. 2. in.

in. to fail; to peter out. □ The whole plan fizzled, and we had to start over. □ The play began to fizzle in the second act.

flabbergasted ['flæbəˌgæstəd] 1. mod. surprised; baffled. □ We were flabbergasted by your proposal. □ They all sat there flabbergasted. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I thought you were cutting down, and here you are totally flabbergasted again. □ After about six beers, Harry became flabbergasted and slid under the table.

flack Go to flak.

flackery ['flækəri] n. an advertising agency. □ Ted works for a flackery over on Maple Street. □ It seems like the whole political campaign was directed by some New York flackery.

flack (out) in. to collapse in exhaustion; to go to sleep. □ I just have to go home now and flack out. □ Betsy flacked out at nine every night.

flag 1. tv. to fail a course. □ Pat flagged English again. □ I'm afraid I flagged algebra. 2. n. the grade of F. □ I'll get a flag on algebra for the semester. □ I got three flags and an A. 3. tv. to arrest someone. (See also flagged.) □ The cop flagged Tracy for soliciting. □ They flagged Bob for speeding even though he was a judge.

flagged mod. arrested. □ Frank almost got himself flagged for speeding. □ Sally was flagged, and she called her fixer to come get her out.

flak AND flack [flæk] 1. n. complaints; criticism; negative feedback. □ Why do I have to get all the flak for what you did? □ We're getting a lot of flak for that news broadcast. 2. n. publicity; hype. □ Who is going to believe this flak about being first-rate? □ It's all flak and no substance. 3. n. a public relations agent or officer. □ The flak made an announcement and then disappeared. □ There were flacks all over the place telling lies and making false promises.

flake 1. n. a person who acts silly or giddy. □ Sally is such a flake! □ Who's the flake in the plaid pants? 2. n. a medicinal form of crystallized cocaine. (Drugs. Similar to crack.) □ Where can I get some flake around here? □ Max specializes in flake.

3. tv. [for the police] to place drugs or traces of drugs on a person during an arrest. (Underworld. The person is then charged with possession of drugs.) □ That's not mine! You flaked me! □ The fuzz must have flaked Rocko. He never touches the stuff. 4. AND flakes n. phenylcyclidine (PCP), an animal tranquilizer. □ Even Bart won't sell flake, and he's not what I would call a concerned citizen. □ Sometimes they smoke a cigarette with flakes on it.

flaked Go to flaked out.

flaked out 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ You are too flaked out to drive home. Give me your keys. □ Man, is she flaked out! 2. AND flaked mod. passed out because of drugs. (Drugs.) □ Sally was flaked out on the sofa. □ Jerry took the stuff and ended up flaked. 3. mod. unconscious; exhausted; tired out. □ Tom? He's upstairs flaked out from work. □ There are too many flaked out people working at dangerous machines.

flake down in. to go to bed; to go to sleep. □ Look at the time. I gotta go home and flake down. □ After I flake down for about three days, I'll tell you about my trip.

flake (out) 1. in. to pass out from exhaustion; to fall asleep. □ I just flaked out. I had had it. □ After jogging, I usually flake for awhile. 2. in. to fall asleep after drug use. (Drugs.) □ An hour after she took the stuff, she just flaked. □ Pete popped a few pills and flaked out.

flakes Go to flake.

(flake) spoon Go to coke spoon.

flako Go to flaky.

flaky ['fleki] 1. mod. unreliable. □ She's too flaky to hold the job. □ He's a flaky dude. □ I'm getting so flaky. Must be old age. 2. mod. habituated to the use of cocaine. (Drugs.) □ He looks a little flaky. Look at his eyes and nose. □ Bart is flaky. He's a walking advertisement for what he sells. 3. AND flako ['fleko] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, is she flako! □ Paul was flaky and couldn't drive.

flamdoodle Go to flapdoodle.

flame in. to write an excited and angry note in a computer forum or news group. ☐ Barb is flaming again. It doesn't take much to set her off. ☐ Stop flaming a minute and try to explain your position calmly.

flamer 1. n. a blatantly obvious homosexual person. (Primarily and originally for males.) ☐ Todd is such a flamer! ☐ He tries not to be a flamer, but what can he do? 2. n. a person who writes excited and angry notes on a computer forum or news group. ☐ There are too many flammers on this board to make it interesting and entertaining. ☐ The flammers turn everything into a screaming battle.

flame-war n. an angry and excited exchange of notes on a computer forum or news group. ☐ A flame-war erupted on the board last night and a lot of people said some pretty rude things. ☐ The SYSOP tried to stop the flame-war, but it kept going anyway.

flap n. an argument; a minor scandal. ☐ I'm sorry about that flap we had yesterday, but it was all your fault. ☐ Who started this flap anyway?

flapdoodle AND flamdoodle ['flæpdudl AND 'flæmdudl] n. nonsense. ☐ I've heard enough of this flapdoodle. ☐ Cut out the flamdoodle and speak the truth.

flapjaw ['flæpdʒɔ] 1. n. a talkative person. ☐ Who is the flapjaw who has Sally cornered? ☐ Martin is anything but a flapjaw. I bet he doesn't say a dozen words per hour. 2. n. chatter; gossip. ☐ Too much flapjaw for me to concentrate in here. ☐ Could you all turn down the flapjaw a little?

flash 1. n. something suddenly remembered; something suddenly thought of. ☐ I had a flash and quickly wrote it down. ☐ After we talked awhile, a flash hit me. Why don't we sell the house? 2. n. a very short period of time; an instant. (See also in a flash.) ☐ I'll be there in a flash. ☐ It was just a flash between the time I said I'd be there and when I showed up. 3. tv. to display something briefly. ☐ You'd better not flash a wad like that around here.

You won't have it long. ☐ The cop flashed her badge and made the pinch. 4. in. to display one's private parts briefly. ☐ The guy flashed and moved on down the street. ☐ She flashed briefly, providing the show that people came to see, and left the stage. 5. n. a drink of liquor. ☐ I'll have just a flash; then I've got to run. ☐ Here, have a flash, and let's chat a little longer.

flashback n. a memory of the past; a portrayal of the past in a story. ☐ Suddenly, Fred had a wonderful flashback to his childhood. ☐ The next scene in the film was a flashback to the time of Ivan the Terrible.

flasher n. a male exhibitionist; a male who shows his penis to women. ☐ The cops hauled in a couple of flashers from the public library.

flash on something in. to remember something suddenly and vividly. ☐ Then I flashed on a great idea. ☐ I was trying to flash on it, but I couldn't bring it to mind.

flash the hash tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ Dave left quickly to go out and flash the hash, I think. ☐ Who's in there flashing the hash?

flat-ass mod. absolutely; totally. (From a general slang term flat-out.) ☐ She opened it up as flat-ass fast as it would go.

flat broke mod. having no money at all. ☐ Sorry, I'm flat broke. Not a cent on me. ☐ You may be flat broke, but you will find a way to pay your electricity bill or you will live in the dark.

flat-chested mod. with little or no female breast development. ☐ I wish I wasn't so flat-chested!

flatfoot AND flatty n. a police officer, especially a foot patrol officer. ☐ Think about how the flatfoot on the beat is affected by this cold. ☐ The flatty stopped at the door, tried the lock, and moved on.

flat-hatting n. flying an airplane low and wrecklessly. (As if flying low enough that only people wearing flat hats could escape being struck.) ☐ The pilot lost his license for flat-hatting near the park. ☐

Some of the air force pilots were flat-hatting over the desert when one of them crashed.

flathead n. a stupid person. □ Carl, don't act like such a flathead. □ He may seem slow, but Carl is no flathead.

flatheaded mod. stupid. □ That is really a flatheaded idea, you know? □ Martin seems flatheaded, but he's quite brilliant.

flatline in. to die. (From the flatness of the line on an EEG monitor.) □ It appeared that the patient flatlined during the night. □ She just grabbed at her chest and flatlined.

(flat) on one's ass 1. mod. completely exhausted. (Usually objectionable.) □ I'm just flat on my ass. I need some rest. □ After the day of the marathon, Pete was flat on his ass for a week. 2. mod. broke; financially destroyed. (Usually objectionable. An elaboration of flat broke.) □ Sorry, I can't help you. I'm broke—flat on my ass. □ The guy's flat on his ass. Can you help him out with a loan?

flat out 1. mod. totally. □ She was flat out mad as hell. □ We were all flat out disgusted. 2. mod. at top speed. □ They drove the thing flat out for an hour. □ If we run flat out, we can get there before dusk.

flatten tv. to knock someone down with a blow. □ Bart flattened the kid with a jab to the nose. □ Wilbur will flatten his opponent.

flatly Go to flatfoot.

fleabag ['flibæg] n. a cheap hotel; a flop-house. □ I won't stay in this fleabag for one minute. □ Rocko never stays in fleabags. He's too proud. Sam doesn't care.

fleece tv. to cheat someone; to steal everything from someone. (Underworld.) □ Sam fleeced the kids for a lot of money. □ Rocko never tried to fleece anybody.

flesh-presser AND palm-presser n. a politician. □ It's that time of the year when the flesh-pressers really go to work. □ A palm-presser came to our door to ask us what we thought about his issues.

flexed out of shape mod. very angry; bent out of shape. □ The boss was completely flexed out of shape. □ I am truly flexed out of shape.

flick n. a movie. □ That was a pretty good flick, right? □ Let's go see that new Woody Allen flick.

flimflam ['flɪmflæm] 1. n. a confidence trick or deception. □ The whole business sounds like a bit of flimflam to me. □ The crooks pulled a nasty flimflam on Betsy. 2. n. nonsense; deception. □ Beware of the flimflam they will try to pull on you. □ I can spot flimflam a mile away. 3. tv. & in. to cheat or deceive (someone). □ Don't try to flimflam me. I wasn't born yesterday, you know. □ She is flimflamming over at the Adamsville fair this week.

flimflam artist n. someone who practices confidence tricks or deceptions on someone else. □ I don't trust that flimflam artist at all. □ Pretty soon, you'll learn how to spot a flimflam artist.

fling up in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ I was afraid I was going to fling up. □ Who flung up on the sidewalk?

fling-wing n. a helicopter. □ The fling-wing from the radio station is hovering over the traffic jam. □ There must be a dozen fling-wings up there making all that noise.

flip in. to go crazy. □ Wow, I've got so much to do, I may just flip. □ The guy flipped. He was the nervous type.

flip-flop 1. n. a reversal. □ The President denied making a flip-flop. He said he simply forgot his earlier position. □ The manager did a flip-flop on the personnel policy. 2. n. the return trip of a long journey. (Citizens band radio. See also flip side.) □ Nice talking to you, Silver Streak. Catch you on the flip-flop. □ Didn't we chat on the flip-flop last week? 3. in. to change direction or intensity. □ He flip-flopped again, leaving us quite confused. □ Jed flip-flopped twice in the evening, leaving us where we started. 4. in. to waiver in one's decisions. □ I'm sorry I'm flip-flopping on this matter. I just can't seem to de- cide. □ Well, you just flip-flop all you want. I know what I want.

flip one's lid Go to flip one's wig.

flip one's wig AND flip one's lid tv. to go crazy; to lose control. □ Tom nearly flipped his wig. □ I flipped my lid when I got the news.

flip (out) in. to lose control of oneself. □ Wow, I almost flipped out when I heard about it. □ He got so mad that he flipped.

flipping mod. damnable. (Euphemistic for fucking. Usually objectionable.) □ Get this flipping dog out of here! □ What's the flipping idea?

flipping burgers tv. what school drop outs end up doing. (An occupation that offers practically no opportunities for advancement.) □ Do you want to spend the rest of your life flipping burgers! Do your damn homework!

flip side 1. n. the "other" side of a phonograph record. □ On the flip side, we have another version of "Love Me Tender" sung by Beverly Mills. □ Give a listen to the flip side sometime. 2. n. the "other" side of something, such as an argument. □ I want to hear the flip side of this before I make a judgment. □ On the flip side, he is no bargain either. 3. n. the return trip of a long journey. (Citizens band radio.) □ See ya. Catch you on the flip side, maybe. □ Didn't I talk to you on the flip side last week?

flip someone off AND flip someone out tv. to give someone the finger. (Collegiate.) □ Did you flip me off? □ Ernie flipped Tom out, and Tom flattened Ernie. Ah, life in the big city.

flip someone out Go to flip someone off.

flip someone the bird tv. to give someone the finger; to display the digitus impudicus to someone. □ Max flipped the cop the bird—and that was just the wrong thing to do. □ The little kid flipped the cop the bird and didn't even know what it meant.

flip the script 1. tv. to lie; to change one's story. □ The guy flips the script depending on whose listening. 2. tv. to turn the tables on someone. □ Now he's the one who's in trouble! That's really flipping the script!

flivver ['flɪvə] n. an old car. (Once a nickname for the Model-T Ford.) □ Whose flivver is that parked out in the street? □ I got an old flivver to get to school and back.

FLK ['ɛf 'ɛl 'ke] n. funny looking kid. (Initialism. A strange looking child, especially one being treated for social or physical problems.) □ The therapist had two FLKs in a row. □ When the mother came in with an FLK in tow, Jane knew her afternoon would be busy.

flog [flag] tv. to promote something; to try to sell something aggressively. □ Fred was flogging this car so hard, I figured he was trying to get rid of it. □ Don't flog it so hard. It makes people suspicious.

flooeey ['fluɪ] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ You're flooeey again. That's every night this week. □ Wow, is she flooeey!

floored 1. mod. surprised. □ I was really floored by what she had to say. □ You looked floored when I came in. Wasn't I invited? 2. mod. knocked to the floor by a blow. □ Wilbur was floored by his opponent. □ The guy was floored and didn't move a muscle—ever again. 3. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He's totally floored. Can't see a hole in a ladder. □ You'd be floored, too, if you'd drunk a dozen beers.

floozy ['flu:zi] n. a promiscuous woman. □ Tracy was enraged when Rocko called her a floozy. □ "I didn't call you a floozy," said Rocko. "I said you were boozy."

flop 1. n. a failure. □ What do you mean your life is a flop? □ The play was a flop. The entire audience left during the second act. 2. n. a place to sleep for the night; a bed in a flophouse. (Streets.) □ The old man was looking for a flop for the night. □ Do you know where I can find a flop?

flophouse n. a very cheap hotel offering only rows of beds. □ This place is a flophouse! I won't stay here for a moment. □ All some of those guys need in life is a flop in a flophouse.

flopper-stopper n. a brassiere. □ Hey, Jimmy, does your sister wear a flopper-stopper yet? □ She's very shy. She won't even hang her flopper-stoppers out on the line to dry.

flub something up tv. to do something incorrectly; to mess up a procedure. □ Now don't flub this up. □ I never flub up anything.

flub the dub tv. to fail to do the right thing. □ Martin is flubbing the dub with the fund-raising campaign. □ Please don't flub the dub this time.

flub (up) 1. AND flub-up n. an error; a blunder. □ I tried not to make a flub, but I did. □ Who is responsible for this flub-up? 2. in. to mess up; to foul up. □ You are flubbing up again, aren't you? □ I do my best to keep from flubbing.

fluff [flʌf] 1. n. nonsense; irrelevant stuff; hype. □ This is just a lot of fluff. Nothing substantial at all. □ Cut out the fluff and talk straight. 2. tv. & in. to make an error; to do something incorrectly. □ Todd fluffs his lines in the same place every night. □ Don't fluff again, please.

fluff-stuff n. snow. □ There is supposed to be an inch of fluff-stuff tonight. □ Fluff-stuff looks pretty, but it's no fun to shovel it.

flunk [flʌŋk] 1. tv. & in. to earn a failing grade in a course. □ I'm flunking in English lit. □ Wilbur is flunking everything. 2. tv. to assign someone a failing grade. □ Good grief! She flunked me! □ I'm sorry, but I am going to have to flunk half the class.

flunk out (of something) in. to leave school or a course because of failure. □ Fred flunked out of school and never tried to go back. □ That's it. All F's. I've flunked out.

flush mod. wealthy; with plenty of money. □ Today I am flush. By tomorrow, I'll be broke. □ I'm not exactly flush, but I can pay the bills.

flusher n. a toilet. (Folksy. Compared to an outhouse.) □ I hear they put in a flusher over at the Babbitts'. □ That's silly. They've always had a flusher.

fly 1. mod. knowledgeable; alert and in the know. □ This dude is fly; there's no question about it. □ We don't need any more fly birds around here. 2. mod. nice-looking; stylish. □ I like your fly shoes, Sam. □ She drives a fly crutch.

flyboy n. a pilot. (Military.) □ Rocko was a flyboy in Korea. □ Those flyboys have it easy.

fly-by-night mod. undependable; dishonest. □ Sam seems like such a fly-by-night character. □ He's not fly-by-night at all. □ Don't do business with fly-by-night people.

flying-fuck 1. n. a real or imaginary act of copulation where the male leaps or dives onto and into the female. (Usually objectionable.) □ The movie showed some jerk allegedly performing a flying-fuck, just for laughs. 2. AND French-fried-fuck n. something totally worthless. (Usually objectionable.) □ This thing isn't worth a flying-fuck! □ I wouldn't give you a French-fried-fuck for all the crummy cars like that in the world.

fly kites tv. to distribute or pass bad checks. (Underworld. See also kite.) □ Marty was picked up for flying kites in three different cities. □ She got caught flying kites in Philadelphia.

fly light in. to skip a meal or eating. □ Nothing for me, thanks. I'm flying light today. □ I fly light until about dinnertime.

fly mink n. a fine woman; a sexually attractive woman. (Streets. See also mink.) □ That Veronica is one fly mink, man. □ Who was that fly mink I saw you with last night?

fly the coop tv. to escape from somewhere; to get away. □ I was afraid he would fly the coop if I didn't tie him up. □ I flew the coop before my dad got home.

fly trap n. the mouth. □ Close your fly trap. You talk too much. □ Don't talk with your fly trap full.

foam n. beer. □ How about some more foam? □ All the guy thinks about is foam.

FOB mod. fresh off the boat; as gullible and trusting as a new immigrant. (Initialism. A play on the initials of Free on Board.)
 □ That new guy is really FOB. What a wimp! □ Where did you get those FOB shoes? Blue suede is back?

the foggiest (idea) n. (even) a hazy idea. (Usually in the negative.) □ I'm sorry I don't know. I haven't the foggiest. □ I don't have the foggiest idea of how to do this.

FOK Go to fill or kill.

fold 1. in. to fail; to close. □ The play folded in the second week. □ I was afraid my business would fold because of the recession. 2. in. to collapse from drinking. □ Dave had just one more drink, and then he folded. □ She folded neatly and slid beneath the table.

folded mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Pete is folded. That's the third time this week. □ Man, is he folded!

folderol Go to falderal.

folding money AND folding stuff n. U.S. paper bank notes, as opposed to coins. □ Sorry, I don't have any folding money with me. Can you pick up the bill? □ I sure could use some more of that folding stuff.

folding stuff Go to folding money.

folks n. one's parents. (Always with the possessive.) □ I'll have to ask my folks if I can go. □ Her folks are sort of mad at her.

fomp [famp] in. to play around sexually. (Collegiate.) □ Who are those two over there fomping? □ Jerry wanted to fomp, and I wanted to get him out of my sight.

foodaholic n. a glutton. □ Kelly is a foodaholic and has a real eating problem. □ What a foodaholic! She ate a whole large pizza!

foodie n. someone who is interested in foods, cooking, and the latest food and restaurant fads. □ The foodies are all clamoring for fried sweet potatoes with salmon.

fooeey Go to phooey.

foo-foo water ['fufuwədæ] n. aftershave lotion; cologne. □ Don't use so much of that foo-foo water. □ I got three bottles of foo-foo water for my birthday.

foot-in-mouth disease n. the tendency to say the wrong thing at the wrong time. □ I suffer a lot from foot-in-mouth disease. □ Well, Ralph has foot-in-mouth disease again.

foot it tv. to go somewhere by foot; to walk or run. (See also ankle; shank it.) □ I have to foot it over to the drugstore for some medicine. □ I'm used to footing it wherever I go.

foozle ['fuzl] 1. n. an error; a messed up task. □ Who made this fozzle? □ What a stupid fozzle! 2. tv. to mess something up; to bungle something. (See also foozlified.) □ I'm afraid I'll fozzle the camera if I open it up. □ Who fozzled the copying machine?

foozlified ['fuzlɪfaɪd] 1. mod. bungled. □ This job is really fozzlified. Who was in charge? □ I've never seen such a fozzlified mess in my life! 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Why do you always come home fozzlified? □ Fred is fozzlified and can't see his hand in front of him.

for all I know phr. as far as I know; I really don't know. □ For all I know, they just did it for a lark. □ She came in late because she had an accident, for all I know.

for (all) one's trouble phr. in spite of one's efforts; in very poor payment for one's efforts. □ He got a punch in the jaw for all his trouble. □ For her trouble, she got only honorable mention.

forbidden fruit n. something that is attractive because it is denied to one. (From the Garden of Eden in the Bible.) □ A new car became Ralph's forbidden fruit. □ Liquor was forbidden fruit for Jed.

for chicken feed Go to for peanuts.

for free mod. free from monetary charge; gratis. □ And I get all this for free? □ Is all this really mine for free?

Forget it! 1. exclam. Never mind, it wasn't important! □ Forget it! It wasn't important. □ I had an objection, but just forget it! 2. exclam. Never mind, it was no trouble at all! □ No trouble at all. Forget it!

□ Forget it! It was my pleasure.

Forget you! exclam. Drop dead!; Beat it! □
Oh, yeah! Forget you! □ Forget you! Get a life!

for keeps mod. forever. □ Does that mean I'm going to have this scar for keeps? □ This is yours for keeps. Enjoy it.

for kicks mod. for fun; for a thrill. □ We just did it for kicks. We didn't mean to hurt anyone. □ Let's drive over to Wally's place, just for kicks.

fork something over tv. to hand something over (to someone). □ Okay, fork it over. It's mine! □ Okay, fork over the dough and be quick about it!

Fork you! exclam. Fuck you! (A partial disguise. Rude and derogatory.) □ Fork you, you stupid twit!

for peanuts AND for chicken feed mod. for practically no money at all. (See also chicken feed.) □ I won't work for peanuts. □ You surely don't expect me to do this for chicken feed, do you?

For Pete's sake! AND For pity's sake!; For the love of Mike! exclam. Good grief! □ For Pete's sake! How've ya been? □ For pity's sake! Ask the man in out of the cold!

For pity's sake! Go to For Pete's sake!

for real mod. genuine; not imaginary. □ Ken is really strange. Is he for real? □ This whole day just isn't for real.

for sure phr. absolutely. (The same as fer shur.) □ I'll be there, for sure. □ Am I happy? For sure!

for the birds mod. undesirable. □ This pizza is for the birds. □ I don't like this kind of life. It's for the birds.

for the devil of it AND for the heck of it; for the hell of it mod. because it is slightly evil; for no good reason. (Use caution with hell.) □ The kids broke the window just for the devil of it. □ We just drove over for the heck of it.

for the heck of it Go to for the devil of it.

for the hell of it Go to for the devil of it.

For the love of Mike! Go to For Pete's sake!

forty winks n. a nap; sleep. (Usually with a quantifier. Either forty or some, a few, a bunch of, etc.) □ I could use forty winks before I have to get to work. □ I need forty winks before I get started again.

fosho mod. for sure. □ I'll be there on time fosho.

fossil 1. n. an old-fashioned person. □ Some old fossil called the police about the noise. □ Oh, Tad, you are such a fossil. 2. n. a parent. □ My fossils would never agree to anything like that. □ Would your fossils permit that?

fouled up mod. messed up; ruined; tangled up. □ This is sure a fouled up mess. □ You sure are fouled up, you know.

foul mouth n. a person who uses obscene language habitually. □ Terry, don't be such a foul mouth. □ Sally is turning into a real foul mouth.

foul up 1. in. to blunder; to mess up. □ Please don't foul up this time. □ The quarterback fouled up in the first quarter, and that lost us the game. 2. n. a blunder; an error. (Usually foul-up.) □ That was a fine foul-up! Is that your specialty? □ I can produce a serious foul up with both hands tied behind me.

four-bagger n. a home run in baseball. □ Wilbur hit his third four-bagger of the season. □ Another four-bagger for Wilbur!

four-bits n. fifty cents. (A bit is equal to twelve and one-half cents.) □ You got four-bits I can borrow? □ Here's four-bits. Keep the change.

four-eyes n. someone who wears glasses. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Well, I've got to the age where I'm a four-eyes. □ Hey, four-eyes, betcha you can't see this!

four-flusher n. a cheater. □ Bruno is a lousy four-flusher, among other unpleasant things. □ You dirty four-flusher!

four-oh-four AND 404 phr. the answer to your question is unknown; the location you seek is unknown. (From the Internet message: Error - 404 that is received when the Internet cannot find the address you are seeking. □ Q: Where's the kitchen? A: 404. You'll have to find it yourself.

four-one-one AND 411 n. information; the details about something or someone. (In the U.S., the telephone number of directory assistance or information is 411.) □ What's the 411 on the new guy in the front office? □ I heard some interesting 411 on the guy down the street.

four sheets in the wind AND four sheets (to the wind) mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See comments at three sheets in the wind.) □ She's not just tipsy. She's four sheets! □ After only three beers, Gary was four sheets to the wind.

four sheets (to the wind) Go to four sheets in the wind.

four-topper n. a restaurant table that will seat four people. (Restaurant jargon.) □ Please seat these two couples at the four-topper in the corner.

four wheels n. a car; transportation. (See also wheels.) □ I need four wheels to get me around town. □ Without four wheels at my disposal, I feel trapped.

fox n. an attractive girl or young woman. □ Man, who was that fox I saw you with? □ That fox was my sister. Next question?

fox trap n. an automobile customized and fixed up in a way that will attract women. □ I put every cent I earned into my fox trap, but I still repelled women. □ To you it's a fox trap; to me it's a pimpmobile.

foxy 1. mod. sexy, especially having to do with a woman. □ Man, isn't she foxy! □ What a foxy dame! 2. mod. smelly with perspiration odor. □ Somebody in this taxi is a little foxy. □ Who's got the foxy pits? □ Subway cars can sure get foxy in the summer. 3. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Gary is a little foxy. Let him rest awhile. □ He's worse than foxy—he's stinking drunk.

foxy lady n. a sexually attractive woman or girl. □ You are really a foxy lady, Tracy. □ A couple of foxy ladies stopped us on the street.

fracture tv. to cause someone to laugh very hard. □ Now, this joke'll fracture you. □ I like to tell a few that fracture everybody.

fractured 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ This is the third night this week that Pete has rolled in fractured. □ He was so fractured he couldn't see. 2. mod. demolished by laughter. □ The class was fractured, and the laughter didn't stop until the teacher managed to get up off the floor. □ The whole audience was fractured by the time my ten minutes were up.

frag [fræg] tv. to assassinate an unpopular military officer in Vietnam. (Military.) □ The guy was so certain that nobody was going to frag him that he got careless and Charlie got him. □ I saw some creeps frag a guy once.

fragged [frægd] mod. destroyed; ruined. □ Why does your room look so fragged? □ My clothes are fragged, and I need a haircut.

fraidy cat ['fredi...] n. a coward; a person who is frightened of everything. (Used in children's taunts.) □ Don't be a fraidy cat. Go ahead, jump! □ Carl is such a fraidy cat.

frame 1. tv. to cause an innocent person to be blamed for a crime; to contrive evidence so that someone appears to be guilty. (Originally underworld.) □ Jimmy tried to frame his sister for painting the cat yellow. □ You won't frame me and get away with it! 2. AND frame-up; frameup n. a scheme where an innocent person is made to take the blame for something; incrimination caused by contrived evidence. (Underworld.) □ Sam would never fall easy. Must be a frame. □ The frame-up would have worked if it weren't for one little thing.

frame-up Go to frame.

frantic mod. great; wild. □ We had a frantic time at Chez Freddy. □ That rally was really frantic.

frat [fræt] 1. n. a fraternity. (Collegiate.) □ Are you going to join a frat? □ My brother is in a frat. 2. mod. having to do with fraternities and their members.

(Collegiate.) □ Is there a frat party tonight? □ Frat life is not for me.

frat-rat ['frætræt] n. a member of a fraternity. (Collegiate.) □ The frat-rats are having a rally tonight. □ Is Frank a frat-rat, or is he independent?

freak daddy n. a good-looking male. □ Tony is a real freak daddy, and I intend to get him to take me out. □ Jane wants to get her hands on the freak daddy in her history class.

freaked (out) 1. mod. shocked; disoriented. (Perhaps from drugs or alcohol.) □ I was too freaked out to reply. □ Man, was I freaked. 2. mod. tired out; exhausted. □ I'm too freaked out to go on without some rest. □ The chick is really freaked. Let her rest.

freaker 1. n. an incident that causes someone to freak (out). (Collegiate.) □ Wasn't that weird? A real freaker. □ Did you see that near miss? What a freaker! 2. n. a freaked (out) person. (Collegiate.) □ Some poor freaker sat in the corner and rocked. □ Who's the freaker in the corner?

freaking mod. damned. (Euphemistic for fucking. Usually objectionable.) □ Get your freaking socks off my bed. □ What is this freaking mess on my plate?

freak mommy n. a good-looking female. □ Wendy, you are a freak mommy, and I want to get to know you better. □ Sally is such a freak mommy. My eyes just water!

freak (out) 1. in. to panic; to lose control. □ I was so frightened, I thought I would freak. □ Come on, relax. Don't freak out. 2. n. a bad drug experience; a psychotic reaction to the drug LSD. (Drugs. Usually freak-out or freakout.) □ The poor kid had a freak-out and never really recovered. □ Some of them get turned off to drugs by a really good freakout. 3. n. a wild party of any type; any exciting happening. (Usually freak-out or freakout.) □ There is a big freak-out at Freddy's joint tonight. □ What a frantic freakout! 4. n. a freaked (out) person. (Usually freak-out or freakout.) □ Some poor freak-out sat in the corner and rocked. □ Who's the freakout in the corner?

freak someone out tv. to shock or disorient someone. □ The whole business freaked me out. □ I didn't mean to freak out everybody with the bad news.

freaky mod. strange; eccentric. □ I get a freaky feeling whenever I hear that music. □ That's really freaky. □ What a freaky movie.

free base AND (free)base 1. n. a smokable, pure extract of cocaine. □ Bart is real big on free base. □ Sam likes base, too. 2. in. to smoke a pure extract of cocaine. □ Rocko has never freebased in his life. □ Rocko won't base, smoke, or anything.

(free)base Go to free base.

free base party n. a gathering where free base is used. (Drugs.) □ Bart has a free base party about once a week. □ The cops broke up a free base party in Beverly Hills.

free-baser n. a user of free base. (Drugs.) □ Of course Bart is a free-baser! What doesn't he do? □ Some of these free-basers have heart attacks.

free-basing AND baseballing; basing n. using free base as a recreational drug. (Drugs.) □ Rocko refuses to try free-basing. □ He saw what basing did to his brother.

freebee Go to freebie.

freebie AND freebee; freeby ['fri:bi] n. something given away free. □ They gave me a freebie with my purchase. □ I expect a freebee when I spend a lot of money like that.

free for all AND free-for-all n. a brawl; a general fight. □ A free for all started on the beach over near the concession stand. □ The cops broke up the free-for-all.

freeload in. to sponge off someone else; to eat and drink at someone else's expense; to live off someone else. □ Don't come around here and expect to freeload. □ My brother-in-law has been freeloading at our house for months.

freeloader n. someone who eats and drinks at someone else's expense; a parasitic person. □ Ken is sort of a freeloader, but he's a lot of fun anyway. □ There are a lot of freeloaders here. We are going to have to ask to see tickets.

free lunch n. something free. (Often negative.) □ There is no such thing as a free lunch. □ There's always somebody who'll do anything to get a free lunch.

free ride n. an easy time; participation without contributing anything. □ You've had a free ride long enough. You have to do your share of the work now. □ No more free rides around here. Get off your duff and get a job!

free show n. a peek at a private part of someone's body, usually a woman. □ Martin looked like the type who was always waiting for a free show that was never to be. □ A true gentleman takes no notice of a "free show."

free trip n. an echo or a flashback of an LSD experience. (Drugs.) □ The kid got a free trip, and it scared her to death. □ If these free trips continue, we may have to run some tests.

free-wheeling mod. lacking restraint; flamboyant and uncontrolled. □ These high-spending, free-wheeling palm-pressers appear out of nowhere at election time. □ She's too free-wheeling. □ She's a free-wheeling executive type.

freeze 1. n. the act of ignoring someone; the cold shoulder. □ Everybody seems to be giving me the freeze. □ I got the freeze from Julie. What did I do wrong? 2. tv. to ignore someone; to give someone the cold shoulder. □ Don't freeze me, gang! I use a mouth wash! □ They froze him because he didn't send thank-you notes for his birthday presents. 3. in. to hold perfectly still. (Also a command given by a police officer that implies there is a gun pointed at a suspect.) □ I froze, and the bull didn't see me. □ The fuzz shouted, "Freeze, or you're dead meat!" freeze someone out 1. tv. to make it too cold for someone, usually by opening windows or through the use of air conditioning. (See also play freeze-out.) □ Turn up the heat unless you're trying to freeze us out. □ Are you trying to freeze out everybody? Close the door. 2. tv. to lock someone out socially. □ We didn't want to freeze you out. You failed to pay your dues, however. □ They froze out the newcomers.

freezing cold mod. very cold. □ It's freezing cold out there. □ I won't go out in freezing cold weather. □ Why does it have to be so freezing cold?

French 1. n. an act of oral sex. (Usually objectionable.) □ How much is a French at a cathouse like that? 2. mod. referring to oral sex. (Usually objectionable.) □ He tried some French stuff on her, and she nearly killed him. 3. tv. to perform oral sex on someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ He wanted her to French him. 4. tv. & in. to kiss someone using the tongue; to French kiss. □ We were Frenching when the teacher came in. □ I wouldn't French her on a bet!

French-fried-fuck Go to flying-fuck.

French kiss 1. n. kissing using the tongue; open-mouth kissing. □ What's French about a French kiss? □ I didn't know whether I was going to get a French kiss or a fish-kiss. 2. tv. to kiss someone using the tongue. □ Kids like to try to French kiss each other at an early age. It's part of growing up. □ He tried to French kiss me, but I stopped him.

fresh 1. mod. cheeky; impudent. □ Ken sure is fresh sometimes. □ Kids get some pretty fresh ideas. 2. mod. a little aggressive sexually; prone to caress too eagerly. □ Hey, buster! Don't get fresh with me! □ He got fresh, so I slapped him. 3. mod. cool; okay. □ Gee, that's not fresh. Too bad. □ That stuff's really fresh. It's a winner. 4. mod. good-looking. □ Wendy is fresh and smart too. □ Tom is fresh and buff.

fresh and sweet mod. just out of jail. (Streets.) □ Tracy is fresh and sweet and back on the street. □ Hey, Lefty, you look all fresh and sweet.

fresh as a daisy mod. someone who is always alert and ready to go. □ How can you be fresh as a daisy so early in the morning? □ I always feel fresh as a daisy.

fricking mod. lousy; damn. (A euphemism for fucking.) □ What a fricking mess you've made of this! □ Get the fricking hell out of here!

fridge [frɪdʒ] n. a refrigerator. □ Put this in the fridge so it won't spoil. □ What's in the fridge for dinner tonight?

fried mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (See also brain-burned; southern-fried.) □ How the hell did you get so fried? □ The chick got totally fried on three beers.

frig 1. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ Bob and Mary were in the back room frigging. 2. tv. to ruin something. □ Somebody frigged my rear bumper. □ Stop frigging my stereo!

frigging 1. mod. damnable. (A euphemism for fucking.) □ Who made this frigging mess? □ I smashed up my frigging car! 2. mod. damnably. □ What a frigging stupid thing to do! □ That is a dumb frigging thing to do!

Frisco ['frɪsko] n. San Francisco, California. (Objected to by residents of that city.) □ Have you ever been in Frisco? □ My cousin lives in Frisco.

friz [frɪz] n. a Frisbee™. □ If I could find my friz, we could go out and whirl a few. □ Whose friz is that in the tree?

fro Go to Afro.

frog face n. a nerd; a geek. (Especially as a rude term of address.) □ Look here, frog face, what makes you think you can talk to me that way? □ Wally is such a frog face. Does he take nerd classes or what?

frog slicing n. biology class; a biology course. (A dysphemism.) □ Dave dreaded going to frog slicing. The smell got to him. □ Mary found frog slicing to be interesting. She especially liked the study of conservation and ecology.

from A to Z mod. of a complete and wide variety. □ We have just about everything from A to Z. □ She ordered everything on the menu from A to Z.

from hunger Go to (strictly) from hunger.

from (the) git-go mod. from the very start. (See also git-go; jump (street).) □ This kind of thing has been a problem from the git-go. □ I warned you about this from git-go.

front 1. in. to pay out money in advance of receiving goods; to pay up front. (See also front money.) □ I fronted about $550 for the new computer. □ How much do you want her to front for this? 2. n. a respectable appearance. □ Jan can put up a good front, but most of us know the real Jan. □ The front she put up collapsed as she heard the bad news. 3. in. to pretend. □ Wendy, you are not real. You're just fronting all the time. □ Stop fronting and be yourself. 4. tv. to challenge someone; to confront someone, perhaps in anger. □ Don't front me unless you are ready for a fight. □ You better not front any of your teachers.

front man n. a respectable and well-known man who represents a less respectable person or organization. □ The former adviser now serves as a front man for a large foundation. □ The front man came out and made an announcement.

front money n. money paid in advance; earnest money. □ How much front money do you need? □ I put up a lot of front money and have nothing to show for it.

front off about something in. to be brash and resentful about something. □ Todd was fronting off about his assignment and got a detention for it. □ You will wish you hadn't fronted off about your supervisor.

front runner n. the leader; the person or thing most likely to win. □ The press found out some juicy secrets about the front runner and made them all public. □ Who is the front runner in the race for senator?

fronts n. clothing; a sports jacket. □ You got some good-looking fronts there. □ I need some new fronts.

froody ['frudi] mod. grand; wonderful. □ The curtains parted to the most froody, funky set I've ever seen. □ Man, is this froody! □ Oh, you have some froody ideas, all right. But can you carry them out?

frosh [frɒʃ] 1. n. a freshman. □ Ken is just a frosh, but he looks older. □ Get some frosh to do it for you. 2. mod. having to do with freshmen. □ The frosh dorm is full again this year. □ This is a frosh dance. You can't come in.

frost tv. to make someone angry. (See also frosted (over).) □ That really frosts me. □ The little car frosted me by zooming into my parking place.

frosted (over) mod. angry; annoyed. □ The clerk was really frosted over when I asked for a better one. □ Why was he so frosted?

frosty 1. AND frosty one n. a beer; a cold beer. □ Hey, toss me a frosty, will ya? □ I need a frosty one after all that work. 2. mod. cool; really cool and mellow. □ That music is really frosty. □ We had a frosty time, didn't we?

frosty one Go to frosty.

froth n. a beer. □ Would you like some froth? □ How about another pitcher of froth, innkeeper?

froyo n. frozen yogurt. □ Let's stop at the store and get some froyo.

fruit 1. n. a strange person. (Now overwhelmed by sense 2.) □ Ted is such a fruit. □ Sam comes on like a fruit, but it's just his sense of humor. 2. AND fruiter n. a homosexual person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Bob thinks that you-know-who is a fruit. □ Who's the fruiter who just came in?

fruitcake 1. n. a silly-acting person. (Also a term of address.) □ You can be such a silly fruitcake sometimes. □ Some fruitcake put salt in the sugar bowl. 2. n. a male homosexual. (Rude and derogatory. An elaboration of fruit.) □ We went into this bar, but it was filled with fruitcakes, so we left. 3. AND fruit loop n. a foolish oaf. (Someone who is as nutty as a fruitcake.) □ What a fruitcake! Doesn't even know where his head is at. □ Carl acts like such a loony fruit loop.

fruiter Go to fruit.

fruit loop Go to fruitcake.

fruity 1. mod. silly-acting. □ He's a fruity guy. Always silly and weird. □ Why are you acting so fruity? Not get enough sleep?

2. mod. in the style or manner of a male homosexual. (Usually objectionable.) □ The entertainers were sort of fruity, but other than that, the show was okay.

fry 1. in. to die in the electric chair. (Underworld.) □ The DA is determined that you will fry. □ I don't want to fry! 2. tv. to execute someone in the electric chair. (Underworld.) □ They're gonna fry you for this. □ Nobody's gonna fry Rocko!

fuck 1. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ They want to fuck all night. □ She fucked him all night. 2. n. an act of copulation. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ I need a fuck. 3. n. a person with whom one can copulate. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Man, he's a good fuck if I ever saw one. 4. n. semen. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Clean up that fuck before somebody sees it! 5. exclam. an exclamation of anger or exasperation. (Usually (Oh,) fuck! Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Fuck! The hell you do! □ Oh, fuck! I'm outa beer.

fuckable 1. mod. readily agreeable to copulation. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ About midnight, she got sorta fuckable, and then she fell asleep. □ Okay, sweetie. When you feel fuckable, call me. 2. mod. highly desirable for copulation. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Isn't he about the most fuckable hunk you've ever seen? 3. mod. suitable or acceptable for copulation. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ She is the most fuckable looking chick I have ever seen!

Fuck a dog! Go to Fuck a duck!

Fuck a duck! AND Fuck a dog! exclam. Oh, hell!, an expression of anger or distress. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Fuck a duck! I won't do it! □ Fuck a dog! You're outa your mind.

fuck around in. to waste time; to mess around. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Stop fucking around and get busy! □ She's always fucking around when she should be minding the store.

fuck around with someone 1. AND fuck someone around tv. & in. to harass or intimidate someone; to give someone a hard time. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Don't fuck around with me all the time! Give me a break. □ You fuck me around too much. I'm quitting! 2. in. to fiddle or toy with someone or something. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Please, don't fuck around with my stuff. □ It's just a little radio. Don't fuck around with it.

fuckathon n. serial copulation or sexual activity; an orgy. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ It was no honeymoon. It was a first-class fuckathon! □ What started out as a double date ended up as a fuckathon.

fuck-brained 1. mod. stupid; mindless. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ What a stupid, fuck-brained idea! □ I don't know why I'm stuck in this fuck-brained job. 2. mod. obsessed with sex. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ All he thinks about is dames. He is totally fuck-brained.

fuck bunny AND FB n. someone who just loves to copulate. (Usually a female. Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ She's a real fuck bunny, isn't she?

fucked out 1. mod. exhausted from copulation. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ They went at it until they were both fucked out. □ Poor old Chuck is fucked out just from looking at girlie magazines. 2. mod. totally exhausted from doing anything. (As exhausted as if one had been copulating excessively. Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Some fucked-out dude was lying on the floor, and another was collapsed on the chair.

fucked up mod. messed up; confused; ruined. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Man, are you fucked up! You need a vacation. □ This whole project is so fucked up, it'll take months to straighten out.

fucker 1. n. a male who copulates frequently or well. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ That guy is real fucker if I ever saw one. □ Tod thinks he's a big fucker. I think he's a big faker. 2. n. any male. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Tell that Goddamn fucker to get the hell out of here! □ Hey, Bill, you old fucker! How's it going? 3. n. the penis; the erect penis. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his little fucker and ran for the bedroom. 4. n. a female who is known to agree to copulate readily. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ She's a real fucker. □ I'm out to find me a real first-class fucker tonight.

fuckery AND fuck-house n. a brothel; a house of prostitution. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ This street is just one fuckery after another. □ That one on the right is the oldest fuck-house in town.

fuck-freak n. someone who is obsessed with copulation. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ She is a hot little fuck-freak, and she'll wear out any dude that takes her on. □ She's just another fuck-freak. A real FB.

fuckhead n. a stupid and obnoxious person. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Don't be such a fuckhead! Go back there and stand up for yourself! □ All right, fuckhead, get your stuff and get moving!

fuckheaded mod. stupid; senseless. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ You idiot! What a fuckheaded thing to do!

fuck-house Go to fuckery.

Fucking A! exclam. absolutely; totally absolutely. □ Q: Will you be at the concert? A: Fucking A! □ Is she good-looking? Fucking A, man!

fucking mod. damnable; lousy; cursed. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Get that fucking idiot out of here! □ Somebody had better clean up this fucking mess.

Fuck it (all)! exclam. Damn! (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Oh, fuck it all! I don't care what you do! □ Fuck it all! I broke my toe!

Fuck it! tv. To hell with it!; Forget it! (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Your idea is stupid. Fuck it! Try something else. □ You don't need your silly hat! Fuck it! Let's go!

fuck off 1. in. to masturbate. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Stop fucking off! You wanna get pimples? 2. in. to waste time. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Stop fucking off and get to work. □ He'd rather fuck off than do an honest day's work. 3. in. to go away; to get out of a place; to beat it. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ I told him to fuck off, but he still keeps hanging around.

fuck-shit n. a truly wretched and obnoxious person. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Get out of here you slimy fuck-shit!

fuck someone around Go to fuck around with someone.

fuck someone or something up tv. to mess someone or something up; to damage or ruin someone or something. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Please don't fuck my stereo up. ☒ You fuck up everything you get your hands on!

fuck someone over tv. to give someone a very hard time; to abuse someone physically or mentally; to cheat, deceive, or trick someone. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ The big guys fucked him over for a while and then let him go.

fuck someone's mind (up) tv. to confuse or disorient someone; [for a drug] to affect or destroy someone's mind. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ She's really fucked your mind up. I'd stay away from her if I were you. ☐ I don't know what this stuff is, but it really fucked my mind.

fuck up in. to mess up; to fail. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Don't fuck up this time or you're fired. ☐ You can count on him to fuck up.

fuck-up 1. n. a mess; a hopeless hodgepodge. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ When you went home yesterday, you left behind a first-class fuck-up. Now you can clean it up. ☐ Who's responsible for this fuck-up? 2. n. someone who does everything wrong; someone who messes everything up. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Poor Wille is such a fuck-up. What a mess he has made.

fuck with someone in. to cause trouble for someone; to threaten someone. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Don't fuck with me if you know what's good for you!

fuck with something in. to meddle with someone or something. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Stop fucking with the radio!

Fuck you! tv. Go to hell! (A very insulting curse. Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ Fuck you, you shit! ☐ Fuck you, if that's what you think.

fud Go to fuddy-duddy.

fuddy-duddy AND fud ['fʌdɪdʌdi AND fʌd] n. a stuffy person; an old-fashioned person, especially a male. ☐ Pay no attention to him. He's just an old fud. ☐ There seems to be a convention of fuddy-duddies in the park today.

fudge [fʌdʒ] 1. in. to cheat; to deceive (someone). ☐ Bill, you're fudging. Wait till the starting gun fires. ☐ No fair fudging! 2. n. nonsense; deception. ☐ Cut out the fudge and talk straight. ☐ I've heard enough of your fudge. Let's get honest, okay?

fudge factor n. a margin of error. ☐ I never use a fudge factor. I measure correctly, and I cut the material exactly the way I measured it. ☐ I built in a fudge factor of three inches.

fugly ['fʌgli] mod. fat and ugly. ☐ Man, is that dog of yours ever fugly! What or who did it eat? ☐ Have you every seen such a fugly car?

full blast mod. as strongly as possible. ☐ He honked the horn full blast for a long time. ☐ The whistle blew full blast and woke everyone up.

full of beans mod. full of nonsense; full of hot air. ☐ Oh, be quiet. You're just full of beans. ☐ Pay no attention to John. He's full of beans.

full of bull Go to full of hot air.

full of hops mod. full of nonsense. (As if one were full of beer, which contains hops.) ☐ Aw, you're just full of hops! ☐ The guy was full of hops. Nothing he said made any sense.

full of hot air AND full of bull; full of it mod. full of nonsense. ☐ You're full of hot air. I don't believe you. □ Aw, you're just full of it! Be quiet!

full of it Go to full of hot air; full of shit.

full of Old Nick Go to full of the devil.

full of prunes mod. full of nonsense. (See also full of beans.) □ You're just silly. Completely full of prunes. □ Oh, you're full of prunes. Get a life!

full of shit AND full of it mod. full of lies; stupid. (Usually objectionable.) □ You're full of shit, you liar! □ Don't pay any attention to her. She's full of it.

full of the devil AND full of Old Nick mod. always making mischief. □ Little Chuckie is sure full of the devil. □ In this weather, the kids are always full of Old Nick.

full sesh ['fʊl 'sɛʃ] mod. totally; completely. (California.) □ He was really out of it full sesh. □ It was a great game. They went at it full sesh the whole time.

full steam ahead mod. with determination. □ We started moving full steam ahead on the project. □ Full steam ahead! Let's see how fast this will go!

fun mod. pleasant; entertaining. □ We had a real fun time. □ His party was fun. □ What a fun evening!

fun and games n. nonsense; a waste of time. □ I've had enough fun and games. Let's get on with the business. □ You spend too much time with fun and games!

fungus Go to (face) fungus.

fungus-face n. a bearded man. (See also (face) fungus. See also fuzz-face.) □ Who's the fungus-face in the striped blazer? □ Hey, fungus-face! Who is that behind all the fuzz?

funk [fʌŋk] 1. n. a bad odor; a stench. □ What is that ghastly funk in here? □ Open the windows and clear out this funk. 2. n. tobacco smoke. □ The funk was so thick I couldn't see across the room. □ Most of those important decisions are made by party hacks in funk-filled back rooms. 3. n. a depressed state. □ I've been in such a funk that I can't get my work done. □ As soon as I get out of my winter funk, I'll be more helpful. 4. n. cowardice; terror. □ She suffers this terrible funk whenever she has to give a talk. □ The dog was in such a funk that it was crying. 5. n. a kind of blues rock; jazz based on gospel music. □ Man, groove on that funk, would ya? □ Now this is the kind of funk I've been looking for.

funked out mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Do you think you can go through life funked out all the time? □ Are you funked out again?

funking mod. damnable. (Euphemistic for fucking. Usually objectionable.) □ Who put this funky milk crate in the hall? □ Get the funkying hell out of here.

funky AND phunky 1. mod. strange; far out. □ I like your funky hat. □ Is he funky? □ He's such a funky guy. 2. mod. basic and simple; earthy. □ Everything she does is so funky. □ I like to be around funky people. 3. mod. smelly; obnoxious. □ Get your funky old socks outa here. □ This place is really funky. Open some windows. 4. mod. unkempt. □ Your hair is sort of funky. Comb it. □ John's room is funky and disorganized.

funky-drunk mod. alcohol intoxicated; stinking drunk. □ The guy is funky-drunk, and I think he's going to be sick. □ Wow, is she ever funky-drunk!

funky-fresh mod. very good. (See also fresh.) □ This tune is funky-fresh—to my ears anyway. □ Mary is funky-fresh when she works out, but a real slow runner when she's been lazy.

funny business Go to monkey business.

funny farm n. an insane asylum; a psychiatric hospital. □ He's really weird. They're going to send him to the funny farm.

funny-money n. any substitute money: counterfeit money, military script, etc. □ I don't want any funny-money. Real U.S. greenbacks or forget the deal. □ Who'll change my funny-money back to bucks?

fur n. the police. (See also fuzz.) □ I think the fur is onto you, Rocko. □ The fur ain't never gonna get Rocko.

furball Go to hairball.

furphy ['fəfi] n. a groundless rumor. □ I heard a furphy about you yesterday. □ Who started that furphy anyway?

fuse box n. the head; the brain. □ I'm afraid she's missing a little something in the fuse box. □ Jed acts like his fuse box is completely blown.

fussbudget ['fəsbdʒət] n. someone who fusses all the time, especially a baby. □ Oh, Gary, don't be such a fussbudget. □ He is such a fussbudget. Get him a passy.

futz Go to putz.

futz around Go to putz around.

fuzz [fəz] 1. AND fuzz man; fuzzy (tail) n. the police; a jail keeper; a detective. □ The fuzz is onto you. □ See if you can distract the fuzz man while I lift his keys. 2. AND fuzzle in. to get drunk. □ They were just sitting there fuzzling away the day. □ Stop fuzzing and listen.

fuzzed AND fuzzled; fuzzy mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ You are too fuzzed all the time to hold the job. Pack! □ Why do you come home every night fuzzled?

fuzz-face n. a man with a beard. (See also fungus-face.) □ Hey, fuzz-face, come here a minute. □ A couple of fuzz-faces came in and asked for mustache wax.

fuzzle Go to fuzz.

fuzzled Go to fuzzed.

fuzz man Go to fuzz.

fuzz station n. a police station. □ He had to spend about an hour at the fuzz station, but nothing happened to him. □ Drop by the fuzz station and pick up a copy of the driving rules.

fuzzword n. a confusing term usually meant to obscure meaning. (See also buzzword.) □ The current crop of fuzzwords contains a few that have come back from the twenties. □ Don't sling those fuzzwords at me!

fuzzy Go to fuzzed.

fuzzy (tail) Go to fuzz.

FWIW interj. for what it's worth. (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ FWIW, I understand exactly what you are saying. □ I think you are just too sensitive, FWIW.

F-word n. the word fuck. (A euphemism that can be used to refer to the word alone without reference to the various meanings of the word.) □ They said the F-word seven times in the movie we saw last night. □ What's so bad about the F-word?

G

G 1. n. guy. ☐ What's up, G? ☐ Tom's a real chilled out G. 2. interj. grin. (An initialism used on computer forum or news groups to show that the writer is grinning or happy. Usually, <G>. Not pronounced.) ☐ I guess you are not interested in what I was saying to you. <G> ☐ When are you going to learn to spell? <G> 3. Go to grand.

gab [gæb] 1. in. to chatter; to gossip. ☐ Can you stop gabbing just for a minute? ☐ We like to gab. Leave us alone. 2. n. mindless chatter; gossip. ☐ I like to listen in on other people's gab. ☐ Enough of this gab—on with the show!

gabfest ['gæbfɛst] n. an event where much chattering or gossip takes place. ☐ There's a gabfest going on in Clare's room. ☐ Say, your gabfest is a little loud.

gabmeister n. a talk show host or hostess. ☐ Todd Remington, a late night gabmeister, startled his audience by suddenly walking off stage. ☐ There are so many of these gabmeisters that I can hardly keep them straight.

gab room n. a women's restroom where women are said to chatter. ☐ She went to the gab room to powder her nose. ☐ There was a small commotion in the gab room.

gaffer ['gæfə] n. an old man; a rustic old man. (From grandfather.) ☐ Nobody out there but some old gaffer with a cane. ☐ The old gaffer smiled and moved on.

gaffle tv. to steal something. ☐ Somebody gaffled my bike!

gaffled ['gæfld] mod. arrested. ☐ Fred got himself gaffled for speeding. ☐ I can just picture Fred gaffled and acting all humble.

gag [gæg] 1. in. to retch or choke, especially with much noise. (Standard English.) ☐ The food was so horrible I almost gagged on it. ☐ Don't eat so fast. You'll gag. 2. n. a joke; a trick. ☐ She tells the best gags. ☐ What a great gag! Everybody will love it.

gaga ['gaga] 1. mod. crazy; eccentric. ☐ Sometimes you are so gaga! ☐ Sally is just naturally gaga. 2. mod. dazzled. ☐ The family was gaga about my success. ☐ Tom was totally gaga after he got promoted.

galloping dandruff Go to walking dandruff.

galumph (around) [gə'lʌmpf...] in. to walk around; to schlep around. ☐ I spent all day galumphing around, looking for a present for Ted. ☐ Stop galumphing long enough to eat some dinner.

game mod. willing to do something. ☐ Is anybody game for some pizza? ☐ I'm game, what about you?

game plan n. a plan of action; a scheme. (From sports.) ☐ The game plan for the election was beginning to shape up. ☐ Our game plan had to be scrapped.

game time n. time to go do what has to be done; time to go to work. (From sports.) ☐ Okay, gang, let's get going. It's game time. ☐ Will this report be ready by game time?

gams [gæmz] n. a woman's legs, especially if attractive. ☐ Is she the one with the gorgeous gams? ☐ Look at the gams on that chick!

gander n. a look. ☐ Let me take a gander at it and see if it's done right. ☐ We should all take a gander to see what one is like.

gang-bang 1. AND gang-shag n. an act of serial copulation, with one female and a group of males. □ It was nothing but a gang-bang, and a drunken one at that. □ Old Sally used to like a good gang-shag every now and then. 2. AND gang-shag n. group rape of a woman. □ There was another gang-bang in the park last week. 3. in. & in. to perform an act of serial copulation, as in senses 1 or 2. □ A bunch of guys gang-banged Sally, for a fee, of course. 4. tv. & in. to gang up on someone or something. □ They looked like they were going to gang-bang me. □ They're always gang-banging. The punks!

gangbanger n. a member of a street gang.

□ The gangbangers threatened the old lady too often, and finally she pulled out a can of mace and gave them a little lesson in good manners. □ Unless you want to grow up to be a gangbanger, you'd better go to school every day.

gangbusters ['gænbəstəz] n. a wild, busy, and successful event. (See also like gangbusters.) □ Our party was truly gangbusters, for sure. □ The explosion and fire two streets over was really gangbusters for a while.

gang-shag Go to gang-bang.

gank tv. to steal something. □ Who ganked my bike!

GAPO ['gæpo] n. giant armpit odor; a bad underarm odor. □ Who's got the GAPO? □ That cab driver really has the GAPO.

garbage 1. n. nonsense; gibberish. □ He's just talking garbage. □ I've heard too much garbage here today. 2. n. jumbled computer code. □ All I get is garbage on the screen. □ If you put garbage into the computer, you'll get garbage out.

garbage freak AND garbagehead n. an addict who will take any drug. (Drugs.) □ We don't know what she took. She was such a garbage freak. □ The garbageheads will take beans or anything else.

garbagehead Go to garbage freak.

garbage mouth n. someone who uses obscene language. □ Quiet, garbage mouth! Watch your language. □ Who's the garbage mouth making all the noise?

garbage something down tv. to gobble something up; to bolt something down. □ Don't garbage your food down! □ That guy will garbage down almost anything.

garbanzos n. a woman's breasts. (Usually objectionable.) □ Look at the splendid garbanzos on that chick!

gargle 1. in. to drink liquor. □ They sat and gargled for an hour or two. □ Let's go out and gargle for a while. 2. n. liquor; a drink of liquor. □ You want some more gargle? □ Pour me a little of that gargle, if you please.

gargle factory n. a saloon; a tavern. □ Gary spends a lot of time at the gargle factory. □ He should open his own gargle factory.

gargler n. a drinker; a drunkard. □ You are going to turn into a gargler if you don't let up on your drinking. □ Some old gargler froze to death last night.

gas 1. n. intestinal gas. □ The baby has gas and will cry for a while longer. □ I'm not too well, but I think it's just gas. 2. n. nonsense. □ All we got in class today was gas. □ Hey, that's about enough of your gas. 3. in. to talk nonsense; to brag. (See also gasbag.) □ Pay no attention. She's just gassing. □ Stop gassing for a minute and listen. 4. in. to have a good time. □ We gassed all evening. □ Let's go out and gas tonight, how about it? 5. AND gasser n. a joke; a prank; a wild time. □ The party was a gas. □ What a gas! I had a great time. 6. n. liquor, especially inferior liquor. □ You want some more gas? □ Pour me a little more of that gas, will you? 7. AND gas up in. to drink excessively; to get drunk. □ Let's go out and gas up! □ I come home every night and find that you've been gassing all day.

gasbag n. a braggart. □ What's the old gasbag going on about now? □ Harry is such a gasbag when he gets going about himself.

gas-guzzler n. a large automobile that uses much gasoline. □ I got rid of my gas-guzzler and got a smaller car. □ The old gas-guzzlers were certainly comfortable.

gash n. the female genitals; the vulva. (Usually objectionable.) □ He thought he could see her gash through her swimming suit.

gash bucket n. a refuse bucket; a bucket used as a urinal. (Underworld and military.) □ Don't kick over the gash bucket over there! □ Why don't you go dump the gash bucket?

gas-passer n. a jocular nickname for an anesthetist. (Hospitals.) □ My gosh! The gas-passer charged almost as much as the surgeon. □ The gas-passer put a needle in my arm.

gassed (up) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Fred is gassed up and very wobbly. □ He was too gassed up to drive home.

gasser Go to gas.

gas up Go to gas.

gat n. a handgun; a revolver. (Old.) □ Willie kept his gat in his pocket when the cops walked up.

the gate n. a forced exit; sending (someone) away. (See also give someone the gate.) □ I could see in his eyes that it was the gate for me. □ I got the gate, but I was going to leave anyway.

gaucho ['gaʊtʃo] tv. & in. to expose the buttocks (at someone), usually through a car window; to moon. □ Victor gauched the cops as they went by. □ Victor would gauch at the drop of a hat—so to speak.

gay as pink ink mod. having to do with an obviously homosexual person, usually a male. □ Who said Ron's as gay as pink ink? □ These two guys—as gay as pink ink—came in together.

gazinkus AND gazunkus [gə'zɪŋkəs AND gə'zəŋkəs] n. a gadget. □ Where is the gazinkus I use for opening paint cans? □ Is this the little gazunkus you were looking for?

gazizzey AND gazob [gə'zɪzi AND gə'zəb] n. a fool. □ What gazizzey put the sugar in the salt shaker? □ Don't call me a gazob!

gazob Go to gazizzey.

gazoo [gə'zu] n. the buttocks; the anus. □ He fell down flat, smack on his gazoo. □ Look at the monstrous gazoo on that guy.

gazoony [gə'zuni] n. a bully or strong-arm man. (Underworld.) □ Bruno didn't like being called a gazoony, although that is what he is. □ A couple of gazoones stood outside looking menacing.

gazumph [gə'zʌmpf] 1. tv. to raise the price of a house after it is sold. □ They tried to gazumph the price at the closing. □ I just knew that the owner was going to gazumph the final figure. 2. tv. to subject someone to the raising of the price of a house after it is sold. □ They tried to gazumph me! □ If they try to gazumph you, tell them to forget the deal.

gazunkus Go to gazinkus.

GBed ['dʒi'bid] mod. goofballed; drug intoxicated. (Initialism. Drugs.) □ Pete is GBed again. □ Gert got GBed fairly often before the accident.

GBG interj. a great big grin. (An initialism used on computer forum or news groups to show that the writer is grinning, joking, or happy. Not pronounced. Often enclosed, <GBG>.) □ I think you are just talking nonsense. <GBG> □ You are such a kook! <GBG> gear 1. mod. excellent. □ This jazz is really gear! □ Man, what a gear pizza! 2. n. an asterisk (*). □ Why is there a gear after this word? □ The gear stands for anything you want it to stand for.

gee [dʒi] 1. n. a portion of liquor, a gallon or a single drink. □ You want another gee of this booze? □ How about a gee for me? 2. exclam. Wow! (An abbreviation of Jesus!, although not always recognized as such. Usually Gee!) □ Gee! What a mess! □ Golly gee, do I have to? 3. mod. gross; disgusting. (The initial letter of gross.) □ This is just too gee! □ Tiffany is acting way gee lately. 4. Go to grand.

geedunk [gi'dəŋk OR 'gidəŋk] n. ice cream. □ Let's go out and get some geedunk for dessert. □ Pineapple on chocolate geedunk? Yuck!

geedus Go to geetis.

geegaw AND gewgaw; googaw ['gigə AND 'gugə] n. a gadget; a bauble. □ Now that's a cute little geegaw. □ What do you do with these gewgaws? Hang them on a tree?

geek AND geke 1. n. a disgusting and repellent person; a creep. (Rude and derogatory.) □ The convention was a seething morass of pushy sales geeks and glad-handers. □ Who's the geek who just came in? 2. n. an earnest student; a hard-working student. (Usually objectionable.) □ Martin is a geek, but he will go places with his brains. □ It looks like the geeks are taking over this campus. How gross! 3. n. a person, soldier, or civilian of an East Asian country, especially in wartime. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Wally is tired of geeks and the way they talk.

geekazoid ['gikəzɔɪd] n. a social outcast; a nerd. □ Don't be such a geekazoid! □ If you weren't such a geekazoid, I'd be surprised at the dumb things you do!

geek-chic ['gik'fɪk] mod. stylish or fashionable only for social outcasts. (See also geek.) □ Tom is the guy who always wears the tacky geek-chic jacket. □ Why do you have to buy all this geek-chic stuff? Don't they give it away somewhere?

geekdom n. the realm of the hard-studying students or geeks. □ This dorm is not exactly geekdom. Almost all the guys here are on academic probation. □ I spent all last semester in the hallowed halls of geekdom, studying my buns off.

geek out in. to study hard. (See also geek.) □ Big test tomorrow. I've got to get home and geek out. □ Bill's a geekazoid. He geeks out all the time.

Geesh! [giʃ] exclam. Good grief! (Shows shock and disgust.) □ What a mess! Geesh! □ Geesh! I love my work but hate my job!

geetis AND geedus; geetus ['gidəs] n. money. □ That kind of car takes a lot of geetis, doesn't it? □ I don't have the geetis to throw around on something like that.

geetus Go to geetis.

geezer ['gizə] 1. n. a strange old man; a buzzard. □ Who's the old geezer with the straw hat on? □ He is a nice geezer, but a little talkative. 2. n. a drink of liquor. □

Toss down a geezer of this stuff and see how you like it. □ Can I have another geezer of this firewater?

geke Go to geek.

gel [dʒel] in. to relax and let one's hair down. □ I've got to go home and gel for a while. Things are too stressful just now. □ If I don't get to gel a little every day, I tend to fall apart.

gender-bender 1. n. a device that changes electrical plugs or sockets to the opposite gender—male to female, female to male. □ You need what's called a gender-bender to match those plugs. □ I tried a gender-bender, but it won't work. 2. mod. having to do with something that obscures male/female distinctions. □ Those gender-bender hairstyles can be confusing. □ He always wears gender-bender clothes.

generic [dʒə'nɛrɪk] mod. cheap; plain; undesirable. □ I don't want any old generic car, I want something with power and good looks. □ This cereal is generic. It has no taste at all. □ This pizza is completely generic. I can't stand it.

genuine article ['dʒɛnjəwən 'ɑrtɪkl] OR 'dʒɛn'ju'wɔɪn 'ɑrtɪkl] n. the real thing rather than a substitute. □ Is this the genuine article or some cheap made-in-U.S.A. substitute? □ I'll take the genuine article, thanks.

george 1. tv. & in. to copulate [with] a woman. (Usually objectionable.) □ He was in the back room georging some dame. 2. in. to defecate. (Usually objectionable.) □ Man, I gotta george!

GERK AND gerk [gə'k] n. an elderly simpleton; an old nerd. (Acronym. From geriatric and jerk.) □ Old man Johnson is a real GERK—ill-tempered and rude. □ A couple of gerks sat on the park bench, snoozing.

German goiter Go to Milwaukee goiter.

Geronimo! [dʒə'rənəmo] exclam. Here I go! (Originally said by parachutists leaving a plane. From Spanish for Jerome.) □ There's my cue. Geronimo! □ Here goes nothing. Geronimo!

get a bang out of someone or something AND get a kick out of someone or something tv. to get a thrill from someone or something. ☐ I always get a bang out of her jokes. ☐ She gets a kick out of her grandchildren.

get a buzz out of someone or something tv. to get some humor from someone or something. (See also give someone a buzz.) ☐ I thought you'd get a buzz out of that gag. ☐ I hope you get a buzz out of Ted. He's a funny guy.

get a can on tv. to get drunk. (See also tie one on.) ☐ Let's go out tonight and get a can on. ☐ The entire office staff got a can on to celebrate the contract.

get a fix AND get a gift tv. to buy drugs; to take a dose of drugs. (Drugs.) ☐ Gert had to get home and get a fix. ☐ What did Tracy mean when she said she had to get a gift fast?

get a gift Go to get a fix.

get a kick out of someone or something Go to get a bang out of someone or something.

Get a life! exclam. Change your life radically! (See also Get real!) ☐ You are such a twit! Get a life! ☐ Get a life, you clown!

get a load off one's feet AND take a load off one's feet tv. to sit down and relax. ☐ Sit down and get a load off your feet. ☐ Take a load off your feet and have a drink.

get a load off one's mind tv. to say what one is thinking; to speak one's mind; to talk something out. ☐ I'm sorry, but I just had to get a load off my mind. ☐ I think you'll feel better after you get a load off your mind.

get a load of something or someone tv. to look at someone or something. ☐ Wow, get a load of Fred! ☐ Get a load of the chrome on that set of wheels!

get an eyeball on someone or something tv. to manage to spot someone or something; to catch sight of someone or something. ☐ When I finally got an eyeball on the speeding car, it was too far away for me to read the license plate. ☐ When

Jane first got an eyeball on her blind date, she almost cringed in disappointment.

get a toehold tv. to work one's way into some association or relationship. ☐ As soon as I get a toehold in the company, I'll be more relaxed. ☐ Once he gets a toehold, you'll never get rid of him.

Get away! ['get ə'we] exclam. Stop being a pest!; I don't believe you! ☐ Don't bother me! Get away! ☐ Get away! Nobody is that stupid!

getaway ['getəwe] 1. n. an escape from the law. (Originally underworld.) ☐ Lefty made a quick getaway. ☐ There was no time to make a getaway, so we had to talk to Mrs. Wilson. 2. n. a quick vacation. ☐ We took a little getaway to the Bahamas. ☐ What you need is a weekend getaway.

Get a wiggle on! exclam. Hurry up! ☐ Get a wiggle on! We don't have all day! ☐ Hey, you guys! Get a wiggle on! We gotta finish before nightfall.

get behind someone or something in. to support someone or something. ☐ Let's all get behind the party in the next election. ☐ Everybody got behind Todd and cheered him on.

get behind something in. to enjoy something, such as a drug or music. (Originally drugs.) ☐ I'm really getting behind heavy metal. ☐ Sam got behind some acid and got stuck there.

Get cracking! exclam. Get moving!; Get started!; Hurry up! ☐ Hurry up! Get cracking!

get down 1. in. to lay one's money on the table. (Gambling.) ☐ Okay, everybody get down. ☐ Get down, and let's get going! 2. in. to concentrate; to do something well. ☐ I'm flunking two subjects, man. I gotta get down. ☐ Come on, Sam, pay attention. Get down and learn this stuff. 3. in. to copulate. ☐ Hey, let's get down! ☐ All Steve wants to do is get down all the time. 4. in. to dance. ☐ Whenever I hear that band, I really want to get down.

get down on someone in. to be critical of someone; to get on someone's case.

☐ Don't get down on me. I didn't do it! ☐ I'm gonna get down on him for that.

get down to some serious drinking in. to settle down to a long session of drinking. ☐ Well, now we can get down to some serious drinking. ☐ When the kids go to bed, let's get down to some serious drinking.

get down to the nitty-gritty in. to get down to the basic facts. (See also nitty-gritty.) ☐ Stop messing around and get down to the nitty-gritty. ☐ If we could only get down to the nitty-gritty and stop wasting time.

get face tv. to gain respect; to increase one's status. (The opposite of lose face.) ☐ He's doing his best in life to get face. ☐ Let's do something to help her get face.

get hot 1. in. to begin to get lucky, as in gambling. ☐ I knew I was getting hot when I got all the right cards. ☐ If I could only get hot, I might win back everything I lost. 2. in. to become busy or hectic. ☐ Things always get hot around here toward the end of the month. ☐ When things start getting hot, we have to hire more people.

get in bad (with someone) in. to get into trouble with someone. ☐ I tried not to get in bad with Wally. ☐ We got in bad with each other from the start.

get in on the act in. to become involved in something with someone else. (The involvement is not necessarily welcome.) ☐ Everybody wants to get in on the act. ☐ Why are you trying to get in on the act?

get in someone's face in. to provoke someone. ☐ Ted's a real pain. He likes to get in your face. He'll argue about anything. ☐ I know you are angry, but don't get in my face. I had nothing to do with it.

get in the groove in. to become attuned to something. ☐ I was uncomfortable at first, but now I'm beginning to get in the groove. ☐ Fred began to get in the groove, and things went more smoothly.

get in(to) someone's pants in. to manage to copulate with a certain female; to seduce a female. (Usually objectionable.)

☐ Are you sure you don't just want to get into my pants?

get into something in. to become deeply involved with something. ☐ I got into computers when I was in junior high school. ☐ When did you get into foreign films?

get it 1. tv. to understand a joke; to understand a point of information. ☐ Sorry. I don't get it. ☐ Don't you get it? 2. tv. to get punished. ☐ I just know I'm going to get it when I get home. ☐ You're going to get it all right!

get it (all) together tv. to get oneself organized; to get mentally adjusted. ☐ When I get it together, I'll try to go back to school. ☐ Try to get it all together and come back to work next week, okay?

get it in the neck tv. to receive something bad, such as punishment or criticism. (See also pain in the neck.) ☐ You are going to get it in the neck for that remark. ☐ Jimmy was afraid he'd get it in the neck for being late.

get it off tv. to ejaculate; to achieve sexual release; to copulate. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Harry kept saying he had to get it off or die. What's wrong with Harry? ☐ The entire crew of the yacht came ashore to get it off.

get it on 1. tv. to begin something. ☐ Time to go back to work. Let's get it on! ☐ Get it on, you guys! Time to start your engines.

2. tv. to begin dancing. ☐ Let's go out there and get it on! ☐ He wanted to get it on, but my feet hurt. 3. tv. [for people] to copulate. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Come on, baby, let's get it on. ☐ I don't want to get it on with you or any other creep. 4. tv. to undertake to enjoy oneself. ☐ I can really get it on with that slow jazz.

☐ Let's go listen to some new age and get it on. 5. tv. to get an erection; to become sexually aroused. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ He's too tired to get it on.

get it out tv. to tell (someone) about a problem; to pour out one's grief. ☐ Come on, get it out. You'll feel better. ☐ He would feel better if he could get it out.

get it up 1. tv. to get an erection of the penis. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ He's so drunk all the time, he can hardly get it up.
2. tv. to get excited about something. ☐ I just couldn't get it up about going off to college.

get lip tv. to get some kissing; to neck. (Teens.) ☐ Jim's been out getting lip again. Look at the lipstick. ☐ These kids talk about getting lip. Ye gods, how crude!

Get lost! exclam. Go away!; Beat it! ☐ Get lost, you're bothering me! ☐ Quit following me. Get lost!

get mad (at something) in. to muster great physical strength and determination in order to do something. ☐ You're gonna have to get mad at it if you want to move it. ☐ Come on, you guys. Get mad.

Get my drift? Go to (Do you) get my drift?

get naked in. to enjoy oneself thoroughly; to relax and enjoy oneself. ☐ Let's all go out and get naked tonight. ☐ Man, I feel like getting naked tonight.

get narkied [...'narkid] in. to inject drugs; to become addicted. (Drugs.) ☐ Rocko only got narkied once in his life. ☐ Gert couldn't wait to get narkied.

get nowhere fast in. to make very poor progress. ☐ We are getting nowhere fast around here. ☐ I'm getting nowhere fast in this job. I quit.

get off 1. in. to reach an understanding with someone. (Not slang.) ☐ We just weren't getting off well at all. ☐ How well do you get off with Ralph? 2. Go to get off (on something).

Get off it! Go to Come off it!

Get off my ass! AND Get off my tail! Get off my back! exclam. Leave me alone!; Stop following me!; Stop dogging me! (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Stop pestering me! Get off my ass! ☐ If you don't get off my back, I'm gonna slug you!

Get off my back! Go to Get off my ass!

Get off my bumper! 1. exclam. Stop following my car so closely! ☐ Don't follow me so close! Get off my bumper! 2. exclam. Stop monitoring me!; Get off my back!

☐ Look, man. I can take care of myself. Get off my bumper!

Get off my tail! Go to Get off my ass!

get off one's rear in. to get up and get busy. ☐ It's time to get off your rear and get to work. ☐ Hey, Chuck, get off your rear! There's work to be done.

get off (on something) 1. in. to get pleasure from something; to become sexually aroused by something. ☐ I don't get off on music anymore. ☐ I listen, but I just don't get off. 2. in. to take a drug and experience a rush. (Drugs.) ☐ Max likes to get off, but he's got his business to run. ☐ Tracy likes getting off better than anything else. 3. in. to do well in something. ☐ Wayne is getting off on history, much to everyone's surprise. ☐ Bill got off on fixing up his car, and I may let him do mine too.

get off someone's back AND get off someone's case in. to stop annoying someone. (Compare this with get on someone's case.) ☐ I wish you'd get off my back. ☐ Get off my case! You aren't my mother.

get off someone's case Go to get off someone's back.

get off the dime in. [for something or someone] to start moving. (To get off the dime that one stopped on in stop on a dime.) ☐ I wish this organization could get off the dime. ☐ If this project gets off the dime, we'll be okay.

get one right here tv. to affect one deeply in a specific way. (Usually accompanied with a hand gesture showing exactly where one is affected: the heart = lovingly, the stomach or bowels = sickeningly.) ☐ That sort of thing gets me right here. ☐ Pete clasped his hand to his chest and said, "That sort of thing gets me right here."

get one's act together AND get one's shit together; get one's stuff together 1. tv. to organize oneself; to get one's possessions organized. (Use caution with shit.) ☐ Let me get my act together, and I'll be right with you. ☐ I'll get my stuff together and be right with you. 2. AND get one's head together tv. to calm down and get mentally organized. (Use caution with shit.) □ As soon as I get my head together, I can be of more help. □ Get your act together and start living again.

get one's bowels in an uproar tv. to become overly anxious or excited. □ Cool it! Don't get your bowels in an uproar. □ Fred's always getting his bowels in an uproar about nothing.

get one's head together Go to get one's act together.

get one's hooks into someone tv. [for a woman] to succeed in "capturing" a specific man. (Older.) □ She just can't wait to get her hooks into Chuck. □ When she got her hooks into him, she decided he wasn't so great after all.

get one's hooks into something tv. to get a hold of something; to gain control of something. □ I want to get my hooks into the operation of this organization. □ If I could get my hooks into the control of the company, I would change things for the better.

get one's kicks (from someone or something) tv. to get pleasure from someone or something. □ Do you get your kicks from this sort of thing? □ I get my kicks from Billy Simpson. What a great entertainer!

get one's knob polished tv. to copulate or otherwise have sex. (Refers to a male. Usually objectionable.) □ Man, if you want to get your knob polished, just let me know. I got girls! I got girls you wouldn't believe!

get one's lumps tv. to get the result or punishment one deserves. (See also take one's lumps.) □ If she keeps acting that way, she'll get her lumps. □ We will see that Dave gets his lumps.

get one's nose cold tv. to snort cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Bart is always ready to get his nose cold. □ Rocko has never gotten his nose cold in his life.

get one's nose out of joint tv. to feel slighted by something someone has done; to take offense at something. (See also put someone's nose out of joint.) □ You get your nose out of joint too easily about stuff like that. □ Now, don't get your nose out of joint. She didn't mean it.

get one's nuts off Go to get one's rocks off.

get one's rocks off AND get one's nuts off tv. [for a male] to copulate or ejaculate. (Usually objectionable.) □ He went into town to get his nuts off.

get one's rocks off (on something) tv. to enjoy something. (See also get one's rocks off.) □ I really get my rocks off on heavy metal. □ I've listened to the stuff, but I sure don't get my rocks off on it.

get one's shit together Go to get one's act together.

get one's stuff together Go to get one's act together.

get one's tail somewhere fast! AND get one's tail somewhere now!; get one's tail somewhere immediately! tv. to move oneself to a particular place fast. □ You get your tail over here immediately! □ Tell him to get his tail over here now.

get one's tail somewhere immediately! Go to get one's tail somewhere fast!

get one's tail somewhere now! Go to get one's tail somewhere fast!

get one's teeth into something AND sink one's teeth into something tv. to undertake to do something. □ I can't wait to sink my teeth into that Wallace job. □ Here, sink your teeth into this and see if you can't manage this project.

get one's ticket punched tv. to die; to be killed. (Literally, to be cancelled.) □ Poor Chuck got his ticket punched while he was waiting for a bus. □ Watch out there, or you'll get your ticket punched.

get one's wings tv. to use heavy drugs for the first time; to succeed in becoming a drug addict. (Drugs.) □ Gert got her wings after fiddling around with stuff for a long time. □ Bart got his wings at about age twelve.

get on one's horse in. to prepare to leave. □ It's late. I have to get on my horse.

get on someone's case in. to start harassing someone about a personal problem; to annoy someone. (Compare this with get off someone's case.) ☐ I'll get on Tom's case about being late so much. ☐ I'm sorry, I won't get on your case anymore.

get on the stick in. to get organized and get busy. ☐ Get on the stick and get this job done! ☐ Come on, you guys. Let's get on the stick!

get out of Dodge in. to leave a place. (Refers to Dodge City, Kansas, and a catchphrase from Western entertainment adventures about this town.) ☐ Come on, G. Let's get out of Dodge. ☐ Things are looking bad here. It's time to get out of Dodge.

Get out of here! exclam. You are just kidding me!; You are making that up! ☐ Get out of here! That can't be true!

Get out of my face! exclam. Stop arguing with me!; Stand back! Don't confront me with your arguments and challenges! (See also get in someone's face.) ☐ Beat it! Get out of my face! ☐ Get outa my face if you know what's good for you.

Get out of town! exclam. Beat it!; Get out of here! ☐ Go away, you bother me! Get out of town! ☐ You'd better get out of town, my friend. You are a pest.

get (out) while the gettin(g)'s good AND get (out) while the goin's good in. to leave while it is still safe or possible to do so. ☐ I could tell that it was time for me to get while the gettin's good. ☐ I told her she should get out while the goin's good.

get (out) while the goin's good Go to get (out) while the gettin(g)'s good.

Get real! exclam. Start acting realistically! (See also Get a life!) ☐ Hey, chum! You are way off base! Get real! ☐ Get real! Wake up to reality!

get right Go to get straight.

get smart (with someone) in. to become fresh with someone; to talk back to someone. ☐ Don't you get smart with me! ☐ If you get smart again, I'll bop you.

get someone going tv. to get someone excited; to get someone talking excitedly. ☐ I guess I really got him going on the subject of politics. ☐ The whole business really makes me mad. Don't get me going.

get someone's goat tv. to irritate someone. ☐ Don't let Mary get your goat. She's just irritable today. ☐ Everybody seems to be getting my goat today.

get someone's motor running 1. tv. to get someone excited. ☐ What'll I have to do to get your motor running about algebra? ☐ *I've got some news that'll really get your motor running. 2. tv. to get someone sexually aroused. ☐ She knows how to get his motor running. ☐ *It's funny how that wild music gets her motor running.

get some shut-eye tv. to get some sleep. ☐ I need to get home and get some shut-eye before I do anything else. ☐ We all could use some shut-eye.

get something going (with someone) tv. to start a romance with someone. ☐ Heidi wants to get something going with Pete. ☐ Mary and Sam got something going.

get some yokes on tv. to build up one's muscles. (Bodybuilding.) ☐ If I keep working at this, I know I can get some yokes on.

get straight AND get right in. to take a dose of a drug to end drug craving. (Drugs.) ☐ Gert needed a fix to get straight. ☐ I need to get right before anything else.

get stupid in. to become intoxicated; to make oneself alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ Garth had the habit of going out and getting stupid every Friday night. ☐ It's been one totally screwed up week. I think I'll just stay home tonight and get stupid.

get the ax Go to get the sack.

get the drop on someone 1. tv. to succeed in getting an advantage over someone. ☐ I guess I got the drop on you because I was early. ☐ *I got the drop on almost everybody by sending in my registration by mail. 2. tv. [for person A] to manage to get a gun aimed at person B* before person B can aim back at person A. (The gun is then dropped by person B.) □ Rocko got the drop on Bart in a flash. □ Max was too stoned to get the drop on Rocko.

get the goods on someone tv. to uncover incriminating evidence against someone. □ The fuzz has the goods on Mr. Big. □ The IRS tried to get the goods on Rocko, but Rocko knows all the angles.

Get the lead out! exclam. Get moving!; Hurry up! (Crude. It is assumed that one has bowels full of lead.) □ Come on, you turkeys. Get the lead out! □ Shake the lead out! I want it done today, not next week.

Get the message? AND Get the picture? interrog. Do you understand?; Are you able to figure out what is meant? □ Things are tough around here, and we need everyone's cooperation. Get the picture? □ We don't need lazy people around here. Get the message?

get the nod tv. to be chosen. (See also give someone the nod.) □ Fred got the nod for class treasurer. □ I hope I get the nod for the job.

Get the picture? Go to Get the message?

get there in. to get drunk. □ Another hour of drinking and Pete knew he was going to get there. □ Those guys have all got there. Now what?

get the sack AND get the ax tv. to be dismissed from one's employment. □ Poor Tom got the sack today. He's always late. □ I was afraid that Sally was going to get the ax.

get the show on the road tv. to get (something) started. □ Let's get started! Get the show on the road! □ Get the show on the road. We don't have all day.

Getting any? interrog. Have you been having any sexual activity? (An inquiry or greeting between some males. Usually objectionable.) □ Hey, Tom! Getting any?

get to first (base) (with someone) in. to achieve a basic or initial level of intimacy with someone, such as getting some attention or even getting kissed. □ I'm too

shy. I just know I can't get to first base with her.

get to someone 1. in. [for someone or something] to annoy someone after a period of exposure to the annoyance. □ The whole business began to get to me after a while. □ Her remark got to me after I thought about it. 2. in. [for someone or something] to please or entice someone. □ Lovely flowers and things like that get to me. □ Sad music gets to me and makes me cry.

get with it 1. in. to modernize one's attitudes and behavior. □ Get with it, Martin. Get real! □ You really have to get with it, Ernie. 2. in. to hurry up and get busy; to be more industrious with something. □ Get with it; we've got a lot to do. □ Let's get with it. There's a lot of work to be done.

get with someone in. to find out about someone; to get to know someone. □ I'd really like to get with her, but she's so distant. □ I was just beginning to get with Heidi when she left.

get with the program in. follow the rules; do what you are supposed to do. □ Come on, Mark. Get with the program. Do what you are told. □ Jane just can't seem to get with the program. She has to do everything her way, right or wrong.

Get your ass in gear exclam. Get going!; Start working or performing well. (Usually objectionable.) □ You have to get moving and get to work. Get your ass in gear!

Get your nose out of my business! AND Keep your nose out of my business! exclam. Mind your own business and leave me alone. □ Get your nose out of my business! This is not your affair.

gewgaw Go to geegaw.

ghetto bird n. someone who hangs around the [black] neighborhood. □ Sam is just a ghetto bird who has lots of skills but no job.

(ghetto) blaster AND (ghetto) box ['gɛdə blæstə AND 'gɛdə baks] n. a portable stereo radio. (Often carried on the shoulder, especially by blacks.) □ Hey, turn down that ghetto blaster in here! □ You can't bring that box on this bus!

(ghetto) box Go to (ghetto) blaster.

ghost turd n. a wad of lint, as found under a bed. (Use caution with turd.) □ There's a lot of ghost turds under the bed. □ Sweep out those ghost turds and get rid of them.

GIB mod. good in bed; good as a sexual partner. (Usually objectionable. Initialism.) □ Pete lets on that he's GIB. □ How does he know he's GIB?

gibber-gabber ['dʒɪbəˈdʒæbə] n. nonsense; gossip and chatter. □ There sure is a lot of gibber-gabber coming from your room, Jimmy. □ What's all this gibber-gabber about?

Giddy up! ['gɪdi...] exclam. Move faster! (Said to a horse to start it moving. Also said to people or things as a joke.) □ Giddy up, Charlie! It's time to start moving. □ Let's get going, chum. Giddy up!

gidget n. a silly-acting female; a ditzzy dame. □ Sally is just a blonde gidget without a care in the world.

giffed [ɡɪft] mod. alcohol intoxicated. (From TGIF Thank God It's Friday. Said of people who celebrate the end of the workweek with liquor.) □ He left the tavern pretty giffed. □ She was pretty giffed for just a few beers.

gift of gab n. the ability to speak well in public; the ability to persuade people verbally; the ability to speak well extemporaneously. □ Gary has the gift of gab, but it doesn't get him anywhere. □ I wish I had the gift of gab. I'm just so shy.

gig 1. n. a onetime job; an engagement. (Musicians.) □ I had a gig out on the west side, but I couldn't get there. □ The gig was canceled because of the snow. 2. in. to play or perform. (Musicians.) □ I didn't gig at all last week. I'm getting hungry for a job. □ I'm happiest when I'm gigging. 3. n. any job of an assignment nature; a onetime job such as when a newspaper reporter is assigned to write a particular story. □ I didn't want that election gig, but I got it anyway. □ Wally is tired of getting the crime gigs. 4. n. a bother; an annoyance; a job. □ Man, this paperwork is such a gig. □ This day's a gig. I've had it. 5. n. a giggle; a bit of laughter. □ Her little story gave us all a good gig. □ I had a nice little gig over what happened to Tom.

giggle goo ['ɡɪɡl gu] n. liquor. □ Can I pour you a little of that giggle goo? □ Haven't you had about enough of that giggle goo?

GIGO phr. garbage in, garbage out. (Computers. Acronym. If you get garbage out of a computer, it's because you put garbage in. See also DIDO.) □ The program failed, and I know it's my fault. You know, GIGO. □ GIGO is my theme song. I get out just what I deserve.

gimme ['ɡɪmi] phr. give me. (Eye-dialect. Typical spoken English. Used in writing only for effect. Used in the examples of this dictionary.) □ Do you wanna gimme the thingy and lemme go ahead with my work? □ Gimme another one.

Gimme a break! Go to Give me a break!

gimp [ɡɪmp] 1. n. a lame person. (Originally underworld. Rude and derogatory.) □ Lefty tried to mug an old gimp with a cane. □ The gimp came hobbling along, muttering something under his breath. 2. in. to limp about. □ I've been gimping a little bit since my accident. □ I'll gimp over there as soon as I can. It'll take a while on these crutches.

gimpy ['ɡɪmpi] 1. mod. crippled; lame. □ I got a gimpy leg. I'll catch up in a minute. □ He's sort of gimpy since the football season. 2. n. a police officer. (Also a rude term of address. A pun on lame, an inept person.) □ Here comes gimpy, swinging his stick. □ Gimpy has been around asking about you.

gin dive Go to gin mill.

ginhead n. a drunkard. □ Gert could have ended up a ginhead, but she went another route instead. □ A couple of ginheads sat in the corner booth silently.

gin mill AND gin dive; gin palace n. a saloon; a low liquor establishment. □ Fred hit every gin mill on the way home. □

You'll find Bob in some gin dive on the west side of town.

gin palace Go to gin mill.

girked mod. intoxicated with heroin. ☐ He shot himself up and was girked in no time.

girl 1. n. a woman; a young woman. (Objectionable to some as demeaning to women.) ☐ A bunch of us girls got together for coffee today. ☐ Would you girls care to come over to my house next week?
2. n. the queen of playing cards. (See also bitch.) ☐ What I needed in that last hand was the girl. ☐ Come on, dealer, I need that girl!

girlfriend n. one's female friend. (A term of address between females.) ☐ Look, girlfriend, you can't let him treat you like that! ☐ Hey, girlfriend! What's in the bag?

girlie magazine n. a magazine featuring pictures of nude women. ☐ The girlie magazines were hidden under the counter. ☐ Some creepy character asked Sally if she would pose for a girlie magazine.

girlie show n. a performance featuring nude women. ☐ Bob and Pete went to the city and tried to get into a girlie show. ☐ This movie has turned out to be nothing but a girlie show.

gism Go to jism.

git-go ['ɡɪtɡo] n. the very beginning. (See also from (the) git-go.) ☐ Clear back at the git-go, I told you this wouldn't work. ☐ He's been gritching ever since git-go.

give a fuck (about someone or something) Go to give a shit (about someone or something).

give a shit (about someone or something) AND give a fuck (about someone or something) tv. to care about someone or something. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ If you think I give a shit about you or anyone else, you're full of shit.

giveaway n. something that reveals a fact that was meant to be concealed. (Often with dead.) ☐ The way he was walking was a giveaway to the fact that he was the one who was injured. ☐ The look on her face was a dead giveaway.

give head tv. to perform oral sex on someone, usually a male. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Does she give head? ☐ Sally is a pro at giving head. She makes her living at it.

Give it a rest! exclam. Shut up! (The it is a mouth. See also Give me a rest!) ☐ I've heard enough. Give it a rest! ☐ Give it a rest! You talk too much.

give it the gun tv. to gun an engine; to rev an engine up. ☐ Give it the gun for a minute. ☐ I gave it the gun, and it backfired.

Give it up! exclam. Quit now!; Enough is enough! ☐ Oh, give it up! You can't do it right. ☐ Give it up! You can't pitch!

Give me a break! AND Gimme a break!
1. exclam. That is enough!; Stop it! ☐ Do you have to go on and on? Give me a break! ☐ Give me a break, you guys! That's enough! 2. exclam. Don't be so harsh!; Give me a chance! ☐ I'm sorry! I'll do better! Give me a break! ☐ I was only late once! Give me a break! 3. exclam. I don't believe you!; You don't expect anyone to believe that! ☐ You say a gorilla is loose in the city? Gimme a break! ☐ Tom said he was late again because the back stairs caved in. His boss said, "Gimme a break!"

Give me a rest! exclam. Lay off!; That is enough! (See also Give it a rest!) ☐ Haven't I told you everything you need to know? Give me a rest. ☐ Give me a rest! I've heard enough.

Give me five! Go to Give me (some) skin!

Give me (some) skin! AND Give me five!
Slip me five! exclam. Shake my hand! (A request for some form of hand touching in greeting. See also give someone five; high five.) ☐ Hey, man! Give me some skin! ☐ Give me five, my man!

give (out) with something in. to give out information. ☐ Come on, give out with the facts, man. ☐ Give with the info. We're in a hurry.

give someone a buzz 1. tv. to give someone a telephone call. ☐ Give me a buzz sometime. ☐ I'll give her buzz tonight and ask her. 2. tv. to give someone a chuckle or a bit of enjoyment. □ It always gives me a buzz to watch Sally do her act. □ Your little joke gave me a buzz.

give someone a (good) talking to tv. to scold someone; to lecture someone sternly. □ I think I'll have to give Pete a good talking to. □ The teacher gave Jimmy a talking to.

give someone a (good) working over tv. to scold or beat someone. □ The boss gave me a good working over before firing me. □ Fred really gave her a working over about her performance on the project.

give someone a melvin tv. to jerk up someone's pants or underwear, drawing the fabric up sharply between the buttocks. (It is assumed that some geek named Melvin goes about with his underwear in this uncomfortable position.) □ If you even try to give me a melvin, I'll bust you one. □ Tom came up behind Fred, and with a deft motion, gave Fred a melvin that he would never forget.

give someone an earful 1. tv. to scold someone. □ I'm going to give Ralph an earful for doing that. □ Sally gave Sam an earful for the way he treated Mary. 2. tv. to tell someone surprising secrets. □ Sally gave Wally an earful about Pete and the things he said about Mary. □ Wally gave Sally an earful about Todd's tax problems.

give someone a pain tv. to annoy or bother someone. □ Please don't give me a pain. I've had a hard day. □ You give me a pain!

give someone five 1. tv. to give someone a helping hand. □ Hey, give me five over here for a minute, will ya? □ I gotta give this guy five with the crate. Be right with you. 2. tv. to slap hands in greeting. (See also high five; Give me five!) □ Jerry gave John five as they passed in the corridor. □ Don tried to give me five in class, but missed.

give someone hell 1. tv. to bawl someone out; to scold someone severely. (Use caution with hell.) □ The boss just gave me hell about it. □ I'm really going to give Tom hell when he gets home. 2. tv. to trouble someone. (Use caution with hell.) □

My arthritis is giving me hell in this weather. □ This problem is giving us hell at the office.

give someone the ax 1. tv. to dismiss someone from employment. □ They had to give Paul the ax because he was so unproductive. □ I was afraid they would give me the ax. 2. tv. to divorce someone. □ Mary gave Fred the ax after only six months. □ She gave him the ax because he wouldn't stop smoking like he promised.

give someone the brushoff tv. to repel someone; to ignore someone. (See also brushoff.) □ Sam was afraid that Mary was going to give him the brushoff. □ The manager gave her the brushoff when she asked for a raise.

give someone the business 1. tv. to harass someone; to scold someone. □ The guys have been giving me the business about my haircut. □ Sam was giving Tom the business about being late all the time. 2. tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ Lefty wanted to give Rocko the business for being so damn perfect. □ Mr. Big told Sam to give Bart the business.

give someone the finger 1. tv. to display the middle finger upright as a sign of derision. (The gesture is taboo.) □ Did one of you guys give Ted the finger? □ Somebody gave the cop the finger. 2. tv. to mistreat someone; to insult someone. □ You've been giving me the finger ever since I started working here. What's wrong? □ I'm tired of everybody giving me the finger around here just because I'm new.

give someone the gate tv. to get rid of someone. □ The chick was a pest, so I gave her the gate. □ He threatened to give me the gate, so I left.

give someone the go-by tv. to bypass someone; to ignore someone. (See also go-by.) □ Gert gave us all the go-by when she was so sick. □ I didn't mean to give you the go-by. I'm preoccupied, that's all.

give someone the nod 1. tv. to signal someone by nodding. (Not slang.) □ I gave Pete the nod, and he started the procedure. □ Just give me the nod when you are ready. 2. tv. to choose someone. (See also get the nod.) □ The committee gave Frank the nod for the job. □ They gave her the nod.

give someone the raspberry tv. to make a rude noise with the lips at someone. (See also Bronx cheer; raspberry.) □ The audience gave him the raspberry, which gave him some second thoughts about his choice of career. □ Even after his grandstand play, they gave him the raspberry.

give someone the shaft tv. to cheat or deceive someone; to mistreat someone. (See also shaft.) □ The boss really gave Wally the shaft. □ Somebody always gives me the shaft.

give someone the slip tv. to escape from a pursuer. □ We were on his tail until he gave us the slip. □ I can give her the slip in no time at all.

gizmo ['gizmo] n. a gadget. □ What is this silly little gizmo on the bottom for? □ This gizmo turns it on.

gizzum Go to jism.

gizzy ['gizi] n. marijuana. (Drugs.) □ The cops found a little gizzy in the guy's pocket. □ Where'd you get this gizzy?

glad mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ After a few beers she was a mite glad. □ In fact, she was too glad to stand up.

glad-hand tv. to greet someone effusively. □ The Senator was glad-handing everyone in sight. □ He glad-handed Ernie and got a real earful.

glad-hander n. someone who displays effusive friendship. □ What a morass of eager glad-handers and glitz! □ The glad-handers were out in full force at the Independence Day parade.

glad rags n. fancy clothes; best clothing. (See also rag.) □ You look pretty good in your glad rags. □ I'll get on my glad rags, and we'll go out tonight.

glam mod. glamorous. □ Wow! Isn't she glam! □ What a totally glam life she leads!

glamour puss n. a person with a beautiful face. □ I'm no glamour puss, but I'm no dog either. □ Now, Sally is what I would call a glamour puss.

glass gun n. a hypodermic syringe. (Drugs.) □ Gert broke her glass gun and had to improvise. □ A lot of those bangsters don't even use a glass gun.

glass(y)-eyed mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Mary is looking sort of glassy-eyed, and it's only midnight. □ Ernie is usually glass-eyed, but tonight it's much worse.

glazed (drunk) AND glazed (over) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She has had too much. She's glazed drunk. □ Fred looks a little glazed. I think he's done for.

glazed (over) Go to glazed (drunk).

gleep [glip] n. a fool; an oaf. □ What a gleep! Does he know what's what? □ Don't act like such a gleep!

glick [glɪk] a strange person; a nerd. □ Don't be a glick, Bill. □ Fred seems to be a classic glick, but he is really an all-right guy.

glitch [glɪtʃ] n. a defect; a bug. □ There is a glitch in the computer program somewhere. □ I'm afraid there's a glitch in our plans.

glitz [glɪts] n. flashiness and glamour. □ The place was a morass of eager sales geeks and phony glitz. □ The glitz was blinding, and the substance was invisible.

glitzy ['glɪtsi] mod. fashionable; glamorous. □ It was a real glitzy place to hold a meeting. □ Some glitzy blonde sang a couple of songs, and then the band played again.

glock n. a gun; a revolver. □ Sam was carrying a glock and threatened to end the argument his own way.

glom [glam] 1. tv. to steal something. (Underworld.) □ Lefty glommed a little car for the evening. □ He gloms just about everything he needs. 2. tv. to take a look at someone or something. (Underworld.) □ Glom this layout for a minute. □ Come over here and glom the view of the bank from this window.

glommed [glamd] mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ Bart got glommed on a speeding charge. I didn't even know he could drive. □ Glommed again! That's the story of my life.

gloomy Gus n. a sad or dismal person; a pessimist. □ Don't be such a gloomy Gus, Wally. □ Well, gloomy Gus just came in again.

glop [glɒp] 1. n. unappetizing food; gunk; anything undesirable. □ Do we have the same old glop again tonight? □ No, this is different glop. 2. tv. to slop or plop something (onto something). □ She glopped something horrible onto my plate. □ Don't glop any of that pink stuff anywhere near me.

glorified mod. overblown; over-hyped; phony. □ Why, this is just a glorified potato chip! □ She's just a glorified dance-hall girl.

glow n. a mild state of drug or alcohol intoxication. □ She had a nice glow, but was by no means stewed. □ What was supposed to be a nice glow turned out to be a terrifying hallucination.

glow worm n. a drunkard; an alcoholic. (From glow.) □ You are turning into a regular glow worm. □ Gary came out of the bar and tripped over a napping glow worm near the entrance to the alley.

glued 1. mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ Wally got glued for having over three hundred parking tickets. □ Bart goes to great extremes to keep from getting glued. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Fred is glued and can't stand up. □ About three more beers and I'll be glued.

glue factory n. the place where old horses are sent so their bones can be made into glue; a similar, imaginary place for people. □ I'm not as young as I used to be, but I'm not ready for the glue factory yet. □ If you can't keep up, we'll send you to the glue factory.

gluer Go to gluey.

gluey AND gluer n. a person, usually a teenager, who sniffs glue. (Drugs.) □ Teddy is a gluey. That's why he's failing in school. □ The gluers stand a chance of having brain damage.

glug [glʌg] n. a gulp or shot of liquor. □ Have another glug of this moonshine. □ I took one glug and spit it out.

glutz [glʌts] n. a slut; a woman of low morals. □ I didn't say she is a glutz! □ Tracy knows some old dames she would call glutzes.

G-man ['dʒɪmæn] n. a government investigative agent; an FBI agent. □ The G-men busted in and started shooting. □ When I was a kid, I wanted to be a G-man.

(g)narly ['nɑrli] mod. excellent; great. (California.) □ This pizza is too gnarly for words! □ Who is that narly guy in the white sweater?

go 1. n. a try (at something). □ Let me have a go at it this time. □ I'd like to have another go at it, if I can. 2. in. to urinate. □ I gotta go! □ Jimmy's gonna go in his pants! 3. tv. to say or utter something. (Mostly teens. Used in writing only for effect.) □ So I go, "Gross!" □ Then she goes, "Like . . .," and just stops talking.

go-ahead n. permission to proceed; the signal to go ahead. (See also say-so.) □ We're ready to go as soon as we get the go-ahead. □ I gave him the go-ahead, and the tanks started moving in.

go all the way in. to copulate; to carry necking all the way to copulation. (Euphemistic. Usually objectionable.) □ Did they go all the way? □ He keeps wanting me to go all the way.

go ape (over someone or something) in. to become very excited over someone or something. □ I just go ape over chocolate. □ Sam went ape over Mary.

go apeshit over someone or something in. to get very excited about someone or something. (Usually objectionable.) □ She really went apeshit over the ice cream.

goat n. a fast and powerful car; a Pontiac GTO. □ Hey, man, where'd you get that goat? □ His goat conked out on him.

gob [gab] 1. n. a blob or mass of something. □ I'd like a big gob of mashed potatoes, please. □ Take that horrid gob of gum out of your mouth! 2. n. a large amount of something. (Often in the plural.) □

I've just got gobs of it if you need some. □ I need gobs of money to get through school.

go bananas in. to go mildly crazy. (See also bananas.) □ Sorry, I just went bananas for a minute. □ I thought he was going to go bananas.

gobbledygook ['gab|digok] 1. n. nonsense; officialese or government gibberish. □ I can't understand all this gobbledygook. □ They must have a full time staff to dream up all this gobbledygook. 2. n. any mess, especially of food. □ Dinner was just gobbledygook again. □ Do we have the same old gobbledygook tonight?

go belly up Go to turn belly up.

go bitchcakes in. to go wild or crazy. (Usually objectionable.) □ All this rude talk just makes me go bitchcakes.

go blooey AND go flooey [go 'blui AND go 'flui] in. to fall apart; to go out of order. □ Suddenly, all my plans went blooey. □ I just hope everything doesn't go flooey at the last minute.

(Go) blow it out your ear! exclam. Go away and stop bothering me with your nonsense. □ What a stupid thing to say. Go blow it out your ear! □ You are not way rad, you're just way out, twit! Blow it out your ear!

go-by ['gobaɪ] n. an instance of ignoring or passing by (someone). (See also give someone the go-by.) □ I got the go-by from her every time I saw her. □ I find the go-by very insulting.

Go chase yourself! AND Go chase your tail!; Go climb a tree!; Go fly a kite!; Go fry an egg!; Go jump in the lake!; Go soak your head!; Go soak yourself! exclam. Beat it!; Go away! □ Oh, go chase yourself! Get out of my face! □ Go soak your head! You're a pain in the neck.

Go chase your tail! Go to Go chase yourself!

Go climb a tree! Go to Go chase yourself!

go down 1. in. to happen. □ Hey, man! What's going down? □ Something strange is going down around here. 2. in. to be accepted. (See also swallow.) □ We'll just have to wait awhile to see how all this goes down. □ The proposal didn't go down very well with the manager. 3. in. to be arrested. (Underworld.) □ Lefty didn't want to go down for a job he didn't do. □ Mr. Big said that somebody had to go down for it, and he didn't care who.

go downhill in. to decline. □ This company is going downhill at a great rate. □ Things began to go downhill when the county cut the maintenance budget.

go down in flames in. to fail spectacularly. (See also shoot someone down in flames; crash and burn.) □ The whole team went down in flames. □ I'd hate for all your planning to go down in flames.

go down on someone in. to perform oral sex on someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ She was just gonna go down on him when the camera panned over to the window.

go down the chute Go to go down the tube(s).

go down the line in. to snort a line of cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Gert had to leave the office to go down the line. □ They found her in the john, going down the line.

go down the tube(s) AND go down the chute in. to fail totally; to be ruined. □ The whole project is likely to go down the tubes. □ All my plans just went down the chute.

God's acre n. a cemetery. □ When I end up in God's acre, I want everything to go on without me. □ They're planting somebody new in God's acre.

go Dutch in. [for two people] to split the cost of something, such as a meal. (See also Dutch treat.) □ How about dinner tonight? We'll go Dutch, okay? □ Yes, let's go Dutch.

gofer Go to gopher.

Go figure. interj. Try to figure it out.; Just try to explain that! □ She hung up on me again. Go figure. □ They heat the water to make the tea hot, then they put ice in it to make it cold, then they put lemon in it to make it sour, and then they put sugar in it to make it sweet. Go figure.

go flooey Go to go blooey.

Go fly a kite! Go to Go chase yourself!

go for broke in. to choose to risk everything; to try to succeed against great odds. □ I feel lucky today. I'll go for broke. □ We decided to go for broke, and that is exactly how we ended up.

Go for it! exclam. Do it!; Try it! □ Go for it! Give it a try! □ It looked like something I wanted to do, so I decided to go for it.

go for the fences in. to set extremely high goals and do whatever is needed to meet them. (Alludes to attempting to hit a home run against the fences of a baseball stadium.) □ Think big! Go for the fences! □ We are going to go for the fences on this one. Don't hold back on anything.

Go fry an egg! Go to Go chase yourself!

Go fuck yourself! exclam. Go to hell!; Get out of here! (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ Go fuck yourself, you creep! □ You worthless mungshit. Go fuck yourself!

go-getter n. an energetic person. □ Wally is a real go-getter. He'll go places. □ Sally was really cut out to be a go-getter.

goggle-eyed AND googly-eyed ['gaglaɪd AND 'gugliɑɪd] mod. alcohol intoxicated and staring. □ Wally was goggle-eyed and couldn't stand up. □ He's too googly-eyed to drive home.

go-go ['gogo] 1. mod. having to do with fast-dancing young women on display in a nightclub. □ I worked as a go-go girl for a while. □ Those go-go places have mostly changed their style. 2. mod. vigorous; energetic; frantically moving. □ He's a real go-go guy, always up to something. □ I bought some silly go-go stock, and it collapsed immediately.

go great guns in. to do very well; to go very fast. □ Everything is going great guns around here. We're busy and making lots of money. □ The project is finally going great guns, just as we planned.

go haywire 1. in. [for a person] to go berserk. □ I thought for a minute that Pete was going to go haywire. □ Sorry, I guess I just went haywire for a minute. 2. in.

[for something] to go out of order; to break down. □ My stereo's gone haywire. □ I'm afraid my car's gone haywire. It won't start.

go home in a box in. to be shipped home dead. □ Hey, I'm too young to go home in a box. □ You had better be careful on this camping trip, or you'll go home in a box.

go home to mama in. to give up something—such as a marriage—and return to one's mother's home. □ I've had it. I'm going home to mama. □ Mary left him and went home to mama.

going high n. a long-lasting type of drug high. (Drugs.) □ Freddie had a going high and was in trouble. □ Gert was always after a real going high.

going over 1. n. an examination. □ After a thorough going over, the doctor pronounced me alive. □ I gave your car a good going over, and I fixed a lot of little things. 2. n. a beating. □ Sam gave the guy a terrible going over. □ After a going over like that, the guy spent two weeks in the hospital.

goings-on n. happenings; events. □ There are sure some strange goings-on around here. □ Some big goings-on downtown tied up the traffic.

go into orbit in. to become very excited. □ Wow, I thought the manager was going to go into orbit, she was so mad. □ The entire staff went into orbit when they got the news.

Go jump in the lake! Go to Go chase yourself!

gold n. money. (See also ducats.) □ Do you have enough gold to pay the bill? □ There's no gold in my pockets.

goldbrick 1. n. a lazy person. □ Pete is just a lazy goldbrick. □ Tell that goldbrick to get back to work. 2. in. to be lazy; to shirk one's duty. □ Stop goldbricking and get back to work. □ Whoever is goldbricking when I come back gets a real talking to.

goldbricker n. a loafer. (Also a term of address.) □ Larry is such a goldbricker! □ Get moving, you goldbrickers.

gold digger n. a woman who pays attention to a man solely because of his wealth. □ Sam called Sally a gold digger, and she was devastated. □ “You little gold digger!” cried Sam.

golden mod. excellent; really cool. □ Look at the guy she is with. He is golden.

golden-ager n. an old person; a senior citizen. □ The golden-agers sat on the benches and chatted. □ When I’m a golden-ager, I’m going to have a part-time job.

golden handcuffs n. monetary inducements to stay on the job. (Usually for highly paid executives in large corporations. See also golden parachute.) □ The company provided a variety of golden handcuffs to keep its execs happy through a takeover. □ The golden handcuffs included a half million in severance pay for one of the vice presidents.

golden opportunity n. a very good opportunity. □ This is my golden opportunity, and I can’t pass it up. □ You get a golden opportunity like this very rarely.

golden parachute n. a special kind of severance pay for persons who may be forced to leave a job. (Usually for highly paid executives in large corporations. If the company is taken over and the executives are fired, they are very well provided for. See also golden handcuffs.) □ My golden parachute was so attractive that I wanted to get fired. □ If all the golden parachutes were used at the same time, it would bankrupt the company.

goldie locks n. a policewoman. (Citizens band radio.) □ Goldie locks pulled me over and gave me a citation. □ There was a goldie locks waiting under the bridge to spring on poor unsuspecting people like me.

go mental in. go crazy; to act stupid. □ Don’t go mental, Jane. Just calm down and think about it. □ Another day in that history class and I know I will go mental.

gomer ['gomə] 1. n. a stupid oaf; a social reject. (From the television character Gomer Pyle.) □ Who’s that gomer in the overalls? □ That gomer is my Uncle Ben.

2. AND goomer ['gumə] n. a person unwelcome in a hospital. (Supposedly an acronym for Get out of my emergency room.) □ That goomer with the allergy is back in ER. □ I don’t want that goomer back in the emergency room.

gone 1. AND gone under mod. unconscious. □ He’s gone. Prop his feet up and call an ambulance. □ He’s gone under. You can begin the procedure now. 2. AND gone under mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Those chicks are gone—too much to drink. □ Ted is really gone under. 3. mod. cool; out of this world. (Typically real gone.) □ This ice cream is gone, man, gone!

gone goose n. someone or something finished or done for. (A play on dead duck.) □ I’m afraid that your old car is a gone goose. □ This old thing is a gone goose.

goner ['gɔnə] n. someone or something finished or nearly finished. □ This one’s a goner. Toss it. □ The horse was a goner, so it had to be destroyed.

gone under Go to gone.

gonged [gɔŋd] mod. drug intoxicated. (Drugs. Originally on opium.) □ Bruno found himself in the alley, gonged. □ Ernie was too gonged to stand up.

gonna ['gɔnə OR 'gʊnə] phr. going to. (Eye-dialect. Used in writing only for effect. Used in the examples of this dictionary.) □ What time you gonna be home? □ I’m gonna get you, you little dickens!

gonzo ['ganzɔ] 1. n. a silly or foolish person. □ Some gonzo is on the phone asking for the president of the universe. □ Tell the gonzo I’m out. 2. mod. crazy. □ The guy is totally gonzo! □ Who drew this gonzo picture of me?

goo [gu] n. some sticky substance; gunk. □ What is this goo on my shoe? □ There is some sort of goo on my plate. Is that meant to be my dinner?

goob [gub] 1. n. a pimple. (Short for guber.) □ The goobs are taking over my whole face. □ I have the world’s greatest goob right on the end of my nose. 2. n. a nerd; a simpleton. (See also guber.) □

Don't be a goob. Come to the party with me. □ Gary is such a goob. Why can't he do anything right?

goober Go to guber.

goober-grabber ['gubəgræbɜː] n. someone who picks peanuts. (Typically someone native to Georgia where peanuts are grown. From guber.) □ My nephew moved from Chicago to Atlanta, where he became a goober-grabber in no time at all. □ One of the local goober-grabbers took us to a peanut boil.

goober-grease ['gubəgrɪs] n. peanut butter. □ Pass me some of that goober-grease, will ya? □ This goober-grease is stale.

goobrain ['gubren] n. a fool; a stupid person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ What silly goobrain put sugar in the salt shaker? □ Look, goobrain, think about it awhile. You'll catch on.

good and something mod. thoroughly something. (Where something is an adjective.) □ I am really good and mad at you for that. □ We are good and ready to do something about it.

good buddy n. a friend; a partner. (Citizens band radio. Also a term of address.) □ Well, good buddy, what's new with you? □ John's my good buddy.

Good call! exclam. That was a good decision! □ Good call, Walter! You picked the right company to deal with. □ I guess this was Jane's choice. Good call, Jane.

Good deal! exclam. That is good! (Old, but still heard.) □ Everyone is here on time! Good deal! □ Good deal! My tax refund just arrived!

good-for-nothing 1. mod. worthless. (Usually having to do with a person.) □ Let's get rid of this good-for-nothing car right now. □ Tell your good-for-nothing brother to find another place to live. 2. n. a worthless person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Tell the good-for-nothing to leave. □ Look, you good-for-nothing. Go out and get a job.

Good golly, Miss Molly! exclam. Good grief!; Wow! □ Good golly, Miss Molly!

This place is a mess! □ Good golly, Miss Molly, that's awful!

Good heavens! exclam. My goodness! (A mild exclamation of amazement, shock, etc.) □ Good heavens! I didn't expect you to be here. □ Good heavens! There's a man at the window!

good Joe n. a good fellow. □ Fred's a little slow on the uptake, but he's a good Joe. □ Frank's a good Joe. He'll help us.

(good) looker n. a good-looking person. □ Fred is not exactly a good looker, but he is pleasant enough. □ Mary is really a looker. I sure would like to go out with her.

good old boy AND good ole boy n. a good guy; a dependable companion. (Folksy.) □ Old Tom is a good old boy. He'll help. □ One of these good ole boys will give you a hand.

good-time Charley n. a man who is always trying to have a good experience; an optimist. □ Wally is such a good-time Charley. Who would believe the trouble he's had? □ Some good-time Charley is making a lot of noise.

good-time it tv. to party; to spend money and have a good time. □ You're always good-timing it. Don't you ever study? □ I just want to good-time it for the rest of my life.

good-time man n. a man who sells drugs. (Drugs.) □ Bart is the main good-time man in this neighborhood. □ The fuzz wants to see all the good-time men behind bars.

good trip 1. n. a good session with LSD or some other drug. (Drugs.) □ Paul said he had a good trip, but he looks like the devil. □ One good trip deserves another. At least that's what my guru says. 2. n. any good time. □ This meeting was a good trip. □ Compared to the last class, this one is a good trip.

goody two-shoes n. someone who tries to behave better than anyone else. (Also a term of address.) □ Well, goody two-shoes, so you decided to come sit with us. □ I'm no goody two-shoes. I just like to keep my nose clean.

goosey AND GUI n. a graphical user interface. (A type of computer control system that uses an orderly layout on the screen with icons and menus that are controlled by a computer mouse. Goosey is slang; GUI is a technical acronym. See also WIMP.) □ Some of the older programs that lack a goosey require a lot less memory to run. □ Many new computer users find it much easier to use a goosey than to type in commands.

goof [guf] 1. n. a foolish oaf; a goofy person. □ Sometimes I'm such a goof. I really messed up. □ Don't be a goof. Get with it. 2. in. to use heroin or some other addictive drugs without intending to become addicted; to play around (with heroin). (Drugs.) □ Gert spent the first few years just goofing. □ She was goofing, and you know what that leads to. 3. in. to scratch, nod, and slobber after an injection of heroin. (Drugs.) □ She just rocks and goofs for hours. □ She has been goofing for an hour. 4. AND goof up in. to make a blunder. □ Whoops, I goofed! □ This time, you goofed. 5. n. a blunder; an error. □ Who made this silly goof? □ This goof is yours, not mine.

goof around Go to goof off.

goofball 1. AND goofy n. a stupid person; a fool. □ You are such a silly goofball. □ Chuck acts like a goofer, but he's really with it. 2. n. a barbiturate tablet. (Drugs.) □ How many goofballs did you take to get like this?

goofed (up) 1. mod. messed up; out of order. □ All my papers are goofed up. □ Everything on my desk is goofed. Who's been here? 2. mod. confused; distraught. □ I'm sort of goofed up today. I think I'm coming down with something. □ I was up too late last night, and now I'm all goofed up. 3. mod. high on drugs. □ Bob's a little goofed up after partying too much. □ He comes to class goofed up every day.

gooter Go to goofball.

go off half-cocked in. to proceed without knowing all the facts. □ I waited because I didn't want to go off half-cocked. □ The boss went off half-cocked and exploded into a rage about the mess.

go off the deep end in. to do or experience something in the extreme: to fall madly in love, to go crazy, to commit suicide, to fly into a rage, etc. □ John is completely in love with Mary and wants to marry her. I was afraid he would go off the deep end, and he did. □ Sally was so depressed that we had to watch her day and night so she wouldn't go off the deep end. □ I saw what he had done, and I just went off the deep end. I was in a blind rage and didn't know what I was doing.

goof off 1. AND goof around in. to waste time. □ Quit goofing off. □ Get busy. Stop goofing around. 2. n. a time-waster; a jerk. (Usually goof-off.) □ Pete is such a goof-off! □ I'm no goof-off, but I am no scholar either.

goof on someone in. to play a prank on someone; to involve someone in a deception. □ Hey, don't goof on me. I'm your buddy! □ The kid goofed on Chuck, and he thought it was a pretty good joke.

goof-proof 1. mod. foolproof; not subject to misuse. □ I want a goof-proof scheme. □ This scheme is not goof-proof, but it's pretty sound. □ Now, this time I've made it goof-proof. 2. tv. to make something foolproof; to take action to see that something cannot be misused. □ I'll try to goof-proof my scheme. □ See if this can be goof-proofed by Monday evening.

goof something up AND goof up on something tv. to mess something up. □ Now don't goof it up this time. □ I hope I don't goof up the report again. □ I hope I don't goof up on the report again.

goof up Go to goof.

goof up on something Go to goof something up.

goofus ['gufəs] 1. n. a gadget. □ Where is that little goofus I use to pry open these cans? □ Here's just the little goofus you're looking for. 2. AND goopus n. a foolish oaf. (Also a term of address.) □ You're just acting like a goofus. Be serious! □ Hey, goopus! Come here!

goofy ['gufi] 1. mod. silly. □ Stop acting so goofy! What will the neighbors say? □ You are really a goofy chick. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Wow, is she goofy! □ They went out and got themselves good and goofy.

googaw Go to geegaw.

googly-eyed Go to goggle-eyed.

goo-goo eyes ['gugu 'aɪz] n. flirtatious eyes. (Often with make.) □ Mary was making goo-goo eyes at Sam. □ Who's the chick over there with the goo-goo eyes?

gook [guk OR guk] 1. n. a slimy substance; a sediment or residue. □ There was a lot of gook in my crankcase. □ Too much of that gook will ruin your engine. 2. n. a foolish oaf. □ Wow, Chuck is turning into a real gook! □ Don't be such a gook, you twit! 3. n. a tramp. □ Some old gook was asking for a handout. □ Give the gook some food and wish him well. 4. n. a prostitute. □ Some old gook was standing around with too much leg on view. □ There are a lot of gooks around here in the center of town. 5. n. a derogatory nickname for various East Asians. (Crude.) □ Nobody wanted to go to war against the gooks. □ Let the gooks fight it out amongst themselves.

goombah ['gumbɑ] n. a buddy; a trusted friend. (Also a term of address. Ultimately from Italian.) □ Hey, goombah! How goes it? □ He's my goombah. I can trust him.

goomer Go to gomer.

Go on! exclam. I don't believe you!; I deny it! □ Go on! You don't really know what you are talking about! □ Go on! You weren't even there.

goon [gun] 1. n. a stupid person; a fool. □ Oh, Wally, you're such a goon sometimes. □ Todd is a silly goon, but he's a lot of fun at parties. 2. n. a hooligan; a thug or bodyguard. (Underworld.) □ Sam is one of Mr. Big's goons. □ Call off your goons!

go on (and on) about someone or something in. to rave about someone or something endlessly. □ He just went on and on about the trouble he was having

with the post office. □ Why do you have to go on about your sister so?

gooned [gund] mod. drunk. □ Wayne came home gooned, and his dad went loco and grounded him. □ His date was gooned by ten, and he had to take her home.

gooner ['gunə] n. a term for an Asian. (Derogatory. Military.) □ These gooners sure can cook. □ See if one of the gooners will show you how to do it.

goon-platoon n. a platoon of misfits; a platoon that is noted for its errors. (Military.) □ Well, the goon-platoon's done it again! □ Which side is the goon-platoon on?

goon squad 1. n. an organized group of thugs; a gang of toughs. (Underworld.) □ Sam and his goon squad are lurking about. □ The goon squad Mr. Big sent around scared the devil out of Bart. 2. n. the police. □ Here comes the goon squad. Watch out! □ My old buddy on the goon squad tells me there'll be some action over on Maple Street tonight.

goop AND goup [gup] n. slop; gunk; bad food. □ I refuse to eat this goop. □ You get used to this goup after a while.

goophead ['guphed] n. an inflamed pimple. (Patterned on blackhead.) □ Ye gods! I'm covered with goopheads. □ You ought to see the goophead on your nose.

goopus Go to goofus.

goopy ['gupi] mod. gummy; syrupy. □ I just love goopy desserts. □ This is not goopy enough. □ There is some goopy stuff coming out of the car's engine.

goose 1. n. a silly oaf; an oaf. □ Oh, I'm such a silly goose! □ What a goose you are! 2. tv. to (attempt to) poke something, such as a finger, in someone's anus. □ Freddy tried to goose me! □ Don't goose me! 3. n. an attempt to goose someone. (As in sense 2.) □ Harry is a master of the rude goose. □ He tried to give me a goose. 4. tv. to rev up an engine; to press down hard on the accelerator of a car. □ Why don't you goose the thing and see how fast it'll go? □ Don't goose it too much. 5. n. an act of suddenly pressing down the accelerator of a car. □ Give it a good goose and see what happens. □ One more goose, but don't hold it down so long.

goose egg 1. n. a score of zero. □ We got a goose egg in the second inning. □ It was double goose eggs for the final score. 2. n. a bump on the head. □ You've got quite a goose egg there. □ I walked into a door and got a big goose egg on my forehead. 3. n. a failure; a zero. (Similar to sense 1.) □ The outcome was a real goose egg. A total mess. □ The result of three weeks' planning is one big goose egg.

go over big in. to be appreciated as a success. □ I'm sure this will go over big with the folks at home. □ Well, it didn't go over very big with the boss.

go overboard in. to do far more than is necessary. □ He has a tendency to go overboard at these parties. □ Now don't go overboard for us. We're just folks.

go over like a lead balloon in. [for something meant to be good] to fail to be good. (See also go over big.) □ The joke went over like a lead balloon. □ I'm afraid your plan went over like a lead balloon.

go over the hill in. to escape from a prison or from the military service. (See also over the hill; go over the wall.) □ Jim went over the hill, and they caught him. □ Jed and Tom planned to go over the hill last night. What happened?

go over the wall in. to escape from a prison. □ Lefty tried to go over the wall, but the warden got wind of it. □ Nobody goes over the wall in this joint.

goozlum ['guzləm] n. any gummy, sticky substance: syrup, gravy, soup, etc. □ Do you want some of this wonderful goozlum on your ice cream? □ Just keep putting that goozlum on my spuds.

gopher AND gofer ['gɒfə] 1. n. someone who goes for things and brings them back. (From go for.) □ You got a gopher who can go get some coffee? □ Send the gofer out for cigarettes. 2. n. a dupe; a pawn; an underling. □ The guy's just a gopher. He has no say in anything. □ I'll send a gopher over to pick up the papers.

gopher ball n. a baseball pitch that is hit as a home run. (When it is hit, the batter will go for home.) □ Wilbur hit another long gopher ball straight across center field. □ The center fielder did a dive over the fence trying to get the gopher ball.

go-pills n. amphetamines. (Drugs.) □ She took go-pills to start the day. □ After a while, these go-pills just demand to be taken.

go places in. to become very successful. □ I knew that Sally would go places. □ I really want to go places in life.

go postal in. to become wild; to go berserk. □ He made me so mad I thought I would go postal.

go public 1. in. to sell to the public shares of a privately owned company. (Securities markets.) □ The company decided not to go public because the economy was so bad at the time. □ We'll go public at a later time. 2. in. to reveal something to the public. (Especially with with, as in the examples.) □ It's too early to go public with the story. □ Just let me know when we can go public with this.

gorilla biscuits AND gorilla pills n. amphetamines. (Drugs.) □ Tracy is big on those gorilla pills. □ Stay away from gorilla biscuits.

gorilla juice n. steroids. (Bodybuilding. Steroids build muscle tissue rapidly.) □ Andy really wanted to get hold of some gorilla juice, but his parents said no. □ Do all those muscle-bound creatures take gorilla juice?

gorilla pills Go to gorilla biscuits.

go Rinso [...'rɪnsɔ] in. to fail; to collapse in price. (A play on to go down the drain. Rinso is a laundry soap that goes down the drain after it is used. Used in the context of the securities markets or other financial setting.) □ All my drug stocks went Rinso when the president attacked the drug industry. □ I knew my bank account would go Rinso after last month's bills came in.

gork [gɒrk] 1. n. a fool; a dupe. □ Martin acts like such a gork sometimes. □ The

gorks are taking over the world! 2. AND GORK in. an alleged hospital chart notation of the diagnosis God only really knows. (Hospitals.) □ I see old Mr. Kelly is in again with a hundred complaints. His chart says GORK. □ He's down with gork again. 3. tv. to give a patient sedation. (Hospitals.) □ Dr. Wilson says to gork the patient in 226. □ He'll quiet down after we gork him.

gorked (out) [gorkt...] mod. heavily sedated; knocked out. (Hospitals.) □ Once the patient was gorked, he was more cooperative. □ The guy in 226 is totally gorked out now.

Go soak your head! Go to Go chase yourself!

Go soak yourself! Go to Go chase yourself!

go sour in. to turn bad or unpleasant. □ It looks like all my plans are going sour. □ My whole life is going sour right now.

go South AND head South 1. in. to make an escape; to disappear. □ Lefty went South the minute he got out of the pen. □ The mugger headed South just after the crime. 2. in. to fall; to go down. (Securities markets.) □ All the stock market indexes went South today. □ The market headed South today at the opening bell. 3. in. to quit; to drop out of sight. □ Fred got discouraged and went South. I think he gave up football permanently. □ After pulling the bank job, Bart went South for a few months.

gospel (truth) n. the honest truth. □ You gotta believe me. It's the gospel truth! □ He speaks nothing but gospel. You can trust him.

go straight 1. in. to stop breaking the law. □ Lefty thought about going straight once, but pulled himself out of it. □ I think I'll give all this up and go straight—some day. 2. in. to get off drugs. (Drugs.) □ Ernie wanted to go straight more than anything else in the world. □ I'll go straight one of these days.

gotcha ['gatʃə] 1. tv. I got you!; I've caught you! (Usually Gotcha!) □ I gotcha, and you can't get away. □ Ha, ha! Gotcha!

Come here, you little dickens. 2. n. an arrest. (Underworld.) □ The cop reached out, grasped Bruno's shoulder, and made the gotcha. □ It was a fair gotcha. Sam was nabbed, and he went along quietly. 3. tv. I understand you. □ Gotcha! Thanks for telling me. □ Seven pounds, four ounces? Gotcha! I'll tell everybody.

go the limit in. to do as much as possible; to get as much as possible. □ Let's plan to do everything we can. Let's go the limit. □ We'll go the limit. To heck with the cost.

go through someone like a dose of (the) salts in. to move through someone's digestive tract like a strong laxative. □ That stuff they served last night went through me like a dose of salts. □ Careful of the coffee. It'll go through you like a dose of the salts.

go through the changes 1. in. to experience life's changes. □ A good day, a bad day—it's all part of going through the changes. □ Nothing new with me, just going through the changes. 2. in. to go through a reconstruction of one's life. □ I went through the changes all last year. It was a real bad time. □ I've been going through the changes lately. It's tough to grow up at this age.

go tits up in. to die; to go to ruin; to fall apart. (A play on go belly up which has the same meaning. Refers to an animal like a goldfish that turns belly up when it dies.) □ Her firm went tits up after the stock market crash. □ My goldfish went tits up because I overfed it.

Go to! exclam. Go to hell! □ Oh, you're terrible. Just go to! □ Go to, you creep!

Go to blazes! AND Go to the devil! exclam. Go to hell! □ Go to blazes! Stop pestering me! □ I'm sick of your complaining. Go to the devil!

Go to the devil! Go to Go to blazes!

go to town in. to do something with gusto; to do something with great speed and energy. □ The main office is really going to town on collecting overdue payments. □ Man, our team is really going to town.

Go to your room! Go to On your bike!

gouch off [gaʊtʃ...] in. to pass out under the influence of drugs. (Drugs.) □ After taking the stuff, Gary gouched off. □ After the fix, Gert waited patiently to gouch off.

go underground in. to go into hiding; to begin to operate in secret. □ The entire operation went underground, and we heard no more about it. □ We'll go underground if we have to. Nothing will stop the movement.

go up in. to start to feel the effects of a drug. (Drugs.) □ Gert started to go up and suddenly fell asleep. □ The guy couldn't wait to get home and go up.

goup Go to goop.

gourd [gɔrd] n. the head. □ I raised up and got a nasty blow on the gourd. □ My gourd aches something awful.

go West in. to die. □ Ever since Uncle Ben went West, things have been peaceful around here. □ When I go West, I want flowers, hired mourners, and an enormous performance of Mozart's "Requiem."

go with it Go to go with the flow.

go with the flow AND go with it in. to cope with adversity; to accept one's lot. □ No, just relax and go with the flow. □ Go with it. Don't fight it.

goy [goi] 1. n. a gentile. (From Hebrew. Not necessarily derogatory.) □ But the goys can do anything they want on Sunday! □ Leave that kind of thing to the goys. 2. mod. gentile; non-Jewish. □ I don't care for that goy stuff. □ Goy pickles are sort of blah.

go zonkers in. to go slightly crazy. □ What a day! I almost went zonkers. □ I went a little zonkers there for a minute.

grabbers n. the hands. □ Keep your grabbers to yourself. □ Wash your grubby little grabbers before coming to the table.

grade-grubber 1. n. an earnest, hard-working student. (In the way a pig roots or grubs around for food.) □ Martin is a grade-grubber and a real hard worker. □ If there are too many grade-grubbers in a class, it will really throw off the grading scale. 2. n. a student who flatters the teacher in hopes of a higher grade. □ Toward the end of a semester, my office is filled with grade-grubbers. □ A few grade-grubbers help assure old professors that the world is not really changing at all.

grade-grubbing 1. n. working hard at one's studies in hopes of a high grade. □ If all you're here for is grade-grubbing, you're going to miss a lot. □ Get a hobby. All grade-grubbing in college is no good. 2. n. flattering a teacher in hopes of a higher grade. □ Some teachers don't mind a lot of grade-grubbing. □ So you've come in to do some grade-grubbing. 3. mod. having to do with students who are only concerned with getting high grades. □ Grade-grubbing college kids are driving me crazy. □ Two grade-grubbing seniors came in and begged me to change their grades.

graduate ['grædʒuət] 1. n. a person experienced in life, especially sexually experienced. □ Tracy is a graduate. Nothing is new to her. □ You need someone who is a graduate for this kind of a job. 2. ['grædʒuət] in. to move from casual drug use to addiction. (Drugs.) □ Gert graduated to smack after only a year of skin-popping. □ Pete graduated and went into treatment all in the same month.

grand AND G; gee n. one thousand dollars. □ That car probably cost about twenty grand. □ Four Gs for that thing?

Grand Central Station n. any busy and hectic place. (From Grand Central Station in New York City—a very busy place.) □ This place is Grand Central Station on a Friday night. □ At just about closing time, this place becomes Grand Central Station.

granddad n. an old-fashioned person; an out-of-date person. □ Tom is just a silly granddad. He is dull and old-fashioned. □ Don't be such a granddad. Live a little.

(grand)daddy (of them all) n. the biggest or oldest of all; the patriarch. □ This old fish is the granddaddy of them all. □ This one is the daddy. Been here since the place was built.

grandstand in. to make oneself conspicuous. □ Stop grandstanding, Sally. Everyone can see you. □ Don't you just hate the way that Pat grandstands all the time?

grandstand play n. something done exceedingly well to impress an audience or a group of spectators. □ The grandstand play caught the attention of the crowd just as they were leaving. □ He tried one final grandstand play, but the audience continued to give him the raspberry.

grape(s) n. champagne; wine. (See also berries.) □ These grapes are great! □ No more of the grapes for me. It tickles my nose.

grape shot mod. alcohol intoxicated; drunk on wine. □ After the reception, Hank found himself a little grape shot. □ Man, is that guy ever grape shot! How can he hold enough to get that way?

grapes of wrath n. wine. □ Fred had taken a little too much of the grapes of wrath. □ How about another dose of the grapes of wrath?

grapevine n. an informal communications network. □ I heard on the grapevine that Sam is moving to the east. □ The grapevine was right. He's already left.

grass 1. n. marijuana. (Drugs and now widely known.) □ These kids manage to find this grass somewhere. □ Almost everybody knows that grass means marijuana. 2. n. lettuce; salad greens. (See also rabbit food.) □ I could use a little more grass in my diet. □ Do you want some dressing on your grass?

grasser Go to grasshead.

grasshead AND grasser; grasshopper n. a marijuana smoker. (Drugs.) □ The grassheads are taking over this neighborhood. □ Imagine, a seven-year-old grasser!

grasshopper Go to grasshead.

grass party n. a marijuana-smoking party. (Drugs.) □ The goon squad raided Pete's grass party without any warning. □ Sally tried to have a grass party, but didn't have any grass.

grassroots 1. n. the common people, especially rural people. □ We really haven't heard anything from the grassroots yet. □ The grassroots isn't organized on most issues. 2. mod. having to do with or originating with the common people. □ A grassroots movement pushed Senator Del Monte toward the nomination. □ Politicians love to create grassroots movements.

grave-dancer n. someone who profits over someone else's misfortune. (From dance on someone's grave.) □ I don't want to seem like a grave-dancer, but his defeat places me in line for a promotion. □ The guy's a grave-dancer. Anything to get ahead.

gravel-pounder n. an infantry soldier. (Military.) □ Do you really want to join the Army and be a gravel-pounder? □ The life of a gravel-pounder is not for me.

graveyard shift n. the night shift of work in a factory, usually starting at about midnight. (See also swing shift.) □ I'd prefer not to work the graveyard shift. □ The pay is pretty good on the graveyard shift.

gravity check n. a fall as from a surfboard, bike, etc. □ She rounded the turn and had a sudden gravity check, resulting in a scraped elbow.

gravy n. extra or easy money; easy profit. □ Virtually every cent that came in was pure gravy—no expenses and no materials costs at all. □ After I pay expenses, the rest is pure gravy.

gravy train n. a job that brings in a steady supply of easy money or gravy. □ This kind of job is a real gravy train. □ The gravy train is just not for me.

Graybar Hotel AND Graystone College n. a jail; a prison. □ The two cops had to spend two years in Graybar Hotel with some of the inmates they had caught over the past few years. □ Bart has graduated from Graystone College three times in the last ten years.

grayhound in. [for a black] to date whites. □ Somebody said you were grayhounding. Is that so? □ I am not grayhounding.

Graystone College Go to Graybar Hotel.

GR&D interj. Grinning, running, and ducking. (Describes what one might be doing after having written a mischievous message on an electronic forum or news group. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Sometimes enclosed, <GR&D>. Not pronounced aloud.) □ I'm GR&D, but I'm glad I said it. □ I guess that you got just the kind of answer that you deserve. <GR&D> grease n. protection money; bribery money. (See also grease someone's palm.) □ Rocko was in charge of making sure that enough grease was spread around city hall. □ See that the commissioner of the park district gets a little grease to help us get the contract.

greased [grizd OR grist] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He went out and got himself greased, even though he knew it would probably kill him. □ She is way too greased to drive.

greased lightning 1. n. strong liquor. □ This greased lightning of yours nearly blew my head off. □ No more greased lightning for me. 2. n. something fast or powerful. □ That little car is just greased lightning. □ That kid can run like greased lightning.

grease monkey n. a mechanic. □ I took my car to my favorite grease monkey who says I need a new something or other. □ How much money does a grease monkey make?

greaser ['grizə OR 'grisə] n. a rough and aggressive male, usually with long greased down hair. □ Who's the greaser who just swaggered in? □ Donna has been going out with a real greaser.

grease someone's palm tv. to pay someone a bribe. □ I had to grease the clerk's palm in order to get the job done. □ Are you trying to grease my palm?

grease the skids tv. to help prepare for the success or failure of someone or something. (See also put the skids under someone or something.) □ Ray set out to grease the skids for the right things to happen. □ We need someone to grease the skids for the Wilson contract.

greasy spoon n. an untidy and unappetizing diner or restaurant. □ Let's eat at the greasy spoon over on Maple. The food is gross, but the people-watching is good. □ I wouldn't be caught dead in a greasy spoon like that.

great divide n. a divorce. □ How did Sam survive the great divide? □ The great divide cost over two grand.

Great Scott! ['gret 'skat] exclam. Good grief! □ Great Scott! What happened? □ I'm late again! Great Scott!

the great unwashed n. most of the common people; the hoi polloi. □ The great unwashed could probably tell us a lot about life in the big city. □ I usually find myself more in agreement with the great unwashed than with the elite.

greefo AND griefo ['grifo] n. marijuana or a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs. Old Mexican Spanish for weed. See also reefer.) □ Max had a soggy greefo in his mouth. □ He tossed Fred a griefo and held out his hand for some bread.

Greek to someone n. something incomprehensible to someone; something as mysterious as Greek writing. □ I don't understand this. It's all Greek to me. □ She said it was Greek to her, and that it made no sense at all.

green AND green folding; green paper; green stuff n. money; paper money. (See also long bread.) □ How much green you got on you? □ I have so much green stuff, I don't know what to do with it.

green around the gills Go to blue around the gills.

greenback ['grinbæk] n. a dollar bill. □ She came out of the bank and dropped this pack of greenbacks right there on the street. □ It's only ten greenbacks. Anybody can afford that.

green folding Go to green.

greenie ['grini] n. a Heineken (brand) beer. (It comes in a green bottle.) □ Tom ordered a greenie and had it put on his tab. □ Can I have a couple of greenies over here, please?

green light n. the signal to go ahead with something; the okay. (See also go-ahead; high sign.) □ She gave the green light to the project. □ When we get the green light, we'll start.

greenmail n. a money-making scheme wherein a very wealthy person buys a large number of shares of a company, threatens to take control of the company, and then offers to sell the stock to the company at an exorbitant price in lieu of a takeover. (Securities markets.) □ Mr. Smith made about twenty million in greenmail last year. □ One state is trying to outlaw greenmail to protect its industrial base.

green paper Go to green.

green stuff Go to green.

green thumb n. a wonderful ability to garden and grow houseplants. □ Heidi has a green thumb and can work wonders with plants. □ If I had a green thumb, I could grow my own bananas.

greenwash tv. to launder money; to obliterate the illegal sources of money by moving it through a variety of financial institutions. (Underworld.) □ It was shown in court that the mayor had been involved in greenwashing some of the bribe money. □ The treasurer hired someone to greenwash the cash.

grelde [grɛldʒ] 1. n. something nasty or yucky. □ What is this greldge on my shoe? □ That's not greldge, that's just plain mud. 2. exclam. Nuts!; Darn! (Usually Grelde!) □ Oh, greldge! I'm late! □ This is the last straw! Grelde!

griefo Go to greefo.

gripe one's ass AND gripes one's butt tv. to annoy someone; to bother or irritate someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ You really gripe my ass when you act like that! □ That kind of thing really gripes my butt.

gripe one's butt Go to gripe one's ass.

gripe one's soul tv. to annoy someone. □ That kind of thing really gripes my soul! □ John, have I ever told you that you gripe my soul?

grit n. courage; nerve. □ It takes a lot of grit to do something like that. □ Well, Pete has lots of grit. He can do it.

gritch [grɪtʃ] 1. in. to complain. (A blend of gripe and bitch.) □ Stop gritching all the time. □ Are you still gritching about that? 2. n. a complainer; a griper. □ You are getting to be such a gritch. □ Don't be such a gritch!

gritchy ['grɪtʃi] mod. complaining; irritable. □ I don't feel as gritchy today as I did yesterday. □ You seem quite gritchy to me.

groan box n. an accordion. (See also (squeeze-)box.) □ Clare is pretty good at the groan box. □ I used to play the groan box when I was a kid.

groaty Go to grody.

grod AND groddess [grad AND 'gradəs] n. an especially sloppy man or woman. (Patterned on god and goddess.) □ Hello, grods and groddesses, what's new? □ She is the groddess of scraggly ends.

groddess Go to grod.

grody AND groaty ['grodi] mod. disgusting. (From grotesque. See also grotty.) □ What a grody view of the street from this window. □ These shoes are getting sort of groaty. I guess I'll throw them out.

grody to the max ['grodi tu ðə 'mæks] mod. totally disgusting. (California. From grotesque. See also grody.) □ Oo, this is grody to the max! □ This pizza is, like, grody to the max!

grog [grag] n. liquor. □ Here, have some more of this grog. □ That's enough grog for me.

groggery ['gragəri] n. a tavern; a place to buy liquor. □ Sam stopped at the groggery for a snort. □ All the groggeries are closed on Sundays.

groggified Go to groggy.

groggy 1. mod. tired; in a stupor. □ He was too groggy to care what happened to him. □ Who's that groggy guy? □ I'm still groggy by ten in the morning. 2. AND groggified ['grɒɡɪfaɪd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ John was a little groggy—

from the grog, of course. □ He was too groggified to drive.

groghound n. a drunkard. □ I'm afraid that Ernie is getting to be a groghound. □ I'm an old groghound from way back.

grok [grɒk] tv. to appreciate someone or something; to relate to someone or something. □ I can really grok what you're saying. □ I don't quite grok that. Run it by again, would you?

gronk [grɒŋk] n. a nasty substance, such as dirt that collects between the toes. □ I don't want to hear any more at all about your gronk. □ What is this gronk here?

gronk (out) in. to conk out; to crash, as with a car or a computer. □ My car gronked out on the way to work this morning. □ The program gronks every time I start to run it.

groove n. something pleasant or cool. (See also in the groove.) □ This day has been a real groove. □ Man, what a groove!

grooved [gruvd] mod. pleased. □ I am so grooved. I'll just kick back and meditate. □ You sure look grooved. What's been happening in your life?

groove on someone or something in. to show interest in someone or something; to relate to someone or something. □ Fred was beginning to groove on new age music when he met Phil. □ Sam is really grooving on Mary.

grooving mod. enjoying; being cool and laid back. □ Look at those guys grooving in front of the television set. □ They were just sitting there grooving.

groovy 1. mod. cool; pleasant. □ Man, this music is groovy. □ What a groovy day! 2. mod. drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) □ Three beers and he was a little groovy. □ She's groovy, but she can still stand up. 3. mod. out-of-date; passé. (California.) □ Your clothes are so groovy. It barfs me out. □ Oh, how groovy!

gross [gros] mod. crude; vulgar; disgusting. (Slang only when overused.) □ This food is gross! □ What a gross thing to even suggest.

gross-out 1. n. something disgusting. □ This whole day has been a total gross-out. □ That horror movie was a real gross-out. 2. mod. disgusting; gross. □ What a gross-out day this has been! □ Well, it looks like another gross-out movie.

gross someone out tv. to disgust someone. □ Those horrible pictures just gross me out. □ Jim's story totally grossed out Sally.

grotty ['gradi] mod. highly undesirable. (Originally British. From grotesque. See also grody.) □ Let's not see another grotty movie tonight. □ What is this grotty stuff they serve here? □ It's not grotty!

grounded mod. confined to one's home. (The standard punishment for a teenager. See also campused.) □ Tracy is grounded for a week because she came in late. □ You are grounded, and I don't want to hear another word about it!

ground-pounder n. an infantry soldier. (Military.) □ If you join the Army, it means a lot of your life spent as a ground-pounder. □ You won't find me among the ground-pounders. I have flat feet.

group-grope n. a group of people engaged in sexual activities. □ That party turned into a hopeless group-grope. □ The group-grope was busted up by you-know-who.

groupie n. a young woman who follows a band seeking romance with the band members. □ Would you believe that Sally was a groupie when she was 19? □ You mean all those young girls are groupies?

grouse [graʊs] 1. in. to complain. □ Paul is always grouching about something. □ Stop grouching and look on the good side of things. 2. n. a woman; women considered sexually. □ Who's the grouse I saw you with last night? □ Look at that grouse over there. 3. in. to neck; to pet and kiss. □ They stopped grouching in order to come up for air. □ They were grouching in the backseat the whole trip.

grovel ['gravl] in. to fondle or pet. □ They spent the whole time in the backseat groveling. □ He always wants to go out and grovel.

growler n. a toilet. □ Where's the growler around here? □ We only have one growler in this house.

grub [grəb] 1. n. food. □ Hey, this grub's pretty good. □ What time's grub? 2. AND grub up in. to eat [a meal]. □ When do we grub? □ Let's grub and get going. 3. tv. to eat something; to eat a meal. □ Are you going to grub that whole pizza? □ Grub your food and let's go. 4. n. an earnest student. (Collegiate. See also grade-grubber.) □ Martin is not exactly a grub. He gets good grades without trying. □ The test was so hard, even the grubs did poorly. 5. n. a sloppy person. (From grub worm.) □ Don is such a grub all the time. □ Sorry I look like a grub. I've been doing some plumbing. 6. Go to grubbies.

grubbers Go to grubbies.

grubbies AND grubbers; grubs ['grəbiz AND 'grəbɔːz, grəbz] n. worn-out clothing; clothing one wears for the occasional dirty job. □ I have to go home, put some grubbies on, and paint the house. □ There I was, running around in my grubs when the Senator stops by to say hello!

grubby ['grəbi] mod. unclean; untidy; unshaven. □ Pete looks sort of grubby today. What's wrong? □ Who's that grubby guy? □ I feel grubby, and I want a shower.

grub on something in. to eat something. □ What are you grubbing on? It looks horrible.

grub up Go to grub.

gruesome-twosome ['grusəm'tusəm] n. two people or things. (Jocular. Neither the things or the people have to be gruesome.) □ Well, it's the gruesome-twosome. Come in and join the party. □ The gruesome-twosome will both start in tonight's game.

grunch Go to grunge.

grunge AND grunch [grændʒ AND grəntʃ] 1. n. any nasty substance; dirt; gunk. □ There's some gritty grunge on the kitchen floor. □ What's that grunch on your tie? 2. n. an ugly or nasty person; a repellent person. □ Heidi thinks that Bart is a grunge. □ Some grunch came by and dropped off this strange package for you.

grungy ['grændʒi] 1. mod. dirty and smelly; yucky. □ Get your grungy feet off the table! □ My feet are not grungy! □ What is this grungy stuff on the closet floor? 2. Go to gungy.

grunt [grənt] 1. n. an infantry soldier. (Military. From the gutteral sound made by a pig, and anyone doing very heavy labor.) □ Hey, you grunts! Get in line! □ Get those grunts out on the field at sunrise! 2. n. a low-ranking or subservient person. (Someone who is likely to utter a grunt because of the discomforts of menial labor.) □ Get one of the grunts over here to clean this up. □ Let's hire a grunt to do this kind of work. 3. n. a belch. □ I heard your grunt! □ Does that grunt mean you like my cooking? 4. n. a hard-working student. □ Martin isn't a grunt. Everything's easy for Martin. □ The grunts got B's on the test. It was that hard! 5. n. a wrestler. (Possibly in reference to a grunting pig.) □ Two big grunts wearing outlandish costumes performed for the television cameras. □ One grunt threw the other grunt out of the ring.

grunt work n. hard, menial labor; tedious work. □ I'm tired of doing grunt work for minimum wages. □ Who is supposed to do the grunt work around here? Not me!

gubbish n. nonsense; useless information. (Computers. A combination of garbage and rubbish.) □ There's nothing but gubbish on my printout. □ I can't make any sense out of this gubbish.

guber AND goober ['gubə] 1. n. a facial pimple. (See also goob.) □ Wow, look at that giant guber on my nose. □ How does anybody get rid of goobers? 2. n. a tumor. (Jocular medical slang. Possibly because it grows beneath the surface like the goober—the peanut. See also boogie.) □ Dr. Jones took a huge goober out of a lady this morning. □ The patient with the abdominal goober is going into surgery now.

guck [gək] n. a thick, sticky substance; yuck. □ What is this guck on the bottom of my shoe? □ The doctor painted some nasty guck on my throat and told me not to swallow for a while.

gucky ['gəki] mod. thick and sticky; yucky.

□ This is a gucky day. Look at the sky. □ Yes, it is gucky. □ There is a lot of gucky oil and grease on the garage floor.

guff [gʌf] 1. n. nonsense; bunkum. □ Wow, that vice president guy can sure dish out the guff! □ No more guff outa you, okay?

2. n. back talk; complaining. □ I don't want to hear any more of your guff. □ That's enough of your guff! 3. n. a strange person; a nerd. (Possibly related to goof.)

□ Wally acts like a guff when we go out. I am going to break up with him. □ Some old guff driving an Edsel yelled at us when we crossed the street.

gug [gʊg] n. a repellent person. □ Oo, he's such a gug! □ Rocko is not a gug!

GUI Go to goosey.

gulf n. heroin from the Persian Gulf region. (Drugs.) □ This gulf is flooding the country. □ Those pushers can call anything gulf. How does anybody know where it's from?

gumby ['gəmbi] n. a tall, squared-off and slanting haircut that looks like the Gumby character's head. □ Wayne came to school sporting a gumby and got a lot of attention. □ Ted got sent to the principal's office because of his gumby.

gumbyhead ['gəmbihed] n. someone who does stupid things like the character, Gumby. □ Fred is a total gumbyhead. He does all the wrong things. □ Don't be a gumbyhead. Don't drink and drive.

gump [gʌmp] n. a fool; an oaf. □ Who's the gump in the yellow slacks? □ Don't act like such a gump!

gumshoe ['gəm'fu] n. a policeman or a detective. (Underworld. Also a term of address. So-named for wearing silent, gum-rubber soles.) □ Has that gumshoe been around asking questions again? □ Look, gumshoe, what do you want with me?

gun 1. n. a hired gunman; a bodyguard, an assassin, or a member of a gang of criminals. (Underworld and Western.) □ Willie and his guns came by to remind

Gary of what he owed Mr. Big. □ Tell your guns to lay off. 2. n. a leader; the key member of a group. □ Who's the gun around here? □ Willie is the gun, and what he says goes. 3. tv. to race an engine; to rev up an engine. □ See how loud it is when I gun it? □ Gun the thing again and let me hear it. 4. Go to guns.

gunboats AND battleships n. big feet; big shoes. □ Hasn't he got the biggest gunboats you ever saw? □ Whose battleships are these under the coffee table?

gun for someone in. to be looking for someone, not necessarily with a gun. □ Sam is gunning for Bart. □ The French prof is gunning for you.

gunge [gʌndʒ] n. a skin irritation in the groin. (See also crotch-rot. Said of males.) □ I got the gunge. What'll I do? □ The sawbones'll give you something for the gunge.

gungeon ['gʌndʒən] n. a potent type of marijuana from Africa or Jamaica; a cigarette made of this marijuana. □ Where can I get some of that gungeon? □ Is this gungeon really from Africa?

gung-ho ['gʌŋ'ho] mod. zealous; enthusiastic. □ We're really gung-ho about the possibilities of this product. □ Pete always seems so gung-ho about everything. □ He's a gung-ho guy.

gungy AND grungy ['gʌndʒi AND 'grʌndʒi] mod. messy; nasty; worn-out. (See also grunge.) □ Get your grungy feet off the sofa. □ The weather is so grungy today.

gunk [gʌŋk] 1. n. any nasty, messy stuff. □ What is this gunk on the counter? □ Get this gunk up off the floor before it dries. 2. n. glue sniffed as a drug. (Drugs.) □ This kid is high on gunk. □ I thought that it was illegal to sell gunk.

gunner n. an earnest student. (Collegiate.) □ Martin is a gunner, all right. □ The gunners in my algebra class always get the A's.

gunny ['gʌni] n. a potent marijuana from Jamaica or Africa. (Drugs.) □ Is this gunny really from Jamaica? □ This gunny is just junk, plain old junk.

guns n. the biceps. □ Look at the guns on that guy! □ He lifts weights to build up his guns.

gunzel-butt ['gʌnzlɒt] n. a strange-looking person, usually a male. (Underworld.) □ Bruno told the gunzel-butt where to get off. □ Rocko is no gunzel-butt. He's a thinker.

guru ['ɡʊrʊ] 1. n. an experienced LSD user who guides someone else on a trip. □ Bart volunteered to serve as a guru, but he never showed up. □ A guru can be a big help. 2. n. a stockbroker or other financial adviser. (Securities markets.) □ My guru says to sell all my bonds. □ My guru just went bankrupt. 3. n. a psychiatrist; a psychotherapist. □ I go to this guru who gets a lot of money just to listen. □ I've started using my mirror for a guru. It's cheaper.

gussied up ['ɡʌsɪd...] mod. dressed up in one's best clothing. (Folksy.) □ She was all gussied up in her finest. □ I like to get gussied up and go out on the town.

gusto ['ɡæstə] 1. n. beer. □ Can you stop at the filling station and get some gusto? □ How about another tube of gusto? 2. in. to drink beer. □ Don't you ever do anything but gusto? □ Let's go out and gusto all night!

gut [ɡʌt] 1. n. the belly; the intestines. □ What a gut that guy has. □ Tom poked Bill right in the gut. 2. mod. basic; fundamental. □ This is a gut issue, and we have to deal with it now. □ We are not dealing with what I would call one of the gut matters of the day. 3. mod. [of a college or high school course] easy. □ That's a gut course. Nothing to it. □ I won't take any more gut economics courses. Even those are hard. 4. n. an easy course in school. □ That course is a gut. □ If it's a gut, it's for me.

gutbucket ['ɡʌtbəkɪt] 1. n. a chamber pot, especially one used in a prison cell. (See also gash bucket.) □ You got something around here I can use as a gutbucket? □ I don't want any gutbucket around here. 2. n. a toilet. □ Where's the gutbucket around here? □ The kid tried to flush his

stash down the gutbucket. 3. n. the stomach. □ Hey, your gutbucket's getting sort of big, isn't it? □ Sam poked Pete right in the gutbucket. 4. n. a fat person, usually a man. □ Harry is getting to be a real gutbucket. □ Look at the gutbucket waddling down the street. 5. n. a cheap saloon; a low tavern. □ Old Jed is probably stuck in some gutbucket someplace, talking his head off. □ The pinstriper needed a drink so bad he stopped at one of those gutbuckets on Maple Street. 6. n. an earthy style of music. □ I'd like to hear some good old-fashioned gutbucket. □ You don't hear much gutbucket in public places these days.

gutless wonder n. a totally spineless person. □ George, don't be such a gutless wonder! Stand up for your rights! □ Here comes that gutless wonder, Martin.

gut reaction (to something) n. a basic and immediate response to something. □ Well, my gut reaction is quite negative. □ Her gut reaction to the plan is basically a good one.

guts [ɡʌts] 1. n. courage; bravado. □ Man, she's got guts! □ It takes guts to do something like that. 2. n. the belly; the intestines. □ Ted poked Frank right in the guts. □ I've got some kind of pain in the guts. 3. n. the inner workings of anything. □ There's something wrong in the guts of this clock. □ My tape recorder needs all new guts. 4. n. the essence of something. □ Let's discuss the real guts of this issue. □ The guts of your proposal are really easy to understand.

gutsy ['ɡʌtsɪ] mod. courageous; feisty. □ She sure is a gutsy young thing. □ She is not gutsy. □ Ernie's acting sort of gutsy today. What happened?

guy n. a fellow; a man or boy. (Not necessarily male in the plural.) □ Hey you guys, let's go! □ When you guys finish getting your makeup on, we can go back to the guys.

guzzery Go to guzzlery.

guzzle ['ɡʌzl] 1. tv. & in. to drink alcohol in great quantities. □ Stop guzzling for a while and pay attention. □ Don't guzzle all that beer, or you'll turn into a guzzle- guts. 2. n. a drinking spree. □ Fred's out on another of his guzzles. □ It's one guzzle after another, day after day.

guzzled ['gəzld] 1. mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ Rocko got himself guzzled on a speeding rap. □ Lefty is guzzled again. He's so clumsy. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Sam was plenty guzzled when he got home. □ Todd was too guzzled to drive home.

guzzle-guts n. a drunkard; a heavy drinker. □ Old guzzle-guts here would like another drink. □ Don't call me guzzle-guts. I hardly ever have a drop.

guzzler n. a heavy drinker. □ Harry is getting to be quite a guzzler. □ A couple of guzzlers at the bar were carrying on a low conversation when Barlowe came in.

guzzlery AND guzzery ['gəzləri AND 'gəzəri] n. a bar; a liquor store. □ Sam hit every guzzlery on Maple Street on the way home. □ I wouldn't be caught dead in a guzzery like that!

gweeb [gwib] n. a studious student. (Collegeiate. A variant of dweeb.) □ I'm in a physics class full of gweeb. □ Martin is a gweeb, all right, but he's a good guy.

gweebo ['gwibo] mod. feeble; despicable; in the manner of a gweeb. □ I'm not gweebo. I'm just eccentric. □ Don't act so gweebo all the time.

gym shoe n. a disliked person. □ Who is the gym shoe who comes to class in a sport coat? □ Fred is such a gym shoe. Will he ever get with it?

gynie ['gəni] n. a gynecologist. □ My gynie says I'm fine. □ She went to a new gynie last week.

gyve [dʒaɪv] n. marijuana; a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs. See also jive.) □ Why are you always smoking gyve? □ How about a hit of that gyve?

gyvestick Go to jivestick.

H

H. n. heroin. (Drugs.) □ Now he's shooting H. □ First it was M.; now it's H.

habit n. an addiction to a drug. □ She has to steal to support her habit. □ There are many treatment programs to help with drug habits.

hack 1. n. a taxi. □ Go out to the street and see if you can get a hack. □ I drove a hack for a few months; then I quit. 2. n. a cough. □ That's a nasty hack you've got there. □ A hack like that can lead to pneumonia. 3. n. a professional writer who writes mediocre material to order. □ This novel shows that even a hack can get something published these days. □ That hack can't even write her name! 4. n. a reporter. □ She was a hack for the newspaper for a while. □ Newspaper hacks have to know a little of everything. 5. tv. to write clumsy or inefficient computer programs. □ I can hack a program for you, but it won't be what you want. □ Well, I can hack myself. 6. tv. to break into a computer electronically to steal data or corrupt it or for the challenge of breaking in. □ Somebody hacked our system. □ I'm gonna hack the bank's computer because they bounced a check of mine. 7. tv. to annoy someone. (See also hacked (off).) □ This really hacks me. □ That kind of behavior hacks her a lot. 8. n. anyone who does poor or undesirable work. □ Oh, he's just a hack. What can you expect? □ There's always plenty of work for a hack. 9. n. a prison guard. □ Watch out, man. The hacks are looking.

hack around in. to waste time. □ You guys are always hacking around. Get busy! □ I wanted to hack around for a year after college, but my finances disagreed.

hacked [hækt] mod. worn-out; ready to quit. □ What a day! I'm hacked. □ We were all hacked at the end of the climb.

hacked (off) mod. angry; annoyed. □ Wally was really hacked off about the accident. □ Oh, Wally is always hacked about something.

hacker 1. n. a taxi driver. □ That hacker nearly ran into the back of my car! □ You wonder how some of these hackers keep their licenses. 2. n. a sloppy or inefficient computer programmer. □ This program was written by a real hacker. It's a mess, but it works. □ I may be a hacker, but I get the job done. 3. n. a generally unsuccessful person. □ Poor Pete is just a hacker. He'll never go any place. □ Hackers keep trying, but they never succeed. 4. n. someone who breaks into a computer electronically. □ Some hacker broke into our computer! □ Some hackers are really good programmers.

hack it tv. to stand up to something; to endure something. □ It's hard, but I'm sure I can hack it. □ I'm afraid you can't hack it. It just isn't working out.

had Go to taken.

hairball 1. AND furball n. an obnoxious person. □ I wish that the guys I date didn't always turn out to be hairballs. □ Stop being such a furball, Wally. 2. exclam. How awful! (Usually Hairball! An exclamation of disgust. From the name of the undigested mass of fur vomited by a cat.) □ Hairball! I did it wrong again! □ Oh, I hate that dork! Hairball!

hairy mod. hazardous; difficult. □ That was a hairy experience! □ Wow, that's hairy! □ What a hairy ride!

hairy-ass(ed) 1. mod. wild; exciting. □ We had a real hairy-ass time on the roller coaster. □ The last part of the climb was really hairy-assed. 2. mod. strong and virile. (Usually objectionable.) □ This big hairy-ass guy started to push us around. □ Stop acting like a hairy-assed jerk.

half a bubble off plumb phr. giddy; crazy. □ She is acting about half a bubble off plumb. What is wrong with her? □ Tom is just half a bubble off plumb, but he is all heart.

half-ass(ed) mod. clumsy; awkward and ineffectual. (Usually objectionable.) □ She only made a half-ass try at passing the test.

half-baked 1. mod. badly thought out. □ That was a half-baked scheme. Was that the best you could do? □ It would have been approved if it weren't so half-baked. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ We're getting half-baked, come hell or high water. □ Fred got himself sort of half-baked every Saturday night.

half-blind mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Fred got himself half-blind in no time at all. □ Get that half-blind jerk out of here! □ Four cans of beer and she was half-blind.

half-canned mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ He's half-canned and will be no help at all. □ Old Don is half-canned and can't drive home.

half-cocked 1. mod. unprepared. (See also go off half-cocked.) □ So he's half-cocked. So what? □ You're half-cocked for everything you do. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He just sat there, half-cocked and singing. □ Old Jed got himself half-cocked at the reception.

half-crocked mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Sam and John set out to get half-crocked. □ They came home half-crocked at midnight.

half in the bag mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Jerry was half in the bag when we found him. □ They were all half in the bag by midnight.

half-lit mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ John was half-lit in no time at all. □ Harry was half-lit by noon.

half-sprung mod. tipsy; alcohol intoxicated. □ Ted was half-sprung and could hardly stand up. □ They were half-sprung by noon.

half-stewed mod. tipsy; alcohol intoxicated. □ Poor Fred was half-stewed and still had to give a speech. □ We were half-stewed and had a lot of drinking yet to do.

half-under 1. mod. semi-conscious. □ I was half-under and could hear what the doctor was saying. □ I was afraid they would start cutting while I was only half-under. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ He was half-under and could barely stand up. □ Only four beers and she was half-under.

half up the pole mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ She drank till she was half up the pole. □ Don was half up the pole when we picked him up to come here.

halvsies ['hævziz] mod. with each (of two) paying half. (See also go Dutch.) □ Let's do it halvsies. □ Let's make it halvsies, and I pay for the parking, too.

ham 1. n. an actor; a bad actor. (See also hams.) □ What a ham! A real showoff. □ The cast was an assemblage of hams. 2. n. an amateur radio operator. □ My brother is a ham, and he helped a lot during the emergency. □ The hams helped by providing communication to the outside world.

hamburg n. a hamburger. (See also burger.) □ I'd like a couple of hamburgs and a shake. □ This hamburg is as greasy as they come.

hamburger n. a stupid and worthless person—meat. □ The guy is just hamburger. □ You can't teach him anything. □ There is a lot of hamburger around here. Who hired them?

hamburgers n. shares in the McDonald's corporation. (Securities markets. New York Stock Exchange jargon.) □ I want 400 shares of hamburgers. □ Hamburgers just dropped a point.

ham-handed mod. lacking dexterity; clumsy. □ If I wasn't so ham-handed, I could probably fix the thing myself. □ He is the most ham-handed guy I've ever seen.

hammer n. the accelerator of a vehicle. □ She pressed down the hammer, and off they went. □ The hammer went straight to the floor.

hammer a beer Go to pound a beer.

hammered mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, old Fred was really hammered. □ She got so hammered she couldn't see.

hammerhead 1. n. a stupid person; a person whose head seems to be as solid as a hammer. □ You can be such a hammerhead! □ What a hammerhead! Totally dense! 2. n. a drunkard or a drug user. □ These hammerheads can't even hold a simple job for the most part. □ A couple of hammerheads stood in the alley, looking suspicious.

hammer some beers Go to pound a beer.

hams n. legs; hips. □ Her great hams extended over the sides of the chair. □ I got to do something to get the size of these hams down.

handful n. a difficult thing or person. □ Little Jimmy is a handful. □ His dad can be a handful, too.

hand-in-glove mod. suiting one another naturally. □ These two go hand-in-glove. □ The two parts went together like hand-in-glove.

hand it to someone tv. to acknowledge someone's excellence (at something). □ Well, I have to hand it to you. That was great! □ He had to hand it to her for her excellent performance.

handle 1. n. a person's name or nickname. (Western jargon and then citizens band radio.) □ Well, what's your handle so I'll know what to call you? □ My handle is Goober. You can call me Goob. 2. n. a way of dealing with something; a grasp of a problem. □ As soon as I get a handle on this Wilson matter, I'll give you a buzz. □ I can't seem to get a handle on what's wrong.

handles Go to (love) handles.

handout 1. n. a gift of money, food, or other goods to a needy person. (Often in the negative, as in the examples.) □ I don't want a handout, just a loan. □ Give him a handout and send him on his way.

2. n. an informational sheet of paper "handed out" to people. □ As you can see on your handout, 40 percent of those who started never finished. □ I didn't get a handout.

hand over fist mod. repeatedly and energetically, especially as with taking in money in a great volume. □ We were taking in fees hand over fist, and the people were lined up for blocks. □ The money came in hand over fist at the BO.

hands down mod. easily; unquestionably. □ She won the contest hands down. □ They declared her the winner hands down.

hand someone something tv. to tell someone something; to tell someone nonsense. □ Don't hand me that stuff! That's silly! □ She handed me a line about being a famous author.

hands-on 1. mod. having to do with an instructional session where the learners are able to handle the device they are being trained to operate. □ Please plan to attend a hands-on seminar on computers next Thursday. □ After three weeks of hands-on training, I still couldn't add two and two. 2. mod. having to do with an executive or manager who participates directly in operations. □ We expect that he will be the kind of hands-on president we have been looking for. □ John is a hands-on manager. I wish he would stay in his office.

Hands up! AND Stick 'em up! exclam. Raise your hands in the air; this is a robbery! (Underworld and Western.) □ Hands up! Don't anybody move a muscle. This is a heist. □ Stick 'em up! Give me all your valuables.

hang in. to hang around; to spend time aimlessly. □ Is that all you did all summer? Just hang? □ My mom yelled at me because I spent all day hanging with the guys.

hang a BA (at someone) tv. to display one's buttocks to someone in derision. (A BA is a bare ass.) □ Victor was angry and hung a BA at the cop. □ He went to the window and hung a BA—just for the hell of it.

hang a few on tv. to take a few drinks; to have a few beers. □ They went out to hang a few on. □ Let's hang on a few and then go on to the meeting.

hang a huey ['hæŋ ə 'hjuɪ AND 'hæŋ ə 'hjuɪ] tv. to make a U-turn. (The first pronunciation of huey with no hj is probably the original version.) □ Hang a huey at the next corner. □ Right here! Hang a huey!

hang a left tv. to turn left. □ He hung a left at the wrong corner. □ Hey, here! Hang a left here!

hang a louie ['hæŋ ə 'luɪ] tv. to turn left. □ You have to hang a louie at the stop sign. □ Go another block and hang a louie.

hang a ralph ['hæŋ ə 'rælf] tv. to turn right. □ He skied down the easy slope and hung a ralph near a fir tree. □ Don't hang a ralph until you get past the traffic light.

hang a right tv. to turn right. □ Hang a right about here. □ I told him to hang a right at the next corner, but he went on.

hang (around) in. to loiter; to waste away time doing nothing. □ Don't just hang around. Get busy with something. □ Move. Don't just hang. There's work to be done.

hang five AND hang ten tv. to stand toward the front of a surfboard or diving board and hang the toes of one or both feet over the edge. (Teens and collegiate.) □ The coach told her to hang ten and not to look down. □ Get out there and hang five. You can swim. Nothing can go wrong.

hang in there in. to keep trying; to persevere. □ Hang in there. Keep trying. □ I'll just hang in there. Maybe things will get better.

Hang it all! exclam. Damn it all! □ Oh, hang it all! I'm late. □ He's late again! Hang it all!

hang it up tv. to quit something. □ I finally had enough and decided to hang it up. □ Oh, hang it up! It's hopeless.

hang loose AND stay loose in. to relax and stay cool. □ Just hang loose, man. Everything'll be all right. □ Stay loose, chum. See ya later.

hang one on tv. to get drunk. □ Fred was hacked and went out to hang one on. □ Fred hangs one on about once a month.

hangout ['hæŋaʊt] n. a place to loaf or hang (around). □ I dropped by one of his favorite hangouts, but he wasn't there. □ We went over to the hangout and sat around talking.

hang ten Go to hang five.

hang tough (on something) in. to stick to one's position (on something). □ I decided I'd hang tough on it. I tend to give in too easy. □ Yes, just hang tough.

hang up 1. n. a problem or concern; an obsession. (Usually hang-up.) □ She's got some serious hang-ups about cats. □ I don't have any hang ups at all. Well, almost none. 2. in. to say no; to cancel out of something. □ I hung up. That's not for me anyway. □ If you don't want to do it, just hang up. I'll understand.

hang with someone in. to hang around with someone. □ Dave spent the afternoon hanging with Don, and neither one got anything done. □ I'm going down to the corner and hang with the guys.

hanky AND hankie ['hæŋki] n. a handkerchief, especially if lacy and feminine. □ Do you have a hanky I can borrow? □ Here, use my hankie.

hanky-panky ['hæŋki'pæŋki] 1. n. funny business; deceitfulness. □ There's some hanky-panky going on in the treasurer's office. □ I am going to get this hanky-panky straightened out. 2. n. sexual play; sexual misconduct. (See also mifky-pifky (in the bushes).) □ Sam and Mary are up to a little hanky-panky, I've heard. □ There's some hanky-panky going on in the storeroom.

happening 1. mod. fashionable; trendy; positive. (Collegiate.) □ Oh, Tiffany, your skirt is really happening. □ Wow, that's happening! 2. n. an event. □ The concert was a real happening. □ Well, class is never a happening, but it's never dull.

happy 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ She seems a little happy. Must have had a few already. □ She's not happy. She's stewed. 2. mod. obsessed with something. (A combining form showing a strong interest in the thing that is named before happy.) □ All those guys are girl-happy at this age. □ Pete's car-happy right now. That's all he thinks about.

happy camper n. a happy person. (Often in the negative.) □ Fred flunked algebra and he is not a happy camper. □ I am not a happy camper. I am tired, hungry, and I need a shower.

happy hour n. cocktail time. □ Happy hour starts at dawn for Harry. □ The hotel had a nice happy hour at five.

happy juice n. liquor, beer, and wine. □ A little more happy juice, John? □ Too much happy juice can make you very unhappy.

happy pills n. tranquilizers. □ She asked the doctor for some happy pills. □ She is now hooked on happy pills.

happy shop n. a liquor store. □ I need something from the happy shop. □ Let's stop off at the happy shop.

haps n. things that are happening; events. (Streets.) □ Come in and tell me the haps. □ I don't care what's going on. I'm down with the haps.

hard 1. mod. fermented, as with cider. (See also hard liquor.) □ This juice got hard. What shall I do with it? □ Where's the hard stuff? □ If it's hard, give it to me and I'll drink it. 2. mod. having to do with an addictive drug. (Compare this with soft.) □ Gert's on hard stuff now. □ Hard drugs are easier to get than ever before. 3. mod. tough. (Akin to hardhearted; hard as nails.) □ Sally is really hard. She can stand anything. □ Only the hard guys get through basic training.

hardboiled mod. tough; heartless. □ She is a hardboiled old gal. □ Do you have to act so hardboiled?

hard case 1. n. a case of liquor. □ Pete wanted a hard case delivered to his house. □ There's a lot of beer and a hard case in the van. 2. n. a person who is a real problem. □ Jed has turned into a hard case. He's fighting us at every turn. □ The hard case we dealt with last week is back again.

hard coin n. lots of money. (See also coin.) □ A car like that takes hard coin. □ Old Freddie is earning some hard coin these days.

hard-core 1. mod. sexually explicit; pornographic. □ You can't sell that hard-core stuff in a store like this! □ You think that's hard-core? 2. mod. extreme; entrenched. □ She spent some time teaching hard-core illiterates in a medium-sized town. □ There are too many hard-core cases of poverty there. 3. mod. very good; stunning; great. □ This new album is one hard-core piece of tunage. □ I'd like a really hard-core pizza with at least five kinds of cheese.

hardhat 1. n. a protective helmet worn around construction sites. (Standard English.) □ You'll need a hardhat to come into this area. □ John swiped a hardhat from the construction site. 2. n. a construction worker. (Usually derogatory.) □ The hardhats didn't care much for the actress's politics. □ Some hardhat was waving a flag and shouting something I couldn't understand.

hard head n. a stubborn person. □ You are a classic hard head. Lighten up! □ I'm not really a hard head. You bring out the worst in me.

hardheaded mod. stubborn. □ Gary is a real hardheaded guy. □ Anybody that hardheaded is going to have trouble with everybody.

hardliner n. a person who takes a strict position (on something). □ Tom is sort of a hardliner when it comes to spending public money. □ The mayor is a hardliner on the question of care for the elderly.

hard liquor n. potent liquor such as whiskey, gin, rum, etc. □ Hard liquor makes me sick. □ Stay off of hard liquor until your stomach feels better.

hard-nosed mod. stern and businesslike; unsympathetic. □ She's pretty hard-nosed and tends to put people off. □ It takes a hard-nosed manager to run a place like this.

hard off n. a dull and sexless male. (The opposite of hard-on.) □ Wally is a silly hard off. He seems asleep half the time.

hard-on n. an erection of the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He must have had his last hard-on years ago.

hard sell n. a high-pressure attempt to sell something. □ I didn't want to listen to any hard sell, so I bought it from a mail-order place. □ I'm afraid I'm very susceptible to the hard sell.

hard time 1. n. a difficult experience. □ I had a hard time at the doctor's office. □ She's having a hard time with her child. 2. n. a prison sentence. (Underworld.) □ Lefty did hard time for his part in the robbery. □ How much hard time does he have behind him?

hard to swallow mod. difficult to believe. □ Your story is pretty hard to swallow, but I am beginning to believe it. □ The news was hard to swallow.

hard up 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ After a couple of six packs, Wally found himself a little hard up. □ The whole gang was hard up by midnight. 2. mod. in need of drugs or alcohol. □ Gert was hard up and needed a fix. □ The old hobo was hard up for a drink. 3. mod. desperate for companionship. □ Freddie said he was hard up and needed a date. □ Mary must be hard up to date a jerk like that.

hardware 1. n. whiskey; potent liquor. □ This hardware is enough to knock your socks off. □ Pour me some of that hardware, will ya? 2. n. hard drugs or hard liquor. □ No wine for me. Give me the hardware. □ This hardware is pretty powerful. 3. n. a weapon; a gun. (Underworld and Western.) □ I think I see your hardware showing. □ Lefty keeps his hardware under his mattress. 4. n. computer parts, as opposed to computer programs. □ What kind of hardware are you running this program on? □ The software is okay, so it must be the hardware that's off.

harsh mod. bad; rude. □ She's a harsh lady and doesn't care how you feel. □ Man, this hamburger is harsh. What did you put in it?

harsh toke 1. n. an irritating puff of a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ Wow, that was a harsh toke. Yuck! □ Pat got a harsh toke and coughed a lot. 2. n. anything or anyone unpleasant. □ Sally can sure be a harsh toke when she wants. □ This meeting has been a real harsh toke.

has-been ['hæzbɪn] 1. n. someone who used to be important; a person whose career has ended. □ Marty is just a has-been. There's no future for him. □ An old has-been was hired to host the midnight show. 2. mod. former; burnt-out. □ Some has-been singer croaked through "The Star-Spangled Banner." □ Now I'm a has-been football player, and nobody even knows my name.

hash [hæʃ] n. hashish; cannabis in general. (Drugs.) □ The amount of hash that moves into this city in a single day would astound you. □ Hash is still the favorite first drug other than alcohol.

hash cannon n. a device used in the smoking of cannabis. (Drugs. See also shot-gun.) □ Gert kept a hash cannon in her stash. □ Don had a hash cannon in his office as a sample of a device for smoking pot.

hash-head n. a smoker of cannabis. (Drugs.) □ You can't stay a hash-head all your life. □ Kelly was almost a hopeless hash-head.

hash-house 1. n. a cheap diner. □ Tom worked for two days as a hash-slinger in a hash-house. □ You see a lot of interesting people go in and out of a hash-house like this one. 2. n. a place where hashish is sold and used. (Drugs.) □ This hash-house is due for a raid. Let's hit it. □ The fuzz raided a hash-house over on Maple Street.

hash pipe n. a small pipe for smoking cannabis. (Drugs.) □ John kept a hash pipe on the shelf just for show. □ The cops found a hash pipe in her pocket.

hash-slinger n. a cook, waiter, or waitress in a hash-house. □ I worked as a hash-slinger in an all-night diner. □ The life of a hash-slinger is pretty tough.

hassle ['hæsl] 1. n. a dispute; a bother. □ The whole thing was a real hassle. □ It's a hassle every time I come here. 2. tv. to harass someone; to bother someone; to give someone a hard time. □ Listen, please don't hassle me. I've had a hard day. □ Please make this dame stop hassling me!

hatch n. the mouth. (See also Down the hatch!) □ Shut your hatch! □ Pop this in your hatch.

hate someone's guts tv. to hate someone very much. □ You're horrible. I hate your guts! □ Those cops hate my guts.

haul 1. n. the proceeds from a theft; loot. (Underworld.) □ They divvied up the haul from the bank job. □ The cops thought they must have got a pretty good haul. 2. n. the proceeds from any activity: a performance, a fishing trip, a collection of goods or money for charity, etc. □ They got a good haul from the benefit. □ They surveyed the haul of cans and packages and decided they had done a pretty fair job.

haul ass (out of some place) Go to bag ass (out of some place).

have a ball tv. to have an exciting time. (See also ball.) □ I plan to have a ball while I'm there. □ Come on, everybody! Let's have a ball!

have a (big) head tv. to have a hangover. (Have got can replace have.) □ Oh, man, do I have a head! □ Tom has a head this morning and won't be coming into work.

have a big mouth tv. to speak loudly; to tell secrets. (Have got can replace have.) □ Boy, do you have a big mouth! □ He has a big mouth. Don't tell him anything you don't want everybody else to know.

Have a blimp! exclam. Have a good year! (A play on Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, which operates the Goodyear blimp.) □ Good-bye. Have a blimp! □ Have a blimp! See you next summer.

have a bone on tv. to have an erection. (See also bone at boner. Usually objectionable.) □ Look, friend, you can't do anything with me till you have a bone on. Get it up or get out. I got other customers waiting.

have a buzz on tv. to be tipsy or alcohol intoxicated. (Have got can replace have.) □ Pete has a buzz on and is giggling a lot. □ Both of them had a buzz on by the end of the celebration.

have a crack at something Go to take a crack at something.

have a glow on tv. to be alcohol intoxicated; to be tipsy. (Have got can replace have.) □ Since you already have a glow on, I guess you won't want another drink. □ Jed had a glow on and was just becoming civil.

Have a good one. AND Have a nice one. sent. Have a good morning, afternoon, or evening, as appropriate. (A general formulaic expression used at any time of the day or night.) □ Thank you. Have a good one. □ See you tomorrow, Todd. Have a nice one.

have a hard-on tv. to have an erect penis. (The most common colloquial expression for this state. See also hard-on. Usually objectionable.) □ I had a hard-on through the whole movie.

have a hard-on for someone tv. to wish to do someone physical damage; to seek revenge on someone. (The aggressor and victim are usually males. Usually objectionable.) □ The punk thinks he has a hard-on for Mr. Big. □ Albert had a hard-on for Walter. He was going to kill him if the chance came up.

Have a heart! exclam. Be compassionate! Be kind! □ Have a heart! Give me another chance. □ Come on! Have a heart!

have a leg up on someone tv. to have an advantage over someone; to be ahead of someone. (Have got can replace have.) □ Pete has a leg up on Wilbur because of his physical strength. □ I don't have a leg up on anyone. I'm a loser.

have a little visitor tv. to have received the menses. (Have got can replace have.) □ Mary said she has a little visitor. □ She has a little visitor and will call you later.

have all one's marbles tv. to have all one's mental faculties; to be mentally sound. (See also lose (all) one's marbles. Have got can replace have.) □ I don't think he has all his marbles. □ Do you think Bob has all his marbles?

have a load on tv. to be alcohol intoxicated. (Have got can replace have.) □ Fred has a load on and is finished for the evening. □ You have a load on every time I see you.

have a loose screw Go to have a screw loose.

have a man by the balls tv. to have a man in a position where he has little choice but to do what one says. (Usually objectionable.) □ She's really got him by the balls. He will go along with whatever she wants. □ What could I do? They had me by the balls!

have a monkey on one's back tv. to have a drug addiction. (Drugs. Have got can replace have.) □ Gert has a monkey on her back. □ Do you think she wants to have a monkey on her back?

have an ace up one's sleeve tv. to have something useful in reserve; to have a special trick available. (Have got can replace have.) □ I still have an ace up my sleeve that you don't know about. □ I don't have an ace up my sleeve. If it doesn't work, it doesn't work.

have an edge on tv. to be alcohol intoxicated. (See also edge. Have got can replace have.) □ I've got an edge on and shouldn't drive home. □ Bob has an edge on even though he hardly drank anything.

Have a nice day. sent. a formulaic way of saying good-bye. (See also Have a good one.) □ Thank you for shopping at Wallace's. Have a nice day. □ See you tomorrow. Have a nice day.

Have a nice one. Go to Have a good one.

have an itch for something tv. to have a desire for something. (Have got can replace have.) □ I have an itch for some ice cream. □ We had an itch for a good movie, so we went.

have ants in one's pants tv. to be nervous and anxious. (See also antsy. Have got can replace have.) □ He seems to have ants in his pants before each game. □ All kids've got ants in their pants all the time at that age.

have a run-in (with someone or something) tv. to have trouble with someone or something. □ I had a run-in with Mrs. Wilson. She's a hard case. □ We've had a run-in before.

have a screw loose AND have a loose screw tv. to be silly or eccentric. (Have got can replace have.) □ He's sort of strange. I think he's got a loose screw. □ Yes, he has a screw loose somewhere.

have a shit-fit tv. to have a fit; to throw a temper tantrum. (Usually objectionable.) □ If I'm not home on time, my father'll have a shit-fit.

have a short fuse tv. to be easy to anger. (Have got can replace have.) □ He's got a short fuse, so watch out. □ Tracy has a short fuse and is likely to lose her temper at any time.

have a skinful tv. [for someone] to contain too much alcohol; to be alcohol intoxicated. (See also skinful. Have got can replace have.) □ Pete had a skinful and just sat there quietly. □ What is wrong with her is that she has a skinful, that's what.

have a spaz [...spæz] tv. to get angry or hysterical; to have a conniption (fit). (Teens and collegiate.) □ If my dad hears about this, he'll have a spaz. □ The teacher had a spaz when I came in so late.

have a tiger by the tail tv. to have become associated with something powerful and potentially dangerous. (Have got can replace have.) □ You have a tiger by the tail. You bit off more than you could chew. □ You've had a tiger by the tail ever since you took office.

have a whale of a time tv. to have an exciting time; to have a big time. □ We had a whale of a time at your party. □ Yes, we really had a whale of a time.

have a wild hair up one's ass 1. tv. to act in a hyperactive and energetic manner. (Usually objectionable.) □ She has a wild hair up her ass about something. I don't know what. □ I'm sorry I was so rude. I guess I had a wild hair up my ass or something. 2. tv. to be obsessed with some strange or off-beat idea. (Usually objectionable.) □ You're acting like you've got a wild hair up your ass. Calm down.

have a yellow streak down one's back tv. to be cowardly. (Have got can replace have.) □ I think that Wally has a yellow streak down his back. That's what's wrong. □ If you have a yellow streak down your back, you don't take many risks.

have bats in one's belfry [...'belfri] tv. to be crazy. (See also bats. Have got can replace have.) □ You must really have bats in your belfry if you think I'll put up with that kind of stuff. □ Pay no attention to her. She has bats in her belfry.

have egg on one's face tv. to be embarrassed by something one has done. (As if one went out in public with a dirty face. Have got can replace have.) □ I was completely wrong, and now I have egg on my face. □ She's really got egg on her face!

have good vibes [...vaɪbz] tv. to have good feelings (about someone or something). (Have got can replace have.) □ I've got good vibes about Heidi. □ I know everything will go all right. I have good vibes.

have gravy on one's grits tv. to be rich. □ I want to earn some greens and get gravy on my grits. □ He got himself a good job and has gravy on his grits while I'm eating taters.

have hot pants (for someone) AND have the hots (for someone) tv. to be sexually aroused over someone in particular; to lust after someone. (Also with got as in the example.) □ She really has hot pants for him. □ She's really got the hots for him.

have it all together tv. to be mentally and physically organized; to be of sound mind. (Have got can replace have.) □ I don't have it all together today. □ Try me again later when I have it all together.

have it made tv. to have succeeded; to be set for life. (Have got can replace have.) □ I have a good job and a nice little family. I have it made. □ He's really got it made.

have it made in the shade tv. to have succeeded; to be set for life. (Have got can replace have.) □ Wow, is he lucky! He has it made in the shade. □ Who's got it made in the shade?

have kittens 1. tv. to become enraged. □ When I heard the news, I had kittens. I was hacked! □ I almost had kittens, I was so mad. 2. tv. to laugh very hard; to enjoy something enormously. □ It was so funny, I had kittens laughing. □ She had kittens laughing about it. 3. tv. to be surprised. □ I nearly had kittens when I heard. □ She had kittens when she heard about the wedding.

have lead in one's pencil 1. tv. to be vigorous and active. (Widely known phrase. Not taboo.) □ Your problem, Tom, is that you should have more lead in your pencil. You just don't have the stamina. 2. tv. to have an erection of the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ Due to his drinking habits, he never has any lead in his pencil.

the have-nots n. the poor; those who have little or nothing. (Compare this with the haves.) □ The have-nots seem never to be able to get ahead. □ What's in it for the have-nots?

have one foot in the grave tv. to be near death. (Have got can replace have.) □ I feel like I've got one foot in the grave. □ Uncle Ben has one foot in the grave, but he's still cheery.

have one's ass in a crack tv. to be stranded in a very difficult or uncomfortable state of affairs. (Usually objectionable. Have got can replace have.) □ He's got his ass in a crack and needs all the help he can get. □ Now he's really got his ass in a crack and doesn't know what to do.

have one's ass in a sling tv. to be dejected or hurt; to be pouting. (Usually objectionable. Have got can replace have.) □ She's got her ass in a sling because she got stood up. □ Why do you have your ass in a sling?

have one's brain on a leash tv. to be drunk. □ Wayne had his brain on a leash before he even got to the party. □ Some guy who had his brain on a leash ran his car off the road.

have one's mind in the gutter tv. to think or suggest something obscene. (Have got can replace have.) □ Tiffany has her mind in the gutter. That's why she laughs at all that dirty stuff. □ You always have your mind in the gutter.

have one's nose wide open tv. to be in love. □ Sam's not dense. He's got his nose wide open. It's that Sally.

have rocks in one's head tv. to be silly or crazy. (Have got can replace have.) □ You have rocks in your head! □ She's got rocks in her head if she thinks that.

the haves n. the wealthy; those who have money. (Compare this with the have-nots.) □ The haves seem to be able to take care of themselves. □ I live in the western suburbs with the haves.

have shit for brains tv. to be exceedingly stupid. (Usually objectionable.) □ You poor dumb jerk! You really got shit for brains! □ You have shit for brains if you think you can get away with it.

have someone by the short hairs tv. to have someone in an awkward position; to have dominated someone. (This refers to the shorter pubic hairs. Sometime euphemized to neck hairs.) □ They've got me by the short hairs. There's nothing I can do.

have someone dead to rights tv. to have caught someone red-handed; to have irrefutable evidence about someone's misdeed. (Have got can replace have. See also (bang) dead to rights.) □ We've got you dead to rights on this one. □ The cops had him dead to rights.

have something cinched tv. to have something settled; to have the results of some act assured. (See also cinched. Have got can replace have.) □ Don't worry. I've got it cinched. □ You just think you've got it cinched.

have something on the brain tv. to be obsessed with something. (Have got can replace have.) □ You've just got girls on the brain, you silly twit. □ I have money on the brain, I guess.

have the hots (for someone) Go to have hot pants (for someone).

have the wrong number 1. tv. to be wrong. (Have got can replace have.) □ Boy, do you have the wrong number! Get with it! □ You have missed the boat again. You have the wrong number! 2. tv. to be addressing the wrong person. (This use is in addition to the same expression used for a wrong telephone number. Have got can replace have.) □ You have the wrong number. Walter is my brother. We look alike, though. □ No, I'm Sally. You have the wrong number.

have what it takes tv. to have the skills, power, intelligence, etc., to do something. (Have got can replace have.) □ I know I've got what it takes. □ I guess I don't have what it takes to be a composer.

hawk 1. n. someone who supports a warlike U.S. defense policy. (Compare this with dove.) □ The hawks want to raise taxes and buy tanks. □ The doves want to sell the tanks, ignore the hawks, and give the money to the poor. 2. in. to cough mightily; to cough something up. □ The cold has had me hawking for a week. □ He's been hawking all night. 3. the hawk n. the cold winter wind. (Originally black. Always with the in in this sense. See also Mr. Hawkins.) □ Man, just feel the hawk cut through you! □ It's the time of the year when the hawk rules!

hay burner 1. n. a worthless racehorse; any old and worn-out horse. □ Send that old hay burner to the glue factory. □ I went to a dude ranch, and they gave me an old hay burner to ride. 2. AND hay head n. a marijuana smoker. (Drugs.) □ Some hay burner was around trying to sell raffle tickets that looked handmade. □ Another hay head came in and applied for the job.

hay head Go to hay burner.

hayseed n. a farmer; a rustic character, usually a male. □ I'm not just some hayseed fresh off the farm. □ It's hard for these hayseeds to adjust to city life.

haywire ['hɛwaɪr] 1. mod. out of order. (Folksy.) □ This telephone has gone haywire. □ My stereo is haywire, so I've been listening to the radio. 2. mod. disoriented. (Often from marijuana.) □ Wally is sort of haywire from the grass. □ Bart has been haywire for years.

hazel ['hezl] n. heroin. (Drugs. A variety of H.) □ Gert needs some hazel, but anything will help her. □ She wants to spend the evening with hazel.

head 1. n. a headache. □ Man, do I have a head. You got any aspirin? □ Music that loud gives me a head. 2. a head n. a hangover. (Always with a in this sense.) □ Boy, do I have a head this morning. □ How do you get rid of a head so you can go to work? 3. n. a toilet; a restroom. (Originally nautical. Usually with the.) □ Where's the head around here? □ Ralph is in the head. He'll be back in a minute. 4. n. a member of the drug culture; a hippie or a person who drops out of mainstream society because of drug use. (From the 1960s and 1970s.) □ You still see a few heads around, even today. □ Some of the heads became very, very straight. 5. n. a smart person; an intellectual person. □ Bob's a real head. He gets straight As. □ I'm no head, but I am sure you made a mistake in your addition.

headache 1. n. an annoying person or thing. □ Here comes that Ken Johnson. He's a real headache. □ Cars can be such a headache. 2. n. liquor. □ Pour me some more of that headache, will you? □ Give the man some more headache.

headache department 1. n. a central source of unnecessary problems; a person who habitually causes problems. □ Here's another memo from the headache department. □ Mrs. Wilson is my least favorite headache department. 2. AND headache house n. a liquor store or department. □ I stopped in at the headache department for some supplies. □ The headache house is having a special on gin.

headache house Go to headache department.

headache man n. a male law enforcement agent. □ The headache man was here to see you, Ernie. □ Who gave that hot tip to the headache man?

headbone n. the skull. □ I got a nasty bump on my headbone. □ Do you want I should conk your headbone, or will you be coming along politely?

head cook and bottle washer AND chief cook and bottle washer n. someone who is in charge of something trivial. □ I'm the head cook and bottle washer around here. □ I want to see the chief cook and bottle washer.

head drug n. a drug that affects the mind rather than the body; a psychoactive drug. □ It's these head drugs that get the kids into so much trouble. □ Head drugs are just as addictive as other drugs, but in a different way.

headfucker n. a person, situation, or a drug that confuses someone or disorients someone mentally. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ This day was a real headfucker! □ Why did you have to lay this headfucker on me?

head hunt tv. & in. to recruit someone (for a job). □ He went to the conference to head hunt a new employee. □ All the managers were there to head hunt.

headhunter n. someone who recruits executives for employment. (Head means boss here.) □ The board of directors hired a headhunter to get a new manager. □ The headhunter brought in a few candidates, but nobody promising.

head-job n. an act of oral sex performed on the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ The hooker asked him if he wanted a head-job. □ He wanted a head-job, but would settle for almost anything.

head South Go to go South.

Headstone City n. a cemetery. ☐ Unless you want to move into a furnished flat in Headstone City, you had better fasten your seatbelt when you drive or ride in a car. ☐ Our house is just one block after the large Headstone City on the left.

Heads up! exclam. Look out! ☐ Heads up! Watch out for the swinging bucket! ☐ Here's a rough spot on the trail. Heads up!

heads will roll in. someone will be punished. ☐ When I find out who did this, heads will roll. ☐ Heads will roll when I get back to the office.

head trip 1. n. a session with a head drug. (Drugs.) ☐ Bob had his first head trip last night. ☐ He says it will be his last head trip. 2. n. an ego trip. ☐ Wally is on another of his head trips. ☐ Come down from your head trip and see if you can get along with the rest of us.

heap 1. n. an old car. (See also load.) ☐ I've got to get my heap fixed up. ☐ Is this old heap yours? 2. n. any dilapidated thing or person. ☐ Marty is turning into a heap. ☐ We have to fix up this heap if we're really going to live in it. 3. AND heaps n. lots (of something). ☐ I have a whole heap of papers for you. ☐ Mr. Wilson has heaps of money.

heaps Go to heap.

heart tv. to love someone or something. (Teens.) ☐ Oh, I just, like, heart your letter. ☐ She's hearting him more every day.

hearts and flowers n. sentimentality. ☐ The movie was so full of hearts and flowers that I was bored. ☐ I didn't care for the hearts and flowers part.

heart-to-heart (talk) n. a serious and intimate discussion. ☐ We sat down and had a nice heart-to-heart for about an hour. ☐ A little heart-to-heart talk is just what you need.

heat 1. the heat n. the police. (Underworld.) ☐ The heat is gonna catch up with you, Ernie. ☐ Who tipped the heat off about me? 2. n. pressure. ☐ There's a lot of heat on Fred right now. ☐ The boss put some heat on Wally, and things are moving faster now. 3. n. a gun; armaments. (Underworld. See also heater.) ☐ Lefty has his heat on him at all times. ☐ Rocko never carries heat.

heater n. a pistol. (Underworld.) ☐ Lefty carried his heater with him that day. ☐ Put your heaters away, boys. This is a job for reason.

heave [hiv] in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ He heaved and heaved and sounded like he was dying. ☐ I think I have to go heave.

heaven dust n. cocaine. (Drugs.) ☐ A little heaven dust and Pat was as good as new. ☐ She left her desk to take on a little heaven dust.

heavy 1. n. a villain. (Especially in movies, etc.) ☐ He is well-known for playing heavies in the movies. ☐ Do I always have to be the heavy? 2. mod. important; profound; serious. ☐ This is a very heavy matter. ☐ This matter is too heavy. ☐ I have some heavy things to talk over with you, Sam. 3. mod. really fine. ☐ Man, this is some heavy chocolate cake! ☐ This stuff is really heavy! ☐ This is a real heavy thing you're doing for me.

heavy artillery n. powerful or persuasive persons or things. ☐ Finally, the mayor brought out the heavy artillery and quieted things down. ☐ The heavy artillery seemed to know how to handle matters.

heavy bread AND heavy money n. a great deal of money. ☐ Man, that car cost some heavy bread. ☐ It takes heavy money to run a household like this.

heavy date n. an important date with someone; a date with someone important. ☐ Mary has a heavy date with Sam tonight. ☐ Pete and Sally were out on a heavy date together.

heavy-handed mod. tactless; forceful; unfair. ☐ Paul is a little heavy-handed at times, but mostly he's reasonable. ☐ That was a pretty heavy-handed thing to do.

heavy hash n. potent cannabis. (Drugs.) ☐ Man, you came up with some real heavy hash. ☐ This is heavy hash, and it will cost you.

heavy into someone or something mod. much concerned with someone or something; obsessed with someone or something. □ Freddie was heavy into auto racing and always went to the races. □ Sam is heavy into Mary.

heavy joint n. a marijuana cigarette tipped with phencyclidine (PCP). (Drugs.) □ He said something about smoking a heavy joint just before he passed out. □ Bob found something on the sidewalk he called a heavy joint.

heavy money Go to heavy bread.

heavy necking n. hugging and kissing, plus intimate caresses. □ Mary and Sam are past heavy necking. □ The teacher caught them at some heavy necking in the closet.

heavy scene n. a serious state of affairs; an emotionally charged situation. □ Man, that meeting was really a heavy scene. □ Another heavy scene like that and I quit.

heavy soul n. heroin. (Black.) □ Tyrone is hung up on some heavy soul. □ That heavy soul will be on your back forever.

heavyweight 1. n. an important person; a successful person; a leader. □ Mr. Wilson is a heavyweight in local government. □ They'll bring out the heavyweights next time. Just wait and see. 2. mod. important; successful. □ Vince is one of the heavyweight operators in this business. □ He's good, but he's no heavyweight.

H-E-double-toothpicks n. hell. (A jocular euphemism. It is not usually written and can be spelled a number of different ways.) □ Oh, H-E-double-toothpicks! I did it wrong again! □ Here she comes again. H-E-double-toothpicks!

heebie-jeebies AND heeby-jeebies ['hibi'dʒibiz] n. an extreme case of anxiety or fear. □ I have the heebie-jeebies whenever I go to the dentist. □ These movies give me the heebie-jeebies.

heel n. a low and despicable man. □ You are the most impossible heel! □ The guy is a heel, and he seems to work at it, too.

heeled 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Sally was too heeled to drive home. □ Man, were those guys heeled! 2. mod. carrying drugs. (Drugs.) □ Bart is heeled and ready to deal. □ Gert was heeled when they arrested her.

heesh [hiʃ] n. hashish; cannabis. (Drugs.) □ Ernie started out on heesh and moved on from there. □ Who's dealing heesh around here?

heinie n. the buttocks. □ He fell down flat on his heinie.

Heinz 57 (variety) [haɪnz...] n. a mongrel breed of dog. (From the trade name of a condiment company.) □ We have one pedigreed dog and one Heinz 57 variety. □ My Heinz 57 is the greatest dog of all.

heist [haɪst] 1. n. a theft; a robbery; a lift. (Underworld.) □ Lefty just had to pull one last heist. □ The heist went off without a hitch. 2. tv. to steal something; to rob a person or place; to lift something. (Underworld.) □ The thugs heisted her and took her purse and watch. □ Lefty heisted a car and then drove around in it all evening.

heister ['haɪstə] n. a drunkard. □ Two old heisters were lifting drink after drink and tossing them down. □ Wally is getting to be quite a heister.

helium head ['hiliəm 'hed] n. a fool; an air-head. □ Well, what's that helium head done now? □ You can be such a helium head without even trying.

hell 1. n. trouble. (Use caution with hell.) □ I went through all sorts of hell to get this done on time. □ This day was real hell. 2. exclam. Damn! (Usually Hell! Use caution with hell.) □ Oh, hell. I'm late. □ Hell, I'm too early.

hellacious [həl'eɪʃəs] 1. mod. wild; excellent. (Use caution with hell.) □ What a hellacious good time we had! □ Sally throws one hellacious party. 2. mod. terrible. □ The food was just hellacious. Yuck! □ The heat was hellacious, and the mosquitoes wouldn't leave us alone.

hellbender ['hɛlbəndə] 1. n. a drinking bout. (Use caution with hell.) □ Jed is off on another of his hellbenders. □ One of his hellbenders can last for a week. 2. n. a heavy drinker; a drunkard. (The bender refers to bending the elbow with a drink in hand. Use caution with hell.) □ Wally is a hellbender from way back. □ Jed is a world-class hellbender.

heller AND hell raiser n. a rowdy person; a hell-raising person. (Use caution with hell.) □ Ernie was a real heller when he was younger. □ A bunch of hell raisers kept me up late last night.

hellhole n. a hot and crowded place; any unpleasant place. (Use caution with hell.) □ I want out of this hellhole. □ The theater was an over-crowded hellhole. Lucky there was no fire.

Hello? exclam. Did you hear me?; Are you aware that I am talking to you? □ A: I don't want any of that. B: Here, have some. A: Hello? No, I don't want any.

hell of a mess n. a terrible mess. (See also mell of a hess. Use caution with hell.) □ This is really a hell of a mess you've gotten us into. □ I never dreamed I'd come back to such a hell of a mess.

hell of a note n. a surprising or amazing piece of news. (Use caution with hell.) □ Well, that's a hell of a note! □ You forgot it. That's a hell of a note.

hell of a someone or something AND helluva someone or something 1. n. a very bad person or thing. (Use caution with hell.) □ That's a hell of a way to treat someone. □ He's a hell of a driver! Watch out! 2. n. a very good person or thing. (Use caution with hell.) □ He is one hell of a guy. We really like him. □ We had a helluva good time.

hell-on-wheels n. a very impressive person or thing; an extreme type of person or thing. (Use caution with hell.) □ Fred is really hell-on-wheels when it comes to getting those little jobs done on time. □ This little machine is hell-on-wheels for general woodworking purposes.

hellpig n. a fat and ugly girl or woman. (Derogatory.) □ Who was that hellpig you were out with last night? □ Comb your hair. You look like some hellpig!

hell raiser Go to heller.

Hell's bells (and buckets of blood)! exclam. Dammit! (Use caution with hell.) □ Oh, hell's bells and buckets of blood! I forgot my keys. □ Hell's bells! I'm late.

helluva someone or something Go to hell of a someone or something.

hemp 1. n. a smelly cigar. □ Get that vile hemp out of here! □ Can you imagine somebody bringing an old hemp like that in here? 2. n. cannabis. (Drugs.) □ The guy sort of smells like hemp. □ I smell hemp in here.

hen fruit n. (chicken) eggs. □ I always have hen fruit for breakfast. □ There's nothing like hen fruit and bacon.

hen party n. a gossip party attended by women. □ I have a hen party every few weeks. We love to get together. □ I wouldn't be caught dead at one of those hen parties.

hep [hep] mod. aware; informed. □ The chick is simply not hep. □ Fred is one of the most hep guys you're going to run into.

hepped (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Wally is a little too hepped up to drive home. □ Harry's too hepped to stand up.

herb AND erb n. marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Sam is very fond of herb. □ Carl has found a way to synthesize the erb.

Herb and Al n. marijuana and alcohol. □ I'm afraid that Tom's best friends are Herb and Al. □ Wally asked us over to meet Herb and Al.

Here's looking at you. sent. I salute you. (A polite drinking toast.) □ Well, here's looking at you. □ Here's looking at you. Bottoms up!

Here's mud in your eye. sent. I salute you. (A jocular drinking toast.) □ Here's mud in your eye. Bottoms up! □ Well, here's mud in your eye. Care for another?

Here's the deal. tv. This is the plan, scheme, or proposition. □ Okay, here's the deal. You pass the ball to Bob, and I'll run in the opposite direction.

hero (of the underworld) n. heroin. □ Don says he knows the hero of the underworld well. □ Sam stays away from hero.

herped up mod. infected with the herpes simplex virus. □ Why do all the boys treat me like I was herped up or something? □ They say all those frat guys are herped up.

herpie AND herp n. someone who is infected with herpes. □ How would you like to find out you've been going out with a herp? □ If you want to end up a herpie for the rest of your life, go ahead.

hey interj. hello. (A standard greeting in much of the South, and now, among the young.) □ Hey, Walter. How are you? □ Hey, Chuck! Living large.

Hey, bum! interj. hello. □ Hey, bum! What's poppin'? □ Hey, bum! So good to see your smiling face.

hickey AND hicky ['hɪki] 1. n. a love bite; a mark on the skin caused by biting or sucking. (See also monkey bite.) □ He's mad at her because she gave him a hicky. □ She wore a high collar to cover up a hickey. 2. n. a pimple, especially if infected. □ There is a hickey on my nose! □ Wouldn't you know I'd get a hickey like this right when I have to have my picture taken!

hiddy AND hidi ['hɪdi] 1. mod. hideous. □ That skirt is just hiddy! Get a life! □ What hidi wheels! That car's owner has more money than sense. 2. mod. hideously drunk; very drunk. □ Fred was totally hidi. He fell asleep under the table. □ Susan was not just drunk, she was hiddy—you know, bombed.

hide n. the skin. □ I need to get some rays on my hide. □ Your hide looks pretty pale, all right.

hides n. drums. (See also skins.) □ Andy can really bang those hides. □ They say his hides are worth about 4,000 clams.

hidi Go to hiddy.

high 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Wally is a little high for so early in the evening. □ They went out for the evening to get high, and for no other reason. 2. n. a state of euphoria caused by drugs or alcohol. □ His life is nothing but one high after another. □ Her only goal is a high.

high and dry mod. abandoned; unsupported. (Like a ship beached or stranded ashore.) □ He went off and left me high and dry. □ Here I sit high and dry—no food, no money, no nothing.

highbrow 1. n. an intellectual person; a person with refined tastes. (Compare this with lowbrow. See also longhair.) □ Sam used to be a highbrow, but he gave up his fancy ways. □ The highbrows usually congregate in there. 2. mod. having to do with an intellectual or a person with refined tastes. □ I just don't care for highbrow music. □ Pete is sort of highbrow, but he's an okay guy.

higher ups Go to high ups.

high five 1. n. a greeting where the palm of the hand is raised and slapped against another person's palm similarly raised. (Compare this with low five.) □ They exchanged a high five and went on with the show. □ How about a high five, man? 2. tv. & in. to greet someone as described in sense 1. □ They high fived and went off together. □ Ted high fived Sam, and they stopped to talk.

highjinks AND hijinks ['haɪdʒɪŋks] n. tricks; capers. □ Enough of your hijinks! Get busy. □ I like to hear about the kids and their latest hijinks.

high mucky-muck [...'mʊkɪmʊk] n. an important person; the person in charge. □ When the high mucky-mucks meet, they will decide what to do about the problem. □ Ted's father is a high mucky-muck at the gas company.

high on something mod. excited or enthusiastic about something. □ Tom is really high on the idea of going to Yellowstone this summer. □ I'm not high on going, but I will.

high-res AND hi-res ['haɪ'rez] mod. good; satisfying. (From high-resolution, referring to the picture quality of a computer monitor. Compare this with low-res.) □ This is a real high-res day for me. □ I sure feel hi-res today.

high roller n. a big gambler who risks much money; anyone who takes risks. (Refers to rolling dice.) □ Rocko is a high roller and isn't afraid to lose some money.

□ He's a high roller from way back.

high sign n. a hand signal meaning okay. (The tip of the index or middle finger touches the tip of the thumb, and the hand is raised into the air.) □ Tom got the high sign and began to open the door. □ Give me the high sign when you want me to start.

high ups AND higher ups n. the people in charge. □ I have to speak to the high ups about the refund. □ One of the higher ups is coming down to talk to you.

highway robbery n. a charge that is unbelievably high, but nonetheless unavoidable. (As if one had been accosted and robbed on the open road.) □ But this is highway robbery. I demand to see the manager. □ Four thousand dollars! That's highway robbery!

high, wide, and handsome mod. happy; carefree. □ Wally is high, wide, and handsome after his great triumph. □ He sure looks high, wide, and handsome. I'm glad he's happy.

hijinks Go to highjinks.

hike 1. n. a monetary increase. □ I need a pay hike. □ Another hike in the electric rates takes place this spring. 2. tv. to increase an amount of money. □ I wanted them to hike my salary, but they refused. □ The utilities all hike their rates at least once a year.

the Hill n. the U.S. Congress; the U.S. capitol building located on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C. □ I really can't tell what's happening up on the Hill. □ The Hill moves at its own speed.

hincty ['hɪŋkti] mod. snobbish; fussy; aloof. (Black.) □ Some of those people are so hincty. □ That hincty lady told me to turn my radio down.

hip 1. mod. informed; aware. (See also hep.) □ The guy is just not hip. He's a nerd. □ Get hip, Tom! 2. tv. to tell someone; to inform someone. □ Hey, man, hip me to what's going on! □ What's happening? Take a minute and hip me!

hipe Go to hype.

hippy AND hippie ['hɪpi] n. a long-haired, drug-using youth of the 1960s and 1970s. □ That guy looks like a hippy left over from the sixties. □ Who's that has-been hippie who just came in?

hip-shooter n. someone who talks without thinking; someone who speaks very frankly. (See also shoot from the hip.) □ He's just a loudmouthed hip-shooter. Pay no attention. □ The press secretary is a hyper and a hip-shooter. She won't last long.

hipster ['hɪpstə] n. a youth of the 1950s, characterized by an interest in jazz and cool things. □ Can you imagine your father as a hipster? □ Were the hipsters the ones with the big shoulder pads?

hired gun n. a paid assassin. (Underworld.) □ Bruno is Mr. Big's hired gun. □ The cops are holding a well-known hired gun until they can prepare charges.

hi-res Go to high-res.

history n. someone or something in the past. (See also ancient history; I'm history.) □ Dave? Oh, he's just history. I never go out with him anymore. □ Susan is just history. We're through. □ Don't make a move! If this gun goes off, you're history.

hit 1. n. a success; something that meets with approval. (Often with with.) □ The play was a hit. □ The fudge with nuts in it was a great hit at the sale. 2. n. a successful result; something that is exactly as intended. □ It was a hit—a real winner. □ Your idea was right on target—a hit for sure. 3. n. a drink of liquor; a dose of a drug. (See also bop.) □ He had a hit of sauce and went out to finish his work. □ She popped a hit by the watercooler. 4. tv. to reach something; to achieve something. □ The car hit ninety in no time at all. □ I hit sixty next month, and I'm going to retire. 5. tv. to kill someone; to assassinate someone. (Underworld.) □ Sam was told to hit Bart. □ The thug set out to hit the mayor, but got nabbed first. 6. tv. to attack or rob someone or something. (Underworld.) □ Lefty and his gang hit the bank for the second time. □ Can you believe that they tried to hit a block party on Fourth Street? 7. n. a robbery; an assassination. (Underworld.) □ There was a hit at the bank on Maple Street last night. □ Somebody died in the hit last night, but they don't know who yet.

hit by the stupid stick mod. made to act really stupid. □ Nobody can be that dumb. You must have been hit by the stupid stick. □ He can't do any better in math. He was hit by the stupid stick when he was a kid.

hit by the ugly stick mod. made to be very ugly. □ She is so lame. Looks like she was hit by the ugly stick till it broke! □ Go look in the mirror. It looks like you was hit by the ugly stick!

hitched mod. married. (Folksy.) □ Sam and Mary decided to get hitched. □ They went out of state to get hitched.

hit it with someone tv. to copulate with someone. □ Did she hit it with him, or what?

hit list n. a list of people to whom something is going to happen. □ Ralph is on my hit list for contributing money for the orphans. □ She's on our hit list for volunteers.

hit man 1. n. a hired killer. (Underworld.) □ Sam was the perfect hit man. Hardly any brains or conscience. □ To look at Rocko, you'd never believe he was a hit man. 2. n. a man hired by a helpless addict to inject drugs. (Drugs. See also pinch hitter.) □ Gert needed a hit man when she was sick. □ Max refuses to be a hit man. He says that's not what he does best.

Hit me. 1. AND hit me again tv. [in gambling] Deal me a card. □ Hit me again, dealer! □ Okay, hit me. 2. tv. Give me the high five. □ Hit me! Where you been? Hit me again! □ Long time, no see. Hit me, man. 3. AND hit me again tv. Serve me (another) drink. □ Hit me again, bartender. □ It's empty. Hit me.

hit me again Go to hit me.

hit me on the hip tv. call me on my pager. (Pagers are usually worn attached to one's belt or in a pants packet.) □ When you need me, just hit me on the hip.

hit on someone in. to flirt with someone; to make a pass at someone. □ The women were all hitting on George, but he didn't complain. □ I just knew he was going to hit on me—but he didn't.

hit on something in. to discover something. □ She hit on a new scheme for removing the impurities from drinking water. □ I hit on it when I wasn't able to sleep one night.

hit pay dirt AND strike pay dirt 1. tv. to discover something of value. □ At last, we hit pay dirt. □ When we opened the last trunk, we knew we had hit pay dirt. 2. tv. to get to the basic facts of something. □ Now we're beginning to hit pay dirt. □ When we figured out the code, we really struck pay dirt.

hit someone below the belt tv. to deal with someone unfairly. (Boxing.) □ Don't hit the guy below the belt! □ You were hitting Tom below the belt when you said that.

hit someone (up) for something tv. to ask someone for something. □ I hit Fred up for some help with the committee. □ He hit me up for a loan, but I said no.

hit someone with something tv. to present someone with an idea, plan, or proposal. □ Pete hit me with a great idea just before we left. □ Fred hit his boss with a plan to save a bundle in the front office.

hit the books AND pound the books tv. to study hard. □ I spent the weekend pounding the books. □ I gotta go home and hit the books.

hit the booze Go to hit the bottle.

hit the bottle AND hit the booze tv. to go on a drinking bout; to get drunk. □ Jed's hitting the bottle again. □ He's been hitting the booze for a week now.

hit the bricks AND hit the pavement 1. tv. to start walking; to go into the streets. □ I have a long way to go. I'd better hit the bricks. □ Go on! Hit the pavement! Get going! 2. tv. to go out on strike. □ The workers hit the pavement on Friday and haven't been back on the job since. □ Agree to our demands, or we hit the bricks.

hit the bull's-eye Go to hit the spot.

hit the ceiling AND hit the roof tv. to get very angry. □ She really hit the ceiling when she found out what happened. □ My dad'll hit the roof when he finds out about this.

hit the deck 1. tv. to get out of bed. □ Come on, hit the deck! It's morning. □ Hit the deck! Time to rise and shine! 2. tv. to fall down; to drop down. □ Hit the deck. Don't let them see you. □ I hit the deck the minute I heard the shots.

hit the fan tv. to become publicly known; to become a scandal. (From the phrase when the shit hit the fan.) □ I wasn't even in the country when it hit the fan. □ It hit the fan, and within ten minutes the press had spread it all over the world.

hit the hay AND hit the sack tv. to go to bed. □ I have to go home and hit the hay pretty soon. □ Let's hit the sack. We have to get an early start in the morning.

hit the jackpot 1. tv. to win a large amount of money. □ I hit the jackpot in the big contest. □ Sally hit the jackpot in the lottery. 2. tv. to be exactly right; to find exactly what was sought. □ I hit the jackpot when I found this little cafe on Fourth Street. □ I wanted a small house with a fireplace, and I really hit the jackpot with this one.

hit the panic button AND press the panic button; push the panic button tv. to panic. □ She hit the panic button and just went to pieces. □ Don't press the panic button. Relax and keep your eyes open.

hit the pavement Go to hit the bricks.

hit the road tv. to leave; to begin to travel on a road. (See also smack the road.) □ We plan to hit the road about dawn. □ Let's hit the road. We have a long way to go.

hit the roof Go to hit the ceiling.

hit the sack Go to hit the hay.

hit the skids tv. to decline; to decrease in value or status. □ Jed hit the skids when he started drinking. □ The firm hit the skids when the dollar collapsed.

hit the spot 1. AND hit the bull's-eye tv. to be exactly right. (See also ring the bell.) □ You really hit the spot with that prediction. □ Pete's prediction hit the bull's-eye. 2. tv. to be refreshing. □ This cold water really hits the spot. □ I want something hot—some coffee would really hit the bull's-eye.

hit the trail tv. to leave. (As if one were riding a horse.) □ I have to hit the trail before sunset. □ Let's hit the trail. It's late.

hit under the wing mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also shot.) □ Jed got hit under the wing. □ Sally was a little hit under the wing, but she wasn't bad off at all.

Hiya! ['hɑɪjə] exclam. Hi! (From Hi, you!) □ Hiya! Good to see ya! □ Hiya! Where you been keeping yourself?

hock 1. tv. to pawn something. □ I tried to hock my watch to get some money. □ I've got nothing left to hock. 2. n. the state of having been pawned. (Usually with in.) □ My watch is already in hock. □ Get it out of hock or go buy a new one. 3. n. a foot. □ My hocks are sore from all that walking. □ Have you ever seen such humpous hocks?

hock a luggie ['hak ə 'lʊgi] tv. to cough up and spit out phlegm. □ Wayne hocked a luggie right outside the classroom door and the teacher sent him to the principal's office. □ Tom suppressed the urge to hock a luggie over the bridge railing.

hockey AND hocky ['hɑki] mod. dung. (See also horse hockey.) □ Watch out for that hocky there in the gutter. □ Don't step in the fresh hockey.

hockshop n. a pawnshop. □ We took the watch to a hockshop, but couldn't get enough money for it. □ The cops checked all the hockshops in town for the murder weapon.

hocky Go to hockey.

hocus tv. to falsify something; to adulterate something. □ Who hocused the check? □ Somebody has hocused the booze.

hodad AND hodaddy ['hɒdæd AND 'hɒdædi] n. an obnoxious person; a repellent person. (California.) □ Ted is a total ho-

dad. □ Who's the hodaddy in the plaid pants?

hodaddy Go to hodad.

hoe n. a prostitute; a whore. □ Get them hoes outa here!

hog 1. AND hog cadillac n. a large car; a souped up car. (See also road hog.) □ How do you like my new hog? □ That hog cadillac needs new shocks. 2. n. a police officer; a pig. □ The hogs are on to you. □ Who called the hogs? 3. n. an addict who requires very large doses to sustain the habit. (Drugs.) □ Gert isn't a hog. She tries to keep her habit small. □ Ernie is turning into a hog. He just can't get enough. 4. n. phencyclidine (PCP), an animal tranquilizer. (Drugs.) □ We're glad to learn that the demand for hog is tapering off. □ Bart won't sell hog to kids these days.

hog cadillac Go to hog.

hogwash 1. n. bad food or drink. □ This stuff is hogwash. Take it away. □ How about some more of this high-quality hogwash? 2. n. nonsense. □ Now that's just hogwash, and you know it. □ Hogwash! That's about enough of your lies!

hog-wild mod. wild; boisterous. □ All the kids were completely hog-wild by the time I got there. □ Things got sort of hog-wild while you were away.

ho-hum ['hohəm] mod. dull; causing yawns. □ Clare played another ho-hum concert at the music hall last night. □ It was a ho-hum lecture.

hoist one tv. to have a drink. □ Let's go out and hoist one sometime. □ Hey, Sam. Let's you and me hoist one.

ho-jo(s) ['hɒdʒo(z)] n. a Howard Johnson's restaurant or hotel. (Collegiate. Often with the.) □ Let's hit ho-jo's for some grub. □ We're going to meet the others at the ho-jo.

hokey ['hoki] mod. contrived; phony. □ What a hokey way to deal with a perfectly honest request. □ That idea is too hokey. □ That's a pretty hokey idea, but it may work.

hokum ['hokəm] n. nonsense. □ All that is just hokum. □ No more hokum. I want the truth.

hold tv. & in. to possess drugs. (Drugs.) □ Gert was holding coke when she was arrested. □ Bart is holding and wants to deal.

hold all the aces tv. to be in control of everything. □ The boss holds all the aces on this deal. □ I'll come out okay. I hold all the aces.

Hold everything! exclam. Stop everything! □ Hold everything! I forgot my wallet. □ Hold everything! My door isn't closed.

Hold it! exclam. Stop right there! □ Hold it! Stop! □ That's enough! Hold it!

Hold it, Buster! exclam. Stop that, mister! (Sometimes said by women in repulsing an amorous male.) □ Hold it, Buster! Who do you think you are? □ Hold it, Buster! Who do you think I am?

hold one's high tv. to behave reasonably well under the influence of drugs. □ Gert is having a harder and harder time holding her high. □ Ernie can't hold his high. What a creep!

hold one's horses tv. to wait up; to relax and slow down; to be patient. (Usually a command.) □ Hold your horses! Don't get in a hurry. □ Now, just hold your horses and let me explain.

hold one's liquor tv. to be able to drink alcohol in quantity without ill effects. □ Old Jed can sure hold his liquor—and a lot of it, too. □ I asked him to leave because he can't hold his liquor.

Hold some, fold some. sent. to hold some of your stocks and sell some. (Securities markets.) □ My best advice right now is to hold some, fold some. There is no real trend to the market. □ The stock market was so lackluster that I decided to hold some, fold some.

hold the fort tv. to remain behind and take care of things. □ Hold the fort. I'll be there in a while. □ I left John there to hold the fort.

hold water tv. [for an idea, plan, etc.] to survive evaluation or scrutiny. □ Nothing you've said so far holds water. □ Her story doesn't hold water.

hole n. a despised person; an asshole. (Usually objectionable. Also a term of address.) □ Sam is such a hole. He needs human being lessons. □ You stupid hole! Watch what you're doing!

hole in the wall n. a tiny shop, not much wider than its doorway. □ I went into this little hole in the wall where they had the nicest little gifts. □ His office is just a hole in the wall.

hole up in. to hide (somewhere). □ Lefty wanted to hole up somewhere till things cooled down. □ I just want to hole up until the whole matter is settled.

holiday cheer n. liquor, especially liquor drunk at Christmas and New Year's. □ I think he had a little too much holiday cheer. □ Would you care for a little holiday cheer?

holier-than-thou mod. superior in piety; condescending. □ She has such a holier-than-thou attitude. □ Tracy can act so holier-than-thou sometimes.

Hollywood 1. mod. having phony glitter. □ Who is this Hollywood dame who just came in? □ This whole thing is just too Hollywood. 2. n. a gaudily dressed person in sunglasses. (Also a term of address.) □ Hey, Hollywood! What's cooking? □ Ask Hollywood over there to take off his shades and make himself known.

holmes [homz] n. one's pal or friend. (A variant of homes. See also Sherlock. Usually a term of address.) □ Hey, holmes, how ya living? □ What do you think about that, holmes?

Holy cow! exclam. Wow! □ Holy cow! A red one! □ Give me a chance! Holy cow, don't rush me!

holy Joe 1. n. a chaplain; a cleric; a clergyman. □ I went to see the holy Joe, and he was a lot of help. □ Old holy Joe wants to see all of us at services. 2. n. a very pious person. □ Martin looks stuffy, but he's no holy Joe. □ Don't let that holy Joe hear about what you've done.

Holy mackerel! ['holi 'mækrəl] exclam. Wow! □ Holy mackerel! What a day! □ Holy mackerel! What's this?

Holy mole! ['holi 'moli] exclam. Wow! □ Holy mole! A whole quarter! □ Look, here's another one! Holy mole!

holy stink n. anything repellent. □ You really created a holy stink with that silly remark. □ What is this holy stink about broken windows?

holy terror n. a devilish person; a badly behaving child. □ Jimmy has become a holy terror lately. □ Why is the boss such a holy terror today?

hombre ['ambre] n. a man. (From Spanish.) □ Who's that hombre who just came in? □ Now, he's a strange sort of hombre.

homeboy AND homegirl n. a buddy; a pal. (Originally between blacks. Also a term of address. Homeboy is for males and homegirl is for females.) □ Come on, homeboy. Help out a friend. □ She's my homegirl, and I'd do anything for her.

home-brew n. homemade liquor or beer. □ Is this your own home-brew, Wally? □ My uncle makes his own home-brew.

homegirl Go to homeboy.

homegrown 1. mod. local; folksy; amateur. □ Everyone enjoyed Sally's homegrown humor. □ The homegrown talent at the fair was just as entertaining as anything could have been. 2. n. marijuana grown domestically or locally. (Drugs.) □ She'd rather use homegrown than have to deal with Bart. □ This homegrown is from the pots in her room.

homer ['homə] 1. n. a home run in baseball. □ Wilbur hit one homer after another. □ Another homer for our team! 2. tv. & in. to hit a home run. □ Wilbur homered another one and brought in two runs with him. □ Sam has never homered in six years of playing.

homes AND homey; homie n. a buddy; a pal. (Originally between blacks. Also a term of address. See also holmes.) □

Hey, homes! How's it going? □ Me and my homie want to go with you.

homeslice n. a homeboy; a homegirl. □ Ask my homeslice over there if he wants to go with you. □ Well, homeslice, what now?

homespun n. homemade liquor or beer. □ Jed offered a little of his homespun round the table. □ How about a swig of homespun?

homey Go to homes.

homie Go to homes.

homo 1. n. a homosexual. (Usually a male. Rude and derogatory.) □ Bob got fired for calling Bill a homo. 2. adj. homosexual. (Usually objectionable.) □ Have you ever been to a homo bar?

honcho ['hantʃo] 1. n. the head man; the boss. (Useable for either sex.) □ The marketing honcho couldn't say when the product would be on the shelves. □ The top honcho at the water department was no help at all. 2. tv. to manage or boss something. □ Who's supposed to honcho this affair? □ I'll honcho it until Larry gets here.

honest injun ['ʌnəst 'ɪndʒən] interj. It is true. □ You actually did that? Honest injun? □ Sure I did, honest injun.

honey ['həni] n. beer. □ Let's stop at the happy shop and get some honey. □ You want another can of honey?

honeybunch n. a sweetheart. (Also a term of address.) □ Look, honeybunch, let's hurry up. We're late. □ I can't wait to get back and see my honeybunch.

honeycakes Go to babycakes.

honey cart Go to honey wagon.

honey fuck n. a gentle and loving act of sexual intercourse. (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) □ I told him I'd prefer a honey fuck to a bunny fuck any day.

honeymoon (period) AND honeymoon stage n. an early stage in any activity, before problems set in. □ Of course, this is still the honeymoon stage, but everything seems to be going all right. □ The honeymoon is over, Carl. You have to produce now.

honeymoon stage Go to honeymoon (period).

honey of a something n. a very special something; an excellent example of something. □ This is a honey of a car. Wanna drive it? □ Now here's a honey of a little stereo receiver.

honey wagon 1. AND honey cart n. any vehicle used for or designed for carrying excrement: a farm manure wagon; a tank truck used to pump out septic tanks; a tank truck used to pump out airplane toilets; a portable latrine truck used in movie making. □ I drove a honey wagon in Hollywood for a year. How's that for glamour? □ The honey cart was stalled with a flat tire in front of the plane. 2. n. a beer truck. □ What time does the honey wagon bring in new supplies? □ I drove a honey cart in the city for a while.

Hong Kong dog ['hɒŋ 'kɒŋ 'dɒg] n. diarrhea; a case of diarrhea. □ Andy has a touch of the Hong Kong dog and needs some medicine. □ I got rid of the Hong Kong dog by meditating.

honk 1. n. a drinking spree; a toot. □ Jed's last honk lasted nearly a week. □ The guys went off on the honk to end all honks. 2. n. a white male; a honky. (Black. Not necessarily derogatory.) □ Who's the honk who keeps driving by? □ There are mainly honks where I work. 3. in. to vomit. (Onomatopoeic.) □ I can hear someone in the john honking like mad. □ Who honked on the driveway? 4. tv. to vomit something. □ He honked up his whole pizza.

honked AND honkers mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Wally was too honked to stand up. □ Man, is that guy honkers!

honker 1. n. a goose. (Juvenile.) □ A whole flock of honkers settled on our pond. □ Can we have honker for Thanksgiving dinner? 2. n. a strange or eccentric person. □ Clare is a real honker these days. Is she all right? □ Martin is a classic honker. 3. n. the nose. □ Look at the honker on that guy. How can he see around it?

honkers 1. n. a woman's breasts. (Jocular. See also hooters. Usually objectionable.)

□ Look at the honkers on that dame! 2. Go to honked.

honky AND honkey; honkie; hunky 1. n. a Caucasian. (Black. Not necessarily derogatory. Probably a pronunciation variant of hunky.) □ The honkies are taking over this neighborhood. □ Some honky was around asking for you. 2. mod. in the manner of a Caucasian; white-like. □ Where'd you get that honky car? □ That's honky music. I want to hear soul.

honyock ['hanjak] n. someone, usually a male, who acts like a peasant; a crude or unsophisticated person; a rustic oaf. (Old. Also a rude or playful term of address.) □ Steve seems like such a honyock until you get to know him. □ Come here, you silly honyock.

hooch AND hootch [hutʃ] n. hard liquor; any alcoholic beverage, especially if illicitly obtained. □ Let's go guzzle some hooch. □ More hootch for you?

hooched (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Sally is too hooched to drive. □ She got herself hooched up and couldn't give her talk.

hoocher AND hootcher n. a drunkard. □ Ernie isn't a hoocher, you can say that for him. □ A hootcher staggered in and staggered right out again.

hooch head Go to hooch hound.

hooch hound AND hooch head n. a drunkard. □ Jed is a classic hooch hound. He lives for the stuff. □ The party turned into a drinking session for hooch heads.

hood 1. n. a hoodlum. □ A couple of hoods hassled us on the street. □ That hood should be behind bars. 2. n. the neighborhood; the ghetto; any neighborhood. □ Back in the hood, Bob's considered an important guy.

hood rat n. someone who hangs around the [black] neighborhood. □ Sam's just a wimpy hood rat. He never sees any action.

hooley ['hui] n. nonsense. □ The whole newspaper is nothing but hooley today. □ What's all this hooley about getting a new car?

hooper n. a (professional) dancer. □ Clare was a hooper when she was younger and lighter. □ She was a hooper on Broadway.

hoofing n. walking; running. □ My car's in the shop, so I'm hoofing for a few days. □ Two or three of the kids were hoofing around the mall, so I joined them.

hoof it 1. tv. to run away. □ I saw them coming and hoofed it home. □ Lefty hoofed it when he saw the uniform. 2. in. to walk instead of ride. □ My car's broken down, so I had to hoof it to work today. □ Let's hoof it over to the library.

hoo-ha ['huha] 1. n. a commotion. □ What is all this hoo-ha about? □ A deer created quite a hoo-ha by running frantically through the department store. 2. n. nonsense. □ What is all this hoo-ha about your leaving the company? □ Stop talking hoo-ha and tell the truth.

hook 1. tv. to cheat someone. □ Watch the clerk in that store. He might try to hook you. □ They hooked me on the car deal. 2. tv. to steal something. □ Lefty hooked a couple of candy bars just for the hell of it. □ What did they hook last night? 3. tv. to addict someone (to something). (Not necessarily drugs.) □ The constant use of bicarb hooked him to the stuff. □ The pot hooked him. 4. n. the grade of C. □ I didn't study at all and I still got a hook! □ I got three hooks and a D this semester. 5. tv. to earn or pull the grade of C on something in school. □ History? I hooked it without any trouble. □ If I can just hook algebra, I'll stay off probation.

hooked (on someone or something) mod. preferring someone or something; enamored of someone or something. □ I'm really hooked on chocolate anything. □ Sam is hooked on Mary for good.

hooked (on something) 1. mod. cheated. □ I really got hooked on this travel deal. □ You were hooked all right. 2. mod. addicted (to a drug). □ Gert is hooked on horse. □ Everybody knows she is hooked.

hooker n. a prostitute. (Usually a female, but of either sex. This has to do with hooking men into a situation where they can be exploited sexually or robbed. It has nothing to do with a certain General Hooker.) □ She's a model by day and a hooker by night. □ This neighborhood has a few hookers who hang around on the street corners.

hook, line, and sinker mod. totally. □ She fell for it hook, line, and sinker. □ They believed every word hook, line, and sinker.

hooks n. the hands. (See also meathooks.) □ Get your hooks off my newspaper! □ Don't stand there with your hooks in your pocket. Get busy!

hook shop n. a brothel. (See also hooker.) □ Guess who I saw coming out of a hook shop? □ There is a secret hook shop over on Maple Street.

hook something down tv. to swallow something down. □ He hooked a drink down and turned to face his brother. □ Hook down one of these cookies and see what you think about them.

hoopla ['huplə or 'huplə] n. an outcry; a fuss or a to-do. □ What's all this hoopla about? □ There is too much hoopla in these elections.

hoops n. the game of basketball. □ You wanna go play some hoops? □ Welcome to another evening of college hoops, brought to you by the Nova Motor Company.

hoosegow ['husgau] n. a jail. □ Learning to read can shorten one's time in the hoosegow. □ The judge threw the punk in the hoosegow for a few days.

hoot 1. in. to laugh loudly. □ The audience screamed and hooted with their appreciation. □ They howled and hooted. I know they just loved it. 2. n. a joke; something laughable. □ The whole business was a terrific hoot. □ The skit was a hoot, and everyone enjoyed it. 3. in. to boo at someone's performance. □ The audience hooted until the performer fled the stage in disgrace. □ They hooted for a few minutes after she left the stage.

hootch Go to hooch.

hootcher Go to hoocher.

hoo(t)chfest n. a drinking bout; a drinking party. □ We stopped by Sally's to join in the hoochfest for a while. □ Let's throw a big hootchfest next month.

hooted mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Jed got himself good and hooted. □ Ted is too hooted to drive.

hooter 1. n. a nose; a big nose. □ I sort of wish my hooter wasn't so doggoned big. □ He blew his hooter and went back to his reading. 2. n. a drink of liquor. □ He tossed back a big hooter of booze and stood there a minute. 3. n. cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Albert is known for his high-quality hooter. 4. Go to hooters.

hooters n. a woman's breasts. (Jocular. Usually objectionable.) □ Look at the hooters on that dame!

hoover tv. to perform oral sex on the penis. (Usually objectionable. From the name of the vacuum cleaner manufacturer, in reference to suction. See also a hoovering.) □ Man, would I like to hoover you! □ She hoovered him twice and then left.

a hoovering n. an abortion. (From the suction used, referring to the vacuum cleaner.) □ She said she thought a hoovering would make things right.

hop 1. n. beer. □ Pretty good hops, Tom. □ How about some hop with your hamburger? 2. n. a dancing party for young people. □ The kids are out at some school-sponsored hop. □ The hop was a lot of fun. 3. tv. to get aboard a plane or train. □ I'll hop a plane and be there in a couple of hours. □ Hop a train or anything, but get here as soon as you can.

hopfest n. a beer-drinking party. □ We went to a big hopfest over at Wally's, but it broke up early. □ That was some hopfest! No potato chips!

hophead 1. n. an alcoholic or a drunkard. □ I'm afraid that Wally is becoming a hophead. □ Ernie is a well-established and incurable hophead. 2. n. a drug user; someone under the effects of drugs. (Drugs.) □ The hopheads are taking over this part of town. □ What happens to these hopheads when they grow up?

hopped up 1. mod. stimulated by drugs. (Drugs.) □ The two of them were hopped up most of the time. □ Two hopped up kids were hunkered down in the alley. 2. mod. [of a car] customized and speeded up. □ As soon as I get this hog hopped up, you'll see some real speed. □ Sam drives a hopped up old Ford. 3. mod. excited. □ Paul is certainly hopped up about something. □ Why are you so hopped up?

hopping mad mod. very angry; angry and jumping up and down. □ I was hopping mad about the broken window. □ The boss was hopping mad at the secretary.

Hop to it! exclam. Get moving!; Hurry up! □ Hop to it! I don't pay you to stand around. □ I need it now! Hop to it!

horizontal mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The boss was horizontal at the Christmas party. □ Stewed? No, he's totally horizontal!

hork 1. in. to vomit. □ God! I think I'm going to hork! 2. in. to spit. □ Don't you hork on my driveway, you slob!

horn 1. n. the nose. □ He scratched his horn with his pencil and opened his mouth to speak. □ He had the most humongous horn I have ever seen on man or beast. 2. n. the telephone. □ Get Mrs. Wilson on the horn, please. □ She's on the horn now. What'll I tell her? 3. tv. to sniff or snort a narcotic. (Drugs.) □ Ernie horned a line and paused for a minute. □ He'd rather horn it than shoot it.

horner 1. n. a heavy drinker; a drunkard. □ Wally is a real horner. He has an enormous capacity. □ Jed is the king of horners around here. 2. n. a cocaine user. (Drugs.) □ Sure, Bart is a horner. He sells the stuff to support his own habit. □ I think the new employee is a horner.

horny mod. sexually aroused; in need of sexual release. (Refers to the horns of the goat, not a car horn. The goat is a symbol of lust. Usually objectionable.) □ God, I'm horny! I need of piece of something. □ He said he was so horny he could honk. What did he mean?

horrors 1. n. the delirium tremens. □ The old wino had the horrors all the time. □ He has a bad case of the horrors. 2. n.

frightening hallucinations from drugs. (Drugs.) □ Once he had gone through the horrors, he swore off for good. □ Pete had the horrors and had to be hospitalized.

horse 1. n. heroin. (Drugs.) □ Now, horse is all that Gert will touch. □ Horse is still very popular in the big cities. 2. n. horse dung. □ I use horse on my vegetables. □ I got a job shoveling horse out of the stables.

horse around in. to work inefficiently; to goof around. □ Stop horsing around and get busy. □ You guys are always horsing around.

horse cock n. a large sausage. (Usually objectionable. Military.) □ Whack me off a piece of that horse cock, would ya, Clyde? □ Oh, not horse cock again tonight!

horsed AND on the horse mod. under the effects of heroin; addicted to heroin. (Drugs.) □ Gert was totally horsed. □ How long have you been on the horse?

horse doctor n. a doctor. (Derogatory. Originally referred to a veterinarian.) □ That horse doctor says there's nothing wrong with me. □ My horse doctor says everything is wrong with me.

Horsefeathers! exclam. Phooey!; Nonsense! □ Oh, horsefeathers! You're nuts! □ Horsefeathers! I did no such thing!

horse hockey 1. n. horse dung. □ I try to get horse hockey for my garden. □ You don't see horse hockey in the streets anymore. 2. n. nonsense. □ I've heard enough of your horse hockey. □ The guy specializes in producing horse hockey for the gossip columns.

horse laugh n. a mocking and sarcastic laugh. □ He came out with a horse laugh that caused some eyebrows to raise. □ The horse laugh from the back of the room did not go unnoticed.

horse opera n. a Western movie. (See also oater.) □ They're showing a series of old horse operas at the theater tonight. □ Haven't I seen this horse opera before? About a hundred times maybe?

horseradish n. heroin. (See also horse.) □ Bart can get you some horseradish. □ Gert is hooked on horseradish.

horses n. horse power, as in an engine. □ How many horses does this thing have? □ Isn't 400 horses a lot for just one car?

horse's ass n. a fool. (Rude and derogatory.) □ My ex-husband was a real horse's ass. □ Stop being such a horse's ass and listen to some sense.

horseshit 1. n. the dung of the horse. (Usually objectionable.) □ After the parade, the street was littered with horseshit. 2. n. nonsense; bullshit. (Usually objectionable.) □ I've heard enough of your horseshit! □ That's just a lot of horseshit!

hose 1. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his hose and ran for the bedroom. 2. tv. & in. to copulate [with] a woman. (Usually objectionable.) □ You don't like her, you just want to hose her! 3. tv. to cheat or deceive someone; to lie to someone. □ Don't try to hose me! I'm onto you! □ He's just hosing you! Ignore him.

hoser 1. n. a good guy or buddy. □ Old Fred is a good hoser. He'll help. 2. n. a cheater or deceiver. □ You dirty lying hoser! 3. n. a moron; a stupid acting person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Come here, you hoser. I'll show you how to do it. □ Bob is such a hoser! He never gets anything right.

hose someone down tv. to kill someone. (Underworld. From the image of spraying someone with bullets.) □ Mr. Big told Bruno to hose Max down. □ The thugs tried to hose down the witness.

hoska Go to (ma)hoska.

hot 1. AND hot under the collar mod. angry. □ Don't get so hot under the collar. Chill, man. □ What a hot dude! □ Gee, that guy is really hot. What did I do? 2. mod. wanted by the police. (Underworld.) □ Lefty is hot because of his part in the bank job. □ Willie was hot and wanted somebody to hide him. 3. mod. stolen. □ This watch is hot. Keep it. □ Rocko won't touch a hot watch or anything else hot. 4. mod. carrying contraband and subject to arrest if caught. □ Albert was hot and on the run. □ Lefty was hot and needed a place to stay. 5. mod. having a run of good luck in gambling. □ I'm hot tonight! Here I go again. □ I was hot when I started. I'm broke now. 6. mod. of great renown; doing quite well for the time being. □ The opera tenor was hot, and even the lowbrows would pay to hear him. □ The dancer was hot and was offered movie roles and all sorts of things. 7. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Wally was too hot to stand up. 8. mod. selling well. □ These things are really hot this season. □ Now, here's a hot item. 9. mod. sexy; sexually arousing. □ Wow, who was that hot hunk you were with?

hot air n. boasting; lying; nonsense. □ I've heard enough of your hot air. □ That's just a lot of hot air. Ignore it.

hotbed of something n. a nest of something; a gathering place of something. □ This office is a hotbed of lazy people. □ My class is a hotbed of nerds.

hot check n. a bad check. □ The crook got picked up after passing a hot check. □ The clerk got in trouble for taking a hot check.

Hot diggety (dog)! ['hət 'dɪɡədi ('dɒɡ)] exclam. Wow! □ Hot diggety dog! I won! □ I made it on time. Hot diggety!

Hot dog! exclam. Wow! □ Hot dog! It's my turn. □ Look at that! Hot dog! It's coming this way!

hotdog in. to show off. □ The coach said, "Stop hotdogging and play ball, you guys." □ It's just like Wayne to hotdog when he should be paying attention to the game.

hot head n. a person with a bad or quick temper. □ Bart is a hot head. Watch out. □ Don't be such a hot head, Chuck.

hot item 1. n. an item that sells well. □ This little thing is a hot item this season. □ Now here's a hot item that everybody is looking for. 2. n. a romantically serious couple. □ Sam and Mary are quite a hot item lately. □ A hot item like Bill and Clare isn't likely to show up for the party.

hotkey n. one or more keys on a computer keyboard that will bring forth a special computer applications program. (Computers.) □ The hotkeys for my thesaurus are control and F2. □ Press the hotkey to bring up a calendar.

hot number 1. n. an exciting piece of music. □ Now here's a hot number by the Wanderers. □ Another hot number after this message. 2. n. an attractive or sexy girl or woman. □ She's quite a hot number. □ Who's that hot number I saw you with last night?

hot paper n. bad checks; a bad check. (Underworld. See also hot check.) □ Tracy got caught passing hot paper. □ That teller can spot hot paper a mile away.

hot potato n. a difficult problem. □ I sure don't want to have to deal with that hot potato. □ This one is a hot potato. Ignore it for a while.

(hot) rod n. a car that has been customized for power and speed by the owner. □ My rod'll outrun yours any day. □ Is that a hot rod or a junk heap?

hot seat n. the electric chair. (Underworld. See also in the hot seat.) □ Lefty, you're headed for the hot seat. □ The hot seat is just waiting for you, Lefty.

hot shit n. a male who thinks he is the greatest person alive; a conceited male. (Probably also used for females. Used with or without a. Usually objectionable.) □ You're not such a hot shit! □ The jerk thinks he is real hot shit.

hotshot 1. n. an important and energetic person. (Often used sarcastically. Also a term of address.) □ If you're such a hot-shot, why not straighten out the whole thing? □ Look, hotshot, get busy, will you? 2. AND hot-shot mod. brilliant; great. □ Wally is becoming a real hot-shot tenor with the local opera company. □ So, you're the hot-shot guy who's going to straighten this place out?

(hot) skinny n. inside information. □ What's the skinny on the tower clock? □ I've got the hot skinny on Mary and her boyfriend.

hot stuff n. a person who acts superior (to others). (Also a term of address.) □ What makes you think you're such hot stuff? □ Hey, hot stuff, come down here and say that.

hotsy-totsy ['hatsi'tatsi] mod. fine; great. □ Well, isn't that just hotsy-totsy. □ I don't feel so hotsy-totsy.

hottie n. a sexually attractive person. □ He's a real hottie! I wonder if he's taken.

hot tip n. a special bit of information that ought to be reliable. □ Ted got a hot tip on a horse. □ I phoned in a hot tip about a news story to the papers.

hot under the collar Go to hot.

hot wire tv. to start a car without a key. □ Lefty hot wired the car and used it for an hour or two. □ Isn't it illegal to hot wire a car?

Hot ziggy! ['hat 'zɪgədi] exclam. Wow! □ Hot ziggy! I made it! □ The plane's on time! Hot ziggy!

house moss n. little blobs of lint. (See also ghost turd.) □ There is some house moss under the sofa. □ Sweep up this house moss, please.

house of many doors n. a prison. □ Bart faced a sentence of a few years in the house of many doors. □ Sam just got out of the house of many doors and is looking for somebody to pull a job with.

How does that grab you? interrog. What do you think of that? □ Looks good, okay? How does that grab you? □ How does that grab you? Enough salt?

howdy interj. hello. (Folksy.) □ Howdy, friend. □ Well, howdy. Long time, no see.

How goes it? interrog. How are you?; How are things going? □ Nice to see you. How goes it? □ How goes it? Everything okay?

howl 1. n. something funny. □ What a howl the surprise party turned out to be when the guest of honor didn't show up. □ The gag was a real howl. 2. in. to laugh very hard. □ Everybody howled at my mistake. □ John howled when the joke was told.

howler n. a serious and funny mistake. □ Who is responsible for this howler on the Wilson account? □ That howler cost us plenty.

howling (drunk) mod. alcohol intoxicated; loudly drunk. □ Wally got howling drunk and ran in the streets with his coat off. □ He was just howling!

How('re) they hanging? interrog. <an inquiry calling for a report of the state of a male's testicles.> (See also Getting any? Usually objectionable.) □ How they hanging, Fred? □ You're looking okay. How're they hanging?

how the other half lives n. how poorer people live; how richer people live. □ Now I am beginning to understand how the other half lives. □ Most people don't care how the other half lives.

How ya living? interrog. How are you doing? (The response is Living large.) □ How ya living, man? □ Yo! How ya living?

HTH n. hometown honey, a sweetheart from home or still at home. (Initialism. Collegiate.) □ Wally is my HTH, but I think I've outgrown him. □ I heard that Mary is Sam's HTH.

hubbas n. crystallized cocaine; crack. (Drugs.) □ A ten-year-old died yesterday from hubbas. □ They arrested an eight-year-old for selling hubbas.

hubby ['həbi] n. a husband. □ My hubby will be late tonight. □ Where is your hubby tonight?

huffer ['həfə] n. a person (teenager) who inhales glue vapors or some other solvent for a high. (Drugs.) □ The age of the huffers has come to an end. Now they start out on crack. □ His school work suffered because he was a huffer.

huffy mod. angry; haughty. □ Now, don't get huffy. I said I was sorry, didn't I? □ Who's the huffy old lady? □ She was so huffy about it.

hughie ['hjuɪ] in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (See also cry hughie.) □ I gotta go hughie. □ Oo, who hughied?

hug the porcelain god(dess) AND hug the throne tv. to vomit; to vomit while holding on to the toilet seat. □ The girls drank a lot of beer and two of them spent the night hugging the porcelain god. □ I don't want to get drunk and have to hug the porcelain goddess all night.

hug the throne Go to hug the porcelain god(dess).

humdinger AND hummer ['həm'dɪŋə AND 'həmə] n. someone or something excellent. □ Now, this one is a real humdinger. □ Yup, he's a hummer all right.

hum job n. a sexual act involving holding the penis in the mouth while humming. (Usually objectionable.) □ He asked for a hum job, so she gave him a lullaby. □ The hooker wanted $30 for a hum job.

hummer Go to humdinger.

humongous [hju'məŋgəs] mod. huge. (See also mongo.) □ She lives in a humongous house on the hill. □ Wally has a humongous nose.

hump 1. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Refers to male arching his back in copulation, as in fornicate. Usually objectionable.) □ The sailor spent his entire leave drinking and humping. 2. n. an act of copulation. (Usually objectionable.) □ The sailor said he needed a hump and left the ship for the port. 3. n. a person who will copulate without much persuasion. (Usually objectionable.) □ He's okay as a hump, but he can't dance. □ She's just a hump. They're not hard to find these days.

hump (along) in. to move along in a hurry. □ I guess I'd better hump along over there. □ Come on, move it! Hump to the main office and be fast about it!

hump it (to somewhere) tv. to move rapidly (to somewhere). □ I have to hump it over to Kate's place right now. □ You'll have to hump it to get there in time.

humpy mod. sexually aroused; horny. (See also hump. Usually objectionable.) □ I'm so humpy, I could screw a cow. □ She gets humpy when she watches those movies.

hung 1. mod. hungover. □ John is really hung this morning. □ I'm miserable when I'm hung. 2. mod. annoyed. □ Fred is hung and looking for somebody to take it out on. □ How can you get so hung about practically nothing? 3. Go to well-hung.

hung like a bull mod. having large testicles or genitals in general, like a bull. (Said of a male. Usually objectionable.) □ Old Chuck is hung like a bull, but he don't care much for women. □ Well, he's not exactly hung like a bull, or anything else for that matter.

hangover mod. having a hangover from too much alcohol. □ John is really hungover today. □ I can't eat when I'm hungover.

the hungries n. hunger. (See also (blind) munchies.) □ Jimmy's crying because he's got the hungries. □ I get the hungries about this time every day.

hungry 1. mod. eager to make money. □ He doesn't sell enough because he's not hungry enough. □ When he gets hungry for wealth, he'll get busy. 2. mod. ambitious. □ He gets ahead because he's hungry. □ We like to hire the hungry ones.

hunk n. a strong and sexually attractive male. □ Larry is a real hunk. □ Who was that hot hunk I saw you with?

hunk of ass Go to piece of ass.

hunk of tail Go to piece of ass.

hunky Go to honky.

hunky-dory ['hʌŋki'dɔri] mod. fine; okay. □ As a matter of fact, everything is just hunky-dory. □ That is a hunky-dory idea all right.

hurl 1. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Like the throw in throw up.) □ I think I gotta go hurl. 2. n. vomit. □ There's hurl all over the bathroom floor!

hurry up and wait in. to be alternately rushed and delayed in a hectic situation. (Often with the force of a modifier.) □ I hate to hurry up and wait. □ It's always hurry up and wait around here.

hurt 1. mod. very ugly; damaged and ugly. (Black. Similar to hurting.) □ Man, are you hurt! □ That poor girl is really bad hurt. 2. mod. drug intoxicated. (Black.) □ Gert was really hurt and nodding and drooling. □ One hit of that horse trunk and he was really hurt.

hurt for someone or something in. to long after someone or something; to need someone or something. □ Sam really hurts for Mary. □ I sure am hurting for a nice big steak.

hurting 1. mod. very ugly; in pain from ugliness. (Similar to hurt.) □ That dog of yours is something to behold. It's really hurting. □ Man, is she hurting! 2. mod. seriously in need of something, such as a dose of drugs. (Drugs.) □ Gert is hurting. She needs something soon. □ When Ernie is hurting, he takes barbs.

hush-hush ['hʌʃ'hʌʃ] 1. mod. secret; undercover. □ The matter is so hush-hush I can't talk about it over the phone. □ What is all this hush-hush stuff? 2. mod. secretly. □ They did it so hush-hush that no one knew for a long time. □ What are all these hush-hush plans you have made?

hush money n. money paid to buy someone's silence. □ They paid enough hush money to silence an army. □ There was some hush money paid to someone in city hall.

hush someone up 1. tv. to make someone be quiet. □ Please hush your baby up! 2. tv. to kill someone. □ Nobody knew how to get to Mr. Big to hush him up. □ Mr. Big told Sam to hush up Bart.

hush something up tv. to keep something a secret; to try to stop a rumor from spreading. □ We just couldn't hush it up. □ We wanted to hush up the story, but there was no way to do it.

husky ['hʌski] n. a strong man; a thug. □ Tell your husky to lay off, Bruno. □ A couple of huskies helped me get my car unstuck.

hustle ['hʌsl] 1. in. to move rapidly; to hurry. □ Come on, hustle, you guys. □ It's late. I've got to hustle. 2. n. hurried movement; confusion. □ All the hustle and confusion made it hard to concentrate. □ I can't work when there is all this hustle around me. 3. n. a scheme to make money; a special technique for making money. (Underworld. This includes drug dealing, prostitution, and other vice activities.) □ Each of these punks has a hustle—a specialty in crime. □ We all know what Bart's hustle is. 4. in. to use one's special technique for making money. □ He's out there on the streets hustling all the time. □ I gotta go hustle. I need some bread. 5. tv. to use a scheme on a person to try to make money; to con someone. □ Don't try to hustle me, sister. I know which end is up. □ Sam is always trying to hustle people. 6. tv. to attempt to seduce someone. □ Bart is hustling Tracy. □ I think that Tracy's hustling Max.

hustler ['hʌslə] 1. n. a gambler in a pool hall. □ Wasn't he the guy who played the hustler in that famous movie? □ He made a lot of money as a hustler. 2. n. a swindler; a con artist. □ The chick is a real hustler. I wouldn't trust her at all. □ The hustler conned me out of a month's pay. 3. n. a prostitute. □ Gert almost became a hustler to pay for a habit. □ A lot of hustlers are hooked on horse. 4. n. a stud; a man who is notoriously good with women. □ That guy's a hustler. Watch out. □ He thinks he's a hustler. The chicks think he's a wimp.

hut n. a house. □ I've got to go to my hut and pick up some bills. □ Where's your hut? I'll come and visit you.

hype [haɪp] 1. n. publicity; sales propaganda; promotion, especially if blatant and aggressive. □ There was so much hype before the picture was released that the picture itself was a letdown. □ There is hype for the election all over the place. 2. tv. to publicize or promote someone or something aggressively; to overpraise someone or something. □ Don't hype the thing to death. □ Let's hype it until everyone in the country has heard about it. 3. AND hype n. a hypodermic syringe and needle. (Drugs.) □ She forgot to clean the hype. □ He got an infection from a dirty hype. 4. n.

an injection of drugs. (Drugs.) □ Ernie needed a hype real bad. □ Bart told him who could help him with a hype. 5. n. a drug addict who injects drugs. (Drugs.) □ Gert's been a hype for about a year. □ The hypes have a rough time in prison. 6. mod. really good; excellent. □ Now this is a truly hype pizza! □ This rally is really hype!

hype artist n. someone who produces aggressive promotional material for a living. □ She is a hype artist for a public relations firm. □ How much does a hype artist get paid for all that junk?

hyped (up) 1. mod. excited; stimulated. □ They were all hyped up before the game. □ She said she had to get hyped before the tennis match. 2. mod. contrived; heavily promoted; falsely advertised. □ I just won't pay good money to see these hyped up movies. □ If it has to be hyped so much, it probably isn't very good. 3. mod. drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) □ Gert is happiest when she's hyped. □ Here comes another hyped up musician.

hyper ['haɪpə] 1. mod. excited; overreacting. □ I'm a little hyper because of the doctor's report. □ Here's another hyper patient. □ Now, now, don't get hyper. 2. n. a person who praises or promotes someone or something. □ She's a hyper, and she doesn't always tell things the way they are. □ As a hyper, she is a whiz. 3. n. a person who is always overly excited or hyperactive. □ Pat is such a hyper. Just can't seem to relax. □ My dad is a hyper. 4. n. a drug user who injects drugs with a hypodermic syringe. (Drugs.) □ How long have you been a hyper, Gert? □ Bart has been a hyper since he was twenty-four.

hype something up tv. to overpraise something; to propagandize something. □ They hyped it up too much. □ Why do they hype up an election?

I

IAC Go to IAE.

IAE AND IAC interj. in any event; in any case. (Initialisms. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ IAE I will give you the answer tomorrow. □ I will be there IAC.

I am so sure! exclam. I am right! (California.) □ You are way rad! I am so sure! □ This is too much. I am so sure!

(I-)beam ['aɪbɪm AND bɪm] n. IBM, International Business Machines stock shares. (Securities markets. See also big blue.) □ I-beam fell out of bed and took the market with it. □ How much beam do you own?

IC in. I see; I understand. (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ Okay. IC now. □ IC, but I can't help you.

ice 1. n. diamonds; jewels. (Underworld.) □ That old dame has tons of ice in her hotel room. □ Look at the ice on her! 2. n. cocaine; crystalline cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Max deals mostly in ice, but can get you almost anything. □ This ice isn't good enough. 3. tv. to kill someone; to kill an informer. (Underworld. See also chill.) □ Mr. Big ordered Sam to ice you-know-who. □ Somebody set out to ice Tracy—the dirty squealer. 4. tv. to ignore someone. (Underworld. See also chill.) □ Bart iced Sam for obvious reasons. □ The members of the gang iced Bruno, and that really made him worry. 5. tv. to embarrass someone; to make someone look foolish. □ Don't ice me in front of my friends. □ Why does she feel like she has to ice everybody? 6. n. money given as a bribe, especially to the police. (Underworld.) □ Did you give Ervine the ice? □ A lot of those cops take ice. 7. mod. excellent; very cool. □ Her answer was ice, and she really put down that guy. □ Man this stuff is ice!

iceberg n. a cold and unemotional person. □ Sally can be such an iceberg! □ What an insensitive iceberg!

iceberg slim 1. n. a pimp. □ When iceberg slim came by in his pimpmobile, Jed made a rude sign at him. □ No iceberg slim is gonna push me around! 2. n. a person who exploits others; a cold, heartless person. □ The guy's a regular iceberg slim. □ Rocko is a perfect example of an iceberg slim. He's heartless.

iced mod. settled once and for all; done easily. □ I've got it iced. Nothing to it. □ The whole business is iced. Don't fret.

iceman n. a killer. (Underworld. See also ice.) □ It's hard to believe that Rocko is a professional iceman. □ The mob employs a number of icemen.

ice palace n. a jewelry store. (From ice.) □ What do they sell in that ice palace that you could afford to buy? □ He dropped in at a little ice palace to buy his wife a diamond bracelet. He's made of money.

ice queen n. a cold and haughty woman. □ Tracy is not exactly an ice queen, but comes close. □ It's Kim who's the ice queen.

icicles ['aɪs sɪkəlz] n. pure cocaine in a crystallized form. (Drugs.) □ Are icicles the same as crack? □ Icicles are probably more pure than crack.

icing on the cake n. an extra enhancement. □ Oh, wow! A tank full of gas in my new car. That's icing on the cake! □ Your coming home for a few days was the icing on the cake.

ick [ɪk] 1. n. any nasty substance. □ What is this ick on my shoe? □ That's not ick; it's good clean mud. 2. exclam. Nasty! (Usually ick!) □ Oh, ick! What now? □ ICK! I'm late! 3. n. a disliked person. □ Tell that ick to leave. He's polluting the place. □ Oh, Todd, don't be an ick.

icky ['ɪki] mod. distasteful; nasty. □ What is this icky old stuff? □ This is icky. □ This was an icky day.

icky-poo ['ɪkɪpu] 1. mod. disgusting. □ I don't like all this icky-poo talk. □ What is that icky-poo stuff in the soup bowl? 2. exclam. Nasty! (Usually icky-poo!) □ Icky-poo! What a mess! □ Oh, icky-poo! I missed my bus!

I could(n't) care less. sent. I don't care! (The affirmative version does not make sense, but is widely used, nonetheless.) □ So you're late. I couldn't care less. □ I could care less if you fell off a cliff.

ID 1. n. some kind of identification card. (Initialism.) □ Can you show me an ID? □ I don't have any ID on me. 2. tv. to determine the identity of someone; to check someone for a valid identification card. □ They IDed us at the door. □ I hate being IDed. □ The cops IDed the driver in less than thirty minutes.

idea box n. the head; the brain. □ You talk so fast you make my idea box ache. □ You got a good solution up there in your idea box by any chance?

idiot box n. a television set. □ You spend too much time watching the idiot box. □ What's on the idiot box tonight?

idiot card n. a large card that shows people on television what to say. □ The floor director held up an idiot card so I could read out the telephone number. □ I couldn't read the number off the idiot card.

idiotic Go to idiot juice.

idiot juice AND idiotic ['ɪdiət dʒʊs AND ɪdi'ɑːk] n. a mixture of ground nutmeg and water. (Prisons.) □ Somehow a bunch of these guys got hold of some idiot juice.

□ He drank about a gallon of idiotic to get the kick of one beer.

idiot light n. a light (instead of a meter) on a car's dashboard that indicates the state of various things concerning the operation of the car. □ I don't want idiot lights. I want meters! □ The idiot light went on, and I knew I was in some sort of trouble.

idiot oil n. alcohol. □ She drinks too much of that idiot oil. □ Idiot oil can wreck you as much as smack does.

idiot pills n. barbiturates. (Drugs.) □ Lay off those idiot pills, why don't you? □ She takes idiot pills every night.

I don't believe this! exclam. What is happening right now is unbelievable! □ Gross! I don't believe this! □ I don't believe this! It can't be happening.

I don't know. sent. I disagree. □ I don't know. I like it. What's wrong with it? □ I don't know. It looks good to me.

I don't mean maybe! exclam. I am not kidding! □ You get over here right now, and I don't mean maybe! □ I will spank you if you ever do that again, and I don't mean maybe.

iffy ['ɪfi] mod. marginally uncertain. □ Things are still sort of iffy, but we'll know for sure in a few days. □ It's sort of an iffy matter, but things will get straightened out.

if I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times phr. I know I have told you many, many times. □ If I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times, don't lean back in that chair. □ If I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times, wipe your feet!

if one knows what's good for one phr. one had better do what is expected of one. □ You'd better be on time if you know what's good for you. □ If you know what's good for you, you'll call and apologize.

if one's a day phr.  □ She's fifty if she's a day! □ I'm sure he's forty-five if he's a day.

if push comes to shove Go to when push comes to shove.

if that don't fuck all! exclam. an exclamation of surprise. (An elaboration of the colloquial If that don't beat all! See also Fuck it all! Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ If that don't fuck all! You broke it, and it's my last one! ☐ My uncle left me $40,000! If that don't fuck all!

if you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen. sent. If you cannot accept the problems of involvement, do not get involved. ☐ Yes, it's difficult to be a candidate. If you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen. ☐ Relax. If you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen.

if you'll pardon the expression phr. excuse the expression I am about to say. ☐ This thing is—if you'll pardon the expression—loused up. ☐ I'm really jacked, if you'll pardon the expression.

I hear what you are saying. 1. AND I hear you. sent. I know just what you are trying to say. ☐ Yes, yes. I hear what you are saying, and I'm with you. ☐ Yeah! I hear you! 2. sent. I understand your position, but I am under no obligation to agree. ☐ I hear you. So do what you want. ☐ I hear you, but it doesn't matter.

I hear you. Go to I hear what you are saying.

I kid you not. sent. I am not kidding. (Attributed to the entertainer Jack Paar.) ☐ She is a great singer. I kid you not. ☐ I kid you not. This is the best.

ill 1. mod. lame; dull; bad. ☐ That broad is truly ill and has a face that would stop a clock. 2. AND illing; illin' mod. excellent; cool. ☐ Her smile is so illin'! ☐ We had an ill time at your party.

I'll bite. sent. You want me to ask what or why, so, what or why? ☐ Okay, I'll bite. What's the answer? ☐ I'll bite. Why did the chicken cross the road?

illin' ['ɪlən] 1. mod. being ill; being sick. ☐ She was illin' big time and could not come to class. ☐ I was illin' so I called in sick. 2. mod. ill-behaved. ☐ You are most illin' and you are bugging me, Kim. Stop it! ☐

She is the most illin' homeslice I know. 3. in. behaving badly. ☐ Stop illin' and pay attention. ☐ You are always illin'! 4. mod. upset. ☐ What are you illin' about? Everything is ice. ☐ Tom was illin' and angry about the broken window. 5. Go to ill.

illuminated mod. alcohol intoxicated. (A play on lit.) ☐ Paul is a bit illuminated. ☐ He's too illuminated to drive home.

(I) love it! exclam. That is wonderful! (A catchphrase.) ☐ It's wonderful, Ted. I love it! ☐ Love it! More, more! ☐ You're so clever! Love it! Love it!

I'm history. sent. Good-bye, I am leaving. (See also history.) ☐ I'm history. See you tomorrow. ☐ Later. I'm history.

IM(H)O interj. in my (humble) opinion. (Initialism. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud. See also IYHO.) ☐ IMHO, you are dead wrong. ☐ She is the person to choose, IMO.

I'm listening. sent. Keep talking.; Make your explanation now. ☐ You did it wrong. I'm listening. ☐ I'm sure there's an explanation. Well, I'm listening.

I'm not kidding. sent. I am telling the truth. ☐ Get over here now! I'm not kidding. ☐ I'm not kidding. It was this big!

IMO Go to IM(H)O.

I'm outa here. Go to I'm out of here.

I'm outie. Go to I'm out of here.

I'm out of here. AND I'm outa here.; I'm outie. sent. I am leaving this minute. ☐ In three minutes I'm outa here. ☐ I'm out of here. Bye.

impaired mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Borrowed from the euphemistic impaired physician.) ☐ Don is a bit impaired because he drinks like a fish. ☐ He was so impaired he couldn't see his hand in front of his face. ☐ The impaired driver was arrested.

I'm shaking (in fear). sent. You don't really frighten me at all. (A mocking response to a threat.) ☐ Oh, what you said! I'm shaking. Not! ☐ Your threats really scare me. I'm shaking in fear.

I'm there! sent. I will accept your invitation and I will be there. ☐ Sounds like it will be a great rally. I'm there! ☐ If you and Tom are going to get together and watch the game, I'm there!

in 1. mod. current; fashionable. ☐ This kind of thing is in now. ☐ What's in around here in the way of clothing? 2. mod. private. ☐ Is this in information? ☐ If it's in or something, I'm sure they won't spread it around. 3. n. someone in a special position; someone who is serving in an elective office. ☐ Well, now that I am an in, there's going to be some changes. ☐ When Ralph is one of the ins, he'll throw the crooks out. 4. n. a ticket or means of getting in (someplace). ☐ I lost my in. Can I still see the show? ☐ Lemme see your in or give me a buck.

in a bad way Go to in bad shape.

in a big way mod. very much; urgently. ☐ I'm really interested in her in a big way. ☐ He plays to win—in a big way.

in a blue funk mod. sad; depressed. ☐ I've been in a blue funk all week. ☐ Don't be in a blue funk. Things'll get better.

in a cold sweat mod. in a state of fear. ☐ He stood there in a cold sweat, waiting for something to happen. ☐ I was in a cold sweat while they counted the ballots.

in action 1. mod. healthy and getting around. ☐ After I got well, I was in action again immediately. ☐ When will she be in action again? 2. mod. selling or using drugs. (Drugs.) ☐ Bart is in action about twenty hours a day. ☐ In this neighborhood, somebody is in action twenty-four hours a day.

in a dither mod. confused; undecided. ☐ Mary is sort of in a dither lately. ☐ Don't get yourself in a dither.

in a familiar way mod. pregnant. (Euphemistic for in a family way.) ☐ Tracy is in a familiar way, have you heard? ☐ In a familiar way again?

in a family way AND in the family way mod. pregnant. ☐ I hear that Tracy is in a family way. ☐ Is she in the family way again?

in a flash mod. right away; immediately. (See also flash.) ☐ Get over here in a flash, or else. ☐ I'll be there in a flash.

in a heap mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Poor Jed's in a heap again. ☐ The guys were all in a heap after the blast.

in a jam mod. in a difficult situation. ☐ I think I'm sort of in a jam. ☐ Sam is in a jam.

in a jiff(y) mod. right away; immediately. (See also jiffy.) ☐ I'll be there in a jiffy. ☐ The clerk'll be with you in a jiff.

in a snit mod. in a fit of anger or irritation. ☐ Don't get in a snit. It was an accident. ☐ Mary is in a snit because they didn't ask her to come to the shindig.

in a tizzy mod. in a state of mental disorder. ☐ Fred is all in a tizzy. ☐ The whole office is in a tizzy today.

in a twit mod. upset; frantic. ☐ She's all in a twit because she lost her keys. ☐ Pete was in a twit and was quite rude to us.

in a twitter mod. in a giddy state; silly. ☐ Don't get yourself in a twitter. ☐ We were all in a twitter over the upcoming event.

in bad shape AND in a bad way 1. mod. injured or debilitated in any manner. ☐ Fred had a little accident, and he's in bad shape. ☐ Tom needs exercise. He's in bad shape. 2. mod. pregnant. ☐ Tracy's in bad shape again, I hear. ☐ Yup, she's in bad shape all right—about three months in bad shape. 3. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Two glasses of that stuff and I'm in really bad shape. ☐ Fred is in bad shape. I think he's going to toss his cookies.

in business mod. operating; equipped to operate. ☐ We're in business now, and things are running smoothly. ☐ Now it works. Now we're in business.

incense n. marijuana. (Drugs.) ☐ I think I smell some incense somewhere in this building. ☐ Hank likes to burn a little incense every now and then.

incentive n. cocaine. (Drugs. See also initiative.) ☐ Maybe a little of that incentive would make me work harder. ☐ That's pretty expensive incentive.

in cold blood mod. without feeling; with cruel intent. □ Rocko kills in cold blood and never gives it a thought. □ The prof flunked me in cold blood.

in cold storage mod. dead; in a state of death. □ Rocko gets paid for putting his subjects in cold storage. □ Poor old Jed is in cold storage.

incy-wincy ['intsi'wintsi] mod. tiny. (See also itty-bitty; itsy-bitsy.) □ Just give me an incy-wincy bit. I'm on a diet. □ Well, maybe an incy-wincy bit more wouldn't hurt.

in deep 1. mod. deeply involved (with someone or something). □ Mary and Sam are in deep. □ Bart is in deep with the mob. 2. mod. deeply in debt. (Often with with or to.) □ Sam is in deep with his bookie. □ I'm in deep to the department store.

in deep doo-doo mod. in real trouble. (Doo-doo = dung.) □ See what you've done. Now you are in deep doo-doo. □ I broke the window. Now I'm in deep doo-doo.

in drag mod. wearing the clothing of the opposite sex. (Usually refers to women's clothing.) □ Two actors in drag did a skit about life on the farm. □ Gary looks better in drag than he does in a suit.

in dribs and drabs mod. in small portions; bit by bit. □ I'll have to pay you what I owe you in dribs and drabs. □ The whole story is being revealed in dribs and drabs.

in Dutch mod. in trouble. □ I think I'm in Dutch with my folks. □ I didn't want to get in Dutch with you.

in fine feather 1. mod. well dressed; of an excellent appearance. □ Well, you are certainly in fine feather today. □ I like to be in fine feather when I have to give a speech. 2. mod. in good form; in good spirits. □ Mary is really in fine feather tonight. □ I feel in fine feather and ready to go!

initiative n. cocaine. (Drugs. See also incentive.) □ Maybe I need some more of that initiative to get me going. □ That kind of initiative is pretty expensive.

ink 1. n. cheap red wine. □ The old wino prefers ink to anything else. □ All I have is some ink. Is that okay? 2. n. publicity; print media coverage of someone or something. □ The movie star's divorce got a lot of ink for a few days. □ The new president managed to get some ink every day, but it wasn't always good.

ink slinger n. a professional writer; a newspaper reporter. □ The ink slingers have been at the candidates again. □ The problem is that there are too many ink slingers around.

innie Go to insy.

in nothing flat mod. immediately. □ I'll be there in nothing flat. □ She changed the tire in nothing flat.

in one's blood mod. inborn; part of one's genetic makeup. □ It's in my blood. I can't help it. □ Running is in his blood. He loves it.

in one's something mode phr. behaving in a specified mode. (The something can be replaced by work, sleep, hungry, angry, etc.) □ I'm not very alert because I'm still in my sleep mode. □ Todd is always in his play mode when he should be working.

in orbit 1. mod. ecstatic; euphoric. □ She was just in orbit when she got the letter. □ Pete was in orbit over the promotion. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Gary is in orbit and can't see a hole in a ladder. □ After having a six-pack all to herself, Julie was in orbit.

in play 1. mod. being played; inbounds. (Said of a ball in a game.) □ The ball's in play, so you made the wrong move. □ No, it wasn't in play, you twit! 2. mod. having to do with a company (or its stock) that is a candidate for acquisition by another company. (Securities markets.) □ The company was in play, but nobody was buying it. □ These deal stocks—which are in play right now—offer excellent buying opportunities.

in rare form 1. mod. well-tuned for a good performance; at one's best. □ He is in rare form today. □ We are not exactly in rare form on Monday mornings. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Gert is in rare form, but she'll have time to sleep it off. □ When Harry was finally in rare form, he slid beneath the table.

ins and outs n. the fine points (of something); the details; the intricacies. □ I'm learning the ins and outs of this business. □ My father taught me the ins and outs of hog calling.

inside dope n. the inside story; special or privileged information. (See also (hot) skinny.) □ Can you give me the inside dope on Marty? □ What's the inside dope on the candidate's drug addiction?

inside job n. a crime perpetrated against an establishment by someone associated with the victimized establishment. (Underworld.) □ The cops figured that it was an inside job. □ It was an inside job all right. The butler did it.

inside out mod. drunk. □ Wayne spends every weekend inside out. □ Beavis looked forward to the day he could go out and get inside out.

in someone's face mod. irritating someone. (See also get in someone's face; Get out of my face!; in-your-face.) □ You are in my face too much, and I don't like it. □ I wish that the coach wasn't always in my face about something.

in spades mod. in the best way possible; extravagantly. □ He flunked the test in spades. □ They won the championship in spades.

insy AND innie ['Inzi] n. a navel that recedes and does not protrude. (Compare this with outsy.) □ Is yours an insy or an outsy? □ It's an outsy. So what?

in tall cotton mod. successful; on easy street. □ I won some money at the track, and I'm really in tall cotton. □ We were in tall cotton until the IRS caught up with us.

intense mod. serious; heavy. □ That man is so intense! □ This is an intense matter. □ Oh, wow! Now that's what I call intense!

in the bag 1. mod. cinched; achieved. □ It's in the bag—as good as done. □ The election is in the bag unless the voters find out about my past. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also bagged.) □ Kelly looks like he is in the bag. □ John is in the bag and mean as hell.

in the black mod. financially solvent; profitable; not in debt. □ Now that the company is in the black, there's a good chance it will become a deal stock. □ We're in the black now and making a profit.

in the buff mod. naked. □ You-know-who sleeps in the buff. □ You can save hundreds of dollars in a lifetime by not buying pajamas and sleeping in the buff instead.

in the catbird seat mod. in a dominant or controlling position. □ Sally's in the catbird seat—telling everybody where to go. □ I hold all the aces. I'm in the catbird seat.

in the chips mod. wealthy; with lots of money. □ I'm in the chips this month. Let's go squander it. □ If I was in the chips, I'd buy a jag.

in the driver's seat mod. in control. □ She's just not comfortable unless she's in the driver's seat. □ I'm in the driver's seat now, and I get to decide who gets raises.

in the family way Go to in a family way.

in the grip of the grape mod. drunk on wine; drunk. □ Wayne was in the grip of the grape and couldn't talk straight. □ Sue was in the grip of the grape after only three glasses of wine.

in the groove mod. cool; groovy; pleasant and delightful. □ Man, is that combo in the groove tonight! □ Get in the groove! Relax.

in the gun mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also shot.) □ Ted is in the gun again. □ When Fred is in the gun, he's mean.

in the hole mod. in debt; running a deficit. □ Looks like we are in the hole again this month. □ We always end the month in the hole.

in the (home) stretch mod. in the last stage of the process. (From horse racing.) □ We're in the homestretch with this project and can't change it now. □ We're in the stretch. Only three more days till we graduate.

in the hopper mod. in process; in line to be processed. (A hopper is an in-basket for incoming work.) □ It's in the hopper. I'll get to it. □ Your job is in the hopper, and your turn is next.

in the hot seat phr. in a situation where one is being scrutinized or asked questions. (See also hot seat.) □ I was in the hot seat for about an hour, but they didn't learn anything from me. □ This new information puts Tom in the hot seat, doesn't it?

in the know mod. knowledgeable (about something); having inside knowledge (about something). □ Ask Harry. He's usually in the know. □ Sure I'm in the know. But I'm not telling.

in the O-zone mod. dead; on the verge of death; showing the O-sign. (With the mouth hanging open, like the letter O.) □ This patient is in the O-zone. Ready to go at any minute.

in the ozone mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Four beers and Tom is in the ozone. □ We were in the ozone, but we still made a lot of sense.

in the pink 1. mod. feeling quite well; feeling on top of the world. □ I'm in the pink today. Feeling great. □ When she's in the pink again, she'll give you a ring. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Pete is in the pink and singing at the top of his lungs. □ When he's in the pink, he's a handful.

in the pipeline mod. backed up somewhere in a process; in process; in a queue. □ There are a lot of goods still in the pipeline. That means no more orders for a while. □ Your papers are in the pipeline somewhere. You'll just have to wait.

in the Q-zone mod. dead; on the verge of death; with the mouth showing the Q-sign. □ Look at that tongue hanging out. This guy's in the Q-zone.

in there mod. sincere; likeable. □ Martha is really in there. Everybody likes her. □ I like a guy who's in there—who thinks about other people.

in the soup mod. in trouble. □ Now you're in the soup. □ I'm in the soup with the boss.

in the suds mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Fred is in the suds and can't see. □ When Bob is in the suds, he's mean.

in the tube 1. mod. in the “tube” or arch of a large wave. (Surfing.) □ Pete is in the tube and looks great. □ On a day like today, I want to be out there in the tube. 2. mod. at risk. □ He's in the tube now, but things should straighten out soon. □ If you find yourself in the tube in this matter, just give me a ring.

the in thing to do n. the fashionable or orthodox thing to do. (See also in.) □ Cutting your hair short on the sides is the in thing to do. □ Smoking is no longer the in thing to do.

in-your-face mod. confrontational. □ I'm really tired of this in-your-face attitude of yours. □ Fred is just an in-your-face kind of guy. He means no harm.

IOW interj. in other words. (Initialism. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ IOW, you are angry at me. □ I have heard enough on this point. IOW, shut up.

iron 1. n. a gun; a revolver. (Underworld.) □ Rocko never carries iron unless he's going to use it. □ What kind of iron do you carry? 2. n. computer hardware. (See also big iron.) □ What kind of iron are you people running over there? □ This is good old compatible iron.

Irv AND Ervine; Irvine n. a police officer. (Black. See also Charlie Irvine.) □ Irv is after you, did you know? □ Tell Ervine to go catch a speeder or something.

Irvine Go to Irv.

I smell you. sent. I understand you. □ I smell you. No need to go on and on. □ That's enough. I smell you. Don't go on and on.

It cuts both ways. Go to It cuts two ways.

It cuts two ways. AND It cuts both ways. sent. There are two sides, you know;

There are two people involved.; You are being selfish and one-sided. ☐ You have to help, too. It cuts two ways. ☐ It cuts two ways, you know. It can't always all be my fault.

It don't make (me) no nevermind. phr. It doesn't matter to me. ☐ Go ahead! Do it! It don't make me no nevermind.

It's been a slice! sent. It's been good. ☐ Good-bye and thank you. It's been a slice! ☐ It's been a slice. I hope to see you again some day.

(It's) not my dog. phr. It's not my problem. ☐ So what! It doesn't matter! Not my dog.

itsy-bitsy Go to itty-bitty.

It's your funeral! exclam. If you do it, you will suffer all the consequences! ☐ Go if you want. It's your funeral! ☐ Go ahead, swim to Cuba. It's your funeral!

itty-bitty AND itsy-bitsy ['ɪdi'bɪdi AND 'ɪtsɪ'bɪtsɪ] mod. tiny. ☐ What an itty-bitty car! ☐ Give me an itsy-bitsy piece. I'm on a diet.

It will be your ass! sent. It will cost you your ass!; You will pay dearly! (Usually objectionable.) ☐ If you do that again, it will be your ass! ☐ It will be your ass if it isn't done right this time.

I've been there. sent. I know from experience what you are talking about. ☐ I know what you mean. I've been there. ☐ I've been there. You don't need to spell it out for me.

I('ve) gotta fly. Go to I've got to fly.

I've got to fly. AND I('ve) gotta fly. sent. I have to leave right now. ☐ Time's up. I've got to fly. ☐ I've gotta fly. See you later.

I've got to split. sent. I have to leave now. ☐ See you later. I've got to split. ☐ I've got to split. Call my service.

ivories ['aɪvɪz] 1. n. the teeth. (See also china.) ☐ I gotta go brush my ivories. ☐ Look at those nice white ivories! 2. n. piano keys. (From when piano keys were made from real elephant ivory.) ☐ She can really bang those ivories. ☐ I'd say she has mastered the ivories.

ivory tower n. an imaginary location where aloof academics are said to reside and work. ☐ Why don't you come out of your ivory tower and see what the world is really like? ☐ Better yet, stay in your ivory tower.

IYHO interj. in your humble opinion. (Initialism. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud. See also IM(H)O.) ☐ Things are in bad shape IYHO, but I think they are great. ☐ IYHO, everyone else is wrong!

J

J. AND jay n. a marijuana cigarette; marijuana. (Drugs. From the initial letter of joint.) □ Toss me a jay, huh? □ A jay is two clams.

jabber ['dʒæbɜː] 1. n. mindless chatter. □ Stop all this jabber and get to work. □ I've heard enough of your jabber. 2. in. to chatter. □ Come over and we'll jabber about things over coffee. □ What are those kids jabbering about? 3. n. a drug addict who injects drugs. (Drugs.) □ The guy's a jabber. Look at those tracks. □ These scars show that the victim was a jabber.

jab pop ['dʒæb'pɒp] in. to inject (drugs). (Drugs.) □ Gert was jab popping when she died. □ Jab popping is a ticket to cement city.

jack 1. n. money. □ I don't have the jack for a deal like that. □ How much jack will it take? 2. n. tobacco for rolling cigarettes. □ You got some jack I can bum? □ I don't use jack at all. 3. n. anything. (Probably from jackshit.) □ This new television program isn't worth jack! □ Your last idea wasn't worth jack. Do I pay you to come up with stuff that bad? 4. n. a strange person; an annoying person. (Possibly from jackass or jackshit.) □ Wally, stop acting like such a jack! □ Ted is a total jack. He doesn't know his head from a hole in the ground.

jackal n. a low and devious person. □ You are nothing but a slimy jackal! □ What does that jackal want here?

jack around in. to waste time; to mess around. □ Stop jacking around and get busy. □ The gang was jacking around and broke your window.

jacked Go to jacked up.

jacked (out) mod. angry; annoyed. □ Boy was that old guy jacked out at you. □ Yup, he was jacked all right.

jacked up 1. AND jacked mod. excited. □ Don was really jacked up about the election. □ The gang was jacked up and ready to party. 2. mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ What time did Sam get himself jacked up? □ He was jacked up at midnight. 3. mod. upset; stressed. □ I was really jacked up by the bad news. □ Don't get jacked up. It'll work out. 4. mod. high on drugs. □ He's jacked up, and he may have ODed. □ The poor kid is jacked up most of the time now.

jack off Go to beat off.

jack-shit 1. n. a stupid and worthless person. (Usually refers to a male. Usually objectionable.) □ Don't be such a stupid jack-shit! □ What a jack-shit! Not a brain in his head! 2. n. anything; anything at all. (Always in a negative expression.) □ This whole thing isn't worth jack-shit! □ I wouldn't give you jack-shit for that!

jack someone around tv. to hassle someone; to harass someone. (See also jerk someone around.) □ The IRS is jacking my brother around. □ The boss was jacking around Gert, so she just walked out.

jack someone up 1. tv. to motivate someone; to stimulate someone to do something. □ I'll jack him up and try to get some action out of him. □ What does it take to jack up that lazy guy? 2. tv. to beat or stab someone. (Underworld.) □ They really jacked up Bobby. He almost died.

jack something up 1. tv. to raise the price of something. □ They kept jacking the price up with various charges, so I walked. □ How can they jack up the published price? 2. tv. to mess something up. □ Who jacked up the papers on my desk?

jack-ups n. capsules of a barbiturate drug. (Drugs.) □ Walter took a few jack-ups and went on to work. □ Gert took her jack-ups with whiskey. She's gonna get pifted.

JAFDIP acronym. just another fucking day in paradise. (A sarcastic expression for a bad day or a day in an unhappy situation. Usually objectionable.) □ Everything is going wrong. What do you expect. JAFDIP!

jag 1. n. a Jaguar automobile. □ What I really want is a jag. □ How much will a jag set me back? 2. n. a drinking bout; a prolonged state of alcohol or drug intoxication. □ Is he off on another jag, or is this the same one? □ One more jag will kill her. Try to keep her away from the stuff. 3. n. a prolonged state of emotional excess. □ I've been on a jag and can't get my work done. □ She's off on a jag again. 4. n. a drug rush. (Drugs.) □ This stuff has no jag at all. □ How big a jag do you want?

jagged mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, is that chick jagged! □ Let's go out and get jagged.

jag off Go to beat off.

jagster n. someone on a drinking spree; a heavy drinker. □ Gary is a typical jagster. Drunk for a week and sober for three. □ There's not a lot that a doctor can do for a jagster like that.

jake 1. n. a toilet; a men's restroom. □ Where's the jake? □ The jake is around the corner. 2. n. a stupid person, usually a male. □ Some loony jake told me we are going the wrong way. □ Who's the jake in the plaid pants? 3. mod. okay; satisfactory. □ All right? Then everything is jake with me. □ If you get here by nine, it'll be just jake. 4. n. illegal liquor. (Prohibition.) □ You know where I can get some jake? □ Why, there's no jake around here. There's a law against it, you know.

jam 1. n. a problem; trouble. □ I hear you're in a bad jam. □ Well, it's not a bad jam. 2. in. [for musicians] to play together, improvising. □ They jammed until the neighbors complained. □ Come over and

let's jam, okay? 3. tv. & in. to force a basketball into the basket; to slam dunk a basketball. □ He tried to jam it, but blew it. □ Andy broke the rim by trying to jam.

4. n. an act of forcing a basketball into the basket; a slam dunk. □ The jam didn't work, and Fred's team rebounded the ball. □ One more jam for Wilbur! 5. in. to depart. □ It's time to jam. Let's go. □ I gotta jam, Tom. See ya.

jambled ['dʒæmbld] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Jerry was too jambled to stand up. □ Let's go out and get good and jambled.

jammed ['dʒæmd] 1. mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ Willie got jammed for speeding. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I'm a little jammed, but I think I can still drive. 3. Go to jammed up. 4. mod. upset; annoyed. □ He's really jammed because he flunked the test.

jammed up 1. AND jammed mod. in trouble. □ He got himself jammed up with the law. □ I'm sort of jammed and need some help. 2. mod. gluttled; full of food or drink. □ I'm jammed up. I can't eat another bite. □ After dinner, I am so jammed up that I need a nap.

jamming mod. excellent. □ This music is really jamming. □ What a jamming class session.

jampacked AND jam-packed mod. full. □ This day has been jampacked with surprises. □ The box was jam-packed with goodies.

jan [dʒæn] n. January in the financial futures markets. (Securities markets.) □ The bean futures for jan fell out of bed yesterday. □ Are these figures jan or March?

jane 1. n. marijuana. (Drugs.) □ You got any jane? □ Bart has jane coming out of his ears. 2. n. a women's restroom; the ruth. □ Where's the jane around here? □ The jane is upstairs.

Jane Doe ['dʒen 'do] n. a general term for a woman. (The mate of John Doe.) □ A Jane Doe was pulled out of the river this morning. □ There was an accident involving a Jane Doe.

Jane Q. Public ['dʒen 'kju 'pəblɪk] n. a general term for a female representative of the public. (The mate of John Q. Public.)
 □ And what does Jane Q. Public think about all this? □ Jane Q. Public doesn't care at all.

jarhead n. a U.S. Marine. □ The jarheads got there first and let them know what was what. □ Do you want to spend a few years as a gravel-pounder or a jarhead? You get free clothes with both jobs.

java ['dʒavə] n. coffee. □ How about a cup of java? □ Some black java would be real good.

jaw 1. n. a chat. □ Come over for a jaw this weekend. □ I could use a good jaw with my old friend. 2. in. to chat. □ Stop jawing and get to work. □ Come over, and we can jaw for a while. 3. Go to jaw(bone).

jaw(bone) tv. to try to persuade someone verbally; to apply verbal pressure to someone. □ They tried to jawbone me into doing it. □ Don't jaw me. I won't do it.

jay Go to J.

jazzed (up) 1. mod. alert; having a positive state of mind. □ I am jazzed up and ready to face life. □ Those guys were jazzed and ready for the game. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Dave was a bit jazzed up, but not terribly. □ Gert was jazzed out of her mind. 3. mod. enhanced; with something added; having been made more enticing. □ The third act was jazzed up with a little skin. □ It was jazzed enough to have the police chief around asking questions. 4. mod. forged or altered. (Underworld. See also tinseled.) □ This check is jazzed. Deep six it! □ Better not try to cash a jazzed check at this bank.

jazz someone or something up tv. to make someone or something more exciting or sexy; to make someone or something appeal more to contemporary and youthful tastes. □ Let's jazz this up a little bit. □ They jazzed up the old girl till she looked like a teenager. □ Don't jazz up the first number too much.

jazzy ['dʒæzi] mod. stimulating; appealing.
 □ That's a jazzy sweater you got. □ He's a real jazzy guy.

JCL Go to Johnnie-come-lately.

JD 1. n. Jack Daniels whiskey. (Initialism. Jack Daniels is a protected trade name for a brand of whiskey.) □ He poured a little JD into a glass, set it aside, and drank all of what was in the bottle. □ Then he poured the glass of JD back into the bottle. 2. n. a juvenile delinquent. (Initialism.) □ Some JD broke my window. □ The JDs are taking over the neighborhood.

J. Edgar (Hoover) ['dʒe 'edgə ('huvə)] n. the police; federal officers. (Underworld.) □ Max got out of town when he heard that the J. Edgars were on his tail. □ Well, J. Edgar Hoover, looks like you got me!

Jeepers(-creepers)! ['dʒi:pəz 'kri:pəz] exclam. Wow! □ Jeepers-creepers! I'm sorry! □ Jeepers, she's wonderful!

Jeez! Go to Jesus!

jeff [dʒef] 1. n. a Caucasian; a white person. (All senses originally black. From Jefferson Davis. Potentially derogatory.) □ The jeffs are coming around more often. What's up? □ Those jeffs like you, man. 2. n. a boring or square person. □ That jeff bugs me. □ Don't be a jeff, man! 3. tv. to persuade or deceive someone. □ The guy tried to jeff me! □ You're just jeffing us! 4. in. to gentrify; to take on the ways of whites. □ Cool it man; stop your jeffing. □ I'm not jeffing.

jel [dʒel] n. a stupid person. (Someone who has gelatin where brains ought to be.) □ The guy's a jel. Forget him. □ Oh, Wallace, don't act like such a jel.

jellies Go to jelly shoes.

jelly babies n. an amphetamine tablet or capsule. (Drugs.) □ You got any jelly babies? □ Are there any jelly babies in this neighborhood?

jelly sandals Go to jelly shoes.

jelly shoes AND jellies; jelly sandals n. colorful shoes made from soft, flexible plastic. (From jelly bean.) □ It's too cold to wear jelly shoes. □ Jellies will crack in this weather.

jerk n. a stupid or worthless person. (Now both males and females.) □ What a loony jerk! □ You are such a classic jerk!

jerk around in. to waste time. □ Stop jerking around and get to work. □ All you do is jerk around. Get a move on!

jerker 1. n. a drunkard; an alcoholic. (Because of visible shaking.) □ Some of the jerkers have the DTs. 2. n. a heavy user of cocaine. (Drugs.) □ The new guy is a jerker. You can see it in his eyes. □ The jerkers who need immediate treatment are sent from ER up to detox. 3. n. a male who masturbates habitually. (Usually objectionable.) □ He's a jerker. He doesn't need women.

jerk off in. to masturbate. (See also beat off. Usually objectionable.) □ That kid spends all his time jerking off.

jerks n. the delirium tremens. □ The old guy has the jerks. □ What can they do for the jerks—other than hospitalize the victims?

jerk someone around AND jerk someone over tv. to hassle someone; to waste someone's time. □ Stop jerking me around and give me my money back. □ They sure like to jerk around people in that music shop.

jerk someone over Go to jerk someone around.

jerkwater mod. backwoods; insignificant. (See also one-horse town.) □ I'm from a little jerkwater town in the Midwest. □ He's sort of the jerkwater type.

jerry-built mod. carelessly and awkwardly built. □ This is an old, jerry-built house, but we love it. □ The lawyer's case was jerry-built, but the jury bought it anyway.

Jesus! AND Jeez! ['dʒizəs AND 'dʒiz] exclam. Wow! (Use caution with Jesus in profane senses.) □ Jesus, what a jerk! □ Jesus! I'm late.

Jesus boots n. sandals. (Use caution with Jesus in profane senses.) □ Jesus boots are okay in the summer. □ Who is the kook in Jesus boots?

jet in. to leave a place rapidly; to go somewhere fast. □ I will jet to Tom's house and show him these pictures. □ Let's jet. It's late.

jet-set(ters) n. young and wealthy people who fly by jet from resort to resort. □ The jet-set doesn't come here anymore. □ Jet-setters have turned to other kinds of excitement.

jibe [dʒaɪb] in. to agree; to be in harmony. (See also track.) □ Your story just doesn't jibe with the facts. □ These things just don't jibe.

jiffy ['dʒɪfi] n. a very short time. (See also in a jiff(y).) □ That was a pretty long jiffy I had to wait! □ Just a jiffy, I'll be there.

jig [dʒɪg] tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ He's telling everybody that he didn't jig her. □ She's claiming they jiggered twice.

jigger 1. n. a drink of whiskey. (The standard term for a small container used for measuring the right amount of liquor for a drink.) □ How about another jigger of that shine? □ Okay, I'll have a jigger. 2. n. a cigarette. □ You got a jigger I can bum? □ Here's a pack of jiggers. Help yourself. 3. n. a gadget. □ Toss me one of those copper jiggers there in the box. □ This kind of jigger?

jiggered 1. mod. damned. □ Get that jiggered cat out of here! □ Well, I'll be jiggered! 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also jigger.) □ Todd was more than just a little jiggered. □ Bill was too jiggered to stand up.

The jig is up. phr. the game is ended; the scheme has been found out. □ Okay, you kids. The jig's up! □ Who says the jig is up?

jillion ['dʒɪljən] n. an enormous, indefinite number. □ I've got a jillion things to tell you. □ This car cost me about a jillion bucks.

jimmy n. the penis. (From the proper name Jimmy or from the name for a short crowbar.) □ He made some joke about his jimmy, but nobody laughed. □ The

streaker covered his jimmy and ran across the field.

jimmy cap n. a condom. (Streets. See also jimmy.) □ You better get a jimmy cap on that.

jingle 1. n. a buzz or tingle from alcohol. □ He had a little jingle, but he wasn't even tipsy. □ This stuff gives me a little jingle, but that's all. 2. n. a drinking bout. □ Jack was out on a jingle all night. □ The guys planned a big jingle for Friday. 3. n. a call on the telephone. (See also buzz.) □ Give me a jingle when you get into town. □ I got a jingle from Gert today.

jingled mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was a little jingled, but not worse than that. □ Let's go out and get good and jingled.

jingler mod. a drunkard; an alcoholic. □ The jinglers have taken over the streets. □ Where do all these jinglers sleep?

jism AND chism; gism; gizzum; jizz; jiz-zum n. semen. (Usually objectionable.) □ Do you think jism is alive? □ This weird doctor took a sample of my gizzum and put it on a microscope slide.

the jitters ['dʒɪdɜːz] n. the nervous shakes. □ I get the jitters when I have to talk in public. □ Too much booze gives me the jitters.

jive [dʒaɪv] 1. n. drugs; marijuana. (Drugs. See also gyve.) □ Stop using all that jive all the time. □ That jive is gonna be the end of you. 2. n. back talk. □ Cut the jive, man! □ Don't you give me any of that jive! 3. n. lies; deception; nonsense. □ No more of your jive. Talk straight or don't talk. □ I've listened to your jive for years. You'll never change. 4. mod. deceptive; insincere. □ Don't give me all those jive excuses. □ I listened to her little jive speech and then fired her.

jive-ass mod. foolish. (Usually objectionable.) □ You can tell that jive-ass jerk to forget it. □ Don't pay any attention to that jive-ass jeff.

jivestick AND gyvestick n. a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ Bart flipped a jivestick to Bruno and smiled. □ He had a gyvestick stuck behind his ear.

jive talk n. slang; contemporary fad words. □ I like to hear jive talk. It's like trying to work a puzzle. □ He stands by the window with a pad of paper and takes down the jive talk he hears.

jive turkey n. a stupid person. □ What jive turkey made this mess? □ Get that jive turkey out of here!

jizz Go to jism.

jizzum Go to jism.

job 1. n. a drunkard. □ What does this old job want besides a drink? □ Give the job a drink and make somebody happy today. 2. n. a theft; a criminal act. (Police and underworld. See also pull a job.) □ Bart and Lefty planned a bank job over in Adamsville. □ Who did that job at the old mansion last week?

jobber AND jobby ['dʒɒbə AND 'dʒɒbi] 1. n. a gadget. □ Where is the little jobber I use to tighten this? □ Do you mean this little jobber? 2. n. a bowel movement. (Juvenile.) □ Don't forget to jobber, Jimmy. □ Mommy, I gotta jobby.

jobby Go to jobber.

jobber as a sudge ['dʒɒbə æz ə 'sʌdʒ] mod. sober. (A deliberate spoonerism on sober as a judge.) □ Me? I'm as jobber as a sudge. □ What I mean to shay is that I am shertainly as jobber as a sudge!

jock 1. n. an athlete. (See also strap; jockstrap. Now of either sex.) □ The jocks are all at practice now. □ She's dating a jock who has to be home by ten. 2. n. an athletic supporter (garment). □ Somebody dropped a jock in the hall. □ Whose jock is that out there on Tracy's clothesline?

jock(e)y n. an addictive drug. (Drugs. Because such a drug rides one like a jockey rides a horse.) □ That jockey rode her for years. □ She fought that jocky, and it finally won.

jockstrap 1. AND jockstrapper n. an athlete. (From the name of the supporting garment worn by male athletes.) □ The jockstrappers are all at practice now. □ Here comes one of the best jockstrappers on the team. 2. in. to work as a professional athlete. □ I jockstrapped for a few years and then lost my interest in it. □ I made a lot of money jockstrapping.

jockstrapper Go to jockstrap.

joe 1. n. coffee. □ How about a cup of joe? □ Yeah, a cup of black joe would be great.

2. n. an ordinary man. □ What does the everyday joe make of all this nonsense? □ Do you know even one everyday joe?

Joe Blow AND Joe Doakes ['dʒo 'blo AND 'dʒo 'doks] n. a typical or average male American citizen. □ What do you think Joe Blow really thinks about all this? □ According to surveys, Joe Doakes can hardly read.

Joe Citizen ['dʒo 'sɪtəzən] n. a general term for a male representative of the public. (See also John Q. Public.) □ Joe Citizen hasn't spoken yet. □ Joe Citizen is watching TV.

Joe College n. a typical or average male college student. □ You sure look like Joe College from the good old days. □ Joe College never had a computer or a laser-powered record player in the good old days.

Joe Doakes Go to Joe Blow.

Joe Schmo ['dʒo 'ʃmo] n. a jerk. □ Joe Schmo doesn't really care. □ Let's say Joe Schmo wants a new car. What does he do?

Joe Six-pack n. the average guy who sits around drinking beer by the six-pack. □ Joe Six-pack likes that kind of television program. □ All Joe Six-pack wants is a good game on TV.

john 1. n. a toilet; a bathroom. □ Somebody's in the john. □ Is there another john around here? 2. n. a man. □ Some john was around asking for you. □ This john came up and asked if I had seen the girl in a picture he had. 3. n. a prostitute's customer. □ She led the john into an alley where Lefty robbed him. □ The john looked a little embarrassed. 4. n. a victim of a crime or deception; a sucker. □ The john went straight to the cops and told the whole thing. □ Clobber the john a good one when he turns around.

John Doe ['dʒən 'do] n. a general term for a man. (The mate of Jane Doe.) □ John Doe was the name at the bottom of the check. □ Oh, you mean John Doe isn't his real name?

John Hancock n. one's signature. (Refers to the signature of John Hancock, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.) □ Put your John Hancock right here, if you don't mind. □ Mr. Wilson's John Hancock is worth about thirty million.

Johnnie-come-lately AND JCL n. someone new to a situation or status. □ This Johnnie-come-lately doesn't know what it was like in the old days. □ I'm just a Johnnie-come-lately, but I'm eager.

Johnny-be-good n. a police officer. □ Here comes Johnny-be-good, so be good. □ Johnny-be-good went through my pockets.

John(ny) Law n. a law officer. □ Johnny Law is supposed to be your friend. □ John Law showed up with a piece of paper that says you are in trouble.

John Q. Public ['dʒən 'kju 'pəblɪk] n. a general term for a male representative of the public. (The mate of Jane Q. Public.) □ John Q. Public doesn't seem to like the new tax forms. □ John Q. Public tends not to like regimentation.

johnson 1. n. a thing. (See also jones.) □ What is this johnson about you snitching? □ He's got this smack johnson riding him. 2. n. a penis. (Again, a thing. Usually objectionable.) □ Zip up, or your johnson'll get out. □ He covered his johnson and ran for the dressing room.

joined at the hip mod. closely connected; as thick as thieves. (As Siamese twins are joined.) □ Those two are joined at the hip. □ They are always together. □ Sam and Martha are joined at the hip.

joint 1. n. a tavern; a speakeasy. (Prohibition.) □ Lefty has his own joint over on Fourth Street. □ I wanted to open a joint, but I don't have the cash. 2. n. a low-class establishment; a dive. □ Let's get out of this crummy joint. □ This joint bores me. 3. n. a tobacco cigarette. □ You got a filter joint on you? □ Why are beggars being choosers about their joints all of a sudden? 4. n. a marijuana cigarette. □ He always has a joint with him. □ The joint wasn't enough to carry him very long. 5. n. a penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He told some joke about a joint, but people just turned away. □ He covered his joint and ran for the dressing room. 6. n. a jail; a prison. (Underworld.) □ Lefty just got out of the joint. □ He learned a lot in the joint that he was anxious to try out.

joke tv. to tease someone; to make fun of someone. □ Everybody was joking my roommate because of her accent. □ Don't joke me, man. I do the best I can.

joker n. a man; a guy. □ Who was that joker I saw you with last night? □ Some joker was at the door selling something.

jollies n. a charge or thrill; a sexual thrill; kick. □ He got his jollies from skin flicks. □ This gyvestick gives Ernie all the jollies he wants.

jollop ['dʒəlɒp] n. a drink of liquor □ She poured a big jollop into each of the glasses and then drank them one by one. □ "Have another jollop," she said to herself.

jolly mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ Everybody was jolly and singing by the time the food arrived. □ Kelly was a little too jolly, and her sister told her to slow down.

jolly-well mod. certainly. □ You jolly-well better be there on time. □ I jolly-well will.

jolt 1. n. the degree of potency of the alcohol in liquor. □ It doesn't have much of a jolt. □ Watch out. This stuff has quite a jolt. 2. n. a drink of strong liquor. □ Can you give me a little jolt of shine? □ He knocked back a jolt and asked for another. 3. n. a portion or dose of a drug. (Drugs.) □ How about a little jolt as a taste? □ A jolt costs. 4. n. the rush from an injection of drugs. (Drugs.) □ This stuff doesn't have much jolt. □ What kind of jolt do you want?

jones 1. n. a thing. (See also johnson.) □ There's a big turf jones down on the corner. □ This get-rich-quick jones will land you in the joint, Lefty. 2. n. a drug habit; drug addiction. (Drugs. See also skag jones.) □ That jones is really riding that guy. □ He's got a real bad jones with that dust. 3. n. a desire for someone or something; a craving. □ He has a real jones for chocolate. 4. tv. to crave something. □ He's jonesing chocolate pretty bad.

joog [dʒuɡ] tv. to stab someone. (Prisons.) □ Lefty jooged the screw. □ Man, who'd you joog?

jork n. a worthless person; a combination jerk and dork. □ What a jork! How stupid can you get?

josh [dʒɔʃ] tv. & in. to tease someone; to kid someone. □ Stop joshing. Be serious. □ You're just joshing me!

joybox n. a piano. (See also tinklebox.) □ Can you play this joybox at all? □ Your joybox needs some tuning.

joy dust Go to joy flakes.

joy flakes AND joy dust n. powdered or crystallized cocaine. (Drugs. See also crack.) □ Is joy flakes the same as crack? □ Joy dust is sort of crack without the press coverage.

joy juice n. liquor; beer. □ Joy juice makes Ted sad. □ Can I pour some more of this joy juice?

joy ride 1. n. a drinking bout or party. □ There's a little joy ride over at Tom's. □ Some joy ride! They ran out of booze. 2. n. a state of euphoria from drug use. (Drugs.) □ This stuff is a real joy ride. □ Ernie's on a little joy ride right now and can't come to the phone. 3. n. a ride where the passenger does not return alive. (Underworld.) □ Mr. Big wanted Sam to take Max on a joy ride. □ You're going on a little joy ride with me. Now, get moving.

joystick 1. n. the vertical lever used to control smaller aircraft. □ She pulled back on the joystick and the plane took off. 2. n. an electronic control device for computer games and other program control. (From sense 1.) □ The ship's first officer used a tiny joystick to control the computer program that guided the ship to the next port. 3. n. the erect penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He couldn't seem to stop playing pocket pool with his joystick.

joy water n. liquor; strong liquor. □ How about some more joy water? □ No more joy water for me, thanks.

jug 1. n. jail. (Usually with the.) □ Take it easy. I don't want to end up in the jug. □ A couple of days in the jug would do you fine. 2. n. a jug of liquor; a jar of moonshine; a can of beer. □ Where's my jug? I need a swig. □ Pass her the jug, Sam. 3. AND jug up in. to drink heavily. (See also jigger.) □ Let's jug up and have a good time. □ We jugged till about noon and then went to sleep. 4. n. a glass vial of liquid amphetamine intended for injection. (Drugs.) □ His mother found a jug and took it to a drugstore to find out what it was. □ Any kid can get jugs just by asking around. 5. n. the jugular vein, used for the injection of narcotics. (Drugs.) □ He's even got scars on his jugs. 6. n. a breast. (Usually plural. Usually objectionable.) □ Look at the jugs on that babe!

jugged (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I'm not jugged up. I'm not even tipsy. □ Fred was too jugged to drive home.

jigger n. an alcoholic; a drunkard. □ A couple of old jiggers sat in the alley, trying to figure out how to get some more. □ He's a jigger, and he will never change.

jughead 1. n. a stupid person. □ You can be such a jughead! □ I guess I'm sort of a jughead lately. 2. n. a drunkard. □ Buy the jughead a drink. That'll shut him up. □ You don't see jugheads at parties as much as you used to.

jug up Go to jug.

jug wine n. cheap wine that is sold in volume, usually in gallon jugs. □ We're having a little do tomorrow—nothing special. A little jug wine and chips. □ Can you stop by the juice shop and nick some jug wine?

juice 1. n. liquor; wine. □ Let's go get some juice and get stewed. □ You got any juice in your room? 2. in. to drink heavily. □ Both of them were really juicing. □ Stop juicing and listen to me. 3. n. electricity. □ The juice has been off since dawn. □ Turn on the juice, and let's see if it runs. 4. n. energy; power; political influence. □ The boss has the juice with the board to make the necessary changes. □ Dave left the president's staff because he just didn't have the juice anymore to be useful. 5. n.

orange juice futures market. (Securities markets. Usually with the.) □ The juice opened a little high today, but fell quickly under profit taking. □ It's time to sell the juice and buy bellies. 6. n. anabolic steroids. □ Fred used too much juice and is growing witch tits.

juice freak n. someone who prefers alcohol to drugs. (Drugs.) □ Freddy is a juice freak. He won't touch dolls. □ Juice freaks end up with addictions, too.

juicehead AND juicer n. a heavy drinker; a drunkard. □ Hank is turning into a regular juicehead. □ The tavern is always filled with juicers on Friday night.

juice house n. a liquor store. □ Would you stop by the juice house for some foam? □ The juice house was held up last night.

juice joint n. a liquor establishment; a speakeasy. (Prohibition.) □ His grandfather ran a juice joint during prohibition. □ The cops raided the juice joints over and over.

juicer Go to juicehead.

juice racket n. a racket where exorbitant interest is charged on loans. (Underworld.) □ The cops got one of the leaders of the juice racket. □ The juice racket is no picnic, I guess.

juice something back tv. to drink alcohol. □ He's been juicing it back since noon. □ Juice back your drink, and let's go.

juicy mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Mary is just a little bit juicy, I'm afraid. □ She's so juicy she can't stand up!

jump 1. tv. to attack someone. (General slang.) □ The gang jumped the old man and robbed him. □ The dope addicts will jump anybody for a few bucks to buy drugs. 2. tv. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ He was so horny, I just knew he was gonna try to jump me.

jump bail tv. to fail to show up in court and forfeit bail. □ Lefty jumped bail, and now he's a fugitive. □ Once you've jumped bail, everybody is after you.

jump smooth in. to give up illegal activities; to become straight. (Underworld.) ☐ Freddy jumped smooth just in time. ☐ After a night in the junk tank, I knew I had to jump smooth.

jump-start 1. n. the act of starting a car by getting power—through jumper cables—from another car. ☐ I got a jump-start from a friend. ☐ Who can give me a jump-start? 2. tv. to start a car by getting power from another car. ☐ I jump-started her car for her. ☐ I can't jump-start your car. My battery is low.

jump-start someone tv. to get someone going or functioning. ☐ I need to jump-start Bill early in the morning to get him going in time to get on the road by a decent hour.

jump (street) n. the beginning; the start (of something). (Prisons and streets.) ☐ I knew from jump that you were going to be trouble. ☐ Way back at jump street, I spotted you as a troublemaker.

jump the gun tv. to start too soon; to start before the starting signal. ☐ Don't jump the gun again. Wait till I tell you. ☐ The secretary jumped the gun and gave out the letters too soon.

jumpy mod. nervous. ☐ I'm a little jumpy today, and I don't know why. ☐ Now, don't be jumpy. Everything will be all right.

jungle n. a vicious area of confusion; the real world. ☐ The place is a jungle out there. You'll grow up fast out there. ☐ Once you're out in that jungle, you'll appreciate home more.

jungled mod. alcohol intoxicated; affected by jungle juice. ☐ Pete is a little jungled. ☐ He was jungled before he came here.

jungle juice n. homemade liquor; any strong liquor. ☐ This jungle juice will knock you for a loop. ☐ Jungle juice will do in a pinch.

jungle mouth n. a case of very bad breath; breath like the rotting jungle floor. ☐ My husband woke up with jungle mouth, and I could hardly stand to be around him. ☐ Wow, Wayne really has a bad case of jungle mouth.

juniper juice n. gin. (From the juniper berry flavoring of gin.) ☐ He just lived for his daily ounce of juniper juice. ☐ Tracy used to like juniper juice before she went on the dust.

junk 1. n. heroin; drugs. ☐ Is Sam still on junk? It will kill him. 2. n. a Caucasian. (Rude and derogatory.) ☐ Those cops are junk and they hate my guts.

junk bond n. a low-rated corporate bond that pays higher interest because of greater risk. (Parallel to junk food.) ☐ Don't put all your money into junk bonds. ☐ Junk bonds pay a lot of interest.

junk fax n. an unwanted and irritating fax message. ☐ We got nothing but a whole pile of junk faxes today. ☐ I wish they would outlaw junk faxes.

junk food n. food that is typically high in fats and salt and low in nutritional value; food from a fast-food restaurant. ☐ Stay away from junk food. It's bad for you. ☐ Junk food tastes good no matter how greasy it is.

junk heap n. a dilapidated old car; a dilapidated house or other structure. ☐ They lived in that junk heap for thirty years and never painted it. ☐ Why don't you fix up that junk heap?

junkie AND junky ['dʒʌŋki] 1. n. a drug dealer. (Drugs.) ☐ Bart is a junkie. ☐ Junkies should be put into the jug. 2. n. a drug user; an addict. (Drugs.) ☐ The junkies can be helped, you know. ☐ Junkies have to steal to support their habits.

Junk it! exclam. Throw it away! ☐ This is taking up too much space. Junk it!

junk mail n. unwanted or annoying advertising mail. ☐ All we got was junk mail today. ☐ I read everything that comes in the mail, even the junk mail.

junk squad n. police who enforce the narcotics laws. (Underworld.) ☐ The junk squad has more than it can handle trying to keep up with the hard stuff. ☐ We need a bigger junk squad in this part of town.

junk tank n. a jail cell where addicts are kept. (See also drunk tank.) ☐ That junk tank is a very dangerous place. □ Nobody sleeps in the junk tank.

just off the boat mod. freshly immigrated and perhaps gullible and naive. (See also FOB.) □ I'm not just off the boat. I know what's going on. □ He may act like he's just off the boat, but he's all right.

just the ticket n. just the perfect thing. □ This little jigger is just the ticket. □ A nice cup of tea will be just the ticket.

just what the doctor ordered n. exactly what is needed. □ This nice cool beer is just what the doctor ordered. □ A nice chat with friends is just what the doctor ordered.

juvie ['dʒuvi] 1. n. a police officer concerned with juveniles. (Underworld.) □ I'm a juvie in the Shakespeare district. □ The juvies have to know juvenile law cold. 2. n. a youth; a teenager under age eighteen. (Underworld.) □ I work with juvies a lot. I try to get them back on the track. □ They brought in a juvie and charged him with shoplifting. 3. mod. juvenile. □ That was sort of a juvie thing to do. □ Don't be so juvie. □ She still has a lot of juvie attitudes.

K

K. [ke] 1. AND kee; key; ki [ki] n. a kilogram of cannabis. (Drugs.) □ You want a whole K.? □ Well, how much is a ki? 2. n. ketamine hydrochloride, a drug similar to LSD. (Drugs.) □ You want to try this K. stuff? □ What is this K. anyway? 3. n. a thousand (of anything, such as dollars, bytes, etc.). □ This car is worth at least twenty K. □ I have 64 K. memory in my computer.

kack Go to cack.

kafooster [kə'fustə] n. nonsense. □ We've heard enough of your kafooster. □ This kafooster about me being a cheater is too much.

kak Go to cack.

kaka Go to caca.

kangaroo court 1. n. a bogus or extra-legal court. □ Is this a newspaper office or a kangaroo court? □ You have turned this interview into a kangaroo court. 2. n. a legally convened court operating unjustly. □ "Let me out of this kangaroo court," muttered Fred. □ The judge held Fred in contempt for calling the proceedings a kangaroo court.

kayo Go to KO.

kee Go to K.

keep cool in. to keep calm. □ Now, keep cool. It's going to be all right. □ Just keep cool, man. Chill.

keeper n. something that can be kept; something that qualifies. □ This fish is a keeper. Throw the others out. □ The chipped one is not a keeper.

Keep in touch. sent. Good-bye. (Sometimes a sarcastic way of saying good-bye to someone one doesn't care about.) □

Nice talking to you. Keep in touch. □ Sorry, we can't use you anymore. Keep in touch.

Keep it real! exclam. Be serious! □ Come on, you jokers. Keep it real! □ Come on! Stop that jive! Keep it real!

keep one's cool tv. to remain calm and in control. (See also keep cool. Compare this with lose one's cool.) □ Relax, man! Just keep your cool. □ It's hard to keep your cool when you've been cheated.

keep one's head right tv. to maintain control of oneself. □ Chill, man, chill. You've got to keep your head right. □ I can keep my head right. I'm mellow.

keep one's nose clean tv. to keep out of trouble, especially trouble with the law. □ Okay, chum. Keep your nose clean. □ I can keep my nose clean. Don't worry.

Keep on trucking. sent. Keep doing what you are doing.; Keep taking care of business. □ See ya, man. Keep on trucking. □ Keep on trucking. Things'll get better.

Keep out of this! exclam. Mind your own business! □ This is not your affair. Keep out of this! □ Keep out of this! I'll settle it.

Keep the faith (baby)! exclam. a statement of general encouragement or solidarity. □ You said it! Keep the faith, baby! □ Keep the faith! See ya later.

Keep your hands to yourself. 1. sent. Do not touch things that are not yours.; Do not touch breakable things. (Said to a child.) □ You can look, but don't touch. Keep your hands to yourself. □ Put that down and keep your hands to yourself. 2. sent. Don't poke or hit other children. (Said to a child.) □ Jimmy! Leave him alone and keep your hands to yourself. □

Keep your hands to yourself when you go to school. 3. sent. No intimate caressing is allowed. (Said to an adult, usually a male.) □ Keep your hands to yourself, Buster. □ Just keep your hands to yourself or take me home.

Keep your nose out of my business! Go to Get your nose out of my business!

Keep your pants on! Go to Keep your shirt on!

Keep your shirt on! AND Keep your pants on! exclam. Just wait a minute! □ I'll be right with you. Keep your shirt on! □ Keep your pants on! You're next.

keester AND keyster; kiester ['kistə] 1. n. a chest; a suitcase. □ The old lady was hauling the most enormous keester. □ The keester was full of cash. 2. n. the buttocks; the anus. □ Get your keester over here! □ He fell flat on his keyster.

keg n. a beer belly. □ If you didn't drink so much beer, you wouldn't have such a keg.

kegger 1. n. a party where beer is served from a keg. (Teens and collegiate.) □ Tiffany is having a kegger, and a few of her intimates are invited. □ Isn't there a kegger somewhere tonight? 2. AND keggers n. a keg of beer. (Collegiate.) □ We need another kegger. It's only nine o'clock. □ We came here because somebody said there was keggers.

keggers Go to kegger.

keg party n. a party where liquor, especially beer, is served. □ There is a free keg party at Freddy's. □ The keg party ended early owing to the arrival of uninvited nabs.

Kentucky fried mod. alcohol intoxicated. (An elaboration of fried. Based on the trade name Kentucky Fried Chicken.) □ Man, is that guy really Kentucky fried! □ I've never seen anybody so downright Kentucky fried on six beers.

kevork tv. to kill someone. (Based on the name of Dr. Jack Kevorkian, the physician who practices assisted suicide.) □ This guy looked mean—like he was gonna kevork me.

kewl mod. <an alternate spelling of cool.>; excellent, neat, and good. □ Man this is really kewl, I mean truly phat!

key Go to K.

keyed (up) 1. mod. nervous; anxious. □ Sally was a little keyed up before the meet. □ When I get keyed, I meditate. 2. AND keyed up to the roof mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ He was a mite keyed, but still technically sober. □ She was so keyed up she could hardly stand up.

keyed up to the roof Go to keyed (up).

key figure n. an important person in an event; a person central to an event. □ Wally is a key figure in the investigation. □ Sam is not exactly a key figure, but he can lead us to Mr. Big.

key grip n. the head laborer on a movie set. (Filmmaking.) □ The key grip has a complaint that could hold up production. □ What is the key grip's beef?

keyster Go to keester.

ki Go to K.

kibosh ['kaɪbʌʃ or kə'baʃ] 1. tv. to end something; to squelch something. □ Please don't try to kibosh the scheme this time. □ Fred kiboshed our plan. 2. n. the end; the final blow; the thing that terminates something. (Usually with the. See also put the kibosh on something.) □ The kibosh was a real corker. □ They thought the kibosh was overdone.

kick 1. n. a charge or good feeling (from something); pleasure or enjoyment from something. (See also get a kick out of someone or something.) □ That song really gives me a kick. I love it! □ What a kick that gives me! 2. n. the jolt from a drug or a drink of strong liquor. □ This stuff really has a kick. □ The kick nearly knocked Harry over. 3. tv. to break a drug addiction voluntarily. (Drugs.) □ I knew I had the guts in me somewhere to kick juice. □ It's hard to kick that stuff. 4. n. a complaint. □ What's the kick, man? □ You got another kick, troublemaker? 5. in. to complain. □ Why are you always kicking? □ Ernie kicks about everything. 6. Go to kicks.

kick around Go to knock around.

kick-ass AND bust-ass 1. mod. powerful and vigorous. □ The guy's a real kick-ass bastard! 2. mod. really fine; excellent; cool. □ That was a real kick-ass party you had the other night!

kick-ass on someone in. to give someone a hard time; to try to dominate or overwhelm someone. □ Don't kick-ass on me! I'm not the one you're after.

kick back 1. in. to relax (and enjoy something). □ Now you just kick back and enjoy this. □ I like to kick back and listen to a few tunes. 2. n. money received in return for a favor. (Usually kickback.) □ The kickback the cop got wasn't enough, as it turned out. □ You really don't believe that the cops take kickbacks! 3. in. [for an addict] to return to addiction after having been detoxified and withdrawn. (Drugs.) □ Gert stopped and kicked back a number of times. □ They may kick back a dozen times before it takes.

kick cold (turkey) in. to stop taking drugs without tapering off. (Drugs.) □ Tracy tried to kick cold turkey, but it was just too much. □ Kicking cold may be the only way to do it.

kick down with something in. to give forth with something; to dole out a portion of something. □ Hey, man. Kick down with my share of the brewsters! □ Kick down with the pizza!

kicken Go to kickin'.

kicker n. a clever but stinging remark; a sharp criticism; a zinger. □ I waited for the kicker, and finally it came. □ The kicker really made me mad.

kick freak n. a nonaddicted drug user. (Drugs.) □ Ernie used to be a kick freak, but all that has changed. □ Yeah, the kick freak became a junky.

kickin' AND kicken mod. wild; super; excellent. □ Your rally was really kickin'. □ I don't know where you get your clothes, but that jacket's kickin'.

kick in the ass Go to kick in the (seat of the) pants.

kick in the butt Go to kick in the (seat of the) pants.

kick in the guts n. a severe blow to one's body or spirit. □ The news was a kick in the guts, and I haven't recovered yet. □ I didn't need a kick in the guts like that.

kick in the rear Go to kick in the (seat of the) pants.

kick in the (seat of the) pants AND kick in the ass; kick in the butt; kick in the teeth; kick in the rear n. a strong message of encouragement or a demand. (Use ass and butt with discretion.) □ All he needs is a kick in the seat of the pants to get him going. □ A kick in the butt will get her moving.

kick in the teeth Go to kick in the (seat of the) pants.

kick in the wrist n. a drink of liquor. □ You want another kick in the wrist? □ I'll take another kick in the wrist.

kick it tv. to relax. □ I need a few minutes to kick it, then I'll get back in the game.

kick (off) in. to die. □ We've been waiting for years for that cat to kick off. □ The old girl finally kicked.

kick party n. a party where some drug is used. (Drugs.) □ The kick party broke up early with the help of Johnny-be-good. □ There was a kick party at one of the crack houses, and even little children went in.

kicks n. cleats or shoes; gym shoes. (Collegiate. See also kick.) □ Don't you dare wear those kicks in here! □ Take your kicks off before coming in.

kick some ass (around) tv. to take over and start giving orders; to raise hell. (Usually objectionable.) □ Do I have to come over there and kick some ass around? □ Bruno is just the one to kick some ass over there.

kick the bucket tv. to die. □ I'm too young to kick the bucket. □ The cat kicked the bucket last night.

kick the habit tv. to voluntarily end any habit or custom, especially a drug habit. (See also knock the habit.) □ She tried and tried to kick the habit. ☐ It's hard to kick the habit.

kick the shit out of someone Go to beat the shit out of someone.

kick up a storm tv. to create a disturbance; to put on an angry display. ☐ My dad will just kick up a storm when he finds out. ☐ The demand made us all kick up a storm.

kicky mod. exciting and energetic. ☐ Man, what a kicky idea! ☐ She is a real kicky gal.

kidney-buster 1. n. a rough ride; a rough road. ☐ This road is a kidney-buster. I wish they'd fix it. ☐ That kidney-buster damaged my car. 2. n. an uncomfortable or poorly built seat in a vehicle. ☐ I have to get this kidney-buster replaced. ☐ This kidney-buster is going to ruin my back.

kid stuff n. marijuana, a drug for beginners. (Drugs.) ☐ That grass is kid stuff. ☐ He's still using kid stuff.

kid-vid ['kɪdvɪd] n. children's television; television programming aimed at children. ☐ Kid-vid isn't good for anything other than selling cereal. ☐ I don't know. Kid-vid is fun.

kiester Go to keester.

kill 1. tv. to be very successful with an audience; to perform very well for an audience. ☐ She really killed them with that last joke. ☐ She killed them, and they died with laughter. 2. tv. to eat all of something; to drink all (of a bottle) of something. ☐ Kill this bottle so we can get another. ☐ We finally killed the last of the turkey. 3. tv. to douse a light. ☐ Kill that light! ☐ Would you kill the light so they can't see we're home? 4. tv. to stop or terminate something; to quash a story; to stop a story from being printed in a newspaper. ☐ Kill that story. It's got too many errors. ☐ This issue has gone to press. Too late to kill it.

killed (off) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) ☐ The team went out drinking and came home killed off. ☐ Man, were those guys killed.

killer 1. n. a marijuana cigarette. ☐ How about a killer, Bart? ☐ He's always smoking a killer. 2. n. a very funny joke. ☐

That last one was a killer! ☐ She told a killer about a red-nosed juicer. 3. n. something extraordinary. ☐ That jacket is a real killer! ☐ That car is a killer. I like it! 4. mod. extraordinary; great. ☐ What a killer jacket you're wearing! ☐ This is a killer hamburger all right.

killer-diller n. an excellent thing or person. ☐ She is just a real killer-diller. ☐ This story is a real killer-diller.

killer weed 1. n. very potent marijuana. (Drugs.) ☐ Wow, this stuff is killer weed! ☐ This killer weed is oregano, I think. 2. n. phencyclidine (PCP), an animal tranquilizer. (Drugs.) ☐ Killer weed seems to be a favorite around here just now. ☐ Killer weed, KJ—it's all exactly the same stuff.

killing n. a great financial success. ☐ Sally made a real killing in the stock market. ☐ Fred made a killing in real estate.

killjoy n. a person who takes the fun out of things for other people; a party-pooper. ☐ Don't be such a killjoy! ☐ Larry is such a killjoy when he gets nervous.

kilobucks n. a tremendous sum of money. (See also megabucks.) ☐ These boondoggles waste kilobucks! ☐ How many kilobucks does a set of wheels like that cost?

King Grod [...grad] n. a very repellent male. (California.) ☐ You are just King Grod! So gross! ☐ Ralph is almost King Grod!

King Kong pills AND King Kong specials n. barbiturates. (Drugs. See also gorilla biscuits.) ☐ Watch out for those King Kong pills. ☐ Don't mix these King Kong specials with booze.

King Kong specials Go to King Kong pills.

kingpin n. a major figure in organized crime. (Underworld.) ☐ Mr. Big is not your typical kingpin. He likes to play the stock market, too. ☐ The drug kingpins are well protected.

kink 1. n. a strange person; a kinky person. ☐ The guy's a kink. Watch out for him. ☐ There are kinks all over this place. 2. n. a sexually deviant person. ☐ He was a kink, and I broke up with him. □ The kinks congregate two streets over.

kinky AND bent; twisted 1. mod. having to do with someone or something strange or weird. □ The guy is so kinky that everyone avoids him. □ Who is that twisted dame in the net stockings? 2. mod. having to do with unconventional sexual acts or people who perform them. □ She seems to have a morbid interest in kinky stuff. □ He showed her a picture of some kind of bent sexual thing.

kip in. to sleep. □ He's upstairs kipping. Can he call you back? □ He'll kip for about another hour.

kipe tv. to steal something. □ Where did you kipe this thing? □ The punk kiped a newspaper just for the heck of it.

kiper ['kaipe] n. a thief; someone who steals. □ The punk is a two-bit kiper and needs to be taught a lesson. □ You dirty little kiper. Give it back!

kiss-ass 1. n. someone who is servile and obsequious. (Rude and derogatory.) □ I'm fed up with that kiss-ass! □ Don't be such a sniveling kiss-ass! 2. mod. servile and obsequious. (Usually objectionable.) □ He can be so kiss-ass. It makes me sick. □ That's a silly kiss-ass way to go about something. 3. in. to act subservient (to someone). (Usually objectionable.) □ Stop kiss-assing around and stand up to your employer. □ That guy will kiss-ass his way to the top.

kisser n. the face; the mouth. (See also right in the kisser.) □ I poked him right in the kisser. □ There he stood with a bloody kisser.

Kiss my ass! tv. Drop dead!; Go to hell! (Usually objectionable.) □ Kiss my ass, you creep! □ You can just kiss my ass!

kiss of death n. the direct cause of the end of someone or something. □ The ordinance was the kiss of death for our budding jazz band. □ Your attitude was the kiss of death for your employment here.

kiss off n. the dismissal of someone or something. (Usually kiss-off.) □ The kiss-off was when I lost the Wilson contract. □ Pete got the kiss off and is now looking for a new job. 2. n. death. (Usually kiss-off.) □ When the time comes for the kiss-off, I hope I'm asleep. □ The kiss-off came wrapped in lead, and it was instant. 3. in. to die. □ The cat is going to have to kiss off one of these days soon. □ The cat kissed off after eighteen years of joy and devotion.

kiss someone or something off tv. □ John had instructions to kiss Bart off. □ Max wanted to kiss off John, too.

kiss someone's ass tv. to fawn over someone; to flatter and curry favor with someone. (Usually objectionable. Use ass with discretion.) □ What does he expect me to do? Kiss his ass? □ I won't kiss your ass for anything.

kiss someone's hind tit Go to suck someone's hind tit.

kiss something good-bye tv. to face and accept the loss of something. □ Well, you can kiss that 100 bucks good-bye. □ I kissed my chance for success good-bye.

kiss something off tv. to forget about something; to ignore something. □ Just kiss it off. You've lost your chance. □ Just kiss off any idea you might have had about running for office.

kiss the dust tv. to fall to the earth, because of death or because of being struck. (Western movies. See also bite the dust.) □ I'll see that you kiss the dust before sunset, cowboy! □ You'll kiss the dust before I will, Sheriff.

kiss the porcelain god tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ He fled the room to kiss the porcelain god, I guess. □ Who's in there kissing the porcelain god?

kiss up to someone in. to flatter someone; to make over someone. □ I'm not going to kiss up to anybody to get what's rightfully mine. □ If I have to kiss up to her, I guess I will.

kissyface ['kɪsɪfɛs] 1. n. kissing. □ There was a lot of kissyface going on in the back-seat. □ They're mostly involved with kissyface at this age. 2. mod. feeling the need to kiss and be kissed. □ I feel all kissyface.

□ They were both sort of kissyface, so they left.

kit and caboodle ['kɪt ɲkə'budl] n. everything; all parts and property. (Often with whole.) □ I want you out of here—kit and caboodle—by noon. □ She moved in to stay, kit and caboodle. □ She plunked her whole kit and caboodle right in my way.

kite 1. n. a drug user who is always high. (Drugs.) □ The guy's a kite. He won't make any sense no matter what you ask him. □ Gert is a kite, and she's getting worse. 2. tv. to write worthless checks; to raise the amount on a check. (Underworld. See also fly kites.) □ Chuck made a fortune kiting checks. □ He kited a check for $50,000. 3. n. a worthless check. (Underworld.) □ He finally wrote one kite too many, and they nabbed him. □ She passed kites from one end of town to the other, then dyed her hair, took off her glasses, and did it all over again.

kited mod. alcohol intoxicated. (From high as a kite.) □ Tracy was too kited to see her hand in front of her. □ Both guys were kited by midnight.

kitsch [kɪtʃ] n. any form of entertainment—movies, books, plays—with enormous popular appeal. □ This kitsch sells like mad in the big city. □ Most people prefer kitsch to art.

kitschy ['kɪtʃi] mod. trivial in spite of enormous popular appeal. □ A lot of people like kitschy art. □ This stuff is too kitschy for me.

klepto ['kleptə] n. a kleptomaniac; one who steals small things obsessively. □ The cops thought Gert was a klepto until she showed them her receipts. □ The jury awarded Gert five grand for being falsely arrested as a klepto.

klotz Go to klutz.

kluck Go to cluck.

kludge AND kluge [klɒdʒ OR kludʒ] 1. n. a patch or a fix in a computer program or circuit. □ This is a messy kludge, but it will do the job. □ Kluges that are invisible don't bother anybody. 2. tv. to patch or fix a computer program circuit. □ I only have time to kludge this problem. □ The kid kluded a program for us in an hour.

kludgy ['klɒdʒi OR 'kludʒi] mod. having to do with an inefficient or sloppily written computer program. □ This program is too kludgy to be acceptable. □ Who wrote this kludgy mess? □ I don't care if it's kludgy. Does it work?

kluge Go to kludge.

klutz AND klotz [klɒts AND klɒts] n. a stupid and clumsy person. □ Don't be a klutz! □ Some klotz put mustard in the stew.

klutzy ['klɒtsi] mod. foolish; stupid. □ That was really a klutzy thing to do. □ You are so klutzy! □ Whose klutzy idea was this?

knee-deep in something mod. having lots of something. (See also up to one's knees.) □ We are knee-deep in orders and loving it. □ Right now, we are knee-deep in trouble.

knee-deep navy n. the U.S. Coast Guard. (Jocular and derogatory.) □ Join the knee-deep navy and see the beach!

knee-high to a grasshopper mod. of very short stature. (Folksy.) □ I knew you when you were knee-high to a grasshopper. □ I was knee-high to a grasshopper when I first heard that joke.

knee-jerk mod. automatic; quick and without thought. □ That was only a knee-jerk response. Pay no attention. □ My knee-jerk response is that you should not go.

knock tv. to criticize someone or something. □ Don't knock it if you haven't tried it. □ The papers are knocking my favorite candidate again.

knock around 1. in. to waste time. □ Stop knocking around and get to work! □ I need a couple of days a week just for knocking around. 2. AND kick around in. to wander around; to bum around. □ I think I'll knock around a few months before looking for another job. □ We're just knocking around and keeping out of trouble.

knock back a drink tv. to drink a beer; to have a quick drink of liquor. □ He knocked back three beers in a row. □ Let's knock back another one or two and leave.

knock boots tv. to copulate. □ He said he wanted to knock boots with her.

knockdown drag-out fight n. a prolonged and hard fight. □ Trying to get my proposal accepted was a knockdown drag-out fight. □ I don't want to get involved in a knockdown drag-out fight over this business.

knocked in mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ Would you believe that Rocko has never been knocked in? □ When Lefty was knocked in, they found his heater on him.

knocked out 1. mod. exhausted. □ We were all knocked out at the end of the day. □ I'm knocked out after just a little bit of work. 2. mod. overwhelmed. □ We were just knocked out when we heard your news. □ Were we surprised? We were knocked out—elated! 3. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ They were all knocked out by midnight. □ Gary was knocked out when we dropped by, so we tried to sober him up.

knocked up 1. mod. battered; beaten. □ Sally was a little knocked up by the accident. □ This book is a little knocked up, so I'll lower the price. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Bill was knocked up and didn't want to drive. □ Wow, was that guy knocked up! 3. mod. pregnant. □ Tracy got knocked up again. □ Isn't she knocked up most of the time?

knockers 1. n. the breasts. (Usually objectionable.) □ Nice knockers, huh? □ All you think about is knockers. 2. n. the testicles. (Usually objectionable.) □ Pow, right in the knockers. Ye gods, it hurt! □ He turned sideways to protect his knockers.

Knock it off! exclam. Be quiet!; Shut up! □ Hey, you guys! Knock it off! □ I'm trying to sleep! Knock it off!

knock off (work) in. to quit work, for the day or for a break. □ What time do you knock off work? □ I knock off about five-thirty.

knock one back Go to knock one over.

knock one over AND knock one back tv. to take a drink of liquor. □ He knocked one over right away and demanded another. □ He knocked back one and belched grossly.

knockout 1. n. something that is quite stunning. □ Your new car is a knockout. □ Isn't her dress a knockout? 2. n. a good-looking man or woman. □ Your date is a real knockout. □ Who is that knockout I saw you with last weekend? 3. mod. very exciting. □ It was a real knockout evening. □ What a knockout idea!

knock some heads together tv. to scold some people; to get some people to do what they are supposed to be doing. □ Do I have to come in there and knock some heads together, or will you kids settle down? □ I knocked some heads together and got the proposal out on time.

knock someone dead tv. to put on a stunning performance or display for someone. □ She knocked us dead with her stunning performance. □ Go out on that stage and knock them dead, Sally.

knock someone off tv. to kill someone. (Underworld. See also bump someone off.) □ The mob knocked the witnesses off. □ The cops would be happy if someone wanted to knock off Mr. Big.

knock someone out tv. to surprise someone. □ Her stunning beauty knocked us all out. □ The news knocked out the entire crowd.

knock someone's block off tv. to hit someone hard in the head. (See also block.) □ Wilbur almost knocked Tom's block off by accident. □ He threatened to knock my block off if I didn't do as I was told.

knock someone some skin tv. to shake hands with someone. □ Hey, man, knock me some skin! □ Pete knocked Sam some skin, and they left the building together.

knock someone's socks off tv. to surprise or startle someone; to overwhelm someone. □ Wow, that explosion nearly knocked my socks off. □ This news'll knock your socks off.

knock someone up tv. to make a woman pregnant. (See also knocked up. Crude.)

□ They say it was Sam who knocked her up. □ He did not knock up Tracy. I did.

knock something down 1. tv. to drink a portion of liquor. □ Here, knock this down and let's go. □ He knocked down a bottle of beer and called for another. 2. tv. to earn a certain amount of money. □ I'm lucky to knock down twenty thousand. □ She must knock down about twenty thousand.

knock something into a cocked hat tv. to demolish a plan, a story, etc. □ I knocked his plans into a cocked hat. □ You've knocked everything into a cocked hat.

knock something off 1. tv. to manufacture or make something, especially in haste. (See also knock something together.) □ I'll see if I can knock another one off before lunch. □ They knocked off four window frames in an hour. 3. tv. to lower the price of something; to knock off some dollars or cents from the price of something. □ The store manager knocked 30 percent off the price of the coat. □ Can't you knock something off on this damaged item?

knock something out AND knock something off tv. to write something quickly. □ Would you please knock a speech out for the senator? □ I'll knock out a letter explaining the whole thing.

knock something together AND throw something together tv. to assemble something—such as a meal—at the last moment. □ I'll see if I can throw something together. □ I knocked together a vegetable dish at the last minute.

knock the habit tv. to stop using drugs; to break a drug addiction. (Drugs. See also kick the habit.) □ I just can't knock the habit. □ He tried to knock the habit by drinking lots of booze.

knock the shit out of someone Go to beat the shit out of someone.

knothead n. a stupid person. □ Don't be such a knothead! □ You're no knothead. You're just great!

know all the angles tv. to know all the tricks and artifices of dealing with someone or something. □ Ask my mouthpiece about taxes. He knows all the angles. □ Rocko knows all the angles. That's how he keeps out of the slammer.

know from something in. to know about something. (See also not know from nothing.) □ Do you know from timers, I mean how timers work? □ I don't know from babies! Don't ask me about feeding them!

know-how n. the knowledge of how to do something. □ I don't have the know-how to do this job. □ You'll get the know-how on the job.

know-it-all n. someone who gives the impression of knowing everything. □ Pete is such a know-it-all! □ That know-it-all isn't of much use to our committee.

knowledge-box n. the head. □ Now, I want to get this into your knowledge-box once and for all. □ My knowledge-box is just spinning with all this information.

know one's ass from a hole in the ground tv. to be knowledgeable; to be alert and effective. (Usually objectionable.) □ That stupid son of a bitch doesn't know his ass from a hole in the ground. □ She is so dumb, she doesn't know her ass from a hole in the ground.

know shit from Shinola AND tell shit from Shinola [...ʃar'nolə] tv. to know what's what; to be intelligent and aware. (Always in the negative. Shinola is a brand of shoe polish. A person who doesn't know shit from Shinola is very stupid. See also No Shinola!) □ Poor Tom doesn't know shit from Shinola. □ Fred can't tell shit from Shinola, and he's been made my boss.

know the score tv. to know the way things work in the hard, cruel world. □ Don't try to con me. I know the score. □ She knows the score. She wasn't born yesterday.

know what's what tv. to be aware of what is going on in the world. □ Heidi knows what's what. She can help. □ We don't know what's what around here yet.

know where it's at tv. to know the way things really are. □ I know where it's at. I don't need to be told. □ We know where it's at, and we want to change it.

know where one is coming from tv. to understand someone's motivation; to understand and relate to someone's position. □ I know where you're coming from. I've been there. □ We all know where he's coming from. That's why we are so worried.

know which end is up tv. to be alert and knowledgeable. □ Don't try to hustle me, sister. I know which end is up. □ Poor Jed doesn't even know which end is up.

knuckle bones n. dice. (Streets. An elaboration of bones.) □ Roll them knuckle bones and tell me that your expense needs earth pads. □ You're not supposed to play with them knuckle bones at school!

knuckle down (to something) in. to get busy doing something. □ Please knuckle down to your studies. □ You have to knuckle down if you want to get ahead.

knuckle-dragger n. a strong and stupid man. (Like an ape.) □ Call off your knuckle-draggers. I'll pay you whatever you want.

knucklehead n. a stupid person. □ Oh, I feel like such a knucklehead! □ Don't worry, you're not a knucklehead.

knuckle sandwich n. a blow struck in the teeth or mouth. □ How would you like a knuckle sandwich? □ He threatened to give me a knuckle sandwich.

knuckle under (to someone or something) in. to give in to or accept someone or something. □ She always refused to knuckle under to anyone. □ You have to knuckle under to the system sometimes.

KO AND kayo ['ke'o] 1. n. a knockout. (The abbreviation is an initialism. Boxing.) □ It was a quick KO, and Wilbur was the new champ. □ It was a classic kayo. It was quick and effective. 2. tv. to knock someone out. (See also KOed. Boxing.) □ Wilbur planned to KO Wallace in the third round. □ Wilbur usually kayos his opponent.

KOed ['ke'od] 1. mod. knocked out. (Initialism. Originally from boxing.) □ Wilbur was KOed and got a cut over his eye. □ He stayed KOed for about two minutes. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (Initialism.) □ Both guys were KOed and spent the night. □ How could anybody get so KOed on a six-pack?

Kojak ['kodzæk] n. a police officer. (From the television character of the same name.) □ Ask Kojak in for a cup of coffee. □ Here comes Kojak. Beat it!

kong [kŋ] n. strong whiskey; illicit whiskey. (From the movie ape King Kong.) □ How about a big swallow of that kong? □ Here, have some kong.

konk Go to konk.

konk-buster Go to konk-buster.

kook [kuk] n. a strange person. □ She seems like a kook, but she is just grand, really. □ Todd's a kook, but I love him.

kookish ['kukɪʃ] mod. strange; eccentric. □ There's a lot of kookish things going on around here. □ He is just too kookish. □ Who is the kookish one over there with the purple shades?

koshe Go to kosher.

kosher ['koʃə OR 'koʒə] 1. AND koshe mod. acceptable; cricket. (From Hebrew kasher, 'proper,' via Yiddish. Koshe is a slang clipping.) □ Is it kosher to do this? □ Of course, it's kosher. Everybody does it. 2. tv. to make something acceptable. □ Do you want me to kosher it with the boss for you? □ Look, if you can kosher this stuff with my parents, I agree. 3. mod. having to do with undiluted alcohol. □ I'll take mine kosher with a little ice. □ Do you want this kosher or with soda?

kvetch AND quetch [kvɛtʃ AND kʌɛtʃ] 1. in. to complain. (From German quetschen, 'to squeeze,' via Yiddish.) □ Quit your kvetching! □ He quetches from dawn to dusk. 2. n. a complainer. □ What a kvetch you are! □ We don't need another kvetch around here.

L

L7 ['el 'sevn] 1. n. a square; a dull person. □ That guy is an L7. □ Who is that L7 in the wingtip shoes? 2. mod. dull; square. □ This guy was real, like, you know, L7. □ Who is the most L7 person you know?

L8R mod. later. (L + eight + R. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ Bye, CU L8R. □ L8R, gator.

label mate n. someone who records on the same label (as the speaker). (Record industry.) □ Frank Duke is my label mate, and we like to get together and gossip about the record industry. □ I feel like a real success because my label mates are so good.

labonza [lə'banzə] 1. n. the buttocks. □ Good grief, what a gross labonza! □ She fell flat on her labonza. 2. n. the pit of the stomach. □ That kind of beautiful singing really gets you right in the labonza. □ She experienced the kind of gut-wrenching anger that starts in your labonza and cuts through right to the tip of your noggin. 3. n. the belly. □ I feel the effects of last night's celebration in my wallet and in my labonza. □ Look at the labonza on that creep! He's gonna deliver triplets.

lace 1. tv. to add alcohol to coffee or tea; to add alcohol to any food or drink. □ Who laced the punch? □ I think I'll lace my coffee with a little whisky. 2. tv. to add a bit of one drug to another; to add drugs to any food or drink. (Drugs.) □ Somebody laced the ice cubes with acid. □ This gag is laced with opium. 3. n. money. (Underworld.) □ You got any lace in those pockets? □ My lace won't reach that far. I can't afford it.

lacy mod. feminine; effeminate. □ He's sort of lacy, but when he settles down to work, the sparks fly. □ This place is too lacy. □ The hotel lobby is a little lacy, but it's clean.

ladies' room n. the women's restroom. □ Is there a ladies' room somewhere close? □ Sally has gone to the ladies' room.

lady bear n. a female officer of the law. (See also Smokey (the Bear); mama bear.) □ This lady bear asks me if I'm going to a fire. □ These two lady bears walked in and took a booth by the door.

ladyfinger n. a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ Sam knows how to roll a ladyfinger. □ Hell, any old joint is a ladyfinger. Don't be so particular.

lady-killer n. a man who is very successful with women. □ Bruno is anything but a lady killer. □ We saw an old-time lady-killer with a close-cut black mustache and everything.

Lady Snow n. cocaine. (Drugs.) □ I spent the afternoon with Lady Snow. □ Lady Snow is about the only friend I have left.

lah-di-dah ['la'di'da] 1. mod. casual; relaxed and uncaring. □ He is so lah-di-dah with financial matters. □ She's not all that calm about her possessions, but she is very lah-di-dah with men. 2. interj. a jeer; a mocking response. □ So you have a new car! Well, lah-di-dah. □ Lah-di-dah! Excuse me!

laid 1. AND layed mod. drug intoxicated. (See also laid out.) □ Man, did I get myself laid. □ Are you too layed to drive home? 2. mod. copulated with. (Usually objectionable.) □ Well, you look laid, all right. □ If you come home laid, don't say I didn't warn you.

laid back 1. mod. calm and relaxed. □ Sam is not what I would call laid back. □ You are really one laid back guy! 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ He's a little laid back and can't come to the phone. ☐ How can those guys work when they are laid back by noon?

laid out 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ Man, you got yourself laid out! ☐ I'm too laid out to go to work today. 2. mod. well-dressed. ☐ Look at those silks! Man are you laid out! ☐ She is all laid out in her Sunday best. 3. mod. dead; having to do with a corpse arranged for a wake. (Not slang.) ☐ When the remains were laid out, the children were allowed to come in. ☐ When I'm laid out and ready to be planted, make sure this little book is in my hand. 4. mod. knocked down (by a punch). ☐ He was down, laid out, and the cowboy just stood there panting. ☐ There he was, laid out on the sidewalk, and no one made a move to help him.

laid to the bone 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ He got himself laid to the bone. ☐ We were all laid to the bone by midnight. 2. AND silked to the bone mod. naked. ☐ I was all silked to the bone, getting ready for a shower, when the phone rings.

laine Go to lame.

lambasted n. drunk. ☐ He went out and got himself lambasted, then he wrecked his car.

lame AND laine; lane 1. mod. inept; inept; undesirable. ☐ That guy's so lame, it's pitiful. ☐ This mark is about as lame as they come. 2. n. a square person. (Streets. Underworld.) ☐ Let's see if that lame over there has anything we want in his pockets. ☐ He won't drink anything at all. He is such a lame! 3. n. an inept person. ☐ The guy turned out to be a lame, and we had to fire him. ☐ Maybe the lane can work in the front office answering phones or something.

lamebrain AND lame-brain 1. n. a fool. ☐ Please don't call me a lamebrain. I do my best. ☐ What a lame-brain! She put scallops in scalloped potatoes! 2. AND lame-brained mod. foolish. ☐ No more of your lamebrain ideas! ☐ My last scheme looked lamebrained at first, but it worked, didn't it?

lamebrained Go to lamebrain.

lame duck 1. n. someone who is in the last period of a term in an elective office. ☐ You can't expect much from a lame duck. ☐ As a lame duck, there's not a lot I can do. 2. mod. having to do with someone in the last period of a term in an elective office. ☐ You don't expect much from a lame duck president. ☐ Lame duck Congresses tend to do things they wouldn't dare do otherwise.

lamp tv. to look at someone or something. (The "lamps" are the eyes.) ☐ I lamped the paper and then threw it away. ☐ Here, lamp this tire for a minute. It's low isn't it?

lamps n. the eyes. (Crude.) ☐ His lamps are closed. He's asleep or dead. ☐ Look at them blue lamps that dame's got.

land a blow 1. tv. to strike someone. ☐ He kept moving, and I found it almost impossible to land a blow. ☐ The boxer landed a blow to the face of his opponent. 2. tv. to make a point. ☐ I think I really landed a blow with that remark about extortion. ☐ The point about justice landed a blow.

land a job tv. to find a job and be hired. ☐ As soon as I land a job and start to bring in some money, I'm going to get a stereo. ☐ I managed to land a job at a factory.

land office business n. a large amount of business done in a short period of time. ☐ We always do a land office business at this time of year. ☐ We keep going. Never do land office business—just enough to make out.

landowner ['lændənə] n. a corpse; a dead person. (See also buy the farm.) ☐ Now old Mr. Carlson was a landowner for real. ☐ "How would you like to become a landowner?" snarled the mugger.

lane Go to lame.

lap of luxury n. a luxurious situation. ☐ I rather enjoy living in the lap of luxury. ☐ You call this pigpen the lap of luxury?

lapper n. a drunkard. □ The street was empty except for an old lapper staggering home. □ The party was ruined by the antics of a few lappers.

lard n. the police. (Streets. Derogatory. See also bacon; pig; pork.) □ Here comes the lard! □ If the lard catches you violating your parole, you're through.

lard ass 1. n. someone with very fat buttocks. (Rude and derogatory. See also crisco.) □ Here comes that lard ass again. □ Get moving, lard ass! You've got to keep going! 2. n. very large buttocks. □ I'm gonna have to do something about this lard ass of mine.

lardhead 1. n. a stupid person. □ What a lardhead! Where are your brains? □ I'm not a lardhead. I dwell in a different dimension. 2. mod. foolish. □ Now here's something from the lardhead department. □ No more of those lardhead ideas!

last roundup n. death. (Western.) □ To everyone's surprise, he clutched the wound and faced the last roundup with a smile. □ When I know I'm headed for the last roundup, I'll write a will.

last straw n. the final act or insult; the act that finally calls for a response. □ This is the last straw. I'm calling the police. □ Someone's leaving the egg shells in the sink was the last straw.

latch onto something 1. in. to obtain something. □ I have to latch onto a hundred bucks by Friday night. □ I latched onto a good book about repairing plumbing. 2. tv. to begin to understand something. □ When Fred finally latched onto the principles of algebra, he began to get better grades. □ Sue doesn't quite latch onto the proper stance in golf.

Later. AND Late.; Later. interj. Good-bye. □ It's time to cruise. Later. □ Late. Gotta go.

lathered ['læðəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The two brothers sat there and got lathered. □ She is too lathered to drive.

latrine lips [lə'trin 'lips] n. a person who uses dirty language. □ Hey, latrine lips!

Cool it! □ When old latrine lips finishes shocking everyone, I have something to say.

latrine rumor [lə'trin 'rumər] n. any rumor, especially one that is alleged to spread at the latrine [general toilet facilities]. (Military.) □ Somebody started spreading a latrine rumor about the Colonel's wife. □ That's just a latrine rumor. The Colonel isn't married.

latrine wireless [lə'trin 'waɪə-ləs] n. the free exchange of information and gossip at the general toilet facilities. (See also latrine rumor.) □ It came over the latrine wireless this morning. We're all shipping out. □ The latrine wireless was virtually silent while you were in sick bay.

latrino(gram) [lə'trino(ɡræm)] n. a latrine rumor. □ There was a latrino yesterday about the Colonel and his golf game. □ There's another latrinogram that says we're moving out.

lats [læts] n. the latissimus dorsi; the muscles of the back. (Bodybuilding.) □ Your lats are coming along fine. Now let's start working on your delts. □ Nice lats on that guy.

laugh at the carpet in. to vomit; to vomit on a carpet. □ Tom bent over and laughed at the carpet, much to the embarrassment of the entire group. □ Wayne laughed at the carpet, and people moved away—not knowing what he was going to do next.

laughing academy n. a mental hospital; an insane asylum. □ About four years in the laughing academy would get you straightened out. □ I'm not ready for the laughing academy. A little while longer around here and I will be, though.

laughing soup AND laughing water n. liquor; champagne. □ Laughing soup flowed like fury at the reception. □ How about some more laughing water?

laughing water Go to laughing soup.

launch (one's lunch) tv. & in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ When I saw that mess, I almost launched my lunch. □ Watch out! She's going to launch!

launder tv. to conceal the source and nature of stolen or illicitly gotten money by moving it in and out of different financial institutions. (Underworld. See also greenwash.) □ The woman's sole function was to launder the money from drug deals. □ When you finish laundering the last job, we want you to do another.

laundry list n. any long list of things. (See also shopping list.) □ He came to the interview with a laundry list of things. □ Now I have a laundry list of items we have to discuss.

the law n. the police. □ She is in a little trouble with the law. □ Mrs. Wilson finally called the law in on her old man.

lawn n. poor quality marijuana. (Drugs.) □ This isn't good grass; it's lawn. □ Put this lawn in your pipe and smoke it.

lay 1. tv. to copulate [with] someone. (Crude. Usually objectionable.) □ She laid him on the spot. □ He said he was going to lay her. I thought he was just talking tough. 2. n. a sexual act. (Crude. Usually objectionable.) □ I could use a good lay about now. □ All the shipwrecked sailor could think about was a lay. 3. n. a person considered as a potential sex partner. (Crude. Usually objectionable.) □ He actually said that she was a good lay. □ If anybody said I was a good lay, I'd sue—probably.

lay a guilt trip on someone Go to lay a (heavy) trip on someone.

lay a (heavy) trip on someone 1. tv. to criticize someone. □ There's no need to lay a trip on me. I agree with you. □ When he finally does get there, I'm going to lay a heavy trip on him like he'll never forget. 2. tv. to confuse or astonish someone. □ After he laid a heavy trip on me about how the company is almost broke, I cleaned out my desk and left. □ After Mary laid a trip on John about her other self, he sat down and stared at his feet. 3. AND lay a guilt trip on someone tv. to attempt to make someone feel very guilty. □ Why do you have to lay a guilt trip on me? Why don't you go to a shrink? □ Of course, she just had to lay a trip on him about being bossy, self-centered, and aloof.

lay an egg 1. tv. [for someone] to do something bad or poorly. □ I guess I really laid an egg, huh? □ The cast laid an egg in both performances. 2. tv. [for something] to fail. □ The community theater laid an egg last night with the opening performance of Death of a Salesman. □ The film was fun to make, but it laid an egg at the box office. 3. tv. to laugh very hard; to cackle long and loudly. (As if one were a chicken.) □ Half the audience laid an egg when I told this one. □ I didn't know whether to cry or lay an egg.

lay down in. to give up. □ Do you expect me to just lay down? □ You really think I should just lay down and let them walk all over me?

laid Go to laid.

lay it on the line tv. to speak very frankly and directly. □ I'm going to have to lay it on the line with you, I guess. □ Go ahead; lay it on the line. I want to know exactly what you think.

lay off (someone or something) in. to stop bothering or harming someone or something; to stop being concerned about someone or something. □ Lay off the booze for a while, why don't ya? □ Lay off me! I didn't do anything!

lay one on Go to tie one on.

layout 1. n. a place; a place to live. (See also setup.) □ How much does a layout like this set you back a month? □ This is a nice layout you got here. 2. n. a floor plan. □ Let's see if the layout is what we want. □ The layout looks awkward and wasteful of space. 3. n. a scheme. (Underworld.) □ Now here's the layout. Lefty goes in this side, and Ratface comes in the other way. □ The layout's no good. The cops are wise to your style, boss.

lay someone out 1. tv. to scold someone severely. (See also laid out.) □ Don't lay me out! I didn't do it! □ She really laid out the guy but good. What did he do, rob a bank? 2. tv. to knock someone down with a punch. □ I can't wait to get into that ring and lay the guy out. □ The boxer laid out his opponent with a blow to the head. 3. tv. to prepare someone for burial. (See also laid out. Not slang.) □ The undertaker did not lay Aunt Fanny out to my satisfaction. □ The women of the town helped the young widow lay out her husband.

lay someone out in lavender tv. to scold or rebuke someone severely. □ She really laid him out in lavender for that. □ No need to lay me out in lavender. I wasn't there.

lay (some) rubber tv. to spin one's car tires when accelerating, leaving black marks on the street. (See also burn rubber.) □ At that age all they want to do is get in the car and lay some rubber. □ You wanna know how well I can lay some rubber in this thing?

lay some sweet lines on someone AND put some sweet lines on someone tv. to speak kindly to someone; to soft soap someone. □ I just laid some sweet lines on her, and she let me use her car. □ If you put some sweet lines on him, maybe he won't ground you.

lay something on someone 1. tv. to present a plan or an idea to someone. □ Here is this century's greatest idea. Let me lay it on you. □ I'm going to lay a great idea on you. 2. tv. to attempt to make someone feel guilty about something. □ Don't lay that stuff on me. Face your own problem. □ Every week she calls up to lay a guilt trip on me about something or other.

lay something out 1. tv. to spend some amount of money. □ I can't lay that kind of money out every day! □ She laid out about $24,000 for that beemer. 2. tv. to explain a plan of action or a sequence of events. □ Let me lay it out for you. □ Lay out the plan very carefully, and don't skip anything.

lazybones n. a lazy person. □ I'm just a lazybones, but I don't eat much. □ That lazybones is out there sleeping in the shade.

LBO n. leveraged buy-out. (Initialism. Securities markets.) □ The money used for the LBO came from the issuance of junk bonds. □ Mr. Boone specializes in LBOs. He's made a fortune at it.

leadfoot n. a speeder in an automobile. □ There is a leadfoot driving behind me and wanting to pass. □ Tom was a real leadfoot until he got a few speeding tickets.

lead poisoning n. death caused by being shot with a lead bullet. (Underworld.) □ He pifted because of a case of lead poisoning. □ The fourth mobster to die of lead poisoning this month was buried today in a private service.

leaf n. cocaine. (Sometimes with the. Cocaine is extracted from the leaves of the coca plant.) □ Sure I like plants. I am especially fond of the leaf. □ The entire shipment of leaf was seized by the feds.

lean and mean mod. capable and ready for hard, efficient work. □ Ron got himself lean and mean and is ready to play in Saturday's game. □ The management is lean and mean and looks to turn a profit next year.

leapers n. amphetamines. (Drugs.) □ You can tell Sam's on leapers. He's wired as hell. □ He needs some barbs to balance the leapers, or maybe he just ought to go cold turkey and go straight.

leave someone cold tv. to leave someone unaffected. □ He said it was dull, and it left him cold. □ The music's good, but the story left the producer cold.

leeky store ['liki stor] n. a liquor store. (Black. From liquor. See also take a leak.) □ Get me some grapes at the leeky store. □ The leeky store is closed till 10:00 A.M.

leerics ['liriks] n. sexually suggestive song lyrics. □ For those of you out there who go in for leerics, listen carefully to this tune. □ A group of parents has banded together in the eastern suburbs to fight the naughty leerics of some of the current hot rock tunes.

left-handed monkey wrench n. a nonexistent tool. (New workers are sometimes sent to fetch nonexistent tools. See also sky hook.) □ Hand me the left-handed monkey wrench, huh? □ Do you think you can dig up a left-handed monkey wrench?

legal-beagle AND legal-eagle ['ligl'bigl AND 'ligl'igl] n. a lawyer. □ I've got a le- gal-beagle who can get me out of this scrape. □ She keeps a whole bunch of legal-eagles to handle that sort of thing.

legal-eagle Go to legal-beagle.

legit [lə'dʒɪt] mod. honest; legal. (From legitimate.) □ If she's not legit, I won't work with her. □ Is this deal legit?

leg work n. the physical work accompanying a task. □ I don't mind making the phone calls if you do the leg work. □ I have a gopher to do the leg work for me.

lemme ['ləmi] phr. let me. (Eye-dialect. Typical spoken English. Used in writing only for effect. Used in the examples of this dictionary.) □ Do you wanna gimme the thingy and lemme go ahead with my work? □ If you won't give me one of my own, make him lemme use his.

let a fart Go to cut a fart.

Let her rip! AND Let it roll! exclam. Let it go! Let it start! □ Time to start. Let her rip! □ There's the signal! Let it roll!

let it all hang out tv. to be yourself, assuming that you generally are not. □ Come on. Relax! Let it all hang out. □ I let it all hang out, but I still feel rotten.

Let it roll! Go to Let her rip!

let off (some) steam Go to blow off (some) steam.

let one Go to cut a fart.

Let's bump this place! exclam. Let's get out of this place! Let's leave! □ Time to go. Let's bump this place! □ Let's bump this place! It's dead here.

Let's do lunch (sometime). sent. Let us have lunch together sometime. □ Great seeing you, Martin, absolutely great. Let's do lunch. □ Let's do lunch sometime so we can catch up.

Let's dump. interj. Let's go. □ It's late. Let's dump. □ Let's dump. I've still got a lot to do at home tonight.

Let's have it! exclam. Please tell (us) the news! □ What's happened? Let's have it! □ Don't beat around the bush. Let's have it!

let something ride tv. to let something remain as is; to ignore something (for a while). □ Don't bother with it now. Let it ride for a day or two. □ Let it ride. It's not that important.

let's say phr. introduces an estimate or a speculation. □ I need about—let's say—twenty pounds. □ Let's say I go over and talk to him. What do you think?

lettuce n. money. □ Put your lettuce on the table; then we'll talk. □ How much lettuce do you have left?

level best n. one's very best effort. □ I will do my level best to find your husband. □ Don't go to a whole lot of trouble. Your level best is good enough.

level one's locks Go to level the locks.

level the locks AND level one's locks tv. to comb one's hair. (Streets.) □ Just give me a minute to level my locks. □ You go level your locks. You look like a truck hit you.

level with someone in. to speak truly and honestly with someone. □ Okay, I'm gonna level with you. This thing is a steal at this price! □ I want you to level with me. Did you do it?

libber ['libə] n. a woman who advocates woman's liberation movements; a feminist. (Usually derogatory.) □ She sure sounds like a libber. □ This libber on the radio says men are unnecessary.

liberate tv. to steal something. (Originally military.) □ We liberated a few reams of paper and a box of pens. □ The privates liberated a jeep and went into town.

library n. a bathroom; an outhouse. □ John is in the library at the moment. □ He keeps stuff like that to read in the library.

a lick and a promise n. a very casual treatment. □ A lick and a promise isn't enough. Take some time and do it right. □ She gave it a lick and a promise and said she was done.

licker n. a tongue. (Streets.) □ Why is your licker hanging out? You thirsty? □ Yeouchh! I bit my licker.

lickety-split [lɪkɪdi'splɪt] mod. very fast. □ They ran across the field lickety-split. □ We were there lickety-split in my new car.

lick something into shape AND whip something into shape tv. to put something into good condition, possibly with considerable effort. □ I've got about two days more to lick this place into shape so I can sell it. □ I want to whip this house into shape for Saturday night.

licorice stick ['lɪkrɪʃ stɪk] n. a clarinet. (Jazz musicians.) □ Man, can he play the licorice stick. □ Frank makes the old licorice stick talk.

lid 1. n. an eyelid. □ Her lids began to close, and the professor raised his voice to a roar. □ Pop your lids open! It's morning! 2. n. one half to one ounce of marijuana. (Drugs. An amount that will fill a Prince Albert tobacco can lid. Often plural.) □ How much a lid? □ It looks like a matchbox to me. Why do they call it a lid? 3. n. a hat. □ Where did you get that silly lid?

lid poppers Go to lid proppers.

lid proppers AND lid poppers n. amphetamine tablets or capsules. (Drugs. Refers to the eyelids.) □ Kelly has to have a couple of lid proppers each morning. □ Are lid poppers habit-forming?

lie doggo ['laɪ 'dɒɡo] in. to remain unrecognized (for a long time). (See also doggo. Old, but standard English.) □ This problem has lain doggo since 1967. □ If you don't find the typos now, they will lie doggo until the next edition.

lifer ['laɪfə] n. someone who is attached to an institution for life, such as a lifetime soldier or a prisoner serving a life sentence. (Prisons and military.) □ Me a lifer? Not in this army! □ The lifers begin to accept their fate after a few years. □ Most of the lifers are kept in this cell block.

LIFO phr. last in, first out. (Computers. Acronym. Refers to the order of data put in and returned from the processor.) □ I can't remember whether the stack is LIFO or FIFO. □ This one is LIFO.

lift 1. n. the potency of alcohol in liquor. □ This stuff doesn't have much lift! □ Now, this imported stuff has enough lift to raise the dead. 2. n. a brief spiritual or ego-lifting occurrence. □ Your kind words have given me quite a lift. □ I could use a lift today. I am glummer than usual. 3. AND lift-up n. drug euphoria; a rush. (Drugs.) □ This stuff'll give you quite a lift. □ The lift-up from the shot jarred her bones. 4. tv. to steal something. □ She had lifted this ring. We found it on her when we arrested her. □ Some of these really young kids will lift something just because they like it. 5. tv. to take something away. □ It was his third offense, so they lifted his license. □ They lifted the rule about not having two different jobs. 6. n. a tall heel on shoes that makes someone seem taller. (Usually plural.) □ I feel better in my lifts. □ Some people wear lifts just to make them a little more confident. 7. n. a surgical face-lift. □ He had a lift on his vacation, but his face still looked two sizes too big. □ We've got three lifts and a nose job in OR this morning. 8. n. a device—worn under the hair at the temples—that provides some of the effects of a surgical face-lift. □ Do you think she's wearing a lift? □ Lift, hell, she's got a damn pair of cranes under that hairdo. 9. n. a ride; transportation. □ Can you give me a lift? □ Would you like a lift over to your apartment?

lifted mod. drunk; high. □ He was acting a little lifted. He only had 12 beers.

lift one's elbow Go to bend one's elbow.

lift-up Go to lift.

light 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I began to feel a little light along about the fourth beer. □ I feel a little light. You'd better drive. 2. n. an eye. (Crude. Usually plural.) □ You want I should poke your lights out? □ Open your lights and watch for the turn off sign. 3. n. a police car. □ A couple of lights turned the corner just as the robbers were pulling away. □ We could see the lights coming down the expressway behind us, so we pulled over to the right and let them pass.

light bulb n. a pregnant woman. (Jocular. Refers to the shape of a pregnant woman.) □ Who's the light bulb on the sofa? □ I can't possibly fit that light bulb out there. She'll have to wait a few months before buying expensive clothing.

lighten up (on someone or something) in. to reduce the pressure (on someone or something); to calm down (about someone or something). □ Cool it, man. Lighten up! We all gotta get along here. □ Lighten up on the guy. He only stepped on your toe.

light into someone Go to sail into someone.

lightning rod n. someone, something, or an issue that is certain to draw criticism.

□ Why write such a boastful introduction to your book? It will just be a lightning rod for criticism. □ We didn't hire him for the part since his opinionated comments make him such a lightning rod.

lights out 1. n. bedtime. □ It's lights out, kids. Radios off, too! □ I was finished with it by lights out. 2. n. death; time to die. (Underworld.) □ It's lights out for you, chum. □ When it's lights out, I want it to be fast.

light stuff 1. n. low-proof liquor. □ The light stuff is okay for parties, but not for serious drinking. □ Poor Sam is trying to cut down by drinking the light stuff. He drinks twice as much, though. 2. n. marijuana and nonaddictive drugs. □ Sure, it's innocent. Sure, they're just kids. Do you know what kids do when they get through with the light stuff? They do coke, they shoot H., and they do the big one somewhere in an alley! □ The cops just found some light stuff in his pockets. They let him go.

lightweight 1. mod. inconsequential. □ This is a fairly lightweight matter. □ We need an executive here, not just a lightweight flunky. 2. n. an inconsequential person; someone who accomplishes very little. □ Don't worry about her. She's just a lightweight. □ Those lightweights don't know how to run things right.

like 1. interj. an emphatic or meaningless word that, when said frequently, marks the speaker as speaking in a very casual or slangy mode. (See also like, you know. Used in writing only for effect.) □ This is, like, so silly! □ She is like, so, like, way rad! 2. interj. a particle meaning roughly saying. (Always with some form of be. Never used in formal writing.) □ Tiffany was like, "Wow!" □ And I'm like, "Well, you should have put your hat on!"

like a bat out of hell mod. very fast or sudden. (Use caution with hell.) □ The cat took off like a bat out of hell. □ The car pulled away from the curb like a bat out of hell.

like a million (dollars) mod. very good or well. (Usually with feel.) □ This old buggy runs like a million dollars. □ Man, I feel like a million.

like a ton of bricks mod. like something very ponderous and heavy. □ The whole thing hit me like a ton of bricks. □ Hitting the back end of that truck was like hitting a ton of bricks.

like crazy AND like mad mod. furiously; very much, fast, many, or actively. □ They're buying tickets like crazy. □ Look at those people on the bank. They're catching fish like mad!

like death warmed over mod. horrible; deathlike. □ Oh, my God! You look like death warmed over! □ A tall, black-garbed gentleman lay there, looking like death warmed over.

like gangbusters mod. with great excitement and fury. (From the phrase come on like gangbusters. "Gangbusters" was a radio show that came on with lots of sirens and gunshots.) □ She works like gangbusters and gets the job done. □ They are selling tickets like gangbusters.

Like hell! exclam. That is not true!; I do not believe you! (Use caution with hell.) □ You're going to a Dead concert! Like hell! □ Like hell, you are!

Like I care. phr. You are telling me this news like it matters to me. (Nonchalant and sarcastic.) □ So, there's problems in South America. Like I care.

Like it or lump it! exclam. Give up!; Shut up!; Accept it or go away! (See also Lump it!) □ If you don't want to do it my way, like it or lump it! □ Too bad! Like it or lump it!

Like it's such a big deal. phr. You are making an incredible fuss over some minor issue. □ So I broke the table. Like it's such a big deal.

like mad Go to like crazy.

like nobody's business mod. very well; very much. □ She can sing like nobody's business. What a set of pipes! □ My mom can cook chocolate chip cookies like nobody's business.

like stink mod. rapidly. (As fast as a smell spreads.) □ Those kids moved through the whole test like stink. Real eager-beavers. □ As long as she can run like stink, swim like stink, and smell like a flower, she gets my support.

like there was no tomorrow mod. as if there would never be another opportunity. □ She was drinking booze like there was no tomorrow. □ He lived like there was no tomorrow.

like the white on rice AND as the white on rice phr. as close as anything can be. □ Those two are really close—like the white on rice. □ They are inseparable as the white on rice.

like, you know interj. a combining of the expressions like and you know. (Never used in formal writing.) □ She is, well, like, you know, PG. □ This is, well, like, you know, too much!

lily-livered mod. cowardly. □ Don't be so lily-livered. Give it a try. □ That lily-livered guy is up hiding under his bed till this blows over.

limbo Go to lumbo.

limejuicer AND limey n. a British sailor; and British citizen, typically a male. (The first one is old. Both are a little derogatory.) □ Some limey answered the telephone and I could hardly understand what she was saying.

limey Go to limejuicer.

(limp) dishrag n. a totally helpless person; a cowardly and spineless person. □ He's sweet, but he's a dishrag. □ A limp dishrag is no help at all in a crisis.

line 1. n. a story or argument; a story intended to seduce someone. (See also lines.) □ I've heard that line before. □ Don't feed me that line. Do you think I was born yesterday? 2. n. a dose of finely cut cocaine arranged in a line, ready for insufflation or snorting. □ Let's you and me go do some lines, okay? □ See these lines here? Watch what happens to them.

line one's own pocket(s) tv. to make money for oneself in a greedy or dishonest fashion. □ They are interested in lining their pockets first and serving the people second. □ You can't blame them for wanting to line their own pockets.

lines n. words; conversation. (See also line.) □ I like your lines, but I don't have the time. □ We tossed some lines back and forth for a while and then split.

lineup n. a row of suspects arranged at a police station so that a witness can identify one of them. (Underworld.) □ I had to stand in the lineup with this bunch of yahoos. □ When they round up all the likely suspects and put them in the lineup, they always stick in a desk sergeant to spy on the rest.

lingo n. language; special vocabulary. □ When you catch on to the lingo, everything becomes clear. □ If you don't like the lingo, don't listen.

lion's share n. the largest portion. □ I earn a lot, but the lion's share goes for taxes. □ The lion's share of the surplus cheese goes to school cafeterias.

lip 1. tv. & in. to kiss someone intimately. □ The two of them were in the corner, lip-ping intently. □ Hey, honeycakes, I really want to lip you. 2. n. a lawyer. (Underworld. See also mouth.) □ So I brought in my lip, and he got me off the rap. □ How much do you pay your lip? 3. AND fat lip n. back talk; impudent talk. □ Don't give me any more of your lip! □ I've had enough of her lip.

lip gloss n. lies; deception; exaggeration; BS. (From the name of a lipstick-like cosmetic.) □ Everything he says is just lip gloss. He is a liar at heart. □ She doesn't mean it. Her words are just lip gloss.

LIQ n. a liquor store. (Initialism or acronym.) □ Let's stop at the LIQ and get some berries. □ I got a headache already. I don't need anything from any LIQ to make it worse.

liquefied mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Ten beers and I am absolutely liquefied! □ She is too liquefied to walk, let alone drive.

liquidate tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ The boss wants me to liquidate Mr. Bruno. □ They used a machine gun to liquidate a few troublesome characters.

liquid cork n. a medicine that stops diarrhea. □ This nasty tasting stuff is a good liquid cork for what you have. □ This liquid cork isn't so bad if you get it good and cold before you take it.

liquid laugh n. vomit. □ If you drink much more, you're gonna come out with a liquid laugh. □ There's some liquid laugh on your shoe.

listen up in. to listen carefully. (Usually a command.) □ Now, listen up! This is important. □ Listen up, you guys!

lit 1. n. literature, as a school subject. □ I'm flunking English lit again. □ I hate lit. Give me numbers any day. 2. AND lit up mod. drunk. □ She was always lit by bedtime. □ Todd was lit up like a Christmas tree at our office party.

little black book n. a book containing the names and addresses of acquaintances who are potential dates, usually put together by men. □ I've got a nice collection in my little black book. □ Am I in your little black book, or can you already tell that I wouldn't go out with you?

little boy blue n. a (male) police officer. □ I hear that little boy blue is looking for you. □ Little boy blue is coming this way, and he's mad.

little boys' room n. the boys' restroom; the men's restroom. □ Can you tell me where the little boys' room is? □ Ted's in the little boys' room. He'll be right back.

little girls' room n. the girls' restroom; the women's restroom. □ Can you please tell me where the little girls' room is? □ Is there an attendant in the little girls' room?

(little) pinkie AND (little) pinky n. the littlest finger on either hand. □ Ouch! I smashed my pinky. □ My little pinkie nearly froze because there's a hole in my glove.

little shit n. a stupid and insignificant person. (Rude and derogatory. Usually refers to a male.) □ What's a little shit like him doing running a big company like this one?

lit up Go to lit.

live mod. cool; great. □ Everything's live! No problem! □ It's live and ice. No problem, man.

liveware ['laɪvweɪ] n. the human component of computer use. (Patterned on software and hardware.) □ The hardware is okay. It's the liveware that's bad. □ If I don't get some sleep, you're going to see a liveware crash.

(live) wire n. an energetic and vivacious person. □ Tracy is a real live wire. □ With a wire like Tracy in charge, things will get done, that's for sure.

Living large. phr. Doing okay. (The response to How ya living?) □ I'm living large. How you doing? □ Living large. So, how's it with you?

load 1. n. as much liquor as one can hold. (See also loaded.) □ Harry had quite a load of booze. □ Mary is carrying a load. 2. n. a drink of liquor. □ Can I have a load from your bottle? □ Help yourself to a load. 3. n. a dose of drugs; an injection of drugs. (See also loaded. Drugs.) □ She shoots a load every day or two. □ He scored enough for a load only yesterday. 4. n. a drug supply; a stash. (Drugs.) □ My load is up in the closet. □ If his load dwindles, he gets more easily. 5. n. a large purchase of heroin. (Drugs.) □ I've scored a load that'll last me a few days. □ That load must be worth about $50,000. 6. n. an automobile. (See also heap.) □ Whose junky old load is that parked in front of the house? □ I'm saving money so I can replace this load with a new car.

loaded 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated.

□ If you're loaded, don't drive. □ I'm not loaded. I'm just a little tipsy. 2. mod. spiked with liquor; containing much alcohol. □ There's a little rum in the eggnog, but it's certainly not what I would call loaded. □ Wow, this punch is loaded! 3. mod. having all available accessories. (Said of a car.) □ Did you want to see a car that's loaded, or is this to be a budget car? □ Now, this little gem is loaded with everything. 4. mod. wealthy; loaded with money. □ Mr. Wilson is loaded, but he is also generous with his money. □ My Uncle Fred is loaded, but he's going to take it all with him.

loaded for bear 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He is loaded for bear and anything else. □ He's been drinking mule since dawn, and he's loaded for bear. 2. mod. ready for the hardest problems. □ Bring on the hard cases. I'm loaded for bear. □ I'm loaded for bear, and that's good because this is going to be a rough day. 3. mod. very angry. □ By the time he finished talking, I was loaded for bear. □ I had been loaded for bear when I came into the room, and I left as meek as a lamb.

loaded question n. a question to which an honest answer will reveal things the speaker might otherwise wish to conceal. □ Now, that's a loaded question, and I don't think I have to answer it. □ I didn't mean it to be a loaded question.

loaded remark n. a remark containing important implications. □ Your loaded remark did not go over well with the host. □ In spite of your numerous loaded remarks, I do hope you will return sometime when it is convenient.

loaded to the barrel Go to loaded to the gills.

loaded to the gills AND loaded to the barrel mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He's loaded to the gills. Couldn't see a hole in a ladder. □ Man, he's loaded to the barrel and fighting mad.

loady AND loadie ['lodi] n. a drinker or drug user. (Teens and collegiate. One who gets loaded frequently.) □ I hear that Wally is a loady. Is that true? □ These loadies are all very difficult to deal with.

local yokel ['lok] ['jok] n. a local resident of a rural place. (Mildly derogatory.) □ One of the local yokels helped me change the tire. □ The local yokels all listen to the same radio station.

loco ['loko] mod. crazy. (From Spanish.) □ Who is that loco kid jumping up and down in the front seat? □ This zit is gonna drive me loco.

LOL interj. laughing out loud. (Indicates that one is laughing in response to a previous remark. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ I'm LOL about the last remark you made. □ LOL at your last message.

lollapalooza [lələpə'luzə] 1. n. something very big; something wondrous. □ Look at that bump on your head. That's a lollapalooza! □ Her singing voice is a real dandy—a lollapalooza. 2. n. a big lie. □ She just told a lollapalooza. □ What a lollapalooza! You expect me to believe that?

lommix Go to lummoX.

lone wolf n. a man who stays to himself. □ Fred is sort of a lone wolf until he has a few drinks. □ It's the lone wolves you read about in the paper when they pull a drowning person from the river.

long arm of the law n. the police; the law. (See also arm.) □ The long arm of the law is going to tap you on the shoulder some day, Lefty. □ The long arm of the law finally caught up with Gert.

long bread AND long green n. money. □ Man, that must have cost you some long bread! □ Look at the long green you get for doing the job!

long dozen n. thirteen; a baker's dozen. □ Don't you sell a long dozen anymore? □ They used to give you a long dozen in that bakery.

long green Go to long bread.

longhair 1. n. a highbrow with long hair; especially a musician. □ There were a few longhairs at the bar, but none of the reg- ulars. ☐ I am sort of a longhair, but I still watch TV. 2. mod. highbrow; [of music] classical. ☐ I don't care for longhair music. ☐ It's too longhair. ☐ Longhair stuff like symphonies and art galleries bores me to tears. 3. n. a hippy; a long-haired youth of the 1960s. (Usually derogatory.) ☐ Tell that longhair to get out of here. ☐ There are fewer longhairs around here than there were in the sixties.

long knife 1. n. an assassin. (Underworld.) ☐ The boss sent one of his long knives to kill the guy. ☐ Some long knife showed up, but Marty took him out before he made his move. 2. n. a destroyer; a hatchet man. ☐ The secretary was acting as a long knife for the President. ☐ One of his long knives came over to pressure us into cooperating.

long shot n. a wild guess; an attempt at something that has little chance of succeeding. ☐ Well, it was a long shot, but I had to try it. ☐ You shouldn't expect a long shot to pay off.

long story short phr. to make a long story short. ☐ Okay, long story short: everything that goes up comes down, okay? ☐ Then the guy comes over, and—long story short—"You got a match?"

long-tall-Sally n. a tall girl or woman. ☐ Isn't she a gorgeous long-tall-Sally? ☐ She's quite a long-tall-Sally.

Long time no see. phr. I haven't seen you in a long time. ☐ Hey, John! Long time no see! ☐ Long time no see! How ya been?

loo n. toilet. (Originally and primarily British.) ☐ I gotta use the loo. Be with you in a minute.

look after number one in. to take care of oneself first. (See also number one.) ☐ You gotta look after number one, right? ☐ It's a good idea to look after number one. Who else will?

Look alive! exclam. Move faster!; Look and act alert! ☐ There's work to be done! Look alive! ☐ Look alive! It's a long, hard day ahead!

Look (at) what the cat dragged in! exclam. Well, look who has just arrived! ☐

Look what the cat dragged in! I thought you would never get here.

looker Go to (good) looker.

look-see n. a look; a visual examination. ☐ Let's go and have a look-see at this monster of yours. ☐ Take a look-see at this one and see if you like it.

Look who's talking! exclam. You are just as guilty!; You are just as much at fault! ☐ Me a tax cheat? Look who's talking! ☐ Look who's talking! You were there before I was.

loony AND looney; loonie 1. n. a crazy person. (From lunatic.) ☐ I'm beginning to feel like a loonie the longer I stay around here. 2. mod. crazy. ☐ That is a loony idea. Forget it. 3. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ She's acting a little loonie. Let's get her home before she's sick.

loony bin n. an insane asylum; a mental hospital. ☐ I feel like I'm about ready for the loony bin. ☐ Today's loony bins are far different from those of just a few decades ago.

looped AND loopy mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Sam is too looped to drive. ☐ She got loopy very quickly and had to be helped to a chair.

loop-legged mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ He's too loop-legged to drive. ☐ She has this strange tendency to get a little loop-legged when she has four or five drinks.

loopy Go to looped.

loose mod. very drunk. ☐ Mary was a little loose and had to be driven home. ☐ Don is too loose to stand up.

loose cannon n. a loudmouth; a braggart. ☐ As it turned out, he's not just a loose cannon. He makes sense. ☐ Some loose cannon in the State Department has been feeding the press all sorts of crap as a diversion.

loot 1. n. stolen goods; stolen money. ☐ The loot was stashed in the trunk of the getaway car. ☐ Where's the loot? I want my piece. 2. n. money in general. ☐ I left home without any loot. ☐ It takes too much loot to eat at that restaurant.

Lord love a duck! exclam. Wow! □ Lord love a duck! It's Mary! □ Lord love a duck, I'm tired!

lo-res Go to low-res.

lorg [lɔrg] n. a stupid person. □ Why is Frank such a lorg? Can't he get with it? □ Tell that lorg to find his own chair.

lose a bundle tv. to lose a lot of money. (See also bundle. Compare this with make a bundle.) □ Don lost a bundle on that land purchase. □ I know I would lose a bundle if I got on a riverboat and gambled.

lose (all) one's marbles tv. to become crazy. (See also have all one's marbles.) □ Have you lost all your marbles? □ She acts like she lost her marbles.

lose it 1. tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Collegiate.) □ Oh, God! I think I'm going to lose it! □ Go lose it in the bushes. 2. tv. to get angry; to lose one's temper. □ It was too much for him. Ted lost it. □ I sat there calmly, biting my lip to keep from losing it.

lose one's cool tv. to lose control; to lose one's temper. (Compare this with keep one's cool.) □ Now, don't lose your cool. Relax. □ I'm trying not to lose my cool, but it's hard.

lose one's doughnuts Go to blow one's doughnuts.

lose one's grip AND lose one's hold tv. to lose one's control over something. □ When I begin to lose my grip, I will just quit. □ I'm losing my hold. It must be time to chuck it.

lose one's hold Go to lose one's grip.

lose one's lunch Go to blow (one's) lunch.

lose one's shirt tv. to go broke; to lose everything of value, even one's shirt. □ I lost my shirt on that bank deal. □ Try not to lose your shirt in the market again.

loser ['luzə] n. an inept person; an undesirable or annoying person; a social failure. □ Dave is a real loser. □ Only losers wear clothes like that. □ Those guys are all losers. They'll never amount to anything.

losing streak n. a period of bad luck, especially in gambling. □ After a prolonged losing streak, Diamond Jane retired and opened some sort of manicure parlor outside Las Vegas. □ I've been on a three-year losing streak in my business. I'm just about done.

lost-and-found badge n. a military identification tag; a military dog tag. (From the Persian Gulf War.) □ Ted's lost-and-found badge was stolen while he was on leave. □ My father still keeps his lost-and-found badge from the Korean War.

lost cause n. a hopeless or worthless thing or person. □ The whole play began to wash out during the second act. It was a lost cause by the third. □ Bart is just a lost cause. Just forget about him.

lost in the sauce mod. alcohol intoxicated and bewildered. □ Bill spends many days lost in the sauce. □ Sally got lost in the sauce at the party and made quite a spectacle of herself.

Lots of luck! 1. exclam. Good luck! □ I'm glad you're giving it a try. Lots of luck! □ Lots of luck in your new job! 2. exclam. You don't have a chance!; Good luck, you'll need it! (Sarcastic.) □ Think you stand a chance? Lots of luck! □ You a senator? Lots of luck!

loudmouth n. a person who talks too much or too loudly. □ I try not to be a loudmouth, but I sometimes get carried away. □ There are a number of loudmouths in here who are competing with one another.

louse [laus] n. a thoroughly repellent person, usually a male. □ You can be such a louse! □ Bart turned out to be a louse, and his wife of two weeks left him.

louse something up tv. to botch something up. □ Please don't louse the typewriter ribbon up this time. □ Jack loused up my effort to win approval for my plan.

lousy ['lauzi] mod. rotten; poor; bad. □ This is a lousy day. □ This mushy stuff is lousy. Do I have to eat it?

lousy with someone or something mod. having lots of someone or something. (Like an infestation of lice.) □ Old Mr.

Wilson is lousy with money. □ Tiffany is lousy with jewels and furs, but she's got bad teeth.

love bombs n. affirmations of affection. □ These two were dropping love bombs on each other, even though they hate each other's guts. □ What a phony bunch of kooks. They were throwing love bombs all over the place!

(love) handles n. rolls of fat around the waist that can be held on to during love-making. □ Ted worked out daily, trying to get rid of his love handles. □ Not only did he grow a belly, but he's got handles on his handles.

love-in 1. n. an event during the 1960s where one or more couples made love in a public place. □ My uncle was at one of those love-ins, and he said if anything was going on, it was going on under blankets. □ I think the only people who went to love-ins were reporters. 2. n. an event in the 1960s where everyone became euphoric—with the help of marijuana—about love and respect for their fellow humans. □ The meeting was no love-in, but we got along. □ Everyone at the annual company love-in was throwing love bombs around at each other.

Love it! Go to (I) love it!

Love you! exclam. You are great! (Almost meaningless patter.) □ See ya around, Martin. Let's do lunch! Love ya! Bye-bye. □ Nice talking to you, babe. Love you!

low blow n. an unfair blow. (See also hit (someone) below the belt.) □ No fair! That was a low blow. □ Coming in like that unannounced was a pretty low blow.

lowbrow ['ləbraʊ] 1. n. a nonintellectual person; an anti-intellectual person. □ Some lowbrow came in and made a stink about not being able to find any Gene Autry records. □ Not that Gene Autry is lowbrow. The guy who came in was. 2. mod. nonintellectual; anti-intellectual. □ I like my lowbrow music and my lowbrow friends! □ What's lowbrow about soft rock?

lowdown 1. mod. rotten; bad. □ What a dirty, lowdown thing to do. □ You are a lowdown rat! 2. n. the facts on something;

the scuttlebutt about something. □ What's the lowdown on that funny statue in the park? □ Give me the lowdown on the project we just started.

low five n. the slapping of hands at waist level as a greeting. (Compare this with high five.) □ They turned to each other, throwing a quick low five as they passed. □ The two eight-year-olds tried to give each other a low five, but they both hurt their hands.

low-key mod. not obvious. □ Let's try to keep this low-key so as not to upset the family. □ It was a very low-key meeting, but we got a lot done.

low-life 1. n. a low person; a repellent person. □ This low-life smells like bacon. □ Hey, low-life, keep out of my way. 2. mod. mean; belligerent. □ Don't be so low-life, man! □ We don't need any low-life characters around here.

low rent 1. n. a low person; someone without grace or spirit. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Look, low rent, where is what you owe me? □ This low rent here thinks he can push Sam around, huh? 2. mod. cheap; unfashionable. □ This place is strictly low rent. □ Why don't you go live with some of your low rent friends?

low-res AND lo-res ['lə'rez] mod. poor; unpleasant. (From low resolution in a computer terminal. Compare this with high-res.) □ I feel sort of low-res today. □ The party is lo-res. Let's cruise.

LSD n. lysergic acid diethylamide, a hallucinogenic drug. (Initialism. Drugs. A mainstay of the 1960s and 1970s drug culture.) □ Is there much LSD still around? □ LSD isn't the problem it used to be, but it's far from gone.

LT in. living together. (Initialism and euphemism.) □ Guess who're LT? □ They have been LT for some time.

lube n. butter. □ Pass the lube, will ya, huh? □ We're outa lube.

lubricated mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ They are sufficiently lubricated for the night. □ He's not fit to talk to until he's lubricated a bit.

lubrication n. liquor. □ A little lubrication would help this party a lot. □ Wally has had a little too much lubrication.

lucci n. money. (Possibly from lucre, “money, reward” as in filthy lucre.) □ Can you loan me some of that lucci?

luck of the draw n. the results of chance; the lack of any choice. □ Why do I always end up with the luck of the draw? □ The team was assembled by chance. It was just the luck of the draw that we could work so well together.

luck out in. to be fortunate; to strike it lucky. □ I really lucked out when I ordered the duck. It's excellent. □ I didn't luck out at all. I rarely make the right choice.

lucky dog n. a lucky person, perhaps undeserving. (Also a term of address.) □ You lucky dog! □ Bart was a lucky dog because he won the football pool.

lude n. a capsule of Quaalude™, a tranquilizer. (Drugs.) □ A couple of ludes put Max in a better mood. □ I don't know what he gave me. Mary said it was a lude or something.

lug [lɒg] n. a stupid male. □ Is this lug bothering you, lady? □ Some lug on a tractor was holding up traffic.

lughead n. a stupid person. (Also a term of address.) □ What a lughead! How can you be so dumb? □ Hey, lughead! Watch where you are going.

a lulu n. someone or something extraordinary. □ Man, that car's a lulu! □ Your fiend there is a real lulu.

lumbo AND limbo ['lɒmbo AND 'limbo] n. Colombian marijuana. (Drugs. See also lum(s).) □ He showed up with a bag of lumbo. □ Hey, Bart! You are just in time with the limbo, man.

lummox AND lommix; lummux ['lɒmɒks AND 'lɒmɒks] n. a heavy, awkward, stupid person. □ He looks like a big lummox, but he can really dance. □ Sam is what you would call a lummux—but not to his face, of course.

lummux Go to lummox.

lump n. a stupid clod of a man. □ I am not a lump! I am just sedate and pensive. □ Who is that lump leaning over the bar?

Lump it! exclam. Forget it!; Go away! (See also Like it or lump it!) □ Well, you can just lump it! □ Lump it! Drop dead!

lumpus ['lɒmpəs] n. a stupid oaf. □ You are a silly lumpus! □ Is this lumpus giving you any trouble, ma'am?

lum(s) [lɒm(z)] n. cannabis from Colombia. (The lum is based on the misspelling Columbia.) □ Bruno preferred lums, but he would take what he could get. □ If it weren't for lum, our trade deficit wouldn't be so bad.

lung-butter n. vomit. □ God, you got lung-butter on my shoe!

lunger n. a large and nasty mass of phlegm coughed up from the lungs and spat out. (See also nose-lunger.) □ Wayne loved to pretend that he was going to plant a lunger on somebody's shoe.

lurker n. someone who reads the messages in an Internet new group without out responding or participating. (Sometimes considered derogatory.) □ These lurkers read everything but never contribute.

lush 1. n. liquor. □ Who's bringing the lush to the party? □ Lead me to the lush. 2. AND lush up in. to drink alcohol to excess. □ Come over sometime, and we'll lush. □ We sat lushing up for an hour waiting for the plane. 3. n. a drunkard. □ I was afraid of it for some time, but now I know. Tracy is a lush. □ There were four confirmed luses at the party, but they all passed out and didn't bother us much.

lush up Go to lush.

M

Ma Bell n. AT&T, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company; any telephone company. (See also Baby Bell.) □ I forgot to pay Ma Bell this month. □ Ma Bell is still one of the largest firms in the nation.

mace someone's face [mes...] tv. to do something drastic to someone, such as spraying mace in the face. (Chemical Mace™ is a brand of tear gas sold in pressurized cans for personal protection.) □ Do you want me to mace your face? Then shut up! □ I look at him, and suddenly I just want to mace his face or something.

macho ['matʃo] 1. mod. masculine; virile. (From Spanish. Used as a derogation by feminists.) □ Does the world really need one more macho man? □ He's hardly macho. □ You know—that bright-eyed macho type. 2. n. a masculine or virile male. □ He's such a macho. He even chews tobacco. □ Watch out for that macho over there. He's cruising for a bruising.

Mac(k) [mæk] n. a generic name for a man. (Also a term of address.) □ Look, Mac, you want to make some big money? □ Hey, Mack! Come here a minute.

mack n. a pimp. (From mackerel, a form of which once had the meaning “broker.”) □ This gal's mack was slapping her silly when the police came.

mack daddy n. a man who is popular with the ladies. □ Sam is a real mack daddy. Sure knows how to treat the ladies.

mack on someone 1. in. to make a sexual proposition to someone. □ You try to mack on anything that wears a skirt! 2. in. to make out with someone. □ Sam is in the back room macking on Mary.

mac out in. to overeat, especially the type of food served at McDonald's fast-food restaurants. (From the Big Mac™ sandwich. See also Big Mac attack. See also blimp out; pig out; pork out; scarf out.) □ I've been in Europe for a month, and I just want to get home and mac out. □ I mac out every weekend. It's like going to church.

madam n. the female keeper of a brothel. □ The madam was caught in a sting operation. □ The cops led the madam away, followed by a parade of you-know-whats.

Madison Avenue 1. n. the style or image of the major U.S. center for advertising agencies. (The agencies are located on Madison Avenue in New York City.) □ It's too much like Madison Avenue. We want a calm, sincere mood. □ This is plain old Madison Avenue. I want something more subtle. 2. mod. in the manner of intense promotion; propagandalike. □ More and more people simply do not respond to Madison Avenue hype. □ Can Madison Avenue techniques sell a political candidate?

mad money n. money to be spent in a frivolous fashion. □ This is my mad money, and I'll do with it as I please. □ I got $100 in mad money for my birthday.

mag n. magazine. □ I gotta stop and get a computer mag. □ I've seen your face in the mags, haven't I?

maggot 1. n. a cigarette. (Probably a play on faggot.) □ Can I bum a maggot off of you? □ Get your own maggots. 2. n. a low and wretched person; a vile person. □ You maggot! Take your hands off me! □ Only a maggot would do something like that.

maggot(t)y mod. alcohol intoxicated; very drunk. (A play on rotten.) □ Rotten, hell. They were absolutely maggotty! □ How can anybody reach the state of being maggoty on three beers?

magic bullet Go to silver bullet.

magic mushrooms AND sacred mushrooms n. mushrooms of the genus Psilocybe, which cause visions or hallucinations when eaten. (Drugs.) □ Magic mushrooms are okay because they are natural, or something like that. □ This is the so-called sacred mushroom, named for its use in Amerindian ritual.

magpie n. a person who chatters; a person who annoys others by chattering. □ Sally is such a magpie! □ Why do those horrendous magpies all go to the same movies I go to?

(ma)hoska [mə'haskə] 1. n. narcotics; any contraband. (Underworld.) □ The tall pinstriper asked where he could get some mahoska. □ The hoska must be for a friend. He's a blower if I ever saw one. 2. n. energy; strength; moxie. □ The guy's got mahoska and guts! □ She's quick and has lots of mahoska.

mail n. money. □ The bills are due. I need some mail.

main drag n. the main street. □ I have a shop over on the main drag. □ The main drag is solid with traffic on Saturday nights.

main squeeze 1. n. one's boss; the person in charge. □ The main squeeze has a lot of responsibility. □ The main squeeze is out of town for a week. 2. n. one's steady girlfriend or boyfriend. (Possibly related to crush.) □ My main squeeze is coming over to talk tonight. □ She plans to marry her main squeeze.

main stash n. the home of a drug user described in terms of where one's major store of drugs is kept. (Drugs. See also stash.) □ His apps are in his main stash. □ My main stash is on Maple, but I'm usually not there.

major mod. excellent; serious; severe. (Collegiate.) □ This rally is, like, major! □ Wally is one of the most major beach guys!

make 1. tv. to identify someone. (Underworld.) □ We tried to make him down at the station but came up with nothing. □ Given another second or two I could have made the guy—but he covered his face. 2. n. an identification. (Underworld.) □ We ran a make on her. She's got two priors. □ The make didn't come through until after she was released. 3. tv. to arrive at a place; to cover a distance. □ Can we make Boston by sunset? □ We made forty miles in thirty minutes. 4. tv. to achieve a specific speed. □ See if this thing can make ninety. □ This buggy will make twice the speed of the old one.

make a boo-boo tv. to make an error. (See also boo-boo.) □ Everybody makes a boo-boo every now and then. □ Whoops! I made a boo-boo.

make a bundle AND make a pile tv. to make a lot of money. (See also bundle.) □ I made a bundle off that last deal. □ I want to buy a few stocks and make a pile in a few years.

make a federal case out of something tv. to exaggerate the importance of an error; to overdo something. □ Do you have to make a federal case out of everything? □ I only spilled my milk. Why make a federal case out of it?

make a killing tv. to make an enormous profit; to become an enormous success. □ The company made a killing from the sale of its subsidiary. □ I wanted to make a killing as a banker, but it didn't work out.

Make a lap! exclam. Sit down! □ Hey, make a lap and get out of the way! □ Pull up a chair and make a lap!

make a mountain AND pitch a tent n. to have a morning erection that raises the covers; to have an erection that makes a bulge in one's clothing; to get an erection. □ Bobby makes a mountain almost every morning.

make a pig of oneself tv. to overeat; to take more of something than anyone else gets; to be selfish. □ Please don't make a pig out of yourself. □ I have a tendency to make a pig of myself at affairs like this.

make a pile Go to make a bundle.

make a score tv. to do a criminal act: to buy or sell drugs, to rob someone, to perform a scam. (Underworld.) □ We made a score with that bank job in Adamsville, didn't we? □ They made quite a score off that junky.

make a stink (about someone or something) Go to raise a stink (about someone or something).

make book on something tv. to make or accept bets on something. □ Well, she might. But I wouldn't make book on it. □ Don't make book on my success in this game.

make for somewhere in. to set out for somewhere; to run or travel to somewhere. □ Bart made for Philadelphia when he heard the pigs in the Big Apple were after him. □ Barlowe made for the stairs, but two shots rang out, and he knew it was all over for Mary.

make hamburger out of someone or something AND make mincemeat out of someone or something tv. to beat someone or something to a pulp; to destroy someone or something. □ The puppy made mincemeat out of my paper. □ They threatened to make hamburger out of me.

make it 1. tv. to achieve one's goals. (See also make (it) big.) □ I can see by looking around this room that you have really made it. □ I hope I make it someday. But if not, I tried. 2. tv. to copulate [with] someone. □ There was no doubt in his mind that those bedroom eyes were telling him their owner wanted to make it. □ She wanted to make it, but he convinced her they should wait.

make (it) big tv. & in. to become successful, especially financially. □ I always knew that someday I would make it big. □ My brother made big, but it has just led to tax problems.

make it hot for someone tv. to make things difficult for someone; to put someone under pressure. (Note the variation in the examples.) □ The cops were making it hot for him, so he blew town. □ The boss is making it a little hot for me, so I had better get to work on time.

Make it snappy! exclam. Hurry up!; Make it fast! □ We're late, Tracy. Make it snappy! □ Make it snappy, Fred. The cops are headed up the walk now.

make like a tree and leave in. to leave; to depart. (A pun on the leaf of a tree.) □ I have to leave now. It's time to make like a tree and leave. □ Hey, Jane. Don't you have an appointment somewhere? Why don't you make like a tree and leave?

make like someone or something in. to act like someone or something. □ Why don't you make like a bunny and run away? Beat it! □ Would you please make like a butler and hold the door open for me?

make mincemeat out of someone or something Go to make hamburger out of someone or something.

Make my day! exclam. Go ahead, do what you are going to do, and I will be very happy to do what I have to do! (A catchphrase said typically by a movie police officer who has a gun pointed at a criminal. The police officer wants the criminal to do something that will justify pulling the trigger, which the police officer will do with pleasure. Used in real life in any context, and especially in sarcasm.) □ Move a muscle! Go for your gun! Go ahead, make my day! □ Make my day. Just try it.

Make no mistake (about it)! sent. <an expression signifying the sincerity of the speaker's previous statements.> □ Make no mistake! This is the real thing. □ This is a very serious matter. Make no mistake about it.

make one's bed tv. to be the cause of one's own misery. □ Well, I guess I made my own bed. Now I have to lie in it. □ "We all make our own beds," said the minister.

make oneself scarce tv. to leave; to be in a place less frequently. □ Here come the boys in blue. I'd better make myself scarce.

□ I suggest that you make yourself scarce before she returns.

make out 1. in. to neck and pet. □ I still like to make out, but it's hard with dentures. □ He started making out when he was twelve. 2. in. to succeed. □ How did you make out? □ I hope I make out okay tomorrow.

make-out artist n. a seducer; a lecher, usually a male. (See also lady-killer.) □ The guy thinks he's a make-out artist, but the women all think he's a nerd. □ He might have been a make-out artist in his youth, but I doubt it.

make someone tv. to identify someone. □ The cop stared at Bart and tried to make him, but failed to identify him and let him go. □ The cops took Sam downtown where the police chief made him for the third time in a month.

make the scene 1. tv. to attend an event. (See also scene.) □ We plan to make the scene, but you know how things are. □ I hope everybody can make the scene. 2. tv. to understand a situation; to appreciate the situation. (Underworld. See also make.) □ I can't quite make the scene, but it looks like Sam punched the guy over here. Then he moved to the window over here, and that's when the old dame across the street saw him. □ I can make the scene. It's just like you said, except Bruno came in and found the guy laid out on the floor.

make tracks tv. to move out of a place fast. □ I gotta make tracks home now. □ Let's make tracks. We gotta hit Adamsville before noon.

make waves tv. to cause difficulty. (Often in the negative.) □ Just relax. Don't make waves. □ If you make waves too much around here, you won't last long.

make with the something in. to make something visible; to use something. □ Come on, make with the cash. □ I want to know. Come on, make with the answers!

malark(e)y [mə'lɑrkɪ] n. nonsense; flattery. □ Don't give me that malarkey. □ What ridiculous malarkey!

male chauvinist pig Go to MCP.

mallet n. a police officer. □ Sam was struck by a mallet this noon. □ Some mallet is going around asking questions about you.

mama bear n. a policewoman. (See also lady bear.) □ As we came under the bridge, we saw a mama bear sitting in a pigmobile. □ A mama bear pulled the trucker over.

man 1. n. one's friend; a buddy, not necessarily male. (Also a term of address.) □ Look, man, take it easy! □ Hey, man. That one's mine! 2. exclam. Wow! (Usually Man!) □ Man, what a bundle! □ Man, what an ugly mug. 3. AND the man n. a drug seller or pusher. (Drugs.) □ The man won't give you credit, you numskull! □ When your man doesn't show, there's always a good reason. 4. AND the man n. the police; the establishment. □ You better check with the man before you get seen with me. □ We are about to rap a little with my man.

the man Go to man.

M. and M.s n. capsules of Seconal™, a barbiturate. (From the brand name of a type of brightly colored candy pellets.) □ Is there somewhere around here I can get some M. and M.s? □ No M. and M.s for me. I'm on blues.

manicure 1. tv. to trim and clean marijuana for smoking. (Drugs.) □ Sam never would manicure the stuff. Some people would buy it anyway. □ Max wants to manicure his own dope. 2. n. good-quality, cleaned marijuana. □ Ah, this manicure should bring some good coin. □ You got any high Q. manicure?

man on the street 1. n. the common man; just anyone selected at random. □ But what does the man on the street think about all this? □ The man on the street really doesn't care about most of what you think is important. 2. mod. common; everyday. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ These man-on-the-street interviews all seem sort of phony. □ The man-on-the-street opinion spots are fun to make, but we can't show half of them.

man-size(d) mod. large-size, especially in reference to the size of servings of food.

□ This is a man-sized steak! That's what I want. □ For a man-size meal, open a can of Wallace's Chili tonight!

map 1. n. one's face. □ There was fear and hatred all over his map. □ With a map like that, she could really go somewhere. 2. n. sheet music. (Jazz musicians. See also chart.) □ Check my map and see where you come in. □ I left the map at home. Can I look at yours?

Marble City Go to marble orchard.

marble dome n. a stupid person. (Someone who has marble where brains should be.) □ The guy's a marble dome. He has no knowledge of what's going on around him. □ Is this marble dome giving you any trouble?

marble orchard AND Marble City n. a cemetery. □ I already bought a little plot in a marble orchard. □ When I take a trip to Marble City, I want truckloads of flowers.

marine officer Go to marine (recruit).

marine (recruit) AND marine officer n. an empty beer or liquor bottle. (See also dead soldier; dead marine.) □ Every now and then the gentle muttering of the customers was accented by the breaking of a marine as it hit the floor. □ The guy in a uniform tossed the marine officer in the barrel and giggled.

mark n. a dupe; a victim selected for a theft or a swindle. (Underworld.) □ I bumped the mark on the shoulder, and he put his hand on his wallet just like always. □ We picked the marks out of the crowd in front of the two-dollar window.

marker n. a personal promissory note; an IOU. □ Bart signed a marker for $3,000 and handed it to Sam. □ Bruno said that he held Bart's marker for three grand.

marksman n. a serious college student who works hard to get good marks (grades). □ Sally is a marksman. She's always studying. □ Bill kept saying that Todd was a geek and a marksman, until Todd flunked algebra.

mark time tv. to wait; to do nothing but wait. □ I'll just mark time till things get better. □ Do you expect me to just stand here and mark time?

Mary J. Go to Mary Jane.

Mary Jane 1. AND Mary J.; Maryjane n. marijuana. (Drugs. See also jane.) □ I can't live another day without Mary Jane! 2. n. a plain-looking girl. □ She's just a Mary Jane and will never be a glamour girl.

mash in. to neck and pet. (Collegiate.) □ Who are those two mashing in the corner? □ I can't spend every evening mashing with you!

mashed mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Both guys were totally mashed. I called my brother, who came and rescued me. □ Sam was mashed, but he wouldn't let anyone else drive.

massive mod. excellent. (California.) □ The bash at Tiffany's was, like, massive! □ That was a totally massive party, Tiff.

massively mod. excellently; totally. □ Max showed up for the meeting massively stoned and singing at the top of his lungs. □ Robert presented us with a massively gross belch that actually made the window rattle a little.

maven AND mavin ['meɪvən] n. an expert; a self-proclaimed expert. (From Hebrew mevin via Yiddish.) □ A maven in the stock market you are not. □ Harriet—a well-known clothing mavin in Rochester—keeps giving pointers on fabrics, but I don't listen.

mavin Go to maven.

maw [mɔ] tv. & in. to kiss and pet; to smooch. (Probably from maul.) □ Come on, don't maw me. You've been watching too many movies—or too few. □ Let's go out somewhere and maw.

max n. the maximum. (See also to the max.) □ Is this the max I can have? □ I want the max. I'm hungry.

maxed out 1. mod. exhausted; tired. □ I am just maxed out. I haven't been getting enough sleep. □ I had to stop work because I was too maxed. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Sam was maxed out and seemed happy enough to sit under the table and whimper. □ I hadn't seen Barlowe so maxed out in years. He was nearly paralyzed.

maxin' in. relaxing. □ I spent Saturday just maxin' around the house and doing some tunage. □ I spent all day maxin' and drinking beer.

max out in. to reach one's maximum in something, such as weight in weight lifting or credit on a credit card. □ Andy finally maxed out at 300 pounds. □ Randy just knew when he had maxed out. Something in his body told him to stop.

mayo ['meo] n. mayonnaise. □ You want mayo or mustard? □ I'll take both mayo and mustard, thank you.

mazulla Go to mazuma.

mazuma AND mazulla [mə'zumə AND mə'zulə] n. money. (From Hebrew mezu-man via Yiddish.) □ How much mazuma do you want for this? □ She's got more mazuma than she knows what to do with.

mañana [mə'njanə] mod. tomorrow; in the future, not now. (Spanish.) □ It's always mañana with you. Isn't there any "today" or "now" in your vocabulary? □ He's a mañana kind of guy. You know—real laid back.

McCoy Go to (real) McCoy.

McDoc(s) Go to McDoctor(s).

McDoctor(s) AND McDoc(s) n.  (See also doc(s)-in-a-box.) □ They took the kid to McDoctors, or whatever it is, over in the mall. □ McDocs is not cheap, but it's handy.

McD's AND McDuck's n. McDonald's, the franchised fast-food restaurant. (Teens and collegiate. The duck is a play on the Walt Disney character Donald Duck.) □ Can you take McD's tonight, or do you want some slow food? □ I can always handle McDuck's.

McDuck's Go to McD's.

McFly ['mɪk'flaɪ] 1. n. a stupid person; a simpleton. (Also a term of address.) □

Oh, Donna, you are such a McFly! □ Hey, McFly. What do you think you are doing?
2. mod. stupid; simple-minded. □ That was a McFly thing to do. □ Wayne is so McFly!

MCP AND male chauvinist pig n. a male who acts superior to and aggressively toward women. (From the woman's liberation movements of the 1970s.) □ The guy is just a male chauvinist pig, and he'll never change. □ Don't you just hate walking through a room filled with MCPs and just knowing what they are thinking about you?

meadow muffin n. a mass of cow dung. □ Jill stepped in a meadow muffin while she was bird-watching. □ Andy's mom gathered dried meadow muffins to put in her flower garden.

meals rejected by Ethiopians Go to MRE.

meals rejected by the enemy Go to MRE.

mean mod. having to do with someone or something that is very good; cool. □ This music is mean, man, mean. What a great sound! □ This is the meanest wine I ever drank.

mean business tv. to be very, very serious. □ Stop laughing! I mean business. □ I could tell from the look on her face that she meant business.

a mean something mod. having to do with an excellent example of the art of doing something well habitually. □ John plays the piano quite well. Fred says that John plays a mean piano. □ You may say that your mother bakes delicious pies, but all my friends say she bakes a mean pie. □ Tom says that his father plays a mean game of golf.

meany AND meanie n. a mean or grouchy person. □ Come on! Don't be such a meany. □ I don't want to be a meany, but if you don't turn down that radio, I don't know what I'll do.

meat 1. n. the penis. □ He held his hands over his meat and ran for the bedroom. 2. n. the genitals of either sex; the sexual parts of either sex. □ I don't want to see your meat! What kinda creep do you think

I am? 3. n. a person of either sex considered sexually. □ If she doesn't manage to wrap her legs around that big hunk of meat within the next twenty minutes, I'd lose my bet.

meathead n. a stupid oaf. □ Don't call him a meathead. He does his best. □ Is this meathead bothering you, miss?

meatheaded mod. stupid; simple-minded. □ Of all the meatheaded ideas. This one takes the cake! □ How meatheaded! □ When someone conducts a meatheaded operation like this, we tend to lose faith in the whole system.

meathooks n. the hands. (See also hooks.) □ Get your meathooks off my car! □ If your meathooks so much as brush by my jacket again, you are finished!

meat wagon n. an ambulance. □ The meat wagon showed up just as they were pulling what was left of Marty out of what was left of her car. □ When the meat wagon stops at all the traffic lights on the way to the hospital, you know somebody's pifted.

medico ['mediko] n. a doctor. (From Spanish.) □ The medico says I should lose some weight. □ It's hard to take it seriously when a fat medico tells you to shed a few pounds.

meet n. a meeting or an appointment. (Mostly underworld.) □ If this meet works out, we could score a cool million. □ What time is the meet?

meeting of the minds n. a consensus; an agreement. □ At last we've reached a meeting of the minds. □ This meeting of the minds is nothing more than a truce.

mega ['megə] mod. large; serious. □ Some mega beast boogied down to the front of the auditorium and started screaming. □ You see I have this, like, mega problem, ya know.

megabitch n. a truly obnoxious bitch. □ Bob, you are such a megabitch! □ Anne called herself a megabitch and said she didn't care what people thought of her.

megabucks n. a lot of money; big bucks. (See also kilobucks.) □ A stereo that size must cost megabucks. □ Mr. Wilson has megabucks in pharmaceutical stocks.

megadork ['megədork] n. a very stupid person. (See also dork.) □ What a wimpy megadork! □ Tiffany, you are, like, such a megadork!

megillah [mə'gɪlə] n. a long and complicated story. (From Hebrew megillah via Yiddish.) □ He struggled through this megillah and nobody believed him. □ Here you come in here with this megillah about a flat tire and how your brother-in-law stole your jack and how your arthritis is kicking up—what do you think I am, some sort of shoulder to cry on?

mell of a hess n. hell of a mess. (A deliberate spoonerism.) □ What a mell of a hess you've gotten us into this time. □ Have you ever seen such a mell of a hess?

mellow 1. mod. relaxed; untroubled; laid back. □ Being mellow is my only goal in life. □ She is the mellowest fox I know. 2. mod. slightly alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I got mellow and stopped drinking right there. □ I'm only mellow, but you drive anyway.

mellow out 1. in. to calm down; to get less angry. □ When you mellow out, maybe we can talk. □ Come on, man, mellow out! 2. in. to become generally more relaxed; to grow less contentious. □ Gary was nearly forty before he started to mellow out a little and take life less seriously. □ After his illness, he mellowed out and seemed more glad to be alive.

melons n. large breasts. (Usually objectionable.) □ Look at the melons on that babe!

meltdown n. a total collapse of anything. (From the term used to describe the self-destruction of a nuclear reactor.) □ There seems to have been a meltdown in the computer center, and all our records were lost. □ The meltdown in the securities markets was caused by a combination of things.

melvin ['mɛlvən] 1. n. a studious or unattractive male. (Teens and collegiate.) □ Gary is such a melvin! □ Do you think I would go out with that melvin? 2. n. a situation where one's underpants ride up high between the buttocks. (Named for a person so stupid and unaware that he is comfortable with this arrangement. See also give someone a melvin.) □ Look at that twit with the melvin. □ How could anybody go around all day with a melvin like that?

men in blue AND boys in blue n. the police; policemen. (See also blue boys.) □ The men in blue are looking for you. □ You can depend on the boys in blue to clean things up in this town.

mensh [mentʃ] n. a mature and responsible person. (From German via Yiddish.) □ Now there goes a real mensh! □ I am honored to invite such a mensh into my home.

men's room n. a men's restroom. □ Where's the men's room, please? □ I gotta use the men's room.

mental 1. mod. mentally retarded. (Usually objectionable. Derogatory.) □ The girl's mental. Leave her alone. □ Everybody in this ward is mental. 2. n. a mentally retarded person. (Usually objectionable. Derogatory.) □ He's a mental. He'll need some help. □ Who doesn't need help? Mentals are normal on that point. 3. n. a stupid person. □ You're such a mental lately. □ Don't be a mental.

mental giant n. a genius. □ I'm no mental giant, but I do know trouble when I see it. □ Don was a mental giant but didn't ever take advantage of it.

mental midget n. a stupid person. □ I hate to seem like a mental midget, but what's so great about that? □ This mental midget here thinks he can solve it for us.

mep(s) n. meperdine, Demerol™, a painkiller. (Drugs and hospitals.) □ The nurse was sneaking a little meps now and then. □ For some people, mep is highly addictive.

merchandise n. any contraband. (Underworld.) □ The merchandise is still at the boss's place. □ How much of the merchandise can you deliver by midnight?

merger-mania n. an apparent need for companies to merge with one another. (Securities markets and journalism.) □ Merger-mania is in the news again tonight with Ford's offer to take over GMC. □ The market meltdown put an end to merger-mania.

mesc [mesk] n. mescaline, a hallucinatory substance. (Drugs.) □ Tiffany is totally hooked on mesc. I don't know where she gets it. □ Jerry refuses to take mesc or any other dope.

mesh n. a crosshatch or octothorp, #. (See also pigpen.) □ Put a mesh on each end of your formula. □ What does the mesh stand for in this equation?

meshuga AND meshugah [mə'ʃugə] mod. crazy. (From Hebrew meshuggah via Yiddish.) □ What a meshuga day! □ This guy is meshugah!

mess 1. n. a hopeless, stupid person. □ Harry has turned into a mess. □ The guy's a mess! 2. n. dung. (Usually with a.) □ There is a dog mess on the lawn again this morning. □ There's a mess in Jimmy's diapers, Mom.

mess about (with someone) Go to mess around (with someone).

mess about (with something) Go to mess around (with something).

mess around (with someone) AND mess about (with someone); monkey around (with someone) 1. in. to play with someone sexually. □ Those two have been messing around. □ Pete was messing around with Maria, and now she's storked. 2. in. to waste someone's time. □ Don't mess around with me. Just answer the question, if you please. □ I don't have the time for this. Stop messing around. 3. in. to waste time with someone else. □ I was messing around with John. □ John and I were monkeying around.

mess around (with something) mess about (with something); AND monkey around (with something) in. to play with or fiddle with something. □ Don't mess around with the ashtray. □ You'll break it if you don't stop monkeying around with it.

messed up 1. mod. confused. □ I'm sort of messed up since my divorce. □ Most kids are sort of messed up at this age. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Somehow I must have got messed up. What caused it, do you think? □ Everybody at the party was too messed up to drive home.

mess someone or something up tv. to put someone or something into disorder. (See also messed up.) □ You messed me up a little bit, but I know you didn't mean to bump into me. □ Who messed up this place?

mess someone's face up tv. to beat someone around the face. (Underworld.) □ I had to mess his face up a little, boss, but he's been real cooperative since then. □ You want me to mess up your face, or do you want to come along quietly?

mess someone up tv. to beat someone up. (Underworld.) □ The boss says me and the boys is supposed to mess you up a little. □ Is that your job—going around messing up people?

mess up in. to make an error; to do something wrong; to flub (up). □ I hope I don't mess up on the quiz. □ You really messed up!

mess with someone or something AND monkey with someone or something in. to bother or interfere with someone or something. □ Come on, don't monkey with it. □ Don't mess with me unless you want trouble.

meth 1. n. denatured alcohol; methyl alcohol. (Streets and underworld.) □ Oh, yeah, we drank meth. We drank anything we could get. □ Meth used to be pink. Now they put something in it to make you vomit. 2. n. methamphetamine. (Drugs.) □ Usually meth is injected, having almost an immediate effect. □ Meth comes in little glass tubes. 3. n. methadone. (Drugs.) □ Sometimes meth means methadone, a drug used in drug treatment. □ Jerry gets meth from a clinic in the city.

meth monster n. a habitual user of methamphetamine. □ Sometimes a meth monster will do okay in school. □ These teenage meth monsters can be a real menace when they need juice.

metros ['metroz] n. the police; the metropolitan police. (Not used in all metropolitan areas.) □ The metros took ten minutes to get to the scene of the crime, and the entire city is enraged. □ The metros showed up and managed traffic for the fire company.

Mexican breakfast n. a cigarette and a cup of coffee or a glass of water. □ After a Mexican breakfast, I went to Barlowe's hotel hoping to catch him before he went out. □ When some punk kid crosses the border into Mexico for a night of fun and games, all he can get to help him sober up and get out of the country the next day is a Mexican breakfast.

mickey AND micky 1. n. a hip flask for liquor. □ He took a little swig out of a mickey he carries in his pocket. □ His micky made a clunk as he sat down. 2. Go to Mickey (Finn). 3. n. a small bottle of wine. □ See if you can get a mickey of something for a buck. □ The old guy just wants to get a micky to help with his wineache. 4. n. a tranquilizer. (Drugs.) □ Whatever that mickey was you gave me, it helped. □ Maybe a little mickey would help me relax.

Mickey D's n. McDonald's fast-food restaurant. (Teens and collegiate.) □ Let's hit Mickey D's for chow this noon. □ We're going to Mickey D's for dinner, too.

Mickey finished mod. alcohol intoxicated; totally drunk. (A play on Mickey Finn.) □ I guess the old guy is about Mickey finished. He's plootered! □ What gets into guys that makes them want to get Mickey finished before they stop?

Mickey (Finn) 1. n. a drink containing chloral hydrate; a drink containing a fast-acting laxative. □ He slipped her a Mickey Finn, but she switched glasses. □ Once you've had a Mickey, you'll never forget it. 2. n. chloral hydrate as put in drinks to knock people out. □ There was a Mickey Finn in this drink, wasn't there? □ Now where would I get a Mickey?

mickey mouse 1. n. nonsense; something trivial. (From the world-famous mouse character by the same name, owned by The Walt Disney Company.) □ This is just a lot of mickey mouse. □ This mickey mouse is wasting my time. 2. mod. trivial; time wasting; lousy. □ I want out of this mickey mouse place. □ No more mickey mouse questions if I agree to stay? 3. n. a police officer. (Streets.) □ Mickey mouse is hanging around asking about you. □ Tell mickey mouse he knows where to find me. 4. n. a bit of blotter impregnated with LSD with a picture of The Walt Disney Company's Mickey Mouse on it. (Drugs.) □ How much is the mickey mouse? □ The mickey mouse is more than you want to pay.

mickey mouse ears n. the two lights found on top of a police car. □ There were no mickey mouse ears, but the jerk inside looked like your average ossifer. □ I could see the outline of the mickey mouse ears on the blue and white behind me.

mickey mouse habit n. a trivial drug habit. (Drugs.) □ Nothing to it. Just a little mickey mouse habit. I can stop any time I want. □ I don't care if it is a mickey mouse habit. It's a habit, and it's illegal.

micky Go to mickey.

middlebrow mod. middle-class; average or mediocre. (Between highbrow and lowbrow.) □ She has average middlebrow tastes and drives a mid-sized Chevrolet. □ He's just too middlebrow. □ There are some who look down on middlebrow interests as trivial.

middle of nowhere n. an isolated place. □ I don't want to stay out here in the middle of nowhere. □ I was stranded in the middle of nowhere for an hour with a flat tire.

midi ['mɪdi] 1. n. a mid-length woman's garment. □ Shall I wear my midi, or is it too hot? □ The midi is okay. 2. mod. having to do with a mid-length woman's garment. □ This midi style is out, and the mini is back in. □ The midi length was just transitional. Who decides on these things anyway?

miffed mod. angry. □ She was a little miffed when I failed to show up, but she calmed down after a while.

mifky-pifky (in the bushes) n. illicit sex; hanky-panky. □ Jeff got caught again. Mifky-pifky in the bushes seems to be his style. □ Mifky-pifky is the way of the world in Hollywood.

mil n. a million. □ She rakes in about 3 mil a year. □ The government spent 40 mil on this building.

milk 1. tv. to attempt to persuade an audience to laugh or applaud. □ Mitzy tried to milk the audience for applause. □ She went on milking the crowd for adulation long after they had demonstrated their appreciation. 2. tv. to attempt to get recognition from an audience. □ His performance was marred by an amateurish attempt to milk applause. □ If you're good, they'll let you know it. If not, don't milk cheers, applause, or laughter.

milk a duck tv. to do [or not do] something totally impossible. □ I can't do that. I could milk a duck before I could do that. □ She can't do that. That's harder than milking a duck.

milled mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also cut.) □ She was cut up with all that booze—milled, I guess. □ She was too milled to drive and couldn't walk either.

milquetoast ['mɪlktəst] n. a shy coward; an effeminate male. (See also Caspar Milquetoast.) □ This little milquetoast goes up to the biker, looks at him sort of sad like, and then karate chops him into a quivering pulp. □ Some guy who looked like a milquetoast came in and asked for a set of brass knuckles.

Milwaukee goiter AND German goiter [mɪl'wɑki 'ɡɔɪdər AND 'dʒɜmən 'ɡɔɪdər] n. a beer belly. (Refers to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, a major beer-brewing city, and to Germany.) □ By the time he was twenty-six, he was balding and had a Milwaukee goiter that would tip him over if he turned too fast. □ He was proud of his German goiter.

mind-bender AND mind-blower n. a hallucinogenic drug, typically LSD. (Drugs.)

□ You wanna try some mind-blower? □ That mind-bender takes a long time to wear off.

mind-blower Go to mind-bender.

mind your own beeswax [...'bizwæks] tv. to mind one's own business. (Juvenile.) □ You just mind your own beeswax! □ Lay off! Mind your own beeswax!

mingy ['mindʒi] mod. mean and stingy. □ Why can't you borrow it? I'm just mingy, that's all. □ What a mingy jerk! □ Aw, don't be so mingy!

mini ['mini] 1. mod. small; miniature. □ I have a mini problem you can maybe help me with. □ This is just a mini office. I'll get a bigger one later. 2. n. a miniskirt. □ I look pretty good in a mini. □ I'll try a mini this time. I was too plump the last time they were in style.

mink n. a woman. (Black.) □ I see your mink has some new silks, man. □ Take this home to your mink. She'll like it.

Minnehaha [mini'haha] n. champagne. (From Longfellow's Song of Hiawatha. Minnehaha means "laughing waters.") □ Have a glass of Minnehaha. □ Minnehaha tickles my nose.

mint 1. n. a lot of money. □ He makes a mint. He can afford a little generosity. □ That kind of car costs a mint! 2. mod. good-looking; superior. (As in mint condition.) □ Look at that guy. He's really mint, right? □ These tunes are mint, all right!

mish-mash AND mish-mosh ['mɪʃmæʃ AND 'mɪʃməʃ] n. a mixture; a disorderly conglomeration. □ What a mish-mash of colors and designs! □ There's no theme or focus. It's just a mish-mash.

mish-mosh Go to mish-mash.

miss the boat tv. to have made an error; to be wrong. □ If you think you can do that, you have just missed the boat. □ The guy's missed the boat. He's a lunkhead.

mitt n. a hand. □ Get your mitts off my glass. □ The kid's got mitts on him like a gorilla.

mixed (up) 1. mod. confused; mentally troubled. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ I was a little mixed up after the accident. □ This kid's just a little mixed. She'll straighten out. □ She's a crazy mixed-up kid. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I'm just a little mixed-up, nothing serious. No reason you should be swaying around like that. □ Jerry's too mixed to drive home.

mix it up (with someone) tv. to fight with someone; to quarrel with someone. □ Bart and Sam mixed it up for a while, and then things calmed down. □ Max came out of the shop and began to mix it up with Bruno.

mob [mab] n. the crime syndicate. (Underworld and journalistic.) □ The mob has held this city in abject terror for years. □ One of the biggest fish in the mob was plucked from the river yesterday.

moby ['mobi] 1. mod. enormous; unwieldy. (Like Herman Melville's great white whale, Moby Dick.) □ This is a very moby old car. □ Why does he let himself get so moby? 2. n. a megabyte, a measurement of computer memory size. (A megabyte is whale-sized compared to a kilobyte.) □ My fixed disks give me a capacity of over seventy-five mobies. □ My new computer has one moby of random access memory.

mod [mad] mod. contemporary and fashionable in clothing and ideas. □ Your clothes are mod, but you're just a plain, old-fashioned prude. □ Your mod friends might appreciate this article in the paper.

mod poser ['mad 'pozə] n. someone who looks mod in dress only. (Collegiate.) □ Tiffany is such a mod poser. At home it's jeans and a T-shirt. □ The more extreme the style gets, the more mod posers there are.

moist around the edges mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Charlie is more than moist around the edges. He is soused. □ Didn't that guy seem a little moist around the edges?

mojo ['modʒo] 1. n. heroin; morphine; cannabis. (Drugs. See also on the mojo.) □

This mojo is no good. □ Why don't you try to kick the mojo? 2. n. a narcotics addict. (Drugs.) □ These mojos will rob you blind if you don't keep an eye on them. □ Sam's no mojo, and if he was nobody'd mention it.

moldy fig n. an old-fashioned person; a square. □ Don't be a moldy fig! Lighten up! □ Some moldy fig objected to our music.

mom n. a mother. (Also a term of address. Capitalized when used as the name of one's own mother.) □ My mom is the greatest! □ Mom, can I have a bigger allowance?

mondo ['mando] mod. totally; very much. (California.) □ You are, like, mondo gross! □ This place is like, so, like, mondo beige.

moneybags n.  □ When old moneybags does finally buy the farm, who gets the loot? □ When you get to be a big moneybags, don't forget those you left behind.

money from home 1. n. easily gotten money. (Underworld.) □ There is nothing to a simple con job like this. It's money from home. □ This job is like taking candy from a kid. It's money from home. 2. n. something as welcome as long-awaited money from home. □ This cool drink is money from home right now. □ Having you visit like this is like getting money from home, Tracy.

money grubber n. a stingy person. □ Why is he such a money grubber? Is he going to take it with him? □ The boss is such a money grubber. He still has his first paper clip.

money talks in. money can buy cooperation; having money makes one influential. □ I know that money talks, but I don't have the scratch to say anything with. □ Like they say, money talks, but don't try making it talk to a cop.

mongo mod. greatly; hugely. (Probably akin to humongous.) □ When I get some cash, I'm gonna buy me one mongo car with leather seats.

moniker AND monniker ['manəkə] n. a nickname. □ What's your moniker, chum? □ With a monniker like that, you must get in a lot of fights.

monkey 1. n. a playful child. (Also a term of address.) □ Come here, you little monkey! □ Hey, monkey, where are you going? 2. n. a drug addiction. (Drugs. See also have a monkey on one's back.) □ That monkey of mine is getting hungry again. □ Why don't you try to get rid of that monkey?

monkey around (with someone) Go to mess around (with someone).

monkey around (with something) Go to mess around (with something).

monkey bite n. a kiss that leaves a blotch or mark. (See also hickey.) □ Who gave you that monkey bite? □ Do you have some makeup that'll cover this monkey bite?

monkey business AND funny business n. silliness; dishonest tricks. □ That's enough monkey business. Now, settle down. □ Stop the funny business. This is serious!

monkey-fart AND fiddle-fart in. to waste time; to do something ineffectually or inefficiently. (A blend of monkey around and fart around.) □ Stop monkey-farting and get over here and get to work. □ He spent the day fiddle-farting with his motorcycle.

monkeyshines n. tricks; small acts of mischief. □ You and your silly monkeyshines! □ These kids are a lot of fun despite their monkeyshines.

monkey swill n. inferior liquor; strong liquor. □ This monkey swill will probably make me blind. □ Where did you get this monkey swill? This would kill a monkey anyway.

monkey talk n. distorted speech, as uttered while drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) □ Bart slapped the poor junky to get him to stop the monkey talk. □ Their pupils are pin-point-sized, and they talk monkey talk. That's how you can tell they're on H.

monkey wagon n. drug addiction. (Drugs.) □ I've been riding this monkey wagon long enough. □ Some of these treatment centers won't get you off the monkey wagon unless you have insurance.

monkey wards n. Montgomery Wards, a department store chain. □ I get that kind of stuff at monkey wards. □ They closed the monkey wards near us.

monkey with someone or something Go to mess with someone or something.

monniker Go to moniker.

monolithic [mə'nə'lɪθɪk] mod. heavily drug intoxicated. (Drugs. A play on stoned.) □ She's not just stoned, she's monolithic! □ I was monolithic—dead drunk.

monster 1. n. any powerful drug affecting the central nervous system. (Drugs.) □ This PCP is a monster. Why don't the cops put a stop to it? □ That monster just about did me in. 2. mod. having to do with a powerful or addictive drug. (Drugs.) □ Where the devil did you get that monster dust? □ That is monster C., and it will make you its slave.

monster weed n. cannabis; powerful marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Where on earth does she get that monster weed she's been blowing? □ This is what they call monster weed. Stay away from it. It may have angel dust on it.

Montezuma's revenge [məntə'zuməz rɪ'vendʒ] n. diarrhea; tourist diarrhea. (Refers to tourists in Mexico.) □ I had a little touch of Montezuma's revenge the second day, but other than that we had a wonderful time. □ Most people blame Montezuma's revenge on the water.

monthlies n. the period of menstruation. □ It's her monthlies. You know how she feels then. □ The monthlies have struck again!

mooch [mutʃ] 1. tv. & in. to beg for money, liquor, or drugs in public places. □ No mooching around here! Move along! □ Jed mooched drinks all evening. 2. n. a beggar. □ The guy is a mooch. Get him out of here. □ I don't want to be a mooch, but could I borrow your lawn mower? 3. n.

narcotics. (Drugs. See also hooch.) □ Mooch is what Minnie the Moocher is famous for. □ He's gonna have to work hard to get off the mooch.

moocher 1. n. a beggar. □ What do you usually give a moocher? □ I try to give every moocher a little change. 2. n. a drug addict. (Drugs.) □ The guy's a moocher and can't be trusted. □ These moochers will do anything to get a few bucks for a load.

moo juice AND cow juice n. milk. □ How about another glass of moo juice? □ While you're at the store, get some more cow juice.

moolah ['mʊlə] n. money. (Originally underworld.) □ That is a whole lot of moolah! □ There was no moolah in that safe!

mooley n. a clever person who does funny things. □ What a mooley! Always making us laugh.

moon 1. n. the buttocks. □ He rubbed a plump moon where he had been kicked, but said no more. □ She fell square on her moon and slowly broke into a smile. 2. tv. & in. to show (someone) one's nude posterior through a window (usually of an automobile). (See also moonier; gaucho.) □ When the plane flew over Cuba, this guy named Victor actually mooned a Russian MIG that flew by. □ The kids were mooning, and they got arrested for indecent exposure.

moonier 1. n. a drunkard. (From moonshine.) □ This old moonier from up in the hills wandered into town last Friday and died in the town square. □ There must be dozens of mooners who beg in town in the day and drink in the woods at night. 2. n. an idler who stares at the moon. □ If he ever outgrows being a moonier, he may be all right. □ I feel like a moonier tonight. There is nothing better to do.

moonlight 1. n. illicit liquor; moonshine. □ Where's that bottle of moonlight you used to keep under the counter? □ How about a sip of moonlight? 2. in. to traffic in illicit liquor. (Best done under the cover of darkness.) □ He moonlighted during prohibition. □ Jed was moonlight- ing around the clock. 3. in. to work at a second job. □ Larry had to moonlight to earn enough to feed his family. □ A lot of people have to moonlight to make ends meet.

moonlight requisition n. a nighttime theft. (Military. See also liberate.) □ It took a moonlight requisition to get the medicine we needed. □ They got the spare part on a moonlight requisition.

moonlit mod. alcohol intoxicated, with moonshine. □ He's on the jug again. See, he's all moonlit. □ He's too moonlit to drive.

moonrock n. a form of crack that contains heroin. □ Max was caught with a supply of moonrock on him. □ He was trying to start the little kids out on moonrock.

moonshine 1. n. nonsense; humbug. □ That's just moonshine! I don't believe a word. □ He's a master at moonshine. 2. n. homemade whiskey; any cheap or inferior liquor. □ This moonshine isn't the best you've made. □ Moonshine is supposed to be strong, not good. 3. in. to distill or traffic in illicit liquor. (See also moonshiner.) □ Yeah, I moonshine a little. So what? □ You would be amazed at how much people moonshine back in the hills.

moonshiner n. a maker of moonshine. □ Moonshiners in the Georgia hills are using sophisticated electronic warning systems to keep one step ahead of the feds. □ I have an uncle who was a moonshiner for a while.

moose n. a Japanese girlfriend; any girlfriend. (Crude. Military.) □ She's my moose, and you'd better remember it! □ She's one fine moose, if you ask me.

mop [map] 1. n. a drinking bout. □ She is off somewhere on another mop. □ This mop lasted about a day and a half. 2. n. a heavy drinker; a drunkard. □ The guy's a mop. There is nothing you can do till he decides he's had enough. □ The mops hang out here looking for handouts. 3. n. hair; a hairdo. □ How do you like my new mop? □ Why don't you comb that mop?

mope [mop] 1. n. a tired and ineffectual person. □ I can't afford to pay mopes around here. Get to work or get out! □ I feel like such a mope today. 2. AND mope around in. to move around slowly and sadly. □ I feel like moping and nothing else. □ He just mopes around all day and won't eat anything.

mope around Go to mope.

mopped AND moppy mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Jack was a little moppy to be driving. □ He's not mopped; he's sloshed.

mopping-up operation n. a clean-up operation; the final stages in a project where the loose ends are taken care of. □ It's all over except a small mopping-up operation. □ The mopping-up operation should cost just under twenty million.

moppy Go to mopped.

mop the floor up with someone AND wipe the floor up with someone tv. to beat someone to a pulp. (Also with other verbs: clean, dust, etc.) □ One more crack like that, and I'll have Sam wipe the floor up with you. □ Bruno's job is dusting up the floor with people who don't wipe off their feet before coming in.

more than one bargained for n. (getting) more than one expected. □ This is certainly more than I bargained for! □ Trouble and more trouble. I'm getting more than I bargained for when I took the job.

the morning after (the night before) n. a hangover. □ Do worries about the morning after keep you from having a good time at parties? □ She's suffering from the morning after the night before.

mossback ['mɒsbæk] n. an old square; a stick in the mud. □ Walter, you are such an old mossback. □ I enjoy appearing to be a mossback. People expect so little from you.

the most n. something that is the best. □ This noodle stuff is the most, Mom! □ Sally is the most! Can she dance!

mother 1. n. marijuana. (Drugs. See also mother nature(s).) □ She grows her own mother in a pot in her room. □ This mother is way rad! 2. n. a drug dealer;

one's own drug dealer upon whom one depends. (Drugs.) ☐ Sam is my mother.
☐ If you can't trust your mother, who can you trust?

mother nature(s) n. marijuana. (Drugs.) ☐ No chemicals for me. I find that mother nature is everything I need. ☐ See if you can get some of mother nature's.

motion-lotion n. gasoline; motor fuel. (Citizens band radio.) ☐ Let's stop up ahead for some motion-lotion. ☐ I'm about out of motion-lotion.

motor in. to depart. ☐ Well, let's motor, you guys. It's getting late. ☐ I've got to motor. It's a long walk home.

motor-mouth Go to ratchet-mouth.

Motown ['motaʊn] n. motor town, Detroit, Michigan. ☐ Have you ever been to Motown? ☐ We went to Motown to buy a car once.

(mountain) dew 1. n. Scotch whiskey. ☐ Mountain dew is best when it's from the old country. ☐ The real mountain dew is smoky-tasting and amber. 2. n. illicit liquor; any liquor. ☐ Mountain dew is what I want. As long as it's not store bought. ☐ My pappy made his own mountain dew.

mouse potato n. someone who spends a great amount of time using a computer. (Based on couch potato.) ☐ Every since we got the new computer, Jane has turned into a regular mouse potato.

a mouth 1. n. a hangover. ☐ I've got quite a mouth this morning. I guess I overdid it. ☐ What a mouth! It tastes like a bird slept in it! 2. Go to mouth(piece).

mouth-breather n. a stupid-acting person. ☐ I always end up with a mouth-breather on a blind date. ☐ Who's the mouth-breather with Fred?

mouthful 1. n. a true statement. ☐ You said a mouthful, and I agree. ☐ That is a mouthful, and I know it took courage to say it. 2. n. a tirade. ☐ Paul really gave me a mouthful. I didn't know I hurt his feelings. ☐ She sure had a mouthful to say to you!

mouth full of South n. a southern accent. ☐ You sure do have a mouth full of South. ☐ I just love to hear a man with a mouth full of South.

mouth off 1. in. to give (someone) back talk. ☐ If you mouth off, I will ground you for three weeks. ☐ Don't mouth off at me, buster! 2. in. to speak out of turn. ☐ Don't just mouth off. Wait your turn. ☐ Hold up your hand. I won't deal with people who mouth off.

mouth(piece) n. a lawyer specializing in criminal cases. (Underworld.) ☐ The guy hired a mouthpiece and beat the rap. ☐ I won't answer anything without my mouth right here by me.

mouthwash n. liquor; a drink of liquor. ☐ I could use a shot of that mouthwash. ☐ You could use a little mouthwash after that long trip, I bet.

move on someone in. to attempt to pick up someone; to attempt to seduce someone. (Collegiate.) ☐ Don't try to move on my date, old chum. ☐ Harry is trying to move on Tiffany. They deserve each another.

movers and shakers n. people who get things done; organizers and managers. ☐ The movers and shakers in this firm haven't exactly been working overtime. ☐ Who are the movers and shakers around here?

movies n. a case of diarrhea. ☐ A case of the movies kept me going all night. ☐ I can't go too far from the little boys' room. I got the movies.

mow one's lawn Go to mow the lawn.

mow the lawn AND mow one's lawn tv. comb one's hair. ☐ I'll be with you as soon as I mow the lawn. ☐ You better mow your lawn if you're goin' out with me.

moxie ['maksɪ] n. energy; spunk; spirit. ☐ Now here's a gal with real moxie. ☐ Come on. Show some moxie!

Mr. Big n. an important man; the boss man. ☐ So you're Mr. Big. I thought you'd be taller. ☐ The office suite of Acme's Mr. Big was cold and ostentatious, as was its occupant.

MRE n. meals ready to eat, prepackaged food used by the armed forces in combat. (Also reinterpreted as meals rejected by Ethiopians; meals rejected by the enemy.) □ Where is my MRE? I'm tired of living.

Mr. Hawkins n. the winter wind. (Originally black. See also hawk.) □ We have an appointment with Mr. Hawkins in January. □ Put something on your head, or Mr. Hawkins will cut you down.

Mr. Nice Guy n. a friendly, forgiving fellow. □ You'll find that I am Mr. Nice Guy as long as you play fair with me. □ Oh, my boss is Mr. Nice Guy. He'll let me off, I'm sure.

Mr. Right n. the one man who is right for a woman. □ Some day Mr. Right will come along and sweep you off your feet. □ I'm tired of waiting for Mr. Right. Where is Mr. Maybe?

Mrs. Murphy n. a bathroom. □ Whose turn is it at Mrs. Murphy's? □ When will Mrs. Murphy be free?

Mr. Whiskers AND Uncle Whiskers; whiskers (man) n. a federal agent. (Underworld. From the whiskers of Uncle Sam.) □ Mr. Whiskers is trying to get me to pay tax on those few bucks. □ Mr. Whiskers is on our tail. Let's blow town.

MT n. an empty bottle. (Initialism.) □ Put your MTs in the garbage. □ Here's another MT for your collection.

mu n. marijuana. (Drugs.) □ This mu is stale. □ Are mu and bu the same thing?

mucho ['mutʃo] mod. very. (Spanish.) □ This is a mucho happy young man. □ We are mucho disgusted with your performance.

muck something up tv. to mess something up; to ruin something. □ Try not to muck it up this time. □ You seem to have mucked up this one, too.

mudbud n. homegrown marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Mudbud, hell! It's garbage. □ If you sell your mudbud, you're a pusher!

muddled (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I've had a little too much muddler, I think.

Anyway, I'm muddled. □ Larry is too muddled up to drive.

muddler n. liquor. □ I've had a little too much muddler, I think. Anyway, I'm muddled. □ Let's stop here for some muddler.

mud duck n. an ugly person. □ Sam is a real mud duck, but the women seem to like him.

mug 1. n. the face. (Crude.) □ Wipe that smile off your mug! □ What a gorgeous mug! 2. n. a thug; a goon. (Underworld.) □ Call off your mugs. I'll come peacefully. □ Sam is just another one of the mugs from the mob. 3. tv. to attack and rob someone. □ Somebody jumped out of an alley and tried to mug me. □ Some punk mugged Mrs. Lopez last night.

mugger n. someone, usually a male, who attacks and robs people. □ I clobbered the mugger with a tire iron I carry just for such occasions. □ The muggers have the downtown almost to themselves after dark.

muggy ['mægi] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ George is just a little muggy. It doesn't take much anymore. □ I'm too muggy to drive.

mug shot n. a photograph of one's face taken for police records. (Underworld.) □ I'm going to have to ask you to come down to the station and go through some mug shots. □ How can a professional photographer take a portrait that looks like a mug shot?

mule n. someone who delivers or smuggles drugs for a drug dealer. (Drugs.) □ The jerks use a twelve-year-old kid for a mule! □ A car drove by, and suddenly the mule was riddled with machine gun bullets.

munchies 1. Go to (blind) munchies. 2. n. snacks, such as potato chips; any casual food. □ What kind of munchies are we going to have? □ The munchies at the party were great!

munchkin ['mʌntʃkən] n. a small or insignificant person. □ You're not going to let that munchkin push you around, are you? □ Who is the munchkin holding the clipboard?

munch out in. to eat ravenously. (Drugs. See also pig out.) □ I had to munch out after the party. I can't imagine why. □ I can munch out for no reason at all.

mung 1. AND MUNG [mʌŋ] n. something that is mashed until no good; anything nasty or gloppy. (An acronym, but possibly a coinage before it became an acronym.) □ Get this mung off my plate. □ This mung is cruel and unusual punishment. I demand to see the warden. 2. tv. to ruin something. □ You munged my car! □ Look at it! You munged it!

mung something up tv. to mess something up. □ Don't mung it up this time. □ The team munged up the play, and the coach blasted them but good.

mungy ['mʌŋi] 1. mod. gloppy; messy. □ Get that mungy stuff off my plate! □ The spaghetti was cold and mungy by the time it was served. 2. mod. having to do with an oily feeling of the face of a person who has taken LSD. (Drugs.) □ I feel so mungy after I take the stuff. Yuck! □ I can do without the mungy feeling and the flashbacks.

murder AND slaughter tv. to overwhelm; to beat someone in a sports contest. □ The other team murdered us. □ We went out on the field prepared to slaughter them.

murphy ['mɜːfi] 1. n. a potato. □ I spent half my tour of duty peeling murphies. □ Look, this murphy looks like my mother-in-law. 2. n. a breast. (Crude. Usually plural. Usually objectionable.) □ Look at the murphies on that dame! □ She stood about six feet tall and was turned in the light so her murphies stood out in silhouette.

musclehead n. a stupid man; a man who has muscle where there should be brains. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Look, musclehead, do exactly what I tell you! □ An overstuffed musclehead waddled over and offered to bend me in half if I didn't beat it.

muscleman 1. n. a strong bully; a goon. (Underworld.) □ Bruno is a muscleman for the kingpin of a local drug ring. □ Tell your muscleman to lay off. 2. n. a man who builds muscles through bodybuilding exercises. □ That muscleman doesn't have a single ounce of fat on him. □ Being a muscleman requires most of your time.

mush 1. n. nonsense. □ What mush! Come on, talk straight! □ That's just mush. Don't believe it. 2. n. romance; lovemaking; kissing. □ I can't stand movies with lots of mush in them. □ When an actor looks at an actress like that, you just know that there's gonna be some mush. 3. n. one's face. (Crude.) □ Put some paint on your mush, and let's get going. □ With a mush like that, you ought to be in pictures. Maybe another King Kong remake.

mushhead n. a stupid person. □ Oh, good grief, I'm such a mushhead! □ Who is the mushhead in the cowboy boots?

mushmouth n. a person who does not or cannot speak clearly. □ Don't be a mushmouth. Talk plainly. □ How can a mushmouth like that get a job reading news on network television?

musical beds n. acts of sexual promiscuity; sleeping with many people. (From the name of the game musical chairs.) □ Mary has been playing musical beds for about a year. □ She thinks that playing musical beds is the way to get ahead.

must Go to (must) do.

a (must) do AND must n. something that someone ought to do. □ Seeing the Eiffel tower is a must do in Paris. □ This is a do when you're in town.

mutant n. a total jerk; a social outcast. (Also a term of address.) □ Sam, you act like such a mutant! □ Hey, mutant! Get out of the way!

My bad. phr. It's my fault and I'm sorry. □ My bad. It won't happen again.

my dawg Go to my dog.

my dog AND my dawg n. my friend; my "pet" and companion. □ Jane's my dawg. We cruise together. □ Hey, my dog. Wuzup?

My foot! exclam. I do not believe it!; Like hell! (An exclamation of contradiction.)

□ You're the best in town, my foot! □ She's going to marry you? My foot!

My mama didn't raise no dummy. sent. I'm not stupid. □ Sure I know the difference between good and bad. My mama didn't raise no dummy.

my man n. my brother or buddy. (Originally black.) □ This is my man Sam who's gonna show you how to boogie. □ Come on, my man, we have to be taking care of business.

MYOB. tv. Mind your own business. □ This doesn't concern you. MYOB.

mystery meat n. any unidentified meat. (Collegiate.) □ What is the mystery meat tonight? □ There are no hints as to what this mystery meat is—except its strange pinkish color.

mystic biscuit n. a chunk of peyote cactus. (Drugs.) □ Wally thought he got a piece of mystic biscuit, but it was just a moldy raisin. □ Bart was selling mystic biscuit to the college kids.

my tenda n. my sweetheart; my lover. (My tender one.) □ Come here, my tenda. I want some kissing.

N

nab [næb] 1. tv. to arrest someone. (See also nabbed.) □ They nabbed Tom with a stolen watch on him. □ I knew they would nab him sooner or later. 2. AND nabber n. a police officer; a cop. □ The nabs got him, and he had the evidence on his person. □ There's a nabber at the door who wants to talk to you.

nabbed mod. caught by the police; arrested. □ He got nabbed last night with a stolen watch on him. □ She's down at the police station. She's nabbed.

nabber Go to nab.

nabe [neb] 1. n. a neighborhood; one's own neighborhood. □ I can't wait to get back to my own nabe. □ Hey, man, welcome back to the old nabe! 2. n. a neighborhood theater. □ Do I have to go downtown to see that movie, or is it playing at the nabes yet? □ Why drive all the way out there when you can see it at the nabe for half the cost?

nada ['nada] n. nothing; none. (Spanish.) □ I asked him, but he didn't say nada. □ The score was nada to nada.

nads n. the testicles. (From gonads.) □ He got hit in the nads in the football game.

nag 1. tv. to pester someone constantly. □ Stop nagging me! □ I'll nag him until he remembers on his own. 2. n. a worn-out horse. □ I bet a week's pay on that nag. Look what happened! □ The cowboy came riding into town on an old gray nag.

nail 1. tv. to arrest someone. (See also nailed.) □ The cops nailed him right in his own doorway. □ "I'm gonna nail you," said the officer. 2. Go to coffin nail. 3. tv. to identify someone. □ They nailed him from his picture. □ The officer nailed nailed 1. mod. correctly identified. □ The thugs sure got nailed fast. □ The killer was nailed with the help of the FBI. 2. mod. arrested. (See also nail.) □ Okay, chum. You are nailed. Let's go. □ Why am I nailed? I didn't do anything.

Freddy, thanks to the description the victim provided.

nail-em-and-jail-em AND nailer n. the police in general; a police officer. □ The nailers caught Freddy last night. □ Old nail-em-and-jail-em is going to be knocking at your door any day now.

nailer Go to nail-em-and-jail-em.

nail someone('s hide) to the wall Go to nail someone to a cross.

nail someone to a cross AND nail someone('s hide) to the wall tv. to punish or scold someone severely. (Literally, to crucify someone or to nail someone's skin to the wall like that of a captured animal.) □ That guy was really mad. He really nailed you to a cross. □ She must hate your guts. She sure nailed your hide to the wall.

naked mod. undiluted; having to do with neat liquor, especially gin. (See also raw.) □ No ice, please. I want mine naked. □ Give me a naked whisky, if you don't mind.

naked truth n. the complete, unembellished truth. □ Sorry to put it to you like this, but it's the naked truth. □ I can take it. Just tell me the naked truth.

Nam n. Vietnam. □ How long were you in Nam? □ Things were pretty bad in Nam.

namby-pamby ['næmbi'pæmbi] mod. overly nice; effeminate and weak, when said of a male. □ Fred is too namby-pamby when it comes to making up his mind. □ A real namby-pamby guy. □ What a namby-pamby guy!

the name of the game n. the way things are; the way things can be expected to be. □ The name of the game is money, money, money. □ I can't help it. That's the name of the game.

Name your poison. sent. State what you want to drink. (Refers to alcoholic drinks only.) □ Okay, friend, name your poison. □ Step up to the bar and name your poison.

narc Go to nark.

narc(o) [nɑrk AND 'nɑrko] 1. n. a narcotic. (See also nark.) □ She's been taking narcs. □ How long has he been on narcs? 2. mod. having to do with narcotics. □ Does he have a narc problem? □ She is a narco officer. 3. n. a federal narcotics agent; any narcotics enforcement officer. □ The narcs caught him. □ There is a narco at our school.

nark AND narc [nɑrk] 1. n. a police informer. □ Fred is a nark. He squealed. □ I'm going to get that narc for squealing. 2. in. to inform (on someone) to the police; to squeal. (Often with on.) □ Don't nark on me! □ All right. Who narked? 3. tv. to annoy someone. (See also narked.) □ Stop narking me! □ Why are you always narking someone? 4. n. any unpleasant person. □ Tell that narc to get lost. □ Stop being such a narc. Beat it!

narked [nɑrkt] mod. annoyed. (Usually with at or with.) □ He's really narked at us. □ She is narked with you and your car.

narky ['nɑrki] n. a narcotic drug. □ They caught him with a lot of narky in his pockets. □ The mugger wanted money to buy some narky.

narly Go to (g)narly.

narrow squeak n. a success almost not achieved; a lucky or marginal success; a problem almost not surmounted. □ That was a narrow squeak. I don't know how I survived. □ Another narrow squeak like that and I'll give up.

natch [nætʃ] interj. yes; naturally. □ I guess it's okay. She said natch. □ Natch, you can borrow my car.

natural n. someone with obvious natural talent. □ That guy is a natural! □ Can she ever dance! What a natural!

natural-born mod. born with talent or skill. □ She is really a natural-born dancer. □ Mary is a natural-born artist.

nature's call AND call of nature n. the feeling of a need to go to the toilet. □ I think I feel nature's call coming on. □ A call of nature forced us to stop along the way.

nature stop n. a stop to use the toilet, especially during road travel. (Euphemistic.) □ I think I need a nature stop when it's convenient. □ I left my comb back at the last nature stop.

nause someone out tv. to nauseate someone. □ That horrible smell really nauseates me out. □ Things like that nause me out, too.

naw interj. no. □ Naw, I didn't do that. □ Naw, I won't go.

nay mod. ugly; unfavorable. (From nasty.) □ She is really nay. □ What a nay thing to say.

NBD interj. no big deal. (Initialism.) □ Don't worry. NBD. □ So you're a little late. NBD.

NBT n. no big thing. (Initialism.) □ Hey, man! Don't make a fuss! It's NBT. □ Listen up, Fred. This is NBT, but listen anyway.

neanderthal [ni'ændəθəl] n. a large and ugly male. □ Tell that neanderthal to get out of here. □ Tom, don't act like such a neanderthal.

near-beer n. beer with less than 1/2 percent alcohol content. (Originally from the Prohibition era.) □ I read in the paper that near-beer is making a comeback. □ You can drink a lot of near-beer without getting drunk.

neat 1. mod. great; cool; fine. □ What a neat idea! □ That was not a very neat thing to do. 2. exclam. Wow! (Usually Neat! □ Neat! I'm glad you came. □ Five of them! Neat!

neato (canito) ['nito (kə'nito)] exclam. really fine. □ Look at this! Neato canito! □ What a great present. Neato!

neb(bish) ['neb(ɪʃ)] n. a dull person; a jerk. (From Yiddish.) □ Tracy is such a nebbish. Why doesn't she just give up? □ You are such a neb!

Nebraska sign n. a flat EEG indicating the death of the patient being monitored. (See also flatline. Medical.) □ The lady in 203 is giving the Nebraska sign. I think she's boxed. □ I saw the Nebraska sign on my monitor, and knew it must not be hooked up right.

the necessary n. money; an income. □ I can always use more of the necessary. □ I gotta have more of the necessary, man.

neck in. to cuddle and kiss. (Always in reference to lovers or boy-girl relationships.) □ There are some teenagers in the back room, necking. □ Let's go somewhere quiet and neck.

neck and neck mod. almost even. (See also nip and tuck.) □ The horses were neck and neck at the finish line. □ They ran neck and neck for the entire race.

needle tv. to annoy someone. □ Tom is always needling Frank. □ Stop needling me!

needle candy n. narcotics that are taken by injection. (Drugs. See also nose (candy).) □ Max likes needle candy best of all. □ Some people prefer needle candy to food.

negative n. any drawback or bad thing about someone or something. □ There are too many negatives associated with your plan. □ I know another negative you didn't mention.

negatory mod. no; negative. □ Q: Are you going to leave now? A: Negatory.

nerd AND nurd [nɜːd] n. a dull and bookish person, usually a male. □ Fred can be such a nerd! □ That whole gang of boys is just a bunch of nurds.

nerd magnet n. a girl or woman who attracts dull males. □ Oh, Kim, sometimes

I feel like such a nerd magnet. □ Sally is weary of dating total drips. She is a classic nerd magnet.

nerd mobile n. a full-sized, uninteresting car; a family car. □ My father always buys some kind of stupid nerd mobile. □ There is nothing but nerd mobiles on our block.

nerd pack n. a plastic sheath for holding pens in a pocket, protecting the cloth from ink. (This is the classic symbol of a bookish nerd.) □ A lot of engineers have nerd packs. □ A real nerd wears a nerd pack in the pocket of a dirty shirt.

nerds Go to nurts.

nervous Nellie n. any nervous person, male or female. □ Sue is such a nervous Nellie. She should calm down. □ Relax! Don't be such a nervous Nellie.

nerve 1. mod. nervous. □ Mary is so nervy. Anything will set her off. □ Now, don't get nervy. 2. mod. daring; courageous. □ What a nervy guy! □ Don't get nervy with me!

nest egg n. money saved for some important purpose, such as retirement. □ I lost most of my nest egg in the market crash. □ It takes years to build up a nest egg.

net result n. the final result after all the assets and liabilities have balanced out. □ The net result was that I was fired. □ I don't care about the little things. What is the net result?

never mind phr. Forget it.; It doesn't matter anymore. □ Never mind. I forget what I was going to say. □ Oh, never mind. Nobody really cares anyway.

newshound n. a newspaper reporter who pursues a story with the same diligence used by a bloodhound. □ If the newshounds get hold of this story, we'll never have any peace. □ Tell that newshound that I'll sue her if she prints that!

newt n. a stupid person; a dull and uninteresting person. □ Look, you silly newt, you are wrong! □ Don't act like such a newt.

New York's finest n. a New York City police officer. □ One of New York's finest gave me a parking ticket. □ Three of New York's finest were standing there at my door with my lost dog.

nibble 1. n. a cautious or preliminary response to something. (See also nybble.) □ My advertisement got three nibbles this morning. □ We will see if anyone else gives it a nibble. 2. in. to reply cautiously or tentatively to something. □ Someone nibbled at your want ad. □ I hope someone who wants to buy my car nibbles at the description I posted on the Internet.

nice meeting you tv. it is nice to have met you. (Said when leaving someone whose acquaintance you have just made.) □ I must go now, Fred. Nice meeting you. □ Well, nice meeting you. I must get home now.

nice talking to you in. it's been pleasant, good-bye. (A leave taking formula, sometimes with an air of dismissal.) □ Do tell. Well, nice talking to you. □ Nice talking to you. Call my service.

nick 1. tv. to arrest someone. (See also nicked.) □ The cops nicked Paul outside his house. □ They are going to nick Joe, too. 2. tv. to steal something. □ The thugs nicked a couple of apples from the fruit stand. □ Don't ever nick anything! Do you hear me? 3. tv. to get or take something. □ Would you please nick me a slice of bread? □ Tom nicked a copy of the test for Sam, who also needed one.

nicked mod. arrested. □ Paul was nicked last night. □ "Now I'm nicked," he said.

nickel and dime someone (to death) tv. to make numerous small monetary charges that add up to a substantial sum. □ Those waiters nickel and dined me to death. □ Just give me the whole bill at one time. Don't nickel and dime me for days on end.

nifty mod. neat; smart. □ That is a pretty nifty car you have there. □ Yes, it is nifty.

night person n. a person who prefers to be active in the nighttime. (The plural is with people. Compare this with day person.) □ I can't function in the morning. I'm strictly a night person. □ Night people prefer to sleep in the daytime.

nimrod ['nimrad] n. a simpleton; a nerd. □ Susan is a total nimrod. She does such dumb things! □ What stupid nimrod left the lid off the cottage cheese?

nineteenth hole n. a place to buy an alcoholic beverage after a golf game. (Likely to be filled with golfers who have played eighteen holes of golf.) □ All off us gathered at the nineteenth hole to celebrate a great match. □ I hit a hole-in-one on the first hole and went straight to the nineteenth hole to celebrate.

nine-to-five mod. typical in terms of working hours; structured and scheduled, starting and ending at set times. (From the expression from nine to five, normal working hours.) □ I work nine-to-five. □ I really wanted a nine-to-five job until I finally got one. □ I can't stand the nine-to-five rat race.

nip 1. n. a small, quick drink of liquor. □ Here, have a nip of this stuff. □ One nip is enough. That is powerful! 2. in. to take small drinks of liquor periodically. (See also nipped.) □ Paul has been nipping since noon. □ After nipping all day, Fred was pretty well stewed by dinnertime. 3. tv. to steal something. □ The thief nipped my purse. □ The punk kid nipped two candy bars from the drugstore.

nip and tuck mod. so close as to be almost the same; neck and neck. □ They ran nip and tuck all the way to the finish line, but Tom won the race. □ It was too close to call—nip and tuck all the way.

nipped mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also nip.) □ All four of them went out and got nipped. □ How can anybody be so nipped on four beers?

nippers n. handcuffs; leg fetters. □ The cops put the nippers on the crooks. □ No, not the nippers. They hurt my arms.

nippy mod. [of weather] cold. (A play on nippy [weather] and what such weather may do to the human nipples.) □ It's a little nippy out this morning.

niter ['naitɹi] n. a nightclub. □ We'll hit a few niteries and then come back to my place. □ There is a cheap niterie over on Twelfth Street where Chuck has a job.

nit-picker n. a person who is hypercritical. □ Mary is such a nit-picker. □ Nit-pickers drive me crazy.

nit-picking n. too much minor criticism; overly particular criticism; nagging. □ I am tired of all your nit-picking. □ Enough nit-picking! What are the major problems?

nitty-gritty ['nɪdi 'grɪdi] n. the essence; the essential points. (Usually in get down to the nitty-gritty.) □ What's the nitty-gritty about the broken window? □ Once we are down to the nitty-gritty, we can begin to sort things out.

nitwit n. someone who behaves stupidly. (Also a term of address.) □ You are such a nitwit! □ Please stop acting like a nitwit all the time.

nix [nɪks] (All senses from German nichts.)

1. interj. no. □ The man said nix, and he means nix. □ Nix, I won't do it. 2. exclam. No!; Stop it!; I disagree! (Usually Nix!) □ Nix! I won't do it. □ "Nix," said Paul. "I can't permit that." 3. n. nothing. □ What did I get for all my trouble? Nix! □ I got nix for a tip. And after I was so helpful! 4. tv. to put a stop to something; to say no to something; to ban something; to turn something down. □ The boss nixed my plan. □ I wanted to say a certain word in my speech, but the management nixed it.

no-account 1. mod. worthless; no-good. □ Her uncle is a no-account gambler. □ She is a no-account part-time dealer at the casino. 2. n. a worthless person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Ask that no-account to come over here and explain himself. □ Look, you no-account! Take your problems and go away!

no bargain n. not an especially good person or thing. □ Fred is okay, but he's no bargain. □ This car gets me to work and back, but it's no bargain.

no big deal AND no biggie; no big whoop n. (something) not difficult or troublesome. (See also NBT.) □ Don't worry. It's no big deal. □ No problem. It's no biggie.

no biggie Go to no big deal.

no big whoop Go to no big deal.

a nobody n. an insignificant person. (Compare this with somebody.) □ Don't pay any attention to him. He's just a nobody. □ That silly girl is a nobody and a pest.

no-brainer n. an easy question that takes no thinking to answer; a simple problem that requires no intellect to solve; a dilemma that requires no pondering to resolve. □ Of course, the question is a no-brainer. The answer has to be yes. □ His proposal of marriage was a no-brainer. She turned him down flat on the spot.

no brand cigarette Go to cigarette with no name.

no-brow n. a stupid person. (Patterned on lowbrow.) □ Sam is a complete no-brow. No culture, no sense of style, and no money. □ Bart is a total drip. No-brow and a phony.

no can do phr. It can't be done.; I can't do it. □ Sorry. No can do. □ Lend you $200? No can do.

nodded out mod. in heroin euphoria; under the influence of heroin. (Drugs.) □ Max nodded out after his fix. □ He is upstairs nodded out.

no dice interj. no; not possible. □ When I asked about a loan, he said, No dice. □ No. It can't be done, no dice.

no earthly reason n. no conceivable reason. □ There is no earthly reason for your behavior. □ I can think of no earthly reason why the repairs should cost so much.

no end of something n. an endless supply of something. □ Have some candy. I have no end of chocolate drops. □ I've had no end of trouble ever since I bought this car.

No fair! exclam. That's not fair! □ No fair! I saw it first! □ That's no fair! We paid full price to see this movie.

no go ['no 'go] mod. negative; inopportune. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ We're in a no-go situation. □ Is it go or no go?

no-good 1. n. a worthless person. □ Tell that no-good to leave. □ The no-good is back again. 2. mod. worthless; bad. ☐ Get that no-good jerk out of here! ☐ I have never heard of such a no-good car dealer-ship before.

no-goodnik [no'gudnik] n. someone who is no good. (The nik is from Russian via Yiddish.) ☐ That no-goodnik is pestering me again. ☐ Tell the no-goodnik to leave quietly, or I will call the police.

no great shakes phr. someone or something not very good. (There is no affirmative version of this.) ☐ Your idea is no great shakes, but we'll try it anyway. ☐ Ted is no great shakes when it comes to brains.

no holds barred mod. without restriction. (There is no affirmative version of this.) ☐ I want you to get that contract. Do anything—no holds barred. ☐ Try anything that will work, no holds barred.

noid n. a paranoid person. ☐ Some of those noids write hilarious letters to the editor. ☐ Who's the noid screaming about Big Brother?

noise 1. n. empty talk; nonsense. ☐ I've had enough of your noise. Shut up! ☐ That's nothing but noise. I want the truth. 2. n. heroin. (Drugs.) ☐ Man, I need some noise now! I hurt! ☐ Bart is hooked on noise.

No kidding! exclam. I am not kidding.; You are not kidding (are you)? ☐ No kidding! I never thought she would do that. ☐ No kidding, he's really going to join the Air Force.

No lie! exclam. Honest!; No kidding! ☐ I really did it! No lie! ☐ I was there on time. No lie! Ask my sister.

no name cigarette Go to cigarette with no name.

non compos ['nan 'kampos] 1. mod. out of one's mind; non compos mentis. ☐ She is strictly non compos! ☐ Don't pay any attention to her. She's non compos. 2. AND non compos poopoo mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ That gal isn't just drunk. She's non compos poopoo. ☐ Two glasses and he was non compos.

non compos poopoo Go to non compos.

none of someone's beeswax [...'biz-wæks] n. none of someone's business. ☐ It's none of your beeswax. I'm not telling. ☐ You'll never know. The answer is none of your beeswax.

no-no ['nono] n. something that is not (to be) done. (Essentially juvenile.) ☐ You can't smoke in here. That's a no-no. ☐ She seems to delight in doing all the no-nos.

No nukes! ['no 'nuks OR 'no 'njuks] exclam. a cry against nuclear energy, weapons, submarines, etc. ☐ The marchers kept chanting, "No nukes! No nukes!" ☐ No nukes! Make my electricity the old-fashioned way.

noodge Go to nudge.

noodle n. (one's) head. ☐ That's using your noodle. ☐ Put your hat on your noodle, and let's go.

noogie n. a painful rubbing of someone's scalp with the knuckles. ☐ Bob gave Bill a noogie and Bill punched him in the gut.

nope interj. no. ☐ I won't do it! Nope. I won't! ☐ She asked him to do it, but he said, "Nope."

No problem. AND No prob.; NP phr. All is well.; There is no problem, so don't worry or fret. (Often said after someone else says I'm sorry.) ☐ A: Gee! I'm sorry! B: No prob.

no sale interj. no. ☐ I wanted to go to Florida for the holidays, but my father said, "No sale." ☐ No sale. You can't do it.

nose-burner AND nose-warmer n. a marijuana cigarette stub; a roach. (Drugs.) ☐ Hey, man! Can I have a hit of that little nose-burner? ☐ The cops found a nose-warmer under the chair.

nose (candy) n. powdered drugs that are inhaled, primarily cocaine, sometimes heroin. (Drugs. See also needle candy.) ☐ Bart has some nose candy for sale. ☐ Hey, man! Where can I get some nose?

nosedive n. a great drop; a great decline. (As with a bird or an airplane diving—nose first—toward the ground. See also take a nosedive.) ☐ This year our prof- its have taken a nosedive. □ Confidence in the government took a sudden nosedive.

nose habit n. an addiction to sniffed drugs, usually heroin or cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Bart is suffering with his nose habit. □ One sniff of that white powder and she'll get a nose habit, for sure.

nose hit n. marijuana smoke taken through the nose from the burning end of the cigarette. (Drugs.) □ Bart likes to take nose hits. □ Come on, Bart. Give me a nose hit!

nose job n. a plastic surgery operation to change the appearance of one's nose. □ How much does a nose job cost? □ I don't want a nose job. What I got is good enough.

nose-lunger ['nozlŋə] n. a mass of nasal mucus. (See also lunger.) □ Wayne blew a nose-lunger onto the wall and giggled. □ Beavis thought the funniest thing in the world was having a nose-lunger dangling from his chin.

nose-warmer 1. n. a short tobacco pipe. □ Fred smokes a nose-warmer, especially in the winter. □ His nose-warmer almost set his mustache on fire once. 2. Go to nose-burner.

nosh [nɑʃ] 1. n. a snack. (From German via Yiddish.) □ How about a little nosh? □ I don't want a nosh. I need a whole meal. 2. in. to snack. □ You nosh too much. □ Every time I see you, you're noshing.

nosher ['nɑʃə] n. someone who is always eating snacks. (See also nosh.) □ I don't know of a single nosher who's not fat. □ Fred's a nosher. He's always eating.

No Shinola! [...ʃaɪ'nɒlə] exclam. You are kidding! No shit! (A play on the expression indicating that a stupid person doesn't know shit from Shinola. Shinola is a brand of shoe polish.) □ So taxes are too high? No Shinola! □ He's late again? No Shinola!

No shit! exclam. You are kidding me, aren't you! (Usually objectionable.) □ You're really gonna do it? No shit! □ No shit! She let you go all the way?

nosh on something ['nɑʃ...] in. to make a snack of something. □ After Thanks- giving, we noshed on turkey for three days. □ Who's been noshing on the chocolate cake?

no show AND no-show n. someone who doesn't show up for something, such as an airline flight. □ The flight was cancelled because there were too many no-shows. □ I have never been a no show, but my brother does it all the time.

no soap interj. no. □ I can't do it. No soap. □ No soap, I don't lend anyone money.

no stress interj. no problem; no bother. □ Don't worry, man, no stress. □ Relax. No stress. It doesn't bother me at all.

no sweat interj. no problem; Don't worry; it is no problem. □ It's no big deal. No sweat. □ No sweat, don't fret about it.

nosy parker ['nozi 'pɑrkə] n. a nosy person. (Also a term of address.) □ Mary can be such a nosy parker. □ Look, you nosy parker, mind your own business.

Not! interj. Not really so! (A tag phrase added to the end of a statement, changing it from affirmative to negative. There is usually a pause before Not!, which is said on a level pitch somewhat higher than the sentence that comes before.) □ Of course I'm going to pay $100 a ticket to see a rock concert. Not! □ I am deeply in love with Kim. Not!

not a chance interj. no. □ Me lend you money? Not a chance! □ I won't go, not a chance. Don't ask.

not all that phr. not all that much. (Streets.) □ A: She can run like the wind. B: She can run fast but not all that. □ We are almost as good as you say, but not all that.

not all there mod. crazy; stupid acting. □ Tom's not all there. Really dense. □ You can't depend on Paul for much help. He's really not all there.

notch tv. to count up something; to add up or score something. □ Well, it looks like we notched another victory. □ The crooks notched one more theft before they were caught.

not cricket mod. unfair; illegitimate; unorthodox. (See affirmative examples at cricket.) □ You can't do that! It's not cricket! □ What do you mean it's not cricket? You do it.

not enough room to swing a cat tv. very crowded or cramped; [of a room] small, □ It's really crowded in here. Not enough room to swing a cat.

not grow on trees in. not to be abundant; not to be expendable. (Usually said about money.) □ I can't afford that. Money doesn't grow on trees, you know. □ Don't waste the glue. That stuff doesn't grow on trees, you know.

Nothing doing! exclam. No! □ Me, go to the opera? Nothing doing! □ Nothing doing! I refuse to do it.

Nothing to it! exclam. It is very easy! □ Look, anybody can do it! Nothing to it! □ Changing a light bulb is easy. Nothing to it!

nothing to sneeze at n. no small amount of money; something not inconsequential. □ It's not a lot of money, but it's nothing to sneeze at. □ She worked hard and did not accomplish much, but it's nothing to sneeze at.

nothing to write home about n. something small or inconsequential. □ I got a little bit of a raise this year, but it was nothing to write home about. □ The party was nothing to write home about.

nothing upstairs phr. no brains; stupid. □ Tom is sort of stupid acting. You know—nothing upstairs. □ I know what's wrong with you. Nothing upstairs.

not just whistling Dixie [...ˈdɪksi] tv. not talking nonsense. (Folksy. Refers to a song titled Dixie.) □ Man, you are right! You're not just whistling Dixie. □ When you say she is wrong, you're not just whistling Dixie.

not know beans (about something) tv. to know nothing about something. □ Don't pay any attention to her. She doesn't know beans. □ I don't know beans about fixing cars.

not know from nothing in. to be stupid, innocent, and naive. (Usually with don't, as in the examples. Always in the negative.) □ Tom don't know from nothing. He is really dense. □ Don't pay any attention to her. She don't know from nothing.

not know one's ass from a hole in the ground tv. not to be knowledgeable; not to be alert and effective. (Usually objectionable.) □ That stupid son of a bitch doesn't know his ass from a hole in the ground. □ She is so dumb, she doesn't know her ass from a hole in the ground.

not know shit about something tv. not to know anything about something. □ He doesn't know shit about women. □ You've worked here for a month, and you don't know shit about this job!

not know shit from Shinola tv. to know what's what; to be knowledgeable in the ways of the world. (See also No Shinola! Usually objectionable.) □ That jerk doesn't know shit from Shinola! Don't even ask him about it!

Not my dog. Go to (It's) not my dog.

not too shabby 1. mod. [with emphasis on shabby] nice; well done. □ Is that your car? Not too shabby! □ That play was not too shabby. 2. mod. [with emphasis on too] very shabby; very poor indeed. (Sarcastic.) □ Did you see that basket she missed? Not too shabby! □ What a way to treat someone. Not too shabby!

Not to worry. phr. Don't worry. □ You lost your ticket? Not to worry. I'll give you mine. □ Not to worry. Everything will be all right.

not worth a damn mod. worthless. □ This pen is not worth a damn. □ When it comes to keeping score, she's not worth a damn.

not worth a plugged nickel mod. worth little or nothing. □ This new battery is not worth a plugged nickel. □ Mary isn't worth a plugged nickel at baseball.

not worth beans mod. worthless. □ This paint is not worth beans. I'll have to buy another can. □ Sue, you're not worth beans as a painter.

No way! exclam. No! (Compare this with Way!) □ Me join the Army? No way! □ She can't do that. No way!

now generation n. the (once current) generation of young people who seemed to want only instant gratification. □ All those people in the now generation want to start out with fancy cars and nice houses. □ What will happen to the now generation when times are hard?

nowhere mod. bad; no good; dull. □ This place is really nowhere. Let's go. □ I want to get out of this nowhere party.

no-win situation n. a situation in which there is no hope of success. □ I find myself in a no-win situation again. □ The team—in a no-win situation—punted.

Now what? interrog. What is wrong now? □ I ran into the room and stopped in front of Tom. "Now what?" asked Tom. □ I see you standing there. Now what?

Now you're talking! exclam. What you are saying is making sense! □ Now you're talking! You've got a great idea! □ "Now you're talking!" said the coach when I told him I was going to win.

NP Go to No problem.

nudge AND noodge [nʊdʒ] 1. n. someone who nags. □ Sally can be such a nudge! □ I really can't stand a noodge. 2. in. to nag. □ Don't noodge all the time. □ Stop always noodging. 3. tv. to nag someone. □ Stop nudging me about that. □ I'll noodge him a little to remind him.

nudie ['nudi] n. a movie featuring nudes. (See also skin flick.) □ There is a nudie playing over at the Roxie Theater. □ I didn't know this movie was a nudie!

nudnik ['nʊdnɪk] n. a bore; a pest; a crank. (From Russian via Yiddish. Also a term of address.) □ Tell that nudnik to stay away from here. He is such a pest. □ Heidi can be such a nudnik!

nuggets n. the testicles. □ Man, my nuggets are cold! Let's hurry up and get back in the car. □ I know this kid with three nuggets—a pair and a spare.

nuke 1. n. a nuclear weapon. □ Are there nukes aboard that ship? □ The military establishment is working on a number of new nukes. 2. tv. to destroy someone or something. (As with a nuclear weapon.) □ Your cat ran through my garden and totally nuked my flowers! □ I'm going to nuke that cat the next time I see it. 3. tv. to microwave something. □ I have to nuke my dinner and then I will be right over. □ Let's nuke a bag of popcorn before we watch the movie you rented.

Nuke it! tv. Throw it away! □ You don't need this thing. Nuke it!

nuke oneself [n(j)uk...] tv. to tan oneself at a tanning salon. □ I nuke myself once a week in the spring so I will be ready for the summer bikini season. □ Leonard nuked himself in the middle of winter, and everyone thought he had been to Florida.

nuker ['n(j)ukə] n. a microwave oven. □ I tried to do a turkey in the nuker once and made a real mess of it. □ Who left the soggy bacon in the nuker?

numbed out mod. nearly paralyzed by phencyclidine (PCP). (Drugs.) □ The teenager was nearly numbed out when they brought her in. □ Bart was totally numbed out on angel dust.

A number 1 Go to A-1.

number 1. n. a girl or woman; a sexually attractive girl. □ Who is that cute little number I saw you with? □ She is really some number. 2. n. a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ Bart lit up a number just as the boss came in. □ Can I have a hit off your number? 3. n. any person or thing. □ This is an interesting little number. You attach it to your bicycle handlebars. □ Yes, Tom can be a strange number when he wants. 4. n. an act or performance; a performance specialty. □ Ann did her number and left the stage. □ I'll talk to you after my number.

number-cruncher 1. n. someone who works with figures; an accountant. □ The number-crunchers are trying to get the annual report ready. □ I enjoy being a number-cruncher. Math doesn't scare me. 2. n. a large and powerful computer. (Computers.) □ They traded in the old computer for a powerful number-cruncher. □ The small one is reserved for minor projects. The really big and important jobs are run on the number-cruncher.

number crunching n. using a computer to solve enormously complicated or complex mathematical problems. □ I don't do a lot of number crunching, so I don't need a terribly fast machine. □ I use the big mainframe computer for number crunching.

number one 1. mod. top rate; best; closest. (See also numero uno.) □ We heard the number one high school band in the whole state last night. □ This is my number one buddy, Tom. 2. n. oneself. □ I don't know who will pay for the broken window, but old number one isn't! □ Everything always comes back to number one. I have to solve everybody's problems. 3. n. urination; an act of urination. □ Jimmy made a mess in his pants. But don't worry. It's just number one.

number two n. defecation; an act of defecation. □ Mommy! I gotta do a number two. □ God, what's that smell? Number two?

numbnuts n. a jerk; a worthless person. (Usually a male.) □ Hey, numbnuts! What did you do that for?

numero uno ['numəʊ 'uno] 1. n. number one; the best. (Spanish. See also number one.) □ This coffee is numero uno in my book. □ Mary is numero uno in our office. You'll have to ask her. 2. n. oneself; number one. □ I always look out for numero uno. □ What's in it for numero uno?

nummy ['nəmi] tasty; yummy. (Also juvenile or baby talk.) □ This cake is just nummy. □ Here, Jimmy, don't you want a spoon of this nummy food?

nurd Go to nerd.

nurts AND nerts [nɜːts] 1. n. nonsense. □ Don't talk that kind of nurts to me! □ Oh, that's just nerts. I don't believe a word of it. 2. interj.  (Usually Nerts!; Nurts!.) □ Oh, nerts! I forgot my wallet. □ Nerts! I dropped my keys.

nut 1. n. an odd or strange person; a crazy person. □ Who is that nut over there in the corner? □ Some nut is going to try to fly from the top of one building to another. 2. n. (one's) head. □ A brick fell and hit him on the nut. □ The baseball came in fast. Clonk! Right on the nut! 3. n. an enthusiast (about something). □ Paul is a nut about chocolate cake. □ Mary is a party nut.

nutcake n. a stupid person. (See also fruitcake.) □ Stop acting like such a nutcake all the time. □ My sister can be a real nutcake if she tries.

nut factory Go to nuthouse.

nut-foundry Go to nuthouse.

nuthatch Go to nuthouse.

nuthouse AND nut factory; nut-foundry; nuthatch n. an insane asylum. □ The judge spent three years in the nuthouse. □ They're going to send you to the nut-foundry some day.

nutpick n. a psychoanalyst. □ Bill pays a nutpick about $100 an hour just to listen. □ What do you have to know to be a nutpick?

nuts 1. mod. crazy. □ You're nuts if you think I care. □ That whole idea is just nuts! 2. exclam. No!; I don't believe you!; I don't care! (Usually Nuts!) □ Nuts! You don't know what you are talking about. □ Oh, nuts! I forgot my wallet. 3. n. the testicles. (Usually objectionable.) □ Chuck got kneed in the nuts in a football game. □ She tried to kick him in the nuts, like she'd seen on television, but he turned too quickly.

nuts and bolts 1. n. the mundane workings of something; the basics of something. □ I want you to learn how to write well. You have to get down to the nuts and bolts of writing. □ She's got a lot of good, general ideas, but when it comes to the nuts and bolts of getting something done, she's no good. 2. n. the subject of psychology in college. □ I took a class in nuts and bolts and didn't learn anything at all about what makes me tick. □ Tom is flunking nuts and bolts because he won't participate in the required "experiments."

Nuts to you! exclam. Go away!; Drop dead!

□ Well, nuts to you! You are just plain rude! □ Nuts to you! I will NOT lend you money!

nutter n. a nutty person. □ Sally is such a nutter. She would forget her head if it wasn't screwed on. □ That guy is a real nutter. Thinks he can get a cab at this hour.

nuttery n. an insane asylum; the place where nuts are kept. (See also nut.) □ If you keep acting so odd, we'll have to put you in a nuttery. □ This place is a nuttery! I've never seen so many silly people.

nutty mod. silly; giddy; stupid. □ What a nutty idea! □ That's nutty! □ Mary is a real nutty girl, but she is my best friend.

nutty as a fruitcake mod. very silly or stupid. □ The whole idea is as nutty as a fruitcake. □ Tom is as nutty as a fruitcake. They will put him in a nuttery someday.

nut up in. to go crazy; to go nuts. □ I've got to have a vacation soon, or I'm going to nut up. □ Poor Sue nutted up and had to take it easy for a few months.

nybble ['nɪb] n. four bits of computer memory. (Literally, one half of a bite, i.e., a byte.) □ My program wouldn't work just because I had one silly little nybble wrong! □ You don't program a nybble! It's just half a byte.

oak(s) [oks] mod. OK; satisfactory; worthy. (Prisons.) □ That guy's oaks. □ This stuff is oak.

oasis [o'esəs] n. a place to buy liquor. □ Let's go into this oasis here and pick up a few bottles. □ There is an oasis on almost every corner in this district.

oater ['odə:] n. a Western movie. (From the oats that the horses eat. See also horse opera.) □ I don't want to see an oater. Isn't anything else showing? □ Let's go out and see a good old-fashioned oater.

ob [ab] mod. obvious. □ Of course I understand it. It's completely ob. □ It's pretty ob that you are just trying to start something.

obliterated mod. drunk. □ Fred was obliterated and couldn't walk to his car, let alone drive it. □ Three beers and Sally became obliterated.

obno(c) ['ab'nak AND 'abno] mod. obnoxious; disgusting. □ I wish you weren't so obnoc all the time! □ Beavis is totally obno, and he loves being that way.

occifer Go to ossifer.

OD 1. n. an overdose of a drug. (Initialism. Drugs.) □ Bart took an OD and was sent to the hospital. □ If you take an OD and no one is around, you may end up dead. 2. in. to purposely or accidentally give oneself a fatal dose of drugs. (Drugs.) □ Bart ODeD on heroin. □ I knew he would OD someday. 3. in. to die from an overdose of drugs. (Drugs.) □ Two kids at my school ODeD last weekend. □ I think Max may OD in a week or two. 4. n. a person who has taken an overdose of drugs. (Hospitals.) □ This OD has just stopped breathing. □ How many ODs did you get in here last weekend?

oddball 1. n. an eccentric person. □ Tom is sure an oddball. He ordered a pineapple and strawberry milkshake. □ We oddballs love concoctions like that. 2. mod. strange; peculiar. □ What an oddball combination of things! □ It's too oddball for me. □ Your oddball ideas have cost us too much money.

odd bird AND strange bird n. a strange or eccentric person. □ Mr. Wilson certainly is an odd bird. □ What a strange bird you are.

odd-bod ['adbəd] 1. n. a strange person. □ Who is that odd-bod over in the corner? □ Ralph can be sort of an odd-bod now and then. 2. n. a person with a strange body. □ I am such an odd-bod that it's hard to find clothes that fit. □ I've never seen anyone so tall. What an odd-bod! 3. n. a peculiar body. □ I have such an odd-bod that it's hard to find clothes. □ With an odd-bod like that, he'll never make good in the movies.

odds-on mod. having to do with the thing or person favored to win. □ My horse is an odds-on favorite to win. □ My plan is odds-on to be selected.

Of all the nerve! exclam. I am shocked by your domineering and high-handed behavior. □ You want me to do your laundry? Of all the nerve! □ Of all the nerve! Asking me to do a thing like that.

off 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ She is truly off. □ Tom is so off he can't stand up. 2. tv. to dispose of someone or something; to kill someone. □ The crooks offed the witness before the trial. □ Forget the whole idea! Just off it once and for all. 3. in. to die. (See also outed.) □ The guy just falls down and offs, right there on

Main Street. □ I don't want to off before my time.

off artist Go to (rip-)off artist.

off base mod. off target; wrong; not relevant. (See also way off (base).) □ Your answer was completely off base. Try again. □ You are off base. I will have to deal with someone else.

offbeat mod. strange; unconventional. □ That is really an offbeat idea. □ Tom is sort of offbeat. Well, he's weird.

off-brand cigarette n. a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ Bart smokes nothing but those off-brand cigarettes. □ I smell an off-brand cigarette in here.

off color mod. dirty or smutty; raunchy. (Usually hyphenated before a nominal.) □ That joke was sort of off color. □ Tom told an off-color joke that embarrassed everyone.

offed Go to outed.

off one's chump mod. crazy; nuts. □ You silly clown. You're off your chump. □ Am I off my chump, or did that car suddenly disappear?

off one's nut 1. mod. crazy; out of one's head. □ Shut up! You're off your nut! □ Don't pay any attention to her. She's off her nut. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Those guys are really off their nuts! □ She just sat there and got more and more off her nut.

off one's rocker mod. silly; giddy; crazy. (See also rocker.) □ That silly dame is off her rocker. □ You're off your rocker if you think I believe that!

off one's trolley mod. silly; eccentric. □ Don't mind Uncle Charles. He's a bit off his trolley. □ That silly old man is just off his trolley.

off the hook 1. mod. no longer in jeopardy; no longer obligated. □ I'll let you off the hook this time, but never again. □ We're off the hook. We don't need to worry anymore. 2. mod. crazy. (Referring to the telephone—disconnected.) □ She's so ditzy—really off the hook.

off-the-shelf mod. readily available; purchasable without any special difficulties or delays. □ This is just plain old off-the-shelf hand lotion. Isn't it great? □ Is it off-the-shelf? □ I don't use off-the-shelf software in my computer. I write my own.

off the track mod. not on a productive course; following the wrong lead. □ You are off the track just a little. Let me help you. □ I was off the track for a while, but now everything is OK.

off the wagon 1. mod. drinking liquor after a period of abstinence. □ Poor John fell off the wagon again. Drunk as a skunk. □ He was off the wagon for a year the last time before he sobered up. 2. mod. back on drugs after a period of abstinence. □ Max is off the wagon and shooting up again. □ He can't be off the wagon, because he has never stopped using, even for a day.

off-the-wall mod. strange; improbable; nonsensical. □ What an off-the-wall guy! □ Your ideas are generally off-the-wall, but this one makes sense.

Oh, boy! exclam. Wow! □ Oh, boy! What a mess! □ Oh, boy! That was a great play!

Oh, yeah? ['o 'jæə] exclam. Is that what you think?; Are you trying to start a fight? □ Oh, yeah? What makes you think so? □ Oh, yeah? You want to start something? □ Tom said, "Bill, you are a numskull." Bill whirled around, saying, "Oh, yeah?"

OIC phr. Oh, I see. (Initialism.) □ OIC. That's very interesting. □ OIC. So that's how it's done.

oiled mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Will this stuff make me really oiled? □ She's not just drunk; she's totally oiled.

oilhead n. a drunkard; an alcoholic. □ There is an old oilhead over there on the street corner. □ Paul gave the oilhead a quarter, knowing it would be spent on cheap wine.

oil it tv. to study all night. (Literally, burn the midnight oil.) □ I have a test tomorrow, and I really have to oil it tonight. □ If you studied all semester long, you would still have to oil it before final exams.

oink [oɪŋk] n. a police officer. (A play on pig.) □ There is an oink following us on a motorcycle. □ Here come the oinks!

oinker n. a very fat person. (Refers to the fatness of a pig.) □ Sally is getting to be quite an oinker, don't you think? □ Who is that oinker who just came into the cafeteria? There won't be any food left for the rest of us.

oink out in. to overeat. □ I oink out every weekend. □ This Thursday starts a four-day weekend, and I plan to oink out every day.

OJ 1. n. orange juice. (Initialism.) □ I like to have a big glass of fresh OJ every morning. □ The price of OJ is going to go up again soon. 2. Go to overjolt.

OK AND okay 1. interj. accepted; agreed. (Initialism. This may be originally from a jocular oll kerrect.) □ OK, I'll do it. □ You want me to lend you $100? Okay. □ So, he said, like, "okay," and, like, I go "okay." So we both go "Okay." Okay? 2. mod. acceptable. □ Fred is an OK guy. □ This cake is okay, but not what I would call first rate. 3. mod. acceptably. □ She ran okay—nothing spectacular. □ They usually do it okay. 4. n. (someone's) acceptance. □ I won't give the final okay until I see the plans. □ We got her OK and went on with the job. 5. tv. to approve something. □ She refused to okay our plans. □ Please OK this bill so I can pay it.

ok Go to ak.

okay Go to OK.

okee-dokey ['oki'doki] interj. yes; OK. (Folksy.) □ Okey-dokey, I'll be there at noon. □ Okey-dokey. You sure can.

old flame n. a former sweetheart or lover. □ Mary's old flame, Tom, will be at the party. □ It is best to forget an old flame.

old fogey n. an old-fashioned person; an old man. □ My uncle is an old fogey. He must be the most old-fashioned man in the world. □ Don't be such an old fogey.

old girl n. an old lady; a lively old lady. □ That old girl is still going. □ What makes an old girl like that so feisty?

old hand (at something) n. someone experienced at doing something. □ I'm an old hand at fixing cars. □ Do you need help with your painting? I'm an old hand.

old hat n. an old-fashioned thing or person; an outmoded thing or person. □ That's just old hat. This is the modern world! □ Her latest work is nothing but old hat. She's through.

old heave-ho ['old 'hiv'ho] n. a dismissal; a physical removal of someone from a place. □ I thought my job was secure, but today I got the old heave-ho. □ You had better act right, or my friend will give you the old heave-ho.

oldie but goodie n. something (or even someone) that is old but still likeable. □ I love that piece of music. It's an oldie but goodie. □ Mary is an oldie but goodie. I'm glad she's still around.

old lady AND old woman 1. n. (one's) mother. □ I'll ask my old lady if I can go. □ What time does your old lady get home? 2. n. (one's) wife. □ I wonder what my old lady is cooking for dinner tonight. □ My old lady doesn't like for me to go out without her. 3. n. (one's) girlfriend. □ My old lady and I are getting married next week. □ I got my old lady a bracelet for her birthday.

old man 1. n. (one's) father. □ I'll ask my old man if I can go. □ What time does your old man get home? 2. n. (one's) husband. □ My old man is downstairs fixing the furnace. □ My old man is sick and can't come with me. 3. n. (one's) boyfriend. □ Ask your old man to come to the party, too. □ I got my old man to take me to see that movie I told you about. 4. the old man n. the boss; a high-ranking officer. (Always with the in this sense.) □ The old man says do it, so you had better do it. □ Quiet! Here comes the old man.

the old one-two 1. n. a series of two punches delivered quickly, one after another. □ Tom gave Bill the old one-two, and the argument was ended right there. □ Watch out for Tom. He's a master of the old one-two. 2. n. any destructive assault on an idea, thing, or person. □ By the time the committee had given the plan the old one-two, there was nothing left I could do. □ I gave his proposal the old one-two. Next time he will be better prepared.

old skool mod. old fashioned; out-of-style; no longer trendy. □ Man, your haircut is strictly old skool.

old soldier 1. n. a cigarette or cigar butt; a hunk of tobacco. □ The tramp bent over to pick up an old soldier off the pavement. □ He's never had anything but an old soldier for a smoke. 2. n. an empty liquor bottle; an empty beer bottle or can. □ Larry hid all his old soldiers under the bed. □ Bill hit Tom over the head with an old soldier.

old-timer n. an old person; an old man. (Also a term of address.) □ Hey, old-timer, how's it going? □ Ask that old-timer over there if it has always been this bad around here.

old woman Go to old lady.

on a roll mod. in the midst of a series of successes. (See also roll.) □ Don't stop me now. I'm on a roll. □ Things are going great for Larry. He's on a roll now.

on a shoestring mod. on practically no money; on a very tight budget. (See also shoestring.) □ I run my business on a shoestring. I never know from day to day whether I will survive. □ We live on a shoestring—hardly any money at all.

on a tank Go to on the tank.

on a tight leash 1. mod. under very careful control. □ My father keeps my brother on a tight leash. □ We can't do much around here. The boss has us all on a tight leash. 2. mod. addicted to some drug. □ Bart is on a tight leash. He has to have the stuff regularly. □ Gert is kept on a tight leash by her habit.

once and for all mod. permanently. □ I'm gonna take care of you once and for all! □ I would like to get this ridiculous problem settled once and for all.

once in a blue moon mod. rarely. □ I do this only once in a blue moon. □ Once in a blue moon I have a little wine with dinner.

the once-over n. a visual examination, especially of a person of the opposite sex. □ The way she was giving him the once-over, I knew she would say something to him. □ Tom, you are always giving the girls the once-over.

once over lightly 1. mod. quickly and superficially; carelessly; cursorily. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ He looked at it once over lightly and agreed to do it. □ It needs more than a once-over-lightly look. 2. n. a perfunctory examination; a quick glance. □ Please give it more than the usual once over lightly. □ Once over lightly is not enough.

one mod. having to do with something unique or special. (Similar to a definite article.) □ Tracy is one fine cook. □ He was left with one powerful hangover. □ Hank? Now there is one ugly son of a gun for you.

one and one mod. having to do with the use of both nostrils in snorting a drug, usually cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Max always takes it one and one. It's the only way he can get enough. □ He does it one and one because it hits him faster that way.

one and only n. one's lover or sweetheart. □ I bought a gift for my one and only. □ She's my one and only, and I love her.

on easy street mod. in a state of financial independence and comfort. (See also easy street.) □ I want to live on easy street when I grow up. □ When I get this contract signed, I'll be on easy street.

one brick shy of a load mod. stupid; dense. □ Joyce has done some stupid things. Sometimes I think she is one brick shy of a load. □ Ted is one brick shy of a load. He can't seem to do what he is told without messing up.

one-eyed pants mouse Go to bald-headed hermit

one for the road n. a drink; a drink before a journey. □ Let's have one for the road. □ Don't have one for the road if you are going to be the driver.

one-horse town n. a very small town; a small and backward town. □ I refuse to spend a whole week in that one-horse town! ☐ I grew up in a one-horse town, and I liked it very much.

one jump ahead of someone or something n. in advance of someone or something; a step ahead of someone or something. ☐ I try to be one jump ahead of the problems. ☐ You have to keep one jump ahead of the boss in order to succeed.

one-man show 1. n. a performance put on by one person. ☐ It was a one-man show, but it was very entertaining. ☐ For a one-man show, it was very long. 2. n. an exhibition of the artistic works of one person. ☐ She is having a one-man show at the Northside Gallery. ☐ I'm having a one-man show next weekend. Come and see what I have done.

one-night stand 1. n. a performance lasting only one night. ☐ The band did a series of one-night stands down the East Coast. ☐ You can't make a living doing one-night stands. 2. n. a romance or sexual relationship that lasts only one night. ☐ It was not a romance, just a one-night stand. ☐ It looked like something that would last longer than a one-night stand.

one of the faithful n. a drunkard. ☐ Here comes Mr. Franklin—one of the faithful—staggering down the street. ☐ I saw one of the faithful standing at the bar.

one's bag n. one's preferences; one's talents. ☐ Working crossword puzzles is my bag. ☐ Hey, Tom, what's your bag? What do you like to do?

one's best shot n. one's best attempt (at something). ☐ That was his best shot, but it wasn't good enough. ☐ I always try to give something my best shot.

one smart apple n. a smart or clever person. ☐ That Sue is one smart apple. ☐ My brother is one smart apple.

one too many n. one drink of liquor too many, implying drunkenness. ☐ I think I've had one too many. It's time to stop drinking. ☐ Don't drive if you've had one too many.

one-track mind n. a (person's) mind obsessed with only one thing. ☐ When it comes to food, Tom has a one-track mind. ☐ Mary has a one-track mind. All she thinks about is Tom.

on fire 1. mod. very attractive or sexy. ☐ She is really on fire! ☐ Look at those jet-set people! Each one of them is just on fire. 2. mod. doing very well; very enthusiastic. ☐ Jill's new book is really on fire. Everyone is buying it. ☐ Fred is on fire in his new job. He'll get promoted in no time.

on ice mod. in reserve. ☐ That's a great idea, but we'll have to put it on ice until we can afford to put it into action. ☐ I have two boyfriends. One I see every weekend, and the other I keep on ice for a rainy day.

on it mod. really good. ☐ Man, Weasel is really on it! What a rad lad! ☐ Susan is on it, and getting lots of attention for her running style.

only way to go n. the best way to do something; the best choice to make. ☐ Get a four-wheel drive car. It's the only way to go. ☐ That's it! A new house. It's the only way to go.

on one's ass Go to (flat) on one's ass.

on one's high horse mod. in a haughty manner or mood. ☐ Larry is on his high horse again, bossing people around. ☐ The boss is on her high horse about the number of paper clips we use.

on one's last legs AND on its last legs mod. about to expire or become non-functional. ☐ This car is on its last legs. We have to get a new one. ☐ Poor old Chuck is on his last legs.

on one's own hook mod. all by oneself. ☐ I don't need any help. I can do it on my own hook. ☐ She did it on her own hook without having to call on anyone.

on someone's tail mod. following someone closely. ☐ There is a huge truck on my tail. What should I do? ☐ Keep on her tail and don't let her out of your sight.

on someone's watch mod. while someone is on duty. ☐ I am not responsible since it didn't happen on my watch. ☐ I guess I have to bear the blame since it happened on my watch.

on tap 1. mod. having to do with beer sold from a barrel or keg. □ Do you have any imported beers on tap here? □ I like beer on tap. The canned stuff tastes funny to me. 2. mod. immediately available. □ I have just the kind of person you're talking about on tap. □ The cook has any kind of food you might want on tap.

on-target mod. timely; exact; incisive. □ Your criticism is exactly on-target. □ We are on-target for a December completion date.

on the back burner mod. out of the way; aside and out of consideration. (See also on the shelf.) □ We will have to put this on the back burner for a while. □ She kept her boyfriend on the back burner until she decided what to do about him.

on the ball 1. mod. knowledgeable; competent; attentive. □ This guy is really on the ball. □ If you were on the ball, this wouldn't have happened. 2. mod. in one's head or brain; at one's disposal. (Especially with have a lot.) □ He sure has a lot on the ball. □ When you've got it on the ball the way she does, things generally go right.

on the bandwagon mod. with the majority; following the latest fad. (Often with hop, get, climb, or jump.) □ Come on! Hop on the bandwagon! Everyone else is joining. □ Tom always has to climb on the bandwagon. He does no independent thinking.

on the beam 1. mod. homing in on an aviation radio beam. (No longer a major navigational device.) □ The plane was on the beam and landed safely in the fog. □ I couldn't get on the beam, and I flew right over the airfield. 2. mod. on the right course or track. (From sense 1.) □ That is exactly right. You are right on the beam. □ You're on the beam. You will finish this with no problems. 3. AND beaming mod. under the effects of marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Walter is on the beam again. How can he hold a job? □ The only time that Bart is happy is when he is beaming. 4. mod. smart; clever. □ That was well done, Tom. You're on the beam. □ She is really on the beam. Glad she came along.

on the bean Go to on the button.

on the bird mod. available on the TV satellite channels. □ There is a whole lot of good stuff on the bird, but you need a receiving dish to get it. □ I get a huge book every month listing what programs are on the bird.

on the bleeding edge phr. having the most advanced technology; knowing about the most advanced technology. (Jocular. More advanced than on the cutting edge.) □ This gadget is brand new. It's really on the bleeding edge. □ Tom is on the bleeding edge when it comes to optical storage technology.

on the blink 1. mod. out of order; ill. (See also on the fritz.) □ I was a little on the blink yesterday and decided to stay at home. □ My refrigerator is on the blink again. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated; on a drinking spree. □ They all went out and got on the blink. □ My brother is a little bit on the blink this morning.

on the button AND on the bean mod. exactly the right time or place. □ He was there on time, right on the button. □ I want to see you here at noon—on the bean.

on the chopping block mod. in serious and threatening straits. □ Our whole future is on the chopping block. □ Until this is resolved, our necks are on the chopping block.

on the DL mod. as a secret; secretly; on the QT. (From down low.) □ He told me on the DL, so keep it under your hat. □ She'll get in trouble because they did it on the DL.

on the double mod. very fast; twice as fast. (Originally military. Refers to double time in marching.) □ Get over here right now—on the double! □ She wants to see you in her office on the double.

on the fly mod. while something or someone is operating or moving. □ I'll try to capture the data on the fly. □ Please try to buy some aspirin somewhere on the fly today.

on the fritz 1. mod. not functioning properly. ☐ This TV is on the fritz again. ☐ My watch is on the fritz. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Sue is a bit on the fritz. ☐ She drank till she was totally on the fritz.

on the horse Go to horsed.

on the juice mod. drinking heavily; on a drinking bout. (See also juice.) ☐ Fred spent the whole week on the juice. ☐ She won't be able to return your call. I'm afraid she's on the juice again.

on the junk mod. on drugs; addicted to drugs. (See also junk.) ☐ Max has been on the junk for all of his adult life. ☐ He's not really on the junk. He's only addicted to cigarettes.

on the lam [...læm] mod. running from the police. (Underworld.) ☐ Bart has been on the lam for a week now. ☐ When the boss found out you was on the lam, he got real mad.

on the level mod. honest; straightforward. ☐ Come on now. Be on the level with me. ☐ Is the ad on the level?

on the make mod. ambitious; attempting to be great. ☐ That young lawyer is sure on the make. ☐ This university is on the make.

on the mojo [...'modʒo] mod. addicted to morphine; using morphine. (Drugs. See also mojo.) ☐ How long you been on the mojo? ☐ How can you hold a steady job if you're on the mojo?

on the money mod. exactly as desired; at the right amount of money. ☐ Your new idea is right on the money. ☐ The bid for the new hospital came in on the money.

on the natch [...nætʃ] mod. free of drugs; natural and straight. ☐ Max says he wants to get on the natch, but I don't believe it. ☐ I have been on the natch for almost a year.

on the needle mod. addicted to injectable drugs. (Drugs.) ☐ My sister's on the needle, and I want to help her. ☐ Once you're on the needle, you've had it.

on the nose mod. exactly on time; exactly as planned. ☐ I want you there at noon on the nose. ☐ All three of them were at the appointed place right on the nose.

on the outs (with someone) mod. in a mild dispute with someone; sharing ill will with someone. ☐ Tom and Bill are on the outs again. ☐ Tom has been on the outs with Bill before. They'll work it out.

on the pill mod. taking birth control pills. ☐ Is it true that Mary is on the pill? ☐ She was on the pill, but she isn't now.

on the prowl mod. looking for someone for sexual purposes, in the manner of a prowling cat. ☐ Tom looks like he is on the prowl again tonight. ☐ That whole gang of boys is on the prowl. Watch out.

on the QT mod. in secret; secretly. (From QuieT.) ☐ Do it on the QT and try not to get caught. ☐ He said it on the QT so no one else knows except you and me.

on the rag 1. mod. menstruating. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Kim's on the rag and in a bad mood. ☐ Sue doesn't go swimming when she's on the rag. 2. mod. ill-tempered. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ Bill is on the rag and making trouble for everyone. ☐ Wow, Wayne, you are on the rag. What's eating you?

on the road mod. traveling from place to place, not necessarily on the highways. (See also get the show on the road.) ☐ I was on the road with the circus for six months. ☐ I don't work in the main office anymore. Now I'm on the road.

on the rocks 1. mod. (of an alcoholic drink) with ice cubes. (See also rocks.) ☐ I'd like mine on the rocks, please. ☐ Give me a scotch on the rocks, please. 2. mod. in a state of ruin or bankruptcy. (Like a ship that has gone aground on the rocks and cannot be moved.) ☐ That bank is on the rocks. Don't put your money in it. ☐ My finances are on the rocks just now.

on the run 1. mod. while one is moving from place to place. ☐ I will try to get some aspirin today on the run. ☐ I will think about it on the run. 2. mod. running from the police. ☐ Bart is on the run from the cops. ☐ The gang of crooks is on the run. Probably somewhere in Florida.

on the safe side mod. taking the risk-free path. □ Let's be on the safe side and call first. □ I think you should stay on the safe side and call the doctor about this fever.

on the same page mod. have the same understanding or amount of knowledge. (As if people were reading from the same page.) □ We're not on the same page. Listen carefully to what I am telling you. □ Everyone in the room was on the same page, so the meeting went very smoothly.

on the same wavelength mod. thinking in the same pattern. □ We're not on the same wavelength. Let's try again. □ We kept talking until we were on the same wavelength.

on the sauce mod. drinking regularly; alcohol intoxicated. □ Poor old Ron is on the sauce again. □ He is on the sauce most of the time.

on the shelf 1. mod. not active socially; left to oneself in social matters. □ I've been on the shelf long enough. I'm going to make some friends. □ She likes being on the shelf. 2. mod. postponed. (See also on the back burner.) □ We'll have to put this matter on the shelf for a while. □ I have a plan on the shelf just waiting for an opportunity like this.

on the side 1. mod. extra, such as with a job or a side order of food. □ I would like an order of eggs with toast on the side, please. □ She is a bank teller and works as a waitress on the side. 2. mod. extra-marital; in addition to one's spouse. □ He is married, but also has a woman on the side. □ She has boyfriends on the side, but her husband knows about them.

on the skids mod. on the decline. (See also put the skids under someone or something.) □ My newly started business is on the skids. □ Her health is really on the skids, but she stays cheery anyway.

on the sly mod. secretly and deceptively. □ She was stealing little bits of money on the sly. □ Martin was having an affair with the maid on the sly.

on the squiff [...skwif] mod. on a drinking bout. (See also squiff.) □ Bob is out on the squiff again. □ Bart is always on the squiff, except when he's shooting dope.

on the street 1. mod. using drugs; selling drugs; looking for drugs. (Drugs.) □ Fred spent a year on the street before he was arrested. □ Max will be on the street all his life. 2. mod. engaged in prostitution. □ Mary said, "What am I supposed to do—go on the street?" □ All three of them went on the street to earn enough money to live. 3. mod. widely known. □ Sue put it on the street, and now everyone knows. □ It's on the street. There isn't anyone who hasn't heard it. 4. mod. on Wall Street or elsewhere in the New York City financial districts. (Similar to sense 3, except that it refers to a specific street. Usually with a capital s.) □ I heard on the Street today that Apple is buying IBM. □ It's on the Street that the market is due to crash again. 5. mod. at discount prices; as available from discounters. (As if some item were being sold on the street by a peddler.) □ It lists at $2200 and can be got for about $1650 on the street. □ On the street it goes for about $400.

on the take mod. taking bribes. (Underworld.) □ I heard that the mayor is on the take. □ Everyone in city hall is on the take.

on the tank AND on a tank mod. on a drinking bout. □ All the guys were on the tank last Saturday. □ Paul spent all weekend on a tank.

on the up-and-up mod. legitimate; open and aboveboard. □ Is this deal on the up-and-up? What's the catch? □ Everything I do is on the up-and-up. I am totally honest.

on the wagon mod. not now drinking alcoholic liquor. □ How long has John been on the wagon this time? □ He's on the wagon again.

on the warpath mod. very angry. □ The boss is on the warpath again. Watch out! □ I am on the warpath about setting goals and standards again.

onto a good thing mod. having found something that is to one's advantage, such as something easy, profitable, inexpensive, etc. □ I think that Bill got onto

a good thing when he opened his own store.
☐ I won't quit now. I'm onto a good thing, and I know it.

onto someone or something mod. alerted to or aware of a deceitful plan or person.
☐ The cops are onto your little game here.
☐ Bart thought he was safe, but the fuzz was onto him from the beginning.

On your bike! AND Go to your room! imperative. Get out of here! Get on your motorcycle and get out! ☐ What a bad joke! No puns allowed here! On your bike!
☐ That was a ridiculous remark. Go to your room!

on your six phr. behind you. (At one's six o'clock.) ☐ Look out! On your six!

oodles ['udlɪz] n. lots (of something). ☐ My uncle has just oodles and oodles of money.
☐ I don't have oodles, but I have enough to keep me happy. ☐ When I have spaghetti, I just love oodles of noodles.

oof [uf] 1. exclam. the sound one makes when one is struck in the abdomen. (Usually Oof!) ☐ So, then Bob hit him in the belly. Oof! ☐ "Oof!" cried Tom. He couldn't talk any more after that. 2. n. the potency of the alcohol in liquor; the effect of potent alcohol. ☐ This stuff really has oof. How old is it? ☐ Beer doesn't have enough oof for her anymore.

oomph [ʊmpf] 1. n. energy; drive and vitality. ☐ Come on, you guys. Let's get some oomph behind it. PUSH! ☐ You need more oomph if you want to work at heavy labor. 2. n. sex appeal. (Euphemistic.) ☐ She had a lot of oomph, but didn't wish to become a movie star. ☐ No amount of oomph can make up for a total lack of talent.

open (up) one's kimono in. to reveal what one is planning. (From the computer industry, referring especially to the involvement of the Japanese in this field.) ☐ Sam isn't one to open his kimono much when it comes to new products. ☐ Even if Tom appears to open up his kimono on this deal, don't put much stock in what he says.

OPP n. other people's property. ☐ You ain't got respect for OPP.

OPs ['o'pɪz] n. other people's cigarettes; begged or borrowed cigarettes. (Initialism.) ☐ My favorite kind of cigarettes is OPs. They're the cheapest, too. ☐ Ted only smokes OPs.

oreo n. an American of African descent who behaves more white than black. (Like the Oreo brand cookie, the person is black on the outside and white on the inside. Rude and derogatory.) ☐ They called Sam an oreo because he wears a suit and works downtown. ☐ I'm not an oreo, I'm just doing my best with what God gave me.

org [org] 1. n. the rush caused by potent drugs. (Drugs. From orgasm.) ☐ Bart hated the vomiting when he first took it, but he loved the org. ☐ Does this stuff give you a real org? 2. n. an organization. ☐ She's a member of the org and can't be expected to use independent judgment. ☐ Come on, join the org.

organic mod. great. ☐ This is one fine, organic rally! I'm glad I stopped by. ☐ Wow, this whole day was organic!

ork-orks ['orkorks] n. the delirium tremens. ☐ He has the ork-orks. He's a real drunk. ☐ Whenever he gets the ork-orks, he gets himself arrested and put in jail where he can sober up.

or what? phr. or what else can it be? (Part of a special formula that asks if something is a good example or specimen of something. The expected answer is yes. The question "Is this an X or what?" means "If this isn't a really great X, what is it then?") ☐ Look at what I am wearing! Is that a great jacket or what? ☐ That's my son. Is he a superman or what?

O-sign n. the rounded, open mouth of a dead person. (A semi-jocular usage. Hospitals. See also Q-sign.) ☐ The guy in room 226 is giving the O-sign. ☐ That's the third O-sign we've gotten since noon.

ossifer AND occifer ['ʊsəfə] n. a police officer. (Also an ill-advised term of address.) ☐ Look here, ossifer, I was just having a little fun. ☐ Ask the occifer there if he wants to step outside and discuss it.

ossified ['ʌsəfaɪd] mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (From stoned (out).) □ How can anybody be so ossified on four beers? □ I've never seen anybody so ossified.

Otis ['ɒtɪs] 1. n. a drunkard. (From the name of a television character who is the town drunk. Also a term of address.) □ Look at Otis over there, propped up against the wall. □ Have another beer, Otis? 2. mod. drunk. □ Gary was completely Otis and couldn't walk straight. □ Fred was Otis by midnight and began looking like he was going to barf.

OTL ['oʊtiːl] phr. out to lunch; spacy; giddy. (An initialism.) □ Wally is the most OTL guy I have ever seen. □ Sue is OTL. She seems witless all the time.

OTOH phr. on the other hand. (An initialism. A computer abbreviation, not pronounced.) □ That's one good idea. OTOH, there must be many other satisfactory procedures. □ OTOH, everyone is a little forgetful now and then.

out 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (Probably from far out.) □ Those guys are really out! 2. mod. out of fashion. (The opposite of in.) □ That kind of clothing is strictly out. 3. tv. to make someone's homosexuality public. (Can be reflexive.) □ He outed himself at the party last Friday.

outa ['aʊdə] phr. out of. (Eye-dialect. Used in writing only for effect. Used in the examples of this dictionary.) □ Get outa here! □ In two minutes I'm outa here!

out-and-out mod. complete or total; blatant. □ Fred was an out-and-out liar. □ Don't be such an out-and-out stinker!

out cold 1. mod. unconscious. □ Paul was out cold when we found him. □ Who knocked him out cold? 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Four beers and he was out cold. □ He sat in his chair at the table, out cold.

outed 1. AND offed mod. dead; killed. □ The witness was outed before a subpoena could be issued. □ The guy was offed when we found him. 2. mod. having had one's homosexual identity made public. (Not prenominal.) □ Yes, he's outed, but he hasn't told his parents.

outfit 1. n. a group of people; a company. □ That outfit cheated me out of my money. □ I will never deal with that outfit again. 2. n. a set of clothing. □ You look lovely in that outfit. □ Should I wear my gray wool outfit? 3. n. a set of things; the items needed for some task. □ I got a fine chemistry outfit for my birthday. □ My tool kit has everything I need. It's the whole outfit.

out in left field mod. wrong; off base; loony. □ Don't pay any attention to her. She's out in left field as usual. □ That guy is out in left field—a real nut.

out like a light 1. mod. unconscious or sleeping soundly. □ I fell and hit my head. I was out like a light for two minutes, they tell me. □ I closed my eyes and was out like a light in no time at all. 2. mod. heavily alcohol intoxicated. □ Those guys are really out like a light! □ All four of them drank till they were out like a light.

out of it 1. mod. not in with the real world. □ You never pay attention to what's going on. You're really out of it. □ Fred is out of it most of the time. He even looks dull. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Two drinks and she was totally out of it. □ When they are out of it, they are quite dangerous.

out of kilter 1. mod. not functioning properly; on the fritz; out of w(h)ack. □ My car's engine is out of kilter and needs some repair work. □ My coffeepot is out of kilter, so I have to make coffee in a pan. 2. mod. out of square. □ That picture is out of kilter. Please straighten it. □ That corner is not square, and the wall even looks out of kilter.

out of left field mod. suddenly; from an unexpected source or direction. □ Most of your ideas are out of left field. □ All of his paintings are right out of left field.

out of line mod. not in accord with what is appropriate or expected, especially in price or behavior. □ Your behavior is quite out of line. I shall report you. □ Your price is out of line with the other stores.

out of luck mod. unfortunate; in a hopeless position. □ If you think you are going to get any sympathy from me, you're just out of luck. □ I was out of luck. There were no eggs left in the store.

out of one's skull mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Oh, man, I drank till I was out of my skull. □ Two beers and he was out of his skull.

out of pocket mod. out from under someone's control; not manageable. □ The guy is wild. Completely out of pocket.

out of sight 1. mod. heavily alcohol or drug intoxicated; high. □ They've been drinking since noon, and they're out of sight. □ Man, is she ever out of sight! 2. mod. very expensive; high in price. □ Prices at that restaurant are out of sight. □ The cost of medical care is out of sight.

out of sync [...sɪŋk] mod. uncoordinated; unsynchronized. □ Our efforts are out of sync. □ My watch and your watch are out of sync.

out of the picture mod. no longer relevant to a situation; departed; dead. □ Now that Tom is out of the picture, we needn't concern ourselves about his objections. □ With her husband out of the picture, she can begin living.

out of the way 1. mod. dead; killed. □ The crooks put the witness out of the way before the trial. □ Now that her husband was out of the way, she began to get out and about more. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She spends a lot of time out of the way. □ After a few more drinks, Bill will be out of the way.

out of the woods mod. freed from a previous state of uncertainty or danger; no longer critical. □ As soon as her temperature is down, she'll be out of the woods. □ We're out of the woods now, and things aren't so chancy.

out of this world 1. mod. wonderful and exciting. □ This pie is out of this world. □ My boyfriend is just out of this world. 2. mod. drug intoxicated. □ Man, is she ever out of this world! What did she drink? □ He drank until he was out of this world.

out of w(h)ack mod. out of adjustment; inoperative. (See also out of kilter.) □ My watch is out of whack. □ I think my left eye is out of wack a little. Maybe I need glasses.

outsy AND outy ['aʊtsi, 'aʊtɪ] n. a navel that protrudes. (Compare this with insy.) □ Is yours an insy or an outsy? □ I have an outsy. Why on earth do you ask?

out the gazoo [...gə'zu] phr. in great plenty; everywhere. (Gazoo = anus. Usually objectionable.) □ We have old magazines out the gazoo here. Can't we throw some of them away? □ Go away. I have problems out the gazoo. I don't need any more of them from you!

out the window mod. gone; wasted. □ All that work gone out the window. □ My forty dollars—out the window. Why didn't I save my money?

out to lunch mod. absentminded; giddy; stupid acting. (See also OTL.) □ Old Ted is so out to lunch these days. Seems to be losing his mind. □ Don't pay any attention to my uncle. He's out to lunch.

outy Go to outsy.

overamped mod. high on amphetamines; overdosed with amphetamines. (Drugs.) □ Max is overamped again. □ Two students were overamped and got sent to the counselor.

overjolt AND OJ 1. n. an overdose of drugs, especially of heroin. (The abbreviation is an initialism. Drugs.) □ Ted is suffering from a serious OJ. □ That overjolt nearly killed her. 2. in. to take an overdose of drugs, especially of heroin. (Drugs.) □ She overjolted once too often. □ If you OJ again, you will probably die.

overkill n. too much. □ That is enough. Any more is just overkill. □ Your policy of overkill is wasteful and expensive.

over my dead body phr. not if I can stop you; you won't be able to do something if I am alive to prevent you. □ You'll drop out of school over my dead body! □ Get married and move to Arizona? Over my dead body!

over one's head mod. confusing; too difficult to understand. □ This stuff is too hard. It's over my head. □ Calculus is all over my head.

overserved mod. having to do with a drunken person in a bar; alcohol intoxicated. (Euphemistic.) □ Four customers were overserved and had to leave. □ The overserved guy there in the corner is going to be sick.

over the hill 1. mod. escaped from prison or the military. (See also AWOL.) □ Two privates went over the hill last night. □ They broke out of jail and went over the hill. 2. mod. too old (for something). □ You're only fifty! You're not over the hill yet. □ Some people seem over the hill at thirty.

over the hump 1. mod. drug intoxicated. □ Bart is over the hump now. He is stoned. □ This stuff makes you sick at first. Then suddenly you are over the hump and floating. □ Things should be easy from now on. We are over the hump. □ When you get over the hump, life is much better.

P

package 1. n. a combination of a variety of related things; a unified set of things. (See also package deal.) □ You can't buy just one part. It comes as a package. □ The first college I applied to offered me a good aid package, so I went. 2. n. a lot of money; a bundle. □ She made quite a package on that bank deal. □ I came away from the dog track with a nice little package. 3. n. someone who is cute or sexually attractive. (Primarily refers to females as bundles of sexual charms. Similar in meaning to sense 1.) □ How do you like that little package who just came in? □ She's quite a package, if you like the giggly type. 4. tv. to position or display someone or something, as in marketing, to good advantage. □ The agent packaged the actress so that everyone thought she only did dramatic roles. □ If you package your plan correctly, the committee will accept it.

packaged mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, Bart was really packaged last night! □ By midnight she was totally packaged.

packing a gun tv. carrying a gun. □ The crook was packing a gun and carrying a knife in his hand.

pack of lies n. a whole collection or series of lies. □ I've heard you talk about this before, and it's all a pack of lies. □ Her story is nothing but a pack of lies.

pad 1. n. a place to live; one's room or dwelling. □ Why don't you come over to my pad for a while? □ This is a nice pad you've got here. 2. tv. to lengthen a piece of writing with unnecessary material. (See also padded.) □ This story would be better if you hadn't padded it with so much chitchat. □ I think I can pad the report enough to make it fill twenty pages.

padded mod. plump or fat. □ He didn't hurt himself when he fell down. He's well padded there. □ Your clothes would fit better if you weren't so—ah—padded.

paddy n. a police officer, especially an Irish police officer. (Usually derogatory. Also an ill-advised term of address.) □ Tell that paddy to go catch a crook or something. □ Look here, paddy, I wasn't doing anything.

paddy wagon n. a police van used to take suspected criminals to the police station. □ It took two paddy wagons to carry away the people they arrested. □ The cop put the woman in handcuffs and then called the paddy wagon.

pad out in. to go to bed or to sleep. (See also pad.) □ Man, if I don't pad out by midnight, I'm a zombie. □ Why don't you people go home so I can pad out?

padre ['padre] n. any male religious cleric: priest, monk, or chaplain. (From Spanish. Typically military. Also a term of address.) □ I went to see the padre for some advice. □ Hey, padre, anything new on the religion front?

pafisticated [pə'fɪstəkədəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. (A corruption of sophisticated.) □ Whenever I drink champagne, I get totally pafisticated. □ Look at her drive. She is a real pafisticated lady.

paid mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I think I'll go out and get paid tonight. □ Tom went to the tavern and spent all his money on getting paid.

pain n. a bother; an irritating thing or person. □ That woman is such a pain. □ Those long meetings are a real pain.

pain in the ass AND pain in the butt; pain in the rear n. a very annoying thing or person. (Usually objectionable. An elaboration of pain. Use caution with ass. Butt is less offensive. Rear is euphemistic.) □ That guy is a real pain in the ass. □ Things like that give me a pain in the butt. □ You are nothing but a pain in the rear.

pain in the butt Go to pain in the ass.

pain in the neck n. a difficult or annoying thing or person. (See also pain in the ass.) □ This tax form is a pain in the neck. □ My boss is a pain in the neck.

pain in the rear Go to pain in the ass.

painkiller n. liquor. (See also feeling no pain.) □ Pass that bottle of painkiller over here. My throat hurts. □ He should look happy. He's full of painkiller.

paint remover n. strong or inferior whiskey or other spirits. □ That paint remover you gave me nearly burned out my throat. □ What do you call that paint remover anyway? It sure is powerful.

paint the town (red) tv. to go out and celebrate; to go on a drinking bout; to get drunk. □ I feel great. Let's go out and paint the town. □ They were out painting the town red last night.

pal [pæl] 1. n. a close, male friend or buddy. □ Be nice to him. He's my pal. □ Hey, be a pal. Give me a match. 2. n. a term of address for a stranger, usually a male. □ Hey, pal. Got a match? □ Look, pal, I was in line in front of you!

pal around (with someone) in. to be friends with someone; to move about socially with someone. □ Tom and Heidi have palled around for years. □ Young people like to pal around with one another.

palimony ['pæləmoni] n. alimony—living expenses—paid to a common-law wife or to a former girlfriend. □ He left her, and she took him to court to try to get him to pay palimony. □ With a good lawyer, she got more palimony than she could ever have gotten as alimony if they had been married.

pally (with someone) mod. friendly or overly friendly with someone. □ I don't know why Sue acts so pally. I hardly know her. □ She doesn't seem pally with me.

palm tv. to conceal something in the hand as in a theft or the performance of a magic trick; to receive and conceal a tip or a bribe. □ The kid palmed the candy bar and walked right out of the store. □ The waiter palmed the twenty-dollar bill and led us to a table.

palm-oil n. a bribe; a tip. □ How much palm-oil does it take to get this deed recorded in reasonable time? □ The messenger seemed to move his legs faster after an application of palm-oil.

palm-presser Go to flesh-presser.

palm someone or something off (on someone) tv. to transfer some unwanted person or thing to another person. □ Don't palm her off on me. I don't want her. □ My uncle palmed off his old clothes on me.

palm something off on someone tv. to succeed in spending counterfeit money; to succeed in cashing a bad check. (Underworld.) □ Max palmed four phony twenties off in less than an hour. □ Somebody palmed off a rubber check on me yesterday.

palooka AND paluka [pə'lukə] n. a stupid person; an unskilled prizefighter; any mediocre person. (Also a term of address. From the name of the comic-strip prizefighter Joe Palooka.) □ Tell that stupid palooka to sit down and shut up. □ Get out of here, you paluka. You're just in the way.

palsy-walsy ['pælzi'wælzi] 1. n. a good friend, pal, or buddy. (Also a term of address.) □ Look here, palsy-walsy, let's you and me get out of here. □ Meet my old palsy-walsy, John. We've known each other since we were kids. 2. mod. friendly; overly friendly. (Often with with.) □

Why is Tom so palsy-walsy with everyone?
☐ That guy is a little too palsy-walsy.

paluka Go to palooka.

pan n. the face. (See also deadpan.) ☐ Look at that guy! I've never seen such an ugly pan in my life. ☐ I stared her right in the pan and told her to shut up.

panic n. a very funny or exciting person or thing. ☐ John's party was a real panic. ☐ Paul is a panic. He tells a joke a minute.

pan out in. [for something] to work out or turn out all right. ☐ Don't worry. Everything will pan out okay. ☐ Nothing seems to pan out for me anymore.

pants rabbits n. lice. (See also seam-squirrels.) ☐ Bart is sure scratching a lot. Do you think he's got pants rabbits? ☐ I don't want to be around people who have pants rabbits and stuff like that.

paper 1. n. a written document; written evidence supporting something. (Often with some.) ☐ Send me some paper. Let's make this official. 2. n. a forged check. (See also paper-pusher; paper-hanger.) ☐ She was arrested for passing paper. 3. n. money. ☐ You don't get the goods till I get the paper.

paper-hanger n. someone who tries to pass bad checks. (Underworld. See also paper; paper-pusher.) ☐ The cops caught the paper-hanger red-handed. ☐ He's wanted as a paper-hanger in four states.

paperhanging n. writing and spending bad checks. (Underworld.) ☐ She was accused of paperhanging and didn't even know what the cops were talking about, so they let her go. ☐ She is good at both paperhanging and acting.

paper over something tv. to try to conceal something unpleasant; to try to cover up a misdeed. ☐ You can't paper this over. It has to be dealt with now! ☒ This is a severe social problem. Don't try to paper over it.

paper-pusher 1. n. a bureaucrat; a clerk in the military services; any office worker. (See also pencil-pusher.) ☐ If those paper-pushers can't get their work done on time, make them stay late. ☐ I don't want to talk to some paper-pusher, I want to talk to the boss. 2. n. someone who passes bad checks. (See also paper; paper-hanger.) ☐ The bank teller spotted a well-known paper-pusher and called the cops. ☐ The old lady was charged as a paper-pusher and sent to jail.

paperweight n. a serious student; a hard-working student. ☐ What a jerk! Nothing but a paperweight.

parboiled mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also boiled.) ☐ Sally stayed at the bar just long enough to get parboiled. ☐ She's not really stewed, just parboiled.

pard n. partner; friend. (From pardner. Also a term of address.) ☐ Come on, pard, let's go find some action. ☐ This is my old pard, Clarence.

Pardon me for living! Go to (Well,) pardon me for living!

Pardon my French. AND Excuse my French. sent. Excuse my use of swear words or taboo words. (Does not refer to real French.) ☐ Pardon my French, but this is a hell of a day. ☐ What she needs is a kick in the butt, if you'll excuse my French.

(parental) units n. parents. (Teens. Also a term of address. See also rent(al)s.) ☐ I don't think my parental units will let me stay out that late. ☐ Hey, units! I need to talk to you about something really important.

park in. to neck or to make love, especially in a parked car. ☐ Do kids still park, or do they just watch television? ☐ They still park, but they don't have a name for it anymore.

park it (somewhere) tv. sit down somewhere; sit down and get out of the way. ☐ Hey, park it! You're in the way. ☐ Bart, park it over there in the corner. Stop pacing around. You make me nervous.

parting shot n. the last word; a final comment before departing. ☐ For a parting shot, she called me a miser. ☐ His parting shot concerned some comments about my ability to do simple math.

party 1. n.  (For examples, see coke party, free base party, grass party, hen party, keg party, kick party, pot party, stag-party, tailgate party, tea party.) 2. in. to drink alcohol, smoke marijuana, or use other drugs. (May also include sexual activity.) ☐ Come on, man! Let's party! ☐ If you didn't party so much, you'd get better grades.

party animal n. someone who loves parties. ☐ My boyfriend and I are real party animals. Let's party! ☐ If you weren't such a party animal, you'd have more time for studying.

party bowl n. a marijuana pipe large enough to serve a number of smokers. (Drugs.) ☐ When they arrested Max, he had two pipes and a party bowl with him. ☐ The cops thought the party bowl was a flower vase!

party down Go to party hearty.

party hearty AND party down in. to have a great time; to celebrate. (Also as an exclamation: Party down!) ☐ Let's get some stuff and party hearty. ☐ The whole class decided to celebrate and party hearty.

Party on! exclam. That's right! ☐ Party on, Beavis! You are totally right! ☐ Party on, Waldo! You said it!

party-poooper n. the first person to leave a party; someone who ruins a party because of dullness or by leaving early. ☐ Don't leave! Don't be a party-poooper! ☐ Don't invite Martha. She's such a party-poooper.

pass 1. n. a passing grade or mark on a test. (Compare this with fail.) ☐ Did you get a pass or a fail? ☐ This is my third pass this semester. 2. in. to decline something; to decline to participate in something. ☐ No, thanks. I pass. ☐ I'll have to pass. I am not prepared. 3. n. an act of declining something. ☐ I'll have to take a pass. ☐ Can I have a pass on that one? There is nothing I can do. 4. n. a sexual advance or invitation. (Usually with make.) ☐ He made a pass at me, so I slapped him. ☐ When he made a pass at me, he got a pass right back. 5. tv. to succeed in spending counterfeit money; to succeed in cashing a bad check. ☐ Beavis passed one bad check after another. ☐ He was arrested for passing bad checks.

pass for something in. to pay for something; to treat someone by paying for something. ☐ Come on. Let's go out. I'll pass for dinner. ☐ I'll pass for drinks if you want.

pass go tv. to complete a difficult or dangerous task successfully. (From pass go and collect $200 in the game Monopoly™.) ☐ Man, I tried to get there on time, but I just couldn't pass go. ☐ You had better pass go with this job, or you've had it.

passion-pit n. a drive-in movie theatre; any place where young people go to neck, such as an area where teenagers park. (Dated but still heard.) ☐ She wanted me to drive down to the passion-pit, but I said I had a headache. ☐ My mother used to tell me about her trips to the passion-pit.

pass the buck tv. to shift the responsibility for something to someone else; to evade responsibility. (See also buck-passer.) ☐ When things get a little tough, do what I do. Pass the buck. ☐ Don't pass the buck. Stand up and admit you were wrong.

passy n. a baby's pacifier. (Baby talk.) ☐ Does little Johnnie want his passy? ☐ Mommy, Mary threw her passy on the floor.

paste 1. tv. to strike someone, especially in the face. (See also paste someone one.) ☐ I hauled off and pasted him right in the face. ☐ He tried to paste me, but I ducked. 2. tv. to defeat a person or a team, usually in a game of some type. (See also pasting; pasted.) ☐ The Warriors pasted the Rockets, 70-49. ☐ They really pasted our team in last week's game.

pasted 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (From paste.) ☐ Poor Tom is totally pasted. ☐ Bart got pasted on beer. 2. mod. beaten; outscored. ☐ Our team really got pasted. ☐ He sure looked pasted the last time I saw him.

paste someone one tv. to land a blow on someone. (See also paste.) □ I pasted him one right on the nose. □ Next time you do that, I'll paste you one!

pasting n. a beating; a defeat in a game. (See also paste.) □ Our team took quite a pasting last weekend. □ I gave him a pasting.

patsy ['pætsi] n. a victim of a scam. (Underworld. See also dupe.) □ That guy over there looks like a perfect patsy. □ We got nearly twenty-five hundred bucks off that patsy.

patter of tiny feet n. the sound of young children; having children in the household. □ I really liked having the patter of tiny feet in the house. □ Darling, I think we're going to be hearing the patter of tiny feet soon.

paw 1. n. someone's hand. (Jocular.) □ Get your paws off me! □ That dog bit my paw.

2. tv. to feel someone or handle someone sexually. □ If you paw me again, I'll slap you! □ I can't stand men who paw you to pieces.

3. tv. to touch someone more than is necessary or desired, without any sexual intent. □ I don't like for people to paw me while they're shaking hands. There is no reason to shake my shoulder, too. □ Tom doesn't realize that he paws people and that it annoys them.

PAX n. passenger(s). (Travel industry abbreviation.) □ How many PAX will that ship hold? □ The two PAX missed the flight.

pay a call tv. to go to the toilet; to leave to go to the toilet. (See also call of nature; nature's call.) □ Excuse me. I have to pay a call. □ Tom left to pay a call. He should be back soon.

payback n. retribution. □ You hit me, I hit you. That's your payback.

payola [pe'olə] n. a bribe. (Originally a bribe paid to a disk jockey by record producers to get extra attention for their records.) □ The announcer was fired for taking payola. □ There was a big scandal of payola in the 1950s.

pay one's dues tv. to serve one's time in a menial role. (See also pay one's dues (to society).) □ I spent some time as a bus boy, so I've paid my dues in the serving business. □ You have to start out at the bottom. Pay your dues, and then you'll appreciate better what you have.

pay one's dues (to society) tv. to serve a prison or jail sentence. □ I served ten years in prison. I've paid my dues to society. The matter is settled. □ I took my medicine and paid my dues. Stop trying to punish me more.

pay the water bill tv. to urinate. □ I'll be with you as soon as I pay the water bill.

p-crutch n. a police car. (Streets. See also crutch.) □ Hey, bro, there's a p-crutch behind you. □ I think the man in the p-crutch wants you to pull over.

PDQ mod. pretty damn quick; very fast; very soon. (Initialism.) □ You get those papers over here PDQ! □ They had better get this mess straightened out PDQ if they know what's good for them.

peace out in. to depart; to leave. □ It's late. Time for me to peace out. □ Let's peace out. It's too hot in here.

peach n. someone or something excellent. (Usually a person.) □ That guy's a real peach. □ This is a peach of a car!

peachy (keen) mod. fine; excellent. □ Your idea is really peachy! □ What a peachy keen idea!

peanut head n. an oaf; a nerd. □ You are so silly, Kim. You're a real peanut head! □ What peanut head left the door open? It's freezing in here!

peanuts n. practically no money at all; chicken feed. □ They want me to do everything, but they only pay peanuts. □ The cost is just peanuts compared to what you get for the money.

pecker 1. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his pecker and ran for the bedroom. 2. n. a stupid or obnoxious male. (Usually objectionable.) □ You stupid pecker! Get out of here!

peckerhead 1. n. the head or end of the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He said he had a little red sore on his peckerhead.
2. n. a stupid and ignorant male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You stupid peckerhead! Why'd you do that?

peckish mod. hungry. □ I'm just a little peckish right now. I need a bite to eat. □ Wow, you look peckish!

pecks AND pecs; pects [pekks AND pekts] n. the pectoral muscles. (From weightlifting and bodybuilding.) □ Look at the pecks on that guy! □ With pects like that he needs a bra.

pecs Go to pecks.

pects Go to pecks.

pee'd mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Euphemistic for pissed.) □ This old boy is really pee'd. □ His old lady gets pee'd after a few beers.

pee'd off mod. extremely angry. (Euphemistic for pissed (off).) □ I certainly was pee'd off! □ I've never been so pee'd off in my life!

peel in. to strip off one's clothing. □ I had to peel for my physical examination. □ She stood up on the stage and peeled right down to nothing!

peep 1. n. a noise; an utterance. □ Don't you make another peep! □ I don't want to hear another peep out of you. 2. n. people. (Often plural, peeps.) □ How many peeps were there?

peepers n. the eyes. □ Come on, use your peepers. Take a good look. □ My peepers are tired.

peg-leg n.  (Now used primarily in reference to theatrical pirates.) □ See that peg-leg over there? He lost his foot to a shark. □ Hey, peg-leg. Race you to the bar!

peg someone tv. to gossip about someone. □ Kim is always pegging Jill. What's her problem? □ Don't peg me all the time. I've never done anything to you!

pen n. a penitentiary; prison. (Underworld.) □ Bart got sent to the pen for fifteen years. □ After a few years in the pen, he began to appreciate freedom.

pencil-pusher n. a bureaucrat; a clerk; an office worker. (See also paper-pusher.) □ Look here, you lousy pencil-pusher, I want to talk to your boss! □ City Hall is filled with a bunch of over-paid pencil-pushers.

Pennsy n. Pennsylvania. □ I went to a conference in Pennsy last year. □ My cousin lives in Pennsy.

penny n. a police officer. (A play on copper. See the note at copper.) □ The penny over on the corner told the boys to get moving. □ We better get going before the pennies get here.

penny-ante mod. trivial; cheap. (See also ante.) □ I'm sick of this penny-ante stuff. Let's get serious. □ Max moved from penny-ante crimes into drugs.

penny-pincher n. someone who is very miserly; someone who objects to the expenditure of every penny. □ If you weren't such a penny-pincher, you'd have some decent clothes. □ Let's elect some penny-pinchers to Congress.

peonied mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Related to pee'd and pissed.) □ Man, was she peonied! Really stoned. □ Let's go get peonied, just for the hell of it.

people watching n. observing different kinds of people as a pastime. □ Let's eat at the greasy spoon over on Maple. The food is gross, but the people watching is good. □ I enjoy people watching, especially at airports.

pepped (up) AND peppy mod. alcohol intoxicated. (A euphemism. See also perked (up).) □ That guy looks a little pepped up. Don't give him any more booze. □ I feel sort of pepped up. Time to stop drinking.

pepper-upper n. an amphetamine tablet or capsule; a pep pill. □ I need me a little pepper-upper. Can I have a prescription? □ You need more sleep, not a pepper-upper.

pep pill n. a stimulant pill or capsule, such as an amphetamine. □ The doctor prescribed some kind of pep pills, but I refused to take them. □ Got any pep pills or anything?

peppy 1. mod. vigorous; energetic. (See also perky.) □ She's such a peppy thing. □ I sure don't feel very peppy right now. 2. Go to pepped (up).

pep talk n. an informal speech of encouragement. □ The coach gave the team a good pep talk, but they lost anyway. □ The pep talk grew into a real gripe session.

Period! exclam. . . . and that's final! (A way of indicating that there will be no more discussion or negotiation.) □ I don't want to hear any more about it! Period! □ My final offer is $30.00. Period!

perk n. an extra financial benefit; a monetary inducement or reward. (From perquisite. See also benies.) □ I don't get paid much, but the perks are good. □ I don't get paid much, and I don't get any perks!

perked (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also pepped (up).) □ Three beers and he's perked. □ No more. She's done. She's perked up for good.

perking mod. intoxicated. □ The guys are really perking. They've had too much to drink.

perky mod. energetic; alert. (See also peppy.) □ Most poodles are quite perky. □ A perky hostess keeps parties alive.

perp [pəp] n. a perpetrator; someone who does something, such as committing a crime. □ The cops were almost sure that Bart was the perp in this job. □ The perp left a good set of prints on the doorknob.

perpetrate ['pəpətreɪt] in. to pose; to pretend. □ Terry is always walking around perpetrating. He sure wants people to think he's somebody. □ Look at her clothes. Have you ever seen anyone perpetrate like that?

persuader n. a gun or other weapon used to threaten someone. (Underworld.) □ He pulls out this persuader, see, and aims it right at me, see. □ Maybe my little per- suader will help you remember where the money is.

pesky mod. annoying; bothersome. □ I am going to kill that pesky fly! □ I've had a pesky headache all day.

Peter Jay n.  □ You walk straight, or Peter Jay is going to bust you. □ Here comes Peter Jay in his pigmobile.

peter out in. to give out; to wear out. □ I'm about to peter out. I need a rest. □ What'll we do when the money peters out?

pet peeve n. a major or principal annoyance or complaint. □ Dirty dishes in restaurants are my pet peeve. □ He has no pet peeve. He hates everything.

petrified mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Literally, turned into stone. Another way of saying stoned.) □ She's not drunk; she's petrified. □ He drank moonshine till he was petrified.

petting-party n. a session of kissing and caressing. □ I just want to watch the movie. I didn't come here for some teenage petting-party! □ We went to the passion-pit for a petting-party.

PFD n. a potential formal date; someone who looks good enough to be a date to a formal affair. (Initialism. Collegiate.) □ That gal is a real PFD. □ Mike is no PFD, but he is a great friend anyway.

PFM n. pure fucking magic, absolutely astounding. □ The whole evening was PFM! I had a great time!

PG mod. pregnant. (Initialism.) □ Do you think Sally's PG? □ I think I'm PG. You know, pregnant.

phased Go to phazed.

phat AND PHAT 1. mod. good; excellent. (This is essentially a respelling of fat, and can have all the senses that fat has. Also explained as pretty, hot, and tempting.) □ His new car is really phat. □ Who is that phat chick you were with? 2. phr. pretty hips and thighs. (Initialism. A reinterpretation of the spelling.) □ Now, that's what I like, PHAT. □ PHAT is what it's all about.

phat-phree mod. not cool; not PHAT. (A play on fat-free.) □ This place is strictly phat-phree. □ We had to read some stupid, phat-phree play by some old homie called Jakespeer.

phazed AND phased [fezd] mod. intoxicated with marijuana. □ Man, I was phazed out of my mind! □ How much booze does it take you to get really phased?

phedinkus [fɪ'dɪŋkəs] n. nonsense. □ Stop your silly phedinkus! □ That's just phe-dinkus. No one will believe you.

phfft [ffft] 1. mod. finished; done for. (See also piFFT.) □ There is my cat, and zoom comes a car. My cat is phfft. □ Yup. Deader than a doornail. Phfft! 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ You won't wake him up for hours yet. He's phfft. □ Three beers and she's phfft, for sure.

Philly n. Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. □ We stopped off in Philly for a day. □ We left Philly for the Big Apple at noon.

phony 1. mod. bogus; fake. □ This money looks phony to me. □ I can't stand phony vanilla flavoring. 2. n. someone or something bogus. □ That guy is a real phony! □ Look here, you phony, get out of my office! □ This is a phony. Get me a real one. 3. n. a phone call where the caller hangs up the minute the telephone is answered. □ No one was on the telephone. It was just a phony. □ We have had phony after phony all evening.

phony as a three-dollar bill AND queer as a three-dollar bill mod. phony; bogus. □ This guy's as phony as a three-dollar bill. □ The whole deal stinks. It's as queer as a three-dollar bill.

phooey AND fooeey 1. n. nonsense. □ Your story is just a lot of phooey. □ I've heard enough foeey. Let's get out of here. 2. exclam. <an expression of disgust, disagreement, or resignation.> (Usually Phooey! or Fooeey! Used typically when something smells or tastes bad.) □ Who died in here? Phooey! □ This is the worst food I ever ate. Fooeey!

phreak n.  □ You stupid phreak! Why'd you do that?

phumfed ['fəm(p)ft] mod. drug intoxicated. □ You can't get your work done when you are totally phumfed. □ She gets phumfed on pot every afternoon.

phunky Go to funky.

phutz AND futz [fəts] tv. to rob, swindle, or cheat someone. □ Don't futz me! Tell the truth! □ The muggers phutzed his wallet and watch.

pickled mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Very common.) □ She's usually pickled by noon. □ It only takes a few drinks to get him pickled.

picklepuss n. a person who has a puckered up mouth; a child who is about to cry. □ Don't be such a picklepuss. Smile! □ She is such a picklepuss. Nothing seems to please her.

pickler n. a drunkard; an alcoholic. (See also pickled.) □ What a pickler. He could drink all night. □ The cops brought in about thirty picklers last night.

pick-me-up n. any food or drink that boosts energy, such as a drink of liquor, candy, soda pop. □ I'm pooped. I really need a pick-me-up. □ I can't finish the day without a little pick-me-up at lunch.

pickup 1. n. something eaten or drunk to boost energy; a pick-me-up. □ Bartender, I need a little pickup. □ She stopped at a candy machine for a pickup. 2. n. a sudden increase in something, such as speed or tempo in music. □ We need a bit of a pickup at measure forty-three. □ There will be a pickup in sales during the Christmas season. 3. mod. spontaneous; unplanned. (Especially with ball games where the members of the team are picked up from whoever is available. See also scratch.) □ He stopped at the basketball court for a pickup game with the boys. □ A pickup game can be fun if the sides are evenly matched. 4. n. an arrest. (Underworld.) □ Send Sergeant Townsend out to make the pickup. □ The cop made a pickup right across the street. 5. n. someone whose acquaintance is made solely for sexual purposes. □ She's no date. She's just a pickup. □ She had the gall to show up at the dance with a pickup in street clothes. 6. n. the power of a car's engine as reflected in the car's ability to reach a high speed quickly. □ This car has more pickup than I really need. □ Little cars hardly ever have enough pickup.

pick up on something in. to become alert to something; to take notice of something; to learn or catch on to something. □ She's real sharp. She picks up on everything. □ The cop picked up on the word "persuader."

picky 1. mod. choosy. □ Don't be so picky. They're all the same. □ Red, blue, green! What's the difference? You are too picky. 2. mod. overly critical. □ Complain, complain! What a picky old lady. □ I have to do it exactly right. My boss is very picky.

picnic n. a good time; an easy time. □ What a great class! Every day was a real picnic. □ Nothing to it. A real picnic. □ It wasn't a terrible day, but it was no picnic.

piddle 1. in. to urinate. (Said of children and pets.) □ Mommy! Jimmy's got to piddle! □ Please, Jimmy, don't piddle on the floor. 2. n. urine. □ Where's the dog? There's piddle on the carpet. □ Don't step in the puppy's piddle. 3. Go to piddle (around).

piddle (around) in. to waste time; to work aimlessly or inefficiently. □ Stop piddling around! Get to work! □ Can't you get serious and stop piddling?

piddler n. someone who wastes time. □ Bob is such a piddler. He can't seem to get organized and get down to work. □ That piddler will never get anywhere in life.

piddling mod. inadequate; meager; tiny. (See also piss-poor; piddle.) □ What a piddling amount of money! I can't live on that. □ That is a piddling steak. I want a big one.

piece 1. n. a sexually attractive (young) woman. (Crude.) □ She's a real piece! □ Who's that piece I saw you with last night? 2. n. a gun, especially a revolver. (Underworld.) □ Is that guy carrying a piece? □ Okay, this gun is aimed at your head. Drop your piece. 3. n. a tiny ponytail worn by males. □ Even the little boys— six and seven years old—want to wear a piece. □ Tony pointed out that lots of pirates wore pieces.

piece of ass AND hunk of ass; hunk of tail; piece of snatch; piece of tail 1. n. someone considered as a partner in copulation. (Usually a female. Usually objectionable.) □ Man, isn't she a fine looking piece of ass? □ Man, isn't he a fine looking piece of snatch? 2. n. an act of copulation; copulation with someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ If Todd doesn't get a hunk of tail once a day, he's real grouchy.

piece of cake 1. n. something easy to do. □ No problem. When you know what you're doing, it's a piece of cake. □ Glad to help. It was a piece of cake. 2. exclam. It's a piece of cake! It's easy! (Usually Piece of cake!) □ No problem, piece of cake! □ Rescuing drowning cats is my specialty. Piece of cake!

piece of snatch Go to piece of ass.

piece of tail Go to piece of ass.

piece (of the action) AND bit of the action; slice of the action n. a share in the activity or the profits. (Especially gambling activity.) □ If you get in on that real estate deal, I want a piece, too. □ Deal Tom in. He wants a piece of the action. □ Don't be selfish. Give me a slice of the action.

pie-eyed 1. mod. wide-eyed with amazement. □ He didn't cry out. He just stood there pie-eyed. □ Why are all those people pie-eyed? What happened? 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ That guy is really pie-eyed. Send him home. □ We've got a pie-eyed bus driver. I want to get off!

pie hole Go to word hole.

pie in the sky 1. n. a reward; a special heavenly reward. □ Don't hold out for pie in the sky. Get realistic. □ If he didn't hope for some heavenly pie in the sky, he would probably be a real crook. 2. mod. having to do with a hope for a special reward. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ Get rid of your pie-in-the-sky ideas! □

What these pie-in-the-sky people really want is money.

piffed [pɪft] 1. AND pifted ['pɪftəd] tv. killed. (Past tense only. See also phfft.) □ He piffed his goldfish by mistake. □ The speeding car pifted the cat yesterday. 2. AND pifted ['pɪftəd] mod. dead. □ What will I do with a pifted cat? □ He's as piffed as they come. 3. mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also piffled.) □ That guy is really piffed. □ How can anybody get that piffed on four beers?

piffle ['pɪfl] 1. n. nonsense. □ What utter piffle! □ The entire report was piffle from beginning to end. 2. exclam. a mild exclamation or expression of distress. (Usually Piffle!) □ You a stockbroker? Piffle! □ She finished her story, and I looked her straight in the eye and said, "Piffle!"

piffled ['pɪflɪd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Three glasses of booze and she was totally piffled. □ He was so piffled he couldn't talk!

piff(ly)icated ['pɪf(l)əkədəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How can anybody drink so much and not get totally pifflicated? □ Get that pifflicated stuffed shirt out of here!

pifted Go to piffed.

pig 1. n. someone who eats too much; a glutton. □ Stop being a pig! Save some for other people. □ I try to cut down on calories, but whenever I see red meat I make a pig of myself. 2. n. an ugly and fat woman. □ Clare is a pig. Why doesn't she lose a ton or two? □ Every girl in that sorority is a pig. 3. n. a dirty or slovenly person. □ Bart is a pig. I don't think he bathes enough. □ Jimmy, change your clothes. Look at that mud, you little pig! 4. n. an officer; a police officer or a military officer. (Used mostly for a police officer. Widely known since the 1960s.) □ The pigs are coming to bust up the fight. □ The pigs who aren't in pig heaven are driving around in pigmobiles busting innocent people like me. 5. n. a Caucasian. (Black.) □ Why do those pigs think they can walk in here like that? □ Who do those pigs think they are, tourists?

pigeon 1. n. a dupe; a sucker; someone singled out to be cheated. (See also patsy.) □ There's our pigeon now. Don't let him see us sizing him up. □ Be alert for pickpockets. Don't be some crook's pigeon. 2. n. a cute girl or woman. □ What a cute little pigeon. □ Who was the dreamy little pigeon I saw you with last night? 3. Go to stool (pigeon).

pigeon-eyed mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How can anyone get so pigeon-eyed on so little booze? □ Who is that pigeon-eyed guy over there who is having such a hard time standing up?

pighead n. someone who is both stupid and stubborn. (See also pigheaded.) □ Stop acting like such a pighead! □ She'll never change her mind. She's a real pighead.

pigheaded mod. stupidly stubborn. (From the notion that pigs are immovable.) □ You are unbelievably pigheaded! □ What a stupid pigheaded position to take.

pig heaven n. a police station. (Chiefly black.) □ The man came and took my brother to pig heaven. □ All the bacon eventually goes home to pig heaven.

pigmobile n. a police car. (See also pig.) □ Look out, here comes the pigmobile. □ Hey, man! Have you ever ridden in a pigmobile?

pig out in. to overeat; to overindulge in food or drink. (See also blimp out; mac out; pork out; scarf out.) □ I always pig out on Fridays. □ I can't help myself when I see ice cream. I have to pig out.

pigpen n. a crosshatch or octothorp, #. (Computers. See also mesh.) □ Put a pigpen just after the gear. □ There is nothing on my printout but a whole string of pigpens.

piker ['paɪkə] 1. n. a miser; a cheapskate. (Also a term of address.) □ You cheap little piker! Beat it! □ A 5 percent tip? You piker! 2. n. a lazy person; a shirker. □ All right, you pikers. Pick up your shovels and get back to work. □ Come on, you lazy piker. There's plenty left for you to do.

pile n. a large amount of money. □ She really made a pile in the stock market. □ That old lady has a pile of money stashed in the bank.

pile of shit 1. n. a mass of lies. (Refers to bullshit. Usually objectionable.) □ He came in and told me this great pile of shit about how his alarm clock was in the shop. □ Don't give me that pile of shit! I know the truth! 2. n. any worthless structure or device. (Usually objectionable.) □ Take this pile of shit back where you bought it and get your money back. 3. n. a totally worthless person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Todd, you are the biggest pile of shit I've ever seen. □ Don't be such a pile of shit!

pileup n. a wreck; a vehicular crash where more than one vehicle is heavily damaged. □ There is a serious pileup on the expressway. □ My car was ruined in a pileup on the highway.

pilfered ['pilfərd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I've had too much. I'm beginning to feel pilfered. □ That old boy is really pilfered.

pill 1. the pill n. a birth control pill. (Always with the in this sense.) □ Is Sally on the pill? □ The pill has really changed my life. 2. n. a tobacco cigarette; a marijuana cigarette. □ Hey, toss me a pill, huh? □ I'll trade you a pill for a match. 3. n. a drug in capsule form. □ Stop taking those pills! □ The doctor prescribed these pills. 4. n. a football. □ Hank tossed the pill to Wally, who promptly dropped it. □ Fred kicked the pill through the goal and won the game.

pill-dropper Go to pill-popper.

pill freak Go to pillhead.

pillhead AND pill freak n. a drug user who prefers drugs in pill or capsule form. (Drugs.) □ You pill freaks should try some of this stuff. □ I don't smoke. I'm strictly a pillhead.

pillowed mod. pregnant. (Refers to the swelling in a pregnant woman's abdomen.) □ She does look a bit pillowed, doesn't she? □ I think I'm more than a bit pillowed.

pill-peddler Go to pill-pusher.

pill-popper AND popper; pill-dropper n. anyone who takes pills frequently or habitually. □ Poor Sue is a pill-popper. □ I knew she was always ill, but I didn't know she was a pill-dropper. □ The pill-popper thought she wouldn't get hooked.

pill-pusher AND pill-roller; pill-peddler n.  □ That pill-peddler charges too much. □ I went to the infirmary, but the pill-pusher wasn't in.

pill-roller Go to pill-pusher.

pimp n. a man who solicits business for a prostitute. (Use caution with pimp and the topic.) □ The guy with the diamond rings looks like a pimp. □ The cops took in three hookers and their pimp.

pimpish ['pimpɪʃ] mod. flamboyant in dress and manner, as with a pimp. (Use caution with pimp and the topic.) □ Where did you get that pimpish hat, Ron? □ Take the feathers off it, and it won't look quite so pimpish.

pimpmobile n. a gaudy automobile, as might be driven by a pimp. (Use caution with pimp.) □ You call that pimpmobile a car? Why all the chrome? □ He drove up in a pimpmobile and shocked all the neighbors.

pimp steak n. a hot dog; a wiener. (See also tube steak.) □ Oh, no! Not pimp steak again tonight.

pimpstick n. a typical cigarette made by mass production. (Use caution with pimp. From an earlier time when pimps were likely to smoke machine-made cigarettes rather than the rugged roll-your-own type.) □ Hey, chum. Why do you smoke those pimpsticks? Can't you roll one yourself? □ Real cowboys never smoke pimpsticks, and they don't have tattoos, either.

pin 1. n. someone's leg. (Usually plural.) □ My pins are a little wobbly. □ Stand up on your pins and speak your mind. 2. n. an important criminal leader. (From kingpin.) □ The pin sent me. He says you're to come with me. □ The mob's get- ting careless. The cops think they caught the pin this time.

pinch 1. n. a small amount of a powdered substance, such as salt, snuff, a spice, etc. (Not slang.) □ He put a pinch under his lips and walked up to home plate. □ Do you have any oregano? I need a pinch. 2. tv. to arrest someone. □ The cops pinched her in front of her house. □ The police captain pinched her for passing bad checks. 3. n. the arrest of someone. □ They made the pinch in front of her house. □ The pinch was for forgery. 4. tv. to steal something. (See also cop.) □ The kid pinched a candy bar right off the counter. □ I pinched these paper clips from my office.

pinched mod. arrested. (See also cop; pinch.) □ I got pinched for speeding. □ Sam got pinched for a parole violation.

pinch hitter 1. n. a substitute batter in the game of baseball. □ Sam is a pinch hitter for Ralph, who broke his wrist. □ Time to send in a pinch hitter. 2. n. any substitute person. □ In school today we had a pinch hitter. Our teacher was sick. □ I want my own doctor, not a pinch hitter!

pinked mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ She's sitting there looking a bit pinked. □ I want to get pinked. Fill it up, bartender.

pink elephants AND pink spiders 1. n. the delirium tremens. □ He's screaming with pink elephants again. □ He was shaking something awful from the pink spiders. 2. n. hallucinatory creatures seen during the delirium tremens. (See also seeing pink elephants.) □ He said pink elephants were trying to kill him. He's really drunk. □ If you ever find yourself surrounded with pink elephants, you've got the DTs.

pinkie Go to (little) pinkie.

pinko 1. n. a communist. (Popular during the 1950s.) □ Get out of here, you pinko! □ He called me a pinko, so I left. 2. mod. having communist tendencies; in the manner of a communist. □ Get that pinko jerk out of here! □ Take your old pinko laws and go to hell.

pink slip 1. n. a piece of paper giving notice of dismissal from employment; any dismissal from employment. □ I got a pink slip today. I guess I had it coming. □ I hope I don't get a pink slip. I need this job. 2. tv. to dismiss someone from employment. (See also pink-slipped.) □ They pink slipped the whole office force today. □ If your work doesn't improve, I will be forced to pink slip you. 3. n. a learner's permit for driving an automobile. (In some U.S. states.) □ You can't even drive in your own driveway without a pink slip. □ He wrecked the car one day after getting his pink slip.

pink-slipped mod. fired; dismissed from employment. □ I guess I've done it. I'm pink-slipped. □ Now I'm a member of the young and pink-slipped crowd.

pink spiders Go to pink elephants.

pinky Go to (little) pinkie.

pinned mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ The boys in blue pinned him and took him away. □ He had a gun in his belt when they pinned him.

pin someone's ears back 1. tv. to scold someone severely. □ She really pinned his ears back. □ The teacher pinned the kids' ears back for chewing gum. 2. tv. to beat someone, especially about the head. □ Lefty says I'm supposed to pin your ears back. □ You do something like that again, and I'll pin your ears back.

pinstriper n. a businessman or businesswoman wearing a pinstriped suit. (See also suit; vest.) □ Who's the pinstriper driving the beemer? □ Wall Street is nothing but wall-to-wall pinstripers.

pint-sized mod. small; miniature. □ I won't fit into one of those pint-sized cars. □ My car is not pint-sized. □ Tell that little pint-sized guy to beat it.

pip 1. n. a pimple; a zit. □ Good grief, I've got ear-to-ear pips! □ Do you ever outgrow pips? 2. n. postindustrial person. (Usually PIP. Acronym. Refers to a person as a member of a group that has become useless because of technological change.) □ The world really doesn't really need more PIPs, except as consumers, of course.

 □ Not so! The world needs plenty of PIPs to pay taxes.

pipe n. an easy course in school. □ Take this course. It's a pipe. □ I don't want a full load of pipes. I want to learn something.

pipe down in. to become quiet; to cease making noise; to shut up. (Especially as a rude command.) □ Pipe down! I'm trying to sleep. □ Come on! Pipe down and get back to work!

pipped (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I'm not drunk. Just a little pipped up. □ She's pipped and ready to get sick.

pipsqueak n. a small or timid man or boy. (Also a term of address.) □ Shut up, you little pipsqueak, or I'll hit you. □ I may be a pipsqueak, but I am a gentleman.

piss 1. in. to urinate. (Usually objectionable.) □ Who pissed on the floor of the john? 2. n. urine. (Usually objectionable.) □ You got piss on your pants leg. 3. n. bad beer; bad liquor; any bad-tasting or poor quality liquid. (Usually objectionable.) □ How about another can of that piss you serve here?

pissant AND piss-ant 1. n. a wretched and worthless person. □ Look, you silly pissant, beat it! □ Wally is such a little pissant! 2. mod. worthless. □ I don't want this little pissant piece of pie. Give me a real piece. □ Who is this pissant shithead who thinks he can tell me what to do?

piss around in. to waste time; to be inefficient at something. (Usually objectionable.) □ She's just pissing around. She'll never finish. □ I can't piss around here all day! Let's get going!

piss blood 1. tv. to experience great anxiety. (Usually objectionable. See also sweat blood.) □ He made me piss blood before he agreed. 2. tv. to expend an enormous amount of energy. (Usually objectionable. See also sweat blood.) □ I pissed blood to come in first in the race.

piss-cutter AND piss-whiz n. an extraordinary person; someone who can do the impossible. (Usually objectionable.) □ Sam is a real piss-cutter when it comes to running. □ Tod's no piss-whiz as a batter, but he can really pitch!

pissed 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Usually objectionable.) □ He was really pissed. □ He was so pissed he could hardly stand up. 2. mod. angry. (Potentially offensive, even though it is heard widely. See also piss someone off.) □ I was so pissed I could have screamed. □ He's come back, and he's sure pissed.

pissed off about someone or something Go to pissed (off) (at someone or something).

pissed (off) (at someone or something)
 AND pissed off about someone or something mod. very angry with or about someone or something. (Usually objectionable.) □ She's always pissed off about something. □ Man, is that guy pissed off!

piss elegant mod. very pretentious; overly elegant. (Usually objectionable.) □ Man, this place is piss elegant. Look at them lamp shades! □ I ain't never seen such a piss-elegant bathroom!

pisser 1. n. a urinal; a place [room, restroom] to urinate. (Usually objectionable.) □ Who keeps missing the pisser? 2. n. a remarkable thing or person. (Usually objectionable.) □ Man, isn't he a real pisser! Have you ever seen anybody bat like that? □ She's no pisser, but she can get the job done. 3. n. a terribly funny joke. (You laugh so hard you wet your pants. Jocular. Usually objectionable.) □ He told a real pisser and broke up the entire class. □ Hey, you wanna hear a real pisser?

piss factory n. a bar, tavern, or saloon. (Usually objectionable.) □ I stopped in at the piss factory for a round or two. □ Fred spends far too much time at the piss factory.

pisshead 1. n. a wretched and disgusting person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Hey, pisshead! Clean up that mess! □ How can you even think of going out with a pisshead like Sam? 2. n. a drunkard; a drunken person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Some old pisshead in the gutter must have given you that hat. □ The cops hauled in a couple of pissheads and locked them up.

pissing mod. worthless; minimal. (Usually objectionable.) □ I'll be there in one pissing minute. Be quiet. □ I got a pissing amount of coffee for a buck and a quarter.

pissing-match n. an argument; a pointless competition. (Usually objectionable.) □ Let's call a halt to this pissing-match and get to work. □ That was no meeting. It was a silly pissing-match.

piss in the wind in. to do something that is futile and counter-productive; to waste one's time doing something. (Usually objectionable.) □ Shut up! You're just pissing in the wind! □ I'm tired of pissing in the wind. I'm gonna look for a new job.

piss off AND PO in. to depart; to go away. (Usually objectionable.) □ Piss off, you jerk! Get out! □ PO! Get out!

Piss on it! in. To hell with it! (Usually objectionable.) □ Oh, piss on it! I've had enough!

piss on someone or something 1. in. to urinate on someone or something. (Usually objectionable.) □ That dog pissed on my shoe! □ Hey, watch out! Don't piss on me! 2. in. to degrade or denigrate someone or something. (Usually objectionable.) □ He spent three paragraphs pissing on the play, then he said to go see it. □ He pissed on me, and then said I tried my best. What does that mean?

piss-poor 1. mod. of very poor quality. (Usually objectionable.) □ This is piss-poor coffee. Pay the bill and let's go. □ That's one piss-poor car you got there. 2. mod. without any money; broke. (Usually objectionable.) □ I'm so piss-poor, I can't afford a newspaper. □ Tell those piss-poor jerks to go beg somewhere else.

piss someone off tv. to make someone angry. (Potentially offensive, even though it is widely used. See also pissed (off).) □ She really pissed me off! □ That's enough to piss off anybody.

piss something away tv. to waste all of something, such as time or money. (Usually objectionable.) □ He pissed away the best possible chances.

piss-whiz Go to piss-cutter.

pistol n. a person who is bright, quick, or energetic. (Implying hot as a pistol or quick as a pistol.) □ She's a bright kid. A real pistol. □ Ask that pistol to step over here for a minute, would you?

PITA n. [a] pain in the ass. (Initialism. A computer abbreviation, not pronounced.) □ The SYSOP here is a real PITA. I wish he would leave us alone. □ Who is the PITA who keeps asking the same question over and over?

pitch a bitch tv. to make a complaint. (Crude.) □ You really love to pitch a bitch, don't you? What makes you happy? □ Complain, complain! You could pitch a bitch all day long.

pitch a tent Go to make a mountain.

pitchcharacter n. a person, animal, or cartoon character who delivers the major selling message in an advertisement. □ You can't use a frog for a pitchcharacter in a beer commercial! □ I think we had better hire a celebrity for the pitchcharacter.

pitch in (and help) in. to volunteer to help; to join in completing a task. □ Come on, you guys! Pitch in. □ If more people would pitch in and help, we could get this job done in no time at all.

Pitch it! exclam. Throw it away! □ We don't need it. Pitch it!

pitch (the) woo tv. to kiss and caress; to woo (someone). (Old but still heard.) □ They were out by the barn pitching woo. □ Old Ted can hardly see any more, but he can still pitch the woo.

pits 1. n. the armpits. (Usually crude.) □ Man, you have a problem in your pits. □ Who's got the smelly pits in here? 2. the pits n. anything really bad. (Always with the in this sense.) □ Life is the pits. □ This whole day was the pits from beginning to end. 3. the pits n. the depths of despair. (Always with the in this sense. Often with in as in the example.) □ It's always the pits with him. □ She's depressed and in the pits.

pit stop 1. n. a pause in a journey (usually by car) to urinate. (From the name of a service stop in automobile racing.) □ I think we'll pull in at the next rest area. I need a pit stop. □ Poor Max needs a pit stop every thirty miles. 2. n. an underarm deodorant. (Because it stops armpit odor.) □ Man, do you need some pit stop! □ Can I borrow your pit stop? I need it bad.

pix [piks] n. pictures; photographs. □ I got my pix back from the drugstore. □ Hold still and let me get your pix taken. Then you can jump around.

pixilated AND pixelated 1. mod. bewildered. □ That little old lady is pixilated. □ She seems a bit young to be so pixelated. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ She seems a bit pixilated. She's probably been drinking. □ Martha, you mustn't drive. I think you are pixilated.

pixelated Go to pixilated.

pizza-face Go to crater-face.

pizza-puss Go to crater-face.

pizzazz [pə'zæz] n. punch; glitter and excitement. □ Listen to the way she put pizzazz into that song! □ This script lacks pizzazz.

PJs n. pajamas. (Initialism. Usually juvenile.) □ Get your PJs on and get into bed right now. □ I can't find my PJs. Where are they?

plant 1. tv. to strike a blow (to a particular place on someone). □ I planted one right on his nose. □ The boxer planted a good blow on his opponent's shoulder. 2. n. a spy who secretly participates in criminal activities in order to inform on the criminals. □ The crooks discovered the plant and fed him bogus information. □ Don't tell everything you know. You don't know who's a plant and who isn't.

plant something on someone 1. tv. to hide incriminating evidence on a person for later discovery and use in prosecution. (Drugs. Allegedly a police practice used to entrap drug offenders. See also flake.) □ The cops planted snow on Bart and then arrested him for carrying it. □ Don't touch me! You'll plant something on me! 2. tv. to conceal narcotics or other contraband on an unsuspecting person for the purpose of smuggling. (This person will bear the risk of discovery and arrest.) □ The crooks planted the stuff on a passenger, but couldn't find him when the plane landed. □ Someone had planted coke on me, and the airport security officer found it.

plastered mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She's really plastered. □ She's so plastered she can't see.

plastered to the wall mod. heavily alcohol intoxicated. (An elaboration of plastered.) □ He's not just drunk; he's plastered to the wall! □ How can anybody get plastered to the wall on just four beers?

plastic 1. mod. phony; false. □ She wears too much makeup and looks totally plastic. □ I'm tired of living in such a plastic society. 2. n. a plastic credit card. □ Our economy depends on plastic. □ I don't carry any cash, just plastic. 3. mod. having to do with credit cards and their use. □ This plastic economy is dangerous. □ There is too much plastic debt in most households.

plastic punk n. falsely stylish. □ Most music videos are just plastic punk. □ Isn't all punk really plastic punk?

plate Go to platter.

platter 1. AND plate n. home base or home plate in baseball. (Usually with the.) □ The batter stepped up to the platter. □ The ump dusted off the plate. 2. n. a phonograph record. (Old but still heard.) □ Now, here's an interesting platter. □ They call it a platter because it looks like a serving platter.

play 1. n. a strategy; a plan of action. □ That was a bad play, Bill. We lost the account. □ Here's a play that worked for us last year at this time. 2. n. an attractive investment; a way to make some money in the securities markets. □ I just heard about a good play in the options market.

□ Buying bonds at a discount is an interesting play.

playa n. a player; a womanizer. □ Sam is a real playa and already has 8 kids.

play around (with someone) 1. in. to waste time; to waste someone's time. □ Stop playing around and get to work. □ Don't play around with me! 2. in. to flirt or have an affair with someone. □ Those two have been playing around for months. □ She only wants to play around with me. 3. in. to tease, deceive, or try to trick someone. □ You're playing around with me. Leave me alone. □ Don't pay any attention to them. They're just playing around.

play ball (with someone) tv. to cooperate with someone. □ Are you going to play ball, or do I have to report you to the boss? □ You will be better off if you will play ball with me.

play fast and loose (with someone or something) in. to treat someone or something carelessly or unfairly. □ The broker played fast and loose with our money. Now we are nearly broke. □ He was playing fast and loose with his girl, so she left him.

play for keeps in. to take serious and permanent actions. (Refers to playing a game where the money won is not returned at the end of the game.) □ Wake up and face the fact that she's playing for keeps. She wants to get married. □ I always play for keeps.

play freeze-out tv. to open windows and doors, or turn down a thermostat, making someone cold. (See also freeze someone out.) □ Wow, it's cold in here! Who's playing freeze-out? □ Is someone trying to play freeze-out?

play hardball (with someone) tv. to act strong and aggressive about an issue with someone. □ Things are getting a little tough. The president has decided to play hardball on this issue. □ If he wants to play hardball with us, we can play that way, too.

play hell with someone or something AND play the devil with someone or something tv. to cause difficulty for someone or something. □ You know that this cake is going to play hell with my diet. □ Your decision plays hell with all my friends.

play hide the sausage tv. to perform an act of copulation. (Jocular. Usually objectionable.) □ Then he said he wanted to play hide the sausage. □ The last time we played hide the sausage, I knew where it was all the time.

play hooky [...'huki] tv. to not go to school; to not keep an appointment. □ I played hooky today and did not go to work. □ Tommy is probably playing hooky from school again.

play in the big leagues in. to become involved in something of large or important proportions. □ You had better shape up if you want to play in the big leagues. □ The conductor shouted at the oboist, "You're playing in the big leagues now. Tune up or ship out."

play it cool 1. tv. to do something while not revealing insecurities or incompetence. (See also cool.) □ Play it cool, man. Look like you belong there. □ If the boss walks in, just play it cool. 2. tv. to hold one's temper. □ Come on now. Let it pass. Play it cool. □ Don't let them get you mad. Play it cool.

play someone for a fool tv. to treat someone like a fool; to act as if someone were a fool. □ I know what you're trying to do. Don't try to play me for a fool. □ We played her for a fool, and she never knew it.

play the devil with someone or something Go to play hell with someone or something.

play the dozens AND shoot the dozens tv. to trade insulting remarks concerning relatives with another person. (Chiefly black. See also (dirty) dozens.) □ They're out playing the dozens. □ Stop shooting the dozens and go do your homework.

play tonsil hockey tv. to kiss deeply, using the tongue. □ Kids sit around in cars, playing tonsil hockey all evening. □ Sally's mother caught her playing tonsil hockey with George and grounded her.

play with a full deck in. to operate as if one were mentally sound. (Usually in the negative. One cannot play cards with a partial deck.) □ That guy's not playing with a full deck. □ Look sharp, you dummies! Pretend you are playing with a full deck.

play with fire in. to do something dangerous or risky. □ When you talk to me like that, you're playing with fire. □ Going out at night in a neighborhood like that is playing with fire.

pleasantly plastered mod. mildly alcohol intoxicated; mellow with drink. (And elaboration of plastered.) □ He wasn't really stoned. Just pleasantly plastered. □ I get to the point that I am pleasantly plastered, and then I stop.

[please] Go to Puh-leez!

plonk n. white wine; cheap wine; any liquor. (From French blanc.) □ That plonk is really hard on the gut. □ How about a bottle of plonk?

plonked (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also plonk; blank.) □ He sure is plonked up. □ She is totally plonked.

plonko n. a drunkard. (See also plonk.) □ Get that smelly plonko out of here! □ He's a plonko if I ever saw one.

plooter ['pludəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ We went out and got totally plooter. □ How can anyone get so plooter on a bottle of wine?

plop 1. n. the sound of dropping something soft and bulky, such as a hunk of meat. □ When the roast fell on the floor, it made a nasty plop. □ When I heard the plop, I looked up and saw our dinner on the floor.
2. tv. to put or place something (somewhere). □ I don't mind cooking a turkey. You only have to plop it in the oven and forget about it. □ I plopped my books on the table and went straight to my room.
3. tv. to sit oneself down somewhere; to place one's buttocks somewhere. (The it in the examples is the buttocks.) □ Come in, Fred. Just plop it anywhere you see a chair. This place is a mess. □ Just plop it down right there, and we'll have our little talk.

plotzed ['platst] mod. alcohol intoxicated; really drunk. □ They all came home plotzed. □ Two bottles and she was plotzed.

plowed (under) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ She was plowed under for a week. □ They went out and got ploughed.

pluck AND plug n. wine; cheap wine. (Originally black.) □ Where can I get some plug? □ You spilled plug all over my car seat.

plug 1. n. a bite-sized, pressed mass of chewing tobacco. □ He put a plug in his cheek and walked away. □ Hey, gimme a piece of that plug! 2. n. a drink of beer; a slug of beer. □ Let me have a plug out of that bottle. □ I just want a plug, not the whole thing. 3. n. a free advertisement or a commercial boost from someone for a product. (See also plugola.) □ I managed to get a plug on the Mike Michael show. □ How about a free plug during your introduction? 4. tv. to give an advertisement or commercial boost for something without having to pay for it. □ I want to get on that TV program and plug my new book. □ I can't plug your product until I have a sample I can test. 5. Go to pluck.

plugged in mod. excited by drugs; having to do with the drug culture; turned on. (Drugs.) □ Those guys are really plugged in. □ That punker is plugged in, for sure.

plugola [plæg'olə] n. a bribe paid to get a free advertising plug (worth far more than the amount of the bribe). □ How much plugola did you have to pay for that mention? □ The announcer was charged with accepting plugola.

plug-ugly mod. very ugly. (See also pug-ugly.) □ Your dog is just plug-ugly. □ My plug-ugly dog happens to be pedigreed.

plum n. a prize or reward; something that can be considered the spoils of a political office. □ That appointment was quite a plum. □ My plum for getting elected was a big new office.

plumb loco ['pləm 'loko] mod. completely crazy. (Folksy. Loco is from a Spanish word meaning “mad.”) □ You're plumb loco if you think I'll go along with that. □ All those people were running around like they were plumb loco.

PMJI interj. Pardon me for jumping in. (This indicates that someone is responding to a message directed to someone else. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ PMJI, but I have some information that would help you with your problem. □ PMJI. As long as we are talking about vacations, does anyone know the price of admission to EP-COT Center in Orlando, Florida?

PO Go to piss off.

pocket pool n. the act of a male playing with his genitals with his hand in his pants pocket. (Usually objectionable.) □ Stop playing pocket pool and get to work.

pocket-rocket n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his pocket-rocket and ran for the bedroom.

Podunk ['podəŋk] 1. n. an imaginary rural town where everything and everyone is backward, old-fashioned, and inferior. □ I don't want a job in Podunk. □ This is the big city, not Podunk. 2. mod. rural and backward. (Usually podunk.) □ I want out of this podunk town. □ This podunk place is driving me crazy.

POed mod. pissed-off. □ I get so POed at you! □ The teacher was POed at the whole class.

poindexter ['poindəkstɜː] n. a bookish person; a well-mannered good student, usually male. □ Charles is a poindexter, but he's a good guy. □ I'm no poindexter. In fact, my grades are pretty low.

point man 1. n. a ballplayer who habitually scores points. □ Fred is supposed to be point man for our team, but tonight he is not doing so well. □ Paul is our favorite point man. 2. n. anyone whose job it is to score successes against the opposition.

□ The president expects the secretary of defense to be point man for this new legislation. □ I am a diplomat, not a point man. Ask someone else to play your little games.

pointy-head n. a studious thinker; an intellectual. (See also conehead.) □ The pointy-heads seem to be living in a world of their own. □ Why do pointy-heads spend so much time arguing about nothing?

poison 1. mod. wicked; evil. □ Stay away from her. She's poison. □ What a poison personality. 2. n. an alcoholic drink. □ Name your poison. □ How about a drink of that poison there?

poison pill n. an element introduced into the restructuring of a corporation so that it becomes undesirable for another corporation to take over. □ Acme Corporation approved a poison pill to prevent a hostile takeover. □ Mr. Boone would have bought the company if it weren't for the poison pill.

poke 1. n. a puff of a marijuana cigarette or pipe. (Drugs. See also toke.) □ Can I have a poke of that? □ Hey! One poke is enough! 2. tv. [for a male] to copulate (with a female). (Crude. Usually objectionable.) □ They say he poked her. □ Your dog poked my dog, then ran away.

pokey Go to poky.

poky AND pokey 1. n. jail; a jail cell. (Usually with the.) □ She spent a day in the poky. □ Have you ever been in the pokey? 2. mod. slow; lagging and inefficient. □ Hurry up! Don't be so poky. □ What a poky old horse.

pol [pəl] n. a politician. □ The pols are spending my taxes like mad again. □ How many pols does a democracy require anyway?

polecat n. a mean and deceitful person, usually male. (Folksy. Polecat is another U.S. word for skunk. See also skunk; stinker.) □ You dirty polecat! □ Tell that polecat I want to talk to him.

polished (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also waxed.) □ One glass of that stuff and I was polished up. □ How much of that do I have to drink to get good and polished?

polluted mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Those guys are really polluted. □ Madam, you are polluted!

pond scum n. a mean and wretched person; a worthless male. (Collegiate. An elaboration of scum, less crude than scumbag. Also a rude term of address.) □ Tell that pond scum to beat it. □ Get your hands off me, you pond scum!

poo 1. AND poo-poo n. fecal material. (See also poop. Mostly juvenile. Usually objectionable.) □ Don't step in that dog poo! □ There's poo on your shoe, I think. 2. in. to defecate. (Usually objectionable.) □ That old dog poed on our lawn. □ Don't let your dog poo here! 3. n. nonsense. (From sense 1. See also poo(h)-poo(h).) □ Don't give me that poo! □ I've heard enough of your poo. 4. n. champagne. (From shampoo.) □ How about another glass of poo? □ Oh, I just love poo! 5. Go to poo(h)-poo(h).

pooch n. a dog. (Also a term of address to a friendly dog.) □ Hello, pooch. My goodness, you're friendly. □ Please take your pooch out of my garden.

poohead n. an obnoxious person. □ Wally, don't be such a poohead! □ What poohead left the window open?

poo(h)-poo(h) ['pu'pu] tv. to belittle someone or something. □ He tends to pooh-poo things he doesn't understand. □ Don't always poo-poo me when I express my opinions!

pool-hopping n. sneaking into private or public swimming pools at night or during the off-hours. □ The kids went pool-hopping, and one of them nearly drowned. □ Pool-hopping is illegal.

poop 1. n. information; the detailed knowledge of something. □ What's the poop on the broken glass in the hall? □ Tell me all the poop. 2. n. fecal matter. (Usually objectionable. See also poo.) □ Don't step in the poop. □ There's poop on the sidewalk. 3. in. to defecate. □ Your dog pooped on my lawn. □ I tried to chase the cat away while it was pooping.

pooped (out) 1. mod. exhausted; worn-out. (Said of a person or an animal.) □ I'm really pooped out. □ The horse looked sort of pooped in the final stretch. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How much of that stuff does it take to get pooped? □ He's been drinking all night and is totally pooped out.

pooper-scooper n. a device used to pick up and carry away dog feces from public places. □ I never leave home without my pooper-scooper. □ Tracy actually got a ticket for walking her dog without a pooper-scooper in sight!

poophead n. a person who acts very stupidly. (Also a term of address.) □ Sometimes you act like such a poophead. □ Look here, poophead, you're making a fool of yourself.

poopied mod. alcohol intoxicated. (A euphemism for shit-faced.) □ She was so poopied that she giggled all the way home. □ They got real poopied last night.

poo-poo Go to poo; poo(h)-poo(h).

poop out in. to quit; to wear out and stop. (See also pooped (out).) □ He pooped out after about an hour. □ I think I'm going to poop out pretty soon.

poop sheet n. a sheet containing information. □ Where is the poop sheet on today's meeting? □ You can't tell one from the other without a poop sheet.

poor-mouth 1. tv. to speak ill of someone. (See also bad-mouth.) □ Please don't poor-mouth my brother. □ There's no need to poor-mouth your clothing. 2. in. to speak repeatedly of how little money one has; to plead poverty. □ She's got money, but she's always poor-mouthing anyway. □ Spend more time looking for a job and less time poor-mouthing.

pop 1. tv. to hit or strike someone. □ Please don't pop me again. □ She popped him lightly on the shoulder. 2. mod. popular. □ This style is very pop. □ I don't care for pop stuff. 3. n. popular music. □ I like most pop, but not if it's too loud. □ Pop is the only music I like. 4. a pop n. a time; a try; apiece. (Always with a in this sense.) □ Twenty dollars a pop is too much. □ I love records, but not at $15.98 a pop. 5. tv. to take or swallow a pill, tablet, or capsule. □ Here, pop a couple of these. □ He pops uppers from dawn to dusk.

popcorn pimp n. a pimp who runs a small operation. (Streets. Popcorn here means small; as in popcorn shrimp.) □ Reggie is nothing but a popcorn pimp. He'll never amount to much. □ That bird Reggie is just a popcorn pimp trying to fake the funk.

pop-eyed mod. alcohol intoxicated, with bulging eyes. □ What's he been drinking? He's pop-eyed as hell. □ She drank until she was totally pop-eyed.

pop for something in. to pay for a treat (for someone). (See also spring for something.) □ Let's have some ice cream. I'll pop for it. □ It's about time you popped for coffee.

pop off 1. in. to make an unnecessary remark; to interrupt with a remark; to sound off. □ Please don't pop off all the time. □ Bob keeps popping off when he should be listening. 2. in. to lose one's temper. (See also pop one's cork.) □ Now, don't pop off. Keep cool. □ I don't know why she popped off at me. All I did was say hello. 3. in. to die. □ My uncle popped off last week. □ I hope I'm asleep when I pop off. 4. in. to leave; to depart in haste. □ Bye, I must pop off. □ Got to pop off. I'm late.

pop one's cork tv. to release one's anger; to blow one's top. □ I'm just about to pop my cork. □ She tried to hold it back, but suddenly she popped her cork.

popped 1. mod. arrested. (Similar to busted.) □ Tom got popped for speeding. □ He was popped for hardly anything at all. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ She looks glassy-eyed because she's popped. □ They went out last night and got good and popped.

popper 1. AND popsie n. an ampoule of amyl nitrite, a drug that is inhaled when the ampoule is broken. (Drugs. Often plural.) □ You got any poppers I can have?

2. Go to pill-popper. 3. n. a handgun. (Underworld. From the sound of a gunshot.) □ He carries his popper under his coat. 4. n. a can of beer (in a pop-top can). □ You ready for another popper, Tom?

popping in. happening. □ Is anything popping around here? □ Things are always popping at the gym.

poppycock n. nonsense. (From Dutch.) □ I've heard enough of your poppycock. □ That's nothing but poppycock.

pops n. one's father; any older man. (Also a term of address.) □ Hey, pops! How you doing? □ Well, pops, what do you think?

popsie Go to popper.

popskull n. fiery liquor; inferior whiskey; moonshine. □ This popskull will burn a hole in you. □ Where is that jug of popskull?

pop (some) tops tv. to drink beer. □ Wanna go out tonight and pop some tops? □ We are going to pop tops and watch the B-ball game.

pop the question tv. [for a man] to ask a woman to marry him. (Could also be used by a woman asking a man.) □ She waited for years for him to pop the question. □ Finally she popped the question.

pop wine n. a cheap, flavorful, sparkling wine drink. □ Even if you don't like fine wines, you'll like pop wine. □ They were drinking pop wine like it was water.

pork 1. n. the police in general; a pig. (Underworld.) □ Keep an eye out for the pork. □ The pork hauled all of them to the station. 2. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ He's telling everybody that he porked her. □ They pork all the time, just like bunnies.

porked mod. copulated with; [of a female] deflowered. (Usually objectionable.) □ Well, have you been porked?

porker n. a fat person. □ Sally is not exactly a porker, but she is not skinny either. □ I was a porker until I started exercising.

pork out in. to overindulge in food and drink. (A play on pig out.) □ Whenever I see french fries, I know I'm going to pork out. □ We porked out on pizza.

porky mod. fat; obese; pig-like. □ You are beginning to look a little porky. □ See that porky man over there?

pository mod. yes; positive. □ Q: Is this the right one? A: Pository.

posse ['pasi] n. the group of teenagers or children that one plays with or hangs out with. □ Hank and his posse are in the backyard playing. □ A whole posse of kids just ran through my flower garden.

pot 1. n. a toilet. (Usually with the.) □ Jimmy's on the pot, Mommy. □ Where's the pot around here? 2. n. a drinking vessel. (Old but still heard.) □ How about a pot of beer? □ Care for another pot? 3. in. to drink heavily; to use a pot (sense 2) to excess. □ He's been potting since dusk. □ Let's sit here and pot for a while. 4. n. a vessel, hat, basket, etc., used to collect or receive contributions. □ Please pass the pot. □ How much is left in the pot? 5. n. a sum of money collected; a pool of money. □ Clare won the whole pot. □ How large is the pot this month? 6. n. cannabis; marijuana. (Originally drugs, now widely known.) □ She had pot on her when she was arrested. □ The cops found pot growing next to city hall.

potato n. the head. □ I got a nasty bump on my potato. □ Put your hat on your potato, and let's get out of here.

potatohead n. a stupid person. (See also potato.) □ Stop acting like a potatohead. □ Look, potatohead, go home!

potato soup n. vodka. □ Have a bit of this potato soup, why don't you? □ Those Russians make fine potato soup.

potbelly n. a big belly. □ He got a potbelly from eating fried chicken. □ Everyone in her family has a potbelly.

pot boiler n. a book or other literary work of no value except for the money it earns. □ I can write one pot boiler every six months or so. □ Can you produce anything but pot boilers?

pot hound AND pot sniffer n. a dog trained to sniff out cannabis. (Drugs.) □ The pot hound at the airport is always busy finding marijuana. □ How do they train pot sniffers to find cannabis?

pot party n. a communal marijuana smoking session; a party where marijuana is smoked. (Drugs.) □ I didn't know you were taking me to a pot party! □ There was a bust at Bart's pot party.

POTS n. plain old telephone service [for a computer connection to the Internet]. (As opposed to connection through a TV cable or high-speed telephone line.) □ Even in 5 years, most people will still rely on POTS to get connected to the Internet. □ Cable modems, POTS, IDSN! What does it matter if you can't afford a computer?

potshot n. a sharp criticism; a wild shot of criticism. (Usually with take.) □ Please stop taking potshots at me! □ He took a potshot at my old car.

pot sniffer Go to pot hound.

potted mod. drunk. □ He's not sleepy! He's totally potted!

potty 1. n. a small toilet. (Usually juvenile.) □ Mommy, I've got to go to the potty. □ I need to use the potty. 2. in. to use the toilet. (Always juvenile.) □ I've got to potty. □ Be sure to potty before we leave. 3. mod. crazy. □ She is acting a little potty. □ Who is that potty old man? □ He got more potty as he grew older.

potty mouth AND toilet mouth n. someone who uses obscene or profane language in most social settings. (Also a term of address.) □ That potty mouth is offending people again. □ Hey, toilet mouth! Cool it!

pound tv. to drink something quickly. (See also pound a beer.) □ Dan said he could pound the cup of coffee in thirty seconds. □ You don't have to pound your milk. Take your time.

pound a beer AND pound some beers; hammer a beer; hammer some beers; slam a beer; slam some beers tv. to drink a beer; to drink a beer fast. □ On a hot day like this, I want to go home and pound a beer. □ Let's go down to the tavern and pound some beers. □ We went out and hammered some beers.

pounder n. a police officer; a cop on the beat. □ The pounder gave me a parking ticket. □ Most pounders get sore feet.

pound one's ear tv. to sleep. □ I've got to spend more time pounding my ear. □ She went home to pound her ear an hour or two before work.

pound one's meat Go to beat the dummy.

pounds n. dollars; money. □ How many pounds does this thing cost? □ I don't have any pounds on me.

pound some beers Go to pound a beer.

pound someone's head in tv. to beat someone. □ Talk nice to him, or he'll pound your head in. □ I was afraid that the cop was going to pound my head in.

pound something out 1. tv. to play something loudly on the piano, perhaps with difficulty. □ Here, pound this one out. A little softer, please. □ She was pounding out a nice little tune. 2. tv. to type something on a typewriter. □ I have finished writing it. Can I borrow your typewriter so I can pound it out? □ All the reporters were pounding out stories for the next edition of the paper.

pound the books Go to hit the books.

pour cold water on something tv. to put an end to something; to dampen something. □ I hate to pour cold water on your plan, but it won't work. □ I wanted to go to the party, but my brother poured cold water on that by taking the car.

powdered (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Those guys are powdered up. □ Most of the bums in the gutter are really powdered.

powder monkey n. a specialist in the use of dynamite. (See also grease monkey.) □ I won't stay around while the powder monkey is working. □ How long do powder monkeys usually live?

powder one's face Go to powder one's nose.

powder one's nose 1. AND powder one's face tv. to depart to the bathroom. (Usually said by women, or jocularly by men.) □ Excuse me, I have to powder my nose. □ She just went out to powder her face. 2. tv. to use cocaine. □ John is in the bedroom powdering his nose. What a habit! □ The cops caught the guys powdering their noses and collared them all.

powder room 1. n. a small bathroom without bathing facilities in a private home, usually located for the convenience of guests. □ Can I use your powder room? □ Excuse me, where is the powder room? 2. n. the ladies' restroom in a public place, especially a restaurant; the place women go to powder their noses. (The emphasis is on comforts other than toilet facilities, such as mirrors, places to rest, and even a maid to help with emergency repairs of makeup or clothing.) □ The ladies went to the powder room. They'll be back in a minute. □ She went to the powder room to clean the spill off her dress.

powder up in. to drink heavily; to get drunk. □ Let's go out and powder up. □ He's at the tavern powdering up.

power hitter n. a batter in the game of baseball who can hit the ball great distances. □ Ted is a real power hitter. They'll try to walk him. □ I'm no power hitter, but I can run like mad.

powerhouse n. a very big strong person, usually a male. □ Ted is a real powerhouse. I'd hate to have him mad at me. □ Each member of the football team is a powerhouse.

power tool n. a student who studies most of the time. (An elaboration of tool.) □ Willard is a power tool if there ever was one. Studies most of the night. □ All the power tools always get the best grades.

pow-wow 1. n. a meeting; a conference. (From an Amerindian word.) □ There's a big pow-wow about money at the home office. □ Let's have a pow-wow on that issue. 2. in. to hold a meeting or a conference. □ Let's pow-wow on that tomorrow.

□ The senators were pow-wow-ing on how to get the law passed.

pratfall n. a fall on the buttocks; a fall on the buttocks done as part of a comedy act. □ I took a pratfall right on the sidewalk. □ If you want to be in musical comedy, you should learn to take a pratfall.

prat(t) n. the buttocks. □ Get out before I kick you in the pratt. □ Your father will spank your prat.

prayerbones n. the knees. □ Okay, down on your prayerbones. □ He pushed one of his prayerbones into my gut.

pray to the enamel god Go to pray to the porcelain god.

pray to the porcelain god AND pray to the enamel god in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Refers to being on one's knees [praying] in front of a porcelain toilet bowl.) □ Boy, was I sick. I was praying to the porcelain god for two hours. □ Wayne was in the john, praying to the enamel god. □ I think I'd better go home and pray to the porcelain god.

preemie n. a premature baby. (Medical.) □ There were two preemies born today. □ I was a preemie.

preg mod. pregnant. □ Doesn't Sally look a little preg? □ Nobody is ever just a little preg.

prelims n. preliminary examinations. (Collegiate.) □ I hope I pass my prelims. □ What do you have to do to get the degree after you pass your prelims?

preppie AND preppy 1. mod. in the manner or style of a student at a preparatory school. □ I just love your preppy coat. □ Preppy clothes are almost out of style. 2. n. a young person who dresses and acts like a student at a preparatory school. □ Those preppies are having fun now, but how will they support themselves? □ Do all preppies become yuppies?

preserved mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also pickled.) □ He's really preserved. □ He drank a quart of vodka and is totally preserved.

press (the) flesh tv. to shake hands. (See also flesh-presser.) □ Hey, chum! Glad to press flesh with you! □ He wanted to press the flesh, but I refused even to touch him.

press the panic button Go to hit the panic button.

pretty mod. very. □ Bob's a pretty nice guy. □ I'm pretty busy at the moment.

pretty penny n. a sizeable amount of money. □ I imagine that your jacket cost you a pretty penny. □ This watch cost me a pretty penny, and I intend to take care of it.

prexy n. a president. □ The prexy broke the tied vote. □ This year's prexy will retire in March.

pric(e)y mod. expensive. □ This stuff is too pricey. □ That's a pretty pricy car. □ Do you have anything less pricy?

prick 1. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his prick and ran for the bedroom. 2. n. a stupid or obnoxious male. (Usually objectionable.) □ You stupid prick! Get out of here!

primed mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ The entire fraternity got primed. □ The whole college was primed by midnight.

primo ['primo] 1. mod. great; first-class. □ This pizza is really primo. □ Sally is primo. You can't do better than Sally. 2. Go to (el) primo.

Prince Albert n. cannabis in general, especially marijuana sold or transported in a Prince Albert™ pipe tobacco can. (From the 1960s, but still heard.) □ I've heard that Max smokes Prince Albert. □ Where can I get a can of Prince Albert?

prior n. a prior arrest. (Underworld.) □ This guy has about fifteen priors. □ Have you ever had a prior, young man?

private eye n. a detective who is licensed to work privately rather than for a police department. □ I worked for a while as a private eye. □ The cops don't like private eyes much.

privy n. an outdoor toilet; any toilet. □ Uncle Paul was out in the privy. □ Where's the privy around here?

pro 1. n. a professional (at anything); someone as good as a professional. □ I'm a pro at photography. □ When it comes to typing, he's a pro. 2. mod. professional. □ I hope to play pro ball next year. □ This is not what I'd call a pro hammer. 3. n. a prostitute. □ Do you think she's a pro or just overly friendly? □ This pro comes up to me and acts like she's met me before.

Probablee. mod. probably. (As an answer to a question. The last syllable is accented and drawn out.) □ Q: Will you be there when I get home? A: Probablee.

prod 1. n. a reminder. □ She gave me a little prod about the report that is due Monday. □ Call me up and give me a little prod so I won't forget. 2. tv. to remind someone (about something). □ Call me up and prod me just before the due date. □ Stop prodding me about these minor matters.

prof n. a professor. (Collegiate.) □ The prof was dull and the room was hot, and I kept closing my eyes. □ Who's the prof for that course?

(pro)file in. to walk about and show something off; to walk carefully in a way that gets attention. (As if showing one's profile.) □ Look at Albert profiling along! What a nerd. □ All those guys are filing and styling like they were a bunch of peacocks.

pronto mod. fast; immediately. (From Spanish. Common in Western movies.) □ You get over here, pronto. □ I want to see you in my office, pronto.

proofed Go to carded.

props n. evidence of respect; one's proper respect. □ You gotta give me my props.

prosty AND prostie n. a prostitute. □ The cops haul in about forty prosties a night from that one neighborhood alone. □ This one prosty was high on something and started screaming.

pseudo ['sudo] 1. mod. false; bogus. □ This is a very pseudo position that you are tak- ing. □ She is just too pseudo. □ What a pseudo hairdo! 2. n. a phony person. □ Randy is such a pseudo! What a fake!

psyched (out) 1. mod. excited; overwhelmed; thrilled. □ She's really psyched out. □ That's great. I'm really psyched! □ What a psyched out way to talk! 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) □ She's just lying there psyched out. □ Two beers and a red devil and he was psyched out.

psyched (up) mod. completely mentally ready (for something). □ I'm really psyched for this test. □ The team isn't psyched up enough to do a good job.

psycho n. a psychopathic person; a crazy person. □ Get that psycho out of here! □ Pat is turning into a real psycho.

psych out in. to have a nervous or emotional trauma; to go mad for a brief time. (See also freak (out).) □ Another day like this one and I'll psych out for sure. □ He looked at the bill and psyched out.

psych someone out tv. to try to figure out what someone is likely to do. □ Don't try to psych me out. □ The batter tried to psych out the pitcher, but it didn't work.

psych someone up tv. to get someone excited or mentally prepared for something. (See also psyched (up).) □ I psyched myself up to sing in front of all those people. □ The coach psyched up the team for the game.

ptomaine-domain AND ptomaine-palace ['to'men...] n. any institutional dining facility; a mess hall; a cafeteria. □ I can't stand the food at the ptomaine-domain. □ Time to go over to the ptomaine-palace and eat—if you can call it that.

ptomaine-palace Go to ptomaine-domain.

puddinghead n. someone, usually a male, who acts very stupid. □ Please stop being such a puddinghead. □ That puddinghead sold my antique table for junk!

puddle jumper n. a small airplane. □ I'm not going to fly 200 miles in that puddle jumper! □ My uncle has his own puddle jumper.

puff in. to get drunk. □ Those guys go out and puff every Friday night. □ I've been puffing since dinnertime, and I'm done.

puffer n. a cigar. □ Who's smoking that foul puffer? □ Can you imagine anyone smoking a puffer like that in a restaurant?

pugged 1. mod. exhausted; bewildered. □ I have had a long day, and I'm really pugged. □ Who is that pugged old man? 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ When he started pouring his drink down his collar, I knew he was pugged. □ The whole gang got pugged last night.

pug-ugly 1. mod. having to do with a very ugly person. □ He is so pug-ugly. □ What a pug-ugly cat you have there! 2. n. a very ugly person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Ask that pug-ugly to leave. He will frighten the children. □ Hey, pug-ugly, try plastic surgery!

Puh-leez! [pəə 'li:iz] exclam. Please!; That is enough! You can't expect me to accept that! (A long drawn-out way of saying Please! The tone of voice shows exasperation and disgust. The spelling is highly variable.) □ I am the one who's at fault? Puuuleeze! □ Puh-leez! Don't try to make me believe that!

puke 1. in. to vomit. □ I thought I would puke when I smelled it. □ Who puked in the john? 2. n. vomit. □ There's puke on the bathroom wall. □ Tod put a big hunk of fake plastic puke on the teacher's desk. 3. n. a totally disgusting and obnoxious person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ God, I hate you, you puke! □ What an ugly puke. Make him leave! Make him handsome!

puke hole ['pjuk...] 1. n. a tavern. □ Let's go in this puke hole and get a cold one. □ Carl spends almost every evening at the local puke hole. 2. n. a toilet. □ Bart tried to flush the dope down the puke hole, but the cops caught him. □ Who didn't flush the puke hole? 3. n. a mouth. (Rude.) □ Shut your puke hole and listen to what I am telling you! □ Do you want me to punch you in the puke hole?

the pukes n. the feeling of nausea; the feeling of impending vomiting. (Especially with have, get.) □ Oh my God, I've got the pukes. □ I hate having the pukes.

pukey AND pukoid mod. disgusting; repellent. □ Who is that pukey looking guy? □ Gosh, it's pukoid! □ What a pukey day!

pukish mod. nauseated. (Folksy.) □ Oh, I feel so pukish. □ That old pukish feeling came over me, and I just let go.

pukoid Go to pukey.

pull 1. n. a drink; a swig; a drink from a flask. □ He took another pull and kept on talking. □ Can I have a pull? 2. tv. to take a drink or a mouthful of liquor from a bottle or other container. □ He pulled a slug from the bottle. □ She pulled a mouthful and then spat it out. 3. n. a mouthful of smoke from a cigarette; a drag on a cigarette. □ A couple of pulls and she crushed out the cigarette. □ After a big pull, she blew an enormous smoke ring. 4. tv. to smoke a cigarette. □ He pulled a long filter job and then went back to work. □ He stopped for a minute and pulled one. 5. in. to pull one's punches. (Martial arts.) □ See, he pulled just at the last minute. □ If you pull during a fight, you're through as a fighter.

pull a boner tv. to make a silly error. □ That was dumb. You really pulled a boner. □ Tom is always pulling boners.

pull a fast one tv. to outwit or outsmart someone by a clever and timely maneuver. □ Don't try to pull a fast one on me. □ So you think you can pull a fast one?

pull a job tv. to carry out a crime, especially a robbery. (Police and underworld. Note the variations in the examples.) □ Bart decided that it was not a good time to pull a bank job. □ Ziggy and Bart left town after they pulled the job.

pull an attitude tv. to be haughty; to put on airs. □ Don't pull an attitude with me, chum! □ Mary pulled an attitude and sat around pouting all evening.

pull chocks tv. to depart. (Chocks are used to block the wheels of a vehicle or a plane.) ☐ Let's pull chocks and get out of here.

pull down an amount of money tv. to earn a stated amount of money. (An amount of money is expressed as a figure or other indication of an actual amount.) ☐ She pulls down about $40,000 a year.
☐ They pull down pretty good salaries.

pull jive tv. to drink liquor. (See also jive.) ☐ Let's go pull jive for a while. ☐ Don't you ever do anything but pull jive?

pull one's belt in (a notch) Go to take one's belt in (a notch).

pull oneself off Go to beat off.

pull one's pud Go to beat the dummy.

pull one's punches 1. tv. to pull back during a boxing punch just before the full force of a blow is felt; to land lighter blows than normal upon an opponent. (Boxing and related sports.) ☐ The boxer started pulling his punches, and the ref ended the fight. ☐ He got fined for pulling his punches. 2. tv. to hold back in one's criticism; to attenuate the intensity of one's remarks. (Also with any in the negative.) ☐ I won't pull my punches with you. This is lousy. ☐ He never pulls any punches. He always talks straight.

pull one's wire Go to beat the dummy.

pull out all the stops tv. to use everything available; to not hold back. (Refers to pulling out all of the stops on an organ so that it will sound as loud as possible.)
☐ Then the mayor decided to pull out all the stops. ☐ Don't pull out all the stops in the first round. Wait till he's tired in the third and clobber him good.

pull someone's chain Go to yank someone's chain.

pull someone's leg tv. to kid someone; to tease someone. ☐ They're just pulling your leg. Relax! ☐ Stop it! I don't believe you! You're pulling my leg.

pull something off tv. to make something happen. ☐ I didn't think he could pull it off. ☐ It takes a lot of skill to pull off something like that.

pull the plug (on someone or something) tv. to put an end to someone or something as a problem; to defuse a problem caused by someone or something. (As if one were disconnecting an electrical appliance.) ☐ It's time to pull the plug on this problem. ☐ I've heard enough from Mr. Jones. It's time to pull the plug on him.

pummelled mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Collegiate.) ☐ Can you imagine getting pummeled on peppermint schnapps? ☐ They get pummeled every Friday night.

pump 1. tv. to press someone for an answer or information. ☐ Pump him until he talks. ☐ Don't pump me! I will tell you nothing! 2. n. the heart. (See also ticker.)
☐ He has the pump of a forty-year-old. ☐ My pump's getting sort of weak. 3. n. a pumped up muscle. (Bodybuilding.) ☐ Look at the size of that pump. ☐ He's tired and can't quite make a pump.

pumped 1. mod. pregnant; impregnated. (Crude.) ☐ She was so pumped, she was out to here. ☐ Look at her! She's pumped and looks due any minute. 2. Go to pumped (up).

pumped (up) mod. excited; physically and mentally ready. (Sports.) ☐ The team is really pumped up for Friday's game. ☐ She really plays well when she's pumped!

pump iron Go to pump (some) iron.

pump ship 1. tv. to urinate. (Crude. From an expression meaning to pump the bilge water from a ship.) ☐ He stopped and pumped ship right in the alley. ☐ I'll be with you after I pump ship. 2. tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Crude. Less well known than the previous sense.) ☐ After I pumped ship, I felt better. ☐ Oh, man! I think I gotta pump ship!

pump (some) iron tv. to lift weights. ☐ Andy went down to the gym to pump some iron. ☐ Mary's hobbies are pumping iron and running.

pump (someone) up tv. & in. to excite someone; to make someone enthusiastic.
☐ The coach gave a pep talk to pump the players up for the big game. □ Tom pumped us up at the sales meeting.

pump something up tv. to flex and tense a muscle until it is expanded to its fullest size, as with thighs and forearms. (Body-building.) □ He really can pump up his pecs. □ She pumped up her thighs and struck a pose.

pump up Go to pump (someone) up.

punch-drunk AND punchy mod. unstable; stupid acting; bewildered. (From a term describing a boxer suffering from brain damage.) □ I feel sort of punch-drunk after a roller coaster ride. □ Who is that punchy jerk? □ I feel punchy when I drink too much coffee.

punch someone out tv. to knock someone out. (See also punch someone's lights out.) □ He threatened to punch me out. □ The thug punched out the cop and ran down an alley.

punch someone's lights out tv. to knock someone out; to close someone's eyes with a hard blow. □ Shut up, or I'll punch your lights out. □ He threatened to punch my lights out. □ You want me to punch out your lights?

punchy Go to punch-drunk.

punk 1. AND punk kid n. an inexperienced boy or youth. (Derogatory. Also a term of address.) □ Ask that punk to come over here. □ Look here, punk, I need some help. 2. n. a petty (male) hoodlum; a (male) juvenile delinquent. □ We know how to deal with punks like you. □ The jails are packed with crooks who were just punks a few years ago. 3. mod. poor; dull and inferior. □ The party turned punk, and we left. □ This is pretty punk food. 4. mod. having to do with punkers or their music. □ I am tired of your red punk hair. Try it brown for a change. □ This music sounds too punk for me.

punker n. a punk rocker; a young person who dresses in the style of punk rockers. □ It's not safe to walk on the street with all those weird punkers out there. □ The punkers don't even have a sense of rhythm.

punk kid Go to punk.

punk out 1. in. to chicken out. □ He was supposed to ask her out, but he punked out at the last minute. □ Come on! Stick with it! Don't punk out! 2. in. to become a punker. □ If I punked out, my parents would probably clobber me. □ If my kids ever punked out and looked like that, I think I'd clobber them.

punt [pʌnt] in. to do something different in a pinch; to improvise. (From the act of kicking the ball in order to gain ground in football.) □ When all else fails, punt! □ Everyone expected me to lose my temper, so I punted. I cried instead of getting mad.

puppy 1. n. a wimp; a softie. □ That silly puppy is still waiting outside your door. □ Oh, Paul, you're such a puppy! 2. n. a thing; a piece or part of something. □ Put this little puppy right here. □ Where is that puppy?

puppy love n. mild infatuation; infatuation as in a crush. □ Is it really love or just puppy love? □ Look at them together. It may be puppy love, but it looks wonderful.

pure and simple mod. basically; simply; essentially. □ Bart is a crook, pure and simple. □ It's a pure and simple fact. The guy is a bum.

purr (like a cat) in. [for an engine] to run well and smoothly. □ My car really purred after I got it tuned up. □ New spark plugs and this old heap will really purr like a cat.

push 1. tv. to approach a particular age (in years). □ She looked like she was pushing forty-eight or fifty. □ He's only pushing thirty, but he looks much older. 2. in. to recruit new drug users and sell drugs to them; to deal in drugs. □ He was pushing for two years before the cops got him. □ Man, look at that guy push. He hooks two new kids every day. 3. tv. to hype something or someone; to pressure something or someone. □ She's always pushing her own interests. □ The clerk was pushing one brand so hard that I finally bought it.

pushed 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Tom is a little pushed and can't walk very straight. □ How can you be so pushed on so little booze? 2. mod. addicted to a drug. (Drugs. See also push.) □ He's pretty pushed, and he needs some stuff now! □ He used H. for years before he really got pushed.

pusher n. a drug dealer who works hard to establish new addicts and customers. (Drugs. See also push.) □ That pusher over on Eighth Street was just mobbed by a group of angry parents. □ They said that pushers should be locked up forever.

pushing up daisies mod. dead and buried. (Folksy. Usually in the future tense.) □ I'll be pushing up daisies before this problem is solved. □ If you talk to me like that again, you'll be pushing up daisies.

push money n. extra money paid to a salesperson to sell certain merchandise aggressively. (See also spiff.) □ The manufacturer supplied a little push money that even the store manager didn't know about. □ I got about $300 last month in push money for selling some low-grade sweaters.

push off AND shove off in. to leave. (As if one were pushing away from a dock.) □ Well, it looks like it's time to push off. □ It's time to go. Let's shove off.

push the panic button Go to hit the panic button.

pushy mod. very aggressive in dealing with other people. □ Stop being so pushy! Who do you think you are? □ Who is that pushy dame? □ If she weren't so pushy, she would get more cooperation.

puss [pus] n. the face. □ I ought to poke you right in the puss! □ Look at the puss on that guy! What an ugly face!

pussy 1. n. the female genitals; the vulva. (Usually objectionable.) □ He said he wanted to get into her pussy. 2. n. women considered as a receptacle for the penis. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Man, I gotta get me some pussy.

pussycat 1. n. a woman or young woman; one's girlfriend. (Also a term of address.) □ Hi, pussycat. Don't I know you from somewhere? □ Who was that yummy pussycat I saw you with last Friday? 2. n.

a timid male; a mild-mannered and passive male. □ That guy is a wimp, a real pussycat. □ He seems mean, but underneath he's a pussycat.

pussy fart Go to cunt fart.

pussyfoot (around) in. to behave in a very cautious manner; to (metaphorically) tread softly; to hedge or equivocate. □ Come on and say what you mean! Stop pussyfooting. □ You can depend on the mayor to pussyfoot around while the crisis is on.

put a con on someone tv. to attempt to deceive someone; to attempt to swindle someone. (Underworld.) □ Don't try to put a con on me, Buster! I've been around too long. □ I wouldn't try to put a con on you. I'm not that dumb.

Put a cork in it! Go to Stuff a sock in it!

put a damper on something tv. to reduce the intensity of something, such as a problem. □ The death of the chief put a damper on the ceremony. □ I hate to put a damper on your party, but you are too loud!

put a smile on someone's face tv. to please someone; to make someone happy. □ We are going to give Andy a pretty good raise, and I know that'll put a smile on his face. □ I was able to pay a few dollars down, and that put a smile on the clerk's face.

Put a sock in it! Go to Stuff a sock in it!

put balls on something tv. to make something more masculine or powerful; to give something authority and strength. (Usually objectionable.) □ Come on, sing louder. Put some balls on it. □ This story is too namby-pamby. Put some balls on it.

put-down n. an insult; an intentionally cruel and deflating insult. □ Another put-down like that and I'm going home. □ Don't cry. It was just a little friendly put-down.

put oneself straight tv. to take a needed dose of drugs. (Drugs. See also straight.) □ I gotta get some stuff and put myself straight. ☐ Here take this and put yourself straight.

put one's nose in (where it's not wanted) AND stick one's nose in (where it's not wanted) tv. to interfere in someone else's business. ☐ Why do you always have to stick your nose in? ☐ Please don't put your nose in where it's not wanted!

put on the dog AND put on the ritz tv. to make things extra special for a special event. ☐ Frank's really putting on the dog for the big party Friday night. ☐ They really put on the ritz for us.

put on the feedbag AND put on the nosebag; tie on the nosebag tv. to prepare to eat; to eat a meal. (Refers to a bag of feed tied under a horse's mouth.) ☐ I'm starved. Must be time to put on the feedbag. ☐ Let's go tie on the nosebag. It's nearly noon.

put on the nosebag Go to put on the feedbag.

put on the ritz Go to put on the dog.

putrid mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also rotten.) ☐ That guy is stinking drunk. Putrid, in fact. ☐ They went out last night and got putrid.

put some distance between someone and someone or something tv. to lengthen the distance or time between oneself and someone or something (including a place). ☐ I gotta put some distance between me and that cop, fast. ☐ You need to put some distance between you and your brother's death. ☐ She needed enough money to put some distance between herself and her hometown.

put someone away 1. tv. to put someone in prison for a long time. (Underworld.) ☐ They put Bart away for fifteen years. ☒ The judge put away the whole gang. 2. tv. to knock someone unconscious. ☐ One tap on the head and I put him away. ☐ The cowboy slugged the rancher in the jaw and put him away for a while.

put someone on 1. tv. to tease or deceive someone innocently and in fun. ☐ Come on! You're just putting me on! ☐ He got real mad even though they were only putting him on. 2. tv. to introduce someone to cannabis use, usually smoking. (Drugs.) ☐ Where did you get that stuff? Who put you on? ☐ My brother uses it, and he put me on.

put someone or something out of the way tv. to remove someone or something as a barrier. ☐ I will put the whole problem out of the way. ☐ Yes, she is a problem, but you'll just have to put her out of the way and concentrate on this issue.

put someone out of the way tv. to kill someone. ☐ The crooks tried to put the witness out of the way. ☐ Sorry, my friend, we no longer need you. Ziggy is going to have to put you out of the way.

put someone's nose out of joint tv. to cause someone to feel slighted; to cause someone to take offense. (See also get one's nose out of joint.) ☐ I'm sorry we didn't invite you. We didn't mean to put your nose out of joint. ☐ Now, now, that shouldn't put your nose out of joint. We're sorry.

put someone to bed with a shovel tv. to bury someone; to kill and bury someone. (See also put to bed with a shovel.) ☐ Shut up! You want me to put you to bed with a shovel? ☐ The leader of the gang was getting sort of tired and old, so one of the younger thugs put him to bed with a shovel.

put someone up tv. to provide someone with temporary shelter; to let someone stay the night. ☐ Can you put me up for a few days? ☒ I could put up a football team, there's so much room here.

put some sweet lines on someone Go to lay some sweet lines on someone.

put something away tv. to eat something. ☐ Are you going to put this cake away? ☒ Did you put away that whole pizza?

put something on the street tv. to make something known publicly; to tell everyone one's troubles. ☐ Man, can't you keep a secret? Don't put everything on the street. ☐ She gets a little problem, and she puts it on the street right away!

Put that in your pipe and smoke it! exclam. Take that!; See how you like that! □ Everybody thinks you're a phony! Put that in your pipe and smoke it! □ You are the one who made the error, and we all know it. Put that in your pipe and smoke it!

put the arm on someone 1. tv. to demand something of someone, especially money. □ I know Tom wants some money. He put the arm on me, but I said no. □ She put the arm on her roommate for a loan. 2. tv. to arrest someone. (Underworld.) □ They put the arm on Bart for pushing pills. □ They're gonna put the arm on the whole gang at once.

put the bite on someone tv. to try to get money out of someone. □ You're always putting the bite on me for a few bucks. Go away. □ Don't put the bite on me. I'm broker than you are.

put the chill on someone AND put the freeze on someone tv. to ignore someone. □ She was pretty snooty till we all put the chill on her. □ Let's put the freeze on Ted until he starts acting better.

put the finger on someone tv. to identify someone (for someone else, such as the police). (Underworld.) □ The old lady put the finger on the punk who mugged her. □ Tyrone put the finger on the killer, then got out of town fast.

put the freeze on someone Go to put the chill on someone.

put the heat on someone Go to put the screws on someone.

put the kibosh on something tv. to squelch something. □ The mayor put the kibosh on the whole deal. □ Tom was starting his presentation when Bob put the kibosh on the plan.

put them together for someone tv. to applaud someone. (To put hands together clapping.) □ Please put your hands together for Ronald and his great musicians!

put the moves on someone tv. to attempt to seduce someone. (With any in the negative.) □ At least he didn't try to put any moves on me. □ If somebody doesn't try to put the moves on her, she thinks she's a failure.

put the pedal to the metal tv. to press a car's accelerator to the floor; to floor it. □ Let's go, man. Put the pedal to the metal. □ Put the pedal to the metal, and we're out of here.

put the screws on someone AND put the heat on someone; put the squeeze on someone tv. to pressure someone; to threaten someone to achieve something. □ He told everything about the plan when they put the screws on him. □ The cops put the squeeze on Harry, and he spilled the beans.

put the skids under someone or something tv. to cause someone or something to fail. (See also on the skids.) □ The mayor put the skids under my plan. □ Tom tried to talk, but the boss put the skids under him.

put the squeeze on someone Go to put the screws on someone.

put to bed with a shovel 1. mod. dead and buried. (From put someone to bed with a shovel.) □ You wanna be put to bed with a shovel? Just keep talking that way. □ Poor old Jake. He was put to bed with a shovel last March. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. (From sense 1.) □ He wasn't just tipsy. He was put to bed with a shovel! □ Dead drunk? Yes, put to bed with a shovel.

put to it mod. in trouble or difficulty; hard up (for something such as money). (As if one's back were put to the wall.) □ Sorry, I can't lend you anything. I'm a bit put to it this month. □ What a day. I'm really put to it.

put too much on it tv. to make too much fuss over something. □ Come on, man. Lighten up. Don't put too much on it.

putt-putt n. a small motorized vehicle, especially a small car. □ I hear him coming in his putt-putt now. □ That's not a motorcycle; it's just a little putt-putt.

puttyhead n. a stupid person. (As if the person's head were soft as putty. Also a term of address.) □ Look, you silly putty- head, shut up! □ Stop acting like a putty-head.

put-up job n. a deception; a deceptive event. □ That's really phony. A put-up job if I ever saw one. □ No put-up job is clever enough to fool me.

Put up or shut up! exclam. Speak now or remain silent for good! □ I'm tired of your whining. What's your problem? Put up or shut up! □ Now is your chance. Put up or shut up!

Put your money where your mouth is! exclam. Stop talking big and make a bet! (From gambling. Can also be said to someone giving investment advice.) □ You want me to bet on that horse? Did you? Why don't you put your money where your mouth is? □ If this is such a good stock, you buy it. Put your money where your mouth is!

putz 1. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ He held his hands over his putz and ran for the bedroom. 2. n. a stupid or obnoxious male; a stupid person. (Usually objectionable.) □ What a stupid putz! □ Don't be a putz. Come on over here!

putz around AND futz around in. to waste time; to do something ineffectually. (Putz is probably putz sense 1.) □ Get busy and stop putzing around. □ I spent the whole day just futzing around.

pythons n. large, muscular biceps. □ Look at the pythons on that guy! He could lift a piano!

Q

Q. n. a quart bottle of liquor. (An abbreviation.) □ While you're there, get me a Q. of whiskey. □ She can knock off a Q. a day.

Q-sign n. the rounded, open mouth of a dead person with the tongue hanging out like the tail of a capital Q. (A semi-jocular usage. Hospitals. See also O-sign; in the Q-zone.) □ The old lady in the corner room is giving the Q-sign. □ I can't handle another Q-sign today.

quack n. a fraudulent physician; a derogatory term for a physician. □ I won't go back to that quack ever again! □ Tell that quack to heal himself!

quaff a brew ['kwaf ə 'bru] tv. to drink a beer. (See also brew.) □ I went down to the bar to quaff a brew. □ Let's go somewhere and quaff a brew.

quail n. any girl or woman, especially considered sexually. (Crude.) □ Look at that cute little quail over there. □ Who was the quail I saw you with last night?

qual [kwəl] n. qualitative analysis. (Scientific.) □ We'll have to turn to qual for that answer. □ She worked in qual for a while and then went on to management.

quality Joe n. an innocent or straight (male) person. (Underworld.) □ Lefty is not what I would call your average quality Joe. □ These quality Joes just don't understand how it is on the street.

quan Go to quant.

quant 1. AND quan n. quantitative analysis. (Scientific and collegiate.) □ I didn't study enough for my quant test. □ I flunked quan twice. 2. n. a technician who works in securities market analysis. □ He was a quant on Wall Street for two years. □ The quants have been warning us about the danger for a month.

quarterback tv. to manage, lead, or direct someone or something. □ Who is going to quarterback this organization after you go? □ I quarterbacked the whole company for more years than I care to remember.

quartzed mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Related to stoned (out).) □ She is really quartzed! □ How can anybody get so quartzed on a bottle of wine?

queen n. a homosexual male. □ Tom is getting to be such a queen. □ What kind of a queen is Tom?

queer 1. mod. counterfeit. □ This bill is queer. □ I don't want any queer money.

2. n. illicit liquor, especially whiskey. (Prohibition era.) □ Can you get me a bottle of queer? □ This isn't queer; it's left over from before prohibition. 3. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ After a glass or two, he got a little queer. □ She was so queer she could hardly stagger home. 4. tv. to spoil something. □ Please don't queer the deal. □ I was afraid his dirty look would queer his chances. 5. mod. homosexual. (Rude and derogatory. But now in wider use in a positive sense.) □ She doesn't like being called queer. 6. n. a homosexual male, occasionally a female. (Rude and derogatory. But now in wider use in a positive sense.) □ Tell that queer to get out of here. □ She came to the dance with a queer.

queer as a three-dollar bill 1. Go to phony as a three-dollar bill. 2. mod. definitely or obviously homosexual. (Usually objectionable.) □ That guy is as queer as a three-dollar bill. □ He's wearing makeup. He's queer as a three-dollar bill.

queer-beer 1. n. bad beer; beer of low alcohol content. □ I hate this queer-beer. Get out the good stuff. □ Please don't serve me any of your queer-beer. 2. n. any strange person. (Also a term of address.) □ Look, queer-beer, stop that right now! □ What does that queer-beer think he's doing? 3. mod. having to do with homosexuals; homosexual. (Usually derogatory. Resented by homosexuals.) □ I won't wear that queer-beer outfit! □ Don't call me a queer-beer fruitcake! 4. n. a homosexual male, possibly a female. (See sense 3.) □ They say she's a queer-beer. □ That queer-beer is staring at you.

queered mod. alcohol intoxicated. (In the sense made bogus.) □ I feel sort of queered. □ How can anybody get so queered on two beers?

queer fish n. a strange person; an aloof person. □ She's a bit odd. Sort of a queer fish. □ He's a queer fish. Don't you agree?

queer for something mod. in the mood for something; desiring something. □ I'm queer for a beer right now. □ She's queer for him because of his money.

quencher ['kwentʃə] n. a drink of liquor or beer. □ I could really use a quencher about now. □ How about a nice cold quencher?

Que pasa? [ke 'pasə] interrog. Hello, what's going on? (Spanish.) □ Hey, man! Que pasa? □ What's happening? Que pasa?

quetch Go to kvetch.

quick-and-dirty mod. rapidly and carelessly done. □ I'm selling this car, so all I want is a quick-and-dirty repair job. □ They only do quick-and-dirty work at that shop.

quick buck AND fast buck n. a quickly or easily earned profit. □ I'm always on the lookout to make a fast buck. □ I need to make a quick buck without much effort.

quicker than hell mod. very fast. □ You get over here quicker than hell. □ Be careful in the stock market. You can lose all your money quicker than hell.

quick fix 1. n. a quick and probably none too permanent or satisfactory solution to a problem. □ The quick fix isn't good enough in this case. □ He's a master of the quick fix. 2. mod. having to do with a temporary or unsatisfactory solution or repair. (Usually quick-fix.) □ Frank is a master of the quick-fix solution. □ This is no time for quick-fix efforts.

quickie Go to quick one.

quick one AND quickie 1. n. a quick drink of booze; a single beer consumed rapidly. □ I could use a quick one about now. □ I only have time for a quickie. 2. n. a quick sex act. (Usually objectionable.) □ They're in the bedroom having a quick one. □ I'm tired of quickies. I want to be loved!

quimp [kwɪmp] n. a total jerk; a social outcast. (Also a term of address.) □ I don't want to live in a dorm full of quimps. □ Who is the quimp who packed this thing wrong?

quitter n. someone who gives up easily. □ Don't be a quitter. Get in there and finish the job. □ Dave has a reputation as a quitter.

quit while one is ahead in. to stop doing something while one is successful. □ When will I learn to quit while I'm ahead? □ Get into the market. Make some money and get out. Quit while you're ahead.

Quit your bellyaching! exclam. Stop complaining! □ You've been bitching all day! Quit your bellyaching!

quote, unquote phr. a parenthetical expression said before a word or short phrase indicating that the word or phrase would be in quotation marks if used in writing. □ So I said to her, quote, unquote, it's time we had a little talk. □ I think my quote, unquote reputation is ruined.

R

rabbit food n. lettuce; salad greens. □ I think I need a little more rabbit food in my diet. □ Rabbit food tends to have a lot of vitamin C.

rabbit punch n. a quick little punch. (Boxing and general slang.) □ That couldn't have hurt you! It was just a little rabbit punch. □ She battered him with about forty rabbit punches on the arm. Boy, is he ever sore!

rack 1. n. a bed. □ I need some more time in the rack. □ You don't get to see the rack very much in the army. 2. Go to rack (out). 3. n. a pair of [female] breasts. (Usually objectionable.) □ Look at the rack on that dame! How can she stand up-right?

rack duty Go to rack time.

racked mod. struck in the testicles. (Usually objectionable.) □ The quarterback got racked and didn't play the rest of the quarter.

racked (up) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (See also rack up.) □ They drank till they were good and racked. □ Man, are you racked. What did you drink? A gallon? □ They all got racked up last weekend.

racket 1. n. noise. □ Cut out that racket! Shut up! □ Who's making all that racket? 2. n. a deception; a scam. □ He operated a racket that robbed old ladies of their savings. □ This is not a service station; it's a real racket! 3. n. any job. □ I've been in this racket for twenty years and never made any money. □ I'm a stockbroker. What's your racket?

rack face n. one's face after sleeping in a bed or "rack."

rack (out) in. to go to sleep or to bed. (See also rack.) □ What time do you rack out? □ I've got to rack out or drop from exhaustion. □ If I don't rack by midnight, I'm dead the next day.

rack something up 1. tv. to accumulate something; to collect or acquire something. □ They all racked a lot of profits up. □ We racked up twenty points in the game last Saturday. 2. tv. to wreck something. □ Fred racked his new car up. □ He racked up his arm in the football game.

rack time AND rack duty n. time spent in bed. (Military.) □ I need more rack time than I'm getting. □ I was on rack duty for my entire leave.

rack up in. to become alcohol intoxicated. (See also racked (up).) □ Let's go down to the tavern and rack up. □ I think I'll rack up.

rad [ræd] 1. n. a radical person. (California.) □ He's such a rad! For sure! □ My brother is a rad, but he's a good guy. 2. mod. great; wonderful; excellent; exciting. (California. From radical.) □ Oh my God, that's, like, really rad! □ What a rad swimsuit!

radical mod. great; excellent. (California.) □ It's so, like, radical! □ My boyfriend, he's, like, so radical!

radioland n. an imaginary place where radio listeners dwell. □ Hello out there in radioland. This is Martin Jones speaking. □ All you folks in radioland who enjoy country music will like this next one.

rag 1. n. a newspaper. □ I'm tired of reading this rag day after day. Can't we get a different paper? □ What a rag! It's only good for putting in the bottom of bird cages! 2. n. ugly or badly styled clothing; an ugly garment. ☐ I can't wear that rag! ☐ I need some new clothes. I can't go around wearing rags like these. ☐ I wouldn't be seen in last season's rags. 3. n. any clothing, even the best. (Always plural.) ☐ Man, I got some new rags that will knock your eyes out! ☐ You got soda pop all over my new rags! 4. n. a sanitary napkin; a tampon. (For use in the menstrual cycle. Usually objectionable.) ☐ God, I've got to change this rag!

the rage 1. n. the current fad; an irresistible fad. (Often with all. Old but recurrent.) ☐ Get a haircut like mine! It's all the rage! ☐ One rage after another. Can't I find something that will stay the same for a while? 2. in. to party; to celebrate. (Collegiate.) ☐ Man, are we going to rage tonight! ☐ Fred and Mary were raging over at the frat house last weekend.

rag on someone AND rake on someone in. to bother someone; to irritate someone; to criticize and humiliate someone. ☐ I wish you would stop ragging on me. I don't know why you are so annoyed at me. ☐ Stop raking on me!

rag out in. to dress up. ☐ I like to rag out and go to parties. ☐ I hate to rag out. I like comfortable clothes.

ragtop n. a convertible car. ☐ The ragtop is making a comeback. ☐ I wanted a ragtop, but they cost nearly $3,000 more.

ragweed n. inferior marijuana. (Drugs.) ☐ This stuff is ragweed. You can have it! ☐ Bart just sells ragweed except to his friends.

rah-rah ['ra'ra] mod. having to do with college and college enthusiasm. ☐ That gal is so rah-rah. What energy! ☐ It was sort of a rah-rah party.

railroad tracks 1. n. dental braces. ☐ I can't smile because of these railroad tracks. ☐ My railroad tracks cost nearly $1,200. 2. n. rows of needle scars on the veins of the arms. ☐ Look at those railroad tracks on his arm. That means he shoots drugs. ☐ Max has railroad tracks on both arms.

rails n. powdered cocaine arranged into lines. (Drugs.) ☐ Max makes the rails too messy. ☐ Bart put the rails on something smooth.

rainbow n. a bowlegged person. (Also a rude term of address.) ☐ Hey, rainbow! Are you a cowboy? ☐ Ask that rainbow if he has to have special trousers made.

rain on someone or something Go to rain on someone's parade.

rain on someone's parade AND rain on someone or something in. to spoil something for someone. ☐ I hate to rain on your parade, but your plans are all wrong. ☐ She really rained on our parade. ☐ Did anyone rain on the meeting?

rain pitchforks tv. to rain very hard and heavy. ☐ It rained pitchforks all day long. ☐ Every time I go out to rake leaves, it rains pitchforks.

raise a stink (about someone or something) AND make a stink (about someone or something) tv. to make a big issue about someone or something. ☐ You can depend on Fred to raise a stink. ☐ I hope you don't plan to make a stink about the problem.

raise Cain [...ken] tv. to make a lot of trouble; to raise hell. ☐ Fred was really raising Cain about the whole matter. ☐ Let's stop raising Cain.

raise hell 1. tv. to make a lot of trouble; to go on a rampage. ☐ Stop raising hell so much of the time! ☐ Quiet! Don't raise hell around here. 2. tv. to go on a drinking spree and get drunk. ☐ Let's go out and really raise hell. ☐ The boys went out to raise hell.

raise hell (with someone) Go to raise the devil (with someone).

raise hell (with something) Go to raise the devil (with something).

raise the devil (with someone) AND raise hell (with someone) tv. to confront someone and complain or scold. ☐ I really raised the devil with my brother for being late. ☐ It won't do any good to raise hell with me.

raise the devil (with something) AND raise hell (with something) tv. to cause trouble with something. □ That idea raises hell with my plan. □ The onions raised the devil with my stomach.

rake on someone Go to rag on someone.

rake something in tv. to take in a lot of something, usually money. □ Our candidate will rake votes in by the thousand. □ They were raking in money by the bushel.

rally ['ræli] 1. n. get-together of some kind; a party, usually informal, possibly spontaneous. □ There's a rally over at Tom's tonight. □ The rally was a flop. Everyone left early. 2. in. to hold a get-together of some kind; to party. (Collegiate.) □ Let's rally tonight about midnight. □ They rallied until dawn.

ralph AND rolf [rælf AND rɒlf] in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Teens and collegiate. See also cry ruth.) □ She went home and ralphed for an hour. □ I think I'm going to rolf.

ralph something up tv. to vomit (something). (Teens and collegiate.) □ The doctor gave him some stuff that made him ralph it up. □ He ralphed up his dinner.

rambo(ize) ['ræmbo(aɪz)] tv. to (figuratively) annihilate someone or something; to harm someone or something. (Collegiate. From the powerful film character Rambo.) □ The students ramboed the cafeteria, and the cops were called. □ Please don't rambo the other team. Just win the game.

rammy ['ræmi] mod. sexually excited or aroused. (Refers to the ram, a symbol of arousal.) □ Fred was looking a little rammy, so I excused myself and left. □ Your rammy boyfriend is on the telephone.

ramrod tv. to lead something; to act as the driving force behind something. □ Who is going to ramrod this project? □ Don't ramrod us into something we don't really want.

ram something down someone's throat tv. to force something upon someone. (Not literal.) □ Don't try to ram that nonsense down my throat. □ They're always trying to ram something down our throats.

ranch 1. n. semen. (Similar in appearance and consistency to Ranch [salad] dressing. Usually objectionable.) □ God! There's ranch on the bathroom floor! 2. in. to ejaculate. (Usually objectionable.) □ Just looking at her makes me want to ranch.

randy ['rændi] mod. sexually excited or aroused. □ The town is full of randy sailors when the fleet's in. □ Wow, does he look randy! □ There is a randy looking guy at the door asking for you.

rank tv. to give someone a hard time; to hassle someone. □ Stop ranking me! □ The dean was ranking the boys for pulling the prank. □ When he finished with the boys, he started ranking their parents.

rank and file n. the common members of something. □ What will the rank and file think of the proposal? □ The rank and file will vote on it tomorrow.

rank on someone in. to attack someone verbally; to gossip about someone. □ Please stop ranking on my family! □ Tom keeps ranking on Jennifer, and she is really mad about it.

rank someone (out) tv. to annoy or chastise someone. (See also rank.) □ He really ranks me out. What a pest! □ I ranked out the whole gang, but good!

rap 1. in. to talk or chat about something. □ Something wrong? Let's rap about it. □ The kids sat down and rapped for an hour or so. 2. n. a conversation; a chat. □ How about a rap? □ Let's have a rap sometime. 3. n. sweet talk; seductive talk; line. □ I like your rap, but that's all I like about you. □ Don't lay that rap on me! You're not my type. 4. n. a criminal charge; the blame for something. (Underworld.) □ I won't take the rap for something you did. □ The cops tried to make the rap stick, but they didn't have enough evidence.

rap session n. an informal conversation session. □ The kids settled down for a long rap session. □ The rap session was interrupted by a fire drill.

(rap) sheet n. a criminal record listing all recorded criminal charges. (See also rap.) □ This guy has a rap sheet a mile long. □

The sergeant asked if there was a sheet on the prisoner.

rare bird n. an unusual person; a person with rare talents or abilities. ☐ An interesting kind of rare bird is the man who can take long vacations and still make money. ☐ She is a rare bird who enjoys opera and can understand most of it, too.

rare old time n. a fine and enjoyable time at a party or something similar. (Folksy.) ☐ That was a rare old time at Tom's the other night. ☐ I haven't had a rare old time like that in years.

raring to go mod. anxious and eager to go. ☐ Come on, I'm raring to go! ☐ The whole family is raring to go on vacation.

raspberry ['ræzberi] n. the Bronx cheer. ☐ The entire audience gave the performer the raspberry. ☐ The performer gave them a raspberry right back.

rasty ['ræsti] mod. having to do with a harsh-looking young woman. (Collegiate.) ☐ Who is that rusty dame I saw you with? ☐ That dark lipstick makes you look a little rusty.

rat 1. n. a wretched acting person. (Also a term of address.) ☐ You dirty rat, you! ☐ Stop acting like a dirty rat! 2. Go to rat (on someone).

rat around in. to waste time loafing around; to kick around. (Collegiate.) ☐ I didn't do anything but rat around all summer. ☐ If kids don't have jobs, they just rat around.

rat-bastard n. a really wretched or despised person. (Rude and derogatory.) ☐ You dirty rat-bastard! I could kill you! ☐ Stay away from Albert, he's a real rat-bastard when he's drunk.

ratchet-mouth AND motor-mouth n. someone who talks incessantly. (Also a term of address.) ☐ Tell that ratchet-mouth to shut up! ☐ Hey, motor-mouth, quiet!

rat fink n. an informer. (Also a term of address. See also rat.) ☐ That guy is nothing but a rat fink. A dirty squealer! ☐ Fred told the teacher about the plot, and every- body called him a rat fink for the next two years.

rathole 1. n. a run-down place; a dump or a joint. ☐ I refuse to live in this rathole any longer. ☐ Why don't you clean up this rathole? 2. n. a bottomless pit. (Typically with throw and down as in the examples.) ☐ Why do they keep throwing money down that rathole? ☐ That rathole will absorb as much money as they can supply. ☐ The transportation system is beyond help. Giving it more subsidies is just throwing money down a rathole.

rat (on someone) in. to inform (on someone). ☐ Bill said he was going to rat on that punk. ☐ If you rat on me, I'll get you! ☐ Who ratted?

rat out in. to quit; to fink out (on someone or something). ☐ It's too late to rat out. ☐ He tried to rat out at the last minute.

rat race n. a dull and repetitive situation; a dull and unrewarding job. (See also daily grind.) ☐ I am really tired of this rat race—day after day. ☐ She dropped out of the rat race and moved to Vermont, where she opened a barber shop.

Rats! exclam. Oh, damn! ☐ Rats! I broke a nail! ☐ Oh, rats! I'm late.

the rats n. the delirium tremens. ☐ The way he was shaking, I knew he had the rats. ☐ Most of those old guys down on Fourth Street have the rats.

rattlebones n.  (Also a term of address.) ☐ Hey, rattlebones, come over here a minute. ☐ Ask rattlebones over there to have a seat.

rattlebrain n. a stupid person. ☐ Is that rattlebrain here again? ☐ Please try not to be such a rattlebrain! Pay attention to what you are doing.

rattled 1. mod. confused; bewildered. ☐ He tends to get a little rattled at minor things. ☐ Try not to get her rattled. 2. mod. tipsy; alcohol intoxicated. ☐ After an hour of drinking, Bill was more than a little rattled. ☐ Being rattled from beer, I stopped drinking beer and began on the rum.

rattle-trap n. a rattly (old) car; any rattly vehicle. □ I hear Ted's rattle-trap in the driveway. □ I bought a rattle-trap for $400.

rattling mod. excellent. (Collegiate. See also rocking.) □ Her party was really rattling. □ What a rattling place to live!

raunch someone out [rɒntʃ...] tv. to disgust someone. (From raunchy.) □ These dirty socks absolutely raunch me out! □ Wayne and Beavis enjoy raunching people out.

raunchy AND raunchie; ronchie ['rɒntʃi]
1. mod. crude; tasteless; bad. □ He told a very raunchy story at the party. □ Don't be so ronchie. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Those guys were raunchy as hell. □ Let's go out and get good and ronchie. 3. mod. sick; ill. □ I feel sort of ronchy. □ After I ate dinner, my stomach felt a little raunchie, so I went home. 4. mod. untidy; unclean; crude; tasteless. □ Get your ronchie socks out of the living room. □ We decided to leave the raunchy movie about halfway through.

rave n. a party; a wild celebration. □ What a rave! A real fine party. □ Let's have a little rave next Friday.

raw 1. mod. inexperienced; brand new. □ The raw recruit did as well as could be expected. □ She'll get better. She's just a little raw. 2. mod. vulgar; crude; raucous; untamed. □ I've had enough of your raw humor. □ That joke was a little raw. 3. mod. [of alcoholic spirits] undiluted; neat. □ No ice, please. I prefer it raw. □ I'll drink it raw—just the way it is now. 4. mod. [of alcoholic spirits] unaged; fiery and strong. □ My gosh, this stuff is raw! It'll burn a hole in me. □ Give me something to drink that isn't quite so raw.

a raw deal n. an unfair deal; unfair treatment. □ You really got a raw deal. □ My last job was a raw deal. I hope this is better.

rays n. sunshine. (Collegiate.) □ I'm going to go out and get some rays today. □ I've had too many rays. I'm cooked.

razz [ræz] tv. to tease someone. □ Please stop razzing me. □ I was just razzing you. I didn't mean any harm.

razzamatazz Go to razzamatazz.

razzle-dazzle ['ræz]'dæz] n. flamboyant publicity; hype. □ After all the razzle-dazzle dies down, we'll see what things are really like. □ Hollywood is filled with razzle-dazzle and excitement.

razzamatazz AND razzamatazz ['ræzmə-'tæz AND 'ræzəmə'tæz] n. deceptive talk; hype. □ Cut out the razzamatazz. How dumb do you think I am? □ Don't give me all that razzamatazz!

reach for the sky 1. Go to aim for the sky. 2. in. (a command) to put one's hands up, as in a robbery. □ Okay, you guys, reach for the sky! □ The bank teller reached for the sky without having to be told.

reader n. a piece of paper with writing on it; a note; a prescription; an IOU. (Underworld.) □ Max has my reader for $500. □ I got a reader for some morphine.

Read my lips! Go to Watch my lips!

real mod. very; really. □ This is a real fine party. □ You did a real good thing.

real bitch n. a very difficult or annoying thing or person. (Can refer to male or female.) □ This math problem is a real bitch. □ Fred is a true problem. A real bitch.

real gone mod. really cool; mellow and pleasant. (See also gone.) □ Man, this music is real gone. □ That's a real gone drummer.

the (real) McCoy 1. n. something authentic. □ This is the real McCoy. Nothing else like it. □ This is no copy. It's the McCoy. 2. n. pure drugs or alcohol. □ Is this stuff the McCoy? □ If it's not the real McCoy, I don't want it.

ream someone out tv. to scold someone severely. □ The teacher really reamed him out. □ The coach reamed out the whole team.

rear (end) n. the tail end; the buttocks. (Euphemistic.) □ She fell right on her rear. □ The dog bit her in the rear end.

rear-ender AND back-ender n. an automobile wreck where one car runs into the back of another. (See also fender- bender.) □ It wasn't a bad accident, just a rear-ender. □ My neck was hurt in a back-ender.

red gravy n. blood. □ Your nose bleeding? You got red gravy on your face. □ If you're gonna pick your scabs, keep your red gravy and stuff off me!

red hot 1. mod. important; in great demand. □ This is a red hot item. Everybody wants one. □ The stock market is a red hot issue right now. 2. n. a hot dog; a frankfurter. □ "Get your red hots right here!" shouted the vendor. □ In Chicago they never eat red hots with catsup!

red-hot mama n. an exciting woman; a sexually exciting or excited woman. □ Clare is really a red-hot mama! □ I'm no red-hot mama, just a country girl.

red ink n. debt; indebtedness as shown in red ink on a financial statement. □ There is too much red ink in my financial statement. □ Too much red ink and the company will collapse.

red-letter day n. an important day that might well be marked in red on the calendar. □ Today was a red-letter day in our history. □ It was a red-letter day for our club.

redneck 1. n. a stereotypic southern bigot. (Derogatory. Also a term of address.) □ Those rednecks can hardly read. □ Look, you stupid redneck, try to understand. 2. mod. in the manner of a southern bigot. □ I don't follow that kind of redneck thinking. □ The candidate didn't want the redneck vote.

red tape n. bureaucratic annoyances; bureaucratic forms and procedures. (Typically with cut as in the example.) □ If you deal with the government, you will have to put up with lots of red tape. □ I have a friend who knows how to cut through red tape.

red tide n. a menstrual period. (Punning on the name of a tidal phenomenon where the water appears reddish owing to the presence of certain kinds of microscopic creatures.) □ Sorry, she's down with the red tide and really prefers to stay home.

reef Go to reefer.

reefer ['rifə] 1. n. a refrigerator. □ Please put the milk in the reefer. □ A new reefer costs nearly $1000! 2. AND reef n. cannabis; a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ He had a reefer in his hand when he was busted. □ Don't stall the reefer. Pass it on.

ref [ref] 1. n. a referee. (Also a term of address.) □ Hey, ref! Get some glasses! □ The ref did a fine job. 2. tv. to referee something, such as a game. □ Are you going to ref this one, or am I? □ I don't like to ref night games.

regs n. regulations. □ Follow the regs or pay the penalty. □ There is a list of regs posted on the back of your door.

reinvent the wheel tv. to make unnecessary or redundant preparations. □ You don't need to reinvent the wheel. Read up on what others have done. □ I don't have time to reinvent the wheel.

rent(al)s n. one's parents. (Teens. See also (parental) units. Also a term of address.) □ I'll have to ask my rents. □ Hey, rentals, let's go out for dinner.

rents Go to rent(al)s.

rep [rep] 1. n. a representative, usually a sales representative. □ Please ask your rep to stop by my office. □ Our rep will be in your area tomorrow. 2. n. someone's reputation. □ I hope this doesn't ruin my rep. □ I've got my own rep to think about. 3. n. repertory theater. □ He spent a year in rep on the East Coast. □ Rep is the best place to get experience, but not to make connections.

repo ['ri:pə] 1. n. a repossessed car. □ It's a repo, and I got it cheap. □ I'd rather have a plain used car than a repo. 2. tv. to repossess a car. □ Some guy came around and tried to repo my car. □ She's good at repoing family cars.

repo man ['ri:pə 'mæn] n. a man who repossesses cars for a living. □ What kind of guy is lower than a repo man? □ I'd rather beg than get a job as a repo man.

ret [ret] n. a tobacco cigarette. (Collegiate.) □ You got a ret I can bum? □ Give my buddy a ret, will you?

retard ['ritard] 1. n. a rude nickname for a retarded person. (Derogatory and unkind.) □ That retard is having a rough time. □ Don't call my brother a retard! 2. n. a stupid person. (Also a term of address.) □ Don't be a retard! Get with it! □ Look, you retard, get busy.

retread ['ritrɛd] n. a burned-out person; a made-over person. □ Chuck is just a retread. He's through. □ I need somebody fresh and alive, not some tired retread.

reverse gears tv. to wretch as a prelude to vomiting. □ The cat is reversing gears. Throw her out the back door. □ Beavis is reversing gears and might be going to vomit. You never know with Beavis.

rev something up tv. to speed up an engine in short bursts. □ Rev it up a few times and see if it stalls. □ Tom sat at the traffic light revving up his engine.

revved (up) mod. excited, perhaps by drugs. □ Bill is revved from too much dope. □ The kids were all revved up, ready to party.

rhoid n. a bothersome person; a person who is a pain in the ass. (Streets. From hemorrhoid.) □ Get away from me, you rhoid! □ These rhoids are driving me crazy!

rhubarb ['rubarb] n. a brawl, especially in a baseball game. □ There's a noisy rhubarb down on the field. □ Ted got punched around a little bit in that rhubarb last week.

rib 1. n. a joke; an act of teasing. □ I didn't mean any harm. It was just a little rib. □ That's a great rib, Sam! 2. tv. to tease someone. □ Please don't rib me any more tonight. I've had it. □ Let's go rib Jennifer.

rib-tickler n. a joke; something very funny. □ That was a real rib-tickler. I'll remember that joke. □ She told a rib-tickler, and everybody laughed.

ricockulous mod. ridiculous. (Streets. Word play based on dick = cock.) □ What a stupid thing to say! That is ricockulous! □ Your silly laugh is ricockulous and it makes me sick.

ride n. a car. □ What time are you coming by in your ride? □ Do you care if I leave my ride parked in your driveway?

ride shotgun tv. to accompany and guard someone or something. (A term from the days of stagecoaches and their armed guards. See also shotgun.) □ I have to take the beer over to the party. Why don't you come along and ride shotgun? □ Who's going to ride shotgun with Bill?

ride the porcelain bus Go to drive the big bus.

rif [rif] 1. tv. to dismiss an employee. (From the euphemism reduction in force.) □ They're going to rif John tomorrow. □ Who'll they rif next? 2. n. a firing; a dismissal. □ Who got the rif today? □ There's a rif in your future.

riff 1. n. a short, repeated line of music played by a particular performer. □ Jim just sat there and forgot his riff. □ Listen to this riff, Tom. 2. n. a digression while speaking. (From sense 1.) □ Excuse the little riff, but I had to mention it. □ If she didn't make so many riffs while she spoke, we could understand her better.

riffed 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ That guy is really riffed! □ I can't keep getting riffed every night like this. 2. AND rifft mod. fired; released from employment. (From RIF, "reduction in force.") □ Poor Walter got riffed Friday. □ Most of the sales force was riffed last week.

rifft Go to riffed.

rig 1. tv. to arrange or tamper with the results of something. □ The crooks rigged the election. □ Somebody rigged the contest so no one got first prize. 2. n. a large truck; an eighteen-wheeler. □ Jim drives a really big rig. □ There were three rigs sitting in the parking lot when we got there.

right as rain mod. completely correct. (Folksy. Often with as.) □ Yes, indeed! You are right as rain! □ She was right as rain about the score.

righteous ['raitʃəs] mod. good; of good quality. (Originally black.) □ She is a righteous mama. □ Bart told me about some righteous grass he's got. □ This stuff is really righteous!

righteous collar n. a justifiable arrest. (As opposed to a setup or a frame.) □ Ziggy was taken in, and the gang agreed it was a righteous collar. Bruno was caught red-handed. □ "I can't complain," said Ziggy. "It was a righteous collar."

right guy n. a good guy; a straight guy. □ Tom is a right guy. No trouble with him. □ I'm glad you're a right guy. I can trust you.

right in the kisser mod. right in the mouth or face. (See also kisser.) □ Max poked the cop right in the kisser. □ He caught one right in the kisser.

(right) up one's alley mod. exactly one's kind of thing; exactly what one is best equipped to do. □ That job is right up her alley. □ It's not exactly up my alley, but I'll try it.

ring a bell tv. to stir something in someone's memory. □ Yes, that rings a bell. I seem to remember it. □ Maybe the name Marsha will ring a bell!

ringer (for someone) Go to (dead) ringer (for someone).

ring off the hook in. [for a telephone] to ring endlessly or constantly. □ The phone was ringing off the hook when I came in. □ We've been busy today. The phone's been ringing off the hook.

ringtailed snorter n. someone or something energetic and powerful. □ Old Charlie is a real ringtailed snorter. □ Ask that ringtailed snorter to calm down and come over here for a minute.

ring the bell tv. to be just what is needed; to hit the spot. □ This cold water really rings the bell. □ A good hot bowl of soup would ring the bell about now.

rinky-dink ['rɪŋki'dɪŋk] mod. cheap; inferior; broken down. □ I sold my rinky-dink old car yesterday. □ What a rinky-dink job! I quit!

riot ['raɪət] n. someone or something entertaining or funny. □ Tom was a riot last night. □ Her joke was a real riot.

rip 1. n. a drinking bout. (See also tear.)

□ All four of them went out on a rip. □ Fred had another rip last night. He's rotten now. 2. n. the loot from a rip-off. □ I want my share of the rip, now! □ Give him some of the rip and tell him to beat it. 3. n. a theft; a rip-off. □ The crooks pulled a rip on Fourth Street last night. □ That was the third rip there this week. 4. n. a tear in the flesh of the hand, as in an athletic event where the flesh comes in contact with solid material, such as in gymnastics and weightlifting. □ I keep getting rips from the bar. □ Sally has a rip on her palm.

ripe 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Yes, they were ripe all right. Stinking drunk. □ Bill was so ripe that they took him home. 2. mod. foul; smelly. □ Whooley! This place is ripe. What died? □ Get your ripe old socks out of here! □ The fish seems quite ripe. 3. mod. crude; raunchy. □ Your jokes are a bit ripe. □ That was a ripe one! □ Stop acting so ripe.

rip-off 1. n. a theft; a deception; an exploitation. (See also rip.) □ This sandwich is a rip-off! □ What a rip-off! I want my money back. 2. mod. having to do with theft and deception. □ I consider myself to be rip-off champion of North America. □ All I hear is rip-off stories. Isn't anybody honest?

(rip-)off artist n. a con artist. □ Fred is such an off artist. □ Beware of the rip-off artist who runs that shop.

rip on someone in. to give someone a hard time; to hassle someone. □ Fred was ripping on me, and I heard about it. □ Stop ripping on my friend!

ripped 1. mod. intoxicated on drugs or alcohol. □ I don't know what I drank, but I'm really ripped. 2. mod. muscular. □ I worked and worked to get ripped, but I'm just not made that way.

ripped (off) Go to ripped (up).

ripped (up) AND ripped (off) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated; under the effects of marijuana. □ Why do you have to get ripped up like that? □ Bart was ripped out of his mind on uppers.

rip snorter n. a remarkable person or thing; a hilarious joke. (Folksy.) □ Old Fred is a real rip snorter. □ Her new car is a rip snorter, I tell you. □ Let me tell you a rip snorter about a farmer and his cow. □ Judy can tell some rip snorters.

rip someone off tv. to assault, kill, beat, rob, rape, or cheat someone. □ They ripped me off, but they didn't hurt me. □ Man, they ripped me off for three hundred dollars.

rip something off tv. to steal something. □ They ripped them all off. □ The crooks ripped off the hubcaps of my car.

Rise and shine! exclam. Get up and get going! □ Get up! Rise and shine! It's late. □ Okay, you guys, rise and shine!

ritzy ['ritsi] mod. elegant; flamboyant. □ That is a real ritzy car. □ It's really ritzy! □ What a ritzy coat! Is it new?

rivets ['rivəts] n. dollars; money. (From copper rivets.) □ You got enough rivets on you for a snack? □ Who can come up with that many rivets?

roach 1. n. a police officer. (Derogatory. From cockroach.) □ Watch out! The roaches are coming. □ A roach caught him while he was at work. 2. n. the butt end of a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ The cops found a roach on the bathroom floor. □ Hey, give me that roach! 3. n. an ugly girl or woman. (Derogatory. From cockroach.) □ Who was that roach you were with last night? □ That dame is a real roach.

roach clip AND roach pick n. a device to hold a roach and make it smokable. (Drugs.) □ When the cops find a roach clip on you, you've had it. □ They found two roach picks and a pipe.

roach-coach n. a mobile snack truck. (The term was revived in the Persian Gulf War.) □ Let's go get a sandwich at the roach-coach. □ Here comes the roach-coach! Let go spend some coin. □ The roach-coach pulled up in front of the dorm every night about eleven.

roached mod. hungover; exhausted. □ I'm roached. I feel lousy. □ What a day! I've never been so roached.

roach pick Go to roach clip.

road apple n. a lump of horse excrement. (See also alley apple.) □ Don't step on the road apples. □ There must be horses around here. I see road apples.

road hog n. someone who takes too much space on a road or highway; someone who seems to run other people off the road. □ Get over! Road hog! □ A road hog nearly ran me off the road.

roadie AND roady 1. AND roadster n. someone who helps rock groups set up for performances. □ I want to be a roadie when I grow up. □ I was a roadster for a while, but I didn't like it. 2. AND roadster in. to help rock groups set up. □ Let's go downtown and roadie tonight. The Red Drips are in town. □ I hate to roady. It's, like, work! 3. mod. eager to travel; eager to get on the road. □ I get a little roady when the weather gets warm.

road pizza n. a dead animal on the road. □ Every morning the highway is littered with road pizza. □ A bunch of crows were feasting on road pizza when we drove by.

roadster Go to roadie.

roadtrip n. a sudden trip in a car. (Sometimes yelled, Roadtrip! to indicate an impending jaunt in an automobile.) □ Let's make a little roadtrip to get some beer. □ "Roadtrip!" hollered Ken. "We're gonna go out and get some dames!"

roady Go to roadie.

roast 1. tv. to put on an entertaining program, usually with a dinner, where the guest of honor is teased and insulted. □ They roasted Dave when he retired. □ If they roast me at the dinner, I'll cry. 2. n. an entertaining program where the guest of honor is insulted all in fun. □ It was a wonderful roast. The guest of honor was pleased with the quality of the insults. □ It was a little too polite for a real roast.

roasted mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He was stewed, roasted, and boiled. □ He's out getting roasted with the boys.

rob someone blind 1. tv. to steal freely from someone. ☐ Her maid was robbing her blind. ☐ I don't want them to rob me blind. Keep an eye on them. 2. tv. to overcharge someone. ☐ You are trying to rob me blind. I won't pay it! ☐ Those auto repair shops can rob you blind if you don't watch out.

rock 1. AND rock candy n. crack, a crystallized form of cocaine. (Drugs. See also rocks.) ☐ Some call it rock, and some call it crack. ☐ Rock is pretty expensive. 2. n. a crystallized form of heroin used for smoking. (Drugs.) ☐ Max is hooked on rock—the kind that you smoke. ☐ Powder is everywhere, but you can hardly find rock anymore. 3. n. a diamond or other gemstone. ☐ Look at the size of that rock in her ring. ☐ How many rocks are there decorating the edges of your watch? 4. Go to rocks. 5. n. a baseball; a basketball. ☐ Michael passed the rock to Scottie who turned and dropped it in the basket. ☐ Hank hit the rock with the bat and broke the bat in half. 6. in. to be really great. ☐ This party really rocks! ☐ The concerts didn't rock, but we had a good time throwing chairs.

rock bottom 1. n. the lowest point or level. ☐ The value of the goods is at rock bottom right now. ☐ Prices have reached rock bottom. 2. mod. absolute lowest, especially in reference to price. ☐ Prices are rock bottom this month. ☐ I am offering you the rock bottom price. ☐ You can't beat these rock bottom deals.

rock candy Go to rock.

rock 1. n. a rocking chair. (Not slang.) ☐ I love to spend a sunny afternoon in my rocker. ☐ Children love rockers, but they can tip over in them. 2. n. a rock and roll singer, song, or fan. (See also off one's rocker.) ☐ Do all rockers have red hair? ☐ Let's listen to a good rocker.

rockhead n. someone who seems to have rocks in the head; a hardheaded or stubborn person. ☐ What a rockhead! That's a stupid thing to do. ☐ Why do you always have to be such a rockhead?

rocking mod. excellent. (Collegiate.) ☐ Man, what a rocking party! ☐ This set is really rocking. ☐ We had a rocking time!

rock-jock n. a mountain or rock climber. ☐ The serious rock-jocks practice in North Wales. ☐ The sides of every mountain are covered with rock-jocks.

rocks 1. n. ice cubes. ☐ Can I have a few rocks in my drink, please? 2. n. Xerox Inc. (Securities markets, New York Stock Exchange.) ☐ When she says, "Buy me a thousand rocks at the market," that means she wants one thousand shares of Xerox at whatever the market price is at the moment. 3. n. money; a dollar. (Underworld.) ☐ How many rocks do you want for that? ☐ Twenty rocks for that? 4. n. the testicles. (See also stones. Usually objectionable.) ☐ I was afraid I'd get kicked in the rocks, so I stayed back.

rod 1. n. a gun; a revolver. (Underworld.) ☐ I got a rod in my pocket. Don't move. ☐ I don't have any bullets for my rod. 2. Go to (hot) rod.

ROF Go to RO(T)F(L).

roger ['rɒdʒə] interj. okay; That is correct. ☐ Roger, I'll do it. ☐ Roger. Will do.

rolf Go to ralph.

roll 1. n. a bankroll; lots of money. ☐ I earned a roll off that last deal. ☐ He's got a roll right there in his pocket. 2. tv. to rob a drunkard. ☐ The muggers found a drunk and rolled him. ☐ Those punks can't get much money by rolling drunks. 3. n. a sustained period of luck or productivity. (See also on a roll.) ☐ I'm doing great! What a roll! ☐ The fantastic roll that this performer is on is truly exciting. 4. in. to leave, perhaps in a car. ☐ I can't wait around any longer. Let's roll. ☐ We have to roll, now. It's late.

roller n. a police car. ☐ There are rollers in the next block, driving slow, looking for someone. ☐ The roller pulled up in front of the boys, and two officers got out.

roll in 1. in. to pull in; to drive up; to arrive. ☐ The car rolled into the parking lot at a high speed. ☐ Four station wagons rolled in at the same time. 2. Go to turn in.

rolling buzz n. a long-lasting drug high. (Drugs.) □ What I want is a nice rolling buzz. □ That stuff will give you a rolling buzz without putting you to sleep.

ronchie Go to raunchy.

roni n. pepperoni, as used in pizza. □ I want roni and shrooms on my pizza.

rook [rʊk] tv. to cheat someone. □ She tried to rook me when I paid my bill. □ Don't go into that store. They'll rook you.

rookie AND rooky ['rʊki] 1. n. a person new at something; a neophyte, especially a police officer or a ballplayer. □ Tom is a rookie on the police force. □ The rookie tackled the old-time player and earned a lot of cheering and applause. 2. mod. new; inexperienced. □ Fred is a rookie first baseman for the home team. □ A rooky cop can make arrests just like the other cops.

room for rent n. a person who acts very stupid. (Also a term of address. This implies that one's head is so empty of brains that the space could be rented out.) □ Hey, room for rent, wake up and pay attention. □ My brother is a room for rent if I ever saw one. What a dope!

rooster ['rustə] n. the posterior; one's butt end. (Old. Because one roosts on it.) □ Don't just sit there on your rooster. Get to work. □ I fell down smack on my rooster.

root 1. n. a cigarette or a cigar. □ That root you're smoking sure stinks. □ You got a root I can borrow? 2. in. to eat food like a pig. □ Don't root. Slow down and enjoy your food. □ Bart is downstairs rooting now. It won't take that slob long to eat.

rooting-tooting mod. exciting; renown; famous; illustrious. (A vague adjective of praise.) □ We really had a rooting-tooting time last weekend. □ She's a rooting-tooting dancer from Omaha.

rope someone in 1. tv. to cause someone to get involved in some project. □ She's always trying to rope me into her club. □ Let's rope in someone to help with cleaning up. 2. Go to take someone in.

roscoe ['rasko] n. a pistol, especially a revolver. (Underworld.) □ He's got a roscoe in his pocket. □ I'm going down there to talk to Max, and I'm taking my roscoe.

rosy mod. good; satisfactory. □ Things are looking rosy now that the economy is improving. □ Doesn't look like a very rosy future. □ When the stock market crashed, nothing looked rosy.

rot n. nonsense. □ Don't give me any more of your rot. Speak straight with me. □ That's just rot. Don't believe any of it!

RO(T)F(L) interj. rolling on the floor laughing. (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ I was ROTFL when I read your note. That was too much. □ Your comment had me ROTF.

rotgut 1. n. strong or inferior liquor, especially whisky. (Folksy.) □ Where is that jug of rotgut you used to keep around here? □ The old man nearly went blind drinking all that rotgut. 2. mod. [of liquor] strong or fiery. □ You've got to stop drinking that rotgut liquor and think of your health. □ I won't pay for this rotgut whisky. Give me something better. 3. n. weak or otherwise inferior beer. □ I need a can of beer, and you give me this rotgut? □ She can afford something better, but she drinks nothing but cheap rotgut.

rotorhead n. a helicopter pilot or member of a helicopter crew. (Military. Also a term of address.) □ Radio those rotorheads and tell them to get back to the base, now! □ Hey, rotorhead, where's your egg beater?

rotsee ['ratsi] n. ROTC, the Reserve Officers Training Corps. □ I joined rotsee to help pay my way through school. □ How long have you been in the rotsee program?

Rots of ruck! ['ratsə'rək] exclam. Lots of luck! (Mocking a Japanese pronunciation.) □ Have a good trip, and rots of ruck! □ Good-bye, and rots of ruck!

rotten 1. mod. smelly; disgusting. (Not slang.) □ What is that rotten smell? □ Something rotten is under that board. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. (From sense 1. See also putrid.) □ It takes a case of beer to get Wilbur rotten. □ When he gets rotten, he's sort of dangerous. 3. mod. poor or bad. (From sense 1.) □ We have nothing but one rotten problem after another. □ This is the most rotten mess I've ever been in.

rotten apple n. a single bad person or thing. □ There always is a rotten apple to spoil it for the rest of us. □ Tom sure has turned out to be the rotten apple.

rotten egg n. a bad or despised person; a stinker. □ That guy is a real rotten egg. □ She sure has turned out to be a rotten egg.

rotten luck n. bad luck. □ Of all the rotten luck! □ I've had nothing but rotten luck all day.

rotten to the core mod. really bad. (See also rotten apple.) □ That lousy punk is rotten to the core. □ The entire administration is rotten to the core.

rough and ready mod. vigorous and eager. □ After a good night's sleep, I feel rough and ready—I could take on a bear. □ My friend is the rough and ready type. I'd rather sit and think about things.

rough and tumble mod. disorderly; aggressive. □ That was a rough and tumble football game. □ George is too rough and tumble for me. He doesn't know how to act around civilized people.

roughhouse AND roughneck 1. n. a mean kid; a boisterous child, usually male. □ Jimmy! Stop acting like such a roughhouse. □ Tell that young roughneck to straighten up and behave. 2. in. to be boisterous. □ Stop roughnecking in my living room. □ The boys broke the lamp when they were roughnecking around in the family room.

rough it tv. to live for a short period of time in a relatively primitive state. □ We went camping and had to rough it for a week. □ With no electricity in our house, I roughed it by burning candles.

roughneck Go to roughhouse.

rough someone up tv. to beat someone up; to maltreat someone. □ Am I going to have to rough you up, or will you cooperate? □ The crooks roughed up the old lady before taking her purse.

rough stuff n. unnecessary roughness; physical violence or threats of violence. □ Okay, let's cut out the rough stuff! □ There was too much rough stuff in Friday's game.

rough time n. a hard time; a bad time. □ I didn't mean to give you such a rough time. I'm sorry. □ What a rough time we had getting the car started!

roundhouse punch n. a punch to the head made by swinging the arm in an arc rather than by a jabbing punch. □ Jim knocked Ted down with a roundhouse punch. □ He let him have a roundhouse punch that would have cracked a two-by-four.

round the bend Go to (a)round the bend.

round tripper n. a home run in baseball. □ Ted is responsible for four round trippers in Saturday's game. □ He hit a round tripper in the fourth inning.

roundup n. a collection or summary of news items, such as a weather roundup, news roundup, etc. □ Tune in at eleven for a roundup of the day's news. □ Now for a weather roundup.

roust [raʊst] 1. tv. [for a police officer] to bother or interfere with someone; to arrest someone. (See also rousted. Underworld.) □ The cops rousted the gang without warning. □ I was walking along doing nothing, and this cop rousts me. 2. tv. to raid someone's residence; to bust a person or place. (Underworld.) □ They rousted Bart's place last night. □ That bar was rousted last week. 3. n. a raid or a bust. □ Okay, stand still. This is a roust! □ They pulled a big roust down on Fourth Street.

rousted ['raʊstəd] mod. arrested. (Underworld.) □ Bart got rousted last night. □ The cops rousted the dealers, but that didn't even slow down the drug trade.

royal pain n. someone or something irritating; a severe annoyance. □ You are a royal pain! □ Her questions were a royal pain, but I had to answer them as part of my job.

R. & R. n. rest and recuperation; rest and relaxation. (Originally military.) □ I could use about three years of R. & R. after that battle. □ I'll need a lot of R. & R. to recover from that stuff they fed us.

RSN interj. real soon now. (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ I will post the rest of my trip report RSN. □ I will be finished RSN. I'll let you know.

rubber 1. n. automobile tires; the rubber of automobile tires left on the street from spinning tires. □ This car has some fine rubber on it. □ The rubber on my car is practically ruined. 2. Go to rubber (check). 3. n. a condom. □ Bill has carried a rubber in his wallet since he was 12. The same rubber! □ He always carries a rubber "just in case."

rubber (check) n. a check that bounces; a forged check. (See also bounce.) □ The bank says I wrote a rubber check, but I'm sure there was enough money on deposit. □ One rubber check after another! Can't you add?

rubberneck 1. n. one who stares at something or someone; a tourist. □ At noon the sidewalks are crowded with rubbernecks. □ See if that rubberneck over there has the correct time. 2. in. to stare (at something or someone). □ What are all those people rubbernecking at? □ Traffic is stalled because of all the drivers who are rubbernecking.

rubber sock n. a timid person; a passive and compliant person. □ What a rubber sock. She's afraid of her own shadow. □ Come on! Stand up for your rights. Don't be such a rubber sock!

rubbish n. nonsense. (Also an exclamation.) □ I'm tired of listening to your rubbish. □ Rubbish! That's the stupidest thing I've ever heard.

rub someone out tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ The gunman was eager to rub somebody out. □ The crooks tried to rub out the witness.

rub someone's nose in something tv. to remind someone of something constantly; to make a big issue about someone's mistake. (From the practice of training a puppy by rubbing its nose in the messes it makes.) □ So I made a mistake! I wish you'd stop rubbing my nose in it. □ Rubbing my nose in it is not going to correct the mistake.

ruckus ['rʌkəs] n. a commotion; an uproar. □ Quiet, please. Don't raise such a ruckus. □ The boss kicked up quite a ruckus when I came in late.

rude 1. mod. undesirable; unpleasant. □ The prof in my history class is a rude dude, for sure. □ What a rude idea! 2. mod. cool; pleasant. □ Man, that's a rude bike! □ Sally is a rude-looking girl!

rug n. a wig or toupee. (See also divot.) □ Is that guy wearing a rug, or does his scalp really slide from side to side? □ I wear just a little rug to cover up a shiny spot.

rug rat AND ankle biter n. a child. □ You got any ankle biters at your house? □ Hey, you cute little rug rat, come over here.

rule in. to dominate; to be the best. (Slang only in certain contexts. Typical in graffiti.) □ The rockets rule! □ Pizza rules around here.

ruley mod. ideal; excellent. (See also rule.) □ Her idea is ruley! She knows what we ought to do!

rumble 1. in. to fight. □ The gangs are rumbling over on Fourth Street. □ We're going to rumble tomorrow night. 2. n. a fight; a street fight; a gang fight. □ If there is a rumble, get out of there fast. □ My brother was hurt in a gang rumble.

rumdum AND rum-dum ['rʌm'dʌm] 1. n. a drunkard; a ruined alcoholic. □ Get that smelly rumdum out of here. □ I don't want to end up like a dirty rum-dumb. 2. n. a stupid person. □ Hey, rumdum, wise up and do what you are told. □ Don't be such a rum-dum. 3. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The old lady got rumdum on gin. □ Two glasses and she was rumdum and asleep.

rummed (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Sailors like to go into town and get rummed up. □ Those boys are really rummed.

rummy ['rəmi] 1. n. a drunkard; an alcoholic; an alcoholic hobo. □ Ask that rummy to leave before he throws up. □ There is a rummy at the door asking for a handout. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She's rummy, and she's going to be sick. □ Who's the rummy old girl? □ How long does it take a heavy drinker like Bob to get rummy? 3. mod. habitually confused and inept. □ I get more rummy as I grow older. □ That rummy old man is here again.

rump 1. n. the hindquarters; the buttocks; the posterior. □ He fell on his rump. □ A dog doesn't have much rump. 2. tv. to flog someone on the buttocks. □ They rumped him and made him run around the frat house. □ I'm going to get rumped when my dad gets home.

rumpus ['ræmpəs] n. a commotion. □ Please don't make such a rumpus. □ There was quite a rumpus in Jim's room.

rumpus room n. a family recreation room. (Old but still heard.) □ Our rumpus room has a pool table. □ If you kids are going to play rough, you'll have to go down to the rumpus room.

run 1. n. a session or period of time spent doing something; a period of time when something happens. □ The market had a good run today. □ We all have enjoyed a good run of luck. □ Bart takes amphetamines and was on a run all week. □ A run like that can kill. 2. tv. to transport contraband, alcohol, or drugs. □ Max used to run booze during prohibition. □ The soldiers were caught running guns. 3. n. an act of transporting contraband. □ Four soldiers were killed during a run. □ In their final run the cocaine smugglers made over four million dollars.

run a make on someone tv. to perform an identity check on someone. (Underworld.) □ The cops ran a make on Lefty and learned about his prison record. □ We tried to run a make on him and came up with nothing.

run amok ['rən ə'mək] in. to go awry. (From a Malay word meaning to run wild in a violent frenzy.) □ Our plan ran amok. □ The whole company ran amok after the market crashed.

runaround n. a wild-goose chase. (Especially with give, as in the example.) □ The IRS gave us the runaround when we asked for a review. □ The customer will never get a runaround at my store!

rundown n. a summary bringing someone up to date. □ Can you give me a rundown on what's happened since noon? □ I need a rundown on the current situation in Alaska.

run down some lines 1. in. to converse (with someone). □ I was running down some lines with Fred when the bell rang. □ Hey, man, let's run down some lines. 2. in. to try to seduce someone; to go through a talk leading to seduction. (See also run one's rhymes.) □ Go run down some lines with someone else. □ I was just standing there running down some lines with Mary when those guys broke in.

run it down tv. to tell the whole story; to tell the truth. □ Come on! What happened? Run it down for me! □ I don't care what happened. Run it down. I can take it.

runner 1. n. a messenger. □ Send a runner over to the other office for supplies. □ I work as a runner in the financial district. 2. n. a person who transports contraband. (Underworld.) □ The cops caught the runner red-handed. □ The runners got away, but we have the goods.

run off in. to have diarrhea. □ Jimmy has been running off since midnight. □ At least I'm not running off anymore.

run off at the mouth in. to talk too much; to have diarrhea of the mouth. □ I wish you would stop running off at the mouth. □ Tom runs off at the mouth too much. I wish he would temper his remarks.

run-of-the-mill mod. average; typical. (Referring to the typical quality of a product that comes out of a mill.) □ He is just a run-of-the-mill guy. □ I don't want just run-of-the-mill ice cream. □ This stuff is just run-of-the-mill.

run on all cylinders 1. in. to run well and smoothly. □ This department is running on all cylinders now. □ My plan is now running on all cylinders. 2. in. to operate sensibly and intelligently. □ Pay attention to what you are doing. Start running on all cylinders. □ She doesn't run on all cylinders this early in the morning.

run one's rhymes tv. to say what you have to say; to give one's speech or make one's plea. (Collegiate.) □ Go run your rhymes with somebody else! □ I told him to run his rhymes elsewhere.

run out of gas in. to lose momentum or interest. □ His program is running out of gas. □ I hope I don't run out of gas before I finish what I set out to do.

the runs n. a case of diarrhea. □ That stuff we ate gave me the runs. □ I can't believe those cute little hamburgers could give anybody the runs.

run scared in. to act panicked. □ All the politicians are running scared. □ Don't panic. There is no reason to run scared.

run someone in tv. to arrest someone; to take someone to the police station. □ Don't argue with me, or I'll run you in. □ The cops ran in everybody in sight.

runt n. a small person; someone whose growth has been stunted. (Also a rude term of address.) □ He can't play basketball. He's just a runt. □ Hey, runt. Come here!

Run that by (me) again. AND Run that by (me) one more time. sent. Please tell it to me again. □ I can't believe my own ears. Can you run that by again, please? □ It's noisy in here. Please run that by me one more time.

Run that by (me) one more time. Go to Run that by (me) again.

run-up n. a movement upward in the value of one or more securities. (Securities markets.) □ The market's had a good run-up in the last week. □ I'm afraid that if it has a run-up to 3,000, it will fall to zero.

rush 1. n. a quick print of a day's shooting of a film. (Film-making. Usually plural.) □ After today's shooting, we'll watch yesterday's rushes. □ Rush these rushes right over to Mr. Hitchcock's office. 2. n. a period of time when fraternities and sororities are permitted to pursue new members. (Collegiate.) □ When does rush start this year? □ I've got to be at school in time for rush. 3. tv. [for a fraternity or sorority member] to try to persuade someone to join. □ The frat tried to rush me, but I'm too busy. □ They can't rush anyone except during rush week. 4. tv. to court or date someone, usually a woman. (From sense 3.) □ Tom's trying to rush Betty, but she's not interested. □ He spent some time trying to rush her, but had to give up. 5. n. a burst of energy or good feeling from a drug; the explosive euphoria of some kinds of drugs. (Drugs.) □ Man, this stuff really gives me a rush. □ What kind of rush does this have? 6. n. any excitement; any burst of good feeling. (From sense 5.) □ I got a real rush from helping out. □ The wonderful ending to the movie gave me a rush.

rust belt n. the industrial north of the U.S. (Patterned on sun belt.) □ The economy in the rust belt is slowing down. □ The salt they put on the roads in the winter made my car all rusty. I guess that's why they call this area the rust belt.

rust bucket n. a naval destroyer; any ship. (Military.) □ I'm anxious to get off this old rust bucket. □ Why don't I ever get assigned to a new ship? It's always some crummy rust bucket!

rusty-dusty n. the posterior; the buttocks. (See also duster.) □ I fell down right on my rusty-dusty. □ I almost kicked him in the rusty-dusty.

ruth [ruθ] 1. n. a women's restroom. (See also john.) □ Where's the ruth? □ Point me toward the ruth! 2. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (See also cry ruth; ralph.) □ I gotta go ruth! □ I just can't stand to ruth.

S

sack 1. n. a bed. □ I was so tired I could hardly find my sack. □ Somebody put a spider in my sack. 2. tv. to dismiss someone from employment; to fire someone. □ The boss sacked the whole office staff last week. □ If I do that again, they'll sack me. 3. the sack n. a dismissal. (Always with the in this sense.) □ The boss gave them all the sack. □ The sack is what I am afraid of. 4. tv. to tackle someone in football. □ I tried to sack him, but he was too fast. □ Sack that guy or else! 5. n. the completion of a tackle in football. □ Andy made the sack on the ten-yard line. □ Who failed to make the sack?

sacked out mod. asleep. □ Mary is sacked out in her room. □ Here it is ten o'clock, and you are still sacked out!

sack out in. to go to bed or go to sleep. (See also sacked out.) □ It's time for me to sack out. □ Let's sack out early tonight.

sack rat n. someone who spends a lot of time in bed; someone who does not ever seem to get enough sleep. □ Tom is such a sack rat. He can't seem to get enough sleep. □ Mary is such a sack rat that she misses classes.

sack time 1. n. a period of time spent in bed. □ I need more sack time than most people. □ How much sack time do you get? 2. n. time to go to bed. □ Okay, gang, it's sack time. Go home so I can get some sleep! □ When is sack time around here?

sacred mushrooms Go to magic mushrooms.

sad mod. poor; undesirable. □ This is a sad excuse for a car! □ That was a sad pitch there at the end of the last inning. □ This steak is really sad.

saddled with someone or something mod. burdened with someone or something. □ I've been saddled with the children all day. Let's go out tonight. □ I don't want to be saddled with your work.

sad sack n. a sad person; a listless or depressed person. □ Tom always looks like such a sad sack. □ Who is that sad sack moping in the corner?

sail into someone AND light into someone in. to beat or scold someone. □ Jimmy's mother really sailed into him for breaking the window. □ Jimmy lit into the cat for getting in the way.

sail (right) through something in. to get through something easily. □ I sailed right through my homework. □ We sailed through the examination with no difficulty.

salt n. a sailor. (Especially with old.) □ A couple of salts came ashore and asked if they could buy some beer. □ I've sailed a little, but you could hardly call me an old salt.

salt and pepper 1. n. a black and white police car. □ There is a salt and pepper around the corner waiting for speeders. □ There is a salt and pepper behind you, and it's too late to slow down. 2. mod. interracial, including black and white. □ It was sort of a salt and pepper meeting, with representatives from all neighborhoods. □ We achieved a salt and pepper agreement that made everyone happy.

salt horse n. corned or salted beef. □ We had salt horse on toast for dinner. □ We made spaghetti sauce with salt horse because that was the only meat we could find.

saltine n. a white person. (A play on a kind of salted white cracker (biscuit). A cracker is a derogatory term for a white person.) □ What are those saltines doing in this neighborhood?

Sam n. federal agents; federal narcotics agents. (Also a term of address. From Uncle (Sam).) □ Sam is on the trail of the dope smugglers. □ Sam is working hard to put an end to all this drug trouble.

Sam and Dave n. the police; police officers. (Black.) □ Mike got hit by Sam and Dave last night. □ And there at the door were my old buddies Sam and Dave with a warrant.

same difference n. the same; no difference at all. □ Pink, fuchsia, what does it matter? Same difference. □ Whether you go or I go, it's the same difference.

same here phr. me too; I agree. □ MARY: I think I'll have the broiled halibut. JANE: Same here. □ BILL: I feel sort of cold. What about you? SUE: Same here.

same old story n. an often repeated story or situation. □ It's the same old story. Boy meets girl, girl gets consumption, girl dies. □ One after one they came in. It's the same old story with each of them, "Not enough time to do my homework."

same o(l)' same o(l)' ['səmo(l) 'səmo(l)] n. the same old thing. □ I'm getting tired of the same ol' same ol'. □ Why not something different? Do you like the same o' same o'?

sand n. sugar. □ Please pass the sand. □ Do you use sand in your coffee?

sandbag 1. tv. to force someone to do something. □ I don't want to have to sandbag you. Please cooperate. □ Don't let them sandbag you into buying something you don't need. 2. tv. to deceive someone; to fool someone about one's capabilities. □ Don't let them sandbag you into expecting too little. □ The guy sandbagged me, and I wasn't expecting him to shoot the ball.

sap 1. n. a stupid person. □ That poor sap thinks he can convince them. □ Who is that miserable looking sap in the corner? 2.

n. a blackjack. (Underworld.) □ The thug bopped him on the head with a sap. □ Bart had a sap in his pocket when they arrested him for possession.

Saturday night special n. a small, easily obtainable pistol. □ There was another killing last night with a Saturday night special. □ That's the tenth shooting done with a Saturday night special this week.

sauce n. liquor; any alcoholic beverage. (See also on the sauce.) □ Those guys have had too much sauce again. □ Did you bring the sauce? Can't have a good party without lots of sauce.

sauced mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She went out and got herself sauced. □ Man, do you look sauced.

sauce parlor n. a tavern. □ You spend too much time in the sauce parlor, Fred. □ I wouldn't be caught dead in that sauce parlor.

savage mod. excellent. (Collegiate.) □ This is really a savage piece of music. □ Man, Fred is a totally savage guy. □ Wow, is he savage!

saved by the bell mod. saved by the timely intervention of someone or something. □ I was going to have to do my part, but someone knocked on the door and I didn't have to do it. I was saved by the bell. □ I wish I had been saved by the bell.

Save it! exclam. Be quiet! □ Save it! Keep quiet until this is over. □ I don't care what you think you have to say. Save it!

savvy ['sævi] 1. tv. & in. to understand (someone or something). (Adapted from Spanish sabe, he knows.) □ Do you savvy? □ Can you savvy at all what I am trying to tell you? □ I just can't savvy stuff like that. 2. n. knowledge; know-how. □ She really has savvy when it comes to clocks. □ I don't have the savvy necessary to do the job. 3. mod. knowledgeable. □ What a savvy gal! □ She is truly savvy! □ He is one of the most savvy directors in New York.

sawbones n. a doctor. (Folksy. Referring to someone who amputates limbs.) □ Call the sawbones. This is an emergency. □ Is there a sawbones in this town?

sawbuck n. a ten-dollar bill. (From the time when the 10 was indicated by the Roman numeral X, which looks like the crosspiece that supports wood that is being sawed.) □ It cost me a sawbuck to have my car pulled out of the mud. □ Can I borrow a sawbuck till payday?

sawed mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Perhaps an elaboration of cut.) □ I got sawed last weekend, and I still have a headache. □ She drank a lot, but never got sawed.

sawed-off mod. short of stature. □ Mike is sawed-off. □ Tom called Mike a sawed-off little runt. □ Well, Mike is a sawed-off runt, isn't he?

Say cheese! exclam. Please smile! (A phrase said by a photographer who is trying to get someone to smile for a photograph.) □ Come on, now. Say cheese! □ Say cheese for the camera, please.

Says me! AND Sez me! exclam. a formulaic answer to Says who? □ TOM: Says who? FRED: Says me, that's who! □ TOM: You? FRED: You got it, buster. Says me!

say-so n. a command; an authorization. □ I can't do it just on your say-so. □ We can begin as soon as we get the boss's say-so.

Says who? AND Sez who? interrog. a formulaic challenge indicating disagreement with someone who has said something. (See also Says you!) □ TOM: Says who? FRED: Says me, that's who! □ She drew herself up to her full height, looked him straight in the eye, and said, "Says who?"

Says you! exclam. That's just what you say! You don't know what you are talking about! □ FRED: You are fat and ugly. TOM: Says you! □ MARY: People who go around correcting other people were found to be very annoying in a recent survey. BILL: Says you!

say uncle tv. to admit defeat; to give up. □ He held me down until I said uncle. □ I never say uncle. I just keep right on going.

Say what? interrog. What did you say? □ Say what? I didn't hear that. □ The old man held his hand to his ear and said, "Say what?"

scabbed ['skæbd] mod. cheated in a drug deal; having been sold bogus or inferior drugs. □ Bart got scabbed by a dealer who got arrested the next day. □ This junk is junk. I've been scabbed.

scads [skædz] n. lots (of something). □ I have just scads and scads of paper. □ Aunt Mary has scads of money.

scag Go to skag.

scag jones Go to skag jones.

scale n. the regular union rate of pay; union wages. □ Even the big stars work for scale. □ We pay scale and not a penny more. I don't care who you think you are!

scam [skæm] 1. n. a swindle; a hustle. □ I lost a fortune in that railroad scam. □ What a scam! I'm calling the cops. 2. tv. to swindle someone; to deceive someone. □ They were scammed by a sweet-talking southern lady who took all their money. □ She scammed them for every cent they had. 3. in. to seek out and pick up young women, said of males. (Collegiate.) □ Bob was out scamming last night and ran into Clare. □ Those guys are always scamming around. 4. in. to copulate. □ All you ever want to do is scam. □ I think those people over there are scamming. 5. in. to fool around and waste time. □ Quit scamming and get busy. □ You'd get better grades if you didn't scam so much.

scammer ['skæmə] 1. n. a swindler; a hustler. □ Max is a scammer if I ever saw one. □ There are a couple of scammers on the street corner. Watch out. 2. n. a lecher; a fast worker with the opposite sex. □ Bob thinks he's a great scammer, but he's just a wimp. □ Do scammers have a great future? What's for an encore?

scammered mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She is scammered out of her mind. □ Two bottles of that stuff and she was scammered.

scamp [skæmp] n. a small child. □ Come here, you little scamp! □ There are three little scamps at the door saying, "Trick or treat!"

scandal sheet n. a tabloid newspaper featuring lurid news. □ I like to read a scandal sheet every now and then. □ I'm tired of this scandal sheet. Let's get a classy newspaper today.

skank Go to skank.

scanless Go to skanless.

scared shitless mod. very frightened. (Potentially offensive. Use caution with shit.) □ He wasn't just frightened. He was scared shitless! □ He had to go to court and was scared shitless about it.

scared stiff mod. frightened; unable to move from fear. □ The poor little kid stood there—scared stiff. □ I was scared stiff for hours after the accident.

scare someone or something up tv. to find someone or something. (As if one were flushing wild game.) □ I have to scare a date up for Friday night. □ See if you can scare up a clean tablecloth.

scare the hell out of someone tv. to frighten someone badly. (Use caution with hell.) □ These figures scare the hell out of me. □ The door blew shut and scared the hell out of me.

scare the pants off someone tv. to frighten someone suddenly. □ The piano lid fell and scared the pants off my parents. □ It takes a lot to scare the pants off a hardened criminal.

scarf 1. tv. to eat something. □ Andy scarfed the whole pie. □ Are you going to scarf the whole thing? 2. in. to eat. □ I'll be with you as soon as I scarf. □ I gotta go scarf now. 3. n. food. □ I want some good scarf. This stuff stinks. □ No more fried scarf for me. 4. tv. to steal or swipe something. □ The kid scarfed a candy bar, and the store owner called the cops. □ The plumber's assistant had been scarfing copper for months before they figured out what was going on. 5. tv. to discard something. □ Scarf that thing. It's no good. □ Bill scarfed his girl. She was seeing somebody else at the same time.

scarf out in. to overeat. (See also blimp out; pig out, mac out.) □ I scarf out every weekend. □ My brother scarfs out every day—around the clock!

scarf something down tv. to eat something, perhaps in a hurry; to swallow something, perhaps in a hurry. □ Are you going to scarf this whole thing down? □ Here, scarf down this sandwich.

scary mod. [of women] ugly. □ Man, is she scary! □ Why do I always end up with a scary woman?

scat [skæt] 1. n. nonsense syllables sung to music. (Refers to a [primarily black] jazz practice in the jazz era.) □ She used to do scat but moved on to blues. □ He could sing scat like nobody's business. 2. exclam. Go away! (Usually Scat! Often said to a cat to get it to go away.) □ Get out! Scat! Beat it, cat! □ Scat, you wretched animal! 3. in. to leave. □ It's midnight. I gotta scat. □ You guys scat now. I have to go to work. 4. n. heroin. (Drugs. From an old term for dung. See also shit.) □ Bart is trying to sell scat in the neighborhood again. □ That scat's gonna get that man killed. 5. n. inferior whiskey. □ That rotten scat nearly choked me. □ You got anything better than that scat, bartender?

scatterbrain n. a forgetful person; someone who is mentally disorganized. □ I'm getting to be such a scatterbrain, I think. □ Aunt Martha is a real scatterbrain. She always forgets where her glasses are.

scattered mod. drug intoxicated; confused by drug use. (Drugs. See also scat.) □ Those poor kids are so scattered, they can't even get themselves to class. □ Fred must spend half his life scattered and sleeping.

scene [sin] 1. n. a place; a setting. (See also make the scene.) □ This scene is no good. Let's split. □ I need a different scene. Life is too hectic here. 2. n. the drug-use environment; the drug scene. □ The longer you spend in a scene like this, the harder it is to sober up and go straight. □ This coke scene is a bad one. It will shorten your life. 3. n. one's preference. (See also bag.) □ This nine-to-five stuff just isn't my scene. I quit. □ Your scene doesn't seem to involve much in the way of hard work.

schicker Go to shicker.

schickered Go to shicker.

schizo ['skizo OR 'skitso] 1. mod. schizophrenic. □ That gal is sort of schizo, isn't she? □ I have never dealt with such a schizo type before. 2. n. a schizophrenic person. □ That guy is an absolute schizo! □ Keep that schizo away from me.

schiz(z) out [skiz...] in. to freak out; to lose mental control. □ What a day! I nearly schizzed out. □ I schizzed out during the test. Got an F. schlemazel AND schlemozzle; shlimazl [ʃlə'mazl] n. an awkward, bumbling person; a loser. (Yiddish.) □ And this poor schlemazel tries to get me to help him paint his fence! □ That schlemozzle is afraid of his own shadow.

schlemiel AND schlemihl; shlemiel [ʃlə'mil] n. a gullible person; a loser. (From Hebrew Shelumiel via Yiddish.) □ See if you can get that schlemiel to buy the Brooklyn Bridge. □ The stupid schlemiel says he already bought it yesterday.

schlemihl Go to schlemiel.

schlemozzle Go to schlemazel.

schlep AND shlep [ʃlep] 1. tv. to drag or carry someone or something. (From German schleppen via Yiddish.) □ Am I supposed to schlep this whole thing all the way back to the store? □ I am tired of schlepping kids from one thing to another. 2. n. a journey; a distance to travel or carry something. □ It takes about twenty minutes to make the schlep from here to there. □ That's a ten-mile schlep, and I won't go by myself. 3. n. a stupid person; a bothersome person. (Literally, a drag.) □ What a schlep! The guy's a real pain. □ Ask that shlep to wait in the hall until I am free. I'll sneak out the back way.

schlepper AND shlepper [ʃlepə] n. an annoying person who always wants a bargain or a favor. (See also schlep.) □ Why am I surrounded by people who want something from me? Is this a schlepper colony or what? □ Tell the shleppers that they'll get their money after I close the sale on my wife and kids.

schlock [ʃlak] 1. n. inferior merchandise. (From German schlacke, “dregs” via Yiddish.) □ That store has nothing but schlock. □ For this schlock I should pay good money? 2. AND schlocky [ʃlɒki] mod. cheap; junky; inferior. □ Schlocky stuff like this I can get from a no overhead mail order. □ That place is nothing but a schlock shop. □ This thing is really schlock.

schlocky Go to schlock.

schloomp AND schlump; shlump [ʃlump OR ʃlump] n. a stupid and lazy person. (From German via Yiddish.) □ Tell that schloomp to get busy or get out. □ Do you work hard? I don't hire any schlumps.

schlub AND zhlub [ʃləb OR ʒləb] n. a dull, unpolished person, usually a male. (Yiddish.) □ I spent the whole evening listening to that schlub from New Hampshire. □ Hank's no zhlub. He's just eccentric.

schlump Go to schloomp. schmaltz AND shmaltz [ʃmaltz] n. extreme sentimentality; corny sweetness. (From a Yiddish word meaning fat or oil.) □ I didn't like that movie. Too much schmaltz. □ You aren't playing this piece right. It needs a little schmaltz.

schmaltzy AND shmaltzy [ʃ'maltsi] mod. overly sweet and sentimental. (See also schmaltz.) □ This movie is too schmaltzy for me. □ What a schmaltzy movie!

schmegegge AND schmegeggy [ʃmə'gegi] 1. n. a stupid person. (Yiddish.) □ Who is that schmegegge in the plaid pants? □ Ask the schmegegge standing over by the workbench if he's seen my sky hook. 2. n. nonsense. □ I've heard enough of your schmegegge. Out! □ I don't hear anything but schmegeggy coming out of Washington.

schmegeggy Go to schmegegge.

schmendrick AND shmendrick [ʃ'men drik] n. a stupid and ineffectual nobody. (Yiddish.) □ Some schmendrick from downstairs asked if you could turn down your stereo. □ Tell the schmendrick to drop dead.

schmo AND shmo; shmoe; schmoe [ʃmo] n. a foolish and naive person, usually a male. (Yiddish. See also Joe Schmo.) □

What a schmo! He thinks I caused the problem. □ Tell the silly schmoe to beat it.

schmoose Go to schmooze.

schmooze AND shmooze; schmoose 1. in. to chat; to chew the fat. (From Hebrew schmuos via Yiddish.) □ You were schmoozing when you should have been listening. □ We were schmoozing before quitting time, and then the boss walked by. 2. n. a session of chatting or conversing. □ Come over, and let's have a schmoose before you go. □ A good schmoose is what you need.

schmooser n. someone who chats or converses well. □ Clare can't sing a note, but what a schmooser! □ Two old schmoosers sat muttering to one another all afternoon by the duck pond.

schmuck [ʃmæk] 1. n. a jerk; a repellent male. (Also a rude term of address. Yiddish.) □ Who is that stupid schmuck over there? □ Ask that schmuck how long he will be on the phone. 2. n. a penis. (Yiddish. Usually objectionable.) □ If I hear that joke about a camel's schmuck one more time, I'm going to scream. □ There are probably better names than schmuck for what you are talking about.

schnockered AND schnoggered; shnockered; snoggered ['ʃnəkəd AND 'ʃnagəd] mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ How can anybody be so schnockered on four beers? □ I've never seen anybody so schnockered.

schnoggered Go to schnockered.

schnook AND schnuck; shnook [ʃnɒk] n. a naive person; a dope. (Yiddish.) □ The guy's a schnook with a heart of gold. □ What's a good-looking dame like her doing with a shnook like him?

schnorrer ['ʃnɒrə] n. a beggar; a person who sponges off of friends and relatives. (Yiddish.) □ Here comes that schnorrer from down the street. Look poor. □ Buy your own ciggies if you don't like mine. Schnorrers can't be choosers.

schnozz AND schnozzle; schnozzola; shnozz [ʃnɒz AND ʃnɒz], [ʃnɒ'zɒlə, ʃnɒz] n. the nose. (From German Schnauze via Yiddish.) □ Look at the schnozz on that guy! □ With a schnozzola like that he should be in the circus.

schnozzle Go to schnozz.

schnozzola Go to schnozz.

schnuck Go to schnook.

schoolboy Scotch n. wine. □ Give me a pint of that schoolboy Scotch. □ Man, she is stoned out of her mind on schoolboy Scotch!

school someone tv. to teach someone something, usually as a demonstration of power. (As in I'll teach you a thing or two which suggests violence.) □ Am I gonna have to school you in how to act?

schtick AND shtik [ʃtɪk] n. a routine or act that is the trademark of an entertainer, especially in vaudeville. (Yiddish.) □ His schtick was a trained dog and cat act. □ Their shtik is so old! Maybe nobody will remember whose it was.

schttoonk AND shtoonk [ʃtuŋk] n. a detestable person. (Yiddish.) □ The schtoonk from downstairs was here to talk to you. I told him you died. □ Who needs a shtoonk like that?

Schwing! [ʃmɪŋ] exclam. How exciting!; How stimulating!; Wow! (Originally said on seeing an extremely good-looking or sexually attractive girl. The word is onomatopoeic for the imaginary whishing sound of instant arousal. Many users are not aware of the origins. Potentially offensive.) □ Did you see her? Schwing! □ Nice car. Schwing!

Sco. in. Let's go. □ It's late. Sco.

scoff [skɒf] 1. tv. & in. to eat (something). (See also scarf.) □ He's upstairs scoffing in his room. □ She scoffed three hamburgers and a large order of fries. 2. n. food. □ This scoff is gross! □ I want some good old American scoff.

scooch [skutʃ] 1. in. to move (oneself), while seated, forward, backward, or sideways by sliding. □ Scooch over here by me. □ Why don't you scooch over here? 2. tv. to push or move something. □ Scooch your chair over where the light is better.

□ Scooch the potted palm to the edge of the deck and push it overboard.

scoop 1. n. a news story gathered by a reporter before any other reporter hears of it. □ I got a great scoop! I was right there when it happened. □ That was no scoop at all. It was on live television. Didn't you see the cameras? 2. tv. to beat someone—such as another reporter—in the race to get a news story first. □ They scooped the other paper on both stories. □ Larry scooped me twice last month. 3. n. a general roundup and arrest of criminals; a bust. (Underworld.) □ Bart got picked up in that big drug scoop last month. □ There are some people who get dragged in every time there is a scoop. It cannot just be a coincidence. 4. n. liquor; a glass of beer. □ I could use a good cold scoop about now. □ A little scoop helps pass the time when you're waiting. 5. n. a folded matchbook cover used to snort cocaine or heroin. □ I need a scoop. It's no good without one. □ I burned up the scoop by accident. Sorry. 6. tv. & in. to snort cocaine or heroin, using a folded matchbook cover. □ Max is scooping for the fourth time today. □ He scooped two lines together.

scoot in. to run or scurry quickly from one place to another. □ I scooted from the bank to the cleaners and then on to the dentist's. □ The shoppers scooted from store to store spending money like it was going out of style.

scooters ['skutəz] mod. crazy; confused. □ It's days like this that make me think I'm scooters. □ You are driving me totally scooters with your constant beefing.

the scoots n. a case of diarrhea. □ Our vacation was ruined by a case of the scoots. □ I've got just the thing for the scoots. Stay at home.

scoop (on) someone tv. & in. to evaluate a member of the opposite sex visually. □ He scoped every girl who came in the door. □ He wouldn't like it if somebody scoped on him. Or would he?

scoop someone out tv. to look someone over; to check someone out. □ Nobody was scoping Dave out, though. □ Dave was scoping out all the girls.

scorched 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Who wants to go out and get scorched? □ How can anybody get so scorched on four beers? 2. AND singed [sɪndʒd] mod. having to do with hair burned while smoking marijuana. (Collegiate.) □ Guess who scorched herself last night? □ If you go to sleep, you'll be singed for sure.

scorcher 1. n. a very hot day. □ This is really a scorcher, isn't it? □ Wow! What a scorcher! 2. n. a caustic remark. □ Bob made a real scorcher about Tom's shoes. □ He is a master at the rude scorcher.

scorching 1. mod. really hot; about to win something big. □ Let me roll again. I'm really scorching. □ Here comes a scorching runner! □ He says he's scorching. Get out of his way. 2. mod. caustic. □ That remark was really scorching. □ What a scorching glare you got from her!

score 1. in. to succeed. □ I knew if I kept trying I could score. □ It takes hard work and luck to score. 2. tv. & in. to obtain something; to obtain drugs or sex. (Very close to sense 1.) □ Albert spent an hour trying to score some pot. □ Fred is always trying to score with women. 3. n. the result of a scoring: drugs, loot, winnings, etc. □ Where's the score? How much did you get? □ The crooks dropped the score as they made their getaway. 4. in. [for a male] to copulate with a female; [for a female] to copulate with a male. (Usually objectionable.) □ Fred can't think about anything but scoring with Martha. □ He will spend his vacation trying to score. 5. n. the client of a male or female prostitute. □ She conked the score over the head and robbed him. □ Three scores was a full day's work for Tracy. 6. n. a summary; a conclusion; the sum total. (See also bottom line.) □ The score is that you are in trouble with the Internal Revenue Service. □ Okay, waiter, what's the score?

scrag [skræg] 1. n. the neck. (Underworld.) □ The cop grabbed him by the scrag and pushed him along to the squad car. □ It's gonna be your scrag in the noose when this thing's over. 2. tv. to kill someone or something. (Originally underworld to strangle.) □ The gang decided that somebody was going to have to scrag the witness. □ A truck almost scragged Bart.

scraggy ['skrægi] mod. bony. □ That dame is too scraggy for me. □ Who is that scraggy dame? □ I lost weight till I was scraggy as a hungry bear.

scram [skræm] in. to exit fast; to get out of a place in a hurry. □ I gotta scam. I'm late. □ Go on, scam! Get out of here fast!

scrambled eggs n. decorations on a military officer's uniform. □ I know his rank is high because of the scrambled eggs, but I don't know how high. □ I'll be glad when I get some scrambled eggs on me.

scrape the bottom of the barrel tv. to utilize the last or only things or people available, even if unsatisfactory. (See also bottom of the barrel.) □ They were really scraping the bottom of the barrel when they picked you. □ You scraped the bottom of the barrel for this one. I want something better.

scratch 1. n. money. □ I just don't have the scratch. □ How much scratch does it take to buy a car like this one? 2. tv. to eliminate something from a list; to cancel something. □ Scratch Fred. He can't make the party. □ We decided to scratch the idea of a new car. The old one will have to do. 3. mod. impromptu; temporary. (See also pickup.) □ We started a scratch game of basketball, but most of the girls had to leave at dinnertime. □ This is just a scratch tape. After you use it for your computer program, someone else will write something over it.

scratch sheet n. a daily horse-racing newsletter at the racetrack. □ I picked up a scratch sheet from Lucky Louie and proceeded to lay down my life's savings on a horse named Felicity Anne. □ Even the cost of a scratch sheet is going up, and I'm trying to economize!

a scream 1. n. someone or something very funny. □ The joke Tom told was really a scream. □ Tom is always a scream at parties. 2. n. ice cream. (Collegiate.) □ How about a nice big dish of scream? □ It's too cold for scream. Ask me in June.

scream bloody murder tv. to scream very loudly; to complain or protest loudly. □ She screams bloody murder every time I get near her. □ Those guys scream bloody murder long before they're hurt.

screamer 1. n. a newspaper headline. □ Did you see the screamer in the paper today? "The King Died." □ I never read screamers. 2. n. an exclamation point. (Printing.) □ Put a screamer at the end of the line. □ Clean up this copy. There are too many screamers. Looks like junior high stuff. 3. n. anything challenging. □ What a horrible assignment I got. A classic screamer. □ Bring on the screamers. I can handle anything. 4. n. someone or something very exciting or attention getting. □ This guy is a real screamer! Wait'll you meet him. □ Her political campaign is a real screamer.

screaming-meemie AND screamie-meemie n. a screaming child or adult. □ Oh, don't be such a screaming-meemie! □ Jennifer has been a terrible screamie-meemie all day long!

screaming-meemies AND screaming-meemies n. the willies—a mental breakdown. □ They sent Bart away with the screaming-meemies. □ I need some sleep. I'm about to come down with the screaming-meemies.

screeching (drunk) mod. alcohol intoxicated; very drunk. □ How can anybody be so screeching drunk on four beers? □ She's not just drunk; she's screeching.

screw 1. tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ The sailor wanted to screw somebody bad. 2. tv. & in. to cheat or deceive someone. □ The sales clerk screwed me on this watch. □ You can count on somebody screwing you at a traveling carnival. 3. n. an act of copulation. (Usually objectionable.) □ The sailor said he needed a good screw. 4. n. a person with whom one can copulate. (Usually objectionable.) □ His teeth are crooked and his hands are callused, but he's a good screw. 5. n. a jailer. (Underworld.) □ See if you can get the screw's attention. □ I'm sick, screw! Let me out!

screw around 1. to engage in copulation. □ She wants to talk about their relationship and he only wants to screw around. 2. in. to waste time. □ Stop screwing around and get busy. □ John's always screwing around and never does anything on time.

screw around with someone or something in. to toy with, fiddle with or play around with someone or something. □ Andy screwed around with his clock until he broke it. □ Look, chum! Don't screw around with me!

screwball 1. n. an eccentric person; a clown or a dunce. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Tom is such a screwball! □ Look, you screwball, get out! 2. n. [in baseball] a (pitched) ball that does not travel in a straight line. □ Jim threw another screwball, but somehow the batter hit it. □ Larry always seemed to be able to hit a screwball, no matter what.

screwed 1. mod. copulated with. (Usually objectionable.) □ I got myself good and screwed, and I haven't felt better in months. 2. mod. cheated. □ Wow, you got screwed on that watch. 3. AND screwed tight mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She spends a lot of time screwed. □ She's not just drunk; she's screwed tight. 4. mod. bested; defeated; cheated. □ I really got screwed at the garage. □ If you don't want to get screwed by somebody, you have to do it yourself.

screwed, blued, and tattooed ['skrʊd 'blʊd æn tæ'tʊd] 1. mod. badly mistreated; badly screwed. □ I got a bad deal. I got screwed, blued, and tattooed. □ When John bought his wreck of a car, he got screwed, blued, and tattooed. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Who wants to go out and get screwed, blued, and tattooed? □ All four of them went out and got screwed, blued, and tattooed.

screwed tight Go to screwed.

screwed up mod. ruined; messed up. □ This is a really screwed up schedule. Let's start over again. □ Your schedule is completely screwed up.

screw someone or something up tv. to interfere with someone or something; to mess up someone or something. □ Try again and don't screw it up this time. □ You really screwed up my brother by not being on time.

screw someone out of something tv. to cheat someone of out something. □ You are trying to screw me out of what is rightfully mine! □ I'm not trying to screw anybody out of anything!

screw someone over tv. to give someone a very bad time; to scold someone severely. □ Those guys really screwed you over. What started it? □ Let's get those kids in here and screw over every one of them. This stuff can't continue.

screw up 1. in. to mess up. □ I hope I don't screw up this time. □ The waiter screwed up again. 2. n. a mess; a blunder; utter confusion. (Usually screw-up. See also screwed up.) □ This is the chef's screw-up, not mine. □ One more screw up like that and you're fired.

screwy 1. mod. crazy. □ I've never heard such a screwy idea. □ It's really screwy. □ That's the screwiest looking hat I've ever seen. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How can anybody be so screwy on five beers? □ I've never seen anybody so screwy.

script(t) n. a note; any piece of paper with a written message. (Underworld.) □ Hey, Mike, here's a script for you from the boss. □ Make him sign this script before you let him in on the deal.

scrog [skrɔg] tv. & in. to have sex; to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ You know what! I think those people over in the corner are scrogging! □ The movie showed scene after scene of this woman scrogging some guy.

schronched [skrɔntʃt] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She just sat there and got schronched. □ He spends a lot of time totally schronched.

scrooge [skrʊdʒ] n. a stingy person; a penny-pincher. (From the character in Dickens's A Christmas Carol.) □ Ask scrooge over there if you can borrow a quarter to call the cops. □ Don't be such a scrooge! All I want is a buck!

scrounge (around (for someone or something)) [skrændʒ...] in. to look around for someone or something; to seek someone or something in every likely place. □ Try to scrounge around for somebody to go to the party with, why don't you? □ I don't think there is anybody who will go with me, but I'll scrounge around. □ Ask John to scrounge around for a wrench.

scrounge someone or something up tv. to get someone or something somehow. □ I scrounged a doctor up in the middle of the night. □ See if you can scrounge up a new carburetor by noon.

scrub tv. to cancel something. □ We had to scrub the whole plan because of the weather. □ The manager scrubbed the party because people wouldn't cooperate.

scrud n. a serious disease; a sexually transmitted disease. (Military.) □ Oh, hell! I think I got the scrud! □ Poor dumb Charlie can't tell scrud from crotch rot.

scruff(y) ['skrəf(i)] mod. sloppy; unkempt. □ Her boyfriend is a little scruffy, but he's got billies! □ Why don't you clean up this scruff car? It's—like—grody!

scrump [skræmp] tv. & in. to copulate [with] someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ You know what! I think those people over by the garage are scrumping! □ The movie showed a scene of some woman scrumping her lover.

scrumptious ['skræmpʃəs] mod. excellent; tasty. □ That cake is just scrumptious, Mary. What's in it? □ Who makes the most scrumptious chocolate chip cookies in the world—besides me, that is?

scrunch [skrəntʃ] tv. to crush or crunch. □ I sat on my cookies and scrunched them. □ I hate crowds. I am afraid people will scrunch me.

scrunge [skrændʒ] n. nastiness; gunk. □ What is this scrunge on my shoe? □ When you find some scrunge on your shoe or something, never try to find out what it is. Just wipe it off.

scrungy ['skrændʒi] 1. mod. filthy. □ This place is too scrungy for me. I'm outa here. □ What a scrungy guy. Put him somewhere to soak for a day or two. 2. mod. inferior; bad. □ I don't need scrungy merchandise like this. I'm going elsewhere. □ You have a very scrungy outlook on life. □ Life is scrungy.

SCSI AND scuzzy ['skəʒi] n. small computer system interface. (Computers. Acronym.) □ Come over and see my new SCSI. It lets me run a hard disc. □ Why do they call it a scuzzy? Why not just say what it is?

scum 1. n. a totally worthless and disgusting person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You scum! Get out of here! 2. n. low-life in general; disgusting and worthless people. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Fourth Street is where all the scum in town hangs out. 3. n. semen; seminal fluid. (Usually objectionable.) □ You'd better clean up the scum from the backseat before you take the car home.

scumbag 1. n. a condom; a used condom. (Usually objectionable.) □ I saw a used scumbag in the school parking lot. □ Well, what the hell do you do with a scumbag, after? 2. n. a totally disgusting person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Oh, he's a scumbag. I wouldn't be seen dead with him!

scupper up in. to drink liquor, especially beer. □ Tom goes home to scupper up every evening. □ Come on, you guys. Scupper up, and let's get outa here.

scurvy ['skɜːvi] mod. repulsive; gross. (Collegiate.) □ Who is that scurvy guy who just came in? □ That class is scurvy. You'll wish you hadn't taken it.

scut [skət] n. a despicable person. (Teens and collegiate.) □ How can you be, like, such a scut? □ It's scuts like that who give all us really rad kids a bad name.

scuttlebutt n. gossip. □ What's the scuttlebutt on the steeple clock? Why did it stop? □ Don't pay any attention to the scuttlebutt around here.

scuz(z) [skəʒ] 1. n. filth. □ What is this scuzz all over the floor? □ There is some scuzz on your shoe. 2. n. a nasty person;

an undesirable person; a scraggly person.
 □ And this scuzz comes up to me and asks me to dance, and I'm like, "What?" □ I told the scuz, like, I was feeling sick, so I couldn't dance with anybody.

scuzzbag AND scuzzbucket n. a despicable person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Who is that scuzzbag who just came in? □ Look, scuzzbucket, we don't want your kind around here.

scuzzbucket Go to scuzzbag.

scuzzo n. a repellent person. □ There's the scuzzo who thinks I like him. □ How do you get rid of a scuzzo like that?

scuzz someone out tv. to nauseate someone. □ He had this unreal face that almost scuzzed me out! □ It's not nice to scuzz out people like that, especially when you hardly know them.

scuzzy ['skəzi] 1. mod. repellent; unkempt. □ His clothes are always so scuzzy. He probably keeps them in a pile in his room. □ Whose scuzzy car is that in the driveway? 2. Go to SCSI.

sea n. cocaine. (Drugs. A spelling-out of C.) □ There is a bunch using sea over at Fred's place. □ I never used sea before. I hear there's nothing like it.

sealed (up) mod. settled; secured; cinched. □ The matter was sealed by Monday morning. □ The contract was sealed up just in time.

sealed with a kiss AND SWAK mod. written and sent with love and care. (The initialism is sometimes written on love letters. Also an acronym.) □ All her letters come SWAK. □ I know they are sealed with a kiss, because she says so.

seam-squirrels n. lice. (See also pants rabbits.) □ I got an itch. Must be seam-squirrels. □ Where would you get seam-squirrels?

Search me. sent. I don't know. (There is a heavy stress on both words.) □ TOM: How do crickets make that chirping noise? □ BILL: Search me. □ You can search me. How should I know?

seat n. the buttocks. □ Bob fell down on his seat. □ I was so angry. I wanted to kick him in the seat as he left.

sec [sek] 1. n. a second. (See also tick.) □ I'll be with you in a sec. Keep your pants on! □ Just a sec. I'm on the phone. 2. AND secs n. a Seconal™ barbiturate capsule. (Drugs.) □ Max likes amies better than secs. □ I started taking sec in the hospital and just couldn't stop.

second fiddle n. a person in a secondary role; the second best. (Frequently with play.) □ I won't stay around here playing second fiddle for someone half my age and ability! □ There are worse things than being second fiddle.

second sacker n. the second baseman in baseball. □ The second sacker missed the throw, and the runner went on home. □ The shortstop and the second sacker crashed into one another trying to catch a ball.

secs Go to sec.

see tv. to equal or raise someone's bet in poker. □ I see your five and raise you ten. □ Well, can you see me or not?

see a man about a dog tv. to leave a place for a mysterious reason, usually to go to the toilet. □ I gotta see a man about a dog. □ Fred went to see a man about a dog. I hope he remembers to put the seat down.

see eye to eye in. [for two or more people] to agree on something or view something the same way. □ We never seem to see eye to eye. □ Gary and Walter see eye to eye on this question.

seegar ['sigar] n. a cigar. (Folksy. The stress is on the first syllable.) □ This dude came into this hamburger joint with a big seegar in his mouth, and the manager called the cops. □ There's nothing like a fine seegar after a nice bowl of hot chili.

seeing pink elephants AND seeing pink spiders; seeing snakes tv. alcohol intoxicated; recovering from a drinking bout; having the delirium tremens. □ When I got to the point of seeing pink elephants, I knew that something had to be done. □ The old one who's shaking—he's probably seeing snakes.

seeing pink spiders Go to seeing pink elephants.

seeing snakes Go to seeing pink elephants.

seen better days tv. showing signs of wear or exhaustion. (Always a past participle.) □ This coat has seen better days. □ The pitcher has seen better days. He's about through on this team, I think.

see no further than the end of one's nose AND cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose in. to be narrow-minded; to lack understanding and perception. □ She is so selfish she can see no further than the end of her nose. □ You don't care about anyone but yourself. You can't see any further than the end of your nose.

see red tv. to be angry. □ When she hung up the phone, I saw red. I've never been so angry in my life. □ As he continued to talk, she began to see red.

see stars tv. to be (knocked) unconscious. □ If you talk to me like that again, you'll be seeing stars. □ I saw stars for a few seconds, and then someone threw cold water in my face.

See ya. Go to See you.

seeyabye ['si:jə'baɪ] interj. bye. (California.) □ Oh, that's, like, so, like, rad. Okay, seeyabye. □ Gotta go now. Seeyabye.

See you. AND See ya. interj. Good-bye. □ Good game, Tom. See ya. □ See you, old chum. Give me a ring.

See you later. interj. Good-bye. (Common colloquial. Also said to people one knows one will never see again.) □ Nice talking to you. See you later. □ Have a great trip, Mary. See you later.

See you later, alligator. interj. Good-bye. (From the 1930s. Answered with After a while, crocodile.) □ TOM: Bye. BILL: See you later, alligator. □ BILL: See you later, alligator. TOM: After a while, crocodile.

self-propelled sandbag n. a U.S. Marine. (Persian Gulf War.) □ Once those self- propelled sandbags hit the bars, you army guys had better just go home. □ Those guys are just self-propelled sandbags. They are fearless.

sell a wolf ticket AND sell wolf tickets tv. to boast, bluff, or lie. (Originally black. Compare this with buy someone's wolf ticket.) □ Freddie is out selling wolf tickets again. □ Are you trying to sell me a wolf ticket?

sell buicks tv. to vomit. □ I hear somebody in the john selling buicks.

sellout 1. n. the event of selling all of something. (Advertising.) □ Come to our gigantic sellout of all name-brand merchandise! □ This is the sellout of the century. Everything must go. 2. n. a betrayal. (See also sell someone out.) □ Any one of you could have stood up for me. What a sellout! □ How can you pull such a sellout?

sell someone out tv. to betray someone. □ How could you sell me out like that? □ She would sell out her mother.

sell wolf tickets Go to sell a wolf ticket.

send someone from pillar to post tv. to send someone from place to place; to give someone the runaround. □ Red tape everywhere I went. They sent me from pillar to post until closing time. □ Nobody is in charge there. They send you from pillar to post, and you don't complain for fear they'll start you all over again.

send someone or something up tv. to perform a parody of someone or something. (See also send-up.) □ Last week, he sent the president up. □ In his act, he sends up famous people.

send someone to glory 1. tv. to kill someone. □ One shot sent him to glory. □ You want me to send you to glory or something? 2. tv. to officiate at the burial services for someone. □ The preacher sent him to glory amidst the sobs of six or seven former fans. □ The preacher probably gets fifty bucks for every stiff he sends to glory.

send someone up the river tv. to send someone to prison. (Underworld. As done by a judge or indirectly by the police.) □ They tried to send me up the river, but my lip got me off. □ I'm gonna send you up the river if it's the last thing I do.

send-up n. a parody. □ It was his delightful send-up of the current administration that catapulted Roger Rogers to national fame. □ I enjoy a good send-up, even if it is about me.

sense (bud) Go to sinse.

sent 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Two glasses and she's sent. □ He's not just sent; he's stoned. 2. mod. carried away by mellow music. □ She's really sent. Look at her as she listens. □ All the musicians were sent. Maybe they were on something.

serious mod. good; profound; excellent. (See also heavy.) □ He plays some serious guitar. □ Man, these tunes are, like, serious.

serious about someone mod. in love, or almost in love, with someone. □ I'm afraid I'm getting serious about Bill. □ Bill, unfortunately, is pretty serious about Mary.

serve someone right tv. to be just what someone deserves. □ It would serve you right if you lost your money. □ He fell down. It serves him right.

session 1. n. a drinking bout. □ Your father's off on another session again. □ He was just sobering up from a session with the bottle. 2. n. a marijuana-smoking session; time spent on a drug high. (Collegiate.) □ What a fine session that was! □ Bart was terribly hungry after the session.

set 1. n. a period of time that a band plays without a break; a thirty-minute jam session. □ I'll talk to you after this set. □ We do two sets and then take a twenty-minute break. 2. n. a party. □ Your set was a totally major bash! □ Let's throw a set tonight and invite some chicks.

set of pipes n. a very loud voice; a singing voice. □ She has a nice set of pipes. □ With a set of pipes like that, she's a winner.

set of wheels n. a car. □ I need a new set of wheels. □ Man, look at that set of wheels that chick has!

sets Go to cets.

set someone back tv. to cost someone. □ That must have set you back a mint! □ This bracelet set me back plenty.

set someone up (for something) tv. to set the scene for something to happen to someone. □ His buddies set him up for the gag—which ended up injuring two of them severely. □ Who set me up for this anyway?

settle someone's hash tv. to calm someone down, perhaps by threats or by violence. □ If he comes in here, I'll settle his hash. □ Now, that ought to settle your hash.

setup 1. n. a place to live. □ She's got a little setup over on Maple. □ This is a pretty nice setup. What's the rent? 2. n. a scheme; a plot. (Underworld.) □ Okay, what's the setup for the bank job? □ I got a good little setup for earning some money. 3. n. a person who is set up for some swindle; a mark. (Underworld.) □ Is he the setup? He's a cop! □ The setup got wise at the last minute. 4. n. a glass with ice for an alcoholic beverage. (Usually plural.) □ Can we have a couple of setups brought to our room, please? □ Who ordered the setups?

seven-seven-three-aitch AND 773H n. hell. (This is the based on printed word hell rotated 180 degrees. Jocular.) □ What the seven-seven-three-aitch is going on around here? □ This place is one 773H of a mess!

seven-year itch n. a real or imagined longing for other women in a man's seventh year of marriage. □ Looks like Jack has the seven-year itch. □ The seven-year itch is just a rumor.

sewed up 1. mod. completed. □ I've just about got this contract sewed up. □ When we get it sewed up, we'll go out for a drink. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She's not just drunk; she's sewed up. □ Will this stuff get me sewed up?

sewer hog n. a ditchdigger; a sewer worker. □ A sewer hog doesn't get a lot of chances to pal around with the gentry, but the pay's plenty good. □ Fred worked as a sewer hog and made a fortune.

sewermouth n. someone who uses vile language constantly. (Also a rude term of address.) □ If you're going to be a sewer-mouth, I wish you would leave. □ Who's the sewermouth in the plaid jacket?

sew something up tv. to finalize something; to conclude something. (See also sewed up.) □ Let's sew this up and get out of here. □ I'm about ready to sew up this matter.

sex goddess n. a sexy looking female movie or television star. □ I wonder what these sex goddesses look like when they get up in the morning. □ Sex goddesses get up in the afternoon.

sex kitten n. a woman with enormous sexual potential. □ He thought he was getting a sex kitten, but she turned out to be just a plain cat. □ Clare does everything she can to look like a sex kitten.

sex-machine n. a sexually promising person; a person obsessed with sex. □ Heidi looks like such a sex-machine, but she is a real wallflower. □ John thinks of himself as a sex-machine, but no one else does.

sex pot n. one who flaunts one's sexuality, usually a woman. □ Tiffany is such a sex pot. □ About 20,000 young sex pots hit Hollywood every year hoping to be discovered.

sexy 1. mod. having great sex appeal. □ What a sexy chick! □ He's not what I would call sexy, but I suppose it's a matter of taste. 2. mod. neat; exciting. □ That's a sexy set of wheels. □ You play really sexy music. □ Your idea is real sexy.

Sez me! Go to Says me!

Sez who? Go to Says who?

SF mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Initialism. From shit-faced.) □ Fred was really SF last night. □ How can that guy get so SF?

sgo Go to sko.

shack up (with someone) 1. in. to have a one-night stand with someone; to copulate [with] someone. □ Those two just wanted to shack up for a while. □ He only wanted to shack up with me. 2. in. to move in with someone temporarily, presumably for sexual purposes. □ They shacked up for over a year until her parents found out and stopped sending her money. □ They decided to shack up.

shades n. dark glasses. (See also sunshades.) □ Where are my shades? The sun is too bright. □ The guy stood there—wearing shades and carrying a violin case. Barlowe grimaced.

shaft 1. n. a bad deal; unfair treatment. □ He really gave me the shaft. □ It's the shaft whenever you go into that place. 2. tv. to do wrong to someone. (See also shafted.) □ The jerk shafted me, but good. □ We are going to shaft this guy in a way that he will remember.

shafted mod. beaten; bested; cheated. □ I really got shafted in that deal. □ I've been shafted!

shag ass (out of some place) Go to bag ass (out of some place).

shagged mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She is mucho shagged! □ Nobody is not too shagged to drive—or something like that.

shagged out mod. exhausted. □ What a day! I'm shagged out! □ You guys look sort of shagged out.

shag-nasty mod. nasty. □ What a shag-nasty jerk! □ I want out of this shag-nasty mess.

shag (off) in. to depart. □ I gotta shag. It's late. □ Go on! Shag off! □ I gotta shag. Somebody's calling my name.

shake n. a milkshake. □ I'd like a chocolate shake, please. □ A shake only costs sixty cents.

shake a leg 1. tv. to hurry; to move faster. (Often as a command.) □ Let's shake a leg, you guys. We gotta be there in twenty minutes. □ She told me to shake a leg, so I hurried the best I could. 2. tv. to dance. □ Let's shake a leg. The music's great. □ Hey, Tracy! You wanna shake a leg with me?

shakedown n. an act of extortion. (Underworld.) □ Mary was giving Bruno the shakedown, so he tried to put her out of the way. □ Those bums are masters at the shakedown.

Shake it (up)!

Shake it (up)! exclam. Hurry!; Move faster!
□ Get going, chum! Shake it up! □ We're late. Shake it!

shakeout n. an event that eliminates the weak or unproductive elements from a system. □ After a shakeout that lasted a month, we went into full production. □ There was a big shakeout at the plant, and a whole lot of people got pink-slipped.

shakes n. the delirium tremens. □ I got the shakes again. That's what I get for putting soda water in my whisky. □ In the last stages, they have the shakes all the time.

shake someone down 1. tv. to blackmail someone. (Underworld.) □ Fred was trying to shake Tracy down, but she got the cops in on it. □ The police chief was trying to shake down just about everybody in town. 2. tv. to put pressure on someone to lend one money. □ We tried to shake them down for a few hundred, but no deal. □ If you're trying to shake me down, forget it. I got a case of the shorts.

shake-up n. a reorganization. □ After a shake-up like the one we've just been through, everybody's a little upset. □ Fred and Clare both survived the shake-up.

shaky-cam n. a camera, used mainly in advertisements and documentaries, that is shaken and moved constantly to create a sense of excitement, urgency, or crisis. □ We can't afford much in the way of costumes for the sequence, so we will use the shaky-cam and shoot it in dim light. □ They used the shaky-cam so much that I get seasick just watching the ads.

sham Go to cham.

sham(m)us ['ʃeməs] n. a police officer or a detective. (Probably from Yiddish.) □ One thing that a shamus always knows is when another shamus is following him. □ This is it, shammus, say your prayers.

shammy Go to cham.

shampers Go to champers.

shampoo n. champagne. (See also cham; champers; poo.) □ I just love this bub- bly shampoo! □ There is nothing like shampoo to liven up a party!

shank 1. n. a knife. □ The mugger pulled a shank on the victim. □ The cops found the shank in the bushes. 2. in. to dance. □ They were busy shankin' and didn't hear the gunshots. □ We were all shankin' to a great reggae band.

shank it tv. to use one's legs to get somewhere; to walk. □ My car needs fixing so I had to shank it to work today. □ I like to shank it every now and then.

shank's mare n. foot travel. □ You'll find that shank's mare is the quickest way to get across town. □ Is there a bus, or do I have to use shank's mare?

shape up 1. in. to improve; to reform. □ I want to get things shaped up around here. □ I guess I'd better shape up if I want to stay in school. 2. in. to assume a final form or structure. □ The game plan for the election was beginning to shape up. □ Her objectives began to shape up in her senior year.

shape up or ship out in. improve or get out. □ I'll tell you one more time. Shape up or ship out! □ They told me I had to shape up or ship out.

shark 1. n. a swindler; a confidence operator. (Underworld.) □ The sharks were lined up ten deep to get at the blue-eyed new owner of the bowling alley. □ The guy's a shark, and he's after your hard-earned money! 2. n. a lawyer. (Derogatory.) □ Some shark is trying to squeeze a few grand out of me. □ Hire another shark to go after him.

shark repellent n. something that prevents corporate takeovers. (Securities markets.) □ Acme Systems tried again to get its board to approve a shark repellent to keep the Widget cartel from acquiring it. □ The shark repellent wasn't enough.

sharp 1. mod. clever; intelligent. □ She's a real sharp chick! Got lots of savvy. □ She's sharp enough to see right through everything you say. 2. mod. good-looking; well-dressed. □ You really look sharp today. □ That's a sharp set of wheels you got there.

sharpie n. a clever operator; a clever person. □ She's a real sharpie. She'll take you for everything you've got. □ A young sharpie in the first row got the answer right away.

shave tv. to reduce or lessen something. □ They shaved the waiting time to six months. □ The coach thought that the other team was shaving points, so he complained the next day.

shaved mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I feel a tad shaved. □ So what if I'm a bit shaved? I still have all my shenses.

shavetail n. a second lieutenant; a non-commissioned officer in the army; any inexperienced person. (Military. From a nickname for an untrained mule that is marked by a shaved tail.) □ This shavetail here is trying to tell me my job. □ Who's the shavetail dancing with the Colonel's daughter?

Shazzam! [ʃə'zæm] exclam. Wow!; Would you believe? □ And there was my ring—Shazzam!—right on the sidewalk! □ Shazzam! I passed the test!

sheen [ʃin] n. a car. (From machine.) □ You have one fine sheen there. □ I have to get my sheen's oil changed today.

sheepskin n. a high school or college diploma. □ When you get that sheepskin on the wall, you'll feel like it was all worth something. □ Where is your sheepskin from?

Sheesh! [ʃiʃ] exclam. Damn!; Shit! (A euphemism for Shit!) □ Sheesh! What a mess! □ Sheesh! I'm getting out of here!

sheet Go to (rap) sheet.

shekels ['ʃɛklz] n. dollars; money. □ You got a few shekels you can spare? □ These things cost plenty of shekels.

shellack [ʃə'læk] tv. to beat someone; to outscore someone. (See also shellacked; shellacking.) □ We're gonna shellack those bums Friday night. □ We'll be shellacking every team in the league this year.

shellacked 1. mod. beaten; outscored. □ They were shellacked, and they knew it. □ The team got shellacked in last week's game. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated; overcome by booze. □ Ernie was so shellacked he couldn't see. □ How did he get so shellacked? I didn't see him drink anything.

shellacking n. a beating. □ We gave them a shellacking they'll never forget. □ Our team took a real shellacking.

shell an amount of money out Go to shell out (an amount of money).

shell out (an amount of money) AND shell an amount of money out tv. & in. to spend a certain amount of money. □ I'm not going to shell $400 out for that! □ Come on. You owe me. Shell out!

Sherlock 1. n.  (Often sarcastic. Based on the name of fictional detective.) □ Brilliant deduction, Sherlock. I never would have guessed! 2. n. one's pal or buddy. (A play on Holmes or Sherlock Holmes.) □ Come on, Sherlock, let's go! □ What's happening, Sherlock?

shicker ['ʃɪkə] 1. AND schicker; schick-ered ['ʃɪkəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. (From Hebrew shiqor via Yiddish.) □ It took her about ten minutes to get schicker and three days to get sober. □ He's schick-ered, and he's not going anywhere tonight. 2. n. liquor; beer. □ Fill it up with shicker again. □ How do you know when you've had enough shicker? 3. in. to tippie; to become alcohol intoxicated. □ I'm gonna go out and shicker till I'm silly. □ Fred is shickering again this weekend.

shield n. a police officer's badge. □ The fuzz flashed his shield, and I knew the game was over. □ If you're a cop, where's your shield?

shill [ʃɪl] 1. n. someone planted in the crowd to urge others to buy something, participate in something, etc. □ The guy's a shill! Don't fall for this setup! □ There were more shills than suckers on the midway that day. 2. in. to advertise for something; to give a sales pitch for something. □ Four stars of an old television show were there shilling for a major computer firm. □ They pay them a mint to shill like that.

shindig ['ʃɪndɪg] n. a party; a dance. (Folksy.) □ What a fancy shindig! They even have glass glasses! □ What time do we have to be at that shindig Saturday night?

shined mod. alcohol intoxicated, especially by moonshine. □ Tipsy? He's shined from dawn to dusk. □ The old farmer seemed a bit shined.

shiner n. a black eye. □ Wow, look at Marty's shiner! □ I got this shiner by walking into a door.

shine someone tv. to insult someone; to deceive someone. □ Stop shining me. I'm cool, man, ice. □ Bill is always shining Carla.

shit 1. n. dung. (Usually objectionable.) □ Gee! I stepped in some shit! 2. in. to defecate. (Usually objectionable.) □ This dog needs to shit. Take it for a walk. 3. n. any trash or unwanted material; junk; clutter. (Usually objectionable.) □ Clean up this shit and don't let this place get so messy. 4. n. a wretched person; a despised person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You stupid shit! Look what you did! 5. n. one's personal belongings. (See also get one's shit together. Usually objectionable.) □ I gotta get my shit from the kitchen and get outa here. □ Is this your shit? Move it! 6. n. lies; nonsense. (From bullshit. Usually objectionable.) □ All I ever hear out of you is shit. 7. tv. to deceive someone; to lie to someone. □ Stop shittin' me, you bastard! □ You wouldn't shit me, would you? 8. n. drugs, especially heroin or marijuana. (Usually objectionable.) □ You are going to have to get off this shit or you're gonna die. 9. exclam. a general expression of disgust. (Usually Shit! Usually objectionable.) □ Oh, shit! What a mess! □ Shit! That's terrible.

shit a brick tv. to be very upset; to be extremely angry. □ I was so mad, I almost shit a brick! □ Don't shit a brick. Just calm down.

shit-ass 1. n. a disgusting and wretched person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ The guy's a shit-ass. What're you gonna do? 2. mod. pertaining to someone or something disgusting and wretched. (Usually objectionable.) □ He's nothing but a shit-

ass bastard! □ Help me move this shit-ass box of junk.

shit-bag 1. n. an unpleasant or inept person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ I don't want that shit-bag working for me anymore! □ Who is that shit-bag who just fell off the barstool? 2. n. a collection of unpleasant problems or annoyances. (Usually objectionable.) □ You can just take your whole shit-bag and bother somebody else with it. □ This place has been a regular shit-bag of grief this morning.

shitcan 1. n. a toilet; an outhouse. (Usually objectionable.) □ I gotta spend some time on the shitcan. 2. a trash can. (Military. Usually objectionable.) □ Just throw all this stuff in the shitcan. 3. tv. to throw something in the garbage can. (Usually objectionable.) □ Shitcan this thing, will you? □ Who shitcanned my dirty socks?

shit-faced AND shitty mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Usually objectionable. See also pooped; SF.) □ I'm shit-faced, and I know it. □ Move over. You're too shitty to drive.

Shit happens. interj. Bad things just happen. (Usually objectionable.) □ Tough luck, but shit happens. □ Shit happens. There's nothing that can be done about it.

shithead n. a stupid and obnoxious person, usually a male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You stupid shithead! Get out of my life! □ Who needs a shithead like him around?

shit-hooks Go to cunt-hooks.

shit-house n. an outdoor toilet; an outhouse. (Usually objectionable.) □ There is a hornet's nest in the shit-house. □ Some boys tipped over the shit-house, and I've got no place to go.

shit-list AND crap-list n. a list of people who are as worthless as dung; a list of problem people. (The phrase with crap is milder. Usually objectionable.) □ From now on you are on my shit-list! □ Trouble with Tom is that everybody he knows is on his crap-list.

shitload Go to buttload.

shit on a shingle n. creamed chipped beef on toast. (See also creamed foreskins.)

Military. Usually objectionable.) □ Oh, no, it's shit on a shingle again tonight. □ This shit on a shingle tastes like what it is.

shit on someone 1. in. to defecate on someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ That damn cat shit on me! □ Watch out! That cow almost shit on you! 2. in. to treat someone very badly. (Usually objectionable.) □ The prof shit on the whole class by assigning a paper due Monday morning. □ The Internal Revenue Service really shit on me this year.

Shit or get off the pot! in. Do something or go away!; Do something or give someone else a chance!; Hurry up! (Usually objectionable.) □ Hurry up with it, Fred! Shit or get off the pot! □ Shit or get off the pot! Make up your mind.

the shits n. diarrhea. (Usually objectionable.) □ I can't eat that stuff. It always gives me the shits.

shitsky ['ʃɪtski] 1. n. dung. (Usually objectionable.) □ There's some shitsky on your shoe. □ Some rude dog has left a little pile of grade-A shitsky on the sidewalk. 2. n. a despicable person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ The stupid shitsky is back on skag again. □ With a shitsky like that on your side, who needs enemies?

shitstick 1. n. a wretched and undesirable person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Why are you such a shitstick all the time? □ Is that little shitstick giving you trouble, Doreen? 2. n. a rod of dung. (Usually objectionable.) □ How would you like a shitstick in your lap? □ Who left the shitsticks floating in the john?

shitty 1. mod. covered or soiled with dung. (Usually objectionable.) □ I got my shoes all shitty. □ Get that shitty shovel out of the garage and clean it. 2. mod. lousy; rotten. (Usually objectionable.) □ This has been a real shitty trip for me. □ I'm tired of being treated like I'm some sort of shitty bum. 3. Go to shit-faced.

shitty end of the stick n. the bad side of a bargain; the troublesome part of a transaction. (Usually objectionable.) □ If you don't want to get stuck with the shitty end of the stick, you'd better make your plans carefully. □ Well, it looks like I got stuck with the shitty end of the stick again.

shiv AND chiv [ʃɪv] 1. n. a knife. (Underworld.) □ Swiftly and silently his shiv found its way up under Rocko's ribs. All for a silly dame. □ I could tell from the way his cuff broke that there was a chiv strapped to his leg. 2. tv. to stab someone. (Underworld.) □ He shivved Rocko, and Rocko deserved it. □ The boss told Ziggy to get Rocko one way or the other—shiv him, burn him, clobber him—but get him.

shlemiel Go to schlemiel.

shlep Go to schlep.

shlepper Go to schlepper.

shlimazl Go to schlemazel.

shlump Go to schloomp.

shmaltz Go to schmaltz.

shmaltzy Go to schmaltzy.

shmen [ʃmɛn] n. freshmen. □ A couple of shmen wandered by—looking sort of lost. □ The shmen are having a party all to themselves this Friday.

shmendrick Go to schmendrick.

shmo Go to schmo.

shmoe Go to schmo.

shmooze Go to schmooze.

shnazz Go to snazz.

shnazzy Go to snazzy.

shnocked Go to schnocked.

shnook Go to schnook.

shnozz Go to schnozz.

shocker n. something shocking. □ Now, here's a shocker for you. □ Her news was quite a shocker.

shocks n. shock absorbers in an automobile. □ That hog Cadillac needs new shocks. □ How much is a set of shocks for a buggy like this?

shoe polish n. liquor; whiskey; inferior whiskey. □ Why don't you give that cruddy shoe polish to the cat? □ The old lush would be delighted to get some of your shoe polish.

shoestring mod. low-cost; cheap. (See also on a shoestring.) □ This is just a shoestring operation. There is no capital involved. □ We have nothing but a shoestring budget this year.

shoo-in ['fuɪn] n. an easy winner. □ She's a shoo-in. Nobody can touch her. □ My horse was a shoo-in. It won by a mile.

shook up Go to (all) shook up.

shoot 1. AND shoot up tv. & in. to inject drugs, especially heroin. (Drugs.) □ He actually had to leave the meeting to shoot. □ The two of them were shooting up skag. 2. n. an injection of heroin. (Drugs. Usually shoot-up.) □ The way Ernie was yawning, I knew he needed a shoot-up. □ "Just one more shot. That's all. Then, never again!" moaned Ernie, rather unconvincingly. 3. tv. to spike a drink with liquor. □ I'm gonna shoot the punch with rum. □ Harry shot his date's coke with vodka. 4. in. to begin to tell [something]. □ We're ready. Go ahead. Shoot! □ Okay, shoot. I'm all ears. 5. Go to Shoot!

Shoot! exclam. Darn! (An exclamation or a very mild curse.) □ Oh, shoot! I left my shades in the car. □ Shoot! I'm late!

shoot 'em up 1. n. a Western action movie. □ I like a good shoot 'em up every now and then. □ Most films are more sophisticated nowadays than the old shoot 'em ups. 2. mod. having to do with a Western action film. □ He was a shoot 'em up star in the thirties. □ I like the good old shoot 'em up movies.

shoot for the sky Go to aim for the sky.

shoot from the hip in. to speak quickly and without thinking. (See also hip-shooter.) □ She has a tendency to shoot from the hip, but that's not really a problem. □ I shot from the hip when I spoke. I'm sorry.

shooting iron n. a pistol. (Cowboy and folksy.) □ Millard "Shorty" Wilson always carried his shooting iron with him, except for one fateful day back in '92—1892, that is. □ He pulled out his shooting iron and got down to cleaning it.

shoot one's breakfast Go to shoot one's cookies.

shoot one's cookies AND shoot one's breakfast; shoot one's supper tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ I think I'm gonna shoot my cookies. □ I shot my supper, and I was glad to get rid of it.

shoot oneself in the foot tv. to cause oneself difficulty; to be the author of one's own doom. □ I am a master at shooting myself in the foot. □ Again, he shot himself in the foot with his open and honest dealings with the press.

shoot one's mouth off tv. to brag; to tell secrets. □ Stop shooting your mouth off. Nobody believes you anymore. □ So you had to go and shoot off your mouth about the bankruptcy proceedings!

shoot one's supper Go to shoot one's cookies.

shoot one's wad tv. to spend or use everything. □ I shot my wad on junk food. □ I can't afford a cab. I shot my wad at the restaurant.

shoot-out 1. n. a gunfight. □ There was a big shoot-out at the end of the movie. □ In this shoot-out, there were no survivors—not even a horse! 2. n. an argument. □ When the shoot-out was over, the boss—confident she had won—went back into her office. □ A big public shoot-out like that sours morale a lot.

shoot someone down in flames tv. to ruin someone; to bring about someone's downfall. (See also go down in flames.) □ It was a bad idea, okay, but you didn't have to shoot me down in flames. □ I didn't mean to shoot you down in flames.

shoot someone or something down tv. to ruin someone or something; to debunk someone or something. (See also shot down.) □ Just as I was making the final point, she shot me down with a simple fact I should have remembered. □ The boss shot down my plan immediately.

shoot the breeze tv. to chat casually and without purpose. □ We spent the entire afternoon just shooting the breeze. □ It was good to shoot the breeze with you, Mary.

shoot the bull AND shoot the crap; shoot the shit tv. to chat and gossip. (The same as throw the bull. Use caution with crap; shit.) □ Let's get together sometime and shoot the bull. □ You spend too much time shooting the crap.

shoot the cat tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ I must have shot the cat a dozen times during the night. □ Shooting the cat is no fun when you're weak and dizzy.

shoot the crap Go to shoot the bull.

shoot the dozens Go to play the dozens.

shoot the shit Go to shoot the bull.

shoot the works 1. tv. to do everything; to use everything; to bet all one's money. □ Okay, let's go out to dinner and shoot the works. □ Don't shoot the works! Save some for a cab. 2. tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ Suddenly she turned sort of green, and I knew she was going to shoot the works. □ After she shot the works, she looked fine—but I was sort of pale.

shoot up Go to shoot.

shoot up (on something) 1. in. to inject (a drug). (Drugs. See also shoot.) □ About that time we both began shooting up on skag. □ He couldn't wait to get home and shoot up. 2. n. an injection of narcotics. (Drugs. Usually shoot-up.) □ Barlowe watched the dame do a shoot-up on H. and settle down so they could talk. □ A quick shoot-up was all she needed.

shopping list n. a list of things, especially questions or things one wants. (See also laundry list.) □ I have a shopping list of absolute musts. □ He showed up for the interview with a shopping list so long that it took two pages.

short 1. n. a small drink of hard liquor or of beer. □ One short, bartender. □ I'll have a short and a pack of cigarettes. 2. mod. having to do with a single drink of undiluted liquor. □ I'll take mine short, innkeeper. □ Who ordered a short one? 3. n. a purchase of drugs that counts or weighs out less than the amount agreed upon. □ You gave me a short. Fix it now, or this thing goes off accidentally in your ear. 4. tv. to give someone less of something than was agreed upon. □ You shorted me! □ They shorted us on the last order, so we switched suppliers. 5. n. a car. (Streets.) □ Man, that's some short you got! □ Max gets his money cracking shorts. 6. n. the sale of borrowed shares of stock; a short sale. (Securities markets.) □ I think that IBM is a good short in here. The high-tech companies are in for a pullback. □ There is a lot of covering of shorts this week. After that the market is in for a steady decline. 7. tv. to sell borrowed stock. (Securities markets.) □ I wouldn't short IBM. It's a long-term hold. □ The way the deficit is running, I'd short the whole market.

the short end of the stick n. the burden, responsibility, blame, etc., for something. □ Here I am stuck with the short end of the stick again. □ I am the one who plans all this stuff, and when you jerks drop the ball, I'm left holding the short end of the stick.

short fuse n. a quick temper. □ Fred's got a short fuse. Watch out. □ I knew she'd blow. She's got a short fuse.

short one n. a small or quickly drunk drink of liquor, including beer. (Compare this with tall one.) □ How about a short one, innkeeper? □ Give my friend here a short one.

the shorts AND case of the shorts n. the lack of money. □ Here I am with a case of the shorts again. □ The shorts always come around at the end of the month.

short-snort n. a quick drink of whisky from a bottle, flask, or jug. □ He grabbed a short-snort and went back to his carving. □ Jed offered the visitor a short-snort from a jar of shine.

shot 1. n. a try at something. □ Go ahead. Give it another shot. □ Have a shot at this problem. 2. mod. exhausted; ruined. □ I really feel shot today. □ Here's your pen back. It's shot anyway. □ This thing is shot. Let's get a new one. 3. n. a rocket launching. □ The shot was canceled because of the weather. □ This shot, like the last, was a total failure. 4. n. a small or quickly drunk drink of liquor, usually whiskey. □ Here, have a shot of this stuff. □ He stopped at every bar on the strip for a quick shot. 5. n. an injection of drugs. □ Just one shot of that stuff and you're hooked for life. □ A shot of skag put the poor guy straight for a while. 6. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ They are a little noisy, I guess, but after all they are shot, you know, plastered. □ I am half shot now. I'll quit before I'm shot.

shot-away Go to shot-up.

shot down 1. mod. demolished; destroyed. □ Her idea was shot down after all her work. □ I felt shot down, even though I was sure of what I was getting into. 2. mod. rejected by a young woman. □ Tiffany is a cruel chick. I was shot down from day one. □ Fred's shot down, thanks to his best girl. He'll get over it.

shotgun 1. mod. broad; general. □ It was a shotgun attempt to include everyone. □ A shotgun approach to a problem like this is useless. You must get specific. 2. exclam.  (Usually Shotgun!) □ "Shotgun!" cried Jimmy, heading for the car. □ Whoever yelled "shotgun" has to sit holding the cake all the way.

shotgun wedding n. a forced wedding, presumably because the bride is pregnant. □ It was a shotgun wedding, but they sure are in love. □ I thought shotgun weddings went out with feuds and things like that.

shot in the arm 1. n. a drink of liquor. □ I could use a little shot in the arm. □ How about a little shot in the arm, bartender? 2. n. an injection of narcotics. (The same as bang in the arm.) □ You might say that I really needed this shot in the arm. □ It's nothing. Just a little shot in the arm. 3. n. a boost or act of encouragement. □ The pep talk was a real shot in the arm for all the guys. □ The good test grade was a shot in the arm for Gary.

shot in the dark n. a very general attempt; a wild guess. □ It was just a shot in the dark. I had no idea I was exactly correct. □ Come on, try it. Even a shot in the dark may win.

shot in the neck 1. n. a drink of straight whiskey. □ Wally took a little shot in the neck before heading out into the cold. □ A shot in the neck was just what was needed. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He's shot in the neck, but he's not bleeding. □ What's wrong with Harry is that he's shot in the neck every day by supper.

shot to hell mod. ruined; decimated. (An elaboration of shot.) □ This thing is shot to hell. Let's get a new one. □ My car is shot to hell.

shot to the curb mod. without money or a place to live; living in the gutter; down and out. □ I'm totally out of bills, man. Shot to the curb.

shot-up 1. AND shot-away mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Well, you see, he's shot-up and can't come to the phone. □ How can anybody get so shot-away in so little time? 2. mod. severely injured by gunshots. □ Tom got himself shot-up in a hunting accident. □ He was pretty badly shot-up in the police action.

shouldn't happen to a dog in. describes something that is so bad that no creature deserves it. □ Poor guy. That shouldn't happen to a dog. □ This cold I got shouldn't happen to a dog.

shout n. an exclamation point. (See also screamer; shriek.) □ Put a shout at the end of the line. Make this dull story more sexy. □ This gal uses shouts like they were salt and pepper.

shove tv. to pass counterfeit money. (Underworld.) □ She got sent up for three years for shoving funny-money. □ He got away with shoving the stuff for months before they got onto him.

shove off Go to push off.

show and tell n. a session where objects are presented and described. (Essentially a kindergarten or grade school activity.) □ It was a short lecture with lots of show and tell. □ I can't take another show and tell session.

show biz n. show business. □ Well, that's show biz for you. □ Anybody who can make a living in show biz has to be clever and talented.

shower scum n. a despised person; despised people. (See also bathtub scum; pond scum.) □ Who is the shower scum who put a cigarette butt in my houseplant? □ I wish the shower scum of the neighborhood wouldn't throw trash in my yard.

shpleef Go to spliff.

shredded mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Collegiate.) □ We are all too shredded to drive home. What shall we do? □ I believe that each of us is shredded enough to fly home. Let's vote on that.

shriek n. an exclamation point. (Printers. See also screamer; shout.) □ Where is there a shriek at the end? □ Take off that shriek. You use too many of those things.

shrimp n. a small person. □ Who's the little shrimp over by the door? □ I'm such a shrimp. I just have short genes.

shrink n. a psychoanalyst or psychotherapist. □ I dropped a bundle on a shrink, but it didn't help me. □ The shrink says I have to take these pills to help me get off the drug habit.

shroom [frum] in. to take or eat peyote cactus. (Drugs.) □ They spent all afternoon shrooming. □ You shroom too much.

shrooms [frumz] 1. n. the tips of the peyote cactus that contain mescaline. (Drugs. From mushrooms. Not really a mushroom.) □ I got some shrooms. Ya wanna come over? 2. n. mushrooms. □ Do you want shrooms on your pizza?

shtik Go to schtick.

shtoonk Go to schtoonk.

shuck [ʃək] 1. n. an insincere person. □ The guy's a shuck. Don't believe a thing he says! □ Who needs a shuck for a legislator? 2. tv. & in. to kid someone; to tease someone. □ Cool it! I'm just shucking. □ Stop shucking me! 3. tv. to swindle someone; to deceive someone. □ The con man shucked a number of people in the town before moving on. □ He was going to shuck the mayor, but people were beginning to talk, so he blew town. 4. n. a hoax. □ What a stupid shuck! □ How could you fall for that old shuck? 5. AND shuck down tv. & in. to undress oneself; to remove one's clothing. □ He shucked himself quickly and jumped into bed. □ He shucked down and showered and was at work in twenty minutes.

shuck down Go to shuck.

Shucks! Go to (Aw) shucks!

shuffler n. a drunkard; a tippler. □ The tavern was full of aged shufflers hoping for a handout. □ Some shuffler barfed in the shrubbery.

shush (up) in. to be quiet. □ Shush! I want to hear the weather. □ Shush up and listen to the lecture.

shut-eye n. sleep. □ It's about time to get some shut-eye. □ I could use about another hour of shut-eye.

shutout 1. n. a game where one team prevents the other from scoring any points at all. □ He was still reveling from last week's shutout. □ It was another shutout at Alum Field House last night. 2. mod. having to do with a game where one team has no score. □ Another shutout game gave the fans nothing to cheer about this afternoon. □ I was hoping for a shutout contest, and I got one.

shutters n. the eyelids. □ Her shutters dropped slowly, and she was asleep. □ She blinked those yummy shutters over those bedroom eyes, and my knees turned to mush.

shut up in. to be quiet. □ Shut up and listen! □ Shut up yourself.

Shut your face! AND Shut your mouth!; Shut your trap! exclam. Shut up!; Be quiet! □ Oh, shut your face. I've heard enough. □ Can't you shut your trap, you motor-mouth?

Shut your mouth! Go to Shut your face!

Shut your trap! Go to Shut your face!

shwench [ʃˈmɛntʃ] n. a female freshman. (Collegiate.) □ A couple of giggling shwenches showed up to cheer on the team. □ There's a shwench in my English class who knows more than the prof.

shyster [ˈʃaɪstə] n. an unethical or unscrupulous lawyer. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Look, you cheap shyster, I paid you to help me, not ruin me! □ My ex-wife's shyster called again today to say she wants more money.

Siberian express n. an enormous mass of very cold air moving from Siberia, across the North Pole, and down onto North America. □ The country braced itself for a return Friday of the Siberian express with temperatures dropping to twenty below in many areas. □ The Siberian express seems to be aimed right at our state.

sicks n. nausea; vomiting. □ Oh man, I got the sicks. □ He's at home with the sicks.

sick to death (of someone or something) mod. totally disgusted with someone or something. □ I am sick to death of your constant bickering. □ This whole bribery business just has me sick to death.

sick (up) in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ I think I'm going to sick up. Isn't there supposed to be a barf bag in one of these seat pockets? □ He's got to sick, and there's no air sickness bag. Help!

sicky n. someone who seems mentally deranged. □ The dame's a sicky. Watch out for yourself. □ Some sicky drew these obscene pictures on the wall.

sid Go to cid.

side n. a side of a record. □ Let's cruise over to Sam's pad and hear some sides. □ Now here's a side you may remember.

sidewalk superintendent 1. n. someone who—out of curiosity—watches excavations being dug and buildings being built. □ All day, the lines of sidewalk superintendents oozed by. □ I don't want any advice from a sidewalk superintendent. 2. n. any critic. □ If another sidewalk superintendent comes in here and tries to tell me how to manage this office, heads will roll.

□ I hate to be a sidewalk superintendent, but this plan is all wrong.

sidewalk surfing n. skateboarding. □ Bill spent a lot of time sidewalk surfing until the town passed an ordinance against it. □ The little kids started the summer sidewalk surfing, but gave it up after a few weeks.

sidewinder n. a sneaky and despicable man. (Western jargon. From the name of the sidewinder rattlesnake.) □ You dirty, lowdown sidewinder! That's too much! □ What sidewinder spilled my drink?

sidney n. the hallucinogenic drug LSD. (Drugs. Also capitalized. See also cid.) □ Is Sidney working tonight? □ Sidney and I have a little business trip planned.

sieg-heil someone [ˈsɪgˈhaɪl] tv. to show homage to someone; to salute and obey someone. (From German. Use caution with this reminder of Nazi Germany.) □ The guy expects all his underlings to sieg-heil him and worship the ground he walks on. □ I won't sieg-heil her. She'll have to earn my respect.

signify 1. in. to cause trouble for fun; to stir things up. (Black.) □ Why's that dude signifying over there? □ What are all these cats signifying about anyway? 2. in. to try to look more important than one really is; to brag; to strut one's stuff. (Black.) □ See that dude signify like somebody important? □ First you gotta learn to signify.

silk n. a Caucasian. (Black.) □ Some silk was over here, looking around sort of suspicious. □ He told his mama that if she doesn't treat him better, he's gonna bring some silk home for dinner and let her see what the neighbors think.

silked to the bone Go to laid to the bone.

silks n. clothing. □ Look at the silks on that dude! □ I gotta get some new silks before spring.

silky mod. smooth; unctuous. □ Beware of anybody that silky. □ What a silky character. He could talk his way into the heart of some unsuspecting chick.

silo drippings n. alcohol allegedly obtained at the base of a silo containing fermenting corn. □ You actually drink this stuff?

This is silo drippings. □ The old-timer called his moonshine “silo drippings.”

silver n. money. □ What kind of silver is that going to take? □ I have some silver stashed at home if you need it.

silver bullet AND magic bullet n. a specific, fail-safe solution to a problem. (From the notion that a bullet made of silver is required to shoot a werewolf.) □ I’m not suggesting that the committee has provided us with a silver bullet, only that their advice was timely and useful. □ Okay, I’ve got the silver bullet you need for this. Your vote on the pork storage units for my district would be greatly appreciated, of course.

silver goose n. a proctoscope. (Medical. See also goose.) □ The patient seems to have a real phobia about the silver goose. □ When the nurse brought in the silver goose, the patient nearly fainted.

simmer (down) 1. in. to reduce one’s anger. □ Now, now! Just simmer! Cool it! □ Simmer down, you guys. 2. in. to get quiet. □ I waited till things began to simmer down, and then I started. □ Hey, simmer down to a dull roar!

simoleon [sɪˈmoliən] n. a dollar. (Underworld.) □ How many simoleons is this going to cost me? □ For only one simoleon, you get a ticket to the greatest show on earth.

Simon Legree [ˈsaɪmən ləˈɡri] n. a very hard taskmaster; a hard boss. (From the name of the slave driver in Uncle Tom’s Cabin.) □ She’s a regular Simon Legree. □ Ask Simon Legree if I will be able to stop work and go home for breakfast now.

simp n. a simpleton. □ You are such a simp! □ Why did some simp feel it necessary to do this?

sin n. synthetic marijuana. (Drugs. From synthetic.) □ Most of this stuff the kids put down good money for is not sin, but angel dust. □ Bart was caught up in the quest for sin.

sin-bin n. a van fitted with bedding as a place for necking and lovemaking. □ Wally said he was saving his money to buy a sin-bin so he could have more fun on dates. □ Some rusty old sin-bin was parked in front of the house when I got there.

sing in. to inform (on someone). (Underworld.) □ Rocko knew the stoolie would sing. He had to do something to stop her. □ Ziggy would never sing. He’s a champ.

singed Go to scorched.

single 1. n. one dollar; a dollar bill. □ I don’t have enough singles in the register to get me through the morning. □ I got a couple of singles I can lend you. 2. n. an unmarried person. (Usually plural.) □ I’m holding a little party for singles. □ Todd’s a single—just recently.

sink tv. to swallow some food or drink. □ Here, sink a bite of this stuff. □ Larry stopped at a tavern to sink a short one.

sinker n. a doughnut. □ This sinker must be four days old. □ All our sinkers are brought in fresh on Monday.

sink one’s teeth into something Go to get one’s teeth into something.

sinse AND sense (bud) [sɪnts AND ˈsents (bəd)] n. seedless marijuana. (Drugs. From Spanish sinsemilla, “seedless.”) □ Where’s the sinse I was saving? □ Sense bud is all that Tiffany will touch.

sip 1. n. a puff of a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ How about a sip of your joint? □ He took a big sip and held it so long he almost turned blue. 2. tv. & in. to take a puff of a marijuana cigarette. □ He sipped a big one, stopped a minute, then spoke. □ The alley was populated by a bunch of teeny-boppers sipping away the afternoon.

sipster n. a tippler; a drunkard. □ The old lady is a sipster who says she drinks a little wine to help her arthritis. □ Most sipsters have a really fine excuse like that.

sis [sɪs] n. sister. (Also a term of address and a common pet name for one’s sister.) □ Come on, sis. We’re going to be late. □ Well, sis, good luck.

sissified ['sɪsɪfaɪd] mod. effeminate; sissy-style. □ Don't act so sissified. □ I'm not comfortable in a sissified place like that.

sister 1. n. a (female) friend. (Originally underworld. Sometimes a term of address.) □ Hi, sister! How ya doing? □ Come here, sister. I gotta have a word with you. 2. n. a fellow sorority member. □ One of my sisters let me borrow her car. □ The junior sisters are putting on a skit. 3. n. a fellow feminist. □ We can do this thing, sisters, we can do it! □ The sisters will be discussing it at tonight's meeting. 4. Go to (soul) sister.

sitcom ['sɪtkəm] n. a situation comedy as found on television. (See also kid-vid.) □ These sitcoms are made for juvenile minds. □ Sitcoms can be fun.

sitting duck n. someone who waits unsuspectingly for doom or destiny; an easy target for something bad. □ Get out of the way! You're a sitting duck. □ The guy was a sitting duck for a mugging.

sitting pretty mod. doing very nicely; in a very pleasant and secure position. □ If I get the job, I'll be sitting pretty for a long time. □ She married a millionaire, and now she's sitting pretty.

six-bits n. seventy-five cents. (A bit is equal to twelve and one-half U.S. cents.) □ You got six-bits I can borrow? □ Just try one of these things. It's only six-bits.

sixer n. a six-pack beverage container. (Usually refers to beer.) □ Tom showed up with three sixers and a bushel of pretzels, and we all watched the game together. □ Please stop by the store and pick up a sixer.

six feet under mod. dead and buried. □ Fred died and is six feet under. □ They put him six feet under two days after he died.

six-pack 1. in. to while away a specified period of time drinking a six-pack of beer. (See also Joe Six-pack.) □ He sat in front of the television and six-packed the entire afternoon. □ He's in the back—six-packing, as usual. 2. n. a well-muscle abdomen. □ Tom's gut is a real six-pack. He must work out every day. □ What do you do with a six-pack like that? Walk around with your shirt open?

the sixty-four-dollar question n. the most important question; the question that everyone wants to know the answer to. □ When? Now, that is the sixty-four-dollar question. □ Now for the sixty-four-dollar question. What's the stock market going to do this year?

sixty-nine n. an act of mutual oral sex. (Based on the interlocking numerals in 69. Usually objectionable.) □ The old lady caught them in the bushes doing a sixty-nine. □ He prefers 69. She prefers booze.

sizzled mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also fried.) □ I'd like to go out tonight and get sizzled—maybe that would help me forget Tiffany. □ Harold got himself sizzled and couldn't drive to the dance.

sizzler n. a very hot day. □ Today will be another sizzler. A low pressure center over Alabama is pumping hot and humid air into the area. □ What a sizzler! I'm sweating like a horse.

skag AND scag [skæg] 1. n. a rotten thing or person. □ Don't be such a skag. Who do you think you are? □ Gary has become more of a scag than I can stand. 2. n. a very ugly woman. (Collegiate.) □ What a skag! I wouldn't be seen with her. □ She looks like a scag without makeup. 3. n. a tobacco cigarette; a tobacco cigarette butt. (Military.) □ Can I bum a scag off you? □ Here, have a scag on me. 4. in. to smoke (a tobacco cigarette). □ He stopped scagging for about a week. □ I'll scag till I die. 5. n. heroin, especially poor quality heroin; any powerful drug. (Drugs.) □ Just lay off the skag—if you can. □ Scag has sent a lot of my friends to the bone orchard. 6. n. hard liquor. □ No beer for me. Tonight it's scag. □ The two of them put away a quart of my finest skag.

skagged out mod. drug intoxicated; very high. (Drugs. See also skag.) □ Bart was rocking back and forth on the top step—skagged out, as usual. □ He got to the point where being skagged out was more important than eating.

skag jones AND scag jones n. an addiction to heroin. (Drugs. Here jones is a “thing.”) □ It’s the scag jones that’s got her down. □ She has a serious skag jones.

skank AND scank [skæŋk] 1. n. an ugly (young) woman. (Collegiate.) □ What a skank she is! Give her a comb or something. □ Look at her! Is she a skank or what? 2. in. to appear ugly. □ My face is skanking like mad. Must be the zits. □ Both sisters skank. Must be hereditary.

skanky ['skæŋki] mod. ugly; repellent, usually said of a woman. (Collegiate.) □ She is so skanky! That grody hairdo doesn’t help either. □ What’s wrong with being a little skanky? It’s what you can do with your brain that counts. □ She’s skanky, nonetheless.

skanless AND scanless mod. scandalous. (Eye-dialect.) □ Who did that? That skanless! Just skanless.

skat [skæt] n. beer. □ How about some skat, chum? □ You got any pretzels to go with the skat?

skate 1. n. a drinking bout. □ He’s off on another three-day skate. □ Jerry hopes that this will be his last skate. He wants to dry out for good. 2. n. a drunkard; a person on a drinking spree. □ Jerry’s a skate and he knows it. □ A couple of skates celebrating the new year ran into my car. 3. n. something really easy. □ The test was a skate! □ Don’t sweat the game. It’ll be a skate. 4. in. to get drunk. □ Jerry’s skating again. It’s his whole life. □ Let’s go out and skate, okay?

skating mod. drug intoxicated. □ He’s high all right—I’d say he’s skating. □ He took some wicked pills and is totally skating.

skedaddle [skə'dædl] in. to get out; to leave in a hurry. (Folksy.) □ Go on, skedaddle! Out! □ Well, I’d better skedaddle on home.

skeet n. a blob of nasal mucus. (Collegiate. See also skeet-shooting.) □ God, Fred, there’s a gross skeet hanging outa your nose! □ That wasn’t stew; that was skeets!

skeeter ['skidə] n. a mosquito. (Folksy.) □ A skeeter bit me on the arm. □ There are a lot of skeeters out tonight.

skeet-shooting n. the act of blowing one’s nose by pinching one nostril and using no tissue or handkerchief. (See also skeet.) □ There is nothing more disgusting than a bunch of college boys belching and skeet-shooting.

skeevy ['skivi] mod. sleazy and disgusting. □ This is a skeevy joint. Let’s get out. □ Your coat looks so skeevy. Is it old?

skeez ['skizə] n. a weird person; a geek. (Also a term of address.) □ Dave is a nice guy, but sort of a skeezer. □ Hey, skeezer, get out of the way!

skid-lid n. a motorcycle helmet. □ The law has no business telling me I gotta wear a skid-lid. □ Don’t you use a skid-lid?

skid marks n. unclear, brownish marks on one’s underpants. □ Just looking at him, you know he’s the type who has skid marks and enjoys popping zits. □ There is hardly anything a genteel person can say about skid marks that is acceptable in public.

skid row n. the name for a place populated with ruined alcoholics and other down-and-out people. □ I don’t want to end up on skid row. How can I get rid of this monkey? □ Just because they’re on skid row, it doesn’t mean they’re beyond help.

skid row bum n. a down-and-out person; a low alcoholic beggar. □ Do you want to end up a skid row bum? □ Even a skid row bum has some pride.

skillion ['skiljən] n. an imaginary enormous number. □ I have a skillion reasons why I won’t marry you. □ About a skillion people are running in the marathon.

skin 1. n. a dollar bill. □ This ticket cost me a couple of skins—and it’s not worth it. □ You got a skin for the tollbooth? 2. AND skinhead n. someone with a shaved or bald head. (Some such persons may also engage in political violence.) □ Who’s the skin with the earrings? □ That skinhead looks stoned. 3. tv. to cheat or overcharge someone. □ The guy who sold me this car really skinned me. □ We skinned him on that stock deal.

skin a goat tv. to empty one’s stomach; to vomit. □ Ralph went out to skin a goat.

□ Was my cooking so bad that everybody had to skin a goat?

skin flick n. a movie featuring nudity. (See also nudie.) □ We took in a skin flick when we were in the city. □ Max likes skin flicks better than real girls.

skinful n. an intoxicating quantity of liquor; enough liquor. (See also have a skinful.) □ He's got a skinful and can't drive. □ She knows enough to stop drinking before she gets a skinful.

skin game n. any swindle. (Underworld.) □ Ziggy was mixed up in a skin game for a while. □ The con running the skin game got out of town.

skinhead Go to skin.

Skin me! exclam. Give me some skin!; Shake my hand! (Originally black.) □ Hey, man, skin me! □ Hey, old buddy. Don't walk on! Skin me!

skinny Go to (hot) skinny.

skinny dip 1. in. to swim in the nude. □ We used to go skinny dipping when I was a kid. □ There was an old creek on the farm where we used to skinny dip. 2. n. a swim in the nude. □ A nice skinny dip in a quiet glade takes you back to nature. □ Randy, who fears fish, didn't take a skinny dip with the others.

skins n. drums. (Musicians. The same as hides.) □ Andy can really make the skins talk. □ Buddy could beat those skins like nobody's business.

skin-search n. a search of the naked body by legal authorities. (See also strip-search.) □ These clowns were actually doing skin-searches on traffic offenders! □ Aren't there laws against frivolous skin-searches?

Skip it! exclam. Forget it!; Never mind! □ I won't bother you with my question again. Skip it! □ Oh, skip it! It doesn't matter.

skip (out) in. to leave; to run away without doing something, such as paying a bill. □ The guy skipped when I wasn't looking. □ Fred skipped out, leaving me with the bill.

skirt n. a woman. □ Some skirt comes up to me and asks where the police station is. □ Who's the skirt I saw you with last night?

skivvies ['skɪvɪz] n. underpants; underwear. □ He stood there chattering in his skivvies waiting for additional indignities. □ I don't have any clean skivvies!

sko AND sgo ['sko AND 'sgo] in. Let's go. (Now considered current slang even though it has been informal colloquial for decades.) □ Sko. We're going to be late. □ It's time to hit the road. Sgo.

skosh mod. a bit more. □ I need a skosh more room. □ Move down a skosh so I can sit down.

skrag [skræg] tv. to murder someone. (Underworld.) □ These thugs tried to skrag me, I swear. □ Barlowe wanted to skrag him right then and there.

skrilla AND skrill n. money. □ I'm totally outa skrilla, man. Shot to the curb.

skrungy ['skrændʒi] mod. disgusting. □ What is this skrungy stuff they are serving here? □ That movie was too skrungy for me.

skull-buster AND skull-popper 1. n. a difficult course in school or college. □ The course was a skull-buster, and I had to drop it. □ All the courses in that department are skull-busters. 2. n. a police officer. □ Two skull-busters came up and started asking questions. □ Watch out for the skull-buster over there.

skullduggery ['skəl'dəgəri] n. deceitful doings; dirty work. □ It took a lot of skullduggery to bring it off, but that was no problem for Janice. □ Without skullduggery, politics wouldn't be interesting.

skulled mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ He's too skulled to drive. □ He had got himself skulled in less than twenty minutes.

skull-popper Go to skull-buster.

skunk 1. n. a mean and hateful person. (See also polecats; stinker.) □ What a skunk! □ Must you be such a skunk in front of my friends? 2. tv. to outwit someone. □ I skunked them. They'll never find me. □ That fish skunked me. I thought I caught him for sure this time.

skunk-drunk mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He was skunk-drunk and didn't want to be bothered. □ Some skunk-drunk character came in and started talking big.

skunked 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ *Kelly got skunked on suds—very unusual for him. □ He was so skunked he couldn't find his house. 2. mod. outwitted; outscored; defeated. □ *The home team skunked the visitors for the third year in a row. □ I was skunked on this year's fishing trip. Not even a bite.

skurf [skɜːf] in. to skateboard. (From the words skate and surf.) □ He skurfed from city hall to the post office. □ My mom won't let me skurf anymore.

sky in. to travel (to somewhere) in an airplane. □ I decided to sky down to Orlando for the weekend. □ Let's sky to New York and then go on to London.

sky hook n. an imaginary tool. □ I can't get this thing outa here without a sky hook. □ Go get me a sky hook, would ya?

sky-pilot n. a chaplain. □ The sky-pilot says we can park in the church's lot, if we don't mess anything up or make too much noise. □ The sky-pilot's a good guy.

sky rug n. a toupee; a man's wig. □ I think he is wearing a sky rug. □ He looks better in his sky rug, but that's not necessarily good.

the sky's the limit phr. there is no upper limit. □ I can afford it. The sky's the limit. □ You can do anything you set your mind to, Billy. The sky's the limit.

slacker n. someone who is lazy or who never completes a task or who fails at a task. (Standard English, but currently used as if it were recently invented.) □ Micky is a slacker and a real jerk. □ Don't be such a big-ass slacker!

slackmaster n. someone who slacks off a lot; someone who doesn't work hard enough or at all. □ He never does his share. Nothing but a slackmaster!

slam 1. tv. to criticize someone or something. □ *Please don't slam my car. It's the best I can do. □ The secretary was slamming the boss in one room, and the boss was slamming the secretary in another. 2. n. a criticism. □ *Harry took another slam at the sales record the sales force had produced for the meeting. □ I don't want to hear another nasty and hateful slam at my sister. Is that clear? 3. tv. to drink something quickly. □ *Bart slammed a couple of beers and left. □ Don't slam your coffee. You'll burn yourself.

slam a beer Go to pound a beer.

slam-bang mod. wild; exciting. □ It was a slam-bang weekend, and I loved every minute of it. □ Wow, did we ever have a slam-bang time!

slam dunk 1. tv. & in. to force a basketball into the basket from above. (See also jam.) □ *Wilbur slam dunked another one, raising the score from 108 to 110. □ Wilbur slam dunked his way to fame and riches. 2. n. an act of making a basket as in sense 1. □ *Another slam dunk and Wilbur ties the score again! □ The rim will probably not withstand another slam dunk.

slammer 1. n. a jail. □ *I got out of the slammer on Monday and was back in by Wednesday. □ The slammer in this town is like a hotel. 2. n. a slam dunk. □ *He really has that slammer perfected! □ It's another slammer for Wilbur!

slam some beers Go to pound a beer.

slant n. a biased view; a unique perception. □ You can probably give us yet another slant on this problem. □ You provided us with a fresh slant on this question.

slap-dab mod. directly. (See also smack (dab) in the middle.) □ We put it slap-dab on his head. □ I found this pop bottle slap-dab on top of the car! How'd it get there?

slap-dash mod. fast and careless. □ I wish you hadn't done it in such a slap-dash fashion. □ This is a very slap-dash way to do something.

slap happy mod. silly; giddy. ☐ I get slap happy when I have to stay up this late. ☐ She's a little slap happy, but a tremendous dear.

slap in the face n. an insult; a rejection. ☐ That remark was a real slap in the face. ☐ Her departure was a slap in the face to the manager who had refused to give her a raise.

slap someone on the wrist Go to slap someone's wrist.

slap someone's wrist AND slap someone on the wrist tv. to administer a minor reprimand. ☐ The judge only slapped her wrist. ☐ The courts only slap them on the wrist and send them back out on the streets.

slash n. a drink of liquor. ☐ Just one slash, and I have to be going. ☐ How about a slash? You ready yet?

slaughter Go to murder.

slaughtered mod. drunk. ☐ Ted and Bill came home slaughtered and caught hell for it. ☐ Garth went out and got himself slaughtered again last night.

slave away (at something) in. to work very hard (doing something). ☐ I'm tired of slaving away at this and getting nowhere. ☐ I'm slaving away for $7.00 an hour and have no prospects for the future.

slave market n. a job market where many candidates for jobs come face to face with potential employers. ☐ I gotta go to the annual slave market this year. We're hiring for a change. ☐ There was little hope at the annual slave market. There were six jobs and 432 applicants.

slay tv. to overwhelm someone with one's performance or other excellence. ☐ These jokes always slay the audience. ☐ Oh, you slay me with your silly remarks.

sleaze AND sleez [slɪz] 1. n. a low and despicable person. ☐ God, what a sleaze! How can anybody be so skanky? ☐ You'd expect to find a sleaze like that in a sleazoid joint like this. 2. n. any junk. ☐ I won't sell sleez like that! I won't even have it in my store. ☐ Look at this sleaze—and look at the price! Outrageous! 3. in. to act low;

to be sexually promiscuous. ☐ She looks like the type who will sleaze and lie to get her own way. ☐ She earned quite a reputation sleazing around with just anybody.

sleazebag n. a repellent person or place. ☐ I won't go into a sleazebag like that. ☐ Who is the sleazebag leaning against the wall?

sleazeball n. a repellent person. ☐ He's okay if you're into sleazeballs. ☐ Who is that sleazeball with the earring?

sleaze-bucket n. a repellent person, thing, or place. ☐ Gad, what a sleaze-bucket! Let me out of here! ☐ Gee, Sue, your date's a real sleaze-bucket!

sleazo AND sleazoid ['slɪzo AND 'slɪzɔɪd] mod. low; disreputable; sleazy. ☐ Let's get out of this sleazo joint. ☐ This place is really sleazo. ☐ Who wants a sleazoid car with no backseat?

sleazoid ['slɪzɔɪd] 1. n. a sleazy person. ☐ Who is this sleazoid? ☐ Who was that sleazoid I saw you with last night? 2. Go to sleazo.

sleeper 1. n. a sleeping pill. ☐ I just took one little sleeper. ☐ She took a handful of sleepers with a glass of booze, and that was it. 2. n. someone or something that achieves fame after a period of invisibility. ☐ The movie "Red Willow" was undoubtedly the sleeper of the year, winning six awards. ☐ My candidate had been a sleeper, but he finally began to pull ahead in the polls.

sleepfest n. something, such as a dull lecture, that induces a long period of sleep. ☐ The history lecture today was a real sleepfest. ☐ The play was a sleepfest. Half the audience left before it was over.

sleep it off tv. to sleep while the effects of drugs or alcohol wear off. ☐ I'm polluted, I guess. Have to get home and shleep it off. ☐ She'll be okay when she sleeps it off.

sleepwalk n. a movement toward something without effort. (A movement that could be done in one's sleep. See also cakewalk; walk.) ☐ Getting the degree was a sleepwalk. Getting a job was hell. ☐

It was no sleepwalk, but it didn't make me slave away either.

sleeze Go to sleaze.

slew 1. in. to drink to intoxication. ☐ They must have been slewing for an hour before one got up and left. ☐ Let's go out and slew till we forget who we are. 2. AND slews n. a lot; lots. ☐ I have a whole slew of old computer programs at home in a box somewhere. ☐ She's got slews of money.

slewed AND slewy; slued; sloughed (up) [slud AND 'slui, slud...] mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Wallace is too slewed to drive. ☐ She knows how to stop drinking before she gets slewy.

slews Go to slew.

slewy Go to slewed.

slice of the action Go to piece (of the action).

slick 1. mod. clever; glib. ☐ He is a slick operator. ☐ His talk is slick, but his action is zotz. 2. mod. excellent. ☐ This is a real slick setup you got here. ☐ That is a slick idea. ☐ The idea is not so slick! 3. n. a high-quality magazine printed on slick [coated] paper. ☐ The slicks are all carrying ads for products and services that couldn't even be mentioned a few years ago. ☐ Most of the price increase for the slicks has been because of postage increases. 4. n. a racing tire. (Auto racing.) ☐ That set of wheels has slicks. I wonder why. ☐ I have some slicks at home in the garage.

slick-chick n. an attractive and cute girl. ☐ Tiffany is a slick-chick. I wonder if she'd go out with me. ☐ Who was that slick-chick I saw you with the other night?

slickum ['slɪkəm] n. hair dressing, especially if thick and heavy. ☐ What kind of slickum do you have on your hair—bear grease? ☐ His hair was plastered down with slickum, and he looked like something in an old movie.

slightly rattled 1. mod. upset; confused. (See also rattled.) ☐ Tom was slightly rattled by the trouble at the door. ☐ I'm slightly rattled. I'll get over it. 2. mod. tipsy; alcohol intoxicated. ☐ He's only slightly rattled. He'll recover by morning.

☐ She can be stone blind and still seem only slightly rattled.

slim n. a tobacco cigarette. (The same as straight, as opposed to a marijuana cigarette, which may be thicker.) ☐ I'll take a slim and a little mist, thanks. ☐ You got a slim I can borrow?

slime 1. n. a worthless person; a low and wretched person. ☐ What a slime that guy is! ☐ Who is the slime over there with the greasy hair? 2. n. degrading matters; corrupt people or situations. ☐ I don't want to be involved in slime like that. ☐ The press uncovered even more slime at city hall.

slimebag Go to slime bag.

slime bag AND slime bucket; slimebag; slimeball n. a despicable person, usually a male. (See also slime.) ☐ Gee, a slime bag like that in the same room with me! Yuck! ☐ Who's the slime bucket in the 1962 Bonneville?

slimeball Go to slime bag.

slime bucket Go to slime bag.

sling the cat tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ Suddenly Ralph left the room to sling the cat, I guess. ☐ That stuff will make you sling the cat.

Slip me five! Go to Give me (some) skin!

slip one's trolley tv. to become a little crazy; to lose one's composure. (See also off one's trolley.) ☐ I was afraid I would slip my trolley. ☐ He slipped his trolley and went totally bonkers.

slip someone a Mickey tv. to secretly put a Mickey Finn in someone's alcoholic drink. (This drug either makes the victim ill or causes immediate diarrhea.) ☐ Somebody slipped Barlowe a Mickey and sent him into action. ☐ For a ten-spot, the bartender slipped Rocko a Mickey.

slip someone five tv. to shake someone's hand. ☐ Billy slipped me five, and we sat down to discuss old times. ☐ Come on, man, slip me five!

slipstick n. a slide rule. ☐ Who carries a slipstick these days? ☐ Who even knows what a slipstick is these days?

slip (up) 1. in. to make an error. □ Don't slip up and pay this bill twice, please. □ I slipped and gave the guy a 35 percent tip.
 2. AND slip(-up) n. an error. □ That was a silly slip-up. I'm sorry. □ That slip cost us nearly $2,000.

slob [slab] n. a rude, fat, and unpleasant person. □ What a slob! Comb your hair, if you can get a comb through it! □ Why doesn't that slob go on a diet or something? Anything!

slobber n. nonsense. (From the term for saliva running out of the mouth.) □ I've heard enough of your slobber. Can it! □ Another hour of professorial slobber!

slob up in. to eat. □ What time do you people slob up around here? □ Fred stopped slobbering up long enough to change the channel on the TV set.

slopped mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I've never seen a senior citizen so inelegantly slopped as was Walter. □ He was so slopped, he could walk without his cane.

slop(s) n. bad beer; inferior liquor. □ Why do we have to drink slops like this? Can't Tom afford to give his guests something decent? □ Tom's slop is better than water—dishwater anyway.

slosh 1. n. beer; liquor. □ How about a glass of slosh? □ No slosh for me. Just plain water. 2. tv. & in. to drink liquor, including beer; to drink to excess. □ Are you going to slosh gin all night? □ I slosh just because I like the taste.

sloshed (to the ears) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, is he sloshed to the ears! □ He is as sloshed as they come.

sloughed (up) Go to slewed.

slow burn n. the act of becoming angry very slowly or being resentful for a long period of time. (See also do a slow burn.) □ His lips were pressed together and he was angry, but just having a slow burn. □ She wasn't angry yet, but she was doing a slow burn.

sludgeball ['slədʒbɔl] n. a despicable and repellent person. □ Mike is such a sludgeball! Why do you keep seeing him? □ He's no sludgeball; he's eccentric.

slued Go to slewed.

sluff (off) in. to waste time; to goof off. □ Watch him. He will sluff off if you don't keep after him. □ He won't sluff. I know I can trust him.

slug 1. n. a drink of liquor; a shot of whiskey. □ Have a slug of this stuff. It will—I'm sorry to say, ma'am—put hair on your chest. □ A couple more slugs and he was ready to face the huge bull-necked ruffian.
 2. n. a bullet. □ Barlowe sent a couple of slugs into Rocko's chest. Rocko crumpled soundlessly. □ The medico dug out the slugs like he had done it a thousand times—which he probably had.

slugfest 1. n. a fight; a festival of slugging. □ They went out in the alley for a real slugfest. □ You wanna see a slugfest, just stick around. 2. n. a festival of arguing. □ The slugfest went on until both sides were willing to compromise. □ The president emerged from the slugfest with control of the company still hers.

slugged mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I'm slugged—skunked, you know, corned. And I think I am going to sick up. □ Ted realized that he was slugged out of his mind, but tried to get the bartender to serve him another drink.

slug it out tv. to fight something out; to fight about something figuratively. □ They finally went outside to slug it out. □ We'll just have to sit down in the conference room and slug it out.

slumgullion ['sləm'gʊljən] n. a meat stew; any food. □ What is this slumgullion tonight? It looks like what we had last night, only thinner. □ This is the best slumgullion I've ever had—which puts it right up there with dishwater.

slummy ['sləmi] mod. lousy. □ What a slummy place! □ This place is not slummy! □ That was a slummy trick to pull on her.

slushed (up) mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I hate to come home slushed and wake up everybody. I have to sing, you see. □ This chick is so slushed that she doesn't know her name.

slush fund n. a fund of money that can be used for various unofficial and discretionary purposes. □ How much is left in the slush fund? □ The slush fund is bankrupt.

slush up in. to drink liquor; to get drunk. □ They slushed up for a while and went out to look for some chicks. □ Don't you ever get tired of going out and slushing up with those guys?

sly mod. excellent; cool. □ Look at Jim's sly new ride. □ That is really a sly jacket you got there.

smack (dab) in the middle mod. exactly in the middle. (See also slap-dab.) □ I came in smack dab in the middle of the play. □ Not too big and not too small. Just smack in the middle.

smacker 1. n. the face. (See also kisser.) □ What a gorgeous smacker on that chick. □ She ought to give that ugly smacker back to the horse before it runs into something. 2. n. a dollar. (Underworld.) □ You got a couple of smackers for the toll booth? □ Don't waste your hard-earned smackers like that. Run on through. 3. n. a kiss. □ He planted a smacker square on her lips. She kicked him in the shins for his trouble. □ Barlowe was greeted at the door by a lovely, cuddly chick in a nightie—eyes closed and lips parted for a better than average smacker. He really wished—just for a moment—that he hadn't rung the wrong doorbell.

smack the road tv. to leave; to hit the road. □ Time to smack the road! Sgo! □ Let's smack the road. I have to get up early.

small beer n. nothing or next to nothing; an insignificant person. □ The guy is just small beer. Pay him no mind. □ Small beer or not, he's my customer, and I will see that he is taken care of.

small change n. an insignificant person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Look, small change, why don't you just move along? □ The guy you think is small change happens to own this building you seem to be guarding so well.

small fortune n. a rather sizeable amount of money. □ This set of wheels cost me a small fortune. □ I've got a small fortune tied up in test equipment.

small fry n. anything or anyone small or unimportant. (Fry are juvenile fish.) □ Forget the small fry. I'm going after Mr. Big. □ Don't worry about the small fry. You have to please the fat-cats.

small potatoes n. something or someone insignificant. □ This contract is small potatoes, but it keeps us in business till we get into the real money. □ Small potatoes are better than no potatoes at all.

small-time mod. insignificant; petty. □ I was in a lot of small-time stuff at home, but never a Broadway hit before. □ Broadway is not small-time. □ Bart was involved in a lot of small-time crime when he was twelve.

smarmy ['smarmi] mod. insincere and obsequious. □ He's obnoxious but brazen rather than smarmy. □ He's a smarmy creep. □ The guy is so smarmy, I can't stand him.

smart aleck ['smart 'ælək] n. someone who is saucy and acts cocky. □ A smart aleck like you ought to have no trouble at all getting his face mashed in. □ Don't be such a smart aleck.

smart ass n. someone who makes wise-cracks and acts cocky. (Usually objectionable.) □ Some smart ass came in here and asked for a sky hook. □ Don't be such a smart ass!

smart cookie n. a clever person. □ She's really a smart cookie if you give her a chance. □ Fred is a smart cookie and really ought to go far.

smart guy n. a man who acts cocky; a wise guy. □ All right, smart guy, see if you like this one. □ Some smart guy put fresh paint on this bench.

smart money n. money belonging to smart or clever people. □ Most of the smart money is going into utility stocks right now. □ Watch and see what the smart money is doing.

smart mouth n. someone who makes wise-cracks; a cocky person who speaks out of turn. □ Don't be a smart mouth with me! □ Mr. Atkins is going to get a reputation as a smart mouth.

smarts n. intelligence. □ She's got plenty of smarts but no spunk. □ I got the smarts to do the job. All I need is someone to trust me.

smarty n. a cocky person. (Also a term of address.) □ Well, if you're such a smarty, why aren't you rich? □ Okay, smarty, do it yourself.

smarty-pants n. a cocky person; a smart aleck. □ Look, smarty-pants, let's cut the clowning around. □ That smarty-pants is going to get herself into big trouble.

smash n. wine. (Black. Because it is made from smashed grapes.) □ I got a bottle of smash in my car. □ This is great smash for a buck twenty-five.

smashed mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ He was so smashed he couldn't stand up. □ Tracy can drink a lot without ever getting smashed.

smash hit n. a play, movie, musical, etc., which is a big success. □ Her first book was a smash hit. The second was a disaster. □ A smash hit doesn't always make people rich.

smashing mod. excellent; really tremendous. □ We had a smashing time at your little do. □ This whole meal has been smashing.

smear tv. to defeat someone; to outscore someone. □ We smeared them 50-20. □ They said they would smear us, but we smeared them.

smeared mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I feel sort of smeared. Maybe I should have drunk less. □ Bob and Jim found themselves smeared at the end of the day.

smell a rat tv. to suspect that something is wrong. □ He smelled a rat the minute he came into the room. □ Keep everything normal. I don't want her to smell a rat. She has never had a surprise party before.

smell blood tv. to be ready for a fight; to be ready to attack; to be ready to act. (Like sharks, which are sent into a frenzy by the smell of blood.) □ Lefty was sur- rounded, and you could tell that the guys from the other gang smelled blood. □ The lawyer heard the crash and came running—smelling blood and bucks.

smeller n. (one's) nose. □ I think my smeller's gone bad because of my cold. □ He's got a fine strawberry on the end of his smeller.

smell fishy in. to seem suspicious. (See also fishy.) □ Barlowe squinted a bit. Something smells fishy here, he thought. □ Something about the deal smelled fishy.

smell it up AND smell the stuff tv. to sniff or snort powdered drugs, usually cocaine. (Drugs.) □ One of those guys shoots it; the other smells it up. □ You don't breathe it in; you just smell the stuff.

smell like a rose in. to seem innocent. □ I came out of the whole mess smelling like a rose, even though I caused all the trouble. □ Tiffany pretended that she was the only one who should smell like a rose, but I knew different.

smell the stuff Go to smell it up.

smell to (high) heaven 1. in. to smell very bad. □ This kitchen smells to high heaven. What besides garlic are you cooking? □ Where has this dog been? It smells to heaven. 2. in. to give signals that cause suspicion. □ This deal is messed up. It smells to high heaven. □ Something's wrong here. Somebody blabbed. This setup smells to high heaven.

smidgen ['smɪdʒɪn] n. a tiny bit. □ I just want a smidgen of cake. I'm on a diet. □ Oh, come on, more than a smidgen. Just a little?

smile AND smiler; smiley n. a drink of liquor; liquor. □ Come over and join me for a smiley. □ Here, have a smiler on me.

smiler Go to smile.

Smile when you say that. sent. Give some sort of a signal that you are only joking when you say something potentially offensive. □ That's pretty rude. You'd better smile when you say that. □ I told him he'd better smile when he says that, or he's going to get in trouble.

Smiley 1. n. a circular, smiling yellow face.

(The face appears in many forms, stick-on labels, pin-on buttons, hand-drawn, etc. It is possible to re-create the smiling face on any keyboard through the use of the punctuation symbols, as with :) or :-). All computer Smileys and their variants appear sideways. A major variant is the Unsmiley, which is basically :(or :-(. The following faces are a sample of the variants that can be seen in computer forum or news group messages and informal typewritten or word processed notes. This type of symbol is called an emoticon because it is intended to show emotion in what is otherwise a rather cold medium of communication. The typical use is to show that the writer is just joking or writing in good, well-intentioned spirits. The following Smileys are separated by slashes, and an equal sign separates the actual Smiley from its explanation.) :-] = Squarejaw Smiley / :-o = Singing Smiley; Shocked Smiley; Surprised Smiley / :-(= Sad Smiley / :-) = Happy Smiley / : -) = Smiley with a Big Mustache / :-)' = Drooling Smiley; Smoking Smiley / :-)8 = Smiley Wearing a Bow Tie / :-D = Big-mouth Smiley / :-# = Smiley with Sealed Lips / :-* = Pursed-lips Smiley; Shocked Smiley / :-s = Twisted-mouth Smiley (after hearing or saying something strange) / :-" = Smiley with Walrus Mustache / :-| = Smiley Making Dull Response; "Have-a-dull-day" Smiley / :-> = Wry-faced Smiley / :-0 = Loudmouth Smiley; Big-mouth Smiley / :-x = Sealed-lips Smiley / :-Q = Smoking Smiley; Drooling Smiley / :-> = Midget Smiley / ;-) = Winking Smiley / (-) = Smiley Needing a Haircut / ":-) = Smiley with its Hair Parted in the Middle / +:-) = Smiley Priest / *-(= Smiley Cyclops, Poked in the Eye / *:o) = Bozo Smiley / <:I = Dunce Smiley / @-) = Cyclops Smiley / @:I = Smiley Wearing a Turban / |-) = Gleeful Smiley / |-| = Sleeping Smiley; Bored Smiley / 0-) = Smiley Wearing a Scuba Mask / 8-) = Smiley in Glasses / 8:-) = A Smiley with Glasses on its Forehead / B-) = Smiley Wearing Horn-rim Glasses / o-) = Cyclops Smiley / [:-) = Smiley Happily Listening to a Walkman / [:-| = Robot Smiley; Squarejaw Smiley Listening to a Walkman. 2. Go to smile.

smithereens ['smɪðəɪnz] n. many tiny pieces or splinters. □ The mirror was broken to smithereens. □ I broke my crystal bell to smithereens.

smoke 1. n. a tobacco cigarette; a pipe of tobacco; a cigar. □ I think I'll have a smoke now. □ You got a smoke I can owe you? 2. n. the act of smoking anything smokable, including drugs. □ I need a smoke—of anything. □ I'm going to stop here for a smoke. 3. n. methyl alcohol; bad liquor; any liquor. □ The old guy was drinking smoke, and it blinded him. □ They call it smoke because when you mix it with water and shake it, it's cloudy. 4. n. exaggeration; deception. (See also blow smoke; smoke and mirrors.) □ That's not a report. That's just smoke. □ If the smoke is too obvious, they'll just get suspicious. 5. tv. to annihilate someone; to shoot someone. (Underworld.) □ Rocko tried time and time again to smoke Barlowe, always without success. □ You want me to smoke you on the spot, or are you gonna cooperate? 6. tv. to beat someone in a contest; to outrun, outdistance, or outplay someone. □ Jill smoked Dave in the bicycle race. □ I will smoke you in the race!

smoke and mirrors n. a strategy of deception and cover up. □ Her entire report was nothing but smoke and mirrors. Who could believe any of it? □ There is no plan. It's all just smoke and mirrors.

smoke eater n. a firefighter. □ A couple of off-duty smoke eaters wandered around the store doing a little shopping. □ The smoke eaters took a long time getting there.

smoke-filled room n. a room where a small group of people make important decisions. (Usually used in reference to political parties.) □ The smoke-filled rooms are still producing the candidates for most offices, even as we approach the year two thousand. □ The deal was cut in a smoke-filled room.

smoke-in n. a young people's public gathering of the 1960s where marijuana was smoked in open defiance of the law. □ My uncle was at a smoke-in. He says the reporters were getting kids to pose for shots. □ They say you could get a high just by being near a smoke-in.

smoke like a chimney in. to smoke a great deal of tobacco or other smokable substances. □ My uncle smoked like a chimney when he was living. □ Somebody who smokes like a chimney in a restaurant ought to be thrown out.

Smokey (the Bear) n. a highway patrol officer; a police officer. (Citizens band radio. See also bear, lady bear.) □ A Smokey was hiding behind a billboard! □ Smokey the Bear is after you!

smokin' ['sməkən] mod. really hot; overpowering. □ Those threads on that dude are really smokin'. □ If you wanna hear some smokin' vinyl, just stay tuned.

smoking gun n. the indisputable sign of guilt. □ Mr. South was left holding the smoking gun. □ The chief of staff decided that the admiral should be found with the smoking gun.

smooch [smu:tʃ] 1. in. to kiss and neck. □ Too much smooching in a movie ruins it for me. □ I like to smooch myself, but I don't enjoy watching somebody else. 2. n. a kiss. □ I like a good smooch from my hubby. □ Hey, sweetie, how about a smooch?

smoothie Go to smooth operator.

smooth operator AND smoothie n. a clever and quiet person, especially in reference to romantic involvement. □ Clare is an old smoothie till she thinks she's got everything the way she wants. Then you see the real Clare. □ Hank is a smooth operator. The girls just love him.

smurf [smɜ:f] 1. n. someone who "cleans" ill-gotten money by buying cashier's checks at banks and shifting funds from place to place. (Underworld. From the name of a type of cartoon character. See also greenwash, launder.) □ I think the guy at the first window is a smurf. He's in here twice a week with $9,500 in cash each time. □ Did you get a good look at this alleged smurf? 2. tv. & in. to shift illicit money from place to place to conceal its origin. (Underworld.) □ I smurf for a living. It doesn't pay much, but you meet some very interesting people. □ I smurfed a fortune for a famous drug kingpin and got fourteen years up the river—with some very interesting people.

smurfbrain ['smɜ:fbren] n. a simple-minded person. (A smurf is an innocent little cartoon character.) □ You can be such a smurfbrain! □ You're not a smurf-brain, I suppose?

smurfed [smɜ:ft] mod. having to do with a bank that has been used to launder money. (See also smurf.) □ The teller came slowly into the office. "I think we were smurfed," she said. □ See that this dough is smurfed by Friday.

snafu [snæ'fu] n. an accident; a foul-up. (Acronym. From situation normal, all fouled (fucked) up. Also capitalized.) □ Your being last is not just a snafu. It's a disaster. □ What a SNAFU! All the power went off when you turned on the coffeepot.

snag 1. n. a difficulty. □ There's a little snag in our plan. □ We ran into a little snag, I'm sorry to say. 2. n. an ugly (young) woman. □ She's not a snag! She's lovely. □ Who's the snag your brother is running around with? 3. AND SNAG n. a Sensitive New-Age Guy. □ Tim is a wimp, a SNAG, a twit! □ There were only snags and bimbos at the rally, so I left. 4. tv. to procure, grab, or steal something. □ Somebody snagged the jacket I just bought. □ See if you can snag a couple of good seats while I get the popcorn.

snail-mail n. post office mail; regular mail as opposed to electronic mail. (Refers to the slowness of regular mail in comparison to electronic mail or faxes.) □ I'll send you the full text by snail-mail. □ There are lots of color pictures in the article, so I will send you the original by snail-mail.

snake 1. in. to scheme; to plot and plan. (Prisons.) □ He spent a lot of time snaking about that job. 2. tv. to steal something. □ Where did you snake that bike?

snakebite medicine n. inferior whiskey; strong whiskey; homemade whiskey. □ That old-time snakebite medicine is good for what ails you. □ Snakebite medicine is a tremendous protection against snakebites if you can get the snake to drink the stuff before it bites you.

snake eyes n. the two in dice, one spot on each die. □ Well, it's snake eyes again. That's all for me. □ The baby needs shoes, and all I get is snake eyes.

snake in the grass n. a sneaky and despised person. □ How could I ever have trusted that snake in the grass? □ John is such a snake in the grass.

snap 1. n. a snapshot. □ I got some good snaps of the fish you caught. □ Here's a snap of my brother. 2. in. to go crazy. □ Suddenly Rocko snapped and began beating her savagely. □ His mind snapped, and he's never been right since. 3. a snap n. an easy thing to do. (Always with a in this sense.) □ Nothing to it. It's a snap. □ The whole thing was a snap.

snap course n. an easy course (in school). □ I took a snap course in algebra and flunked it. □ I need at least one snap course a semester to pass.

Snap it up! exclam. Hurry up! □ We're late. Snap it up! □ Come on, snap it up! I don't have all day.

snap one's cookies tv. to vomit; to regurgitate. □ I think I'm gonna snap my cookies. □ Some jerk snapped his cookies on the sidewalk.

snap out of something in. to recover from something. □ I'll snap out of it in a while. □ It was an emotional blow, but he'll snap out of it in a while.

snapped (up) 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Let's go out and get ourselves good and snapped. □ Pete was snapped up by eighty-thirty. 2. mod. arrested. □ He got snapped up on a vag charge. □ The bacon busted the joint and snapped everybody in sight.

snapper n. a strange person. □ Wally is sort of a snapper, but a nice guy. □ Who is the snapper with the gumbey haircut?

snappers n. the teeth. (Folksy.) □ I couldn't talk to you on the phone till I got my snappers in. □ You got a mouthful of fine-looking snappers.

snappy 1. mod. quick. □ You can get there if you're snappy. □ Make it snappy. I'm in a hurry. 2. mod. sharp-looking. □ That's a real snappy outfit you're wearing. □ Who's driving that snappy car over there? □ That car's not snappy!

snap something up tv. to buy up something. (See also snapped (up).) □ People were snapping these things up like hot cakes. □ The customers snapped up all the humidifiers on the second day of the cold spell.

snap to (attention) in. to come to attention; to look alert immediately. □ When they realized what was happening, they began to snap to. □ Snap to attention when the sarge comes in!

Snap to it! exclam. Get busy! □ Come on, snap to it! □ Snap to it, we've got lots to do.

snatch 1. tv. to kidnap someone. (Underworld.) □ We're gonna snatch the kid when the baby-sitter comes out to see what happened. □ The mob snatched Mrs. Davis and held her for ransom. 2. n. a kidnapping. (Underworld.) □ The Bradley snatch had the detectives up all night for weeks. □ The snatch went off without a hitch. 3. tv. to grab something; to steal something. □ Snatch me the paper there on the table as you walk by, would you please? □ Somebody snatched my car. 4. n. a theft. (Underworld.) □ The snatch went off without a hitch except that the safe was empty. □ Are you the guys who pulled off that First National snatch? 5. n. women considered as a receptacle for the penis. (Rude and derogatory.) □ The sailor walked around the port, looking for some snatch.

snatched mod. arrested. □ Everybody in the crack house got snatched in the bust. □ Bruno was snatched for the umpteenth time yesterday.

snatcher n. a police officer; a detective. (Underworld.) □ One of the local snatchers came around to see if the door was locked. □ A snatcher hauled her away to the station.

snaved in [snevɪd...] mod. drug intoxicated.

□ The poor guy was as snaved in as they come. Really fried. □ By midnight they were so snaved in they couldn't walk.

snazz AND shnazz [snæz AND ʃnæz] n. class; glitter and excitement. □ The curtain opened on a dazzling display of snazz and bright lights. □ There was lots of snazz and glitz, but no real substance.

snazz something up tv. to make something classy or exciting. □ Come on, let's try to snazz this up. □ What can I do to snazz up my face?

snazzy AND shnazzy ['snæzi AND 'ʃnæzi] mod. elegant; classy. □ This is a snazzy place all right. □ This place is sure snazzy. □ Whose shnazzy new car is this?

sneak n. a sneak preview of a movie. □ There was a good sneak at the Granada last night. □ The sneak was better than the flick they had advertised.

sneaks n. sneakers. □ Are those sneaks new? □ She wore red sneaks and a mini.

sneaky mod. unfair and sly. □ That was a sneaky thing to do! □ Jerry is sneaky. Don't trust him.

snide remark n. a caustic, haughty, or insulting remark. □ You're really quick with the snide remark. Ever say anything nice to anybody? □ I did not appreciate that snide remark.

sniff n. a drink of liquor. (See also snort.) □ I'd like just a sniff of that Scotch. □ Sure, have a sniff of whatever you want.

snipe n. a cigarette or cigar butt. □ Down on skid row, a snipe won't be on the sidewalk for ten seconds. □ He saves a bunch of snipes until he gets enough for a real smoke.

snit [snɪt] n. a state of resentment. □ Don't work yourself into such a snit. □ She threw quite a snit.

snitch [snɪtʃ] 1. n. an informer. □ Who needs a snitch? If he can't keep his mouth shut, he can beat it. □ The snitch went and told the teacher. 2. in. to inform (on someone). (Often with on.) □ The cops were waiting for us. Who snitched? □ Tracy snitched on Ziggy, and he nearly snuffed her. 3. tv. to steal something. □ Who snitched my cake? □ Why don't you snitch the salt from one of the other tables? 4. n. a theft. (Underworld.) □ The snitch went off without a hitch. □ How much loot did we get in the snitch?

snitcher ['snɪtʃə] n. an informer. (Originally underworld.) □ There's nothing worse than a snitcher. □ Clare is a snitcher. Watch what you say around her.

snitzy ['snɪtsi] mod. classy; ritzy. □ This is a pretty snitzy place—tablecloths and everything. □ Tiffany is too snitzy for me.

snoggered Go to schnockered.

snookered ['snʊkəd] mod. cheated; deceived. □ I was snookered skillfully and quickly. It was almost a pleasure. □ I got snookered at the service station.

snookums ['snʊkəmz OR 'snukəmz] n.  (Also a term of address.) □ Now, now, snookums, it's all right. □ Does my little snookums want to play?

snoop 1. in. to prowl around looking for something. □ What are you snooping around here for? □ Somebody was around here snooping and asking questions. 2. n. someone who prowls around looking for something. □ Don't be a snoop. □ Fred is just a snoop. He went through my desk!

snoot [snʊt] n. the nose. □ You wanna get bopped on the snoot? □ That's one fine zit you got on your snoot.

snooted ['snʊəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He got himself thoroughly snooted. □ She's snooted and will never get home by herself.

snooty mod. haughty; conceited. □ Don't be so snooty! □ Tiffany can be snooty if she wants to, and she usually wants to. □ What a snooty waiter!

snoozamoroed ['snʊzəmərʊd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, was she snoozamoroed! □ He went and got himself snoozamoroed before the wedding.

snooze [snuz] 1. in. to sleep; to take a little nap. □ You can't snooze every afternoon! □ I snoozed a little bit before the party. 2. n. a little nap. □ I need a little snooze. □ Why not go up and take a little snooze? 3. n. something that is boring enough to put someone to sleep. □ The play was a snooze. I left before it was over. □ It wasn't a lecture; it was a snooze.

snork [snork] in. to smoke marijuana or hashish. (Drugs.) □ Let's get down to some serious snorking. □ They snorked until they could snork no more.

snort 1. tv. & in. to sniff (insufflate) a powdered drug, now usually cocaine. (Drugs.) □ Here, snort this. □ You're snorting every time I see you. 2. n. a nasal dose of a drug, usually cocaine. □ Here, take a snort. □ I don't want a snort. I'm clean, and I'm going to stay that way.

snot 1. n. nasal mucus. (Crude.) □ Oh, God, there's snot on your cheek. □ He sneezed and got snot all over the newspaper. 2. n. a nasty person; an obnoxious person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You needn't be such a snot about it. □ What a snot!

snotnose(d) kid AND snotnose n. a young child; a relatively young person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ Some little snotnose swiped my wallet. □ A little snotnosed kid came in and asked for money.

snotrag n. a handkerchief. (Usually objectionable.) □ I guess I should use my snotrag. □ Don't you carry a snotrag?

snotted mod. very drunk. □ She gets totally snotted almost every night. □ That guy was really snotted!

snotty AND snottie ['snɒdi] 1. mod. nasty with nasal mucus. (Usually objectionable.) □ Keep your snotty old handkerchief to yourself. □ Don't leave your snotty tissues all over the house! 2. mod. bitchy; rude. (Usually objectionable.) □ What makes her so snotty? □ What a snotty waiter! □ Now, there's no reason to get snottie with me.

snow 1. n. deceitful talk; deception. □ No snow, okay? I want straight talk. □ All I heard for an hour was snow. Now, what's the truth? 2. tv. to attempt to deceive someone. (See also snowed.) □ Don't try to snow me! □ You can try to snow me if you want, but I'm onto your tricks. 3. AND snowball; snowflakes; snow stuff n. a powdered or crystalline narcotic: morphine, heroin, or cocaine. (Now almost always the latter.) □ Now, snow is almost old-fashioned. □ The price of snow has come down a lot as South America exports more of it.

snowball 1. in. to grow at an increasing rate. (As a snowball rolling down a hill might increase in size.) □ The problem began to snowball, and we had to close down for a while. □ Offers to help with money and prayers began to snowball, and we had to get volunteers to help answer the phones. 2. Go to snow.

snowball's chance in hell n. a very poor chance. (Usually in the negative.) □ She doesn't have a snowball's chance in hell of getting it done on time. □ I know I don't have a snowball's chance in hell, but I'll try anyway.

snow bunny 1. n. someone learning to ski. □ This little slope is for snow bunnies. □ Most of the snow bunnies come here to socialize. 2. n. a female skier. □ Some cute little snow bunny came over and sat beside me. □ This place is swarming with snow bunnies who have never even seen a ski. 3. n. a cocaine user. □ How can these suburban snow bunnies afford such big habits? □ He used to smoke pot, now he's a snow bunny.

snowed mod. deceived. □ He was one snowed coach. He still doesn't know what really happened. □ We really had him snowed!

snowflakes Go to snow.

snow job n. a systematic deception. □ You can generally tell when a student is trying to do a snow job. □ This snow job you call an explanation just won't do.

snow stuff Go to snow.

snozzled ['snɒzld] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How can anybody be so snozzled on four beers? □ Those guys are really snozzled!

snozzle-wobbles ['snaʒl'wablz] n. a hang-over; the delirium tremens. □ Freddy had the snozzle-wobbles this morning. He has no idea what caused it. □ They say that a big glass of milk is good for the snozzle-wobbles.

snuff 1. tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ The mob tried to snuff Max, but he moved too fast for them. □ Somebody snuffed my cat! 2. mod. having to do with death or killing. □ Those snuff acts ought to be outlawed. □ All this snuff stuff is for sickies.

snuff film n. a film that records an actual death or killing. □ Who would watch a snuff film anyway? □ Some of these snuff films have a loyal following of real sickies.

snuff it tv. to die. □ The cat leapt straight up in the air and snuffed it. □ I was so sick they thought I was going to snuff it.

snuffy ['snəfi] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was a little snuffy, but nothing debilitating. □ Who's the snuffy little guy in the corner booth?

soak 1. in. to drink heavily; to get drunk. (See also soaked.) □ The two old ladies put on their coats and went out to soak. □ They sat quietly soaking for an hour. 2. n. a drinking bout. □ They sat there quietly enjoying their soak. □ Both guys declined to go out and stayed home and enjoyed a soak in front of the TV. 3. n. a drunkard. □ Some old soak lay moaning in the gutter. □ Hank is getting to be a real soak. 4. tv. to overcharge someone; to extort money from someone. □ They soaked me for twenty dollars for the parts, but at least it runs now. □ The cleaners soaked me for the cleaning job.

soaked mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ All the guys came home soaked. □ Frank was too soaked to drive home.

soaker n. a drunkard; a tippler. □ Uncle Charlie was a soaker, and the family never realized it. □ Give the old soaker a drink to shut him up.

soak one's face tv. to drink heavily. □ They're down at the tavern soaking their faces. □ Well, I guess I'll go soak my face for a while.

so-and-so n.  (This is usually euphemistic for son of a bitch. However, it is also used for good friends, especially male to male, to show affection.) □ This lousy so-and-so tried to take me for 400 bucks. □ Terry, you old so-and-so, how ya been?

soap n. a soap opera. □ She won't schedule anything when her soap is on. □ Soaps are very popular on college campuses these days.

SOB n. a son of a bitch; a despised person, usually a male. (Initialism only. Crude. Also a rude and provocative term of address.) □ Tell that SOB to mind his own business. □ Look here, you SOB, get out!

so bad one can taste it mod. very much, indeed. □ I want that car so bad I can taste it. □ He had to get to Philadelphia so bad he could taste it.

sober as a judge mod. as sober (free from alcohol) as it is possible to be. □ Kelly—who was starched as could be—claimed to be sober as a judge. □ The judge was not always sober as a judge, but he could get through his court call.

sobersides n. a very serious person; a grumpy old man. □ Old sobersides can't manage to laugh at anything. □ Some sobersides came over and asked us to watch our language.

sober up in. to recover from alcohol or drug intoxication. □ Barlowe had one hour to sober up and get to the station. □ It took him a while to sober up.

sob sister n. a weak woman who is prone to crying. □ Mary is a sob sister. She wears you out fast. □ I had another sob sister in the office today. Went through half a box of tissues.

sob story n. a sad story that is likely to draw tears. □ I've heard nothing but sob stories today. Isn't anybody happy? □ She had quite a sob story, and I listened to the whole thing.

social disease n. a sexually transmitted disease. □ Many people find things like—ah—social diseases difficult to discuss in public. □ Others talk about private matters like social diseases till you're sick to death of it.

sock tv. to punch someone or something.
□ Wally was so mad, he tried to sock Paul.
□ He socked the door with his fist and began to howl with pain.

socked mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I don't know what was in that punch, but I was socked. □ She got socked out of her mind.

socked in mod. fogged in. □ The airport was completely socked in. □ We couldn't take off because we were socked in.

sock hop n. a dance party where everyone dances in stocking feet. (From the 1950s.) □ My mother told us about a sock hop she went to. It doesn't sound like fun at all. □ Sock hops were popular in schools that had new and expensive floors in their gymnasiums.

Sock it to me! exclam. Come on, let me have it! (Refers to bad news.) □ Come on! I can take it. Sock it to me! □ Sock it to me, man. I'm ready.

sofa spud ['sofə 'spʊd] n. someone who spends a great deal of time sitting and watching television. (A play on couch potato.) □ Sofa spuds have been getting a lot of attention in the newspapers. □ These sofa spuds usually watch sports on television.

soft 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ After a few hours at the party, it appeared that most people were getting soft. □ Hard liquor makes people soft. 2. mod. having to do with nonaddictive drugs. (Compare this with hard.) □ The soft stuff just leads to hard stuff. □ This acid is not exactly soft. □ Soft drugs just take longer to turn you into a zombie. 3. mod. stupid. □ The guy's soft in the head. He just can't think straight. □ She seems a little soft, but she's really bright.

soft berth n. an easy situation; employment at an easy job. □ Fred ended up with a real soft berth. □ I hope I can arrange a soft berth for my brother, who just applied for a job here.

soft core 1. mod. referring to a mild type of pornography. □ There are more and more soft core movies on cable television. □ This stuff I saw was just soft core. □ Now even the soft core stuff is getting harder to find at newsstands. 2. n. mild pornography. □ They keep some soft core under the counter. □ The movie was a bit of soft core, but people still walked out.

soft-hearted mod. tender-hearted; sympathetic. □ She is too soft-hearted to handle this job. □ He is a soft-hearted guy who can help our cause a lot.

softie AND softy 1. n. a gentle person; a very agreeable person. □ He shouldn't give you much trouble. He's such a softie. □ The judge who tried the case was anything but a softie. 2. n. a weakling; a coward. □ He's too much of a softie to fight back. □ Don't worry—he's a softie.

soft in the head mod. stupid; witless. □ George is just soft in the head. He'll never get away with his little plan. □ You're soft in the head if you think I'll go along with that.

soft money n. easy money; money obtained without much effort. □ Don't become dependent on soft money. □ There's not even very much soft money around now.

soft on someone mod. romantically attracted to someone. □ Fred is soft on Martha, I've heard. □ He looked like he was getting a little soft on Sally.

soft on someone or something mod. too easy on someone or something. □ The judge was viewed as being too soft on pushers. □ The cops are soft on speeders in this town.

soft pedal something tv. to play something down; to de-emphasize something. (Refers to the soft pedal on the piano.) □ Try to soft pedal the problems we have with the cooling system. □ I won't soft pedal anything. Everyone must know the truth.

soft sell n. a polite attempt to sell something; a very gentle sales pitch. □ Some people won't bother listening to a soft sell. You gotta let them know you believe in what you are selling. □ I tried the soft sell, but that didn't work.

soft soap 1. n. flattering talk; sweet talk. □ I don't mind a little soft soap. It won't affect what I do, though. □ Don't waste my time with soft soap. I know you don't mean it. 2. tv. to attempt to convince someone (of something) by gentle persuasion. □ We couldn't soft soap her into it. □ Don't try to soft soap her. She's an old battle-ax.

soft touch 1. n. a gentle way of handling someone or something. □ Bess has a soft touch and can bring both sides together. □ Kelly lacks the kind of soft touch needed for this kind of negotiation. 2. n. a gullible person; a likely victim of a scheme. □ John is a soft touch for a few bucks. □ Here comes the perfect soft touch—a nerd with a gleam in his eye.

software rot n. an imaginary disease that causes computer programs to go bad over a long period of time. (Computers.) □ I guess software rot finally got to my program! □ What you have here is not a bug, but just plain old software rot.

softy Go to softie.

soggy ['sɑgi] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The two old ladies got a little soggy, but nothing uncouth. □ They weren't sopping wet, just soggy.

So gross! exclam. How disgusting! (California.) □ He put chocolate syrup on his pie! So gross! □ He's barfing! So gross!

sold cober ['sɒld 'kɒbər] mod. sober. (A spoonerism on cold sober. Similar to jober as a sudge.) □ What do you mean drunk? Why, I'm sold cober. □ Ted is always as sold cober as the next guy.

soldier 1. n. a liquor bottle; an empty liquor bottle. (See also dead soldier.) □ Toss your soldier into the garbage, please. □ There was a broken soldier on the floor and a cap on the table. 2. n. a whole tobacco cigarette. □ The old man almost fell over trying to pick up the soldier from the sidewalk. □ "Look, Jed. A soldier. My lucky day!" said the old soak to his buddy.

sold on someone or something mod. convinced of the value of someone or something. □ I'm not yet sold on your idea. □ The crowd was sold on Gary. Nothing he had done or could do would cool their enthusiasm.

solid 1. mod. good; great; cool. □ Man, this music is solid! □ Listen to that solid beat. 2. mod. consecutive; consecutively. □ Larry ate for four solid days. □ Then he "had the flu" for three days solid.

So long. interj. Good-bye. □ So long, see ya later. □ It's been good talking to you. So long.

a somebody n. an important person. (Compare this with nobody.) □ Aren't you a somebody? □ If she was somebody, you wouldn't have to ask.

someone or something from hell n. someone or something very intense, annoying, or challenging. (As if the person or thing were a demon from hell.) □ She is the nurse from hell and just loves to give shots. □ I just came back from a cruise from hell and have lots of horror stories to tell about the trip. □ I worked for three years at that job from hell, and I'm glad to be out of it.

someone's ass is grass phr. someone has had it; It is the end for someone. □ You do that again, and your ass is grass! □ If I don't get there on time, my ass is grass.

some pumpkins AND some punkins mod. someone or something great or special. □ That chick is some punkins!

some punkins Go to some pumpkins.

Something's got to give. sent. Things cannot go on like this.; The stalemate will be broken. □ The pressure on me is getting to be too much. Something's got to give. □ They keep arguing about money. Something's got to give.

So much for that. sent. That is all for that. (Also in other variants as in the examples.) □ It's gone, ruined, broken—so much for that. □ He's finished as a friend of mine. So much for him! □ So much for you! Good-bye!

son of a bitch 1. n. a despicable person, usually a male. (Rude and derogatory. Abbreviated SOB.) □ Tell that son of a bitch to get out of here, but fast. □ Look, you son of a bitch. I'm going to paste you one. 2. n. old buddy. (Used between close male companions.) □ Why, you old son of a bitch! How are you? □ Where you been keeping yourself, you son of a bitch? 3. exclam. Dammit! (Usually objectionable. Usually Son of a bitch!) □ Look at that place burn. Son of a bitch! □ Son of a bitch! I didn't even see that car pull out.

son of a gun 1. n. a despicable person, usually a male. (Euphemistic for son of a bitch.) □ If that son of a gun thinks he can boss me around like that, he's got another think coming. □ Some son of a gun tried to sell me a used car with no engine. 2. n. old buddy. □ You old son of a gun! How are you? □ I went to school with this son of a gun! He's my old buddy. 3. exclam. I am totally surprised!; I am shocked! (Usually Son of a gun!) □ Son of a gun! He did it! □ The thing just blew up! Son of a gun!

sop 1. n. a drunkard; an alcoholic. □ What does the old sop want, a handout? □ Give the old sop a buck and tell him to beat it. 2. tv. & in. to guzzle (liquor). □ Let's go out and do some serious sopping. □ You've sopped booze long enough. Go home.

soph [sof] n. a sophomore. □ The sophs are holding a meeting to decide on a plan. □ He's just a soph, so he still might grow a little.

sopping (wet) AND sippy mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also wet.) □ After about six beers, Ralph found himself a little sippy. □ He's soused—you know, sopping wet.

sippy Go to sopping (wet).

sore mod. angry. □ Come on! Don't get sore! I was only kidding. □ She is one sore old lady. You should give her teeth back.

sorehead 1. n. a grumpy person. (Also a term of address.) □ She's sort of a sorehead right now. Wait a day or two and then ask her. □ The boss is a sorehead, but she's all we have. 2. n. a poor loser. □ Don't be a sorehead. You knew what you're getting into. □ Some sorehead at the track tried to punch a cashier.

sorry about that AND sorry 'bout that interj. sorry; whoops. (A gross understatement, said more as a self-deprecating joke than as an apology.) □ You spill hot cocoa on my coat, and all you can say is "Sorry 'bout that"? □ When the passenger stepped on my toe, she said, "Sorry about that."

sorry-ass(ed) 1. mod. sad and depressed. (Usually objectionable.) □ Why do you look so sorry-assed? □ Man, old Charlie was about the most sorry-ass dude you ever saw. 2. mod. worthless; poor quality. (Usually objectionable.) □ This is really a sorry-ass movie. I want my money back. □ How much longer do I have to drive this sorry-ass excuse for an automobile?

sorry 'bout that Go to sorry about that.

sosh [soʃ] n. a (young female) socialite. □ A young sosh in a beemer kept trying to get around me. □ Tiffany looks like a sosh, but she's just a working girl.

so-so 1. mod. average; mediocre. □ It was just so-so. Nothing to write home about. □ I don't need to pay $7.50 to see a so-so movie. 2. mod. tipsy; alcohol intoxicated. □ They were so-so after a while—in front of the television with all that beer and stuff. □ He's so-so, but he can still stand up.

sossled Go to sozzled.

(So,) sue me! tv. So, if you are so bothered or offended, take me into court and sue me. (A way of saying There is nothing you can do about it.) □ You don't like the way I talk? So, sue me!

So's your old man! exclam. The same to you!; Drop dead! (A catchphrase indicating basic disagreement or hostility.) □ BILL: You're acting like an idiot! TOM: So's your old man! □ I don't know what you said, but so's your old man!

(soul) brother n. a black person's male, black friend. □ Another brother took a fall last night. □ Terry's a soul brother, and I'll do anything for him.

soul kiss 1. n. a kiss where the kissers' tongues interact; a French kiss. □ He tried to give me a soul kiss, but I pulled away. □ Yes, a soul kiss sounds silly—till you try it with somebody you really like. 2. in. [for two people] to kiss with interacting tongues. □ They were soul kissing and making noises. □ The creep had bad breath and wanted to soul kiss!

(soul) sister n. a black person's female, black friend. (See also sister.) □ One of the soul sisters dropped by to talk. □ A sister called, but didn't leave her name.

sound off (about something) 1. in. to complain about something; to gripe about something. □ You are always sounding off about something that gripes your soul. □ Just sound off if you've got a beef. 2. in. to speak out of turn about something. □ Who asked you to sound off about this? □ Don't just sound off without raising your hand. 3. in. to announce something. □ Why did you have to go and sound off about the surprise party? □ Keep it a secret. Don't sound off about it.

sounds n. music; records. □ I got some new sounds. Ya wanna come over and listen? □ Man, these sounds are massive!

soup n. nitroglycerin, a liquid explosive. (Underworld.) □ Lefty was a master with the soup till he blew off his hand. □ Take care of that soup and treat it like eggs.

souped up mod. made more powerful. □ That souped up car of John's sure makes a lot of noise. □ Why do all cars driven by males under the age of twenty have to be souped up?

soup sandwich n. something impossibly messy or impossible to deal with. □ You're more trouble than a soup sandwich. □ This whole project is just a soup sandwich. I'll never get it straightened out.

soup something up tv. to increase the power of something. (See also souped up.) □ He souped his car up so it will do nearly 120. □ If only I could soup up this computer to run just a little faster.

Soup's on! in. Dinner is ready. □ Time to eat! Soup's on!

soup-strainer n. a mustache. □ Jerry had a big bushy soup-strainer that he was very proud of. □ It's not a soup-strainer—just a neat little black line.

soupy ['supi] mod. alcohol intoxicated; drunk and vomiting. □ Then he got sort of soupy and broke up the party. □ These young kids tend to get soupy rather than pass out.

sourpuss ['sauɹpʊs] n. a grouchy or frowning person. (See also picklepuss.) □ What a sourpuss! He makes King Kong look sweet. □ Don't be a sourpuss, baby-cakes.

souse [saus] 1. in. to drink excessively; to go on a drinking bout; to get drunk. (From a word meaning "to soak or pickle." See also soused.) □ They sat sousing quietly in the corner. □ Let us retire from the table and souse in the parlor. 2. n. a drinking bout. □ The souse lasted longer than anyone would have thought. □ That was one fine souse we had. 3. n. a drunkard. □ The best thing you can do for a souse like John is to take away his car keys. □ It's hard to live with a souse.

soused mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also souse.) □ We were really soused. □ All we need right now is a soused bus driver.

southern-fried mod. alcohol intoxicated. (An elaboration of fried, referring to fried chicken.) □ Ted and Bill went out and got themselves southern-fried. □ When Bob came home southern-fried, his wife nearly killed him.

southpaw n. a left-handed person. □ Micky's a southpaw and writes sort of funny. □ My sister is a southpaw, but I'm not.

So what? interrog. What does it matter?; What is the point of what you are saying? □ So what if I'm too old? Did that stop Rudolph Drew from trying it? □ I'm a crook. So what?

sozzle ['sazl] in. to drink to excess. (See also sozzled; sozzler.) □ The guys are sozzling over at John's place. □ I wish you'd stop coming home every night and sozzling to oblivion.

sozzled AND sossled; sozzly ['sɒzld AND 'sɒzld, 'sɒzli] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Man, was she sozzled. □ She was so sozzly she didn't even know her name, or my name, or anybody's name.

sozzler ['sɒzlə] n. a drunkard. □ The sozzler leaned against the tavern window. I thought he would break it. □ A sozzler staggered by—reeking of gin.

sozzly Go to sozzled.

space Go to space out.

space cadet 1. n. a person who is always silly or giddy. □ Mom, you are such a space cadet. □ Here comes a space cadet who looks like he has more money than he needs. 2. n. a person who is always high on drugs. □ Bart has been a space cadet since he was twelve. □ The space cadets can usually be found sitting on a bench outside the principal's office.

spaced (out) AND spacy mod. silly; giddy. □ I have such spaced out parents! □ He's so spaced! □ I love my spacy old dad.

space out 1. n. a giddy person. (Usually space-out.) □ Terry is becoming such a space-out! □ What a space out you are! 2. AND space in. to become giddy; to become disoriented. □ She is spacing again. She doesn't even know where she is. □ I spaced out after the long climb.

space someone out tv. to cause someone to become giddy. □ The whole business just spaced me out. □ The spectacle spaced out the entire audience.

spacy Go to spaced (out).

spam 1. n. something disliked, typically, but not necessarily, food. (From the brand name of a canned meat product.) □ I can't eat this spam. It could be spoiled. □ This book is spam! I refuse to read it. 2. n. one or a series of uninvited email messages advertising money-making schemes, pornography, or sales of any kind. □ I never get any real messages. Only spam! □ If I don't recognize the sender, I assume the message is spam and I delete it. 3. tv. to clutter or fill someone's email account with spam (sense 2). □

Some jerk is spamming me with an advertisement for dirty pictures.

spanked n. drunk. □ Those gals are spanked. Who served them all that booze?

spanking new Go to (brand) spanking new.

spare tire 1. n. a thickness in the waist; a roll of fat around one's waist. □ I've got to get rid of this spare tire. □ The spare tire started when I was twenty-six. 2. n. an unneeded person; an unproductive person. □ Gary is a spare tire. Send him home. □ You spare tires over there! Get to work.

sparkler n. a diamond; gemstones. □ Look at the sparklers on that old dame. □ Janice has a new sparkler on her finger.

spastic mod. overly responsive; out of control. □ She can get so spastic when I come in late. □ Tell the spastic jerk to shut up. □ My dad's spastic when it comes to drugs.

spaz [spæz] 1. n. a fit or an attack; a strong reaction to a bad or funny situation. □ My father had a spaz when he heard. □ Take it easy! Don't have a spaz. 2. n. a total jerk; someone who overreacts to something. (Not used for a congenitally spastic condition.) □ Some spaz is in the other room screaming about a stolen car. □ Relax! You don't need to be a spaz.

spaz around in. to waste time; to mess around. □ You kids are always spazzing around. Why don't you get a job? □ We're just spazzing around. Leave us alone.

spaz down in. to relax. □ Spaz down, man! Chill out! □ We tried to get the crowd to spaz down, but they were very excited.

spaz out 1. in. to overreact to something; to become overly excited about something. □ I knew you would spaz out! It's not that bad! □ Come on, don't spaz out! 2. n. an emotional display. (Usually spaz-out.) □ There's no need for a spaz-out! □ She threw a hell of a spaz-out.

speakeasy n. a nightclub during prohibition. □ My grandfather remembers speakeasies. They were pretty crude places. □ You weren't supposed to talk about speakeasies so their locations would remain a secret.

Speak it! exclam. Say it!; You said it!; That's telling them! □ Speak it, sister! Tell him off!

speak of the devil in. said when someone whose name has just been mentioned appears or is heard from. (A catchphrase.) □ And speak of the devil, here's Ted now. □ Speak of the devil, that was Mary on the phone.

speak someone's language tv. to say something that one agrees with or understands. □ I gotcha. Now you're speaking my language. □ Mary speaks Fred's language. They get along fine.

specs [speks] n. eyeglasses; spectacles. □ I broke my specs. □ I need specs to find where I left my specs.

speed 1. n. methamphetamine; amphetamine in general. (Drugs.) □ Speed is a monstrous problem in some cities. □ Kids think that speed won't get them into trouble. 2. in. to use methamphetamine; to be high on methamphetamine or amphetamine. (Drugs.) □ Kids who speed think it is a harmless blow-off. □ If they speed rather than study—speed is a problem.

speedball n. [in baseball] a fast (pitched) ball. □ The pitcher threw a speedball, and I didn't even see it! □ Tom can hit almost any speedball that Mike can throw.

speed demon 1. n. a fast runner; a fast driver. □ Tom is a speed demon. He qualified for the Olympics. □ Watch out, here comes another speed demon! 2. n. a habitual user of methamphetamine. (Drugs.) □ A couple of speed demons mugged the old lady. □ When they are high, most speed demons don't know what they are doing.

speeder 1. n. a speeding ticket. □ The cop that gave Mary a speeder Wednesday gave her another one Friday. □ Actually, that's three speeders in one week counting the one she got Monday. 2. n. an amphetamine or methamphetamine tablet, capsule, or ampoule. (Drugs. See also speed.) □ Somebody dropped some speeders on the floor of the car, and my father

spazzed out. □ Fred took a speeder before the exam, but he went to sleep anyway. 3. AND speedster n. a user of amphetamines or methamphetamine; a person who is hyperactive from amphetamine use. (Drugs.) □ That kid is really hyped up—must be a speeder. □ The speeders can seem crazy when they're on a run.

speed freak AND speedhead n. a drug user who injects methamphetamine; an amphetamine user. (Drugs and general slang.) □ Hank is a speed freak, but he's not on skag. □ Speed freaks, not heroin addicts, account for a high proportion of drug-related crime.

speedhead Go to speed freak.

speed merchant n. someone who does something fast: a runner, pitcher, swimmer, driver, etc. □ Look at her go! What a speed merchant! □ What a pitch! That guy is a speed merchant for sure.

speedster Go to speeder.

spending money n. cash, as opposed to money in the bank. □ I'm a little short of spending money at the present. Could I borrow ten dollars? □ I don't have any spending money either.

spew in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ After dinner, I suddenly had the urge to spew. □ Fred is up in the john spewing like mad.

spew one's guts (out) 1. tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ Fred is spewing his guts out because of that lousy fish you served. □ He's spewing his guts because he has the flu, cabbagehead. 2. tv. to tell everything that one knows; to confess everything. (Underworld.) □ Lefty was sitting there in the cop-shop spewing his guts out about the bank job. □ If he really is spewing his guts, the mob will cancel his Christmas.

spiff n. extra money paid to a salesperson to sell certain merchandise aggressively. (See also push money.) □ The manufacturer supplied a little spiff that even the store manager didn't know about. □ I got about $300 last month in spiff for selling some low-grade shoes.

spiffed out mod. nicely dressed up; decked out. □ I like to get all spiffed out every now and then. □ Wow, you look spiffed out! Where are you going?

spiffed up mod. dressed up, brushed up, and polished up nicely. □ See if you can get yourself a little spiffed up before we get to the front door. We wouldn't want the Wilmington-Thorpes to think you only have one suit. □ The house doesn't have to be too spiffed up for the Franklins. They are used to clutter.

spifflicated AND spificated ['spɪfləkədəd AND 'spɪfəkədəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Mrs. Wilmington-Thorpe drank champagne until she was nearly spifflicated. □ Being spificated on champagne is not as bad as it sounds.

spiffy ['spɪfi] mod. excellent. □ This is a real spiffy place you've got here, Sam. □ Come have a look at my spiffy new car. □ Doesn't look so spiffy to me.

spificated Go to spifflicated.

spike 1. n. a hypodermic needle; a hypodermic syringe and needle; a medicine dropper and a needle. (Drugs.) □ The addict caught some strange disease from a dirty spike. □ What'll I do? I broke my spike. 2. tv. to add ether or alcohol to beer, originally by injecting it through the cork with a hypodermic needle; to add alcohol to a nonalcoholic drink. (From prohibition times. See also spiked.) □ He found a man who would spike his beer for a small fee. □ He spiked the beer with ether, which is a dangerous thing to do. 3. tv. to puncture an idea. □ I explained the plan, but the boss spiked it immediately. □ I hate to see my ideas spiked like that.

spiked 1. mod. having to do with a drink with alcohol added; having to do with a punch with an alcoholic content. □ Is the punch spiked? I want some without. □ We only have spiked punch. □ Bart's breakfast orange juice is usually spiked. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I knew that Mrs. Wilmington-Thorpe was spiked when she belched like a real country thunder-boomer. □ Her old man was just as spiked, and he made worse noises. 3. mod. having to do with hair that stands up straight. □ His spiked hair wouldn't look so bad if it wasn't orange. □ Both orange and spiked is too much. □ Is spiked hair a fad or the way of the future?

spill in. to confess. (Underworld.) □ The cops tried to get her to spill, but she just sat there. □ The gang was afraid she would spill, but she's a tough old thing.

spill one's guts on someone Go to spill one's guts (to someone).

spill one's guts (to someone) AND spill one's guts on someone tv. to tell all; to confess; to pour one's heart out to someone. (See also spew one's guts (out).) □ I had to spill my guts to someone about the broken window.

spill the beans AND spill the works tv. to give away a secret or a surprise. □ There is a surprise party for Heidi on Wednesday. Please don't spill the beans. □ Paul spilled the beans about Heidi's party.

spill the works Go to spill the beans.

spinach n. money. (Because it is green. See also cabbage; lettuce.) □ How much spinach you got on you? □ Look at this! One hundred dollars in good old American spinach!

spin doctor n. someone who provides an interpretation of news or an event in a way that makes the news or event work to the advantage of the entity employing the spin doctor. (Usually in political contexts in reference to manipulating the news.) □ Things were going bad for the president, so he got himself a new spin doctor. □ A good spin doctor could have made the incident far less damaging.

spinner n. a bullet. □ One shot sent a spinner into Lefty's gut. □ You can't buy spinners without a license in this state.

spin one's wheels tv. to waste time; to remain in a neutral position, neither advancing nor falling back. □ I'm just spinning my wheels in this job. I need more training to get ahead. □ The whole project was just spinning its wheels until spring.

spit and polish n. orderliness; ceremonial precision and orderliness. ☐ I like spit and polish. It comes from being in the military. ☐ There is no such thing as too much spit and polish.

Spit it out! exclam. Say it! ☐ Come on, don't be shy! Spit it out! ☐ Say what you have to say and leave. Hurry up! Spit it out!

spizzerinktum [spɪzə'ɪŋktəm] n. energy; vitality. ☐ The kid's got spizzerinktum! I like that. ☐ Put more spizzerinktum into it!

spleef Go to spliff.

spliff AND shpleef; spleef; splim [splɪf AND ʃplɪf, splɪf, splɪm] n. marijuana; a marijuana cigarette; hashish. ☐ They consume an enormous amount of spliff and try to sell it to the tourists. ☐ It's really high-quality splim.

splim Go to spliff.

split in. to leave. ☐ Look at the clock. Time to split. ☐ Let's split. We're late.

split a gut 1. tv. to laugh very hard. ☐ He laughed until he nearly split a gut. ☐ The audience split a gut laughing. 2. tv. to work very hard. ☐ I split a gut to get this place fixed up in a week. ☐ Don't split a gut for me. I love things that are falling apart.

splitting headache n. a severe headache, as if one's head were splitting open. ☐ I'm sorry, I can't. I have a splitting headache. Maybe Fred will play bridge with you. ☐ This splitting headache has been going on for hours.

split up 1. in. to separate. ☐ The two split up and went their separate ways. ☐ They couldn't get along, so they split up. 2. n. an act of separating or breaking up. (Usually split-up.) ☐ Everyone was mentally prepared for the company's split-up. ☐ The split-up caused neither surprise nor grief.

splurge in. to indulge oneself with much spending or eating. ☐ I have to splurge every now and then. I deserve it. ☐ I splurge every weekend.

spoil tv. to kill someone. ☐ It was Ziggy's job to make sure that nobody got close enough to Mr. Big to spoil him. ☐ Rocko was determined to spoil Barlowe.

spoiled rotten mod. indulged in; greatly spoiled. ☐ This kid is spoiled rotten! ☐ I was spoiled rotten when I was a child, so I'm used to this kind of wasteful luxury.

spoiling for a fight in. argumentative; asking for a fight. ☐ They were just spoiling for a fight, and they went outside to settle the matter. ☐ She was grouchy, and you could tell she had been spoiling for a fight all day.

spondulicks AND spondulics; spondulix [span'dulɪks] n. money. ☐ How much spondulicks will this set me back? ☐ I don't have enough spondulix to swing the deal.

spondulics Go to spondulicks.

spondulix Go to spondulicks.

sponge AND sponge 1. in. to drink heavily. ☐ She was sponging like there was no tomorrow. ☐ What can you do with a woman who sits and sponges all day long? 2. n. a drunkard; a tippler. (See also blotter.) ☐ She was a sponge, and she wasn't going to do anything about it. ☐ Is there treatment for sponges like her? 3. n. a parasitic person. ☐ Don't be a sponge. Get your own! ☐ Here comes that sponge, Wally. Hide your wallet, pencils, glasses, and any clothes in his size.

sponged mod. thirsty. ☐ I gotta get a drink, man. I'm sponged!

sponge off someone in. to live off someone; to take advantage of someone by taking food and shelter from them without compensation. ☐ Go get a job! Stop sponging off me!

spoof [spuf] 1. n. a parody. ☐ The first act was a spoof of a Congressional investigation. ☐ The second act was a spoof of the first act. 2. tv. to make a parody of someone or something. ☐ The comedian spoofed the executive branch by sitting in a big chair and going to sleep. ☐ I like to spoof myself. It helps break the ice at parties.

spook 1. tv. to frighten or startle someone or something. (See also spooked.) ☐ Something I did spooked the teller, and she set off the silent alarm. ☐ Don't spook the cattle. They'll stampede. 2. n. a spy; a CIA (U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) agent. ☐ I just learned that my uncle had been a spook for years. ☐ Fred is training to be a spook, but don't tell anybody.

spooked mod. frightened or startled. ☐ The guy looked sort of spooked. He was sweating and panting like someone had scared him to death. ☐ The horse was spooked and rolled its eyes and snorted a lot.

spook factory n. the CIA (U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) near Washington, D.C., where spies are said to be trained. ☐ Tom got a job in the spook factory. ☐ Does the spook factory pay very well?

spoon 1. in. to neck and pet. ☐ They like to go out and spoon under the stars. ☐ Do you remember spooning with me years ago? 2. Go to cokespoon.

spout n. friend; chum. (A term of address.) ☐ Well, sport, looks like we have a little problem here. ☐ Hey, sport, what's new?

spot 1. n. a small drink of liquor. ☐ I'll just have a spot, please. ☐ Just a spot for me, too. 2. n. a nightclub; a night spot. ☐ It was a nice little spot, with a combo and a canary. ☐ We went to a spot with a jukebox for entertainment.

spot market n. the open market where deals are made on the spot. (Securities markets.) ☐ Oil reached nearly twenty-five dollars a barrel on the spot market. ☐ Gold prices on the spot market finally reached $600 per ounce and then promptly collapsed.

spot of lunch n. a small amount of lunch. ☐ How about a spot of lunch? ☐ I had a spot of lunch at my desk, thanks.

spot someone (something) 1. tv. to give an advantage to someone. ☐ I'll spot you twenty points. ☐ No need to spot me. I'm the greatest! 2. tv. to lend someone something. ☐ Can you spot me a few bucks? ☐ I can spot you a whole hundred!

sprain one's ankle tv. to become pregnant. ☐ She has, ah, sprained her ankle. ☐ From the looks of her, she must have sprained her ankle some months ago.

spring chicken n. a young and naive person, especially a young woman. (Usually in the negative.) ☐ Well, I may not be a spring chicken, but I got some spizzerink-tum left. ☐ I am a spring chicken, but I lie about my age to get served in bars.

spring for something AND bounce for something in. to treat (someone) by buying something. (See also pop for something.) ☐ I'm bouncing for pizza. Any takers? ☐ Ralph sprang for drinks, and we all had a great time.

spring someone tv. to get someone out of jail on bond or permanently. ☐ My wife came down and sprung me; otherwise, I'd still be in the slammer. ☐ The guy's mouthpiece tried to spring him, but the DA nixed it.

sprout n. a child. ☐ Where are the sprouts? ☐ A little sprout came up and tried to sell me a ticket to a game.

sprout wings 1. tv. to die and become an angel. ☐ I'm not ready to sprout wings yet. I've got a few more years. ☐ You wanna sprout wings, you just keep talking like that. 2. tv. to be so good as to become an angel. ☐ The kid is not about to sprout wings, but he probably won't get into jail again. ☐ He was so good and helpful, I thought he would sprout wings.

spud [spəd] 1. n. a potato. ☐ I'd like a few more spuds. ☐ Mashed spuds are the best of all. 2. n. vodka. (Presumed to be made from potatoes.) ☐ How about a glass of spud? ☐ She keeps a big jug of spud in the reefer and drinks it like water. 3. n. a vodka drunkard. ☐ That silly spud thinks we can't smell what's on her breath. ☐ The old spud on the third floor fell down a flight or two and broke his hip. 4. n. a short person. (Also a term of address.) ☐ He can jump pretty high for a spud. ☐ Hey, spud! I almost didn't see you!

sponge Go to sponge.

spunk [spʌŋk] n. courage. ☐ Show some spunk. Get in there and stand up for your rights. ☐ I have the spunk, but I don't have the brains.

spunky ['spʌŋki] mod. gutsy; courageous.
 □ I like a spunky girl—one who can really dance. □ The guy's a shrimp, but he's spunky.

square 1. mod. old-fashioned; law-abiding; stodgy. □ Man, you are really square. □ I come from a very square family. 2. n. a person who behaves properly. □ You are a square if I ever saw one. □ Ask that square what her favorite kind of music is. 3. AND square joint n. a tobacco cigarette, compared to a marijuana cigarette. □ You got a square on you? □ I'll take a reefer. I've heard that squares will give you cancer. 4. tv. to settle or to make something right. □ Let's talk about squaring this matter. □ Will twenty bucks square the matter? 5. Go to square (meal).

square apple Go to square john.

squared away mod. straightened out. □ I'm not really squared away on this stuff, but I'm beginning to see the light. □ We'll get everything squared away in a few days.

squared up mod. no longer taking drugs. (Drugs.) □ Walter is squared up now and spends a lot of time trying to help others. □ Max'll never get himself squared up.

square john AND square apple n. someone who obeys the rules; a square. □ Fred is a square john. There's no point in worrying about him. □ All those square apples can take care of themselves.

square john broad n. an honest, straightforward woman. (Underworld.) □ Betty is okay. She's a real square john broad. □ We need a square john broad to give this place a look of respectability.

square joint Go to square.

square (meal) n. a good and nutritious meal. (Always with quantifier when square is used without meal.) □ I need three squares a day—at least. □ The old soak looks like he could use a square meal.

square off in. to prepare to fight; to prepare to argue or compete. □ They were squaring off, so I asked them if they'd like to step outside. □ Let's square off and debate this thing properly.

square peg (in a round hole) n. someone who does not fit in. □ I'm a square peg in a round hole. Maybe I am meant to be eccentric. □ Kelly seems to be a square peg. What'll we do with him?

square shooter n. an honest person. (See also straight shooter.) □ I trust Sam. He's a square shooter. □ He wouldn't do anything shabby. He's a square shooter.

square with someone in. to become honest with someone. □ I want you to square with me. Tell the truth this time. □ Okay, I'll square with you. Terry did it.

squat 1. in. to sit (down). □ Come on in and squat for a while. □ Squat over here by the fire. 2. n. nothing. (See also did-dly-squat.) □ I worked all day on this, and she didn't pay me squat. □ I earn just a little more than squat, but I am very pleased with my life.

squawk 1. in. to complain. □ Come on, don't squawk all the time! □ Some people squawk because they don't have anything else to do. 2. n. a complaint. □ Here's another squawk from the lady on the third floor. □ I have a list of squawks from the mayor's office. 3. tv. & in. to reveal or blab something. □ Watch Tracy. She may decide to squawk. □ She squawked the whole business to the fuzz.

squawk box n. a public address system; a loudspeaker, especially if installed in a box or other housing. □ A raspy voice came over the squawk box announcing the arrival of what we had been waiting for. □ The squawk box was strangely quiet through the night.

squeaky clean mod. very clean. (Like a clean glass that squeaks when one rubs a finger on it.) □ I got this floor squeaky clean. Don't spill anything on it. □ Somebody tracked mud on my squeaky clean floor!

squeal in. to inform (someone about something). □ Who squealed to the cops? □ Tracy squealed on us.

squealer 1. n. an informer. (Underworld.) □ Tracy is a terrible squealer. □ Some squealer let the cops know what was going to happen. 2. n. a pig; a piglet. □ They sent their squealers to market at just the right time. □ I was horrified to learn that bacon comes from squealers.

squeeze 1. n. liquor. (Black. See also grape(s).) □ Let's stop on the way and get some squeeze. □ Freddie, where is your squeeze? 2. tv. to put pressure on someone. □ The mob began to squeeze Bart for money. □ The tight schedule squeezed us all. 3. n. a tight situation; a situation where pressure is felt. □ I'm in sort of a squeeze. Can you wait a month? □ When the squeeze is over, we'll be able to get squared away. 4. n. one's lover. (See also main squeeze.) □ I'll see if my squeeze wants to go. □ Get your squeeze, and let's go sink a few.

(squeeze-)box n. an accordion. (See also groan box.) □ My brother plays the squeeze-box—not very well, but who can tell? □ The band consisted of drums, clarinet, and a box. A real winner.

squeeze play n. a special play in baseball where there is a runner on third base and the batter bunts. (With an early start the runner may reach home plate.) □ They pulled off that squeeze play like the professionals they are. □ The crowd roared as the squeeze play paid off.

squib [skwɪb] n. a notice; a small advertisement. □ There was a squib in the paper about your project. □ I read a squib about that yesterday.

squid [skwɪd] n. an earnest student; a collegiate wimp. (Collegiate. Refers to sliminess.) □ This whole campus is populated by squids and nerds. □ I'm no squid. I went out on a date last month.

squiff [skwɪf] n. a drunkard. (See also on the squiff.) □ It's no fun living with a squiff. □ Is there anything that can be done for a confirmed squiff?

squiffed AND squiffy [skwɪft AND 'skwɪfi] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was a little squiffed, but still entertaining. □ The hostess was so squiffed she could hardly stand.

squiff out in. to collapse from drink. □ Hank squiffed out at midnight, right on the dot. □ She kept from squiffing out because she didn't trust her date.

squiffy Go to squiffed.

squiggle ['skwɪɡl] n. a wiggly mark. □ What does this squiggle mean? □ That squiggle is my signature.

squirrel 1. n. a strange or eccentric person. □ Martin can be such a squirrel. □ Freddie is a squirrel, but I love him. 2. n. a car engine's horsepower. □ What kind of squirrels you got under the hood? □ I got 440 squirrels and a gaggle of carburetors.

squirrel-food n. a nut; a loony person. □ The driver of the car—squirrel-food, for sure—just sat there smiling. □ Some squirrel-food came over and asked for a sky hook.

squirrel out of something in. to wiggle out of something; to manage to extricate oneself from a situation one does not wish to be in. □ He will do anything he can to squirrel out of going to the dance. □ Don't try to squirrel out of it. Go through with it.

squirrel something away tv. to hide something in reserve. □ Here is some food. I squirreled it away in my suitcase. □ She had squirreled away quite a fortune.

squirrely mod. loony. □ Who wrote this squirrely play? □ Good old squirrely Tom! Isn't he a wonder? □ No, he's just squirrely.

squirt 1. n. a small person; a young child, especially a young boy. (Also a term of address.) □ Hey, squirt, come over here. □ He sure is a cute little squirt. 2. n. beer or champagne. □ I like squirt and things. It tickles my nose. □ How about a nice bubbly glass of squirt?

the squirts n. a case of diarrhea. □ He's got the squirts and can't go out. □ What do you take for the squirts?

squooshy ['skwʊʃɪ AND 'skwʊʃi] mod. soft; squishy. □ I can't stand squooshy food! □ Mush is supposed to be squooshy. □ I like to walk barefooted in squooshy mud.

stache Go to stash.

stacked mod. having to do with a person with a sexually attractive body, usually a female. □ Wow, is she ever stacked! □ I like to see stacked dames like that starting to do business in this place.

stack the deck tv. to arrange things secretly for a desired outcome. (From card playing where a cheater may arrange the order of the cards that are to be dealt to the players.) □ The president stacked the deck so I would be appointed head of the finance committee. □ It's not fair when somebody stacks the deck.

stag 1. mod. having to do with someone going to a party without a date. (Originally said of a male.) □ He decided to ignore her and go stag. □ A bunch of the guys got together and went stag to the dance. 2. mod. having to do with a gathering for men only. □ The party is stag, so Tom and I are going together. □ Stag parties cease to be fun after a while.

staggers 1. n. liquor. □ He couldn't seem to get enough staggers. □ She poured herself a huge glass of staggers and mumbled something about cough medicine. 2. the staggers n. drunkenness; the delirium tremens. (Always with the in this sense.) □ He seems to have a little touch of the staggers. □ Larry's laid up with the staggers again.

stag line n. a line of dateless men at a dance. □ She looked over the stag line and saw nobody she knew. □ The guys in the stag line looked so forlorn. She suddenly wanted to do something to make them all happy.

stag-party n. a party for men only. (Thought to be raunchy.) □ Sally was hired to dance at a stag-party. □ They hired a stripper for the stag-party—you know, the kind that jumps out of a cake.

stakeout 1. n. a person who is positioned to observe someone or something. (See also stake someone or something out.) □ The stakeout stuck out like a sore thumb—standing there under the street-light reading a paper. □ The stakeout was one of Barlowe's best operatives. 2. n. a (police) assignment where someone is positioned to observe someone or something. □ The two top cops were out on a stakeout. □ The stakeout at the warehouse backfired. They only found cats.

stake someone or something out 1. tv. to position a person so that someone or something can be observed or followed. □ The cops staked the car out and made the arrest. □ Barlowe staked out the apartment building and watched patiently for an hour. 2. tv. to position a person to observe someone or something. □ He staked his best operative out in front of the building. □ We staked out two men to keep watch.

stake someone to something 1. tv. to lend or give someone money to buy something. □ Can you stake me to a decent meal? □ Stake the man to a meal and a flop, and he'll tell us what we want to know. 2. tv. to treat someone to something. □ Can I stake you to a drink to celebrate? □ Let me stake you to a big ice cream cone.

stale drunk n. a long-standing and frequently renewed drunken state. □ The guy's on a stale drunk. He is a mess. □ Are you on a stale drunk again, or is this the same one?

stallion n. a tall, good-looking woman. □ Dana is really a stallion! □ Who is the stallion with that dude?

stamping ground n. one's favorite or customary location. □ Adamsville is my old stamping ground. I was born there, you know. □ I like to go back and look at my old stamping ground every now and then.

standee n. someone who must stand (at some event). □ There were about forty standees in addition to the full house. □ Can I get in as a standee, or do I have to wait for the next showing?

stand-in n. a substitute; a temporary replacement. □ I was a stand-in for the lead soprano, who had the sniffles. □ The audience booed the stand-in. They had paid to hear a star.

standoffish [stænd'ɔfɪʃ] mod. aloof. □ Bob is sort of standoffish until he gets to know you. □ Don't be so standoffish! Join in the fun. □ I am a standoffish guy.

stand-out n. an extraordinary thing or person. □ Bob is a real stand-out in our bowling league. □ This car is a real stand-out as a speed machine.

stand pat (on something) in. to stick firmly to one's position or opinions. □ I am going to stand pat on this issue. □ I thought you would stand pat in the absence of new information.

stand someone up tv. to break a date by not showing up. □ She stood him up, and he was really angry. □ He stood up his date while he played basketball with the guys.

stand tall in. to be brave and proud. □ I can still stand tall. I'm innocent. □ Our athletes stand tall in the knowledge that they did their best.

stand there with one's bare face hanging out in. to stand someplace looking helpless and stupid. □ Say something. Don't just stand there with your bare face hanging out. □ She just stood there with her bare face hanging out while they took away everything she owned.

stanza ['stænzə] n. an inning in baseball or some other division of a ball game. □ He's doing better than he was in the last stanza. □ Jerry Clay is pitching again in this stanza.

starched AND starchy mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also stiff.) □ Man, was he starched! □ No, he wasn't quite stiff, but he was starched.

starchy Go to starched.

stash 1. AND stache n. a mustache. □ Jerry has this enormous stash that he keeps waxed and trimmed. □ I cut my stash off because it was too much trouble to remember not to cut it off. 2. tv. to hide something (somewhere). □ Stash this under the chair until I can think of a place to put it. □ Fred stashed his coat in a heap in the corner. 3. n. a concealed supply of drugs, especially marijuana; drugs and equipment to use them stored in a secret place. (Drugs.) □ Albert's stash was never located by the fuzz. □ My stash is down to nothing.

stat [stæt] 1. n. a thermostat. (See also stats.) □ Who turned down the stat? □ I'm afraid you need a new stat. 2. AND STAT mod. a medical notation meaning "immediately." (From Latin statim "immediately.") □ Run these tests stat! □ The order is marked stat, so do it now.

static n. complaints. □ I don't expect any static because of the noise. I warned the neighbors about the party. □ Is this guy giving you any static?

stats [stæts] n. statistics. □ They're working out the stats now. □ The stats are expected to show that the trade balance is growing steadily worse.

stay loose Go to hang loose.

Stay tuned. 1. sent. Stay tuned in to this radio or television station. (A formula uttered before a commercial.) □ I'll be right back after these announcements. Stay tuned. □ Stay tuned. Back in a minute. 2. sent. Continue to pay attention to this matter.; Watch for further developments. (From sense 1.) □ Things are developing rapidly in this area. Stay tuned. □ Stay tuned. Pending legislation could change all this.

steady n. a boyfriend or girlfriend. □ She showed up with Tom, her steady for the last few months. □ My steady is laid up with a cold. I'll come alone.

a steal n. a bargain. □ At this price, it's a steal. □ This car wasn't exactly a steal at this price, but it's still a good value.

steam 1. tv. to anger someone. □ She steamed him by being two hours late. □ The prof steamed the class with the long assignment. 2. in. to be angry. □ She was absolutely steaming. □ They steamed for a while and then did as they were told.

steamed (up) 1. mod. angry. □ Now, now, don't get so steamed up! □ She is really massively steamed. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated and fighting. □ He was really steamed—and could hardly stand up. □ By midnight, Larry was too steamed to drive home, and he had to spend the night.

steamroller tv. to force something to be approved; to force something to happen.

□ He plans to steamroller this bill through Congress, but it just won't work. □ When you can't steamroller something, try soft soap.

steam someone's beam tv. to make someone angry. □ Being stood up really steams my beam! □ Come on, don't steam your beam. Remember how hard times are now.

steam someone up 1. tv. to get someone excited. □ Steam yourselves up and get in there and win this game! □ The coach can really steam up those guys. 2. tv. to get someone angry. (See also steamed (up).) □ This whole mess steamed me up but good. □ The long critical statement simply steamed up the opposition.

steam up in. to drink heavily; to get drunk. (See also steamed (up).) □ Fred and Mike were steaming up in the back room. □ Let's go down to the tavern and steam up, okay?

steamy mod. lewd; sensuous; passionate. □ They cut a couple of steamy scenes out of the movie because of complaints. □ Hank and Bess were having a steamy session on the couch. □ The session was really steamy.

steelo n. style. □ Man, she's got steelo! □ What you lack is steelo! Style! Class! You are dull!

steenth [stintθ] n. one sixteenth, used in quoting securities prices. (Securities markets. See also teenie.) □ This issue was only up a few steenth for the whole week. □ Acme Systems was down a steenth at midday.

steep mod. [of a price] high; expensive. □ Isn't that price sort of steep? □ I don't have steep prices here. □ Their prices are pretty steep, but their goods are of high quality.

stellar ['stɛlə] mod. excellent; grand. □ It was a stellar performance, and the applause was thunderous. □ Ronald Simpson gave us a stellar characterization of Boris, but the chorus was a disappointment. □ The chorus was stellar!

stems n. legs. □ Look at the stems on that dame! □ My feet are sore, and my stems ache all the time.

step off the curb in. to die. □ Ralph almost stepped off the curb during his operation. □ I'm too young to step off the curb.

Step on it! in. Hurry up! (As if one were pressing down on the gas pedal. Not limited to vehicles, though.) □ We're late. Come on! Step on it!

step out on someone in. to betray one's lover by going out with someone else. □ Hank has been stepping out on Bess, and she doesn't know it yet. □ She would never step out on him.

step outside in. to leave the present area and go to another place, presumably to fight. □ The two—who had been arguing—stepped outside to settle the matter. □ Do you want to step outside, smart ass?

stepped on mod. having to do with diluted drugs. (Drugs.) □ That smack you bought was really stepped on. □ This stuff is too stepped on. It's sugar, and it won't do.

step right up in. come forward and do not be bashful. □ There are still a few of these left. Step right up and get yours. □ Step right up and buy a ticket to the greatest show on earth!

stern n. the posterior. □ The little airplane crashed right into the stern of an enormous lady who didn't even notice. □ Haul your stern over here and sit down.

stet [stet] mod. just as it was originally. (Proofreading.) □ No, mark that one stet. It was right the way it was. □ This says stet, but it's wrong. □ This one should look just like the other one, so mark one stet and ignore the other.

stew 1. n. a drinking bout. □ One more stew like that and I'll need a vacation to recover. □ These frequent stews must stop. You will ruin your health. 2. n. a drunkard. □ Who is that stew in the corner? □ There are three stews sleeping in the alley. 3. Go to stewed (up). 4. n. a stewardess or steward on an airplane. □ The stew brought the coffee and rolls. □ My sister is a stew for a major airline. 5. in. to fret. □ It's bad, but don't stew about it. □ I spent most of last night stewing about my job. 6. n. a fretful state. □ Don't work yourself into a stew. □ Look at her face.

That is the result of a dreadful stew. I wonder what's wrong.

stew bum n. a drunkard; an alcoholic. □ You're going to end up a stew bum if you don't lay off the moonshine. □ Those stew bums could use a bath.

stewed to the ears Go to stewed to the gills.

stewed to the gills AND stewed to the ears mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Why does a grown man have to get stewed to the gills every night of his life if there isn't something a little wrong with him? □ Here's old Charlie—stewed to the ears, as always.

stewed (up) AND stew mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also sense 1 for stew.) □ Gary was too stewed to remember his name. □ The kid was stewed up and scared to death of what his parents were going to do to him.

stick 1. n. a baseball bat. (Baseball.) □ He started to run and tripped over the stick. □ He holds the stick up higher than most batters. 2. n. a pool cue. □ He drew the stick back slowly, sighted again, and gave the cue ball a sharp knock. □ The guy was so mad he broke the stick over his knee! 3. n. a golf club. □ These aren't my sticks, and you aren't my caddy. What's going on around here? □ I wanted a new set of sticks for Christmas, but I got a snowmobile instead. 4. n. the lever that controls the horizontal and vertical surfaces of the tail of an aircraft. □ The pilot pulled back on the stick, and the plane did nothing—being that he hadn't even started the engine or anything. □ You pull back on the stick, which lowers the tail and raises the nose, and up you go. 5. n. a gearshift lever in a car. (See also stick shift.) □ I keep reaching for the stick in a car with automatic. □ Put the stick in reverse and move back slowly. 6. n. a drunkard. □ Some stick threw up on my car. □ Get that stick out of here before he makes a mess. 7. n. a person's legs. (Always plural.) □ Get those sticks moving! Get over here now! □ He's got good sticks under him, but he won't use them. 8. the sticks n. a rural or backwoods area. (Always with the in this sense and always plural.) □ I hated living in the sticks. □ You hear a lot about how things are in the sticks. They're worse.

stick around in. to remain nearby. □ Stick around. Things are bound to get better. □ I think if you'll stick around, you'll get a seat sooner or later.

Stick 'em up! Go to Hands up!

sticker shock n. the shock at seeing just how much something new, usually an automobile, costs as determined by looking at the price tag or sticker. □ I went to a car dealer today, and I am still suffering from sticker shock. □ If sticker shock is getting you down, think about getting a used car.

stick in the mud n. a dull and old-fashioned person. □ Don't be such an old stick in the mud. □ Some stick in the mud objected to the kind of music we wanted to play in church.

stick it to someone tv. to give someone a problem; to confront someone. □ They stuck it to me about the stopped up drain. □ He was late, and the boss really stuck it to him.

stick like shit to a shovel Go to cling like shit to a shovel.

stick man n. a police patrol officer (who carries a stick). □ The stick man is due here in about three minutes. Hurry. □ I was a stick man for a few years till my feet went bad.

stick one's nose in (where it's not wanted) Go to put one's nose in (where it's not wanted).

stick out like a sore thumb in. to be very obvious. □ That zit really sticks out like a sore thumb. □ Do you think I would stick out like a sore thumb at the party if I wear this coat?

sticks Go to stick.

stick shift 1. mod. having to do with a nonautomatic transmission or a car that has one. □ I prefer a stick shift car—I don't know why. □ The stick shift models are cheaper—that's why. □ This one's stick shift. 2. n. a nonautomatic transmission.

□ I can't drive a stick shift! □ My husband took the other car and stuck me with the stick shift.

stick someone with something tv. to burden someone with something. □ Please don't stick me with the stick shift again. □ He left town and stuck me with the bill.

sticktoitiveness [stɪk'tʊɪtɪvnəs] n. tenacity. □ The kid has sticktoitiveness. I like that in a kid. □ If I had more sticktoitiveness, maybe I could get a job.

stickum ['stɪkəm] 1. n. glue. □ Put some stickum on this paper and paste it up where it can be seen. □ There's no stickum left on this stamp. 2. n. any thick and sticky substance, especially hair dressing. (See also slickum.) □ Use some stickum on your hair! □ He uses too much stickum on his hair.

sticky 1. mod. gooey. (Standard English.) □ This stuff sure is sticky. □ What is this sticky stuff on my shoe? Oh, no! 2. mod. chancy; awkward. □ Things began to get a little sticky, and Barlowe began to move toward the door. □ When the going got sticky, Freddy disappeared. 3. mod. sentimental. □ Things were getting a little sticky the more Harriet drank. She tried to kiss me, and I left. □ There's a sticky part in the movie, but other than that it's pretty good. 4. mod. having to do with hot and humid weather. □ It's so sticky today! □ I can't take another sticky day like this.

sticky fingers n. a tendency to steal. □ Bruno has sticky fingers and likes wallets especially. □ Watch these young kids with sticky fingers who come in here "just looking."

stiff 1. AND stiffed mod. alcohol intoxicated; dead drunk. □ Kelly was too stiff to find his keys. □ She knows how to stop drinking before she gets stiff. 2. n. a drunkard. □ Some stiff staggered by—belching clouds of some beery smell. □ The guy's a stiff, and you want to run him for mayor? Even in this town that's going too far. 3. mod. dead. (Originally underworld.) □ He's stiff. There's nothing that can be done. □ Yeah, he's stiff. Don't hit him no more.

4. n. a corpse. (Underworld.) □ They pulled another stiff out of the river last night. Looks like another mob killing. □ They took me into a room full of stiffs to identify Rocko's bod. 5. n. a fellow worker; a fellow tramp. (Originally hobos.) □ He's just another working stiff like me. □ This stiff wants some help finding a flop for the night. 6. tv. to fail to tip someone who expects it. □ Ya know, you can tell right away when a guy's gonna stiff you—ya just know. □ I guess I get stiffed two—three times a day. 7. tv. to cheat someone. □ The clown selling hot dogs stiffed me for about forty cents. □ I really got stiffed on that deal. Look at this cheap junk.

stiffed Go to stiff.

sting 1. tv. to cheat or swindle someone; to overcharge someone. □ That street merchant stung me, but good. □ They are likely to sting you in any of those hockshops. 2. n. a well-planned scheme to entrap criminals. □ The sting came off without a hitch. □ It was a well-planned sting and shouldn't have failed. 3. tv. to entrap and arrest someone. □ The feebies stung the whole gang at once. □ "We've been stung!" they hollered.

stinger n. the drawback; the catch; the hitch. □ Now, here's the stinger. □ Sounds good, but what's the stinger?

stink 1. in. to be repellent. □ This whole setup stinks. □ Your act stinks. Try another agent. 2. n. a commotion. (See also raise a stink (about someone or something).) □ The stink you made about money has done no good at all. You're fired. □ One more stink like that and out you go.

stinker 1. n. an unpleasant or wicked person. □ Jerry is a real stinker. Look what he did! □ What stinker messed up my desk? 2. n. a serious problem. □ This whole business is a real stinker. □ What a stinker of a problem.

stinking 1. Go to stinking (drunk). 2. mod. lousy; rotten. □ What a stinking mess you've got yourself into. □ That was a mean stinking thing to do. Really stinking!

stinking (drunk) mod. alcohol intoxicated.

□ He was really stinking. □ She came within an inch of getting stinking drunk.

stinking rich mod. very rich. □ I'd like to be stinking rich for the rest of my life. □ Tiffany is stinking rich, and she acts like it.

stinking with something mod. with lots of something. □ Mr. Wilson is just stinking with dough. □ Those guys are stinking with grass.

stink on ice in. to be really rotten. (So rotten as to reek even when frozen.) □ This show stinks on ice. □ The whole idea stank on ice.

stinkpot 1. n. a baby with a dirty diaper. (Also a term of address.) □ Jimmy's a stinkpot. Better change him. □ Come here, you little stinkpot. I'll fix you. 2. n. anything smelly. □ What are you barbecuing in this old stinkpot? □ Why don't you drive this stinkpot into a service station and get it tuned? 3. n. a motorboat. (Because the engine smells bad, especially when compared to a sailboat.) □ Those guys in their stinkpots sure make a lot of noise. □ Those stinkpots just have to be polluting the lake.

stinky mod. bad. □ That was a stinky thing to do. □ You have a very stinky attitude. Really stinky.

stir n. prison. (Underworld.) □ I can't stand being in stir! □ Stir is very dull—and dangerous.

stir crazy mod. anxious and mentally disturbed from being confined, as in prison. (See also stir.) □ I was going stir crazy in my little room, so I moved to a bigger place. □ I get sort of stir crazy in the winter.

a stitch 1. n. a very funny person. □ Harry is a stitch. What a sense of humor! □ Clare is a stitch, too. Her jokes can slay you. 2. n. a sharp pain, usually in the side. □ I got a stitch and had to drop out of the marathon. □ A stitch in the side can be very painful.

stocking-stuffer n. a small gift that is suitable for putting inside a Christmas stocking. □ This will make the perfect stocking- stuffer. □ I got some little stocking-stuffers for the kids.

stogie ['stogi] n. a cigar. □ Then this guy pulls out a big stogie and starts to smoke it right there in the restaurant. □ Some activist type tried to get the customers to walk out if the manager didn't make the jerk put out his stogie.

stoked (on someone or something) mod. excited by someone or something. (See also stokin'.) □ We were stoked on Mary. She is the greatest. □ Everyone is stoked on spring. □ Now, don't get too stoked, you are the one who has to run.

stoked out mod. exhausted. □ I ran all the way and got stoked out. □ Alex is totally stoked out.

stokin' mod. excellent; wild. □ That car is really stokin'. □ We had a stokin' time at Fred's house.

stomach tv. to tolerate someone or something. (Usually negative.) □ Ziggy couldn't stomach the opera, and he left after the first ten minutes. □ I can't stomach movies like that.

stomp (on) someone tv. & in. to beat someone; to misuse someone. □ We are gonna stomp you guys next game. □ One team stomped on the other so hard and fast, the scoreboard couldn't keep up.

stone mod. completely; totally. (See additional examples in the following entries.) □ This lecture is stone dull. □ I am stone mad at you.

stone blind mod. heavily alcohol intoxicated. □ Jerry drank the sauce till he was stone blind. □ When he was stone blind, he drank some more.

stone broke mod. completely broke. □ I'm sorry, I'm stone broke. Can I send you a check? □ What could I do? She was stone broke.

a stone cold fox n. a very fine and sexy woman. (Streets. See also fox.) □ That Veronica is one stone cold fox, right? □ That dame is a stone cold fox. What's her phone number?

stone (cold) sober mod. absolutely sober.

□ I am stone cold sober, or I will be by morning anyway. □ I found the secret to being stone sober. Don't drink.

stone dead mod. dead; unquestionably dead; long dead. □ The cat was stone dead and stiff as a board by the time we got to him. □ Old Tom is stone dead and in the ground.

stoned (out) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Fred is really stoned out. □ I have never seen anybody so stoned who could still talk.

stoned out of one's gourd Go to stoned out of one's head.

stoned out of one's head AND stoned out of one's gourd mod. under the effects of marijuana. □ Tiffany was stoned out of her head and started giggling.

stoned out of one's squash mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Tracy will drink a little now and then, but she never gets stoned out of her squash. □ Well, she was stoned out of her squash last night!

stoned silly mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ I hate to get stoned silly in public. At home—ah, that's a different matter. □ He got stoned silly at the rally, and for all I know is still there on the floor in the corner. stone fox n. an attractive woman; a very sexy woman. □ She is a stone fox if I ever saw one. □ Who is that stone fox I saw you with last night?

stone groove n. something really cool; a fine party or concert. □ This affair is not what I would call a stone groove. Stone beige, maybe. □ Ted's do was a stone groove.

stones 1. n. the testicles. (Also a standard English euphemism. See also rocks.) □ He got hit in the stones. □ You scared me so much, I almost lost my stones. 2. mod. courage; bravado. □ Hey, man, you got no stones! □ Come on, Wally, show some stones!

stone sober Go to stone (cold) sober.

stonewall 1. tv. to obstruct something or someone. □ And again, the mayor tried to stonewall the investigation. □ If you continue to stonewall, we'll call in the FBI.

2. n. an obstructionist act. □ His answer to the committee was another stonewall that caught them all by surprise. □ The stonewall they were faced with was almost too much.

stonkered ['stɒŋkəd] 1. mod. killed. □ The car crashed into him and he was stonkered for sure. □ He was stonkered before the plane hit the ground. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ My buddy here is stonkered and needs a ride, and can I have one, too? □ Wally was stonkered beyond any help.

stooge [studʒ] 1. n. someone's pawn; someone controlled or maneuvered by someone else. □ I'm not going to be your stooge! □ The guy's a stooge for the mob's Mr. Big. Ignore him. 2. in. to work as someone's underling; to serve as someone's pawn. □ I'm not gonna stooge for you, no sirree! □ You will do what I tell you, and if it's stooging you will do it, and you will smile and say thank you.

stoolie Go to stool (pigeon).

stool (on someone) in. to inform (on someone). □ Tracy would stool on anybody, even her own mother. □ Somebody stooled and ruined the whole layout.

stool (pigeon) AND stoolie ['stul 'pidʒən AND 'stuli] n. an informer. (Originally underworld.) □ Some stool spilled the works to the boys in blue. □ There's nothing I hate worse than a stoolie.

stoop Go to stupe.

stop on a dime in. to stop immediately. □ This thing will stop on a dime. □ Imagine a bus that could stop on a dime.

Stop the music! exclam. Stop!; Stop whatever is happening! (From an old radio game show called Stop the Music!) □ Stop the music! I have an announcement. □ "Stop the music!" hollered the conductor, making a little joke.

storked mod. pregnant. □ She got herself good and storked. Now what? □ I hear that Tracy is storked again.

story stock n. shares in a company that are bought because of an appealing story about the company. □ I never buy a story stock. By the time I hear about it, it's already gone up as much as it ever will. □ Acme Widgets is another story stock that I advise all my clients to buy.

Stow it! exclam. Shut up! □ Okay, stow it! I've heard enough. □ Stow it! That is enough of your applesauce.

stozzled ['stəzld] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ My buddy is too stozzled to drive home. Can you give him a lift? □ Marty can drink and drink and never get stozzled or even tipsy.

str8 mod. straight. (Streets.) □ Now tell it to me str8!

straddle the fence tv. to support both sides of an issue. □ The mayor is straddling the fence on this issue, hoping the public will forget it. □ The legislator wanted to straddle the fence until the last minute, and that alone cost her a lot of votes.

straight 1. mod. honest; unembellished. □ This is the straight truth. □ Have I ever been anything but straight with you? 2. n. a tobacco cigarette; a tobacco cigarette butt. (As opposed to a marijuana cigarette. See also slim.) □ No, I want a straight. That spliff makes me sneeze. □ Can I bum a straight off you? 3. mod. having to do with undiluted liquor. □ I'll take mine straight. □ Make one straight with a little ice. 4. mod. relieved and satisfied by a dose of drugs. (Drugs.) □ It only takes a few bucks and a little time to get straight. □ She will be straight for a few hours, and then the same struggle all over again—all through the night. 5. mod. off drugs; no longer addicted to drugs. □ I'm straight now, and I'm gonna stay that way. □ I'm a straight guy. □ See how long you can stay straight, how 'bout it? 6. n. a square person (who does not use drugs, etc.). □ The guy's a straight. He's gonna turn us over to the cops! □ The straights are putting pressure on city hall to clean up this neighborhood. 7. n. a nonhomosexual; a heterosexual. (Often from the homosexual point of view.) □ Walter invited a few straights to the affair, just to keep things calm. 8. mod. not homosexual; not having a homosexual orientation. □ He wandered into a straight bar by mistake. 9. mod. excellent. □ This news is truly straight and I am happy to hear it. □ You are a straight G.

straight arrow n. an honest person; a law-abiding citizen. (See also straight shooter.) □ Wally is really a straight arrow at heart—as long as he's not around Max. □ Max is not a straight arrow. Slime is more like it.

straight dope n. the true information. □ He gave us the straight dope. □ I want the straight dope. I can take it.

straighten up and fly right in. to get serious and start behaving properly. □ It's time for you to straighten up and fly right! □ Straighten up and fly right before you get into difficulty.

straight-faced mod. with a serious, unsmiling face. □ Mary couldn't stay straight-faced very long. It was just too funny. □ He was a very straight-faced prof, but he has a tremendous sense of humor.

straight from the horse's mouth mod. directly from the source. (As if a racehorse were giving racing tips.) □ Of course it's true. I got it straight from the horse's mouth. □ This came straight from the horse's mouth. It's Zeerocks Copy in the sixth race.

straight from the shoulder mod. very direct, without attenuation or embellishment. □ Okay, I'll give it to you straight from the shoulder. □ Right straight from the shoulder: clean out your desk; you're through.

straight low n. the absolute truth; the true lowdown. (Prisons.) □ Can you give me the straight low on this mess? □ Nobody ain't gonna tell no warden the straight low; you can be sure of that.

straight man n. someone who sets up jokes or gags so that someone else can say the punch line. □ I need a straight man to pick up on all my jokes. □ I'm tired of being a straight man for a has-been comic.

straight shooter n. an honest person. (See also straight arrow.) □ I trust Mike; he's a straight shooter. □ We need a straight shooter in office who will work for the people rather than some political party.

straight talk n. direct and honest talk. □ It's about time for a little straight talk around here. □ If they want straight talk and can handle straight talk, give 'em straight talk.

straight up 1. mod. upright. □ A fine guy—really straight up. □ She is one of the most straight up brokers in town. 2. mod. without ice; neat. □ I'll have a bourbon, straight up, please. □ No, not straight up. Just a little ice. 3. mod. sunny-side up; having to do with eggs cooked with yellow yolks facing straight up. □ Two eggs, straight up, and a cup of coffee. □ I like my eggs straight up, but the white part has to be cooked solid.

strange bird Go to odd bird.

strap n. an athlete, not necessarily male. (From jockstrap.) □ A whole gang of straps came in the bar and ordered milk. □ The guy's a strap all right, but he's not dumb.

straphanger n. a subway passenger. □ I didn't think I could get used to being a straphanger. □ Straphangers learn to blot out their surroundings.

strapped 1. mod. broke; short of money. □ I'm sorry I can't pay you right now. I'm strapped. □ They're really strapped for money at the present time. 2. mod. wearing a gun holster. □ Be careful. He's strapped. I see it under his jacket.

strap someone with someone or something tv. to burden someone with someone or something. (Often passive.) □ Don't you try to strap me with your baby brother! □ She was strapped with too many bills to pay each month.

straw 1. n. marijuana. (Drugs.) □ He stood right on the corner, selling straw by the handful from a bucket at his feet—and no- body even called the cops. □ This straw is not the best quality I've seen. 2. n. papers for rolling marijuana cigarettes. (Drugs.) □ I need some straw. □ I can't manage the straw with one hand. How do these cowboys do it?

strawberry n. a pimple from drinking excessively. (See also toddy blossom.) □ His disability made itself manifest by the occasional strawberry. □ That's a fine strawberry on your snoot.

straw boss n. a foreman; anyone who is second in command. □ The straw boss gave the order, and off we went. □ I don't mind being a straw boss as long as they pay me.

streak 1. in. to move rapidly from one place to another. □ The train streaked into the station and came to a stop just inches from the end of the track. □ I've got to streak over to the library in a big hurry.

2. in. to run about in a public place naked. □ This kid was streaking back and forth until the cops caught him. □ He streaked on a dare. 3. tv. to grace or ornament a public place or event with a naked run. □ Charles streaked the baseball game, but nobody noticed him. □ I wanted to streak her party but decided against it. 4. n. a naked run in a public place. (See also streaker.) □ There was a streak at the end of the game, but people were leaving then and didn't see it. □ That was no streak; that was the coach in his long underwear being chased by the owner of the team. 5. n. an exciting time; a wild party. □ That rally was a streak! □ We had a streak at Tom's.

streaker n. someone who runs naked in public places. □ The streaker ran through a glass door and was severely injured. □ Streakers seemed to take over the whole country in 1973.

the street 1. n. the real, free world, as opposed to prison. □ The street just isn't the same as stir. □ It's good to be back on the street. 2. n. Wall Street in New York City. (Usually capitalized.) □ The Street doesn't seem to believe the policymakers in Washington. □ If you want excitement and stress, the Street is the place to be.

street-casting n. selecting amateurs to be performers or models. □ I do a lot of street-casting. Almost everybody can act a little. □ Street-casting is fun, and it's cheap.

streeter n. an urban street person. □ These streeters have to be bright and clever just to survive. □ A couple of streeters taught me how to get a meal for nothing.

street people n. people who live in the streets; homeless people. □ There are a lot of cold street people at this time of the year. □ Some of the street people prefer that kind of life.

street pusher n. a drug dealer who works at the retail level on the streets. □ It's the street pushers who take the risk and end up doing a few months in the pen. □ Bart was a street pusher until he got busted.

street smart mod. wise in the ways of urban life; wise in the ways of tough neighborhoods. □ Freddy was street smart at age eight. □ Bess wasn't street smart enough to survive by herself.

street smarts n. the knowledge and ability to survive on the urban street. □ If you don't have street smarts, you won't last long out there. □ You either pick up street smarts, or you don't.

street sweeper n. a machine gun. □ In my neighborhood, the sound of street sweepers is about as common as the sound of horns honking.

street time n. time not spent in prison. (Underworld.) □ I had three months street time; then they nailed me again. □ I want out of this place. I need a little street time to renew some old acquaintances.

stress 1. in. to suffer annoyance; to experience stress. □ I'm stressing again! Please don't annoy me! □ Clare finds that she is stressing more and more about little things. 2. tv. to annoy or bother someone. (See also stressed.) □ Don't stress Wally! He's had a hard day. □ The whole affair about my beemer stressed me a whole lot.

stressed mod. upset; annoyed. □ Come on, man, don't get stressed! It's only a gag. □ I am really stressed. I need a vacation.

stretch 1. n. a period of time. (Folksy.) □ Let's talk here for a stretch and then go up and see if dinner's ready. □ I sat there for a stretch and then got up and kept going. 2. n. a prison term. □ I was away for a stretch of about seven years. □ That's quite a stretch for tax evasion. 3. in. to hang (as with a death sentence). □ You will stretch for this, Lefty! 4. tv. to cut or dilute a drug. □ Let's stretch this stuff, sell it, and then blow town. 5. n.  (Usually Stretch.) □ Well, stretch, think you'll go out for basketball this season?

stretch one's legs tv. to stand up and perhaps walk about. □ I need to get out of here and stretch my legs for a while. □ Most of us stood up to stretch our legs at intermission.

(strictly) from hunger mod. very strange; acceptable only when nothing else is available. □ This kind of entertainment is from hunger. □ The singer was strictly from hunger.

strike n. a dose of drugs. (Drugs. See also hit.) □ I need a strike. You got any stumbles? □ Just one strike, Bart, come on, just one. I'll pay you tomorrow, Bart, come on, just one little strike. Anything, Bart. I really hurt, Bart.

strike it rich tv. to become rich suddenly. □ I never thought I would strike it rich. □ Pete is the kind of guy who wants to strike it rich and live in the lap of luxury for the rest of his life.

strike out 1. in. [for a baseball batter] to be declared out after three strikes. (Baseball.) □ And so Drew Wilson strikes out for his second time in this game! □ He struck out in the second inning, and manager Willy "Herky" Simpson read him out then. 2. in. to fail. □ Well, we struck out again, but we'll keep trying. □ I hear you struck out on that Acme proposal. Better luck next time.

strike pay dirt Go to hit pay dirt.

stringbean n. a thin person. (Also a term of address.) □ Wow, is he a stringbean. □ Who's the stringbean standing by the punch bowl? Somebody ought to feed him.

stripper n. a striptease artist. □ Tracy worked for a while as a stripper. □ Strippers from all over assembled here for their fourth annual convention and immediately took off on a sight-seeing tour.

strip-search tv. to search someone's entire naked body. (See also skin-search.) □ The cops strip-searched the good-looking chick who ran a red light. □ Now it takes a court order to strip-search someone.

stroke tv. & in. to flatter someone; to soothe and comfort someone. □ She strokes everybody to keep them on her side during the bad times. □ She learned long ago that stroking puts people at ease.

strong-arm 1. tv. to force someone (to do something). □ Ziggy tried to strong-arm Frank into cooperating. □ Don't strong-arm me, you creep! 2. mod. forceful; by physical force. □ The strong-arm approach got him nowhere. □ Too much strong-arm stuff isn't good.

strong-arm man n. a bully; a man who is employed to use physical power to force someone to do something. □ Bruno is Mr. Big's strong-arm man. □ The mob employs hundreds of strong-arm men.

strong-arm tactics n. tactics based on the use of force. □ No more strong-arm tactics. You need to be more subtle. □ Strong-arm tactics are out. The boss says be gentle and don't break anybody.

strung out 1. AND strung (up) mod. drug intoxicated and bewildered. (Drugs.) □ Ziggy is really strung out lately. What's he shooting now? □ Tim is sort of strung out and doesn't even remember what he took. 2. mod. badly addicted to heroin; dissipated by heroin. (Drugs.) □ Harry's strung out for good, I guess. □ Clare is strung out and can't deny her problem any longer. 3. mod. depressed; nervous. □ I get strung out before tests and other traumatic things. □ I'm a little strung out—because of the accident, I guess. 4. mod. in love and disoriented. □ Mary is strung out, and all because of Sam. □ Sam is strung out over Mary.

strung-out shape n. a tired and exhausted condition. □ They were sort of in strung- out shape, tired and ready for the sack. □ I've never been in such strung-out shape, but I've never run a marathon before.

strung (up) Go to strung out.

strut one's stuff tv. to walk proudly and show off one's best features or talents. □ Get out there on that stage and strut your stuff! □ I'm going to strut my stuff and become a star.

stuccoed ['stəkod] mod. alcohol intoxicated. (A play on plastered.) □ The guy was too stuccoed to drive and couldn't stand up to walk. □ I can drink without getting stuccoed, mainly because I drink soda.

stuck on someone or something mod. enamored with someone or something; obsessed with someone or something. □ Tom is stuck on himself—as conceited as can be. □ I'm really stuck on this stuff. It's just yummy.

stuck-up mod. conceited. □ Tom is really stuck-up. □ What a stuck-up jerk. □ Don't be so stuck-up. Unbend a little.

stuck with someone or something mod. burdened with someone or something; left with the burden of someone or something. □ It's your problem, and you're stuck with it. □ Am I stuck with this kid forever?

stud [stəd] 1. n. a male horse used for breeding purposes. (Not slang.) □ Last spring, we rented out all our studs and made some money. □ The mare kicked the stud and put us all out of business for a while. 2. n. a human male viewed as very successful with women. (Parallel to sense 1.) □ Fred thinks he is a real stud. □ Man, look at that stud over there. Think he's going steady with anyone?

studhammer n. a male who is successful sexually with women. □ Alex is a real studhammer. □ The guy thinks he is a studhammer, but he is just a jerk.

stud-muffin n. a really good-looking guy; a stud. □ Who's the stud-muffin with Sally? □ Did you see that stud-muffin come in?

study animal n. someone who studies hard. (A play on party animal.) □ All the geeks in the dorm were study animals. Dull, dull, dull. □ At the end of the school year every party animal turns into a study animal.

Stuff a sock in it! AND Put a sock in it!
Put a cork in it! exclam. Shut up! □ I've heard enough. Stuff a sock in it! □ Stuff a sock in it! You are a pain.

stuffed shirt n. a dull and stuffy person, usually a male. □ Mr. Wilson is a stuffed shirt, and people would tell him so if he didn't have so much money. □ I don't want to listen to that stuffed shirt anymore.

stum [stəm] 1. n. marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Where can I get some stum? □ This stum is cashed. Trash it. 2. Go to stumbles.

stumblebum n. a tramp or bum, especially drunk and stumbling. □ The poor old stumblebum got to the other side of the street the best he could. □ You are headed toward being a stumblebum if you don't lay off the sauce.

stumble-bumbles Go to stumbles.

stumbles ['stəmbʌlz] 1. AND stum; stumble-bumbles [stəm, 'stəmbʌl'bəmbʌlz] n. barbiturates; sedatives; tranquilizers; alcohol. (Drugs.) □ Kelly was shocked to find a handful of stumble-bumbles in his brother's jeans. □ I need a strike. You got any stum? 2. n. the inability to stand up and walk straight. □ I guess I have the stumbles today. Not enough sleep, I guess. □ Whoops! I have a case of the stumbles.

stump 1. tv. to confuse or puzzle someone. □ That one really stumped me. □ I like to stump people with hard questions. 2. tv. to visit or tour a place. □ We stumped all of Europe this summer. □ The team stumped the countryside before even practicing for the game. 3. n. a visit or tour. □ The old girl is off on another stump. □ It was a fine stump; we didn't miss anything. 4. Go to stumps.

stumper n. a shoe. (Black. Usually plural.) □ Make those stumpers shine! □ You like my new stumpers?

stumps n. a person's legs. □ My stumps are sore from all that walking. □ You need good strong stumps to do that kind of climbing.

stung mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I'm a little stung by the mule, but I can find my way home if you'll just remind me how to open this door. □ She can drink that stuff all evening and never get stung.

stunned mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I was simply stunned with the stuff. □ Kelly was stunned and had to be carried home to recover.

stunner n. a stunningly good-looking woman. □ Did you see that stunner who just came in? □ I think that she is a stunner, and I go to all her movies—over and over.

stupe AND stoop n. a stupid person. (Also a term of address.) □ Look, stoop, just do what you are told. □ Don't be a stupe! Use your head!

stupehead n. a stupid person; a blockhead. (Also a term of address. See also stupe.) □ What a stupehead! □ This stupehead keeps trying to sell me something.

stupid mod. drunk. (See also get stupid.) □ These kids are so stupid they can't see straight. They're all going to be sick. □ Wayne was too stupid to walk, let alone drive.

stupid-ass Go to dumb-ass.

stupid fresh mod. very, very good. (See also fresh; funky fresh.) □ Her looks were stupid fresh. Bonus! □ This ice cream is stupid fresh and needs to be eaten in great volumes.

style in. to show off; to strut around. (Black. See also strut one's stuff.) □ Look at that brother style! □ Why don't you style over here and meet my man?

stylin(g) n. looking good; showing off how good one looks. □ Dave thinks that stylin' is his sole occupation. □ When you finish your styling in front of the mirror, would you please dump the garbage?

stymie ['staimi] tv. to obstruct someone or something. □ He did everything he could to stymie the investigation. □ The nose guard stymied the play all by himself.

suave [swav] n. personal polish and smoothness. □ Man, does that guy ever have suave! □ You need some suave to carry off this sham.

sub 1. n. a substitute. □ I was a sub in the school system for a while. □ The coach sent in a sub for Wilbur. 2. in. to serve as a temporary replacement. □ I subbed for Mary in a couple of games. □ Then she subbed for me to even the score. 3. n. a submarine. □ I was aboard a sub for twenty minutes—and that was at Disney World. □ You have to have a special kind of personality to live on a sub. 4. Go to submarine. 5. n. a subscription, as to a magazine. □ I got a sub to a computer magazine for my birthday. □ Would you like to buy a sub to the local newspaper?

submarine 1. AND sub n. a long sandwich containing many different foods. □ He ordered a submarine, but he couldn't finish it. □ He took what was left of the sub home with him. 2. n. a large marijuana cigarette. □ Look at the size of that sub! □ Bart makes a sub when he's got low-power straw.

suck 1. AND suction n. liquor; wine; beer; strong drink. □ How about a little glass of suck before we leave? □ This is powerful suction! 2. AND suck something up tv. to drink beer or liquor. □ Yeah, I'll suck one up with ya. □ Let's go out and suck up a few. 3. in. [for someone or something] to be bad or undesirable. □ This movie sucks! □ I think that the whole business sucks. 4. AND suction n. influence. □ He thinks he has suck, but he's just a pain in the neck. □ Who has some suction with the boss?

sucka Go to sucker.

suckabuck mod. greedy; exhibiting greed. □ I refuse to do business with this suckabuck company anymore. □ She is such a suckabuck landlady that it makes me want to move.

sucker 1. AND sucka n. a dupe; an easy mark. □ See if you can sell that sucker the Brooklyn Bridge. □ The sucker says he doesn't need a bridge, thank you. 2. tv. to trick or victimize someone. □ That crook suckered me. I should have known better. □ They suckered him into selling half interest in his land. 3. n. an annoying person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Look, sucker, get out of my way! □ I am really sick of that sucker hanging around here. 4. n. a gadget; a thing. □ Now, you put this little sucker right into this slot. □ Where is that sucker that looks like a screw?

sucker for someone or something n. someone who is prejudiced in favor of someone or something. □ I'm a sucker for a pretty face. □ Ted is a sucker for any dessert with whipped cream on it.

sucker list n. a list of potential dupes; a list of people who might be taken in by deception. □ I'm sure on their sucker list. They are trying to get me to go to a lecture and receive a free clock or something. □ Here's the sucker list. Call them all and try to get them interested.

suck face tv. to kiss. (See also swap spits.) □ The kid said he was going out to suck face. It sounds awful. □ Sally said she didn't want to suck face.

suck (some) brew AND suck (some) suds tv. to drink beer. □ Wanna go suck some brew? □ I'm tired of sucking suds. Got any staggers?

suck someone's hind tit AND kiss someone's hind tit tv. to be obsequious to someone. (Usually objectionable.) □ What does he want me to do, suck his hind tit or something?

suck (some) suds Go to suck (some) brew.

suck something up Go to suck.

suck up to someone in. to attempt to gain influence with or favor from someone. □ In school, Max was always sucking up to the teacher. □ Don't suck up to me. It won't do any good.

sucky mod. poor; undesirable. □ This is the suckiest movie I ever saw. □ This food is sucky. It really sucks!

suction Go to suck.

sudden death mod. having to do with something short, quick, and decisive. ☐ The game ended in a sudden death play-off. ☐ Okay, you've got just one more sudden death chance.

suds 1. n. beer. ☐ How about some suds, Bill? ☐ I can't get enough suds. 2. in. to drink beer. ☐ How 'bout going out and sudsing for a while? ☐ They were sudsing when they should have been studying.

suds-swiller n. a beer-drinker. ☐ Ted is a suds-swiller and Bill won't touch the stuff. What strange roommates. ☐ Wayne's goal in life is to be a professional suds-swiller.

Sue me! Go to (So,) sue me!

sue the pants off (of) someone tv. to sue someone for a lot of money. ☐ If they do it, I'll sue the pants off of them. ☐ He sued the pants off his landlord.

sugarcoated mod. palatable; inoffensive; easy to take. ☐ Math is so sugarcoated these days. Even I could learn it. ☐ Stop giving them sugarcoated knowledge.

sugar daddy n. an older man who takes care of a younger person, especially a young man or woman. ☐ Mr. Wilson is sort of a sugar daddy to the whole team. ☐ I thought sugar daddies were illegal.

suit n. a businessman or businesswoman; someone who is in charge. ☐ This suit comes up and asks to go to the airport. ☐ A couple of suits checked into a working-class hotel and caused some eyebrows to raise.

summer complaint n. diarrhea, especially that experienced in the summer. ☐ I've got a touch of the summer complaint. ☐ Does summer heat cause the summer complaint?

sun belt n. the southern U.S. states, where it is generally warm and sunny. (See also rust belt.) ☐ I want to retire to the sun belt. ☐ The population of the sun belt is exploding.

Sunday best n. one's best clothing, which one would wear to church. ☐ We are in our Sunday best, ready to go. ☐ I got mud on my Sunday best.

Sunday driver n. a slow and leisurely driver who appears to be sightseeing and enjoying the view, holding up traffic in the process. (Also a term of address.) ☐ I'm a Sunday driver, and I'm sorry. I just can't bear to go faster. ☐ Move over, you Sunday driver!

Sunday punch n. a very solid and destructive blow; one's best blow. ☐ Barlowe sent a Sunday punch straight into Rocko's gut. Rocko's eyes bugged out; then he crumpled to the floor and wretched. ☐ Ralph aimed a Sunday punch at Frederick's nose, but missed and spun about, striking his elbow on the banister.

sunny-side up mod. [of eggs] having yolks facing up and still yellow and hot, but not cooked through; straight up. ☐ I'll have my eggs sunny-side up, with toast and coffee. ☐ People who like sunny-side up eggs wouldn't dream of eating a whole raw egg.

sunshades n. sunglasses. (See also shades.) ☐ Where are my sunshades? Did you borrow them again? ☐ I left my sunshades in the car.

Sup? Go to (T)sup?

super 1. mod. fine; excellent. ☐ This report is just super! ☐ Who made the super pie? 2. n. superintendent. ☐ The super comes by every now and then to check on things. ☐ Call the super and ask for some help.

super-doooper Go to super-duper.

super-duper AND super-doooper mod. excellent. ☐ That's just super-duper. Couldn't have asked for better. ☐ Where is this super-doooper car of yours?

superfly mod. excellent; wonderful. ☐ This dude is really superfly. ☐ I don't care about this superfly gent of yours. If he doesn't have a job, I don't want you seeing him anymore. Ya hear?

supergrass n. high-quality marijuana. ☐ Tiffany picked up some pot she called supergrass. It looks like alfalfa to me. ☐ The cannabis that is the richest in resin is sometimes called supergrass.

superjock 1. n. an excellent athlete. ☐ Mike is a real superjock. He plays four sports. ☐ All those superjocks get special meals and tutors to help them pass their classes. 2. n. a very well-built man regardless of athletic ability. □ My boyfriend is a super-jock, and does he look good! □ No nerd has ever been a superjock.

super-strap n. an earnest and hardworking student. (As compared to a jock; strap; superjock.) □ He's a Melvin, a super-strap, and he doesn't do anything but study. □ I couldn't be a super-strap even if I had the brains. I just don't care that much.

sure as hell mod. absolutely certain. □ I'm sure as hell he's the one. □ You sure as hell better get yourself over here.

surefire mod. certain; effective; fail-safe. □ I've got a surefire method for fixing cracks in drywall. □ Good, yes; surefire, no. □ This stuff is a surefire cure.

sure thing n. something that is absolutely certain. □ It's a sure thing! You can't lose! □ Well, it looks like the sure thing didn't turn out to be so sure, after all.

surf 1. mod. wonderful; with it. (California.) □ This party is, like, surf. □ This is not what I would call a surf day. 2. in. to use a remote control to check a large number of TV stations. (See also channel hopping.) □ Don spends almost an hour surfing before he falls asleep in front of the TV. □ Mary surfed until she fell asleep.

surf the net tv. to browse through the offerings of the Internet. □ He surfs the net for three hours each evening.

suss someone out ['səs...] tv. to try to figure someone out. □ I can't seem to suss Tom out. What a strange guy. □ I don't have any luck sussing out people I don't know well.

Suzy n. a U.S. one-dollar coin bearing a likeness of Susan B. Anthony. □ I've got two Suzys I want to get rid of. □ Someday I'm going to buy a car or something with a barrel of Suzys.

Suzy Homemaker n. a personification of the quintessential female American housewife. □ Well, aren't you just Miss

Suzy Homemaker! You're even wearing an apron!

swacked [swækt] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Tracy is too swacked to drive home. Can somebody give her a lift? □ He walked straight out of the office and went straight into the bar with the intention of getting swacked.

SWAK Go to sealed with a kiss.

swallow 1. n. a puff of cigarette smoke. □ He took just one swallow and started coughing. □ Can I have a swallow of your fag? 2. tv. to believe or accept something. (See also eat something up.) □ Did they actually swallow that? □ Nobody's gonna swallow that nonsense.

swallow the dictionary tv. to acquire an enormous vocabulary. (Usually in the past tense.) □ My uncle says I've swallowed the dictionary. That's because I know so many big words. □ Did you just go to college to swallow the dictionary?

swamped 1. mod. very, very busy. □ I can't handle it now. I'm swamped. □ We're always swamped at this time of the year. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Look at him! He's swamped—stoned out of his mind. □ Those old boys used to go out and get swamped every Saturday night.

swamper n. a truck driver's helper or assistant. □ This guy and his swamper showed up to deliver the stuff, but neither one of them would touch it. □ He told the swamper to get some coffee for everybody.

swank [swæŋk] n. class; visible quality. □ He doesn't have swank. He's a cornball! □ This place has swank. I like it.

swanky ['swæŋki] mod. classy; ritzy. □ What a swanky joint! □ This place is too swanky. I like to eat where I can pronounce the names of the food.

swap notes (on someone or something) tv. to share information on someone or something. □ The two chicks sat around swapping notes on guys they knew. □ The mechanics were swapping notes on rude customers they had dealt with in the last month.

swap spits tv. to kiss with someone. □ A couple of kids were in the car swapping spits. □ Tiffany and Wilbur were off somewhere swapping spits, I guess.

swear like a trooper in. to curse and swear with great facility. □ Mrs. Wilson was known to swear like a trooper on occasion. □ The clerk started swearing like a trooper, and the customer started crying.

swear on a stack of Bibles in. to make a very solemn pledge of one's honesty. (Folksy. Official oaths are sometimes taken with one hand on a Bible. This phrase implies that more Bibles make an even stronger oath.) □ I swear on a stack of Bibles that I was in Atlanta on the night of January sixteenth. □ It's true! I swear on a stack of Bibles it's true!

sweat 1. tv. & in. to fret (about something) while waiting for an outcome. □ Come on, don't sweat it. It'll work out. □ This whole promotion business really has me sweating. 2. n. trouble; bother. (See also no sweat.) □ I can handle it. It won't cause me any sweat. □ You really caused a lot of sweat around here.

sweat blood tv. to work very hard at something; to endure distress in the process of accomplishing something. (See also piss blood.) □ And here I sweated blood to put you through college, and you treat me like a stranger. □ Everybody in the office had to sweat blood that week.

sweat bullets tv. to suffer about something; to be anxious or nervous about something; to sweat blood. □ They were sweating bullets, waiting for the results. □ The kid sat in the waiting room, sweating bullets while the surgeons worked on his brother.

sweat-shop n. a workplace where employees work long hours for low pay in poor conditions. □ This office is a sweat-shop! I only got a 2 percent raise. □ The bank manager is unfair! I've been a teller in this sweat-shop for thirteen years, and I've never had a new carpet in my office.

sweat sock n. an athlete; a jock. (Usually plural.) □ I live in a dorm with a bunch of sweat socks. They feed us well, anyway.

□ Both Bill's roommates are sweat socks and smell like it, too.

sweat something out tv. to wait out something; to fret and worry until the end of something. □ You'll just have to sweat it out. There's no way to hurry it up. □ We'll sweat out the wait—like everybody else.

sweet mod. good; profitable; excellent. □ I got involved in a sweet deal having to do with a better job. □ Fred offered Bill a sweet contract, but Bill turned it down.

sweeten tv. to make a bargain or agreement better or more attractive. □ Okay, I'll sweeten the deal. I'll throw in a lighted mirror on the visor. □ Sweeten the deal with air, and I'll buy the car.

sweetener n. extra encouragement, usually in the form of money. □ Money makes the best sweetener around. □ Let me add a little sweetener, and we'll see if he goes for it.

sweetheart AND sweetie(-pie) n. (one's) dear child, husband, wife, lover, etc. (Often a term of address.) □ Look, sweetheart, can't we afford a new car? □ Pick up your toys, sweetie. Aunt Matilda is coming over for a visit.

sweetheart deal n. a deal made between friends so that both may profit well. (Such deals usually involve illegal or unethical practices.) □ They found that the mayor was involved in a number of sweetheart deals. □ Most of the general contractors in town would be out of business if they didn't offer sweetheart deals to the politicians.

sweetie(-pie) Go to sweetheart.

sweet nothings n. loving comments; pleasant remarks between lovers. □ They are out on the porch swing whispering sweet nothings in each other's ears. □ Thank heavens most married people never remember the sweet nothings they were once told.

swell mod. fine; excellent. (Also sarcastic use.) □ Where did you get that swell hat? □ Oh that's just swell! Yuck!

swellelegant ['swel'eləgənt] mod. really fine. (From swell and elegant.) □ Gee, this place is sure swellelegant! □ It is not swellelegant. □ Her car is just swellelegant.

swellhead n. a conceited person. □ Tom is getting to be such a swellhead. □ I wish that swellhead would spend more time elsewhere!

swift 1. mod. smart and clever. □ Excuse my brother. He's not too swift. □ Dave is doing well in school. He's swift, and he likes his classes. 2. mod. sexually fast or easy, usually said of a woman. □ Tracy is swift they say, but I find her to be a perfect lady. □ Clare is not only swift, she has a reputation.

swig 1. n. a deep drink of liquor; a swallow of liquor. □ She took a swig of rum and leaped into the lagoon. □ One swig of that stuff was enough for me. 2. tv. to drink liquor deeply. □ He nearly swigged the whole bottle before he needed to take a breath. □ She swigged a big gulp and just stood there—bottle in her hand—and became paralyzed.

swigged AND swiggled [swigd AND 'swigd] mod. alcohol intoxicated; tipsy. □ Man, is she ever swigged! □ He is too swiggled to drive.

swiggled Go to swiggled.

swill 1. n. liquor. □ This swill is awful. Please give me some beer. □ The swill they serve here is better than you can get elsewhere. 2. n. a drink of liquor. □ How about a swill out of your glass? □ Here, you can have a little swill of mine. 3. tv. & in. to drink liquor. □ Ted is in his room swilling like a madman. □ He swilled a whole case of beer yesterday. Isn't he joyful yet? 4. n. any nasty food or drink. □ Let's go over to the ptomaine-domain and get our evening swill. □ Man does not live by swill alone. Let's go to McDuck's instead.

swill-up n. a drinking bout. □ There was a swill-up at the frat house last week. □ I never miss a swill-up.

swimming in something in. having lots of something. □ Right now we are swimming in merchandise. In a month it will be gone. □ The Wilmington-Thorpes are just swimming in money.

swimmingly mod. quite nicely. □ I'm having a fine time here. Everything is going along just swimmingly. □ The plans are moving ahead swimmingly.

swindle sheet n. an expense account record sheet or book. □ I turned in my swindle sheet yesterday, and no one challenged the $400 for new shoes. □ The government makes it hard to put just anything on your swindle sheet these days.

swing 1. in. [for a person] to be up to date and modern. □ Tom really swings. Look at those blue suede shoes! □ I used to swing, but then age and good taste overtook me. 2. in. [for a party or other event] to be fun or exciting. □ This party really swings! □ I've never been to a gathering that swings like this one. 3. in. to be involved in sexual fads, group sex, or the swapping of sexual partners. □ Carol says that Tom, Ted, and Heidi swing. How does she know? □ There is a lot less swinging going on since these strange diseases have spread. 4. tv. to bring something off; to execute a deal. □ This is a very important deal. I hope I can swing it. □ They want to elect me president of the club. I hope they can swing it.

swing both ways in. to be bisexual. □ They say that Gary swings both ways, but I wouldn't know. □ Since he swings both ways, he may stand a better chance at finding a date.

swinger 1. n. a person who participates in innovative sexual activities. (See also swing.) □ Is Gary a swinger? I've heard talk about him. □ We watched a movie about a swinger, but everything interesting happened in dim blue light. 2. n. a youthful, socially active, and knowledgeable person. □ Those kids are real swingers. □ Tom is a swinger. Look at those mod shoes.

swinging mod. great. □ We had a swinging time at John's rally. □ The concert was swinging—nothing like it, ever.

swing into high gear in. to begin operating at a fast pace; to increase the rate of activity. □ During the winter season we swing into high gear around here. □ The chef swings into high gear around eight o'clock in preparation for the theater crowd.

swingman n. a drug seller; a drug connection. □ Bart couldn't deliver till he met with his swingman. □ Ziggy wants to be a swingman with the mob.

swing shift n. an evening work shift in a factory, usually from mid-afternoon to midnight. (See also graveyard shift.) □ I don't mind the swing shift. I'm a night person anyway. □ My brother works the swing shift, so I never get to see him.

swing with someone or something in. to appreciate someone or something. (See also swing.) □ Man, I can really swing with that color. Glorious! □ I can really swing with John. He and I are real close.

swipe 1. tv. to drink liquor rapidly and to excess; to bolt a drink of liquor. □ Ted swiped a quick one and ran out the door. □ Fred sat at the bar and swiped two gins and ate an egg. 2. n. moonshine; inferior liquor. □ This swipe is gross. I'd rather drink water. □ I can't stand the swipe they serve here. 3. tv. to steal something. □ Bart swiped a pack of cigarettes from the counter. □ Somebody swiped my wallet! 4. n. a blow or an act of striking someone or something. (See also take a swipe at someone or something.) □ Bob got a nasty swipe across the face. □ The cat gave the mouse a swipe with its paw.

swish [swɪʃ] 1. mod. overly fancy; effeminate; displaying effeminacy. □ The lobby of the theater was a little swish, but not offensive. □ Who is your swish little friend? 2. n. elaborate decoration; effeminacy. □ There's a little too much swish here. Get rid of the gold drapes. □ What this place needs is more swish. Hang some baubles here and there. 3. n. a gay male. (Rude and derogatory.) □ This place is full of swishes. Let's leave.

switch n. a switchblade knife. □ They found a switch in his pocket when they searched him. □ Bart was arrested for carrying a switch.

switched on 1. mod. alert and up-to-date; with it. □ My brother is switched on and has lots of friends. □ I'm not switched on. In fact, I am pretty dull. 2. mod. excited. □ I get switched on by that kind of music. □ I am never switched on by raucous music.

switcheroo ['swɪtʃə'ru] n. a reversal; a switching around. □ He pulled a switcheroo on us and showed up at the other door, so we missed getting his autograph. □ She is a master at the old switcheroo.

switch-hitter n. a ballplayer who bats either right-handed or left-handed. (Baseball.) □ Monty is a switch-hitter, but he's batting right-handed today. □ I'm not a switch-hitter. In fact, I can hardly hit the ball at all.

switch off in. to become oblivious to everything. □ I want to go home and switch off—just forget this whole day. □ I have to switch off when I go home.

switch on 1. in. to come alive. □ She saw her child and immediately switched on. □ I don't switch on until about noon. 2. in. to become modern and participate in current fads and events. □ I am too old to switch on. □ Most kids I know switched on when they went to high school. 3. in. to get high on drugs; to begin taking LSD or some other hallucinogens. (Drugs. See also turn on; switched on.) □ One by one, each of my friends switched on. □ There was some old man who seemed to get pleasure from getting kids to switch on. Maybe he was a dealer.

swizzle ['swɪzl] 1. tv. & in. to drink (liquor), probably to excess; to tinkle. □ Have you been swizzling again? □ Fred's uncle is always swizzling a little drink. 2. n. liquor; beer; a drink of an alcoholic beverage. □ What a hot day. I could use some swizzle. □ What I need is a nice cold swizzle.

swizzled ['swɪzld] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Fred went out and got himself swizzled. □ Man, he is really swizzled!

swizzle-stick n. a drunkard. (From the name of a short stick used to stir an alcoholic drink.) □ That guy is a swizzle-stick. Don't give him any more. □ You had better slow down, or you will turn into a swizzle-stick.

swoozled AND swozzled ['swuz]d AND 'swɒz[d] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How can anybody be so swozzled on three beers? □ Those guys are really swoozled!

swozzled Go to swoozled.

syrupy mod. overly sentimental. □ I can't stand syrupy movies. □ That music is too

syrupy. □ All this syrupy talk is making me tired.

SYSOP ['sisap] n. system operator, the person who manages a computer system or forum or news group. □ The SYSOP tried to bring order to the news group discussion but failed. □ I sent a message to the SYSOP complaining about the number of personal messages on the board.

T

T. n. marijuana. (Drugs. From tea.) □ Can't you stay off that tea? □ All she thinks about is smoking T. and where she's gonna get more of it.

tab 1. n. a bill (for something). (From tabulation. See also chit.) □ What's the tab for this? □ Barlowe paid the tab and left quietly. 2. n. a tablet (of medicine). □ Take a couple of aspirin tabs and call me in the morning. □ These tabs must have got wet. They're ruined. 3. tv. to identify someone. □ I couldn't quite tab her, but when she started talking I knew right away who she was. □ I tabbed him right away.

tabbed mod. well-dressed. (Black.) □ That dude is tabbed. □ She's really tabbed in some nice threads.

table-hop in. to move from table to table in a restaurant, nightclub, bar, etc. □ We used to table-hop, but nobody knows us anymore. □ They would table-hop—to the great dismay of the waiters.

tackhead n. an overdressed male. (One who looks tacky.) □ Gary is sort of a tackhead when it comes to clothing. □ Don't be such a tackhead, Tom. Loosen up.

tacky 1. mod. cheap; crude. □ That was a tacky thing to do to her. □ That was so tacky! □ This is sort of a tacky gift for a wedding. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Tom was a little tacky, so he gave me his car keys. □ Bruno seems tacky, but that's just the way he is.

taco stand ['tako...] n. a lousy place; a tacky place. □ It's time to get out of this taco stand and go somewhere decent. □ Why doesn't somebody clean up this taco stand?

tad n. a bit; a small bit. □ I'll take just a tad. □ I'm on a diet. □ That's a little more than a tad, but it's all right.

tag 1. n. a name. □ I know the face, but I forgot the tag. □ Everybody knows that tag well. 2. n. euphoria from drug use; a drug rush. □ This tag from this mojo is something to behold. □ This trash has no tag at all. 3. n. a car license plate or sticker. □ The car had Kansas tags and was towing a trailer. □ Don't forget to get a new tag for this year. 4. n. a blow to the body in boxing. □ Wilbur landed another tag to the right shoulder before the gong sounded. □ Another tag on the head and Wilbur will be down. 5. tv. to punch someone in boxing. □ Sam tagged his opponent on the cheek. □ The guy tagged him back right in the gut. 6. tv. (in baseball) to touch a runner with the baseball. □ Wilbur tagged the runner and fell flat on his face. □ The catcher tagged the runner, but it was too late. 7. n. the coda or ending section of a piece of music. □ Now, I want everybody to slow down and watch me on the tag. □ Give everything you've got on the tag. 8. tv. to charge someone with a crime. □ The cop tagged him with the bank caper immediately. □ The cop tagged me with a ticket before I knew what hit me. 9. tv. to mark something with spray paint. □ Our guys tagged the school walls last night.

tagger n. a gang member who puts gang signs and themes on things with spray paint. □ Sam is our best tagger. Man, he's an artist.

Tah-dah! [tə'də] exclam. Look at this!; Look at me!; Presenting . . . □ Tah-dah! How do you like my new haircut? □ And here is—tah-dah!—our ever-late and never-punished executive secretary.

tail-end n. the back end of something or someone. ☐ He was at the tail-end of the long line. ☐ Tracy fell down on her tail-end.

tailgate 1. tv. & in. to follow (someone) too closely in a car. ☐ That guy tailgating me is drunk, I think. ☐ Ease off a little; you're tailgating. 2. in. to have a tailgate party. ☐ We planned to tailgate before the game, but it was massively cold. ☐ The people who were tailgating next to us asked to borrow our salt.

tailgate party n. a small party held on the folded down tailgate of a station wagon in a parking lot. (Something that is done before a ball game, concert, etc.) ☐ They had a tailgate party before the Bears game. ☐ The tailgate party was a success, except for the cold.

tailor-made n. a machine-made cigarette. (From an expression for something, such as an article of clothing, that is custom made.) ☐ They used to call these things tailor-made, meaning professionally made, as opposed to homemade. ☐ The cowboy in the movie refused to smoke a tailor-made.

tails n. a tuxedo with long tails. ☐ Shall I wear my tails? ☐ Ralph had to rent tails for the evening.

take 1. n. a section of a film that is pronounced acceptable just after it is shot. ☐ It's a take. Get it over to the lab. ☐ After seven straight takes the crew demanded a break. 2. n. the amount of money taken in at some event; the money received for the tickets that have been purchased. ☐ What was the take for the concert? ☐ The take was much larger than we expected. 3. tv. to cheat or deceive someone. ☐ That clerk tried to take me. ☐ When they think you're going to count your change, they won't try to take you. 4. tv. to defeat someone, as in a fight. ☐ Max thought he could take the guy, but he wasn't sure. ☐ I know I can take you. Make my day!

take a bath (on something) tv. to have large financial losses on an investment.

☐ Fred took a bath on that gold mining stock. ☐ The broker warned me that I might take a bath if I bought this stuff.

take a beating tv. to be beaten, bested, or defeated. ☐ The candidate took a beating in the runoffs. ☐ The team took quite a beating.

take a break tv. to stop working for a rest period. ☐ Let's take a break here. Be back in five minutes. ☐ I've got to take a break before I drop.

take a chill pill tv. to calm down; to relax. (See also chill (out).) ☐ Take a chill pill, man! You are too excited. ☐ The police officer told Jim to take a chill pill and answer the questions.

take a crack at something AND have a crack at something tv. to take a try at something. ☐ She had a crack at food preparation, but that wasn't for her. ☐ Let me take a crack at it.

take a crap Go to take a shit.

take a dig at someone AND take a jab at someone tv. to insult or needle someone. ☐ Why did you take a jab at Sam? ☐ You're always taking digs at people who think they're your friends.

take a dirt nap tv. to die and be buried. ☐ I don't want to end up taking a dirt nap during this operation. ☐ Isn't Tom a little young to take a dirt nap?

take a dive Go to take a fall.

take a dump Go to take a shit.

take a fall AND take a dive 1. tv. to fake being knocked out in a boxing match. ☐ Wilbur wouldn't take a fall. He doesn't have it in him. ☐ The boxer took a dive in the second round and made everyone suspicious. 2. tv. to get arrested. (Underworld. See also take the fall.) ☐ Ziggy took a fall for the bank robbery. ☐ I didn't wanna take a dive, but the cop left me no choice.

take a flyer (on something) tv. to take a chance on something. ☐ Kim was very reckless when she took a flyer on that airline stock. ☐ Fred is too wise an investor to take a flyer on some story stock like that.

take a gander (at someone or something) tv. to look at someone or something. (See also gander.) ☐ Wow, take a gander at this chick! ☐ I wanted to take a gander at the new computer before they started using it.

take a hike AND take a walk tv. to leave; to beat it. ☐ Okay, I've had it with you. Take a hike! Beat it! ☐ I had enough of the boss and the whole place, so I cleaned out my desk and took a walk.

take a jab at someone Go to take a dig at someone.

take a leak tv. to urinate. (Crude. Usually objectionable. Usually in reference to a male.) ☐ I gotta go take a leak. Back in a minute. ☐ He just went out to take a leak.

take a load off one's feet Go to get a load off one's feet.

take a lot of nerve 1. tv. to be very rude; to require a lot of rudeness (to behave so badly). ☐ He walked out on her, and that took a lot of nerve! ☐ That took a lot of nerve! You took my parking place! 2. tv. to require courage. ☐ He climbed the mountain with a bruised foot. That took a lot of nerve. ☐ It took a lot of nerve to go into business for himself.

take a nosedive tv. to collapse; to fail. ☐ The market took a nosedive again today. ☐ She slipped on the ice and took a nosedive.

take a page from someone's book tv. to copy or emulate. ☐ I took a page from Edison's book and began inventing useful little things. ☐ Mind if I take a page from your book and apply for a job here?

take a pop at someone tv. to punch at someone. ☐ Ziggy took a pop at me, but I ducked. ☐ The drunk took a pop at the cop—which was the wrong thing to do.

take a powder tv. to leave; to leave town. (Underworld.) ☐ Why don't you take a powder? Go on! Beat it! ☐ Bruno took a powder and will lie low for a while.

Take a running jump (in the lake)! exclam. Go away!; Get away from me! ☐ You know what you can do? You can take a running jump. Beat it! ☐ You can just take a running jump in the lake, you creep!

take a shit AND take a crap; take a dump; take a squat tv. to defecate. (It is always taken not given, done, or put. Shit is the most offensive with the others following in descending order of offense.) ☐ Hurry up in there! I gotta take a shit.

take a shot (at something) tv. to try (to do) something. ☐ I don't think I can do it, but I'll take a shot at it. ☐ Go ahead. Take a shot.

take a squat Go to take a shit.

take a swipe at someone or something tv. to poke at someone or something. (See also swipe.) ☐ Bart took a swipe at Ziggy. ☐ The cat took a swipe at the ball.

take a walk Go to take a hike.

take a whack at someone or something tv. to hit at someone or something. ☐ Wilbur took a whack at Martin and missed. ☐ Jerry got an ax and took a whack at the tree, but didn't do much damage.

take a whack at something tv. to have a try at something. ☐ Let me take a whack at it. ☐ Why don't you practice a little while and take a whack at it tomorrow?

Take care. tv. Good-bye, be careful. ☐ See you later. Take care. ☐ Take care. See you in Philly.

take care of number one AND take care of numero uno tv. to take care of oneself. (See also number one; numero uno.) ☐ Arthur, like everybody else, is most concerned with taking care of number one. ☐ If you don't take care of numero uno, who will?

take care of numero uno Go to take care of number one.

take care of someone tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) ☐ The boss told Ziggy to take care of Bart. ☐ I'm gonna take care of you once and for all.

take five tv. to take a five-minute break. ☐ Okay, gang, take five. Be back here in five minutes, or else. □ She told them to take five, but they turned the five into fifty.

take it tv. to endure something, physically or mentally. (See also take it on the chin.) □ I just can't take it anymore. □ If you can't take it, quit.

Take it down a thou(sand)! exclam. Cool down!; Calm down!; Quiet down! □ Okay. Take it down a thousand, and let's talk this out. □ You are wild! Take it down a thou and let's try again to talk this out.

take it easy 1. tv. relax and take care. □ See you later. Take it easy. □ They told me to take it easy for a few days. 2. exclam. Let up!; Not so hard!; Be gentle! (Usually Take it easy!) □ Take it easy! That hurts! □ Take it easy; he's just a kid!

take it on the chin AND take it on the nose 1. tv. to stand up to something adverse, such as criticism. □ They laid some rude chops on him, but he took it on the chin. □ I knew he could take it on the nose. 2. tv. to receive the full brunt of something. □ Why do I have to take it on the chin for something I didn't do? □ If you did it, you have to learn to take it on the chin.

take it on the lam tv. to get out of town; to run away. (Underworld.) □ Both took it on the lam when things got hot. □ Bruno knew that the time had come to take it on the lam.

take it on the nose Go to take it on the chin.

Take it or leave it. sent. There are no other choices.; It is this or nothing. □ This is what you get for the money. Take it or leave it. □ I told her that there was a shortage of these things and she had to take it or leave it.

take it out on someone or something tv. to punish or harm someone or something because one is angry or disturbed about something. □ I'm sorry about your difficulty, but don't take it out on me. □ Don't take it out on the cat.

take it slow tv. to go slowly and carefully. □ Just relax and take it slow. You've got a good chance. □ You'll make it. Take it slow and keep your spirits up.

take it through the nose tv. to snort cocaine. (Drugs. A play on take it on the nose at take it on the chin.) □ Max liked taking it through the nose better than anything, except maybe a shot in the arm. □ He went into the john, and most of us knew he had to take it through the nose right then.

take it to the street tv. to tell everyone about your problems. (See also on the street.) □ If there's something bothering her, she's gonna take it to the street, first thing. □ Come on, don't take it to the street.

taken AND had; took 1. mod. cheated; deceived. □ I counted my change, and I knew I was taken. □ You were really took, all right. 2. mod. drug intoxicated; unconscious from drugs. □ The guy in the corner booth was taken and crying in his beer. □ His eyes were bloodshot, his hands were shaking—he was had. 3. mod. dead. □ I'm sorry, your cat is taken—pifted. □ Your cat's took, lady, tough luck. 4. mod. already claimed as someone's mate or lover. □ Sorry, Bill, I'm already taken. □ Sam and I are engaged. □ Forget it. She's taken.

take names tv. to make a list of wrongdoers. (Often figuratively, as with a schoolteacher, whose major weapon is to take names and send them to the principal.) □ The boss is madder than hell, and he's taking names. □ Gary is coming by to talk about the little riot last night, and I think he's taking names.

take off 1. in. [for someone] to leave in a hurry. □ She really took off outa there. □ I've got to take off—I'm late. 2. in. [for something] to start selling well. □ The fluffy dog dolls began to take off, and we sold out the lot. □ Ticket sales really took off after the first performance. 3. n. an imitation of something; a copy of something. (Usually take-off.) □ This robot is capable of producing 200 circuit board take-offs per hour. □ My machine is a take-off of the real thing. 4. n. a parody of someone or something. (Usually with on.)

Usually take-off.) □ The comedian did a take-off on the wealthy senator. □ The take-off on the dean didn't go over well.
5. n. a robbery. (Underworld. Usually take-off.) □ That was some take-off Lefty pulled, huh? □ Yeah, Lefty sure knows take-offs.

take-off artist n. a thief. (Underworld.) □ A take-off artist known as the Cat is cleaning out closets and jewelry boxes all over town. □ He's not a sales agent. He's a take-off artist, pure and simple.

take one's belt in (a notch) AND pull one's belt in (a notch) tv. to prepare for lean times. (See also tighten one's belt.) □ It was clear that we would have to bite the bullet and take our belt in a notch. □ We were able to take our belt in a notch, unlike other people who were already strained to the maximum.

take one's lumps tv. to accept the result or punishment one deserves. (See also get one's lumps.) □ You've got to learn to take your lumps if you're going to be in politics. □ I hate taking my lumps. I'd rather pretend nothing had happened.

take on fuel tv. to drink alcohol to excess. □ They stopped at the tavern to take on fuel. ☒ They went inside to take fuel on and then came back out to watch the horses.

take pictures tv. for a highway patrol officer to use radar. (Citizens band radio.) □ There's a smokey under the bridge taking pictures. □ I didn't see the creep was taking pictures. I got nabbed.

taker n. one who accepts an offer; a buyer. □ Are there any takers for this fine, almost new caddy? □ Here's a taker. You'll not be sorry.

take some doing tv. to require added effort and planning. □ It'll take some doing, but it'll get done. □ It's not impossible. It'll just take some doing.

take some heat Go to take the heat.

take someone in 1. AND rope someone in tv. to cheat or deceive someone. □ He might try to take you in. Keep an eye on him and count your change. □ The con artists tried to rope in the old lady, but she was too clever. 2. tv. to give shelter to someone. □ We took her in and gave her some soup and a place to stay. □ Mrs. Wilson takes in almost every young person who needs her help.

take someone off tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ The mob took the witness off a week before the trial. ☒ Barlowe didn't want to have to take off Lefty—like hell, he didn't.

take someone or something apart 1. tv. to criticize or defame someone or something. □ They really took me apart, but what the hell? □ The editorial took the whole board apart. 2. tv. to beat or damage someone or something. □ The mugger really took the old lady apart. □ The wreck took both cars apart.

take someone or something off tv. to rob someone or something. (Underworld.) □ Weren't you in that bunch that took the bank off in Philly? □ No, we never took off no bank, did we, Lefty?

take someone or something on tv. to accept the task of handling a difficult person or thing. □ I'll take it on if nobody else will do it. ☒ Nobody wanted to take on Mrs. Franklin, but it had to be done.

take someone out 1. tv. to block someone, as in a football game. □ I was supposed to take the left end out, but I was trapped under the center. ☒ Okay, Andy, you take out the center this time. 2. tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) □ The boss told Rocko to take out Barlowe. □ Barlowe was sure he could keep Rocko from taking him out. 3. tv. to date someone. □ I hope he'll take me out soon. □ She wanted to take him out for an evening.

take someone to the cleaners 1. tv. to take all of someone's money. □ The lawyers took the insurance company to the cleaners, but I still didn't get enough to pay for my losses. □ The con artists took the old man to the cleaners. 2. tv. to defeat or best someone. □ We took the other team to the cleaners. □ Look at the height they've got! They'll take us to the cleaners!

take something out tv. to bomb or destroy something. □ The enemy took out one of the tanks, but not the one carrying the medicine. □ The last flight took out two enemy bunkers and a radar installation.

take something public 1. tv. to make something known to the public. □ You gotta take it public—put it on the street—even when it's none of your business. □ Don't take it public. You'll just get talked about. 2. tv. to sell shares in a company to the general public. (Securities markets.) □ The board decided not to take the company public. □ We're going to take it public whenever the market looks good.

takes two to tango phr. requires two people to do certain things. □ No, he didn't do it all by himself. Takes two to tango, you know. □ There's no such thing as a one-sided argument. It takes two to tango.

take the cure tv. to enter into any treatment program or treatment center. (Especially those dealing with drugs and alcohol.) □ I wanted to take the cure, but I just couldn't bring myself to do it. □ It's hard to get them to realize that they are the ones who have to decide to take the cure.

take the fall tv. to get arrested for a particular crime. (Especially when others are going unpunished for the same crime. See also take a fall.) □ Ziggy and Tony pulled the job off together, but Tony took the fall. □ You did it, and I won't take the fall!

take the fifth 1. AND five it tv. to refuse to testify to a U.S. legislative committee under the protection of the Fifth Amendment to the U.S. Constitution. □ His lawyer told him to take the fifth. □ The lawyer just sat there and said, "Five it." after every question. 2. tv. to decline to answer any questions. □ I'll take the fifth on that one. Ask Fred. □ Don't ask me. I take the fifth.

take the gas pipe Go to take the pipe.

take the heat AND take some heat tv. to receive criticism (for something). □ The cops have been taking some heat about the Quincy killing. □ If you can't take the heat, stay out of the kitchen.

take the heat off someone tv. to relieve the pressure on someone; to free someone from suspicion, responsibility, a deadline, etc. □ The confession by Rocko took the heat off the cop-shop for a while. □ They took the heat off us by moving the deadline.

take the (long) count tv. to die. □ The poor cat took the long count at last. □ I'm too young to take the count.

take the pipe 1. AND take the gas pipe tv. to commit suicide. (Originally by inhaling gas.) □ The kid was dropping everything in sight and finally took the pipe. □ Some poor old guy took the gas pipe and nearly blew the place up. 2. tv. to fail to perform under pressure; to cave in. (From sense 1.) □ He tends to take the pipe when the going gets rough. □ Don't take the pipe, man. Stick in there!

take the piss out of someone tv. to humiliate someone; to make someone—usually a male—less cocky, perhaps by violence. (Usually objectionable.) □ You need somebody to take the piss outa you! □ He failed his test again. That'll take the piss outa him.

take the pledge tv. to promise to abstain from beverage alcohol. □ I'm not ready to take the pledge yet, but I will cut down. □ My aunt tried to get me to take the pledge.

take the plunge tv. to marry someone. □ I'm not ready to take the plunge yet. □ Sam and Mary took the plunge.

take the rap (for something) tv. to take the blame for something. (Originally underworld. See also rap.) □ I didn't want to take the rap for the job, but, after all, I was guilty. □ I threw the rock, but John took the rap.

take the spear (in one's chest) tv. to accept full blame for something; to accept the full brunt of the punishment for something. □ The Admiral got the short straw and had to take the spear in his chest. □ I sure didn't want to take the spear.

take the starch out of someone tv. to reduce someone's self-assurance; to reduce someone's conceit. □ I took the starch out of Kelly by telling him where he was headed if he didn't change his ways. □ That remark really took the starch out of him.

take the wind out of someone's sails tv. to put a barrier in someone's path; to reduce the effectiveness of someone. □ When the cops showed Bart the evidence, it took the wind out of his sails. □ It really took the wind out of his sails when he didn't get promoted.

take things easy 1. tv. to live well and comfortably. □ I'll be glad when I can make enough money to take things easy. □ *I make enough to take things easy. 2. tv. to relax temporarily and recuperate. □ The doctor says I'm supposed to take things easy for a while. □ *I want you to take it easy until the stitches heal.

taking care of business tv. doing what one is meant to do; coping with life as it is. (Black. See also TCB.) □ If the dude is taking care of business, what else do you want out of him? □ Walter is taking care of business. Back in a minute.

tale of woe n. a sad story; a list of personal problems; an excuse for failing to do something. □ I listened to her tale of woe without saying anything. □ This tale of woe that we have all been getting from Kelly is just too much.

talk a blue streak tv. to talk fast or a lot. □ This crazy bird suddenly began talking a blue streak. □ Some parrots never talk. Others talk a blue streak whenever it's light.

talk big in. to brag; to make grandiose statements. □ She talks big, but can't produce anything. □ He has some deep need to talk big. He can't do anything.

talking head n. a television news reader or announcer whose head and neck appear on the screen. □ I've had it with talking heads. I can read the paper and learn as much in twenty minutes. □ Some of those talking heads make millions a year.

talk like a nut in. to say stupid things. □ You're talking like a nut! You don't know what you are saying. □ Don't talk like a nut! We can't afford a trip to Florida!

talk one's head off tv. to talk endlessly; to argue persuasively or vigorously. □ I talked my head off trying to convince them. □ Don't waste time talking your head off to them.

talk on the big white phone in. to vomit into a toilet. □ One more beer and I'm gonna have to go talk on the big white phone. □ She was talking on the big white phone all night.

talk someone ragged tv. to talk to someone too much; to bore someone. □ That was not an interview. She talked me ragged. □ He always talks me ragged, but I always listen.

talk someone's ear off tv. to talk to someone endlessly; to bore someone with too much talk. □ My aunt always talks my ear off when she comes to visit. □ Stay away from Mr. Jones. He will talk your ear off if he gets a chance.

talk through one's hat in. to say baseless things; to speak carelessly and tell lies. □ Pay no attention to my friend here. He's just talking through his hat. □ You don't know what you are talking about. You're just talking through your hat.

talk to earl [...ɜrl] in. to vomit. (Onomatopoeic.) □ I think I hear Pete in the john talking to earl. □ Oh, my gosh! I think I have to go talk to earl!

talk to hear one's own voice in. to talk far more than is necessary; to talk much, in an egotistical manner. □ Oh, he's just talking to hear his own voice. □ Am I just talking to hear my own voice, or are you listening to me?

talk to Herb and Al in. to use marijuana and drink alcohol. (See also herb. Al is alcohol.) □ I've been out talking to Herb and Al—that's where I've been. □ Let's go talk to Herb and Al while we're waiting.

talk turkey tv. to talk serious business; to talk frankly. □ We've got to sit down and talk turkey—get this thing wrapped up. □ It's time to talk turkey and quit messing around.

talk until one is blue in the face in. to talk until one is exhausted. □ You can talk till you're blue in the face, but it won't do any good. □ She talked until she was blue in the face, but could not change their minds.

tall 1. mod. high on drugs; intoxicated with marijuana. (Drugs.) □ When Jerry gets a little tall, he gets overwhelmed with a sense of guilt. □ She seems a little tall. What's she on? 2. mod. high-quality. □ This is one tall pizza, man. □ You're bringing in some tall ideas, man.

tall in the saddle mod. proud. (Often with sit.) □ I'll still be tall in the saddle when you are experiencing the results of your folly. □ Despite her difficulties, she still sat tall in the saddle.

tall one n. a large drink; a long drink. (Compare this with short one.) □ She ordered a tall one and sat back to cool off. □ Give me a tall one, John.

tall order n. a request that is difficult to fulfill. □ That's a tall order. Do you think anyone can do it? □ Well, it's a tall order, but I'll do it.

tall timbers n. some remote well-forested place; the boondocks. □ Oh, Chuck lives out in the tall timbers somewhere. He only has a post office box number. □ You're not going to move me out into the tall timbers somewhere!

T. and A. 1. n. an operation to remove one's tonsils and adenoids. (Hospitals.) □ She was scheduled for a T. and A. this morning at six sharp. □ The T. and A. went off without a hitch. 2. AND tits and ass n. a display of tits and ass, breasts and buttocks. (See also B. and B. Usually objectionable.) □ The magazines featuring tits and ass flourish in their under-the-counter trade. □ These silly T. and A. movies have no plot to interfere with the leers.

tangle with someone or something in. to quarrel or fight with someone or something. □ I didn't want to tangle with her, so I did what she wanted. □ It's like tangling with a grizzly.

tank 1. AND tank up in. to drink too much beer; to drink to excess. □ The two broth- ers were tanking up and didn't hear me come in. □ Let's go out this Friday and tank awhile. 2. n. a drunkard. (Usually tank-up.) □ You're turning into a real tank, Harry. □ Who's the tank-up carrying the thermos of whiskey? 3. n. a jail cell for holding drunks. □ Maybe a night in the tank would give you a chance to think about being a full-time drunk. □ One night in the tank was enough to make John take the pledge. 4. tv. & in. to lose a game deliberately. □ Wilbur would never tank. □ The manager got wind of a plan to tank Friday's game. 5. in. for something to fail. □ The entire stock market tanked on Friday. □ My investments did not tank when the market collapsed.

tanked 1. AND tanked up mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was too tanked to drive. □ That old codger is really tanked. 2. mod. defeated; outscored. □ The team was tanked again—20-17. □ I just knew we'd get tanked today. 3. mod. dead. □ My cat got hit by a truck and is totally tanked.

tanked up Go to tanked.

tanker n. a drinker; a drunkard. □ When I came into the bar, a few tankers were in the back. □ Who's the tanker carrying the thermos of gin?

tank up Go to tank.

tanky mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The guy was just a little tanky. □ He found a way to slow down and keep from getting tanky at parties.

tanned mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Preserved like a tanned hide of an animal.) □ She was completely tanned. □ Tom is too tanned to drive. Get him out of that car.

tap dance like mad in. to be busy continuously; to have to move fast to distract someone. □ When things get tough, the whole Congress tap dances like mad. □ Any public official knows how to tap dance like mad without getting out of breath or sweating.

taped [tept] mod. finalized; sealed (up); cinched. (As if one were taping a package.) □ I'll have this deal taped by Thurs- day. Then we can take it easy. □ Until this thing is taped, we can't do anything.

tap out 1. in. to lose one's money gambling or in the securities markets. (See also tapped.) □ I'm gonna tap out in about three more rolls—just watch. □ I really tapped out on that gold-mining stock. 2. in. to die; to expire. □ My dog tapped out after being hit by a car. □ Mary was so tired that she thought she was going to tap out.

tapped [tæpt] 1. AND tapped out mod. broke. □ The consumer is just about tapped. Don't expect much buying in that sector. □ I'm tapped out. Nothing left for you or anybody else this month. 2. AND tapped out mod. exhausted. □ I need a nap. I'm tapped out. □ I've had it. I'm tapped. 3. AND tapped out mod. ruined. □ We are tapped. That really did it to us. □ The project is completely tapped out. 4. mod. arrested. (As if one were tapped on the shoulder by a police officer.) □ I knew I was gonna get tapped eventually, but I just couldn't stop stealing. □ The whole gang was tapped in a police raid.

tapped out Go to tapped.

tap someone (for something) tv. to select someone for some purpose or position. □ The committee tapped John to run for Congress. □ I had thought they were going to tap Sally.

taste n. a share; a piece (of the action). □ I want a taste, too. □ Whatever the deal is, I want a taste.

taste blood tv. to experience something exciting, and perhaps dangerous, for the first time. □ She had tasted blood once, and she knew that the life of a race-car driver was for her. □ Once you taste blood, you're hooked.

Ta-ta. ['tɑ'tɑ] interj. Good-bye. □ See ya later. Ta-ta. □ Ta-ta. Take care.

tater n. a potato. (Folksy. The plural, taters, can refer to individual potatoes or a mass of potatoes as with mashed potatoes.) □ Give me more meat and less taters. □ He ate seven pork chops and a whole big bowl of taters.

tawny ['tɒni] mod. excellent. □ Who is throwing this tawny party anyway? □ This pizza is, like, tawny!

TCB tv. taking care of business; doing things that have to be done. (Black. Initialism.) □ He's TCB; that's where he is. □ If I am just TCB and keeping my nose clean, I know I'm gonna be all right.

tchtchotchke AND chotchke n. a trinket or ornament. (From Yiddish.) □ Her whole house is filled with tchtchokes and old photographs.

tea 1. n. liquor; alcoholic drink. □ Would you care for more tea? □ Give the lady some more tea. 2. n. urine. (Usually objectionable.) □ There is some tea on the floor. □ Is that tea on your pants leg? 3. n. marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Bart has tea and canaries on him now. No dust. □ Can't you lay off that tea a while?

tea party 1. n. a wild drinking party. (Like the Mad Hatter's party in Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland.) □ There was a loud tea party going on in the corner booth when Barlowe came in. □ I'm having a little tea party Friday. Wanna come? 2. n. something easy; a pleasant and unstressful event. □ It was not a tea party, but it wasn't bad either. □ The test was a real tea party. No sweat.

tear [ter] n. a wild drinking bout. (See also rip.) □ Sally is off on a tear again. □ What a tear it was at Paul's on Saturday night!

tear into a place in. to run or rush into a place. □ I tore into the office and answered the phone. □ They tore into town and held up the bank.

tear into someone in. to scold someone severely; to attack someone. □ I was late, and the super tore into me like a mad dog. □ I don't know why she tore into me. I was at work when the window was broken.

tear into something in. to begin eating food with gusto. □ The family tore into the mountain of food like they hadn't eaten since breakfast—which was true, in fact. □ Jimmy tore into the turkey leg and cleaned it off in no time.

tear-jerker ['tɪrdʒəˌkɜː] n. a very sad story or film. □ The film was a real tear-jerker. □ I don't care to read a steady diet of tear-jerkers.

tear loose (from someone or something) [tɜːr...] in. to manage to break away from someone or something. □ The quarterback tore loose and ran twenty yards for a first down. □ Barlowe tore loose from Rocko and made for the door.

tear off in. to break away; to run away. □ I hate to tear off, but I'm late. □ Don't tear off without having some of my pie.

tear someone or something apart tv. to criticize someone or something severely. □ I was late, and the boss tore me apart. □ I thought my paper was good, but the prof tore it apart.

tear someone or something up tv. to rip someone or something to pieces. □ The two drunks tore the bar up the best they could. □ The dog tore up the robber, and the robber sued.

tear someone up tv. to cause someone much grief. (See also tore (up).) □ I know this news will tear him up. □ The situation really tore up his father.

teaser ['tɪzə] 1. n. a (found) cigarette butt. □ The hobo picked up the teaser from the street and put it in a little bag. □ He saves up teasers to make a big smoke out of them. 2. n. a brief sample of something, such as a performance. □ The teaser didn't look very promising, but the reviews were great. □ The teasers they showed before the film were the best part of the evening.

techie ['tɛki] 1. n. a student in a technical or engineering college. □ Does one guy like Martin prove that all techies are nerds? □ Of course, one groovy guy proves that techies aren't nerds, right? 2. n. a person with technical skills or knowledge. □ We'll have to take this problem to a techie. □ The techies say it should work, theoretically, that is. 3. mod. having to do with technical people or things. □ I don't like this techie jargon. □ This is the techie lounge. See how messy it is?

tech-nerd ['tɛknərd] n. a technically oriented, dull person, typically a male computer enthusiast. □ My brother, who is a tech-nerd, spends more than ten hours a day on his computer. □ I had to consult a tech-nerd to get my VCR operating.

technicolor yawn n. vomit. (See also throw a technicolor yawn.) □ This horrible pizza will bring on a few technicolor yawns if we serve it. □ Who did the technicolor yawn in the bushes?

teed off mod. angry. □ I'm not teed off! I'm enraged. □ I was so teed off I could have spit!

teed (up) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ She was totally teed up by midnight. □ Tom was too teed to drive.

teenie AND teeny n. a sixteenth. (Securities markets. From sixteenth. One sixteenth of a point in a stock price. See also steenth.) □ It's going at three and two teenies at the moment. □ My forty thousand shares have dropped to three teenies each, and I think I am going to go down to the beach and jump.

teenie-weenie Go to teeny-weeny.

teensy-weensy Go to teeny-weeny. teeny Go to teenie.

teenybopper ['tɪnɪbɒpə] n. a young teenager, usually a girl. □ The teenyboppers moved around the mall in droves, not buying and not causing any trouble, just being available for anyone who wanted to see them. □ Somebody called Mary a, like, teenybopper, and she went, like, "So gross!"

teeny-weeny AND teenie-weenie; teensy-weensy ['tɪniˈwɪni AND 'tɪntsiˈwɪntsi] mod. tiny. □ It was just a teeny-weeny sin. □ This one is too teeny-weeny. □ Could you move just a teenie-weenie bit to the left?

teepee Go to TP.

tee someone off tv. to make someone angry. (See also teed off.) □ That really teed me off! □ Well, you sure managed to tee off everybody!

tee-tee ['tɪti] 1. in. to urinate. (Juvenile. Usually objectionable.) □ Jimmy, please go tee-tee before we leave. □ Jimmy, you are supposed to flush it when you tee-tee.

2. n. urine. (Juvenile. Usually objectionable.) □ There's tee-tee on the floor. □ Why is tee-tee yellow?

telegraph one's punches 1. tv. to signal, unintentionally, what blows one is about to strike. (Boxing.) □ Wilbur used to telegraph his punches until his coach beat it out of him. □ Don't telegraph your punches, kid! You'll be flat on your back in twenty seconds. 2. tv. to signal, unintentionally, one's intentions. □ When you go in there to negotiate, don't telegraph your punches. Don't let them see that we're broke. □ The mediator telegraphed his punches, and we were prepared with a strong counter argument.

Tell it like it is. sent. Speak frankly; Tell the truth no matter how much it hurts. □ Come on man, tell it like it is! □ Well, I've got to tell it like it is.

Tell me another (one)! exclam. Tell me another fairy tale!; That was a lie. Tell me another just as good! □ You a stockbroker? Tell me another one! □ There's no improvement in this problem! Tell me another!

tell shit from Shinola Go to know shit from Shinola.

tell someone what to do with something tv. to tell someone to do something rude with something. (With the unspoken notion that one should stick it up one's ass.) □ I'll tell you what you can do with it. □ If that's the way he wants to be, you can just tell him what to do with it.

tell someone where to get off tv. to tell someone when enough is enough; to tell someone off. □ I was fed up with her bossiness. I finally told her where to get off. □ He told me where to get off, so I walked out on him.

tell the (whole) world tv. to spread around private business. □ Well, you don't have to tell the whole world. □ Go ahead, tell the world!

telly ['teli] n. a television set. (Originally British.) □ What's on the telly tonight? □

I mean, what's showing on the telly tonight?

a ten n. the highest rank on a scale of one to ten. □ She's definitely a ten. □ On a scale of one to ten, this pizza's a ten.

ten-four AND 10-4 interj. okay. (Citizens band radio.) □ Ten-four, old buddy. I will do that. □ Please, where the answer to the question is yes or no, don't write 10-4 for yes.

tenner n. a ten-dollar bill. (See also fiver.) □ For a tenner, the bum led Barlowe to the place where the crate still lay in the alley. □ Barlowe slipped him a tenner and faded into the fog.

tennies n. tennis shoes; sneakers. □ Let me get my tennies on, and I'll be right with you. □ What is that stuff on your tennies?

ten percenter n. an agent who collects 10 percent. □ I've been supporting that ten percenter for years, and he was robbing me blind. □ The life of a ten percenter is not easy.

ten-spot n. a ten-dollar bill. □ I slipped him a ten-spot, and suddenly there was a table available. □ It will cost you a ten-spot to get the book, in paperback, that is.

terps Go to turps.

terrific mod. excellent. □ Glad to hear it. That's just terrific. □ What a terrific idea!

TGIF 1. interj. Thank God it's Friday. (Initialism.) □ It was a rough week. TGIF. □ Everybody was muttering TGIF by Friday afternoon. 2. n. a party held on Friday in honor of the end of the workweek. □ Everyone is invited to the TGIF tonight. □ Terry has a TGIF in his room every evening.

thanks a bunch phr. thanks. □ Thanks a bunch for your help. □ He said "thanks a bunch" and walked out.

thank you very much phr. a (sometimes sarcastic) tag added to a statement for emphasis. (Often used when there is really nothing to thank anyone for.) □ I will manage somehow to find my own way out, thank you very much. □ We are probably the only people in town who might be able to help you, thank you very much. □ You've been quite annoying, thank you very much!

that 1. mod.  (Especially in citizens band radio jargon and much daily colloquial speech.
It is the pervasive overuse of this form that makes it notable as colloquial.) □ Can you tell me where that next rest stop is? □ Put that can of stuff on that shelf and sweep that floor. 2. mod.  (Citizens band radio.) □ How do I get to that Kansas City? □
That Mr. Silverflash is making good time.

That-a-boy! exclam. That is the way to do it! (Said to a boy or man.) □ Come on, Chuck. That-a-boy! □ *That-a-boy, Chuck.
You can do it!*

That ain't hay! exclam. That's money, not something worthless. □ That car cost $40,000, and that ain't hay!

That'll be the day! exclam. That will never happen! □ You win a medal? That'll be the day! □ When he gets his own car—that'll be the day!

That'll teach someone. sent. That is what someone deserves. □ That'll teach you to pull out in front of me. □ I hit him on the head. That'll teach him.

That's about the size of it. sent. That is the way things are.; That's all there is to tell. □ Well, that's about the size of it. See you tomorrow. □ *That's about the size of
it. You've understood it perfectly.*

That's all she wrote. AND That's what she wrote. sent. That is all of it. □ Here's the last one we have to fix. There, that's all she wrote. □ That's what she wrote. There ain't no more.

That's all someone needs. sent. That is too much.; That is the last straw. □ Now the sewer's backing up. That's all I need. □
A new mouth to feed. That's all we need!

That's a new one on me. sent. That is truly amazing.; I did not know that. □ A machine that copies in four colors. That's a new one on me. □ *A talking camera?

That's a new one on me.*

That's my boy. sent. That is my son of whom I am proud.; I'm proud of this young man. □ After the game, Tom's dad said, "That's my boy!" □ *That's my boy!
Always a winner!*

That's show business (for you). sent.
That is the way that life really is. (Also with biz and show biz.) □ And now the car won't start. That's show business for you. □ *Too bad about the bad investment.
That's show biz.*

That's so suck! phr. That's so awful. □ Eat sweet potatoes? That's so suck!

That's that! exclam. That is final! That is the end of it! □ I said no, and that's that!
□ I won't go, and that's that!

That's the stuff! exclam. That is good work! □ Good shot, Wally! That's the stuff! □ That's the stuff! Way to go!

That's the ticket! exclam. That is exactly what is needed! □ Good! That's the ticket!
Now you're cooking with gas. □ That's the ticket! Perfect!

That's the way the ball bounces. sent.
That is life.; That is the random way things happen. □ It's tough, I know, but that's the way the ball bounces. □ That's the way the ball bounces. It could be worse.

That's the way the cookie crumbles. sent. That is life.; That is typical of the unequal share of things you are likely to get in life. □ I lost my job. Oh, well. That's the way the cookie crumbles. □ *Oh, gee!
Too bad. That's the way the cookie crumbles.*

That's the way the mop flops. sent. This is the way things happen.; This is typical of a random pattern of events. (Contrived.) □ Sorry to hear about that, but that's the way the mop flops. □ That's tough, but that's the way the mop flops.

(That's the) way to go! exclam. Nicely done! □ Way to go, Charlie! □ That's the way to go! You did it!

That's what I say. sent. I agree with you.
□ Of course, Mary. That's what I say. □

That's what I say. The way to cut spending is just to do it.

That's what she wrote. Go to That's all she wrote.

That tears it! [...terz...] exclam. That is too much! □ Well, that tears it! I'm leaving! □ I thought yesterday's error was bad enough, but that tears it!

that way 1. mod. in love. □ Sam and Martha are that way. They look so happy. □ Well, Martha's that way, but Sam's just out for a good time. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Daddy's that way again. □ I'm sorry, but Fred's that way again and can't drive to work. 3. mod. homosexual. □ Ken said that you-know-who was acting sort of that way. What a gossip! □ Somebody said that Ken talks that way because he is that way.

thawed mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Tad is sort of soppy, you might say, thawed. □ Do you think he's too thawed to drive us home?

then and there mod. right then. □ He dropped the box right then and there and walked out on us. □ Right then and there, he pulled up his shirt and showed everyone the jagged scar.

There's nobody home. sent. There are no brains in someone's head. □ There's lots of goodwill in that head, but there's nobody home. □ You twit! There's nobody home—that's for sure.

There will be hell to pay. sent. Things will be so bad that one will have to bribe the devil to straighten them out. (Use caution with hell.) □ If I don't get this done on time, there will be hell to pay. □ There'll be hell to pay if we miss the plane.

There you are. sent. This is the result.; This is the way things turned out. □ There you are. Didn't I warn you? □ Well, there you are. Another first-class mess.

There you go. 1. sent. Hooray! You did it right! (Usually There you go!) □ There you go! That's the way! □ Good shot, Chuck! There ya go! 2. sent. That is the way things are, just like I told you.; Isn't this just what you would expect? □ There you go. Isn't that just like a man! □ There you go, acting rude and ugly! 3. sent. You are doing it again. □ There you go! You said it again. □ I just told you not to put that junk on the table, and there you go.

thick 1. mod. stupid; thickheaded. □ She's sort of thick, but she means well. □ Why are you so thick about money? 2. mod. involved (with someone). □ Sam and Mary are really thick. □ They're thick as can be. 3. mod. unbelievable. □ This stuff is getting thick. □ This story is too thick for me. I'm cruising outa here.

thickheaded mod. stupid; with more bone than brain in the head. □ He's so thick-headed he can play football without a helmet. □ What thickheaded dolt put scallops in the scalloped potatoes?

thick-skinned mod. able to withstand much criticism. (Compare this with thin-skinned.) □ You gotta be more thick-skinned if you want to be a cop. □ He's a real thick-skinned guy. □ I'm thick-skinned enough; I just don't like violence.

thin dime n. a dime, thought of as a very small amount of money. (A concept eroded by inflation.) □ For only one thin dime you will receive our exciting catalog of novelties and tricks. □ This whole mess isn't worth one thin dime.

thing n. one's interest; one's bag. □ This isn't exactly my thing, but I'll give it a try. □ This is just your thing! Enjoy it!

thingamajig AND thingy ['θɪŋəmədʒɪg AND 'θɪŋɪ] n. a gadget for which the proper name has been forgotten or is unknown. □ Hand me that thingamajig with the copper base, will you? □ What're ya supposed to do with this thingy?

thingy Go to thingamajig.

think-box n. the skull; the head. □ A little weak in the think-box, but other than that, okay. □ Use your think-box for something other than to hold your ears apart.

think-piece n. a thoughtful piece of writing in a newspaper or magazine. □ Mr. Wilson's think-piece about the need for more concern for the middle class was not well received. □ This is plain propaganda disguised as a think-piece.

think-tank n. a place where great minds are assembled to try to think up solutions to problems or to envision the future. □ She spent a few months in a California think-tank, then came back to teach. □ What sort of solutions are coming out of the think-tanks of the nation?

thin-skinned mod. sensitive to criticism. (Compare this with thick-skinned.) □ Don't be so thin-skinned. You can't expect everyone to like you. □ He's a thin-skinned guy. □ I'm too thin-skinned to be a bill collector.

third degree n. a session of questioning, usually by the police. □ Bart got the third degree, but—being the thoroughbred he is—he was a clam. □ They gave Ziggy the third degree, but he refused to say anything.

third wheel n. an extra person; a person who gets in the way. (Such a person is as useful as a third wheel on a bicycle. See also spare tire.) □ I feel like such a third wheel around here. □ Well, let's face it. We don't need you. You are a third wheel.

thirst-aid station n. a place to purchase liquor. (From first-aid station.) □ Let's stop at the next thirst-aid station and get a snort. □ Wally stopped by the thirst-aid station for a quick snort.

thirsty soul n. a drunkard; a person in need of a drink. □ Yes, I'd call Bill a thirsty soul—he always seems thirsty for booze. □ There was a long line of thirsty souls waiting for the liquor joint to open.

This is it! 1. exclam. This is exactly what I have been looking for!; I have found it! □ This is it! I got it right this time. □ This is it! The world's best pizza! 2. exclam. This is the crucial moment! □ Okay, this is it, the last chance! □ Get ready, this is it! Jump now!

This is where I came in. sent. This all seems very familiar. □ Okay, that's enough. This is where I came in. □ This is where I came in. It's the same thing all over again.

thoroughbred n. an underworld person who is trustworthy and loyal to the underworld. (Underworld.) □ Bart is an A-1 thoroughbred. □ The thoroughbred clammed up during the third degree.

thou [θu] n. one thousand. □ I managed to get a couple of thou from the bank, but I need a little more than that. □ It only costs four thou. I could borrow it from my uncle.

threads n. clothing. □ When'd you get new threads, man? □ Good-looking threads on Wally, huh?

a three-alarm fire AND a five-alarm fire n. someone or something very exciting. □ These guys are a three-alarm fire. Really exciting and eager. □ Work was a nightmare today. A five-alarm fire with crisis after crisis.

three bricks shy of a load mod. stupid; dense; shortchanged on intelligence. □ I would never say she was dense. Just three bricks shy of a load. □ Why do you act like you're three bricks shy of a load?

three fingers n. a measurement of liquor in a glass. (See also two fingers.) □ I'll take three fingers. It's been a hard day. □ Your wife told me not to give you three fingers anymore.

three point two Go to three-two.

three sheets in the wind AND three sheets (to the wind); two sheets to the wind mod. alcohol intoxicated and unsteady. (Sheets are the ropes used to manage a ship's sails. It is assumed that if these ropes were blowing in the wind, the ship would be unmanageable.) □ He was three sheets to the wind and didn't pay attention to my warning. □ By midnight, he was three sheets.

three sheets (to the wind) Go to three sheets in the wind.

three squares n. three square meals a day. □ I was glad to get back home to three squares. □ If I could limit myself to three squares, I could lose some weight.

three-two AND three point two n. a weak beer containing 3.2 percent alcohol. □ Three-two is just no good for serious sous-

ing. □ James likes three point two because he can drink more of it without getting stoned.

thriller-diller ['θrɪlɪə'dɪlɪə] n. something like a movie, book, or television program that is thrilling. (See also whodunit.) □ The film was a real thriller-diller. I remember having to force myself to exhale. □ I can read one of these thriller-dillers in a couple of hours.

throat n. an earnest student; a cutthroat student. (Collegiate.) □ Martin is not a throat! He's not that smart. □ All the throats got A's, of course.

throat gag n. liquor; strong liquor. □ Pour me another glass of that throat gag, barkeep. □ That throat gag nearly choked me.

the throne n. a toilet; a toilet seat. □ And there was the cat—right on the throne, just staring at me.

throne room n. a restroom; a bathroom. (See also throne.) □ Hank is in the throne room, reading, I think. □ Where's your throne room?

through and through mod. thoroughly; throughout. □ She's a born fighter, through and through. □ He is totally dishonest. A crook through and through.

through the mill mod. abused; well-worn. □ That was some convention. I've really been through the mill. □ I feel like I've gone through the mill. I'm pooped.

throw 1. n. a try; a time. □ Have another throw at it, why don't you? □ Just one more throw, then I'll quit. 2. tv. to confuse someone. □ The question really threw me. □ When the light fixture fell, it threw us a little.

throw a fight tv. to lose a boxing match on purpose. (Boxing. Other words can replace a.) □ I just know that Wilbur didn't throw that fight. □ The guy would never throw a fight.

throw a fit tv. to have a display of bad temper. □ I knew you'd throw a fit when I told you. □ Oh, boy, did she ever throw a fit.

throw a game tv. to lose a game on purpose. (See also throw a fight.) □ I know

Wilbur. He could never throw a game. □ There's a couple of those guys who would throw a game if they got enough money to do it.

throw a map tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ Somebody threw a map on the sidewalk. □ I felt like I was going to throw a map.

throw a punch tv. to jab; to punch. □ She tried to throw a punch at me, but I blocked it. □ Wilbur threw a punch at the thug.

throw a technicolor yawn tv. to vomit. (See also technicolor yawn.) □ One look at the food, and I almost threw a technicolor yawn. □ John stumbled into the living and threw a technicolor yawn on the new carpet.

throw-away 1. n. a flyer or handbill. □ The throw-away announced a big, city-wide TGIF. □ I passed out the throw-aways, but not many people would take them. 2. n. a comedian's quickly uttered one-line joke. □ He tossed off his best throw-away of the evening just as the curtain fell. □ She was an expert at the one-line throw-away.

throw down in. to eat; to gobble one's food. (The opposite of throw up = to vomit.) □ Man, I'm starved. Let's find a hamburger joint and throw down. □ What time are you going to throw down tonight?

throw in the sponge Go to throw in the towel.

throw in the towel AND throw in the sponge; toss in the sponge tv. to quit; to give up. (From boxing where a towel or sponge thrown into the ring indicates that a boxer has given up.) □ I can tell when it's time to throw in the towel, and this is that time. □ The candidate who was exposed by the press as a former pickpocket tossed in the sponge in a tearful press conference.

throw money at something tv. to try to solve a problem by spending money on it. (Often said of the U.S. federal government.) □ This agency has thrown billions at the housing problem, but it has been nothing but a long-term disaster. □ Don't just throw money at it.

throw one out on one's ear tv. to remove someone from a place forcibly. □ Straighten up, or I'll throw you out on your ear. □ The caretaker caught us and threw us out on our ear.

throw one's cookies Go to toss one's cookies.

throw one's hat in the ring tv. to indicate that one is to be a contestant or a candidate. □ The con claimed he needed parole so he could throw his hat in the ring for the mayoral election. □ I won't throw my hat into the ring until the last minute.

throw one's voice tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ Wally's in the john throwing his voice. □ Another drink of that stuff and Don'll be throwing his voice all night.

throw one's weight around tv. to show off one's importance or power; to use one's rank or station to advantage. □ The vice president was throwing his weight around, but that had little effect on anything. □ Don't pay any attention to her. She's just throwing her weight around.

throw salt on someone's game tv. to mess up someone's plans. □ I don't mean to throw salt on your game, but I don't think you can pull it off.

throw someone for a loop tv. to confuse or surprise someone. □ The whole business threw me for a loop. □ Don't let this question throw you for a loop.

throw something back tv. to eat or drink something. □ Did you throw that whole beer back? □ Jed threw back a quick snort and went on with his complaining.

throw something together Go to knock something together.

throw the book at someone tv. [for the police] to charge someone with everything possible; [for a judge] to find someone guilty of everything possible. (As if one were being charged with violating all the laws in a law book.) □ The judge wanted to throw the book at Bruno, but the prosecutor convinced him to go easy in hope that Ziggy would lead them to Mr.

Big. □ They threw the book at Rocko—he got 180 years.

throw the bull AND throw the crap tv. to chat; to boast. (Use caution with crap.) □ Tom could really throw the bull and sound right as rain. □ You're just throwing the crap. Can it!

throw the crap Go to throw the bull.

throw up one's toenails tv. to wretch; to vomit a lot. □ It sounded like he was throwing up his toenails. □ Who's in the john throwing up her toenails?

thumb a ride tv. to beg a ride; to stand at the side of the street and signal to cars with one's thumb for a ride. □ I'll thumb a ride to get there if I have to. □ I thumbed a ride to speed things up.

thumber n. a beggar; a moocher. (As one who thumbs or begs a ride.) □ Don't be a thumber, Frank. Go buy your own cancer sticks. □ There was a thumber on every corner trying to get a ride from someone.

thumbnail sketch n. a quick and concise description. (One that could be written on someone's thumbnail.) □ Let me give you a thumbnail sketch of what happened. □ The story—in a thumbnail sketch—deals with a family of storks and what happens to them during each of the four seasons.

thumbs down 1. n. a sign of disapproval. (See also turn thumbs down (on someone or something).) □ The board gave our proposal a thumbs down. □ Not another thumbs down! 2. mod. disapproving; negative. □ It was thumbs down, and I was disappointed. □ The thumbs down decision was a victory for good sense.

thumbs up 1. n. a sign of approval. □ It was a thumbs up on the new filtration plant at Thursday's village board meeting. □ There was no thumbs up for the mayor as she faced certain defeat in today's balloting. 2. mod. approving; positive. □ The new filtration plant got a thumbs up decision at the board meeting. □ A thumbs up vote assured another three years of financial assistance.

thunder-boomer n. a thunderstorm. □ There will be thunder-boomers in the boonies tonight. □ A few thunder-boomers may wake you up tonight.

thunderbox n. a portable stereo radio, often played very loudly in public. (See also boom box.) □ Someday I'm going to smash one of these thunderboxes! □ Why not get a thunderbox of your own?

thunder-thighs n. big or fat thighs. (Cruel. Also a rude term of address.) □ Here comes old thunder-thighs. □ Here, thunder-thighs, let me get you a chair or two.

tick n. a minute; a second. (See also sec.) □ I'll be with you in a tick. □ This won't take a tick. Sit tight.

ticked (off) mod. angry. □ Wow, was she ticked off! □ Kelly was totally ticked.

ticker 1. n. a heart. □ I've got a good strong ticker. □ His ticker finally gave out. 2. n. a watch. □ My ticker stopped. The battery must be dead. □ If your watch runs on a battery, can you really call it a ticker?

ticket 1. n. the exact thing; the needed thing. □ Her smile was her ticket to a new career. □ This degree will be your ticket to a bright and shining future. 2. n. a license. □ I finally got a ticket to drive a big truck. □ I showed her my ticket, and she let me off with a warning.

tickled (pink) mod. amused; utterly delighted; pleased. □ I am tickled pink you could come this evening. □ We were tickled that you thought of us.

tickle the ivories tv. to play the piano. □ I used to be able to tickle the ivories real nice. □ She sat down to tickle the ivories for a while.

tick someone off tv. to make someone angry. (See also ticked (off).) □ That really ticks me off! □ Doesn't that tick off everyone?

tick-tock ['tɪktək] 1. n. a heart. (See also ticker.) □ My tick-tock is as strong as an ox's. □ How long does an ox's tick-tock last anyway? 2. n. a watch or clock. (Juvenile.) □ Wind your tick-tock before you forget. □ The tick-tock in the kitchen has broken.

ticky-tacky ['tɪkɪtæki] n. cheap and shabby material. □ Those houses are just made of ticky-tacky, and they won't even be here in twenty years. □ That stuff is just ticky-tacky. No one will buy it.

tiddled mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He had a tendency to get a little tiddled. □ Jack's too tiddled to drive.

tied up mod. busy. □ I was tied up and couldn't get to the phone. □ The phone was tied up for more than an hour.

tie-in n. a connection; a liaison. □ And who is your tie-in with the Acme Systems Company? □ I got a call from Mary—my tie-in with the mayor's office—who says it's all set.

tie it on Go to tie one on.

tie one on AND lay one on; tie it on tv. to get drunk. □ The boys went out to tie one on. □ They laid one on, but good.

tie on the nosebag Go to put on the feedbag.

tie the knot 1. tv. to marry a mate. □ We tied the knot in a little chapel on the Arkansas border. □ They finally tied the knot. 2. tv. [for a cleric] to unite a couple in marriage. □ It was hard to find somebody to tie the knot at that hour. □ It only took a few minutes for the ship's captain to tie the knot.

tiffled ['tɪflɪd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Harry was too tiffled to drive. □ Mary got a little tiffled, but nothing really gross.

tiger n. a strong and virile man. □ The guy's a tiger. Watch out for him. □ Isn't Ziggy a tiger!

tiger juice Go to tiger sweat.

tiger(s) milk Go to tiger sweat.

tiger sweat AND tiger juice; tiger(s) milk n. bad liquor; strong liquor; any beer or liquor. □ What is this tiger sweat anyway? □ How about some more of that tiger juice? □ This tiger milk would kill a tiger of any age or disposition.

tight 1. mod. stingy. □ She's really tight with her cash. □ You're just too tight. Gimme a fiver, Dad, come on. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Frank was tight and didn't want to drive. □ The host got tight and had to go to bed. 3. mod. stressful; with little margin for error. □ In a tight situation Martin can be sort of a wet rag. □ When the schedule is tight and we are busy as all get out, the telephone won't stop ringing.

tight as a tick 1. mod. very tight. □ This lid is screwed on tight as a tick. □ The windows were closed—tight as a tick—to keep the cold out. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The old man was tight as a tick, but still lucid. □ The host got tight as a tick and fell in the pool.

tighten one's belt tv. to prepare for economies. (As if one would not be able to afford enough food to make one's stomach press against one's belt. See also take one's belt in (a notch).) □ Get ready to tighten your belt. I lost my job. □ The entire country will have to tighten its belt.

tight money n. money that is hard to get. □ This is tight money. Go easy on it. It's hard to get. □ In these days of tight money, no new expenditures will be approved.

tight spot n. a difficulty. □ I'm in sort of a tight spot and wonder if you can help me out. □ Sure, I like helping people out of tight spots as long as it doesn't cost me any money.

tight wad n. a stingy person; a miser. (See also wad.) □ There's no need to be such a tight wad. □ My dad's a tight wad.

TIIC n. the idiots in charge. □ I can't give you the answer until I consult with TIIC.

Tijuana taxi ['tiəwəna 'tæksi] n. a police car. (Citizens band radio.) □ There's a Tijuana taxi back a few cars watching you awful close. □ It's not a Tijuana taxi; it's a park ranger!

till hell freezes over mod. forever. (Use caution with hell.) □ That's all right, boss; I can wait till hell freezes over for your answer. □ I'll be here till hell freezes over.

till kingdom come mod. until the end of the world; forever. □ Do I have to keep assembling these units till kingdom come? □ I'll hate her guts till kingdom come.

till the fat lady sings AND when the fat lady sings mod. at the end; a long time from now. (Supposedly from a tale about a child—sitting through an opera—who asks a parent when it will be over. “Not until the fat lady sings” is the answer.) □ Relax. It won't be over till the fat lady sings. □ We can leave with everybody else when the fat lady sings.

Time (out)! exclam. Stop talking for a minute! (A way of interrupting someone.) □ Time! I have something to say. □ Just a minute! Time out! I want to speak!

time to cruise n. Time to leave. □ See ya. It's time to cruise. □ Time to cruise. We're gone.

tin cow n. canned milk. □ This tin cow is okay in coffee or something, but you can't drink it. □ Tin cow was all we could get.

tingle 1. n. a party. □ This tingle is really da bomb. 2. in. to party. □ Hey, man, let's tingle.

tin hat n. a soldier's helmet. □ Where's my tin hat? □ You use your tin hat for everything—washing, hauling water—you name it.

tinkle 1. in. to urinate. (Mostly juvenile use. Usually objectionable.) □ I gotta tinkle! □ Jimmy, be sure and tinkle before we leave. 2. n. urine. (Essentially juvenile. Usually objectionable.) □ There's tinkle on the bathroom floor. □ Mommy, why is tinkle warm?

tinklebox n. a piano. (See also joybox.) □ She's okay on the tinklebox. □ The tinklebox in the bar seemed to be a bit loud.

tinseled mod. forged or decorated, as with a bad check. (Underworld.) □ Gert got caught passing tinseled checks. □ He almost got caught kiting tinseled checks.

tinsel-teeth n.  (Also a rude nickname.) □ Tinsel-teeth is having a hard time talking. □ Well, tinsel-teeth, today's the day your braces come off.

Tinseltown n. Hollywood, California. □ Tinseltown is a very glitzy place. □ She's talented and has her eye on Tinseltown.

tints n. sunglasses. □ Somebody sat on my tints. □ I have to get some prescription tints.

tip-off n. a clue; an indication. □ The tip-off was when the dog started wagging his tail. We knew you were hiding somewhere close. □ The broken twig was just the tip-off Barlowe needed.

tip one's hand tv. to reveal what one is going to do; to reveal one's secrets. (From card playing.) □ I didn't tip my hand at all. I left them guessing. □ They tried to get me to tip my hand.

tipple 1. n. liquor; strong liquor. □ This is mighty fine tipple. □ A little more tipple, Tom? 2. tv. & in. to drink liquor; to sip at a vessel of liquor. □ He's been tippling beer since early morning. □ Actually, he's been tippling since 1943. 3. n. a drink of liquor. □ How about a little tipple? □ I'll take just a little tipple—for my arthritis, you know. 4. n. a drinking bout. □ Well, Uncle Harry's off on a tipple again. □ No, that's the same tipple.

tippler 1. n. a tavern keeper. □ Another beer, faithful tippler. □ John is the best tippler this place has ever seen. Tip me another, John. 2. n. a drunkard. □ Uncle Ben was a tippler—a harmless one. □ He started drinking at fifteen and has been a tippler ever since.

tipply mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Ben is too tipply to drive home. □ I feel a little tipply.

tipster n. someone who gives special information; an informer. □ We got this from a tipster who has usually proven reliable in the past. □ The cops got this info from their favorite tipster.

titless wonder 1. n. an oafish or awkward person. (Usually objectionable.) □ That stupid jerk is the classic titless wonder. What a twit! 2. n. an unsatisfactory thing or situation. □ I've got to take this titless wonder into the shop for an oil change.

tits n. breasts, usually a woman's. (Usually objectionable.) □ She's nothing but tits and teeth! Not a brain in her head!

tits and ass Go to T. and A.

tits up mod. upside down; on its or someone's back. (Usually objectionable.) □ He landed tits up in a cornfield. □ Her lousy pie fell tits up onto the kitchen floor.

tizzy ['tizi] n. a state of confusion. (See also twit.) □ The kind of tizzy that this place gets into drives me up the wall. □ The office was in a tizzy when I left.

TLC n. tender loving care. (Initialism.) □ All he needs is a little TLC. □ This old car will keep running as long as I give it lots of TLC.

T-man n. a federal narcotics agent; a treasury agent. (The T is from treasury.) □ The T-men were at the front while Bruno crept out the back. □ It's curtains for you, T-man!

toast 1. n. a drunkard. □ The old toast stumbled in front of a car. □ A couple of toasts tried to get us to buy them drinks. 2. mod. excellent. □ This stuff is toast! □ Your silks are real toast. 3. mod. burned; done for. □ If you don't get here in twenty minutes, you're toast. □ I told him he was toast for not being there.

toasted mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The chick got toasted on two glasses of cheap white wine. □ I'm not toasted, just a little breathless.

to beat the band mod. very hard and very fast. □ He's selling computers to beat the band since he started advertising. □ She worked to beat the band to get ready for this.

to boot mod. in addition. □ For graduation, I got a new suit and a coat to boot. □ She got an F on her term paper and flunked the final to boot.

today mod. now; immediately. (Sarcastic.) □ I want it done, now—today. □ Come on. Sam. Move it. Today!

toddle off in. to depart; to walk away. □ She said good-bye and toddled off. □ The old man toddled off somewhere and got lost.

toddy blossom n. a large pimple from too much drinking. (See also strawberry.) □ He was sporting a toddy blossom that would be the envy of any bum on skid row.

□ There was nothing she could do to hide her toddy blossom.

to die for mod. important or desirable enough to die for; worth dying for. □ This chocolate cake is to die for! □ We had a beautiful room at the hotel and the service was to die for.

to-do n. a commotion. □ Don't make such a to-do when you come in late. □ They made quite a to-do about the broken window.

toe jam n. a nasty, smelly substance that collects between the toes of unwashed feet. □ Wash your feet, you turkey! I don't want you getting all your toe jam all over the room!

toe tag tv. to kill someone. (Bodies in the morgue are identified by tags on their big toes.) □ Man, you treat me that way one more time and I'm gonna toe tag you!

together mod. organized. □ I'm not together yet. Lemme call you back. □ That chick's really got it together.

to go mod. packaged to be taken out; packaged to be carried home to eat. □ Do you want it to go, or will you eat it here? □ This stuff is to go.

to hell and gone mod. gone; ruined. (Use caution with hell.) □ Fred was to hell and gone before anybody figured out what he had done. □ The whole plan is to hell and gone. Nothing can be salvaged.

To hell with that! exclam. That's the end of that!; No more of that! (Use caution with hell.) □ To hell with that! That's no excuse! □ I've heard stories like that before, and I don't believe any of them. To hell with that.

toilet mouth Go to potty mouth.

toilet water n. beer; draft beer. (Alludes to the term for cologne.) □ This toilet water has me running back and forth to the john. □ You want another pitcher of toilet water?

toke [tok] 1. n. a puff of marijuana smoke. (Drugs.) □ After a big toke, he settled back to drift. □ Harry took a big toke and sighed. 2. tv. & in. to puff a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) □ He sat on a stone to take one before bean time. □ He tokes for a good bit of every day. 3. n. a cigarette. □ You got a toke I can bum? □ I left my tokes in my jacket. 4. in. to free base. (Drugs.) □ She almost blew herself up toking. □ They were toking when her mother called on the phone. 5. n. a token. □ Yeah. Just a little toke of my approval. □ Nothing much. Just a toke.

tokus AND tukkis; tuchus ['tokəs AND 'təkəs] n. the buttocks; the rump. (Yiddish.) □ She fell right on her tokus! □ Look at the tukkis on that fat guy.

tomato n. an attractive girl or woman. □ There's a nice-looking tomato. □ A good-looking tomato brought me my change.

tomcat 1. n. a sexually active male; a stud. □ Old Fred's getting to be quite a tomcat. □ His goal in life is to die a tomcat at age ninety. 2. in. [for a man] to prow around searching for sex. □ Harry was out tomcatting again last night. □ He's gonna tomcat around till he catches something.

tomfoolery ['təm'fʊləri] n. foolishness. □ That's enough of this tomfoolery! □ The entire evening was devoted to tomfoolery.

tongue loosener Go to tongue oil.

tongue oil AND tongue loosener n. liquor. □ She had a little too much tongue oil and was telling all about everybody. □ Barlowe poured the pigeon another shot of tongue loosener.

tongue-tied 1. mod. unable to speak from fear or confusion. (Standard English.) □ I was tongue-tied and useless. □ Why do you get tongue-tied in front of a crowd? 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He was tongue-tied and couldn't stand up. □ She's not just tipsy; she's tongue-tied.

tonic n. liquor. □ How about some more tonic? □ Just a bit of tonic. I'm cutting down.

tonsil bath n. liquor; a drink of liquor. □ I could use a little tonsil bath about now. □ You want some more of that tonsil bath?

tonsil hockey 1. n. oral sex performed on the penis; fellatio. (Usually objectionable.) □ Give him a good round of tonsil hockey, and you've got a customer for life.

2. n. French kissing. □ The two kids spent the rest of the evening playing tonsil hockey. □ No tonsil hockey for me. I don't want to catch something.

tonsil paint AND tonsil varnish n. liquor; whiskey. □ This tonsil varnish would take the paint off a barn. □ Give the man a cup of tonsil paint.

tonsil varnish Go to tonsil paint.

tons of something n. lots of something. □ We got tons of fried chicken, so help yourself. □ You are in tons of trouble.

Toodle(-oo). ['tʊdɪ('u)] interj. Good-bye. □ Take it easy. Toodle-oo. □ See ya! Toodle!

tooey Go to tooie.

tooie AND tooey; tuie n. a capsule of Tuinal™, a barbiturate. □ You got any tooies? □ The cops saw a few tuies on the sidewalk and made the arrest.

took Go to taken.

tool 1. n. an earnest student. (See also power tool.) □ Of course he's a tool. See the plastic liner in his pocket? □ Martin is a tool, and he's proud of it. 2. n. a dupe; someone who can be victimized easily. □ They were looking for some tool to drive the getaway car. □ Who's the tool with the briefcase? 3. in. to speed along (in a car). (See also tool around.) □ We were tooling along at about seventy-five when the cop spotted us. □ I was tooling, and nobody could catch me.

tool around in. to drive or cruise around. (See also tool.) □ We tooled around for a while and then rented a horror movie. □ Let's tool around on the way home.

too much mod. overwhelming; excellent. □ It's wonderful. It's just too much! □ You are so kind. This is too much.

too rich for someone's blood 1. mod. too expensive for one's budget. □ This hotel is too rich for my blood. □ Europe is getting too rich for our blood. 2. mod. too high in fat content for one's diet. □ This dessert is too rich for my blood. □ Most ice cream is too rich for my blood.

toot 1. n. a binge; a drinking spree. □ Harry's on a toot again. □ He's not on one again. It's the same old toot. 2. tv. & in. to drink copiously. □ She could toot booze from dusk to dawn. □ They tooted and tooted till they could toot no more. 3. n. an emotional jag of some kind. □ She's on a toot about how nobody loves her anymore. □ Those toots wore everybody out. 4. n. a line or dose of cocaine; cocaine. □ These tootheads get sort of frantic when they can't get a toot. □ What do you spend on a toot, anyway? 5. tv. & in. to snort a portion of cocaine. □ She had to leave the office to toot. □ She tooted a couple of lines and came back.

tooter 1. n. a person on a drinking spree. □ A couple of tooters were making a lot of noise. □ The streets belong to the tooters on New Year's Eve. 2. n. a drunkard. □ Hank offered the tooter a drink, which was gratefully accepted, of course. □ I think you are turning into a tooter.

tootle along in. to depart. □ I think I'd better tootle along now. □ Nice talking to you. Must tootle along.

toot one's own horn Go to blow one's own horn.

tootonium ['tu'toniəm] n. an imaginary, potent type of cocaine. (Drugs. A play on titanium.) □ He called it tootonium. She called it trouble. □ You want some real tootonium, babe?

tootuncommon [tut'nkəmən] n. an imaginary, potent type of cocaine; any potent cocaine. (Drugs. A play on King Tut-ankhamen.) □ Bart laughed when the student asked for tootuncommon. □ Which is better, tootonium or tootuncommon?

top 1. tv. to surpass someone or something. □ Can you top this one? □ I'll try to top your joke. 2. tv. to kill someone. □ Bart was out to top Ziggy. □ Ziggy was gonna top Bart first. 3. n. the first half of a baseball inning. □ Wilbur hit a nice double-bagger in the top half of the fourth. □ It's the third inning at the top; Wilbur's up.

top banana 1. n. the lead comedian in a burlesque or vaudeville act. □ The top banana didn't show up for the gig. □ Let me be top banana tonight. 2. n. the boss; the leader or head of something. (See also big cheese; big enchilada.) ☐ You'll have to ask the top banana. He's out right now. ☐ Who's top banana around here?

top brass n. the highest leader(s); the boss(es). (Originally military.) ☐ The top brass turned thumbs down on the proposal. ☐ You'll have to check it out with the top brass. She'll be home around five.

top dog n. the person in charge or in power; a company officer. ☐ The reporter tried to get hold of one of the top dogs, but couldn't get past the secretary. ☐ A top dog from the executive suite read a prepared statement.

top-drawer mod. top-quality. ☐ Podunk U. is a really top-drawer school. ☐ I want to hire a young MBA who's top-drawer.

top-flight mod. of the highest caliber. ☐ This candy is top-flight in every sense. ☐ We are looking for a top-flight manager for our new division.

top heavy mod. heavy-breasted; buxom. ☐ Tracy gets a little top heavy when she is gaining weight. ☐ Who's the top heavy number in the red tent?

topless mod. having to do with someone wearing no clothing above the waist, usually a woman. ☐ The topless places are beginning to dress up a little. ☐ The cops closed down the topless joint on Maple Street.

top of the heap n. a position superior to everyone else. ☐ For some reason, Jerry has to be at the top of the heap. ☐ She fought her way to the top of the heap and means to stay there.

top story AND upper story n. the brain. ☐ A little weak in the upper story, but other than that, a great guy. ☐ He has nothing for a top story.

topsy-boozy AND topsy-boosy ['tapsi'buzi] mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Gary drank until he was topsy-boozy. ☐ She was so topsy-boosy she couldn't stand up.

topsy-turvy ['tapsi'tɜːvi] 1. mod. upside down; in disarray. ☐ The whole office is topsy-turvy. ☐ He came in and turned everything topsy-turvy. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Four glasses of gin and the jerk was totally topsy-turvy. ☐ She was too topsy-turvy to stand up.

tore down Go to tore (up).

tore (up) AND torn (up); tore down 1. mod. distraught; emotionally upset. ☐ I knew you'd be tore up. ☐ Fred's really torn up about the accident. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ He wasn't just drunk—he was massively tore up. ☐ Boy, was she torn.

tornado juice n. whiskey; strong whiskey. ☐ You want another round of tornado juice? ☐ This "tornado juice" smells like antifreeze.

torn (up) Go to tore (up).

torpedo n. a drink containing chloral hydrate; a knockout drink. ☐ Barlowe signaled the bartender to give the stoolie a torpedo. ☐ The stoolie never knew it was a torpedo that wrecked him.

torqued [tɔːkt] 1. mod. angry; bent. ☐ Now, now! Don't get torqued! 2. mod. drunk. (A play on twisted.) ☐ Mary gets torqued on just a few drinks.

toss 1. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ I was afraid I was going to toss. ☐ She tossed right there on the steps and ran away. 2. tv. to throw something away. ☐ Toss that old coat. It's no good. ☐ I'll toss this one. It's all scratched. 3. tv. to search someone. (Underworld.) ☐ The cops tossed him and found nothing. ☐ The feds have a special way of tossing somebody for drugs. 4. tv. to drink some liquor; to take a drink of liquor. ☐ He tossed some whiskey and left. ☐ Toss that drink, and let's get out of here!

toss in the sponge Go to throw in the towel.

Toss it! tv. Throw it away! ☐ You don't need that hat. Toss it!

toss off Go to beat off.

toss one's cookies AND throw one's cookies; toss one's lunch; toss one's tacos tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ Right then and there, with no warning, he tossed his cookies. □ If you feel like tossing your cookies, please leave quietly. □ Fred stepped over to the bushes and raucously tossed his tacos.

toss one's lunch Go to toss one's cookies.

toss one's tacos Go to toss one's cookies.

toss something off 1. tv. to do something quickly without much time or effort. □ It was no big deal. I tossed it off in thirty minutes. □ We can toss off the entire order in—let's say—three hours. 2. tv. to drink something quickly. □ He tossed it off and ordered another. □ She tossed off a scotch in one big swig. 3. tv. to ignore criticism; to ignore defeat or a setback. □ She just tossed it off like nothing had happened. □ How could she just toss off such a horrible thing? 4. tv. to resist or fight off a disease. □ I caught a little cold, but tossed it off right away. □ I can't toss off these viruses like I used to.

toss-up n. a matter of chance. (As predictable as the outcome of the toss of a coin.) □ Nobody knew what to do. It was a toss-up. □ Who knows what will happen? It's a toss-up.

totalled 1. mod. wrecked; damaged beyond repair. (From totally wrecked.) □ The car was totalled. There was nothing that could be saved. □ There's a place in the city that will buy totalled cars. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Tom was too totalled to talk. □ Jed was totalled and couldn't see to pay the bill.

totally mod. absolutely; completely. (Standard. Achieves slang status through overuse.) □ How totally gross! □ This place is totally beige.

totally clueless mod. ignorant (of something). (See also cluelessness.) □ Everybody was totally clueless as to what to do. □ Sorry, I'm totally clueless as to what to do.

tote 1. n. someone who abstains from alcohol. (From teetotal.) □ I'm not a tote, but I do have a limit—rather low by your standards. □ Have a drink, or are you still a tote? 2. n. a small portion of cannabis. (Drugs.) □ The cops found a tote when they tossed Bart, but that was all. □ How much do you want for just a tote? 3. n. a small pipe for smoking cannabis. (Drugs.) □ Her father found a tote in her room and really hit the ceiling. □ The cops found a tote in her purse and called in her father.

to the max mod. maximally. (California. See also max.) □ She is happy to the max. □ They worked to the max their whole shift.

to the tune of something phr. for the sum of a specific amount of money. □ The whole thing set me back to the tune of $400. □ You will end up paying to the tune of twenty dollars a month.

touch 1. n. a likely target for begging; someone who is asked for a loan. (See also soft touch.) □ He was just the kind of touch we were looking for, not too bright and not too poor. □ The touch looked around him and gave the stiff two-bits. 2. n. a request for money (from a beggar); a request for a loan. □ I ignored the touch and walked on by. □ Here comes Fred, and he looks like he wants to make a touch. 3. tv. to ask someone for a loan. □ He touched me for a hundred bucks. □ The wino touched Martin for a fiver. 4. n. a small portion of something to eat or drink. (Folksy.) □ I'll have just a touch. I'm on a diet, you know. □ Can I have another touch of that pie, please? 5. tv. to deal with or handle someone or something. (Usually in the negative.) □ I wouldn't touch that problem. □ Mr. Wilson is a real pain, and I wouldn't touch his account. Find somebody else to handle it.

touch and go mod. chancy. □ It was touch and go for a while, but we are out of the woods now. □ The place was in a real tizzy. Everything was touch and go.

touch a sore point tv. to mention something that upsets someone. □ I touched a sore point with Larry when I mentioned taxes. □ That touched a real sore point with me.

touch base (with someone) tv. to make contact with someone. □ I wanted to touch base with you just in case something had gone wrong. □ Let's touch base on Wednesday and check on things.

touched 1. mod. flattered; honored. (Standard English.) □ I was touched by your comments. □ We were both touched by your thoughtfulness. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was acting a little touched, but we didn't smell anything on her breath. □ Jed is a mite touched, wouldn't you say? Can't talk, walk, or see.

touchy-feely mod. very sensitive and empathetic; pretentiously compassionate. □ Wow, these SNAGs are soooo touchy-feely. □ Marge is so touchy-feely. She worries that anything she says may possibly offend someone.

tough break n. a bit of bad luck. □ Tough break. Sorry about that. □ You've had a lot of tough breaks lately.

tough cookie n. a tough person. □ He's a tough cookie, but I can handle him. □ There was a tough cookie in here this morning who demanded to see the manager.

tough cookies Go to tough luck.

tough customer n. someone who is difficult to deal with. □ Some of those bikers are really tough customers. □ Bruno is a tough customer. Just keep away from him.

tough egg to crack AND tough nut to crack n. a person or thing that is hard to figure out or hard to deal with. □ This problem is a tough nut to crack. □ I wish Jill wasn't such a tough nut to crack.

tough guy n. a tough man; a man who might be part of the underworld. □ He was your typical tough guy—jutting chin, gruff voice—but he was just our decorator checking up on the drapes. □ So, you want to be a tough guy, huh?

tough luck AND tough cookies interj. That is too bad. □ Tough luck, but that's the way the cookie crumbles. □ That's too bad, tough cookies.

tough nut to crack Go to tough egg to crack.

tough row to hoe n. a difficult task to carry out; a heavy set of burdens. □ It's a tough row to hoe, but hoe it you will. □ This is not an easy task. This is a tough row to hoe.

tough shit AND TS n. tough luck; too bad. (Usually objectionable.) □ If you really think I did wrong, then tough shit! I don't care. □ TS, Fred. That's really too bad.

tough something out tv. to carry on with something despite difficulties or setbacks. □ Sorry, you'll just have to tough it out. □ I think I can tough it out for another month.

Tough titty! AND Tough titties! exclam. That's too bad! (Usually objectionable.) □ Tough titty! I told you it wouldn't be easy. □ So you missed the bus. Tough titty!

tourist trap n. a place set up to lure tourists in to spend money. (Can be a shop, a town, or a whole country.) □ It looked like a tourist trap, so we didn't even stop the car. □ What keeps these tourists traps going?

townie ['tauni] n. a permanent (nonstudent) resident of a college town. □ The townies get upset when we make a lot of noise on Sundays. □ A couple of townies won the bicycle race.

toxicated AND toxy ['taksəkədəd AND 'taksi] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ He was just a tad toxy, but no one in the audience could tell. □ The boss showed up toxicated after lunch and shocked the secretaries.

toxic waste dump n. a horrible person or place. □ Frank, stop acting like a toxic waste dump and do as you're asked. □ Let's get out of this toxic waste dump.

toxy Go to toxicated.

TP AND teepee 1. n. toilet paper. (The abbreviation is an initialism.) □ There's no TP in the john. □ Don't forget to get teepee at the store. 2. tv. to festoon the trees and shrubbery of a residential yard with toilet paper. (A teenage prank.) □ All the swimmers' houses get teepeed the night before a meet. □ Who teepeed my spruce tree?

track 1. in. [for a laser beam, a phonograph stylus, a tape head, etc.] to successfully transfer information to or from a recording medium. □ Something here won't track. Must be the stylus. □ This thing won't track. What's wrong? 2. in. [for a person] to make sense. (Usually in the negative.) □ She wasn't tracking. There was no sense in trying to talk to her before she came out of it. □ I gave up on the lecturer. He wasn't tracking. 3. in. to coincide; to agree; to jibe. □ These two things don't track. I don't know what's wrong. □ Your figures don't track with mine. What's wrong?

trad [træd] mod. traditional. □ The approach is sort of trad, but so what? □ A more trad style might make the grownups more comfortable.

traf [træf] n. a release of intestinal gas. (This is fart spelled backwards. Usually objectionable.) □ Who let the traf? □ This place smells like a traf.

tragic-magic n. heroin. □ This tragic-magic, which has swept over the land, has taken too many of our youth. □ This tragic-magic stuff has hurt lots of my friends.

trailer trash n. the poorest of people who live in run-down house trailers. (Used with singular or plural force. Rude and derogatory.) □ She's just trailer trash. Probably doesn't even own shoes.

trammeled ['træmld] mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Collegiate.) □ Jim came home trammeled and was sick on the carpet. □ Wow, is she trammeled!

tranny ['træni] n. an automobile transmission. □ It looks like you get a new tranny, and I get 900 bucks. □ What kind of tranny does that baby have?

trans [trænts] n. an automobile. (From transportation.) □ I don't have any trans—I can't get myself anywhere. □ What are you using for trans these days?

trap 1. n. the mouth. (Crude.) □ Shut your trap! □ Put this in your trap and chew it up. 2. n. a low place; a dive. □ I want out of this trap! □ This trap is a mess. Clean it up!

trash 1. tv. to throw something away. □ Trash this stuff. Nobody will ever use it. □ I'll take it. Don't trash it. 2. n. a low, worthless person; worthless people. □ The guy is trash! Stay away from him. □ Running around with that trash—no wonder he's in trouble. 3. tv. to vandalize something. □ Somebody trashed the statue with spray paint. □ Who trashed my room? 4. n. an act of vandalism. □ Who quarterbacked the bus trash? □ The trash the other night was a real travesty. 5. tv. to beat, as in a ball game. □ You trashed us this game, but watch out next season! □ The Jets trashed the Wall-bangers, 48-13. 6. tv. to libel someone. □ He seemed content to trash the mayor. □ Who is the chick who was trashing Bart in the newspapers?

trashed mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. (Collegiate.) □ They were trashed beyond help. □ Let's all get trashed and raid the girls' dorm.

Trash it! exclam. Throw it away! □ We don't have space for this old chair. Trash it!

trash mouth n. someone who uses obscene language. □ Shut up, trash mouth. □ Some trash mouth is making everybody mad over in the park.

trashy mod. cheap; obscene; low; (sexually) promiscuous. □ What a trashy movie! □ Cut out the trashy talk, you guys.

tree-suit n. a wooden coffin. □ You'd better shut up if you don't want to end up wearing a tree-suit. □ We put him in a tree-suit and slid him into the ground.

trekkie ['trɛki] n. a fan of Star Trek, the television series and the movies. □ There is a convention of trekkies in Milwaukee this weekend. □ The trekkies seem to have their own language.

trendy n. someone who has to be right in style or first with the latest trend. □ Bob is one of those trendies. He had a ring on his hand before anyone else. □ All the trandies are wearing pink and charcoal clothing this month.

trial balloon n. a test of someone's reaction. □ It was just a trial balloon, and it didn't work. □ The trial balloon was a great success.

tribe n. a group of friends or relatives. □ When are you and your tribe going to come for a visit?

trick on someone in. to deceive someone. □ What are you doing? Are you tricking on me? □ Mary is always tricking on people and now nobody trusts her.

tricks of the trade n. special skills and knowledge associated with any trade or profession. □ I know a few tricks of the trade that make things easier. □ I learned the tricks of the trade from my uncle.

trigger 1. n. a hired gunman. (Underworld.) □ Rocko was a mob trigger for a while. □ Get your triggers outa here—then we can talk. 2. tv. to start something; to set something off. □ The noise triggered an avalanche. □ One little thing triggered that blowup, and I want to find out what it is.

trigger-happy mod. eager to fire a gun; eager to shoot someone or something. □ Rocko is sort of trigger-happy. Watch out. □ Ask your trigger-happy hunters to be careful this year.

trip 1. n. a prison sentence; a trip up the river. (Underworld.) □ Yeah, me and Lefty both was on a little trip for a few years. □ I had a short trip, so what? 2. n. a high from a drug. (Drugs.) □ Me and Sid went on a little trip. □ The trip was great, but once was enough. 3. in. to experience a high from a drug, especially LSD. □ Don't bother Bart. He's tripping. □ He trips about every other day. 4. n. a bad drug experience. (Drugs.) □ Boy, did I ever have a trip with that stuff! □ What a trip! I thought I would die. 5. n. an annoying person or thing. □ Class was a trip today. □ She is such a trip. 6. in. to leave. □ I gotta trip, man. □ Time to trip. See ya.

tripe 1. n. nonsense. □ I don't want to hear any more of that tripe. □ That's just tripe. Pay no attention. 2. n. a bad performance; something worthless. □ I know tripe when I see tripe, and that was tripe.

□ The reviewer thought your play was tripe.

triple 1. n. a large alcoholic drink containing three measures of hard liquor. □ It was a hard day. Make it a triple, John. □ One triple, but no more. You're cutting down, remember? 2. Go to triple-bagger.

triple-bagger 1. AND triple n. a hit in baseball that gets the batter to third base. □ Wilbur connected for another triple-bagger in the fifth. □ It's a triple for Wilbur! 2. n. a person whose ugly face is so frightful that three bags are required to conceal it. (Crude. See also double-bagger; coyote-ugly.) □ That guy is just a triple-bagger. □ He's worse than a triple-bagger—if that's possible.

triple whammy ['trɪpl 'wæmi] n. a powerful treatment; a powerful shock. □ The market crash, the trade figures, and the death of the secretary of defense was a powerful triple whammy in Washington politics this week. □ The tax bill served as a triple whammy to the family purse.

tripped out mod. great; excellent. □ This party is really tripped out, right? □ We had a tripped out time in class today. The teacher brought his pet rabbit.

TRIs n. the triceps. □ I'm working on building up my TRIs. Been doing lots of pushups.

troll 1. n. an ugly person; a grouchy person. □ Gee, that dame is a real troll. What's her problem? 2. n. an Internet user who sends inflammatory or provocative messages designed to elicit negative responses or start a flame-war. (As a fisherman trolls for an unsuspecting fish.) □ Don't answer those silly messages. Some troll is just looking for an argument. 3. n. a message sent by a troll (sense 2). □ Every time I get a troll, I just delete it.

trollkin n. a youthful or inexperienced troll (sense 2). □ Some trollkin sent me a message trying to make me angry.

the trots n. a case of diarrhea. □ I got the trots and can't go out tonight. □ There's a lot of the trots going around.

trotters 1. n. pig's feet. ☐ Trotters are okay if you can't tell what they are. ☐ Pickled trotters are good in the summer. 2. n. the feet. ☐ My trotters are sort of aching. ☐ Sit down and give your trotters a rest.

trounce [traunts] tv. to beat someone; to outscore someone. (Sports.) ☐ They really trounced us. ☐ Western trounced Eastern for the tenth year in a row.

Tru dat. sent. That's true.; I agree. ☐ Tru dat. I know just what you mean.

trumped up 1. mod. heavily promoted; overly praised. ☐ I don't care for trumped up stuff like that movie. ☐ That movie was so trumped up. I expected to see something much better than it turned out to be. 2. mod. made up; contrived. ☐ They put Larry in the slammer on some trumped up charge. ☐ It was a silly, trumped up idea. Just forget it.

trumpet spider Go to barking spider.

trump something up tv. to promote or boost something. (See also trumped up.) ☐ They think they have to trump something up to get people to see it. ☒ They trumped up the movie so much that many people were disappointed when it finally came out.

Trust me! exclam. Believe me!; Honestly! ☐ It's true! Trust me! ☐ He actually said it just like Tom told you. Trust me!

try someone back (again) tv. to call someone back on the telephone (again) later. ☐ I'll try her back later. ☐ When should I try back?

TS Go to tough shit.

(T)sup? ['(t)səp] interrog. What's up?; What is happening?; What have you been doing? ☐ Hi! Tsup? ☐ TONY: Sup? TIFFANY: Like, nothing.

tube 1. n. a can of beer. (See also crack a tube.) ☐ Toss me a tube, will ya? ☐ How many tubes do you think we ought to get for tonight? 2. n. the inner curve of a tall wave. (Surfing. See also tubular.) ☐ I'm waiting for the best tube. ☐ A good tube will do, won't it? 3. in. to fail; to go down the tube(s). (See also tube it.) ☐ The whole plan tubed at the last minute. ☐ I tubed, and I'm sorry. 4. n. a television set. ☐ What's on the tube tonight? ☐ The tube is in the shop, so I read a book. 5. n. a cigarette. ☐ You got a tube I can bum? ☐ There's a pack of tubes in my jacket.

tubed mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also tube.) ☐ They were both tubed and giggling. ☐ You really look tubed, man!

tube it tv. to fail a test. (See also tube.) ☐ I tubed it, and I'll probably get a D in the course. ☐ I was afraid I'd tube it, so I studied my head off.

tube steak n. a frankfurter or a wiener. (See also pimp steak.) ☐ Are we having tube steak again for dinner? ☐ I could live on tube steak. Nothing is better!

tub of guts Go to tub of lard.

tub of lard AND tub of guts n. a fat person. (Cruel. Also a rude term of address.) ☐ Who's that tub of guts who just came in? ☐ That tub of lard can hardly get through the door.

tubular mod. excellent. (Surfing and later general youth slang. Having to do with a tube [wave] that is good to surf in.) ☐ That pizza was totally tubular! ☐ This whole week is, like, tubular.

tuchus Go to tokus.

tude [tud] n. a bad attitude. ☐ Hey, you really got a tude, dude. ☐ Are you pulling a tude with me?

tuie Go to tooie.

tukkis Go to tokus.

tunage ['tʌnɪdʒ] n. music; tunes. ☐ Why don't you come over and we'll do some tunage? ☐ My stereo is down and I'm running a tunage deficit.

tuned mod. tipsy; drunk. ☐ Wally was a little tuned so Sally swiped his car keys. ☐ Tom was too tuned to stand up, let alone drive.

tuned in mod. aware; up-to-date. ☐ Jan is tuned in and alert to what is going on around her. ☐ Hey, Jill! Get tuned in, why don't you?

tune in (to something) in. to become alert to something. ☐ She tuned in to the comments about acid rain. □ When I heard my name, I tuned in.

tune out in. to begin to ignore everything. □ I got bored and tuned out. □ The entire class had tuned out, so no one heard the teacher ask the question.

tunes n. a record; a record album; music in general. (See also tunage.) □ I got some new tunes. Wanna come over and listen? □ The old tunes are good enough for me.

tune someone or something out tv. to ignore or disregard someone or something. □ I heard enough and tuned her out. □ I managed to tune out the constant clamor in the streets.

turd 1. n. a formed mass of fecal material; a fecal bolus. (Usually objectionable.) □ Don't step on that dog turd. □ There's a turd floating in the swimming pool! 2. n. a wretched or worthless person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You stupid turd! □ Don't be such a goddamn turd!

turd face n. a wretched and obnoxious person. (Rude and derogatory.) □ You stupid turd face! Why did you do that?

turf n. (one's) ground or territory. □ When you're on my turf, you do what I say—savvy? □ This is my turf, and what I say goes.

turistas [tu'ristas] n. diarrhea; a case of diarrhea. (From Spanish.) □ Nobody ever died of the turistas—right away, anyway. □ Turistas can be very unpleasant.

turkey 1. n. a failure; a sham. □ This whole business is a turkey. □ The turkey at the town theater closed on its first night. 2. n. a stupid person. □ Who's the turkey who put the scallops in the scalloped potatoes? □ You are such a turkey!

turn 1. in. to go over to the other side, as with a spy or a criminal turning into an informer. (Underworld.) □ Is there a chance that Bart would turn? □ Pete turn? Ha! 2. tv. to corrupt someone. □ It was the booze that turned him. □ Pete was trying to turn a young kid.

turn around AND turn over in. [for something] to undergo a major, dynamic change. □ Things turned around for

Willard and went okay for a while. □ When life turned over and things went more smoothly, Frank was happier.

turn a trick tv. to perform an act of prostitution. (Usually objectionable.) □ She can turn a trick and be on the streets again in six minutes flat. □ She's upstairs, turning a trick.

turn belly up AND go belly up 1. in. to fail. □ I sort of felt that the whole thing would go belly up, and I was right. (See also belly up.) □ The computer—on its last legs anyway—turned belly up right in the middle of an important job. 2. in. to die. (As a fish does when it dies.) □ The cat was friendly for a moment before she turned belly up. □ Every fish in Greg's tank went belly up last night.

turned off mod. uninterested. □ I'm sort of turned off to stuff like that these days. Part of getting older, I guess. □ I can't pay attention if I'm turned off, now can I?

turned on 1. mod. made alert to what is new and exciting. □ I want to hire someone who's really turned on—a real comer. □ A young, turned on MBA would be just right. 2. mod. drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) □ Jerry's turned on by noon—every day. □ The kid over there looks sort of turned on. Let's go talk to him a bit.

turn in AND roll in in. to go to bed. □ Well, it's about time to turn in. □ I can't wait to roll in tonight.

turn-off n. something that repels someone. □ The movie was a turn-off. I couldn't stand it. □ What a turn-off!

turn on 1. in. to become interested or excited. □ She turned on when she heard her name called. □ He really turned on when he saw the cake. 2. in. to take a drug. (Drugs.) □ Pete just can't wait to light up and turn on. □ He will turn on with anybody at the drop of a hat. 3. n. someone or something that excites someone. (Usually turn-on.) □ The concert was a real turn-on. □ David can be a real turn on when he's in a good mood.

turn on a dime in. to turn sharply; to turn in a small radius. □ This baby will turn on a dime. □ A car that will turn on a dime at high speed without turning turtle is what I want.

turn one's toes up tv. to die. □ I'm too young to turn my toes up. ☑ The cat turned up its toes right after church. Ah, the power of prayer.

turn on the waterworks in. to begin to cry. □ His lower lip was quivering, and I knew he was going to turn on the waterworks. □ Now, now! Don't turn on the waterworks. Cheer up!

turn onto someone or something in. to become interested in someone or something. □ Jeff turned onto electronics at the age of fourteen. □ I tried to get her to turn onto me, but she could only think of John.

turn on, tune in, drop out in. a slogan promoting the use of LSD among young people. (Drugs.) □ The key phrase in the heyday of acid was "turn on, tune in, drop out." □ Millions heard "turn on, tune in, drop out" and did just that.

turnout n. an audience that has assembled for some purpose. □ How was the turnout at the benefit? □ The turnout was great. We had a full house.

turn over 1. in. to get off of drugs. (Like turn over a new leaf.) □ He wanted to turn over, but just couldn't. □ There is a clinic on Maple Street that'll help heads turn over. 2. Go to turn around.

turn someone off tv. to dull someone's interest in someone or something. □ The prof turned me off to the subject. ☑ The preacher set out to turn off the congregation to sin.

turn someone on tv. to excite or interest someone. (See also turn on.) □ Fast music with a good beat turns me on. ☑ That stuff doesn't turn on anyone.

turn someone or something upside down tv. to upset someone or something; to confuse someone or something. □ We turned his place upside down, but never found the gun. □ The whole business turned me upside down. It'll take days to recover.

turn someone out tv. to introduce someone to drugs, prostitution, homosexuality, etc. (Underworld.) □ Mac tried to turn the kid out. ☑ There are laws against turning out people the way Max was doing.

turn someone's stomach tv. to nauseate someone. □ That stuff turns my stomach. Do I have to eat it? □ Whatever that smell is, it's turning my stomach.

turn someone's water off tv. to deflate someone; to silence someone. □ He said you were stupid, huh? Well, I guess that turns your water off! ☑ That really turned off her water.

turn tail (and run) tv. to flee; to run away in fright. □ I couldn't just turn tail and run, but I wasn't going to fight that monster either. □ Sometimes turning tail is the only sensible thing to do.

turn thumbs down (on someone or something) tv. to reject someone or something. □ The board turned thumbs down on Rocko's application for parole. □ The committee examined the proposal and turned thumbs down.

turn turtle in. to turn over, as with a ship. □ The old dog finally turned turtle, and that was the end. □ The car struck a pole and turned turtle.

turn up one's nose at someone or something tv. to show disdain or disgust at someone or something. □ This is good, wholesome food. Don't turn your nose up at it. ☑ She turned up her nose at Pete, which was probably a good idea.

turps AND terps [təʊps] n. liquor. (From turpentine.) □ Don't forget to stop at the comfort station and get the turps. □ You got enough terps for the party?

tush(y) n. the buttocks. (Probably from Yiddish.) □ I fell down right on my tush.

tux [təks] n. a tuxedo. □ Do I have to wear a tux? □ Rent your tux well in advance.

tweak [tʷɪk] tv. to adjust something slightly. □ I just need to tweak this program a little bit; then I'll be with you. □ Tweak the tuner a little and see if you can get that station just a little bit clearer.

tweased [tʷɪzɪd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Jim came in a little teased last night.

□ How tweaked can anybody get on two beers?

tweaked [tʷaɪkt] mod. alcohol intoxicated. (Collegiate.) □ They're not really bombed—just tweaked a little. □ Fred was too tweaked to stand up.

twenty-four, seven AND 24-7 mod. all the time, twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. □ He's always at home, 24-7!

twenty-twenty hindsight AND 20/20 hindsight n. an ability to figure out what one should have done after it is too late to do it. □ Everybody has twenty-twenty hindsight! □ Your 20/20 hindsight is just great.

twerp Go to twirp.

twiddle one's thumbs tv. to do nothing; to wait nervously, playing with one's fingers. □ I sat twiddling my thumbs while you were out doing I don't know what all! □ Don't just sit home twiddling your thumbs.

twinkie ['tʷɪŋki] n. a cute, teenage girl. (California.) □ The mall up from the beach is usually wall-to-wall twinkies. □ These twinkies ought to be a little more grown up than they seem to be.

twirp AND twerp [tʷɜ:p] n. an annoying runt of a person. (Also a term of address.) □ Look, you twirp, get out! □ Some little twerp threatened to kick me in the shin.

twist n. a girl; a woman. (Underworld. Possibly rhyming slang twist and twirl = girl.) □ This good-looking twist comes over to the table and asks Lefty if he'd like to dance. □ He says yes, and the twist says, "Go ahead, I bet it's a scream!"

twisted 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was so twisted she couldn't see. □ That chick is really twisted bad. 2. mod. suffering from drug withdrawal. (Drugs.) □ Frank was twisted and hurting bad. □ When you're twisted, your head spins, and you feel like screaming.

twister 1. n. a key. (Underworld.) □ You got the twister for this joint? □ Ziggy snatched the jailer's twisters and waited until midnight to try something. 2. n. a tornado. □ A twister touched down yesterday at an isolated farm seventy miles north of Adamsville. □ The twister didn't damage any homes. 3. n. a drunken spree. (See also bender.) □ Harry's off on a twister again. □ Not again. It's the same old twister.

twist in the wind Go to twist (slowly) in the wind.

twist (slowly) in the wind in. to suffer the agony of some punishment, such as hanging. (Figurative only.) □ I'll see you twist in the wind for trying to frustrate this investigation. □ The prosecutor was determined that Pete would twist slowly in the wind for the crime.

twist someone's arm tv. to pressure someone. □ I had to twist her arm a little, but she agreed. □ Do I have to twist your arm, or will you cooperate?

twit 1. n. a nervous or frantic state. □ The twit I was in made me seem sort of silly, I'm afraid. □ My confused state became a serious twit, and I didn't know what to do. 2. n. a stupid person. (Also a term of address.) □ What a yuppie twit! □ Hey, you twit, get off my lawn!

two-bit mod. cheap; small-time. □ Max is just a two-bit pusher. I want Mr. Big. □ I'm tired of your two-bit efforts to run this office.

two-bits n. twenty-five cents; a quarter coin. □ Can I bum two-bits for the phone? □ Here's two-bits for your piggy bank.

two-by-four mod. small. □ A two-by-four office with a chair and a desk was where Barlowe hung out. □ I can't stand living in this two-by-four room!

twofer ['tʷɜ:fə] n. an item that is selling two for the price of one. □ Here's a good deal—a twofer—only $7.98. □ Everything in this store is a twofer. I only want one of these. Do I have to bring a friend who wants one, too?

two fingers n. a measurement of liquor in a glass. (See also three fingers.) □ I'll take two fingers of that tiger milk, John. □ Just two fingers tonight, John?

two-fisted drinker n. a heavy drinker; someone who drinks with both hands. □ Harry was a two-fisted drinker, a cave man, and a lady-killer. □ The world is filled with guys who aspire to be two-fisted drinkers.

two shakes of a lamb's tail mod. quickly; rapidly. □ I'll be there in two shakes of a lamb's tail. □ In two shakes of a lamb's tail, the entire pile of bricks had collapsed.

two sheets to the wind Go to three sheets in the wind.

two-time tv. to deceive one's lover. □ Sam wouldn't two-time Martha. He just wouldn't! □ Sam would and did two-time Martha!

two-time loser n. a confirmed loser. □ Poor Pete is a two-time loser. □ Martin is a two-time loser, or at least he looks like one.

two-timer n. one who deceives one's lover. □ Sam just isn't my idea of the typical two-timer. □ Of course not. Two-timers rarely look like two-timers.

two-topper n. a restaurant table that will seat two people. (Restaurant jargon.) □ There are two-toppers on each side of the kitchen door.

two umlauts ['tu 'umlauts] n. a Löwenbräu (brand) beer. □ I'll take a two umlauts. □ Calling a beer "two umlauts" is the most contrived bit of slang I have ever heard of.

two-way street n. a reciprocal situation. □ This is a two-way street, you know. You will have to help me someday in return. □ Friendship is a two-way street.

type n. a combining form indicating a specified type of person. □ He's a cave man type. You know, sort of hairy and smelly. □ Ted's the brainy type, but has no guts.

U

ugly as sin mod. very ugly. □ This car's as ugly as sin, but it's cheap and dependable. □ My old hound dog is ugly as sin but faithful as the dickens.

uke AND yuke [juk] 1. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Collegiate. See also puke.) □ I think somebody yuked in the backseat, Tom. □ My friends wouldn't uke in my car! 2. n. vomit. (Collegiate.) □ That is uke on the floor, isn't it? □ Tell me that the stuff in the backseat isn't uke!

ump [əmp] n. an umpire. □ The ump was gonna get killed if he didn't open his eyes. □ The ump has a pretty rough job.

umpteen ['əmp̩t̩ɪn] mod. many; innumerable. □ I've told you umpteen times not to feed the cat right out of the can. □ There are umpteen ways to do this right. Can you manage to do one of them?

umpteenth Go to umpty-umpth.

umpty-umpth AND umpteenth ['əmp̩t̩ɪ- 'əmp̩θ AND 'əmp̩'tɪnt̩θ] mod. thousandth, billionth, zillionth, etc. (Represents some very large, but indefinite number.) □ This is the umpty-umpth time I've told you to keep your dog out of my yard. □ This is the umpteenth meeting of the joint conference committee, but still there is no budget.

Uncle nab n. a policeman. □ Uncle nab is coming. Look sharp! □ Watch out for Uncle nab. He's been asking about you.

Uncle (Sam) AND Uncle Sugar 1. n. the personification of the U.S. □ Uncle Sugar wants a little more of your money this year. □ Tell Uncle to spend a little less. 2. n. a federal agent; federal agents. □ The cops called in Uncle Sam to help in the investigation. □ Uncle has some pretty strong ideas about who's in charge of this investigation.

Uncle Sugar Go to Uncle (Sam).

Uncle Whiskers Go to Mr. Whiskers.

uncool mod. square; dull and orthodox. □ Oh, what an uncool weirdo! □ This place is uncool. Let's cruise.

uncut 1. mod. unedited; not shortened by editing. □ I saw the whole uncut movie. □ The uncut version is too long. 2. mod. not circumcised. □ My brother and I are both uncut.

underpinnings n. the legs. □ He has good underpinnings—ought to be able to run faster. □ With underpinnings like that, he ought to be able to win the marathon.

under someone's thumb mod. under someone's control. □ You can't keep your kids under your thumb all their lives. □ I don't want all this under my thumb. I have to delegate a lot of it.

understanding n. the feet. (A pun. Always singular.) □ The boy has a good understanding. Really big gunboats, in fact. □ I always had a good understanding—even when I was a kid.

under the affluence of incohol mod. alcohol intoxicated. (A deliberate spoonerism on under the influence of alcohol.) □ Perhaps I am under the affluence of incohol just a little bit. □ You are very, very much under the affluence of incohol, as you have so aptly put it.

under the gun mod. under pressure; under scrutiny. □ I've been under the gun on this one long enough. □ They've got the boss under the gun to get this thing wound up by Saturday.

under the table 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Jed was under the table by midnight. □ By 3:00 in the morning, everyone was under the table. 2. mod. secret; clandestine. (This is hyphenated before a nominal.) □ It was strictly an under-the-table deal. □ The mayor made a few bucks under the table, too.

under the weather 1. mod. ill. □ I feel sort of under the weather today. □ Whatever I ate for lunch is making me feel a bit under the weather. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Daddy's under the weather again. □ Wally's just a tad under the weather.

under the wire mod. at the very last minute. □ I got it in just under the wire. □ It was in under the wire. Another ten minutes and it would not have counted.

underwater basket weaving n. an imaginary, very easy high school or college course. □ If I can just find a course in underwater basket weaving, I'll have an easy semester. □ Mary majored in underwater basket weaving.

underwhelm tv. & in. to fail to impress (someone). □ Your talents simply underwhelm me. □ As we were being underwhelmed by a buxom soprano, my thoughts drifted to more pleasant matters. □ We know you tried, but you just underwhelm.

under wraps mod. (held) in secret. □ We kept it under wraps until after the election. □ The plan we had under wraps had to be scrapped anyway.

undies n. underclothing; underpants, especially women's. □ I like red undies. □ Where are my clean undies?

unearthly mod. weird; terrible. □ What was that unearthly noise? □ There was an unearthly smell coming out of the kitchen. □ That's not unearthly!

unflappable mod. not subject to distraction; imperturbable. □ Isn't he great? Truly unflappable. □ She is totally unflappable. □ I wish I was that unflappable.

ungodly mod. horrendous; inconceivable. □ What is that ungodly noise? □ What do you want at this ungodly hour?

unit ['junət] 1. n. a gadget. □ Now, take one of the red units—put the copper strip in the slot—place the whole thing in this larger unit—and you're done. □ Hand me that unit on the thingy there. 2. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) □ Why are you always scratching your unit?

units Go to (parental) units.

unk-jay n. dope; junk. (Underworld. Pig Latin for junk.) □ The creep deals in unk-jay, you know—narcotics. □ Stay away from the unk-jay.

unlax [ən'læks] in. to unwind and relax. □ I just can't wait to get home and unlax. □ Unlax, man. Take it easy.

unload tv. to get rid of someone or something. □ We're gonna unload all the cats and dogs during the Christmas rush. □ Lemme unload this dame, and then we can go out and have a little fun.

unreal mod. unbelievable. □ Your hairdo is so yummy—almost unreal. □ Who started this unreal argument?

up 1. mod. happy; cheery; not depressed; upbeat. □ I'm up today. Let's celebrate. □ This is not an up party. Let's cruise. 2. tv. to increase something. □ She tried to up the price on me, thinking I wouldn't notice. □ The bank upped its rates again. 3. in. to take a stimulant drug. □ She has to up every morning. □ Ted upped before going in to take the test.

up a creek Go to up shit creek (without a paddle).

up against it mod. having a personal crisis; having a financial crisis. □ This is my bad season. I'm really up against it. □ Can I bum a few bucks? I'm up against it this week.

up an' Adam Go to up and at them.

up an' at 'em Go to up and at them.

up and at them AND up an' at 'em; up an' Adam phr. to get up and go at people or things; to get active and get busy. (Adam is a misunderstanding of at 'em.) □ Come on, you guys! Up and at 'em! Can't sleep all day. □ Up and Adam! The sun is shining.

up a storm mod. with an enthusiastic spirit. (Note syntax in examples. Usually with sing, dance, talk, blow, play.) □ We talked up a storm until past midnight. □ Can't she dance up a storm?

up a tree 1. mod. confused; without an answer to a problem; in difficulty. □ This whole business has me up a tree. □ I'm up a tree, and I need some help. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Only two glasses of booze and he was up a tree for sure. □ My buddy here is up a tree and needs a crash for the night.

upbeat mod. bright and cheery; not negative. (Compare this with downbeat.) □ I'd prefer to open the conference with an upbeat topic. □ That topic is not upbeat. □ This piece of music has an upbeat flavor to it.

upchuck ['æptʃək] 1. tv. & in. to vomit (something). □ Wally upchucked his whole dinner. □ Who upchucked over there? 2. n. vomit. □ Is that upchuck on your shoe? □ There is still some upchuck on the bathroom floor.

up for grabs 1. mod. available for anyone; not yet claimed. □ It's up for grabs. Everything is still very chancy. □ I don't know who will get it. It's up for grabs. 2. mod. in total chaos. □ This is a madhouse. The whole place is up for grabs. □ When the market crashed, the whole office was up for grabs.

up for something mod. agreeable to something. □ I'm up for a pizza. Anybody want to chip in? □ Who's up for a swim?

up front 1. mod. at the beginning; in advance. □ She wanted $200 up front. □ The more you pay up front, the less you'll have to finance. 2. mod. open; honest; forthcoming. □ She is a very up front gal—trust her. □ I wish the salesman had been more up front about it. 3. mod. in the forefront; under fire (at the front). □ You guys who are up front are gonna get the most fire. □ You two go up front and see if you can help.

up high n. a stimulating rather than a depressing drug high. (Drugs. See also up pot.) □ She was always looking for a good up high. When she couldn't find quality, she went after quantity. □ Many of them have to have an up high. They are too close to clinical depression to chance anything else.

upholstered [ə'pɒlstəd] 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was a little upholstered, but not seriously impaired. □ He drank till he was comfortably upholstered. 2. Go to (well-)upholstered.

up in arms mod. angry; excited. □ The whole town was up in arms about the planned highway. □ Now, don't get up in arms about it.

up in the air (about someone or something) mod. undecided about someone or something. □ I'm sort of up in the air about whether to marry Mary or not. □ Mary's up in the air, too.

up one's alley Go to (right) up one's alley.

upper story Go to top story.

uppity ['ʌpədi] mod. haughty. (Folksy.) □ Why is she so uppity? □ Don't be uppity. Remember who you are!

up pot n. stimulating marijuana, as opposed to relaxing marijuana. (Drugs. See also up high.) □ I can only handle up pot. Everything else makes me cry. □ Tell him you really don't want up pot unless it's cheap.

up shit creek (without a paddle) AND up the creek (without a paddle); up a creek mod. in an awkward position with no easy way out. (Usually objectionable.) □ I'm sort of up the creek and don't know what to do. □ You are up a creek! You got yourself into it, so get yourself out.

the upshot (of something) n. the result of something; the outcome of something. □ The upshot of it all was that we don't get the new coffeepot. □ And the upshot was a new manager and raises for everyone.

upside n. the good side. □ On the upside, things might get better. □ There's not much to look forward to on the upside.

up stakes tv. to prepare for leaving and then leave. (Up has the force of a verb here. The phrase suggests pulling up tent stakes in preparation for departure.) □ They just upped stakes and left without saying good-bye. □ It's that time of the year when I feel like upping stakes and moving to the country.

up the creek (without a paddle) Go to up shit creek (without a paddle).

up the pole mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ You sound a little up the pole. Why don't you call back when you're sober? □ She's up the pole and shouldn't drive.

up the river mod. in prison. (Underworld.) □ Gary was up the river for a couple of years, but that doesn't make him a criminal, does it? □ The judge who sent him up the river was indicted for accepting bribery. If Gary had only known sooner!

up the wall mod. in a very bad situation. □ He's really up the wall about Mary's illness. □ We were all up the wall until the matter was resolved.

uptight mod. anxious. □ Dave always seems uptight about something. □ He is one uptight guy. □ Don't get uptight before the test.

up time n. the time when a computer is running. (Compare this with down time.) □ You'll get the maximum up time with this machine. □ On some systems the down time is longer than the up time.

up to here mod. having as much as one can bear. □ I'm up to here with your excuses! □ We are all up to here with this mystery.

up to one's ears Go to up to one's eyeballs up to one's eyeballs AND up to one's ears mod. filled up with something. □ She's up to her ears in marriage proposals. □ We're up to our eyeballs in spare parts.

up to one's knees mod. deep in something, such as paperwork or water. (See also knee-deep in something.) □ We're up to our knees with orders and getting more all the time. □ The orders are up to our knees.

up to one's neck mod. filled up with something. □ I am up to my neck in other people's grief and anguish. □ We are all up to our necks in your problems.

up to scratch AND up to snuff mod. satisfactory; up to what is expected. □ This just isn't up to scratch. You'll have to do it again. □ The food was up to snuff, but the hotel staff was not at its usually efficient best.

up to snuff Go to up to scratch.

Up yours! exclam. Go to hell!; Drop dead! (Usually objectionable.) □ I won't do it! Up yours!

the urge to purge n. the need to throw up. □ Pete felt the urge to purge and ran for the john. □ All this grease on the pizza gives me the urge to purge.

urp Go to earp.

use [juz] tv. & in. to use (drugs); to take drugs habitually. (Drugs and now widely known.) □ I tried to stop using, but I couldn't. □ I couldn't face myself if I started using the stuff again.

user n. a drug user; a drug addict. (Drugs.) □ I want to stop being a user, but I can't do it by myself. □ I'm no user! Maybe a joint now and then, and an upper on a dreary morning—but I'm no user!

Use your head! AND Use your noggin!; Use your noodle! exclam. Think!; Think it through! □ You know the answer. Use your head! □ Use your noggin! It's there for more than hanging your hat on.

Use your noggin! Go to Use your head!

Use your noodle! Go to Use your head!

UVs ['ju'viz] n. ultraviolet rays from the sun; sunshine. (Initialism.) □ I wanna get some UVs before we go home. □ Watch out for those UVs.

V

vac 1. n. a vacuum cleaner. ☐ Where's the vac? ☐ Bring the vac and clean this place up. 2. tv. & in. to clean with a vacuum cleaner. ☐ Vac while you have time! ☐ You are supposed to vac the whole house, not just your room!

vacation n. a prison sentence. (Underworld.) ☐ I had a little vacation upstate for a while. ☐ It was a three-year vacation, with time off for good behavior.

vag [veg] 1. n. a vagrant person; a person who does not work and who wanders from place to place. ☐ A couple of vags on the curb were trying to hitch a ride. ☐ You vags, move on. Go on, move it! 2. mod. having to do with a charge of vagrancy. ☐ They booked him on a vag charge and gave him a nice warm place to sleep that night. ☐ The vag scam didn't work like it was planned.

vals [vælz] n. Valium™ tranquilizers. ☐ I'm taking vals for this, but the doctor says to get off of them as soon as possible. ☐ Vals really calm you down.

Vamoose! [væ'mus] exclam. Beat it!; Go away! (From Spanish.) ☐ Go on, beat it! Vamoose! ☐ Vamoose! Go home!

vanilla 1. mod. plain; dull. (See also beige.) ☐ The entire production was sort of vanilla, but it was okay. ☐ No more vanilla music, please. ☐ The vacation was vanilla, but restful. 2. n. a Caucasian. ☐ Some vanilla's on the phone—selling something, I guess. ☐ That vanilla is looking at you sort of coplike.

varnished mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also shellacked.) ☐ Really varnished, he was. Couldn't see a hole in a ladder. ☐ That lady is too varnished to drive. If you see her getting into a car, call the cops.

varoom Go to vroom.

Vatican roulette n. the rhythm method of birth control. ☐ My parents lost at Vatican roulette, and I am the booby prize. ☐ Father John tried to get us to refer to it as something other than Vatican roulette.

V-ball n. volleyball. (See also B-ball.) ☐ You wanna play some V-ball? ☐ Playing V-ball is one of the best forms of exercise.

veejay AND VJ; video jock n. a video jockey; a host on a television program that features music videos. (The abbreviation is an initialism. Patterned on deejay. See also disc jockey.) ☐ Sally tried out for the veejay job, but she looked too old and stuffy for that kind of work. ☐ Most of the VJs on cable television are untrained amateurs. ☐ Wally tried out to be a video jock, but he's too uptown.

veep [vip] n. a vice president. ☐ The veep is going to preside today. ☐ Now we have to elect a veep. Any nominations?

veg [vedʒ] 1. n. a vegetable. (See also veggy.) ☐ You want a veg with this? ☐ That's not my favorite veg. 2. n. a stupid person. ☐ Where is your brain, you veg? ☐ Some veg put scallops in the scalloped potatoes. 3. Go to veg (out).

vegetable 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ He's a tad vegetable but not in a stupor. ☐ Helen drank till she was totally vegetable. 2. n. someone who is brain-dead; someone who acts brain-dead; a person almost totally destroyed by drugs. ☐ You are such a vegetable! ☐ You want to end up a vegetable? Just keep shooting that stuff. ☐ Cable TV is turning me into a vegetable.

vegged out mod. debilitated by drugs or alcohol. (Drugs.) □ Ernie is vegged out and has quit his job and everything. □ Won't be long till Larry is vegged out altogether.

veggy AND veggie ['vedʒi] 1. n. a vegetarian. □ We have a lovely salad bar for the veggies among you. □ She's a veggy, so make sure there's a nice selection of appropriate goodies. 2. n. a vegetable. (Usually plural.) □ Do you want any veggies with this? □ No veggies for me. 3. n. a comatose patient in a hospital. (Medical.) □ Mary's aunt has been a veggie in the hospital for more than a year. □ I don't want to lie there and rot as a veggie. I want someone to pull the plug. 4. n. someone who is tired or exhausted. □ I want to be a veggy this weekend. I'll just stay at home and relax. □ I am just a veggie after all the activity of the last week.

veg (out) in. to cease working and take it easy; to vegetate. (See also vegged out.) □ Someday, I just want to veg out and enjoy life. □ I think I'll just veg this weekend.

vent one's spleen tv. to release one's anger. □ No need to vent your spleen at me. I wasn't in on it. □ I just feel like I have to vent my spleen at somebody.

verboden [və'botn] mod. forbidden. (German.) □ That is strictly verboten. □ You said a verboten word around here.

vertical bathtub n. a men's urinal. □ When I walked into the room with vertical bathtubs, I knew I was in the wrong place.

vest 1. n. an important businessman or businesswoman. (See also suit.) □ Some vest jumped out the window this afternoon. 2. n. a bullet-proof vest. □ The cop wasn't wearing a vest, and the shot killed him.

vet 1. n. a veterinarian. (Standard English.) □ I took the cat to the vet. □ The vet didn't charge much to look at the turtle. 2. tv. to give a medical examination to and treat a person (or an animal). □ The doctor vetted me quickly and charged an unbelievable sum for it. □ When they vet you these days, most of the work is done in a lab. 3. n. a (war) veteran. □ The vets in the hos- pitals across the land appreciate your kindness. □ The Vietnam vets had a very bad time of it.

vette [vet] n. a Corvette automobile. □ I'd rather have a vette than a caddy. □ Vettes aren't as popular as they once were.

vibes [vaɪbz] n. vibrations; atmosphere; feelings. (Usually with good or bad.) □ I just don't get good vibes about this deal. □ The vibes are just plain bad.

vic [vɪk] 1. n. a victim. (Streets. See also vivor.) □ We're all vics, but we all keep going. □ Harry is a con artist, not a vic. 2. n. a convict. □ Max is a vic, but nobody cares much. □ We try to give the vics a chance at employment where they won't be treated badly.

vicious ['viʃəs] mod. great; excellent. □ Man, this burger is really vicious. □ That guy is one vicious driver, all right. □ That was a really vicious concert last night.

vicious circle n. a set of actions that lead to ever more unsatisfactory consequences; a set of bad actions that are repeated in a cycle. (See also catch-22.) □ It's a vicious circle, and I want out of it. □ Life has become one vicious circle after another.

vicked [vɪkt] mod. cheated; victimized. (See also vic.) □ I feel so vicked when I see where my taxes are spent. □ I got vicked at the stereo repair shop.

Vickie n. a Crown Victoria police car; the police in a Crown Victoria car. □ Two cops in a Vickie followed the suspect's car.

vid n. a video [tape]. □ I rented some vids for tonight so we can stay in and drink beer.

video jock Go to veejay.

Vietnik [vi'etnik] n. someone—looking like a beatnik—who opposed the Vietnam war. □ The Vietniks' message was sort of distorted by the press. □ I knew a Vietnik who moved to Canada.

vim and vigor n. energy; enthusiasm; moxie. □ Show more vim and vigor! Let us know you're alive. □ She's sure got a lot of vim and vigor.

vines n. clothing. (Black.) □ I like those smokin' vines you're in. □ Good-looking vines on that guy, right?

vinyl ['vaɪnəl] n. phonograph records. □ This is one of the best tunes on vinyl. □ I got some new vinyl. Come over and listen.

VIP 1. n. a very important person. (Initialism.) □ Who's the VIP in the Mercedes? □ That's no VIP; that's the boss. 2. mod. something reserved for a VIP. (Initialism.) □ My smile and casual manner didn't get me into the VIP lounge. □ They gave us the VIP treatment.

visit from Flo [...'flo] n. a menstrual period. (See also Aunt Flo.) □ I am expecting a visit from Flo, but she seems late. □ I just had a visit from Flo. I hate the old hag!

visit from the stork n. the birth of a baby. □ The last visit from the stork was in March. □ We are expecting a visit from the stork next June.

visiting fireman n. someone paying a visit to observe one's workplace. □ We have a couple of visiting firemen coming today. □ Be sure to have these plans out when the visiting firemen come by.

visit the plumbing Go to check out the plumbing.

vital statistics n. the measurements of a person's body. □ Her vital statistics must require higher math to work out! □ Here are his vital statistics for those who are interested.

vivor ['vaɪvə] n. a survivor; a street person who manages to survive. (Streets.

Compare this with vic.) □ Harry's a vivor, and I like him. □ She's no champ, but she's a vivor.

viz [vaɪz] n. Levis; blue jeans. □ How do you like my new viz? □ Those viz are too tight for her.

VJ Go to veejay.

vomatose ['vəmətəs] mod. drunk, vomiting, and nearly comatose. (From vomit and comatose.) □ Claude is completely vomatose. What a party! □ Beavis got himself vomatose and messed up the driveway.

vomity ['vəmədɪ] mod. nasty. (Crude.) □ What is this vomity stuff on my plate? □ Is that what you call vomity? □ That is a really vomity idea!

vote with one's feet in. to show one's displeasure by walking out. □ A lot of people are voting with their feet. Customers clearly don't like our goods. □ When the audience votes with its feet, you know you don't have a hit.

vroom AND varoom [vrʊm AND vɑ'rʊm] 1. interj. the noise of a loud engine. (Onomatopoeic.) □ Vroom, varoom went the engine as Vic gunned it over and over. □ Suddenly, vroom, a plane passed low overhead. 2. in. to move rapidly from place to place; to travel at high speed, making the noise of a loud engine. □ Let's vroom over to Larry's and see what's happening. □ The little boy varoomed down the sidewalk on his tricycle.

VSA mod. vital signs absent: dead. (Hospital jargon.) □ The intern made a note in the chart: VSA, 10:18 A.M.

W

waa-zooed Go to whazood.

wack Go to whack.

wack off Go to beat off.

wacky mod. loony; silly and giddy. ☐ You are about the wackiest guy I ever met. ☐ I got a real kick out of that wacky movie we saw last night.

wacky-tabbacky ['wækitə'bæki] n. marijuana. (Collegiate.) ☐ You got any of that wacky-tabbacky? ☐ He gets that silly look in his eye from smoking wacky-tabbacky.

wad [wad] n. a bundle of money; a bankroll. (Originally underworld. See also tight wad.) ☐ I lost my wad on a rotten horse in the seventh race. ☐ You'd better not flash a wad like that around here. You won't have it long.

waffle (around) in. to be indecisive. ☐ Don't waffle around so long. Make up your mind. ☐ She spent three days waffling over the color of the car and finally decided on red.

wagon n. the police wagon. ☐ I called the wagon. It'll come and get these two thugs in about fifteen minutes. ☐ Look out, you guys, the wagon's coming. Don't let 'em see you!

wag one's chin tv. to talk or jabber; to chatter aimlessly. ☐ The two old buzzards sat on the park bench wagging their chins all afternoon. ☐ Stop wagging your chin for a minute and listen up!

wail in. to be great. (See also wailing.) ☐ Things really started to wail about midnight when the band really got going. ☐ This pizza really wails.

wailing AND whaling mod. excellent. (Teens.) ☐ Man, that's wailing! ☐ What a whaling guitar!

wail on someone in. to beat someone. (See also whale the tar out of someone.) ☐ Who are those two guys wailing on Sam?

walk 1. n. something easy. (Always with a in this sense. See also cakewalk; sleepwalk.) ☐ That game was a walk! ☐ What a walk! I've never had such an easy time of it! 2. in. to walk out on someone. ☐ They had a big fight, and he walked. ☐ Much more of this and I'm going to walk. 3. in. to walk away from something unharmed. ☐ It couldn't have been much of an accident. Both drivers walked. ☐ It was a horrible meeting, but when it was over I just walked. 4. in. to get out of prison; to get off from a criminal charge. (Underworld.) ☐ They thought they had Ziggy on a vice rap, but he walked. ☐ I showed them my license; then I walked.

walk heavy in. to be important. (Black.) ☐ Harry's been walking heavy since he graduated. ☐ Why have you been walking heavy, man?

walk-in 1. mod. having to do with a customer who just comes in off the street. ☐ Two walk-in customers wanted morning papers but nothing more. ☐ We were hoping for more walk-in trade. 2. n. a customer who walks in off the street. ☐ We had a couple of walk-ins this morning, but none of the hotel residents came. ☐ We have a new sign outside to attract walk-ins.

walking dandruff AND galloping dandruff n. lice. (See also pants rabbits.) ☐ He's hopping around like he's got walking dandruff. □ I don't know anybody with galloping dandruff—I hope.

walking on rocky socks mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She's sort of walking on rocky socks. □ He looks like he's walking on rocky socks.

walking papers n. a notice of being fired, released, divorced, etc. □ I hope I don't get my walking papers today. I need this job. □ Well, I got my walking papers today.

walking wounded 1. n. soldiers who are injured but still able to walk. (Standard English.) □ There were enough walking wounded to start another division. □ Many of the walking wounded helped with the more seriously injured cases. 2. n. a person who is injured—mentally or physically—and still able to go about daily life. □ The outpatient clinic was filled with the walking wounded. 3. n. stupid people in general. □ Most of network programming seems to be aimed at the walking wounded of our society.

walk on eggs AND walk on thin ice in. to walk very cautiously; to be in a very precarious position. □ I have to remember that I'm walking on eggs when I give this speech. □ Careful with ideas like that. You're walking on thin ice.

walk on sunshine n. to be really happy. □ I'm in love and I'm walking on sunshine.

walk on thin ice Go to walk on eggs.

walkover n. an easy victory; an easy task. (From sports.) □ The game was a walkover. No problem. □ Learning the computer's operating system was no walkover for me.

walk soft in. to take it easy; to be gentle and humble. □ I try to walk soft and not rock the boat. □ The guy's a tyrant. He walks soft just to mislead people.

walk tall in. to be brave and self-assured. (See also stand tall.) □ I know I can walk tall because I'm innocent. □ You go out on that stage and walk tall. There is no reason to be afraid.

wallet n. a college student's father and financial source. □ My wallet won't send me another penny this semester. □ Why don't you tell your wallet you are starving?

wall-eyed mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Wow, is he ever wall-eyed! □ Who's the wall-eyed guy carrying the ham sandwich?

wallflower n. a shy person. □ Clare was sort of a wallflower until she graduated. □ Don't be a wallflower. Come to the reception.

wall job n. a car—in the shop for repairs—which is parked against the wall with no repairs done. (The customer is charged anyway.) □ Places like those we surveyed may charge hundreds of dollars for what they call "wall jobs." □ Okay, Lefty, the caddy looks like another wall job. Throw some plastic over it, and we'll call the old girl and tell her it needs parts.

wallop ['wʌləp] 1. n. a hard blow. □ She planted a hard wallop on his right shoulder. □ I got quite a wallop when I walked into the door. 2. tv. to strike someone or something hard. □ I walloped him hard on the shoulder, but he kept on laughing. □ The door swung open and walloped me in the back. 3. n. influence; pull; clout. □ The gal has a lot of wallop in city hall. □ I don't have enough wallop to make that kind of demand.

wallpaper n. worthless checks. (Underworld.) □ This flimflam artist has spread a lot of wallpaper in her day. □ The feds followed a trail of wallpaper from St. Louis to San Francisco and made the pinch.

walls have ears tv. Someone may be listening. (Sometimes with the.) □ Talk softly. Walls have ears. □ The walls have ears, so be careful about what you say.

wall-to-wall mod. expansive and comprehensive. (From wall-to-wall carpeting.) □ The guy doesn't exactly have wall-to-wall generosity. □ Old Tom is wall-to-wall hostility these days. What's wrong?

waltz n. an easy task. □ The job was a waltz. We did it in a day. □ The coach promised them that the game would be a waltz.

waltz off (with something) in. to take something away easily. □ The thieves waltzed off with a giant screen television in broad daylight. □ They just picked the thing up and waltzed off. Nobody asked them any questions.

waltz through something in. to get through something easily. □ I waltzed through my comps and started on my research in my second year. □ I tried to waltz through my assignment, but it was too hard.

wampum ['wampəm] n. money. (From an Amerindian word.) □ I don't have enough wampum to swing the deal. □ How much wampum do you want for this thing?

wana ['wana] n. marijuana. (Drugs.) □ Got any wana on you? □ How much is this wana, man?

wank off Go to beat off.

wanna ['wana OR 'wəna] phr. want to. (Eye-dialect. Typical spoken English. Used in writing only for effect. Used in the examples of this dictionary.) □ I will if I wanna. □ Do you wanna gimme the thingy and lemme go ahead with my work?

wannabe AND wanna be ['wana bi] n. someone who wants to be something or someone. (Associated with Madonna, the singer.) □ All these teenyboppers are wannabes, and that's why we can sell this stuff to them at any price.

Wanna make sumpin' of it? Go to Want to make something of it?

want list n. a list of things that someone wants. (See also laundry list; shopping list.) □ Some of the things on her want list we can take care of easily. □ Send me your want list, and I'll see what we can do.

want out in. to want to remove oneself from some association or relationship. □ Ted had had as much as he could stand, and he wanted out. □ I want out. This relationship is stifling me.

Want to make something of it? AND Wanna make sumpin' of it? interrog. Do you want to fight about it? □ So, I'm a little ugly. Wanna make sumpin' of it?

□ I'm warped and smelly. Want to make something of it?

war chest n. a political campaign fund. □ They say the Vice President has over one million dollars in his war chest. □ When the war chest gave out, the candidate dropped out of the race.

warhorse n. a tough old thing, person, or idea. □ The conductor loves to have us play that old warhorse as an encore. □ What time does the old warhorse's train get in, and how long is she staying this time?

warm body n. just anyone who can be counted on to stay alive. □ See if you can get a couple of warm bodies to stand at the door and hand out programs. □ You mean among all these warm bodies nobody knows calculus?

warmed over mod. not very original; rehashed. □ I am not interested in reading warmed over news on a computer screen. □ The lecture sounded sort of warmed over, but it wasn't too dull.

warm someone up tv. to prepare an audience for another—more famous—performer. □ A famous singer came out to warm us up for Jack Benny. □ This man Bennett is a superb choice to warm up the audience.

war paint n. a woman's makeup. □ She'll be ready when she gets on her war paint. □ She doesn't look half bad without war paint.

warped mod. drug intoxicated. (A variant of bent.) □ Too many yellows made Jerry warped as the dickens. □ I think Max is permanently warped.

wart 1. n. an annoying person. (Also a rude term of address.) □ Who is that wart with the inch-thick glasses? □ Tell the wart to leave, or we will be forced to call Ziggy, who doesn't care for such persons. 2. n. a problem or an obstruction in a plan. □ Okay, now we come to the wart. We don't have the money to carry out this plan. □ It's okay except for a little wart.

warts and all mod. even with the flaws. □ It's a great performance—warts and all. □

Yes, we admire each other very much, warts and all.

war zone n. an area where things get rough; a tough neighborhood. ☐ Unfortunately our offices are in a war zone, and we have to be on the way home before dark. ☐ The drug dealers and the gangs have turned many of our neighborhoods into war zones.

wash 1. in. to be believed. (As if untruth were a stain that will not come out in the wash.) ☐ It sounds phony. It won't wash. ☐ That'll never wash! It's totally unbelievable. 2. n. a drink that follows a previous drink; a chaser. ☐ He ordered a beer wash with his snort. ☐ Can I have a wash with this, bartender? 3. n. the almost simultaneous sale and purchase of the same stock, usually to make the stock appear to be trading actively. (Securities markets. The practice is illegal. Tax loss selling must be done in such a way to avoid appearing to be a wash.) ☐ I sold the stock and couldn't buy it back for thirty days to avoid an illegal wash. ☐ The IRS ruled that the sale was a wash and that I couldn't take the tax loss. 4. n. a white-wash or covering up (of a problem). ☐ What the administration presented was not an explanation but a wash. ☐ We don't want a wash. We want the truth.

was had Go to been had.

washboard abs n. heavily marked abdominal muscles, divided into six equal sections. ☐ If I work out hard enough I can build those washboard abs.

washed out mod. exhausted; tired. ☐ I feel too washed out to go to work today. ☐ Poor Ted really looks washed out.

wash out 1. in. to fail and be removed from something, such as school. (See also washout.) ☐ I studied all I could, but I still washed out. ☐ I don't want to wash out. It's my whole future. 2. in. to have a serious wreck; to wipe out. ☐ The little car washed out on the curve. ☐ The vehicles have a tendency to wash out when cornering. 3. in. to lose a large amount of money. ☐ Fred washed out on that stock deal. ☐ Lefty and Bruno washed out at the track. 4. in. to slow down or collapse from exhaustion. (See also washed out.)

☐ The whole play began to wash out during the second act. It was a lost cause by the third. ☐ Finally, after a long day, I just washed out. They had to call the paramedics.

washout n. a failure; a fiasco. ☐ The whole project was a washout. A lost cause from beginning to end. ☐ I am beginning to think that Sally's specialty is washouts.

wash someone away tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) ☐ Ziggy was charged with trying to wash Pete away. ☐ The mob triggers came by and tried to wash away a druggy type.

WASP 1. n. a white Anglo-Saxon protestant. (Usually derogatory. Acronym.) ☐ Would you call Pete a WASP? ☐ Not really. The west side is where the WASPs live. 2. mod. having to do with white Anglo-Saxon protestants; waspish. ☐ They preferred to live in a WASP neighborhood. ☐ What a silly old WASP idea.

waspish mod. in the manner of a WASP. ☐ She looks sort of waspish, but she's not. ☐ Sally is a waspish kind of yuppie.

Wassup? Go to Wusup?

waste tv. to kill someone. (Underworld.) ☐ Ziggy had orders to waste Pete. ☐ The mob's triggers sped by in a car and wasted four pushers.

wasted 1. mod. dead; killed. ☐ Pete didn't want to end up wasted. ☐ That's silly. We all end up wasted one way or another. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ I really feel wasted. What did I drink? ☐ I've never seen a bartender get wasted before. 3. mod. exhausted. ☐ I worked two shifts and I'm totally wasted. ☐ Mary was wasted and went to bed.

Watch it! exclam. Be careful!; Watch your step!; Careful of what you say! ☐ Watch it, buster! ☐ You're walking on thin ice. Watch it!

Watch my lips! AND Read my lips! 1. exclam. I am going to say something rude to you that I will not say out loud! ☐ You jerk! Watch my lips! ☐ Hey, chum! Read my lips! 2. exclam. Listen very carefully to what I am saying!; If you can't understand what I am saying, then watch the formation of words by my lips. ☐ Read my lips! Do not ask any more stupid questions!

Watch your mouth! AND Watch your tongue! exclam. Pay attention to what you are saying!; Do not say anything rude! ☐ Hey, don't talk that way! Watch your mouth! ☐ Watch your tongue, garbage mouth!

Watch your tongue! Go to Watch your mouth!

watering hole n. a tavern. ☐ Now this place is one of my favorite watering holes. ☐ I think you live down at that watering hole.

water one's cheeks tv. to cry; to shed tears sobbing. ☐ What are you watering your cheeks about? ☐ Poor Billy was watering his cheeks all night because his dog ran away.

wax 1. tv. to beat or defeat someone; to assault someone. ☐ Those guys look like they're gonna wax us but good. ☐ The muggers waxed the vest and swiped his briefcase. 2. n. a phonograph recording; a substance onto which a recording is put. (Never singular or plural.) ☐ This is one of the finest pieces of music ever put on wax. ☐ Now here's some wax I'll bet you've never heard before.

waxed mod. alcohol intoxicated. (See also polished (up).) ☐ Tom is too waxed to talk. ☐ Sam got waxed and had to be taken home.

way 1. mod. extremely; totally. ☐ Oh, this is way gross! ☐ I feel way tired today. 2. interj. There is too a way!, as an answer to No way! ☐ A: I won't do it. No way! B: Way! Yes, you will. ☐ She says no way, and I say way. Nobody ever wins!

way down mod. very depressed. ☐ Poor Clare is way down. I think she has something wrong with her. ☐ Pete sure looks way down.

the way it plays in. the way it is; the way things are. ☐ The world is a rough place, and that's the way it plays. ☐ It's tough, but it's the way it plays.

way off (base) mod. on the wrong track; completely wrong. (See also off base.) ☐ I think you're way off base. Try again. ☐ Sorry. You are way off. You should just give up.

way out AND way-out 1. mod. extreme; arcane. ☐ Some of your ideas are really way out. ☐ What a way-out hairdo. 2. mod. heavily alcohol or drug intoxicated. ☐ That guy is way out—can't even walk. ☐ She was so way-out, she was almost unconscious.

way rad mod. quite excellent. (California. See also rad.) ☐ Oh, Tiff! That's way rad! ☐ You are? Way rad!

Way to go! Go to (That's the) way to go!

wazoo Go to bazoo.

WBMTTP interj. Which brings me to the point. (Initialism. Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) ☐ Of course, you may not like that approach. WBMTTP You need someone to help you choose the proper method. ☐ I agree with what Tom said. WBMTTP. I think we spend too much time worrying about these matters.

weak sister n. a timid person, usually a male. ☐ It looks like Dave is the weak sister on the team. ☐ Another weak sister and we'll have to quit. We've got to pull together.

wear tv. to tolerate something. (Usually negative.) ☐ That's no good. I won't wear it. ☐ I don't mind, but my wife won't wear it.

wearing (nothing but) a smile tv. naked. ☐ This doll came on stage and within ten minutes she was wearing nothing but a smile.

wear the pants (in the house) tv. to be the boss in the house; to run a household. ☐ All right, if you have to wear the pants, have it your way. ☐ Well, somebody has to wear the pants.

weasel 1. n. a sneaky person. ☐ You slimy weasel! How could you! ☐ If Fred weren't such a weasel, we could get along better. 2. n. an earnest student. (Collegiate.) ☐ Who's the weasel who always gets A's? ☐ Martin is your classic weasel.

weasel out of something in. to get out of doing something; to wiggle out of a responsibility. ☐ I know how to weasel out of something like that. You get a headache. ☐ You can't just weasel out now when we need you!

wedgy AND wedgie n. a situation where one's underpants are drawn up tightly between the buttocks; a melvin. ☐ Wally skipped up behind Greg and gave him a wedgy. ☐ I think he LIKES walking around with a wedgy all day!

weed 1. n. tobacco; a cigarette or cigar. ☐ I've about given up weed. ☐ This weed is gonna be the death of me. 2. n. marijuana; a marijuana cigarette. (Drugs.) ☐ This is good weed, man. ☐ This weed is green but decent.

weed-eater Go to weedhead.

weedhead AND weed-eater n. a smoker of marijuana. ☐ Max is a confirmed weed-eater. ☐ The weedheads are taking over this neighborhood.

weeds n. clothing. ☐ Good-looking weeds you're wearing. ☐ These weeds came right out of the wish book. Would you believe?

weekend warrior n. a member of the military reserves. ☐ I wanted to be a weekend warrior and get some of the educational benefits. ☐ The weekend warriors were called into active duty.

weenie AND wienie 1. n. a stupid and inept male. ☐ Tell that stupid weenie to get himself over here and get back to work. 2. n. the penis. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ He held his hands over his weenie and ran for the bedroom. 3. n. an earnest student. ☐ That weenie keeps getting A's and raising the grade scale.

weeper n. a sad movie, novel, television program, etc. ☐ I can't seem to get enough of these weepers. ☐ Not another weeper!

weirded out mod. disturbed or unnerved by drugs or events. ☐ I was totally weirded out and couldn't control myself. ☐ After the blowup, Fred was really weirded out.

weirdo ['wɪrdo] n. a strange person. ☐ She is sure a weirdo lately. ☐ Don't be such a weirdo!

weird out in. to become emotionally disturbed or unnerved; to flip (out). (See also weirded out.) ☐ The day was just gross. I thought I would weird out at noon. ☐ I weirded out at the news of Frankie's death.

weisenheimer AND wiseacre ['waɪzən-haɪmər AND 'waɪzəkər] n. a presumptuous smart aleck. (Also a term of address.) ☐ Who's the wiseacre who put sugar in the salt shaker? ☐ Look, weisenheimer, watch your tongue!

welcher ['welʃər] n. someone who does not pay gambling debts. ☐ It was Ziggy's job to let the welchers know that Mr. Big was angry. ☐ Bruno set out to teach the welcher a lesson. He didn't mean to hurt him very much.

welk [welk] phr. you are welcome. ☐ Tom: Thanks. Bob: Welk. ☐ "Welk," said Fred, accepting my thanks.

well-fixed AND well-heeled 1. mod. rich. ☐ His father died and left him pretty well-fixed. ☐ Her well-fixed uncle left her a lot of money. ☐ Pete is well-fixed for life. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ By midnight, he was pretty well-fixed. ☐ You might say he is well-fixed. You might say he's dead drunk, too.

well-heeled Go to well-fixed.

well-hung AND hung 1. mod. having large [male] genitals. (Widely known and very old. Usually objectionable.) ☐ If Tom was as hung as he thinks he is, he wouldn't even say anything at all. 2. mod. having large breasts. (Usually objectionable.) ☐ She is so hung, she's top heavy.

well-oiled 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ He was well-oiled and couldn't stand up. ☐ Get him well-oiled and break the news to him. 2. mod. talkative. ☐ She was sure well-oiled. I thought she'd never stop talking. □ Get him well-oiled, and you'll find out about everything.

(Well,) pardon me for living! AND Excuse me for breathing!; Excuse me for living! tv. I am SOOO sorry! (A very sarcastic response to a rebuke, seeming to regret the apparent offense of even living.) □ A: You are blocking my view. Please move. B: Well, pardon me for living!

(well-)upholstered mod. chubby; plump. □ Fortunately, he was upholstered enough that the fall didn't really hurt. □ My well-upholstered brother has to go on a diet.

wenchy AND whenchy ['wɛntʃi AND 'wɛntʃi] mod. bitchy; snotty. (Collegiate.) □ I really wish you wouldn't be so wenchy with me! □ What's the matter with that wenchy chick? □ Then she began to get wenchy, so I left.

Were you born in a barn? interrog. Weren't you trained to close the door by yourself? □ Close the door! Were you born in a barn? □ You sure are careless with that door. Were you born in a barn?

wet 1. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ The jerk is wet and can't drive home. □ He's been drinking since noon and is pretty wet. 2. mod. having to do with an area where is it legal to sell alcohol. (Compare this with dry.) □ Kansas became wet just a few years ago. □ Is it wet or dry in this county? 3. mod. feeble; in the manner of a nerd. □ Tom is totally wet. What a jerk. □ Wayne is wet and so's his buddy.

wet blanket n. someone who ruins a good time. (In the way that a wet blanket is used to put out a fire.) □ Oh, Martin! Why do you have to be such a wet blanket? □ Don't be a wet blanket! Have some fun!

wet noodle n. a dupe; a wimp. □ Don't be such a wet noodle. Don't let them push you around. □ Martin is such a wet noodle.

wet one n. a cold beer. □ How about a wet one, Fred? □ I could sure use a wet one about now.

wet rag Go to wet sock.

wet sock AND wet rag n. a wimp; a useless jerk. (See also rubber sock.) □ Don't be such a wet sock! Stand up for your rights! □ Well, in a tight situation, Martin is sort of a wet rag. wetware ['wɛtwɛr] n. the human brain. (Compared to computer hardware and software.) □ This isn't a hardware problem; it's a wetware problem. □ You need to update your wetware.

whack AND wack 1. tv. to strike someone or something. □ Jed whacked the kid upside the head. □ Larry reached down and wacked the dog across the snout. 2. n. a blow or hit (at someone or something). □ She tried to take a whack at me! □ She landed a nasty wack on his thigh. 3. n. a drink of liquor. □ Take a whack of this stuff. □ Hey, give me another wack of that. It helps. 4. Go to w(h)acked.

w(h)acked AND w(h)ack mod. wild; silly. □ Bill was wacked as always and embarrassed us all. □ He is so wack!

w(h)acked (out) mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Gee, is he ever whacked! □ Dave was so whacked out he couldn't stand up.

whack off Go to beat off.

w(h)ack someone or something up in. to damage someone or something. □ Bob got mad at Greg and whacked him up.

w(h)ack someone (out) tv. to kill somebody. (Underworld.) □ Willie made another try at whacking Albert out last evening. □ He really wants to whack out Mr. Big.

w(h)ack something (out) tv. to rob a place; to swindle a business establishment. (Underworld.) □ Did your guys wack the church collection box?

whale 1. n. a very fat person. (Cruel.) □ Tracy is getting to be such a whale. □ Well, Gert's the whale if you ask me. 2. n. a drunkard; a person with an enormous capacity for liquor. □ Arthur is getting to be a regular whale. What does he drink? □ A pair of whales was in the corner booth tanking up.

whale into someone or something in. to attack someone or something. ☐ Jimmy's dad really whaled into him. ☐ The guy whaled into the logs and had a nice wood pile by noon.

whale on mod. excellent. (Confused with or in error for wailing.) ☐ This is one whale on rally. ☐ We had a whale on time at Bob's house.

whale the tar out of someone tv. to spank or beat someone. (Sometimes said to a child.) ☐ My father threatened to whale the tar out of me. ☐ I'll whale the tar out of you when we get home if you don't settle down.

whaling Go to wailing.

wham-bang ['mæm'bæŋ] mod. boisterous. ☐ We had a really wham-bang time at your party.

whang(y)doodle ['mæŋ'dudl AND 'mæŋi-'dudl] 1. n. a gadget. ☐ Toss me one of the little whangdoodles, would ya? ☐ This whangydoodle is a little bent. 2. n. nonsense. ☐ Now that's enough of your whangdoodle. ☐ All I ever hear out of you is whangydoodle.

whank off Go to beat off.

What (a) nerve! exclam. What insolence!; How rude and presumptuous! ☐ Did you hear what she said? What nerve! ☐ What a nerve! Have you ever seen such gall?

What can I do you for? interrog. How can I help you?; How can I serve you? ☐ Good morning. What can I do for you? ☐ Now it's your turn. What can I do for you?

whatchamacallit ['mætʃəmə'kalɪt] n.  ☐ Did you invite whatchamacallit to the party? ☐ I lost my—you know—my whatchamacallit—my watch!

What do you say? 1. interrog. Hello, how are you? (Most often [wədəjə'se].) ☐ Hi, Jim. What do you say? ☐ What do you say, man? 2. interrog. What is your answer? ☐ Well, what do you say? ☐ Come on, I need an answer now. What do you say?

What else is new? interrog. But isn't that what you expect?; What you said isn't new, so what is new? ☐ Yes, there is trouble around the world. What else is new? ☐ So, there's not enough money this week. What else is new?

whatever mod. I don't care; it doesn't matter which choice; whatever you want. ☐ Q: I have chocolate, vanilla, strawberry, kiwi, and lime. Which do you want? A: Oh, whatever.

whatever turns you on tv. It's all right if it excites you or interests you. (Said originally about sexual matters.) ☐ You really like pickled pigs feet? Whatever turns you on. ☐ I can't stand that kind of music, but whatever turns you on.

What gives? interrog. What is going on?; What is happening? ☐ Hey! What gives? Who left this here? ☐ What gives? Who's made this mess?

What in Sam Hill? Go to What in (the) Sam Hill?

What (in) the devil? interrog. What has happened?; What? (Often with the force of an exclamation.) ☐ What in the devil? Who put sugar in the salt shaker? ☐ What the devil? Who are you? What are you doing in my room?

What (in) the fucking hell! exclam. an angry and surprised elaboration of What? (Taboo. Usually objectionable.) ☐ What the fucking hell! Who are you and how'd you get in here? ☐ What the fucking hell do you think you are doing?

What (in) the hell? 1. interrog. What has happened?; What? ☐ What in the hell? Who did this? ☐ What the hell happened here? 2. interrog. What does it matter? (Usually with the force of an exclamation.) ☐ Give her a new one. What the hell! ☐ Don't be such a cheapskate. Get the nice one. What the hell!

What in (the) Sam Hill? interrog. What has happened?; What? (An elaboration of what. Sam Hill is hell. Often with the force of an exclamation. See examples for variations.) ☐ What in Sam Hill is going on around here? ☐ What in the Sam Hill do you think you are doing?

What is it? interrog. Hello, what is happening? ☐ What is it? Tsup? ☐ What is it? What's happening?

What'll it be? interrog. What do you want. (Typically said when offering someone drinks. See also What's yours?) ☐ Okay, Mac, what'll it be? ☐ What'll it be, chum?

What's buzzin' (cousin)? interrog. What's happening? ☐ Hey, chum! What's buzzin' cousin? ☐ What's buzzin' around here?

What's cooking? interrog. What is happening?; What's about to happen? ☐ What's cooking? Anything interesting? ☐ What's cooking anyway?

What's eating someone? interrog. What is bothering someone? ☐ Gee, Tom, what's eating you? ☐ What's eating Fred? He's in a rotten humor.

What's going down? interrog. What's happening? ☐ I can't figure out what's going down around here. ☐ Hey, man, what's going down?

What's going on? interrog. What is happening here? ☐ I hear a lot of noise. What's going on? ☐ What's all this broken glass? What's going on?

What's happ(ening)? interrog. Hello, what's new? ☐ Hey, dude! What's happening? ☐ What's happ? How's it goin'?

what's his face AND what's his name n. someone whose name has been forgotten; someone whose name is being avoided. ☐ Was what's his name there? I never can remember his name. ☐ I can't remember what's his face's name either.

what's his name Go to what's his face.

What's in it for me? interrog. How do I benefit from it? ☐ I might help out. What's in it for me? ☐ I might be able to contribute a little. What's in it for me?

What's in the bag! interrog. Hello, how are you? ☐ Hey, man! What's in the bag? ☐ What in the bag, my man?

whatsis AND whatsit; whatzit; whazzit ['mɒtsɪs AND 'mɒtsɪt, 'mɒtsɪt, 'mɒzɪt] n.  ☐ Hand me that whatsis, will you? ☐ Put this little whatzit on the top and another on the bottom.

whatsit Go to whatsis.

What's it to you? interrog. What does it matter to you?; Is it any of your business? ☐ What's it to you if I don't do it? ☐ So I broke my glasses. What's it to you?

What's new? interrog. Hello, how are you?; What has happened since I last saw you? ☐ Hi, Jim! What's new? ☐ What's new with you?

What someone said. sent. I agree with what someone just said, although I might not have been able to say it as well or so elegantly. ☐ What John said. And I agree 100 percent. ☐ What you said.

What's poppin'? interrog. Hello, what is happening? ☐ What's poppin'? Anything new? ☐ What's poppin', G?

What's shakin' (bacon)? interrog. How are you?; What is new? ☐ What's shakin' bacon? What's going down? ☐ Hi, Jim. What's shakin'?

What's the catch? interrog. What is the drawback?; It sounds good. Are there any hidden problems? ☐ Sounds too good to be true. What's the catch? ☐ This looks like a good deal. What's the catch?

What's the deal? Go to What's the scam?

What's the good word? interrog. Hello, how are you? ☐ Hi, Jim! What's the good word? ☐ Haven't seen you in a long time. What's the good word?

What's the scam? AND What's the deal? interrog. What is going on around here? ☐ There's a big rumpus down the hall. What's the scam? ☐ I gave you a twenty, and you give me five back? What's the deal? Where's my other five?

What(s) up? interrog. What is going on?; What is happening? (See also (T)sup?; Wusup?) ☐ Hi, Jim! What up? ☐ Haven't seen you in a month of Sundays. What's up?

What's up, doc? interrog. What is happening here? ☐ What's up, doc? How're things going?

What('s) up, G? interrog. Hello, what is up, guy? ☐ What up, G? How ya living? ☐ What's up, G? Anything new?

What's with someone or something? interrog. What is wrong with someone or something? ☐ Hey, chum! What's with you? ☐ What's with this can opener? It won't turn.

What's your age? interrog. Hello, how are you? ☐ What's your age? Tsup? ☐ Yo, Sam! What's your age?

What's your damage? interrog. What's your problem? (Like a damage report.) ☐ You look beat, man. What's your damage?

What's yours? interrog. What (or which) do you want? (Typically said on offering drinks. See also What'll it be?) ☐ "What's yours?" said the bartender. ☐ The nice young man behind the counter looked to the right and left at all 140 flavors and said, "What's yours?"

What the deuce? interrog. What has happened?; What? (Deuce is an old word for devil.) ☐ What the deuce! Who are you? ☐ What the deuce! Who did this?

What the devil? Go to What (in) the devil?

What the fucking hell! Go to What (in) the fucking hell!

What the heck! exclam. It doesn't matter! (Often with the force of an exclamation.) ☐ Oh, what the heck! Come on in. It doesn't matter. ☐ Oh, what the heck! I'll have another beer. Nobody's counting.

What the hell? Go to What (in) the hell?

What you see is what you get. 1. sent. The product you are looking at is exactly what you get if you buy it. ☐ It comes just like this. What you see is what you get. ☐ What you see is what you get. The ones in the box are just like this one. 2. AND WYSIWYG ['wɪsiwɪg] phr. What you see on the screen is what will print on the printer. (Computers. Acronym.) ☐ This program gives you that "what you see is what you get" feature that everyone wants. ☐ I need something that's WYSIWYG. I have no imagination.

whatzit Go to whatsis.

whazood AND waa-zooed ['mɑ'zud AND 'wɑ'zud] mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Man, is she whazood! ☐ Pete was too waa-zooed to stand up.

whazzit Go to whatsis.

wheel tv. & in. to drive a car. ☐ I'm gonna wheel over later this afternoon. ☐ Let's wheel my heap over to Marty's place.

wheel and deal in. to negotiate, cajole, and connive—aggressively. (See also wheeler-dealer.) ☐ If you can't wheel and deal, you can't run for elective office. ☐ Any crook can wheel and deal!

wheeler-dealer n. someone who bargains aggressively. (See also wheel and deal.) ☐ She has turned into a real wheeler-dealer. ☐ Who's the wheeler-dealer who set up this deal?

wheel man n. the (male) driver of a criminal escape car. (Underworld.) ☐ Lefty was the wheel man for the bank job. ☐ We need a new wheel man while Lefty's away.

wheels n. a car; transportation by automobile. ☐ I gotta get some wheels pretty soon. ☐ I'll need a ride. I don't have any wheels.

wheely AND wheelie n. an act of rearing up on a bike or motorcycle, balancing on the rear wheel. ☐ Can you do wheelies? ☐ The kid did a wheelie and scared his mother to death.

whenchy Go to wenchy.

when push comes to shove AND if push comes to shove phr. when things get a little pressed; when the situation gets more active or intense. ☐ When push comes to shove, you know I'll be on your side. ☐ If push comes to shove, the front office can help with some statistics.

when the eagle flies AND day the eagle flies in. payday. (The eagle is the one found on U.S. currency.) ☐ I'll pay you back when the eagle flies. ☐ I'll find you the day the eagle flies.

when the fat lady sings Go to till the fat lady sings.

when the shit hit the fan tv. when the trouble broke out; when things became difficult. (Usually objectionable.) □ We had one hell of an afternoon around here. Where were you when the shit hit the fan?

Where have you been keeping yourself? interrog. I haven't seen you in a long time. Where have you been? □ Long time no see. Where've you been keeping yourself? □ I haven't seen you in a long time. Where you been keeping yourself?

Where in (the) Sam Hill? interrog. Where? (An intensive form of where. Sam Hill is hell.) □ Where in Sam Hill did I put my hat? □ Where in the Sam Hill were you?

Where in the world? interrog. Where? (An intensive form of where.) □ Where in the world have you been? □ Where in the world did I put my glasses?

where it's at phr. what one is aiming for; what is needed. (This does not refer to a place.) □ Keep on trying. That's where it's at! □ Good strong friends. That's where it's at.

Where on earth? Go to Where on (God's green) earth?

Where on (God's green) earth? interrog. (Exactly) where? (An intensive form of where. See examples for variations.) □ Where on God's green earth did you get that ridiculous hat? □ Where on earth is my book? □ Where on God's green earth were you?

where someone is at in. what mental condition someone is in. □ I know where you're at. I know what you are talking about. □ You said it! I know just where you're at!

where someone lives in. at one's core; in one's own personal situation. □ That really hits you where you live, doesn't it? □ Yes, that gets me where I live.

where someone's head is at in. the state of one's mental well-being. □ As soon as I figure where my head is at, I'll be okay. □ He doesn't know where his head is at.

Where's the beef? interrog. Where is the substance? Where is the content? (From a television commercial where someone is looking for the meat in a fast-food hamburger.) □ That's really clever and appealing, but where's the beef? □ Where's the beef? There's no substance in this proposal.

Where's the fire? interrog. Why are you going so fast? What's the hurry? □ Going a little fast there, weren't you? Where's the fire? □ Where's the fire? We have an hour to get there.

where the action is in. where important things are happening. □ I want to be where the action is. □ Right there in city hall. That's where the action is.

Where the Sam Hill? Go to Where in (the) Sam Hill?

where the sun don't shine in. in a dark place, namely the anus. (Often with put it or shove it. Part of the answer to the question Where shall I put it? Always with don't; never with doesn't.) □ I don't care what you do with it. Just put it where the sun don't shine. □ For all I care you can shove it where the sun don't shine.

wherewithal ['ærwɪθəl] 1. n. money. □ I don't have the wherewithal to invest in anything like that. □ I've got the interest but not the wherewithal. 2. n. motivation; gumption. □ I just don't have the wherewithal to do the job. □ As soon as I get some wherewithal, I'll get a new computer.

whiffled ['wɪflɪd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Jed found himself a mite whiffled, but nobody else knew. □ That guy really looks whiffled.

whiff-sniffer AND wiff-sniffer n. a prohibitionist; someone always alert for the smell of alcohol on someone's breath. (Prohibition.) □ Martin is something of a whiff-sniffer. □ No wiff-sniffer is going to tell me what to do.

whing-ding AND wing-ding 1. n. a love affair; a sexual affair. □ Sam and Martha brought their little whing-ding to an end. □ Somebody found out about their little wing-ding. 2. n. a gadget. □ This whing-ding is broken. Where can I find another? □ I've never seen one of these little wing-dings so banged up. 3. AND whinger n. a wild drinking party; drinking spree. □

Fred had one of the best whing-dings this town has ever seen. □ Yes, it was some whinger.

whinger Go to whing-ding.

whip off Go to beat off.

whip one's wire Go to beat the dummy.

whipped 1. mod. exhausted; beat. □ Wow, you look whipped. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was too whipped to find money to pay her bill. 3. mod. great. □ The band was whipped and the food was unbelievable.

whipsaw 1. tv. to assault a person; to gang up and beat a person. □ The gang whipsawed the old man for about ten minutes. □ What kind of creeps would whipsaw an old buzzard like that? 2. tv. [for the stock market] to reduce the capital of investors by frightening them into selling when stock prices are low and encouraging them to buy when prices are high. (Securities markets.) □ A lot of people were whipsawed in the recent market volatility. □ The market will whipsaw the investor who is not cautious.

whip something into shape Go to lick something into shape.

whip something off tv. to finish something quickly, especially food or drink. □ Did you just whip that whole pizza off? □ Lemme whip off this sandwich, and I'll be right with you. □ She whipped off the dishes in ten minutes.

whip the dummy Go to beat the dummy.

whirlybird n. a helicopter. □ See that whirlybird up there? It's timing your speed. Slow down. □ The whirlybird landed on the roof of the hospital.

whiskers (man) Go to Mr. Whiskers.

whiskey tenor n. a strained tenor. □ He's a whiskey tenor, but a good one. □ Four whiskey tenors do not a barbershop quartet make.

whistle-blower n. someone who calls a halt to something; an informer; an enforcer; a stool (pigeon). □ I don't know who the whistle-blower was, but a good time was really ruined. □ Some whistle-blower put Pete behind bars for a few days.

whistle in the dark in. to guess aimlessly; to speculate as to a fact. □ Am I close, or am I just whistling in the dark? □ She was whistling in the dark. She has no idea of what's going on.

whistler n. someone who is a police informer; a stoolie. (Underworld. More specialized than whistle-blower.) □ Tracy turned into a whistler after her last little vacation. □ Who's the whistler who squealed?

whitebread mod. plain; dull. □ Naw, the whole thing is too whitebread. □ If I wanted a whitebread vacation, I'd have gone to the beach.

white elephant n. a useless or unwanted object. □ How can I get rid of this white elephant? □ Take all those white elephants to the flea market.

white hat n. a good guy; a hero. (From Western movies where you could tell the good guys from the bad guys by the color of their hats: white for good, black for bad.) □ He seems like a white hat, but he's a worm. □ The white hats don't always win, you know.

white-knuckle 1. mod. having to do with an event that creates a lot of tension, especially an airplane flight. □ We came in during the storm on a white-knuckle flight from Chicago. 2. mod. of a person who is made tense by something such as flying or sailing. □ I'm afraid I'm a white-knuckle sailor, and you'd all be much happier if I stay on dry land. □ My cousin is a white-knuckle flyer and would rather take the train.

white knuckler 1. n. a tense and nervous person. □ You white knucklers are just going to have to relax. □ I'm such a white knuckler before a test. 2. n. a suspenseful event, such as an exciting movie or a rough airplane flight. □ The movie was a real white knuckler. □ We sat through the white knuckler even without popcorn.

whitewash 1. tv. to make something look better than it really is; to conceal something bad. □ Now, don't try to whitewash this incident. Open up about it. □ The mayor's office tried to whitewash the whole affair. 2. n. an act or campaign of covering up something bad. □ They tried to give the scandal the old whitewash, but it didn't work. □ It was a good whitewash, but nobody believed it for a minute.

whittled mod. alcohol intoxicated; filled with liquor. (See also cut.) □ Fred's whittled and can't hardly see. □ Why does he keep getting so whittled?

whiz 1. n. a talented or skilled person. □ She's a real whiz with stats. □ I'm no math whiz, but I can find your errors. 2. in. to urinate. (Usually objectionable.) □ I gotta stop here and whiz. □ You can't whiz in the park!

whiz kid n. a young whiz. □ The boss's new whiz kid doesn't seem to be doing the job very well. □ We need a whiz kid to get things brought up to date around here.

Whoa! [wo] exclam. Stop! (Said to a horse or any person or thing.) □ You've gone about far enough. Whoa! □ Whoa, you've gone about far enough.

whodunit [hu'dənɪt] n. a detective story. (See also thriller-diller.) □ I love to read a good whodunit every now and then. □ I go through about three whodunits a week.

Who (in) the devil? Go to Who (in) the hell?

Who (in) the hell? AND Who (in) the devil? interrog. Who? (An elaboration of who. See examples for variations.) □ Who in the hell was that masked man? □ Who the hell are you?

whole bag of tricks n. everything; every possibility. □ Well now. I've used my whole bag of tricks, and we still haven't solved this. □ It may take my whole bag of tricks to do it, but I'll try.

the whole ball of wax n. everything; the whole thing. □ Well, that just about ruins the whole ball of wax. □ Your comments threatened the whole ball of wax, that's what.

a whole bunch AND whole bunches mod. a whole lot; very much. (Always with a in the singular.) □ I like to spend evenings at home a whole bunch. □ I like pizza whole bunches.

the whole enchilada [...ɛntʃə'lədə] n. the whole thing; everything. (From Spanish.) □ Nobody, but nobody, ever gets the whole enchilada. □ Pete wants the whole enchilada.

the whole fam damily [...'fæm 'dæmli] n. the entire family. (A deliberate spoonerism for whole damn family.) □ The whole fam damily has had this virus. Yuck! □ There's enough here for the whole fam damily.

a whole new ball game n. a completely different situation; something completely different. □ Now that you're here, it's a whole new ball game. □ With a faster computer, it's a whole new ball game.

the whole nine yards n. the entire amount; everything. (Origin unknown. Possibly referring to the standard size of a cement mixing truck, 9 cubic yards.) □ For you I'll go the whole nine yards. □ You're worth the whole nine yards.

the whole schmear [...ʃmɪr] n. the entire amount; the entire affair. (Based on Yiddish.) □ You just wrecked the whole schmear, that's what. □ I'll take a hamburger with everything on it—the whole schmear.

the whole shebang AND the whole shooting match [...ʃə'bæŋ] n. the whole affair; everything and everyone. (Folksy.) □ The whole shebang is just about washed up. □ I'm fed up with the whole shooting match.

the whole shooting match Go to whole shebang.

the whole wide world n. everywhere; everywhere and everything. □ It's the best in the whole wide world. □ I've searched the whole wide world for just the right hat.

whomp Go to whump.

whooshed mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Jerry was totally whooshed by midnight. □ Hank was whooshed but thought he could drive home.

whoozis AND whoozit ['huzɪs AND 'huzɪt] n.  □ I met whoozis—you know, with the big what-sis—today. □ Is whoozit coming to my birthday party?

whoozit Go to whoozis.

whopper 1. n. something that is of relatively great size. □ That thing's really a whopper! □ It was a whopper of an argument. 2. n. a very big lie. □ That one's a whopper. I don't believe a word of it. □ She sure told a whopper, didn't she?

whopping (great) mod. enormous. □ Somebody showed up with a whopping great basin of chunks of pickled fish. Yummy! □ What a whopping fool he is!

who shot John n. moonshine; illicit whiskey. (Prohibition.) □ You know where I can get a little of that who shot John? □ He's had too much of that who shot John.

Who's your daddy? interrog. Who is your boss? It's me, isn't it? (A reminder of who's the boss.) □ Don't waver. Do it! Who's your daddy? □ Hey, bro! Who's your daddy?

Who the deuce? interrog. Who? (An elaboration of who. The deuce is the devil.) □ Who the deuce do you think you are? □ Who the deuce is making all that noise?

Who the devil? Go to Who (in) the hell?

Who the hell? Go to Who (in) the hell?

Whuhap? interrog. Hello.; What's new? (Streets. A greeting inquiry.) □ Whuhap? What's coming down? □ Whuhap? Where's the action?

whump AND whomp; womp [wʌmp AND wʌmp, wʌmp] 1. tv. to beat or outscore someone. □ They set out to whump us, and they sure did. □ The Redskins womped the Walleyes. 2. n. the sound made when two flat surfaces fall together. □ I heard the whump when the shed collapsed. □ The whomp woke everyone up.

wicked mod. excellent; impressive; cool. (Also in compounds, wicked smart, wicked cool, etc.) □ Now this is what I call a wicked guitar.

wicky mod. wicked; excellent. □ Whose wicky red convertible is parked in front of the house?

wide mod. drug intoxicated. □ Who is that wide dude? □ How'd you get so wide, man?

wide open 1. mod. as fast as possible; at full throttle. □ I was driving along wide open when I became aware of a flashing red light. □ It was wide open and still wouldn't do better than eighty. 2. mod. vice-ridden. □ This town is wide open! □ Because the prison is understaffed, it is wide open.

wide place in the road n. a very small town. □ The town is little more than a wide place in the road. □ We stopped at a wide place in the road called Adamsville.

widget ['wɪdʒɪt] 1. n. a gadget. □ Now, try to fit this widget into this slot here. □ What is the real name of this widget? 2. n. a hypothetical product made by a hypothetical company. □ Someone said that your company is manufacturing widgets. □ No, we stopped making widgets last year. Too much foreign competition.

widow-maker n. a dangerous horse; anything dangerous: a gun, strong alcohol, etc. □ I call this stuff widow-maker. It's really strong. □ That horse is a widow-maker. I won't ride it.

wiener nose ['wɪnə...] n. a simpleton. (Also a derogatory term of address.) □ Look, wiener nose, mind your own business. □ Todd, you are such a wiener nose!

wife n. a girlfriend. (Collegiate.) □ Me and my wife are going to Fred's this Friday. □ Ask your wife if she wants to come along.

wiff-sniffer Go to whiff-sniffer.

wigged (out) AND wiggy 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ How did you get so wigged out? □ The kid got a little wigged and slipped under the table. 2. mod. having lost control of oneself; having flipped one's wig. □ The kid is just too wigged to do anything these days. □ After the bad news, she was totally wigged out.

wiggle out of something in. to successfully avoid doing something. □ We wig- gled out of the appointment. ☐ Don't try to wiggle out of it. I saw you with her.

wiggy Go to wigged (out).

wig out 1. in. to lose control of oneself; to flip one's wig. (See also wigged (out).)

☐ I was afraid I would wig out if I stayed any longer. ☐ Take it easy, man. Don't wig out. 2. in. to have a good time at a party, etc. ☐ We wiggled out at John's do. ☐ Come on, let's wig out!

wild mod. exciting; eccentric; cool. ☐ Things are really wild here. ☐ We had a wild time.

wild and woolly mod. exciting; hairy. ☐ Things get a little wild and woolly on a Friday evening at Wally's place. ☐ The ride home was a little wild and woolly.

will do phr. I will do it. ☐ Will do. I'll get right on it. ☐ Fix the stuck window? Will do.

willies n. a case of fear or anxiety. (See also screaming-meemies.) ☐ That kind of movie always gives me the willies. ☐ I got the willies before the test.

Wilma ['wilmə] n. a stupid woman. (From the Flintstones cartoon character. Also a term of address.) ☐ She is such a Wilma! What a twit! ☐ Well, Wilma. I see you forgot your money again.

wimp 1. mod. windows, icons, mouse pointer. (Usually WIMP. Acronym. Refers to a computer system, such as Macintosh or Microsoft Windows, with an elaborate user interface including resizable windows, clever icons, and a movable mouse. The term implies that such systems are for computer weaklings.) ☐ I am happier with a computer system that doesn't have all that WIMP stuff. ☐ I want all the WIMP gadgets I can get! 2. n. a weak and retiring person; a square. ☐ Don't be a wimp. Stand up for your rights. ☐ What a wimp. People walk all over her.

wimp out (of something) in. to chicken out (of something); to get out of something, leaving others to carry the burden. ☐ Come on! Don't wimp out now that there's all this work to be done. ☐ Ted wimped out on us.

wimpy mod. weak; inept; square. ☐ You are just a wimpy nerd! ☐ Come on, don't be so wimpy.

Win a few, lose a few. tv. Sometimes one wins; other times one loses. ☐ Too bad. Sorry about that. Win a few, lose a few. ☐ "Win a few, lose a few," doesn't mean you never win at all.

windbag AND bag of wind n. a talkative person; a braggart. ☐ Quiet, you windbag! ☐ She's nothing but a big bag of wind.

windy 1. mod. talkative. ☐ She's so windy! Won't she ever let up? ☐ Here comes old windy Charlie. Once he gets started, he never stops. 2. mod. flatulent; having intestinal gas. ☐ I feel a little windy. ☐ If you're windy, why don't you take the day off?

wing in. to travel by airplane. ☐ We winged to Budapest and attended the conference. ☐ They winged from there to London.

wing-ding Go to whing-ding.

wing heavy mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Ken's a little wing heavy and can't fly straight. ☐ From the way he's staggering, I'd say he's more than a little wing heavy.

wing it tv. to improvise; to do something extemporaneously. ☐ I lost my lecture notes, so I had to wing it. ☐ Don't worry. Just go out there and wing it.

a wink of sleep n. a bit of sleep; the smallest amount of sleep. (Usually in the negative.) ☐ I hardly got a wink of sleep all night long. ☐ I couldn't get a wink of sleep because of the noise.

winks n. some sleep. (See also forty winks.) ☐ I gotta have some winks. I'm pooped. ☐ A few winks would do you good.

winky Go to blinky.

winner n. an excellent person or thing. ☐ This one is a real winner. ☐ He's no winner, but he'll do.

wino ['waɪno] 1. n. wine. ☐ How about a little more vino? ☐ This is excellent vino. 2. n. a wine drunkard. ☐ By midnight the winos had gone into their stupors, and we got that part of town to ourselves. ☐ I gave the wino some money to help him stop the shakes.

win-win [of a situation] winning for both sides; [of a situation] winning for buyers and seller. □ What have you got to lose? It's a win-win situation. □ This is win-win. We both make money.

win-win-win [of a situation] winning for three parties, such as manufacturer, seller, and customer. □ Everybody makes money! It's win-win-win!

wipe n. a murder; a killing. (Underworld. See also wipe out.) □ Who's responsible for that wipe downtown last night? □ The victim of the latest mob wipe was hauled out of the river this morning.

wiped (out) 1. AND wiped over mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Harry was too wiped out to drive. □ Oh, man! I'm really wiped. 2. mod. [of a person or creature] exhausted. □ I'm so wiped out that I just want to go home and go to bed. □ Wow, am I wiped out! 3. mod. broke. □ I'm totally wiped out. Not enough bread for grub. □ Medical bills left us totally wiped out.

wiped over Go to wiped (out).

Wipe it off! exclam. Wipe that smile off your face! □ It's not funny. Wipe it off! □ Wipe it off! Nothing funny here, soldier.

wipe out 1. in. to crash. □ I wiped out on the curve. □ The car wiped out on the curve. 2. in. to fall off or away from something, such as a bicycle, skates, a surfboard, a skateboard, etc. □ I wiped out and skinned my knee. □ If I wipe out again, my mother says I'm through. 3. ['waipaut] n. a wreck. (Usually wipe-out.) □ There was a four-car wipe-out on the expressway when I came in this morning. □ It was a pretty serious wipe-out, but no one was killed. 4. n. an accident on a bicycle, skates, surfboard, skateboard, etc. (Usually wipe-out.) □ I had a nasty wipe-out, but I only bruised my elbow. □ That last wipe-out wrecked my bike. 5. n. a loser; someone who is likely to wipe out. (Usually wipe-out.) □ The guy's a wipe-out, for sure. □ Please don't call my friend a wipe-out.

wipe someone out 1. tv. to eliminate someone; to kill someone. (Underworld.)

□ Max almost wiped Ziggy out. □ Who wiped out Lefty? 2. tv. to exhaust or tire someone. □ The game wiped me out. □ Jogging always wipes me out. 3. tv. to ruin someone financially. □ The loss of my job wiped us out. □ The storm ruined the corn crop and wiped out everyone in the county.

wipe something out tv. to use up all of something. (See also wiped (out).) □ I wiped the cookies out—not all at once, of course. □ Who wiped out the strawberry preserves?

wipe the floor up with someone Go to mop the floor up with someone.

wire 1. n. a spy smuggled into a place. □ Ziggy thought Lefty was a wire. □ How do we know Lefty isn't a wire? 2. tv. to install electronic eavesdropping equipment. □ Somebody wired the mayor's office. □ They say the mayor wired his own office to make himself look like a victim. 3. Go to (live) wire.

wired 1. mod. nervous; extremely alert. □ The guy is pretty wired because of the election. □ I get wired before a test. 2. AND wired up mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Ken was so wired up he couldn't remember his name. □ Tiff is, like, totally wired up.

wired into someone or something mod. concerned with someone or something; really involved with someone or something. □ Mary is really wired into classical music. □ Sam and Martha are totally wired into one another.

wired up Go to wired.

wiseacre Go to weisenheimer.

wise guy n. a foolish person; a smart aleck. (See also smart guy. Also a term of address.) □ Look, wise guy, mind your own business! □ Some wise guy messed up my work.

wise to someone or something mod. having found out about someone or something. (Underworld.) □ The cops are wise to the plan. □ I'm wise to Lefty. He's a wire.

wise up (to someone or something) in. to (finally) begin to understand someone or something; to realize and accept the facts about someone or something. (Also as a command.) □ Sally finally wised up to Pete. □ Come on, Sally! Wise up!

wish book n. a large, mail order catalog. □ The new wish book just came in the mail. □ Where's the wish book? I have to order something.

wish list n. a list of things one wishes to have. (See also want list.) □ I put a new car at the top of my wish list. □ I have a CD player on my wish list.

wishy-washy ['wɪʃi'wɒʃi] mod. indecisive; insipid; weak. □ Don't be such a wishy-washy wimp. □ She is so wishy-washy!

with a bang mod. in a flamboyant or exciting manner. (Especially with go out, quit, finish.) □ The party started off with a bang. □ The old year went out with a bang.

with bells on mod. ready to go; eager. □ She was here on time with bells on. □ I promise to be there at five in the morning with bells on.

with flying colors mod. flamboyantly; boldly. □ Heidi won first place with flying colors. □ Paul came home with flying colors after the match.

within an ace of (doing) something mod. very close to doing something. □ I came within an ace of getting stoned. □ We were within an ace of beating the all-time record.

within spitting distance mod. close by. □ The house you're looking for is within spitting distance, but it's hard to find.

with it mod. up-to-date; contemporary. □ Martin is not exactly with it. □ Come on, chum. Get with it.

with (one's) eyes (wide) open mod. totally aware of what is going on. □ I went into this with my eyes open. □ We all started with eyes open but didn't realize what could happen to us.

without a hitch mod. with no problem(s). □ Everything went off without a hitch. □

We hoped the job would go off without a hitch.

woefits AND woofits ['wɒfɪts AND 'wʊfɪts] n. a hangover. □ The poor guy is suffering from the woefits. □ That's a bad case of the woofits.

wolf n. a bold and aggressive male. (See also fine wolf.) □ He sees himself as a lady-killer. The chicks see him as an old-fashioned wolf. □ And this wolf comes up to me and starts holding my hand.

wolf something down tv. to gobble something up; to bolt down food or drink. □ Enjoy your food. Don't just wolf it down. □ But I enjoy wolfing down food more than anything.

wombat ['wɒmbæt] n. a strange person; a geek. (Collegiate.) □ Why does everybody think Martin is such a wombat? □ Who's the wombat in the 1957 Chevy?

womp Go to whump.

wonk [wɒŋk] 1. n. an earnest student. (Collegiate.) □ Who's the wonk who keeps getting the straight A's? □ Yes, you could call Martin a wonk. In fact, he's the classic wonk. 2. n. a bureaucrat; a flunky. □ The State Department policy wonks were up all night putting together the report. □ Our office was knee-deep in wonks before the reorganization.

wonky ['wɒŋki] mod. studious. (Collegiate.) □ Martin is certainly the wonky type. □ You ought to get a little wonky yourself.

wood butcher n. a carpenter. □ See if you can get a wood butcher to fix this broken panel. □ The wood butcher tracked sawdust up the stairs.

wood-pussy n. a skunk. □ Do I smell the faint perfume of a wood-pussy? □ The dog had a nasty run-in with a wood-pussy.

the woods are full of something phr. there are lots and lots of something. □ The woods are full of cheap, compatible computer clones. □ The woods are full of nice-looking guys who'll mug you when it's too late.

woody 1. n. a wooden surfboard; a surfboard. □ Who's the guy with the woody on his head? □ Get your woody, and let's get moving. 2. n. an erection of the penis. □ His morning woody made a little mountain with the sheets on his bed.

woof [wʊf] 1. in. to boast; to sell a wolf ticket; to chatter. (Black.) □ They're just woofing. Ignore them. □ Stop woofing, Fred. You sound silly. 2. in. to vomit. (Onomatopoeic.) □ Somebody woofed on our driveway. □ Beavis had to woof on the way home.

woof cookies tv. to vomit. □ Bill is in the bathroom woofing cookies. □ Waldo had to woof cookies in the bushes.

woofits Go to woefits.

woofled ['wʊfɪd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Good grief, was he woofled! □ Did I get woofled last night? I just don't remember.

woofle-water AND wozzle-water n. whiskey; liquor. □ Haven't you had just about enough woofle-water? □ No more wozzle-water for me.

woolies n. long underwear. □ It's the time of the year for woolies! □ I wish I'd worn my woolies today.

woozy ['wʊzi] 1. mod. sleepy; disoriented. □ Aren't you woozy at this time of day? □ Who is that woozy gal by the window? □ I'm still sort of woozy. Give me a minute or two to wake up. 2. mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ I felt a little woozy, but that didn't stop me from having more. □ Woozy as I am, I can still drive. Now, give me back my keys.

Word. 1. AND Word up. interj. Correct; Right. □ I hear you, man. Word. □ Word. I agree. □ Yes, it's time to go. Word up. 2. interj. Hello. □ Word. What's new. □ Word. Living large?

word hole AND cake hole; pie hole n. the mouth. □ Put this food in your word hole, chew it up, and swallow it.

Word up. Go to Word.

workaholic n. someone who is obsessed with work. □ Jerry is a workaholic. He can't enjoy a vacation. □ Are workaholics really productive?

working stiff n. a working man; a man who must work to live. (See also stiff.) □ But does the working stiff really care about all this economic stuff? □ All the working stiff's want is a raise.

work one's ass off Go to work one's tail off work one's buns off Go to work one's tail off.

work one's butt off Go to work one's tail off.

work oneself up tv. to allow oneself to become emotionally upset. □ Todd worked himself up, and I thought he would scream. □ Don't work yourself up over Tracy. She's not worth it.

work oneself (up) into a lather 1. tv. to work very hard and sweat very much. (In the way that a horse works up a lather.) □ Don't work yourself up into a lather. We don't need to finish this today. □ I worked myself into a lather getting this stuff ready. 2. tv. to get excited or angry. (An elaboration of work oneself up to something.) □ Now, now, don't work yourself up into a lather. □ He had worked himself into such a lather, I was afraid he would have a stroke.

work oneself up to something tv. to get oneself mentally ready to do something. □ I spent all morning working myself up to taking the driver's test. □ I had to work myself up to it little by little.

work one's tail off AND work one's ass off; work one's buns off; work one's butt off tv. to work very hard. (Use caution with butt.) □ I worked my tail off to get done on time. □ You spend half your life working your butt off—and for what?

the works n. the entire amount; everything. □ I'd like my hamburger with onions, pickles, catsup, mustard—the works. □ She's getting the works at the beauty shop—cut, wash, dye, and set.

work someone over 1. tv. to threaten, intimidate, or beat someone. □ Ziggy threatened to work Sam over. □ Bruno had worked over Terry, and Sam knew that this was no idle threat. 2. tv. to give someone's body a thorough examination or treatment. ☐ The doctors worked her over to the tune of $1,500, but couldn't find anything wrong with her. ☒ The dermatologist worked over her entire body looking for moles.

world-beater n. an aggressive and ambitious person. ☐ She's not a world-beater, but she's efficient. ☐ They hired an alleged world-beater to manage the office.

world-class mod. absolutely top rate. ☐ Now this is a world-class computer. Lots and lots of memory. ☐ I want to see one of your world-class automobiles, whatever that might mean. ☐ This one isn't world-class.

The world is one's oyster. phr. one rules the world; one is in charge of everything. ☐ I feel like the world is my oyster, today. ☐ The world is my oyster! I'm in love!

worm n. a repellent person, usually a male. ☐ Gad, you are a worm, Tom. ☐ I'd like Fred better if he wasn't such a worm.

worm-food n. a corpse. ☐ You wanna end up worm-food? Just keep smarting off. ☐ In the end, we're all worm-food.

worms n. noodles; spaghetti. ☐ Let's have worms tonight. ☐ Are the worms ready for the sauce yet?

worms in blood n. spaghetti in tomato sauce. ☐ We're having worms in blood for dinner tonight. ☐ I'm getting tired of worms in blood every Wednesday.

worry wart n. someone who worries all the time. ☐ Don't be such a worry wart. ☐ I'm sorry I'm such a worry wart.

worship the porcelain god(dess) tv. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. (Collegiate.) ☐ Somebody was in the john worshipping the porcelain god till all hours. ☐ I think I have to go worship the porcelain goddess. See ya.

worst-case scenario n. the worse possible future outcome. ☐ Now, let's look at the worst-case scenario. ☐ In the worst-case scenario, we're all dead.

worth one's salt mod. worth (in productivity) what it costs to keep one. ☐ We decided that you are worth your salt, and you can stay on as office clerk. ☐ You're not worth your salt. Pack up!

would not be seen dead phr. would not do something under any circumstances. ☐ I wouldn't be seen dead going out with Ziggy! ☐ Martha would not be seen dead going into a place like that.

wouldn't touch someone or something with a ten-foot pole tv. would not get involved with someone or something. ☐ Forget it. I wouldn't touch it with a ten-foot pole. ☐ Tom said he wouldn't touch Tracy with a ten-foot pole.

Would you believe? interrog. Isn't it amazing? ☐ He actually tried to get me to scratch his bare back! Would you believe? ☐ Would you believe? A three-cent per hour raise?

wow 1. exclam. an indication of amazement or surprise. (Usually Wow!) ☐ Wow! Is he ever ugly! ☐ A whole quarter! Wow! Thanks, mister. 2. tv. to delight or impress someone. ☐ She wowed them with her cleverness. ☐ That ought to wow them right out of their seats. 3. n. something exciting. ☐ The game was a real wow. ☐ For a pretty good wow, try the Empire Theater's production of "Mame" this weekend. 4. n. an exclamation point. ☐ Put a wow at the end of this sentence. ☐ Almost every sentence you write has a wow at the end of it.

wozzle-water Go to woofle-water.

wrap one's car around something tv. to drive one's car into something at fairly high speed. ☐ She wrapped her car around a light pole. ☐ If he hadn't wrapped his car around a tree, he'd be here to read his own poetry tonight.

wrapped up (in someone or something) mod. concerned or obsessed with someone or something. ☐ Sally is pretty wrapped up in herself. ☐ I'm too wrapped up in my charity work to get a job.

wrapped up (with someone or something) mod. busy with someone or something. ☐ He's wrapped up with a client right now. □ I'll talk to you when I'm not wrapped up.

wrap something up tv. to finish something; to bring something to a conclusion. □ Let's wrap this up and go home. □ Well, that about wraps up our little session together.

wrecked mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ Four beers and I was wrecked. □ Larry was far too wrecked to drive.

wrinkle 1. n. a new idea; a new aspect of something. □ Fred came up with a new wrinkle for the ad campaign. □ Here's a clever wrinkle for you. Nobody has ever tried this one. 2. n. a minor problem. □ A wrinkle has developed in the Wilson proposal.

wrinkle-rod n. the crankshaft of an engine. □ A wrinkle-rod'll set you back about $199, plus installation charges, of course.

wrongo ['rɒŋo] 1. mod. wrong. □ You are totally wrongo. □ Wrongo, wrongo! You lose! 2. n. an undesirable thing or person; a member of the underworld. □ The guy's a total wrongo. He's got to be guilty. □ This whole business is a complete wrongo. Something's fishy.

wrong side of the tracks n. the poor side of town. □ Fred's ashamed that he's from the wrong side of the tracks, so to speak. □ I'm glad I'm from the wrong side of the tracks. I know what life is really like.

wuss(y) [wʊs AND 'wʊsi] n. a wimp; a weak person. □ Don't be such a wuss. Stand up for your rights. □ Wussies like you will never get ahead.

Wusup? AND Wassup? interrog. What's up? □ Wusup! What's going on around here? □ Hey, man! Wassup?

WYSIWYG Go to What you see is what you get.

X

X'd out 1. mod. eliminated; crossed-out. □ But the Babbits are X'd out. □ Put the X'd out Babbits back where they were. 2. mod. killed. (Underworld.) □ Mr. Big wanted Pete X'd out. □ He wanted Ziggy to see that all these small-time punks were X'd out.

X marks the spot. sent. This is the exact place! (A catchphrase.) □ This is where it happened. X marks the spot. □ X marks the spot where we first met.

XMT tv. excuse my typing; I am sorry I type so poorly. (Used in electronic mail and computer forum or news group messages. Not pronounced aloud.) □ Sory about that. XMT. □ XMT. I have a sore finger and I keep hitting the wrong keys.

XYZ tv. examine your zipper; make sure your fly is zipped up. (Initialism. Said to men when necessary.) □ I say there, Wally, XYZ. □ XYZ, Fred.

Y

ya pro. you. (Eye-dialect. Typical spoken English. Used in writing only for effect. Used in the examples of this dictionary.) ☐ See ya! ☐ Is this all ya want?

yack AND yock; yuck; yuk [jæk AND jɒk, jək] 1. n. a foolish person. ☐ Who's the yock wearing the red bandana? ☐ Get some yuk to do it. I'm busy. 2. n. idle chatter. ☐ I've heard enough yack to last me a lifetime. ☐ Too much yock. Where's the beef? 3. Go to yak.

yackety-yak ['jækədi'jæk] n. chatter; gossip. ☐ No more yackety-yak. ☐ That's enough yackety-yak. Quiet!

yahoo ['jahu] n. a rustic oaf; an uncouth jerk. ☐ Ask that yahoo to close the door after him. ☐ What yahoo brought this dog in here?

yak AND yack [jæk] 1. in. to talk. ☐ Stop yakking for a minute. ☐ I need to yak with you about something. 2. n. a chat. ☐ We had a nice little yack and then left for work. ☐ Drop by for a yak sometime. 3. n. a joke. ☐ That was a lousy yak. ☐ Don't tell that yack again. It's not a winner. 4. n. a laugh from a joke. ☐ We had a good yack over it. ☐ The audience produced a feeble yak that was mostly from embarrassment. 5. in. to vomit. (Onomatopoeic.) ☐ Hank was in the john yakking all night. ☐ Who yakked on the carpet?

yak it up tv. to talk incessantly or a lot. ☐ Why don't you all just yak it up while I get ready to give the talk? ☐ Stop yakking it up and listen.

yakky ['jæki] mod. talkative. ☐ He's a yakky old man, but I like him. ☐ Isn't she yakky today?

yank 1. tv. to harass someone. (See also yank someone around.) ☐ Stop yanking me! ☐ Yank the welcher a little and see what that does. 2. n. a Yankee; a U.S. soldier. (Usually Yank.) ☐ I don't care if you call me a yank. That's what I am. ☐ Hey, Yank! What's new? 3. in. to vomit. ☐ Somebody or some animal yanked on the driveway. ☐ I think I gotta go yank.

yanked mod. arrested. (Underworld.) ☐ Lefty got himself yanked one too many times. ☐ Everybody in the gang got yanked at least once last week.

yank one's strap Go to beat the dummy.

yank someone around tv. to harass someone; to give someone a hard time. (See also jerk someone around.) ☐ Listen, I don't mean to yank you around all the time, but we have to have the drawings by Monday. ☐ Please stop yanking me around.

yank someone's chain AND pull someone's chain tv. to harass someone; to give someone a hard time. (As if one were a dog wearing a choker collar, on a leash.) ☐ Stop yanking my chain! ☐ Do you really think you can just pull my chain whenever you want?

yank someone's crank tv. to tease a male sexually. ☐ Don't pay any attention to her. She's just yanking your crank. ☐ Come on, stop yanking my crank and let's get it on!

yap 1. n. the mouth. ☐ Shut your yap! ☐ You have a big yap, you know? 2. in. to chatter; to gossip. ☐ Who's yapping so much in here? ☐ Did you just come here to yap? 3. n. nonsense; gibberish. ☐ That's just yap. Forget it. They mean no harm. ☐ That windbag can produce an enormous amount of yap. 4. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. □ Who yapped in the bushes? □ Ye gods, do I hear one of our guests yapping in the powder room? 5. n. a naive person; a dupe. □ The poor yap was made a fool of. □ See if you can get that yap to bring over a left-handed monkey wrench.

yard n. a one-hundred-dollar bill. (Underworld.) □ The guy wanted a yard just to fix a little dent in the fender. □ Pay him a yard to shut up about what he saw.

yardbird 1. n. a convict. □ Who's the yardbird with the headphones on his noodle? □ So, Charlie was a yardbird. So what? 2. n. an inept soldier. (Military.) □ You yardbirds are going to learn discipline one way or another. □ How many of you yardbirds would like to go home in one piece?

yard dog n. a repellent person; an uncouth person. □ Is that lousy yard dog hanging around the neighborhood again? □ Yup. It's that yard dog, Pete.

yatata-yatata ['jætətə'jætətə] n. the sound of chatter or yak. □ All I ever hear around here is yatata-yatata. □ He gets on the phone, and it's yatata-yatata for hours.

yawner n. a boring show or performance. □ It was a yawner from the opening curtain straight through to the end. □ Your lecture, sir, was a total yawner.

yazzihamper ['jæzihæmpə] n. an obnoxious person. □ You are the most annoying yazzihamper I know! □ Who's the yazzihamper in the double knit?

yea big ['je 'big] mod. about so big. (Accompanied by a hand gesture.) □ Oh, it was about yea big. □ Do you have a panel that is about yea big?

yeah ['jæə OR 'jæʊ] interj. yes. □ LEFTY: You okay? BRUNO: Yeah. □ LEFTY: Yeah? BRUNO: Yeah! I said yeah! Did you hear me say yeah?

Yeah, right! exclam. the ultimate sarcastic response of disbelief. □ A: I know I can pass algebra. I just know it. B: Yeah, right! □ Yeah, right! You were just going through my desk looking for a pencil.

yeaster n. a beer drinker. □ A couple of yeasters in the back of the tavern were singing a dirty song. □ Who's the yeaster with the bloodshot eyes?

Yec(c)h! [jek OR jetʃ] exclam. Horrible! It's yucky! □ Oh, yech! What's that stuff? □ Yecch! It's moving!

yegg [jæg] 1. n. a tramp, thief, or safe-cracker. (Underworld.) □ The cops hauled in the usual yeggs, but they all had alibis. □ See if you can find that yegg we worked with on the bank job. He'll do. 2. n. an obnoxious male. □ Don't act like such a yegg, Bill. □ A couple of drunken yeggs were talking a little too loud, so Ziggy showed them the door.

Ye gods! exclam. Good grief! □ Ye gods! What is this stuff here? □ Ye gods! My hair is falling out.

Yello. ['jɛ'lo] interj. Hello. (Said with any intonation that would be appropriate with hello.) □ Yello, Dave Jones speaking. □ Yello, Smith residence.

yell one's guts out Go to yell one's head off.

yell one's head off AND yell one's guts out 1. tv. to yell loud and long. □ I was yelling my head off at the game. □ Stop yelling your guts out and listen to me. 2. tv. to complain bitterly and loudly. □ Some lady is yelling her head off about shoddy workmanship out in the lobby. □ I yell my guts out about tripe when I see tripe!

yellow mod. cowardly. □ Who says I'm yellow? □ Bruno says you're yellow. Wanna make something of it?

yellow-bellied mod. cowardly. □ You are a yellow-bellied coward! □ I'm not yellow-bellied! □ What yellow-bellied skunk ran off with my horse?

yellow-belly n. a coward. □ He's not a yellow-belly. He's cautious. □ Tell the yellow-belly to come outside and say that.

yellow streak (down someone's back) n. a tendency toward cowardice. □ Tim's got a yellow streak down his back a mile wide. □ Get rid of that yellow streak. Show some courage.

yelper n. the whooping (electronic) siren on emergency vehicles. ☐ The black and white rounded the corner, yelper blasting. ☐ Turn off the yelper, Chuck, we hear you.

yench [jentʃ] tv. to swindle someone; to victimize someone. (Underworld.) ☐ The flimflam artist yenchd a couple of banks and then moved on. ☐ Somebody tried to yench the wrong guy at the circus.

yenta ['jentə] n. a gossip, usually a woman. (Regarded as Yiddish.) ☐ She can be such a yenta when she's got news. ☐ Tracy is a yenta if ever there was one.

yep Go to yup.

Yes! interj. Absolutely yes! (Always with a special intonation that holds the y on a higher pitch and then drops the pitch sharply. The word itself is not slang, but the word with this intonation is part of many slang contexts.) ☐ That's right! Yes! ☐ Yes! Exactly right!

Yo! interj. Hello!; Attention, please!; Wait a minute! ☐ Yo, Michael! What's new? ☐ Yo! Come over here.

yock AND yok [jɒk] 1. in. to laugh loudly. (See also yak.) ☐ Everybody yocked at the joke, and when things calmed down, I announced the mass firings. ☐ Stop yocking and listen to this. 2. n. a loud laugh. ☐ Sue let out an enormous yock and quickly covered her mouth. ☐ Who came out with that uncivil yock? 3. Go to yack.

yodeling in a canyon in. talking aimlessly. ☐ You are just yodeling in a canyon if you think I really care about it. ☐ Stop yodeling in a canyon and start making sense.

yok Go to yock.

yoked [jɒkt] mod. having well-marked abdominal muscles. ☐ That guy is really yoked. I wonder how much he works out. ☐ I'm too fat to ever get yoked.

yola n. cocaine. ☐ Albert spends too much time snorting yola.

yo mama interj. so you say. (Black.) ☐ Not enough bread! Yo mama. ☐ Yo mama! The hell you say!

york [jɒrk] 1. in. to empty one's stomach; to vomit. ☐ He ate the stuff, then went straight out and yorked. ☐ Who yorked in the flowerpot? 2. n. vomit. ☐ Is that york I see on the living room window? ☐ Hey, Jimmy! Come out in the snow and see the frozen york!

You and what army? Go to You and who else?

You and who else? AND You and what army? interrog. Who besides you is threatening me? ☐ You're gonna whup me? You and who else? ☐ You and what army are gonna yank my chain?

You asked for it! exclam. Here it comes, and you deserve it! ☐ So you want the full treatment? You asked for it! ☐ So, you wanted to hear both sides of the record? You asked for it!

You bet. interj. Yes.; You can bet on it. ☐ Can you have two? You bet. ☐ You bet; it's all settled.

You betcha! ['ju 'betʃə] interj. Yes!; You can be sure of it! (Literally, You bet, you.) ☐ Will I be there? You betcha. ☐ Can I? You betcha!

You bet your boots! exclam. You can be absolutely certain! ☐ Am I happy? You bet your boots! ☐ You bet your boots I'm mad.

You bet your sweet life! exclam. You are absolutely correct! ☐ Happy? You bet your sweet life! ☐ You bet your sweet life I am glad!

You bet your sweet patoot(ie)! exclam. You can be absolutely certain! (Patootie is the buttocks.) ☐ You bet your sweet patootie I'm serious! ☐ I'll be there! You bet your sweet patoot!

You can say that again! exclam. I agree! ☐ You can say that again! It's really hot! ☐ You can say that again! You hit the nail right on the head.

You can't dance at two weddings. sent. You cannot do two things at once. ☐ Either go to the beach with Fred or stay here with me. You can't dance at two weddings. ☐ Decide which one you want to buy. You can only have one and you can't dance at two weddings.

You can't fight city hall. sent. You cannot fight a bureaucracy. ☐ I finally gave up. You can't fight city hall. ☐ You can't fight city hall. Pay the parking ticket and forget it.

You can't get there from here. sent. Where you want to go is in a very remote location. (A catchphrase.) ☐ Well, you can't get there from here. ☐ Adamsville? Sorry, you can't get there from here.

You can't take it with you. sent. You cannot take wealth with you when you die. ☐ Enjoy it now. You can't take it with you. ☐ My uncle doesn't believe that saying, you know, "You can't take it with you." He's going to try.

You can't win them all. AND You can't win 'em all. sent. No one succeeds all the time. (Said when someone fails.) ☐ Don't fret about it, Tom. You can't win them all. ☐ You can't win 'em all, but you can't lose 'em all, either.

You could have knocked me over with a feather. sent. I was completely surprised. ☐ I was shocked. You could have knocked me over with a feather. ☐ You could have knocked me over with a feather, I was so zapped!

You don't know the half of it. sent. Things are far more complicated than you think. ☐ You think that's bad? You don't know the half of it. ☐ You don't know the half of it, and I'm too much a lady to tell.

You eat with that mouth? Go to (Do) you eat with that mouth?

You got it! 1. exclam. I agree to what you asked! You will get what you want! ☐ You want a green one? You got it! ☐ This one? You got it! 2. exclam. You are right! ☐ That's it! You got it! ☐ That's the answer. You got it!

You got that? interrog. Do you understand? ☐ You are not to go into that room! You got that?

You guys bitchin'? interrog. Hello, how are you? ☐ Tsup? You guys bitchin'? ☐ You guys bitchin'? What's poppin'?

You (had) better believe it! exclam. It is true without question! ☐ It's true. You better believe it. ☐ Yes, this is the best, and you had better believe it!

You heard the man. sent. Do what the man tells you. (See also man.) ☐ You heard the man. Get over there and stand still. ☐ Shut up! You heard the man.

You kiss your momma with that mouth? Go to (Do) you eat with that mouth?

young blood 1. n. a newcomer. ☐ The young blood gets a desk by the window. ☐ We keep young bloods so busy they never have a chance to look out the window. 2. n. a young, black male. (Black. See also blood.) ☐ A young blood from two streets over came around asking for trouble today. ☐ Tell that young blood to beat it.

young Turk n. a contentious young person who goes against the system. ☐ The young Turks are acting up again. ☐ Not another young Turk!

You're the doctor. sent. I will do anything you say!; You are in charge! ☐ I'll do it if you say. You're the doctor! ☐ Put it over here. Okay, you're the doctor.

Your guess is as good as mine. sent. I don't know either. ☐ I don't know. Your guess is as good as mine. ☐ Your guess is as good as mine as to when the train will get in.

Your place or mine? interrog. Shall we carry on an affair at your dwelling or mine? ☐ Then I said to her, "Your place or mine?" Then she clobbered me. ☐ Your place or mine? It doesn't matter.

yours truly n. me, the speaker or writer. ☐ If yours truly had a problem like that, it would be settled by nightfall. ☐ If it was up to yours truly, there wouldn't be any such problem.

You've got another think coming. sent. You have made an error. Think again. ☐ If you think I'm going to let you get away with that, you've got another think coming. ☐ You've got another think coming if you think I'll do it.

You want to step outside? interrog. Do you intend to start a fight?; Shall we go outside and fight? ☐ So, you don't like the way I talk! You want to step outside? ☐ You want to step outside? We can settle this once and for all.

You wish! Go to (Don't) you wish!

yoyo AND yo-yo ['jojə] 1. n. a fool; an obnoxious person. ☐ Who's the yo-yo in the plaid pants? ☐ Some yoyo wants to talk to you on the phone. 2. mod. stupid. ☐ Ask that yo-yo jerk to move along. ☐ That is the world's yoyoest joke! 3. in. to vacillate; to be wishy-washy. ☐ Stop yo-yoing and make up your mind. ☐ He's always got to yoyo a little before deciding.

yuck AND yuk [jək] 1. n. someone or something disgusting. (Also a term of address.) ☐ I don't want any of that yuck on my plate! ☐ Who is that yuk in the red bandana? 2. exclam. Horrible! (Usually Yuck!) ☐ Oh, yuck! Get that horrible thing out of here! ☐ Yuck! It looks alive! 3. n. a joke. ☐ Come on! Chill out! It was just a yuck. ☐ Not a very good yuk if you ask me. 4. Go to yack.

yucky ['jəki] mod. nasty. ☐ What is this yucky pink stuff on my plate? ☐ This tastes yucky.

yuk Go to yack; yuck.

yuke Go to uke.

yummy ['jəmi] 1. mod. delicious. ☐ This stuff is really yummy. ☐ Who made this yummy cake? 2. mod. delightful; beautiful. ☐ Who is that yummy blonde? ☐ This evening was just yummy.

yup AND yep [jəp AND jɛp] interj. yes. (Folksy.) ☐ Yup, I'd say so. ☐ I think so. Yep, that's right.

yuppie ['jəpi] 1. n. a young urban professional. ☐ The yuppies are getting a lot of flack these days. ☐ Why pick on yuppies? 2. mod. having to do with yuppies. ☐ I don't want to drive one of those yuppie cars. ☐ You got something against yuppie beemers?

yutz [juts] n. a fool; a simpleton. ☐ Don't act like such a yutz! ☐ Who is the yutz blocking the doorway?

Z

za [za] n. pizza. (Collegiate.) □ I'm gonna spring for some za. □ Who wants some of this za?

zagged mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ How can anybody get so zagged on three beers? □ Wow, is she zagged!

zany ['zeni] mod. silly. □ What a zany chick! □ Clare is so zany. □ That is a zany idea, but I like it.

zap 1. tv. to shock someone. □ That fake snake zapped me for a minute. □ The incident zapped me, but good. 2. tv. to kill someone. □ The stress from it all nearly zapped him. □ I was afraid that one of those thugs would zap me. 3. tv. to impress someone. □ My big idea really zapped the boss. I may get a raise. □ I like to have something to zap the board with at every meeting. 4. tv. to stun someone with an imaginary ray gun. □ Jimmy swung around the corner and zapped me. □ He zapped me with a water gun. 5. exclam. Wow! (Usually Zap!) □ Zap! I did it again! □ He said, "Zap!" indicating that he really liked the present, I guess. 6. tv. to defeat someone or a team. □ They zapped us 10-8. □ Fred zapped Tracy in the spelling bee. 7. in. to zip or move to somewhere very fast. □ I'll zap over and see if the duplicating is ready yet. □ He's zapping to the drugstore for some aspirin.

zapped 1. mod. tired; exhausted. □ I'm too zapped to go on. □ I'm way zapped. Good night. 2. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ We all got zapped and then went home. □ Marty is too zapped to stand up.

zappy mod. energetic; zippy. □ How can you be so zappy at this time of the morning? □ That music is a little too zappy for me.

zarf [zarf] n. an ugly and repellent male. □ Ooo, who is that zarf who just came in? □ That zarf is Martin, and he makes all A's, and he helps me with my homework, so just shut up!

zebra n. a referee. (Because of the black and white striped shirt.) □ The zebra blew the whistle on almost every play. □ There were not enough zebras to start the game.

zeek out [zik...] in. to lose control of oneself. □ I was in a pretty bad state. I almost zeeked out. □ Fred zeeked out and had to be calmed down.

Zelda ['zeldə] n. a dull and ugly female. (See also Clyde.) □ I'm not as much of a Zelda as you think. □ Nobody's gonna call my sister a Zelda and get away with it.

zerk [zə-k] n. a stupid person; a jerk. □ Who's the zerk in the plaid pants? □ Don't be a zerk! Do what you're told.

zerked (out) ['zəkt...] mod. drug intoxicated; heavily drug intoxicated. □ Gary looked really zerked out, and I thought he was really stoned. □ Max gets zerked out every weekend.

zerking mod. strange; zerk-like. □ Who is that zerking nerd over there? □ That zerking little guy is Martin, and I like him.

zero n. an insignificant person; a nobody. □ Pay her no mind. She is a zero around here. □ I want to be more in life than just another zero.

zhlub Go to schlub.

zhlubby ['ʒlɒbi] mod. dull; boorish. (See also schlub.) □ Who is the zhlubby type with the plaid pants? □ That guy is so zhlubby! □ I can't sit through this zhlubby thing one more minute.

zilch [zɪltʃ] n. nothing. ☐ And what do I get? Zilch, that's what! ☐ "Even zilch is too much," said the clerk.

zing 1. n. energy; dynamism. ☐ Put some zing into this dance number. You wanna put the audience to sleep? ☐ This whole business needs more zing. 2. tv. to make something penetrate; to shoot or fire something. ☐ The crook zinged a couple of slugs into the floor and scared everyone to death. ☐ The kid zinged a paper clip into the wall. 3. tv. to assault someone verbally. ☐ She zinged him with another clever remark. ☐ He zinged her back till he decided they were even.

zinger 1. n. something nice or fine. ☐ That set of wheels is a real zinger. ☐ What a zinger of a hat! 2. n. a stinging remark. ☐ She got off another zinger at her brother. ☐ I did not appreciate that zinger.

zings n. the delirium tremens. ☐ The old guy was suffering from the zings. ☐ What can they do for the zings?

zip 1. n. nothing. ☐ There was no mail today. Nothing. Zip. ☐ I got zip from the booking agency all week. 2. n. a score or grade of zero. ☐ Well, you got zip on the last test. Sorry about that. ☐ The prof said that zip is better than nothing, but I don't see how it could be. 3. n. vigor; spunk. ☐ Put some zip into it. It's too ho-hum. ☐ This whole thing lacks the zip it needs to survive. 4. in. to move to a place fast. ☐ I'll zip to the office and get a new form. ☐ He's just zipped out to get pizza. 5. n. a worthless person; a person who amounts to zero. ☐ Who is that silly zip carrying all the books? ☐ Garth is such a zip. No brains in his head at all.

zip along in. to move along rapidly. ☐ Things are really zipping along here. ☐ Days are zipping along, and we're all getting lots done.

zip gun n. a homemade handgun. (Underworld.) ☐ The kid had a zip gun, so I didn't argue. ☐ Can he handle anything other than a zip gun?

Zip it up! Go to Zip (up) your lip!

zipped mod. drug intoxicated. (Drugs.) ☐ That tootsie left them zipped. ☐ The kid is too zipped to talk.

zipper head n. a man with his hair parted in the middle. ☐ Why are there so many zipper heads around here? Is this hair style on sale or something? ☐ Some zipper head behind the counter told me I couldn't come in without a shirt.

zippy ['zɪpi] mod. lively; active. ☐ Wow, is that kid zippy! Look at him dance! ☐ This is a real zippy number.

Zip (up) your lip! AND Zip it up! exclam. Be quiet!; Zip up your mouth! ☐ Shhhh! Zip up your lip! ☐ Zip your lip! ☐ Zip it up and listen!

Zip your lip! Go to Zip (up) your lip!

zissified ['zɪsɪfaɪd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. ☐ Two of them were zissified on rum. The rest just got a little wrecked. ☐ Man, is she zissified!

zit [zɪt] n. a pimple. ☐ Don't squeeze your zits on my mirror! ☐ That is one prize-winning zit on your nose.

zit doctor n. a dermatologist. ☐ The zit doctor I went to was a crater face! ☐ My zit doctor wears rubber gloves and has done so for years.

zit-face Go to crater-face.

zob [zab] n. a worthless person; a nobody. ☐ Another zob came in to try out for the part. ☐ Who's the zob in the plaid pants?

zod [zad] 1. n. any repellent thing or person. (California.) ☐ Wally is such a total zod. ☐ Is this grody zod yours or mine? 2. n. a studious person. ☐ Quiet. You don't want to disturb the zods. ☐ Dave decided to be a zod for a semester and see if he could pass his courses.

zombie ['zambi] 1. n. a weird and frightening person. ☐ Martin is practically a zombie. Doesn't he ever go out—in the daylight, I mean? ☐ Tracy's getting to look like a zombie. Is she well? 2. n. a very stupid person. ☐ Is this some kind of gath-ering of zombies and mouth-breathers or something? ☐ Please ask one of those zom-bies to stand by the door. 3. n. a very tired person. □ I feel like such a zombie. Maybe I'm not eating right. □ I'm just a zombie at this hour of the morning.

zoned (out) 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ What's the matter with your eyes? Get a little zoned last night? □ Yeah, I'm sort of zoned out. 2. mod. exhausted. □ After a day like this, I'm really zoned. □ Gotta get to bed. I'm just zoned out.

zonk [zɒŋk] 1. tv. to overpower someone or something. □ We zonked the dog with a kick. □ It took two cops to zonk the creep. 2. tv. to tire someone out. (See also zonked (out).) □ The pills zonked me, but they made my cold better. □ Jogging always zonks me.

zonked (out) AND zounked (out) [zɒŋkt... AND zəʊŋkt...] 1. mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ She's too zonked to drive. □ Jed was almost zounked out to unconsciousness. 2. mod. exhausted; asleep. □ She was totally zonked out by the time I got home. □ I'm zounked. Good night.

zonker ['zɒŋkə] 1. n. a drunkard. □ The zonker just can't help himself. □ If I had known she was a confirmed zonker, I never would have given her a drink. 2. n. a marijuana smoker. (Drugs.) □ A lot of these zonkers may take six years to get through high school. □ You are turning into a first-class zonker.

zonk out in. to collapse from exhaustion; to go into a stupor from drugs or exhaustion. □ I'm gonna go home and zonk out. □ I went home after the trip and just zonked out.

zoo n. a confusing and chaotic place. □ This place is a zoo on Monday mornings. □ Where is the person in charge of this zoo?

zoobang ['zʊbæŋ] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Boy howdy! Are you ever zoobang! □ So, you think I'm zoobang? You want to step outside?

zooed [zud] mod. drunk. □ Sam likes to go out and get zooed every weekend. □ Garth is so silly when he's zooed.

zooie AND zooey ['zui] mod. confusing and chaotic. (See also zoo.) □ I can't get anything done in this zooie place. □ It's never zooey in my office, except for a little rowdiness at closing time.

zoom 1. tv. to gain entry to someplace without paying. □ Both of them zoomed the circus, and both of them got arrested. □ Let's go zoom Martha's party! 2. AND zoom off in. to have a drug rush. (Drugs.) □ Sam zoomed off and thought he had gone to heaven. □ Pete knows how to keep zooming for about twenty minutes. 3. AND zoom off in. to depart; to leave in a hurry. □ Time's up. I've gotta zoom. □ Oh, you don't have to zoom off, do you?

zoomies ['zumiz] n. members of the U.S. Air Force. (A nickname used by the Army. Persian Gulf War.) □ The zoomies attacked the airfield and damaged a lot of planes. □ The zoomies attacked the spy headquarters and caused a lot of damage.

zoom in (on someone or something) in. to focus or concentrate narrowly on someone or something. □ The conversation zoomed in on Sally and her recent narrow escape from drowning. □ Let's zoom in on the question of salary.

zoom off Go to zoom.

zoom out in. to lose control. □ I nearly zoomed out when I got the news. □ Fred zoomed out and started screaming at Ernie.

zoom someone out tv. to impress someone. □ You can't zoom me out, you twit! □ Freddie is trying to zoom out Tiffany again.

zoom up in. to drive or pull up to a place. □ A car zoomed up, and seven kids got out. □ Let's zoom up to the door and see if she's home.

zooted ['zudəd] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ Both of them were zooted to the max. □ She was too zooted to even see straight.

zootied ['zutid] mod. intoxicated with drugs or alcohol. □ Hank seems to be zootied. What's he on? □ Garth acts like a yutz whether he's zootied or not.

zorked ['zorkt] mod. alcohol intoxicated. □ She was zorked beyond help. □ Everybody was essentially zorked by midnight.

zotz [zats] 1. AND zot. [zat] n. zero; nothing. □ I went out to get the mail, but there was zot. □ All I got for a raise was little more than zotz. 2. tv. to kill someone or something. □ Pete threatened to zotz Ziggy, but it was just a threat. □ The gunman stepped up to the wall and zotzed two of the guards.

zounked (out) Go to zonked (out).

zowie ['zaʊi] 1. n. energy; sparkle; zest. □ This one sounds better because the drummer has more zowie. □ Put some zowie into it. It's not raining inside tonight. 2. ex- clam. Wow! (Usually Zowie!) □ Zowie! They just pulled Mr. Big out of the river. □ Ziggy had enough of the guy and wasted him, but good. Zowie!

zozzled ['zazld] mod. drunk. □ Dave was too zozzled to drive. □ John had a few, but he didn't get zozzled or anything like that.

zuke [zuk] in. to vomit. □ The cat zuked on the living room carpet. □ I hear someone zukiing in the bathroom. What's going on?

zunked [zʌŋkt] mod. alcohol or drug intoxicated. □ That poor guy is so zunked he can't see. □ The party went on and on. When the preacher got himself zunked on the punch, I knew it had reached the end.

Phrase-Finder Index

Use this index to find the form of a phrase that you want to look up in the dictionary. If you are looking for a single word, please look up that word in the main body of the dictionary. Single words are not indexed here. To use this index, pick out any major word in the phrase you are seeking. Then look up the simplest form of that word in this index to find the form of the phrase used in the dictionary. Finally, look up the phrase in the main body of the dictionary.

Some of the words occurring in the phrasal entries do not appear as entries in this index. Some words are omitted because they occur so frequently that their lists would cover many pages. In these instances, you should look up the phrase under some other word. Most of the grammar or function words, such as prepositions, pronouns, and articles, are not indexed.

abbreviate abbreviated piece of nothing able able to cut something abs washboard abs absotively absotively (posilutely) academy laughing academy ace ace boom-boom
ace ace boon-coon
ace ace in the hole
ace ace in(to something) ace ace out
ace ace someone out
ace have an ace up one's sleeve
ace hold all the aces ace within an ace of (doing) something acid acid test
acre God's acre
act class act
act clean one's act up act Dutch act
act get in on the act
act get one's act together
action bit of the action action chill someone's action action in action
action piece (of the action) action slice of the action action where the action is Adam Adam Henry
Adam up an' Adam

adios adios muchachos adobe adobe dollar
affluence under the affluence of incohol African African golf ball African African grape after look after number one after morning after (the night before) again hit me again
again Run that by (me) again.
again try someone back (again)
again You can say that again!
against up against it age What's your age?
agree agree to disagree
ahead ahead of the game
ahead come out ahead
ahead full steam ahead
ahead one jump ahead of someone or something ahead quit while one is ahead aid thirst-aid station aim aim for the sky
ain't ain't long enough
ain't That ain't hay!
air air ball
air air guitar
air air hose
air air kiss
air air one's belly

- air air one's pores air bear in the air
air come up for air
air full of hot air
air hot air
air up in the air (about someone or something)
Al Herb and Al
Al talk to Herb and Al
alarm five-alarm fire alarm three-alarm fire
Albert Prince Albert
aleck smart aleck
alive Look alive!
alkied alkied (up)
all all meat and no potatoes all all over someone like a cheap suit all all over something
all all right
all (all) shook up all all that and then some all all that jazz
all all (that) meat and no potatoes
all all the way
all all the way live all call (all) the shots all can't win (th)em all all daddy (of them all) all Dash it all!
all drool (all) over someone or something all dump all over someone or something
all for all I know
all for (all) one's trouble
all free for all
all Fuck it (all)!
all get it (all) together
all go all the way
all (grand)daddy (of them all) all Hang it all!
all have all one's marbles all have it all together
all hold all the aces
all If that don't fuck all!
all know all the angles
all let it all hang out all lose (all) one's marbles all not all that
all not all there
all Of all the nerve!
all once and for all
all pull out all the stops
all run on all cylinders
all That's all she wrote.
all That's all someone needs.
all warts and all
all You can't win them all.
- alley alley apple alley (right) up one's alley alley up one's alley alligator See you later, alligator.
almighty almighty dollar along buzz along along hump (along)
along tootle along along zip along
alpha Alpha Charlie alphabet alphabet soup already Enough, already!
altar bow to the porcelain altar ambulance ambulance chaser amok run amok
amount pull down an amount of money amount shell an amount of money out amount shell out (an amount of money) anal anal applause anchor boat anchor
ancient ancient history angel angel dust
angel angel hair
angel dust of angels anger cage of anger
angle know all the angles animal party animal animal study animal ankle ankle biter
ankle sprain one's ankle another another peep (out of you) another Tell me another (one)! another You've got another think coming.
ant have ants in one's pants any cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose any Getting any?
apart take someone or something apart apart tear someone or something apart ape ape hangers
ape go ape (over someone or something) apeshit go apeshit over someone or something applause anal applause apple alley apple
apple Big Apple
apple one smart apple apple road apple
apple rotten apple
apple square apple
are Are we away?
arm bang in the arm
arm long arm of the law arm put the arm on someone arm shot in the arm
arm strong-arm man

- arm strong-arm tactics
arm twist someone's arm
arm up in arms
army army brat
army You and what army?
around (a)round the bend around been around (the block)
around blue around the gills around bum around around chippy around around clown around around dick around around drag ass around around drive someone around the bend around effing around around fart around around F-ing around around fuck around around fuck around with someone around fuck someone around around futz around around galumph (around) around goof around around green around the gills around hack around around hang (around) around horse around around jack around around jack someone around around jerk around around jerk someone around around kick around around kick some ass (around) around knock around around mess around (with someone) around mess around (with something) around moist around the edges around monkey around (with someone) around monkey around (with something) around mope around around pal around (with someone) around piddle (around) around piss around around play around (with someone) around pussyfoot (around) around putz around around rat around around screw around around screw around with someone or something around scrounge (around (for someone or something)) around spaz around around stick around around throw one's weight around around tool around around turn around around waffle (around) around wrap one's car around something around yank someone around arrow straight arrow article genuine article artillery heavy artillery artist booze artist artist bullshit artist artist burn artist
artist castor oil artist artist con artist
artist flimflam artist artist hype artist
artist make-out artist artist off artist
artist (rip-)off artist artist take-off artist
artsy artsy (fartsy)
ask Don't ask.
ask Don't ask me.
ask You asked for it!
asleep asleep at the switch asphalt asphalt jungle ass ass out
ass ass over tit ass bag ass (out of some place) ass barrel ass
ass barrel ass (out of some place) ass bust ass (out of some place) ass bust (one's) ass (to do something) ass chew someone's ass out ass cut ass (out of some place) ass drag ass around ass drag ass (out of some place) ass (flat) on one's ass ass Get off my ass!
ass Get your ass in gear ass gripe one's ass
ass haul ass (out of some place) ass have a wild hair up one's ass ass have one's ass in a crack ass have one's ass in a sling ass horse's ass
ass hunk of ass
ass It will be your ass!
ass kick-ass on someone ass kick in the ass ass kick some ass (around) ass Kiss my ass!
ass kiss someone's ass
ass know one's ass from a hole in the ground ass lard ass
ass not know one's ass from a hole in the ground ass on one's ass

- ass pain in the ass ass piece of ass
 ass shag ass (out of some place) ass smart ass
 ass someone's ass is grass
 ass tits and ass
 ass work one's ass off asshole bouquet of assholes ate ate up with someone or something atomic atomic wedge attack Big Mac attack attention snap to (attention) attitude cop an attitude attitude pull an attitude aunt Aunt Flo avenue avenue tank avenue Madison Avenue
 aw (Aw) shucks!
 away Are we away?
 away blowed (away)
 away blown away
 away blow someone away away fire away
 away Get away!
 away piss something away
 away put someone away
 away put something away away slave away (at something)
 away squared away
 away squirrel something away away wash someone away
 ax get the ax
 ax give someone the ax
 Aztec Aztec two-step
 BA hang a BA (at someone) baby baby bear baby Baby Bell
 baby (baby) boomer
 baby baby needs shoes baby bottle baby
 baby jelly babies
 baby Keep the faith (baby)!
 bach bach (it)
 back back number back back room
 back back room boys
 back back to square one
 back back to the salt mines back back up
 back boys in the back room back drunk back back Get off my back!
 back get off someone's back back have a monkey on one's back back have a yellow streak down one's back back juice something back back kick back back knock back a drink back knock one back
 back laid back
 back on the back burner
 back pin someone's ears back back set someone back back throw something back back try someone back (again) back yellow streak (down someone's back) backdoor backdoor trot(s) backed backed up backfire backfire (on someone) backseat backseat driver
 bacon bring home the bacon bacon What's shakin' (bacon)?
 bad bad egg
 bad bad hair day
 bad bad news
 bad bad paper
 bad bad rap
 bad bad shit
 bad bad trip
 bad get in bad (with someone)
 bad in a bad way
 bad in bad shape
 bad My bad.
 bad so bad one can taste it badge lost-and-found badge bag bag ass (out of some place) bag Bag it!
 bag bag of bones
 bag bag of wind bag bag on someone bag bag someone
 bag bag some rays
 bag Bag that!
 bag Bag your face!
 bag barf bag
 bag doggy bag
 bag douche bag
 bag half in the bag
 bag in the bag
 bag one's bag
 bag slime bag
 bag What's in the bag!
 bag whole bag of tricks bagel catholic bagel bail bail (out)
 bail bail (out) on someone
 bail jump bail
 bait Fish or cut bait.
 bald bald-headed hermit bald bald-headed mouse ball African golf ball
 ball air ball

- ball ball and chain
ball balled up
ball ball is in someone's court ball ball off
ball ball of fire
ball ball park estimate ball ball park figure ball ball someone or something up ball ball up
ball behind the eight ball
ball blue balls ball break one's balls to do something ball break someone's balls
ball drop the ball
ball end of the ball game ball gopher ball
ball have a ball
ball have a man by the balls
ball on the ball
ball play ball (with someone) ball put balls on something ball snowball's chance in hell
ball That's the way the ball bounces.
ball whole ball of wax
ball whole new ball game
balloon go over like a lead balloon balloon trial balloon banana banana oil banana banana republic
banana Cool bananas!
banana go bananas
banana top banana
band to beat the band
bandwagon on the bandwagon bang (bang) dead to rights bang bang for the buck bang bang in the arm
bang get a bang out of someone or something bang with a bang banker banker's hours
bar behind bars
bar no holds barred Barbie Barbie doll
bare stand there with one's bare face hanging out barf barf bag
barf Barf City
barf barf out
barf Barf out!
barf barf someone out
bargain (bargaining) chip bargain more than one bargained for bargain no bargain
bark barking spider barn can't hit the (broad) side of a barn barn Were you born in a barn? barnyard barnyard language barrel barrel ass barrel barrel ass (out of some place) barrel barreled (up) barrel barrel fever barrel barrel of fun
barrel bottom of the barrel barrel double-barreled slingshot barrel loaded to the barrel barrel scrape the bottom of the barrel base base binge base free base
base free base party
base get to first (base) (with someone)
base off base
base touch base (with someone) base way off (base)
basket basket case
basket dinner basket
basket underwater basket weaving Basra Basra belly
bat have bats in one's belfry
bat like a bat out of hell batch ba(t)ch (it)
bath take a bath (on something) bath tonsil bath
bathtub bathtub scum
bathtub vertical bathtub batted batted out battle battle of the bulge bay bay window
BB BB brain
beach beach bum
beach beach bunny beach fat as a beached whale beam Beam me up, Scotty!
beam beam up
beam early beam(s)
beam on the beam
beam steam someone's beam bean beaned up
bean bean head
bean bean time
bean Bean Town
bean Cool beans!
bean full of beans
bean not know beans (about something) bean not worth beans bean on the bean
bean spill the beans
bear baby bear
bear bear cage
bear bear in the air
bear bear trap
bear lady bear

- bear loaded for bear
bear mama bear
bear Smokey (the Bear)
beat beat box
beat Beat it!
beat beat off
beat beat one's brains out (to do something) beat beat one's gums beat beat one's meat
beat beats me
beat beat someone or something out beat beat someone's brains out beat beat something out beat beat the drum for someone or something beat beat the dummy beat beat the meat
beat beat the pup beat beat the shit out of someone beat beat up
beat take a beating
beat to beat the band
beauty beauty sleep
bed bed of roses
bed fall out of bed
bed make one's bed
bed musical beds
bed put someone to bed with a shovel bed put to bed with a shovel bedpost between you, me, and the bedpost bedroom bedroom eyes bedtime bedtime story
beef beef something up
beef bogus beef
beef bum beef
beef Where's the beef?
beer beer and skittles
beer beer belly
beer beer blast
beer beer bust
beer beer goggles
beer beer gut
beer cry in one's beer beer hammer a beer
beer hammer some beers
beer pound a beer
beer pound some beers
beer slam a beer
beer slam some beers
beer small beer
beeswax mind your own beeswax beeswax none of someone's beeswax beet blow beets
before morning after (the night before) behind behind bars
behind behind the eight ball behind get behind someone or something behind get behind something belfry have bats in one's belfry believe Believe you me! believe I don't believe this!
believe Would you believe?
believe You (had) better believe it!
bell Baby Bell
bell bells and whistles bell Hell's bells (and buckets of blood)! bell Ma Bell
bell ring a bell
bell ring the bell
bell saved by the bell
bell with bells on belly air one's belly belly Basra belly
belly beer belly
belly belly button
belly belly fiddle
belly belly flop
belly belly laff
belly belly laugh
belly belly up belly belly up (to something) belly Delhi belly belly go belly up belly turn belly up
bellyache Quit your bellyaching!
below hit someone below the belt belt belt the grape
belt hit someone below the belt belt pull one's belt in (a notch) belt rust belt
belt sun belt
belt take one's belt in (a notch)
belt tighten one's belt
bench bench jockey
bench bench warmer
bend (a)round the bend bend bend one's elbow
bend bend the law
bend drive someone around the bend bend round the bend bent bent out of shape berth soft berth
best best bud
best best buy
best level best best one's best shot best Sunday best
bet bet one's bottom dollar bet bet someone dollars to doughnuts bet You bet.
bet You bet your boots!
bet You bet your sweet life!
bet You bet your sweet patoot(ie)!

- betcha You betcha!
better better half
better Better luck next time.
better seen better days better You (had) better believe it!
between between a rock and a hard place between between you, me, and the bedpost
between between you, me, and the lamppost between put some distance between someone and someone or something bhang bhang ganjah
Bible swear on a stack of Bibles big Big Apple
big big blue
big big board
big big brother
big big bucks
big big cheese big big deal
big big drink
big big drink of water
big big enchilada
big big fish
big big gun
big big house
big big iron big big John big big juice
big big kahuna
big big league
big Big Mac attack
big big man on campus
big big mouth
big big name
big big noise
big big of someone
big big shot
big big spender
big big stink
big big talk
big big time
big big-time operator
big big-time spender
big big top
big big wheel
big big with someone big big Z's big bite the big one big buy the big one big drive the big bus
big go over big big have a (big) head
big have a big mouth
big in a big way
big Like it's such a big deal.
big make (it) big big Mr. Big big no big deal
big no biggie
big no big whoop
big play in the big leagues
big talk big big talk on the big white phone big yea big bike bike boys
bike On your bike!
bilge drain the bilge
bill bill and coo
bill pay the water bill
bill phony as a three-dollar bill
bill queer as a three-dollar bill bin loony bin binge base binge
bird bird watcher
bird early bird
bird flip someone the bird bird for the birds
bird ghetto bird
bird odd bird
bird on the bird
bird rare bird
bird strange bird
biscuit gorilla biscuits biscuit mystic biscuit bit bit much
bit bit of the action
bitch bitch box
bitch bitch of a someone or something bitch bitch out
bitch bitch session
bitch bitch slammer bitch bitch someone off bitch bitch something up bitch bitch tits
bitch bull bitch
bitch bush bitch
bitch pitch a bitch bitch real bitch
bitch son of a bitch
bitchcakes go bitchcakes bitching You guys bitchin'?
bite ankle biter
bite bite on someone bite bite the big one
bite bite the bullet
bite bite the dust
bite Bite the ice!
bite Bite your tongue!
bite I'll bite.
bite monkey bite
bite put the bite on someone biz show biz

black	black and blue	blow	blow chunks
black	black and white	blow	blow cold black	black eye	blow	blowed (away)
black	early black	blow	blow grits black	in the black	blow	blow in black	little black book	blow	Blow it out your ear!
blanket	blanket drill	blow	blow jive blanket	wet blanket	blow	blow job blast	beer blast	blow	blow lunch blast	full blast	blow	blow off blast	(ghetto) blaster	blow	blow off (some) steam blaze	(blue) blazes	blow	blow (one's) cookies blaze	Go to blazes!	blow	blow one's cool bleed	bleed for someone	blow	blow one's cork bleed	bleed like a stuck pig	blow	blow one's doughnuts bleed	bleed someone dry	blow	blow one's fuse bleed	bleed someone white	blow	blow one's groceries bleed	on the bleeding edge	blow	blow one's lid blimp	blimp out	blow	blow one's lines blimp	Have a blimp!	blow	blow (one's) lunch blind	blind drunk	blow	blow one's own horn blind	(blind) munchies	blow	blow one's stack blind	rob someone blind	blow	blow one's top blind	stone blind	blow	Blow on it!
blink	on the blink	blow	blow smoke
bliss	blissed (out)	blow	blow snot rockets bliss	bliss ninny	blow	blow someone away
bliss	bliss out	blow	blow someone or something off blither	blithering idiot	blow	blow someone out of the water blitz	blitzed (out)	blow	blow someone's cover block	been around (the block)	blow	blow someone's doors off block	knock someone's block off	blow	blow someone's mind block	on the chopping block	blow	blow someone to something blood	blood and guts	blow	blow something wide open blood	blood (brother)	blow	blow the joint blood	cold blood	blow	blow the lid off something blood	Hell's bells (and buckets of blood)!	blow	blow town blood	in cold blood	blow	blow up blood	in one's blood	blow	blow Z's blood	piss blood	blow	(Go) blow it out your ear!
blood	scream bloody murder	blow	Joe Blow blood	smell blood	blow	land a blow blood	sweat blood	blow	low blow
blood	taste blood	blown	blown away blood	too rich for someone's blood	blown	blown (out) blood	worms in blood	blown	blown (up) blood	young blood	blubber	blubber gut(s) blooey	go blooey	blue	big blue blossom	toddy blossom	blue	black and blue blot	blot someone out	blue	blue and white blow	blow a fuse	blue	blue around the gills blow	blow a gasket	blue	blue balls blow	blow a hype	blue	(blue) blazes blow	blow a snot rocket	blue	blue boys blow	blow beets	blue	blue chip blow	blow chow	blue	blue coats

blue blue devils
blue blue flu
blue blue funk
blue blue in the face blue blue suit
blue boys in blue
blue burn with a low blue flame blue in a blue funk blue little boy blue blue men in blue
blue once in a blue moon blue screwed, blueed, and tattooed
blue talk a blue streak
blue talk until one is blue in the face BO BO juice
board big board
board draft board
board washboard abs
boat boat anchor
boat just off the boat boat miss the boat
body body count
body body shake
body over my dead body
body warm body
bogus bogus beef
boil boiling (mad)
boiler pot boiler
bolt bucket of bolts bolt nuts and bolts bomb bombed (out)
bomb bomb (out)
bomb da bomb bomb love bombs
bombshell drop a bomb(shell)
bond junk bond bone bag of bones
bone bone factory
bone bone idle
bone bone orchard
bone bone out
bone crazy bone
bone have a bone on bone knuckle bones
bone laid to the bone bone pull a boner
bone silked to the bone bong bonged (out)
bong do some bongs bonkers drive someone bonkers boo make a boo-boo booby booby hatch
booby booby trap
boogie boogie down (to somewhere) book book it
book crack a book

book fake book
book hit the books
book little black book
book make book on something
book pound the books book take a page from someone's book book throw the book at someone book wish book boom ace boom-boom
boom (baby) boomer
boom boom box
boom boom sticks
boon ace boon-coon
boot boot someone out
boot booty call boot Jesus boots
boot knock boots
boot to boot
boot You bet your boots!
booze booze artist
booze booze it (up)
booze booze up booze hit the booze
bop drop a bop
bore bore the pants off (of) someone born Were you born in a barn?
bosom bosom buddy
bosom bosom chums
bosom bosom friends
boss boss dick boss boss lady boss boss man
boss straw boss
both both sheets in the wind
both It cuts both ways.
both swing both ways
bottle bottle baby
bottle brown bottle flu bottle chief cook and bottle washer
bottle crack open a bottle bottle head cook and bottle washer bottle hit the bottle
bottom bet one's bottom dollar
bottom bottom dollar bottom bottom fishing bottom bottomless pit bottom bottom line bottom bottom of the barrel bottom bottom of the heap bottom bottom out
bottom Bottoms up.
bottom rock bottom
bottom scrape the bottom of the barrel bottomless bottomless pit bounce bounce for something bounce bounce something off (of) someone

- bounce deadcat bounce bounce That's the way the ball bounces. bouquet bouquet of assholes bout bout it
bow bow to the porcelain altar bowel Don't get your bowels in an uproar!
bowel get one's bowels in an uproar bowl party bowl box beat box
box bitch box
box boom box
box boxed in box boxed on the table
box boxed (up)
box box someone in box fuse box
box (ghetto) box
box go home in a box
box groan box
box idea box
box idiot box
box squawk box
boy back room boys
boy bike boys
boy blue boys
boy boys in blue
boy boys in the back room
boy fair-haired boy
boy good old boy
boy little boy blue
boy little boys' room
boy Oh, boy!
boy That's my boy.
brain BB brain
brain beat one's brains out (to do something) brain beat someone's brains out brain brain bucket
brain feather brain
brain have one's brain on a leash brain have shit for brains brain have something on the brain brand (brand) spanking new brand no brand cigarette brand off-brand cigarette brass brass(ed) (off)
brass brass hat
brass brass tacks
brass top brass brat army brat
bread bread and butter bread heavy bread
bread long bread
break Break a leg!
break Break it up!
break break one's balls to do something break break out
break break someone's balls
break break the ice
break cut someone a break break Gimme a break!
break Give me a break!
break take a break
break tough break
breakfast breakfast of champions breakfast donkey's breakfast breakfast Mexican breakfast breakfast shoot one's breakfast breathe Excuse me for breathing! breeze fan the breeze
breeze shoot the breeze
breezy bright and breezy brew brews brothers brew quaff a brew
brew suck (some) brew brick built like a brick shithouse
brick drop a brick
brick hit the bricks brick like a ton of bricks brick one brick shy of a load brick shit a brick brick three bricks shy of a load bright bright and breezy bright bright-eyed and bushy-tailed
bring bring home the bacon
bring bring someone down bring bring someone on bring bring something up bring Earp slop, bring the mop. broad can't hit the (broad) side of a barn broad square john broad broke dead broke
broke flat broke
broke go for broke broke stone broke Bronx Bronx cheer
brother big brother
brother blood (brother) brother brews brothers brother (soul) brother
brown brown bottle flu brown browned (off)
brown brown hole
brown brown out
brown brown someone off brownie brownie points bruise cruising for a bruising brushoff give someone the brushoff bubble bubble water bubble half a bubble off plumb buck bang for the buck buck big bucks
buck buck for something

buck buck naked
buck buck up
buck fast buck
buck pass the buck
buck quick buck
bucket brain bucket
bucket bucket of bolts
bucket gash bucket
bucket Hell's bells (and buckets of blood)! bucket kick the bucket
bucket rust bucket
bucket slime bucket
bud best bud
bud sense (bud)
buddy bosom buddy
buddy buddy up to someone buddy buddy up (with someone) buddy good buddy budget budget crunch
budget budget squeeze
buff in the buff
buffalo double buffalo
bug Bug off!
bug bug out
bug crank bugs
buick sell buicks
built built like a brick shithouse bulb dim bulb
bulb light bulb
bulge battle of the bulge bull bull bitch
bull bull session
bull company bull
bull full of bull
bull hit the bull's-eye bull hung like a bull
bull shoot the bull
bull throw the bull
bullet bite the bullet
bullet magic bullet bullet silver bullet bullet sweat bullets
bullshit bullshit artist bum beach bum
bum bum about someone or something bum bum around bum bum beef
bum bum check
bum bummed (out)
bum bum out
bum bum rap
bum bum someone out
bum bum something (off someone) bum bum's rush
bum bum steer
bum bum trip

bum Hey, bum!
bum skid row bum bum stew bum
bump bump someone off
bump Bump that!
bump bump uglies
bump Let's bump this place!
bumper Get off my bumper!
bunch bunch of fives bunch thanks a bunch bunch whole bunch
bundle bundle from heaven bundle bundle of joy bundle bundle of nerves bundle drop a bundle (on someone) bundle drop a bundle (on something) bundle lose a bundle
bundle make a bundle
bunny beach bunny
bunny cuddle bunny
bunny dumb bunny
bunny fuck bunny
bunny snow bunny
buns work one's buns off burb burbed out
burger flipping burgers burn burn artist
burn burned out
burn burned up
burn burn rubber
burn burn someone down
burn burn someone up
burn burnt offering burn burnt out
burn burn with a low blue flame
burn crash and burn
burn do a slow burn burn hay burner
burn on the back burner burn slow burn
bury bury the hatchet
bus drive the big bus bus drive the porcelain bus bus ride the porcelain bus bush bush bitch
bush bush patrol
bush bush pig
bush mifky-pifky (in the bushes)
bushy bright-eyed and bushy-tailed business business end (of something) business funny business
business Get your nose out of my business!
business give someone the business
business in business business Keep your nose out of my business!
business land office business

- business like nobody's business
business mean business
business monkey business
business taking care of business business That's show business (for you).
bust beer bust
bust bust a gut (to do something) bust bust a move bust bust ass (out of some place) bust bust (one's) ass (to do something) bust bust one's butt to do something bust bust one's nuts to do something bust bust on someone or something bust bust someone one bust bust (some) suds bust bust something up bust bust something wide open Buster Hold it, Buster! butcher wood butcher butt bust one's butt to do something butt butt-fucking Egypt butt butt naked
butt Butt out!
butt clip a butt
butt dusty butt
butt gripe one's butt butt kick in the butt butt pain in the butt butt work one's butt off butter bread and butter button belly button button Button your lip!
button cactus (buttons) button hit the panic button button on the button
button press the panic button
button push the panic button buy best buy
buy buy it
buy buy someone's wolf ticket buy buy the big one buy buy the farm
buy buy time
buy buy trouble
buzz buzz along buzz get a buzz out of someone or something buzz give someone a buzz buzz have a buzz on buzz rolling buzz
buzzard buzzard meat
buzzing What's buzzin' (cousin)?
bye kiss something good-bye
caboodle kit and caboodle cactus cactus (buttons) cactus cactus juice
cadet space cadet cadillac hog cadillac cage bear cage
cage cage of anger
Cain raise Cain
cake cake hole
cake icing on the cake
cake piece of cake
call booty call call call (all) the shots call call earl
call call hogs
call call house
call call hughie
call Call my service.
call call of nature
call call ralph
call call ruth
call call shotgun
call call someone out
call close call call cold call
call Don't call us, we'll call you.
call Good call!
call nature's call call pay a call
calm cool, calm, and collected cam cam (red)
Cambodian Cambodian red came This is where I came in.
camp camp it up camper happy camper
campus big man on campus campus campus queen
can Can it!
can can of worms
can can't hit the (broad) side of a barn can can't win (th)em all can get a can on can If you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen.
can no can do
can so bad one can taste it can What can I do you for?
can You can say that again!
can You can't dance at two weddings.
can You can't fight city hall.
can You can't get there from here.
can You can't take it with you.
can You can't win them all. cancel cancel someone's Christmas cancer cancer stick candy candy man
candy candy store
candy ear candy
candy needle candy
candy nose (candy)

- candy rock candy
canito neato (canito)
cannon hash cannon
cannon loose cannon
cannot cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose
canyon yodeling in a canyon cap jimmy cap
captain captain of industry car wrap one's car around something card face card
card idiot card
care I could(n't) care less.
care Like I care.
care Take care.
care take care of number one care take care of numero uno care take care of someone care taking care of business carpet laugh at the carpet carrot carrot top carry carrying a (heavy) load carry carry the stick carry carry weight
cart honey cart
carve carved in stone case basket case
case case of the shorts case case the joint case Don't make a federal case out of it!
case get off someone's case case get on someone's case case hard case
case make a federal case out of something
case worst-case scenario cash cash cow
cash cash flow
cash cash in one's checks
cash cash in one's chips
cash Cash is king.
cash Cash is trash.
Caspar Caspar Milquetoast
cast casting couch cast cast-iron stomach castor castor oil artist cat cats and dogs
cat cat's meow
cat cool cat
cat fraidy cat
cat Look (at) what the cat dragged in!
cat not enough room to swing a cat
cat purr (like a cat)
cat shoot the cat
cat sling the cat
catbird in the catbird seat catch catch hell (for something) catch catch some rays catch catch something catch catch some Z's
catch catch up
catch Catch you later.
catch What's the catch?
catholic catholic bagel cause lost cause
ceiling hit the ceiling
cement cement city
central Grand Central Station century century note certain certain party
chain ball and chain
chain pull someone's chain chain yank someone's chain chamber chamber of commerce champion breakfast of champions
chance fat chance
chance not a chance chance snowball's chance in hell
change and change
change change the channel change chump change
change go through the changes change small change channel change the channel channel channel hopping channel channel surfer channel channel surfing channel channel zapping
chapter chapter and verse charge charged (up) Charley good-time Charley Charlie Alpha Charlie
Charlie Charlie Foxtrot
Charlie Charlie Irvine
Charlie Charlie Noble
chase ambulance chaser chase chase the dragon
chase cut to the chase
chase Go chase yourself!
chase Go chase your tail!
chauvinist male chauvinist pig cheap all over someone like a cheap suit cheap cheap shot
cheap dirt cheap
cheapo el cheapo
check bum check
check cash in one's checks check check out the plumbing check check something out check check that check cut a check check gravity check check hot check

check rubber (check)
checkout eternal checkout cheek water one's cheeks cheer Bronx cheer cheer holiday cheer cheese big cheese
cheese cheesed off
cheese Cheese it (the cops)!
cheese chew the cheese cheese cut the cheese
cheese Say cheese!
cherry desert cherry chest take the spear (in one's chest) chest war chest chew chew face
chew chew someone out
chew chew someone's ass out chew chew something over chew chew the cheese
chew chew the fat
chew chew the rag
chicken chicken feed
chicken chicken out (of something) chicken chicken powder chicken chicken shit
chicken choke the chicken
chicken for chicken feed chicken spring chicken chief chief cook and bottle washer chill chill (out)
chill chill someone's action chill put the chill on someone chill take a chill pill chimney smoke like a chimney chin chin music
chin take it on the chin
chin wag one's chin
China China white
Chinese Chinese red Chinese Chinese white chip (bargaining) chip chip blue chip
chip cash in one's chips chip cow chips
chip in the chips
chippy chippy around chippy chippy (user)
chock pull chocks
choke choke the chicken chop chopped liver chop on the chopping block chow blow chow
chow chow down chow chow hound
chow chow something down Christmas cancel someone's Christmas

Christmas Christmas tree chuck chuck a dummy chuck chuck it in chuck chuck up
chum bosom chums
chump chump change
chump off one's chump
chunk blow chunks
church church key chute go down the chute cigar Close, but no cigar. cigarette cigarette with no name cigarette no brand cigarette cigarette no name cigarette cigarette off-brand cigarette cinch dead cinch cinch have something cinched circle circle (the drain) circle vicious circle circular circular file citizen Joe Citizen
city Barf City
city cement city
city fat city
city Headstone City
city Marble City
city You can't fight city hall.
civil civil serpent
clam clam up
class class act
clay clay pigeon
clean cleaned out clean clean one's act up clean clean someone out clean clean sweep clean clean up (on something) clean come clean (with someone) (about something) clean keep one's nose clean clean squeaky clean clean take someone to the cleaners
clear clear as mud
clear clear as vodka
clear clear out
clear clear sailing
click click (with someone)
climb climb the wall(s)
climb Go climb a tree!
cling cling like shit to a shovel clip clip a butt
clip clip joint clip clip someone's wings
clip roach clip
clock clock in clock clock watcher
close (as) close as stink on shit close close as stink on shit close Close, but no cigar.

close close call
close close shave
closet come out of the closet
clown clown around cluck dumb cluck clue clue someone in clueless totally clueless cluster cluster fuck clutch clutch (up)
coat blue coats
cober sold cober
cock go off half-cocked cock horse cock
cock knock something into a cocked hat coffee coffee and coffee cold coffee
coffin coffin nail coffin coffin tack
coffin coffin varnish
coin do some fine coin coin hard coin
coke coke party
cold blow cold
cold cold blood
cold cold call
cold cold coffee
cold cold feet
cold cold fish
cold cold piece of work cold cold pop
cold cold shoulder
cold cold sober cold cold turkey
cold freezing cold
cold get one's nose cold cold in a cold sweat
cold in cold blood
cold in cold storage
cold kick cold (turkey)
cold leave someone cold
cold out cold
cold pour cold water on something cold stone cold fox
cold stone (cold) sober collar dog collar
collar hot under the collar
collar righteous collar collect cool, calm, and collected college Graystone College college Joe College Colombian Colombian (gold) color color of someone's money color off color
color with flying colors

Columbian Colombian (gold) come come clean (with someone) (about something)
come come down
come come down hard
come come down hard on someone come come-hither look come Come off it!
come come on
come come on like gangbusters come come on strong come come on to someone come come out ahead
come come out in the wash come come out of the closet come come out on top come come up for air come coming out of one's ears come if push comes to shove come know where one is coming from come This is where I came in.
come till kingdom come come when push comes to shove come You've got another think coming. comedy Cut the comedy!
comfort comfort station commerce chamber of commerce commode commode-hugging drunk company company bull company company man
complaint summer complaint compos non compos poopoo con con artist
con con job
con con man
con put a con on someone
conk conk out
connect connect (with someone) connect connect (with something) conniption conniption (fit) coo bill and coo cook chief cook and bottle washer cook cooked up
cook cooking with gas
cook head cook and bottle washer cook What's cooking?
cookie blow (one's) cookies cookie cookie pusher cookie drop one's cookies cookie shoot one's cookies cookie smart cookie cookie snap one's cookies
cookie That's the way the cookie crumbles.
cookie throw one's cookies cookie toss one's cookies cookie tough cookie

- cookie tough cookies cookie woof cookies
cool blow one's cool
cool Cool bananas!
cool Cool beans!
cool cool, calm, and collected cool cool cat
cool cool down
cool cooled out
cool Cool it!
cool cool off
cool cool out
cool cool someone out
cool keep cool
cool keep one's cool
cool lose one's cool
cool play it cool
coon ace boon-coon
coop fly the coop
cop Cheese it (the cops)!
cop cop a drag
cop cop a fix cop cop a head
cop cop an attitude
cop cop a plea
cop cop a squat cop cop a tube
cop cop out
cop cop some Z's
copy copy
core rotten to the core core soft core
cork blow one's cork
cork corked (up)
cork liquid cork
cork pop one's cork
cork Put a cork in it!
corkscrewed corkscrewed (up) corner cut corners
corral corral dust
cotton in tall cotton
couch casting couch
couch couch potato
cough Cough it up!
cough cough something up
could I could(n't) care less.
could You could have knocked me over with a feather.
count body count
count down for the count count take the (long) count country country drunk
courage Dutch courage
course crib course
course snap course
court ball is in someone's court court kangaroo court cousin What's buzzin' (cousin)?
cover blow someone's cover cow cash cow
cow cow chips
cow cow flop
cow cow juice
cow cow plop
cow Don't have a cow!
cow Holy cow!
cow tin cow
cowboy drugstore cowboy
cozy cozy up (to someone)
crack crack a book
crack crack a tube crack cracked up to be crack crack house
crack crack open a bottle
crack crack someone up crack crack some suds
crack crack up
crack dirty crack crack Get cracking!
crack have a crack at something crack have one's ass in a crack crack take a crack at something crack tough egg to crack crack tough nut to crack crank crank bugs
crank crank something out crank crank something up crank yank someone's crank crap crap out
crap crapped (out)
crap crapper dick crap Cut the crap!
crap shoot the crap
crap take a crap crap throw the crap
crash crash and burn
crash crash pad
crawl crawling with someone or something crazy crazy bone
crazy like crazy
crazy stir crazy
cream creamed foreskins cream cream (in) one's pants cream cream one's jeans cream cream puff
creek up a creek
creek up shit creek (without a paddle) creek up the creek (without a paddle) creep creep dive creep creep joint crib crib course
cricket not cricket

- crock crock (of shit)
cross cross-eyed (drunk)
cross cross someone (up) cross cross up someone cross double cross
cross nail someone to a cross crow eat crow cruise cruising for a bruising cruise time to cruise crum crum something up
crumble That's the way the cookie crumbles. crumped crumped (out)
crunch budget crunch crunch number crunching cry cry hughie
cry crying drunk
cry crying towel
cry crying weed
cry cry in one's beer
cry cry ralph cry cry ruth cuddle cuddle bunny
cuff cuff quote
cunt cunt fart
cunt cunt hound
cup cup of tea
curb shot to the curb curb step off the curb cure Dutch cure
cure take the cure
curl curl up and die
customer tough customer cut able to cut something cut cut a check
cut cut a deal
cut cut a fart
cut cut a muffin
cut cut and run
cut cut ass (out of some place)
cut cut corners
cut Cut it out!
cut cut loose
cut cut no ice (with someone) cut cut one
cut cut one's losses
cut cut one's own throat cut cut one's wolf loose cut cut out
cut cut someone a break cut cut someone in (on something) cut cut some Z's
cut cut the cheese
cut Cut the comedy!
cut Cut the crap!
cut cut the dust
cut cut the mustard
cut cut to the chase
cut cut (up)
cut cut up (about someone or something)
cut Fish or cut bait.
cut It cuts both ways.
cut It cuts two ways.
cutie cutie pie
cylinder run on all cylinders da da bomb
dab smack (dab) in the middle daddy daddy (of them all) daddy freak daddy daddy mack daddy
daddy sugar daddy
daddy Who's your daddy?
dagwood dagwood (sandwich) daily daily dozen
daily daily grind
daisy fresh as a daisy daisy pushing up daisies damage What's your damage?
damily whole fam damily damn not worth a damn dampener put a dampener on something dance tap dance like mad dance You can't dance at two weddings. dandruff galloping dandruff dandruff walking dandruff
dandy fine and dandy
dark dark horse
dark dark Monday
dark dark night
dark dark Sunday
dark shot in the dark dark whistle in the dark dash Dash it all!
dat Tru dat.
date heavy date
Dave Sam and Dave
dawg my dawg
day bad hair day
day day one day day person
day day the eagle flies day day the eagle shits day Have a nice day.
day if one's a day
day Make my day!
day red-letter day
day seen better days
day That'll be the day!
dead (bang) dead to rights
dead dead and gone
dead dead broke
dead dead cinch
dead dead drunk

- dead dead duck
dead dead easy dead dead-end kid
dead dead from the neck up dead dead horse dead dead in the water dead dead issue
dead dead letter
dead dead man dead dead marine dead dead on dead dead one dead dead president
dead (dead) ringer (for someone) dead dead soldier
dead dead to rights
dead dead to the world
dead Drop dead!
dead drop-dead list
dead have someone dead to rights
dead knock someone dead
dead over my dead body
dead stone dead
dead would not be seen dead deadcat deadcat bounce deadly deadly (dull)
deal big deal
deal cut a deal
deal deal stock
deal dirty deal
deal done deal
deal Good deal!
deal Here's the deal.
deal Like it's such a big deal.
deal no big deal
deal raw deal
deal sweetheart deal
deal What's the deal?
deal wheel and deal
dear Dear John letter
death death on someone or something death death on something death kiss of death
death like death warmed over death nickel and dime someone (to death) death sick to death (of someone or something) death sudden death
deck hit the deck
deck play with a full deck deck stack the deck deep deep pockets deep deep six
deep go off the deep end
deep in deep
deep in deep doo-doo deep knee-deep in something deep knee-deep navy degree third degree Delhi Delhi belly
demon speed demon
department headache department desert desert cherry desk desk jockey
deuce What the deuce?
deuce Who the deuce?
devil blue devils
devil devil of a time devil devil's own time
devil for the devil of it
devil full of the devil
devil Go to the devil!
devil play the devil with someone or something devil raise the devil (with someone) devil raise the devil (with something)
devil speak of the devil devil What (in) the devil?
devil What the devil?
devil Who (in) the devil?
devil Who the devil?
dew (mountain) dew
diamond diamond in the rough diarrhea diarrhea of the jawbone diarrhea diarrhea of the mouth dibs dibs on something dice no dice
dick boss dick dick crapper dick dick dick around dick dick for dictionary swallow the dictionary diddle diddle with something die curl up and die
die die on someone
die do or die
die to die for difference same difference different different strokes for different folks dig Dig up!
dig gold digger
dig take a dig at someone diggety Hot diggety (dog)!
digit double digits
dim dim bulb
dime dime store
dime drop a dime
dime get off the dime dime nickel and dime someone (to death) dime stop on a dime dime thin dime
dime turn on a dime

- ding dinged out
dink dink someone off dinner dinner basket
dip skinny dip
diploma federal diploma
dirt dirt cheap
dirt dish the dirt
dirt do someone dirt
dirt hit pay dirt
dirt strike pay dirt dirt take a dirt nap
dirty dirty crack
dirty dirty deal
dirty dirty dog
dirty (dirty) dozens dirty dirty joke
dirty dirty laundry
dirty dirty linen
dirty dirty look
dirty dirty old man
dirty dirty pool
dirty dirty word
dirty dirty work
disagree agree to disagree disc disc jockey discount five-finger discount disease foot-in-mouth disease disease social disease dish dish something out dish dish the dirt
dishrag (limp) dishrag
dishwater dull as dishwater
disk disk jockey
diss dis(s) (on someone) distance put some distance between someone and someone or something distance within spitting distance dither in a dither dive creep dive dive dive a muff dive gin dive dive take a dive divide great divide
divvy divvy something up Dixie not just whistling Dixie DL on the DL
Doakes Joe Doakes
doc What's up, doc?
doctor doctor's orders
doctor horse doctor
doctor just what the doctor ordered doctor spin doctor
doctor You're the doctor.
doctor zit doctor
Dodge get out of Dodge
Doe Jane Doe
Doe John Doe
dog cats and dogs dog dirty dog
dog dog and pony show
dog dog collar dog dog meat
dog dog's mother
dog Fuck a dog!
dog Hong Kong dog
dog Hot diggety (dog)!
dog Hot dog!
dog (It's) not my dog.
dog lucky dog
dog my dog
dog Not my dog.
dog put on the dog
dog see a man about a dog dog shouldn't happen to a dog dog top dog
dog yard dog
doggo lie doggo
doggy doggy bag doll Barbie doll
dollar adobe dollar dollar almighty dollar
dollar bet one's bottom dollar dollar bet someone dollars to doughnuts dollar bottom dollar dollar like a million (dollars)
dollar phony as a three-dollar bill
dollar queer as a three-dollar bill dollar sixty-four-dollar question dome marble dome
donkey donkey's breakfast donkey donkey's years doo in deep doo-doo door blow someone's doors off door house of many doors dope do dope
dope dope something out dope dope up dope inside dope
dope straight dope
Dora dumb Dora
dork dork off
dorkus dorkus maximus dose go through someone like a dose of (the) salts
double double-barreled slingshot double double buffalo double double cross double double digits double double nickels double double saw(buck) double double six double double take

- double double up (with laughter) double double whammy
double on the double
douche douche bag
dough dough head
doughnut bet someone dollars to doughnuts doughnut blow one's doughnuts doughnut lose one's doughnuts down boogie down (to somewhere) down bring someone down down burn someone down down chow down
down chow something down down come down
down come down hard
down come down hard on someone
down cool down
down down for the count down down low
down down the drain
down Down the hatch!
down down time
down down to the wire
down down trip down down under down down (with someone) down down with something down down with the haps down falling-down drunk down flake down down garbage something down down get down down get down on someone down get down to some serious drinking down get down to the nitty-gritty down go down down go down in flames down go down on someone down go down the chute down go down the line down go down the tube(s)
down hands down
down have a yellow streak down one's back down hook something down down hose someone down down kick down with something
down knock something down
down knuckle down (to something) down lay down down party down
down pipe down
down pull down an amount of money down ram something down someone's throat down run down some lines down run it down down scarf something down down shake someone down down shoot someone down in flames down shoot someone or something down down shot down down shuck down
down simmer (down)
down spaz down
down Take it down a thou(sand)!
down throw down
down thumbs down
down tore down
down turn someone or something upside down down turn thumbs down (on someone or something) down way down
down What's going down?
down wolf something down down yellow streak (down someone's back) downhill go downhill
dozen daily dozen dozen (dirty) dozens dozen long dozen dozen play the dozens dozen shoot the dozens drabs in dribs and drabs draft draft board
draft feel a draft drag cop a drag drag drag ass around drag drag ass (out of some place) drag dragged out drag drag (on someone)
drag in drag
drag knockdown drag-out fight drag Look (at) what the cat dragged in!
drag main drag
dragon chase the dragon drain circle (the drain)
drain down the drain
drain drain the bilge
draw Do I have to draw (you) a picture?
draw luck of the draw dress dressed to kill dress dressed to the nines dress dressed to the teeth dribs in dribs and drabs drift (Do you) get my drift?
drift Get my drift?
drill blanket drill
drink big drink
drink big drink of water drink do the drink thing drink Drink up!
drink get down to some serious drinking drink knock back a drink

- drink two-fisted drinker drip silo drippings drive drive someone around the bend drive drive someone bonkers drive drive someone nuts
drive drive someone up the wall drive drive the big bus drive drive the porcelain bus driver backseat driver driver in the driver's seat driver Sunday driver drool drool (all) over someone or something drop drop a bomb(shell)
drop drop a bop
drop drop a brick
drop drop a bundle (on someone) drop drop a bundle (on something) drop drop a dime
drop Drop dead!
drop drop-dead list
drop Drop it!
drop drop one's cookies drop drop one's teeth
drop drop out
drop drop someone
drop drop someone or something like a hot potato drop drop someone some knowledge drop drop the ball
drop get the drop on someone drop turn on, tune in, drop out drug do drugs
drug do the drug thing drug drug lord
drug drug out drug head drug drugstore drugstore cowboy drum beat the drum for someone or something drunk blind drunk
drunk commode-hugging drunk drunk country drunk drunk cross-eyed (drunk) drunk crying drunk
drunk dead drunk
drunk drunk back
drunk drunk tank
drunk falling-down drunk drunk glazed (drunk)
drunk howling (drunk)
drunk screeching (drunk) drunk stale drunk
drunk stinking (drunk)
dry bleed someone dry
dry Dry up!
dry high and dry
- dub flub the dub
duck dead duck
duck Fuck a duck!
duck lame duck
duck Lord love a duck!
duck milk a duck
duck mud duck
duck sitting duck
dude dude up
dues pay one's dues
dues pay one's dues (to society) duke duke someone out dull deadly (dull)
dull dull as dishwater
dull dull roar
dumb dumb bunny
dumb dumb cluck dumb dumb Dora
dumb dumb ox
dummy beat the dummy
dummy chuck a dummy
dummy dummy up
dummy My mama didn't raise no dummy.
dummy whip the dummy dump do a dump on someone or something dump dump all over someone or something dump dumped on dump Dump it.
dump dump one's load dump dump on someone dump dump on someone or something dump Let's dump.
dump take a dump
dump toxic waste dump
dunk slam dunk
duo dynamic duo
dust angel dust
dust bite the dust
dust corral dust
dust cut the dust
dust dust of angels dust dust someone off dust dust someone's pants dust heaven dust
dust joy dust
dust kiss the dust
dusty dusty butt
Dutch Dutch act
Dutch Dutch courage
Dutch Dutch cure
Dutch Dutch treat
Dutch Dutch uncle
Dutch go Dutch
Dutch in Dutch
duty rack duty
dynamic dynamic duo

- eagle day the eagle flies eagle day the eagle shits eagle eagle freak
eagle when the eagle flies ear Blow it out your ear! ear coming out of one's ears ear ear candy
ear ear hustling
ear (Go) blow it out your ear!
ear mickey mouse ears ear pin someone's ears back ear pound one's ear ear sloshed (to the ears) ear stewed to the ears
ear talk someone's ear off ear throw one out on one's ear ear up to one's ears ear walls have ears
earful give someone an earful earl call earl earl talk to earl
early early beam(s)
early early bird
early early black
earp Earp slop, bring the mop.
earth earth pads
earth Earth to someone.
earth no earthly reason earth Where on earth?
earth Where on (God's green) earth?
easy dead easy
easy Easy does it.
easy easy make easy easy mark
easy easy money
easy easy street
easy on easy street
easy take it easy
easy take things easy eat ate up with someone or something eat (Do) you eat with that mouth? eat eat at the Y
eat eat crow
eat eat face
eat Eat me!
eat eat nails
eat eat one's hat
eat eat one's heart out
eat Eat shit!
eat eat someone's lunch
eat eat something up
eat eat up
eat smoke eater
eat What's eating someone?
eat You eat with that mouth?
eco eco freak
eco eco nut
Edgar J. Edgar (Hoover) edge have an edge on edge moist around the edges edge on the bleeding edge effing effing around egg bad egg
egg Go fry an egg!
egg goose egg
egg have egg on one's face
egg lay an egg
egg nest egg
egg rotten egg
egg scrambled eggs
egg tough egg to crack egg walk on eggs
ego ego trip
ego ego tripper
Egypt butt-fucking Egypt
eight behind the eight ball el el cheapo
el (el) primo
elbow bend one's elbow elbow lift one's elbow elegant piss elegant elephant pink elephants elephant seeing pink elephants
elephant white elephant elevator elevator music else What else is new?
else You and who else?
embalm embalming fluid embarrass financially embarrassed enamel pray to the enamel god enchilada big enchilada enchilada whole enchilada end at loose ends end business end (of something) end cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose end dead-end kid
end end of the ball game
end go off the deep end
end know which end is up end no end of something end rear (end)
end see no further than the end of one's nose end shitty end of the stick end short end of the stick end weekend warrior enemy meals rejected by the enemy enough ain't long enough enough Enough, already!
enough not enough room to swing a cat estimate ball park estimate eternal eternal checkout

- Ethiopian meals rejected by Ethiopians even evened out
everything everything from soup to nuts
everything Hold everything!
excuse Excuse me for breathing!
excuse Excuse me for living!
excuse Excuse my French. expedition fishing expedition express Siberian express expression if you'll pardon the expression eye bedroom eyes
eye black eye
eye bright-eyed and bushy-tailed eye cross-eyed (drunk) eye get some shut-eye
eye goo-goo eyes
eye Here's mud in your eye.
eye hit the bull's-eye
eye one-eyed pants mouse eye private eye
eye see eye to eye
eye snake eyes
eye with (one's) eyes (wide) open eyeball eyeball to eyeball eyeball get an eyeball on someone or something eyeball up to one's eyeballs F F-ing around
face Bag your face!
face blue in the face
face chew face
face eat face
face face card
face (face) fungus
face face man
face face the music
face face time
face feed one's face
face frog face
face get face
face get in someone's face face Get out of my face!
face have egg on one's face
face in someone's face face mace someone's face face mess someone's face up face powder one's face face put a smile on someone's face face rack face
face Shut your face!
face slap in the face
face soak one's face
face stand there with one's bare face hanging out face suck face
face talk until one is blue in the face
face turd face
face what's his face
fact facts of life
factor fudge factor factory bone factory
factory gargle factory factory glue factory factory nut factory
factory piss factory
factory spook factory fade do a fade
fag fagged out
fair fair-haired boy
fair fair shake
fair No fair!
fairy fairy tale
faith Keep the faith (baby)!
faithful one of the faithful fake fake book
fake fake it
fake fake off
fake fake someone out fake fake the funk
fall fall guy
fall falling-down drunk fall fall off the wagon
fall fall out
fall fall out of bed
fall take a fall
fall take the fall
fam whole fam damily familiar in a familiar way family family jewels
family in a family way
family in the family way fan fan the breeze
fan hit the fan
fan when the shit hit the fan fancy fancy footwork
fancy Fancy meeting you here.
fancy Fancy that!
far far gone
far far out
farm buy the farm
farm funny farm
fart cunt fart
fart cut a fart fart fart around
fart fart hole
fart fart off
fart fart sack
fart let a fart
fart pussy fart
fartsy artsy (fartsy)
fast fast buck
fast fast footwork

- fast fast one
fast get nowhere fast
fast get one's tail somewhere fast!
fast play fast and loose (with someone or something)
fast pull a fast one
fat chew the fat
fat fat as a beached whale
fat fat chance
fat fat city
fat fat lip
fat fat skriff
fat till the fat lady sings fat when the fat lady sings fax junk fax
fear I'm shaking (in fear).
feather feather brain
feather in fine feather
feather You could have knocked me over with a feather.
federal Don't make a federal case out of it!
federal federal diploma federal federal jug
federal make a federal case out of something feed chicken feed
feed feed one's face
feed for chicken feed
feedbag put on the feedbag feel feel a draft feel feel groovy
feel feeling no pain
feel feel someone up
feet cold feet
feet get a load off one's feet feet patter of tiny feet feet six feet under feet take a load off one's feet fence fence hanger
fence go for the fences fence straddle the fence fer fer shur
fetch fetch up fever barrel fever
few few ticks
few hang a few on
few Win a few, lose a few.
fiddle belly fiddle fiddle second fiddle
field out in left field
field out of left field fifth fifth wheel
fifth take the fifth fig moldy fig
fight knockdown drag-out fight fight spoiling for a fight fight throw a fight fight You can't fight city hall.
figure ball park figure
figure Go figure.
figure key figure
file circular file
file file thirteen
file rank and file
fill filling station fill fill or kill fill smoke-filled room
film snuff film filthy filthy lucre
filthy filthy rich financially financially embarrassed fine do some fine coin
fine fine and dandy
fine fine wolf
fine in fine feather
fine New York's finest finger finger wave finger five-finger discount finger give someone the finger finger put the finger on someone finger sticky fingers finger three fingers finger two fingers finish Mickey finished fink fink (on someone) fink fink out (on someone or something) fink rat fink
Finn Mickey (Finn)
fire ball of fire
fire fire a line
fire fire away
fire fired up
fire fire someone up
fire fire something up
fire fire up
fire five-alarm fire
fire on fire
fire play with fire
fire three-alarm fire
fire Where's the fire?
fireman visiting fireman first get to first (base) (with someone) firstest firstest with the mostest fish big fish
fish bottom fishing
fish cold fish
fish fishing expedition
fish Fish or cut bait.
fish fish story
fish fish tale
fish queer fish
fishy smell fishy
fist hand over fist

fist two-fisted drinker fit conniption (fit)
fit have a shit-fit
fit throw a fit
five bunch of fives five five-alarm fire
five five-finger discount five five it
five Give me five!
five give someone five five hang five five high five five low five
five Slip me five!
five slip someone five
five take five
fix cop a fix
fix fixed up fix get a fix
fix quick fix
flack flack (out)
flake flaked out
flake flake down
flake flake (out)
flake (flake) spoon
flake joy flakes
flame burn with a low blue flame flame go down in flames flame old flame
flame shoot someone down in flames flash flash on something flash flash the hash
flash in a flash
flat flat broke
flat (flat) on one's ass
flat flat out
flat in nothing flat
flesh press (the) flesh flex flexed out of shape flick skin flick
flimflam flimflam artist fling fling up
flip flip one's lid
flip flip one's wig
flip flip (out)
flip flipping burgers flip flip side flip flip someone off flip flip someone out flip flip someone the bird flip flip the script
Flo Aunt Flo
Flo visit from Flo
flooeey go flooeey
floor mop the floor up with someone floor wipe the floor up with someone flop belly flop

flop cow flop
flop That's the way the mop flops.
flow cash flow
flow go with the flow
flower hearts and flowers flu blue flu
flu brown bottle flu
flub flub something up flub flub the dub
flub flub (up)
fluid embalming fluid flunk flunk out (of something) fly day the eagle flies fly fly kites
fly fly light
fly fly mink
fly fly the coop
fly fly trap
fly Go fly a kite!
fly I('ve) gotta fly.
fly I've got to fly.
fly on the fly
fly straighten up and fly right fly when the eagle flies fly with flying colors flyer take a flyer (on something) fogey old fogey
foggy foggiest (idea)
fold folding money
fold folding stuff
fold green folding
fold Hold some, fold some.
folks different strokes for different folks foo foo-foo water food junk food
food rabbit food
fool play someone for a fool foot cold feet
foot foot-in-mouth disease foot foot it
foot get a load off one's feet foot have one foot in the grave foot My foot!
foot patter of tiny feet foot shoot oneself in the foot foot six feet under foot take a load off one's feet foot vote with one's feet foot wouldn't touch someone or something with a ten-foot pole
footwork fancy footwork footwork fast footwork
forbidden forbidden fruit
foreskin creamed foreskins forget Forget it!

- forget Forget you!
fork fork something over
fork Fork you!
form in rare form
fort hold the fort
fortune small fortune
forty forty winks
foul fouled up foul foul mouth
foul foul up
found lost-and-found badge four four sheets in the wind four four sheets (to the wind) four four wheels
four sixty-four-dollar question four twenty-four, seven fox fox trap
fox stone cold fox fox stone fox
foxtrot Charlie Foxtrot foxy foxy lady
fraidy fraidy cat
freak eagle freak
freak eco freak
freak freak daddy
freak freaked (out)
freak freak mommy
freak freak (out)
freak freak someone out freak garbage freak
freak juice freak
freak kick freak
freak pill freak
freak speed freak
free for free
free free base
free free base party
free free for all
free free lunch
free free ride
free free show
free free trip
freeze freeze someone out freeze freezing cold freeze play freeze-out freeze put the freeze on someone freeze till hell freezes over French Excuse my French.
French French kiss
French Pardon my French.
fresh fresh and sweet
fresh fresh as a daisy
fresh stupid fresh fried Kentucky fried friend bosom friends
fritz on the fritz
frog frog face
frog frog slicing
from bundle from heaven from dead from the neck up from everything from soup to nuts
from from A to Z
from from hunger
from from (the) git-go from get one's kicks (from someone or something) from know from something from know one's ass from a hole in the ground from know shit from Shinola from know where one is coming from from money from home
from not know from nothing from not know one's ass from a hole in the ground from not know shit from Shinola from send someone from pillar to post
from shoot from the hip
from someone or something from hell
from straight from the horse's mouth
from straight from the shoulder from (strictly) from hunger from take a page from someone's book from tear loose (from someone or something) from tell shit from Shinola from visit from Flo from visit from the stork from You can't get there from here.
front front man
front front money
front front off about something front front runner
front up front
frost frosted (over) frosty frosty one
fruit forbidden fruit
fruit fruit loop
fruit hen fruit
fruitcake nutty as a fruitcake
fry Go fry an egg!
fry Kentucky fried
fry small fry
fuck butt-fucking Egypt fuck cluster fuck
fuck Fuck a dog!
fuck Fuck a duck!
fuck fuck around fuck fuck around with someone fuck fuck bunny
fuck fucked out fuck fucked up
fuck Fucking A!

- fuck Fuck it!
fuck Fuck it (all)!
fuck fuck off
fuck fuck someone around fuck fuck someone or something up fuck fuck someone over fuck fuck someone's mind (up) fuck fuck up
fuck fuck with someone fuck fuck with something fuck Fuck you!
fuck give a fuck (about someone or something) fuck Go fuck yourself!
fuck honey fuck
fuck If that don't fuck all!
fuck What (in) the fucking hell!
fuck What the fucking hell!
fudge fudge factor
fuel take on fuel
full full blast
full full of beans
full full of bull
full full of hops
full full of hot air
full full of it
full full of Old Nick
full full of prunes
full full of shit
full full of the devil
full full sesh
full full steam ahead
full mouth full of South full play with a full deck full woods are full of something fun barrel of fun
fun fun and games
fund slush fund
funeral It's your funeral!
fungus (face) fungus
funk blue funk
funk fake the funk
funk fucked out
funk in a blue funk
funny funny business
funny funny farm
further cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose further see no further than the end of one's nose
fuse blow a fuse
fuse blow one's fuse fuse fuse box
fuse have a short fuse fuse short fuse
futz futz around fuzz fuzz man
fuzz fuzz station
fuzzy fuzzy (tail)
G What's up, G?
gab gab room
gab gift of gab
gag throat gag gallop at a snail's gallop gallop galloping dandruff galumph galumph (around)
game ahead of the game
game end of the ball game game fun and games
game game plan
game game time
game name of the game
game skin game
game throw a game
game throw salt on someone's game
game whole new ball game
gander take a gander (at someone or something)
gangbusters come on like gangbusters gangbusters like gangbusters ganjah bhang ganjah garbage garbage freak garbage garbage mouth garbage garbage something down gargle gargle factory
gas cooking with gas
gas gassed (up)
gas gas up
gas run out of gas
gas take the gas pipe
gash gash bucket
gasket blow a gasket
gate give someone the gate gate tailgate party gay gay as pink ink
gazoo out the gazoo gear Get your ass in gear gear reverse gears gear swing into high gear geek geek out generation now generation genuine genuine article German German goiter get Don't get your bowels in an uproar!
get (Do you) get my drift?
get get a bang out of someone or something get get a buzz out of someone or something get get a can on get get a fix get get a gift
get get a kick out of someone or something
get Get a life!

get	get a load off one's feet	get	get one's lumps
get	get a load off one's mind	get	get one's nose cold get	get a load of something or someone	get	get one's nose out of joint get	get an eyeball on someone or something	get	get one's nuts off get	get a toehold	get	get one's rocks off get	Get away!	get	get one's rocks off (on something) get	Get a wiggle on!	get	get one's shit together
get	get behind someone or something	get	get one's stuff together
get	get behind something	get	get one's tail somewhere fast!
get	Get cracking!	get	get one's tail somewhere immediately!
get	get down	get	get one's tail somewhere now!
get	get down on someone	get	get one's teeth into something get	get down to some serious drinking	get	get one's ticket punched get	get down to the nitty-gritty	get	get one's wings get	get face	get	get on one's horse get	get hot	get	get on someone's case get	get in bad (with someone)	get	get on the stick get	get in on the act	get	get out of Dodge get	get in someone's face	get	Get out of here!
get	get in the groove	get	Get out of my face!
get	get in(to) someone's pants	get	Get out of town!
get	get into something	get	get (out) while the gettin(g)'s good get	get it	get	get (out) while the goin's good get	get it (all) together	get	Get real!
get	get it in the neck	get	get right get	get it off	get	get smart (with someone)
get	get it on	get	get someone going get	get it out	get	get someone's goat get	get it up	get	get someone's motor running get	get lip	get	get some shut-eye get	Get lost!	get	get something going (with someone) get	get mad (at something)	get	get some yokes on get	Get my drift?	get	get straight get	get naked	get	get stupid
get	get narkied	get	get the ax get	get nowhere fast	get	get the drop on someone get	get off	get	get the goods on someone get	Get off it!	get	Get the lead out!
get	Get off my ass!	get	Get the message?
get	Get off my back!	get	get the nod
get	Get off my bumper!	get	Get the picture?
get	Get off my tail!	get	get there get	get off one's rear	get	get the sack get	get off (on something)	get	get the show on the road get	get off someone's back	get	Getting any?
get	get off someone's case	get	get to first (base) (with someone)
get	get off the dime	get	get to someone get	get one right here	get	get with it get	get one's act together	get	get with someone get	get one's bowels in an uproar	get	get with the program get	get one's head together	get	Get your ass in gear get	get one's hooks into someone	get	Get your nose out of my business!
get	get one's hooks into something	get	Shit or get off the pot!
get	get one's kicks (from someone or something)	get	tell someone where to get off get	get one's knob polished	get	What you see is what you get.
		get	You can't get there from here.

ghetto ghetto bird ghetto (ghetto) blaster ghetto (ghetto) box ghost ghost turd
 giant mental giant
 giddy Giddy up!
 gift get a gift
 gift gift of gab giggle giggle goo
 gill blue around the gills gill green around the gills gill loaded to the gills gill stewed to the gills gimme Gimme a break!
 gin gin dive
 gin gin mill
 gin gin palace
 girl little girls' room girl old girl
 girlie girlie magazine
 girlie girlie show
 git from (the) git-go give don't give a hoot give don't give a rip give give a fuck (about someone or something) give give a shit (about someone or something) give give head
 give Give it a rest!
 give give it the gun
 give Give it up!
 give Give me a break!
 give Give me a rest!
 give Give me five!
 give Give me (some) skin!
 give give (out) with something
 give give someone a buzz give give someone a (good) talking to give give someone a (good) working over give give someone a melvin give give someone an earful
 give give someone a pain give give someone five
 give give someone hell
 give give someone the ax
 give give someone the brushoff
 give give someone the business give give someone the finger
 give give someone the gate
 give give someone the go-by give give someone the nod give give someone the raspberry give give someone the shaft
 give give someone the slip give Something's got to give.

give What gives?
 glad glad rags
 glamour glamour puss
 glass glass gun glaze glazed (drunk)
 glaze glazed (over) gloomy gloomy Gus glory send someone to glory gloss lip gloss
 glow glow worm glow have a glow on glue glue factory
 go from (the) git-go go get (out) while the goin's good go get someone going go get something going (with someone)
 go give someone the go-by
 go go all the way
 go go ape (over someone or something) go go apeshit over someone or something go go bananas
 go go belly up
 go go bitchcakes
 go go blooey
 go (Go) blow it out your ear!
 go Go chase yourself!
 go Go chase your tail!
 go Go climb a tree!
 go go down
 go go downhill
 go go down in flames go go down on someone go go down the chute
 go go down the line
 go go down the tube(s)
 go go Dutch
 go Go figure.
 go go flooey
 go Go fly a kite!
 go go for broke
 go Go for it!
 go go for the fences
 go Go fry an egg!
 go Go fuck yourself!
 go go great guns
 go go haywire
 go go home in a box
 go go home to mama go going high
 go going over
 go go into orbit
 go Go jump in the lake!
 go go mental
 go go off half-cocked go go off the deep end
 go Go on!

- go go on (and on) about someone or something go go over big go go overboard
go go over like a lead balloon go go over the hill
go go over the wall
go go places
go go postal go go public
go go Rinso
go Go soak your head!
go Go soak yourself!
go go sour
go go South
go go straight
go go the limit
go go through someone like a dose of (the) salts go go through the changes go go tits up
go Go to!
go Go to blazes!
go Go to the devil!
go go to town
go Go to your room!
go go underground
go go up
go go West
go go with it
go go with the flow
go go zonkers
go How goes it?
go no go
go only way to go
go pass go
go raring to go
go (That's the) way to go!
go There you go.
go to go
go touch and go
go Way to go!
go What's going down?
go What's going on?
goat get someone's goat
goat skin a goat
God God's acre
god kiss the porcelain god god pray to the enamel god god pray to the porcelain god God Where on (God's green) earth?
god Ye gods!
goddess hug the porcelain god(dess) goddess sex goddess goddess worship the porcelain god(dess) goggles beer goggles goiter German goiter
goiter Milwaukee goiter gold Colombian (gold)
gold Columbian (gold)
gold gold digger
golden golden handcuffs golden golden opportunity golden golden parachute goldie goldie locks golf African golf ball
golly Good golly, Miss Molly!
gone dead and gone
gone far gone
gone gone goose
gone gone under gone real gone
gone to hell and gone
goo giggle goo
goo goo-goo eyes
good get (out) while the gettin(g)'s good good get (out) while the goin's good good get the goods on someone good give someone a (good) talking to good give someone a (good) working over good good and something good good buddy
good Good call!
good Good deal!
good Good golly, Miss Molly!
good Good heavens!
good good Joe good (good) looker
good good old boy
good good-time Charley good good-time it
good good-time man
good good trip
good Have a good one.
good have good vibes
good if one knows what's good for one good kiss something good-bye good onto a good thing
good What's the good word?
good Your guess is as good as mine.
goodie oldie but goodie goody goody two-shoes goof goof around
goof goofed (up)
goof goof off
goof goof on someone goof goof something up
goof goof up
goof goof up on something goon goon squad
goose gone goose
goose goose egg

- goose silver goose gopher gopher ball
 gorilla gorilla biscuits gorilla gorilla juice gorilla gorilla pills
 gork gorked (out)
 gospel gospel (truth)
 got I've got to fly.
 got I've got to split.
 got Something's got to give.
 got You got it!
 got You got that?
 got You've got another think coming.
 gotta I('ve) gotta fly.
 gouch gouch off
 gourd stoned out of one's gourd grab How does that grab you?
 grab up for grabs
 grand Grand Central Station granddaddy (grand)daddy (of them all) grandstand grandstand play grape African grape grape belt the grape grape grape shot grape grapes of wrath grape in the grip of the grape grass grass party grass snake in the grass grass someone's ass is grass grasshopper knee-high to a grasshopper
 grave have one foot in the grave graveyard graveyard shift gravity gravity check gravy gravy train
 gravy have gravy on one's grits gravy red gravy
 graybar Graybar Hotel
 graystone Graystone College grease greased lightning grease grease monkey
 grease grease someone's palm grease grease the skids greasy greasy spoon
 great go great guns
 great great divide
 great Great Scott!
 great great unwashed
 great no great shakes
 great whopping (great) Greek Greek to someone
 green green around the gills green green folding
 green green light green green paper
 green green stuff
 green green thumb
 green long green
 green Where on (God's green) earth?
 grind daily grind grip in the grip of the grape grip key grip
 grip lose one's grip
 gripe gripe one's ass gripe gripe one's butt gripe gripe one's soul
 grits blow grits
 grits have gravy on one's grits gritty get down to the nitty-gritty groan groan box
 groceries blow one's groceries
 grod King Grod
 grody grody to the max gronk gronk (out)
 groove get in the groove groove groove on someone or something groove in the groove groove stone groove
 groovy feel groovy
 gross gross someone out
 gross So gross!
 ground go underground
 ground know one's ass from a hole in the ground ground
 ground not know one's ass from a hole in the ground ground
 ground stamping ground grow not grow on trees grub grub on something grub grub up
 grub money grubber
 grunt grunt work
 guess Your guess is as good as mine.
 guest Be my guest.
 guilt lay a guilt trip on someone guitar air guitar gum beat one's gums
 gun big gun
 gun give it the gun
 gun glass gun
 gun go great guns
 gun gun for someone
 gun hired gun
 gun in the gun
 gun jump the gun
 gun packing (a gun)
 gun smoking gun
 gun son of a gun
 gun under the gun
 gun zip gun
 gus gloomy Gus
 gussied gussied up
 gut beer gut

- gut blood and guts
gut blubber gut(s)
gut bust a gut (to do something) gut gut reaction (to something) gut hate someone's guts gut kick in the guts gut spew one's guts (out) gut spill one's guts on someone gut spill one's guts (to someone) gut split a gut
gut tub of guts
gut yell one's guts out gutless gutless wonder gutter have one's mind in the gutter guy fall guy
guy Mr. Nice Guy
guy right guy
guy smart guy
guy tough guy
guy wise guy
guy You guys bitchin'?
gym gym shoe
habit kick the habit
habit knock the habit habit mickey mouse habit habit nose habit
hack hack around hack hacked (off)
hack hack it had been had hair angel hair
hair bad hair day
hair fair-haired boy
hair have a wild hair up one's ass hair have someone by the short hairs half and a half half better half
half go off half-cocked half half a bubble off plumb half half in the bag half half up the pole half how the other half lives half You don't know the half of it.
hall You can't fight city hall.
hamburger make hamburger out of someone or something hammer hammer a beer
hammer hammer some beers Hancock John Hancock
hand hand it to someone
hand hand over fist
hand hands down hand hand someone something hand Hands up!
hand Keep your hands to yourself.
hand left-handed monkey wrench hand old hand (at something) hand tip one's hand handcuffs golden handcuffs handle (love) handles handsome high, wide, and handsome hang hang a BA (at someone) hang hang a few on hang hang a huey
hang hang a left
hang hang a louie
hang hang a ralph
hang hang a right
hang hang (around)
hang hang five
hang hang in there
hang Hang it all!
hang hang it up
hang hang loose
hang hang one on hang hang ten hang hang tough (on something)
hang hang up
hang hang with someone hang How('re) they hanging?
hang let it all hang out hang stand there with one's bare face hanging out hanger ape hangers
hanger fence hanger
happen Shit happens.
happen shouldn't happen to a dog happen What's happ(ening)?
happy happy camper
happy happy hour
happy happy juice
happy happy pills
happy happy shop
happy slap happy
haps down with the haps
hard between a rock and a hard place hard come down hard hard come down hard on someone hard hard case
hard hard coin
hard hard head
hard hard liquor hard hard off
hard hard sell hard hard time
hard hard to swallow hard hard up
hard have a hard-on hard have a hard-on for someone hardball play hardball (with someone) harsh harsh token hash flash the hash

hash hash cannon
hash hash pipe
hash heavy hash
hash settle someone's hash hat brass hat
hat eat one's hat
hat knock something into a cocked hat hat old hat
hat talk through one's hat hat throw one's hat in the ring hat tin hat
hat white hat
hatch booby hatch
hatch Down the hatch!
hatchet bury the hatchet
hate hate someone's guts
haul haul ass (out of some place) Hawkins Mr. Hawkins
hay hay burner
hay hay head
hay hit the hay
hay That ain't hay!
haywire go haywire
head bald-headed hermit head bald-headed mouse
head bean head
head cop a head
head dough head
head get one's head together head give head
head Go soak your head!
head hard head
head have a (big) head
head have rocks in one's head
head hay head
head head cook and bottle washer head head drug head head hunt
head head South
head Heads up!
head heads will roll
head head trip
head helium head
head hooch head
head hot head
head keep one's head right head knock some heads together head over one's head head peanut head
head pound someone's head in head soft in the head head stoned out of one's head head talking head
head talk one's head off head Use your head!
head where someone's head is at head yell one's head off head zipper head headache headache department headache headache house headache headache man headache splitting headache headstone Headstone City heap bottom of the heap heap in a heap

heap junk heap
heap top of the heap
hear I hear what you are saying.
hear I hear you.
hear talk to hear one's own voice hear You heard the man.
heart eat one's heart out
heart Have a heart!
heart hearts and flowers heart heart-to-heart (talk) hearty party hearty heat If you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen.
heat put the heat on someone heat take some heat heat take the heat
heat take the heat off someone heave old heave-ho
heaven bundle from heaven heaven Good heavens!
heaven heaven dust
heaven pig heaven
heaven smell to (high) heaven
heavy carrying a (heavy) load heavy heavy artillery heavy heavy bread
heavy heavy date
heavy heavy hash
heavy heavy into someone or something heavy heavy joint heavy heavy money
heavy heavy necking
heavy heavy scene
heavy heavy soul
heavy lay a (heavy) trip on someone heavy top heavy heavy walk heavy heavy wing heavy
heck for the heck of it heck What the heck!
heil sieg-heil someone Heinz Heinz 57 (variety) helium helium head hell catch hell (for something)
hell for the hell of it
hell give someone hell
hell hell of a mess

hell	hell of a note	high	high five hell	hell of a someone or something	high	high mucky-muck hell	hell raiser	high	high on something hell	Hell's bells (and buckets of blood)!	high	high roller hell	like a bat out of hell	high	high sign hell	Like hell!	high	high ups hell	play hell with someone or something	high	high, wide, and handsome hell	quicker than hell	high	hold one's high hell	raise hell	high	knee-high to a grasshopper hell	raise hell (with someone)	high	on one's high horse hell	raise hell (with something)	high	smell to (high) heaven hell	scare the hell out of someone	high	swing into high gear hell	shot to hell	high	up high hell	snowball's chance in hell	highway	highway robbery hell	someone or something from hell	hike	take a hike hell	sure as hell	hill	go over the hill hell	There will be hell to pay.	hill	over the hill hell	till hell freezes over	Hill	What in Sam Hill?
hell	to hell and gone	Hill	What in (the) Sam Hill?
hell	To hell with that!	Hill	Where in (the) Sam Hill?
hell	What (in) the fucking hell!	Hill	Where the Sam Hill?
hell	What (in) the hell?	hind	kiss someone's hind tit hell	What the fucking hell!	hind	suck someone's hind tit hell	What the hell?	hindsight	20/20 hindsight hell	Who (in) the hell?	hindsight	twenty-twenty hindsight hell	Who the hell?	hip	hit me on the hip helluva	helluva someone or something	hip	joined at the hip help	pitch in (and help)	hip	shoot from the hip hen	hen fruit	hire	hired gun
hen	hen party	history	ancient history
Henry	Adam Henry	history	I'm history.
hepped	hepped (up)	hit	can't hit the (broad) side of a barn
Herb	Herb and Al	hit	hit by the stupid stick
Herb	talk to Herb and Al	hit	hit by the ugly stick here	Fancy meeting you here.	hit	hit it with someone here	get one right here	hit	hit list here	Get out of here!	hit	hit man here	Here's looking at you.	hit	Hit me.
here	Here's mud in your eye.	hit	hit me again
here	Here's the deal.	hit	hit me on the hip here	I'm outa here.	hit	hit on someone here	I'm out of here.	hit	hit on something here	same here	hit	hit pay dirt here	up to here	hit	hit someone below the belt here	You can't get there from here.	hit	hit someone (up) for something hermit	bald-headed hermit	hit	hit someone with something hero	hero (of the underworld)	hit	hit the books herped	herped up	hit	hit the booze hess	mell of a hess	hit	hit the bottle
hey	But, hey	hit	hit the bricks
hey	Hey, bum!	hit	hit the bull's-eye hide	nail someone(s hide) to the wall	hit	hit the ceiling hide	play hide the sausage	hit	hit the deck high	going high	hit	hit the fan high	high and dry	hit	hit the hay high	higher ups	hit	hit the jackpot

- hit hit the panic button hit hit the pavement
hit hit the road
hit hit the roof
hit hit the sack
hit hit the skids
hit hit the spot
hit hit the trail
hit hit under the wing hit nose hit
hit pinch hitter hit power hitter hit smash hit
hit when the shit hit the fan hitch without a hitch hither come-hither look ho old heave-ho
hock hock a luggie
hockey horse hockey
hockey play tonsil hockey hockey tonsil hockey
hoe tough row to hoe
hog call hogs
hog hog cadillac
hog road hog
hog sewer hog hoist hoist one
hold get a toehold
hold hold all the aces
hold Hold everything!
hold Hold it!
hold Hold it, Buster!
hold hold one's high hold hold one's horses hold hold one's liquor
hold Hold some, fold some.
hold hold the fort
hold hold water
hold lose one's hold hold no holds barred
hole ace in the hole
hole brown hole
hole cake hole
hole fart hole
hole hole in the wall
hole hole up
hole in the hole
hole know one's ass from a hole in the ground hole nineteenth hole hole not know one's ass from a hole in the ground hole puke hole
hole square peg (in a round hole) hole watering hole
hole word hole
holiday holiday cheer
holy Holy cow!
holy holy Joe
holy Holy mackerel!
holy Holy moley!
holy holy stink
holy holy terror
home bring home the bacon home go home in a box home go home to mama
home in the (home) stretch home money from home
home nothing to write home about home There's nobody home. homemaker Suzy Homemaker honest honest injun honey honey cart
honey honey fuck
honey honey of a something honey honey wagon
honeymoon honeymoon (period) honeymoon honeymoon stage Hong Hong Kong dog
hooch hooched (up)
hooch hooch head
hooch hooch hound hood hood rat hoof hoof it
hook get one's hooks into someone hook get one's hooks into something hook hooked (on someone or something) hook hooked (on something) hook hook, line, and sinker hook hook shop
hook hook something down hook off the hook
hook on one's own hook hook ring off the hook hook sky hook
hooky play hooky
hoot don't give a hoot hoover hoovering
Hoover J. Edgar (Hoover) hop channel hopping hop hopped up hop hopping mad
hop Hop to it!
hop sock hop
hopper in the hopper hops full of hops
horn blow one's own horn
horn toot one's own horn
horse dark horse
horse dead horse horse get on one's horse horse hold one's horses

horse horse around
horse horse cock
horse horse doctor
horse horse hockey
horse horse laugh
horse horse opera
horse horse's ass
horse one-horse town horse on one's high horse horse on the horse horse salt horse horse straight from the horse's mouth hose air hose
hose hose someone down
hot drop someone or something like a hot potato hot full of hot air
hot get hot hot have hot pants (for someone) hot have the hots (for someone) hot hot air
hot hot check
hot Hot diggety (dog)!
hot Hot dog!
hot hot head
hot hot item
hot hot number
hot hot paper
hot hot potato
hot (hot) rod
hot hot seat
hot hot shit
hot (hot) skinny
hot hot stuff
hot hot tip
hot hot under the collar
hot hot wire
hot Hot ziggety!
hot in the hot seat
hot make it hot for someone hot red hot
hot red-hot mama hotbed hotbed of something hotel Graybar Hotel
hound chow hound
hound cunt hound
hound hooch hound
hound pot hound
hour banker's hours
hour happy hour
house big house
house call house
house crack house
house headache house house house moss
house house of many doors

house juice house house wear the pants (in the house) how And how!
how How does that grab you?
how How goes it?
how How('re) they hanging?
how how the other half lives how How ya living?
howl howling (drunk)
huey hang a huey
hug commode-hugging drunk hug hug the porcelain god(dess) hug hug the throne
hughie call hughie
hughie cry hughie
hum hum job
hump hump (along)
hump hump it (to somewhere)
hump over the hump
hung hung like a bull hunger from hunger
hunger (strictly) from hunger hunk hunk of ass hunk hunk of tail
hunt head hunt
hurry hurry up and wait hurt hurt for someone or something hush hush money
hush hush someone up hush hush something up hustle ear hustling hype blow a hype
hype hype artist
hype hyped (up)
hype hype something up
ice Bite the ice!
ice break the ice
ice cut no ice (with someone) ice ice palace
ice ice queen
ice on ice
ice stink on ice
ice walk on thin ice iceberg iceberg slim
icing icing on the cake idea foggiest (idea)
idea idea box
idiot blithering idiot idiot idiot box
idiot idiot card
idiot idiot juice
idiot idiot light idiot idiot oil
idiot idiot pills
idle bone idle
if As if!

- if if I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times if if one knows what's good for one if if one's a day
 if if push comes to shove
 if If that don't fuck all!
 if If you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen.
 if if you'll pardon the expression immediately get one's tail somewhere immediately! incohol under the affluence of incohol industry captain of industry injun honest injun
 ink gay as pink ink ink ink slinger
 ink red ink ins ins and outs
 inside inside dope
 inside inside job
 inside inside out
 iron big iron
 iron cast-iron stomach
 iron pump iron
 iron pump (some) iron
 iron shooting iron
 Irvine Charlie Irvine
 issue dead issue
 itch have an itch for something itch seven-year itch
 item hot item
 ivory ivory tower
 ivory tickle the ivories
 jab jab pop
 jab take a jab at someone jack jack around
 jack jacked (out)
 jack jacked up
 jack jack off
 jack jack someone around
 jack jack someone up
 jack jack something up
 jackpot hit the jackpot
 jag jag off
 jam in a jam
 jam jammed up
 jam toe jam
 Jane Jane Doe
 Jane Jane Q. Public
 Jane Mary Jane
 jawbone diarrhea of the jawbone Jay Peter Jay
 jazz all that jazz
 jazz jazzed (up)
 jazz jazz someone or something up jeans cream one's jeans jelly jelly babies
 jelly jelly sandals jelly jelly shoes
 jerk jerk around jerk jerk off
 jerk jerk someone around jerk jerk someone over Jesus Jesus boots
 jewel family jewels
 jiffy in a jiff(y)
 jig jig is up jimmy jimmy cap
 jive blow jive
 jive jive talk
 jive jive turkey
 jive pull jive
 job blow job
 job con job
 job do a job on someone or something
 job do a snow job on someone job hum job
 job inside job
 job land a job job nose job
 job pull a job job put-up job job snow job job wall job
 jobber jobber as a sudge jock video jock jockey bench jockey jockey desk jockey
 jockey disc jockey
 jockey disk jockey
 Joe good Joe
 Joe holy Joe
 Joe Joe Blow
 Joe Joe Citizen
 Joe Joe College
 Joe Joe Doakes
 Joe Joe Schmo
 Joe Joe Six-pack
 Joe quality Joe
 John big John
 John Dear John letter
 John John Doe
 John John Hancock
 John John Q. Public
 john square john
 john square john broad
 John who shot John
 Johnny John(ny) Law
 join joined at the hip joint blow the joint joint case the joint joint clip joint

- joint creep joint joint get one's nose out of joint joint heavy joint joint juice joint
joint put someone's nose out of joint joint square joint joke dirty joke
jones scag jones
jones skag jones
joy bundle of joy
joy joy dust
joy joy flakes
joy joy juice
joy joy ride
joy joy water
judge sober as a judge
jug federal jug
jug jugged (up)
jug jug up
jug jug wine
juice big juice juice BO juice
juice cactus juice
juice cow juice
juice gorilla juice
juice happy juice
juice idiot juice
juice joy juice
juice juice freak
juice juice house
juice juice joint juice juice racket
juice juice something back juice jungle juice juice juniper juice juice moo juice
juice on the juice
juice tiger juice
juice tornado juice
jump Go jump in the lake!
jump jump bail
jump jump smooth
jump jump-start someone jump jump (street)
jump jump the gun
jump one jump ahead of someone or something jump puddle jumper
jump Take a running jump (in the lake!) jungle asphalt jungle jungle jungle juice
jungle jungle mouth juniper juniper juice
junk junk bond
junk junk fax
junk junk food
junk junk heap
junk Junk it!
junk junk mail
junk junk squad
junk junk tank junk on the junk
just just off the boat
just just the ticket
just just what the doctor ordered just not just whistling Dixie kahuna big kahuna kangaroo kangaroo court keen peachy (keen)
keep for keeps
keep If you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen.
keep keep cool
keep Keep in touch.
keep Keep it real!
keep keep one's cool
keep keep one's head right
keep keep one's nose clean keep Keep on trucking.
keep Keep out of this!
keep Keep the faith (baby)!
keep Keep your hands to yourself.
keep Keep your nose out of my business!
keep Keep your pants on!
keep Keep your shirt on!
keep play for keeps
keep Where have you been keeping yourself?
keg keg party
Kentucky Kentucky fried key church key
key keyed (up)
key keyed up to the roof key key figure
key key grip
kibosh put the kibosh on something kick for kicks
kick get a kick out of someone or something kick get one's kicks (from someone or something) kick kick around kick kick-ass on someone kick kick back kick kick cold (turkey) kick kick down with something kick kick freak
kick kick in the ass
kick kick in the butt kick kick in the guts
kick kick in the rear kick kick in the (seat of the) pants kick kick in the teeth kick kick in the wrist

- kick kick it
kick kick (off)
kick kick party
kick kick some ass (around)
kick kick the bucket
kick kick the habit
kick kick the shit out of someone kick kick up a storm kid dead-end kid
kid I kid you not.
kid I'm not kidding.
kid kid stuff
kid No kidding!
kid punk kid
kid snotnose(d) kid
kid whiz kid
kill dressed to kill
kill fill or kill kill killed (off)
kill killer weed
kill make a killing
kilter out of kilter
kimono open (up) one's kimono king Cash is king.
king King Grod
king King Kong pills
king King Kong specials kingdom till kingdom come kiss air kiss
kiss (Do) you kiss your momma with that mouth? kiss French kiss
kiss Kiss my ass!
kiss kiss of death
kiss kiss off
kiss kiss someone or something off kiss kiss someone's ass kiss kiss someone's hind tit kiss kiss something good-bye kiss kiss something off kiss kiss the dust kiss kiss the porcelain god kiss kiss up to someone kiss right in the kisser kiss sealed with a kiss kiss soul kiss
kiss You kiss your momma with that mouth?
kit kit and caboodle
kitchen If you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen.
kite fly kites
kite Go fly a kite!
kitten have kittens
kitten sex kitten knee knee-deep in something knee knee-deep navy
knee knee-high to a grasshopper knee up to one's knees knife long knife
knob get one's knob polished knock knock around knock knock back a drink knock knock boots
knock knocked in knock knocked out
knock knocked up
knock Knock it off!
knock knock off (work)
knock knock one back knock knock one over
knock knock some heads together
knock knock someone dead
knock knock someone off knock knock someone out
knock knock someone's block off knock knock someone some skin knock knock someone's socks off knock knock someone up knock knock something down knock knock something into a cocked hat
knock knock something off knock knock something out knock knock something together knock knock the habit knock knock the shit out of someone knock You could have knocked me over with a feather. knockdown knockdown drag-out fight
knot tie the knot
know Don't I know it!
know for all I know
know I don't know.
know if one knows what's good for one
know in the know
know know all the angles know know from something know know one's ass from a hole in the ground know know shit from Shinola
know know the score
know know what's what know know where it's at know know where one is coming from know know which end is up know like, you know
know not know beans (about something)
know not know from nothing know not know one's ass from a hole in the ground know not know shit about something know not know shit from Shinola know You don't know the half of it.

- knowledge drop someone some knowledge knuckle knuckle bones
knuckle knuckle down (to something) knuckle knuckle sandwich
knuckle knuckle under (to someone or something) knuckle white knuckler Kong Hong Kong dog
Kong King Kong pills
Kong King Kong specials label label mate
lady boss lady lady foxy lady lady ladies' room
lady lady bear
lady Lady Snow
lady old lady lady till the fat lady sings lady when the fat lady sings laff belly laff
laid laid back
laid laid out
laid laid to the bone
lake Go jump in the lake!
lake Take a running jump (in the lake)!
lam on the lam
lam take it on the lam lamb two shakes of a lamb's tail lame lame duck
lamppost between you, me, and the lamppost land land a blow land land a job
land land office business language barnyard language language speak someone's language lap lap of luxury lap Make a lap!
lard lard ass
lard tub of lard
large Living large.
last last roundup
last last straw
last on one's last legs latch latch onto something later Catch you later.
later See you later.
later See you later, alligator.
lather work oneself (up) into a lather latrine latrine lips latrine latrine rumor
latrine latrine wireless laugh belly laugh
laugh Don't make me laugh!
laugh double up (with laughter) laugh horse laugh
laugh laugh at the carpet laugh laughing academy laugh laughing soup laugh laughing water
laugh liquid laugh
launch launch (one's lunch) laundry dirty laundry laundry laundry list lavender lay someone out in lavender law bend the law
law John(ny) Law
law long arm of the law lawn mow one's lawn
lawn mow the lawn
lay laid back
lay laid out lay laid to the bone lay lay a guilt trip on someone lay lay a (heavy) trip on someone lay lay an egg
lay lay down
lay lay it on the line
lay lay off (someone or something) lay lay one on lay lay someone out lay lay someone out in lavender lay lay (some) rubber lay lay some sweet lines on someone lay lay something on someone lay lay something out
lead Get the lead out!
lead go over like a lead balloon lead have lead in one's pencil lead lead poisoning league big league
league play in the big leagues leak take a leak
lean lean and mean leash have one's brain on a leash leash on a tight leash leave leave someone cold leave make like a tree and leave leave Take it or leave it.
leeky leeky store
left hang a left
left left-handed monkey wrench
left out in left field
left out of left field
leg Break a leg!
leg have a leg up on someone leg leg work leg on one's last legs
leg pull someone's leg
leg shake a leg
leg stretch one's legs Legree Simon Legree

length on the same wavelength less I could(n't) care less. let let a fart
let Let her rip!
let let it all hang out
let Let it roll!
let let off (some) steam let let one
let Let's bump this place!
let Let's do lunch (sometime).
let Let's dump.
let Let's have it!
let let something ride
let let's say
letter dead letter
letter Dear John letter letter red-letter day level level best level level one's locks level level the locks
level level with someone
level on the level
lick lick and a promise lick lick something into shape licorice licorice stick lid blow one's lid
lid blow the lid off something
lid flip one's lid
lid lid poppers lid lid proppers
lie lie doggo
lie No lie!
lie pack of lies
life facts of life
life Get a life!
life You bet your sweet life!
lift lift one's elbow light fly light
light green light
light idiot light
light light bulb light light into someone light lights out light light stuff
light out like a light
light punch someone's lights out lighten lighten up (on someone or something)
lightly once over lightly lightning greased lightning lightning lightning rod like all over someone like a cheap suit like and stuff like that (there) like bleed like a stuck pig like built like a brick shithouse like cling like shit to a shovel

like come on like gangbusters
like drop someone or something like a hot potato like go over like a lead balloon like go through someone like a dose of (the) salts like hung like a bull
like like a bat out of hell
like like a million (dollars) like like a ton of bricks
like like crazy
like like death warmed over like like gangbusters like Like hell!
like Like I care.
like Like it or lump it!
like Like it's such a big deal.
like like mad
like like nobody's business like like stink
like like there was no tomorrow like like the white on rice like like, you know like make like a tree and leave like make like someone or something like out like a light
like purr (like a cat)
like smell like a rose like smoke like a chimney like stick like shit to a shovel
like stick out like a sore thumb
like swear like a trooper like talk like a nut like tap dance like mad like Tell it like it is.
limit go the limit
limit sky's the limit limp (limp) dishrag
line blow one's lines
line bottom line
line do a line
line fire a line
line go down the line line hook, line, and sinker line lay it on the line line lay some sweet lines on someone line line one's own pocket(s)
line out of line
line put some sweet lines on someone line run down some lines line stag line
linen dirty linen
lion lion's share
lip Button your lip!
lip fat lip
lip get lip

lip	latrine lips	lone	lone wolf
lip	lip gloss	long	ain't long enough lip	Read my lips!	long	long arm of the law lip	Watch my lips!	long	long bread lip	Zip (up) your lip!	long	long dozen lip	Zip your lip!	long	long green liquid	liquid cork	long	long knife liquid	liquid laugh	long	long shot liquor	hard liquor	long	long story short liquor	hold one's liquor	long	Long time no see.
list	drop-dead list	long	So long.
list	hit list	long	take the (long) count list	laundry list	look	come-hither look list	shopping list	look	dirty look list	sucker list	look	(good) looker
list	want list	look	Here's looking at you.
list	wish list	look	look after number one listen	I'm listening.	look	Look alive!
listen	listen up	look	Look (at) what the cat dragged in!
lit	lit up	look	Look who's talking!
little	have a little visitor	loony	loony bin little	little black book	loop	fruit loop little	little boy blue	loop	throw someone for a loop little	little boys' room	loose	at loose ends little	little girls' room	loose	cut loose little	(little) pinkie	loose	cut one's wolf loose little	little shit	loose	hang loose live	all the way live	loose	have a loose screw live	Excuse me for living!	loose	have a screw loose live	how the other half lives	loose	loose cannon live	How ya living?	loose	play fast and loose (with someone or something) live	(live) wire	loose	stay loose live	Living large.	loose	tear loose (from someone or something) live	Pardon me for living!	loosener	tongue loosener live	(Well,) pardon me for living!	lord	drug lord live	where someone lives	Lord	Lord love a duck!
liver	chopped liver	lose	lose a bundle load	carrying a (heavy) load	lose	lose (all) one's marbles load	dump one's load	lose	lose it load	get a load off one's feet	lose	lose one's cool load	get a load off one's mind	lose	lose one's doughnuts load	get a load of something or someone	lose	lose one's grip load	have a load on	lose	lose one's hold load	loaded for bear	lose	lose one's lunch load	loaded question	lose	lose one's shirt load	loaded remark	lose	losing streak load	loaded to the barrel	lose	two-time loser load	loaded to the gills	lose	Win a few, lose a few.
load	one brick shy of a load	loss	cut one's losses
load	take a load off one's feet	lost	Get lost!
load	three bricks shy of a load	lost	lost-and-found badge
local	local yokel	lost	lost cause lock	goldie locks	lost	lost in the sauce
lock	level one's locks	lot	Lots of luck!
lock	level the locks
loco	plumb loco

lot take a lot of nerve louie hang a louie
louse louse something up lousy lousy with someone or something love For the love of Mike!
love (I) love it!
love Lord love a duck!
love love bombs
love (love) handles
love Love it!
love Love you!
love puppy love
low burn with a low blue flame low down low low low blow
low low five
low low rent
low straight low
luck Better luck next time.
luck Lots of luck!
luck luck of the draw
luck luck out
luck out of luck
luck rotten luck
luck tough luck
lucky lucky dog
lucre filthy lucre
luggie hock a luggie
lump get one's lumps
lump Like it or lump it!
lump Lump it!
lump take one's lumps lunch blow lunch
lunch blow (one's) lunch
lunch eat someone's lunch lunch free lunch
lunch launch (one's lunch)
lunch Let's do lunch (sometime). lunch lose one's lunch
lunch out to lunch
lunch spot of lunch
lunch toss one's lunch lush lush up
luxury lap of luxury
Ma Ma Bell
Mac Big Mac attack
mac mac out
mace mace someone's face mack mack daddy
mack mack on someone
mackerel Holy mackerel!
mad boiling (mad)
mad get mad (at something) mad hopping mad
mad like mad
mad mad money

mad tap dance like mad made have it made made have it made in the shade Madison Madison Avenue
magazine girlie magazine magic magic bullet magic magic mushrooms magnet nerd magnet
mail junk mail
main main drag
main main squeeze
main main stash
make Don't make a federal case out of it!
make Don't make me laugh!
make easy make make It don't make (me) no nevermind.
make make a boo-boo
make make a bundle
make make a federal case out of something
make make a killing
make Make a lap!
make make a mountain
make make a pig of oneself
make make a pile
make make a score
make make a stink (about someone or something)
make make book on something
make make for somewhere
make make hamburger out of someone or something
make make it
make make (it) big make make it hot for someone make Make it snappy!
make make like a tree and leave make make like someone or something make make mincemeat out of someone or something make Make my day!
make Make no mistake (about it)!
make make one's bed
make make oneself scarce
make make out
make make-out artist
make make someone
make make the scene
make make tracks
make make waves
make make with the something
make on the make make run a make on someone make Wanna make sumpin' of it?
make Want to make something of it?
male male chauvinist pig mama go home to mama

- mama mama bear
mama My mama didn't raise no dummy. mama red-hot mama
mama yo mama
man big man on campus
man boss man
man candy man
man company man
man con man
man dead man
man dirty old man
man face man
man front man
man fuzz man
man good-time man
man have a man by the balls man headache man
man hit man
man man on the street man my man
man old man
man one-man show man point man
man repo man
man see a man about a dog
man So's your old man!
man stick man
man straight man
man strong-arm man
man wheel man
man whiskers (man)
man You heard the man.
many house of many doors many one too many map throw a map
marble have all one's marbles marble lose (all) one's marbles marble Marble City marble marble dome
marble marble orchard mare shank's mare
marine dead marine marine marine officer
marine marine (recruit) mark easy mark
mark mark time mark skid marks
mark X marks the spot.
market slave market
market spot market
Mary Mary J.
Mary Mary Jane
match whole shooting match mate label mate
max grody to the max
max maxed out
max max out
max to the max maximus dorkus maximus
maybe I don't mean maybe!
McCoy (real) McCoy
meadow meadow muffin meal meals rejected by Ethiopians meal meals rejected by the enemy meal square (meal)
mean I don't mean maybe!
mean lean and mean
mean mean business
mean mean something meat all meat and no potatoes meat all (that) meat and no potatoes meat beat one's meat meat beat the meat
meat buzzard meat
meat dog meat
meat meat wagon
meat mystery meat
meat pound one's meat medicine snakebite medicine meeting Fancy meeting you here.
meeting meeting of the minds meeting nice meeting you mell mell of a hess mellow mellow out melvin give someone a melvin men men in blue men men's room
mental go mental mental mental giant mental mental midget
meow cat's meow
merchant speed merchant mess hell of a mess mess mess about (with someone) mess mess about (with something) mess mess around (with someone) mess mess around (with something) mess messed up
mess mess someone or something up mess mess someone's face up mess mess someone up mess mess up
mess mess with someone or something message Get the message?
metal put the pedal to the metal meth meth monster
Mexican Mexican breakfast Mickey Mickey D's
Mickey Mickey finished Mickey Mickey (Finn)
mickey mickey mouse
mickey mickey mouse ears

- mickey mickey mouse habit Mickey slip someone a Mickey middle middle of nowhere middle smack (dab) in the middle midget mental midget mifky mifky-pifky (in the bushes)
Mike For the love of Mike!
milk milk a duck
milk tiger('s) milk
mill gin mill
mill through the mill
million like a million (dollars) Milquetoast Caspar Milquetoast Milwaukee Milwaukee goiter
mincemeat make mincemeat out of someone or something
mind blow someone's mind
mind fuck someone's mind (up)
mind get a load off one's mind mind have one's mind in the gutter mind meeting of the minds mind mind your own beeswax
mind never mind
mind one-track mind
mine back to the salt mines
mine Your guess is as good as mine.
mine Your place or mine?
mink fly mink
mirror done by mirrors mirror done with mirrors mirror smoke and mirrors miss Good golly, Miss Molly!
miss miss the boat
mistake Make no mistake (about it)!
mix mixed (up)
mix mix it up (with someone) mobile nerd mobile mod mod poser
mode in one's something mode moist moist around the edges mojo on the mojo
moldy moldy fig
moley Holy moley!
Molly Good golly, Miss Molly!
momma (Do) you kiss your momma with that mouth?
momma You kiss your momma with that mouth?
mommy freak mommy
Monday dark Monday
money color of someone's money money easy money money folding money
money front money
money heavy money
money hush money
money mad money
money money from home
money money grubber
money money talks
money on the money
money pull down an amount of money money push money
money Put your money where your mouth is!
money shell an amount of money out money shell out (an amount of money) money smart money
money soft money
money spending money money throw money at something money tight money
monkey grease monkey monkey have a monkey on one's back monkey left-handed monkey wrench monkey monkey around (with someone) monkey monkey around (with something) monkey monkey bite
monkey monkey business
monkey monkey swill
monkey monkey talk
monkey monkey wagon
monkey monkey wards monkey monkey with someone or something monkey powder monkey monster meth monster
monster monster weed Montezuma Montezuma's revenge moo moo juice
moon once in a blue moon
moonlight moonlight requisition mop Earp slop, bring the mop.
mop mopping-up operation
mop mop the floor up with someone mop That's the way the mop flops.
mope mope around
more more than one bargained for more Run that by (me) one more time. morning morning after (the night before) moss house moss
most firstest with the mostest mother dog's mother mother mother nature('s) motor get someone's motor running mountain make a mountain mountain (mountain) dew mouse bald-headed mouse mouse mickey mouse
mouse mickey mouse ears mouse mickey mouse habit mouse mouse potato
mouse one-eyed pants mouse mouth big mouth

- mouth diarrhea of the mouth mouth (Do) you eat with that mouth?
mouth (Do) you kiss your momma with that mouth?
mouth foot-in-mouth disease mouth foul mouth
mouth garbage mouth
mouth have a big mouth
mouth jungle mouth
mouth mouth full of South mouth mouth off
mouth potty mouth
mouth Put your money where your mouth is!
mouth run off at the mouth
mouth shoot one's mouth off mouth Shut your mouth!
mouth smart mouth
mouth straight from the horse's mouth mouth toilet mouth
mouth trash mouth
mouth Watch your mouth!
mouth You eat with that mouth?
mouth You kiss your momma with that mouth?
move bust a move
move move on someone move movers and shakers move put the moves on someone mow mow one's lawn
mow mow the lawn
Mr. Mr. Big
Mr. Mr. Hawkins
Mr. Mr. Nice Guy
Mr. Mr. Right
Mr. Mr. Whiskers
Mrs. Mrs. Murphy
much bit much much put too much on it much So much for that.
much thank you very much much too much muchachos adios muchachos muck high mucky-muck muck muck something up
mucky high mucky-muck
mud clear as mud
mud Here's mud in your eye.
mud mud duck
mud stick in the mud
muddle muddled (up)
muff dive a muff muffin cut a muffin muffin meadow muffin mug mug shot
munch munch out
munchies (blind) munchies mung mung something up
murder scream bloody murder
Murphy Mrs. Murphy
mushroom magic mushrooms mushroom sacred mushrooms music chin music music elevator music
music face the music
music Stop the music!
musical musical beds
must (must) do
mustard cut the mustard mystery mystery meat mystic mystic biscuit
nab Uncle nab
nail coffin nail
nail eat nails
nail nail someone(s) hide) to the wall nail nail someone to a cross nail throw up one's toenails nail thumbnail sketch naked buck naked
naked butt naked
naked get naked
naked naked truth
name big name
name cigarette with no name name name of the game
name Name your poison.
name no name cigarette
name take names
name what's his name
nap take a dirt nap narkied get narkied narrow narrow squeak natch on the natch
nature call of nature
nature mother nature(s) nature nature's call nature nature stop
nause nause someone out navy knee-deep navy
neato neato (canito)
Nebraska Nebraska sign neck dead from the neck up neck get it in the neck
neck heavy necking
neck neck and neck
neck pain in the neck neck shot in the neck neck up to one's neck need baby needs shoes need That's all someone needs.
needle needle candy
needle on the needle Nellie nervous Nellie

- nerd nerd magnet
nerd nerd mobile
nerd nerd pack
nerve bundle of nerves
nerve Of all the nerve!
nerve take a lot of nerve nerve What (a) nerve!
nervous nervous Nellie nest nest egg
net net result
net surf the net
never never mind
nevermind It don't make (me) no nevermind.
new (brand) spanking new new New York's finest new spanking new new That's a new one on me.
new What else is new?
new What's new?
new whole new ball game
news bad news
next Better luck next time.
nice Have a nice day.
nice Have a nice one.
nice Mr. Nice Guy
nice nice meeting you nice nice talking to you Nick full of Old Nick nickel double nickels nickel nickel and dime someone (to death) nickel not worth a plugged nickel night dark night
night morning after (the night before) night night person
night one-night stand night Saturday night special nine dressed to the nines nine whole nine yards nineteenth nineteenth hole ninny bliss ninny
nip nip and tuck
nitty get down to the nitty-gritty no all meat and no potatoes no all (that) meat and no potatoes no cigarette with no name no Close, but no cigar.
no cut no ice (with someone)
no feeling no pain
no It don't make (me) no nevermind.
no like there was no tomorrow
no Long time no see.
no Make no mistake (about it)!
no My mama didn't raise no dummy.
no no bargain
no no big deal
no no biggie
no no big whoop
no no brand cigarette
no no can do
no no dice
no no earthly reason
no no end of something
no No fair!
no no go
no no great shakes
no no holds barred
no No kidding!
no No lie!
no no name cigarette
no No nukes!
no No problem.
no no sale
no No Shinola!
no No shit!
no no show
no no soap
no no stress
no no sweat
no No way!
no no-win situation
no see no further than the end of one's nose Noble Charlie Noble
nobody like nobody's business nobody There's nobody home.
nod get the nod
nod give someone the nod nod nodded out noggin Use your noggin!
noise big noise
non non compos
non non compos poopoo
none none of someone's beeswax
noodle Use your noodle!
noodle wet noodle
nose cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose nose get one's nose cold nose get one's nose out of joint nose Get your nose out of my business! nose have one's nose wide open
nose keep one's nose clean nose Keep your nose out of my business!
nose nose (candy)
nose nose habit
nose nose hit
nose nose job
nose on the nose
nose powder one's nose nose put one's nose in (where it's not wanted)
nose put someone's nose out of joint nose rub someone's nose in something nose see no further than the end of one's nose nose snotnose(d) kid nose stick one's nose in (where it's not wanted) nose take it on the nose nose take it through the nose nose turn up one's nose at someone or something nose wiener nose nosebag put on the nosebag nosebag tie on the nosebag

nosedive take a nosedive nosh nosh on something nosy nosy parker
not have-nots
not I kid you not.
not I'm not kidding.
not (It's) not my dog.
not not a chance
not not all that not not all there
not not cricket
not not enough room to swing a cat
not not grow on trees not not just whistling Dixie not not know beans (about something)
not not know from nothing
not not know one's ass from a hole in the ground not not know shit about something not not know shit from Shinola not Not my dog.
not not too shabby
not Not to worry.
not not worth a damn
not not worth a plugged nickel
not not worth beans
not put one's nose in (where it's not wanted) not stick one's nose in (where it's not wanted) not would not be seen dead notch pull one's belt in (a notch) notch take one's belt in (a notch) note century note
note hell of a note
note swap notes (on someone or something) nothing abbreviated piece of nothing nothing in nothing flat
nothing Nothing doing!
nothing Nothing to it!
nothing nothing to sneeze at
nothing nothing to write home about nothing nothing upstairs
nothing not know from nothing nothing sweet nothings

nothing wearing (nothing but) a smile now get one's tail somewhere now!
now now generation
now Now what?
now Now you're talking!
nowhere get nowhere fast nowhere middle of nowhere nuke No nukes!
nuke Nuke it!
nuke nuke oneself
numb numbed out number A number 1 number back number number do a number on someone number do a number on something number have the wrong number number hot number number look after number one number number crunching number number one number number two number take care of number one numero numero uno
numero take care of numero uno nut bust one's nuts to do something nut drive someone nuts nut eco nut
nut everything from soup to nuts nut get one's nuts off nut nut factory
nut nuts and bolts
nut Nuts to you!
nut nut up
nut off one's nut
nut talk like a nut
nut tough nut to crack
nutty nutty as a fruitcake
odd odd bird
offering burnt offering office land office business officer marine officer
oil banana oil
oil castor oil artist
oil idiot oil
oil oil it
oil tongue oil
oink oink out
old dirty old man
old full of Old Nick
old good old boy
old old flame
old old fogey
old old girl
old old hand (at something)
old old hat
old old heave-ho

- old old lady
old old man
old old one-two old old skool
old old soldier old old woman
old rare old time
old same old story
old same o(l)' same o(l)' old So's your old man!
oldie oldie but goodie
once if I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times once once and for all
once once in a blue moon
once once-over
once once over lightly
one back to square one
one bite the big one one bust someone one
one buy the big one
one cut one
one day one
one dead one
one fast one
one frosty one
one get one right here
one hang one on one Have a good one.
one Have a nice one.
one have one foot in the grave
one hoist one
one if one knows what's good for one one knock one back
one knock one over one know where one is coming from one lay one on one let one
one look after number one one more than one bargained for one number one
one old one-two one one and one
one one and only one one brick shy of a load one one-eyed pants mouse one one for the road
one one-horse town
one one jump ahead of someone or something one one-man show
one one-night stand
one one of the faithful one one smart apple one one too many one one-track mind
one paste someone one
one pull a fast one
one quick one
one quit while one is ahead
one Run that by (me) one more time.
one short one
one so bad one can taste it one take care of number one one talk until one is blue in the face one tall one
one Tell me another (one)!
one That's a new one on me.
one throw one out on one's ear one tie one on one wet one
only one and only
only only way to go onto latch onto something onto onto a good thing
onto onto someone or something onto turn onto someone or something open blow something wide open open bust something wide open
open crack open a bottle
open have one's nose wide open open open (up) one's kimono open wide open
open with (one's) eyes (wide) open opera horse opera operation mopping-up operation operator big-time operator operator smooth operator opportunity golden opportunity orbit go into orbit
orbit in orbit
orchard bone orchard orchard marble orchard order doctor's orders
order just what the doctor ordered order tall order other how the other half lives out I'm outa here.
out ins and outs
out on the outs (with someone) outie I'm outie.
outside step outside
outside You want to step outside?
overboard go overboard
own blow one's own horn
own cut one's own throat own devil's own time
own do one's (own) thing
own line one's own pocket(s) own mind your own beeswax own on one's own hook own talk to hear one's own voice

- own toot one's own horn ox dumb ox
oyster world is one's oyster ozone in the ozone
pace at a snail's pace
pack Joe Six-pack
pack nerd pack
pack packing (a gun)
pack pack of lies pad crash pad
pad earth pads
pad pad out
paddle up shit creek (without a paddle) paddle up the creek (without a paddle) paddy paddy wagon
page on the same page page take a page from someone's book pain feeling no pain
pain give someone a pain pain pain in the ass pain pain in the butt pain pain in the neck pain pain in the rear pain royal pain
paint Do I have to paint (you) a picture?
paint paint remover
paint paint the town (red) paint tonsil paint paint war paint
pal pal around (with someone) pal pally (with someone) palace gin palace
palace ice palace
pally pally (with someone)
palm grease someone's palm palm palm someone or something off (on someone) palm palm something off on someone
pan pan out
panic hit the panic button
panic press the panic button
panic push the panic button pants bore the pants off (of) someone pants cream (in) one's pants pants dust someone's pants pants get in(to) someone's pants pants have ants in one's pants pants have hot pants (for someone) pants Keep your pants on!
pants kick in the (seat of the) pants pants one-eyed pants mouse pants pants rabbits pants scare the pants off someone pants sue the pants off (of) someone pants wear the pants (in the house) paper bad paper
paper green paper
paper hot paper
paper paper over something paper walking papers parachute golden parachute
parade rain on someone's parade pardon if you'll pardon the expression pardon Pardon me for living!
pardon Pardon my French.
pardon (Well,) pardon me for living!
parental (parental) units park ball park estimate park ball park figure park park it (somewhere) parker nosy parker
parlor sauce parlor
part parting shot
party certain party
party coke party
party free base party party grass party
party hen party
party keg party
party kick party
party party animal
party party bowl
party party down
party party hearty
party Party on!
party pot party
party tailgate party party tea party
pasa Que pasa?
pass pass for something pass pass go
pass pass the buck
paste paste someone one pat stand pat (on something) path on the warpath
patootie You bet your sweet patoot(ie)!
patrol bush patrol
patter patter of tiny feet pavement hit the pavement
pay hit pay dirt
pay pay a call
pay pay one's dues
pay pay one's dues (to society) pay pay the water bill pay strike pay dirt
pay There will be hell to pay.
peace peace out peachy peachy (keen)
peanut for peanuts
peanut peanut head
pedal put the pedal to the metal pedal soft pedal something

- pee pee'd off
 peep another peep (out of you) peeve pet peeve peg peg someone peg square peg (in a round hole) pencil have lead in one's pencil penny pretty penny
 people people watching people street people
 pep pepped (up)
 pep pep pill
 pep pep talk
 pepper salt and pepper
 percenter ten percenter period honeymoon (period) perked perked (up)
 person day person
 person night person
 pet pet peeve
 Pete For Pete's sake!
 Peter Peter Jay
 peter peter out
 phone talk on the big white phone phony phony as a three-dollar bill pick pick up on something pick roach pick picture Do I have to draw (you) a picture?
 picture Do I have to paint (you) a picture?
 picture Get the picture?
 picture out of the picture picture take pictures piddle piddle (around)
 pie cutie pie
 pie pie in the sky
 piece abbreviated piece of nothing piece cold piece of work piece piece of ass
 piece piece of cake
 piece piece of snatch piece piece of tail piece piece (of the action) pifky mifky-pifky (in the bushes) pig bleed like a stuck pig pig bush pig
 pig make a pig of oneself pig male chauvinist pig pig pig heaven
 pig pig out
 pigeon clay pigeon
 pigeon stool (pigeon)
 pile make a pile
 pile pile of shit
 pill gorilla pills
 pill happy pills
 pill idiot pills
 pill King Kong pills pill on the pill
 pill pep pill
 pill pill freak
 pill poison pill
 pill take a chill pill pillar send someone from pillar to post pimp pimp steak
 pimp popcorn pimp
 pin pin someone's ears back pinch pinch hitter
 pink gay as pink ink pink in the pink pink pink elephants
 pink pink slip pink pink spiders pink seeing pink elephants pink seeing pink spiders pink tickled (pink)
 pinkie (little) pinkie pipe hash pipe
 pipe pipe down
 pipe Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
 pipe set of pipes
 pipe take the gas pipe pipe take the pipe
 pipeline in the pipeline piped piped (up)
 piss piss around
 piss piss blood
 piss pissed off about someone or something piss pissed (off) (at someone or something) piss piss elegant piss piss factory
 piss piss in the wind
 piss piss off
 piss Piss on it!
 piss piss on someone or something piss piss someone off piss piss something away piss take the piss out of someone pit bottomless pit
 pit pit stop
 pitch pitch a bitch
 pitch pitch a tent
 pitch pitch in (and help)
 pitch Pitch it!
 pitch pitch (the) woo pitchforks rain pitchforks pity For pity's sake!
 pizza road pizza
 place bag ass (out of some place) place barrel ass (out of some place)
 place between a rock and a hard place place bust ass (out of some place) place cut ass (out of some place) place drag ass (out of some place)

- place go places place haul ass (out of some place) place Let's bump this place!
place shag ass (out of some place) place tear into a place place wide place in the road place Your place or mine?
plan game plan plant plant something on someone plaster plastered to the wall plaster pleasantly plastered plastic plastic punk play grandstand play
play in play play play around (with someone)
play play ball (with someone)
play play fast and loose (with someone or something)
play play for keeps
play play freeze-out play play hardball (with someone) play play hell with someone or something play play hide the sausage
play play hooky
play play in the big leagues
play play it cool
play play someone for a fool play play the devil with someone or something play play the dozens play play tonsil hockey play play with a full deck play play with fire
play squeeze play
play way it plays
plea cop a plea
pleasantly pleasantly plastered pledge take the pledge plonk plonked (up)
plop cow plop
plow plowed (under) plug not worth a plugged nickel plug plugged in plug pull the plug (on someone or something) plumb half a bubble off plumb plumb plumb loco plumbing check out the plumbing plumbing visit the plumbing plunge take the plunge pocket deep pockets pocket line one's own pocket(s) pocket out of pocket pocket pocket pool
point brownie points
point point man
point three point two point touch a sore point poison lead poisoning
poison Name your poison.
poison poison pill
pole half up the pole
pole up the pole
pole wouldn't touch someone or something with a ten-foot pole polish get one's knob polished polish polished (up)
polish shoe polish
polish spit and polish pond pond scum
pony dog and pony show pool dirty pool
pool pocket pool
poop pooped (out)
poop poop out
poop poop sheet
poopoo non compos poopoo pop cold pop
pop jab pop
pop pop for something pop pop off
pop pop one's cork
pop pop (some) tops
pop pop the question pop pop wine
pop take a pop at someone pop What's poppin'?
popcorn popcorn pimp
popper lid poppers porcelain bow to the porcelain altar porcelain drive the porcelain bus porcelain hug the porcelain god(dess) porcelain kiss the porcelain god porcelain pray to the porcelain god porcelain ride the porcelain bus porcelain worship the porcelain god(dess) pore air one's pores pork pork out
pose mod poser
posilutely absotively (posilutely) post send someone from pillar to post postal go postal pot pot boiler
pot pot hound
pot pot party
pot pot sniffer
pot sex pot
pot Shit or get off the pot!
pot up pot
potato all meat and no potatoes potato all (that) meat and no potatoes potato couch potato

- potato drop someone or something like a hot potato potato hot potato
potato mouse potato
potato potato soup
potato small potatoes
potty potty mouth
pound pound a beer
pound pound one's ear pound pound one's meat pound pound some beers pound pound someone's head in pound pound something out pound pound the books pour pour cold water on something powder chicken powder powder powdered (up)
powder powder monkey powder powder one's face powder powder one's nose powder powder room
powder powder up powder take a powder
power power hitter
power power tool
pray pray to the enamel god pray pray to the porcelain god president dead president press press (the) flesh
press press the panic button
pretty pretty penny
pretty sitting pretty
primo (el) primo
prince Prince Albert
private private eye
problem No problem.
program get with the program promise lick and a promise prop lid proppers propel self-propelled sandbag
proud do oneself proud
prowl on the prowl
prune full of prunes
psych psyched (out)
psych psyched (up)
psych psych out
psych psych someone out psych psych someone up public go public public Jane Q. Public public John Q. Public public take something public pud pull one's pud puddle puddle jumper
puff cream puff
puke puke hole
pull pull a boner
pull pull a fast one pull pull a job
pull pull an attitude pull pull chocks
pull pull down an amount of money pull pull jive pull pull one's belt in (a notch) pull pull oneself off pull pull one's pud
pull pull one's punches
pull pull one's wire
pull pull out all the stops pull pull someone's chain
pull pull someone's leg
pull pull something off
pull pull the plug (on someone or something) pump pumped (up)
pump pump iron
pump pump ship
pump pump (some) iron pump pump (someone) up pump pump something up pump pump up
pumpkin some pumpkins punch get one's ticket punched punch pull one's punches punch punch someone out punch punch someone's lights out punch rabbit punch
punch roundhouse punch punch Sunday punch
punch telegraph one's punches punch throw a punch punk plastic punk
punk punk kid
punk punk out
punkin some punkins
pup beat the pup
puppy puppy love
pure pure and simple purge urge to purge
purr purr (like a cat)
push cookie pusher
push if push comes to shove push pushing up daisies push push money
push push off
push push the panic button
push street pusher
push when push comes to shove puss glamour puss
pussy pussy fart pussyfoot pussyfoot (around) put put a con on someone put Put a cork in it!

- put put a damper on something put put a smile on someone's face put Put a sock in it!
put put balls on something put put oneself straight put put one's nose in (where it's not wanted) put put on the dog
put put on the feedbag
put put on the nosebag put put on the ritz
put put some distance between someone and someone or something put put someone away
put put someone on
put put someone or something out of the way put put someone out of the way
put put someone's nose out of joint
put put someone to bed with a shovel put put someone up put put some sweet lines on someone put put something away put put something on the street
put Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
put put the arm on someone
put put the bite on someone put put the chill on someone
put put the finger on someone put put the freeze on someone
put put the heat on someone
put put the kibosh on something put put the moves on someone put put them together for someone put put the pedal to the metal
put put the screws on someone put put the skids under someone or something put put the squeeze on someone put put to bed with a shovel
put put to it
put put too much on it put put-up job
put Put up or shut up!
put Put your money where your mouth is!
putz putz around quaff quaff a brew quality quality Joe
que Que pasa?
queen campus queen
queen ice queen
queer queer as a three-dollar bill queer queer fish
queer queer for something question loaded question question pop the question question sixty-four-dollar question quick quick buck
quick quicker than hell quick quick fix quick quick one
quit quit while one is ahead quit Quit your bellyaching!
quote cuff quote
quote quote, unquote rabbit pants rabbits
rabbit rabbit food rabbit rabbit punch
race rat race
rack rack duty
rack racked (up)
rack rack face
rack rack (out)
rack rack something up rack rack time
rack rack up
racket juice racket
rad way rad
rag chew the rag
rag glad rags
rag on the rag
rag rag on someone rag rag out
rag wet rag
ragged talk someone ragged railroad railroad tracks rain rain on someone or something rain rain on someone's parade rain rain pitchforks
rain right as rain
raise hell raiser
raise My mama didn't raise no dummy.
raise raise a stink (about someone or something) raise raise Cain
raise raise hell
raise raise hell (with someone) raise raise hell (with something) raise raise the devil (with someone) raise raise the devil (with something) rake rake on someone rake rake something in ralph call ralph
ralph cry ralph
ralph hang a ralph
ralph ralph something up ram ram something down someone's throat
rank rank and file
rank rank on someone rank rank someone (out) rap bad rap
rap bum rap
rap rap session
rap (rap) sheet

- rap take the rap (for something) rare in rare form
rare rare bird
rare rare old time
rare raring to go
raspberry give someone the raspberry rat hood rat
rat rat around rat rat fink
rat rat (on someone)
rat rat out
rat rat race
rat rug rat
rat sack rat
rat smell a rat
rattle slightly rattled raunch raunch someone out raw raw deal ray bag some rays
ray catch some rays
reach reach for the sky reaction gut reaction (to something) read Read my lips!
ready rough and ready
real 4 real
real for real
real Get real!
real Keep it real!
real real bitch
real real gone
real (real) McCoy
ream ream someone out
rear get off one's rear rear kick in the rear rear pain in the rear rear rear (end)
reason no earthly reason recruit marine (recruit) red Cambodian red red cam (red)
red Chinese red
red paint the town (red) red red gravy
red red hot
red red-hot mama
red red ink
red red-letter day
red red tape
red red tide
red see red
reinvent reinvent the wheel reject meals rejected by Ethiopians reject meals rejected by the enemy remark loaded remark remark snide remark remove paint remover
rent low rent
rent room for rent
repellent shark repellent repo repo man
republic banana republic requisition moonlight requisition
rest Give it a rest!
rest Give me a rest!
result net result
rev rev something up
rev revved (up)
revenge Montezuma's revenge reverse reverse gears rhyme run one's rhymes rice like the white on rice rich filthy rich rich stinking rich
rich strike it rich
rich too rich for someone's blood ride free ride
ride joy ride
ride let something ride
ride ride shotgun
ride ride the porcelain bus ride thumb a ride
right all right
right (bang) dead to rights right dead to rights right get one right here right get right
right hang a right
right have someone dead to rights right keep one's head right right Mr. Right
right right as rain
right right guy
right right in the kisser right (right) up one's alley
right sail (right) through something
right serve someone right
right step right up right straighten up and fly right right Yeah, right!
righteous righteous collar
ring ring a bell
ring ring off the hook ring ringtailed snorter ring ring the bell ring throw one's hat in the ring ringer (dead) ringer (for someone) ringer ringer (for someone) ringtailed ringtailed snorter Rinso go Rinso
rip don't give a rip
rip Let her rip!
rip (rip-)off artist

- rip rip on someone
rip ripped (off)
rip ripped (up)
rip rip snorter
rip rip someone off rip rip something off
rise Rise and shine!
ritz put on the ritz
river send someone up the river river up the river
roach roach clip
roach roach pick
road get the show on the road
road hit the road
road one for the road road on the road
road road apple
road road hog
road road pizza
road smack the road
road wide place in the road roar dull roar
rob rob someone blind robbery highway robbery
rock between a rock and a hard place
rock get one's rocks off rock get one's rocks off (on something) rock have rocks in one's head rock on the rocks rock rock bottom rock rock candy
rockier off one's rocker rocket blow a snot rocket rocket blow snot rockets rocky walking on rocky socks rod (hot) rod
rod lightning rod
roll heads will roll
roll high roller
roll Let it roll!
roll on a roll
roll roll in roll rolling buzz
roof hit the roof
roof keyed up to the roof room back room
room back room boys
room boys in the back room room gab room
room Go to your room!
room ladies' room
room little boys' room room little girls' room room men's room
room not enough room to swing a cat room powder room
room room for rent
room rumpus room
room smoke-filled room room throne room rope rope someone in rose bed of roses
rose smell like a rose rot Rots of ruck!
rot rotten apple
rot rotten egg
rot rotten luck
rot rotten to the core rot software rot
rot spoiled rotten
rough diamond in the rough rough rough and ready
rough rough and tumble
rough rough it
rough rough someone up
rough rough stuff
rough rough time roulette Vatican roulette round round the bend round round tripper
round square peg (in a round hole) roundhouse roundhouse punch roundup last roundup
row skid row row skid row bum
row tough row to hoe
royal royal pain
rub rub someone out
rub rub someone's nose in something rubber burn rubber
rubber lay (some) rubber rubber rubber (check)
rubber rubber sock
ruck Rots of ruck!
rug rug rat
rug sky rug rum rummed (up)
rumor latrine rumor
rumpus rumpus room
run cut and run
run front runner
run get someone's motor running run have a run-in (with someone or something) run on the run
run run a make on someone run run amok
run run down some lines run run it down run run off
run run off at the mouth
run run on all cylinders

- run run one's rhymes
run run out of gas
run run scared
run run someone in
run Run that by (me) again.
run Run that by (me) one more time.
run Take a running jump (in the lake)!
run turn tail (and run) rush bum's rush
rust rust belt
rust rust bucket ruth call ruth ruth cry ruth
sack fart sack
sack get the sack
sack hit the sack
sack sacked out
sack sack out
sack sack rat
sack sack time
sack sad sack
sack second sacker
sacred sacred mushrooms sad sad sack
saddle saddled with someone or something saddle tall in the saddle safe on the safe side said What someone said.
sail clear sailing
sail sail into someone
sail sail (right) through something sail take the wind out of someone's sails sake For Pete's sake!
sake For pity's sake!
sale no sale
salt back to the salt mines
salt go through someone like a dose of (the) salts salt salt and pepper salt salt horse
salt throw salt on someone's game salt worth one's salt
Sam Sam and Dave
Sam Uncle (Sam)
Sam What in Sam Hill?
Sam What in (the) Sam Hill?
Sam Where in (the) Sam Hill?
Sam Where the Sam Hill? same on the same page same on the same wavelength same same difference
same same here
same same old story
same same o(l)' same o(l)' sandal jelly sandals sandbag self-propelled sandbag sandwich dagwood (sandwich) sandwich knuckle sandwich sandwich soup sandwich Saturday Saturday night special sauce lost in the sauce sauce on the sauce
sauce sauce parlor
sausage play hide the sausage save saved by the bell
save Save it!
sawbuck double saw(buck)
say I hear what you are saying.
say let's say
say Say cheese!
say Says me!
say Says who?
say Says you!
say say uncle
say Say what?
say Smile when you say that.
say That's what I say.
say What do you say?
say What someone said.
say You can say that again!
scag scag jones
scam What's the scam?
scandal scandal sheet
scarce make oneself scarce
scare run scared
scare scared shitless scare scared stiff
scare scare someone or something up scare scare the hell out of someone scare scare the pants off someone scarf scarf out
scarf scarf something down scenario worst-case scenario scene heavy scene
scene make the scene
schizz schiz(z) out
schmear whole schmear
Schmo Joe Schmo
school school someone schoolboy schoolboy Scotch scope scope (on) someone scope scope someone out score know the score
score make a score
Scotch schoolboy Scotch Scott Great Scott!
Scotty Beam me up, Scotty!
scramble scrambled eggs
scrape scrape the bottom of the barrel scratch scratch sheet
scratch up to scratch
scream scream bloody murder

- screech screeching (drunk) screw have a loose screw screw have a screw loose screw put the screws on someone screw screw around
screw screw around with someone or something screw screwed, blued, and tattooed screw screwed tight screw screwed up
screw screw someone or something up screw screw someone out of something screw screw someone over screw screw up
script flip the script scrounge scrounge (around (for someone or something)) scrounge scrounge someone or something up scum bathtub scum
scum pond scum
scum shower scum scupper scupper up
scuzz scuzz someone out seal sealed (up)
seal sealed with a kiss search Search me.
seat hot seat
seat in the catbird seat
seat in the driver's seat
seat in the hot seat
seat kick in the (seat of the) pants second second fiddle second second sacker
see cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose
see Long time no see.
see see a man about a dog
see see eye to eye see seeing pink elephants see seeing pink spiders see seeing snakes
see seen better days
see see no further than the end of one's nose see see red
see see stars
see See ya.
see See you.
see See you later.
see See you later, alligator.
see What you see is what you get.
see would not be seen dead self self-propelled sandbag sell hard sell
sell sell a wolf ticket sell sell buicks
sell sell someone out sell sell wolf tickets sell soft sell
sell sold on someone or something send send someone from pillar to post
send send someone or something up send send someone to glory
send send someone up the river
sense sense (bud)
serious get down to some serious drinking serious serious about someone serpent civil serpent
serve serve someone right service Call my service.
sesh full sesh
session bitch session
session bull session
session rap session
set set of pipes
set set of wheels
set set someone back set set someone up (for something) settle settle someone's hash seven seven-year itch seven twenty-four, seven sew sewed up
sew sew something up
sewer sewer hog sex sex goddess
sex sex kitten
sex sex pot
sez Sez me!
sez Sez who?
shabby not too shabby
shack shack up (with someone) shade have it made in the shade shaft give someone the shaft shag shag ass (out of some place) shag shagged out
shag shag (off)
shake (all) shook up shake body shake
shake fair shake
shake I'm shaking (in fear).
shake movers and shakers shake no great shakes shake shake a leg
shake Shake it (up)!
shake shake someone down shake shook up shake two shakes of a lamb's tail shake What's shakin' (bacon)?
shank shank it
shank shank's mare
shape bent out of shape shape flexed out of shape shape in bad shape

shape	lick something into shape	shit	knock the shit out of someone shape	shape up	shit	know shit from Shinola shape	shape up or ship out	shit	little shit shape	strung-out shape	shit	No shit!
shape	whip something into shape	shit	not know shit about something share	lion's share	shit	not know shit from Shinola shark	shark repellent	shit	pile of shit shave	close shave	shit	shit a brick shebang	whole shebang	shit	Shit happens.
sheet	both sheets in the wind	shit	shit on a shingle sheet	four sheets in the wind	shit	shit on someone sheet	four sheets (to the wind)	shit	Shit or get off the pot!
sheet	poop sheet	shit	shoot the shit sheet	(rap) sheet	shit	stick like shit to a shovel sheet	scandal sheet	shit	take a shit sheet	scratch sheet	shit	tell shit from Shinola sheet	swindle sheet	shit	tough shit sheet	three sheets in the wind	shit	up shit creek (without a paddle) sheet	three sheets (to the wind)	shit	when the shit hit the fan sheet	two sheets to the wind	shithouse	built like a brick shithouse shelf	on the shelf	shitless	scared shitless shell	shell an amount of money out	shitty	shitty end of the stick shell	shell out (an amount of money)	shock	sticker shock shift	graveyard shift	shoe	baby needs shoes shift	stick shift	shoe	goody two-shoes shift	swing shift	shoe	gym shoe shine	Rise and shine!	shoe	jelly shoes shine	shine someone	shoe	on a shoestring shine	where the sun don't shine	shoe	shoe polish shingle	shit on a shingle	shoestring	on a shoestring
Shinola	know shit from Shinola	shook	(all) shook up
Shinola	No Shinola!	shook	shook up
Shinola	not know shit from Shinola	shoot	shoot 'em up
Shinola	tell shit from Shinola	shoot	shoot for the sky ship	pump ship	shoot	shoot from the hip ship	shape up or ship out	shoot	shooting iron shirt	Keep your shirt on!	shoot	shoot one's breakfast shirt	lose one's shirt	shoot	shoot one's cookies shirt	stuffed shirt	shoot	shoot oneself in the foot shit	(as) close as stink on shit	shoot	shoot one's mouth off shit	bad shit	shoot	shoot one's supper shit	beat the shit out of someone	shoot	shoot one's wad shit	chicken shit	shoot	shoot someone down in flames shit	cling like shit to a shovel	shoot	shoot someone or something down shit	close as stink on shit	shoot	shoot the breeze shit	croak (of shit)	shoot	shoot the bull shit	day the eagle shits	shoot	shoot the cat shit	Eat shit!	shoot	shoot the crap shit	full of shit	shoot	shoot the dozens shit	get one's shit together	shoot	shoot the shit shit	give a shit (about someone or something)	shoot	shoot the works shit	have a shit-fit	shoot	shoot up shit	have shit for brains	shoot	shoot up (on something) shit	hot shit	shoot	square shooter shit	kick the shit out of someone	shoot	straight shooter shoot	whole shooting match

- shop happy shop
shop hook shop
shop shopping list
short case of the shorts short have a short fuse short have someone by the short hairs short long story short short short end of the stick short short fuse
short short one shot big shot
shot call (all) the shots shot cheap shot
shot double-barreled slingshot shot grape shot
shot long shot
shot mug shot
shot one's best shot
shot parting shot
shot shot down
shot shot in the arm shot shot in the dark shot shot in the neck
shot shot to hell
shot shot to the curb
shot take a shot (at something) shot who shot John shotgun call shotgun shotgun ride shotgun shotgun shotgun wedding shoulder cold shoulder
shoulder straight from the shoulder shouldn't shouldn't happen to a dog shove if push comes to shove shove shove off
shove when push comes to shove shovel cling like shit to a shovel shovel put someone to bed with a shovel shovel put to bed with a shovel shovel stick like shit to a shovel show dog and pony show
show free show
show get the show on the road show girlie show show no show
show one-man show
show show and tell
show show biz
show That's show business (for you).
shower shower scum
shuck shuck down
shucks (Aw) shucks!
shur fer shur
shush shush (up)
shut get some shut-eye
shut Put up or shut up!
- shut shut up
shut Shut your face!
shut Shut your mouth!
shut Shut your trap!
shy one brick shy of a load shy three bricks shy of a load Siberian Siberian express sick sick to death (of someone or something) sick sick (up)
side can't hit the (broad) side of a barn side flip side side on the safe side side on the side
side sunny-side up side wrong side of the tracks sidewalk sidewalk superintendent sidewalk sidewalk surfing sieg sieg-heil someone
sight out of sight
sign high sign
sign Nebraska sign
silk silked to the bone silly stoned silly
silo silo drippings
silver silver bullet silver silver goose
simmer simmer (down)
Simon Simon Legree
simple pure and simple
sin ugly as sin
sing till the fat lady sings sing when the fat lady sings sink hook, line, and sinker sink sink one's teeth into something sister sob sister sister (soul) sister sister weak sister
sit sitting duck sit sitting pretty
situation no-win situation
six deep six six double six
six Joe Six-pack six on your six six six feet under sixty sixty-four-dollar question
size That's about the size of it.
skag skagged out
skag skag jones
sketch thumbnail sketch skid grease the skids skid hit the skids
skid on the skids
skid put the skids under someone or something skid skid marks

skid skid row
skid skid row bum
skin Give me (some) skin!
skin knock someone some skin skin skin a goat skin skin flick
skin skin game
skin Skin me!
skinful have a skinful skinny (hot) skinny skinny skinny dip
skip Skip it!
skip skip (out)
skittles beer and skittles
skool old skool skrill fat skrill
skull out of one's skull sky aim for the sky
sky pie in the sky
sky reach for the sky
sky shoot for the sky sky sky hook
sky sky rug
sky sky's the limit
slam bitch slammer
slam slam a beer
slam slam dunk
slam slam some beers slap slap happy slap slap in the face
slap slap someone on the wrist
slap slap someone's wrist slave slave away (at something) slave slave market sleep beauty sleep
sleep sleep it off
sleep wink of sleep
sleeve have an ace up one's sleeve slice frog slicing
slice It's been a slice!
slice slice of the action slight slightly rattled slim iceberg slim slime slime bag
slime slime bucket
sling double-barreled slingshot sling have one's ass in a sling sling ink slinger
sling sling the cat
slingshot double-barreled slingshot slip give someone the slip slip pink slip slip Slip me five!
slip slip one's trolley slip slip someone a Mickey slip slip someone five

slip slip (up)
slob slob up
slop Earp slop, bring the mop.
slosh sloshed (to the ears) slough sloughed (up)
slow do a slow burn
slow slow burn
slow take it slow
slowly twist (slowly) in the wind sluff sluff (off)
slug slug it out
slush slushed (up)
slush slush fund
slush slush up
sly on the sly
smack smack (dab) in the middle smack smack the road
small small beer
small small change
small small fortune
small small fry
small small potatoes smart get smart (with someone) smart one smart apple smart smart aleck
smart smart ass
smart smart cookie
smart smart guy
smart smart money
smart smart mouth
smart street smart
smart street smarts smash smash hit
smell I smell you.
smell smell a rat
smell smell blood
smell smell fishy smell smell it up smell smell like a rose smell smell the stuff
smell smell to (high) heaven smile put a smile on someone's face smile Smile when you say that.
smile wearing (nothing but) a smile smoke blow smoke
smoke Put that in your pipe and smoke it!
smoke smoke and mirrors
smoke smoke eater
smoke smoke-filled room smoke smoke like a chimney smoke smoking gun
Smokey Smokey (the Bear) smooth jump smooth smooth smooth operator snail at a snail's gallop snail at a snail's pace

snake	seeing snakes	sock	Stuff a sock in it!
snake	snake eyes	sock	sweat sock
snake	snake in the grass	sock	walking on rocky socks snakebite	snakebite medicine	sock	wet sock snap	Make it snappy!	sofa	sofa spud snap	snap course	soft	soft berth snap	Snap it up!	soft	soft core snap	snap one's cookies	soft	soft in the head snap	snap out of something	soft	soft money snap	snapped (up)	soft	soft on someone snap	snap something up	soft	soft on someone or something snap	snap to (attention)	soft	soft pedal something snap	Snap to it!	soft	soft sell snatch	piece of snatch	soft	soft soap
snave	snaved in	soft	soft touch snazz	snazz something up	soft	walk soft sneeze	nothing to sneeze at	software	software rot snide	snide remark	sold	sold cober sniff	pot sniffer	sold	sold on someone or something snit	in a snit	soldier	dead soldier snort	ringtailed snorter	soldier	old soldier snort	rip snorter	some	all that and then some snot	blow a snot rocket	some	bag ass (out of some place)
snot	blow snot rockets	some	bag some rays
snot	snotnose(d) kid	some	barrel ass (out of some place) snotnosed	snotnose(d) kid	some	blow off (some) steam snow	do a snow job on someone	some	bust ass (out of some place) snow	Lady Snow	some	bust (some) suds snow	snowball's chance in hell	some	catch some rays snow	snow bunny	some	catch some Z's snow	snow job	some	cop some Z's snow	snow stuff	some	crack some suds snowball's	snowball's chance in hell	some	cut ass (out of some place) snuff	snuff film	some	cut some Z's snuff	snuff it	some	do some bongs snuff	up to snuff	some	do some fine coin soak	Go soak your head!	some	drag ass (out of some place)
soak	Go soak yourself!	some	drop someone some knowledge soak	soak one's face	some	get down to some serious drinking soap	no soap	some	get some shut-eye soap	soft soap	some	get some yokes on sob	sob sister	some	Give me (some) skin!
sob	sob story	some	hammer some beers sober	cold sober	some	haul ass (out of some place)
sober	sober as a judge	some	Hold some, fold some.
sober	sober up	some	kick some ass (around) sober	stone (cold) sober	some	knock some heads together sober	stone sober	some	knock someone some skin social	social disease	some	lay (some) rubber society	pay one's dues (to society)	some	lay some sweet lines on someone sock	knock someone's socks off	some	let off (some) steam sock	Put a sock in it!	some	pop (some) tops sock	rubber sock	some	pound some beers sock	socked in	some	pump (some) iron sock	sock hop	some	put some distance between someone sock	Sock it to me!		and someone or something

- some put some sweet lines on someone some run down some lines some shag ass (out of some place) some slam some beers
some some pumpkins
some some punkins
some suck (some) brew
some suck (some) suds
some take some doing some take some heat
sometime Let's do lunch (sometime). somewhere boogie down (to somewhere) somewhere get one's tail somewhere fast! somewhere get one's tail somewhere immediately!
somewhere get one's tail somewhere now!
somewhere hump it (to somewhere) somewhere make for somewhere somewhere park it (somewhere)
son son of a bitch
son son of a gun
sop sopping (wet)
sore stick out like a sore thumb
sore touch a sore point sorry sorry about that sorry sorry 'bout that soul gripe one's soul
soul heavy soul
soul (soul) brother soul soul kiss
soul (soul) sister
soul thirsty soul
sound sound off (about something) soup alphabet soup
soup everything from soup to nuts
soup in the soup
soup laughing soup
soup potato soup
soup souped up
soup soup sandwich
soup soup something up
soup Soup's on!
sour go sour
South go South
South head South
South mouth full of South space space cadet space spaced (out)
space space out
space space someone out spade in spades
spank (brand) spanking new spank spanking new spare spare tire
spaz have a spaz
spaz spaz around
spaz spaz down
spaz spaz out
speak Speak it!
speak speak of the devil
speak speak someone's language spear take the spear (in one's chest) special King Kong specials special Saturday night special speed speed demon
speed speed freak
speed speed merchant
spend big spender spend big-time spender spend spending money
spew spew one's guts (out) spider barking spider spider pink spiders spider seeing pink spiders spider trumpet spider spiff spiffed out
spiff spiffed up spill spill one's guts on someone spill spill one's guts (to someone) spill spill the beans
spill spill the works spin spin doctor
spin spin one's wheels
spit spit and polish
spit Spit it out!
spit swap spits
spit within spitting distance spleen vent one's spleen
split I've got to split. split split a gut
split splitting headache
split split up
spoil spoiled rotten spoil spoiling for a fight sponge sponge off someone sponge throw in the sponge sponge toss in the sponge spook spook factory
spoon (flake) spoon
spoon greasy spoon
spot hit the spot
spot spot market
spot spot of lunch
spot spot someone (something) spot tight spot
spot X marks the spot.
sprain sprain one's ankle spring spring chicken
spring spring for something spring spring someone sprout sprout wings
spud sofa spud

- squad goon squad squad junk squad
square back to square one square square apple square squared away square squared up square square john square square john broad square square joint square square (meal)
square square off
square square peg (in a round hole) square square shooter square square with someone square three squares squash stoned out of one's squash squat cop a squat squat take a squat
squawk squawk box
squeak narrow squeak squeak squeaky clean squeeze budget squeeze squeeze main squeeze
squeeze put the squeeze on someone squeeze squeeze play squiff on the squiff squiff squiff out squirrel squirrel out of something squirrel squirrel something away
stack blow one's stack
stack stack the deck
stack swear on a stack of Bibles tag tag line
stage honeymoon stage
stair nothing upstairs stake stake someone or something out stake stake someone to something stake up stakes
stale stale drunk
stamp stamping ground stand If you can't stand the heat, keep out of the kitchen.
stand one-night stand
stand stand pat (on something) stand stand someone up
stand stand tall
stand stand there with one's bare face hanging out stand taco stand
star see stars
starch take the starch out of someone start jump-start someone stash main stash
station comfort station station filling station station fuzz station station Grand Central Station station thirst-aid station statistics vital statistics stay stay loose
stay Stay tuned.
steak pimp steak
steak tube steak
steam blow off (some) steam steam full steam ahead
steam let off (some) steam steam steamed (up) steam steam someone's beam steam steam someone up steam steam up
steer bum steer
step Aztec two-step
step step off the curb
step Step on it!
step step out on someone step step outside step stepped on
step step right up
step You want to step outside?
stew stew bum
stew stewed to the ears stew stewed to the gills stew stewed (up)
stick boom sticks
stick cancer stick
stick carry the stick stick get on the stick stick hit by the stupid stick stick hit by the ugly stick stick licorice stick stick shitty end of the stick stick short end of the stick
stick stick around
stick Stick 'em up!
stick stick in the mud
stick stick it to someone stick stick like shit to a shovel stick stick man
stick stick one's nose in (where it's not wanted) stick stick out like a sore thumb stick stick shift
stick stick someone with something sticker sticker shock sticky sticky fingers
stiff scared stiff
stiff working stiff stink (as) close as stink on shit stink big stink
stink close as stink on shit stink holy stink
stink like stink

- stink make a stink (about someone or something) stink raise a stink (about someone or something) stink stinking (drunk)
stink stinking rich stink stinking with something stink stink on ice
stir stir crazy stock deal stock
stock story stock stoke stoked (on someone or something) stoke stoked out stomach cast-iron stomach stomach turn someone's stomach stomp stomp (on) someone stone carved in stone stone stone blind stone stone broke stone stone cold fox
stone stone (cold) sober stone stone dead
stone stoned (out)
stone stoned out of one's gourd stone stoned out of one's head stone stoned out of one's squash stone stoned silly
stone stone fox
stone stone groove
stone stone sober
stool stool (on someone) stool stool (pigeon)
stop nature stop stop pit stop
stop pull out all the stops stop stop on a dime stop Stop the music!
storage in cold storage
store candy store
store dime store
store leaky store
stork visit from the stork storm kick up a storm
storm up a storm
story bedtime story
story fish story
story long story short story same old story
story sob story
story story stock
story top story
story upper story
stow Stow it!
straddle straddle the fence straight get straight
straight go straight
straight put oneself straight straight straight arrow straight straight dope straight straighten up and fly right straight straight from the horse's mouth
straight straight from the shoulder straight straight low straight straight man straight straight shooter straight straight talk straight straight up strange strange bird strap strap someone with someone or something strap yank one's strap straw last straw
straw straw boss
streak have a yellow streak down one's back streak losing streak
streak talk a blue streak streak yellow streak (down someone's back) street easy street
street jump (street)
street man on the street
street on easy street
street on the street street put something on the street street street people street street pusher
street street smart
street street smarts
street street sweeper street street time street take it to the street street two-way street stress no stress
stretch in the (home) stretch stretch stretch one's legs strict (strictly) from hunger strike strike it rich
strike strike out
strike strike pay dirt stroke different strokes for different folks strong come on strong strong strong-arm man strong strong-arm tactics
strung strung out
strung strung-out shape strung strung (up)
strut strut one's stuff stuck bleed like a stuck pig
stuck stuck on someone or something stuck stuck with someone or something study study animal stuff and stuff like that (there) stuff folding stuff

- stuff get one's stuff together stuff green stuff
stuff hot stuff
stuff kid stuff
stuff light stuff
stuff rough stuff
stuff smell the stuff
stuff snow stuff
stuff strut one's stuff stuff Stuff a sock in it!
stuff stuffed shirt
stuff That's the stuff!
stupid get stupid stupid hit by the stupid stick stupid stupid fresh
such Like it's such a big deal.
suck suck face
suck suck (some) brew suck suck someone's hind tit suck suck (some) suds suck suck something up suck suck up to someone suck That's so suck!
sucker sucker for someone or something sucker sucker list sudden sudden death
sudge jobber as a sudge suds bust (some) suds suds crack some suds suds in the suds
suds suck (some) suds sue (So,) sue me!
sue Sue me!
sue sue the pants off (of) someone sugar sugar daddy
sugar Uncle Sugar
suit all over someone like a cheap suit suit blue suit summer summer complaint sumpin' Wanna make sumpin' of it? sun sun belt
sun where the sun don't shine
Sunday dark Sunday
Sunday Sunday best
Sunday Sunday driver
Sunday Sunday punch
sunny sunny-side up sunshine walk on sunshine superintendent sidewalk superintendent supper shoot one's supper
sure for sure
sure I am so sure!
sure sure as hell
sure sure thing
surf channel surfer
surf channel surfing
surf sidewalk surfing surf surf the net
suss suss someone out Suzy Suzy Homemaker
swallow hard to swallow swallow swallow the dictionary swap swap notes (on someone or something) swap swap spits
swear swear like a trooper
swear swear on a stack of Bibles sweat Don't sweat it!
sweat in a cold sweat
sweat no sweat
sweat sweat blood
sweat sweat bullets
sweat sweat sock
sweat sweat something out sweat tiger sweat sweep clean sweep
sweep street sweeper
sweet fresh and sweet sweet lay some sweet lines on someone sweet put some sweet lines on someone sweet sweet nothings
sweet You bet your sweet life!
sweet You bet your sweet patoot(ie)! sweetheart sweetheart deal swill monkey swill swim swimming in something swindle swindle sheet
swing not enough room to swing a cat
swing swing both ways swing swing into high gear swing swing shift swing swing with someone or something swipe take a swipe at someone or something switch asleep at the switch switch switched on switch switch off switch switch on sync out of sync
table boxed on the table
table under the table
tack coffin tack
tacks brass tacks
taco taco stand
taco toss one's tacos tactic strong-arm tactics tag toe tag tail bright-eyed and bushy-tailed tail fuzzy (tail)
tail Get off my tail!
tail get one's tail somewhere fast!
tail get one's tail somewhere immediately! tail get one's tail somewhere now!
tail Go chase your tail!

tail	have a tiger by the tail	take	take it out on someone or something tail	hunk of tail	take	take it slow tail	on someone's tail	take	take it through the nose tail	piece of tail	take	take it to the street tail	ringtailed snorter	take	take names tail	tailgate party	take	take off tail	turn tail (and run)	take	take-off artist tail	two shakes of a lamb's tail	take	take one's belt in (a notch) tail	work one's tail off	take	take one's lumps tailgate	tailgate party	take	take on fuel take	double take	take	take pictures take	have what it takes	take	take some doing take	on the take	take	take some heat take	take a bath (on something)	take	take someone in take	take a beating	take	take someone off take	take a break	take	take someone or something apart take	take a chill pill	take	take someone or something off take	take a crack at something	take	take someone or something on take	take a crap	take	take someone out take	take a dig at someone	take	take someone to the cleaners take	take a dirt nap	take	take something out take	take a dive	take	take something public take	take a dump	take	takes two to tango take	take a fall	take	take the cure take	take a flyer (on something)	take	take the fall take	take a gander (at someone or something)	take	take the fifth take	take a hike	take	take the gas pipe take	take a jab at someone	take	take the heat take	take a leak	take	take the heat off someone take	take a load off one's feet	take	take the (long) count take	take a lot of nerve	take	take the pipe take	take a nosedive	take	take the piss out of someone take	take a page from someone's book	take	take the pledge take	take a pop at someone	take	take the plunge take	take a powder	take	take the rap (for something) take	Take a running jump (in the lake)!	take	take the spear (in one's chest) take	take a shit	take	take the starch out of someone take	take a shot (at something)	take	take the wind out of someone's sails take	take a squat	take	take things easy take	take a swipe at someone or something	take	taking care of business take	take a walk	take	take You can't take it with you. take	take a whack at someone or something	tale	fairy tale take	take a whack at something	tale	fish tale take	Take care.	tale	tale of woe take	take care of number one	talk	big talk take	take care of numero uno	talk	give someone a (good) talking to take	take care of someone	talk	heart-to-heart (talk) take	take five	talk	jive talk take	take it	talk	Look who's talking!
take	Take it down a thou(sand)!	talk	money talks take	take it easy	talk	monkey talk take	take it on the chin	talk	nice talking to you take	take it on the lam	talk	Now you're talking!
take	take it on the nose	talk	pep talk take	Take it or leave it.	talk	straight talk
		talk	talk a blue streak

- talk talk big
talk talking head talk talk like a nut talk talk one's head off talk talk on the big white phone talk talk someone ragged
talk talk someone's ear off
talk talk through one's hat talk talk to earl talk talk to hear one's own voice talk talk to Herb and Al
talk talk turkey
talk talk until one is blue in the face tall in tall cotton tall stand tall
tall tall in the saddle tall tall one
tall tall order
tall tall timbers
tall walk tall tangle tangle with someone or something tango takes two to tango tank avenue tank
tank drunk tank
tank junk tank
tank on a tank
tank on the tank
tank tanked up
tank tank up
tap on tap
tap tap dance like mad tap tap out
tap tapped out
tap tap someone (for something)
tape red tape
tar whale the tar out of someone taste so bad one can taste it taste taste blood tattoo screwed, blued, and tattooed taxi Tijuana taxi
tea cup of tea
tea tea party
teach That'll teach someone.
tear tear into a place tear tear into someone tear tear into something tear tear loose (from someone or something)
tear tear off
tear tear someone or something apart tear tear someone or something up tear tear someone up
tear That tears it!
tear tore down
tear tore (up) tear torn (up)
technicolor technicolor yawn technicolor throw a technicolor yawn tee teed off tee teed (up)
tee tee someone off
teeth dressed to the teeth teeth drop one's teeth
teeth get one's teeth into something teeth kick in the teeth teeth sink one's teeth into something telegraph telegraph one's punches tell Do tell.
tell if I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times
tell show and tell
tell Tell it like it is.
tell Tell me another (one)!
tell tell shit from Shinola tell tell someone what to do with something tell tell someone where to get off tell tell the (whole) world ten hang ten
ten ten percenter
ten wouldn't touch someone or something with a ten-foot pole tenda my tenda
tenor whiskey tenor
tent pitch a tent
terror holy terror
test acid test
than cannot see (any) further than the end of one's nose than more than one bargained for than quicker than hell than see no further than the end of one's nose thank thanks a bunch thank thank you very much them shoot 'em up
them Stick 'em up!
them up an' at 'em then all that and then some
then then and there
there and stuff like that (there) there get there
there hang in there
there I'm there!
there in there
there I've been there.
there like there was no tomorrow
there not all there
there stand there with one's bare face hanging out there then and there
there There's nobody home.
there There will be hell to pay.
there There you are.

- there There you go.
there You can't get there from here.
thin thin dime
thin walk on thin ice
thing do one's (own) thing thing do the drink thing thing do the drug thing thing in thing to do
thing onto a good thing thing sure thing
thing take things easy
think You've got another think coming.
third third degree third third wheel
thirst thirst-aid station thirst thirsty soul thirteen file thirteen thousand if I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times thousand Take it down a thou(sand)!
three phony as a three-dollar bill
three queer as a three-dollar bill three three-alarm fire three three bricks shy of a load three three fingers three three point two three three sheets in the wind
three three sheets (to the wind)
three three squares
throat cut one's own throat throat ram something down someone's throat throat throat gag throne hug the throne
throne throne room
through go through someone like a dose of (the) salts through go through the changes through sail (right) through something through take it through the nose
through talk through one's hat
through through and through
through through the mill through waltz through something throw throw a fight
throw throw a fit
throw throw a game
throw throw a map
throw throw a punch
throw throw a technicolor yawn throw throw down
throw throw in the sponge
throw throw in the towel throw throw money at something throw throw one out on one's ear throw throw one's cookies throw throw one's hat in the ring
throw throw one's voice
throw throw one's weight around throw throw salt on someone's game throw throw someone for a loop throw throw something back throw throw something together
throw throw the book at someone throw throw the bull throw throw the crap throw throw up one's toenails thumb green thumb
thumb stick out like a sore thumb
thumb thumb a ride
thumb thumbnail sketch thumb thumbs down
thumb thumbs up thumb turn thumbs down (on someone or something) thumb twiddle one's thumbs thumb under someone's thumb thumbnail thumbnail sketch tick few ticks
tick ticked (off)
tick tick someone off
tick tight as a tick
ticket buy someone's wolf ticket ticket get one's ticket punched ticket just the ticket ticket sell a wolf ticket ticket sell wolf tickets
ticket That's the ticket!
tickle tickled (pink) tickle tickle the ivories
tide red tide
tie tied up tie tie it on tie tie one on tie tie on the nosebag
tie tie the knot
tiger have a tiger by the tail tiger tiger juice tiger tiger('s) milk tiger tiger sweat
tight on a tight leash tight screwed tight
tight tight as a tick
tight tighten one's belt tight tight money
tight tight spot
tight tight wad
Tijuana Tijuana taxi
till till hell freezes over till till kingdom come till till the fat lady sings timber tall timbers
time bean time

- time Better luck next time.
time big time
time big-time operator time big-time spender time buy time
time devil of a time time devil's own time time do time
time down time
time face time
time game time time good-time Charley time good-time it
time good-time man
time hard time
time have a whale of a time time if I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times time Long time no see.
time mark time
time rack time
time rare old time
time rough time
time Run that by (me) one more time.
time sack time
time street time
time Time (out)!
time time to cruise
time two-time loser
time up time
tin tin cow tin tin hat
tiny patter of tiny feet tip hot tip
tip tip one's hand
tire spare tire
tit ass over tit
tit bitch tits
tit go tits up
tit kiss someone's hind tit tit suck someone's hind tit tit tits and ass
tit tits up
tit Tough titty!
titless titless wonder
titty Tough titty!
tizzy in a tizzy
toddle toddle off
toddy toddy blossom
toe get a toehold
toe throw up one's toenails toe toe jam
toe toe tag
toe turn one's toes up toehold get a toehold toenail throw up one's toenails
together get it (all) together
together get one's act together together get one's head together together get one's shit together together get one's stuff together together have it all together
together knock some heads together together knock something together together put them together for someone together throw something together toilet toilet mouth toilet toilet water
toke harsh toke told if I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times tomorrow like there was no tomorrow ton like a ton of bricks ton tons of something tongue Bite your tongue!
tongue tongue loosener tongue tongue oil tongue Watch your tongue!
tonsil play tonsil hockey tonsil tonsil bath
tonsil tonsil hockey
tonsil tonsil paint tonsil tonsil varnish
too not too shabby too one too many too put too much on it too too much too too rich for someone's blood tool power tool tool tool around
toot toot one's own horn tooth dressed to the teeth tooth drop one's teeth tooth get one's teeth into something tooth kick in the teeth tooth sink one's teeth into something tootle tootle along top big top
top blow one's top
top carrot top top come out on top top pop (some) tops
top top banana
top top brass
top top dog
top top heavy
top top of the heap top top story
tore tore down
tore tore (up)
torn torn (up)
tornado tornado juice

- toss toss in the sponge
toss Toss it!
toss toss off
toss toss one's cookies
toss toss one's lunch toss toss one's tacos
toss toss something off
total totally clueless touch Keep in touch.
touch soft touch
touch touch and go
touch touch a sore point
touch touch base (with someone) touch wouldn't touch someone or something
 with a ten-foot pole
tough hang tough (on something)
tough tough break
tough tough cookie
tough tough cookies
tough tough customer tough tough egg to crack tough tough guy
tough tough luck
tough tough nut to crack
tough tough row to hoe
tough tough shit
tough tough something out tough Tough titty!
tourist tourist trap
towel crying towel
towel throw in the towel
tower ivory tower
town Bean Town
town blow town
town Get out of town!
town go to town
town one-horse town
town paint the town (red) toxic toxic waste dump
track off the track
track one-track mind
tracks make tracks
tracks railroad tracks tracks wrong side of the tracks trade tricks of the trade trail hit the trail trailer trailer trash
train gravy train
trap bear trap
trap booby trap
trap fly trap
trap fox trap
trap Shut your trap!
trap tourist trap
trash Cash is trash.
trash trailer trash
trash Trash it!
trash trash mouth
treat Dutch treat
tree Christmas tree
tree Go climb a tree!
tree make like a tree and leave tree not grow on trees
tree up a tree
trial trial balloon
trick do the trick
trick trick on someone trick tricks of the trade trick turn a trick
trick whole bag of tricks trip bad trip
trip bum trip
trip down trip
trip ego trip
trip ego tripper
trip free trip
trip good trip
trip head trip
trip lay a guilt trip on someone trip lay a (heavy) trip on someone trip round tripper
trip tripped out triple triple whammy
trolley off one's trolley trolley slip one's trolley trooper swear like a trooper trot backdoor trot(s) trouble buy trouble
trouble for (all) one's trouble tru Tru dat.
truck Keep on trucking.
truly yours truly
trump trumped up
trump trump something up trumpet trumpet spider trust Trust me!
truth gospel (truth)
truth naked truth
try try someone back (again) tub tub of guts
tub tub of lard
tube cop a tube
tube crack a tube
tube go down the tube(s) tube in the tube
tube tube it
tube tube steak
tuck nip and tuck
tumble rough and tumble
tune Stay tuned.
tune to the tune of something tune tuned in

- tune tune in (to something) tune tune out
tune tune someone or something out tune turn on, tune in, drop out turd ghost turd
turd turd face
Turk young Turk
turkey cold turkey
turkey jive turkey
turkey kick cold (turkey)
turkey talk turkey
turn done to a turn
turn turn around turn turn a trick
turn turn belly up
turn turned off
turn turned on
turn turn in turn turn on
turn turn on a dime
turn turn one's toes up
turn turn on the waterworks turn turn onto someone or something turn turn on, tune in, drop out
turn turn over
turn turn someone off
turn turn someone on turn turn someone or something upside down turn turn someone out
turn turn someone's stomach
turn turn someone's water off turn turn tail (and run)
turn turn thumbs down (on someone or something)
turn turn turtle
turn turn up one's nose at someone or something turn whatever turns you on turtle turn turtle
twenty twenty-four, seven twenty twenty-twenty hindsight twiddle twiddle one's thumbs twist twist in the wind twist twist (slowly) in the wind twist twist someone's arm twit in a twit
twitter in a twitter
two Aztec two-step two goody two-shoes
two It cuts two ways.
two number two two old one-two two takes two to tango
two three point two two two fingers
- two two-fisted drinker two two shakes of a lamb's tail two two sheets to the wind two two-time loser
two two umlauts
two two-way street
two You can't dance at two weddings.
ugly bump uglies
ugly hit by the ugly stick ugly ugly as sin
umlaut two umlauts
uncle Dutch uncle
uncle say uncle
uncle Uncle nab
uncle Uncle (Sam)
uncle Uncle Sugar
uncle Uncle Whiskers
under down under under gone under under go underground
under hero (of the underworld) under hit under the wing
under hot under the collar
under knuckle under (to someone or something) under plowed (under) under put the skids under someone or something under six feet under under under someone's thumb under under the affluence of incohol under under the gun
under under the table
under under the weather
under under the wire
under underwater basket weaving under under wraps underground go underground underwater underwater basket weaving underworld hero (of the underworld) unit (parental) units uno numero uno
uno take care of numero uno unquote quote, unquote
until talk until one is blue in the face unwashed great unwashed upper upper story
uproar Don't get your bowels in an uproar! uproar get one's bowels in an uproar upshot upshot (of something) upside turn someone or something upside down upstairs nothing upstairs urge urge to purge
use chippy (user)
use Use your head!

use	Use your noggin!	wall	nail someone('s hide) to the wall
use	Use your noodle!	wall	plastered to the wall variety	Heinz 57 (variety)	wall	up the wall varnish	coffin varnish	wall	wall job
varnish	tonsil varnish	wall	walls have ears
Vatican	Vatican roulette	waltz	waltz off (with something) veg	vegged out	waltz	waltz through something veg	veg (out)	wank	wank off
vent	vent one's spleen	wanna	Wanna make sumpin' of it?
verse	chapter and verse	want	put one's nose in (where it's not wanted) vertical	vertical bathtub	want	stick one's nose in (where it's not wanted)
very	thank you very much	want	Wanna make sumpin' of it?
vibes	have good vibes	want	want list vicious	vicious circle	want	want out video	video jock	want	Want to make something of it?
vigor	vim and vigor	want	You want to step outside?
vim	vim and vigor	war	on the warpath visit	visit from Flo	war	war chest visit	visit from the stork	war	war paint visit	visiting fireman	war	war zone
visit	visit the plumbing	ward	monkey wards visitor	have a little visitor	warm	bench warmer vital	vital statistics	warm	like death warmed over vodka	clear as vodka	warm	warm body voice	talk to hear one's own voice	warm	warmed over voice	throw one's voice	warm	warm someone up vote	vote with one's feet	warpath	on the warpath wack	wack off	warrior	weekend warrior wad	shoot one's wad	wart	warts and all wad	tight wad	wart	worry wart waffle	waffle (around)	wash	chief cook and bottle washer wag	wag one's chin	wash	great unwashed wagon	fall off the wagon	wash	head cook and bottle washer wagon	honey wagon	wash	washboard abs wagon	meat wagon	wash	washed out wagon	monkey wagon	wash	wash out wagon	off the wagon	wash	wash someone away wagon	on the wagon	washboard	washboard abs wagon	paddy wagon	waste	toxic waste dump wail	wail on someone	watch	bird watcher wait	hurry up and wait	watch	clock watcher walk	take a walk	watch	on someone's watch walk	walk heavy	watch	people watching walk	walking dandruff	watch	Watch it!
walk	walking on rocky socks	watch	Watch my lips!
walk	walking papers	watch	Watch your mouth!
walk	walking wounded	watch	Watch your tongue!
walk	walk on eggs	water	big drink of water walk	walk on sunshine	water	blow someone out of the water walk	walk on thin ice	water	bubble water walk	walk soft	water	dead in the water walk	walk tall	water	foo-foo water wall	climb the wall(s)	water	hold water wall	drive someone up the wall	water	joy water wall	go over the wall
wall	hole in the wall

- water laughing water water pay the water bill water pour cold water on something water toilet water water turn on the waterworks water turn someone's water off water underwater basket weaving water water one's cheeks watering watering hole
waterworks turn on the waterworks wave finger wave
wave make waves
wave on the same wavelength wavelength on the same wavelength wax whole ball of wax
way all the way
way all the way live
way go all the way
way in a bad way
way in a big way
way in a familiar way
way in a family way
way in the family way
way It cuts both ways.
way It cuts two ways.
way No way!
way only way to go
way out of the way
way put someone or something out of the way way put someone out of the way way swing both ways
way That's the way the ball bounces.
way That's the way the cookie crumbles.
way That's the way the mop flops.
way (That's the) way to go!
way that way
way two-way street
way way down
way way it plays
way way off (base)
way way out
way way rad
way Way to go!
weak weak sister wear wearing (nothing but) a smile wear wear the pants (in the house) weasel weasel out of something
weather under the weather weave underwater basket weaving wedding shotgun wedding wedding You can't dance at two weddings. wedgie atomic wedgie
weed crying weed
weed killer weed
weed monster weed
week weekend warrior weekend weekend warrior weight carry weight
weight throw one's weight around weird weirded out weird weird out
well (Well,) pardon me for living!
West go West
wet sopping (wet)
wet wet blanket
wet wet noodle wet wet one wet wet rag
wet wet sock
whack out of w(h)ack
whack take a whack at someone or something whack take a whack at something whack w(h)acked (out) whack whack off
whack w(h)ack someone or something up whack w(h)ack someone (out) whack w(h)ack something (out) whale fat as a beached whale
whale have a whale of a time whale whale into someone or something whale whale on
whale whale the tar out of someone whammy double whammy whammy triple whammy
whank whank off
wheel big wheel
wheel fifth wheel
wheel four wheels
wheel reinvent the wheel wheel set of wheels wheel spin one's wheels wheel third wheel
wheel wheel and deal
wheel wheel man
whip whip off
whip whip one's wire
whip whip something into shape
whip whip something off whip whip the dummy whiskers Mr. Whiskers whiskers Uncle Whiskers whiskers whiskers (man) whiskey whiskey tenor whistle bells and whistles whistle not just whistling Dixie whistle whistle in the dark white black and white white bleed someone white white blue and white white China white

white	Chinese white	wine	jug wine
white	like the white on rice	wine	pop wine white	talk on the big white phone	wing	clip someone's wings
white	white elephant	wing	get one's wings
white	white hat	wing	hit under the wing white	white knuckler	wing	sprout wings whiz	whiz kid	wing	wing heavy whole	tell the (whole) world	wing	wing it whole	whole bag of tricks	wink	forty winks whole	whole ball of wax	wink	wink of sleep whole	whole bunch	wipe	wiped (out) whole	whole enchilada	wipe	wiped over whole	whole fam damily	wipe	Wipe it off!
whole	whole new ball game	wipe	wipe out whole	whole nine yards	wipe	wipe someone out whole	whole schmear	wipe	wipe something out whole	whole shebang	wipe	wipe the floor up with someone whole	whole shooting match	wire	down to the wire whole	whole wide world	wire	hot wire whoop	no big whoop	wire	latrine wireless whopping	whopping (great)	wire	(live) wire wide	blow something wide open	wire	pull one's wire wide	bust something wide open	wire	under the wire wide	have one's nose wide open	wire	whip one's wire wide	high, wide, and handsome	wire	wired into someone or something wide	whole wide world	wire	wired up wide	wide open	wireless	latrine wireless wide	wide place in the road	wise	wise guy wide	with (one's) eyes (wide) open	wise	wise to someone or something wiener	wiener nose	wise	wise up (to someone or something) wig	flip one's wig	wish	(Don't) you wish!
wig	wigged (out)	wish	wish book
wig	wig out	wish	wish list
wiggle	Get a wiggle on!	wish	You wish!
wiggle	wiggle out of something	woe	tale of woe wild	have a wild hair up one's ass	wolf	buy someone's wolf ticket wild	wild and woolly	wolf	cut one's wolf loose will	heads will roll	wolf	fine wolf wimp	wimp out (of something)	wolf	lone wolf win	can't win (th)em all	wolf	sell a wolf ticket win	no-win situation	wolf	sell wolf tickets win	Win a few, lose a few.	wolf	wolf something down win	You can't win them all.	woman	old woman wind	bag of wind	wonder	gutless wonder wind	both sheets in the wind	wonder	titless wonder wind	four sheets in the wind	woo	pitch (the) woo wind	four sheets (to the wind)	wood	out of the woods wind	piss in the wind	wood	wood butcher wind	take the wind out of someone's sails	wood	woods are full of something wind	three sheets in the wind	woof	woof cookies wind	three sheets (to the wind)	woolly	wild and woolly wind	twist in the wind	word	dirty word wind	twist (slowly) in the wind	word	What's the good word?
wind	two sheets to the wind	word	word hole window	bay window	word	Word up.
window	out the window	work	cold piece of work

work	dirty work	wrote	That's what she wrote.
work	give someone a (good) working over	yak	yak it up work	grunt work	yank	yank one's strap work	knock off (work)	yank	yank someone around work	leg work	yank	yank someone's chain work	shoot the works	yank	yank someone's crank work	spill the works	yard	whole nine yards work	turn on the waterworks	yard	yard dog work	working stiff	yawn	technicolor yawn work	work one's ass off	yawn	throw a technicolor yawn work	work one's buns off	year	donkey's years work	work one's butt off	year	seven-year itch work	work oneself up	yell	yell one's guts out work	work oneself (up) into a lather	yell	yell one's head off work	work oneself up to something	yellow	have a yellow streak down one's back work	work one's tail off	yellow	yellow streak (down someone's back) work	work someone over	yo	yo mama world	dead to the world	yodel	yodeling in a canyon world	hero (of the underworld)	yoke	get some yokes on world	out of this world	yokel	local yokel world	tell the (whole) world	young	young blood world	Where in the world?	young	young Turk world	whole wide world	Z	big Z's world	world is one's oyster	Z	blow Z's worm	can of worms	Z	catch some Z's worm	glow worm	Z	cop some Z's worm	worms in blood	Z	cut some Z's worry	Not to worry.	Z	from A to Z worry	worry wart	zap	channel zapping
worship	worship the porcelain god(dess)	zeek	zeek out worst	worst-case scenario	zerk	zerked (out) worth	not worth a damn	ziggety	Hot ziggety!
worth	not worth a plugged nickel	zip	zip along worth	not worth beans	zip	zip gun worth	worth one's salt	zip	Zip it up!
wounded	walking wounded	zip	Zip (up) your lip!
wrap	under wraps	zip	Zip your lip!
wrap	wrap one's car around something	zipper	zipper head wrap	wrapped up (in someone or something)	zit	zit doctor wrap	wrapped up (with someone or something)	zone	in the O-zone wrap	wrap something up	zone	in the Q-zone wrath	grapes of wrath	zone	war zone wrench	left-handed monkey wrench	zone	zoned (out) wrist	kick in the wrist	zonk	zonked (out) wrist	slap someone on the wrist	zonk	zonk out wrist	slap someone's wrist	zonkers	go zonkers write	nothing to write home about	zoom	zoom in (on someone or something) wrong	have the wrong number	zoom	zoom off wrong	wrong side of the tracks	zoom	zoom out wrote	That's all she wrote.	zoom	zoom someone out zoom	zoom up
		zounk	zounked (out)